————— Suit on lost bond—Admission of execution—Plea of payment—How far question of loss material. In a suit brought on a lost mortgage bond the defendant a son of the executant admitted execution but pleaded payment and denied the loss. Held that since the defendant admitted execution it lay on him to prove that the mortgage had been discharged. The question of the loss of the bond was only material for the purpose of determining whether the bond had been discharged and returned. JHANDU MAL v. KARAN SINGH (1915)
I L R 37 All 426

MAPSHALLING

————— Mortgagee failing to pay a part of consid ration as provided in the mortgage deed—Failure of consideration—Subsequent payment cannot be taken as part of mortgage debt—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1932) ss 56 81 85—Marshalling of securities. In 1896 G mortgaged some lands (Serial Nos 1—10) to V for Rs 400 of which Rs 200 were paid in cash and Rs 200 were to be paid to N a prior mortgagee. V having failed to pay to N G sold to defendant No 5 some of the lands mortgaged (Serial Nos 6—10) and other property and redeemed N's mortgage by paying Rs 200 to him. Subsequently V paid Rs 200 to G. Shortly afterwards G mortgaged some more lands (Serial Nos 1 3 4 and 5) to defendant No 4 for Rs 400. The defendant No 4 sued on his mortgage and obtained a decree against G. In execution of the decree the lands Serial Nos 1 3 4 5 were sold and were purchased by defendant No 4. V then sued on his mortgage treating it as one for Rs 400 to recover the amount by sale of all the ten numbers. The lower Courts recognized V's mortgage only for Rs 200 and granted him a decree authorizing him to proceed

MORTGAGE—*con d*MAPSHALLING—could against Serial No 2 alone and if the sale proceeds failed to satisfy his claim to proceed against the other serial numbers which were sold to defendant Nos 4 and 5. On appeal Held that V was not entitled to treat his mortgage as one for Rs 400 since V having failed to pay Rs 200 to N either at once or within a reasonable time there was partial failure of consideration for the mortgage and the subsequent payment of Rs 200 to G by V could not serve in law to undo the effect of that failure so as to prejudice the rights of defendant No 4. Held further that the Court had power under s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) to pass in such a suit a decree for sale ordering that in default of G paying the mortgaged property or a sufficient part thereof be sold 1st to N. The provisions of s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 apply only as between a seller and his buyer not as between a mortgagee of the seller and the buyer. SUBBA LAKSHI VENKATE N v. GANPA (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 395

MINOR

1. ————— Mortgage by—Settlement of all property by mortgagor after majority—Fraud of creditors—No fraudulent misrepresentation as to age—Liability to refund—Mortgagee if a creditor—Transfer by mortgagee—Attestation by mortgagor—Endorsement of payments by mortgagor—Suit against mortgagor and his son—Estoppel of mortgagor—Suit not maintainable against the son—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 53—Subsequent creditors if included. The plaintiff sued on a mortgage bond executed by the first defendant during his minority in favour of the third defendant who transferred it to the fourth defendant who again transferred it to the plaintiff. After attaining majority the first defendant executed a settlement transferring all his property to his mother and his wife on behalf of his minor son the second defendant stipulating only for maintenance for himself. The first defendant after attaining majority had endorsed payments on the mortgage deed and attested the transfer of the same by the third defendant to the fourth defendant. It was found by the lower Appellate Court that the settlement was intended to be operative but that it was executed by the first defendant with intent to defeat and delay his creditors. It was also found that there was no fraud or misrepresentation by the minor as to his age when he borrowed on the mortgage. The plaintiff contended that the first defendant was bound to refund the amount advanced on the mortgage to the third defendant and that he was consequently a creditor entitled to set aside the settlement. The first defendant admitted the plaintiff's claim. The second defendant who contested the suit preferred the Second appeal. Held where a minor has obtained money by misrepresenting his age that amounts to fraud and he may be made to refund it but in the absence of fraud a refund cannot be ordered. As there was no fraud or misrepresentation by the minor as to his age when he borrowed money on the mortgage he could not have been ordered to refund and the third defendant was not one of his creditors at the date of the settlement consequently the plaintiff was not competent to sue under s of the Transfer of Property Act to set it aside. The admission of the first defendant during the suit his endorsement of payments on the mortgage and his attestation of the transfer deed could not give the plaintiff the right to set aside the settlement as against the second defendant. Quære—Whether subsequent creditors are included under s 53 of the Transfer of Property Act. See Sadasiva Aiyar v A person does not actually become a subsequent or prior creditor by reason of the estoppel of the debtor. An estoppel cannot overrule a plain provision of law. The statutory provision that a minor is incompetent to incur a contractual debt cannot be overruled by an estoppel. Vaipentara Pillai v Anthimoo Chettiar (1911) 1 L R 38 Mad. 1071

MORTGAGE—contdMINOR—contd

2. —In favour of—Mortgage of land because executed in favour of minors. The plaintiffs executed a mortgage in favour of the defendants who were minors at the time. The defendants sued on the mortgage had the property sold in execution of their decree and purchased it themselves. They were of full age when the suit was brought. The plaintiffs sued to have it declared that the mortgage bond was void and to have the decree and the sale set aside. Held that the defendants were entitled to enforce the mortgage which was not void simply because of their minority at the time of its execution. That the case was not concluded by the decisions of the Judicial Committee in Mohori Bibi v Dharmadas Ghosh 1 L R 10 Cal 539 7 C W N 411 and Mir Saricaran v Fakhraddin Malomed 1 J 1 39 Cal 232 16 C W N 74 inasmuch as there was no covenant which it was for the minors to perform. Hari Mohan Mondal v Mohini Mohan Banerjee (1910) 22 C W N 130

MOVABLES

—Mortgage equitable of loose chattels—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 172 if prohibits such hypothecation—Equitable mortgage of land—Fixtures if pass to mortgagee—Letter written by mortgagor stating purpose of deposit of title deed, if must be registered as a document of mortgage—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 59 There is nothing in the Indian Contract Act which contains only a portion of the law of contract applicable in British India to prevent a person from hypothecating his goods to another person for security. As between mortgagor and mortgagee the law is settled that fixtures pass with the land to the mortgagee. A letter written by the mortgagor to the mortgagee stating the purpose for which the title deed has been deposited with the latter is not a document requiring registration under the provisions of the Indian Registration Act as being a mortgage. Hanipada Sadruckhan v Anath Nath De (1918) 22 C W N 758 —Hypothecation of stock in trade left in possession of the debtor—subsequently sold to a purchaser with notice of the creditor's lien—whether the creditors can follow the property into the hands of the purchaser. Held that in India there is no rule of law by which a person having a mortgage on moveable property is debarred from following that property into the hands of a purchaser with notice of the mortgage. Deans v Pickardson (3 N W P H C P 54) Ko Kyetnee v Ko Aung Bane (5 W R 129) and Tatham v Andree (1 Moa

MORTGAGE—contdMOVABLES—contd

P C 336) cited in Ghose v Law of Mortgage 4th Edition Volume 1 page 108 followed. Addison v Law of Contract 10th Edition page 760 referred to and discussed. ORIENT BANK v Mst Gulam LATIFA 1 L R 1 Lah 422

PARTIES

—Hindu law—Mortgagee holding an usufructuary and a simple mortgage over the same property—Suit by the mortgagee as karta of joint Hindu family on later mortgage alone—Maintainability—Non joinder of necessary party—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 59—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXII r 11 Where the karta of a joint Hindu family who was the holder of an usufructuary and a simple mortgage brought a suit on the latter without joining as party one of the members of the family who had a joint interest with him in the usufructuary mortgage. Held that under the terms of s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act and O XXII r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code the plaintiff was bound to make him a party. Hori Lal v Munman Kunwar 1 L P 34 All 619 and Madan Lal v Kisan Singh 1 L R 34 All 672 not followed. Kula Surja Prasad v Golab Chaudhary 1 L R 27 Cal 724 28 Cal 517 followed. Debi Prosad Saha v Dhanrajit Narayan Sen (1914) 1 L R 41 Cal 727

PARTITION EFFECT OF

—Mortgagee of undivided share—Effect of subsequent partition—Mortgagee takes effect on substituted share. A mortgagee of an undivided share in common property or of one of the joint properties before partition from one of the sharers is only entitled to proceed against the substituted property which falls to the share of the mortgagor at the partition unless the partition has been unfair or in fraud of the mortgagee. Muthia Paja v Appala Paja (1910) 1 L R 84 Mad 175

—It is one of the incidents of a mortgage of an undivided share that the mortgagee cannot follow his security into the hands of the co-sharer of the mortgagor who has obtained the mortgage share upon a partition. If the partition is tainted with fraud or if in the making of the partition the incumbrance was taken into account and the partition was made subject to the incumbrance the result will be different but in the absence of such fraud the mortgagee's remedy is against the share or property which the mortgagor has obtained under the partition. Hence where execution of a decree for sale of a share in undivided property the subject of a mortgage was going on part passu with proceedings for partition and the mortgaged share was sold two days after the final decree for partition (by which the mortgaged property fell to the share of a member of the family other than the mortgagor) was made it was held that the auction purchasers (in this case the decree holders them- selves) took nothing by their purchase. Bynath Lal v Ramoodeen Chowdry 1 L R 11 A 103 Amolak Ram v Chandan Singh 1 L R 24 All 483 Hem Chander Ghose v Thako Moni Deb 1 L R 20 Cal 533 Venkatarama Iyer v Eswarna Routhen 1 L P 33 Mad 449 Muthia Raja v Appala Paja 1 L R 34 Mad 175 Shahab ada

MORTGAGE—contdPARTITION EFFECT OF—contd

Mahomed Karam Shah v P S Hull 11 P 35
Calc 599 and Halim Lal v Jom Lal 6 C L J referred to INTER VIVUM v CHITTA SINGH
1 L R 42 All 596

PRIORITY

1. — Prior mortgagee right of —
A second mortgagee brought a suit on his mortgage making the transferees of the prior mortgage parties to the suit and obtained a decree and in execution thereof the transferees applied to be allowed to deposit in court the full amount of the second mortgage debt in order to save the property from sale. The Court of first instance allowed the application but, on appeal, the District Judge set aside the order of the first Court. — H 11 that the transferees of the prior mortgage were entitled to pay off the mortgage debt due on the subsequent mortgage to save the mortgaged property from sale. RAJYA NARI MAITI v GAYENDRA NARAIN MAITI (1909)
1 L R 37 Calc 262

2. — Civil Procedure Code 1859 s 244 A prior mortgagee in an application under s 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure in execution is entitled to have his right settled without being put to the extra expense and unnecessary trouble of bringing a fresh suit. GOVIND PRASAD MISSEER v LACHMI CHARAN BHARWARI (1909)
14 C W N 675 note

3. — Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 130 1st 148—Suit by prior mortgagee without making subsequent mortgagee party—Sale and purchase by himself—Subsequent suit by second mortgagee and purchase by himself—Interest acquired by latter—Suit by him to redeem prior mortgagee purchaser Where a prior mortgagee sues on his mortgage without making the second mortgagee a party and in execution of the decree obtained by him purchases the property himself and subsequently the second mortgagee also sues on his mortgage without making the prior mortgagee a party and purchases the property in execution of his decree he acquires by his purchase only the interest he previously possessed as mortgagee. He can seek to enforce his rights as such by suit as against the prior mortgagee purchaser only within the period of 12 years from the due date of his own mortgage as provided in Art 132 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and he cannot claim the benefit of a fresh period of limitation running in his favour from the date of his purchase. A suit brought by him to redeem the prior mortgagee purchaser more than 12 years after the due date of his mortgage would be barred by Art 132 of Sch II of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). NIDHINAM BANDU PADHYA v SARDESSUR BISWAS (1909)
14 C W N 439

4. — Decree obtained on a prior mortgage satisfied by execution of a fresh mortgage in favour of decree holder—Priority over an intermediate mortgage A decree for sale upon a mortgage of 1893 was obtained in 1901. In 1903 the decree holder accepted in satisfaction of the decree a sale deed of a certain portion of the mortgaged property but this adjustment was never certified to the court. Subsequently the decree was put into execution and a sale was ordered but before it was carried out the parties came to term and the judgment debtor executed a fresh mortgage to secure the decretal amount. This was in May 1904. Meanwhile in April 1904 another mortgage had been executed by the judgment debtor. Held that the mortgage of May 1904 being in satisfaction of the earlier mortgage of 1893 had priority over that of April 1904. Kanhaiya Lal v Chidda Singh 7 All L J 954 and Shyam Lal v Pasuruddin 1 L P 28 All 73 followed. RAMCHANDRA v BARNI DAS (1911)

MORTGAGE—contdPRIORITY—contd

1 L R 30 All 368

5. — Sale of mortgage property in execution of prior mortgagee's decree—Subsequent mortgagee's party to suit—Price to be paid by subsequent mortgagee seeking to redeem A subsequent mortgagee is not entitled to redeem the prior mortgage by simply paying the price for which the mortgaged property may have been purchased at an auction sale held in execution of a decree obtained by a prior mortgagee without joining the subsequent mortgagee as a party but such subsequent mortgagee must if he wishes to redeem pay to the prior mortgagee the full amount due on the prior mortgage. Dip Narain Singh v Hira Singh 1 L P 19 All 697 applied. PHUL NANI CHAUDHARY v NAGESHAR PRASAD (1911)
1 L R 33 All 370

6. — Mortgage of chattel—Priority—Prior Mortgagee inducing subsequent encumbrancer to advance money as first charge Where a first mortgagee was an assenting party to the mortgage or charge executed in favour of a subsequent encumbrancer and actually obtained a large portion of the mortgage money thus raised and the subsequent mortgage contained an express covenant that the property mortgaged was free from encumbrances. Held that the prior mortgagee having thus concurred in inducing the subsequent encumbrancer to advance money as a first charge could not turn round and claim priority over that charge in favour of his own mortgage subsisting from an earlier date. RAMAN CHETTY v STEEL BROTHERS AND COMPANY (1911)
15 C W N 813

7. — Third mortgagee paying off first mortgage and claiming priority as against second mortgagee—Presumption as to intention of third mortgagee Where a mortgagee pays off prior incumbrances on the mortgaged property it is to be presumed that he does so with the intention of keeping these incumbrances alive and using them as a shield should occasion arise and he can so use them as much when he is a plaintiff suing for sale as when he is a defendant to an intermediate or subsequent mortgagee's suit. If the payment is made in the form of leaving part of the money with the mortgagee to be paid to the prior mortgagees the subsequent mortgagee does not thereby become the agent of the mortgagor for the purpose of paying off the prior mortgages. Gokaldas Gopaldas v Puranmal Premsukhdas 1 L R 10 Calc 1035 Dinobundhu Shaw Choudhry v Jogmaya Das 1 L P 29 Calc 154 and Jogadhar Narain Prasad v A M. Frown 1 L P 33 Calc 1133 followed. Tufail Fatma v Btola 1 L R 27 All 400 and Bay Nath v Ataridhar All W N 1907 85 dissenting from GUR NARAIN v SHADI LAL (1911)
1 L R 34 All 102

MORTGAGE—contd

PRIORITY—contd

8 ————— Mortgage right of person paying of prior—Cannot claim rights of prior mortgage unless prior debt is completely satisfied. Where there are two mortgages on a single property and a person advances money for the payment of the first mortgage the claim of such person to priority over the second mortgage cannot be sustained unless the first mortgage is entirely discharged. HANUMANTHAN v. MEENATHAN (1911) L. L. R. 35 Mad. 183

9 ————— Sale of mortgaged property—Prior mortgage extinguishment of—Intention of parties—Effect of payment of prior mortgage by subsequent mortgagee—Is indicative—Omission to raise issue in former suit when party thereto—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1857) s. 13 expl (2)—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s. 55—Parties to mortgage suits—Limitation Act 1877 Sch II Art 13. In a suit brought on a simple mortgage deed dated 17th February 1888 to recover Rs 12,000 and interest and to have it declared that the properties covered by the mortgage in suit and by a arpeshi deed dated 20th November 1874 were liable for the decretal amount it appeared that by the deed of 1874 the properties in suit were hypothecated as security for Rs 12,000 the mortgagee to have possession until the amount was repaid in 1887. Subsequently on dates intermediate between 20th November 1874 and 17th February 1888 three of the properties in suit (the only properties concerned in this appeal) were further charged by simple mortgages some of them relating only to two of such properties and one of them relating only to the third of such properties and suits on them were brought on 6th September 1888 3rd May 1890 and 10th July 1890 and decrees for sale were obtained in them the mortgagee of the mortgage in suit of 17th February 1888 or her representatives being made parties only to those suits and decrees which related to two of the properties mortgaged. The mortgage in suit was repayable in two years and was by agreement of the parties to it made for the express purpose of paying off the debt of Rs 12,000 on the arpeshi deed of 1874 and charged the same properties as were hypothecated by that deed. The money then borrowed was on 16th July 1889 in accordance with the agreement applied in charging the debt in the arpeshi deed and that deed was then given up to the mortgagee of the mortgage in suit and her representatives on 16th June 1891 assigned the mortgage in suit to the plaintiffs who on 22nd September 1900 instituted the present suit making defendants the representatives of the mortgagors the representatives of the mortgagee and the persons whose titles as decree holders and purchasers arose under the intermediate mortgage made between 20th November 1874 and 17th February 1888 claiming priority over the last set of defendants. Held that under the circumstances the mortgagee of the mortgage in suit intended to keep alive for her benefit the charge created by the arpeshi deed of 20th November 1874 notwithstanding that no formal assignment in writing of that deed was made and she thereby obtained priority over the mortgagee of the intermediate further charges. D. N. S. v. Shau Chowdhry & Jogmaya Das L. L. R. 29 Cal. 151 L. R. 29 I. A. 9 followed. Held also that in any case she was under a 8 of the Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) a need vary party to all the suits on the intermediate mortgages and consequently in the suits to which she or her representatives were made parties her rights under her mortgage were barred by explanation (2) of s. 13 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XI of 1857) by her omission in those suits to put the rights in issue though such rights were not affected by the decree in the suit to which she or her representatives were not made parties. But held further that the appellants' rights of priority under the arpeshi deed of 1874 were barred by Art 132 of the Limitation Act (VI of 1877) the present suit to enforce them not having been instituted within 12 years from the date when the money under that deed became repayable in 1887. It is therefore that they were only entitled in the present suit to a decree for redemption of their interest in the third property the subject of the suit to which their assigns had not been made parties. MAHOMED IBRAHIM HOSSEIN KHAN v. ANIL K. PRASAD SINGH (1912)

MORTGAGE—contd

PRIORITY—contd

I. L. R. 30 Cal. 52

10 ————— Prior and pawns mortgages—Sale to prior mortgagee after creation of a pawns mortgage—Prior mortgage kept alive to what extent—Prior mortgagee whether entitled to charge interest after date of sale—His claim for necessary repairs and municipal taxes whether allowable—Practice—Appel—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) ss. 65, 72 and 103—Madras District Municipalities Act (II of 1884) s. 10—Doors and windows not moveable property. When after the creation of pawns mortgage the mortgagor sells the property to the prior mortgagee with possession the prior mortgage is kept alive against a pawns incumbrancer in the circumstance mentioned in s. 101 of the Transfer of Property Act but not against the owner whose equity of redemption has been purchased by the prior incumbrancer. The prior mortgagee is not entitled to claim interest on his mortgage after the date of his sale against the pawns mortgagee. The effect of the sale is this that what was enjoyed by the prior mortgagee till sale as compensation for the amount of the usufructuary mortgage he agreed subsequently to enjoy in consideration of the whole price and he cannot therefore claim any further compensation from the date of sale for any portion of the price. Where by the terms of the mortgage deed the mortgagor personally covenanted to pay the municipal taxes himself the mortgagee who pays the same cannot add it to the mortgage amount and recover it from the pawns mortgagee either under s. 65 clause (c) or under s. 72 Transfer of Property Act as money spent for preservation of the property as the doors and windows of a house are not moveable property and could not have been seized under s. 103 of the District Municipalities Act before its amendment in 1899. The cost incurred by the prior mortgagee after the sale for necessary repairs to the property is for restoring a room that had fallen are recoverable as all rights incidental to the mortgage must subsist with the mortgage right itself and the prior mortgagee is consequently entitled to add all moneys to the principal amount which he would be entitled to do under s. 72 of the Transfer of Property Act if the sale had not taken place. There is nothing to prevent the appellant from attacking only a portion of the decree by paying court fee only thereon although the reason for the attack might cover the whole decree. SYED IBRAHIM SANI v. ARWUQILAYEE (1917)

MORTGAGE—*contd*PRIORITY—contd

I L R 38 Ind 11

11. ————— Two mortgages executed by the same mortgagor—Mortgage decrees by inferior courts of decree for sale on prior mortgage—Effect of one of the prior mortgages. Held that a mortgagor who had become liable in consequence of a decree against himself on a prior mortgage was not entitled to hold up such prior mortgage as a shield against the decree of a subsequent mortgage from himself. Ottar v. Four 6 Dec 41 (1935) Platte v. N. d. I. P. Ch. D. 116 and Lijun Chowdh. v. Ch. n. Lal 11 C. B. v. 281 referred to. BADARI v. MURARI (1915)

I L R. 37 All 309

12. ————— Prior and subsequent mortgage—Decree obtained on prior mortgage—Fresh mortgage executed in consideration of the balance due under the decree—Interest on the debt the decree shall be deemed to be charged. The effect of decree of the court in extinction of the equity. A second mortgage brought a suit upon his mortgage impugning the first mortgage and obtained a decree for sale for the amount of both mortgages. This decree was made absolute but the mortgaged property was not in fact brought to sale under it. A third mortgagee then sued on his mortgage obtained a decree brought the mortgaged property to sale and purchased it himself. To this suit the second mortgagees were not made parties. Subsequently to this the second mortgagees took another mortgage comprising the property originally mortgaged to them and some more for the balance remaining unpaid of their former decree and a small further advance. In this deed it was expressly stated that the decree was to be deemed to be discharged thereby. Held in suit on this third mortgage that the plaintiffs were not entitled to go behind their deed and claim priority of the third mortgagees in virtue of their own second mortgage. Filia v. Filia 1 C. D. 619 D. I. k. u. Proad Singh v. Harilar Prasad 11 a. n. v. q. 91 C. I. J. 104 Kanhaia Lal v. Chhita Singh 7 I. L. J. 354 and Het Ram v. Shadi Pam 11 I. R. 40 All 307 referred to. (MURARI v. MUHAMMAD HIRAT KHAN (1917))

I L R 41 All 458

13. ————— Mortgage—Suit and decree by prior mortgagee without impugning puisne mortgage—Purchase of mortgage property by prior mortgagee in execution—Receipt of rents and profits thereafter—Mode of accounting between the two mortgagees. A mortgagee decree obtained by a prior mortgagee without impugning a puisne mortgagee does not affect the latter and the amount therefore payable by the latter in discharge of the prior mortgage is not the amount of the decree but that which is due on the footing of the prior mortgage as if no suit had been brought and if the prior mortgagee buys the mortgaged property in execution of his decree and gets possession of the same the rents and profits received by him cannot be set off as equivalent to the interest due for the period of possession but must be accounted for and deducted from the amount payable by the puisne mortgagee. Umes Chunder Sircar v. Zalur Fatima 1 I. R. 18 Cal 163 and Ganga Pershad Sahu v. The Land Mortgage Bank of India 1 I. L. R. 21 Cal 366 applied.

MORTGAGE—*contd*PRIORITY—contd

Syed Ibrahim Sahib v. Arwugilayee 1 I. R. 38 Ind 18 considered. MUTHAMMAL v. RAZU 11 All (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 513

Prior and subsequent mortgage rights of inter se—Separate and independent decrees obtained by each set of mortgagees—Property sold by prior mortgagee and purchased by a third party leaving a surplus of sale proceeds—Rights of action of senior and puisne mortgagees. A mortgagee the same property first to B and then by two separate mortgage deeds to C B and C both sued on their mortgage each party without impugning the other and obtained decrees. B's decree was executed first. The mortgaged property was sold and was purchased by K. B's mortgage was paid up and a considerable surplus remained which was deposited in court. C then endeavoured to execute his decree against the surplus sale proceeds but failed and the money was ultimately withdrawn by the mortgagor. C next proceeded with the execution of his decree against the property in the hands of K the auction purchaser and K in order to retain possession paid up the amount of B's decree. K then sued the representatives of A to recover the amount so paid. Held that in the circumstances K was entitled to a decree. Parhamdeo Prasad v. Tara Chand 1 I. R. 41 Cal 651 referred to. KARAN SINGH v. ISHTIAK HUSAIN

I L R 43 All 268

REDEMPTION

See UNDER SUB HEADINGS CONSTRUCTION PURCHASE CONSOLIDATION AND SALE

See BRITISH REGULATION 11 of 1793

I L R 34 All 261

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 34

R 1 I L R 34 Bom 698

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 ART 134

I L R 32 All 160

See LIMITATION ACT 1309 ART 126

I L R 41 Mad 650

ART 140

I L R 40 Bom 239

See MORTGAGEE AND MORTGAGEE

See REDEMPTION

See REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGE PUNJAB

ACT 1913 I L R 2 Lah 234

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s 83 I L R 43 All 424

See ss 1 to 103

Acknowledgment of mortgagor's right to—Signature by mortgagee in the Register of Sanads—

See LIMITATION ACT (11 of 1908) s 19

I L R 45 Bom 934

Clag on—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

O I L R 45 Bom 117

————— Suit by some of the heirs of mortgagor—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O I R 10 (2) and O XXXIV

R 1 I L P 45 Bom 1009

Lekha Mukhi—

Suit for redemption—limitation—

MORTGAGE—contdPLEDGE—contdSee INDIAN LIMITATION ACT 1908 (11)*I L R 1 Lah 69

appeal for decrees for—

See COURT OF APPEALS I L R 1 Lah 234

Provision for mortgage to remain in possession as long fruit bearing trees remain on land—Weather v Clog—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 60 I L R 40 Bom 117

1 ———— Click on the equity of redemption—Two mortgages—Contract to discharge the second mortgage before the first—Consolidation Under a covenant contained in a mortgage of the year 1867 the mortgagor took possession of the mortgaged property. Subsequently the mortgagor took a further advance from the mortgagees and gave them a second mortgage on the same property in which they covenanted that they would pay off the amount due on the second mortgage before redeeming the first. Held on suit by the mortgagees to redeem the mortgage of 1867 that this was an admissible covenant and not a clog on the equity of redemption. Bharu v Dalip Ali Weekly Notes (1906) 28 distinguished Muhammad Abdul Hamid v Javraj Mal Ali Weekly Notes (1906) 267 referred to. In second appeal the plaintiffs mortgagees were allowed to amend their plaint so as to include a payer for redemption of both the mortgages. Prud LAL SINGH v BHAWANI SINGH (1910)
I L R 30 All 651

2 ———— Redemption suit for—deposit of money in Court if terminates mesne profits—Mortgagor's claim for mesne profits after such deposit and before getting possession—Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1937) Sec 11 Art 32 The relation of mortgagor and mortgagee ceases as soon as the mortgagor deposits the money in Court in pursuance of the Court's order in a redemption suit and the possession of the mortgaged thereafter becomes wrongful possession. Bhuvan Bibi v Sacha Dinah I L R 31 Cal 863 s c 8 C W N 581 referred to. Where under orders of the Court in a suit for redemption a mortgagor deposited the amount due on the mortgage in Court but the mortgagee did not deliver possession of the mortgaged property till some time later. Held that a suit by the mortgagor for mesne profits up to the date when possession was delivered was maintainable. The test to be applied is whether the sum claimed in the suit could have been recovered in the previous suit for redemption. Inayat v Duttatraya I L R 90 Bom 661 referred to. Pulimnibai v Venkatesh I L R 1 Bom 527 Satyabadi v Harabati I L R 34 Cal 223 s c 5 C L J 192 and Pam Din v Bhup Singh I L R 30 All 225 distinguished. A suit by a mortgagor against the mortgagee for mesne profits for the period during which he held wrongful possession of the property is maintainable in a Small Cause Court. Art 31 of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act is no bar to such suit being instituted in a Small Cause Court. SAHANI DUTT v SHANKU ARUNDEY (1910)
14 C W N 1001

3 ———— Purchase by mortgagee of equity of redemption—Transfer of Property

MORTGAGE—contdPLEDGE—contd

Act (IV of 1882) s 99—Sale voidable not void—Mortgagor if may redeem without selling a sale—Mortgagee trustee for mortgagor—Indemnity right of mortgagee to and to credit for amount paid for purchase. It is a well established principle that a purchase by the mortgagee of the equity of redemption constitutes him a trustee for the mortgagor and that he does not (unless there has been a release of the equity of redemption or other circumstance which in law would bar his right to redeem) acquire an irredeemable till. Ahmarajmal v Dham I L R 30 Cal 295 312 s c 9 C W N 991 referred to. The right to redeem which according to this principle would still subsist in the mortgagor has not been affected by the decision of the Full Bench in Achut Sildar v Behari Lal I L R 35 Cal 61 s c 11 C W N 1011 where it was held that a sale in contravention of the terms of s 99 of the Transfer of Property Act is not a nullity but an irregular sale liable to be avoided merely on proof that the terms of the section have been contravened. The mortgagor is under no necessity to have the sale set aside first in order to be entitled to redeem the property. He may sue for redemption within the period of limitation allowed by law. But in such a case the mortgagor would have to pay the mortgagee the amount given credit for by the latter in respect of the sale. Moghan Pathani v Pakuran I L R 22 Mad 347 and the mortgagee would further be entitled to be reimbursed and to add to the mortgage-debt the amount which he has expended for the protection and preservation of the property. PRADHAN LAL CHOWDHURY v KANUN FAKHAR MISHRA (1910)
14 C W N 579

4 ———— Mortgagor out of possession—Equity of redemption—(1) If in moiety of mortgaged property—Transfer of Property Act s 68 74 and 91—English Conveyancing and Law of Property Act s 14 The discharge of a mortgage merely enlarges the security of a subsequent encumbrancer or adds to the interest of the owner of the equity of redemption. Where A is the owner of the equity of redemption in a moiety of certain property and a gift though the right to possession was outstanding in the mortgage at the date of the gift A is entitled to possession of the moiety on the discharge of the mortgage. Transfer of Property Act ss 60 74 91 construed and compared with the English Conveyancing and Law of Property Act s 15. PONNAMMAL JALITHIRATHA MUDALI (1910)
I L R 34 Mad 115

5 ———— Bengal Regulation No XV of 1793 s 10—Redeemed meaning of—Jurisdiction—Bengal W P and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 1857) s 19—Competence of Court to pass a decree for an amount exceeding the pecuniary limits of its jurisdiction. Held that the word 'redeemed' as used in s 10 of Regulation XV of 1793 was not to be construed in the sense that the mortgage had been redeemed in the full scope of that word that is satisfied and possession given to the mortgagor. So long therefore as the property remains in the hands of the mortgagee the mortgagor can bring a suit for redemption even if the mortgage had been satisfied over 12 years before suit. Held also that where a suit is filed within the pecuniary jurisdiction of a court the jurisdiction of the Court is not ousted by the subsequent discovery that a sum is in fact due to the plaintiff exceeding

MORTGAGE—contd

REDEMPTION—contd

compromise SHANKAR DIN v. OKAL IPASAD (1912) I L R 34 All 620 I C R 81

10 ——— Mortgagee allowed to redeem before expiry of term of mortgage—Aon payment of greater part of mortgage money certain property was mortgaged by way of conditional sale for Rs 9500 for ten years. Of the mortgage money Rs 50159 only were paid and the balance was left with the mortgagees for payment to prior incumbrancers. The mortgagees did not pay off the prior incumbrancers and the mortgagor having meanwhile sold the mortgaged property his assignees sued for redemption of the mortgage before the expiry of ten years. Held that on equitable grounds the defendants not having performed what was a most essential part of the contract the plaintiffs ought to be allowed to redeem before the expiration of the period of ten years. CHHOTU LAL v. BALDEO BARKER (1912) I L R 33 All 833

11 ——— Transfer of mortgage—Rights of the transferee—Redemption—Construction of statute—Legislative exposition—Limitation Acts (I of 1877 and I of 1908) Art 134. The plaintiffs sued in the year 1906 to redeem a mortgage effected prior to the year 1874. The representatives in title of the mortgagee claiming to be absolutely entitled mortgaged the land with possession to A in 1874 and he sold his rights to defendant B. The suit having been brought more than 12 years after the alienation to A defendant B claimed as against the plaintiffs the ant rest of mortgagee by virtue of his adverse possession under Art 134 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877). Held that it was obligatory on the plaintiffs to redeem defendant B before they could recover possession of the property. Jesu Ramji Kainath v. Balkrishna Lakshman I I P 15 Bom 533 Malay v. Fahrhand I L P 22 Bom 225 and Rinchandra v. Sheikh Mohidin I L P 23 Bom 614 followed. Abiram Gossami v. Shyama Charan Nandi L R 36 I A 143 and Ishwar Shyam Chand Jiu v. Ram Kanai Ghose I L R 33 Cal 576 explained. The alteration in the language of Art 134 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) was a legislative recognition of the soundness of the view that the Article was intended to give protection to all transferees for value including mortgagees. Swift v. Jewsbury L P 9 Q B 312 and Morgan v. London General Omnibus Company 12 Q B D 201 referred to. BAGAS UMARJI v. NATHABHAI UTAMRAJ (1911) I L R 38 Bom 146

12 ——— Right of assignee of mortgagor to redeem first mortgage after a decree for redemption obtained by a puisne mortgagee had become inoperative. A mortgaged certain properties to B and afterwards mortgaged the same with other properties to C. C obtained a decree for redemption against B but the decree was allowed to become inoperative by not being executed. D obtained an assignment of the right of A in the mortgaged properties and also the rights of C therein. A sued to redeem the mortgage in favour of B. Held that although the suit by D as the assignee of C was not maintainable still it was competent to him as assignee of A to bring the suit after the decree obtained by C had become inoperative. AUTTHASARI RAMAN NAMBOODHI v. ACHUTHA ISHUR DI (1904) I L R 33 Mad 42

MORTGAGE—contd

REDEMPTION—contd

13 ——— Clog—Usufructuary mortgage—Law—Right to retain possession as lessee after satisfaction of mortgage. A provision in a mortgage deed whereby the mortgagee is to remain in possession after payment of the mortgage debt is unenforceable as it acts as a fetter upon the right to redeem. When a mortgage deed is accompanied by a lease the effect of which is to keep the mortgagor out of possession notwithstanding the discharge by him of the mortgage debt there is a fetter on the equity of redemption which the Court ought not to enforce. ANKHEDU v. SUBBIAH (1912) I L R 35 Mad 744

14 ——— Usufructuary mortgage—Accountability of mortgagee for illegal realisation of cess from tenants—Transfer of property Act (I of 1882) s 16—Stipulation by mortgagee to pay a portion of profits to mortgagor—Subsequent arrangement regarding mode of payment if may be proved by parol evidence—Evidence Act (I of 1874) s 92. Under a usufructuary mortgage of 1877 the mortgagee undertook to pay to the mortgagor an annual sum of Rs 10 odd and apply the balance of the profits to payment of revenue charges and interest on the mortgage debt. Held that oral evidence to prove a subsequent arrangement under which the mortgagee allowed the mortgagor to possess and enjoy a portion of the property in lieu of the payment was admissible in evidence inasmuch as it did not supersede or vary the stipulation regarding the payment but merely concerned the mode of payment. Held further that in a suit for redemption by the mortgagor the mortgagee was bound to account for the amounts they realised from the tenants as cesses subsequently imposed by the Cess Act of 1880 and payable by the tenants to the mortgagor. The mortgagee's accountability is not limited to items within the contemplation of the mortgage contract but may extend to amounts which the mortgagee was enabled to realise out of the mortgaged property by taking advantage of his position as mortgagee. PANAYATAR SINGH v. FULSI PRASAD SINGH (1911) 18 C W N 137

15 ——— Practice—Redemption decree under appeal by mortgagee—Deposit of decretal amount—Duty of mortgagee to withdraw under protest—Responsibility of mortgagee for loss of right in deposit by lapse of time although amount of decree increased by Appellate Court. In a suit for redemption the Court of the Judicial Commissioners in India passed a decree entitling the mortgagor to recover a certain sum on account of principal and interest from which decree the mortgagees appealed to the Privy Council who increased the amount. Pending the appeal the mortgagors had deposited the amount of the decree of the Judicial Commissioners which however the mortgagees did not withdraw as they might have done without prejudice to their pending appeal either by arrangement or the sanction of the Court in India or the sanction of the Board which would have been given as a matter of course. Held that if the amount deposited has lapsed to Government under the rules owing to the same not having been withdrawn in time the mortgagees must give credit for the amount. CHAMPAT SINGH v. JANU SINGH (1911) 16 C W N 793

16 ——— Parties—Mortgage by Mitakshara co-parceners—Suit for foreclosure

MORTGAGE—contd

PREFERENCE—contd

which sons of a mortgagor put joint-decree in execution as a bona fide representation of sons of the father, who did not share as equal. The plaintiffs father among other co-partners of a joint Mahabharata Hindu family executed a mortgage by conditional sale the terms of which expired in 1888 whereupon the mortgagee instituted a suit for foreclosure against the mortgagors and obtained delivery of possession in 1889 in execution of the decree in that suit. The plaintiffs were not made parties in that suit the mortgagee not having had notice of their interest at the time and they brought the present suit in 1907 for redemption. Held that in the absence of allegation by the plaintiffs that the debt was an immoral debt the father of the plaintiff sufficiently represented the plaintiffs in the previous suit and with the extinction of the father's right to redeem the son's right of redemption was also extinguished. Luxmi Das v. Gena Lal Jha 11 C L J 330 Ram Tarun Gossain v. Ram Das Malia 11 C L J 1078 referred to BALU MAHATRA v. BROJODASI PANDA (1911)

16 C W N 1019

12 ——— Mortgage and lease to mortgagor contemporaneously granted—Mortgage executed before Transfer of Property Act (1882) came into force—Mortgagee's security reduced by portion of property being withdrawn—S. 63(a) of Transfer of Property Act—Right of mortgagee of compensation. The plaintiff (respondent) mortgaged to the defendant (appellant) certain property by a deed dated the 20th of August 1880 for Rs 70,000 for eight years. On the 29th of August (and so practically contemporaneously with the mortgage) a lease of the mortgaged property was executed by the mortgagee in favour of the mortgagor at an annual rent of Rs 4,000 which represented interest on the mortgage debt at the rate of 5 per cent per annum. The mortgage contained a clause that it is agreed by mutual consent of the parties that the profits of the property mortgaged shall belong to the mortgagee in lieu of the interest on the mortgage money and the mortgagor shall have no claim for the same profits. The mortgagee also shall have no right to claim interest on the mortgage money advanced by him. The lease after reciting the mortgage referred to a provision in the latter that the mortgagor should be entitled to sell a certain portion of the mortgaged property on condition that he handed over the whole of the proceeds of the sale to the mortgagee in payment of the mortgage debt and provided that under the condition whatever share of money the mortgagor should pay to the mortgagee in a lump sum should be credited and set off against the rent payable under the lease with interest at 8 annas per cent per mensem. Subsequently three further charges were tacked on to the mortgage the latest of which was dated the 13th of December 1882. In June 1891 the mortgagor was in arrears with his rent and the mortgagee brought a suit against him on which the mortgagor gave up possession of the property to the mortgagee. In a suit for redemption (the right to redeem not being disputed) Held that the mortgagee was entitled under the terms of the mortgage to appropriate the profits of the mortgaged property in lieu of the interest on the mortgage money not paid by the mortgagor. Evidence of preliminary negotiations and previous conversations were not admissible to contradict or vary the terms of the mortgage (Evidence Act s. 92). Held also that the mortgage and the lease were both parts of one and the same transaction. But there was no inconsistency between the two instruments nor would there have been any inconsistency if the mortgage itself had contained a provision for granting a lease on the terms upon which the lease was actually granted. Held further that the original mortgage having been executed before the Transfer of Property Act came into operation that Act was not applicable notwithstanding that one of the further charges was executed subsequently to that date. Whatever might be the construction of s. 63(a) of that Act (which was cited in support of the mortgagee's claim) he was not on the evidence and under the circumstances of the present case entitled to compensation for any loss or damage occasioned by his security being diminished owing to a portion of the mortgaged property being successfully claimed from the mortgagor. ABDULLAH KHAN v. BASHARAT HUSAIN (1912) I L R 35 All 48

MORTGAGE—contd

PREFERENCE—contd

18 ——— Redemption by reversioners after foreclosure decree—Subrogation—Transfer of Property Act (1882) s. 91. While a sale in execution under a mortgage decree was in progress plaintiff (a stranger) paid the decree amount into Court on behalf of some of the reversioners to the property. Held that though the mere payment of a mortgage debt by a stranger will not entitle him to the mortgagee's rights by subrogation yet here under s. 91 Transfer of Property Act (1882) the reversioners became equally entitled to a charge over the property and they could validly assign this charge to the plaintiff by way of submortgage. The English and Indian Law relating to the doctrine of subrogation compared and discussed. Per SUNDARA AYYAR J.—I am on the whole inclined to hold that a reversioner cannot voluntarily claim to redeem a mortgage made by the last male holder or institute a suit for that purpose. But does it necessarily follow that when a suit is instituted by a mortgagee for sale the reversioner has not got a sufficient interest in the property to entitle him to discharge the mortgage to prevent the loss of the property to which he would be entitled to succeed on the death of the widow? I do not think I am bound to hold that his right stand on the same footing when he claims of his own accord to redeem and when he tries to save the property for the estate upon the mortgagee attempting to sell it. The right of a person interested in the payment of money which another is bound by law to pay and who therefore pays it to be reimbursed by the other is recognised in s. 69 of the Indian Contract Act. There is no reason for holding that only those who have an interest in a mortgaged property within the meaning of ss. 87 and 91 of the Transfer of Property Act can be held to be interested in the payment of money due on a mortgage created by the last male owner. NARAYANA KUTTI GOUNDAN v. PETCHANMAL (1913)

I L R 36 Mad. 426

19 ——— Accounts—Mortgagee obstructing and prolonging litigation to keep property in possession—Interest disallowance of for period during which defendant prosecuted appeals to Higher Courts unsuccessful—Liability of defendants to account for rents and profits received during the period—Expenses of management necessarily incurred—Costs of taking accounts and striking balance against redemption money—Costs of special leave application. Where a suit for redemption of a mortgage in respect of property of which the mortgagees took and kept possession from 11th February 1864 was commenced on 30th May 1889 and a preliminary decree for accounts etc. was passed by the Subordinate Judge on 29th June 1889 and the decree subject to certain modifications in favour of the plaintiffs was affirmed by the High Court on 10th September 1900 and the decree of the High Court was affirmed by the Privy Council on 27th July 1890 and the plaintiffs having applied in the meanwhile for the taking of accounts in pursuance of the decree of the High Court the same was taken and a final decree for redemption was passed by the Subordinate Judge on the 29th July 1900 declaring that a sum of Rs 33160.11 was due from the plaintiffs to the defendant at that date and decreeing that on payment into Court within six months from that date of the said sum with interest at 12 per cent per annum on the sum of Rs 286886 from the 29th July 1900 to the date of payment into Court within such six months plaintiffs should have a reconveyance free of incumbrances of the property under mortgage etc. and the plaintiffs appealed to the High Court and the defendants also filed cross objections but both were dismissed by that Court and upon appeal and cross appeal by both parties to the Privy Council the decree of the Subordinate Judge of 29th July 1902 was affirmed by the Board of judgment dated the 13th June 1912 but the Privy Council found that in the action the defendants had been obstructive and oppressive and they had unduly and intentionally prolonged the litigation to their own advantage and to the serious detriment of the plaintiffs. Held by the Privy Council that no further sum as interest beyond the interest on the sum of Rs 286886 decreed by the Subordinate Judge for the period from 29th July 1902 to the 28th January 1903 should be allowed to the defendants in the accounts which the High Court was directed to take of the rents and profits which the defendants had received since 29th July 1902 and it was ordered that the expenses of taking such account and all proceeds incident thereto and to the striking of the balance upon payment of which redemption might be made was to be borne by the defendants that allowance should be made in taking the accounts for money if any necessarily spent by the defendants after the 29th July 1902 in the proper management and preservation of the mortgaged property but no interest should be allowed on the money so spent but that simple interest should be allowed to the plaintiffs on the balance or excess of each year's receipts over expenditure at a rate to be fixed by the High Court and that the sum of money found to be due to the plaintiffs should be deducted by the High Court from the amount which would have been payable by the plaintiffs into Court on the 28th January 1903 if payment had been made under the decree of the Subordinate Judge of 29th July 1902 and that the plaintiffs should be allowed to redeem on payment by them into the High Court within a time to be fixed by that Court of the balance to be ascertained in the manner indicated. In the appeal and cross appeal the respective parties were directed to bear their own costs except those in connection with the application for special leave to cross appeal which in accordance with the order granting such leave was to be paid by the cross appellants GANGA BAHU DEBI & APURBA KRISHNA ROY (1912) 17 C W N 25

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

20 ——— Purchase by mortgagees of part of mortgaged property—Tender of proportionate part of mortgage money by purchasers of the residue—Tender refused on ground of subsequent mortgages affecting the property—Suit for redemption—Form of decree. Tender of payment under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act was made by the purchasers of part of the property comprised in a mortgage (the rest of the property having been purchased by the mortgagees themselves) who paid into Court what they believed to be the proportionate amount due on the share purchased by them and within the period limited by the mortgage deed. This tender was however refused upon the ground that there were two subsidiary mortgages affecting the property under which further sums were due. The mortgagees thereupon brought a suit for redemption expressing their readiness to pay what might be found by the Court to be the proper proportionate amount due by them in respect of the property which they have purchased. Held on the finding that the plaintiffs when they made their original tender were unaware of the existence of the two subsidiary bonds that the Court below was right in giving a decree for redemption on payment of the amount due under the three mortgages in respect of the share purchased by the plaintiffs and for possession at the corresponding period of the following year. NARSHAN SINGH v. ACHARYAN SINGH (1913)

I L R 36 All 36

21 ——— Prior and puisne incumbrancers—Seeing in succession—Suit for sale by prior incumbrancer without impleading puisne incumbrancer—Subsequent suit by puisne incumbrancer for sale—Form of decree. Where a prior incumbrancer sues for sale on his mortgage and brings the mortgaged property to sale without making a puisne incumbrancer party to his suit and thereafter the puisne incumbrancer brings a suit for sale on his mortgage the proper decree to be made in the second suit is to direct a calculation of what was due on foot of the prior incumbrancer up to the date of the taking over of possession upon sale or if that date cannot be ascertained the date of the sale and to declare the puisne incumbrancer entitled to redeem upon payment of the amount so ascertained. DYP ARRAN SINGH v. HIRA SINGH I L R 19 All 271. 1. Khatran Chaudhuran v. Dagehar Prasad I L R 33 All 370 and Manohar Lal v. Ram Babu I L R 34 All 373 referred to. PACHUNATH KUNWAR v. SHANKAR SINGH (1913) I L R 36 All 123

22 ——— Clog—Condition intended to defeat the right of redemption—Condition held to be unenforceable. A Court of Equity will not permit any device or contrivance designed or calculated to prevent or impede redemption although it may be impossible to lay down any general rule as to what should not be regarded as an improper restraint or fetter on the right of redemption Where a mortgage was made for forty years and a provision was inserted in the deed fixing a particular day on which it was to be redeemed failing which the mortgage was to be renewed for another term of forty years and it was further provided that the mortgage should not be redeemed with borrowed money it was held that these provisions were designed to make redemption very difficult if not impossible and should not be enforced Donis v Gurdhar Lal 42 Weekly Notes (1894) 143 and Jambhar Singh v Pamlar Singh 10 Indian Cases 943 referred to SARADWAT SINGH v BHAI SINGH (1914)

MORTGAGE—*contdREDEMPTION—*contd

I L R 33 All 551

23 ——— Subsequent mortgages obtaining decrees on his mortgage in absence of first mortgage—Sale of property subject to first mortgage—Subsequent mortgagee purchasing property with permission of Court—Execution of decree by first mortgagee—Subsequent mortgagee can ask the mortgage amount of first mortgage to be determined again—If purchase subsequent mortgagee does not lose his rights under his mortgage—Extinction of mortgage—Transfer of property Act (11 of 1880) s. 101 In 1846 certain property was mortgaged to I. It was again mortgaged by the same mortgagors to H in 1857. In 1862 I obtained a decree on his mortgage. H was not made a party to the suit. I having sold his rights his assignee A obtained another decree in 1876 against the mortgagors on the mortgage and other debts. To this suit also H was not a party. In 1890 H sued on his own mortgage without making the first mortgage a party. A decree was passed in terms of an award. The property was sold in execution of the decree subject to the first mortgage and was purchased by H with the permission of the Court. In 1908 the decree holder applied to execute the decree of 1890. H was made a party to the execution proceedings. It was contended by H that he was not bound by the decree under execution and was entitled to have the mortgage amount determined again in the execution proceedings. The decree holder urged that H's mortgage had been extinguished by his purchase at the Court sale and as such purchaser he was bound by the decree by which the original mortgagors were bound at the date of the auction sale and that H did nothing to show that he intended to keep alive his mortgage. Held that as a second mortgagee H was entitled to redeem the first mortgage and to have the amount of the first mortgage determined again as between himself and the first mortgagee. Held further that as auction purchaser H became entitled to all the rights which the mortgagors and the mortgagee had at the date of the sale i.e. to all the rights of the mortgagors as they existed at the date of the mortgage upon which the decree was based. Held also that H must be presumed to have intended to keep his mortgage alive and it was clearly for his benefit to do so. SHANKAR VENKATESH v SADASHIV MAHADEVI (1913)

I L R 38 Bom 24

24 ——— Valuation—Jurisdiction—Malabar law—Mortgage by karnavan whether a junior member is bound to sue to set aside. The proper valuation of a suit to redeem a mortgage is the amount of the mortgage admitted by the plaintiff to be binding on him and not that of the mortgagors set up by the defendant. In such a suit the question of jurisdiction has to be decided in the averments on the plaint and not with reference to the pleas of the defendant. Chardu v Kanti I L R 9 Mad 908 followed. Unni v Kunchi Amma I L R 14 Mad 969 referred to. When a karnavan of a Malabar taluk makes an alteration which is not binding on the other members the latter need not sue to set it aside but can recover possession on the strength of their title in the absence of proof of the validity of the alienation. Secus where the plaintiff has himself executed the instrument under which the defendant claims the trustee of a Malabar devam first executed an ottu for Rs 0 and subsequently renewed the same in a consolidated ottu for Rs 1600 and further created a purankodam for Rs 1000 on the same property. His successor sued to redeem the ottu for Rs 0 treating the other mortgages as invalid. Held that the suit as framed was maintainable and the plaintiff was not bound to sue to set aside the later mortgages credited by his predecessors or CHAIRMAN v RAUL (1919)

MORTGAGE—*contdREDEMPTION—*contd

L R 37 Mad 420

25 ——— Extinction of equity of redemption—Mortgagor in rajnama to Redeem for the rajnama—Mortgagee executing kabuliyat to pay Government land assessment In 1806 the plaintiff mortgaged the land in dispute to the defendant and in 1879 passed a rajnama relinquishing all his occupancy rights in the said land in favour of the defendants. The latter at the same time gave a complementary kabuliyat agreeing to pay Government assessment on the land. The plaintiff having sued to redeem the mortgage. Held dismissing the suit that the rajnama and kabuliyat effectually extinguished the plaintiff's equity of redemption. VENKAJI NARAYAN v OPAL PANCHANDRA (1914)

I L R 39 Bom 55

26 ——— Previous decree in mortgages in favour for possession if bars redemption suit—Civil Procedure Code (Act XXI of 1880) s. 94—Order in execution of decree in suit for possession directing mortgagee to furnish account and permitting redemption effect of Where in a suit by a mortgagee for recovery of possession by right of ijara of the immovable properties mortgaged the Court passed a decree directing inter alia that the plaintiff do get possession of the same by right of ijara and be in possession thereof so long as the money for which the said mehtas were mortgaged were not repaid out of the income arising therefrom. Held that the decree was clearly a decree for ejectment and a suit by a person interested in the equity of redemption or redemption of the mortgage was not barred by s. 244 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1880. That the fact that once the decree in the ejectment suit a predecree interest of the plaintiff had applied in the executing Court in limine that the decree holder could file accounts showing what monies had been realised by him since he took possession under the decree and if the decretal money was not fully paid to let the Court know how much still remains due by rendering a proper account thereof and the Court overruling the objection of the mortgagee that the matter could not be dealt with under s. 244. Held that the petitioner could redeem the mortgaged properties but the latter took no steps to do so. Held that this order is binding at all in the suit for redemption was to be regarded merely as interpreting the mortgage and the fact that the plaintiff in his plaint made a prayer that in the taking of accounts the directions contained therein might be followed did not mean that he waived his right of redemption on that judgment. The passing of the final decree in a mortgage suit pending an appeal from the preliminary decree is no bar to the hearing of the appeal. PRANJY MOHUN MUKERJEE v CHANDRA SEKHAR SARKAR (1914).

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

[19 C W N 1132]

27 ——— Adverse possession—Usufructuary mortgage—Mortgagee in possession—Equity of redemption—Increase of possession while period of redemption is running—Suit to redeem by a person whose name is recorded in revenue papers. Held that a person could not acquire a title by adverse possession to land which was the subject of a usufructuary mortgage and therefore in the possession of the mortgagee merely because he had managed to get his name recorded in the village papers for a series of years in respect of the mortgaged property. Lala Lakhoo Lal v Mani Bibi 6 C W N 601 not followed. Casborne v Scarfe 1 All 605 distinguished. KUTWAR SEW v DARBARI LAL (1916).

I L R 33 All 411

28 ——— Tender of mortgage money as condition precedent to the institution of a suit for redemption—A usufructuary mortgage of agricultural land provided that the right to redeem should be exercised only in the month of Jeth of any year. Held that before the mortgagor could sue for redemption it was necessary for him to prove that he had tendered to the mortgagee the mortgage debt or such amount as he considered due on the mortgage in the month of Jeth of some year. Bansi v Girdhari Lal All W N (1894) 143 followed. MUHAMMAD ALI v BALDEO PANDI (1915).

I L R 35 All 148

29 ——— Limitation—Application for execution—Time of runs from date of decree or date of ascertainment of exact amount. Where in a suit for redemption a certain decree was passed on 27th July 1909 and it was directed therein that it will be necessary to have fresh accounts taken to determine the amount due to the appellants and the amount was not definitely ascertained till the 23rd February 1910 and the application for execution was filed on 20th January 1913. Held that the judgment of the District Judge dated 27th July 1909 sets forth clearly the exact method of ascertaining the sum to be paid in redemption and the calculation of that sum was a matter purely of office routine and that the application for execution was barred by limitation. Golan Gaffer Mandal v Colan Bibi I L R 25 Cal 109 followed. SCRABDEO NARAYAN SINGH v MUSHAROO RAO (1916).

20 C W N 950

30 ——— One mortgagor redeeming the entire mortgage—Acknowledgment—Dakkhal nama—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 19. See I L R 148. In a suit by the representatives of some of the co mortgagors for the redemption of the shares in certain property against the representative of co mortgagor who had redeemed the mortgage the plaintiffs alleged that the mort-gago had been made by one Sukhjit in favour of one Muhammad Hanain in the year of 1913 Samvat. The plaintiffs also relied on certain acknowledgments made by the defendant's predecessor in title. One of these was a dakkhalnama executed by Ram Lal in 1890 which contained a description of the property and was signed by Ram Lal. The defendant contended that there was no mortgage that he was absolute owner that the acknowledgments had not been proved and that the suit was time barred. It was held by the lower Appellate Court that the date of the mortgage had not been proved but the acknowledgments were in respect of some mortgage and that the plaintiffs were entitled to redeem. Held that the rule of limitation governing a suit of this kind was that laid down in Ashfaq Ahmad v Saif Ali I L R 11 All 423 viz. that Art 149 of Sch I to the Limitation Act applied that is the limitation extended for a period of 60 years from the date of execution of the mortgage or from the date when the mortgage money became due and the burden was upon the plaintiffs of proving the mortgage that they had set up and that it was for them to prove that the acknowledgment relied upon by them as contained in the dakkhalnama had been made at a date within the period of limitation. Held further that the acknowledgment contained in the dakkhalnama amounted to nothing more than a description of the property purchased and was not acknowledgment of liability within the meaning of s 10 of the Limitation Act. Dharma Prakash v Gound Sadavalkar I L R 8 Bom 99 referred to. KHILALI PAM TAIK I AM (1916).

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

I L R 38 All 540

31 ——— Adverse possession—Mortgagee in proprietary possession under an agreement unregistered but acted upon for a very long period. The parties to a mortgage by conditional sale executed in 1869 entered into an agreement in 1876 whereby the mortgagor gave up all his equity of redemption in the property mortgaged. The agreement was not registered but both the parties consented to the complete transfer of the equity of redemption and both parties acted on the agreement for very nearly forty years. Held on a suit being brought in 1912 for redemption of the mortgage of 1869 that the mortgagee or their predecessors in title had been in adverse possession since the year 1876 and the suit was barred by limitation. Mahomed Musa v Aghore Khan Ganavi I L R 43 Cal 801 and Uman Khan v Dasanna I L R 57 Mad 545 referred to. KHEDU RAI v SHEO PARSON RAI (1914).

I L R 39 All 42

32 ——— Major portion of mortgaged property purchased by mortgagee—Suit by one only of the heirs of the mortgagor to redeem the whole of the remaining share in the mortgaged property. Out of the original 16 annas of a village which was the subject of a usufructuary mortgage the mortgagee acquired by purchase 13 annas and 4 pies. After the death of the mortgagor one of his heirs used to redeem the whole of the remaining 2 annas and 8 pies. The other heirs were made parties to the suit as pro forma defendants and consented to the plaintiff redeeming to the whole of the remaining share. Held that notwithstanding this the plaintiff was only entitled to redeem her own personal share. Kura, Mal v Pura

MORTGAGE—*contd*REDEMPTION—contd

Val I I I 2 All 55 and Venuka v Daulat I I I 29 All 26 followed Sallaram Narayan v Opal Lal Bhatia I I I 29 Ecr 66 (Note) not followed Zain ul Abidin v Mahafaza Iqbal Khan Singh (1917)

I L R 39 All 618

— Annuity provided for by terms of deed—Equity of redemption acquired by mortgagor—Suit by heirs of annuitant to recover a sum of annuity. By the terms of a mortgage deed an annuity or shik charge was made payable to one Muhammad Tural un and his heirs by the mortgagor. By a series of transactions the mortgagee ultimately became the owner of the equity of redemption in the whole of the mortgaged property. Held that the mortgagee nevertheless still continued liable for the payment of the annuity secured by the mortgage. LACHMI NARAIN v SAJJADI BEGAM (1917)

I L R 39 All 70

23 (a) — Zarpeshgi deed executed in 1874 in favour of one C provided interest for the payment by C to the executors of A. Zarpeshgi rent of Rs 500 odd every year. The principal amount was made payable in September 1887. In February 1888 Rs 12,000 was borrowed by the mortgagor from A and in accordance with the agreement between them was applied in paying the Zarpeshgi debt and the Zarpeshgi deed upon such payment was taken back and handed over to A in whose favour a simple mortgage was executed to secure the loan of Rs 12,000 given by her. Held that so far as it operated as a lease the Zarpeshgi deed came to an end but the charge created by the Zarpeshgi was kept alive for the benefit of A. Mohd Ali Lal v Mohd Ali Bawan Das I R 101 A 60 (1883) Gokildas v Rambur Soha d L P 11 I A 120 (1894) Dinobondhu Shaw Chowdhry v Jogmaya Dass I R 29 I A 9 s r 6 C 3 209 (1901) referred to. That in suits for sale instituted after the date of A's mortgage of 1888 by persons who had obtained mortgages between the dates of the Zarpeshgi of G and the simple mortgage of A A's as a puisne mortgage was a necessary party under s 8a of the Transfer of Property Act. Where in such suits was made a party but did not set up prior title under the Zarpeshgi of 1874 and some of the properties covered by the Zarpeshgi were sold. Held that A's right to proceed against the said properties by a suit for sale on the basis of the Zarpeshgi deed was barred by Expt II of s 13 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882. In one such suit instituted by M within 12 years of the due date of payment under the Zarpeshgi of 1874. A not having been joined as a party the sales held did not affect or take away A's right as a puisne mortgagee under the mortgage of 1888 or her claim of priority under the Zarpeshgi of 1874. But A's claim to priority under the Zarpeshgi of 1874 became barred in 1900 when a suit was first instituted by A assignee to enforce A's mortgage and the only decree plaintiff in this suit would get as against the purchasers in M's suit was to be allowed to redeem the mortgage of M on payment to the purchaser of the amount at principal and interest in respect of which the property purchased by him was sold in M's suit. In a mortgage suit a puisne mortgagee of whose interest in the mortgaged property the plaintiffs have notice is a necessary party under s 8a of the Transfer of Property Act and a sale of the property had in such a suit does not take away the puisne mortgagee's right to redeem. SYED MAHOMED, IFAHIM HOSSEIN KHAN AND ANOTHER v AMBICA IFAH SINGH AND OTHERS (1911 19)

MORTGAGE—*contd*REDEMPTION—contd

I L R 39 All 505

24 — Mortgage by conditional sale — Mortgagor in possession as tenant of mortgagee — Suit for rent in arrears — Decree for rent barred by limitation — Suit for redemption — Mortgagee whether entitled to claim arrears of rent and interest as part of price of redemption — Standstill of charge — Election of remedies. In a suit for redemption the mortgagee is not entitled to claim any arrears of rent with interest in respect of the mortgaged lands which were left in the possession of the mortgagor as tenant of the mortgagee under the terms of the mortgage deed when the mortgagee has already sued and obtained a decree for such rent with interest and has allowed the decree to become barred by limitation even though the arrear of rent is a charge under the deed. English and Indian cases reviewed Heerachal Singh v Jauhar Singh I L R 16 Cal 307 distinguished Imdad Hasan Khan v Bachu Prasad I L R 20 All 401 referred to. NARAIN PAO v SHIVU RAO (1918) I L R 41 Cal 164

35 — Partial owner of equity of redemption if can redeem whole mortgage. A partial owner of the equity of redemption is entitled to redeem the whole mortgage. BAIKANTH NATH DAS v MOHESH CHANDRA DAS (1916) 22 C W N 128

See also PROTAP CHANDRA DHAR v PPRAY MOHAY DHAR (1918) 22 C W N 500

36 — Mortgage suit—Purchaser of mortgaged property applying to be made a party not allowed on plaintiff's objection—Subsequent suit by purchaser at mortgagee's sale to recover possession—Gift of previous purchaser to redeem. Where an application by a purchaser A of mortgaged property to be made a party in the mortgage suit was on the mortgagee's objection refused and he was thus prevented from exercising the right of redemption amongst other reliefs which he desired to claim. Held that in a suit by the purchaser at the sale in execution of the mortgage decree B to recover the property from A who was in possession A was entitled to redeem B. REBATI MOHAY DAS v NADABASHI DE (1918)

22 C W N 543

37 — Decree passed under Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) not governed by Transfer of Property Act—Decree not executed—Second suit to redeem the mortgage not maintainable—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 47. The plaintiff obtained in 1889 a redemption decree under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 which provided that on plaintiff's default to pay the decretal amount by the end of March 1893 his right to redeem should be forever barred. The decree was not executed. In 1913 the plaintiff filed a second suit for redemption of the same mortgage. Held that no fire suit could lie under the provisions of s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 inasmuch as the decree of 1889 to which the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 did not apply was capable of execution and this order if binding at all in the suit for redemption was to be regarded merely as interpreting the mortgage and the fact that the plaintiff in his plaint made a prayer that in the taking of accounts the directions contained therein might be followed did not mean that he waived his right of redemption on that judgment. The passing of the final decree in a mortgage suit pending an appeal from the preliminary decree is no bar to the hearing of the appeal. PEARY MOHUN MUKERJEE v CHANDIA SERNAN SARKAR (1915)

MORTGAGE—*contd*RFDI MPTION—contd

[19 C W N 1132]

27 ——— Adverse possession—Usufructuary mortgage—Mortgagee in possession—Equity of redemption—Adverse of possession while period of redemption is running—Suit to redeem by a person whose name is recorded in revenue papers. Held that a person could not acquire a title by adverse possession to land which was the subject of a usufructuary mortgage and therefore in the possession of the mortgagee merely because he had managed to get his name recorded in the village papers for a series of years in respect of the mortgaged property. Lala Kuntoo Lal v Mani Bibi 6 C W N 601 not followed. Casborne v Scarfe 1 All 605 distinguished. KUTWAR SEV v DARBARI LAL (1916)

I L R 33 All 411

28 ——— Tender of mortgage money a condition precedent to the institution of a suit for redemption—A usufructuary mortgage of agricultural land provided that the right to redeem should be exercised only in the month of Jeth of any year. Held that before the mortgagor could sue for redemption it was necessary for him to prove that he had tendered to the mortgagee the mortgage debt or such amount as he considered due on the mortgage in the month of Jeth of some year after the mortgage money had become payable. Banas v Giridhari Lal 11 W N (1894) 143 followed. MUHAMMAD ALI v BALDEO PANDY (1915)

I L R 38 All 148

29 ——— Limitation—Application for execution—Time if runs from date of decree or date of ascertainment of exact amount. Where in a suit for redemption a certain decree was passed on 27th July 1909 and it was directed therein that it will be necessary to have fresh accounts taken to determine the amount due to the appellants and the amount was not definitely ascertained till the 23rd February 1910 and the application for execution was filed on 29th January 1913. Held that the judgment of the District Judge dated 27th July 1909 sets forth clearly the exact method of ascertaining the sum to be paid in redemption and the calculation of that sum was a matter purely of office routine and that the application for execution was barred by limitation. Gulam Gaffar Mandal v Golan Bibi I L R 25 Cal 109 followed. SCHAUDEO NARAYAN SIKOH v MUSHAROO RAUT (1916)

20 C W N 950

30 ——— One mortgagor redeeming the entire mortgage—Acknowledgment—Dakhlanama—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 19. Sch I Art 143. In a suit by the representatives of some of the co mortgagors for the redemption of the shares in certain property against the representative of co mortgagor who had redeemed the mortgage the plaintiffs alleged that the mortgage had been made by one Sulhjit in favour of one Muhammad Iftu in the year of 1913 Sambat. The plaintiffs also relied on certain acknowledgments made by the defendant's predecessor in title. One of these was a dakhlanama executed by Pam Lal in 1890 which contained a description of the property and was signed by Pam Lal. The defendant contended that there was no mortgage that he was absolute owner that the acknowledgments had not been proved and that the suit was time barred. It was held by the lower Appellate Court that the date of the mortgage had not been proved but the acknowledgments were in respect of some mortgage and that the plaintiffs were entitled to redeem. Held that the rule of limitation governing a suit of this kind was that laid down in Ishaq Ahmad v Haider Ali 1 L R 11 All 173—that Art 148 of Sch I to the Limitation Act applied that is the limitation extended for a period of 60 years from the date of execution of the mortgage or from the date when the mortgage money became due and the burden was upon the plaintiffs of proving the mortgage that they had set up and that it was for them to prove that the acknowledgment relied upon by them as contained in the dakhlanama had been made at a date within the period of limitation. Held further that the acknowledgment contained in the dakhlanama amounted to nothing more than a description of the property purchased and was not acknowledgment of liability within the meaning of s 19 of the Limitation Act. Dharma Nath v Govind Sadanilar 1 L R 8 Bom 99 referred to. KHALLI RAM v TATE PARI (1916)

MORTGAGE—*contd*RFDI MPTION—contd

I L R 24 All 540

31 ——— Adverse possession—Mortgagee in proprietary possession under an agreement unregistered but acted upon for a very long period. The parties to a mortgage by conditional sale executed in 1869 entered into an agreement in 1876 whereby the mortgagor gave up all his equity of redemption in the property mortgaged. The agreement was not registered, but both the parties consented to the complete transfer of the equity of redemption and both parties acted on the agreement for very nearly forty years. Held on a suit being brought in 1912 for redemption of the mortgage of 1869 that the mortgagees or their predecessors in title had been in adverse possession since the year 1876 and the suit was barred by limitation. Malomed Vusa v Aghore Kumar Ganguli 1 L R 40 Cal 801 and Uman Khan v Dasanna 1 L R 37 Mad 45 referred to. KHEDU RAI v SHEO PARSON PAI (1917)

I L R 39 All 42

32 ——— Major portion of mortgaged property purchased by mortgagee—Suit by one only of the heirs of the mortgagor to redeem the whole of the remaining share in the mortgaged property. Out of the original 16 annas of a village which was the subject of a usufructuary mortgage the mortgagee acquired by purchase 13 annas and 4 pies. After the death of the mortgagor one of his heirs sued to redeem the whole of the remaining 3 annas and 8 pies. The other heirs were made parties to the suit as pro forma defendants and consented to the plaintiff redeeming to the whole of the remaining share. Held that notwithstanding this the plaintiff was only entitled to redeem her own personal share. Kuraj Mal v Pura

MORTGAGE—contdDEFINITION—contd

Mah L I I 1 0 All 63 and Wussah v Paulat I L I 99 All 66 Hossain Saligram Narayan v Chel Lal Juman I L P 10 Err 666 (Note) not followed Zairun N A H M Mahapaja Lafert Nafin Singh (1911)

I L R 39 All 618

33 ———— Annuity provided for by terms of deed—Equity of redemption acquired by mortgagor—Right of annuitant to recover arrears of annuity By the terms of a mortgage deed an annuity of Rs 1000 charge was made payable to one Mahant at Total annuity and her heirs by the mortgage. By a series of transactions the mortgagor ultimately became the owner of the equity of redemption in the whole of the mortgaged property. Held that the mortgagee nevertheless still continued liable for the payment of the annuity secured by the mortgage. LACHMI NARAYAN SAJJADI BEGAN (1917)

I L R 39 All 70

33 (a) ———— Zarpeshgi deed executed in 1874 in favour of one C provided inter alia for payment by C to the executors of a Zarpeshgi rent of Rs 500 odd every year. The principal amount was made payable in September 1889. In February 1888 P s 1000 was borrowed by the mortgagor from A and in accordance with the agreement between them was applied in paying the Zarpeshgi debt and the Zarpeshgi deed upon such payment was taken back and handed over to A in whose favour a simple mortgage was executed to secure the loan of Rs 12000 given by her. Held that so far as it operated as a lease the Zarpeshgi deed came to an end but the charge created by the Zarpeshgi was kept alive for the benefit of A. Mohd Lal v Mohd Bawan Das I R 10 I A 62 (1883) Gokildass v Rambur S orhand L R 11 I A 196 (1884) D nolandhu Shaw Chowdhry v Jogmaya Das I L 9 I A 9 s c 0 C H 1 909 (1901) referred to. That in suits for sale instituted after the date of A's mortgage of 1888 by persons who had obtained mortgages between the dates of the Zarpeshgi of G and the simple mortgage of A A as a puisne mortgagee was a necessary party under s 8a of the Transfer of Property Act. Where in such suits was made a party but did not set up prior title under the Zarpeshgi of 1874 and some of the properties covered by the Zarpeshgi were sold. Held that A's right to proceed against the said properties by a suit for sale on the basis of the Zarpeshgi deed was barred by Expi II of s 13 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882. In one such suit instituted by A within 12 years of the due date of payment under the Zarpeshgi of 1874. A not having been joined as a party the sales held did not affect or take away A's right as puisne mortgagee under the mortgage of 1888 or her claim of priority under the Zarpeshgi of 1874. But A's claim to priority under the Zarpeshgi of 1874 became barred in 1900 when a suit was first instituted by A as a signor to enforce A's mortgage and the only decree plaintiff in this suit would get as against the purchasers in A's suit was to be allowed to redeem the mortgage of A on payment to the purchaser of the amount at principal and interest in respect of which the property purchased by him was sold in A's suit. In a mortgage suit a puisne mortgagee of whose interest in the mortgaged property the plaintiffs have notice is a necessary party under s 8a of the Transfer of Property Act and a sale of the property had in such a suit does not take away the puisne mortgagee's right to redeem. SYED MAHOMED IBRAHIM HOSSAIN KHAN AND ANOTHER v AMBIKA IPO AD SINGH AND OTHERS (1911 12)

MORTGAGE—contdDEFINITION—contd

18 C W N 505

34 ———— Mortgage by conditional sale—Mortgagor in possession as tenant of mortgagor—Suit for rent in arrears—Decree for rent barred by limitation—Suit for redemption—Mortgage whether entitled to claim arrears of rent and interest decree as part of price of redemption—Wardenship of charge—Fiction of time. In a suit for redemption the mortgagee is not entitled to claim any arrears of rent with interest in respect of the mortgaged lands which were left in the possession of the mortgagor as tenant of the mortgagee under the terms of the mortgage deed when the mortgagee has not yet sued and obtained a decree for such rent with interest and has allowed the decree to become barred by limitation even though the arrear of rent is a charge under the deed. English and Indian cases reviewed. Hewanchal Singh v Jawahir Singh I L R 10 Cole 307 distinguished. Imdad Hasan Khan v Bachu Prasad I L R 90 All 401 referred to. NARAYAN RAO v SHIVU RAO (1918) I L R 41 D 1047

35 ———— Partial owner of equity of redemption if can redeem whole mortgage. A partial owner of the equity of redemption is entitled to redeem the whole mortgage. BAIKRANTH NATH DAS v MOHESH CHANDRA DEY (1910) 22 C W N 128

See also PROTAP CHANDRA DHAR v PEARL MOHAN DHAR (1918) 22 C W N 600

36 ———— Mortgage suit—Purchaser of mortgaged property applying to be made a party not allowed on plaintiff's objection—Subsequent suit by purchaser at mortgagee's sale to recover possession—Right of previous purchaser to redeem. Where an application by a purchaser A of mortgaged property to be made a party in the mortgage suit was on the mortgagee's objection refused and he was thus prevented from exercising the right of redemption amongst other reliefs which he desired to claim. Held that in a suit by the purchaser at the sale in execution of the mortgage decree B to recover the property from A who was in possession A was entitled to redeem. B PERAZI MOHAN DAS v NADIADASHI DE (1918)

22 C W N 543

37 ———— Decree passed under Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) not governed by Transfer of Property Act—Decree not executed—Second suit to redeem the mortgage not maintainable—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) s 47. The plaintiff obtained in 1893 a redemption decree under the provisions of the Dekkhan Agriculturists Relief Act 1879 which provided that on plaintiff's default to pay the decretal amount by the end of March 1893 his right to redeem should be forever barred. The decree was not executed. In 1913 the plaintiff filed a second suit for redemption of the same mortgage. Held that no fresh suit could lie under the provisions of s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 inasmuch as the decree of 1893 to which the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 did not apply was capable of execution and its execution was time barred long before the date of this suit and Rinji v Pankharinath 1 L R 43 Bom 334 distinguished Lala Chhaya v Bhaiji Ahaniya 1 L R 7 Bom 532 followed Dattu Din Yesu v Shripad (1910)

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

1 L R 43 Bom 703

33 ———— Decree nisi—Fulcrum to apply to make absolute—Execution time barred—Second suit for redemption maintainable as of—Civil Procedure Code (1st V of 1908) ss 11 47 and O XXIV rr 7 and 8—Transfer of Property Act (19 of 1908) s 69 A question having been referred whether a mortgagor who has brought a suit for redemption and obtained a decree nisi which neither the mortgagor nor the mortgagee has applied to be made absolute can after the execution of that decree is time barred bring a fresh suit for redemption Held (SHEKH J dissenting) that the mortgagor could bring a second suit for redemption and the same would not be barred by s 11 or s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 Ramji v Pankharinath (1918)

1 L R 43 Bom 334

39 ———— Decree for sale of mortgaged property—purchaser by mortgagee—Puisne mortgagee's right to redeem—Prior mortgagee obtained a decree on his bond on the 31st May 1897 brought the mortgaged property to sale and purchased himself on the 4th July 1900 and obtained a decree of possession. A puisne mortgagee obtained a mortgage decree against the same property on the 8th April 1907 purchased the property in execution of his decree and obtained registration of his name in the Collectorate register. In a suit by the prior mortgagee for a declaration of title and confirmation of possession or in the alternative for recovery of possession the Munsif decreed the suit but gave the puisne mortgagee permission to redeem. The lower appellate Court held that the defendant was not entitled to redeem as he had not done so before the making of the order absolute for sale in the plaintiff's suit. Held that the right of redemption continued until the confirmation of sale. It appeared that the puisne mortgagee's name had been omitted from the execution proceeding. Held that this was merely an irregularity and the sale could not be considered a nullity even though the prior mortgagee was himself the purchaser. SYED MUHAMMAD RAFI v SYED MUHAMMAD ASAFI

1 F L J 261

43 ———— Effect of sale in execution of decree and purchase by mortgagee—Minors join as defendants in mortgage suit but not represented by a guardian—Subsequent suit by them or redemption on ground that they were not properly parties to former suit—No claim to set aside decree or sale. The head of a joint Hindu family governed by Mitakshara law mortgaged in 1896 immovable property belonging to the family for purposes for which he was admittedly able to bind the other members. The mortgage money was not repaid and in 1901 the mortgagee brought a suit on the mortgage against the mortgagor and his two brothers and joining also as defendants the two sons of the mortgagor now represented by the first respondent. In that suit a decree was made on the 1st January 1901 in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold and purchased by the mortgagee. In a suit in 1909 by the sons of

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

the mortgagor in which they impeached neither the debt nor the mortgage but admitted that they were binding on them and did not in their plaint seek to set aside the decree or the sale under it but only claimed to be entitled to redeem the mortgaged property on the ground that they had been minors at the time of the suit on the mortgage and not having been represented by a guardian had not been properly parties to that suit. It was found as a fact by the two Courts in India and upheld by the Judicial Committee that they had not been effectively joined in the mortgage suit. Held that the right of redemption had been extinguished by the decree and sale in execution of it and that until the sale had been set aside it could not be exercised. CARAT JAL v BHADRA PRASAD VARMA SINGH (1910)

1 L R 4 Cal 924

41 ———— Transfer of part of equity of redemption—Mortgagee in possession—Suit for foreclosure without making transferee from mortgagor a party—Right to redeem whole of the mortgaged property—Account. In 1893 the owner of sixteen fields in Berar mortgaged them to the appellant. In 1896 the mortgagor coveyed one of the fields to the respondents. In 1899 the mortgagee brought a suit to enforce the mortgage against the mortgagor alone without making the respondents parties and obtained a decree by consent which was afterwards made absolute. The decree declared that in default of payment within a definite time of the mortgaged fields (including that conveyed to the respondents) were to be foreclosed and possession of them made over to the appellant and no payment having been made that was done under the decree. In a suit for redemption by the respondents (who not being parties to it were not affected by the decree) the only question was whether they were entitled to redeem the whole of the nine field or only the field conveyed to them subject to the mortgage over the whole. Held that subject to the safeguarding of the equal title to redeem of any other person who had a right of redemption the respondents were entitled to redeem the entire mortgage unless something had happened to extinguish the mortgage in whole or in part or the conduct of the respondents had estopped them from asserting what would normally have been their rights. It was not the law in India any more than in England that one of several mortgagors cannot redeem more than his own share unless the owners of the other shares consent or make no objection subject to the safeguarding of the rights which the owners might possess. The respondents as owners of an interest on the equity of redemption as it originally stood were entitled to redeem the mortgage on the footing of paying the balance left of the mortgage debt after debiting the mortgagee with a fair occupation rent during the period of his possession and crediting him with simple interest on the debt due to him under the mortgage deed. YADALI BEG v TUKARAM (1920)

1 L R 48 Cal 111

42 ———— Clog—subsequent lease of mortgaged property by mortgagor to mortgagee—effect of—A who was a permanent tenant holder of 7 plots executed an usufructuary mortgage of all the plots in favour of B from whom he subsequently took a lease of 4 of the plots. In 1908 A granted a permanent mukarrari of one of the

MORTGAGE—*contd*PEDEMPTION—contd

its execution was time barred long before the date of the said suit Ramji v. Lasharimath I L R 13 Bom 334 distinguished Ladu Chima v. Brijay Khanlari I L R 7 Bom 532, followed Dingu v. Yesu v. Shrinath (1919)

I L R 43 Bom 703

38 ———— Decree nisi—Failure to apply to make absolute—Execution time barred—Second suit for redemption inadmissible of—Civil Procedure Code (let 1 of 1908) ss 11 47 and O XXXII rr 7 and 8—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1925) s 60 A question having been referred whether a mortgagor who has brought a suit for redemption and obtained a decree nisi which neither the mortgagor nor the mortgagee has applied to be made absolute can after the execution of that decree is time barred bring a fresh suit for redemption Held (Snare J dissenting) that the mortgagor could bring a second suit for redemption and the same would not be barred by s 11 or s 47 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 Parsi v. Pandharinath (1918)

I L R 43 Bom 334

39 ———— Suit for sale of mortgaged property—purchaser by mortgagee—prior mortgagee's right to redeem—prior mortgagee obtained a decree on his bond on the 31st May 1897 brought the mortgaged property to sale and purchased himself on the 4th July 1900 and obtained delivery of possession A puisne mortgagee obtained a mortgage decree against the same property on the 8th April 1903 purchased the property in execution of his decree and obtained registration of his name in the Collectorate register In a suit by the prior mortgagee for a declaration of title and confirmation of possession or in the alternative for recovery of possession the Munsif decreed the suit but gave the puisne mortgagee permission to redeem The lower appellate Court held that the defendant was not entitled to redeem as he had not done so before the making of the order absolute for sale in the plaintiff's suit Held that the right of redemption continued until the confirmation of sale It appeared that the puisne mortgagee's name had been omitted from the execution proceedings Held that this was merely an irregularity and the sale could not be considered a nullity even though the prior mortgagee was himself the purchaser SYED MUHAMMAD RAFI v. SYED MUHAMMAD ASHAFI

1 Pat L J 261

40 ———— Effect of sale in execution of decree and purchase by mortgagee—Minors joined as defendants in mortgage suit but not represented by a guardian—Subsequent suit by them or redemption on ground that they were not properly parties to former suit—No claim to set aside decree or sale The head of a joint Hindu family governed by Mitakshara law mortgaged in 1896 immovable property belonging to the family for purposes for which he was admittedly able to bind the other members The mortgage money was not repaid and in 1901 the mortgagee brought a suit on the mortgage against the mortgagor and his two brothers and joining also as defendants the two sons of the mortgagor now represented by the first defendant In that suit a decree was made on 9th Jan'y 1902 in execution of which the mortgaged property was sold and purchased by the mortgagor In a suit in 1909 by the sons of

MORTGAGE—*contd*REDEMPTION—contd

the mortgagor in which they impeached neither the debt nor the mortgage but admitted that they were binding on them and did not in their plaint seek to set aside the decree or the sale under it but only claimed to be entitled to redeem the mortgaged property on the ground that they had been minors at the time of the suit on the mortgage and not having been represented by a guardian had not been properly parties to that suit It was found as a fact by the two Courts in India and upheld by the Judicial Committee that they had not been effectively joined in the mortgage suit — Held that the right of redemption had been extinguished by the decree and sale in execution of it and that until the sale had been set aside it could not be exercised CANFAT LAL v. BINDA LAL PASHAD VARAYAN SINGH (1920)

I L R 47 Cal 924

41 ———— Transfer of part of equity of redemption—Mortgagee in possession—Suit for foreclosure without making transferee from mortgagor a party—Right to redeem whole of mortgaged property—Accounts In 1893 the owner of sixteen fields in Berar mortgaged them to the appellant In 1896 the mortgagor conveyed one of the fields to the respondents In 1899 the mortgagee brought a suit to enforce the mortgage against the mortgagor alone without making the respondents parties and obtained a decree by consent which was afterwards made absolute The decree declared that in default of payment within a definite time nine of the mortgaged fields (including that conveyed to the respondents) were to be foreclosed and possession of them made over to the appellant and no payment having been made that was done under the decree In a suit for redemption by the respondents (who not being parties to it were not affected by the decree) the only question was whether they were entitled to redeem the whole of the nine field or only the field conveyed to them subject to the mortgage over the whole Held that subject to the safeguarding of the equal title to redeem of any other person who had a right of redemption the respondents were entitled to redeem the entire mortgage unless something had happened to extinguish the mortgage in whole or in part or the conduct of the respondents had topped them from asserting what would normally have been their rights It was not the law in India any more than in England that one of several mortgagors cannot redeem more than his own share unless the owners of the other shares consent or make no objection subject to the safeguarding of the rights which the owners might possess The respondents as owners of an interest in the equity of redemption as it originally stood were entitled to redeem the mortgage on the footing of paying the balance left of the mortgage debt after debiting the mortgagee with a fair occupation rent during the period of his possession and crediting him with simple interest on the debt due to him under the mortgage deed YADALI BEH v. TUKARAN (1920)

I L R 43 Cal 22

42 ———— Clog—subsequent lease of mortgaged property by mortgagor to mortgagee effect of—A who was a permanent tenure holder of 7 plots executed an usufructuary mortgage of all the plots in favour of B from whom he subsequently took a lease of 4 of the plots In 1908 A granted a permanent mukarrar of one of the

MORTGAGE—contdPEDEMPTION—contd

decree for money entered as between the mortgagee defendant and the mortgagor—Held that in this case the mortgage clearly effected the conveyance of the real estate to the mortgagees as tenants-in-common and no redemption could be effected of part of the property by paying to one of the mortgagees her separate debt. It was not a mortgage to each of a divided half but a conveyance to them of the whole property. In this case the mortgage completing a compromise was executed by a Hindu pardanashin lady—Held that it was not necessary nor desirable in such a case to insist upon a clear understanding of each detail of a matter which may be much involved in legal technicalities. It is sufficient that the general result of the compromise should be understood and that the lady should have had people disinterested and competent to give advice with a fair understanding of the whole matter who advised her that she should execute the deed. SUBBIAIA DEBI v DHARA SUNDAR DEBI CHOWDHURANI (1910) 1 L R 47 Cal 175

48 — By one of several co-mortgagors—When one of two co-mortgagors redeems the mortgage and obtains possession of the property a suit by the other mortgagor to recover possession of his share of the mortgaged property is not a suit for redemption but for possession as is governed by Art 144 and not Art 148 of the Limitation Act and in such a suit Plaintiff is entitled to succeed unless the redeeming mortgagor establishes that he has been in possession for 12 years on an assertion of a hostile title to the knowledge of the Plaintiff. RAM NARAYAN RAI v RAM DEVI RAI 6 Pat L J 680

49 — Deed excluding right—Anomalous mortgage—Statutory right—Act No IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property Act) s 60 98 Immovable property was mortgaged by deed for five years to secure a debt. The deed provided that the years and that if he did not do so the mortgagee was to have the option of taking possession for a period of twelve years. If the mortgagee took possession was provided that during the period of twelve years the mortgagor was not to be entitled to redeem but that at its conclusion he was to do so. The mortgage debt not being repaid at the end of five years the mortgagee took possession in the same year the mortgagor sued to redeem. Held that the mortgagor had by s 60 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 a statutory right to redeem whether or not the mortgage was one in which by s 98 the rights and liabilities of the parties were to be determined by their contract. MUHAMMAD SHER KHAN v RAJA SETH SWAMI DAYAL 1 L R 44 All 185

50 — Previous redemption decree—Right to redeem reserved—Second suit for redemption In 1915 the plaintiff sued to redeem a mortgage of 1874. The defendant contended that the suit was barred in consequence of a previous redemption decree of 1881 the terms of which were as follows. The plaintiff should pay to the defendant Rs 400 with interest at the rate of eight annas per cent per mensem by annual instalments of Rs 50 each from 31st March 1884. If the plaintiff were to pay more than Rs 50 the defendant should not refuse to accept the same.

MORTGAGE—contdREDEMPTION—contd

In case the plaintiff fails to pay any instalment the defendant should take the land in his possession and receive the produce of the land in lieu of interest on the remaining amount and Government assessment and on the plaintiff paying the principal amount at the end of any last year the land belonging to the plaintiff should be returned to him. Held that on the construction of the decree the right to redeem was reserved and therefore the plaintiff was entitled to sue for redemption. ABDUL RAJACK v VAMAY GANESH 1 L R 45 Bom 1335

PLGISTPATION

1 — Endorsements on mortgage bond—Registration—Registration Act (III of 1877) s 17 cl (n)—Endorsement on a mortgage bond of payment made in satisfaction of a previous mortgage debt—Civil Procedure Code (Act VI of 1852) s 44—Payment by subsequent mortgagee under s 74 of the Transfer of Property Act (II of 1877) effect of The endorsements on a mortgage bond of payments made in satisfaction of a mortgage which payments did not purport to extinguish the mortgage are covered by cl (n) of s 17 of the Registration Act and as such do not require registration. Jivan Ali Beg v Ba a Val 1 L R 3 All 108 and Uppalalanki Kunhi Aunts Ali Haji v Kunnam Mithai Kottiparthi Abdul Pakuman 1 L R 19 Mad 289 followed. A subsequent mortgagee who makes a payment of a prior mortgage debt under the provisions of s 74 of the Transfer of Property Act in a suit to enforce his original mortgage against the security which by his payment of the former mortgage he has protected and made more valuable for the realisation of his debt is bound under s 43 of the Code of Civil Procedure to join in that suit any further claim which he has against that property by reason of such payment made by him. Sunder Singh v Bhola 1 L R 20 All 392 distinguished. HARI NARAYAN BANERJEE v KUSUM KUMARI DAS (1910) 1 L R 37 Cal 589

2 — Endorsement releasing mortgaged property for consideration in cash—Registration An endorsement made by a mortgagee (on the back of the mortgage deed) releasing the mortgaged property in consideration of a cash payment of Rs 300 is a document which requires registration and not being registered was not admissible in evidence either of the redemption of the property or of the real nature of the original transaction between the parties. PAMA HAPAPANT v PAMA (1909)

1 L R 31 Bom 202

■ — Registration of mortgage out of time by altering date—Lessee from executant if may question validity of mortgage registered out of time—Estoppel Where a mortgage deed had been presented for registration more than four months after the date of its execution and its registration had been secured by the executant altering the date of the instrument. Held that even assuming that the deed had been wrongly registered there being no fraud the mortgagor would be estopped from taking the objection. Held further that the lessee from the mortgagor who took their lease after the registration of the mortgage are in the absence of fraud equally estopped with the mortgagor from taking the objection.

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

Several mortgages as part of the same transaction over the same property—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O II R 2

I L R 45 Bom 55

1 ——— Practice—First mortgage a suit for sale—Surplus of sale proceeds—Second mortgage a claim for sale in first mortgage—a suit of other property on which he has a mortgage—CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) O XXXIV —Costs B mortgaged property in Calcutta to A and afterwards mortgaged the same property and a further property in the mofussil to C A brought an ordinary mortgage suit against B for sale making C a party defendant A obtained a decree C thereupon claimed to be entitled to a decree for sale of the property mortgaged to A including the mofussil property not included in A's mortgage—Held that in a suit C could only obtain the surplus of the sale proceeds of the property in that suit and could not get any relief against the other property in the mofussil Kesary Mohan Poy v Kally Charan Ghose I L R 22 Calc 100 Kesary Mohan Poy v Kally Charan Ghose I L R 24 Calc 190 In re Kesary Mohan Roy v Kally Charan Ghose I C W A 106 and Halt v Mendel 27 Ch D 216 distinguished Macintosh v Watkins I C I J 31 followed The effect of the incorporation of the sections in the Transfer of Property Act into O XXXIV of the new Code of Civil Procedure is to put an end to any independent practice on the Original Side of the High Court based on the old procedure and the Original Side should now follow the provisions of O XXXIV of the Code Costs will be on Scale No 2 not Scale No 1 against the mortgagor who does not appear SARAT CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY v NAHAPIT (1910) I L R 37 C 16 90^c

2 ——— Execution of mortgage decrees—

—Stay of sale in execution of mortgage decree—Jurisdiction of Court to stay sale—Writ on behalf of minor of fresh sale proclamation—Guardian ad litem right of—Benefit to minors—Minors entitled to impugn sale afterwards for want of fresh proclamation—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 89—CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) s 291 The Court has jurisdiction to order stay of a sale in execution of a mortgage decree under a 271 of the CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 Shyamkishan v Sundar Koor I L R 31 Calc 373 explained Pibyan Bibi v Sucha Bewal I L R 31 Calc 463 referred to There is no conflict between s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act and s 291 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 The former section is concerned with the Court's order absolute for sale the latter with the adjournment of the sale The two sections relate to different matters Even if an order of the Court is erroneous it is ordinarily not open to a party who has obtained and enjoyed the benefit of an erroneous order to turn round afterwards and ask that the order should be treated as a nullity and disregarded The guardian ad litem appointed by the Court and acting in good faith is entitled to make applications on behalf of the minor and has the power to waive the right of the minors to a fresh sale proclamation after postponement of the sale if the postponement is ensured to the benefit of the minors The minor are not entitled in such a case to impugn the sale on the ground that a fresh sale

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

proclamation was not made BITTU BEHARI MITTA v JATINDRA NATH GHOSH (1910)

I L R 37 Calc 847

3 ——— Attachment of sale proceeds—Mortgage decree—Sale for arrears of revenue pending suit—Where the surplus sale proceeds in the hands of the Collector of a mortgaged property sold for arrears of revenue after the preliminary decree passed in the mortgage suit was attached in execution of that decree and subsequently the decree was made absolute Held that so soon as the decree was made absolute the sum attached became available to the decree holder and to that extent the decree was satisfied at that date Mogray Varuon v Varang Molun Thakur I L R 33 Calc 540 Debendra Nath v Abdul Samad 10 C L J 100 distinguished Gori KRISHNA MANDOL v RAM LAL MANDOL (1910)

14 C W N 484

4 ——— Preliminary mortgage decree—

—Application for sale of mortgaged property—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 181 182 and 183—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) ss 83 and 89—CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXIV ss 4 and 5 O XLI r 20—Party addition of a preliminary mortgage decree under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 does not require and is not followed by any supplemental decree but only if necessary for an application for an order absolute for sale under s 83 of the Transfer of Property Act Such an application is a petition for realization by the mortgagee of his decree and is an application to enforce a judgment or decree etc within the provisions of Art 183 of the Limitation Act 1908 Harendra Lal Poy Chowdhry v Maharan Dan I L R 23 Calc 557 I P 28 I A 89 referred to Madhab Mani Das v Lambert I L R 37 Calc 796 15 C W N 437 discussed It is a question for the Court in its discretion to determine in each case whether or not it will make an order for the addition of a party as contemplated by O XLI r 20 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 ANZOOK CHAND PAPRAK v SARAT CHANDER MUKERJEE (1911) I L R 38 Calc 913

5 ——— Private sale of mortgaged property—Consideration left with purchaser for discharge of two mortgages—First mortgage alone discharged—Suit for sale by second mortgagee—Purchaser not entitled to hold up first mortgage as a shield Where a purchaser of mortgaged property undertook to discharge out of the purchase money two subsisting mortgages and in fact discharged only the earlier one Held that it was not competent to him to hold up this mortgage as a shield against the suit of the puisne mortgagee for sale Gopal Das v Pawan Mal I L R 10 Calc 1035 10 G referred to MUHAMMAD SADIQ v GHUAS MUHAMMAD (1910) I L R 33 All 101

6 ——— Purchase of mortgaged property by mortgagee application of sale proceeds to reduce the debt due of pro tanto extinguished—Mortgagee may proceed duly against other properties—Portion of equity may be released by mortgagee—Purchasers of equity of redemption position of Where a mortgagee purchased portions of the mortgaged property for a fair price without fraud or undue influence and applied the purchase money to the reduction of the debt under an agreement to that effect and it appeared that the property was intended to be conveyed free of the mortgage—Held that as between the mortgagor and the mortgagee the mortgage was not pro tanto diminished and that the debt remaining due after deducting the purchase money was chargeable on the rest of the property. The effect of the transaction must be judged by its nature, whether the sale was of the equity of redemption only or of the property freed of the mortgage. Held that subsequent purchase of the equity of redemption in the remaining portion of the mortgaged property and in the share of the mortgagee and still not to be having the whole mortgage debt realized by sale of the property in their hand. Where there are no other persons having a lien on the same property it is settled that as between the parties to the mortgage the mortgagee is entitled to realise a portion of the hypothecated property and release the whole lien upon the residue. A subsequent purchaser of the equity of redemption of the residue therefore cannot object to the release and require the property to be sold to contribute rateably to the satisfaction of the debt. First Ali Hazi v. Lancha Ali (Hatterjee) (1910)

MORTGAGE—contd

SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

15 C W N 800

7 ——— Purchase by mortgagee—Subsequent purchase by landlord—Mortgage encumbrance—Mortgage purchase rights of to fall back on mortgage—Sale under Bengal Tenancy Act—Ordinary Court sale its effect—Decree for sale and effect of—Ngil Teancy Act (1111 of 1881) ss 164, 165, and 166 Where the mortgagee of a tenure purchased the mortgaged property in execution of a decree of his own mortgage and the landlord subsequently purchased the same property in execution of a rent decree but did not annul the mortgage encumbrance Held that the mortgage purchaser was entitled to fall back on his mortgage as a shield against the purchase by the landlord. Alloy Kumar Soor v. Biju Chand Mahatap I L R 29 Cal 813 followed and the obiter dictum in the case discussed. Bhawanji K. v. Mathura Prasad I C L J 1 referred to. Held further that the landlord could not oust the mortgagee from the tenure without annulling the encumbrance under s 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act and this would be so even if the mortgagee had not proceeded to sale before the purchase of the landlord. Where the bidding for a tenure put up to auction under s 164 of the Bengal Tenancy Act did not reach the level of the decretal amount and a sale of the tenure subsequently followed but without a second proclamation as contemplated by s 16 of the same Act the sale must be held to have been an ordinary Court sale and the purchaser to have acquired only right title and interest of the judgment debtor. Yar Mahomed Sirkar v. Qureshi Chunder Chowdhury 2 C W N 551 and Alloy Kumar Soor v. Biju Chand Mahatap I L R 29 Cal 813 distinguished. The special provisions for the sale of tenures under the Bengal Tenancy Act are a part of the public policy intended for the benefit of all parties concerned and the results of such sales are generally destructive of various derivative rights belonging to third parties not before the Court. The provisions of the Act are therefore very stringent and if the landlord wants the special results provided for by the Act he must proceed strictly in accordance with its provisions. Where a suit for rent has been rightly brought against the real tenant and a decree has been obtained the decree is a good decree for rent and the tenant was recognised as such a tenant. Lala Vener v. Sana Monee Ditta 2 B L J 334 and Surnamoyee v. Denomath C. Surnamoye I L R 29 Cal 904 referred to. BANJARSI KAPUR v. KRISHNA LAL SINGH EOB (1911)

MORTGAGE—contd

SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

I L R 38 Cal 923

8 ——— Limitation—An application made in the 3rd July 1901 for an order at date for sale by a mortgagee who had obtained the preliminary decree on his mortgage in the High Court on the 15th December 1896 was barred by Art 167 of sch I of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) or the corresponding article of Act XI of 1877. The application was one to enforce a judgment within that article. The meaning of the word enforce is not limited to realization by execution but may have a wider meaning. Harendra Lal Jai Chowdhury v. Mahaswami Das I L R 29 Cal 189 referred to. Madhub Mondal v. Jambala Lambert 15 C W N 37 distinguished. AMOOK CHAND LATAK v. SAPAT CHANDRA MEKHEJ (1911) I L R 38 Cal 913

16 C W N 49

9 ——— Mortgaged property sold subject to mortgage—Transfer of Property Act (IX of 1882) s 55 sub s (5) cl (1)—Endor and purchaser—Implied contract of indemnity—Seller damaged by reason of buyer not declaring mortgage debt—Suit for damages if lies—Limitation—Limitation Act (XX of 1877) Sch II Art 83—Measure of damages. Where one buys from another an equity of redemption on subject to a mortgage and merely pays for the value of that equity of redemption he contracts to protect his vendor from the obligation of the mortgage the buyer a contract with the mortgagor being that the debt should not fall upon the latter. It is a contract of indemnity and the buyer would be bound without any specific contract to indemnify the seller. Tweedale v. Tweedale 2 Brown & P of Ch Cas 153 23 Beav 311 relied on. Where a portion of the mortgaged property was sold subject to the mortgage but the buyer having failed to pay off the mortgagee the latter sued on his mortgage and the whole of the mortgaged property was sold and the seller was disposed of the lands which had been retained by him. Held that a suit by the seller for damages against the buyer was governed by Art 83 of Sch II of the Limitation Act time running from the date when the seller was actually damaged at the date of disposal. The word contract in Art 83 does not mean an express contract. Quare Whether the deed of sale being recorded the period of limitation was that provided by Art 116. Quare What under the circumstances would be the proper measure of damages. PAN PARAI SINGH v. SHEODENI SINGH (1912) 10 C W N 1040

10 ——— Estoppel—Decree on mortgage—Decree set aside as against one mortgagor—Second suit to recover proportionate share of the debt maintainable. A mortgagor died leaving him surviving a brother two daughters and an illegitimate son. The four sons of the brother took an assignment of the mortgage from the mortgagor and brought a suit for sale of the mortgaged property against the children of the mortgagor and inasmuch as they were themselves owners of part of the mortgaged property framed their suit as one for the recovery of specific shares of the mortgage money from the portions of the property in the possession of each of the defendants. They obtained in this suit an ex parte decree which however was set aside as against one of the daughters upon the ground that she was a minor and not properly represented therein. Held that the plaintiffs were not precluded from maintaining a fresh suit against this defendant for the recovery of a share in the mortgage debt proportionate to her share in the property. PASUNDI VENKATA S. MOHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN (1912) I L R 34 All 474

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

11 ————— Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act (Beng VI of 1908) s 47—Decree for sale of property situate in Manbhum—Estoppel After the preliminary decree on a mortgage was passed and before the final decree for sale was made the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act 1908 was extended to Manbhum where the mortgaged property was situate. The judgment debtor having objected to the application of the decree holder for sale of the said property both Courts set aside the objection and the sale to the decree holder was thereafter confirmed. Upon appeal to the High Court Held that the sale was in direct contravention of the provisions of s 47 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act. Held further that the judgment debtor cannot be estopped from bringing to the notice of the Court what the Court must be taken to know of itself that there was a distinct provision of law which prevented the sale of the property. LAKSHMI BIRI KUTRANI & ATAL BIHARI HALDAR (1913) I L R 40 Cal 534

12 ————— Parties—Suit for entire mortgage money and sale of entire mortgaged property—Omission to implead certain persons interested—Decree to which plaintiffs entitled Where a plaintiff mortgagee sued for the recovery of the whole of the mortgage money by the sale of the whole of the mortgaged property but by an oversight omitted to implead certain persons who had acquired a share in the property subsequent to the mortgage in suit it was held that so much of the claim should be decreed as was proportionate to the interests of the persons who were before the Court. CANESHT LAL v CHARAN SINGH (1913) I L R 35 All 247

13 ————— Suit for sale against auction purchaser of mortgaged property—Evidence of admission of receipt of consideration—Estoppel Held that an admission made by a mortgagor in a mortgage deed and also before the registering officer as to the receipt of consideration is admissible in evidence against the purchaser of the mortgaged property at an auction sale in execution of a money decree. Bihari Lal v Mahdum Baksh J L P 35 All 191 followed. Manohar Singh v Sumrita Kaur J L R 17 Ill 478 not followed. Malomed Mo ufer Ho se v Kishore Mohan Poy J L P 20 Cal 999 referred to. Held also that a purchaser at auction of the right title and interest of the father also in joint family property which had been mortgaged by the father was not entitled to raise the plea that the mortgage was made without legal necessity so long as there was time yet for the sons to challenge the purchase. Muhammed Mu amillullah Khan v Mithu Lal J L P 33 All 783 distinguished. Baransi Pasi & LILADHAR (1913) I L R 35 All 353

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

14 ————— Sale of mortgaged property for any claim of mortgagee unconnected with mortgage—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXXI—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 92 A mortgagee is competent under the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 to have his mortgaged property sold in satisfaction of any claim which he may have against the mortgagor though the claim may be unconnected with the mortgage. TARAK DATI ADRIKANI & PRUDANESHWAR MITRA (1914) I L R 42 Cal 780

15 ————— Suit by second mortgagee—Surplus sale proceeds taken out by fourth mortgagee in execution of its decree—Third mortgagee if may sue to recover amount realized by fourth mortgagee—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 73 (1) proviso (c) A second mortgagee obtained a decree on his mortgage in execution of which the property was sold and purchased by the third mortgagee. There was a surplus of sale proceeds left after satisfying the decree. The fourth mortgagee thereafter sued on his mortgage without making the third mortgagee a party and in execution of the decree obtained by him withdrew a portion of the surplus sale proceeds. The third mortgagee thereafter without seeking to put his mortgage in suit sued the fourth mortgagee to recover over the amount of the surplus sale proceeds withdrawn by the latter. Held that the plaintiff could not succeed on this footing. Derhamdeo Pershad v Tara Chand J L P 33 Cal 92 referred to. Cl (c) of proviso to subs (1) of s 73 of the Civil Procedure Code does not apply to this case as the Plaintiff was not the holder of any decree. NATHAN SAO & ANNE BESANT (1913) 19 C W N 535

16 ————— Purchase money "left with the purchaser for payment to the mortgagee"—Nature of this transaction—Trust Where a mortgagor sells the mortgaged property and as it is commonly expressed leaves part of the price with the purchaser for payment to the mortgagee the transaction is merely one of sale subject to the mortgage. No trust is created in the purchaser for payment of the portion of the price left with him to the mortgagee. JAMNA DAS & RAM AUTAR PANDE (1916) I L R 38 All 200

17 ————— Mortgage by two persons of two properties for a single debt—Payment by one his portion—Suit against other for the balance—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 6 There is nothing in the provisions of the Transfer of Property Act to support the view that as between a mortgagee and the holders of equity of redemption the mortgagee is bound to distribute his debt rateably on the mortgage properties. Ari Na Nayyar v Muthuswami ayyangar J L R 21 Mad 217 followed. Where therefore the plaintiff sued the defendant one of the mortgagees for the recovery of the balance of mortgage money due under a deed of mortgage without joining the other mortgagor Held that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree for a sale of the plaintiff men tioned properties for the whole of the balance due on the mortgage VENKATA SUBBA PEDIYI v BAGLAMMAL (1914) I L R 39 Mad 419

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

18 ——— Mortgage by two out of three others members of joint Hindu family—Death of an executant—Suit against other executant and the non-executing brother only as representing the deceased executant—Ex parte decree and sale in execution and purchase by mortgagee—Non-executing brother's original share if passed by the sale—Decree for joint possession if can be made—Transfer of Property Act (I) of 1882 s 41 Delivery of symbolical possession is operative against the judgment debtor who from that date becomes a trespasser and the remedy of the decree holder who has failed to get actual possession is by suit (Where A and B two out of three brothers A B and C members of a joint mitalshara family executed a mortgage of their whole property and the mortgagee on the death of A sued to enforce the mortgage against B as mortgagor and also as the legal representative of A and again C describing him only as A's legal representative Held that the decree and the sale could not affect C's original one third share in the mortgaged property since the question of the validity of the mortgage as against C who was not a party thereto could not be raised and decided in the mortgage suit That in a suit by the purchaser to recover the property C was not barred from raising the question by the doctrine of constructive res judicata That the plaintiff as purchaser of an undivided two thirds share in huts used as residence by a joint Hindu family could not be given a decree for joint possession regard being had to s 44 of the Transfer of Property Act That the proper course to follow is either to direct delivery of possession by partition in execution proceedings or to allow the purchaser to his remedy by a separate suit for partition CIPRA KANTA CHAKRAPARTY v MOHINI CHANDRA ACHARYA (1916) 20 C W N 675*

19 ——— Death of judgment debtor

after decree nisi but before order absolute—Order absolute made without fringing all the legal rep = estoppel on the record—Sale in execution of decree—Title of purchaser at such sale A Hindu widow was in possession of one sixth share of her husband's estate upon a partition made among her sons (One of the sons lived jointly with her She made a mortgage of her share to raise money to pay off debt legally binding upon the estate The mortgagee brought a suit against her and obtained the decree nisi against her She then died and the one who was living jointly with her was allowed to be put on the record as her legal representative An order absolute was obtained and the shares of the widow and the son who was joint with her were sold and purchased by plaintiff When they applied for mutation of names they were opposed by the other sons They thereupon commenced the present a suit for recovery of possession Held that the order absolute having been obtained against one only out of several heirs there was not in existence any decree under which the interest of the other heirs could be sold and consequently the plaintiffs could not obtain possession Mallurajin v Narkana I L R 5 Bom 337 distinguished KANDAY SINGH v SRIJA KUNWAR (1916) I L R 39 All 67

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

20 ——— Agra Tenancy Act—Mortgage comprising both fixed rate and occupancy holdings executed before the passing of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901—Suit for sale of the fixed rate holdings only A mortgage made prior to the passing of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901 comprised both occupancy and fixed rate holdings The mortgagee brought a suit for sale of the fixed rate holdings only Held that the mortgage so far as it related to the fixed rate holdings was not bad and these being distinct from the occupancy holdings the suit was maintainable Kanhai v Tulsi 16 Indian Cases 42 and Badri Malla v Budama Mal 10 All L J 176 distinguished RAJENDRA PRASAD v PAM JATAN RAI (1917) I L R 39 All 599*

21 ——— Second mortgage debt secured by sureties—Assignment of equity of redemption to sureties—Sub mortgage by sureties in favour of assignor—Sale of mortgaged property by prior mortgagee—Subsequent sale by sub mortgagee—Remainder of mortgaged property in existence and available for sale insufficient to satisfy sub mortgagee's debt—Application for personal decree against sub mortgagors—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XVIII s 11 The plaintiffs who were the mortgagees of the equity of redemption in respect of certain properties further secured their mortgage debt by a promissory note executed in their favour by two sureties on behalf of the mortgagor They subsequently assigned their equity of redemption to the sureties who executed a sub mortgage thereof in favour of the plaintiffs Some time after the plaintiffs obtained a preliminary mortgage decree which was later followed by a final decree directing that the premises charged under the mortgage or a sufficient part thereof should be sold subject to the prior mortgage In the meantime between the dates of the preliminary and final decrees the mortgagor having been adjudicated an insolvent the prior mortgagees obtained an order of the Court exercising insolvency jurisdiction that the zemindari properties included in the prior mortgage should be sold free from all incumbrances and that the balance of the sale proceeds after payment of the costs of the sale and the claim of the prior mortgagee should be retained by the Official Assignee and be paid by him in discharge of other incumbrances in accordance with their respective priorities The sale was duly carried out by the Official Assignee in pursuance of this order The amount thus realised was not sufficient to meet the debt of the prior mortgagee Subsequently in pursuance of the mortgage decree the Official Assignee put up for sale the equity of redemption in certain properties specified in the plaintiff mortgage and remaining unsold at the sale by the Official Assignee and as the amount realised at the Official Assignee's sale was not sufficient to meet the plaintiffs' debt the plaintiffs applied for and obtained a personal decree against the sub mortgagors for the amount of their claim Held that the plaintiffs' claim for a personal decree was not debarred Per SANDERSON C J regard to the fact that all the properties which were in existence for sale at the date of the Official Assignee's sale and assuming not responsible for the properties included in the mortgage were sold (by plaintiffs of the mortgagee

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

available for sale though the sale purported to include them I think it should be taken that the provisions contained in the rules and the directions contained in the mortgage decrees as to the sale have been complied with and that the plaintiffs are entitled to the personal decree which the learned Judge has directed. Pam Panyan Chakravarti v Indra Narain Dass I L R 33 Calc 890 and Badri Das v Inayat Khan I L R 22 All 404 distinguished Per WOODROFFE J We must look at this matter rationally and with reference to the reason of the rule namely that the personal liability will only be enforced where there is a deficiency after the sale of all the mortgaged property available for sale at the date of sale. In other words the personal liability must not be improperly increased. SATISH RANJAN DAS v MERCANTILE BANK OF INDIA LD (1917)

I L R 45 Calc 702

22 ——— Decree not in accordance with s 88 Transfer of Property Act—(14 of 1882)—Sale in execution of decree—Confirmation of sale—Purchase by mortgagee at auction sale with leave of the Court—Right of redemption by mortgagor—Suit to redeem against auction purchaser—Parties—Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1882) s 244—Question in execution of decree In a suit to enforce a mortgage and for sale of the mortgaged property the decree made was not in accordance with the provisions of s 88 of the Transfer of Property Act (14 of 1882) no day being fixed by the Court on which payment might be made within six months from the date of declaring in Court the amount due. In execution of the decree the mortgaged property was attached sold and purchased with the leave of the Court by the mortgagee decree holder and the sale was duly confirmed. In a suit by the mortgagor for redemption of the mortgage which was one of ancestral property made by the plaintiff's father before the birth of his sons. Held that whether or not the decree was in accordance with the provisions of the Act the property and all the right title and interest of the defendant were in fact sold in execution of the decree of a Court which had jurisdiction to entertain the suit in which the decree was made and that decree was not appealed from and that consequently the mortgagor had no right of redemption. Held further that the question now raised could have been raised before the sale was confirmed and if so raised would have been determined by the Court executing the decree and that the suit was therefore barred by s 244 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882). Prasanna Kumar Sanyal v Kali Das Sanyal I L R 19 Calc 683 I L R 19 I A 166 followed GANA PATHY MUDALIAR v KRISHNACHARIAR (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 403

23 ——— Estoppel—Mortgaged property partly sold and partly mortgaged to persons induced by some of the mortgagees themselves to believe property to be free from encumbrance—Interests of co-mortgagees if severable—Document creating transfer of simple mortgage if compulsorily registrable—Transfer of Property Act (14 of 1882) s 54—Registration Act (XII of 1908) s 17 (b) In a mortgage suit some of the defendants were purchasers of a portion of the mortgaged property and on had taken a puisne mortgage of the remainder. It appeared that some of the plaintiff mort-

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

gagees led these defendants to believe that the whole property was unencumbered. The lower Court dismissed the suit so far as these plaintiffs were concerned. Held that as regards the defendants who were purchasers of a portion of the mortgaged property the claim of these plaintiffs was rightly dismissed under the rule of estoppel but as regards the other defendant who was a puisne mortgagee of the remainder of the mortgaged property the effect of the estoppel under s 78 of the Transfer of Property Act was to postpone these plaintiffs in respect of their share of the original debt to this defendant and the decree should declare that the property mortgaged to this defendant hypothecated to the plaintiffs for their share of the original mortgage debt and their rights as mortgagees were postponed to those of this defendant. That co-mortgagees are presumably tenants in common of the mortgage debt and their interests are severable or partible among themselves and it was open to the Court to sever the interests of those plaintiffs who had taken no part in the deceit practised upon the purchaser from those who did and to make a decree in their favour in proportion to their interest in the debt. That a mortgage debt is immoveable property both for the purposes of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act as also for the purposes of s 17 (b) of the Registration Act and where a mortgage including a simple mortgage is transferred by an instrument in writing and the value of the right title or interest transferred is one hundred rupees or more the writing requires registration and the absence of registration makes the document inadmissible. SABHUDDIN SAHA v SONAULIAN SARKAR (1918)

22 C W N 641

24 ——— Decree directing sale of other properties of judgment debtor if sale proceeds of mortgaged property insufficient—Limitation as to latter part of decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s XV O 20 s 6—O XXIV r 6 Where a mortgage decree after directing that the available proceeds of the sale to be held under the decree was to be paid in satisfaction of the decretal debt but that if the amount due to the plaintiff was not satisfied by the sale of the mortgaged property the balance would be realised from other properties and the persons of the defendants. Held that limitation for execution of the latter part of the decree did not run from the date of the sale of the mortgaged property but from the date of the decree as fixed by O XXIV r 6 of the Civil Procedure Code. ANILMA LOAN COMPANY v JYANENDRO NATH BOSE (1917)

99 C W N 124

25 ——— Rights of Puisne mortgagee—Decree for sale at the instance of prior mortgagee—Right of puisne mortgagee to apply for sale in execution for amount ascertained to be due to him—Subsequent suit by puisne mortgagee for sale—s 47 Civil Procedure Code whether a bar to suit In a suit for sale by a prior mortgagee against the mortgagor and a puisne mortgagee the decree not only directed the sale of the mortgaged properties for the amount found due to the prior mortgagee but also ascertained the amount due to the puisne mortgagee and ordered the payment to him of this amount out of the surplus sale proceeds. Held (1) that the puisne mortgagee was not entitled to execute the decree for the amount due to him

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

when no sale was held for the realization of the amount due to the prior mortgagee (ii) that the remedy of the puisne mortgagee was a suit for sale (iii) that s 41 Civil Procedure Code was no bar to the suit and (iv) that the decree in the previous suit did not operate as res judicata. VEDAYASAGAN v THE MADRAS HINDU LABOUR CO LTD (1918) I L R 42 Mad 90

20 — Preliminary decree containing directions as to personal liability of defendant in case mortgaged property be insufficient to satisfy decree—No mention of personal liability in final decree—Preliminary decree whether composite—Application under O XXXI r 6 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1903) whether maintainable. In a mortgage suit the decree for sale of the mortgaged property contained a direction that if the whole amount was not realized by the sale of the mortgaged properties for the rest of the claim if legally realizable the defendant No 1 would be liable. In the final decree there was no provision for any personal decree. Before the mortgaged properties could be sold a third party succeeded in having it declared that the mortgaged property could not be sold in execution of the decree. Thereupon the plaintiff applied under O XXXI r 6. It was contended that the preliminary decree was a composite decree and that therefore a fresh decree was not necessary. Held that the preliminary decree was not a composite decree allowing the decree holder to proceed against the other properties of the judgment debtor. It said that he might proceed if he were legally entitled to do so thus leaving it for future decision whether the decree holder was legally entitled to obtain such a decree. SHANATH SHAH BANIK v MADAN MOHAN DAS (1919)

23 C W N 924

27 — Sale for arrears of revenue—Suit on the mortgage—purchase by mortgagee—Rights of mortgage. In execution of a mortgage decree plaintiff the mortgagee himself purchased the mortgaged property and obtained formal possession. Before that suit was brought the defendants had purchased the property at a sale for arrears of revenue. That purchase was subject to the plaintiff's mortgage. Plaintiff sued for possession and the Lower Courts gave him a decree for possession in case the defendants failed to pay the amount due on the mortgage within 6 months. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to a decree for possession but was entitled to have the mortgaged property put up for sale. If the defendants failed to redeem. BALI SINGH v BHANESHWARI TEWARI I Pat L J 133

28 — Subsequent sale of part of the mortgaged property—purchaser's liability to contribute to mortgage debt. Certain properties including a house were mortgaged. Subsequently the defendant purchased half of the house from the mortgagor who then conveyed the equity of redemption in respect of all the mortgaged property to the mortgagee. In a suit by the latter to enforce his mortgage by sale of the mortgaged properties held that having regard to the terms of s 96 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 it was improper to order the property to be sold without fixing the proportion of the mortgage debt chargeable on the house purchased by the defendant. MAHARAJAH LAKSHMAN SINGH v LAKSHMAN LAL PRASAD I Pat L J 225

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

29 — Different persons becoming interested in fragments of equity of redemption—Mortgagee not entitled to throw the burden of entire mortgage debt on a portion of the mortgaged property. The property in suit was mortgaged to plaintiff. Subsequent to the date of the mortgage M and A purchased the equity of redemption in half shares. Plaintiff sued to recover the entire mortgage debt by sale of half of the mortgaged property in the hands of M without adding A as a party to the suit. Held that it was contrary to the principles of equity that the plaintiff who by his own negligence had lost his remedy against the owner of half of the equity of redemption should seek to throw the whole burden of the mortgage on the owner of the other half. Imam Ali v Baiy Yath Pann Sahu (1906) 33 Calcutta 613 at p 651 followed BLDNMAL KEVALCHAND v PAMAVLAD YESU (1919)

I L P 44 Eom 223

30 — Double sale—Where plaintiff purchased a mortgaged property from the mortgagor in execution of a money decree and subsequently the mortgagee brought a suit against the original mortgagor without making the purchaser a party and in execution of the decree purchased the mortgaged property and sold it to another from whom plaintiff sought to recover. Held that plaintiff by virtue of his purchase acquired only a right to redeem and was not entitled to recover possession after the mortgage sale. The fact that he was left out of the suit did not vitiate the decree. SHAKIR PALA SHARIF v ABDOY CHIRAN HEMAKAR

25 C W N 253

31 — Suit for sale by second mortgagees making prior mortgagee a party but not attacking his title—Decree for sale—Subsequent suit by assignee of prior mortgage to enforce a mortgage against second mortgagees—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1903) s 11 Explanation II—Transfer of Property Act (15 of 1882) s 96—Res judicata. The respondents were second mortgagees of certain villages under a mortgage of April 1891 and the appellant was the assignee of the original mortgagee of the same property under a mortgage of May 1891. The respondents brought a suit (100 of 1906) to enforce their mortgage to which they made the assignor of the appellant a party but did not attack or impugn the validity or priority of his mortgage and he did not appear to defend it. In a suit by the appellant in 1907 to enforce his mortgage against the second mortgagees they contended that the mortgage deed of 1891 might and ought to have been made a ground of defence in the former suit and by the omission to do so the present suit was barred as res judicata. In this suit the appellant's mortgage was admittedly valid. Held that under these circumstances the case came within the terms of s 96 of the Transfer of Property Act and that the property could only be sold as there was no deed with the consent of the prior mortgagee who had a paramount claim out of the controversy of the suit unless his mortgage was impugned and this referred to within the plea of res judicata it was incumbent on the respondents to show that they sought in the former suit to displace the title of the prior mortgagee and postpone it to their own and that had not been done. The respondents, therefore, failed to establish the ends;

MORTGAGE—contd

SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

tions essential to their plea PADMA KISHORE & ANUPSHED HOSSAIN (1919)

I L R 47 C.L.C. 662

32 ————— Sale certificate—Conclusiveness of—in subsequent suit—Code of Civil Procedure (I of 1908) s 47 Certificates of sale are documents of title which ought not to be lightly regarded or loosely construed. Where upon a sale under a mortgage decree the purchaser has been given a sale certificate which plainly includes certain property and has been put into possession of that property, it is not open to a Court in a subsequent suit by the mortgagor's representative to hold by reference back to the mortgage deed that the property in question was not sold under the decree. The title of the purchaser can be questioned only by a petition in the execution proceedings under s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure and not at all where that remedy is barred by limitation. Judgment of the High Court reversed. RAMABHADRA NAIDU v KADIMITASAMI NAICKER (1921)

I L R 44 Mad (PC) 483

33 ————— Decree for sale and decree for balance can be made at the same time—Portion of decree payable later when proceeds of sale found insufficient—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 90 It is not necessary to put such a construction on s 90 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) as would establish as a condition precedent to the power of decreeing personal payment of the balance that the mortgaged property must first be sold and found insufficient to satisfy the debt. The words of the section are satisfied in cases where the Court passes a decree that on the happening of the event when the net proceeds of the sale are found to be insufficient the balance should be paid. JESVA BAHU v PARNESWAR NARAYAN MANTRA (1913)

I J R 47 Cal 370

34 ————— Holder of two independent mortgages—If constitutive separate suits There is nothing in the Civil Procedure Code or Transfer of Property Act to prevent the holder of 2 independent mortgages over the same property who is not restrained by covenant in either from obtaining a decree for sale on each in a separate suit subject to the reservation that he cannot sell the property twice over nor under the second decree subject to the first. MILA v ASIRBAND MANDAL

95 M W N 129

35 ————— Mortgage extinguished by sale—Purchaser by first mortgagee—Subsequent suit by second mortgagee who was not made a party to first mortgagee's suit—Act No 21 of 1925. (Transfer of Property Act) s 89 An order made under s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act 1925 for the sale of mortgaged property has the effect of substituting the right of sale thereby conferred upon the mortgagee for his rights under the mortgage and the latter rights are extinguished. Where therefore a first mortgagee brought a suit for sale under the Transfer of Property Act on his mortgage without making a second mortgagee of the same property a party to his suit and obtained a decree for sale and purchased the property under that decree and the second mortgagee afterwards sued on his mortgage. Held the amount to be paid by the second mortgagee was to be calculated on the basis of the decree and not with regard to the amount due on the prior mortgage. Het Ravi v Shada Ram I L R 40 All 407 L R 45 I A 130 followed. Umes Chunder Sircar v Zahur Fatima I L R 18 Calc 164 L R 17 I A 901 a case decided before the Transfer of Property Act 1882 was passed distinguished on that ground. MATRU LAL v DUEGA KUDWAR

MORTGAGE—contd

SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY—contd

I L R 42 All 364

36 ————— Prior and subsequent mortgagee's rights of inter se—Separate and independent decrees obtained by each set of mortgagees—Property sold by prior mortgagee and purchased by a third party leaving a surplus of sale proceeds—Rights of auction purchaser and puisne mortgagee A mortgaged the same property first to B and then by two separate mortgage deeds to C and D both sued on their mortgage each party without impleading the other and obtained decrees. B's decree was executed first. The mortgaged property was sold and was purchased by K. B's mortgage was paid up and a considerable surplus remained which was deposited in court. C then endeavoured to execute his decree against the surplus sale proceeds but failed and the money was ultimately withdrawn by the mortgagor. C next proceeded with the execution of his decree against the property in the hands of K the auction purchaser and K in order to retain possession paid up the amount of B's decree. K then sued the representatives of A to recover the amount so paid. Held that in the circumstances K was entitled to a decree. Barhamdeo Prasad v Tara Chand I L R 41 Calc 654 referred to. KARAN SINGH v ISHTIAQ HUSAIN

I L R 47 All 268

37 ————— Sale by mortgagor of part of the mortgaged property—Suit for sale on mortgage without impleading the lender—Subsequent suit for redemption by auction purchaser against vendee—Decree to which plaintiff is entitled—Limitation In 1901 A took a lease of certain property from B and as security for the due payment of the rent hypothecated two separate items of property x and y. In 1905 A sold property y to C. In 1906 the rent due to B having fallen into arrears B sued to recover it and obtained a decree from the Rent Court. In 1909 B brought a suit in a Civil Court to enforce his lien against both x and y but apparently being unaware that y had been sold did not make C a party. In this suit B obtained a decree for Rs 60,999. In 1912 properties x and y were brought to sale in execution of B's decree and purchased by him for Rs 1,000. In 1916 B sold both properties to D. In 1917 D sued C for the recovery of Rs 2,000 as representing the proportionate share of B's decree for Rs 60,999 which was attributable to property y. Held that the suit was in time and that D was entitled to recover from C the proportionate part of B's decree for Rs 60,999 (not of the amount which B had paid for the two properties) for which property y was liable. Hajra Bibi v Shiam Narair II A L J 367 referred to. MAHADEO RAI v BALDEO RAI

I L R 43 All 559

38 ————— Suit for sale on—D fence that no money was due on mortgage—Mortgagor shown to have been under influence of mortgagee an unscrupulous man who abused that influence

MORTGAGE—contdSALE OF MORTGAGE PROPERTY—contd

Mortgagee put in possession of all mortgagor's property never rendered accounts—Onus of proof—Indian Trusts Act (11 of 1882) as 3 6
B a very young man leading a most immoral life mortgaged the ancestral property of his family to A and gave A possession of practically all his property which included other villages not mortgaged to A who sold a considerable part of the property including some of the mortgaged villages and some of the mortgaged village were purchased by A. Neither A nor the plaintiffs who claimed through A rendered accounts of what had been received by him from and in respect of any of the properties not even of the mortgaged properties. B was completely under the influence of A an unscrupulous man who exercised that influence regardless of the interest of B and his infant son who was born subsequently to the two mortgages on which A plaintiffs sued. Held that this was not an ordinary case of a suit for sale based on a mortgage in which it would be for the defendant the mortgagor to prove that nothing remained due under the mortgage if that was his defence and the onus lay on the plaintiffs to prove that the mortgages had not been satisfied and what if any was due under each mortgage before they could get a decree for sale. The plaintiffs having failed to prove that anything was due the suit should be dismissed. Shortly after the first of the mortgage B executed an agreement by which he appointed A manager and receiver of all his property movable and immovable for 10 years and put A in possession under that agreement. A was to keep accounts and explain them to D in July of each year and was to receive certain remuneration for his work. Held that the agreement did not constitute A a trustee within the meaning of the Indian Trusts Act. B L P A I 24 C W N 69

Mortgage—Equity of redemption on sale of—Purchaser retaining portion of purchase money to pay off mortgage if per small lot for the mortgage debt. A purchaser of mortgaged property who retains a portion of the purchase money in order to enable him to pay off the mortgage does not thereby become personally liable to discharge the mortgage debt. ANNU SINGH KAMTA IRASID 20 C W N 771

SALE OF MORTGAGEES INTEREST
 See UNDER SUB-HEADING SALE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY

Mortgage—Decree of Court splitting up mortgagee's rights—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) as 6 cl (d) analogi of The principle of the rule embodied in s 10 cl (d) of the Transfer of Property Act enabling one of several mortgagees to enforce by suit the payment of his portion of the mortgage money when the mortgagees sever their interests with the consent of the mortgagor is applicable to a case where the severance effected by a decree of Court binding on the mortgagor. VIJAYABHUCHANAMMAL v EVALAPPA MEDALLAR (1914)

L L R 39 Mad 17

SIMPLE MORTGAGE.

Simple mortgage—Power to create leasehold on mortgaged property—A simple mortgage in India unlike a legal mortgage in England does not arrest the mort-

MORTGAGE—contdSIMPLE MORTGAGE—contd

gagor's power of leasing in the ordinary course of management and the mortgagor acts within his powers in creating a temporary lease which does not impair the value or impede the operation of the mortgage. Banee Pershad v Rati Bhunjun Singh 10 W R 375 referred to Keech v Hall 1 Douglas 91 not applied. BALMUNAD RUTIA v MOTI LAL BARMAN (1915) 20 C W N 350

SUBROGATIONSee SUBROGATION

One of the mortgagees paying off the mortgage—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sec 1 APT 120 1 L R 45 Bom 597

1—Presumption of intention—Intere t—Co ts if part of decree Where the kobala by which mortgaged properties were sold recited certain mortgages which were paid off out of the purchase money and the mortgage bonds were preserved by the purchaser. Held that there was a presumption of subrogation of the purchaser to the rights of the mortgagees. Held further that in order to establish right by subrogation it was not necessary for the purchaser to prove any intention or agreement to subrogate and the presumption from the circumstances would be in his favour. Where the contract rate of interest is not provided for a penalty or unconscionable the Court should not disturb. Co ts form a part of the entire decree and carry Court rate of interest. PRAYAG NARAIN KAPRI v CREDI PAI (1910) 14 C W N 1093 note

2—Intersumpt on of intention—Legal and equitable claim if both may be urged together The principle of subrogation is one based on a presumption of intention which may be supported by circumstances or evidence of assignment or agreement or both. Where a debt on a mortgage decree obtained by A was paid off by money paid by plaintiff for which the defendant executed a fresh mortgage bond at an increased rate of interest which recited the necessity for paying off the decretal debt and A actually mentioning one of the three mortgagees said that the property was cleared free from encumbrance. Held that the plaintiff stepped into the shoes of A on the ground of subrogation and had priority over the mortgagee. Subrogation by intention creates an equitable right and subrogation by agreement a legal claim. It is therefore open to a party to set up his claim on both intention and agreement. Singh v Chandralal Singh 5 C L J 111 referred to. Laxman Prasad v Lala Hardev Singh 6 C L J 131 referred to. TAKA v KUNDAKAR (1910) 14 C W N 1093

3—Transfer of mortgage—Intere t—Co ts if part of decree Where the kobala by which mortgaged properties were sold recited certain mortgages which were paid off out of the purchase money and the mortgage bonds were preserved by the purchaser. Held that there was a presumption of subrogation of the purchaser to the rights of the mortgagees. Held further that in order to establish right by subrogation it was not necessary for the purchaser to prove any intention or agreement to subrogate and the presumption from the circumstances would be in his favour. Where the contract rate of interest is not provided for a penalty or unconscionable the Court should not disturb. Co ts form a part of the entire decree and carry Court rate of interest. PRAYAG NARAIN KAPRI v CREDI PAI (1910) 14 C W N 1093 note

MORTGAGE—contd

SUBROGATION—contd

ceded that an application for a review of the decree if made would be heard by the Bench hearing the present appeal which arose in execution proceeding and proceeded to ascertain the rights of the parties as upon such application. If one of several joint mortgagors in order to protect his interest pays the joint debt he is placed in the position of the mortgagee in relation to his co mortgagors to the extent of their shares of the debt. But the substitution of the new creditor in place of the original one does not place the former precisely in the position of the latter for all purposes. The extent to which subrogation would be carried in any particular case must be governed by equitable considerations. In so far as any question of priority is concerned he no doubt enjoys the same advantage as the original mortgagee and is entitled to priority over subsequent mortgagees from his co mortgagors. In so far however as the amount of money which he is entitled to recover from his co mortgagors is concerned he can claim contribution only with reference to the amount actually and properly paid to effect redemption to which sum he can and his legitimate expenses. In so far as interest on these sums is concerned he cannot claim it for any period antecedent to the redemption. In regard to these matters the Court has a discretion which it will exercise with a view to secure substantial justice regardless of form. In re Hewitt 125 N 8 E 210 Surjaram v Barhamjee 30 C L J 288 Gurdoo v Chandrikah I L R 36 Cal 193 s.c. 50 I J 611 referred to. The doctrine that a mortgagee is not bound to accept any sum in part satisfaction of his debt and is entitled to an order absolute unless the entire amount is brought into Court for payment to him is applicable only where there is no dispute as to what amount is due. An unconditional tender of a sum which turns out in the end to be less than what is really due may be valid pro tanto if there is a dispute as to the amount due though a tender to a part of what was admittedly due is of no avail. Ganga Das v Jogendra Nath 11 C N 403 s.c. 50 C L J 315 Ram Kamaldevari v Sukhn Singh 7 C W 172 Dixon v Clark 5 C B 365 75 R P 747 referred to. Though a tender of a smaller amount than that of which an indivisible and entire claim consists may be invalid as a tender there is nothing to prevent the creditor from accepting the amount tendered in part payment and his doing so will not preclude him from afterwards claiming the residue of his account always provided that the debtor does not make it a condition of his tender that it be accepted in discharge of the whole. Bowen v Owen 11 Q Q B 130 75 R R 396 relied on. Digambar Das v Harendra Narayan Pandey (1910) 14 C W N 617

4 ————— Mortgage subrogation of—Undertaking to pay subsequent incumbrance rebuts presumption of intention to keep alive prior mortgage. Where property subject to two mortgages is sold and the purchaser who undertook to pay off both the mortgages with the purchase money discharges the prior mortgage only he cannot as against the subsequent mortgagee claim to stand in the shoes of the prior mortgagee. His right to use the prior mortgage as a shield is based on a presumed intention to keep alive the prior mortgage for his own benefit and such presumption is rebutted when he undertakes to discharge both the mortgages. Govindasami Tevan v Dorasami Pillai (1910) I L R 34 Mad 119

MORTGAGE—contd

SUBROGATION—contd

5 ————— Mortgage sale advance of money to set aside—Mortgage in favour of lender—Sale in execution of money decree after sale set aside but before mortgage executed. Plaintiff advanced small sums of money to the mortgagor for payment to the mortgagee pending execution of a mortgage decree and the balance due to the mortgagee after sale in execution of the decree with the result that the sale was set aside. One month after the mortgagors executed a mortgage in favour of the plaintiff to secure the amounts paid by him but during this interval a portion of the property had been sold in execution of a money decree obtained against the mortgagor by the defendant and purchased by him. The sale was however not confirmed till after the plaintiff's mortgage. Held that the plaintiff cannot claim to be placed in the position of the mortgagee whose dues he discharged with respect to the property purchased by defendant. No 1 which was free from encumbrances at the time he purchased it. Shyam Lal v Bashiruddin I L R 23 All 778 and Vannikalinga v Chidambaram I L R 29 Mad 37 distinguished. The defendant No 1's title to the property accrued on the sale and not for the first time on confirmation thereof. Bhagwan Koer v Mathura Prasad 7 C L J 1 and Adhur Chunder v Aghore Nath 20 W N 589 relied on. Prem Chand v Purnima I L R 15 Cal 546 and Amir Kazim v Darbari Mal I L R 24 All 475 distinguished. Ram Saran Singh v Kharak Singh (1910) 15 C W N 312

6 ————— Third mortgagee advancing money for discharge of first mortgage—Application of part only towards discharge—Priority over other mortgagees to that extent. A mortgagee who advances money towards the discharge of a first mortgage on a property is entitled to priority over an intermediate mortgagee to the extent to which the money advanced by him went towards discharging the first mortgage. Pupabas v Audumulam I L R 11 Mad 345 followed. Hanumanthaiyay v Veenatchi Vaidu I L R 35 Mad 183 referred to. SANJAY PILLAI v KRISHNA IYER (1913) I L R 118 Mad 548

7 ————— Partial discharge of prior incumbrance—Purchaser of equity of redemption entitled to stand in the shoes of prior incumbrancer to the extent that the incumbrance has been discharged. A purchaser of the equity of redemption is entitled to stand in the shoes of a prior incumbrancer where the purchaser has with the consent of that incumbrancer partially discharged the liability. Gurdeo Singh v Chandrika Singh I L R 36 Cal 193 dissented from. Chetind v Allen 1 Ch D 553 followed. Baroness Benlock v The River Dea Company Ld 19 C B D 155 referred to. UDIT NARAIN MISHRA v ASHARFI LAL (1916) I L R 38 All 502

8 ————— Suit for recovery of mortgage money—Payment of prior mortgage debts—Subrogation—Circumstances in which intention to keep prior mortgage alive is to be inferred. On the 22nd of March 1911 one A executed two or three peshgi leases in favour of G L comprising a zamindari share in the village of Kura Mai and a house in the town of Marchra. Upon this A

MORTGAGE—contdSUBROGATION—contd

F brought a suit against A A and G L for specific performance of an agreement entered into by A A to mortgage to her the zamindari in Kura Mai and for a declaration that the ar : peahgi leases entered into with G L were ineffective as against her. The plaintiff obtained a decree which was upheld in appeal by the High Court and as the result a ar : peahgi lease was executed by A A in favour of A F under the order of the Court and G L's leases were declared to be void as against A F. Immediately after the execution of the ar : peahgi leases of the 22nd of March 1911 G L paid off two prior mortgages of 1907 and 1908. No reference however was made to these in the deeds of 1911 nor was there any contract between the parties to the deeds that the mortgage was to be subrogated to the benefits of the earlier securities which were to be paid off. Moreover the mortgages of 1907 and 1908 comprised other property besides that included in the deeds of 1911. Held that it was not competent to G L in a suit on his ar : peahgi leases of 1911 to set up a title under the mortgages of 1907 and 1908 and claim to recover from A F the money which he had expended in their redemption. GULZARI LAL v. AZIZ FATIMA (1919) I L R 41 All 372

9 ————— Prior and subsequence mortgages—Priority over intermediate mortgage—Mortgage pending execution proceedings—Estoppel—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI rr 13 62 66—Decision in course of execution proceedings effect of—Order by consent how far binding. As to whether a subsequent mortgage is not entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the first depends upon the question whether the property has been sold subject to the mortgage or whether mere notice of the alleged mortgage has been given in the proclamation of sale. Inayat Singh v. Iz ut un nissa Begam I L R 27 All 97. Ra nachandra Joshi v. H. K. Kasseim I L R 16 Mad 907. Shantappa Chedambara v. Subrao Pa nachandra Yellapur I L R 18 Bom 115. Shib Kunwar Singh v. Sheo Prasad Singh I L R 23 All 413. Ganesh Morechwar Joshi v. Purushottam Balkrishna Pote I L R 33 Bom 317 and Jairaj Mal v. Padma Kishan I L R 35 All 257 referred to. KALIDAS CHALDHURI v. PRASAD KUMAR DAS (1919) I L R 47 Cal 446

TRANSFERENCE MORTGAGES

Transferee from lender—Right of suit. A transferee mortgage can maintain a suit on the mortgage though the mortgage named in the bond is only a beneficiary and though the beneficial owner is not added as a party. Kritibis Das v. Gopal Jiu 19 C L J 193 and Parameswar Dutt v. Ananda Das I L R 37 All 113 followed. SINGA LALLA v. GOVINDA REDDY (1917) I L R 41 Mad 435

USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE

1 ————— Bombay Regulation 1 of 1877 s 71 cl 3—Usufructuary mortgage of 1869—Agreement to pay the debt after fixed period—Suit by mortgagee after the expiration of the period for the recovery of the debt by sale of mortgaged property. A usufructuary mortgage executed in the year 1869 contained the following agreement—The amount of Rs. 1700 is borrowed on the said premises. We three of us shall, after paying off the said amount of debt after fifteen years from this day redeem our premises. Perhaps any one of us three might within the period pay off at one time the amount of rupees according to his share, you should allow redemption of the premises proportionately after receiving the amount and you should pass a receipt for the moneys received. In the year 1900 the mortgagee having brought a suit for the recovery of the mortgage debt by sale of mortgaged property the first Court allowed the claim but the Appellate Court reversed the decree and dismissed the suit on the ground that where in the case of a usufructuary mortgage the mortgagor agrees to redeem by payment of the principal after a stated period the mortgagee has no higher or better right than he has under a simple usufructuary mortgage. Held on second appeal by the plaintiffs that the mortgage in suit was governed by cl (3) s XV of Regulation V of 1827 and there being nothing in the terms of the agreement between the parties which either expressly or by implication indicated that the property should not by means of a suit be applied in liquidation of the debt the suit would lie. The decree of the Appellate Court reversed and that of the first Court restored. Mahadaji v. Joti I L R 17 Bom 425 and Ramchandra v. Tripurabas (1898) P J 43 followed. Shail Idra v. Abdul Pahiman I L R 16 Bom 303. Sadasahu v. Vyankatrao I L R 20 Bom 296 and Krishna v. Hari 10 Bom L R 615 explained. PARASHARAM v. PUTLASHIMAO (1909) I L R 34 Bom 128

MORTGAGE—contdUSUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE—contd

2 ————— Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1889) s 963 274—Debt—Immovable property—Execution of money decree—Attachment. Where a deed of mortgage with possession provided that the mortgagee was to enjoy the profits in lieu of interest for ten years and was to be redeemed on the expiration of the term by payment of the mortgage money. Held that the document created a purely usufructuary mortgage. Held further that in the case of a usufructuary mortgage there was no debt payable by the mortgagor to the mortgagee which could be attached in execution of a money decree against the assignee of the mortgagee and that s. 208 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1889) was not applicable to such a case. The procedure should be by attachment under s. 204 of the Civil Procedure Code of the interest in immovable property and its sale according to the provisions of the Code. Taraji Pholanaik v. Evi Kashi I L R 36 Bom 305 explained. MANILAL PATCHOD v. MOTIBHAI HIRABHAI (1911) I L R 35 Bom 253

3 ————— Usufructuary mortgage—personal covenant to pay—Suit against mortgagor personally on usufructuary mortgage—Limitation Act 15. Sec. II Art 116. Every loan is a promise to repay and an unqualified admission of indebtedness is equivalent to an express covenant and creates a personal liability. Kier v. Purton 4 C L J 310 referred to. A usufructuary mortgage providing for the repayment of the mortgaged debt with interest from the rents and profits of the mortgaged property within a specified period on the expiry of which the mortgagor is to be put in possession while prescribing a mode of payment, does not create

MORTGAGE—contdUSUFUCTUARY MORTGAGE—contd

early imply that the creditor is limited to that mode alone if it is found insufficient to satisfy the debt. There was clearly a personal obligation to pay where the document expressly provided that the debtor would be responsible for the deficiency. Marotam v Sheo Pargash L P 111 A 83 I L P 10 Cal 740 and Kalla Singh v Paras Ram L P 23 I 1 68 I L R 22 Cal 431 distinguished. Parbati Charan v Gourinda Chandra 4 C L J 246 referred to. A suit to recover from the debtor personally money due on a registered mortgage bond is a suit for compensation for the breach of a contract in writing registered within the meaning of Art 116 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. Berr v Ruxton 4 C L J 510 relied on. Nolo Coomar v Siru Vellick I L P 6 Cal 91 and Huvani Ali v Haje Ali I L P 3 All 620 referred to. Held on a construction of the document that the present case fell within the second division of Art 116 of Sch II of the Limitation Act. Where the mortgage bond provided that a specified sum would be paid out of the income of certain properties at prescribed times towards the satisfaction of the debt but the document gave the debtor seven years time altogether for the repayment of his loan. Held that it could not be held upon a construction of the document as a whole that whenever the mortgagee found it impossible to collect the sums mentioned at the appointed time there was a breach of contract and that time ran from the date of each successive breach. The intention was that the liabilities of the parties should be adjusted on the expiry of the term and time ran from that date. PAN NARAY SINGH v ODINDRA NATH MUKERJEE (1911) 17 C W N 369

4 ———— Covenant to pay money due on simple mortgage before redemption of the usufructuary mortgage—Suit on simple mortgage barred by limitation—Redemption of usufructuary mortgage. Plaintiff executed a usufructuary mortgage and later executed a simple mortgage in favour of the defendant. In the latter bond he covenanted not to redeem the usufructuary mortgage till he had paid the money due on the second bond. The present suit was brought to redeem the usufructuary mortgage at a time when if the defendant had to sue on the simple mortgage it would have been barred by limitation. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to redeem the first mortgage without paying money due on the second bond. KASHI KUMAR v KASHI PAN (1915) I L R 37 All 634

5 ———— Construction of—Balance remaining due to mortgagee at end of term of mortgage—Allegation in plaint of wrongful acts by mortgagor by which mortgagee unsatisfied of part of his security—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 58, 59 and 63—Mortgage deed unaltered and not enforceable as a mortgage—Privy Council practice of—Per statement and rehearing after decision of case ex parte. The question for determination on this appeal was whether the respondents (mortgagees) were entitled to recover from the appellant (mortgagor) the balance due on a usufructuary mortgage dated 14th April 1896 where it was alleged that they had been deprived of part of the security by the wrongful acts of the mortgagor. It had been calculated that the amount borrowed with interest would be paid off by the rents of the properties mortgaged on 14th January 1903 when they were to be returned to the mortgagor. Both parties acted on the deed but on the date mentioned it was found that the mortgagee in possession had not by the collection of the rents received sufficient to discharge the principal of the loan with interest as mentioned in the deed. In a suit brought by the mortgagee on 13th January 1903 the deficiency was attributed in paragraphs 6 and 7 of the plaint to the facts that the defendant (mortgagor) had taken rents which should have gone to the mortgagee but which had not been paid over to him by the mortgagor and that the rents in some cases were less than the amounts mentioned in the deed and those were wrongful acts complained of. The claim was for a mortgage decree under Order XXIV r 4 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 or in the alternative for a decree for the amount due on the footing of the personal liability of the mortgagor. In the course of the suit it appeared that the mortgage deed had not been attested and the Subordinate Judge held that it could not having regard to s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) be enforced as a mortgage which decision as it was not appealed from became final. The sole question therefore was whether the mortgagor was personally liable. The facts on which the allegations of wrongful acts by the mortgagor were based were not investigated but both Courts in India held that on the construction of the deed it imposed a personal liability on the mortgagor and they made decrees in his favour. Held (reversing those decisions) that the nature and terms of the deed were such as to show that it was not originally intended that the mortgagor should be personally liable. The respondent ought to be given an opportunity of proving the allegations in paragraphs 6 and 7 of the plaint and of establishing that those facts were sufficient to bring s 68 of the Transfer of Property Act into operation. The position of the mortgagor under that section could not however by reason of the deed be better than it would have been if the mortgage had been duly attested. The case was for that purpose remitted to India for further trial. After the appeal had been heard ex parte and judgment had been given in favour of the appellant the respondents were allowed to have it retried and reheard on the ground that the person with whom they came to an agreement to defend the appeal on their behalf and to whom they advanced funds to pay the expenses of entering appearance and taking other necessary steps in the conduct of the appeal defrauded them misappropriated the money without doing anything in the matter of the appeal and left them in complete ignorance of its progress until they discovered that there was not a word of truth in his misrepresentations and that the appeal had been decided ex parte against them. They had to pay the costs of the first hearing as the appellant was in no way to blame. PAN NARAY SINGH v ANINDRA NATH MUKERJEE (1916) I L R 44 Cal 388

MORTGAGE—contdUSUFUCTUARY MORTGAGE—contd

MISCELLANEOUS

1 ———— Suit to enforce earlier mortgages without joining the claim under the latest mortgage—Maintainability. There is nothing in law to prevent a person who has several mortgages over the same property from bringing a suit on the earlier mortgages without joining in that suit his claim under the latest if he does not in such a suit pray for the sale of the property subject to the latest mortgage Keshtaram Dulatram v Panchhod Fakira 1 L R 30 Bom 156 Dorasan v Venkata Seshayyar 1 C W N 814 Bhagwan Das v Bhawan 1 L R 26 All 14 Nattu Krishnama Chariar v Annagaram Chariar 1 L R 30 Mad 303 referred to GOBINDA PRASAD v LALA HAPIHAR CHAPAN (1910) 1 L R 113 Cal 60 14 C W N 1053

MORTGAGE—contdMISCELLANEOUS—contd

2 ——— Two mortgagees advancing money in equal shares—Discharge of debtor by one not binding on the other One of two mortgagees who have advanced the mortgage money equally cannot give a good discharge for the entire mortgage debt without the consent of or reference to his co mortgagee Man v Ali v Mahmud unis 1 L R 30 All 155 followed Blup Singh v Zain ul Abidin 1 L R 9 All 903 and Barber v Maran v Ramana Goundin 1 L R 30 Mad 461 distinguished PAM CHANDRA v GOSWAMI RAJAN LAL (1909) 1 L R 32 All 164

3 ——— Gross and culpable negligence of vendor (first mortgagee) in leaving title deeds with vendee (mortgagor)—Whether prior mortgage postponed thereby in favour of subsequent mortgage by deposit of title deeds—Search in Pegistra 1121 off —Constructive notice—Priority—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) ss 3, 18, 57 of the Transfer of Property Act makes its three ingredients fraud misrepresentation or gross negligence disjunctive and one cannot be defined in terms of the other or others They are three different kinds of conduct and are in no way co-extensive Monindra Chandra Nandy v Troy Luckho Nath Bural 2 C W N 750 discussed and distinguished Walker v Linon [1907] —Ch 104 followed Neglect to recover the title deeds by a vendor from a vendee who has secured the greater part of the purchase money to the vendor by giving him a mortgage on the property itself when the vendor has full notice that the vendee is unscrupulous and a bad paymaster and thereby the vendee is enabled to obtain a second mortgage on the property by deposit of the title deeds is gross and culpable negligence (which postpones the prior mortgagee) and is rendered more so by a deliberate suppression of the existence of the mortgage in the sale deed and a suggestion that the purchase money was required in cash and paid accordingly Colyer v Finch 5 H L 905 followed Registrars not being it self notice a search made by the clerk to the solicitor to the vendee (mortgagor) who has an interest to conceal the encumbrance from the second mortgagee cannot saddle the latter with notice of the encumbrance Mad a Tailoring Company v Parola deo 1 L R 13 Mad 353 1 L R 13 Mad 36 and Majji Karimhas v Hoorbas 1 L R 35 Bom 34 followed NANDA LAL ROY v ABDUL AZIZ (1911) 1 L R 113 Cal 1052

4 ——— Framing suit —A suit brought to enforce a mortgage against a person as the legal representative of the mortgagor cannot be thrown out as improperly framed because the defendant sets up a title paramount to that of the mortgagor in the mortgaged premises. See Section

MORTGAGE—contdMISCELLANEOUS—contd

Dutt v Bhuvan Mohan Mitter 1 L R 30 Cal 425 sc 3 C L J 205 distinguished Biaya Chaudhuri v Chuni Lal Marwari 5 C L J 90 sc 11 C W N 254 relied on NAGAR CHANDRA KOOKDOO v RATAN MALA (1910)

15 C W N 60

5 ——— Mortgage of sir land—Purchase of proprietary rights by mortgagee—Suit for redemption—Amount payable by mortgagor After a usufructuary mortgage of certain sir lands the mortgagee at an auction sale in execution of a simple money decree purchased the proprietary rights in the mortgaged property the mortgagor becoming an ex proprietary tenant On a suit for redemption being brought Held that the mortgagee having him self broken up the integrity of his security could not be permitted to cast the whole burden of the debt upon the ex proprietary rights Biseshwar Dial v Jam Sarup 1 L R 22 All 981 referred to CHITANI LAL v SIKISHAN SINGH (1911) 1 L R 33 All 434

6 ——— Mortgage of math properties —Math Mahant of dispute between rival chellans in succeeded to—Mortgage of math properties by chellans who established will but never got possession—Compromise chellans agreeing to manage a math properties jointly —Mortgage is valid—Onus On the death of the Mahant of a math disputes arose between two chellans one of whom succeeded in establishing a will in his favour purporting to be that of the deceased Mahant but could not get possession and the other who alleged that he had been installed by the deceased as his successor managed to obtain and keep possession of the properties of the math Pending these disputes the former executed the mortgage in suit hypothecating math properties Soon after there was a compromise between the claimants under which the survivor of the two was to be the Mahant and till the death of one of them neither was to take the place of the deceased but both should jointly manage the property and the survivor would be bound to repay loans jointly raised by the claimants No provision was made in the compromise regarding the discharge of the mortgage in suit Held that the mortgagee was aware that the property mortgaged was property of the math and that the mortgagor had not succeeded in establishing his title as Mahant and that this suit to enforce the mortgage should fail MAHMO PRASAD v MAHANT PAMRATAN SIP (1911) 15 C W N 838

7 ——— Suit upon a mortgage executed by Hindu widow and reversioner—Joint title of co-mortgagor as title not possible in mortgage suit In a suit upon a mortgage where it was proved that the mortgage deed had been duly executed by a Hindu widow and her reversioner it was not open to the defendant to invite the mortgagor's title nor is it permissible to the mortgagor to set up their title and join her title to be given for the plaintiffs with effect CHANDER SHAW v JAGANNATH DAS (1911) 15 C W N 915

8. ——— Mistake of fact —Factual error of fact by one of mortgagor not a defence to a mortgage suit 1 L R 113 Cal 1052 and 1 L R 35 Bom 34 referred to Section who has advanced money with the knowledge of mutual mistake of fact between the mortgagor

MORTGAGE—contdMISCELLANEOUS—contd

L R 37 Calc 907 and Harendra Lal Roy Chowdhury v Hari Das Deb I L R 41 Calc 372
I R 51 I A 110 referred to. Where the decision of the Court is void for want of jurisdiction over the subject matter of a suit it cannot operate as res judicata in order that a judgment may be conclusive between the parties the essential prerequisite is that it should be the judgment of a Court of competent jurisdiction under s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code. Where a Court judicially considers and adjudicates the question of its jurisdiction and decides that facts exist which are necessary to give it jurisdiction over the case the decision is conclusive till it is set aside in an appropriate proceeding. But where there has been no such adjudication the decree remains a decree without jurisdiction and cannot operate as res judicata. KRISHNA KISHORE DE v ANARAYAN KSHETRI (1920) I L E 47 Calc 770

17 ——— non joinder of all heirs of mortgagor—Decree for proportionate amount against defendants on record. All heirs of mortgagor not made parties—Suit if liable to be dismissed for non joinder of parties. A mortgage suit in which all the heirs of the mortgagor were not made parties had been dismissed by the lower Courts for non joinder of parties. Held that the plaintiffs were at the least entitled to a decree for a proportionate share of the mortgage money as against the defendants who were on the record. Even if it be assumed that the persons who had been left out could if joined have successfully urged the plea of limitation that would not afford a defence in favour of the persons who had been joined as parties within the prescribed time. Imam Ali v Bajinal Ram Sahi I L R 33 Calc 613; c 10 C W N 551 (1906) followed. HAN CHANDRA ROY v MAHAMED HUSEIN 25 C W N 584

18 ——— Of land comprising air land by U P—Proprietor Decree for sale of property with all actual and reputed rights as detailed in the mortgage—Sale if passed air land—Act IX of 1883 s 42. A person whose proprietary rights in land comprised air land mortgaged his entire interest therein including the rights in the air land. In the decree for sale upon the mortgage the parties agreed that the properties scheduled in the decree for sale instead of including the cultivating rights in air should comprise the property with all actual and reputed rights as detailed in the mortgage. Held that in the face of the decree it was not open to the mortgagor to urge that the rights of the mortgagee to sell the air lands were taken away by the decree. GULABSIKH I. DIWAN BARADUR BALLABUDAS (P C) 25 C W N 938

19 ——— Successive mortgages—Suit by first mortgagee without impleading puisne mortgagee—Purchaser at mortgage sale may set up first mortgage as shield in puisne mortgagee's suit—Puisne mortgagee's right to be placed in the same position in which he would be if he had been impleaded. Under r 10 of Or XXIV of the Civil Procedure Code (which has repealed s 89 of the Transfer of Property Act) an owner of a property who is in the right of a first mortgagee and of the original mortgagor as acquired at a sale under the first mortgage is entitled at the suit of a subsequent mortgagee who (not having been made a party in the first mortgagee's suit) is not bound by the sale or the decree on which it proceeded, to set up the first mortgage as a shield. Het Ram v Shadi Lal (1) Watru Mal v Durga Kunwar (?) and I ammalalinga Mudali v Chidambara Chetty (3) referred to. But in such a case the puisne mortgagee (plaintiff) also is entitled to be put in the position which he would have occupied had he been made a party to the first mortgagee's suit. After two mortgages had been effected by the owner of certain properties the first mortgagee sued on his mortgage and purchased the property without impleading the second mortgagee. Later on his successor in interest executed another mortgage in favour of the plaintiff. Subsequently the second mortgagee sued on his mortgage without impleading the plaintiff and in that suit the then owners recovered from the second mortgagee the amount of the first mortgage (which they set up as a shield) but as they failed to redeem the second mortgagee the property was sold and purchased by the latter. In plaintiff's suit to enforce plaintiff's mortgage against the property in the hands of the second mortgagee. Held that the amount of the first mortgage had been wrongly taken away by the owners the same being then subject to the mortgage of the plaintiff and that therefore in this suit unless the defendant paid to the plaintiff that amount with interest plaintiff was entitled to get a decree for sale of so much of the estate as would realise that sum and for the rest on condition the plaintiff paid defendants the amount of the decree on the second mortgage. MUSAMMAT SUKHI v MURSHI (HUFAN SADFAR KHAN) 28 E W N 283

MORTGAGE—contdMISCELLANEOUS—contd

MORTGAGE BOND

See ATTESTING WITNESS

I L R 48 Calc 61

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 45 Calc 580

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCH I

ARTS 132 to I L R 39 Mad 981

See MORTGAGE

See RECEIPT I L R 42 Calc 546

Attestation—Scribe signature and attestation by validity of—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 59. Where no mark seal or thumb impression of the mortgagor appears on a mortgage deed the scribe who executes the document for and on behalf of the mortgagor is not competent to attest his own signature as an attesting witness. Shamu Patter v Abdul Kadir Ranihan I L R 35 Mad 607 L R 39 I A 218 referred to. UPENDRA CHANDRA BHADRA v KURUM (HAND DE (1918)) I L R 48 Calc 522

Transfer—Absence of notice to mortgagor—Payment to mortgagee by mortgagor after transfer without notice thereof—Payment in full settlement of debt—Effect of payment—Receipt by mortgagee necessary for registration—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 17 (b)—Civil Procedure Code O XXI s 33—Memorandum of objections whether necessary—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 130 principle of Payment by the mortgagor to the mortgagee after but without notice of a transfer of the mortgage must in the absence of collusion be allowed to the mortgagor as against the transferee. Where such payment was accepted by the mortgagee in full settlement of the debt due the mortgagor is entitled to get credit as against the transferee not only for what he actually paid but for the whole mortgage debt. Where a receipt by the mortgagor in terms only discharges a mortgage debt it does not fall under s 17 (b) of the Registration Act and is admissible in evidence though it was not registered. Where in a suit for sale instituted by the transferee of a mortgage bond against the mortgagee and mortgagor a decree was passed against the latter but on appeal by him the decree against him was reversed the Appellate Court had power under O XXI r 33 Civil Procedure Code to pass a decree against the mortgagee who was a respondent to the appeal even though the plaintiff had not filed an appeal or memorandum of objections. NEELMANI PATRAIK MUSAOKI SUNDUVU BEHARU (19-0) 1 L R 43 Mad 803

MORTGAGE BOND—contd

MORTGAGE BY KARNAVAN

See MORTGAGE 1 L R 37 Mad 420

MORTGAGE DEBT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 11 47 1 L R 37 Bom 41
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1952) s 90 1 L R 34 Bom 540

Mortgage debt of movable or immovable property. Under the Hindu as under English law a mortgage is treated as personal or movable property the land being considered merely a pledge or security for the money lent. SURESH MISHRA & MOHESH PANI MISHRA (1910) 20 C W N 142

MORTGAGE DECREE

See APPEAL 1 L R 41 Cal 418
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 13 104

s 48 1 L R 39 Mad 570
O XXXIV 1 L R 40 Mad 989

See COURT FEES 4 Pat L J 181

See DANDA PAT FILE OF 1 L R 40 Cal 710

See DECREE 3 Pat L J 478

See EQUITABLE MORTGAGE 1 L R 53 Cal 824

See EXECUTION OF DECREE 1 L R 40 Cal 704

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 42 Cal 72

See MORTGAGE. 1 L R 48 Cal 69

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE. 1 L R 44 Cal 524

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s 12 3 Pat L J 182

decree nisi—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURE & PASTURE ACT (XXII OF 1879) s 13B 1 L R 42 Bom 47

When personal decree will be given as well—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXXIV r 6 6 Pat L J 106

Held upon construction of the mortgage decree sought to be executed

MORTGAGE DECREE—contd

that the direction as to payment of interest at the rate stipulated in the bond up to the date of payment referred not to the date fixed by the preliminary decree for payment but to the date of actual realisation of the money. PADHIKA MOHAN GHOSH & BROJENDRA KUMAR SAHA 14 C W N 125

I (a) ——— Mortgage decree II also money decree and if decree holder may be allowed to execute against other property before exhausting security—CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 73 O XXXIV rr 5 6 and O XXI rr 10 17 13—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 90 Where the holder of a mortgage decree applied to Court for an order to be allowed to execute the mortgage decree as a money decree by attachment of some other property or for the passing of a supplemental decree for the purpose but at the same time reserving his rights under the mortgage decree on his giving an undertaking not to take any steps as against the mortgaged property till he has exhausted the other property. Held that such an order could not be made having regard to O XXXIV rr 5 and 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure. Hart's Tara Prasanna Mukherjee 1 L R 11 Cal 718 commented on. A decree passed in a mortgage suit and directing the realization of the decretal amount from the mortgaged property and if insufficient from the defendant personally is a mortgage decree and not a money decree. Fasil Houdadar v Krishna Handoo Poy 1 L R 75 Cal 540 Lal Behary Singha v Habib 1 Pat L J 76 Cal 166 Kartick Nath Pandey v Jugg Nath Pann Murari 1 L R 24 Cal 295 referred to. A person who has taken a mortgage decree should not be allowed to treat it as a money decree and to execute the decree against other properties without exhausting his remedies in respect of the security under his decree. It is only after sale of the mortgage security that a decree for the balance due on the mortgage may be given if it was recoverable from the mortgagor personally and his other property and the decree may be executed as an ordinary money decree. Copal Das v Ali Mohammed 1 L R 10 All 6 Raja Kishan Chakraverty v Indra Varman Das 10 C W N 567 1 L R 33 Cal 420 referred to. SIRJA KUMAR KAPFORMA v PRANADA SIVDAREE DEBI (1913) 17 C W N 1069 — Application for order absolute —Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 85 and 89—Successive applications within three years of each preceding application—Last application within twelve years of decree if barred—Ind an Limit Act (II of 1905) Art 151 152 153—I claim any decree executable by me—CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT OF 1908) s 48 A decree for sale was passed in a mortgage suit on the 7th October 1911 and an application for order absolute was made on the 6th April 1904 subsequent applications were made in 1904 1910 and 1912 all within three years of the immediately preceding application. Notices were sent to the judgment-debtor in each of the applications but the latter were all dismissed without the relief prayed for being granted; the last application was made on the 1st April 1911 the judgment-debtor objected that the application was barred by limitation as more than

MORTGAGE SALE

See CONTRIBUTION 14 C W N 361

MORTGAGE SUIT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXIV r 1

O XXXIV r 1 L R 43 Bom 575

O XXXIV r 6 2 Pat L J 538

See COMPROMISE 1 L R 42 Calc 801

See JURISDICTION 1 L R 42 Calc 116

See RES JUDICATA 2 Pat L J 313

See MORTGAGE

See MORTGAGE DECREE

2 Pat L J 118

d cree in—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 O XXXIV r 10

I L R 39 Mad 488

failure of to deliver possession—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1842) ss 6b (a) AND (d) 67 68 (c)

I L R 41 Mad 259

Parties—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXXIV r 1

6 Pat L J 840

1 Preliminary decree

—Payment out of Court if may be proved though not certified to oppos passing of a decree absolute—

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXIV r 2

O XXXIV r 8 Payment in pursuance of a preliminary decree in a mortgage suit if not made in Court must be certified under O XXXIV r 2 failing which the Court has no discretion except to follow the statutory form of the decree when no payment has been made into Court as mentioned in O XXXIV r 5 unless there has been adjustment made under O XXXIV r 2 of the Civil Procedure Code PIRAN BIBI v JITHAPPA MONTU MUKHERJI (1917)

21 C W N 920

2 Plea of payment—

Onu nature of—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 114—

Shifting of onus—Trial Judge's estimate of testimony value of in doubtful cases In a suit to enforce a mortgage bond in which the defence sought to prove that the debt had been discharged by payments endorsed on the bond, the trial Court on a review of the evidence held that the endorsements were fictitious and decided in favour of the plaintiff but the High Court on appeal was of opinion that the plaintiffs had failed to discharge the burden which rested on him to prove his case and dismissed the suit Held by the Judicial Committee that though the initial burden of proof rests on the appellant in such a case as this both on general grounds and by reason of the provisions of s 114 of the Evidence Act this burden is one which shifts easily as the evidence developed and their Lordships did not attach much importance in this case to the question on whom the initial onus lay That the evidence in this litigation taken as a whole was of such a character and so full of doubtful statements that it could only be weighed adequately by the Judge who had seen the witnesses and the balance of probabilities in this case also being in their Lordships' opinion on the side of the conclusion reached by the trial Judge the judgment of the High Court was reversed and that of the trial Judge was restored JAYDAL LAL v BEGANI (1915)

22 C W N 937

MORTGAGE SUIT—contd3 Mortgagee related to mortgagor—Bond executed in consequence of mortgage becoming aware of the demand by another creditor of mortgagor for repayment of his dues—Mortgage bond whether fraudulent Where the defendants Nos 1 to 3 executed a mortgage bond in favour of the plaintiff for Rs 16 000 due to the latter in consequence of the latter having come to know that defendant No 4 another creditor of the defendants Nos 1 to 3 was pressing for payment and thereafter defendant No 4 obtaining a decree against defendants Nos 1 to 3 purchased the mortgage properties and then the plaintiff brought the present suit to enforce the security whereas the defendant No 4 contended that the mortgage was fraudulent Held that because the plaintiff was related to defendant No 2 and was aware of the fact that defendant No 4 was demanding his dues from defendants Nos 1 to 3 and was bringing pressure to bear upon them was no reason why the plaintiff should not require the defendants Nos 1 to 3 to secure the repayment of the money due to him RASH MOHAM SHAH v KRISTODIS RAY (1918)

22 C W N 982

4 On bond executedby defendants Nos 1 and 2 for selves as executors and as certificated guardians of defendants Nos 3 to 6—No permission obtained from Court to mortgage—Intention of testator to pay off his debts by sale of his properties and not by another mortgage—Defendants Nos 1 and 2 whether bound by the mortgage bond—Power of the Larta of a joint Hindu family as guardian of minors appointed under Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890)—Whether the adult male member of a joint Hindu family entitled to borrow what he thinks necessary for the joint family In a suit upon a mortgage bond executed by defendants Nos 1 and 2 for selves as executors to the estate of their father and as certificated guardians of their four minor brothers defendants Nos 3 to 6 it was contended on behalf of defendants Nos 3 to 6 that they were minors at the date of the mortgage bond that the defendants Nos 1 and 2 did not obtain sanction of the Court for the mortgage and that therefore the mortgage was not binding upon them Held that the intention of the testator being that his debts should be paid off by sale of the two mahals and not by another mortgage there was an implied restriction on the power of the defendants Nos 1 and 2 to mortgage the property There being no permission of the Court the defendants Nos 1 and 2 had no power to mortgage as executors under the will That if the Larta of a joint Hindu family chooses to apply under Act VIII of 1890 for being appointed as guardian of a minor and has been appointed as such guardian he comes under the control of the Court and cannot exercise the power of a Larta to mortgage without previous sanction of the Court Held that the defendants Nos 1 and 2 as adult male members of a joint Hindu family were entitled to borrow what they considered necessary for joint family expenses provided the minors had been actually benefited by money borrowed UPENDRO NATH DAS v SHRI KUMARI DEBI (1916)

22 C W N 634

5 Suit for redemption not a party to the mortgage suit against purchaser at the Mortgage suit—Mortgage—Suit for declaration of title and recovery of possession by the purchaser of equity of redemption was not the purchaser at the mortgage sale if maintainable when plaintiff not a party to the mortgage suit— Such suit allowed to be framed as a suit for redemption. Where the plaintiff purchased a mortgaged property from the mortgagor in execution of a money decree and subsequently the mortgagee brought a suit against the original mortgagor without making the purchaser a party and in execution of the mortgage decree purchased the mortgaged property and then sold it to another from whom the plaintiff sought to recover possession of the mortgaged property on declaration of his title. Held that the plaintiff by virtue of his purchase acquired only the right to redeem the mortgage and was not entitled to recovery of possession of the mortgaged property after the mortgage sale had taken place. The fact that he was left out of the mortgage suit did not nullify the mortgage decree but left unaffected his right to redeem and he was entitled to possession upon redemption. It was not necessary for the mortgagee to sue again on his mortgage and he was not bound to deliver up possession to the plaintiff till the redemption of the mortgage. The case was remanded to the District Judge so that a decree might be made in favour of the plaintiff as if it was framed as a suit for redemption. SHEIKH KALU SHARIF v. AFRAY CHABAN KARPOKAE 25 C W N 253

MORTGAGE SUIT—contd

6. — All heirs of mortgagor not made parties effect of a mortgage suit in which all the heirs of the mortgagor were not made parties had been dismissed by the Lower Court for non joinder of parties. Held that the plaintiffs were at the least entitled to a decree for proportionate share of the mortgage money as against the defendants who were on the record. Even if it had been assumed that the persons who had been left out could if joined have successfully urged the plea of limitation that would not afford a defence in favour of the persons who had been joined as parties within the prescribed time. HARCHANDRA ROY v. MAHAMED HUSSEIN 25 C W N 594

7. — Second mortgagee not made party to suit by first mortgagee—First mortgagee a purchaser of mortgaged property on foot of mortgage contract or amount decreed. An order under s 80 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 for the sale of the mortgaged property has the effect of substituting the right of sale thereby conferred upon the mortgagee for the right under the mortgage and the latter rights are extinguished. Where a first mortgagee obtained a decree for sale upon his mortgage in a suit in which he did not make the second mortgagee a party and purchased the property at such sale. Held in a suit by the second mortgagee upon his mortgage that the first mortgagee purchaser had no greater rights than any stranger would have had who had purchased the property under the mortgage decree and paid cash for it and the latter was entitled to set up only the amount of the decree made in his suit. LALA MATHU MAL v. MUSAMMAT DURG A KUMAR 25 C W N 397

8. — Claim of title adverse to mortgagor by representative of deceased mortgagor. Substituted on record—If should be entertained. Held that such a plea could not be entertained without altering the scope of the suit and should be tried by separate suit. KALIDAS POY v. GIRINDRA MOHAR BAK HI 25 C W N 192

MORTGAGE SUIT—contd

9. — Separate suits by holder of independent mortgages over same property to obtain separate decree for sale on each—Mortgage—Holder of two independent mortgages over same property if can institute separate suits to obtain a separate decree for sale on each of them—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) Or II r 2 (1)—s 11 Ex p 4—Transfer of Property Act (1 of 1882) s 61—Decrees made in such suits how to be given effect to. There is nothing in the Code of Civil Procedure or in the Transfer of Property Act to prevent the holder of two independent mortgages over the same property who is not restrained by any covenant in either of them from obtaining a decree for sale on each of them in a separate suit subject however to the reservation that he cannot sell the property twice over nor sell it under the second decree subject to the first. The right course to follow in such circumstances is to direct that the property be sold free of both charges whether in execution of the decree on the first mortgage or of the decree on the second mortgage and that the balance of the sale proceeds after payment of incidental expenses be applied in discharge of the dues on the first mortgage and the second mortgage one after the other the residue if any to stand to the credit of the holder of the equity of redemption. BELU v. ASIRBADI MANDAL 25 C W N 129

10. — After the hypothecated property was sold in execution of a decree for money the mortgagee instituted a suit for the realisation of his dues against the mortgagor as also the purchasers of the equity of redemption. The latter contested the claim on the ground that the mortgage bond was not a bona fide document and was not properly executed. Held that if an action to enforce a mortgage security is contested by the mortgagor and execution is admitted by or proved against him the onus lies upon him to prove that the recital as to the payment of consideration for the deed which he executed is untrue. KRISHNA KUMAR DE v. SREENATH RAOPANDITANATHA (HONDWILLI) 25 C W N 842

11. — Mortgage suit—Mortgagor's estate taken over by Court of Wards after preliminary decree—Decree absolute for sale paid against Court of Wards preventing the mortgagor—Plea of estate thereafter—Release not shown to have had retrospective operation—Refusal of Government to produce correspondence leading to release—Decree absolute if so and mortgagor. A preliminary decree was made in a suit for sale of mortgaged properties on 1st June 1910. On 21st July 1910 the Court of Wards declared the mortgagor a disqualified proprietor and assumed superintendence of his estate under United Provinces Act IV of 1910. On 21st February 1916 a decree absolute for sale was passed again by the Court of Wards representing the mortgagor on the application of the mortgagee. On 19th September 1917 the estate of the mortgagor was released from the superintendence of the Court of Wards and an order of the Local Government which was made under the direction of the Central Government for reasons of State. The correspondence which passed between the two Governments upon the matter was not produced and its production could not be compelled by Court. Held that since the Local Government acted within its powers in putting the Court of Wards in charge of the mort-gagor's estate and it could not be presumed until the contrary was shown that the order of release operated retrospectively. That the Court in India was therefore right in holding that the decree absolute bound the mortgagor. NARINDRA BHADUR SINGH v THE OUDH COMMERCIAL BANK (P C) 26 C W N 326

MORTGAGE SUIT—contd

MORTGAGED PROPERTY

See MORTGAGE

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE.]

sale of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 73 101

I L R 39 Mad 570

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Cal 913

MORTGAGEE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 44 Cal 425

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODES 1882 s 317 1908 s 66

I L R 35 Bom 342

See COMPANY I L R 47 Cal 901

See DECREE I L R 34 Bom 260

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879)

I L R 40 Bom 483

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH. I

ARTS 132 75 I L R 39 Mad 981

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Mad 548

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES PEST ACT (VII OF 1881)

I L R 37 All 444

See PUISNE MORTGAGEE

I L R 40 Mad 77

See RECEIVER I L R 47 Cal 418

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882)—

ss 60 AND 61 I L R 38 Mad 667

s 67 I L R 40 Mad 77

s 73 14 C W N 186

s 83 I L R 39 Mad 579

s 101 I L R 38 Bom 369

dispossession of—

See USUFRUCTUARY MORTGAGE.

I L R 38 Mad 903

in possession—

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 All 411

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.

I L R 44 Cal 573

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 60 AND 61

I L R 38 Mad 310

Position of when different persons become entitled to different positions of equity of redemption—

See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Cal 223

MORTGAGEE—contd

holding two mortgages—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 61 83 AND 99

I L R 38 Mad 927

if a creditor—

See MORTGAGE BY MORTGAGEE

I L R 38 Mad 1071

prior and subsequent—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 317

I L R 33 All 382

See MORTGAGE

I L R 33 All 388 370

purchase by—

See MORTGAGE

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE.

I L P 40 Cal 89

right of to redeem property—

See MORTGAGE I L R 41 Mad 403

right of to sue for sale—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 58 (a) AND (d) 67 68 (c)

I L R 41 Mad 259

right of, to an order for sale—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 67

I L R 34 Bom 482

right of to exonerate—

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Mad 968

right of to pay rent—

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Cal 448

suit for possession by—

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879)

I L R 35 Bom 204

title of—

See REGISTRATION

I L R 41 Cal 972

to remain in possession as long as fruit trees on the land—whether a clog or redemption—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s 60

I L R 45 Bom 117

whether a Hindu widow—

See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom 105

with possession right of, to recover

rent—

See MADRAS LOCAL BOARDS ACT (V OF 1854) s 73

I L R 39 Mad 269

1. Leasehold property—

Mortgagee is entitled to pay rent in preserve property from being lost. The mortgagee is entitled to preserve mortgaged property from being lost for non payment of rent. Where rent is thus paid after the preliminary decree and before the final decree the money paid for rent should in the final decree be added to the mortgage money found due in the preliminary decree. ALLAHABAD BANK Ltd v MATI LAL BARMAN (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 446

2. Right of mortgagee to and trespasser—Transfer of Property Act (IV OF 1882) s 63. The provisions of 63 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 are designed for the purpose of indemnifying a mortgagee against any disturbance of his enjoyment of the property. They are provisions of an enabling nature but they do not preclude a mortgagee who has been disturbed by a person claiming without title from suing the trespasser according to the general law and claiming as against him a declaration of title and recovery of possession. There is nothing in the law to debar a mortgagee from asserting his right against a trespasser alone without claiming the indemnity which s 69 empowers him to claim from the mortgagor. BECHU SAHU v ARJUN SAHU

MORTGAGEE—contd

3 Pat L J 162

3 ————— A prior mortgagee has a paramount claim outside the controversy of a suit on a subsequent mortgage unless his mortgage is impugned. RADHA KISHOR v KHURSHED HOSSEIN

25 C W N 417

MORTGAGOR

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 44 Cal 425

See MORTGAGE

————— dispossession of after mortgage—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 39 Mad 811

————— In possession duty of, to pay public charges—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 65 (c)

I L R 39 Mad 959

————— personal execution against—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 73 100

I L R 39 Mad 570

————— redemption suit by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XIV OF 1882) ss 366 371

I L R 40 Bom 248

MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 37 Mad 545

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 11 47

I L R 39 Bom 41

See LIMITATION I L R 46 Cal 111

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 19

I L R 45 Bom 934

See MORTGAGE

See TITLE I L R 37 Cal 239

————— Mortgagor retaining possession of mortgaged property and a rent note executed to mortgagee—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 47 D XXXIV s 14

I L R 45 Bom 174

————— Tenant under a mortgagee—Adverse possession against mortgagee—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 45 Bom 661

————— Subsequent mortgagee redeeming prior mortgagee—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 74 I L R 45 Bom 1112

I L R 45 Bom 1112

1 ————— Suit to redeem—Decree obtained by mortgagee for a claim independent of

MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE—contd

the mortgage—Mortgagee purchasing the equity of redemption in execution of the decree—Leave to bid not obtained—Irregularity of practice—Sale not a nullity In 1888 plaintiffs mortgaged the property in suit with possession to defendant No 1 In 1897 the defendant brought a suit against the mortgagor for a claim independent of the mortgage and in execution of the decree obtained therein the equity of redemption was sold and purchased benami by the defendant In 1913 the plaintiffs sued to redeem and recover the property The trial Court held that the purchase by the defendant mortgagee was valid until it was set aside and not having been set aside in execution proceedings was binding upon the plaintiffs The lower Appellate Court reversed the decree holding that the mortgagee purchased the property without leave to bid and therefore the mortgagor could disregard the sale and redeem On appeal to the High Court Held reversing the decree that the disregard of the statutory provision that leave to bid should be obtained by a judgment creditor was a mere irregularity of practice and was not a fundamental breach of trust which nullified the apparent effect of the Court sale GANESH NARAIN v GOPAL VISINU (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 357

2 ————— Redemption—Lasting improvements made by mortgagee—Right to recover costs of improvements—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 63 72 and 76 In a redemption suit a mortgagee is entitled to recover from his mortgagor the reasonable and proper costs incurred in making lasting improvements HENDERSON v ASHWOOD [1894] A C 150 approved PER VARTY J—In allowing costs of improvements the Court must naturally be on its guard against extravagant or unfounded claims It should inquire strictly into the bona fides and fairness of the claim in each particular case NIJALIN GAFFA v CHANBASAWA (1916)

I L R 43 Bom 111

3 ————— Mortgage with possession—Profits to be enjoyed in lieu of interest—Amount to be realized by sale of property—Suit to recover amount with interest by sale of property—Interest cannot be allowed—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) ss 53 67 and 68 The property in suit was mortgaged with possession to the plaintiff Under the terms of the mortgage the profits were to be enjoyed in lieu of interest and if after the stipulated period the principal amount was not paid it was to be recovered without interest by sale of the mortgaged property The plaintiff never got possession of the property After the stipulated period he sued to recover the principal amount and interest from the date of the mortgage to the date of suit by sale of the mortgaged property Held that the plaintiff was entitled only to recover the principal amount by sale of the mortgaged property as under the terms of the mortgage bond the property was a security only for the amount borrowed and not for interest There is nothing in ss 53 67, and 68 of the Transfer of Property Act which enables a mortgagee to make a claim to interest which is not given to him by the mortgage bond. MANICKCHAND MAGANCHAND v RANGAPPA KOTRAPPA (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 523

MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE—concl'd

4 ————— Discharge of debt—Oral arrangement—Mortgagee in possession as full owner for more than twelve years after arrangement for discharge of debt—Suit by mortgagor after twelve years to redeem—Bar—Adverse possession of mortgagee—Proof of nature of possession Where under an oral arrangement between the mortgagor and the usufructuary mortgagee the latter retained possession of a portion of the mortgaged property in full ownership in satisfaction of the mortgage debt and enjoyed it as full owner for more than twelve years after the arrangement on a suit being instituted by the mortgagor to redeem the property more than twelve years after the arrangement. Held that the mortgagee had acquired by adverse possession an absolute title to the property and that the mortgagor's right to redeem the property was barred by limitation. Usman Khan v Dazanna (1914) 1 I R 37 Vol 545 Coimbatore v Mulla 1 P A No 20 of 1915 (unreported) and Varada Pillai v Jeeravathammal (1910) 1 I R 43 Mad 244 (P C) followed. Ariya puthira v Muthulomaranam (1911) 1 I R 37 Mad 423 dissented from. Kandasami Pillai v Chinnappa (1911) 1 I R 44 Mad 253

MOSQUE

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PARDONMENT
1 I R 43 Cal 1085

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI
1 I R 38 Mad 491

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PELIGIOUS OFFICE

See SUMMARY SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT VII of 1863)
1 I R 43 Bom 583

Mosque property suit for—Jente of Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O I r 8—Failure to obtain permission before institution of the suit—Its effect—Objection for want of such permission is fatal to the suit. There is no doubt that the proper course is to obtain permission under O I r 8 before the suit is instituted but there is nothing in the rule to show that if it is not so done it cannot be granted afterwards. The mere fact that the leave of the Court was not obtained before the institution of the suit should not result in the dismissal of the suit. Permission under O I r 8 can be granted subsequent to the filing of the suit. The objection under s 30 of the old Civil Procedure Code which corresponds with O I r 8 of the present Code is not one affecting the jurisdiction of the Court. Pernale v Rodrigues 1 I R 21 Bom 784 Chennu Venon v Krishnan 1 I R 25 Vol 329 Srinivasa Chariar v Faghara Chariar 1 I R 23 Mad 28 Baidro Bharti v Dir Gur 1 I R 2 All 269 followed. Jan Ali v Pam Vath Kundul 1 I R 8 Cal 37 Lutfunnissa Bibi v Narayan Bibi 1 I R 11 Cal 33 referred to. Oriental Bank Corporation v Gobind Lal 1 I R 9 Cal 604 dissented from. Dhyanput Singh v Paresi Dass Singh 1 I R 21 Cal 180 distinguished. Ahmed Ali v Abdul Majid (1916) 1 I R 44 Cal 258

MOTHER

————— power of to alienate minor's property—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE
1 I R 45 Cal 878

MOTHER—concl'd

————— power of to refer dispute to arbitration—
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GLADIAN

1 I R 47 Cal 713

————— removal by—
See KIDNAPPING 1 I R 41 Cal 714

MOTOR VEHICLES

See CONTRACT FOR SALE
1 I R 45 Cal 481

See MOTOR VEHICLES ACT

See NEGLIGENCE 1 I R 38 Bom 552

————— in Madras—
See MADRAS MOTOR VEHICLES ACT 1907 ————— liability of owner of—

See LICENSEE 1 I R 38 Bom 552

————— Liability of owner for the acts of his driver—Bengal Motor and Cycle Act (III of 1903) s 3 and 4—Use of motor car with permission of the owner to convey his friends in his absence—Rules 20 The owner of a motor car who expressly or impliedly permits his car to be used or driven by his servant is if it is so used or driven as to contravene rule 20 of the rules framed under the Bengal Motor Car and Cycle Act (III of 1903) himself liable therefor under r 4 and s 4 of the Act though he was not in the car at the time and had given his servant general directions to observe the regulation speed unless the latter has used it improperly for his own purposes. Somer et v Wade (1914) 1 Q B 574 Somer et v Hart 12 Q B D 360 Collman v Mills 66 L J Q B 170 and Commissioner of Police v Cartman [1906] 1 Q B 645 referred to. Thornton v Emperor (1911) 1 I R 38 Cal 415

2 ————— Motor vehicles Act (VIII of 1914)—Rules framed thereunder by Governor in Council—rr 3 and 19—Liability of owner of taxi-cab for rash and negligent driving by his servant. The owner of a motor vehicle is liable under Part II s 3 of the rules framed by the Governor in Council under s 11 of the Indian Motor Vehicles Act (VIII of 1914) for breach of s 19 by his licensed driver. Where the driver of a taxi cab negligently drove the same into a drain causing injury to the passenger in the car. Held that the owner of the taxi cab was liable to prosecution and punishment under s 10 of the Act read with the aforesaid rr 3 and 19 for the act of his driver. Thornton v Emperor 1 I R 38 Cal 415 followed. Baidya Nath Bose v Emperor (1917) 1 I R 45 Cal 430

3 ————— Motor car if a carriage within the meaning of the by-law—Bye law if repealed by implication by a framed under s 11 sub s 2 (f) and (g) of the Indian Motor Vehicles Act. The petitioner was convicted under the law No 10 framed under cl (18) of s 59 of the Calcutta Municipal Act on the finding that a motor car belonging to him was left in a public street unattended. Held that carriage as defined in cl 3 of s 3 of the Calcutta Municipal Act means any wheeled vehicle with springs or other appliances acting as spring and a motor car is clearly such a conveyance and is therefore a carriage within the meaning of Bye law No 10. That there is no repugnance between the bye law in question and s 24 framed under s 11 sub sec 2 cl (1) and (i) of the Indian Motor Vehicles Act 1914

MOTOR VEHICLES—con d

and the former has not been repealed by implication by the latter. Held as to the contention that the Rule must be taken to have repealed the bye law because the punishment which may be inflicted for contravention of the two provisions are not identical.—That the principle recognised in Henderson v. Sterner 11 C.B. 618 (1873) and Attorney General v. Lord 9 M. & L. 8 (1841) namely that where the punishment or penalty is altered in degree but not in kind the later provision is considered as superseding the earlier one has no application because the offences are not identical. THE MANAGER INDIAN MOTOR TAXI CAB CO. LTD. v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA 25 C.W.N. 21

MOTOR VEHICLE ACT (VIII OF 1914)

Ss 3-19—

See MOTOR VEHICLES

I L R 45 Calc 430

— ss 8 and 11—Driving licence—Obligation on owner of license to carry it about with him. Held on a construction of s 8 of the Indian Motor Vehicle Act 1914 that the implication of the section is that the driver of a motor vehicle must carry his driving licence about with him so as to be able to produce it there and then when its production is demanded by a police officer. EMPEROR v. MADAN MOHAN NATH RAJNA

I L R 43 All 126

— s 11—

Held that there was no repugnancy between bye law 10 framed under s 559 (8) of the Calcutta Municipal Act r 24 under this section and the former has not been repealed by the latter. THE MANAGER INDIAN MOTOR TAXI CAB CO. LTD. v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA 25 C.W.N. 21

MOURASI MOKURARI KABULIYAT

— Stipulation in for payment of rent partly in cash and partly in kind with statement of the money value of the portion payable in kind and declaring the total rent as the amount made up by the two—Rent if to be taken and fixed in perpetuity at such amount. See Rent ASHUTOSH MUKHOPADHYA v. HARAN CHANDRA MUKHERJEE (1919) 23 C.W.N. 1021

— Mourasimokurari is creating a heritable and transferable tenancy at a fixed rate of rent.—Agreement by successors in interest to pay an enhanced rate of rent if destroys the character of the original tenancy or creates a new tenancy.—Votation of contract. Where a mourasimokurari has created a transferable permanent and heritable tenancy at a rate of rent fixed in perpetuity and the successors in interest of the tenant by an agreement consented to pay rent at an enhanced rate and a decree for rent was obtained by consent on this basis. Held that the circumstance that one of the terms of the lease was altered by agreement of parties namely that the rent originally fixed was increased did not destroy the tenancy. It cannot be said that there was a supersession of the original tenancy or that there was a novation of contract. The consent decree for rent at an enhanced rate did not give the tenant a fresh start in all respects nor did the alteration of rent necessarily destroy the transferable character of the tenancy. Smil.—Though the enhancement was made by consent of the parties the enhancement should be deemed to have been made subject to the original agreement if the rent was not enhanceable. JINATH GHOSH v. SURESH NATH DAS 28 W.N. 657

MOURASI MOKURARI KABULIYAT—contd

MOVEABLE PROPERTYSee ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT

I L R 46 Calc 717

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 48 Calc 100

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Mad 16

— attachment of—

See JURISDICTION I L R 46 Calc 520See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 47 Calc 741

— hypothecation of—

See ADMINISTRATION

I L R 45 Calc 653

See MORTGAGE (MOVEABLE)

I L R 1 Lah 422

— suit to recover—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (XV OF 1882) s 19 CL (5)

I L R 37 Mad 219

— transfer of—

See DECREE ASSIGNMENT OF

I L R 37 Mad 227

— wrongful seizure of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH.

I ARTS 29 (2) AND 120

I L R 38 Mad 972

MUAFISee AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)

s 150 I L R 40 All 658

s 154 158 I L R 40 All 60

s 154 177 I L R 41 All 318

s 158 I L R 39 All 689

s 153 167 I L R 41 All 37

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 38 All 260MUAFIDAR

— mortgage by—

See N.W.P. AND OTHER LAND REVENUE

ACT (XIX OF 1873) ss 146 148 167

I L R 35 All 190

MUKHTEARSee LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT 1879

s 12 14 I L R 40 All 1073

s 13 I L R 42 All 28

s 14 I L R 41 All 269

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 s 5 Sch 1

Art 44 I L R 38 Bom 94

See LEADER

1 — Application for reinstatement after a lapse of years.—Dismissal from the roll on conviction of an offence implying moral turpitude.—Deliberate omission to disclose the facts of enhancement of sentence and of an order directing his pronouncement for making a false affidavit.—Power of the High Court to reinstate a legal practitioner after disbarment.—Grounds of reinstatement.—The High Court has power when a legal practitioner has been dismissed for misconduct of any description in the widest sense of the term to re-admit him after a lapse of time if he satisfies the Court that he has in the interval conducted himself honourably and that no objection remains as to his character and capacity King v Greenwood I W Black 222 Anonymous Case 17 Beav 475. In re Smith unreported cited in 17 Beav 477. In re Robins 34 L J Q B 121. In re Pyke I New Pr Ct Ga 330. In re Pyke 6 B & S 703 40 L J Q B 121. In re Pyke 34 L J Q B 230 6 B & S 707. In re Brandreth 60 L J Q B 501. In re Barber 19 Beav 378 followed Ex parte Frost I Chitty 558 note. In re Handan, Dowl Pr Ct 970. In re Garbell 18 O B 403. In re Poole L R 4 O P 350. In re Abinash Chandra Moitra I L R 37 Cal 173. In re Chanda Singh 11 O L J 438 14 O W N 521 and Smith v Justices of Sierra Leone 7 Moo P C 174 referred to. In re Lamb 23 Q B D 477 distinguished. Where a mukhtar was struck off the roll on conviction of kidnapping a minor girl under s 303 of the Penal Code under circumstances of an aggravated character implying moral turpitude and applied after seven years for resp catively but deliberately omitted to disclose the facts that the High Court had enhanced his sentence and had also directed his prosecution under s 193 of the Penal Code for making a false affidavit in the course of a proceeding in revision the application for reinstatement was rejected. In re ABIRUDDIN AHMED (1910)

MUKHTAR—contd

I L R 38 Cal 309
15 O W N 357

2 ————— Authority to practise in the Courts of Magistrates and Sessions Judges—Limitation of authority—Necessity of permission of the Court in each particular case—Grounds of permission—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 4 (r) 340—Practice Under s 4 (r) and 340 of the Criminal Procedure Code a mukhtar is subject to the permission of the Court in each particular case authorised to practise both before Magistrates and Sessions Judges. There is no general rule that mukhtars should be allowed to appear in every case in the Courts of Magistrates and that they should not be permitted to appear in any case in the Courts of Session. The Magistrate and the Judge must decide in each case whether he will permit a mukhtar to appear. Though it is not desirable that mukhtars should be permitted to appear in Sessions Courts where their appearance is unnecessary or where there is no reason for their appearance the question is one which must be decided independently in each case and no general rule can be laid down. It depends largely on whether the accused is in a position to employ a vakil or pleader and whether he elects to do so. But the defence of an accused should not be shut out merely by the fact that he is represented by a mukhtar. ISHAN CHANDRA BHUT v PATENOR (1911) I L R 38 Cal 486

3 ————— It is incumbent on a mukhtar to take his instructions direct from his client. If therefore he takes them from an agent he must ascertain that the agent is duly empowered. A mukhtar is liable to be punished when he has acted in violation of his duty in circumstances which show gross negligence on his part even though he may not be guilty of fraud. In re LEAKUT HUSSAIN MUKHTAR 2 Pat L J 115

MUKTESAR

> c CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) s 92 I L R 42 Bom 742

MULGENI LEASE

Death of mulgeni tenant without heirs—No escheat of tenant's rights to Government—Lapse of tenant's rights to lessor. The rights of a mulgenidar do not escheat to Government on the death of the last owner dying with out heirs but revert to mulgar from whom the mulgeni was acquired. A mulgeni tenure differs in its incidents from an ordinary permanent lease. Sonet Koor v Himmat Bahadur I L R 1 Cal 391 distinguished. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v SHITARAMAPPA (1918)

I L R 42 Mad 327

Covenant against alienation—Breach—Assignment—Validity of. In the case of mulgeni leases in Kanara executed prior to the Transfer of Property Act an assignment of the lease by the lessee in breach of his covenant not to assign is perfectly valid. Parameshri v Vitappa Shanbaga (1903) I L R 26 Mad 157 explained. Tamaya v Timapa Ganpaya (1833) I L R 7 Bom 261. Basarat Ali Khan v Manavalla (1909) I L R 36 Cal 745 and Promode Ranjan Ghose v Aswini Kumar Nag (1914) 18 G W N 1133 followed. Per SESHAGIRI AYYAR J—The same principle would apply even in the case of a mulgeni lease executed subsequent to the Transfer of Property Act. Udipi SESHAGIRI v SESHAGIRI (1920) I L R 43 Mad 503

MULGENI TENURE

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 Mad 231

MULTIFARIOUSNESS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O I & 3 I L R 38 All 406

MULTIFARIOUS DOCUMENT

See STAMP DUTY I L R 37 Cal 629

MUNICIPAL ACTS

See UNDER THE VARIOUS PROVINCES

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS AT ADEN

See ADEN SETTLEMENT REGULATION VII (1900) s 13 I L R 40 Bom 446

MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENT

Held that in assessing tax upon persons under cl (c) of s 8 of the Bengal Municipal Act both the circumstances and the property referred to in the section must be within the Municipality in question. DEU NARAYAN DUTT v CHAIRMAN OF THE LARDUPUR MUNICIPALITY I L R 39 Cal 141

MUNICIPAL BOARD

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 578 I L R 36 All 513

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) SCH II ARTS 2 61 62 and 120

I L R 30 All 491
See N W P AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES ACT (XV of 1883) s 10

I L R 35 All 308
See REGULATION (V of 1896) s 83 AND 141 I L R 37 All 220

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I of 1900) s 147

I L R 32 All 620
I L R 36 All 183

MUNICIPAL BOARD—contd.

- ss 57 1a2 I L R 35 All 329
 s 128 (4) (i) I L R 35 All 24
 s 14 15 I L R 35 All 227
 See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT (U P Act II of 1916) s 40
 I L R 33 All 644
 ss 261 AND 263 I L R 42 All 435
 ss 298 AND 318 I L R 42 All 234

— powers of—

- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT (I of 1903) s 83
 I L R 35 All 375

— suit against—

- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT (II of 1916) s 326 (4)
 I L R 41 All 162

— suit against member of—

- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT 1900 s 49
 I L R 33 All 540

MUNICIPAL BYE-LAWS

- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II of 1916) ss 209 210
 I L R 39 All 386

— must be in accordance with the Act—

- See PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT 1911
 I L R 2 Lah 239

MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER

- See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM III of 1883) s 297
 I L R 36 Bom 403
 s 303 I L R 34 Bom 593
 s 377 I L R 34 Bom 346
 s 390 I L R 34 Bom 344

— powers of—

- See LAND ACQUISITION
 I L R 44 Bom 797

MUNICIPAL CONTRACTOR

- See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT 1910 s 92
 I L R 33 All 614

MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONChairman—General

Committee—Building plans refusal of sanction of—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 375 377—Action for mandamus or damages whether maintainable—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45 Where plans for building, have been rejected by the Chairman and the General Committee of the Calcutta Municipal Corporation no suit is maintainable to have the plans approved or for damages. If the Chairman and General Committee have acted honestly and within their authority their decision cannot be reviewed by any Court. If the plans have been rejected malafide the only remedy is by an application under s 45 of the Specific Relief Act for an order to compel the Chairman and the General Committee to hear the matter in the manner provided by law. D. S. v. Bromley Corpora. on (1905) 1 K. B. 179 and Smith v. Chertsey Rural Council (1897) 1 Q. B. 678 followed. London and North Western Railway v. Westminster Corpora. on (1904) 1 Ch. 759 referred to. Prasad Chunder De v. Corporation of Calcutta (1913)

I L R 40 Calc 836

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

adverse possession against—Nature of Adverse possession—Right to a pial—Pial over a drain—Right of Municipality to street drains etc—Nature of the right—Right of Government—Adverse possession against Government—Length of possession—Pial an encroachment or obstruction to drain street etc—Right of municipality to remove encroachment even when right to site of pial barred—No injunction against Municipal Council—Against right to remove obstruction—Th. Madras District Municipalities Act (II of 1831)—Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Art 146 A—Amending Act (VI of 1900)—Declaration. A person can acquire a title to the site of a pial over a drain in a street vested in a municipality by adverse possession against the municipality for the prescriptive period which was 12 years before the art 146 A of the Indian Limitation Act (XV of 1877) was passed in 1900 under Act VI of 1900. The right of a Municipal Council to the street and the drains is not a mere right of easement but is a special right of property in the site previously unknown to law but created by statute. Although it is not open to the municipality to give up the rights of the public by any act of their own that would not affect the capacity of a person in adverse possession to acquire rights which would affect the public. The question whether possession has been adverse or not does depend upon the needs or requirements of the owner but on the character of the occupation of the person in possession. Ejective or unimportant act of possession would not be sufficiently effective to make the possession adverse. Even if the Municipal Council had no right to the possession of the space above the drain but only a right of user for the discharge of its functions with respect to the drains still the plaintiff as the person in possession of the pial would have a right to it against all but the true owner which was the Government in this case but as against the Government the plaintiff had not established a title as he had not been in adverse possession for sixty years. Although the plaintiff had acquired a title to the site of the pial by adverse possession as against the Municipal Council the right of the latter to the drain under the pial had not been affected and the Council was entitled to remove the pial as an encroachment or obstruction under s 168 of the Madras District Municipalities Act. The prayer of the plaintiff for an injunction against the Municipal Council could not therefore be granted nor could the prayer for declaration of title be granted as it was only incidental to the substantial relief asked for namely an injunction which was refused. Suncaram Ayyar v. The Municipal Council of Madura, 1 L. R. 25 Mad 635 followed. Rolls v. Ventry of St George the Martyr Southwark 14 Ch. D. 785 at pp 735 and 796. Municipal Council of Sydney v. Young (1898) 4 G. 457 and Midland Railway v. Wright (1901) 1 Ch. 735 referred to. Rasaweswara Swami v. The Bellary Municipal Council (1911.) 1 L. R. 38 Mad. 6

MUNICIPAL COUNCILLORS— election of—

- See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT
 (III of 1883 AS AMENDED BY BOMBAY ACT V of 1903) ss 33 AND 34
 I L R 34 Bom. 659

MUNICIPAL COURTS

jurisdiction of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 86 I L R 38 Mad 635

MUNICIPAL ELECTION

See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT 1888

ss 33 34 I L R 34 Bom 659

See MUNICIPALITY I L R 24 All 649

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900) s 187

I L R 35 All 450

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II OF 1916) ss 19 to 26

I L R 41 All 646

invalidity of—

See RIGHT OF SUIT

I L R 36 Mad 120

rules for regulation of—

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (I OF 1900) s 187

I L R 35 All 578

1 ——— Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1884) ss 6 15 103 and 105—Voter qualification of—Illegal levy of Income tax and payment of Municipal rate effect of—Owner meaning of—Property acquired by father with contribution from son A person whose income is below the taxable minimum but who submits to the levy of the tax does not thereby acquire the statutory qualification contemplated by s 15 of the Bengal Municipal Act Similarly a person who is not legally liable to pay Municipal rate but pays it does not become entitled to become a voter by the mere fact of such payment unless it is proved to have been made by him as a person legally liable to satisfy the Municipal demand. An owner for the purposes of the Municipal Act includes not only an owner in the actual occupation of the holding but also an owner entitled to receive rent from the occupier or otherwise. It also includes a manager or agent or a trustee for any such person. Where a house was purchased in the name of the father and the major portion of the consideration money was paid by the son out of joint funds belonging to himself and his brothers and further the expenditure on subsequent extensive alterations and additions were similarly defrayed by the son out of the said funds and the son was occupying the house while the father was living abroad. Held that the son having a substantial interest in the property should be treated as owner in the ordinary acceptance of that term and he being the manager or agent of the father could also be treated as owner and he was therefore liable under s 103 of the Municipal Act to pay the rates assessed on the holding. Held further that where the son being in possession of the house paid the municipal demands with his own money it could not be said that such a payment was made by a person neither liable nor competent to make it under the provisions of the law he being an occupier was such liable to pay the rates under s 103 of the Bengal Municipal Act. NARENDRA NATH SINHA v. NAGENDRA NATH BISWAS (1911) I L R 38 Cal 501

■ ——— Claims applications and objections of voters notice of—List of voters Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) Sch

MUNICIPAL ELECTION—contd

IV rr 8 and 9—Extension of time by Chairman power of for giving such notice—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 15 sub s (c)—Mandamus Under rr 8 and 9 of Sch IV of the Calcutta Municipal Act 1899 written notice of all claims objections and applications referred to therein must be given to the Chairman on or before the 1st January immediately preceding each general election and the Chairman has no power to extend the time beyond such date. Such notices must be lodged with the Chairman of the Election Department and a lodging of such notices with the Secretary is not a proper lodging as required by the terms of the Act even though the Secretary resides in the same building as the Corporation has its office unless it can be shown that the Chairman had authorised the private residence of the Secretary to be used as a place where such notices could be lodged. The omission of a statutory officer to perform his public duties as to settlement of the election roll in the manner provided by the Act is a forbearance to do some thing that is not consonant to right and justice within the meaning of s 45 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 and therefore if the Chairman has not performed his statutory duties the Court will issue an order in the form of a mandamus. In the matter of R. C. SENG (1912)

I L R 39 Cal 598

3 ——— Representation of ■ questions for voting power—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 37 38 and Sch IV rr 9 and 10—Any one individual person's meaning of—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45—Practice—Appeal right of In r 9 of Sch IV of the Calcutta Municipal Act of 1899 the expression any one individual person is controlled by the expression association of individuals immediately preceding and the selection for the representation of the several associations indicated in the rule is limited to the individuals composing the associations. A rule was obtained by a candidate for election as Commissioner of a certain ward calling upon the Chairman of the Corporation of Calcutta to show cause why he should not prepare and publish the revised list of voters for the ward under r 10 of Sch IV of the Calcutta Municipal Act by rejecting applications filed by a second candidate to have his name entered in the list as the representative of certain associations and a copy of the rules was served on the second candidate who together with the Chairman appealed and heard case. The Plea was made absolute. NATH C SENG I L R 39 Cal 754

4 ——— Election Roll—Qualifications of voters—Sitting Commissioner as candidate for election—Objections to voter's claims to be on Election Roll—Chairman's decision refusing to expunge names of voters from the Roll—Jurisdiction of the High Court to interfere—Occupier—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 45—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 3 (30) 47 and Sch IV rr 3 & (7). The sitting Commissioner for one of the wards in the Calcutta Municipality who was one of the candidates for election as a Commissioner for that same ward at the forthcoming Municipal election and who was also a voter on the list of voters in respect of another ward objected that the names of various persons should not be entered and retained on the Municipal Election Roll for the ward for which he was a candidate. The Chairman of the Corporation having heard the objections refused to expunge those names from the Election Roll. Held that the High Court had jurisdiction under s. 4 of the Specific Relief Act to interfere in this matter. In re Vishu C. Sen 1 L. P. 39 Cal. 754 and In re Pomes Chandra Sen 16 C. N. 47 followed. Held also that to make a person who occupied certain premises and who was entitled to the owner's vote in respect thereof entitled to a vote as occupied in respect of the same premises he must either pay rent to the owner or be liable to pay rent. Held also that voters must give written notice of their claims whether they sign the notice or not to the Chairman of the Corporation under the provisions of r. 8 (i) of Sch. IV of the Calcutta Municipal Act prior to 1st January immediately preceding each general election. It was upon the persons objecting to the votes to prove that the voters had not complied with the provisions of the Act or the rules. Held also that the only persons to whom r. 3 of Sch. IV of the Calcutta Municipal Act applied were persons who were actually liable for the rates in respect of the six months specified therein. Held also that persons occupying flats or portions of houses used as flats which were not separately assessed as such in the records of the Corporation were not associations of individuals within the meaning of s. 37 of Calcutta Municipal Act. Held also that the word occupier in s. 37 (2) (i) (c) and in s. 37 (2) (i) (a) of the Calcutta Municipal Act meant an occupier in the ordinary sense and not as defined in s. 3 (39) of that Act and the only person who fell within s. 37 (2) (i) (c) was a person who occupied a building separately numbered and valued for assessment. In re SUBENDRA CHANDRA GHOSH (1918) 1 L. R. 45 Cal. 9-0 5 ————— Calcutta Municipal Act s. 36 Sch. 5 = 2—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) ss. 45-50—Public officer failure of to exercise a discretion—Nomination paper—Description of the candidate—Rai Bahadur of sufficient description—Delay in presenting the petition effect of—Infructuous order whether ought to be passed. The appellant sent in his nomination paper on the 4th March 1918 in which he was described as Rai Bahadur and it was also stated that he was Voter No. 679. On the 10th March a list of nominated candidates was published. On the 18th March judgment was delivered by the Appeal Court in the election case of Narendra Nath Mitter. On the afternoon of the same day the applicant (respondent in this case) applied to the Chairman of the Corporation to reject the nomination paper of the appellant on the ground that the nomination paper did not contain the description of the appellant. The Chairman declined to entertain the application on the ground that it was too late. On the morning of the 19th March a petition was presented by the applicant before Chaudhuri J. and a rule was issued on the appellant returnable at 4 P.M. on the same day to show cause why his name should not be expunged from the list of nominated candidates and the rule was made absolute. In pursuance of this the appellant's name was taken out of the list. On the 20th which was the day fixed for election the respondent being the only nominated candidate was elected commissioner. This appeal was filed on the 20th March and came on for hearing on the

MUNICIPAL ELECTION—contd

MUNICIPAL ELECTION—contd

21st after the election had taken place. Held that an order overruling the decision of Chaudhuri J. would be infructuous for the appellant's name had been expunged from the list of nominated candidates the election had taken without the inclusion of the appellant's name in the list of candidates and the Appeal Court had in this appeal no power to set that right and so the appeal must be dismissed. The Court's order ought to have been limited to a direction to the Chairman of the Corporation to exercise his jurisdiction and to hear and determine the application which had been made to him and which he had refused to entertain on the ground that it was too late. The Court will in all cases regard its exercise of the extraordinary jurisdiction as discretionary and subject to considerations of the importance of the particular case or of the principle involved in it of delay on the part of the applicant and of his merits with respect to the case in which the interference of the Court is sought. Should other special causes appear for or against the Court's intervention due weight is to be given to them regard being always had to the principles already enumerated. MANT LAL NAHAR v. MOWDAD PAHANAN (1918)

W. N. 951

6 ————— Nomination paper—Description of candidate—Approvers—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng. III of 1899) Sch. V r. 2 (a) (d)—Practice—Affidavits—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O. XXI r. 27—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s. 45. A candidate for election as Municipal Commissioner sent to the Chairman by way of his nomination paper three nomination forms gummed together under cover of and attached to a letter by a clip. The letter contained a description of the candidate. The first form contained the name of the candidate and his number on the electoral roll as also the names of his proposer, his seconder and eighteen approvers one of whom was the seconder and another the name of a firm. The second and third forms contained some names of approvers but did not contain the names of the candidates his proposer or seconder. Held that the four documents could not be taken together as one nomination paper and that the nomination was invalid. A nomination paper should be self-contained and complete. The first form did not contain a description of the candidate and reference could not be made to the covering letter for the purpose. Out of the list of approvers on the first form the names of the firm and of the person who was also the seconder should be excluded and the deficiency could not be made up by reference to the second and third forms which were not complete by themselves owing to the absence therein of the names of the candidate his proposer and seconder. Certain affidavits prepared for but not used at the hearing before the Court of first instance on objection held to be inadmissible on appeal. NARENDRA NATH MITTER v. RADHA CHARAN LAL (1918) 1 L. R. 48 Cal. 119

7 ————— Preparation of list of voters—Election Poll finally of—Nomination paper—Sitting Commissioner as candidate for election—Objection to rival candidate's nomination—Qualifications of voters—Application to declare nomination paper inoperative—Power of High Court to interfere—Calcutta

MUNICIPAL ELECTION—contd

Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 56 57 (2) (c) 47 54 Sch IV I Persons objecting to the final publication of the Election Roll should take steps to prevent the publication before the Election Roll is finally published according to the rules. In an application to have it declared that the nomination paper of a rival candidate for election as Commissioner be rejected and declared inoperative on the ground that some of the approvers to the nomination were not entitled to vote. Held that the Court could not alter the Election Roll at that stage. The Queen v Tuquell L R 3 Q B 701 relied upon. Ando Lal Bose v The Corporation for the Town of Calcutta I L R 11 Cal 275 and Chairman of Giridih Municipality v Suresh Chandra Maumdar 12 C W N 709 referred to. AMULYADHAN ADDY In the matter of (1918)

I L P 46 Calc 132

8 ————— Infringement of Rules effect of—Onus of proof—Estoppel—Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) ss 10 69 The infringement of a rule of election framed by the Local Government under ss 15 and 69 of the Bengal Municipal Act of 1884 does not necessarily invalidate the election unless the rule is mandatory in character. P 17 of the election rules framed by Local Government under ss 15 and 69 of the Bengal Municipal Act of 1884 for the Dacca Municipality is not mandatory. The party who maintains the validity of an election notwithstanding the infringement of the rule must satisfy the Court that the result of the election was not affected by the error or irregularity. The Court will uphold an election if it is satisfied that the result has not been affected by infringement which actually took place. But an election will be avoided even if the tribunal be satisfied that there is reasonable ground to believe that a majority of electors may have been prevented from electing the candidate they preferred. Decisions in England and the United States of America on election are not binding upon Indian Courts. English and American decisions referred to as illustrative. R S Ramanujulu v Parthasarathy Aiyengar (1915) M W N 290 17 M L 2 331 approved. Estoppel cannot be pleaded where statutory requirements are disobeyed with full knowledge by the officers entrusted with the discharge of public duties. SIAM CHAND BASAK v CHAIRMAN DACCA MUNICIPALITY (1919)

I L N 47 Calc 524

9 ————— Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) s 15—R 6 and 11 framed by Local Government of ultra vires—Civil Courts jurisdiction of The provisions of s 15 of the Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) authorise the Local Government to frame rules in all matters necessary to the proper conduct of elections. P 6 and 11 made by the Government are intra vires. The Government by rule may require the preparation of a register of voters and entry in the register in the case of persons duly qualified to vote under s 15 of the Act or the rules framed thereunder is to be regarded not so much as in it is a qualification but as the evidence upon which the polling officer must proceed and the result is conclusive for this purpose. I 6 read with rr 6 7 9 and 10 in effect allows 15 day's notice by residents of the published register and 30 days for the adjudication on claims and objections in the first instance by the Chairman and on appeal by the Magistrate and within the said 30 days and not less than 15 days before the election the register as amended by the revising authorities must be republished. The periods allowed by r 6 for inspection and for adjudication on claims and objections appear to be reasonable and should be sufficient in the generality of cases. The interval of 15 days between the republication and election is intended to give electors a further opportunity for the rectification of possibly accidental errors. P 11 read with r 9 has the effect of closing the register 15 days before the date of election. The proviso to r 11 gives qualified electors a further opportunity of substantiating their claims. There is no basis for the contention that the proviso to r 11 applies only to the rectification of the register for the purpose of by election. In view of the finding that the Chairman acted in contravention of the rules the provisions of s 15 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) and of the 2nd proviso to 10 of the Act under consideration on the Civil Courts have jurisdiction to entertain this suit. ATUL HUGL THE CHAIRMAN MANICKTALA MUNICIPALITY (1920)

MUNICIPAL ELECTION—contd

I L P 48 Calc 378

MUNICIPAL LAW

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (BOM III OF 1901) s 42

I L P 40 Bom 166

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 115 I L P 40 Bom 569

1 ————— Removal of structures—Compensation—Declaration—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 42—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 341 617 Upon the Corporation of Calcutta giving notice under the Calcutta Municipal Act 1899 s 341 to the owner of a building requiring him to remove a fixture attached thereto so as to project over encroachment or obstruct any public street or land the payment of compensation provided for in the case of a fixture erected before June 1st 1863 is not a condition precedent to its removal or its demolition under s 40 sub s (3) the compensation is assessable by the Court of Small Causes under s 617 and not in a suit. If however the Corporation declines to admit the owner's right to compensation a Subordinate Judge has a discretionary power under the Specific Relief Act 1877 s 42 to make a declaration that the fixture was erected before June 1st 1863 and that the owner was entitled to compensation. JOSEPH v CALCUTTA CORPORATION

L P 43 I A 243

2 ————— Foads which rest in the Municipality—Public when they have a right to go over private pathway—Difference between roads vested in the Municipality and others as regards Municipality's rights—Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1881) ss 30 31 Under s 30 of the Bengal Municipal Act as amended by recent legislation private pathways do not rest in the Municipality. Chairman of the Howrah Municipality v Akhetra Krishna Bitter I L P 33 Calc 1990 followed. Asim d Landhu Das Gupta v

MUNICIPAL LAW—contd

Kishori Lal Goswami (1911) S A Nos 458 and 838 of 1909 (unrep.) and Kamal Kamini Debi v Chairman Housrah Municipality (1909) S 1 No 2134 of 1907 (unrep.) derived from The Municipality may however have control over such a pathway if the public have a right to go over it as provided for in s 31 of the Bengal Municipal Act. The difference between roads vested in the Municipality and other roads is that in the former case the Municipality is responsible for lighting watering watering and clearing the roads and in the other case the Municipality has only the power of control to prevent the road from becoming a nuisance or the rights of the public from being interfered with. CHAIRMAN HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY v HARIDAS DATTA (1911) I L R 43 Cal 10

MUNICIPAL OFFENCE

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II of 1916) s 307
I L R 40 All 569

— prosecution for—

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT (II of 1916) ss 180 186
I L P 39 All 482

MUNICIPAL OFFICER

— dismissal of—

See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (Bom III of 1901) ss 2 46 and 16,
I L R 39 Bom 600

MUNICIPAL RULES

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (I of 1904) s 23
I L P 34 All 392

MUNICIPAL TAXES

See MORTGAGE I L P 38 Mad 18

MUNICIPALITY

See BOMBAY BEGAL CALCUTTA AND MADRAS MUNICIPAL ACTS

See MUNICIPAL BOARD

See MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898) s 195
I L R 37 Bom 265

See PUBLIC DRAIN

I L R 44 Cal 689

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX of 1890 AS AMENDED BY ACT IX of 1896) s 7
I L R 41 Bom 291

— adverse possession against—

See MADRAS DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES ACT (IX of 1884) s 163
I L P 38 Mad 456

— sale by—

See RIGHT OF SUIT
I L P 36 Mad 373

Election—Fraud—

Petition against elected member on ground of per-

MUNICIPALITY—contd

sonation of voters—Limitation—Fresh instances of personation allowed to be pleaded after expiry of time for filing petition. An elector on the roll of a municipality filed a petition under the rules framed in that behalf by the Local Government against a successful candidate in a municipal election alleging various instances of personation of voters for which the opposite party was stated to be legally responsible. The petition was filed within the time limited by law. Held that it was competent to the Court in which such petition was presented to allow the petition to be amended by the addition of fresh instances of personation. NAWAB KHAN v MUHAMMAD LAMIN (1912) I L R 34 All 649

— Assessment principle of—— Circumstances meaning of—Onus of proving value of circumstances and property—Mergal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) ss 85 116 — Evidence Act (I of 187) s 106. The word circumstances in s 85 of the Bengal Municipal Act is equivalent to means. Assessment according to that section must be made according to the means and property within the municipality. The burden of proving the value of the circumstances and property within the municipality is on the municipality. Chairman of the Giridih Municipality v Sri Chandra Meemdar I L R 35 Cal 859 referred to. DEB NARAYAN DUTT v CHAIRMAN BARUPORE MUNICIPALITY (1913) I L R 41 Cal 168

— Roads which rest in—Under 30 of the Bengal Municipal Act private footpaths do not rest in the Municipality. CHAIRMAN HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY v HARIDAS DATTA
I L R 43 Cal 130

— Parties—Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) ss 6 (3) 103—Holding splitting of—Valuation—Assessment

Where in a suit the claim is directed against the Municipality as such and no damages are claimed against the chairman and vice chairman and other officers of the Municipality for any wrong done by them personally the only proper defendant in the suit is the chairman of the Municipality in whose name only the Municipality can properly be sued and the addition of the vice chairman and other officers of the Municipality as parties defendants to the suit is not in order. The splitting of a holding held under one title and surrounded by one set of boundaries into two separate holdings and separate valuation and assessment thereof is not justified under the Bengal Municipal Act. Where after the general quinquennial assessment of such a holding lands included in the premises became for the first time liable to the imposition of rates and taxes. Held that the Municipality could not rely on the valuation and assessment of the holding under s 103 of the Bengal Municipal Act. Held further that in the circumstances of the case the plaintiff was liable to taxation in respect of the portion of the premises which was found by the Civil Court to fall within the municipal limits and that the fact that subsequently it retro the remaining portion of the premises became liable to taxation by reason of the extension of the municipal limits made no difference as regards the liability of the plaintiff. TARAPADA MAJUMDAR v SATISH CHANDRA SHAHA (1919) I L P 46 Cal 784

MUNICIPALITY—contd

Rules framed by Local Government under s 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act of ultra vires—Water connection of municipality can cut off for non payment of costs of water meter—Bengal Municipal Act (Beng III of 1884) ss 290 291 292 293 295 297 Rr 4 9 and 24 (e) framed by the Local Government for the Chittagong Municipality under s 290 of the Bengal Municipal Act 1884 are intra vires and do not conflict with ss 290 and 297 of the same Act. The Municipality is therefore entitled to compel the occupier or owner of a house to pay for cost of water meter to measure the amount of water consumed in the house or to cut off water supply for non payment of the same. NAGENDRA LAL DAS v THE CHAIRMAN CHITTAGONG MUNICIPALITY (1919) I L R 47 Cal 426

MUNIM

See PAKKI ADAT BY IFM.
I L R 39 Bom 1

MUNICIPAL

See PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURTS Act (IX of 1887) s 35
I L R 37 All 450
I L R 39 All 357

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 39 Cal 774

Jurisdiction of—

See ADOPTION I L R 37 Cal 860
See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 47 Cal 1100

sale by—

See RATHABEE DISTRIBUTION
I L R 46 Cal 64

MUSLIMAN WAKF VALIDATING ACT (VI OF 1913)

See MAHAMMADAN LAW (WAKF)
I L R 40 Mad 116
I L R 41 All 1
See WAKF I L R 43 Cal 158

s 3—

See WAKF VALIDITY OF
I L R 43 Cal 158

Construction of Statute—wh ther effect retrospective—Wakf—Mahomedan Law The Mussalman Wakf Validation Act 1913 has no retrospective effect and consequently the old law applies to wakfs created before the passing of that Act. AMIRBI v ALIZADIRI (1914)
I L R 39 Bom 563

Preamble and s 3 4—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF
I L R 41 All 1

MURDER

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT
I L R 41 Cal 1072

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 37 302 304
I L R 35 All 506 560

ss 299 301 I L R 39 All 161

ss 300 305 I L R 35 All 329

MURDER—contd

s 300 OL (3) I L P 41 Bom 27
s 302 I L R 40 All 360

Committed during a dacoity—

See PENAL CODE ss 390 396
I L R 2 Lah 472

Violent and determined attack by a number of persons regardless of the consequences on another causing other injuries and severe ruptures of a healthy spleen—Intent to cause death or such bodily injury as the offender knows to be likely to cause death—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 300 (1) (2) and 302 A body of six persons attacked another with cattle goods in a violent and determined manner inflicting sixteen wounds on his body and causing several and severe ruptures of his spleen and so caused his death. The person attacked was a strongly built man of 35 years of age and his spleen was in a healthy state—Held that such acts committed by several persons on one in such a manner apparently regardless of the consequences and with such results warranted the interference that the acts were done by those persons with the intention either of causing the death of the person attacked or such injuries as the offenders knew to be likely to cause his death and that the offence amounted to murder. ELEM MOLLA v EMPEROR (1907)
I L R 37 Cal 315

Information of to police —Disposal by Magistrate without examination of complainant or witnesses An information of murder was lodged with the police and the Sub Divisional Magistrate before whom the police report was placed on a perusal of the police papers but without any examination of the complainant or any of his witnesses refused process on the ground that the case was one in which no jury would convict. Held that it was the duty of the Magistrate to examine the complainant and the witnesses he wished to produce and the order made was liable to be set aside as improper. FAZLAR RAHAMAN v ABDAR RAHMAN (1918)

23 C W N 392

Circumstantial evidence

—No ground for imposing lesser sentence If the Court is satisfied beyond reasonable doubt that the accused is guilty of murder and the circumstances require the imposition of the death penalty the fact that the conviction is based on circumstantial evidence is not a reason for passing the lesser sentence allowed by law. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v PARAMANDI (1921)
I L R 44 Mad 443

MUSCOORAT AND NANKAR RIGHT

See NAVIGABLE RIVER
I L R 46 Cal 390

MUSHAA

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT
I L R 38 Cal 518
15 C W N 328

MUTALIK DESAI VATAN

See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT 1874 s 15 I L R 44 Bom 237

MUTATION OF NAMES

See ARBITRATION I L R 33 All 389

MUTATION PROCEEDINGS

See FALSE EVIDENCE

MUTAWALLI

I L R 33 Cal 368

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

s 92 I L R 37 All 86

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MUTAWALLI

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

See WAKF

appointment of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 48 Calc 13

I L R 47 Calc 866

appointment of a minor as—

See ELECTION I L R 40 Mad 941 lease by—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 47 Calc 592

suit by for possession—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 47 Calc 866

mortgage executed by—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 3 Calc 179

suit for the office of—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 37 Calc 263

MUTH

nature object and custom of—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 43 Calc 707

MUTT

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

See MUTH

appointment of successor—

See ISSUE 25 C W N 145

1 Head of a mutt
whether trustee or life tenant of mutt properties. It cannot be predicated of the head of a mutt as such, that he holds the mutt properties as a life tenant or trustee. The question must be determined in each case upon the conditions on which they were given or which may be inferred from the long established usage and custom of the institution. Giyana Sambandha Pandara Sannadhi v Kandasami Tambaran I L R 10 Mad 375 referred to Vidyapurna Tirthaswami v Vidyandhi Tirthaswami I L R 27 Mad 435 referred to Kailasam Pillai v Nataraja Thambiran (1909) I L R 33 Mad 285

2 Improper alienation of mutt properties by the head of the mutt—Suit by disciples under O I r 8 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) to set aside the alienation and for possession to be given to the head of the mutt for the time being whether maintainable—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 120 131 and 144 applicability of. The disciples of a mutt have sufficient interest within O I r 8 of the Civil Procedure Code to maintain a representative suit not only for a declaration of the invalidity of an improper alienation of the mutt properties by the head of the mutt but also for a decree directing possession to be given to the head of the mutt for the time being. It is immaterial whether the head of the mutt be a trustee or only a life tenant. The suit being one for possession the article of the Limitation Act applicable is not 120 but Art 131 or 144 according as the head of the mutt is a trustee or only a life tenant and the right to sue for possession arises from the date of the alienation or when possession begins to be adverse. Possession which is adverse to the institution is equally adverse to the plaintiffs who sue on its behalf. Chidambaramatha Thambiran v Nallasiva Mudaliar (1917) I L R 41 Mad 124

MUTT—contd

3 Lease in perpetuity of mutt properties validity of—Right of successors to dispute whether void or voidable—Confirmation by immediate successor—Right of the latter a successor to repudiate the same—Suit to set aside if necessary—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Arts 142 and 144—Nature of the estate of a matathipathi (head of a mutt) of an absolute estate or a tale for life—Local Boards Act (V of 1884) ss 63 66 and 73—The Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) ss 33 and 42—Sale for arrears of road cess—No notice to inamdar but to tenant—Sale irregular not with out jurisdiction—Suit to set aside sale—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Art 12—Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) s 59. The head of a mutt made an alienation by way of a lease in perpetuity in 1872 of some lands which had been granted as inam for the support of the mutt and died in 1890 his immediate successor in the office received the rent reserved by the old lease from the lessees and transferees from 1893 and treated the occupants under the old lease as the tenants until his death in 1908 the latter's successor in office brought the present suit in 1908 to set aside the lease and recover possession of the inam lands from the defendants who were sub lessees or assignees from the original lessee and from the fifth defendant who was a purchaser in a revenue sale of some of the inam lands which were sold in May 1902 for arrears of road cess due under the Local Boards Act (V of 1884) Held that the suit was not barred by limitation except as regards the lands which were sold in revenue sale. A permanent lease is in excess of the powers of the head of a mutt. An alienation by the head of a mutt is not necessarily void and of no effect but is good for the life time of the alienor. A matathipathi (head of a mutt) is not a tenant for life but is in the position of one who though in a certain sense owner in fee simple yet in many respects has only the powers of a tenant for life. An alienation by the head of a mutt is voidable by the alienor's successors in very much the same way that an alienation by a Hindu widow in excess of her powers is voidable by her successors. The successors of a matathipathi cannot validate a case of his predecessor so as to bind his successors. He validates the lease only for the period during which he holds the office or avoid it altogether. Abhiram Govaram v Shyamala Charan Dandi I L R 36 Calc 1903 Narasaya Upada v Venkataramana Bhaktia 23 Mad L J 760 Vidyapurna Tirthaswami v Vidyandhi Tirthaswami I L R 27 Mad 435 and Kailasam Pillai v Nataraja Thambiran I L R 33 Mad 285 followed. The corpus of the mutt property is inalienable except in special circumstances but the income subject to the upkeep of the mutt is at the absolute disposal of the matathipathi (see Vidyapurna Tirthaswami v Vidyandhi Tirthaswami I L R 27 Mad 435) Where owing to the failure of the holders of a portion of the inam lands to pay the local cess due under the Local Boards Act (V of 1884) the Revenue officers sold some of the inam lands without giving notice of the proceedings to the head of the mutt as the defaulter but notice was given to the tenant in occupation of the lands the sale was regular but not one held without jurisdiction and was consequently liable to be set aside but the suit to set aside the same was barred as not brought within the time allowed by s 59 of the Madras Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) or Art 12 of the second Schedule of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Ramachandra v Pitchaikanni I L R 7 Mad 434 Chinnasami Mudali v Tirumalai Pillai and the Secretary of State for India I L P 25 Mad 572 Malkarjun v Nishari I L R 25 Bom 337 and Bijoy Gopal Mukerji v Krishna Mahishi Deb I L P 34 Cal 329 referred to Per SADASIVA AYYAR J.—The position of a matathipathi is not analogous to that of a Corporation sole under the English Law because there is this fundamental distinction namely whereas the properties belonging to an English Bishop (a Corporation sole under the English Law) including his savings from the revenues of the benefice devolve upon his legal representatives or heirs the savings of matathipathi devolve upon the succeeding matathipathi. The procedure laid down by the Revenue Recovery Act (II of 1864) has been incorporated into the Local Boards Act by s 76 of the latter Act but the substantive provisions in the Revenue Recovery Act (ss 32 and 33) that the sale for the recovery of arrears of land revenue frees the land from all incumbrances and from all favourably rented leases do not apply to a sale under the Local Boards Act. See Ramachandra v Pitchaikanni I L R 7 Mad 434 and Chinnasami Mudali v Tirumalai Pillai and the Secretary of State for India I L R 25 Mad 572. MUTUSAMIER v SASE SREEMETHRANITHI SWAMINAR (1913)

MUTT—contd

I L R 33 Mad 350

4 ————— Dharmapuram Adhinam Pandarasannadhi of Junior Pandarasannadhi—Mode of appointment of nomination by will—Ordination—Abishegam effect of—Nature of the office—Removal of junior from office grounds of—Power of Pandarasannadhi to remove junior if at pleasure or for good cause—Notice of charges necessary for—Dismissal without notice or opportunity for defence validity of—Compromise decree nature and effect of—Suit for setting aside necessity for—Limitation for such suit—Compromise decree partly illegal effect of—Decree if void altogether The Pandarasannadhi or the head of the Dharmapuram mutt has no power to dismiss at his pleasure the junior Pandarasannadhi of the mutt from his office though he can do so for good cause but a dismissal directed by the former without giving the latter any notice of the charges alleged against him (or an opportunity for making his defence thereto) is wholly void and inoperative in law. The nomination and ordination of a junior Pandarasannadhi is the customary mode of providing for the line of succession in mutts. The position of a junior Pandarasannadhi during the lifetime of the senior is analogous to that of an adjutor with the right of succession and the Canon law a right of which he cannot be deprived except for grave cause. Where an office is held at pleasure the incumbent may be removed even on charges of misconduct without any opportunity of being heard in his defence because he is removable at pleasure without any misconduct at all but in all other cases the objection of want of notice can never be got over. Rea v Chancellor and Master of the University of Cambridge 1 Str 557 followed. A consent decree is binding on the parties and their representatives until it is set aside just as much as if it had been passed after contest. Fatch Chand v Narasing Das 22 O L J 383 and In re South American and Mexican Company Ex parte Bank of England (1895) 1 Ch 37 followed. A suit to set aside a compromise decree will be barred after three years from the date of the decree. An illegality in a compromise decree in so far as it restrains the Pandarasannadhi from removing the junior in case of any future misconduct is not a ground for setting aside the decree altogether in a suit instituted for that purpose. Kearney v Whitehaven Colliery Co (1893) 1 Q B 760 referred to Per SESHASIVA AYYAR J. Where a suit is brought in a representative capacity the legal representative must show that the estate devolved on him the estate in this connection is not the estate which the decedent had but the estate which he represented that is the estate which he laid claim to. Mutts are not voluntary associations or brotherhoods or proprietary clubs. A person who has been appointed as a junior Pandarasannadhi to whom abishegam has been duly performed acquires a status which is not lost unless he is removed from his office for good cause. An ascetic who holds an office like that of a head of a mutt or a junior Pandarasannadhi does not incur forfeiture of his office by reason of his immorality but is liable to be removed from his office on proof of his immoral conduct. In a suit by a junior Pandarasannadhi against the head of a mutt disputing the validity of his dismissal from his office it is competent to the head of the mutt to enter into a compromise which does not affect the usage of the institution whereby the senior Pandarasannadhi recognizes the title of the junior under his original appointment as subsisting and admits that his removal was invalid as the grounds of dismissal were not justifiable. A decree in accordance therewith is not illegal. TIRUVAMBALA DESIKAR v MANICKA VACHANA DESAI AR (1915) I L R 40 Mad 177

MUTT—contd

5 ————— Sanyasi—Simple money debts incurred by head for necessities of the Mut—Suit against successor—Liability of mutt properties—Personal liability of the debtor—Lay trustee executor or administrator analogy of In a suit to recover a simple money debt incurred by the sanyasi head of a mutt for the necessary purposes of the mutt the properties of the mutt can be made liable whether the suit is brought during the lifetime of the incumbent who incurred the debt or his successor. Cases of debts incurred by lay trustees of religious or charitable institutions executors or administrators distinguished. Shankar Bharati Dams v Venkataiah (1855) I L P 9 Bom 409 followed. LAKSHMINARAYANA THIRTHA SWAMINAR v PADAYAVENDRA RAO (1910) I L R 43 Mad 495

MUTUAL CONSENT

S PCT II E LAW—MARRIAGE

I L P 30 Cal 492

MUTUALITY

—WALSH—

See SUPPLEMENTARY PERFORMANCE

I L R 40 Cal 492

N

NAIKIAS

Adoption—Adoption of daughter by a Nair—Adoption of a girl—Will—Contraction—(1) to the adopted daughter as persona designata. One Sundra a Nair (a professional prostitute) adopted her near relative Hira as her daughter. She next made a will whereby she bequeathed the bulk of her property to Hira. In the will Hira was referred to at some places by her name and as others as adopted daughter. On Sundra's death Hira claimed Sundra's property as her adopted daughter and also as persona designata under Sundra's will. Held that Hira could not succeed as an adopted daughter because Sundra being a Nair could not validly adopt a daughter to herself. Mallappa Nair v. E. M. Nair 1 L R 4 Bom 566 followed. Janku v. Mahalinga 1 L R 11 Mad 393 dissenting from. Held further on construction of the will that Hira was entitled to succeed as persona designata under Sundra's will for Hira was not to take the property as being the adopted daughter but she was the adopted daughter and was to take the property because she was the special object of Sundra's bounty. Hira Nair v. Radha Nair (1917) 1 L R 37 Bom 116

NAPYA TENURE

—mortgage of—

See BHAGDARI AND NAPTAPARI ACT
(Bom V of 1862) 3
1 L R 35 Bom 42

NATIVE INDIAN SUBJECT OF HIS MAJESTY

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 188
1 L R 41 Bom 667

NATIVE STATE

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sec I ART 182 CL 5 (5) AND (6)
1 L R 32 Bom 420

NATTUKOTTAI CHETTIES

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Sec I ART 182 CL 5
1 L R 43 Mad 629
See PRESIDENCY TOWNS IN OLVENCY ACT 1900 s 115
1 L R 43 Mad 747

NATURAL SON

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN
1 L R 43 Calc 844

NAVIGABLE RIVER

See FISHERY 1 L R 42 Calc 489

—dry lands formed through recession
—whether can be assessed or revenue

See PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVER
24 C W N 639

—test for determining whether a river is a public Navigable River

See FIVE BEDS 24 C W N 809

The Law of the Madras Presidency as to Rivers and Streams certainly differs from the English law and it is quite possible that it recognises some proprietary right on the part of government in the water

NAVIGABLE RIVER—contd

—test for determining whether a river is a public Navigable River—contd flowing in rivers and stream TPASAD ROW

THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

1 L R 40 Mad 886

Pennell's Map of inland waterways—Zemindar status of whether proprietors under Moghul Rule—Cession of Burdwan Midnapore and Chittagong effect of on emindari right—Fifth Report of Select Committee of House of Commons—Mussourat and Bankar Zemindar's chartered rights—Permanent Settlement whether bed of river Damodar included in—Bergal Regulation XIX of 1816 s 9—Fishery, exclusive right of presumption from—Bergal Alluvion and Diluvion Regulation XI of 1825—Churn principle of resumption of—Public domain gain from—Middle thread principle of as to right to bed of river—Rules as to construction of boundaries—Revenue whether Government entitled to a cess on Churn farming within the Burdwan emindari—Water duties—Doul baridat—At the date of the Permanent Settlement of Bengal (1793) the River Damodar was not a navigable river i.e. one in which boats could ply throughout the year. Rennell's Map of inland navigation appearing in his Atlas which was published by authority of the East India Company does not require to be proved. Prior to 1760 A.D. the zamindar or chahla of Burdwan was settled with the Maharaja's ancestors not by parganas but as a whole. They were not mere revenue agents of the Puling Power for the principal zamindars of Bengal had clearly a title to their estates. Under the treaty of 1760 Burdwan Midnapore and Chittagong were ceded to the East India Company subject to the rights of the zamindars which were expressly reserved by the Sanad executed to give effect to the treaty and accepted by the East India Company. The farming out of the revenues of Burdwan by public auction for three years in 1760 did not put an end to the rights of the Maharaja's predecessors for a scrupulous regard seems to have been paid to the then Maharaja's chartered rights of Mussourat and Bankar etc. At the time of the Permanent Settlement the bed of the River Damodar in so far as it flowed through the chahla or zamindari of Burdwan formed a part of the estate permanently settled with the Maharaja's predecessors. Regulation XIX of 1816 s 9 provides only for cession in relation being paid not for reduction of the land revenue. Although an exclusive right of fishery does not of itself pass the right to the soil in the bed of the river still when the terms of a grant are unknown or uncertain it is a matter of inference that the plaintiff has a certain right in the river the bed of which is claimed by the Bengal Alluvion and Diluvion Regulation of 1825. Churn in non navigable river is a title of the permanently settled zamindar resumed for before the Permanent Settlement of Government resumed the right of gain from the public domain. V. Fokam datta v. B. C. Fokam datta and Prasad Fok v. B. C. Fokam datta 1 L R 40 Mad 886. The law of the country is applicable when flowing with the proprietors' lands. Middle thread principle. Chander Choud v. B. C. Fokam datta — test for determining whether a river is a public Navigable River—concl'd

NAVIGABLE RIVER—concl'd

Tagore v Jado Lal Mullick 5 C L R 97 referred to Where property is bounded by a road or river the boundary even if given as the road or river is the middle of the road or river as the case may be Commissioners for Land Tax for the City of London v Central London Railway Company [1913] A C 361 and Attorney General for British Columbia v Attorney General for Canada [1914] A C 153 referred to The assessment of the Government revenue on the riparian mouzabs of the Burdwan zemindari was imposed not only in the mouzabs but also on the adjoining half of the bed of the river and Government is not entitled to assess further revenue on churs forming therein SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v BHOY CHAND MAHATAF (1918) I L R 46 Calc 390 24 C W N 872

NAZARANA

S e MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 371

NAZIR

— appointment of, as guardian—
See GUARDIAN I L R 38 Calc 783

NECESSARIES

See CONTRACT ACT (IV OF 1872) s 63
I L R 32 All 325

NECESSITY FOR ALIENATION

See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION
See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY

NEGLIGENCE

See BANKER AND CUSTOMER
I L R 36 Bom. 455

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT
(BOM III OF 1901) ss 50 54
I L R 35 Bom 492

See CARRIERS I L R 40 Calc 716
I L R 41 Calc 80
I L R 47 Calc 1027

See CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE
I L R 37 Bom 575

See GAS COMPANY 14 C W N 158

See HORSE 19 N W N 916

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Calc 1052

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—
s 304 I L R 42 All 272
ss 337 338 I L R 39 Bom 523

See RAILWAY COMPANY
I L R 37 Bom. 1
I L R 39 Bom 191

See STEAMSHIP COMPANY
I L R 47 Calc 6

See TORT
See VENDOR AND PURCHASER,
I L R 35 Bom 269

NEGLIGENCE—cont'd

— Cau ing death—
See PENAL CODE s 304
I L R 42 All 272

— indemnity against—
See COMMON CARRIER
I L R 38 Calc 23

— Liability of landward for—See AORA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
ss 164 166 I L R 40 All 246

— of agent damages for—
See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 6 (e), I L R 38 Mad 138

— of Government Servant—
See TORT I L R 39 Mad 351

— of municipality—
See BOMBAY IRRIGATION ACT 1879
I L R 18 Bom 116
See TORT I L R 41 Mad 538

— of servants—
See JUDICIAL DESCRIPTION
4 Pat L J 381

— of servants of Public Works Department—
See TORT I L R 39 Mad 351

— Railway accident—Railway Company—Breach of statutory duty—Injury to passengers with arm outside carriage window—Contributory negligence—Contractual obligations The fact that the door on a moving train is open is evidence but not conclusive proof of negligence on the part of the Railway Company. Where there is a statutory obligation any breach of it which causes an accident is conclusive against the defendant apart from special proof of negligence. But the breach must in itself be the cause of the accident and the rule does not extend so far as to exclude the defence of contributory negligence. In view of the contractual relations between the parties a Railway Company is not liable for injuries caused to any part of a passenger which is outside the carriage in which he is travelling provided that such injuries could not have been received had the passenger remained inside the carriage. The application of the rule that where there is negligence on both sides the negligence of the person who had the last chance of averting accident is the efficient cause thereof must be restricted to cases where the danger was apparent to both or at least one of the parties before the accident actually happened. DULLABJI SAKHIDAS v G I P RAILWAY CO (1903) I L R 34 Bom 427

BUT see CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE
I L R 37 Bom 575

— Suit against Tramway Company
—Passenger entering car while in motion—Contributory negligence T brought an action against the Tramway Company claiming damages for injuries sustained by him by reason of the Company's negligence. T alleged that while attempting to board a stationary tramcar the car was suddenly started at a signal given by the conductor and the footboard tilted and slipped sideways from beneath T's foot in consequence of which T lost his balance was thrown to the ground and his right foot was injured Held dismissing the suit that the footboard was not loose and that the fall was due to his attempting to enter a car while in motion and was not due to any fault or defect in the fixity of the board Per curiam—Whether there is a bye law or there is not a bye law to that effect the fact remains that if a passenger chooses to attempt to enter or leave a moving car he does so at his own risk. It is no what a prudent or a reasonable man should or would do and if he does it and sustains injury while in the act of so doing it would be an accident or a misfortune for which the defendant company would in no way be liable TENLUGI JAM RAJ v BOMBAY ELECTRIC SUPPLY AND TRAMWAYS COMPANY LTD (1911)

NEGLIGENCE—contd

I L R 35 Bom 478

Driving motor car at excessive speed

—Injury to bare licensee being driven in car—

—Liability of car owner—Quantum of damages

The defendant was driving a party of relatives and friends (including the plaintiff) in his motor car from Deolali to Igarpuri. The road at one point turned somewhat abruptly to the left and crossed the lines of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway by means of a level crossing after the level crossing the road turned abruptly to the right. The defendant who was driving his car at an excessive speed drove over the crossing at the time that a train was there due. Though it got over the crossing safely the car failed to take the abrupt turning to the right and jumping an embankment rushed into a paddy field below. The occupants of the car with the exception of the defendant were thrown out with much violence and the plaintiff received such grave injuries as would render him a cripple for the rest of his life. The plaintiff sued to recover damages caused to him by the defendant's negligence. Held that putting the skill and caution exigible from the defendant at the very lowest he was grossly and culpably negligent that he was liable in damages to the plaintiff and that in assessing damages the same principles should be applied whether the person who had incurred the liability was a private individual or a wealthy company SORABJI HOFMUSJI v JAMSHEDJI NERWANJI (1914)

I L R 38 Bom 552

Public authority breach of statutory duty by causing injury—when cause of action arises—Bengal Local Self Government Act (III of 1885) ss 20 and 146—Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1884) ss 29 and 363—Bihar and Orissa General Clauses Act of 1917 s 4 (2)—Suit against District Board or Municipality—Limitation The words anything done under this Act in s 146 of the Bengal Local Self Government Act 1885 and in s 363 of the Bengal Municipal Act 1884 include omissions. Where personal injuries are caused by a negligent act or omission of defendant a fresh cause of action does not arise whenever the damage suffered becomes aggravated without any fresh act or omission in the part of the defendant. In such a case the plaintiff is entitled to compensation not only for the damage actually visible at the time when the suit is instituted or at the time of the trial but also for such consequential damage as may reasonably be expected to arise in the future from the wrongful act or omission complained of. But if a suit for damages for the wrongful act or omission has been decided or has become barred no fresh cause of action

NEGLIGENCE—concl

accrues to the plaintiff on the development of the consequential damage. S 146 of the Bengal Local Self Government Act does not include a suit against a District Board as a body corporate as distinct from a suit against the members of such Board and therefore a suit against a District Board may be instituted more than three months after the cause of action arises. But a suit against a Municipality must be brought within the period of limitation prescribed in s 363 of the Bengal Municipal Act 1884 ALLAN MATHEWSON v CHAIRMAN OF THE DISTRICT BOARD OF MANERHUM

I Pat L J 359

—Railway Company—Derailment of train—Removal of rail—Onus of proof—Discharge of onus The respondent was injured by reason of a train of the appellants in which he was a passenger leaving the line and being wrecked and he sued the appellants for damages for negligence. The immediate cause of the accident was the removal of a rail which the appellants pleaded had been effected maliciously by some person for whom they were not responsible. Held that the onus of proof that the respondents' injuries were not due to the appellants' negligence was upon the appellants but that upon the evidence they had discharged that onus. Judgment of the High Court (SANDERSON C J dissenting) reversed. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY v KIRKWOOD (1919)

I L R 48 Calc 757

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT

See BILLS OF EXCHANGE

See HUNDI

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI of 1881)

See NOTE OF HAND 14 C W N 414

See PROMISSORY NOTE

See SHARES I R 46 Calc 331 342

—Party to suit on—Limitation Act s 22—Amendment by adding party cannot relate back to date anterior to application to add party A suit on a negotiable instrument must be instituted in the name of the person who on the face of the instrument is entitled thereto or by a holder deriving title from him. Where the suit is instituted in the name of a wrong person the Court has power under O I s 10 (1) to amend the plaint by bringing the proper party as plaintiff. Such person cannot be brought on the record as from the day the suit was instituted. The amendment will relate back to the most to the date on which the application to be added as plaintiff was made and if such application was made after the right to sue was barred by limitation such amendment should not be allowed. In suits of this kind a mistake to be corrected under O I s 10 (1) must be corrected before the limitation period of the suit expires. Seelamma v Channappa I L R 90 Mad 467 referred to SUBBARAYA IYER v VAITHINATHA IYER (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 115

—It may be transferred by registered deed as gift—XXXI of 1881 s 46 47 48—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 123—Mode in which transferee may enforce his rights—Evidence Act (I of 1857) s 5—Coral evidence to prove deed of gift to be donatio mortis causa When the holder of a Government Promissory Note

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT—contd

purported to transfer it to another by a registered deed of gift. Held that though there was no endorsement and delivery as contemplated by the Negotiable Instruments Act there was a valid transfer of the document as a chattel and the transferee was entitled to it and to the property referred to in it. [How such a voluntary transferee is to enforce recognition of his title and payment of the note not decided.] Delivery of the property is not necessary where the gift is by a registered instrument. Oral evidence is not admissible to prove that a document which in terms is an out and out gift was really meant to be a donatio mortis causa. BENODE KISHORE GOSWAMI v ASHUTOSH MUKHOPADHYA (1912)

16 C W N 666

In favour of Agent—In favour of A as agent of B—Endorsement by A simpliciter in C—No prima facie title to C If a negotiable instrument executed in favour of A as the agent of B is endorsed by A simpliciter (i.e. without describing himself as the agent of B) to C the endorsement cannot in the absence of any evidence to show that A was intended to be the beneficial owner of the note convey in this country any title to C so as to enable C to sue the person or persons liable on the note. Muthar Sahib Maraiyar v Kadir Sahib Maraiyar I L R 28 Mad 244 referred to VEERAIYAN CHETTIAR v POORUSWAMI CHETTIAR (1913) I L R 36 Mad 362

In favour of several—Discharge by one of several payees validity of Held by the Full Bench (THE CHIEF JUSTICE dissenting) that one of several payees of a negotiable instrument could give a valid discharge of the entire debt without the concurrence of the other payees. ANNAPURNAMMA v ALAKAYYA (1913)

II L R 36 Mad. 544

Hundi—Whether by mercantile usage at Delhi oral acceptance is binding—What constitutes a mercantile usage Held that by mercantile usage at Delhi a drawee who has accepted a hundi orally is liable on the instrument. Held also that to establish a mercantile usage it is enough if the usage appears to be so well known and acquiesced in that it may be reasonably presumed to have been an ingredient tacitly imported by the parties into their contract. Juggomohan v Manickchand 7 Moo I 263 282 P C referred to PANNA LAL LACHMAN DAS v HAREGOPAL KULBI I AM I L R 1 Lah 80

Accompanied deposit of title-deeds—Endorsement of negotiable instrument without transfer of equitable mortgage by registered instrument—Right of endorsee to enforce the mortgage The endorsee for value of a negotiable instrument the amount of which had been secured by a mortgage by deposit of title deeds cannot claim to enforce the mortgage in the absence of a registered instrument conveying the mortgage right to him. Perumal Immal v Perimal a/c (19-1) I L R 41 Mad 196 dissentient from THE NATAL CITIZENS v BALAKRISHNA MURTHY (1921) I L R 44 Mad 885

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI OF 1881)

ss. 4 and 28—

See NOTE OF HAND 14 C W N 414

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI OF 1881)—contd

ss 4 and 80—Certain person whether manager of a bank is—Interest whether enlargement of time is good consideration for promise to pay—Promissory note where suit on should be instituted A promissory note payable to the manager of a bank is payable to a certain person within the meaning of the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881 s 4 s 80 being an enabling section is no bar to the recovery of interest which the debtor subsequently to the execution of a promissory note agrees to pay in consideration of the creditor not pressing his demand immediately. A suit on a promissory note is properly instituted at the place where payment is to be made. MAHANTH DAXODAR DAS v BENARES BANK LTD ss 11 and 6—Cheque Bill of Exchange—Banker—Local Boards Act (V of 1884) ss 54 144 to 147—Government Treasury whether a banker—Power of Local Board to make or issue negotiable instruments—Implied power—Rules and Forms under the Act—Local Fund Code s 549—Indorsee of an order of District Board whether holder in due course A Local Board is impliedly empowered under the Local Boards Act (V of 1884) to make endorse or accept negotiable instruments as such a power can be inferred from the rules and forms made by the Governor in Council under s 144 cl (16) of the Act and contained in the Local Fund Code which have the force of law under s 147 of the Act. A Government Treasury in which a District Board deposits its money under s 54 of the Act and issues orders for payment out which are respected by the former is not a Bank. Foley v Hill (1848) 2 H L Cas 28 at p 43 and Hainlas Union v Wheehright (1875) L R 10 Exch 183 followed. An unconditional order in writing for payment of money to or to the order of a person issued by a District Board on the Government Treasury is not a cheque under s 6 but is a bill of exchange under s 5 of the Negotiable Instruments Act and a bond fide indorsee for value of such an order is entitled to payment as a holder in due course. RAMIA SWAMI PILLAI v SANKARALINGAM AYYAR (1920) I L R 43 Mad. 816

I Pat L J 536

s 13—

S SHARES I L R 46 Calc 331 342

s 16—Endorsement what constitutes—Holder in due course—Bill payable on demand when overdue S 16 of the Negotiable Instruments Act does not lay down any specific form of words for an indorsement. A promissory note payable on demand was executed on 18th December 1901. On the 12th September 1904 the payee received the amount due on the note from one S and the following was indorsed on the note by the payee.

I have this day received from you the sum of _____ due for principal and interest and I as signed this note to you with power to recover the amount due and I by showing the same. No demand for payment was made before the 12th September 1904. Held that S was an indorsee of the promissory note that the promissory note was not overdue on the date of indorsement and that S was entitled as holder in due course to sue on the note. SIVARAMAKRISHNA IYATTAR v MAYA GALAGANI MOHUN MOHIDEY (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 54

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT (XXVI OF 1881)—contd

§ 22—Hundi payable after six months—Due of maturity—Liability of endorser—Held (i) that a bill of exchange which is not expressed to be payable on demand at sight or on presentment is at maturity on the third day after the day on which it is expressed to be payable and (ii) that a hundi drawn in the customary form that is expressed to be payable after so many days does not require to be presented for acceptance in order to render liable thereon the payee who had endorsed it in favour of a third party GANGA PRASAD v HIRA LAL (1916)

I L R 39 All 86

§ 26 ET 28—

See HUNDI SUIT

I L R 46 Cal. 663

Agent meaning of—Hundi or promissory note drawn or made by a trustee of a charity—Personal liability of trustee—Liability of charity property and other members of the family—Signature of trustee with vilam of charity prefixed effect of—Liability of non-executants—A person drawing a hundi or bill of exchange or making a promissory note as trustee of a temple or of a charity is personally liable on such bill or note—Rule of English Law as to bills drawn or notes made by church wardens overseers and others who describe themselves in their official capacities applied English and Indian cases reviewed—Agent referred to in ss 7 and 28 of the Indian Negotiable Instruments Act means the agent of a person capable of contracting within the meaning of s 26 and when the agent is not liable the principle is—A person drawing a bill or making a note as trustee of a temple or charity is not acting on behalf of such a principal and cannot claim the benefit of s 28—When the agent of a Chetti firm is executing a negotiable instrument prefixes the firm's vilam that is a well understood indication that he is acting only as an agent and has been so recognized by the Courts but when a man signs as trustee prefixing the charity vilam there is on the face of the document no clear indication that he contracts for any one else but him self PALANIAPPA CHETTIAR v SHAN MUGAM CHETTIAR (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 815

§ 27—Promissory note executed under the authority of a marksman but not marked by him—Validity of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 26 applicability of—The law of Agency as stated in s 226 of the Indian Contract Act is applicable to Negotiable Instruments and a promissory note executed by a person under the authority of a marksman is valid though the marksman has not affixed his mark thereto BALAYIA v SUBBAYYA (1917)

I L R 40 Mad 1171

§ 28—Promissory note by agent without any indication of execution as agent—Personal liability of executant—Unless an executant of a promissory note clearly indicates therein either by an addition to his signature or otherwise that he executes it as agent of another or that he does not intend thereby to incur personal responsibility he is liable personally on the promissory note according to s 28 of the Negotiable Instruments Act—Merely describing one self in the note as the holder of a power of attorney from another does not show that the power included a power to sign promissory notes or that the note was signed in pursuance of the power—Applicability of English Law on the subject considered KONETTI VAIKKER v GOPALA AILAR (1913)

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS (ACT XXVI OF 1881)—contd

§ 28—contd

I L R 38 Mad 482

§ 28 A—

See PROMISSORY NOTE BY GUARDIAN OF MINOR I L R 39 Mad 915

§ 30 47 59 74 94—Hundi payable to bearer—Surety—Contract of suretyship only between surety and creditor—Right of surety against principal debtor—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 16 140 141 145 69 and 70—Right of holder not being holder in due course—Delivery of hundi payable to bearer effect of—Holder right of A per on who becomes a surety without the concurrence thereto of the principal debtor gets as against the latter only the rights given by ss 140 and 141 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) and not those given by s 145—Such a person cannot invoke in his favour the aid of ss 69 and 70 of the Act—Hodgson v Shaw s My K 183 referred to—A person obtaining by payment after dishonour by the drawee delivery of a negotiable instrument payable to bearer acquires the rights of a holder thereof and can under s 59 of the Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881) recover from the drawer the amount due thereon on proof of presentment and notice of dishonour as required by ss 74 30 and 94 of the Act—Gajapathy Krishna Chandra Deo v Srinivasa Chariu Appeal No 25 of 1909 referred to—Nanal Rom v Mehin Lal I L R 1 All 487 distinguished—MUTHU RAMAN v CHIVVA VELAYAN (1916) I L R 30 Mad 865

§ 32 43—

See ARBITRATION I L R 2 Lah 335

See BILL OF EXCHANGE

I L R 41 Bom 586

§ 43—

See C I F CONTRACTS

I L R 42 Bom 473

§ 47—

See s 30

I L R 39 Mad 885

§ 48—Promissory note making over of without endorsement of constitutes valid transfer of gift—Close in action transfer of—Negotiable Instruments Act scope of—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 193 130 137—The defendant executed a promissory note in favour of one V who handed over this note without any endorsement to an idol through its pujari and having done so died—The plaintiff the shebani of the idol thereupon sued the petitioner for the amount due on the note—Held that although a promissory note to order may be transferred otherwise than by endorsement and delivery as contemplated by s 48 of the Negotiable Instruments Act there was no legal transfer of the promissory note to the plaintiff or the Deity whom the plaintiff represented either as a negotiable instrument or as a choise in action under s 130 of the Transfer of Property Act nor was there a valid gift of the promissory note under s 123 of the Transfer of Property Act—That even assuming that there was a valid transfer the plaintiff was not entitled to sue in his own nam It may be generally true that a valid assignment of a negotiable instrument as an action- able claim gives the assigner the rights of the holder subject to equities but this broad propo- sition must be subject at any rate to the qualifica- tion that it is true only so far as it is not inconsis- tent with the special provisions of the Negotiable Instruments Act Per PICHARDOR J The object and purpose of the Negotiable Instruments Act is to legalise a system under which claims arising upon certain instruments of a mercantile character can be treated like ordinary goods which pass by delivery from hand to hand But except within the prescribed limits such claims cannot be so treated ARHOY KUMAR PAL : HAPIDAS BYSACK (1913) 18 C W N 494

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS (ACT XXVI OF 1881)—contd

— s 48—contd

— s 57—

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 41 Mad. 353

— s 59—

See s 30

I L R 40 Mad 965

— s 64 78—Hundi—Presentation—

Liability of drawer—Burden of proof Where it is sought with reference to s 76 (d) of the Negotiable Instruments Act 1881 to render liable the drawer of a hundi, which has not been presented for pay- ment the onus of proving that the drawer could not suffer damage from the want of presentment is on the party who wants to excuse himself for the non presentation of the hundi. Madho Ram v Durga Prasad I L R 33 All 4 followed Phul Chand v Ganga Ghulam I L R 21 All 400 distinguished GAYA DIN v SRI PAN (1917) I L R 39 All 384

Hundi—Non present-

ment by holder—Liability of drawer—Burden of proof Where a hundi has not been presented for payment and the holder is seeking to recover from the drawer it lies on the plaintiff to show that the drawer could not have suffered any loss by reason of the hundi not having been presented NARAY MAL v CHET RAM (1918)

I L R 41 All 40

— ss 76 (a) 87 93 and 98—Altering period of paym n of a hundi without consent of all the drawers—Material alteration—Consequence—

Hundi payable at a specified place—Presentment—Necessity of notice of dishonour In this case the Diamond Jubilee Mills Delhi (the 4th defendant) being in need of money in 1913 the Directors decided to borrow money. Consequently three persons namely Sundar Singh (defendant No 1) Manager of the Company and Pam Singh (defend- ant No 2) and Chhajju Ram (defendant No 3) two of the Directors drew five hundis including the hundi which is the subject matter of this appeal on the Company (defendant No 4) in favour of the plaintiff firm Gulab Rai Mehr Chand. The hundis were drawn on 1st October 1913 and were accepted by the drawee Company on the 4th October who noted it as payable at the Alliance Bank of Simla Limited Delhi. Originally it was payable after 93 days but this was subsequently altered to 63 days under the initials of the Sundar Singh alone. The plaintiff firm enforced the hundis to the All n o Bank of Simla Limited which paid the money to the acceptor Company. On the due date the hundis was dishonoured by the Com- pany and the Bank recovered the money from the plaintiff firm. The plaintiff firm in its turn then brought the present suit to recover the money not only from the acceptor Company but also from the three drawer. It was pleaded inter alia that the due dates of the hundis as executed were altered without the knowledge of Ram Singh and Chhajju Ram that the hundis were never pre- sented for payment and that no notice of dishonour was given to them. The District Judge decreed the claim against all the defendants except Chhajju Ram. Ram Singh then appealed to the High Court claiming exemption from liability and the plaintiff appealed to have Chhajju Ram also rendered liable. Held that the alteration in the hundis reducing the period of payment was a material alteration within the meaning of s 87 of the Negotiable Instruments Act, and plaintiff having failed to prove that this was done with the consent of Pam Singh and Chhajju Pam or in order to carry out the common intention of the original parties the hundis was thereby rendered void as against them and plaintiff could not be allowed to fall back upon the contract as it existed prior to the alteration. Suffel v Bank of England 9 Q B D 555 and Wood v Steel 6 Wallis 80 followed. Held, also that the fact that the hundis had not been presented for payment on due date did not in this case have the effect of non suiting the plaintiff as the hundis was expressly payable at the Alliance Bank of Simla and Delhi and neither the acceptor nor any person authorised to pay had attended there during the usual business hours. Presentment was therefore not necessary—vide s 76 (a) of the Act. Held further that the law embodied in s 93 of the Act requires the holder to give notice of dishonour to the person or persons other than the drawee or acceptor whom he seeks to make liable on a bill and this rule does not admit of any depar- ture except in the cases enumerated in s 93 and as the plaintiff in this case had failed to prove the only exemption relied upon by him viz that the party charged could not suffer damage for want of notice his suit against the drawers must also fail on the ground of want of notice of dishonour. PAM SINGH : GULAB RAI MEHR CHAND

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS (ACT XXVI OF 1881)—contd

— s 76 (a) 87 93 and 98—contd

I L R 1 Lah 262

— s 80—

See s 4

5 Pat L J 536

See EVIDENCE ACT 19 2 4 90

1 Pat L J 71

See HAND NOTE

2 Pat L J 451

— Promissory note silent about interest oral agreement as to if promissory—Evidence Act (1 of 1872) s 90 (2) Where there was no mention of interest in a promissory note and it was sought by the plaintiff to prove that by a contemporaneous oral agreement it was settled between the plaintiff and the defendant that in- terest would run at the rate of 8 per cent per mensem. Held that under s 90 (2) of the Indian Evidence Act the plaintiff was not entitled to prove any such oral agreement as to the rate of interest. Where the defendant admitted in his written statement that he had verbally agreed to pay interest on the promissory note at the rate of 12 per cent per annum s. 80 of the Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881) was no bar to the interest being decreed at that rate LACHMI CHAND JHAWAR v HEMENDRA PRASAD GHOSH (1914) 18 C W N 1260

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS (ACT XXVI OF 1881)—*contd*s 80—contd

s 87—

See s 76 I L R 1 Lah 261

See DIED I L R 38 Mad 748

s 93 98—

See s 76 I L R 1 Lah 261

s 94—

See s 30 I L R 39 Mad. 865

s 98—Want of notice of dishonour

—Whether damage caused by reason of such want of notice—Burden of proof In a suit by intermediate endorsers of a hundi against earlier endorsers the court found that the hundi had not been presented for payment within a reasonable time and that notice of dishonour was not given. Held that it lay upon the plaintiffs to prove that the defendants could not suffer damage by reason of want of notice of dishonour not upon the defendants to prove that they had suffered damages Moti Lal v Moti Lal I L R 6 All 78 followed MADHO RAM v DURGA PRASAD I L R 33 All. 4

s 118—

See PROMISSORY NOTE

I L R 47 Calc 861

Shah Jog hundi—

consideration—Onus probandi—Second appeal—Where lower appellate Court has placed onus on the wrong party The respondent N M drew upon himself two Shah Jog hundis in favour of the appellant M R one on 5th November 1914 payable after 31 days and the other on 9th November 1914 payable after 61 days On 15th December 1914 N M brought an action for cancellation of the hundis on the ground that they were without consideration A week later M R brought a counter action claiming principal and interest on the earlier hundi; the period for payment on the second hundi had not then expired Both actions were tried together and the first Court held that the onus of want of consideration was on A M the drawer and that he had failed to discharge this onus On appeal the Additional District Judge placing apparently the onus of proving consideration on M R the drawee held that he had proved consideration on the second hundi but not on the first M R then presented a second appeal to this Court Held that the hundi in dispute is what is called Shah Jog hundi i.e. a bill payable to a Shah or banker which is similar to some extent to a cheque crossed generally which is payable only to or through some banker and that such a hundi satisfies the requirements of a negotiable instrument Held also that under s 118 of the Negotiable Instruments Act there is a statutory presumption in favour of the passing of consideration and that the onus of proving want of consideration was therefore upon the drawer Held further that in cases of this character in which the question of allocation of onus

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS (ACT XXVI OF 1881)—*contd*s 118—contd

is the most vital question between the parties It is the duty of the Court in Second appeal to rectify a mistake made by the lower Appellate Court in this respect MADHO RAM v NANDU MAL I L R 1 Lah 429

s 135—

See BILLS OF EXCHANGE

I L R 48 Calc 584

NEPAL

whether a "Foreign State"—

See EXTRADITION WARRANT

I L R 42 Calc 793

NEW CASE

See PROCEDURE I L R 48 Calc 832

See REMAND I L R 42 Calc 888

NEW CHANNEL

See FISHERY

I L R 41 L A 221

NEW TRIAL

See EVIDENCE I L R 47 Calc 671

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT

I L R 48 Calc 425

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (XV OF 1882) s 38

18 C W N 25

application for—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (XV OF 1882) ss 9 10

I L R 38 Mad 823

Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882 1895 ss 9 38—Notice returnable before Full Bench—Practice in the Small Cause Court of Calcutta—High Court power of to frame rules—Matters of procedure and practice—Calcutta Small Cause Court Rules 92 93 94 and 95 By a notification dated the 9th July 1919 and published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 18th July 1919 Part I page 1128 the following rule framed by the High Court under s 9 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882 1895 was added to rule 92 of the Rules of Practice of the Court of Small Causes of Calcutta Provided that the Court may if in its opinion no sufficient grounds are shown for the application dismiss it without directing service on the party against whom the application is made Held that the addition to r 92 was not ultra vires but that the rule did not contemplate the exercise by one Judge of the Small Cause Court of the powers conferred on the Court by s 38 of the Presidency Small Causes Courts Act 1882 1895 Madurai Pillay v J. Muthu Chetty I L R 38 Mad 823 referred to RAM CHANDRA SAGORENULU v ANARCHAND MURALIDHAR In re (19-0)

I L R 47 Calc 763

NEWSPAPER

See FORFEITURE I L R 47 Calc 190

See PRESS ACT (I OF 1900) ss 3 (1) 4 (1)

17 19 20 20

I L R 39 Mad. 1085

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

— on party under cross-examination —

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

15 C W N 771

NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENT

— statement of —

See LABEL

I L R 37 Cal 760

NEWSPAPERS (INCITEMENT TO OFFENCES) ACT (VII OF 1908)

— ss 2 3 —

See PRINTING PRESS

I L R 38 Cal 202

— 3 —

Order—Forfeiture of press S 3 of the Newspaper (Incitements to Offences) Act 1908 provides for the making of a conditional order declaring the printing press used for the purpose of printing or publishing the offending newspaper to be forfeited. The section refers to the whole of the press and no order could be made under it limited only to such portions of the press as were employed in printing the offending newspaper. DROV D KASHINATH PHADKE In re (1903) I L R 34 Bom 327

Nature of offences under the Act—Incitement to assassination—Incitement—meaning of direct or indirect incitement—General incitement not addressed to particular person—Construction of offensive article. The question of the intention or knowledge of an individual may determine his criminal liability under the ordinary law of abetment by incitement by means of words written or spoken but under the Newspaper (Incitement to Offences) Act no question of the intention of the writer, printer or publisher arises and no personal liability is imputed to any particular person. The order thereunder is not one against any person but is purely restrictive and directed against the use or intended use of a press for the purpose of printing or publishing a newspaper containing any incitement to murder or to any other offence under the Explosives Substances Act (VI of 1930) or to any act of violence. The words any incitement in s 3 (1) of the Newspapers Act include direct and indirect incitement and need not be addressed to any particular person nor expressed in violent and outrageous terms. To incite means to move to action to stir up to stimulate to instigate or to encourage and a newspaper article comes within the scope of s 3 if it is as a matter of fact calculated directly or indirectly to produce that effect. PER PRINCE J. There can be no hard and fast canon as to what words or given set of words constitute incitement. It is a question of fact in each case and must usually depend largely on concomitant circumstances. The article must be read as a whole and as far as possible in the sense in which it was read by the section of the public to which it was primarily addressed and also considered with regard to the occasion and place of publication and the class or status of persons likely to be affected by it. I L R 36 Cal 405

NEXT FRIENDSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

O XXXII r 7

I L R 41 All 553

See CORR.

I L R 43 Cal 678

NIJ CHASSee ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913

3 Pat L J 475

NOMINATION PAPERSee MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 46 Cal 132

NIBANDHASee HINDU LAW—HEREDITARY PRIESTS

I L R 45 Bom 94

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ARTS 131 62

I L R 34 Bom 349

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT ss 55 (6) (b) 123

I L R 34 Bom 287

NIMAK SAYAR MEHAL

*Permanent Settlement—Separate grants of amindari and Nimal Sayar over the same village right which pass under—Right of grantee of Nimal Sayar to enter on lands of zemindari for working salt pits—Right of licensee of grantee—Reasonable exercise of right—Cujus est solum ejus est usque ad caelum ad inferos doctrine of application in India—Plaint amendment of—exclusive right to dig salt pits misunderstood and wrongly described in plain as a monopoly. The zemindari in village Mangura was settled on the predecessors in title of the defendant at the Permanent Settlement and at the same Settlement the Nimal Sayar Mehal in the said and other villages (i.e. an exclusive right to collect nitrous earth from the lands in those villages with a view to extracting saltpetre therefrom) was settled by Government on the plaintiff's predecessor. The plaintiff urged that the grant of the Nimal Sayar Mehal entitled her to enter on the land comprised in defendant's zemindari and exercise therein in a reasonable manner the rights vested in her under the grant whilst the defendant a recent purchaser of the zemindari right contended that the grant in question conferred on the plaintiff the right to collect the revenue only if and when saltpetre happened to be manufactured and that she had no right to come on the land except by the leave and license of the defendant much less to authorize others to utilize the nitrous soil for the collection of saltpetre. Held that what passed under the grant of the Nimal Sayar Mehal were not rights of this precarious character. That the Nimal Sayar Mehal was no part of the assets of the zemindari and that the zemindari and the Nimal Sayar Mehal were separately settled by the Government as it was open to it to do in disregard of the doctrine of English real property cujus est solum ejus est usque ad caelum et ad inferos Gooroo Pershad Doss v Bishnu Charan Heyra 1 Sel Rep 337 (Old Ed) 1811 and Bygnauth v Deen Dyal 2 Sel Rep 133 referred to The Bengal Government v Nawab Zafar Hussain Khan 5 Moo I A 467 distinguished. That the grant of the Nimal Sayar Mehal carried with it the means reasonably necessary for its enjoyment. Prerogative of Saltpetre 12 Coke Rep 12 referred to. That by virtue of plaintiff's rights as owner of the Nimal Sayar Mehal she her agents, servants and workmen, lessees and licensees were entitled to enter on the land of the village and to exercise an exclusive right to dig for saltpetre but so that this be done with as little inconvenience and prejudice as possible.*

NIMAK SAYAR MEHAL—contd

to the defendant as the owner of the village and that the ground be made and left as commodious to the defendant as it was before. Plaintiff whose claim of exclusive right to work saltpetre was erroneously described in the plaint as a monopoly was allowed in Second Appeal to amend her plaint and formulate her claim in happier and more precise language. As the plaint in its original form occasioned the prolongation of the suit the plaintiff though successful was ordered to pay costs throughout. GOLAP CHAND v JANKI KUAR (1913) I L R 41 Calc 286 17 C W N 1195

NOABAD

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT 1894

18 C W N 531

Khas Mehal—Taluk
a tenure—Non permanent taluk—Sale for arrears of revenue—Purchaser's title—Beng Act VII of 1865 s 12—Cause of action A Noabad taluk is a tenure the land being khas mehal land of Government. Where it was found that the tenure in question was not a permanent tenure the purchaser thereof at sale under Act XI of 1859 acquired it in the same estate in which it was held at the time of the last settlement as provided by s 12 of Bengal Act VII of 1868. GAUGADAS SEAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) 20 C W N 636

Whether a permanently settled taluk A Noabad taluk may or may not be a permanently settled taluk. ASIRAF ALI v KARIM ALI (1918) 22 C W N 1025

Noabad lands settlement Right of Government in respect of such lands. Since the Government stands in the same position as an ordinary zemindar in respect of Noabad lands which it has a right to settle with whomsoever it likes. NAZIR AHMED CHOWDHURY v SECRETARY OF STATE 26 C W N 913

NOLLE PROSEQUI

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 437
16 C W N 983

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT—
I L R 40 Calc 71

NOMINATION OF JUNIOR OR SENIOR

See BARRISTER I L R 44 Calc 741

NON AGRICULTURAL LAND

See RECORD OF RIGHTS
I L R 46 Calc 441

NON AGRICULTURAL TENANCY

Held that non agricultural tenancies created by the Dowry before the Transfer of Property Act are not heritable or transferable. MAHOMED AYE JUDDIN MEA v PRODLOT KUMAR TAGORE 25 C W N 13

NON APPEALABLE CASE

See SUMMARY TRIAL
I L R 43 Calc 280

NON APPEARANCE.

Plaintiff—Non appearance of one of the plaintiffs effect of Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O IX rr 8 10 12

NON APPEARANCE—contd

Reading together rr 8 and 10 of O IX Civil Procedure Code it seems that r 8 provides for the case where a single plaintiff or all the plaintiffs if there are more than one do not appear and r 10 provides for a case when there are more plaintiffs than one and one or more of them appear and others do not appear. In a suit on a mortgage bond for sale where one of the two plaintiffs did not appear in person in spite of Court's order nor showed cause but the Court proceeded with the trial of the suit and decreed the claim in favour of both the plaintiffs. Held that there was nothing illegal in the decree. KULENDRA KISHORE POY v RAI KISHORE SHANU (1920) I L R 48 Calc 57

NON COMPOUNDABLE OFFENCE

Contingency executed in consideration of complainant withdrawing prosecution. Suit to set aside same after prosecution withdrawn if lies. BIJDESHARI PRASAD v LERU PAJ SAHU (1916) 20 C W N 760

NON CONFESSORIAL STATEMENTS

See MISDIRECTION I L R 45 Calc 557

NON FEUDATORY ZAMINDARS OF CENTRAL PROVINCES

See ACT OF STATE
I L R 39 Calc 615

NON JOINDER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O O J
PR 9 and 13

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 All 247

See MORTGAGE SUIT 25 W W N 594

See PARTIES I L R 33 All 272

See RIGHT OF WAY 25 C W N 249

of causes of action—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
O II R 2 I L R 41 All 583

of parties—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXXXX s 1 I L R 35 All 484

Suit for rent—Heirs of the original tenant not in possession of the holding if necessary parties Where after the death of the original tenant a suit was brought against some of his men who were in possession of the holding and against whom a previous decree was obtained for arrears of rent accrued due during the period of latter's occupation. Held that the suit was not defective by reason of the non joinder of the other heirs. MEHARAJ MANDAL v JOGENDRA DATTA DE (1920) I L R 48 Calc 518

NON-JUDICIAL STAMP

See STAMP ACT (II of 1899) s 52
14 C W N 1101

NON OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See NON OCCUPANCY PARLAT

Non-occupancy raiyats holding sale of in execution of money decree—Raiyats' right to raise question of non transferability. A non occupancy raiyati holding was sold in execution of a money decree whereupon the judgment debtors objected on the ground of non

NON-OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

transferability The pattah of the land prohibited any kind of transfer without the consent of the landlord and gave the landlord the right of khas possession in case any such transfer took place. Held that if the terms of the lease gives the landlord a right of re entry in the case of a transfer without his consent that may raise a question between the purchaser if any at the Court sale and the landlord but does not clothe the raiyat with a right to object to the sale. LELOO JUMA v PAJANI KANTA CHOWDHURY (1918)
22 C W N 793

heritability of—In the absence of a custom to the contrary a non occupancy raiyat's interest is heritable. KALEU GABRI v JANOLI CHOUDHARI
1 Pat L J 273

NON-OCCUPANCY RAIYAT

See CHOTA NAAGPUR LANDLORD AND TENANT PROCEDURE ACT s 8
14 C W N 297

See EJECTMENT 1 L R 40 Calc 858

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
1 L R 37 Calc 709

See NON OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT

Holding over after term of holds on from year to year—Ejectment Under the Bengal Tenancy Act there is no raiyat who holds from year to year and if the tenant is a non occupancy raiyat who does not hold under a lease for a term he cannot be ejected under the provisions of cl. (c) of s 44. JOTIRAM KHAN v JONAKI NATH GHOSH (1914)
20 C W N 258

Khamar land—Statute—Headings of Chapters—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) Ch XI s 45 and Sch III cl 1 (a) A tenant of a khamar land is not a non occupancy raiyat. The heading of a chapter in a statute may be looked at for the purpose of interpreting a section in the statute. DWARKANATH CHAUDHURI v TAPAZAR RAHAMAN SARKAR (1916)
1 L R 44 Calc 287

Under registered lease
Meaning of—Jote meaning of—Mahal meaning of—That a non occupancy raiyat who has been admitted to occupation of the land under a registered lease is liable to be ejected on the expiry of the term of his lease but it being found that the defendants were not admitted into occupation of the land by the labuliyats it was necessary to determine whether the defendant in each case was in occupation as tenant of the particular lands in respect of which he subsequently executed his labuliyat. That the description in the labuliyat without right jote mahal was not clear to show that the defendants admitted that the plaintiffs were raiyats. That the words without right standing alone might mean that the plaintiffs were owners of a non occupancy jote but the word jote does not necessarily mean the interest of a cultivator and the word mahal is not used in connection with the interest of a raiyat. That the statement in the lease as to the purpose of the tenancy and the fact that the tenancy was treated all along by Government as non occupancy jote was in favour of the plaintiffs but not conclusive against the defendants. RAJANI KANTHA MUKHERJEE v ASHUTOSH ALI (1916)
21 C W N 188

NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT

Heritability—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 5 cl (2) 90 cl (3) 44 82 The holding of a non occupancy raiyat is heritable. Karim Chowkidar v Sundar Bera 1 L R 24 Calc 207 overruled. Lakhan Narain Das v Jaynath Panday 1 L R 34 Calc 516 referred to. MINAPORE ZEMINDARY COMPANY Ltd v KRISHIKESH GHOSH (1912)
1 L R 41 Calc 1108

Acquisition of an raiyat land—Ejectment of tenant of raiyat land limitation for—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885)—ss 4 5 20 44 45 and 116 180 and Sch III Art 1 (a)—Construction of Statutes reference to heading of Chapter Held (CHAPMAN and JEWALA PRASAD JJ dissenting) that a suit by a landlord to eject a tenant of raiyat lands on the ground of the expiration of the term of his lease is governed by Art 1 (a) of Sch. III to the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 and the operation of Art 1 (a) is not excluded in such a case by s 116. Per CHAMBER, O J—Chapter VI of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 applies to tenants of proprietors private lands except where such land is held under a lease for a term of years or where it is held under a lease from year to year and such tenants may acquire non occupancy rights in the land within the meaning of the Act. Per CHAPMAN J—The classification of tenants in ss 4 and 5 is not intended to be scientific and precise. These sections should be applied with a reasonable amount of elasticity. A tenant of raiyat land may possibly be classified as a tenure holder but he is not a non-occupancy raiyat. Raiyat land is not raiyat land although the zamindar may lose his right in it by treating it as if it was raiyat. But if he lets it for a term or from year to year it remains his own and the tenant of it is not a raiyat. Per MULLICK J—Although the definition of raiyat in the Act is not exhaustive yet the classification of the various classes of raiyats in s 6 is exhaustive. Both occupancy and non occupancy right can under certain circumstances be acquired in raiyat lands. A cultivator may be a settled raiyat of raiyat lands but as such he has no rights. The position of a tenant of proprietors private lands under the present law is as follows—The landlord can make successive enhancements of rent but the tenant can no longer take advantage of s 13 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 or s 14 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1889 on the tenant's failure to pay an arrear of rent he can only be ejected after a decree although it was otherwise before the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 and a suit for ejectment of the tenant on the expiry of his lease must now be brought within six months instead of twelve years as formerly. A non occupancy raiyat whose lease has expired is liable to ejectment under the general law as a trespasser. Art 1 (a) of Sch. III is applicable to every suit in which it is sought to eject a non occupancy raiyat and is not confined to suits under s 44. Per JEWALA PRASAD J—The classification of tenants in s 4 is not exhaustive. The provisions of the Act barring the acquisition of non occupancy rights in proprietors private lands do not cease to apply when a tenant of such lands holds over after the expiry of his lease. S 51 lays down that where a tenant holds over the conditions under which he held the land in the last preceding agricultural year shall be presumed to continue. Per CHAPMAN and JEWALA PRASAD JJ (MULLICK J contra)—The

NON OCCUPANCY RIGHT—contd

Reading of a chapter of an Act may be used to extend the meaning of a section which follows it JANKI SINGH v. MAHARATH JAGANNATH DAS
 3 Pat L J 1

NON PERFORMANCE OF WORK.

See BARRISTER I L R 44 Cal 741

NON RIPARIAN OWNER

—right of, to the flow of river water—

See EASEMENTS ACT (V OF 1882) s 2 (c)
 AND 17 (c) I L R 42 Bom 238

NON TRANSFERABLE HOLDING

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 43 Cal 878

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING :

1 ——— Question of transferability of arries between vendor and vendee and between vendee and co sharer landlords Plaintiffs who had purchased certain shares in an alleged non transferable holding partly in execution of a mortgage decree against one tenant and the rest by private alienation from another having sued for partition the sons of one of the former opposed the suit on the ground that they had been recognised as tenants of the whole holding by one of the co sharer landlords whilst the plaintiffs also were found to have obtained recognition from some of the co sharer landlords The District Judge gave the plaintiffs a decree for an interest proportionate to that of the co sharer landlords who had recognised them Held that no question of transferability of the holding arose in the case and the plaintiffs in this suit were entitled to get all the interest they purchased from their vendors
RAJAN ALI v. DINA NATH SRAHA (1915)
 19 C W N 1305

2 ——— Mortgage of—Purchase of holding by co sharer landlord in execution of decree for his share of rent—Money decree—Question of transferability of arries In a suit to enforce his mortgage by the mortgagee of an occupancy holding against co sharer landlords who since the date of the mortgage purchased the holding in execution of a decree for their share of the rent the question of transferability does not arise
CHANDI PRASAD SETH v. GOUD CHANDRA DEB (1915)
 19 C W N 1307

3 ——— Non transferable raiyat holding—Sale in execution of money decree—Purchaser allowed by raiyat to take a portion of the holding—Surrender by raiyat of whole holding—Raiyat continuing in occupation—Purchaser if may be ejected Where a purchaser (in execution of a money decree) of a non transferable raiyat holding being resisted by the raiyat by arrangement with the latter was given a portion of the holding the raiyat retaining the rest and subsequently the raiyat expressly surrendered the whole holding to his landlord though it appeared that even after such surrender he went on occupying the portion retained by him under the arrangement That the surrender being obviously illusory the original tenancy subsisted and protected the purchaser from ejection by the landlord
NORO KISHORE SARA v. DHANANJOY SARA (1916)
 20 C W N 610

NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE ACT (VIII OF 1873)

— s 70—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 496—Cutting walls of canal—Mischief—Penal Provisions of the Canal Act not exclusive of the Indian Penal Code Held (i) that s 70 of the Northern India Canal and Drainage Act 1873 does not bar the prosecution of an accused person under any other law for any offence punishable under the Canal Act (ii) that it is an act of wilful mischief punishable under the Indian Penal Code for any person to make a breach in the wall of a canal EMPEROR v. BANSI (1912)
 I L R 44 All 210

— s 70—See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 430 I L R 41 All 599

— s 70 (4)—Authorised distribution—Whether it includes the internal distribution made by a village community One P S mortgaged 14 bighas of his land to B S According to arrangement in the village every man was allowed to use the water from the canal for a period of one ghara (24 minutes) for every seven bighas of land B S wanted to take his turn but P S prevented him The former then presented a complaint and P S was convicted by a magistrate of an offence under s 70 (4) of the Canal and Drainage Act On appeal the District Magistrate acquitted P S holding that the distribution of water with which P S interfered was not an authorised distribution within the meaning of s 70 (1) of the Act The Government appealed to the High Court from the order of acquittal It was admitted that that Canal authorities distribute the water between the different villages but that the internal distribution in any village was left to the proprietary body of that village and was accepted by the authorities Held that the internal distribution in the village was not an authorised distribution within the meaning of s 70 (4) of the Canal and Drainage Act as it had never been formally approved or sanctioned by any Canal authority the latter having merely accepted the distribution made by the villagers CROWN v. PAKHAR SINGH (1912)
 I L R 1 Lah 604

NORTHERN INDIA FERRIES ACT (XVII OF 1878)

— s 22—Ferry—Illegal toll taken by servants of lessee—Lessee him self not responsible Held that the lessees of a ferry could not be held responsible under s 29 of the Northern India Ferries Act 1878 for the taking of unauthorised tolls by their servants when they were not present and took no part in the extortion Queen Empress v. Tyaal Ali I L R 41 Bom 493 distinguished.
EMPEROR v. BHARAT LAL (1911)
 I L R 34 All 146

NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH ACTS

See ODDH ACTS
 See UNITED PROVINCES ACTS

— 186—III—See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT

— 1863—I—See ODDH ESTATES ACT

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH ACTS—contd

1873—VIII—

See NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE ACT XIX—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT

1878—XVII—

See OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT

1876—XVIII—

See OUDH LAWS ACT

1878—XVII—

See NORTHERN INDIA FERRIES ACT

1891—XII—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES PEST ACT

1893—XV—

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES ACT

1899—III—

See UNITED PROVINCES COURT OF WARDS ACT

1900—I—

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT

1901—II—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT

1901—III—

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT

1903—I—

See BUNDELKHAND ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT

1904—I—

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT

1910—IV—

See UNITED PROVINCES FOREST ACT

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT (XIX OF 1873)

ss. 146 148 167—Proprietor—

Mortgage by muafidar—Sale of mahal for default in payment of Government Revenue—Rights of purchaser and mortgagors of muafi. Where certain muafidars whose rights as such accrued before the year 1870 and were not shown to have been created by the zamindars of the mahal in which the muafi land in question was situate executed a usufructuary mortgage of such land thereafter the mahal was sold for default in payment of Government revenue it was held that the rights of the mortgagors were not extinguished in favour of the purchaser. KANWAR SING & JEWALA PRASAD (1913) I L R 35 All 190

s. 191 (g)—Act (Local) No 111 of 1899

(L P Court of Ward Act) ss 2 (2) 8 9 and 31—Act (Local) No 11 of 1912 (L P Court of Wards Act) ss 10 and 11 (c) proviso (1)—Disqualified proprietor—Competence of disqualified proprietor to make a will. A person who has been declared to be a disqualified proprietor on his own application under the provisions of s 191 (g) of

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT (XIX OF 1873)—contd

s 194 (g)—contd

the North Western Provinces Land Revenue Act, 1873 is not disqualified thereby at any rate after the passing of the United Provinces Court of Wards Act 1899 from making a will. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL KHAN & HAMIDA KHATUN I L R 42 All 509

s 205B—

See OUDH LAND REVENUE ACT (XVII OF 1876) ss 173 174

I L R 38 All 271

NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES ACT (XV OF 1893)

s 10—United Provinces Municipalities Act (I of 1900) s 187—Municipal Board—Election—Suit to set aside election—Jurisdiction of Civil Court—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sec 1 Art 120 Held that an order of the Government directing that a particular municipal election held in the year 1911 should be conducted according to certain rules passed in 1884 and not according to the rules passed in pari materia in 1910 which superseded those of 1884 was ultra vires and that inasmuch as the rules of 1884 did not apply and the election was not held under the rules of 1910 a suit would lie in a civil Court to contest the election irrespective of anything contained in either set of rules the period of limitation applicable to which was that prescribed by Art 120 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Gur Charan Das v Har Sarup I L R 34 All 391 referred to RACHUNANDAN PRASAD & SUREO PRASAD (1913) I L R 35 All 308

s 130—Breach of rule made under cl (e) of s 100—Not ce In order to render a person liable to punishment for breach of a rule made under cl (e) of s 130 of the Municipalities Act (Local I of 1900) by reason of the continuance of sale or exposure for sale of certain specified article upon any premises which were at the time of the making of such rules used for such purposes it is necessary that six months notice in writing should have been served upon him in the manner provided by law and conviction in the absence of such notice is bad in law. FIREBOR & GRIMMAN (1916) I L R 58 All 455

NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES RENT ACT (XVIII OF 1873)

Held that this Act and the succeeding Act VII of 1891 rendered void the terms of any will in existence on the date on which they were passed contrary to the act. MAHADEO MISER & DIROPAL PANDE I L R 41 All 356

NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES RENT ACT (XII OF 1881)

Mortgage of occupancy hold ng—Relinquishment—Rights of mortgagor. An occupancer tenant mortgaged his occupancy holding at a time when the Rent Act of 1880 was in force. In the year 1911 he entered into an agreement with his zamindars to relinquish his rights with the object of defeating the rights of the mortgage. Held that the relinquishment was ineffectual as against the mortgagee Jangopal Narain Singh v Uman Das 8 Ill L J P 695 approved BEH KUMAR LAL v SURE KUMAR MISRA (1915) I L R 37 All 444

NORTH-WESTERN PROVINCES RENT ACT (XII OF 1881)—contd

Sale of amindari—Agreement to relinquish ex proprietary right in air land—Void contract In 1899 one R D the widow of a Hindu who had died heavily in debt sold most of her husband's property to his principal creditor D S. By the terms of the sale deed the vendor agreed to hie a relinquishment of her ex proprietary rights in the air lands and the vendee agreed to certify to the Civil Court full satisfaction of the claim under his decree. No thing however was done to carry out this agreement until 1901 when D S executed a document in favour of P D in which was stated that the parties had come to an agreement that P D was to file her relinquishment and in consideration thereof D S would file in certificate of satisfaction of his Civil Court decree and further bound him self to pay to R D a monthly allowance of P 5 for the rest of her life which was to be a charge on the property transferred by the sale deed of 1899. Held on suit by P D to recover arrears of her maintenance allowance from the transferees of the property which purported to have been charged with its payment and from D S personally that the arrangement between the parties was merely a device to get round the provisions of the Rent Law and that the suit would not lie. Moti Chand v Brahmavallab Khan I L R 39 All 173 referred to. PATAN DEVI v DURGAS SHANKAR DAS (1911) I L R 39 All 645

Occupancy holding—Will—Attempt to dispose of occupancy holding by will Held that the North Western Province Rent Act No XVIII of 183 and the succeeding Act No XII of 1881 render void the terms of any will in existence on the date on which they were passed if those terms contravened the prohibition against transfer by will which was thereby enacted. MAHADEO VISIT v DIPKAL PANDE (1910) I L R 41 All 356

Occupancy tenant—Leasfructuary mortgage of holding—Relinquishment by mortgagor in favour of zamindar Where a mortgage with possession of an occupancy holding had been made by the tenant before the coming into force of the Agra Tenancy Act 1901. Held that the tenant mortgagor could not defeat the rights of the mortgagees by surrendering the holding to the zamindar. CHHIDDU v SURE MANGAL SINGH (1916) I L R 39 All 186

NOTE OF EVIDENCE

See SUMMARY TRIAL I L R 48 Calc 280

NOTE OF HAND

Where a hand note recited a loan and the liability of the executant to repay it but there was no covenant that the repayment would be made to the plaintiff or to his order. Held that it was not a negotiable instrument under the Negotiable Instruments Act s 4 or s 3 of the Negotiable Instruments Act would not therefore apply to such a hand note. Illustrations cannot control the plain meaning of the words of a statute. Illustration (b) of s 4 of the Negotiable Instruments Act not relied on. SATYA PRITA GOSWAMI v GOBINDO MONOH RAY CHOWDRI (1909) 14 C W N 414

NOTE OF HAND—contd

NOTICE

See AGREEMENT I L R 41 All 417

See ARBITRATION I L R 47 Calc 29 951

See ARREST OF SHIP I L R 42 Calc 85

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (1888) ss 379 3/9A I L R 36 Bom 51

See BOMBAY CODE OF WAPES ACT 1805 s 14 I L R 44 Bom 493

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1819 s 83 I L R 45 Bom 303

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 80 I L R 40 Bom 541

s 437 I L R 40 All 416

O XII s 22 I L R 43 All 411

O XXI s 16 I L R 36 Bom 58

O XXI s 89 I L R 37 Bom 387

O XXIII s 1 I L R 42 Bom 155

See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 564

See CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 88 43 I L R 35 All 78

437 I L R 40 All 416

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURAL RELIEF ACT 1819 s 10 I L R 45 Bom 87

See EJECTMENT I L R 44 Calc 272

See EXECUTION OF DECREE I L R 38 Calc 482

See HINDI SHAH JOO I L R 39 Bom 513

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 72

See INSOLVENT I L R 47 Calc 254

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (1 of 1894) s 9 I L R 20 All 534

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908)—s 98 SCH I ART 47 I L R 38 Mad 432

SCH I ART 12 A I L R 45 Bom 45

SCH I ART 18^a CL (6) I L R 42 Bom 553

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION I L R 38 Calc 598

See NOTICE OF DISHONOUR

See NOTICE TO QUIT

See NOTICE OF UTI

See N W P AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES ACT (X OF 1900) s 132 I L R 33 All 455

See PROSECUTION I L R 37 Calc 545

See PUBLIC DAMAGES RECOVERY ACT 10 31 I L R 45 Calc 496

NOTICE TO QUIT—contd

revance Lal Malomed Sarlar v Jagir Sheikh
 13 C W N 913 referred to BHUBAN MOHAN
GURU : SHEIKH BADA (1910)
 I L R 40 Calc 766

NOTIFICATION

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Calc. 466

See REVENUE SALE L R 45 I A 205 defect in—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
 I L R 42 Calc 897

publication of—

See REVENUE SALE
 I L R 41 Calc. 276

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE
 I L R 46 Calc 255

By decree holder to the Court of payment—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
 I L R 43 Calc 207

NOTIFIED AREA

Leases of government land in—
 See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)
 11 17 90 I L R 36 AL 176

NOVIATION

See CONTRACT ACT 18,2 s 62
 I L R 2 Lah 323

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Art 95
 I L R 37 Bom 158

NOVELTY

See DESIGN I L R 45 Calc 606

NUISANCE

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT 1888—
 s 377 I L R 34 Bom 346
 ss 379 AND 380
 I L R 10 Bom 81

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
ACT 1901 s 151
 I L R 44 Bom 738

See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT s 3
 15 C W N 100

See EASEMENT I L R 39 Calc 59
 I L R 42 Calc 46

See PENAL CODE ss 114 283
 I L R 35 Bom 363

See RAILWAYS ACT s 190
 25 C W N 603

Hindus making noises to interfere with worship of Muhammadans—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 53
 I L R 1 Lah 140

Calcutta Municipal Act, s 632—
 * Nuisance building sanctioned by Municipality if may be—Nuisance if must be public—Building in contravention of regulations if to be proceeded against only under s 449—Partition decree effect of

NUISANCE—contd

The term nuisance in s 632 of the Calcutta Municipal Act does not refer only to nuisance affecting the public generally. It applies as well to nuisances affecting an individual. The mere fact that the Municipality could have proceeded against a building erected contrary to the building regulations under s 449 of the Act does not preclude the Municipal Magistrate from interfering with it under s 632 at the instance of the person whose house has been deprived of light and air by the building. If a building is a nuisance it is no answer in a proceeding under s 632 to say that the Corporation had sanctioned it. Whether erected with or without sanction or in contravention of the building regulations or not any person residing in Calcutta affected by it can move the Magistrate and it is within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate to pass an order under s 632 if in his discretion he is so advised. A partition decree previously passed which purported to specify the easements reserved to the portion which fell to the complainant cannot be held to override the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act which is directed to provide for public sanitation among other public considerations. BRAGWAN DAS v PASH BEHARI MULLICK (1909)

14 C W N 637

Public and private nuisance—
 Erection of a high wall on one's own land very close to another's dwelling house—Likelihood of injury to the health of the inmates of the adjoining tenements and of the public inhabiting the neighbourhood by the propagation of disease—Propriety of order of partial demolition—Feasibility of other remedial measures—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) s 632. The words any nuisance in s 632 of the Calcutta Municipal Act mean any nuisance as defined in s 3 (90) thereof. The definition though wider than that of a public nuisance at the common law does not extend to the inclusion of all private nuisances. Dhagwan Das v Rash Behari Mullick 14 C W N 637 explained. The erection of a wall however high on one's own land very close to the dwelling house of a neighbour in order to prevent him from acquiring a right of easement is not in itself a nuisance under the Calcutta Municipal Act but where the evidence shows that it is or is likely to be injurious to the health of the resident of the adjoining tenements and of the public inhabiting the neighbourhood by propagating the seeds of consumption and typhoid it becomes a nuisance under the Act. Where however the only matter which causes a wall to be a nuisance is not its height but the accumulation of filth at the bottom and want of space to clear the drainage between it and the adjacent house the Magistrate instead of ordering its reduction in height should consider whether the nuisance cannot be abated by the adoption of other remedial measures. The use of the Act for the purpose of interfering in any way with the rights of private ownership beyond the limited powers given to the Corporation by it for the necessary protection of the public and the enforcement of proper sanitation is much to be deprecated. KHAGENDRA NATH MITTAL v DUTTA DEBA NARAYAN DUTTA (1910)

I L R 33 Calc. 296

Legal nuisance—Erect on of for e stable when a nuisance—Easements Act (I of 1882) s 15—Degrees of nuisance—Value of expert medical evidence in case of nuisance—Consideration of policy or abstract public rights outside the scope of inquiry—License from the Municipal Sanitary authorities for erection of stables = defence in an action for nuisance—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877)—Relief by injunction as well as damages—Plaintiffs suing as trustees interested in reversion and as residents—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O I R 1 Prior to the year 1903, the first plaintiff was absolutely entitled to and possessed of a piece of land with a house standing thereon situate at Thakurdwar Road Bombay. By an Indenture of Settlement dated the 12th of January 1903 the first plaintiff conveyed the said property to herself and her husband the second plaintiff upon trusts for the benefit of herself and her husband and their issue. The defendant was the lessee for a period of 21 years commencing from 1st of January 1911 of an open piece of land adjoining the property of the plaintiffs and situate on the eastern side thereof. The said piece of land was formerly used for many years and as the defendant alleged for nearly a century for tethering bullocks and keeping bullock carts up to the year 1908 when such user terminated. In October 1913 the defendant erected a block of stables parallel to the length of the plaintiffs house and at a distance of about 20 to 35 feet therefrom for the accommodation of 75 horses to which was added another block for the accommodation of 15 hack carriages. The plaintiffs complained that the stables erected by the defendant rendered their house uncomfortable and unhealthy and constituted a serious nuisance. They also alleged that in consequence of the nuisance the tenant on the first floor vacated the same and that the plaintiffs and their family suffered in health and were obliged to remove to another house. The plaintiffs sued in their double capacity as trustees interested in the reversion and as actual residents praying for a perpetual injunction to restrain the defendant from the continuance or repetition of the said nuisance and for damages in the sum of Rs 1221 for nuisance caused up to the date of the suit or in the alternative for a sum of Rs 15,000 as damages for the depreciation in value of the plaintiffs property by reason of the said nuisance. The defendant denied that the stables were a nuisance in law and pleaded without prejudice to his afore-said contention—(a) that the nuisance complained of had been acquired by him as an easement (b) that the stables were erected in accordance with the bye laws of the Bombay Municipality and the license of using them as stables was granted to him after the said premises were inspected and due inquiries made by the Municipal Commissioner and the Health Officer of Bombay and (c) that the plaintiffs were not entitled to sue in their double capacity. Held (i) that under the Indian Easements Act whatever easement may have been acquired by the owners of the land to cause a nuisance to the adjacent servient tenement by the tethering of bullocks on the vacant land admittedly came to an end in the year 1908 i.e. considerably more than two years before the nuisance complained of came into existence and before the date of the suit (ii) that the nuisance complained of by the plaintiffs was totally different from the nuisance which previously existed and on general principle the defence of easement could not be sustained (iii) that if the nuisance alleged it was no answer to say that the defendant had conformed to the latest requirements of the Municipal Sanitary authorities and had done everything in his power and taken all reasonable precautions to prevent its existence (iv) that the stables erected by the defendant, having regard to their size and their distance from their dwelling house of the plaintiffs constituted a nuisance (v) that having regard to the comprehensive language of O I R 1 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 there could not be any objection to the plaintiffs suing in their double capacity and that the plaintiffs were entitled to obtain relief by way of injunction and damages. A legal nuisance is rather an evasive shifting and intangible thing hard to be pinned down by a verbal definition. It must always be conditioned by time and place and circumstances and the Court shall have regard to the station in life of the plaintiff and his family and the locality and the nature of the nuisance complained of. Walter v Selfe & De G & Sm 315 322 and Sturges v Bridgman 11 Ch D 850 referred to. Where the nuisance was of the kind to injure the health or seriously imperil the life of those complaining of it the Court would not hesitate to prevent it by way of injunction but where the nuisance went no further than to diminish the comforts of human life there would always be a question whether the Court would proceed against him who causes that nuisance by injunction or compensate the sufferer in damages. In the absence of statutory enactments no general considerations of mere policy or rather abstract public rights can be allowed to prevail against what the law recognizes and always has recognised as the legal rights of the individual. The Attorney General v The Town Council of the Borough of Birmingham & W F 817 referred to. BAL BHAIJI & PEROSHAW JIVANJI (1915) I L R 40 Bom 401 — Sale of fish in railway shed—and its effects in prohibited quantities resulting in attraction of crowds impeding of business and rendering the place offensive—J N Highways Act (IX of 1890) s 190 (b) Where the Railway authorities prohibited the sale in their special delivery shed and its precincts of fish below certain quantities but the unauthorized sales went on and attracted large crowds obstructed the transaction of business for which the shed was intended impeded the removal of fish therefrom and more particularly rendered the place offensive. Held that such sales amounted to a nuisance and that the petitioners having persisted in contributing to it were guilty under s 120 (b) of the Railways Act (IX of 1890). DROKI SINGH & EMBERSON (1921) I L R 48 Cal 1042

NUISANCE—could

NUISANCE—could

NULLITY OF DECREE

See DECREE I L R 39 Bom. 11

NULLITY OF MARRIAGE

See DIVORCE I L R 48 Cal 283

NUMBERS

See TRADE NAME IMPROVEMENT OF I L R 41 Bom. 42

NUCLEO PRO TUNC

See AFFIDAVIT 14 C W N 750

O

OATH

See OATHS A 7

Prescription as to due administration—

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV of 1910) s 60

I L R 88 All 575

OATHS ACT (V OF 1840)

See CRIMINAL ACT (XIX OF 1841) ss 3 & 14

I L R 84 Bom 115

OATHS ACT (X OF 1873)

See PERS JUDICATA

I L R 36 Mad. 287

s. 4—

See CRIMINAL ACT XIX OF 1841

I L R 84 Bom 115

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDINGS

I L R 37 Cal 52

s. 5—

See WITNESSES I L R 45 Cal 720

ss 5, 6 & 13—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 406

Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 118—Evidence—Statement of witness not recorded on oath—Capacity of child of tender years to testify The fact that a Court has advisedly refrained from administering an oath to a witness is not sufficient by itself to render the statement of such witness inadmissible. But a Court should only examine a child of tender years as a witness after it has satisfied itself that the child is sufficiently developed intellectually to understand what it has seen and to afterwards inform the Court thereof and if the Court is so satisfied it is best that the Court should comply with the provisions of s 6 of the Indian Oaths Act in the case of a child just as in the case of any other witness. Queen Empress v Maru I L R 16 All 707 dissented from. EMPEROR v DRASTI PAM (1915) I L R 38 All 49

When in a trial for murder the Sessions Judge deliberately abstained from administering an oath or affirmation to the only eye witness to the murder on the ground that she was only 6 or 7 years of age held that the evidence was admissible. Queen Empress v Maru I L R 10 All 207. Queen Empress v Lal Sahai I L R 11 All 183 and Queen Empress v Virapurmal I L R 16 Mad 105 dissented from. In every case where a witness is competent within the meaning of s 118 of the Evidence Act 1872 the provisions of ss 5 and 6 of the Oaths Act 1873 should be complied with. The omission of the Judge to examine accused under s 342 of the Criminal Procedure Code after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined and before he is called on vitiate the trial. FATU SANTAL v THE KING EMPEROR 6 Pat L J 143 ss. 5 and 13—Evidence admissibility of where witness not sworn The evidence of two children aged eight and six years was admitted against an accused person without the children having been sworn or affirmed. Held that in view of s. 13 Indian Oaths Act the failure to

OATHS ACT (X OF 1873)—contd

ss 5 and 13—contd

administer oath or affirmation did not render the evidence inadmissible. Queen Empress v Virapurmal I L R 16 Mad 105 (PARKER J) followed. Queen Empress v Maru I L R 10 All 207 dissented from. Per CURRIAM s 5 of the Oaths Act is imperative and if a Court holds that a person may lawfully give evidence it is the duty of the Court to administer oath or affirmation to that witness. PERCHIA V ENKADU (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 550 ss 9 & 10—Principal and agent—

Agent holding power of attorney to conduct suit for principal—Power of agent to agree to suit being decided according to statement on oath of defendant A lady who was plaintiff in a suit gave to her husband a special power of attorney to conduct the case in her behalf as he should deem fit. He was authorized to compromise or withdraw the suit to refer it to arbitration and to nominate arbitrators and finally the plaintiff said that every step that he might take in the conduct of the case was to be considered as having been taken by herself. Held that the husband had power to take action under ss 8 & 9 and 10 of the Oaths Act 1873. Sadashiv Raygar v Maruthi Vishal I L R 14 Bom 455 dissented from. WASI UZ ZAMAN KHAN v FAIZA BIRI (1915) I L R 88 All 181 ss 9 & 11—Special oath—Inadmissibility of special oath in proceedings under s 14 and 15 of the Village Police Act (Bombay Act VIII of 1867) ss 9 to 11 of the Indian Oaths Act 1873 are not applicable to proceedings before a Village Police Patil under ss 14 and 15 of the Bombay Village Police Act 1867. Queen Empress v Murari Gokuldas (1888) 13 Bom. 389 followed. Per SHAH J. The proceedings before the Police Patil under ss 14 and 15 of the Village Police Act (VIII of 1867) are essentially criminal proceedings and the same rule which applies to criminal proceedings ought to apply on general grounds to proceedings before the Village Patil so far as the effect of any special oath is concerned. EMPEROR v CHIMAN (1900) I L R 45 Bom 86

s 13—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 406

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV of 1910) s 60

I L R 35 All 575

Omission to administer oath or affirmation Where in a case under s 304 Indian Penal Code a girl was examined as a witness without oath or affirmation the trial Judge being of opinion that she was too young to take oath or give affirmation. Held that on the authority of the Full Bench in Queen v Sarda Bhoyta 15 B L R 291 (F.B.) (1874) the omission to administer an oath or affirmation even if intentional would be cured by s 13 of the Oaths Act and the evidence of the child was admissible. KING EMPEROR v SASHI BHUSAN MAITY 23 C W N 787

s 13—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 406

See UNITED PROVINCES EXCISE ACT (IV of 1910) s 60

I L R 35 All 575

Omission to administer oath or affirmation Where in a case under s 304 Indian Penal Code a girl was examined as a witness without oath or affirmation the trial Judge being of opinion that she was too young to take oath or give affirmation. Held that on the authority of the Full Bench in Queen v Sarda Bhoyta 15 B L R 291 (F.B.) (1874) the omission to administer an oath or affirmation even if intentional would be cured by s 13 of the Oaths Act and the evidence of the child was admissible. KING EMPEROR v SASHI BHUSAN MAITY 23 C W N 787

s 13—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 406

See CIVIL P R 2—

1908 O XLI 39

See CROSS

OBLIGATION

See GIFT WITH OBLIGATION

I L R 42 Bom 93

OBSCENE PUBLICATION*Religious poem of spiritual and allegorical character based on an incident narrated in a sacred book of great antiquity and dealing with the acts of divine beings—Work not calculated to deprave or corrupt morals—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 292—Finding of facts*

The test of obscenity is whether the tendency of the matter charged as obscene is to deprave and corrupt those whose minds are open to such immoral influences and into whose hands such a publication might fall. It in fact the work is one which would certainly suggest to the minds of the young of either sex or even to persons of more advanced years thoughts of a most impure and libidinous character its publication is an offence though the accused has in view an ulterior object which is innocent or even laudable. Reg v H. M. L. R 3 Q B 360 Steele v Brannan L R 7 C P 261 Queen Empress v Parashram Ieshant I L R 20 Bom 193 Emperor v Hari Singh I L R 28 All 100 Empress v Indarman I L R 3 All 837 followed. A religious or classical work does not become obscene within s 292 of the Penal Code simply on account of its containing some objectionable passage because the tendency of such publications is not to deprave or corrupt morals. If objectionable passages in a religious book are extracted and printed separately and they deal with matters which are to be judged by the standard of human conduct as where they relate to immoral acts of human beings and the tendency of such publication is to deprave and corrupt those whose minds are open to immoral influences the publication may not be justified though the passages form part of a religious book. Where however a story which appears objectionable is taken from a religious book and printed separately but it relates to beings whose conduct is not to be judged by the standard of human beings it is not an obscene publication as it would not on account of its religious character raise immoral thoughts in the minds of persons who believe in the divinity of beings whose acts and conduct are described in the story. Where a poem was published in the Urya language containing a story complete in itself so far as it goes of the dalliances of Radha and Krishna who were described as divine personages and their acts as supernatural the latter being represented to be a boy of five taken from the Urya Haribans a very sacred book of the Uryas the incidents and sentiments being the same as and the language not more objectionable than that of the original and it was in itself an old religious book of a spiritual and allegorical character which had often been published and registered without exception taken and which was apparently intended for Hindus who form the vast majority of the Uryas and I believe in the divinity of Radha and Krishna and I do not consider their doings as immoral. Held that the publication was not obscene within the meaning of s 292 of the Penal Code. KHERODE CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY v EMPEROR (1911) I L R 39 Calc 377

OBSTRUCTION

See CALCUTTA POLICE ACT (BENG IV OF 1860) s 66 (4) 22 C. W. N 455

OBSTRUCTION—contd

See FUTURE I L R 48 Calc. 602

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad 6

See PENAL CODE—

Ss 114 283 I L R 85 Bom. 363

S 283 I L R 38 Mad 305

of Pathway—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 133 138 139 14 C W N 544

See PUBLIC PATHWAY

I L R 44 Calc 61

OCCUPANCY

See LAND REVENUE CODE BOMBAY—

Ss 56 214 I L R 36 Bom 91

S 74 I L R 41 Bom. 170

OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See ABANDONMENT II Pat. L J 225

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)—

Ss 11 et seq I L R 35 All. 474

S 20 I L R 32 All. 623

I L R 35 All. 405

I L R 40 All. 814

I L R 43 All. 547

S 20 (2) I L R 33 All. 186

I L R 37 All. 278

I L R 43 All. 547

S 21 I L R 33 All. 799

S 22 I L R 32 All. 314

I L R 34 All. 419

I L R 37 All. 7 888

I L R 38 All. 325

I L R 42 All. 663

E 34 I L R 40 All. 300

Ss 79 AND 95 I L R 35 All. 299

Ss 95 167 I L R 36 All. 48

See CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS.

I L R 35 All. 464

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XX

r 18 I L R 36 All. 461

See ESTOPPEL I L R 34 All. 533

I L R 39 Calc 513

See JURISDICTION (CIVIL AND REVENUE COURTS) I L R 42 All. 491

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 44 Calc 164

See MANDADARI TENURE I L R 34 All. 155

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 All. 539

See N W P RENT ACT (XVIII of 1873).

I L R 41 All. 356

See N W P RENT ACT (XII of 1881)

I L R 37 All. 444

S 9 I L R 39 All. 186

See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1898

ss 31 250 3 Pat. L J 351

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907) ss 10 36 43

I L R 39 All. 120

ss. 16 AND 18 I L R 43 Calc. 510

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contdSee RIGHT OF OCCUPANCYSee SUIT FOR CANCELLATION OF DOCUMENTS I L R 13 All 232

Occupant's right to cut trees

See FOREST ACT 1885

s. 5 I L R 45 Bom 111

transfer what amounts to recognition of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s. 86

1 Pat L J 414

transfer of a portion of—

See ENCUMBRANCE

I L R 46 Cal 591

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 43 Cal 878

transfer of whole—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s. 161

1 Pat L J 403

transfer of a portion without landlord's consent and subsequent surrender—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s. 23

100 II W N 727

position of insolvent tenant—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907

s. 16 & 58 I L R 43 All 510

1 ——— Mortgage—Suit by mortgagee—
Co sharer landlord who has purchased in execution of money decree if may question transferability of holding A co sharer landlord who has purchased an occupancy holding in execution of a decree of his own cannot resist a mortgagee's suit to enforce his mortgage on the holding on the ground that the holding was non transferable he himself being a purchaser without the landlord's consent taking the whole body of landlords Ayenuddin Nayya v Sriek Chandra Banerji 11 C B N 16 followed Achanulla Sarkar v Salemonessa Bibi 9 C B N 221 not followed HARO CHANDRA PODDER v UJESH CHANDRA BHATTACHARJEE (1908)

14 C W N 71

2 ——— Transfer—Recognition by landlord—Receipt of rent from transferee as agent of transferor—Acquisition of occupancy right by adverse possession The receipt by the landlord of rent from a transferee of a holding not on his own account but as an agent of the transferor is not a recognition of the transfer Nabakumar Deb v Behari Lal Sen 11 C W N 365 s. 1 L R 34 Cal 902 distinguished Khoddesam Chatterjee v Rookhnee Bostabee 15 W R 197 and Rasamoy Purkait v Srinath Moyra 7 C B N 137 referred to Case remanded for trial of the question whether the transferee had acquired the right to hold the land as an occupancy raiyat by possession as a raiyat for a period of 12 years and by assertion of his title as such DEBNARAIN DUTT v BAIDYA DATTA (MADAN) RAJIT (1909)

14 E W N 68

3 ——— Non transferability Question of if may be raised by assignee of holding pending mortgage suit—Consent of landlord obtained subsequently to filing written statement A purchaser of an occupancy holding from the raiyat after a decree for sale has been passed in favour of a

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

mortgagee of the holding but before sale there of is bound by the sale both because a mortgagor and consequently an assignee from him cannot be allowed to deny the mortgagee's title and also by reason of the operation of the rule of lis pendens The rule of lis pendens is applicable to proceedings to realise the mortgage after the decree for sale The purchaser cannot be allowed to raise the question of non transferability of the holding when in his written statement he stated that his purchase had not been recognised by the landlord by showing that such recognition on the part of the landlord has been subsequently obtained. An occupancy raiyat is estopped from setting up as between himself and a mortgagee of the holding the invalidity of the mortgage SHAYAMA CHARAN BHATTACHARYA v MOKHDA SUNDARI DEBI (1911)

15 C W N 703

4 ——— Transferability—Usage of how established—Usage should be proven up and not growing—Usage after it has grown up may apply to pre-existing tenancies—Bengal Tenancy Act (VII) of 1885) s. 50—Presumption if applies to suit to eject transferee of holding—Misconstruction of written evidence—Second appeal—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s. 100 In order to prove a custom or usage of transferability of occupancy holdings what is necessary to prove is that such transfers have been made to the knowledge and without the consent of the landlord and that they have been recognised by him either without the payment of nazar or upon payment of a nazar also fixed by custom. It is not necessary to prove that the landlord has actually made an objection to a transfer and has been unsuccessful. The usage to be effective must not be a growing usage but one which has already grown up. A usage of transferability after it has grown up affects not merely tenancies created thereafter but also existing tenancies. S. 50 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application in a suit for ejectment by the landlord on the allegation that the tenant of a non transferable holding has sold it to the defendant and has abandoned the land as such a suit is obviously not a suit or proceeding under the Bengal Tenancy Act. But even in cases where the section is not directly applicable the Court may act on a similar presumption if the facts justify the necessary inference. Although the misconstruction of a document which is the foundation of the suit or which is in the nature of a contract or a document of title is a ground for second appeal such appeal does not lie because some portion of the evidence is in writing and the Judge in the Court below makes a mistake as to the meaning of it BUTUL KARIM v SATIS CHANDRA GIRI (1911)

15 II W N 752

5 ——— Usufructuary mortgage by tenant—Tenant remaining on land as sub-lessee of portion of holding and paying rent—Abandonment—Ejectment The execution by a tenant of a mortgage of his non transferable occupancy holding does not by itself amount to an abandonment of the holding because it is only on the assumption that the tenancy continues in operation that the mortgagee can have any subsisting interest in the land. Aradhna Chandra Datta v Miran Dasgupta, 10 C B N 499 and Rank Lal Dutt v Bidhumukhi Das 10 C B N 19 4 C L J 306 referred to Where an occupancy raiyat executed a usufructuary mortgage of his holding but continued to pay rent to the landlord and remained in possession of a portion of the holding as a sub-

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

under the mortgagor Held that the landlord was not entitled to treat the raiyat as a trespasser and sue him in ejectment CHOWDHURY MAHADEO PERSHAD v SHEKH PACHKEPI (1911)

18 B W N 322

6 ——— Disposition by landlord of raiyat for two years—If extinguishes tenant's title—Limitation Act 1777 (XV of 1877) s 25—Bengal Tenancy Act (I of 1885) Sec 111 Art 3—Mortgage of holding to Government for agricultural loan—Sale under Public Demands Recovery Act (Beng I of 1895)—Interest which passes—Adverse possession against mortgagor if adverse to mortgagee. An occupancy raiyat borrowed money from Government for agricultural purposes on the security of his holding but having failed to pay up a certificate under the provisions of the Public Demands Recovery Act was issued for the realization of his debt and the holding was sold. Held that only the right title and interest of the raiyat passed under the sale as the Secretary of State for India in Council in adopting the procedure of the Public Demands Recovery Act which does not contemplate the realization of a security must be taken to have abandoned the security. That the Secretary of State for India in Council could enforce the security only by a regular suit. NANDA KULAB DEB v AJODHYA SAHU (1911)

16 C W N 351

7 ——— Sale in execution of decree—Consent of fractional landlord—Sale of legal. Where a decree holder's application for sale of an occupancy holding was granted to the extent of a 1/16 annas share upon the finding that co-sharer landlords to that extent had consented to the sale. Held that in the present state of authorities the order should be maintained the purchaser purchasing at his peril. SHAKARUDDIN CHOWDHURY v RANI HEMANGINI DAS (1911)

16 C W N 420

But see Post

18 C W N 814

2 Pat L J 530

8 ——— Mortgage by raiyat—Subsequent transfer to stranger—Collusive suit by landlord for ejectment and recovery of possession—Landlord if in possession under paramount title—Suit on mortgage—Landlord if necessary party—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 35. When it is found that a landlord obtained possession of an occupancy holding alleged to be non transferable by bringing a collusive suit for ejectment against a transferee from the raiyat. Held that in a suit by a mortgagee of the holding on his mortgage the landlord would be a proper party his possession of the holding resting on acquisition from the transferee and not on a paramount title. Jogendra Dutt v Bhuvan Mohan Mitra I L R 33 Cal 475 distinguished PANCHABAN GHOSH v MIR ABDUL MOLIK (1912)

16 B W N 920

9 ——— Transferability—Bengal Tenancy Act—(VIII of 1885)—Custom and usage proof of—Sale in execution of decree—Landlord's consent on receipt of nazarana. Where no arrears were as a rule paid to the zemindar and on payment of the nazar the purchaser was usually recognised by the landlord. Held that it was not evidence of any custom or usage by which an unwilling landlord was bound or evidence that the landlord was compelled to recognise the purchaser on payment of nazar whether he wished to do so or not

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

BHOGRATH CHANDRA MANDAL; SITAL CHANDRA SIKHAR (1912)

16 C W N 955

10 ——— Mortgage taken by landlord if evidence of transferability—Assignment of mortgage by landlord to another effect of—Assignment to purchaser of holding if recognition of the purchaser a tenancy. The fact of a landlord himself taking a mortgage of a non transferable holding is by itself no evidence of its transferability. Where however the landlord allowed a purchaser of the holding to take an assignment of his mortgage from him. Held that he was stopped from denying that the purchaser had acquired a valid title by his purchase. A mere assignment of the mortgage by the landlord to a third person by itself would not amount to anything more than a representation that the mortgage was valid and could be enforced against the joint. MAHESHI NARAIN POY v MAHARAJA BAHADUR SINGH (1912)

17 C W N 70

11 ——— Transfer—Acceptance of rent from transferee—if evidence of validity of transfer—Pleader scope of authority of. The acceptance of rent from the transferee of a non transferable occupancy holding not as transferee but as the agent or representative of the original tenant does not amount to a recognition of the validity of the transfer. Rhoderam Chatterjee v Buthnee Bostobee I S W R 197 Gour Lal v Bameshwar 6 B I R App 92 Wilson v Radhakrishnan 20 W N 63 Basamoy Purkait v Srinath Moyra 7 C W N 132 relied on Kurani Das v Sajani Kant 12 C W N 639 referred to Baroda Churn Dutt v Hemlata Das 13 C W N 333 Thomas Barslay v Hossein Ali Khan 6 C L J 601 Naba Kumari v Behary Lal 11 C W N 365 I L R 34 Cal 902 distinguished Dnyanjoy Roy v ATA FARMAN (1911)

17 C W N 166

12 ——— Transfer contrary to local usage of portion of holding, if constitutes forfeiture of tenancy—Surrender of portion of holding—Landlord's right to re enter that portion—Encumbrance created prior to surrender effect of. Where the entire holding of an occupancy raiyat has not been transferred contrary to local usage and custom it cannot be said that there has been a forfeiture of the tenancy. Rai Kamalewar Persad Singh Bahadur v Maharaja Harbulla Naran Singh Bahadur 2 C L J 369 followed. Where a raiyat surrenders a portion of his holding to the landlord the landlord is entitled to re enter the portion notwithstanding any subordinate rights which the raiyat may have created upon the particular portion and the mere fact that the landlord was aware of the encumbrance created by the raiyat can not take away his right of re entry. Badan Chandra Das v Rajeshwari Debya 2 C L J 670 and Rajendra Kishore Adhikari v Chandra Anil Dutt 12 C W N 878 referred to Gagan Chandra Choudhury v Alak Chand Saha (1913)

17 C W N 699

13 ——— Abandonment—If question of fact—Usufructuary mortgage—Raiyat if necessary party in suit to recover from transferee. Where an occupancy raiyat mortgaged his non transferable occupancy holding by way of an usufructuary mortgage for a certain number of years and the mortgagees continued in possession of the land through their burgadar even after the expiry of the term and the lower Appellate Court found that the raiyat did not live in the village and had cut off connection with the holding. Held that the evidence amounted to holding that the raiyat had abandoned the jama. The mere execution of an usufructuary mortgage might not be sufficient to establish abandonment whether there has been alienation of a holding or not is principally a question of fact. The conditions prescribed by s. 8 of the Bengal Tenancy Act do not preclude a landlord from entering upon a land abandoned by tenant. The raiyat was not a necessary party to a suit to recover a non transferable holding from the transferees thereof nor would he be bound by the decree in the suit. MOHAR LAL v. ANANTA MOHAR DAS (1913) 17 C W N 802

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—cont'd

14 ——— Transfer of portion without landlord's consent.—Surrender by original raiyat to landlord.—Landlord if raiyat eject transferee.—Abandonment. After the sale by an occupancy raiyat of a portion of his holding the raiyat may surrender that portion or the whole of the holding to his landlord and s. 87 cl. (7) of the Bengal Tenancy Act is no bar to the landlord accepting the surrender as the interest if any of the transferee which the landlord is not bound to recognise is not an incumbrance. Upon such surrender the landlord may sue to eject the transferee as a trespasser. Kabir Sardar v. Chandra Nath 1 L R 20 Calc 590 distinguished. The remedy of the transferee if any is against his vendor. RAMONI MOHAR RAY v. BHUTIKH KALIMUDDIN (1912) 17 C W N 1101

15 ——— Transfer by tenant of whole.—Landlord's right to eject transferee.—Disclaimer by original tenant if must be proved.—Original tenant if necessary party.—Custom of transferability.—Nazar pajm nt. In order to entitle a landlord to eject a transferee of the whole of a non transferable raiyat's holding it is not necessary for him to prove as a fact that the raiyat has left the holding and disclaims any interest in it. It is a direct inference from the fact that he has sold the entire holding and given possession of it to the purchaser and distinct repudiation or refusal to pay rent need not be proved. Unless the nazar is fixed by custom the landlord is not bound to recognise a transfer upon payment of nazar. Das Lal Karim v. Satish Chandra Giri 15 C W N 757 756 referred to. In a suit by the landlord to eject a transferee of a non transferable holding the transferor is not a necessary party. CHAND PRAMANIK v. POMONY MOHAR PATE (1912) 17 C W N 1105

16 ——— Non transferable occupancy holding whether devisable by will.—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s. 76 178 sub s. (3) cl. (d).—Heir if estopped by testator as claimant of inheritance under the statute. A non transferable occupancy holding cannot be the subject of a valid testamentary disposition. In the case of a testamentary devise of such a holding the heir at law is not debarred by the doctrine of estoppel from questioning its validity. Hari Das Bauragi v. Uday Chandra Das 12 C W N 1056 8 C L J 261 not followed. ANILYA RATAN SIRCAR v. TABIRI NATH DEB (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 254 18 C W N 1290

17 ——— Not transferable by custom or local usage. It can be sold wholly or partially in execution by co sharer landlord.—When raiyat objects to sale. A co sharer landlord is not entitled to sell the whole or part of an occupancy holding not transferable by custom or local usage in execution of a decree obtained for his share of rent when the raiyat objects to the sale. The Full Bench decision in Dayamoyi Das v. Annad v. Mohan Roy 18 C W N 971 by implication holds that the raiyat is entitled to have a sale of the holding in execution of a money decree set aside after it takes place and that the holding cannot be sold in execution of such a decree when the raiyat objects to the sale before it takes place. This view is in accord with the cases of Durga Churn Mandal v. Kali Prasanna Sircar 1 L R 26 Calc 77 s. 3 C W N 586 Sadagar Birkar v. Krishna Chandra Nath 3 C W N 742 and Sleikh Jaisp v. Ram Kumar De 3 C W N 747. The principle deducible from the Full Bench decision is applicable to an involuntary transfer of the whole as well as of a part of the holding. BADRAN NESSA CHOUDHRANI v. ALAM GAZI (1915) 19 C W N 814

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—cont'd

18 ——— Revenue Sale Law 1859 s. 37.—Occupancy raiyats at fixed rates.—Purchases.—Doctrine of protection.—Its extension. The protection of occupancy raiyats at fixed rates referred to in s. 37 of the Revenue Sale Law (Act XI of 1859) is not one of the ordinary exceptions in that section. It is a proviso expressing the determination of the Legislature that no purchaser shall disturb any of the permanent tenants on the land who are in actual occupation of the soil and are cultivating it. This doctrine of protection has recently been extended to ordinary occupancy raiyats. Sarat Chandra Roy v. Arman Bibi 1 L R 31 Calc 725 referred to. Bhut Nath Das v. Surendra Nath Dutt 13 C W N 1025 distinguished. ABDUL GANI CHOWDHURY v. MAHABUL ALI (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 745

19 ——— Transferability of part or whole.—Consent of landlord.—Operation of transfer as against raiyat landlord and other persons.—Civil Procedure Code (Act XI) of 1852 s. 244.—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s. 87. In transfers for value of occupancy holdings apart from custom or local usage (i) The transfer of the whole or a part is operative against the raiyat.—(a) Where it is made voluntarily (b) where it is made involuntarily and the raiyat with knowledge fails or omits to have the sale set aside. A sale is made involuntarily where it is in execution of a money decree but not of a decree founded on a mortgage or charge voluntarily made. (ii) The transfer is operative as against the landlord in all cases in which it is operative against the raiyat provided the landlord has given his previous or subsequent consent. Where the transfer is a sale of the whole holding the landlord in the absence of his consent is ordinarily entitled to enter on the holding but where the transfer is of a part only of the holding or not by way of sale the landlord though he is not consented is not ordinarily entitled to recover possession of the holding unless there has been (i) an abandonment within the meaning of s. 8 of the Bengal Tenancy Act or (b) a relinquishment of the holding or (c) a repudiation of the tenancy. Whether there has been a relinquishment or repudiation or not depends on the substantial effect of what has been done in each case. (iii) The transfer of the whole or a part is operative as against all other persons where it is operative against the raiyat. DAYAMAL v. ANANTA MOHAR ROY CHOWDHURY (1914) 1 L R 42 Calc 172 18 C W N 871

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

19 (a) ——— Ejectment—Notice to quit
—The rayats of certain lands in dispute executed a mortgage of their lands and put the mortgagee in possession. Subsequently the mortgagee settled the land with the under rayats. The superior landlord then brought a suit for rent against his rayats and purchased the holding at a sale for arrears of rent. Thereafter the landlord sold permanent rayati to one Meajan who after having taken a lease from the landlord and redeemed the mortgage sold the same to the present Plaintiffs who brought a suit to eject the under rayats. Held that the occupancy still continued to exist after the sale but there had been due notice to quit given. YAKUB ALI v MEJAN

I L R 43 Cal 164

20 ——— Receipt of rent by landlord from mortgagee of—Effect of—Recognition. Receipt by the landlord of an occupancy holding with or without protest of rent deposited by the mortgagee as such is a recognition of the rights of the mortgagee and the landlord cannot evict the mortgagee as a trespasser. MATOOKDHARISHEKUL v JUDIP NANAIN SINGH (1914)

19 C W N 1319

21 ——— Rights of as to possession against landlord. Plaintiffs Nos 2 and 3 were tenants in respect of one half only of an occupancy holding which was not transferable and the plaintiff No 1 purchased their interest. Held that the plaintiff as purchaser of a share of an occupancy holding was entitled to possession even as against the landlord who had no right to take possession of the property. PURNA CHANDRA TRIVEDI v CHANDRA MOUNT DASGI (1910)

20 C W N 588

22 ——— Non transferable—Sale by landlord in execution of rent decree—Under Civil Procedure Code prevented by deposit by purchaser from registered tenant—Withdrawal of deposit by landlord is amount to recognition of purchaser as tenant. Prior to the passing of the Bengal Tenancy (Amending) Act of 1907 a co sharer landlord obtained a decree for rent against the registered tenant of a non transferable occupancy holding in favour of himself and his other co sharer. He took out execution under the Civil Procedure Code and not under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The plaintiff who had purchased the holding in execution of a money decree against the registered tenant deposited the decretal amount in Court for payment to the decree holder landlord alleging in his petition that he had acquired a right to the holding by purchase and that he made the deposit to protect his right and reserved his right to realise the amount deposited by him from the former tenant or his heir as the tenants of the holding. The decree was thereupon treated as satisfied and the attachment was withdrawn and the amount deposited was withdrawn by the landlord. Held that upon such deposit the landlord could not as in a case under the Bengal Tenancy Act contest the right of the purchaser to make the deposit and the withdrawal of the deposit did not amount to a recognition of the purchaser by the landlord. Thomas Barclay v S v Hossain Ali Khan GO L J 601 and Aahira B v Ray v Fulmani Das: 14 O L J 338 391 ditto in bel. SURENDRA NARAIN MAHATA v JAGAL KISHORE GHOSH (1916)

20 C W N 849

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

23. ——— Non transferable—Whether fresh settlement holder required to serve notice on under-rayat after ejectment of transferee—By landlord—Notice—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 49 cl (b). Where a person has obtained settlement of a holding from the superior landlord after the latter had ejected the transferee of the occupancy rayat from the said holding as it was not transferable he was not required to serve a notice to quit on the under rayat under s 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act in his suit for ejectment. Nilkanta Chak v Ghatoo Sheikh 4 O W N 667 and Badan v Pajeswari 3 O L J 570 followed. Lal Mahomed Sarkar v Jagir Sheikh 13 O W N 913 Amirullah Wahom d v Nazir Mahomed 1 L R 31 Cal 93 Amirullah Mahomed v Nazir Mahomed 1 L R 34 Cal 104 and Rajkumath Singh v William Cor 19 C W N 263 distinguished. JADAB SARDAR v GOBINDA CHANDRA MANDAL (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 272

24 ——— Hindu Joint Family—Occupancy holding held under joint family not transferable without landlord's consent—Power of karta to recognise transfer. The karta of a joint Hindu family has authority to consent on behalf of the joint family to the transfer of an occupancy holding held by the tenants under the joint family as landlords and not transferable without their consent duly given by themselves or on their behalf. GOLAFDI MEAH v PURNO CHANDRA DUTTA (1917)

21 C W N 774

25 ——— Attachment—Objection of rayats—Consent of landlords. A non transferable occupancy holding or a part of it cannot be sold in execution of a decree for money obtained against the rayat when the rayat objects to the sale on the ground of non transferability even if the landlords give their consent to the sale. The above rule does not as expressly laid down by the Full Bench in Dayamayi v Ananda Mohan Poy Chau dhuri 1 L R 42 Cal 172 18 C W N 971 apply to a sale held in execution of a decree founded on a mortgage or charge voluntarily made by the rayat. Balrannessa Choudhary v Nam Gazi 19 O W N 814 referred to. Ananda Das v Purna Lar Panda 7 O W N 572 Shalaruddin Choudhary v Rani Hemangini Das 16 O W N 490 commented on. NABAYANTI NABIN CHANDRA CHAUDHURI (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 720

26 ——— Gift—Validity of—Revocation of gift—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1885) ss 122 123 126. In cases of transfer by gift of occupancy holdings the question of transferability cannot be raised by the heir of the donor to the prejudice of the donee or his representative in interest. Rahim Jan Bibi v Imam Jan 17 O L J 173 referred to. Where a gift duly registered and executed is not suspended or made revocable on the happening of any specified event or in any of the cases (save want or failure of consideration) in which, if it were a contract it might be rescinded as provided for in s 126 of the Transfer of Property Act II cannot be maintained that the property comprised in such gift continued to form part of the estate of the donor. The property ceased to be part of the donor's estate and the heir did not succeed thereto by right of inheritance. In cases of transfers for value the title passes from the transferor to the transferee although the validity of the transfer is liable to be questioned by the landlord who is not a party to the transaction and may possibly refuse to recognise the transfer. Divanji v Anand Mohan Poy Chowdhury 1 L R 47 Cal 112 followed. Waters v Beauvoir 1 Vern 101 referred to. Misroy v Lord 4 D 3 F & J 261. Richards v Debridge L R 18 E 11. Amulja Ratan Sircar v Tarini Nath Dey 1 L R 42 Cal 351 distinguished. BEHARI LAL GUPTA v SINDHUBALA DAS (1917) 22 C W N 474

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

1 L R 45 Cal 434

27 ——— Part of holding bequest of—if valid—Principle of estoppel and waiver or a quiet title applies The testamentary disposition of a part of a non transferable occupancy holding like that of the whole holding is invalid and was so held in a suit by the devisee against the rayat's heir at law. UNESH CHANDRA DUTTA v JOY NATH DAS (1917) 22 C W N 474

28 ——— Custom of payment of nazar—In order to establish a custom of transferability subject to the payment of a customary nazar the evidence must show that the landlord is bound to recognise when nazar of the amount or at the rate determined by custom is tendered to him. A practice or course of business in a zemindary office according to which a transfer is recognised provided that the amount of the nazar is satisfactory to the landlord is not sufficient. The payment of nazar without more is an indication that the rayat is not transferable without the landlord's consent given on receipt of the nazar. A custom which leaves the amount or rate of nazar indeterminate must be void for uncertainty. MIRZA HUMAIRA v JOCHHAMOYEE CHAUDHURY RAY (1918) 22 C W N 929

29 ——— Gomasta's power to sanction transfer—In order to rely on a receipt granted by a landlord's Gomasta as evidence of recognition by the landlord of a transfer of a holding it is necessary for the transferee to show that the Gomasta's duties actually or ostensibly included at least some of the duties of management. JANKI SAHU v TRAKUR RAO BAHADUR SINGH 2 Pat L J 231

30 ——— Purchaser of non transferable occupancy holding whether entitled to object to sale of holding—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) s 47 and O XXI r 100 The purchaser of the whole or part of an occupancy holding not transferable by custom is a representative of the judgment debtor and entitled to object under s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to a sale of the holding in execution of a decree for rent. He is therefore not entitled to maintain proceedings under O XXI r 100. PANCHABATAN HOCHRI v RAM SAGAY SINGH 3 Pat L J 579

31 ——— Transferability—A 10 anna landlord cannot sell his rayat's occupancy holding in execution of a money decree unless the rayat's occupancy holding is transferable by usage. MACE PATERSON v DEBIBHUSAN LAL 2 Pat L J 530

32 ——— Transferability of, in execution of money decree—Bengal Tenancy Act (I B & O Act II of 1913) s 31 (4) An occupancy tenant in possession is entitled to object to the sale of his holding in execution of a money decree on the ground that the holding is not transferable without the consent of the landlord. MAHMOUD PADHAN v JAGU JEV 4 Pat L J 294

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

33 ——— Transfer of portion of non transferable—Collusive rent suit between landlord and transferor—Deposit of transferee—Suit to set aside fraudulent decree and for recovery of deposit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 170 (3)—Principles governing transfers of non transferable holdings—Fraud The recorded tenant of a non transferable occupancy holding sold a portion of his holding. Subsequently the landlord brought a collusive suit for rent against the transferor and obtained a decree. The transferee deposited the decretal amount and so is under s 170 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and the deposit was withdrawn by the landlord. In a suit by the transferee to set aside the decree and for recovery of the amount withdrawn. Held (1) that at the time of the deposit it had not been finally decided that the transferee of a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding is not entitled to make deposit under s 170 (3) the plaintiff was justified in adopting the only course at that time open to him to save the holding from sale and the suit was maintainable although there was no privity of contract between the parties. (2) That the deposit should be considered as money paid under terror of inceptive legal proceedings fraudulently directed against the transferee and as such recoverable. (3) That the decree obtained against the recorded tenant was void not only against the latter but was a nullity. (4) That in such a case irrespective of a deposit if the transferee has suffered actual damage by an unlawful infringement of his legal rights the suit would be maintainable. The following principles govern the transfer of the whole or a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding—(a) Where the transfer is a sale of the whole holding the landlord is ordinarily entitled to enter on the holding. (i) (a) Where the transfer is otherwise than by sale of the whole holding and (b) Where the transfer is a part only of the holding whether by sale or otherwise the landlord is not ordinarily entitled to recover possession unless there has been an abandonment within the meaning of s 87 of the Bengal Tenancy Act or a repudiation of the tenancy. (ii) The transferee of a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding has certain interests and legal rights which for certain purposes are limited by the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act read with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. (iii) All such transferees have irrespective of the Bengal Tenancy Act and altogether dehors that Act certain legal rights which if infringe the Common Law of the land will not be powerless to protect in appropriate cases. (iv) One of such rights is the right to possession. (v) The transferee has even against the landlord until abandonment relinquishment or repudiation take place. (vi) The Common Law imposes an obligation on the landlord to refrain from extinguishing the rights of the transferee by committing a tortious act in conspiracy with a third person. If this obligation is not observed and damage to the transferee results the Common Law may be invoked to indicate the latter's rights. (vii) The period at which damage accrues may vary in different cases but as soon as it does accrue the transferee may immediately institute a suit to attack all fraudulent proceedings between the landlord

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

19 (a) ————— Ejectment—Notice to quit—The rayats of certain lands in dispute executed a mortgage of their lands and put the mortgagee in possession. Subsequently the mortgagee settled the land with the under rayats. The superior land lord then brought a suit for rent against his rayats and purchased the holding at a sale for arrears of rent. Thereafter the landlord sold permanent rayats to one Meajan who after having taken a lease from the landlord and redeemed the mortgage sold the same to the present Plaintiffs who brought a suit to eject the under rayats. Held that the occupancy still continued to exist after the sale but there had been due notice to quit given. YAKUB ALI v MEAJAN

I L R 43 Cal 164

20 ————— Receipt of rent by landlord from mortgagee of—Effect of—Recognition. Receipt by the landlord of an occupancy holding with or without protest of rent deposited by the mortgagee as such is a recognition of the rights of the mortgagee and the landlord cannot evict the mortgagee as a trespasser. NAROCKHAPISHEKUL v JUDIP NANAIN SINGH (1914)

12 C W N 1319

21 ————— Non transferable—Purchaser of share—Rights of as to possession against landlord. Plaintiffs Nos 2 and 3 were tenants in respect of one half only of an occupancy holding which was not transferable and the plaintiff No 1 purchased their interest. Held that the plaintiff as purchaser of a share of an occupancy holding was entitled to possession even as against the landlord who had no right to take possession of the property. PURNA CHANDRA TAYLOR v CHANDRA MORINI DAS (1916)

20 C W N 588

22 ————— Non transferable—Sale by landlord in execution of rent decree—Under Civil Procedure Code presented by deposit by purchaser from registered tenant—Withdrawal of deposit by landlord if amounts to recognition of purchaser as tenant. Prior to the passing of the Bengal Tenancy (Amending) Act of 1907 a co sharer landlord obtained a decree for rent against the registered tenant of a non transferable occupancy holding in favour of himself and his other co sharer. He took out execution under the Civil Procedure Code and not under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The plaintiff who had purchased the holding in execution of a money decree against the registered tenant deposited the decretal amount in Court for payment to the decree holder landlord alleging in his petition that he had acquired a right to the holding by purchase and that he made the deposit to protect his right and reserved his right to realise the amount deposited by him from the former tenant or his heir as the tenants of the holding. The decree was thereupon treated as satisfied and the attachment was withdrawn and the amount deposited was withdrawn by the landlord. Held that upon such deposit the landlord could not as in a case under the Bengal Tenancy Act contest the right of the purchaser to make the deposit and the withdrawal of the deposit did not amount to a recognition of the purchaser by the landlord. Thomas Barclay v Hossain Ali Khan 60 C L J 601 and Ali, B. v. P. v. Fulvanti Das 14 C L J 333 391 distinguished. SURENDRA NARAYAN MAHAJI v JAGAL KISHORE GHOSH (1916) 20 C W N 849

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

23. ————— Non-transferable—Whether fresh settlement holder required to serve notice on under-rayat after ejectment of transferee—By landlord—Notice—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 49 cl (b). Where a person has obtained settlement of a holding from the superior landlord after the latter had ejected the transferee of the occupancy rayat from the said holding as it was not transferable he is not required to serve a notice to quit on the under rayat under s 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act in his suit for ejectment. Nilkanta Chak v Ghatoo Sherkh 40 W N 667, and Badan v Rajeswari 2 C L J 570 followed. Lal Mahomed Sarkar v Jagir Sherkh 13 C W N 913 Amrullah Mahomed v Vazir Mahomed I L R 31 Cal 937 Amrullah Mahomed v Na ir Mahomed I L R 31 Cal 104 and Paghwanath Singh v William Cox 19 C W N 263 distinguished. JADAB SARDAR v GORINDA CHANDRA MANDAI (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 272

24 ————— Hindu Joint Family—Occupancy holding held under joint family not transferable without landlord's consent—Power of karta to recognise transfer. The karta of a joint Hindu family has authority to consent on behalf of the joint family to the transfer of an occupancy holding held by the tenants under the joint family as landlords and not transferable without their consent duly given by themselves or on their behalf. GOLAFDI MEAH v PURNO CHANDRA DUTTA (1917)

21 C W N 774

25 ————— Attachment—Objection of rayats—Consent of landlords. A non transferable occupancy holding or a part of it cannot be sold in execution of a decree for money obtained against the rayat when the rayat objects to the sale on the ground of non transferability even if the landlords give their consent to the sale. The above rule does not as expressly laid down by the Full Bench in Dayamayi v Ananda Mohan Poy Chau dhuri I L R 42 Cal 172 180 W N 971 apply to a sale held in execution of a decree founded on a mortgage or charge voluntarily made by the rayat. Bairamessa Ghoudhrani v Alam Gazi 19 C W N 814 referred to. Ananda Das v Rao Far Panda 70 W N 572 Shalruddin Ghoudhry v Rani Hemangini Das 16 C W N 420 commented on. NARAYAN NARIN CHANDRA CHAUDHURI (1916)

I L R 44 Cal 720

26 ————— Gift validity of—Revocation of gift—Transfer of property Act (18 of 1882) ss 123 126. In cases of transfer by gift of occupancy holdings the question of transferability cannot be raised by the heir of the donor to the prejudice of the donee or his representative in interest. Rahim Jan Bibi v Imam Jan 17 C L J 173 referred to. Where a gift duly registered and executed is not suspended or made revocable on the happening of any specified event or in any of the cases (save want or failure of consideration) in which if it were a contract it might be rescinded as provided for in s 126 of the Transfer of Property Act it cannot be maintained that the property comprised in such gift continued to form part of the estate of the donor. The property ceased to be part of the donor's estate and the heir did not succeed thereto by right of inheritance. In cases of transfers for value the title passes from the transferor to the transferee although the validity

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

o the transfer is liable to be questioned by the transferee who is not a party to the transaction and may possibly refuse to recognise the transfer. Divyansu v Anand Mohan Poy Chowikury 1 L R 43 Cal 123 followed Yillers v Beamant 1 Fern 101 referred to Mitro v Lord 4 D 3 F t J 261 Richards v Debridge L R 18 E 11 Amulga Ratan Sircar v Tarini Nath Dey 1 L R 42 Cal 234 distinguish d BEHARI LAL GUPTA v SINDHUBALA DAS (1917) 1 L R 33 Cal 434

27 ——— Part of holding bequest of—If valid—Principle of estoppel and want of acquiescence if applies. The testamentary disposition of a part of a non transferable occupancy holding like that of the whole holding is invalid and it was so held in a suit by the devisee against the rayats heir at law UMESH CHANDRA DUTTA v JOY NATH DAS (1917) 22 C. W. N 474

28 ——— Custom of payment of nazar—In order to establish a custom of transferability subject to the payment of a customary nazar the evidence must show that the landlord is bound to recognise when nazar of the amount or at the rate determined by custom is tendered to him. A practice or course of business in a zemindari office according to which a transferee is recognised provided that the amount of the nazar is satisfactory to the landlord is not sufficient. The payment of nazar without more is an indication that the jotes are not transferable without the landlord's consent given on receipt of the nazar. A custom which leaves the amount or rate of nazar indefinite must be void for uncertainty. MINA KUMARI v ISCHHAMOYEE CHAUDHURY (1918) 22 C. W. N 929

29 ——— Gomasta's power to sanction transfer—In order to rely on a receipt granted by a landlord's Gomasta as evidence of recognition by the landlord of a transfer of a holding it is necessary for the transferee to show that the Gomasta's duties actually or ostensibly included at least some of the duties of management. JANKI SAHU v TRAKUR PAW BANADUR SINGH 2 Pat L J 231

30 ——— Purchaser of non transferable occupancy holding whether entitled to object to sale of holding—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) s 47 and O XXI r 100. The purchaser of the whole or part of an occupancy holding not transferable by custom is a representative of the judgment debtor and entitled to object under s 47 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 to a sale of the holding in execution of a decree for rent. He is therefore not entitled to maintain proceedings under O XXI r 100. PANCHARATAN HOSSAIN v PAM SAHAY SINGH 3 Pat L J 579

31 ——— Transferability—A 16 anna landlord cannot sell his rayat's occupancy holding in execution of a money decree unless the rayat's occupancy holding is transferable by usage. MAC PHERSON v DESHMUKH LAL 3 Pat L J 530

32 ——— Transferability of, in execution of money decree—Orissa Tenancy Act (B d O Act II of 1913) s 31(f). An occupancy tenant in Orissa is entitled to object to the sale of his holding in execution of a money decree on the ground that the holding is not transferable without the consent of the landlord. MADHU PADHAN v JAGU JEV 4 Pat L J 294

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

33 ——— Transfer of portion of non-transferable—Collusive rent suit between landlord and transferee—Deposit of transferee—Suit to set aside fraudulent decree and for recovery of deposit—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 170 (3)—Principles governing transfers of non transferable holdings—Frau? The recorded tenant of a non transferable occupancy holding sold a portion of his holding. Subsequently the landlord brought a collusive suit for rent against the transferee and obtained a decree. The transferee deposited the decretal amount and costs under s 170 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and the deposit was withdrawn by the landlord. In a suit by the transferee to set aside the decree and for recovery of the amount withdrawn. Held (1) that at the time of the deposit it had not been finally decided that the transferee of a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding is not entitled to make deposit under s 170 (3) the plaintiff was justified in adopting the only course at that time open to him to save the holding from sale and the suit was maintainable although there was no privity of contract between the parties. (2) That the deposit should be considered as money paid under terror of inceptive legal proceedings fraudulently directed against the transferee and as such recoverable. (3) That the decree obtained against the recorded tenant was void not only against the latter but was a nullity. (4) That in such a case irrespective of a deposit if the transferee has suffered actual damage by an unlawful infringement of his legal rights the suit would be maintainable. The following principles govern the transfer of the whole or a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding—(i) Where the transfer is a sale of the whole holding the landlord is ordinarily entitled to enter on the holding. (ii) (a) Where the transfer is otherwise than by sale of the whole holding and (b) Where the transfer is a part only of the holding whether by sale or otherwise the landlord is not ordinarily entitled to recover possession unless there has been an abandonment within the meaning of s 87 of the Bengal Tenancy Act or a repudiation of the tenancy. (iii) The transferee of a portion of a non transferable occupancy holding has certain interests and legal rights which for certain purposes are limited by the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act read with the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. (iv) All such transferees have irrespective of the Bengal Tenancy Act and altogether dehors that Act certain legal rights which if infringed the Common Law of the land will be powerless to protect in appropriate cases. (i) One of such rights is the right to possession which the transferee has even against the landlord until abandonment relinquishment or repudiation takes place. (ii) The Common Law imposes an obligation on the landlord to refrain from extinguishing the rights of the transferee by committing a tortious act in conspiracy with a third person. If this obligation is not observed and damage to the transferee results the Common Law may be invoked to vindicate the latter's rights. (iii) The period at which damage accrues may vary in different cases but as soon as it does accrue the transferee may immediately institute a suit to attack all fraudulent proceedings between the land lord and the recorded tenant. Where a person or body of persons inflicts actual damage upon another by the intentional employment of unlawful means even though such unlawful means may not comprise an act which is per se actionable then such person or body of persons commits an actionable wrong. Even honest or disinterested motives cannot justify the employment of illegal means. A fortiori where it is found that the motives were dishonest and fraudulent the wrong is actionable.

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—contd

ASAFI SINGH v. RAMKHELANA SINGH

4 Pat L J 115

34 ——— Purchase of, by thikedar effect of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s. 22 (3)—Mesne profits power of court to reduce rate agreed upon by parties. A thikdar was not debarred from acquiring occupancy rights by purchase during the period of his thika prior to the amendment of s. 22 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 and that section does not prevent him from acquiring occupancy rights by purchase after the period of his lease has expired. Where a thikedar purchases an occupancy holding during the period of his lease he becomes a non occupancy raiyat in respect to the holding purchased and a suit to eject him must be brought within the period of limitation prescribed by sch. III to the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885. Where a lease contains a stipulation that the lessee shall pay mesne profits at a particular rate on failure to give up the lands which form the subject matter of the lease on the expiry of the period for which it is granted the court has power to alter the rate agreed upon.

JOHN PIERPONT MORGAN v. BABU PAMJER PAM

5 Pat L J 302

35 ——— Transferability—Custom of—An occupancy raiyat in a village where no custom of transferability without consent of landlord exists can object to the sale of his holding by an execution creditor who is not his landlord. On an execution sale of portion of holding remainder becomes an entire holding and on its sale it is the sale of an entire holding not a portion only. Where a portion of a holding has been sold in execution of a mortgage decree the tenant is not estopped for denying the existence of the custom of transferability in the case of a sale of the remainder under a money decree.

DEWAN RAM CHOUDHURY v. ATUL MUNDER

11 Pat L J 203

36 ——— Abandonment—relat amounts to—Where a tenant having a non transferable right of occupancy sells such right to a third person and having obtained a sub lease from the purchaser remains in possession of the land and cultivates it the landlord (in the absence of repudiation by the tenant of his relation to the landlord as such) is not entitled to recover possession inasmuch as it does not amount to abandonment.

SIRPUNNESSA BIR v. PAMDER PAM

24 C W N 117

37 ——— Transferability—Whether occupancy holding not transferable by usage or custom can be sold in execution of sol. landlord's money-decree—See 11 Pat L J 115. Appl. Cal. and limitations of The sol. landlord of a raiyat is competent to a II in execution of a money decree against the raiyat his occupancy holding even though the holding may be non transferable by usage or custom.

Bhram II Shail Shikdar v.

OCCUPANCY HOLDING—concld

Gopi Kanth Shaha I L R 24 Calc 355 overruled Durga Charan Mandal v. Kali Prasanna Sarkar I L R 26 Calc 727 Sadagar Sycar v. Krishna Chandra Nath I L R 26 Calc 937 Mayed Hossein v. Paghubur Choudhury I L R 27 Calc 187 Gahar Khalupa Bipari v. Kasi Muddi Jamadar I L R 27 Calc 415 Sita Nath Chatterjee v. Atma ram Kar 4 C W N 571 Murulla v. Burulla 9 C W N 972 and Khoda Buz v. Sadu Pramanick 14 C L J 620 commented on Macpherson v. Debibhusan Lal 2 P L J 530 dissented from Narayan v. Nabin Chandra Chaudhuri I L R 44 Calc 720 referred to Ananda Das v. Ruinakar Panda 7 C W N 572 Shakaruddin Choudry v. Hemangini Das 16 C W N 420 and Dwarikanath Pal v. Tarini Sankar Ray I L R 43 Calc 199 approved. The transfer for value of the whole or a part of an occupancy holding apart from custom or local usage is operative as against the raiyat whether it is made voluntarily or involuntarily. Authorities reviewed at length CHANDRA BHADRA HUNDU v. ALA BUX DEWAN (1920)

I L R 48 Calc 184
24 C W N 818

38 ——— Mortgage—Collateral covenant for the protection of a mortgage of occupancy holdings not enforceable. Certain occupancy holdings were mortgaged usufructually with a covenant that if the mortgagor failed to pay or if the mortgagees were dispossessed from the property mortgaged they would be entitled to recover the mortgage money by sale of certain other property of the mortgagor. Held on suit brought on this covenant by the mortgagees after dispossession that the mortgage of the occupancy holdings being itself illegal the covenant fell with it and the plaintiffs could not recover. Ram Pratap Rai v. Ram Phal Teli 18 Indian Cases 9 and Pooran Singh v. Jai Singh 17 Indian Cases 622 referred to. Bajrang Lal v. Ghura Pasi I L R 35 All 237 and Rajendra Prasad v. Ram Jalan Rai I L R 39 All 39 distinguished. TULSHI PAM v. SAT NARAYAN

I L R 43 All. 11

OCCUPANCY RAIYAT

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT 1898 s. 35 3 Pat L J 88

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I of 1894) ss. 23, 49 I L R 40 All 367

See LANDLORD AND TENANT I L R 37 Calc 742

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See OCCUPANCY RIGHT

See SURRENDER I L R 43 Calc 605

——— at fixed rates—

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 42 Calc 745

——— suit for declaration of status as—

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 19 0) sec. II Art. 6 7 xi

I L R. 40 All. 358

1 ——— Appointed raiyat of a village occupancy right. The mere fact that a raiyat who has a right of occupancy in his agricultural lands is at the same time a rent-collector of the village and is remunerated as such does not deprive him of his right of occupancy. Durga Prosad Singh v Hari Ram Mahto (1914)

OCCUPANCY RAIYAT—contd

19 C W N 578

2 ——— Mortgage of part of upan y holding—Subsequent lease of same while mortgage was yet unregistered—Rights of mortgagees and of occupant. An occupancy tenant made a usufructuary mortgage of certain plots of land comprised in his occupancy holding. He apparently gave the mortgagees possession but refused to get the mortgage registered and in consequence the mortgagees were obliged to bring a suit to compel registration. Whilst this suit was pending the occupancy tenant leased certain plots covered by the mortgage at a yearly rent for a period of five years. Held on suit by the lessor for possession that the plaintiff was entitled to a decree and that he was not bound as a condition precedent to pay off the mortgagees. Baharan Upadhyay v Uttamgir I L R 33 All 779 referred to HABIB ULLAH v MANRUP (1917) I L R 40 All 229

3 ——— Settlement while of raiyats holding or of tenure—Statutory presumption—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 5 sub s (a)—Suit under s 104 H—Incidents of tenancy. In a suit under s 104 H of the Bengal Tenancy Act the plaintiff sued for a declaration that he was an occupancy raiyat in respect of certain lands. He based his title on two documents: one was an amalnami granted to his predecessor in 1863 which recited that certain mouzabs were allotted with the grantee for bringing them under cultivation and directed the grantee to expel wild beasts clear jungles raise embankments at his own expense carry on cultivation and enjoy the crops thereof and the other document which fixed the rent was executed in 1869 and recited that on the strength of the aforesaid amalnami the grantee took possession and had commenced to reclaim jungles raise embankments and cultivate lands. The grantee was further authorised to make settlements with tenants. Held that the settlement was of a raiyat holding and not of a tenure. The amalnami was expressly granted for the purpose of reclamation and cultivation by the grantee and the regular lease which followed did not indicate any intention to alter the nature of the tenancy. Held also that the mere fact that the tenant had sublet his land did not by itself establish conclusively that this status was that of a tenure holder and not that of a raiyat. The test to be applied to determine his status was the intention of the contracting parties. Where the terms of the original grant were known the statutory presumption in s 5 sub s (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act did not apply where the origin of the tenancy was unknown the mode of use of the land might furnish a valuable clue to determine its original purpose and where it was ambiguous evidence of subsequent conduct of parties might be admissible. Promotho Nath Kumar v Nilmani Kumar 14 C L J 33 15 C W N 902 Promoda Nath Poy v Asiruddin Mandal 15 C W N 896 Dama pada Poy v Midnapore Zemindary Co 16 C L J 30 referred to. Held further that in a suit under s 104 H of the Bengal Tenancy Act it was not sufficient for the Court to hold that the entry in the Settlement Roll as to the status of ten was erroneous. The Court must affirmatively determine the exact conditions and incidents of the tenancy as also the rent to be settled on such basis. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v DIGAMBAR NAYDA (1917) I L R 46 Calc 160

OCCUPANCY RAIYAT—contd

4 ——— Suit for settlement of equitable rent whether lies—Enhancement of rent—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 46 and 158 Chapters V and X. Defendant was a non occupancy raiyat under a lease for 9 years ending on the 1st Assin 1319. On the expiry of that period the defendant having held over the plaintiff sued for ghas possession or in the alternative for fair and equitable rent for the years 1319 to 1322 inclusive. Held (1) that so far as the years 1319 to 1321 were concerned during which the defendant was a non occupancy raiyat the plaintiff not having availed him self of the procedure laid down in s 46 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 was entitled to rent at the rate provided in the lease only and (2) that so far as the year 1322 was concerned by which time the defendant had become an occupancy raiyat the provisions of Chapter X and s 158 not being applicable to the case the plaintiff was entitled to sue for enhancement of rent under Chapter V but could not recover rent at an enhanced rate in the present suit. Per DAYSON MILLER CJ. Even had the present suit been one for the enhancement of rent it would not have been within the competence of the court to award rent at an enhanced rate for previous years. DAYAL KUNDU v MALHU PATHAK 5 Pat L J 406

OCCUPANCY RIGHT

See BENGAL TENANCY

I L R 48 Calc 460

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 180

2 Pat L J 43

See CHOTA NAAGPUR LANDLORD AND TENANT PROCEDURE ACT s 6

14 C W N 297

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS

L R 48 I A 33

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See OCCUPANCY RAIYAT

— acquisition of, by a firm—

See ENDOWMENT 4 Pat L J 533

— acquisition of by joint family—

See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY)

4 Pat L J 354

— acquisition of, by landholder—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (1908) s 6 SUB S (6) AND s 8

I L R 35 Mad. 944

— extinguishment of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R. 37 Calc. 709

— Purchaser of—

See MADRAS ESTATE LANDS ACT 1908

ss 54 AND 146

I L R 44 Mad. 43

OCCUPANCY RIGHT—contd

—transfer of—

See CENTRAL PROVINCES TENANCY ACT
(XI OF 1898) s 45

I L R 46 Cal 76

1 ————— Mokuridar cultivating land for more than 12 years—Protection from eviction Where a mokurari tenure was created in 1590 by an under tenure holder in favour of a tenant who went on cultivating the land for 12 years Held in a suit by a purchaser of the under tenure under Act VIII of 1865 that the tenant acquired an occupancy right and retained it even though the mokurari right which he had also obtained was extinguished by operation of s 16 of Act VIII of 1865 and the tenant was not liable to be ejected Nirmadhab v Shivu 13 W R 110 and Emam Ali v Ator Ali 22 W R 133 followed Jogeshwar Mazumdar v Abed Mahomed Swlar 3 C W N 13 distinguished BAJIA CHARAK GOPAI v RAM KANAI DUBEY (1914)

10 C W N 558

2 ————— Incidents of an other tenancy under the same landlord but in different localities in the occupation of the occupancy raiyat—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) 132 The provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act are applicable to a tenancy for building a shop in a market in which the tenant afterwards came to reside where the tenant has occupancy right on certain jamas under the same landlord in a different village from before the acquisition of the tenancy for building the shop Gulam Mowla v Abdul Souar Mundul 13 C L J 255 Protap Chandra Das v Bessessar Pramanick 9 C W N 416 Kripa Nath Chakrabutty v Sheikh Anu 10 C W N 944 and Harihar Chatterji v Dinu Bera 14 C L J 170 referred to BHAKABIRAN BHAGAT v MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH (1915) I L R 43 Cal 195

3 ————— Under raiyat—

Ejection—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 4 49 (b) 113 183—Usage or custom An under raiyat may by usage or custom obtain a right of occupancy and he is not then liable to ejection after notice to quit under s 49 of the Bengal Tenancy Act Akhil Chandra Biswas v Hasan Ali Sadagar 19 C W N 246 referred to GOPAL MOYDAL v TAPAI SANKHARI (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 43

4 ————— If may be acquired by settled raiyat as a protected interest A raiyat holding at a fixed rent from the inception of the tenancy may subsequently acquire a right of occupancy (e.g.) by continuous occupancy for 12 years so as to be protected by s 160 of the Bengal Tenancy Act Dhru Nath Daskar v Surendra Nath Dutt 13 C W N 105 considered SARDESWAR PATRA v MAHARAJA SIBU BEJOY CHAND MOHAPATRA 25 C W N 15

5 ————— Transferability of in Orissa—Sale in execution of mortgage procedure for In Orissa occupancy rights are transferable without the landlord's consent unless it is shown to the satisfaction of the Collector that the landlord has good reason for his objection The correct procedure in cases in which it is desired to put up for sale an occupancy right in execution of a decree on a mortgage is to allow the sale to go through and then for the purchaser to apply to the landlord under s 31 of the Orissa Tenancy Act 1913 for registration of the transfer If the landlord accedes to the fee authorised the sale will hold good If he refuses to do so the purchaser should apply to the Collector and the Collector will decide whether there is good and sufficient reason for the landlord's objection GIRDHARI NAIK v KASHI TENDI

OCCUPANCY RIGHT—contd

2 Pat L J 476

OCCUPANCY TENANT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)

s 16 I L R 41 AU 223

ss 18 and 88

I L R 43 AU 606

See KROTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM I OF 1830)—

ss 9 and 10 I L R 44 Bom 267

ss 33 (c) 40 (a) BR I III VIII

I L R 37 Bom 284

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 33 AU 335

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

See SURRENDER I L P 48 Cal 605

OCCUPANT

—Growth of sandalwood trees on occupancy lands subsequent to survey settlement—

See FOREST ACT (VII OF 1878) 75

CL. (c) R 2 I L R 45 Bom 110

OCTROI DUTY

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT (I OF 1904)

s 24 I L R 40 AU 105

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES

ACT 1916 s 326

I L R 42 AU 207

—suit for refund of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) SCH I

ART 2 62 120

I L R 36 AU 555

OFFENCE

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF

I L R 37 Cal 287

See PICTING

I L R 40 Cal 781

See WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT

ACT 1850 s 2 I L R 43 AU 281

—brought to the notice of Court in the course of judicial proceeding—

See COURT MEETING OF

I L R 37 Cal 642

—committed in respect of different persons—

See JOINDER OF CHARGES

I L P 38 AU 457

—compounding of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I

OF 1898) s 345

I L R 39 Mad 945

—Whether it can be spoken of as a purely personal one—

See INJUNCTION ACT 1875 s 4 (a) s 3 I L R 2 Ind 1

OFFENCE—concl

Whether omission to give rent receipt amounts to—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1882 s 58
I L R 1 J 149

Triable with the aid of assessors—
Conviction of accused of minor offence triable by a jury—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 304
I L R 45 Bom 619

Committed at Sea

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF
I L R 39 Calc 487

OFFENDING MATTER

proof of—

See STATUTE BOOK OFFENCE OF
I L R 38 Calc 202

OFFER AND ACCEPTANCE

See CONTRACT I L R 42 All 187

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 2

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 44 Bom 797

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 AND 19
I L R 45 Bom 8

Counter proposal does not amount to—

See REGISTRATION ACT (XXI OF 1908) ss 17 & 19
I L R 45 Bom 8

OFFERINGS

See SEBAST I L R 41 I A 267

permanent alienation of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92
I L R 40 Mad 212

Suit by pujari against guravs to recover offerings—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 AND 92
I L R 45 Bom 683

to a temple—Transferability—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 6 cl (a) There are certain rights that cannot be transferred. They are res extra commercium for instance sacerdotal office which belongs to the priest of a particular class. Similarly a right to receive offerings from pilgrims resorting to a temple or shrine is inalienable. The chance that future worshippers will give offerings is a mere possibility and as such it cannot be transferred. Lakshmanaswami Saidu v Pangamma I L R 26 Mad 31. Kashi Chandra v Kailash Chandra I L R 96 Calc 356. Dina Nath Chuckerbutty v Pratap Chandra Goswami I L R 27 Calc 30 referred to. PUNCHA THAKUR v BINDSWARI THAKUR (1915)
I L R 43 Calc 28

to deity—Dispute concerning the possession of a temple and its offerings—Offerings not profits arising out of a temple—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Apportionment of the offerings—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 145 S 145 of the Criminal Procedure Code includes within its scope a dispute concerning the actual possession of a temple and the land on which it stands but not one relating to the right to and apportionment of the offerings given by the worshippers. Such offerings are not profits arising out of the temple within the meaning of s 140 (2). An order made under s 145 declaring a party entitled to the actual possession of a temple and its offerings is therefore intra vires of the temple but not as to the offerings. Guram Ghoal v Lal Behari Das I L R 37 Calc 578 referred to. RAM SARAN PATHAK v RAGHU NANDAN GIR (1911)

OFFERINGS—concl

I L R 38 Calc 387

OFFICER

in the Army—

See ATTACHMENT I L R 43 Bom 716

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 60 CL (2) (b)

I L R 37 Bom 26

OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

S 80 I L R 37 Bom 243

O XXII n 10

I L R 38 Bom 568

See INSOLVENCY I L R 37 Calc 418

See INSOLVENT I L R 43 Bom 890

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Calc 586

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT 1909—

Ss 7 & 86 I L R 35 Bom 473

Ss 38 AND 52 I L R 44 Bom 555

duties and rights of—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 40 Calc 523

prospect of litigation with—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Calc 374

right of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXXVIII n 6

I L R 30 Mad 903

sale by—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 72

title of—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 40 Calc 28
I L R 42 Calc 72

verbal orders by—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 58

OFFICIAL CORRUPTION

See CONTRACT I L R 43 Calc 255

OFFICIAL RECEIVER

See PROVINCIAL JUDICIAL OFFICERS (ACT V OF 1907) s 92
I L R 28 Bom 476

See RECEIVER

order of—

See PRINCIPAL JUDICIAL OFFICERS (ACT V OF 1907) s 92
I L R 28 Bom 476

OFFICIAL RECEIVER—concl'd

— order to without notice—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907), s 40 CL (3)

I L R 39 Mad 593

— whether a Court—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 2 (c) AND (g) 22 46 52

I L R 40 Mad 752

— Insolvency—Conveyance if necessary to perfect title to land purchased at an auction at the instance of Official Receiver—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 54 There is nothing to exempt a conveyance by an Official Receiver in Insolvency from the operation of s 54 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 ABDUL HASHIM & AMAN KRISHNA SANA (1919)

I L R 46 Cal 587

OFFICIAL RECORD

See TEISHKHANA PAPER

I L R 29 Cal 995

OFFICIAL TRUSTEE

See PROBATE I L R 37 Cal 387

— Probate—Official Trustee's Act (XII of 1864) s 8 10 32 The official Trustee as constituted by Act XVII of 1864 is not entitled by virtue of his office and in his character as Official Trustee and in the name of Official Trustee to obtain a grant of probate Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Co v Riche L R 7 H L 653 referred to GREY v GHARUSILA DAS (1910)

I L R 38 Cal 53

OFFICIAL TRUSTEE'S ACT (XVII OF 1864)

See PROBATE I L R 37 Cal 387

— ss 8, 10 32—

See OFFICIAL TRUSTEE

I L R 38 Cal 53

OFFICIAL WITNESS

— privilege of—

See CHARGE I L R 42 Cal 957

OLD WASTE GROUNDS

— ejectment from—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) s 8 (7) 1, 3 AND 157

I L P 38 Mad 183

OMISSION

See CHARGE

I L R 40 Cal 168

— by mistake—

See POWER OF ATTORNEY

I L R 37 Cal 399

— to serve notice—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 40 Cal 45

ONUS OF PROOF

See AGREEMENT TO SELL

I L R 38 Bom 446

See PENALTY

25 C W N 409

See EVIDENCE OF PROOF

See CHARGE I L R 40 Cal 168

ONUS OF PROOF—cont'd

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I L R 42 Cal 710

See CONSIGNMENT LOSS OF

I L R 41 Cal 576

See DEATH PRESUMPTION OF

I L R 37 Cal 103

See EJECTMENT I L R 42 Bom 357

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—

s 92 I L R 30 Bom 399

s 110 I L R 45 Bom 789

See EXECUTOR SALE BY

I L R 30 Mad 575

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Cal 486

See FRAUD I L R 41 Cal 990

I L R 37 All 537

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

I L R 38 Mad 168

See JURY 24 C W N 819

See KASBATH I L R 39 Bom 625

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Cal 723

See LEGAL NECESSITY

I L R 43 Cal 417

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 1

APPS 140 141

I L R 40 Bom 239

See MUNICIPAL ELECTION

I L R 47 Cal 524

See NEGLIGENCE I L R 48 Cal 757

See POSSESSION 23 C W N 593

See PRESS ACT (I OF 1910) s 3 (1)

4 (1) 17 19 20 AND 22

See PATRI I L R 30 Mad 1085

25 C W N 108

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L R 37 Bom 1

See TENT SUIT

I L R 43 Cal 554

See SECOND APPEAL

I L R 2 Lah 249

See WILL I L R 47 Cal 1043

I L R 43 Bom 845

— placed on wrong party—

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS ACT

1881 s 118 I L R 1 Lah 429

— In a suit for succession—

See CUSTOMS (SUCCESSION)

I L R 1 Lah 434

— Presumption in favour of continuance of life—

See HINDU LAW (SUCCESSION)

I L R 1 Lah 554

— Hindu Joint Family on member of, to show that his training was not at the expense of the Joint Family—

See HINDU LAW (JOINT FAMILY PRO PERTY) I L R 2 Lah 40

— In custom case—second appeal—

See PUNJAB COURTS ACT 1918 s 41

See JURISDICTION I L R 2 Lah 187

ONUS OF PROOF—contd

That suit not within cognizance of Court

See JURISDICTION I L R 2 Lah 302

Unoccupied village site—Presumption of title vesting in Government—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1857) s 110

I L R 45 Bom 789

Suit by Government patta to eject tenant—Claim by tenants to right of occupancy—Facts establishing right of occupancy—Title of plaintiff and service of notice to quit withdrawn—Onus on defendants to prove claim allowed—Second appeal—Judgment of High Court on appeal to deal with fact Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 103. In suits brought by the appellants as Government pattadar against the respondents after due service of notice to quit to eject them from agricultural land in a ryotwari village the respondents pleaded that they had a permanent tenancy or right of occupancy and the appellants a title and the notices purporting to determine the tenancy were not disputed. Held that the onus was on the respondents to prove the existence of their right of permanent occupancy but that it had been established by the evidence that they had been immemorially in possession of the lands and that they had not been proved to have been ever let into occupation by the appellants that they had been paying uniform rate of rent that the lands were reclaimed and brought under cultivation by them that they had made great improvements and carried on cultivation of either of dry or garden crops of their own choice without any interference or objection and that they had for a very long time been sometimes making alienations of wells and lands and the onus of proof had been thereby satisfied. The District Judge had passed decrees in the appellants' favour for possession of all the lands in suit. The High Court was of opinion that the District Court had omitted to determine a question of fact which was essential to the right decision of the suit on its merits and framed issues which it asked the District Judge to decide as to whether the respondents were yearly tenants or had a permanent right of occupancy. These the District Court returned without dealing with them in a satisfactory manner. The High Court on second appeal drew an inference from the respondents' occupancy rights and decided the appeal (dealing with it under s 103 of this Civil Procedure Code 1908) in favour of the respondents. Held that the inference is not in any way contradictory to any finding of fact by the District Court and there being materials from which such inference could be drawn the High Court had jurisdiction under the circumstances to deal with the case under s 103 and make a decree as it had done. SETURATNAM AIYAR v. VENKATACHELA GOUDAN (1907)

I L R 34 Mad (P C) 567

OPIUM

See OPIUM ACT

See OPIUM ACT (I OF 1878) ss 9

I L R 31 All 319

1. Illicit sale of—Proof of the fact of the sale—Presumption from inability to account satisfactorily for opium in absence of evidence of any sale—Opium Act (I of 1878) ss 9, 10. The effect of ss 9 and 10 of the Opium Act 1878 is that when once it is proved that the accused has dealt with opium in one of the ways described in s 9 the onus of showing that he had a right to deal with it is placed on him by s 10. But the commission of the act which is the foundation of the particular offence charged under s 9 must be proved before the presumption raised by s 10 comes into operation at all and the presumption cannot be used to establish such act. Where therefore there is no evidence to prove the fact of any sale of opium by a person accused of illicit sale the deficiency is not supplied by the statutory presumption and a conviction of illicit sale is bad. I BHAR CHANDRA SIKON v. EMPEROR (1910)

OPIUM—contd

I L R 37 Cal 581

2. Illegal possession of—Opium Act (I of 1878) s 9 (c) 10—Where possession contrary to the Act without guilty frame of mind—Respective liabilities of owner of boat and crew—Presumption of commission of offence under the Act—

Conveyance—Boat Under ss 9 (c) and 10 of the Opium Act (I of 1878) mere possession of opium without being able to account for its satisfactory apart from any frame of mind is an offence. The owner of a boat in which opium found is in possession of it but not the crew when they are neither owners nor jointly interested with him in any venture as an incident of which possession might be attributed to them. Where the owner of a boat alleged that opium was carried on board by a passenger without his knowledge but there were circumstances disproving his story. Held that as he had not satisfactorily accounted for its possession it must be presumed under s 10 that it was opium in respect of which he had committed an offence under the Act. Quare Whether a boat in which opium is carried is a conveyance used in carrying it so as to be liable to confiscation on conviction of the owner under the Act. EMPEROR v. HAMID ALI (1909)

I L R 37 Cal 24

3. Possession by consignee of railway receipt covering contraband opium—Lying undelivered in a railway office—Expediency of interference on revision when accused guilty of importing such opium—Opium Act (I of 1878) s 9 (c) (c) and (e). Per RICHARDSON J. Possession by the consignee of a railway receipt covering a parcel of contraband opium lying undelivered in the railway office under circumstances showing knowledge of its contents constitutes possession of the opium within s 9 (c) of the Opium Act though after its arrival the police tied up the parcel with tape and instructed the Parcels Clerk not to part with it in order to prevent delivery without their cognizance. Ka. Nath Bania v. Emperor I L R 32 Cal 557 and Ashraf Ali v. Emperor I L R 36 Cal 1016 followed. Kali Charan Mukherjee v. Emperor I L R 41 Cal 537 referred to. Per SHAMS UL HUDDA J. It is very doubtful whether under the circumstances the accused was in possession of the opium within s 9 (c) of the Act. Per CURRIE J. The accused was guilty under s 9 (c) of importing opium and the case was not therefore a fit one for interference on revision. FONG HAY v. EMPEROR (1919)

I L R 46 Cal 820

OPIUM ACT (I OF 1878)

—ss 3 and 9—

Morphia—whether included in the term Opium. Held that morphia

ORISSA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1913)

ss 3 (4) and (6) and 31—

Mad. Sarbarkari tenure transfer of—Landlord's consent what amounts to—Notification conferring powers of Deputy Collector effect of—Cause of action whether can arise from pleadings If a landlord refuses to register the transfer of a non transferable tenure registration cannot be enforced against him under s 16 (3) of the Oris a Tenancy Act 1913 A landlord is not entitled to claim the mutation fee under s 16 until he has registered the transfer The institution of a suit for recovery of the mutation fee under s 16 does not amount to a consent to the transfer Held therefore that where the landlord had not consented to the transfer before the institution of a suit to recover the mutation fee there was at the time the suit was instituted no cause of action Held that a mere request by the landlord's servants (who were not shewn to have authority to sanction a transfer) to the transferee for payment of the mutation fee did not constitute a consent to the transfer on the part of the landlord and the latter was not therefore entitled to maintain a suit for recovery of the mutation fee Where a person has been empowered by notification to discharge any of the functions of a Deputy Collector under the Act such person is a Deputy Collector within the meaning of s 3 (4) and (6) and is therefore a Collector within the meaning of that section and has jurisdiction to try a suit for recovery of a mutation fee A cause of action must be antecedent to the institution of a suit and cannot arise from the pleadings themselves MAHANT GOBIND RAMANUJ DAS v. PANDU DEBENDRABALA DAS

4 Pat L J 387

s 31—

See S 3

4 Pat L J 387

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

4 Pat L J 294

S 6 OCCUPANCY RIGHTS

3 Pat L J 476

Transfer of occupancy holding whether fee for registration is payable when landlord's consent is not necessary Whenever an occupancy holding in Orissa is transferred whether the transfer be with or without the consent of the landlord the transferee must apply for registration of the transfer and is bound to pay a fee for such registration BALMUKUND KAYANGOT v. MURUN JOY IMAHAJ ss 31 and 250—Transfer of occupancy holding non payment of registration fee on—Suit for registration fee—Second Appeal The transferee of an occupancy holding is bound to deposit the registration fee prescribed by s 31 of the Orissa Tenancy Act 1913 and if he fails to do so the landlord may sue for it In such a suit a second appeal lies to the High Court from the order of the lower appellate Court MURUNJOY IMAHAJ v. SREE JAGANNATH JEU ss 57 235 220 and 221—Incumbrance whether the interest of an under tenant is—Effectment of under tenant's application for relief procedure for an under tenant in occupancy of land is an income tax or will in the meaning of s 11 of the Oris a Tenancy Act 1913 and whether s 220 and 221 constitute the manner in which the incumbrance can

5 Pat L J 357

3 Pat L J 351

ORISSA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1913)—contd

ss 57, 235, 220 and 221—contd

be annulled by an auction purchaser Where the procedure for the annulment of incumbrances provided by s 221 is not followed and a year is allowed to elapse by the purchaser without taking steps to annul the incumbrance he is not entitled to eject the under tenant under s 57 But if the purchaser takes the prescribed steps to annul the incumbrance and the under tenant refuses to give up possession the latter can be ejected under s 57 SIRA DAS v. GAJENDRA NATH DAS

3 Pat L J 112

ss 154 and 332—Nij chas land acquisition of occupancy rights in—Bengal Tenancy Act VIII of 1880 ss 20 and 21—Bengal Pent Act X of 1859 s 7 s 154 of the Orissa Tenancy Act 1913 does not entitle a landlord to a declaration that lands are nij chas or proprietor's private lands unless the land was recorded as nij chas not only in the Provincial Settlement but also in the settlement between the years 1906 and 1912 That section makes a distinction between the expressions nij chas and nij jole Where lessees were introduced on to certain land and executed kabulyats in May and June 1906 stipulating that on the expiry of the term of their lease they would leave the lands to the khans possession of the lessors Held that this stipulation amounted to a contract by the lessees that they should not acquire occupancy rights in the land and was binding on them, as at that time there was no provision in force in Orissa which prevented a tenant from contracting himself out of the provisions of ss 20 and 21 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1855 which were then in force there The provisions of s 232 (a) of the Orissa Tenancy Act 1913 make it clear that the Legislature when they enacted that Act meant to give effect to contracts made between landlords and tenants under which the tenants could be prevented from acquiring occupancy rights in land provided the contracts had been made more than six years before the commencement of the Act SHEIKH AKBAR ALI v. GOPAL PRASAD CHOL ss 193 and 210—Court having jurisdiction to determine a suit whether Civil Court is—Application to determine rent payable by tenant whether Civil Court has jurisdiction to entertain An ordinary suit for possession of land is not a suit under any part of the Oris a Tenancy Act 1913 The words of the Court having jurisdiction to determine a suit for the possession of land in s 210 include the Civil Court and therefore such a Court has jurisdiction to determine under sub s 1 (d) of that section the rent payable by the tenant BANAMALI SATPATHI v. CHOUDHURI APARNA MAHAIPATRA ss 204 (2) and (3)—Decision deciding no rent is payable whether appealable to Collector or District Judge—tenants whether person released from payment of rent ceases to be Where in a suit for arrears of rent the Deputy Collector decided that no rent was payable by the defendant for a sarbarkari tenure held by the latter Held that under s 204 (3) of the Oris a Tenancy Act 1909 the plaintiff should have appealed not to the Collector of the district but to the District Judge CHAPMAN J. A person does not cease to be a tenant merely because it is an arrangement with his

3 Pat L J 475

4 Pat L J 72

ORISSA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1913)—concl'd

s. 204 (2) and (3)—concl'd landlord be released from the payment of rent Gopi Diwal v. RAN CHANDRA SARKAR

2 Pat L J 46

ORPHAN ADOPTION

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

I L R 37 Mad 529

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) SCH I

ART 18 I L R 37 Bom 513

OSTENSIBLE MEANS OF SUBSISTENCE

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 39 Cal 456

Conducting the play of ring game—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s. 109 The conducting of the ring game is an ostensible means of subsistence within the meaning of s. 109 of the Criminal Procedure Code Hari Singh v. King Emperor G C I J 98 referred to BANGLA SHAH v. EMPEROR (1913)

I L R 40 Cal 702

OSTENSIBLE OWNER

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF

1882) s. 41 I L R 34 All 22

I L R 43 All 263

OTTI DEED

See MALABAR TALUQADAR

I L R 39 Mad 918

ODDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)

Will of Taluqdar—A Taluqdar in 1862 in compliance with the directions issued by the Government made a declaration that I wish to file this application that after my death Umrao Singh the eldest son (sic) my estate should continue to my family undivided in accordance with the custom of the Pargadda and that the youngest brothers shall be entitled to maintenance from the Gaddi Nashin Held that this was a valid testamentary disposition in favour of the eldest son UMRAO SINGH v. LACH MAN SINGH

I L R 93 All 344

ss 2 3, s 10 22—Summary and regular settlements of Odh—Villages settled on grantee whose name was entered as owner in Lists 1 and 2 of those prepared under s. 8—Taluqdar—Estate under s. 2—Impartible property—Kobulhat executed by grantee after the time limit specified in s. 3—Suit for partition—After acquired properties held to be impartible there being no intention shown to incorporate them with the impartible property At the summary settlement of Odh an order was made on the 5th of October 1859 for the settlement of certain villages with the ancestor of the parties to these appeals who however did not execute his Kobulhat until the 13th of October 1859 and so not within the time limit specified in s. 3 of the Odh Estates Act (I of 1869) namely between the 1st of April 1858 and the 10th of October 1859 At the regular settlement shortly afterwards the grantee recovered decrees for possession of other villages and subsequently acquired other properties by purchase In respect of all the settled villages his name was entered in Lists 1 and 2 prepared under the statutory provisions of s. 8 of the Act In a suit for partition to which the defence was that all the property was impartible Held (affirming the decisions of the Courts in India) that the grantee

ODDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)—cont'd

ss 2 3 8 10 22—concl'd

(the defendant) was on the construction of the provisions of Act I of 1869 relating thereto a taluqdar and the villages so settled with him formed within the meaning of the Act an estate which was impartible and devolvable to a single heir
 On a question whether the delay in executing the Kobulhat deprived the taluqa of the character of an estate defined in s. 2 of the Act the Judges of the Judicial Commissioners Court differed in opinion Held in the absence of an express declaration that non execution within the time specified would be fatal to the right given to the grantee by
 s. 3 that no such construction could be put on that section but the execution of the Kobulhat related back to the date of the settlement namely the 5th of October 1859 As to the after acquired properties the defendant contended that by the custom of the family they became part of the original estate and were therefore not subject to the ordinary Hindu law of inheritance Held (affirming the decisions of both the Courts below), that the evidence was insufficient to establish that custom that no intention of the taluqdar was shown to incorporate the subsequently acquired properties with the taluqa as was necessary on the authority of the case of Parbati Kumari Debi v.
 Jagadish Chandra Dhabal I L R 29 Cal 433
 453 I R 29 I A 32 98 and that the plaintiff was therefore entitled to a decree for his share (one half) of such properties as being partible JANKI PRAAD SINGH v. DWARKA PRASAD SINGH
 (1910) I L R 35 All 391

ss 2 11 and 16—Transfer by taluqdar of part of taluq—Transferer's title based on will of deceased taluqdar—Transfer in accordance with will —Absence of registration under Act These appeal related to lands owned by the taluqdar of Dhan-garh who's name was one of those entered in the 4th list prepared under s. 8 of the Odh Estates Act (I of 1869) He died in 1896 leaving a great grandson the appellant and three grand sons (uncles of the appellant) the respondents and having made a will dated the 30th of August 1892 and registered under s. 13 of the Act by which he devised the taluq to the appellant a minor and appointed the mother of the boy to be his guardian and the first respondent to be manager of the estate during his minority The will also provided that in case the respondents separated from the appellant they should receive a maintenance allowance in the form of grants of taluqdari villages to be selected by the appellant On the death of the testator the first respondent entered on the management of the estate in accordance with the directions of the will until 1903 when the appellant attained his majority and assumed possession and control of it the respondents continuing to reside with him But in 1910 they separated from the appellant and he made grants to them of villages of which mutation of names took place in 1911 the villages declared to be held by the several respondents for generation after generation without right of transfer s. 16 of Act I of 1869 enacts that no transfer otherwise than by gift of any estate or any portion thereof or of any interest therein made by a taluqdar under the provisions of this Act shall be valid unless made by a registered instrument signed by the transferer and attested by two or more witnesses By s. 2 of the Act transfer is defined as meaning an alienation 3131)

 OUDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869) — contd.
 ss 2 13 and 16 — contd.
 In suite to enter vicos ss 2 13 and 16—could re over possession of the villages granted to respondents on the ground (among others) that the grants were invalid as not having been made by a registered and attested deed as required by s 16 Held that the respondents right to maintenance out of the estate was conferred by the will which imposed on the taluqdar the duty of selecting the villages from which the maintenance should be d riverd In making the selection the taluqdar imposed no additional burden on the estate but limited and defused in accordance with the will his burden thereof imposed The selection once made and accept d could not b. disturb d either by the taluqdar or the gr a holder and no regis t red and attested d was required for provisions of the will followed by the appropriation of villages and d delivery of possession vesting in the gr a holders a good and suffi rent till s 16 of Ac was therefore not applicable Lit S 16 of Ac DUR SINGH v MAHADEB PRASAD SINGH

• E R.

See MORTGAGE

See TALUQDAR

I L R 34

L L R 34 AU. 620

United 83 ALL 125

as 87 (S) Provinces

demolition of building

Jurisdiction of building cities Act. Held

7 8 10 22

7 8 10 22-
S HINDU LAW--INHERITANCE

8 10 22- I L R 40 ALL 470

Sec 8 21

L. R. 35

I L R 35 ALL 391

er agent and death of grantee before 1st passed into 1st - Status and rights of grantee - Name of grantee entered in lists 2 and 2 after his death - Name of grantee properly aquired - Custom of descent of non taluqdars
- Burden of proof - Presumption of reversion custom 1831 - A Mahomedan and the 17th of October parties to this appeal, received from the Governor of the Government a sanad conferring on him the British proper any right title and possession of the full taluka of Deogson with a condition that in the event of you or any of your successors dying in testate the estate shall descend to th nearest male heir - i.e. sons - nephews etc according to the rules of primo nature. He died in 1860 but his name was entered in lists 1 and 2 of those pre 1 and unit n. 3 of the Oudh Estates Act (1 of 1869). It is that I had acquired to declare 1 hr to be a permanent heritable and trans in his estate and was unquestion

PL. L. R. 38 All. 532

ODDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)—contd

—ss. 8 22, sub s (11)—contd

dying intestate the estate shall descend to the nearest male heir according to the rule of primogeniture. After the passing of the Oudh Estates Act (I of 1869) his name was entered as a taluqdār in list 1 and in list 5 which was a list of the grantees to whom sanads or grants may have been or may be given or made by the British Government up to the date fixed for the closing of the list declaring that the succession to the estates comprised in such sanads or grants shall thereafter be regulated by the rule of primogeniture. Held that the meaning of the word primogeniture in the sanad was the ordinary meaning of the same word in the law of England. On the death of the taluqdār a widow the succession to his estate was contested by his cousin the respondent who would be the heir if the succession was governed by the rule of lineal primogeniture and his uncle who would succeed if it was regulated by nearness of degree. Held that the question whether the estates of taluqdars for the purposes of intestate succession must be treated as impartible is settled by authority in the affirmative. Ran Bijai Bahadur Singh v Jagatpal Singh 1 L P 18 Cal 111 L P 17 I A 173 and Jagdish Bahadur v Sheo Parbhat Singh 1 L P 23 All 369 L R 23 I A 100. The succession therefore to a taluq must be to an impartible estate whether the estate ordinarily devolved upon a single heir as in list 2 of s 3 or whether the succession was to be regulated by the rule of primogeniture as in lists 3 and 5 of s 8. In so far as it describes in the first ten of its sub sections the specific order of heirs preferred to the succession must have force given to it to the effect of standing as a statutory substitute for any line of succession set forth in the sanad. Where sub s 11 of s 22 coming as it does at the close of the long list of specific stages of prescribed succession sets up the rule that in default of any one taking under the previous sub sections there should be preferred such persons as would have been entitled to succeed to the estate under the ordinary law to which persons of the religion and tribe of such taluqdars etc are subject it must be construed as being a general relegation of parties to the situation in which they would have been found apart from the Act. In the present case that situation was found in the sanad itself and was also contained, either by way of affirmance or at least by way of narrative in list 5 of s 8 of the Act. While the specific rules of succession in Act I of 1869 must be held to displace this the general reference to what is not covered by those specific rules must include a reference to the rights of parties ascertained in the sanad which was the original title to the property. On these principles and this construction Held (affirming the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that the succession should be regulated by the rule of lineal primogeniture and not by nearness of degree and that the respondent was entitled to succeed. DEBI BAKSH SINGH v CHANDRABHAN SINGH (1910) 1 L R 32 All 599

—s 22 cls 11 14, 15—Succession to taluq in list 3 under s 5 when specified heir fails—Will—Limitation Cl 11 to s 22 of the Act which provides that in default of any descendant specified in the previous ten clauses as heirs upon intestacy to taluqdars or grantees whose names have been entered to the second or third lists provided for in cl 8 of the Act the estate is to descend to such persons as would have been entitled to succeed under the ordinary law provides special limitations. When the succession is regulated by cl 11 the simple heir in cases coming under list 2 is the one nearest in succession and may be male or female but under list 3 primogeniture applies. THAKUR FITLA BAKSH SINGH v THAKUR BITAL SINGH 25 C W N 721

ODDH ESTATES ACT (I OF 1869)—contd

—ss 8 22, cls 11 14 15—contd

—s 13—

See S 2

I. L. R. 42 All 422

—ss. 13 14 and 17—Transfer of immovable property in Oudh—Oral gift inter vivos—Transfer of property Act (I of 1882) s 17—Deed construction of—Whether testamentary or deed of gift inter vivos—Legatee predeceasing testator Under the Oudh Estates Act (I of 1869) immovable property is not transferable by gift inter vivos other than by registered deed. Although an adopted son is exempt from the operation of s 13 as being one of the special class therein designated a gift to him to be valid must comply with the provisions of ss 16 and 17 of the Act. The two acts of sections not being contradictory of each other. By a deed dated the 5th May 1887 executed by a taluqdār in favour of his adopted son the predecessor in title of the appellant the executant (after stating that he had by a deed of will on 26th May 1883 appointed his adopted son as his successor to the whole of the property and that it had become necessary to alter some of the provisions of that deed) declared that it was written by way of deed of adoption and codicil to a will and that he had made over the whole of the property in suit to his adopted son, and had absolutely and unconditionally relinquished all right and proprietorship as well as ceased interference with the property. In a subsequent clause he described the person in whose favour the deed was made as my adopted son and donee and legatee under the deed dated the 26th May 1883 as well as under this deed in respect of all my moveable and immovable property which has already been acquired or which may be acquired hereafter during my lifetime or which may come to me by inheritance or to which I may become entitled. Held (affirming the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that on a consideration of the provisions of the deed and of the circumstances which led up to its execution it was testamentary in character and could not be construed as a gift inter vivos to the appellant's predecessor in title who predeceased his adoptive father. In styling him donee the deed referred simply to what was given him by the deed and codicil. UDAI PAJ SINGH v BHAGWAN BAKSHI (1910) 1 L R 32 All 527 —ss 14, 15 and 22—Oudh taluqdars estates—Succession Primogeniture sanad—Breaking the line of succession The predecessor of a Hindu Oudh taluqdār was included in list 3 made under the Oudh Estates Act (I of 1869) s 11 as a taluqdār to whom the British Government had granted a primogeniture sanad. The taluqdār died in 1899 having by his will bequeathed the taluq to his mother. Had the taluqdār died intestate the taluq would have descended under s 22 cl (11) of the Act to such persons as would have been entitled to succeed to the estate under the ordinary law to which persons of the religion and tribe of all the property held in common equal to the right of each of his companions in interest and superior to that of all other persons. He has the same right to the use and enjoyment of the common property that he has to his sole property except in so far as it is limited by the equal right of his co sharers. Each co owner may at all time reasonably enjoy every part of the common property. It necessarily follows that one co owner has no right to the exclusive possession and use of any particular portion of joint property and if he exercises such rights and excludes his co sharers from participation in the possession he must account to his co sharer for his interest in the part from which he is ousted even though he takes no more than his just share. But the co sharer out of possession cannot complain of the mere possession of the co owner so long as he refrains from setting up any claim to share in that possession. Hence in order to give rise to a cause of action against the co sharer it must be proved that his act has amounted to ouster or else in Where there is an actual turning out or keeping excluded the party entitled to the possession there is an ouster. Any resistance preventing a co sharer from obtaining effective possession is an actual ouster. Such resistance must be clearly and affirmatively shown and is not presumed from equivocal facts which may or may not have been designed to operate as an exclusion. A tenant in common cannot be held liable to his co tenant for damages for use and occupation of the joint property unless there has been waste or ouster. Where one tenant in common occupies part of the joint property without assertion of his title or exclusive title and without claim by his co tenant to be admitted into possession he is under no obligation even to account for he has a right to such occupancy. DEENDRA NARAYAN SINGHA : NARENDRA NARAYAN SINGHA (1919)

OUSTER—contd

23 C W N 900OUTCASTE ?*See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY*I L R 35 Mad. 684*OVERCROWDING OF HOUSE*See BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT s 379*379A I L R 36 Bom 81*OVER-HEAD TANK*See MACHINERY I L R 46 Calc 910*OWNER*See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT s 379*379A I L R 36 Bom 81*See MADRAS LAND REVENUE ASSESSMENT ACT (I of 1876) s 2*I L R 28 Mad 1128*liability of—*See BUSTRE LAND*I L R 41 Calc 164*See MOTOR VEHICLES*I L R 45 Calc 470*See RIOTING I L R 39 Calc 834*rights of—*See PUBLIC DRAIN*I L R 44 Calc 689*OWNERSHIP*dispute as to—*See WAJIB UL ARZ*I L R 45 Calc 793*entry of, in record-of rights—*See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT*I L R 40 Calc 297*public assertion of—*See LIMITATION*L R 48 I A. 197*P*PACHETE RAJ

Khorphosh grant resumption of—Custom—Grant of putni by Raja after Khorphosh grant in grantee's lifetime—Death of Raja of estate putnidar to resume in grantee's lifetime—Option of heir of grantor to resume in grantee's lifetime—Res judicata—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1882) s 3 On the evidence held that the Plaintiffs had failed to establish that by custom a Khorphosh grant under the Pachete Raj lapses in the grantee's lifetime upon the death of the grantor and the land reverts forth with to the Raj but that there was good grounds for the view that a maintenance grant in the Pachete Raj is for the life of the grantee but is liable to be resumed by the successor of the grantor should the latter die during the lifetime of the grantee. The cases in Punctum Amari v Gurunarin Deo 6 Mac Sel Rep 166 Gurunarin Deo v Unud Lal Singh 6 Mac Sel Rep 51 and Anand Lal Singh v Gurood Narayan 5 Mac I A 18 do not establish the custom as alleged by the plaintiff. Where the grantor of a Khorphosh grant purported to resume the grant in the lifetime of the grantee and then granted a putni in respect of the subject matter to another person and on the grantor's death the putnidar sued to resume the subject matter of the grant from the grantee. Held that it was not a case where s 43 of the Transfer of Property Act could apply since the heir of the grantor was still free to exercise his option to resume or not. If a transferor without title has once become entitled to a valid estate in the land the transferee's equity would attach upon it in the hands of all persons claiming under the transferor other wise than for a legal interest by purchase for value without notice—the heir inclusive. A suit by the putnidar brought in the lifetime of both grantor and grantee for recovery of the property was dismissed the Court expressing the opinion that the Khorphosh grant was not resumable in the grantee's lifetime. Held that the decision did not bar the putnidar's suit to recover possession brought after the donor's death. CHETA BHADRA SAHENA v PURA CHANDRA CHOUDHURI (1914) 19 C W N 1272

PADDYSee APPRAISEMENT*I L R 48 Cal 1086*See MORTGAGE I L R 47 Calc 125*suit to recover value of*See LIMITATION I L R 48 Calc 625

PAIK

— suit to eject —

cc PRABHU I L R 43 Cal 1101

PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTIONS

— defendant's claim from kachchi adat —

cc CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom 224

cc WAGERING CONTRACT

I L R 42 Bom 373

Incident of—Wagering, defence of From about the end of June 1913 the defendant a young man without much experience of business entered into pakkhi adat transactions for the sale of linseed with the plaintiffs who were a firm of Marwar shroffs and merchants in a large way of business dealing as merchants and commission agents largely in cotton and to a small extent in linseed. There was one transaction in connection between the parties and the defendant entered into transactions in linseed to the extent of 4000 tons in all with the plaintiffs which transactions the plaintiffs passed on to various purchasers in 1913 in all between which purchasers and the defendant there was no privity whatever. In the contract made by the plaintiffs with each of the said purchasers there was a term that delivery should not be given to the firm of Narrondas Rajaram & Co a Marwar firm who were in the habit of insisting on delivery and of refusing to settle contracts by the payment or receipt of differences. The plaintiffs subsequently attempted to secure evidence to show that the transactions between themselves and the defendant were genuine transactions and not wagers. They endeavoured to induce the defendant to sign a draft letter prepared by the plaintiffs attorneys in which instructions were given for the purchase of a small part of the 4000 tons of linseed for the sale of which the defendant had entered into transactions with the plaintiffs and ultimately induced the defendant to sign a draft letter acknowledging the correctness of the statements made in a letter of the plaintiffs attorneys to the defendant setting out the plaintiffs version of the transactions between the parties. The plaintiffs further purchased and delivered 300 tons of linseed in part fulfilment of their contracts with the 39 purchasers and as to the balance of 3700 tons the contracts with these purchasers were settled by the payment of differences. It appeared however that the purchase of 300 tons had been effected by the plaintiffs with the view to influence the result of litigation. Held that in view of the fact that the pakkhi adat was not a disinterested broker but a party to the contract whose intention to gamble or otherwise might well be known at the inception of the contract and that there was no privity between the defendant and the 39 buyers from the plaintiffs the existence of such purchasers was only relevant as affording an indication of the plaintiffs intention at the time of their contracts with the defendant but in view of the condition that delivery should not be given to Narrondas Rajaram & Co it appeared that it was not intended that delivery should be given to the 39 purchasers by the plaintiffs and accordingly the said 39 contracts were not a sufficient indication of an intention on the part of the plaintiffs to call for delivery from the defendant

PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTIONS—contd

Held further that on an examination of the business of the contracting parties and of the surrounding circumstances of the case it appeared that the common intention of the parties was that the plaintiffs and the defendant should deal in differences and settle that way and that accordingly the suit must fail. Bhagwandas & Kany I L R 39 Bom 205 discussed. BURJORJI RUTTONJI BHAGWANDAS PARASHRAM (1913) I L R 39 Bom 204

Wagering intention to not negatived—Pakkhi adat position of guarantee—Transactions by Munim—Costs The existence of the pakkhi adat relationship does not of itself negative the existence of an understanding between the adat and his constituent that no delivery should be given or taken under forward contracts and that only differences should be received. Qua the client the pakkhi adat is a principal and not a disinterested middle man bringing two principals together. The question which has to be decided is what on the evidence was the common intention of the parties with regard to the settlement or completion of the transactions in dispute. A defendant who has successfully pleaded a lawful defence is entitled to his costs. Burjorji Ruttonji & Bhagwandas Parashram I L R 38 Bom 201 followed. CHHOOMAL BALKISSONDAS & JAINA RAYAN KANAIYALAL (1913)

I L R 39 Bom 1

PAKKI broker—Wagering contracts—Forward contracts of sale and purchase of cotton between a PAKKI ADAT and upcountry constituents—Whether such contracts as contracts of employment or as between principal and principal—Evidence showing differences only to be paid and delivery not to be given or taken—Evidence showing PAKKI ADAT contracting to enter into wagering transactions on behalf of constituents—Difference between a PAKKI ADAT and an ordinary broker—Proper issues in a suit between a PAKKI ADAT and constituent—Bombay Act III of 1865 ss 1 and 2—Indian Contract Act (I of 1872) ss 30-35 and 5; Vic Chap 9 s 1 The plaintiffs alleged that they were employed in Bombay as Pakki brokers (i.e. Pakki Adats) by the defendants doing business in the Berars to enter into forward contracts of sale and purchase of cotton. Under instructions of the defendants who were advised by the plaintiffs about the state of the market from time to time the plaintiffs entered into a number of transactions of sale and purchase of cotton on the defendants' behalf. The accounts between the plaintiffs and the defendants were adjusted from time to time and according to the plaintiffs the defendants' losses at the date of the suit amounted to Rs. 20,27,73 the greater portion of the same relating to differences which resulted from cross contracts. The plaintiffs having said to recover the said amount the defendants contended inter alia that the transactions in which they employed the plaintiffs were gambling and wagering transactions and that it was well understood between the parties that no delivery was ever to be given or taken in respect of them and that the plaintiffs were to enter into such transactions only. In support of the said contention the defendants relied upon the surrounding circumstances and in particular upon the correspondence between the parties and the actual course of dealing which showed that the transactions were not intended to be anything more than mere debit and credit entries and were to be settled by payment of differences only. The trial Court (BRAMAN J) decreed the plaintiffs' claim and directed an account to be taken holding that the transactions were not wagering contracts and that the plaintiffs merely occupied the position of middlemen or ordinary brokers. The defendants having appealed it was urged on their behalf that the trial Court erroneously allowed the plaintiffs in the course of their reply to alter their case which was that of a palla broker (which is the same thing as a palla adatia) into one of an ordinary broker. The appellants accordingly asked that they should be allowed inspection of the plaintiffs' ledger and to call for further evidence by cross examining the plaintiffs' witnesses to prove that the plaintiffs in their dealings with third parties were acting as principals and not as middlemen. The appellate Court (SCOTT C J and HEALOV J) came to the conclusion that in the interest of justice and having regard to the facts brought to their notice further evidence should be taken in the case. On fresh evidence being recorded and on further hearing of the appeal — Held (reversing the decision of the trial Court) by MACLEOD C J and FAWCETT J — (1) that the correspondence between the parties in which the plaintiffs frequently referred to satta dealings and the need of hedging as the market turned against the defendants and the actual course of dealings between the parties established beyond doubt that not only the plaintiffs knew that the defendants were gambling and not speculating but that there was a secret understanding that there was to be no actual delivery of cotton and that all transactions were to be adjusted by paying and receiving differences only. (2) that the evidence in the case further established that a similar understanding prevailed between the plaintiffs and third parties (with whom the plaintiffs dealt for the same Vaida and for amounts of produce corresponding with those for which the defendants entered into contracts) that the transactions between them should be closed either before or at the Vaida by the payment of differences only. (3) that if the plaintiffs were to be regarded as employed for labour the evidence showed that the parties had entered into transactions knowingly to further or assist the entering into or carrying out agreements by way of wager within the meaning of Bombay Act III of 1865 inasmuch as the plaintiffs were in effect employed by the defendants to make bets on the rise and fall of the cotton market and the plaintiffs having that knowledge encouraged the defendants to give them orders for bets with the result that the plaintiffs made bets in consequence of those orders with the third parties who also knew that in their own transactions they were betting with the plaintiffs. (4) that the mere circumstance that the greater part of the plaintiffs' claim related to differences resulting from cross contracts did not make the contracts less the wagering transactions for where the Court found that when the contracts were entered into there was a secret understanding that only differences were to be paid and received it did not matter much if the parties before the Vaida

PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTIONS—contd

PAKKI ADAT TRANSACTIONS—concl

agreed to fix their losses or gains than wait till the Vaida. The proper issue in a suit by a palla adatia against his constituent are—(1) If the contract between the parties is one of employment for reward was it knowingly made to further or assist the entering into of agreements by way of gaming or wagering? (2) If the contract between the parties was as principal and principal was it by way of wagering or gaming? In order to win on the 1st issue the defendants must prove that there was an understanding between them and plaintiffs (i) that they were not only speculating but gambling (ii) that if they ordered the plaintiffs to buy they would never call upon them to give delivery (iii) that if the plaintiffs incurred losses in carrying out their orders they would indemnify them and (iv) that even if the plaintiffs did not contract with third parties in pursuance of their orders differences would be received and paid exactly as if they had. Incidentally it might be arranged that plaintiffs should only enter into wagering contracts with third parties and that would be sufficient to vitiate the contract of employment though it might not be possible to prove that those third parties with whom the plaintiffs contracted were also wagering. On the 2nd issue the defendants would have to prove that there was a common intention only to pay differences. Per MACLEOD C J—The only difference between the relationship of a palla adatia and his constituent on the one hand and that of a broker personally liable on the other is that the broker enters into orders received and his client on the other is that in the latter case the broker enters into the contract as agent for the client he being personally liable to the person with whom he contracts while the adatia does not make the contracts with third parties as agent but as principal the constituent having no right to be brought into contact with the third parties. Bhagchandras Parasram v Burjorys Ruttonji Bomony (1917) L P 451 A 29 42 Bom 373 distinguished. Bhagchandras v Kanyis (1905) 30 Bom 205 discussed. The Universal Stock Exchange Company v Strachan [1896] A C 166 in re Giles [1899] 1 Q B 794 and Thacker v Hardy (1878) 4 Q B D 685 referred to. MANALAL PACHUNATH v RADHAKISSON LAMOTIAN (1920) I L R 45 Bom. 386

PALA" OR TURN OF WORSHIP

See LIMITATION I L R 48 Cal 455

*Mortgage—Transferrability of palas—Custom—Kalghat Temple—Estoppel of mortgagor even if trustee—Essential attributes of valid custom—Public policy contravention of—Onus probandi—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXII—Chattels—Intangible property—Foreclosure of mortgage of—Pledge. Per MOORE JEE J (BEACHCROFT J reserving opinion) A mortgagor even when acting in a public capacity and not for his own benefit is estopped to deny his title and cannot set up as a defence for himself against the mortgagee that the property so mortgaged is trust property which he had no right to mortgage. Doe v Horne L R 3 Q B 60 61 R R 3 J followed. This principle is inapplicable where the mortgage is void as contrary to Statute. Barrow v Ouse 14 Ch D 430 followed.*

PALA " OR TURN OF WORSHIP—contd

Trustees for a public purpose are not by the nature of their office protected from the operation of estoppel as against the assignees of the original parties to the deed in question. Doe v Horne L P 3 Q B 760 61 P P 39 Hicks v Horne L P 5 Q B 61 and Higgs v Aspin Tea Co L P 4 Ex 35 referred to. [View indicated by Banerjee in Mallik v Ramani 1 C W 4 433 not accepted.] P. V. MOONERJEE and BEACH CHOTT J J. A custom to be valid must have four essential attributes: (i) it must be immemorial (ii) it must be reasonable (iii) it must have continued without interruption since its immemorial origin and (iv) it must be certain in its nature generally as well as in its application to the locality where it is alleged to obtain and the persons whom it is alleged to affect. Tyson v Smith 2 Ad & El 405 followed. A custom cannot be enlarged by parol reasoning. Arthur v Boleyn 11 Mod 148 Prady v Gopi Krihas 1 L P 57 Cal 3 referred to. A custom originating within time of memory even though existing in fact is void at law. Mayor of London v Cor L P 3 H L 239 followed. Evidence showing exercise of a right in accordance with an alleged custom as far back as living testimony can go raises the presumption though only a rebuttable one as to the immemorial existence of the custom. Barford v Smith 2 Moo & P 129 Mercer v Denne [1904] 2 Ch. 534 followed. If the existence of the custom has been proved for a long period the onus lies on the person seeking to disprove the custom to demonstrate its impossibility. If a custom be against reason (i.e. artificial and legal reason warranted by authority of law) it has no force in law. When a custom is said to be void as being unreasonable the unreasonable character of the alleged custom conclusively proves that the usage even though it may have existed from time immemorial must have resulted from accident or indulgence and not from any rights conferred in ancient times. Salisbury v Gladstone 9 H L O 69 followed. The period for ascertaining whether a particular custom is reasonable or not is the time of its possible inception. The Tanistry Case (1608) Da v 29 followed. In practice, the Kalghat Temple palas have been transferred during at least 90 years though in a limited market which those alone can enter who are qualified to become shahit by birth or marriage the time when this custom originated being unknown. Proof of the existence of a custom need not be carried back by direct evidence to the year 1773 when the supreme Court was established or even to 1793 when the first Regulations were passed by the Indian Legislature. The customary right to make a sale mortgage gift or lease of a pala in favour of persons within a limited circle (the transferee being under precisely the same obligation to the endowment as the transferor himself) is closely associated with and possibly developed out of the heritable devisable and partible character of a pala. Janokee v Gopaul 1 L R 2 Cal 365 referred to. A custom of this description clearly cannot be characterised on any rational grounds as unreasonable or opposed to public policy. Foreclosure as a remedy of the mortgage is not confined to mortgages of land it is equally applicable to mortgages of chattels. Harris v Hart 1 Comyn 393 2 Eq Cas Abr 6 followed. A mortgage of intangible property is entitled to foreclose the mortgagor quite as much as a mortgagee of chattels. MAHAMAYA DEBI v HARIDAS HALDER (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal 455

PALA " OR TURN OF WORSHIP—contd

Palas of worship—Whether immovable property—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 130 whether governs suit to enforce mortgage of pala. A turn of worship is not an interest in immovable property. Consequently a suit to enforce a mortgage of a turn of worship is not governed by Art 132 but by Art 120 of the Limitation Act. NARASHINGA BANA GOSWAMI v PRODHADHAR TEORI (1918) 22 P W N 894

Palas alienation of apart from the debutter land—Custom proof and validity of—Subdivision of pala validity of—Objection taken in second appeal. Where there was an alienation of a pala or turn of worship only apart from the debutter land and evidence was adduced of instances of alienations along with the debutter land—Held that no custom of alienating the pala or turn of worship apart from the debutter land was established and that such an alienation was unreasonable. MAHAMAYA DEBI v HARIDAS HALDER 1 L R 42 Cal 455 20 C L J 183 distinguished. The transfer by a shahit of his turn of worship to two persons in different shares is unreasonable and objection to such a division may be taken for the first time in second appeal. It being a point of law and the respondent not being taken by surprise. NITYA GOPAL BANERJEE v NAVI LAL MUKERJEE (1910)

1 L R 47 Cal 890

PALAYAM.

See UNSETTLED PALAYAM

1 L R 41 Mad 749

Unsettled palayam—Alienability—Land held on service tenure—Abolition of service—Police duties of land owner—Effect of sanads. A palayam in the Madura district was held originally on military service tenure and subject to the payment of a tribute to the paramount power. It was contended that it was also held on condition of rendering police service to the State. In support of that contention reliance was placed upon sanads granted in 1797 and 1807 by which the palayagar was bound to protect the inhabitants from robberies and to deliver up murderers and deserters. In 1895 the palayagar mortgaged villages of the palayam for debts incurred by him prior to that date and in 1900 the villages were bought by the mortgagees at a sale under a mortgage decree. No permanent settlement had been made with the palayagar but in 1900 one was made with the alienees. Held that the palayam was not by reason of its tenure inalienable since military service was abolished in the Madura district by a proclamation in 1801 and since even if it could be inferred from the sanads that the palayam was held on a tenure of rendering police service to the State (which it could not) such police duties by land holders were abolished before the alienation and that the alienees obtained a good title. [Judgment of the High Court approved.] APPAYASAMI NAICKER v MUDAYAPPA ZAMINDARI COMPANY LTD (1921)

L R 43 L A 100

1 L R 111 Mad (P C) 175

PALMYRA JUICE

— lease of whether lease of the moveable property—

See REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)

s 17 (1) (c) AND (d)

I L R 58 Mad 883

PANCHAYAT

See LABEL

I L R 39 All 561

PANDARASANNADHI

See MUTT

I L R 40 Mad 177

PAPER CURRENCY ACT (II OF 1910)

s 26—

— Promissory note payable to a person or order or bearer legality of—Right of suit on the note A promissory note payable to a person or order or bearer is illegal and void under s 26 of the (Indian) Paper Currency Act (II of 1910) and a bearer cannot be given any decree for money in a suit on such a note Jetha Parikha v Ramchandra Vishoba I L R 16 Bom 659 referred to Obiter If there is an obligation apart from the one under the note it may be enforced and the fact that the loan and the note are contemporaneous is not conclusive of the non-existence of such an obligation Shanmuganatha Chettiar v Srinivasa Ayyar & Al L R 27 and 31 Mad L J 138 referred to CHIDAMBARAM CHETTIAR v ARYASAWMI THEVAR (1916) I L R 40 Mad 585

— Hundi payable to bearer validity of—Bona fide customer drawing hundi on a bank without money to his credit effect of Where a hundi though drawn in favour of a specified person is made payable to bearer it is void as being obnoxious to s 26 of the Indian Paper Currency Act (II of 1910) unless the hundi comes within the proviso to the section The object of the proviso being to enable bona fide customers to operate on actual or intended deposits the fact that the drawer of the hundi had actually no money in the bank does not take the hundi out of the proviso if as a fact he intended to deposit money before presentment ARUNACHALAM CHETTIAR v NARAYANAN CHETTIAR (1918) I L R 42 Mad 470

— Hundi payable to bearer—Suit by endorser against endorser—Invalidity of hundi—Estoppel if any The endorsee of a hundi which was drawn payable to bearer and which was not saved by the proviso to s 26 of the Paper Currency Act sued to enforce it as against the endorser Held that the hundi was invalid according to the section and that the endorser was not estopped from denying the validity of the hundi Chidambaram Chettiar v Arayasawmi Thevar (1917) I L R 40 Mad 585 followed The observations of SESHAGIRI ARYAR J to the contrary in Arunachalam Chettiar v Narayanan Chettiar (1919) I L R 42 Mad 470 held obiter and not followed The mere fact that a hundi is drawn on a certain person and that he endorses it to another does not make the drawee a banker within the proviso to the section ALAGAPPA CHETTY v ALAGAPPA CHETTY (1921) I L R 44 Mad 157

PARALYSIS

— Testator suffering with—

See WILL

I L R 1 Lah. 173

PARDANASHIN LADY

See ATTENTION I L R 37 Cal 525

See CITT I L R 39 Cal 933

See CITT I L R 38 Cal 783

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Cal 748

L R 48 I A 270

I L R 47 Cal 175

24 C W N 977

See PRESENTATION OF COMPLAINT

I L R 42 Cal 10

See PROBING I L R 39 Cal 534

See SUFFICIENCY ACT 186 ss 2 AND 31

I L R 43 AU 525

— examination of—

See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Cal 19

See EXAMINATION ON COMMISSION

I L R 45 Cal 492, 697

I L R 48 Cal 443

— execution by—necessity for—caution—

See MORTGAGE 23 W N 285 942

— liability of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 40 Cal 378

1 — Mortgage by in favour of her legal adviser—Trust action to be closely scrutinised—Onus—Proof—that deed was executed to executant and she understood it—Relations cognisant of execution—Inference that deed properly explained if follows—Stipulation in deed to substitute for properties mortgaged partitioned share of estate under partition if inoperative—Leader and client relationship if ceases on passing of judgment when the time for appealing has not expired T a pardanashin lady and S her brother who had been parties in a partition suit with members of their family were presented in that suit by one R as their pleader The suit terminated in their favour but before the time for appeal had expired property belonging wholly to T was mortgaged in favour of R to secure an advance of Rs 1000 of which Rs 473 was said to have been cash and the balance went mainly if not entirely in the discharge of moneys due from S A clause was inserted in the bond to the effect that after the partition should have been effected the property awarded to T should be substituted for the mortgaged property and it was admitted that the effect of this would be to quadruple the amount of property There were concurrent findings that this clause was not properly explained to the lady but the Trial Court held it to be of no consequence as the clause was inoperative The Trial Judge upheld the deed subject to a reduction of the stipulated interest which he held to be unconscionable being mainly influenced by the consideration that the relatives of the lady must have been aware of the transaction because her brother was a co-signatory of the deed and two of her relatives were the identifying witnesses but the brother was personally interested in carrying through the transaction by which he derived advantage at the expense of the lady and the other relatives generally were taking gross advantage of her unprotected state Held that this was a case of the legal adviser to a pardanashin woman acting the part of money lender to her and procuring the execution by her of a mortgage bond to secure its repayment and it was difficult to conceive a case in which the Court would be entitled and indeed obliged to examine the transaction with close scrutiny or to insist more sternly on the mortgagee supporting the heavy onus of showing that the client was fully aware of the meaning and effect of the deed and that the transaction was a fair and honest one. That the Trial Judge was in error in holding that in the mortgage bond of 18th Nov 1911 the clause which was clear in its language stipulation for the substitution of T's partitioned properties for the property mortgaged would be inoperative. That in the circumstance the relative of T should in no way have been regarded as the defendants of her interest. MAHADEVI LAXMI AD v. TAJ BEGUM (1914) 19 C W N 162

PARDANASHIN LADY—contd

2. — Execution of mortgage by—Attestation by witnesses—A mortgage executed by a pardanashin lady was attested by her husband and another witness. The husband actually saw the signature being made and the other witness was outside the screen in the same room with the lady and he knew her voice and heard her say 'yes' when the document was explained to her. Held that the document was duly attested in accordance with law. RUKMINI KOERIE v. NIRMALI BAYDAPADHYAYA (1915) 19 C W N 1203

3. — Illiterate document executed by and drawn up under her instruction—Document is to be explained—Presumption of knowledge—Registration—Power of attorney—Scope of—Where a pardanashin lady took a loan from another pardanashin lady on a mortgage security, had the deed drawn up by her own men under her own instruction and then got it registered through her mukhtar and husband authorised to act on her behalf by a general power of attorney. Held that it was not necessary that the contents of the document should have been explained to her after the draft was made but knowledge of the contents was to be presumed specially as the document came from the side of the executant. Held also that in second appeal the High Court can make deductions from acts without disturbing the findings of the lower Appellate Court. Held also that authority to appear in the Registration office implied authority to appear for all purposes authorised by the Registration Act. BRUBAN MOHINI DAS v. GAJALAKSHMI DEBI (1914) 19 C W N 1330

4. — Plea that promisor was not raised—Decree for specific performance—Court is bound to raise the plea—In a suit for specific performance of a contract of sale by the widow of a deceased Hindu and his executor there were no pleas taken in defence either that the price agreed upon was inadequate or that one of the promisors was a pardanashin lady, and no issue was raised or tried on either of the points. Held that neither of these points could be allowed to be raised by them on appeal. The High Court having reversed the decision of the Subordinate Judge on an issue as to payment by the purchaser of a sum of Rs. 1,000 to the vendors. Held on the evidence that the decision of the Subordinate Judge was correct and should be restored. NAROTTAM DAS v. KEDAR NATH SAMANTA (1916) 21 C W N 665

5. — Execution of deed depriving herself of nearly all her property—Burden

PARDANASHIN LADY—contd

of proof—Peguissites to be proved—Concurrent findings on facts that burden had not been discharged—First Court's decision on that point affirmed by Appellate Court—Finding sufficient to dispose of case—A pardanashin lady separated from her husband unable to read or write and without independent legal advice created an endowment of practically her whole property by a deed of which she appointed the appellants (plaintiffs) trustees. In a suit for a declaration that the property was wagf and for possession of it. Held that as they relied upon the deed the onus was on the appellants to show that the nature and effect of it had at the time of its execution been explained to and understood by the executant. Shambati Koori v. Jago Bibi I L R 29 Cal 749 I L R 29 I A 17 followed. Upon the question whether that onus had been discharged the Appellate Court in India affirmed the decision of the first Court to the effect that it had not but nevertheless allowed an appeal to His Majesty in Council under s. 596 of the Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1822) on the ground that the judgment of the lower Court had not been wholly affirmed. Held that the findings of the Courts below amounted to concurrent findings of fact which could not be disturbed on appeal and there being no substantial question of law the appeal must be dismissed. Karuppanan Sarias v. Srinivasan Chetti I L R 25 Mad 216 I L R 29 I A 33 followed. SAJJAD HUSSAIN v. WAHER ALI KHAN (1912) 11 I L R 34 ALL 455

6. — Execution of mortgage by—A mortgage deed was executed by a Pardanashin lady the attesting witness being on one side of the parda and the lady on the other. Her son took the deed to the lady behind the parda and came back with it signed after which it was attested. Held the deed was properly attested. IASI PROSAD v. PAI GUNGA PROSAD 14 M W N 165

7. — Suit for cancellation of deed—Nature of proof required—Independent advice not absolutely necessary—Lady of strong will and in the habit of managing her affairs with considerable capacity for business—Undue influence—Natural affection—In the case of a deed executed by a pardanashin lady the law protects her by demanding that the burden of proof shall in such case rest not with those who attack but with those who rely upon the deed and it must be proved affirmatively and conclusively that the deed was not only executed by but was explained to and really understood by the grantor. It must also be established that it was not signed under duress but by the free and independent exercise of her will. Sajjad Hussain v. Waher Khan I L R 34 All 445 I L R 39 I A 156 followed. There is no absolute rule that a deed executed by a pardanashin lady cannot stand unless it is proved that she had independent advice. The possession of absence of independent advice is a fact to be taken into consideration and well weighed on a review of the whole circumstances relevant to the issue of whether the grantor thoroughly comprehended and deliberately and of her own free will carried out the transaction and if upon such a review of the facts—which include the nature of the thing done and the training and habit of mind of the grantor as well as the proximate circumstances affecting the execution—the conclusion is reached that the obtaining of independent advice would not really have made any difference in the result then the deed ought to stand. In a suit for cancellation of gift executed by a pardanashin lady the facts were that her husband had died long before and her property (consisting of shares in a large number of villages) was managed by the mukhtar with whom she had formed an intimacy the result of which was the birth of two illegitimate daughters one of whom was alive at the date of the deed. The donee was the legitimate son of her mukhtar. The deed was found to be duly executed attested by just the persons who would naturally be called upon for such a purpose and registered in the usual way by the proper officers. The property given was about one half of her estate and there was no question of her being impoverished by giving it. No undue influence was affirmatively proved. It appeared in evidence that the lady was strong minded and had been in the habit for many years of managing her affairs of entering up her accounts and of attending to business matters. Held (reversing the decision of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner) that the evidence as to her strength of will and business capacity and the fact that the deed was not in the circumstances of her life in any way an unnatural disposition of her property went far taken together with the other evidence in the case to make it conclusive that the deed was granted by her as the expression of her deliberate mind and apart from any undue influence exerted upon it and that had independent advice been obtained the lady would have acted just as she did. Mahomed Bakhs Khan v Hossein Bibi: I L R 15 Cal 684 I L R 15 I A 81 referred to. KALI BAKSH SINGH v RAM GOPAL SINGH (1913) I L R 86 AN 481

PARDANASHIN LADY—contd

8 — Executing mortgage for husband's benefit—Proof of intelligent execution—Explanation—Independent advice—Undue influence—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 16 Where a pardanashin lady was induced by her husband to give a mortgage by way of security at a time when she was living with her husband and the evidence was that the document was read and explained to her by the husband in the presence of the mortgagee. Held that the Court would not be justified in holding that the mortgage was fairly taken or that the lady executing it was a free agent duly informed of what she was about and the mortgagee must be taken to have been aware of the influences under which the lady came to execute the document. Held (without expressing any opinion as to whether s 16 of the Contract Act requires the undue influence to proceed from a party to the suit) that the undue influence which may affect a pardanashin lady's understanding of a document may proceed from a third party. Gireesh Ch Lahorey v Phiroobutty Debi 13 Moo I A 419 Bank of Montreal v Stuart [1911] A C 120. In re Coomber [1911] 1 Ch 723 730. Kanhaya Lal v The National Bank of India Ltd 17 C W N 511 referred to. RAJATANKSHA BIRBI v AMBICA CHABAY GHOSH (1914) 18 C W N 1133

9 — Deed of trust executed by—Independent advice—absence of it invalidates deed—Free agent intelligent apprehension nature of transaction—Bengali deed containing English text not explained. The Courts should be careful to see that deeds taken from pardanashin women have been fairly taken that the party executing them has been a free agent and duly informed as to what she was about. It cannot be accepted as a formula conclusive of every case of a deed taken from a pardanashin woman that the absence of advice vitiates the transaction. Advice is not in itself essential it is merely a means to secure that which is essential an intelligent apprehension of the transaction. The first and practically perhaps the most important question is was the transaction a righteous transaction i.e. was it a thing which a right minded person might be expected to do? Mohomed Bakhs Khan v Hossein Bibi I L R 15 I A 81 92 followed. Where an illiterate pardanashin woman transferred her property to her brother and his family by a deed of trust and there was evidence that the idea had originated with her that the draft was prepared according to her instructions and that the deed which was in her vernacular was read over to her and she admitted execution before the Pemstar the fact that there was no evidence as to what advice she had had in the matter was not in itself sufficient to invalidate the deed. Where the said vernacular deed contained some English words such as trust committed revocable and there was no evidence that those words were explained to her. Held that though it is an infirmity in the case of those claiming under the instrument it is not destructive of their claim under the instrument. KESHUB LALL PYRE v RADHA RAMAN NUNDY (1912) 17 C W N 991

PARDANASHIN LADY—contd

10 — Document executed by—Suit for cancellation on the ground of fraud. The plaintiff a pardanashin lady executed a conveyance in favour of the defendant the consideration for which consisted of money due on a mortgage bond previously given by her to the purchaser and an additional sum paid at the time of sale. It appeared that on the mortgage bond she wrote with her own hand this bond executed by me is correct and then signed her name. Similarly on the conveyance she wrote this deed of sale which I have executed is true and correct and is admitted and ratified by me and then affixed her signature. She brought a suit for cancellation of the conveyance on the ground of fraud. In the plaint it was alleged that the defendants who were agents of the plaintiff got the mortgage bond and the deed of sale signed by her without the document being read out and explained to her that she did not get any independent legal advice in connection with the documents and did not get any consideration for them. In her deposition the plaintiff stated that she had put her signature on blank sheets which had subsequently been filled up without her knowledge or consent by the defendant and turned into the mortgage bond and the sale deed. Held that as the documents undoubtedly bore the plaintiff's signature the burden was upon her to establish that the recitals contained therein were untrue. BANSPUR PANCHAM DAST (1914) 20 C W N 638

11 — Person trusted by as manager and managing her properties—but a ting adversely to her interests acts of it bind her fiduciary relationship—Breach of trust—Fraud by fiduciary when may be condoned—Nullity—From arbitration proceedings and award—Limitation if applies to defence—Time for recovery to run from termination of relationship—Award if may be upheld

PARDANASHIN LADY—contd

as fully arranged. If a Hindu who had separated from his brothers acquired considerable property by money lending and died in 1892 leaving a widow K and several daughters and a daughter's son P by a predeceased wife K who was not a woman of business came under the influence of F a separated brother of H and P managed her properties and K believed that he was acting as her manager until he died in 1903. Shortly after H's death F in collusion with P got up a sham arbitration proceeding which resulted in an award by which the properties left by H were divided up amongst the various members of the family K receiving only a share. The true nature and effect of the proceedings were concealed from her and she was misled and betrayed by F and P both of whom had interests adverse to her and were acting in their own interest. In a suit by another member of the family to enforce in his right under the award a mortgage effected by F from advances made out of properties left by H K denied the plaintiff's title altogether and claimed the entire mortgage money in her right as the widow of H. The High Court held that the arbitration was a sham that it had not been shown that K had any independent advice or understood the effect of the so-called award on her interests and believing that she never knowingly consented to the division of her husband's estate dismissed the suit. Held by the Judicial Committee (without dissenting from the conclusions of the High Court) that from the death of K's husband F stood to her in a fiduciary relationship which continued till he died and she was entitled to receive from him a full disclosure of all the affairs which concerned her. That F having betrayed the confidence K reposed in him the question in the case was not whether K knew what she was doing had done or proposed to do but how her intention to act was produced whether all that care and provision was placed round her as against those who advised her which from their situation and relation with respect to her they were bound to exert on her behalf. That fraud such as there was in this case could not be condoned unless there was full knowledge of the facts and of the rights arising out of those facts and the parties were at arm's length. Huguenin v Baseley 14 Ves Jun 273 and Moxon v Payne & Co App 831 referred to. That the Indian Limitation Act was no bar to her defence and even if she were suing to recover property of which she was deprived by the award time would not run against her until F died. That the award regarded as an award or as a document embodying a family arrangement was a nullity. SRI KISHAN LAL & KASH MIBO (1916) 20 C W N 957

12 — Deed executed by—what is proper explanation. Where in the case of a pardanashin lady the draft of a deed of English mortgage was interpreted in Bengalee to her by her legal adviser by reading two to four lines at a time and it took about three hours to do so and ten or twelve days afterwards it was executed by her when it was again explained to her by giving out the substance it was held that the deed was duly executed. SHYAMPEARY DASTA & THE EASTERN MORTGAGE AND AGENCY CO. LD (1917) 22 C W N 226

13 — Execution of document by—Lack of independent advice effect of—Where

PARDANASHIN LADY—contd

a deed executed by a pardanashin lady is challenged on the ground that she had no independent advice if it found that the obtaining of independent advice would not have made any difference to the result the deed ought to stand. Kali Balsh Singh v Pirm Gopal Singh 18 C W N 280 referred to. This is a question of fact and in deciding it the nature of the thing done and training and habits of mind of the executant and the proximate circumstances affecting the execution should be taken into consideration. MUSAMMAT HIRA BIRI v RAMDHAN LAL 8 Pat L J 465

14 — Duty of disclosure of donee to donor of character of transaction—Failure operates to nullify transaction apart from fraud—Indian Succession Act (X of 1865) sec 331—Person dying a Christian succession to governed by Hindu law when he lived like a Hindu. The parties to a contract may stand in such a relation as (apart from fraud or of conduct partaking of the quality of fraud) may give rise to an obligation on the part of one towards the other failure to fulfil which will be a ground for rescission of the contract and for the consequent remedies. Docton v Ashburton 1914 A C 932 referred to. The donee from a pardanashin lady stands towards her in such a relation that it is his duty to see that she fully understands the transaction. The release in question in this case was set aside as the duty of disclosure resting upon the donee had not been discharged. Succession to the estate of a person who died a Christian is governed by the Indian Succession Act and cases such as Abraham v Abraham (9 M L A 195) and Radhika Patta Maha Devi Garu v Nilamani Patta Maha Devi Garu (14 N R P C 33) which preceded the Act cannot be relied on to modify or interpret it. MUSAMMAT PAMALWATI v KUNWAR DIGHUJAI SINGH (P C) 26 W N 490

15 — Rules by which court should be guided to determine validity of document—Ful that case of fraud must depend strictly on proof of fraud alleged how far applicable to action brought by a pardanashin lady. The plaintiff a pardanashin lady sought to have a deed of partition executed by her in favour of her husband's brother immediately after her husband's death cancelled. Held that it is well settled that the Court when called upon to deal with a deed executed by a pardanashin lady must satisfy itself upon the evidence first that the deed was actually executed by her or by some person duly authorised by her with a full understanding of what she was about to do secondly that she had full knowledge of the nature and effect of the transaction into which she is said to have entered and thirdly that she had independent and disinterested advice in the matter. In cases where the person who seeks to hold the lady to the terms of her deed is one who stood towards her in a fiduciary character or in some relation of personal confidence the Court will act with great caution and will presume confidence put and influence exerted and in cases where the person who seeks to enforce the deed was an absolute stranger and dealt with her at arm's length the Court will require the confidence and influence to be proved intrinsically. In the former class of cases the principle formulated in sec 111 of the Indian Evidence Act applies. SATISH CHANDRA GHOSH v KALIDASI DAST 26 W N 177

PARDANASHIN LADY—cont'd

16 ——— Principles which should Guide court—Independent and competent advice meaning of—*Necessity of greater caution in cases where person benefited holds fiduciary position—Misrepresentation or fraud proof of not essential—Joint family—Sacrifice if effected by deed of settlement by widow entrusted reversioner with management for a term—Limitation Act (I) of 1908) Art 91 applicability of when Plaintiffs seek possession on declaration that Defendants document of title wholly void—Time from which limitation runs when deed voidable—Karia of joint Hindu family nature and extent of his accountability On the death of a member of a Hindu joint family a deed of settlement was executed by the guardian of the widow who was at the time a minor the effect of which was to place the properties of the minor inherited by her from her husband in charge of her husband's brother who was the reversioner on certain terms After the widow had attained majority a deed of settlement for the life of the widow was executed by her in favour of the sons of her husband's brother who was now dead The widow brought a suit for partition of the joint family properties and for other incidental reliefs on declaration that the last deed of settlement was void and inoperative Held that it is well settled that the Court when called upon to deal with a deed executed by a pardanashin lady must satisfy itself upon the evidence first that the deed was actually executed by her or by some person duly authorized by her with a full understanding of what she was about to do secondly that she had full knowledge of the nature and effect of the transaction into which she is said to have entered and thirdly that she had independent and disinterested advice in the matter NABAR CHANDRA HUKHFI & NEHU PAMIA DEVI 28 B W N 517*

PARDON

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 337 to 339

See KING'S PREROGATIVE OF PARDON

——— By Crown ——— If a bar to appeal

See COURT APPEAL

25 B W N 701

——— of appellant pending appeal—

See CRIMINAL LAW I L R 2 Lah 34

1 ——— Forfeiture of pardon—Proper Court to determine the question of forfeiture—With drawal of pardon by the Court granting it—Power of the Special Bench to reopen the question on a plea of pardon taken at the trial for the original offence in respect of which it was granted—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 331, 339 Where an approver to whom a pardon was granted under s 331 of the Criminal Procedure Code by the committing Magistrate resides at the hearing of the case before the Special Bench from his deposition given before such Magistrate the Special Bench can only discharge him but cannot take any action against him for the offence in respect of which he was accorded the pardon If he is proceeded against for the original offence the committing Magistrate who granted the pardon must determine whether he has complied with its terms or not and thereby forfeited the same and the question cannot be reopened at his trial before the Special Bench for such offence Queen Empress v Manik Chandra Sarkar 1 L R 24 Cal. 492 approved of Emperor v Kothia 1 L R 30 Bom 611 and Kullan v Emperor 1 L R 32 Mad 173 referred to King Emperor v Bala 1 L R 25 Bom 675 disapproved. EMPEROR v ABANI BHUSAN CHUCKERBUTTY (1910) 1 L R 37 Cal 845

PARDON—cont'd

2. ——— Withdrawal by Magistrate not granting the pardon—Omission to state grounds of forfeiture—Necessity of formal withdrawal or declaration of forfeiture—Plea of pardon to be raised at the trial—Trial of issues of forfeiture of pardon and guilt of accused—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 337 339 Under the present law no formal withdrawal of pardon nor formal declaration of its forfeiture are required If the approver be subsequently proceeded against it is open to him to plead at his trial that the pardon has not in fact been forfeited that he has not violated its condition The two questions of forfeiture of pardon and of his guilt of the offence in respect of which he received the same may be heard and determined together, under the circumstance Emperor v Kothia 1 L R 30 Bom 611 Kullan v Emperor 1 L R 32 Mad 173 and Emperor v Abani Bhuvan Chuckerbutty 1 L R 37 Cal. 845 referred to EMPEROR v SABAR AZUNJI (1914) 1 L R 42 Cal. 755

3 ——— Failure of approval to comply with terms of the pardon on examination at the preliminary enquiry—Forfeiture of pardon—Commitment of approver along with other accused—Joint trial of approver and others—Plea of pardon taken in the Sessions Court—Proper procedure thereon—Trial of question of forfeiture a preliminary issue—Power of Jury to determine the point—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 298 (1) (c) 337 Where an approver has forfeited his pardon on his examination at the preliminary enquiry the Magistrate may put him in the dock recommence the enquiry and commit him for trial along with the other accused Queen Empress v Nathi 1 L R 27 Cal 137 discussed Queen Empress v Drij Narain Man 1 L R 20 All 529 Emperor v Budhan 1 L R 29 All 24 Sullan Khan v King Emperor 6 All J 961 and King Emperor v Bala 1 L R 25 Bom 675 followed When an approver has been committed to the Court of Sessions as an accused he may plead his pardon in bar at the trial and the Judge must first try the issue of forfeiture and take the verdict of the Jury thereon and then proceed with the trial of accused for the offences charged Emperor v Abani Bhuvan Chuckerbutty 1 L R 37 Cal 845 discussed Kullan v Emperor 1 L R 32 Mad 173 Alagurami Naicken v Emperor 1 L R 30 Mad 514 King Emperor v Bala 1 L R 25 Bom 675 Emperor v Kothia 1 L R 30 Bom 611 and Emperor v Nathi 31 Punj Rec 1904 approved PER BEACROFT J Under the old law the pardon remained in force until its withdrawal by the authority granting it in consequence of the approver failing to observe the conditions of the pardon but under the present law the result of such failure is that the approver may be put on trial without any formal order of withdrawal or cancellation of the pardon The plea should be taken at the commencement of the preliminary enquiry and considered by the Magistrate If he decides against it or it is not taken before him the approver er may raise the plea in the Sessions Court. The Judge ought to try the question of forfeiture as a preliminary issue on evidence limited to the point and take the verdict of the Jury on it before proceeding to try the general issue of the guilt of the accused. The onus of proof of forfeiture is on the Crown. Queen Empress v. Manil Chandra Sarkar 1 L. R. 24 Cal. 43 declared obsolete. Where however the Judge tried the question of forfeiture with the Jury after some evidence on the general issue had been recorded—Held, that the irregularity had not prejudiced the approver of the other accused. Sembie. When the approver deviates from the conditions of his pardon in the Sessions Court he cannot be removed from the witness box and placed in the dock as an accused. Bha ni Rajbanshi v. Emperor (1914)

PARDON—could

I. L. R. 42 Cal. 856

PARLIAMENT MEMBER OF

*Making contract with Secretary of State for India in Council if forfeits seat—Public service for or on account of which such contract made if comprises public service of the Crown anywhere—Place where such contract made if material—22 Geo. III c. 45 (1782) s. 1—41 Geo. III c. 62 (1801) s. 4—Secretary of State for India if a British Officer and if may discharge duties of His Majesty's other Secretaries of State—21 & 22 Vict. c. 106 Government of India Act 1858 s. 65—Secretary of State in Council if a corporation or a legal personality—3 & 4 Will. IV c. 41 Judicial Committee Act 1833 s. 4—Construction of Statute ejusdem generis latter Act if a surplusage or ex abundante cautela. Sir Stuart Samuel being a member of the House of Commons was partner of a firm which made contracts with the Secretary of State for India in Council for borrowing money on short loan for purchasing India Council Bills and India Treasury Bill for subscribing to India Government loan and for purchasing silver for the purpose of the Indian currency. Held that Sir Stuart Samuel forfeited his seat in the House of Commons the contract having been made for the public service of the Crown in India and with one of His Majesty's Secretaries of State b. i. of c. s. 111 c. 45 must be taken to extend to such service and to the Secretary of State for India. The public service required by the Statute need not be one either executed or required within Great Britain or paid for out of any particular fund. The Secretary of State for India in the fullest sense an officer of British Government. A contract is none the less made with the Secretary of State for India that he has to obtain the concurrence of his Council before making it and that he and his Council are designated by s. 65 of the Government of India Act of 1858 (21 & 22 Vict. c. 106) as liable to be sued or to sue on it as a corporate body. Neither the personality of the Secretary of State nor that of his Council is merged in any Corporation by the Statute. Their responsibilities and duties thereunder are separate and sometimes conflicting and it is only for purposes of litigation that they can be treated as though they were but one legal personality. In the matter of Sir Stuart Samuel (1913) 17 C. W. N. 735*

PARLIAMENT PROCEEDINGS IN

See LABEL

I. L. R. 37 Cal. 760

PAROL ACCEPTANCE

See TAMR ACT (II of 1869) s. 6

I. L. R. 11 Mad. 340

PARSI MARRIAGE AND DIVORCE ACT (XV OF 1865)

— ss. 3, 6, 8, 9, 14—

See PARSIS

I. L. R. 45 Bom. 146

— s. 31—

See PARSIS

I. L. R. 38 Bom. 615

PARSIS

*Maintenance—The Parsi Marriage and Divorce Act (XV of 1865) s. 31—Sue by a Parsi wife for permanent maintenance without claim for judicial separation—The High Court on its Original Side has no jurisdiction in such suit to pass an order for maintenance. The Bombay High Court on its Original Side has no jurisdiction in a suit between a Parsi husband and a Parsi wife to make an order for permanent alimony whether accompanied or not by any order for judicial separation. The only way in which a Parsi wife is entitled to get a decree for permanent alimony is to file a petition in the Parsi Matrimonial Court and there establish facts coming within s. 31 of the Parsi Marriage and Divorce Act. GOOLEAR v. BIRRAM RA (1914) I. L. R. 38 Bom. 615*

*Requisites to validity of a Parsi marriage—Certificate of a requisite of the marriage—Entry of certificate in the marriage register is merely for securing record of marriages duly solemnized—Absence of entry in the register does not affect validity of marriage—Proof of factum of marriage by any relevant evidence in the absence of entry of certificate in the register—Admission of secondary evidence s. 3 of the Parsi Marriage and Divorce Act exhausts all requisites to the validity of a Parsi marriage. The certificate which is to be given and is the Act by the officiating minister after the marriage has been contracted and solemnized is not in itself one of the requisites for a valid marriage under the Act. The provision about entering the certificate in the marriage register being merely intended to secure a proper record of marriages duly solemnized between the Parsees the absence of any entry in register would not affect the validity of the marriage. Where there is no certificate and no entry in the register any other relevant evidence is admissible to prove the factum of marriage. BAL AYALAT v. KROODAD ARDEYER (1920) I. L. R. 45 Bom. 146*

PART HEARD SUIT

See EX PARTE DECREE

I. L. R. 41 Cal. 956

See TRANSFER

I. L. R. 39 Cal. 146

PART PAYMENT

See CHEQUE PAYMENT BY

I. L. R. 42 Cal. 1043

— in satisfaction of decree—

See LIMITATION I. L. R. 46 Cal. 29

PARTIAL DECREE

See PETITION OF COURT FEE

I. L. R. 40 Cal. 365

PARTIES

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT
I L R 34 Bom 420

See CHARITABLE TRUST
I L R 48 Calc 124

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 368
I L R 32 All 301

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909—
s 92 I L R 36 Bom 168
I L R 37 All 296
I L R 40 Mad 110

O IV r 13 I L R 39 All 13

O XXII r 10 I L R 37 All 226

O XXXIV r 1 O I r 9
I L R 35 All 441

O XII r 33 I L R 43 All 85

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 69
I L R 34 All 615

See FRAUD I L R 37 Bom 217

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 32 All 183
I L R 33 All 71
I L R 38 All 393

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 39 Calc 696

See LIMITATION ACT (IV of 1908) s 22
I L R 39 Bom 723

See MISJOINDER I L R 45 Calc 111

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 342
I L R 35 All 247
I L R 41 Calc 727

See MUNICIPALITY I L R 46 Calc 784

See PARTITION SUIT
I L R 44 Calc 23

See POSSESSION I L R 47 Calc 907

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907) ss 22 46
I L R 39 All 152

See PUTNI SALE I L R 47 Calc 347

See RECEIVER 14 C W N 853

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX of 1863) ss 14 AND 18
I L R 41 Mad 237

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877) s 42
I L R 37 All 185

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 107
I L R 36 Bom 500

—Sale of joint property to provide funds for litigation

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 35 All 273

—acts and conduct of—
See EVIDENCE ADMISSIBILITY OF
I L R 38 Calc 892

—Addition of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O I r 10 (2) AND O XXXIV r 1
I L R 45 Bom 1009

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 913

PARTIES—contd

See PERNAND I L R 37 Calc 171
I L P 43 Calc 938

—appeal practice etc—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI r 60
I L R 44 Bom 860

—array of—
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 34 All 549 572

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 52
I L R 37 Bom 427

—change of—
See JOINT OWNERS
I L R 47 Calc 182

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 52
I L R 37 Bom 427

—consent of to jurisdiction—
See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 38
I L R 35 Bom 24

—death of—
See ARBITRATION 14 C W N 759

—dismissal on non appearance of plaintiff—Fresh suit on same cause
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909
O XVII r 4 I L R 44 Bom 82 767

—examination of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 107
I L R 39 All 49

—exonerated defendant—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1908) s 47 O XVI r 100 101
I L R 40 Mad 984

—In an application for confirmation of sale by auction purchaser
See SECOND APPEAL
I L R 39 Calc 687

—in suit by benamidar to recover possession decree holder not a necessary party
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss 47 AND 68 AND O I r 2
I L R 44 Bom 352

—In suit for redemption where parties in possession claim independently of mortgage
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908,
O XXXI r 5
I L R 44 Bom 698

—In suit against Talukdar where estate under Settlement Officer as Court of Wards—
See COURT OF WARDS ACT (REV ACT I of 1905) ss 31 32
I L R 44 Bom 986

—Intention of—
See MORTGAGE
I L R 39 Calc 527

—Joinder of—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 189—
s 30 I L R 32 All 294
s 539 I L R 35 Bom 470

PARTIES—contd.

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O I L R 10 I L R 35 Bom 393

O XXIV R 1

I L R 43 Bom 575

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 37 Bom 340

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 ss 22 23

I L R 34 Bom 91

See PES JUDICATA

I L R 38 Bom 207

Not sui juris—

See PRACTICE

I L R 48 Cal 994

on dissolution of Partnership—

See PARTNERSHIP I B C W N 193

Possessing remote interest—

See PROFIT A LRENDRE

2 Pat L J 323

power of Court to add—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 I L R 40 Mad 110

privity between—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 679

rights of—

See LEASE I L R 43 Cal 332

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 41 Cal 806

substitution of—

See LIMITATION L R 44 I A 218

Sut by Karta of Joint Family—

S s CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXIV R 1 6 Pat L J 640

appeal—whether lies for order on application to be brought on the Record

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XLIII R 1 I L R 37 All 272 to conveyance—

See EVIDENCE L R 44 I A 236

witnesses if—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 195 15 C W N 565

1 ——— Addition of parties—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) s 92—Changing character of defendant after period of limitation for suit has expired—Amendment of Plaint—Civil Procedure Code (Act XII of 1887) ss 39 53 582—Suit against Debtor estate—Expenses necessary for Debtor estate—Indemnity to estate of former sebat by successor—Liability of Debtor estate The parties to this litigation were the descendants of a testator who by his will dedicated immoveable property to the performance of the worship of certain idols and other pious acts and provided for the order of succession to the office of sebat among his descendants The suit was instituted on 20th January 1897 by the respondents as executors of a deceased sebat against the appellant who had been appointed receiver of the debutter estate for money which owing to interference and obstruction by the appellant in the collection of the rent had not been received by the deceased sebat during his sebatship and for expenses he had consequently been obliged to pay out of his private funds to protect the estate and enable him to perform his obligations as sebat All the other surviving descendants of the testator were made parties and the appellant was sued both in his capacity as receiver and in his personal capacity. After the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed for the suit an amendment of the plaint was made by the Court adding to it a prayer that it might be determined who was the sebat and that the debutter estate should be represented by the person declared to be entitled to the sebatship The appellant was found to be so entitled and was impleaded as sebat—Held affirming the decision of the High Court that the object of the amendment was merely to determine judicially which of the living descendants of the original testator all of whom were already parties to the suit was to be considered sebat It did not alter the character of the suit no amount to the addition of a new defendant within the meaning of s 22 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) and the suit was therefore not barred Held also that the estate of the deceased sebat was entitled to be reimbursed all sums properly expended by him in the preservation of the debutter estate (as payment of Government revenue and the like) and in defending his position as sebat which was challenged unsuccessfully by the appellant Hallers v Woodbridge L R 7 Ch D 504 followed The respondents were also entitled to recover all moneys properly expended by the deceased sebat in performing the obligations imposed upon him by the original testator's will The right of indemnity was incident to the position of a trustee and the liability in respect of that indemnity was the first charge on the trust estate PEARY MOHUN MUKERJEE v NARENDRA NATH MUKERJEE (1909) I L R 37 Cal 229

PARTIES—contd

2 ——— Where a landlord sued a transferee of the tenant's rights in ejectment on the ground that the transfer was unauthorised and the defence admitted the transfer but urged that it was not a valid transfer Held that the transfer or who applied to be added as a defendant setting up a contemporaneous agreement for retransfer and alleging that the transaction was really a mortgage by conditional sale and that he was still in possession should have been added as a party defendant by the Court although plaintiff opposed the application in order to avoid a multiplicity of suits and to insure a final determination of the dispute in the presence of all the parties interested The Court does not except in special circumstances force a defendant upon the plaintiff The test to be applied is whether his presence before the Court is necessary in order to enable the Court effectually and completely to adjudicate upon and settle all the questions involved in the cause or matter Montgomery v Fox [1895] 2 Q B 371 McCleane v Giles [1909] 1 Ch 911 referred to The judgment of the Judicial Committee in Amir Hassan Khan v Sheo Balkish Singh I L R 11 Cal 6 does not furnish any test for determining under what circumstances a subordinate Court may be said to have acted illegally or with material irregularity within the meaning of s 115 Civil Procedure Code The High Court is not precluded by the terms of s 115 Civil Procedure Code from interfering with an order granting or refusing applications for adding parties. Held that the High Court ought to set aside the order in the present case refusing the transfer of a application to be made a party as otherwise the result would be a needless multiplicity of suits and possible injury to the petitioner. Scope and operation of s. 115 Civil Procedure Code considered with reference to authorities. DWARKA NATH SEW : KESORY LAL GOSWAMY (1910) 14 C W N 703

PARTIES—contd

3 ———— Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909) O XVIII r 1—Suit allowed to be withdrawn with liberty to bring fresh suit on payment of defendant's costs added plaintiffs if found by order—Deposit of costs after institution but before trial of fresh suit if valid. Where the Judge having held that the plaintiff who was a member of a joint Hindu family should have joined the other members also as co plaintiffs the plaintiff asked for and was allowed leave to withdraw from the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit subject to limitation and on condition that he must pay or deposit the defendant's costs before bringing a fresh suit or else the suit shall stand dismissed with costs and the coparceners together instituted a fresh suit but did not deposit the defendant's costs till some time afterwards. Held that the suit was not liable to be dismissed so far as any rate as the added plaintiffs were concerned. That as regards the original plaintiff the suit should have been treated as instituted on the date on which the costs were deposited. That the deposit of the costs before the trial of the suit was sufficient compliance with the order in this case. Abdulla v Ibrahim I I R 1 Cal 965 followed. Harenath v Syed Hosein 10 C W N 8 distinguished. Cori Lal v Lala Nagov Lal (1911) 15 C W N 998

4 ———— Manager Joint Hindu Family—Managing members—Suit to recover debt due to members of family in family business—Power of managers to sue alone—Limitation Act (VI of 1908) s. 2—Parties added after expiry of period of limitation. Where a joint family business has to be carried on in the interests of the joint family as a whole the managing members may properly be entrusted with the power of making contracts giving receipts and compromising or discharging claims ordinarily incidental to the business and where they are so entrusted and empowered they are entitled as the sole managers of the family business to make in their own names contracts in the course of that business and to maintain suits brought to enforce those contracts without joining in the suit with them either as plaintiffs or defendants the other members of the family. Arunachala Pillai v Vithalinga Mudaliya I L R 6 Mad 27 approved. K P Hanna Isharod v M Narayanan Samayagopal I L R 3 Mad 234. Ramsebuk v Ramdali Koodond I L R 6 Cal 815. Imam ud din v Isildhar I L R 14 All 524 and Alagappa Chetti v Elkan Chetti I L R 18 Mad 33 distinguished. In this case the original plaintiffs were the managing members of a joint family business of money lending entrusted with the regularly exercising the power of doing everything necessary to carry on the business. In the course of such business they contracted in their own names with the defendants for a loan and on the accounts a balance was struck between the parties on the 9th August 1901. In a suit brought by the managing members on the

PARTIES—contd

3rd June 1901 and therefore within the period of limitation to recover the amount due the other members of the family were on an objection by the defendants that the suit was improperly constituted joined as plaintiffs on the 22nd August 1901 after the period of limitation for the suit had expired and the defence was set up that under s. 2 of the Limitation Act (VI of 1877) the whole suit was barred. Held (reversing the decision of the High Court) that the suit as originally brought was properly constituted that the members of the family subsequently added were unnecessary parties and that the suit was consequently not barred. KISHAN PRASAD : HAR NARAIN SINHA (1911) 1 L R 33 All 2/8

5 ———— Execution sale—Reversal of sale—Execution purchaser—Transferee from the purchaser—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 311. A transferee from the execution purchaser is a necessary party to a proceeding for reversal of the execution sale when such proceeding is commenced after the transfer has been effected. Bibi Sharfjan v Mahomed Habibuddin 13 C L J 535 and In re Hammer Smith Rent charge & Freehold referred to. MEHARJUDDI BROWNS : TOMMY MAXWELL (1911) 1 L R 39 Cal 831

6 ———— Religious Endowment—Suit against the sole surviving member of the committee and the superintendent of a temple—Death of the sole surviving member—Substitution of the adopted son—New committee added as party—Cause of action abatement of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 20 O XXII r 10 O I r 10 Religious Endowments Act (V of 1863) s. 14. A suit brought against the sole surviving members of a committee of management appointed under s. 3 of the Religious Endowments Act 1863 and against the superintendent of a temple for their removal from the committee and from the office of superintendent respectively was dismissed by the District Judge. Pending the appeal the 1st defendant died and his adopted son was brought on the record as a party by the plaintiffs. Subsequently a new committee was appointed and added also as a party and the appeal was proceeded with against the adopted son the superintendent and the new committee. Held that the relief against the 1st defendant was purely personal and that the cause of action did not survive against his adopted son. Held also that the members of the new committee should not have been added as parties respondents. Kashi v Sadash Sakharam Shet I L R 21 Bom 279 referred to. Held further that the suit could not be maintained as against the 2nd defendant alone and that the appeal as now constituted was incompetent. BHIMA POUV : DASARATH DAS (1912) 1 L R 40 Cal 323

7 ———— Suit to Recover Trust Property—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s. 9 O I r 3—Public Religious Trust—Suit to remove a trustee and to recover possession of trust property in the hands of a third party—Joinder of parties—Alienee of trustee. Where in a suit under s. 92 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1903) the second defendant who was the alienee of the trust property the subject of the suit contended that the suit should be dismissed as against him on the ground that he was not a necessary party to it. Held that there was no reason why having regard to the provisions of

PARTIES—contd

O I r 3 of the Civil Procedure Code the second defendant should not be made a party to the suit nor why if the decision of the Court is against him he should not be declared to be a true owner of the true property and be directed to convey the property. Raj S. A. Dhadra v. A. V. Rastogi 2 C I J 431 and P. D. D. Mulani v. Chooni Lal Jethi 1 I L R 33 Cal 459 is distinguished. Compan v. Sarin and Can. C. v. Q. Ladas v. Houlter Brothers [1910] 2 K R 351 referred to. ALI HAFIZ v. ABDUL PARIZAD (1910) I L R 42 Cal 1135

8 ——— Admission of one of the parties to a suit—When a suit is admitted on record against either of the defendants—Id est—If the defendant is not inadmissible—Objection to its admission on appeal for the first time—When several persons are jointly interested in the subject matter of a suit an admission of any one of the persons is receivable not only against himself but also against the other defendants whether they be all jointly suing or sued provided that the admission relates to the subject matter in dispute and be made by the declarant in his character of a person jointly interested with the party against whom the evidence is tendered. The requirement of the identity in the legal interest between the joint owners is of fundamental importance. Kousulnath Sundari v. Mukta Sundari 1 I L R 11 Cal 534 Challin Singh v. Jharo Singh 1 I L R 19 Cal 995 Meeyan Matha v. Alimuddi 1 I L R 44 Cal 100 Blennisoopp v. Blennisoopp 11 Bear 134 2 Philp 607 referred to. The admission of one co plaintiff or co-defendant is not receivable against another merely by virtue of his position as a co party in the litigation. If the rule were otherwise it would in practice permit a litigant to discredit an opponent's claim merely by joining any person as the opponent's co party and then employing that person's statements as admissions. Consequently it is not by virtue of the person's relation to the litigation that the admission of one can be used against the other it must be because of some priority of title or of obligation. Mor v. Royal 19 Ves 355 King v. the Inhabitants of Hardwick 11 East 78 referred to. The Court will not entertain for the first time in appeal an objection that a document which per se is not inadmissible in evidence has been improperly admitted in evidence. Girindra Chandra Ganguli v. Rajendra Nath Chatterjee 1 C W N 530 Pronath Ma umdar v. Durga Tarins Bhowe 14 C L J 578 referred to. AMBAR ALI v. LUTTE ALI (1917) I L R 45 Cal 159

9 ——— Heir of Residuary legatee—Right to sue—Cause of action survival of—Abatement of suit—Letters of Administration application by residuary legatee for grant of—Death of residuary legatee—Substitution of heir of residuary legatee—Contentious matter—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XVIII The right to a grant of administration is a personal right derived from the Court. If on the death of the testatrix the residuary legatee under her will had obtained a grant of administration to her estate with a copy of the will annexed his title would have been derived from the Court and would not devolve on his heir. The heir of the residuary legatee may be the proper person to obtain a grant of administration with a copy of the will annexed but this is not by virtue of any right to administration which he inherited from the residuary legatee but by virtue of the fact that as heir of the residuary legatee he is the person entitled to take the share of the testatrix. Sura Chandra Iyer v. Nani M. M. Bhat 1 I L R 3 Cal 99 referred to. HARISHANKAR DATTARMAKAR v. NATH DATTAR (1918)

PARTIES—contd

I L R 45 Cal 862

10 ——— Tenants in common—If a tenant in common sues—Suit by a tenant in common to recover his share of partition from the other—Offer to a tenant in common to sue for partition—A piece of land was held in common by several persons of whom one was a tenant in common and the other was a tenant in common. The tenant in common offered to sue for partition of the land and the other tenant in common refused to sue. The tenant in common then sued for partition of the land and the other tenant in common was added as a party. The tenant in common was entitled to recover his share of the land without making the other tenant in common a party to the suit. II that the tenants in common were not necessary parties and that the plaintiff was entitled to recover by partition the 12th share and also the rent. NARAYAN BALAKRISHNA v. LAKSHMOYEE (1917) I L R 42 Bom. 87

11 ——— Procedure and Practice—Addition of third party defendant—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 108 (2) (e) O I r 10 () The second defendant in a suit applied for leave to add a third party as defendant. The plaintiff objected. II that the power to add a third party is discretionary but is widely exercised even though the addition may add new issues if however serious embarrassment or inconvenience be caused to the plaintiff the addition is not effected. Held also that although in this case no connection between the added defendant and the original defendants serious inconvenience would not be caused to the plaintiff if his position was safeguarded by the following provisions—(i) that the issues between the plaintiff and the original defendant should be tried first (ii) that no delay should take place in the determination of those issues (iii) that if the plaintiff succeeded in obtaining a decree against the original defendants such decree was not to be stayed pending the determination of the issues between the defendants. BALMUKUND PUA v. BISSENDYAL (1918)

I L R 46 Cal 48

12 ——— Shebat suit against—Deity if always a necessary party—co shebats if and when all of them necessary parties in a suit under O XXI s 63 Civil Procedure Code—Parties addition of—Limitation—Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908) O VII s 9 sub r () A suit can be properly maintained in the name of the shebat only without making the deity a party thereto where the right to sue is vested in the shebat and it is clear on the plaint that the shebat is sued in his representative capacity. Jagadindra Nath Roy v. Hemanta Kumar Deb 1 I L R 32 Cal 123 L R 31 I A 93 and Kurmonji S. N. S. N. Mandhata v. Wasif Ali Meerza 19 C B N 1193 referred to. In such a case the failure to make a statement that the defendant was being sued as shebat would not be a defect of party but would merely be a matter which the Court might amend by adding a statement to the plaint that the defendant was being sued in that party cular capacity It would not be adding a new party it would be merely rectifying a simple omission to state the representative character of the defendant. Jodha Rai v Bardeo Prasad I L R 33 All 735 referred to Where one of several shabais preferred a claim under O XXI r 58 of the Code without any mention of the other co shabais and succeeded in it all the co shabais are not necessary parties defendants in a suit under O XXI r 63 to set aside the order in the claim case Bidhu Sekhar Banerjee v Kuladiprasad Debnath (1919)

PARTIES—contd

I L R 46 Calc 877

PARTITION

See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE
I L R 41 Calc 771

See BABUANA GRANT
I L R 42 Calc 582

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 396
I L R 32 All 319

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909—

s 47 I L R 35 All 243

ss 96 97 I L R 36 All 532

s 144 I L R 42 All 588

O II r 2 I L R 38 All 217

O VII r 7 I L R 43 All 318

O XX r 18 I L R 35 All 159

I L R 36 All 461

O XLV r 13 I L R 42 All 170

See COMMISSIONER OF PARTITION
15 C W N 221

See COSTS I L R 42 Calc 451

See DECREE I L R 40 Bom 118

See ESTATES PARTITION ACT (BENGAL OF 1897) s 7 14 C W N 632

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872)—

s 44 I L R 33 All 143

s 91 I L R 41 Bom 466

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I L R 37 All 120

See HINDU LAW—ADIVISION
I L R 40 Calc 966

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
14 C W N 221

I L R 35 All 543

I L R 43 Calc 1031

I L R 39 Mad 159

I L R 45 Calc 723

I L R 43 Bom 17

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

See HINDU LAW—SELF ACQUISITION
I L R 32 All 305

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
I L R 33 All 443

See JOINT OWNERS
I L R 34 All 113

See LIMITATION
I L R 42 Calc 776

See LIMITATION ACT (I OF 1908) Sch
I Arts 62 120
I L R 37 All 318

PARTITION—contd

See MAHARAJA LAW—GILT
I L R 36 All 333

See MALABAR LAW
I L R 42 Mad 292

See MORTGAGE I L R 35 Bom 371
I L R 42 All 598

See PARTITION BY COLLECTOR

See PARTITION ACT (IV OF 1903)

See PARTITION AND POSSESSION

See PRE EMBRYON I L R 32 All 567
I L R 33 All 23
I L R 37 All 123
I L R 41 All 426

See RES JUDICATA
I L R 36 Bom 127

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1893) s 15
See I ART 45 (c)
I L R 36 All 137

See TITLE SUIT FOR
I L R 37 Calc 662

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (II OF 1882) s 52 I L R 37 Bom 427

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT III OF 1901—

s 4 I L R 43 All 45

ss 106 AND 233
I L R 43 All 454

ss 107 111 I L R 35 All 527

ss 107 111 112
I L R 35 All 546

ss 110 111 112
I L R 38 All 115

ss 111 112 I L R 39 All 523

ss 111 (1) (b) I L R 38 All 70
I L R 41 All 211

ss 111 112 233 (1)
I L R 35 All 126
I L R 38 All 307

s 118 I L R 39 All 707

s 233 I L R 42 All 309
I L R 48 All 88

s 233 (f) I L R 33 All 169 440
I L R 38 All 243
I L R 39 All 469
I L R 41 All 696

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 42 Calc 56

— between an adopted son and an aurasa son of a Sudra—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 40 Mad 632

— by Collector—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) s 54 I L R 42 Bom 689

See PARTITION BY COLLECTOR

— by grandsons—
See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
I L R 39 Bom 373

— Conversion of suit for ejectment into one for Partition—

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION
I L R 38 Mad 57

PARTITION—contd

not in accordance with decree—mistake—

See DECREE.

I L R 40 Bom 118

mother's share on partition after father's death—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 34 All 234

of Mines and Minerals—Lease

See LEASE I Pat L J 441

of Tenancy—

See ESTATES PARTITION ACT 1870

I Pat L J 270

of Joint Family Property—Manager's liability to account for mesne profits—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 44 Bom 179

of Joint Family Property purchased from a co-parcener—Part profits not allowable—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 44 Bom 621

of Joint Family Property of Sudras—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 44 Bom 166

Oral Evidence—when admissible to prove—

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 91

I L R 41 Bom 466

subsequent suit for entire estate—whether barred—

See SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT

REGULATION 1872.

6 Pat L J 373

unregistered receipts acknowledging acceptance of shares—admissibility of, to prove partition—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 17 AND

49 I L R 41 Bom 881

right to—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 43 Cal 1118

See MAJABAR LAW

I L R 39 Mad 317

Right to water and wells—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 38 Bom 275

subsequent suit for entire estate—

See SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGU-

LATION 1872 6 Pat L J 373

Property left undivided at the time of partition—Presumption that there has been a complete partition—

See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom 914

suit for—

See BENARIDAS I L R 32 Cal 504

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ACT 1908 s 11 I L R 37 Bom. 307

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870)

SEC II ART 1st (a)

I L R 34 All 182

PARTITION—contd

suit for—contd

See HUSBAND AND WIFE

I L R 38 Cal 629

See PARTITION SUIT

See U P LAND REVENUE ACT s 227 (1)

I L R 41 All 182

suit for on behalf of a minor—

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 41 Mad 442

Whether widow of a Joint Owner can claim—

See SECOND APPEAL

I L R 2 Lah 348

Appeal—Appeal against preliminary decree after passing of the final decree After the passing of the final decree in a suit for partition no appeal will lie which does not challenge the final as well as the preliminary decree Mackenzie v
Nar Singh Sahai I L R 36 Cal 70 followed Uman Kunwar v Jarbandhan I L R 30 All
419 distinguished KURIYA MAL v BISHAMDHAR
Das (1910) I L R 33 All 225

BUT See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss 96

AND 97 I L R 36 All 532

Right to—Partition between owner of fractional share in zemindari interest and mokararidars in joint possession—Interest not less permanent because the mokararidars lease was liable in certain events for forfeiture The right of partition exists when two parties are in joint possession of land under permanent titles although their titles may not be identical Hemadris
Nath Khan v Ramani Kanta Poy I L R 24 Cal 575 cited with approval The appellants plaintiffs in a suit for partition were proprietors of a mokararidars interest in the property partition of which was sought and the respondents defendants in the suit were owners of a fractional share in the zemindari interest in the same property The mokararidars lease was in certain contingencies liable to forfeiture and the High Court held that the appellants tenure was on that account not sufficiently permanent to support their claim to partition to which they would otherwise have been entitled—Held by the Judicial Committee (reversing that decision) that the distinction drawn by the High Court could not be supported The appellants title was a permanent one though liable to forfeiture in events which had not occurred and the rights incidental to that title must be those that attached to it as it existed without reference to what might be lost in the future under changed circumstances BHAGWAT SAHAI v BIPIN BEHARI MITTER (1910) I L R 37 Cal 918

Res Judicata Where a suit for partition to which all the members of the family are parties has once been finally decided it is not competent to a party defendant to such suit to re open the questions thereby determined in a fresh suit for a declaration of right as against a co defendant Sheik Khoorshed Hossein v Aab
bee Fatima I L R 3 Cal 551 Dost Muhammad Khan v Said Begam I L R 70 All 81 Asan
v Pathumma I L R 72 Mad 494 and Asidhat
v Abdullah Hagi Mahomed I L R 31 Bom 21 referred to PARSOTAM RAO TANTIA v PADMA
Bai (1910) I L R 32 All 469

PARTITION—contd

Procedure—Partition suit for—Amendment of plaint by order of Court altering nature of suit—Acquiescence by plaintiff—Appeal in disregard of amendment of plaint not barred. It is incumbent on the Court in a suit for partition to come to a clear and definite finding that the plaintiff had title to the property before proceeding further into the case and a Judge on appeal should also observe the same procedure. Bidhata Rai v Ram Charitar Rai 12 O W N 37 referred to. If the Judge on appeal finds the question of title to the property in favour of the plaintiff any finding on the question of possession does not debar the Judge from affirming the preliminary decree for partition passed by the first Court does not justify him in remanding the case to the lower Court for retrial. At the hearing of the appeal the Judge held that the plaint should be amended and the plaint was accordingly amended with the acquiescence of the plaintiff so as to alter the nature of the suit. A fresh written statement was filed by the defendant and fresh issues were framed. These facts did not preclude the plaintiff from filing an appeal within the time allowed by limitation if on reflection he thought that the action taken by him in amending the plaint was injudicious. SHASHI BUSHNATH BEED v JOTINDRA NATH ROY CHOWDHURY (1911)
12 O W N 38 Cal 681

Mahomedan co owners—Suit for partial partition—Partition of moveables only asked leaving immovables iyam—Suit by hiss Where a Mahomedan instituted a suit against his brothers and mother for partition only of the moveables held by the parties in iyam but that it appeared the parties had iyam immovable properties also.—Held that there is no distinction in principle between partition of joint property under Hindu and under Mahomedan law. That it was inexpedient to allow a suit for partition of a portion only of the joint properties. Plaintiff was given an opportunity to amend the plaint so as to make the suit one for partition of the whole of the joint properties. FUZEER FAHMAN CHOWDHURY v MAHOMED FAYZUR FAHMAN CHOWDHURY (1911)
15 O W N 677

Agreement for partial partition specifically enforceable—Registration Act (III of 1877) s 17 (b) and (h)—Partition deed unregistered affecting portion of property—Admissibility—Part performance equitable doctrine of specific performance applied where partition acted upon and improvements effected.—Previous oral agreement not if may be proved.—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 91—Equities in favour of co sharer who has effected improvements how given effect.—Commissioner of partition—Delegation of judicial power to. A partition deed in respect of property of the value of Rs 100 or upwards compulsorily registrable whether it be treated as a deed by which a partition was effected or as a deed which declared a partition previously effected by the parties. Cls (b) and (h) of s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) may be reconciled if it be held that a document though not admissible as creating an interest in land is receivable in evidence for a collateral purpose namely for the specific performance of the agreement. Where however the defendant in a suit for partition sought to use an unregistered partition deed not for a collateral purpose but to prove that the property covered thereby had ceased to be joint property the document was inadmissible under s 49 of the Registration Act. Other evidence in support of the transaction was excluded by s 92 of the Evidence Act because the written instrument was not collateral to but of the very essence of the transaction. Where under an arrangement which was embodied in an unregistered partition deed the parties continued for many years in separate possession of portions of the joint property and the defendant during this time spent money in repairs on the portion allotted to him. Held that assuming that the partition deed was preceded by an oral agreement for partial partition it was not specifically enforceable by suit. That for this reason and also because the equities arising in favour of the party who made the improvement could be given effect to in the partition decree so that he might not suffer by reason of the agreement having been acted upon or the other party take advantage of the improvements made by him the equitable doctrine of part performance had no application to the case. Although there may be a partial partition of joint property by private arrangement there cannot be a partial partition by suit. Although a co tenant who has spent money in improvement of the joint property may not be entitled to call upon his co sharers to compensate him for the expenditure yet he has a defensive equity which is enforceable in the event of a partition. It is in recognition of such equitable right that to the co owner who has made the improvements is assigned that portion of the property on which the improvements have been made the division being made on the basis of the unimproved value. The determination of the question whether certain properties are the joint properties of the parties or the exclusive properties of any of them cannot be delegated by the Judge to the Commissioner for partition. UFENDRA NATH BANERJEE v UMESH CHANDRA BANERJEE (1910)

PARTITION—contd

15 O W N 375

Property not capable of division.—Partition Act (IV of 1893)—Plaintiff if may sue for sale of share by defendant at a valuation.—All shareholders to bid for property. When the nature of the property jointly owned by the plaintiff and the defendant is such that a division of it amongst them cannot reasonably or conveniently be made the plaintiff has not the right to claim that the defendant should be compelled to transfer his share to the plaintiff at a valuation merely because he happened to have possession of the property at the commencement of the action. The proper course is to direct a sale of the property amongst the co sharers and it should be given to that shareholder who offers to pay the highest price above the valuation made by the Court. Hussain v Ganes 1 L R 10 Cal App 294 and Pill v Jones 5 App Cas 651 followed. Baerunta Kumar Ghose v Mo v Lal Ghose 15 O W N 555 distinguished. HEBENDRA NATH BHATTACHARJEE v HARI DAS BHATTACHARJEE (1910)
15 O W N 552

Property not convenient for division.—Partition Act (IV of 1893)—If lot built on by co sharer not convenient for division—Partition of land—Court a discretion to refuse partition and to allow the party in possession to buy the other party out.—Equity. The defendants in a suit for partition had built a dwelling house on a plot of 7 co tals of land without opposition from the plaintiff who was a stranger and owned only a 1st share in it and in an adjoining plot of 1 bigha 6 cottahs. The lower Appellate Court finding that it would be very inconvenient for all parties concerned if the plots were divided by metes and bounds allowed the defendants to buy up the plaintiff's shares at a proper valuation. Held that whether s. 4 of Act IV of 1893 applied to the case or not it is a well known principle of equity which must be adopted in all partition cases that when it is inconvenient to divide a property that property must be left in the possession of the person in occupation and the other person who cannot conveniently get actual possession compensated. A tank covering one bigha in which plaintiff owned a 1st share was left joint the lower Appellate Court holding that it was not convenient to divide it. The High Court affirmed that decision. BASANTA KUMAR GHOSH v. MOH LAL GHOSH (1907)

PARTITION—contd

15 C W N 555

Private partition—Estates Partition Act (Bengal) of 1897 s. 99—Private partition amongst proprietors—Tenancy in common—cessation of—Putndar of separated share is bound by subsequent division by Collector. S. 99 of the Estates Partition Act (Bengal) of 1897 does not apply when the estate partitioned by the Collector had already been privately partitioned amongst the proprietors and the proprietors were holding their shares of the lands in severalty and not in common tenancy as contemplated in that section. A putndar in possession of a separately allotted portion of such estate is not thereafter affected by the subsequent partition by the Collector. Hriday Nath Saha v. Mohabatannessa Bibi I L R 20 Cal 285 applied. The fact that the Government was not bound to recognize the private partition for purposes of revenue does not affect the question. ABDUL LATIF MIAN v. AMANUDDIN PATWARI (1911) 15 C W N 428

Appeal—Appeal against preliminary decree—Final decree passed since the appeal—No appeal against final decree. Held that an appeal against the preliminary decree in a suit for partition cannot be heard if after the filing of such appeal the final decree has been passed and no appeal is preferred against that decree. Juriya Mal v. Bishambar Das I L R 32 All 275 referred to. NARAYAN DAS v. BALGOBIND (1911)

I L R 33 All 528

See Also DECREE I L R 37 All 29

Partition suit—abatement of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O I s. 10—Limitation (Act IX of 1908) Art. 112—Death of a party—Abatement—Application to set aside the abatement—Limitation of sixty days—In a partition suit all parties should be before the Court—Inherent power of the Court to add a party at any stage of the suit for the ends of justice. On the 5th April 1892 the plaintiff obtained a decree for partition and died in October 1893 leaving him surviving a minor son who attained majority in February 1907. At a very late stage of the execution proceedings the son made an application on the 10th April 1910 for the issue of a commission to effect partition according to the rights declared in the partition decree. Held that as soon as the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) came into force the suit abated so far as regarded the applicant's father who was a party and the application to set aside the abatement by adding the applicant as the legal representative of the deceased not having been made within sixty days under Art. 171 of the Limitation Act (IX of 1908) the application was time barred. Held further that in a partition suit all the parties should be before the Court and that there was nothing in the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) limiting or affecting the inherent power of the Court to make such orders as might be necessary for the ends of justice. LAKSHMICHAUD REWA CHAUD v. KACHUBAI GULABCHAND (1911)

PARTITION—contd

I L R 35 Bom 893

—Instruments of partition—meaning of—Undivided brothers—Instruments of partition—Partition—Stamp Instruments whereby co-owners of any property divide or agree to divide it in severalty are instruments of partition. One of three undivided brothers agreed to take from the eldest brother the manager of the family as his share in the family property moveable and immoveable a certain cash and bonds for debts due to the family and passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release. Subsequently one of the two brothers passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release whereby he and the eldest brother divided the remaining family property by the latter handing over to the former securities for money. A question having arisen as to whether for the purpose of stamp duty the said two documents were to be treated as releases or instruments of partition. Held that the documents were instruments of partition. In re GOVIND PANDURANG KAMAT (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 711

Final decrees passed during pendency of appeal—Cross objections filed against final decree—Appeal against preliminary decree maintainable. Where the plaintiffs in a suit for partition had preferred an appeal from the preliminary decree and had also in the defendant's appeal from an final decree filed cross objections it was held that there was no bar to the hearing of the plaintiffs' appeal against the preliminary decree. Kuriya Mal v. Bishambar Das I L R 32 All 275 and Narayana Das v. Balgoind s. 411 L J 604 distinguished. MURAMAD AHMED HUSAIN KHAN v. JALALUDDIN HUSAIN (1912)

I L R 34 All 493

Decree awarding shares effect of Appeal—Death of a sharer leaving daughters—Decree for partition final—Severance effected by the decree can be displaced only by a legal decree in appeal. In a suit for partition the first Court passed a decree awarding to the sharers their respective shares. While an appeal against the decree was pending one of the sharers died leaving two daughters. Thereupon a question having arisen as to whether the shares of the surviving sharers were liable to be increased owing to the death of the sharer pending the appeal. Held that the pendency of the undecided appeal did not detract anything from the vitality or the force of the existing decree. Although the decree was under appeal it was not the less a final decree of a competent Court. The decree once made there and then determined the legal status or relation of the parties and the severance of interest so effected by the decree at the moment it was pronounced could be displaced only by a legal decision in appeal. Salharam Mahadev Dange v Hari Krishna Dange I L R 11 Bom 113 explained MAHADEV LAXMAN v COVIND PARASH RAM (1912) I L R 36 Bom 550

PARTITION—contd

Agreement for—Consideration—

*Bona fide claim for separate allotment for marriages of one brother's daughters—Agreement at or before partition to allot—Execution of promissory notes by each brother for his share of the amount—Previous suit for partition—Subsequent suit on promissory note—S 43 Civil Procedure Code (Act VII of 1882) no bar—Causes of action distinct—An agreement made between parties to a partition by which one brother was to pay money for the marriages of his brothers' daughters whether it is made before the partition and subsequently embodied in the deed of partition or made at the time of partition is an enforceable contract as the agreement by the father of the daughters to other terms of the partition is sufficient consideration. A claim at the time of partition for the allotment of a separate sum of money out of the general funds for the performance of marriages of the daughters of one of the brothers to a partition is not altogether unfounded according to Hindu law. Even otherwise an agreement to allot would be binding on the persons agreeing as one of the terms of a bona fide compromise constituting a settlement between the members of a family if there was a bona fide claim for the same at the time of partition. If an agreement to pay a certain sum made by the other brothers at the time of partition becomes split up into various agreements by the execution of separate promissory notes by the other brothers each for his share the obligation to pay the amounts of the promissory notes is distinct from the obligation to observe the other terms of the partition so that a suit first brought for partition against all the brothers (S 43 Civil Procedure Code Act XIV of 1882) does not bar the institution of a subsequent suit for the sum due from one of the brothers under the promissory note. Cause of action meaning of explained ANAN v Raman I L R 16 Mad 335 Sesha Ayyar v Krishna Ayyangar I L R 24 Mad 98 Um d Dholchand v Pir Sahib Jiva Uyan I L R 7 Bom 134 Sundar Singh v Bholu I L R 20 All 322 and Moro Pashunoth v Balaji Trimbal I L R 13 Bom 45 followed Appasami v Ramani I L R 9 Mad 979 and Sharmagum Pillai v Syed Gulam Ghose I L R 27 Mad 116 distinguished Premnath Mukerji v Bushnath Prasad I L R 29 All 266 discredited from PER CURIAM. If several promissory notes are executed for portions of the same debt each promissory note creates a cause of action and this would be so even if it be assumed that a suit might be instituted for the whole debt on the original cause of action. ANANTANARAYANA Iyer v SAVITHRI AMMAL (1913) I L R 36 Mad 151*

Partition suit—Misjoinder of causes of action and parties—Prejudice—Res judicata amongst co-defendants—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 11. A suit for partition determines the shares of the co-sharers amongst themselves and each co-sharer whether a plaintiff or defendant claiming a separate block for himself may prove his share and get a block for it. Where the causes of action in respect of different items of property the subject matter of a suit for partition appeared to be different and the parties concerned in the claim to one such item appeared to be less numerous than those concerned in the claim for the other item the joining of them in one suit caused misjoinder of parties and causes of action. But such misjoinder of causes of action and parties did not entitle the appellant (who raised this point in his written statement) to have the decree set aside particularly as the misjoinder had not prejudiced him and as if the two separate suits had been brought on the separate causes of action they would probably have had to be tried together. Where a co-sharer of the present plaintiff had sued to have his title declared to a taluk and the plaintiff and the defendant appellant had been made co-defendants and the decision was that there had been a binding private partition confining the interests of each co-sharer to the allotment received by his or her predecessor and that that was not merely an informal division for convenience of possession. Held that though the question of a previous partition was one which not only might and ought to have been but actually was made the ground of defence in the former suit within the meaning of s 11 Explan IV Civil Procedure Code and though the present plaintiff was acting in that suit in the same interest as her co-plaintiff it was impossible to hold that in the suit in which she and the appellants were co-defendants there was a conflict of interest between them and that the judgement defined their rights and obligation inter se. The case accordingly did not come under the rule relating to res judicata among the defendants as laid down in Gurdeo Singh v Chandrika Singh I L R 36 Calc 193. SARODA PRASAD POY CHAUDHURY v KAILASH BASHINI GUPTA (1914) 17 C W N 128

PARTITION—contd

Leasehold interest purchased in execution allotted to one co-owner—Tenancy of the others if subsists—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1819) s 19—Registration and notice if necessary. Where upon partition amongst co-owners a share of a taluk purchased in execution on behalf of all the co-owners fell into the share of one of them. Held that the liability of the other co-owners to pay rent to the landlord of the taluk ceased. Prasanna Loomar Sinha v Ram Coomar Ghose I L R 16 Calc 649 R D Mehta v Godadhar Rai I L R 37 Calc 655 I C W A 83 Promatha Nath v Kallu Prasanna I L R 23 Calc 744 referred to. S 11 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the operation of which is confined to transfers by sale gift or mortgage does not apply to a case of transfer by partition which does not therefore require to be registered and notified as contemplated by s 12. PAV DHONE DHUR v SARUP CHANDRA SEXT (1917) 17 C W N 313

Infructuous suit for partition no bar to a second suit for the same purpose.—In the year 1905 the plaintiff brought a suit for partition of a house held in joint tenancy. The suit was compromised the defendant agreeing to transfer his rights to the plaintiff for a consideration and was accordingly dismissed. The compromise however was not given effect to and thereafter the plaintiff brought a second suit for partition. Held that as soon as the defendant failed to carry out the compromise the parties were relegated to their rights as they existing prior to the compromise. The right to bring a suit for partition unlike other suit is a continuing right incidental to the ownership of joint property and the second suit was therefore not barred. Narainallah v. Mujib 1 L P 13 All 309. Bish Sur Das v. Ram Prasad 1 L P 25 All 6. and Mrdai v. Moha. Mondal v. Lalit Lal Nath Mondal 10 C II 153 followed. Culland Lal v. Manni Lal 1 L P 33 All 119 not followed. McKENJI v. ARZAL Bhu (1914) 1 L II 37 All 155

PARTITION—contd

Suit for 1/2 lies without including the whole of the joint properties in the suit—Principle for Courts to follow in such cases—Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act (XII of 185) s 37. The plaintiffs and the defendants were the joint proprietors of a certain pargana which was partitioned by the Collector. At the time of the partition certain lands which were jungle or submerged were excluded from the partition and kept joint. The plaintiff brought three suits to have the joint lands partitioned. Held that it cannot be said that the general rule is that a joint owner cannot claim a partition of the joint property without bringing the whole of it under partition. The rule to be applied is much more elastic and what the Court has to consider in cases of this kind under s 37 of the Bengal Agra and Assam Civil Courts Act 1857 is justice equity and good conscience. HEM CHANDRA CHOWDHURY v. HEMANTHA KUMARI DEBI (1914)

19 C W N 356

Suit for—if maintainable without proof of actual or constructive possession—Possession by co sharer when may be adverse—Evidence necessary to establish adverse possession by co tenant—Ouster of co tenant how may be effected to create adverse possession—Land Registration Act registration of name under effect of if necessarily implies possession—Partition as distinguished from ejectment—Costs in partition suit before preliminary decree when defendant successfully contests plaintiff's claim for partition. The plaintiff sought partition of an estate of which he claimed to own one anna share by purchase. He alleged that after his purchase he had his name registered under the Land Acquisition Act in place of his vendor and was in possession since the date of his purchase. The lower Court found that the plaintiff was in possession of his share and made a preliminary decree for partition. The defendants appealed. Held that although as a general rule the possession of one co tenant is not deemed adverse to the other co tenants the existence of the relation of co tenancy does not preclude one co tenant from establishing an adverse possession in fact as against the other co tenants and though the co tenant enters in the first instance without claiming adversely his possession afterwards may become adverse. In order to render the possession of one co tenant adverse to the others not only must the occupancy be under an exclusive claim of ownership in denial of the rights of the other co tenants but such occupancy must have been made known to the other co tenants either by express notice or by such open and notorious acts as must have brought home to the other co tenants knowledge of the denial of their rights. The evidence to show adverse possession by one co tenant must be much clearer than between strangers to the title and the hostile intent of the co tenant in possession must be shown by an unequivocal conduct. The ouster of the other co tenants in order to render the possession adverse need not be by violent or intimidating expulsion or repulsion nor need notice of the adverse holding be actually brought home to the other co tenant by personal or formal communication but it is sufficient if the contrary is not proved that the circumstances show that such knowledge may reasonably be presumed. Held that the registration of the name of a person under the Land Registration Act is some evidence of possession but the weight to be attached to this fact must depend upon the circumstances of each case. The fact that the plaintiff was able to get his name substituted in the place of his vendor does not necessarily show that he is in possession of any share of the estate. That the plaintiff having failed to prove that he had possession actual or constructive of any share of the disputed property was not entitled to maintain a suit for partition. That the remedy of the plaintiff was by a suit for joint possession and partition and on the plaintiff in a suit so framed court fees must be paid enfore. That partition is not a substitute for ejectment because partition implies an existing joint possession and enjoyment to be converted into possession in severalty. That although ordinarily in a suit for partition pure and simple the parties have to bear their own costs of the suit up to the stage of the preliminary decree the plaintiff must in this case pay the costs of the defendants who have successfully contested his claim for partition. LOKE NATH SINGH v. DRAKESHWAR PRASAD NARAIN SINGH (1914)

PARTITION—contd

20 II W N 51

Suit for if maintainable by a lessee of mining rights against lessor's co-owners—Partition of underground mines and mineral so possible—Partition (Act IV of 183), s 2. According to the English authorities it is clear that a lessee for a term of years must maintain a claim for partition. There is no reason for holding that a different rule prevails in India. The authority of Mukunda Lal Pal Chaudhuri v. Lehuram 1 L P 90 Cal 379 has been much shaken by the decision of the Full Bench in Hemadri Nath Thakur v. Ramani Kant Roy 1 L P 24 Cal 375 s c 1 C II 405. Healon v. Dearden 24 Bear 147. Bhagrat Sahai v. Repin Behari Mitter 1 L R 37 Cal 913 s c 14 C II 969 and Baring v. Wash 1 V & B 551 referred to. There may be no special difficulty in effecting a partition of the underground mines and minerals but in case any such difficulty arises the power to order a sale of under s 2 of the Partition Act of 1893 may be exercised. LALIT KISHORE MITRA v. THAKUR CHANDRANI SINGH (1916)

20 C W N 1306

Previous partition suit—It led by third party against present defendants and the vendor of the plaintiff—Issue regarding the share of the plaintiff's vendor being subject to other defendants' mokurari raiti but expunged—Final decree in the previous partition suit passed on the basis of the mokurari interest and allocation made thereunder—Decree of res judicata to present suit—Explanation II of s 11 C P Proc Code (Act II of 1908). In a previous partition suit instituted by Y against the present plaintiff's vendor T and the present defendants etc. it was visions of the Partition Act 1893 apply to the partition amongst co owners of such right But an order for sale of the mortgagee right's under s 2 of the Partition Act will not be valid unless based upon the request of a party or parties interested to the extent of one moiety or upwards BANKE LAL v SHANTI PRASAD (1913)

PARTITION ACT (IV OF 1893)—contd—ss 1 & 3—contd

I L R 35 All 387

—s 4—

See PARTITION I L R 45 Cal 873

Suit for partition—Undertaking by defendants to purchase plaintiff's share in the subject matter of the suit Where the defendant to a suit for partition by metes and bounds has definitely undertaken according to the provisions of s 4 of the Partition Act 1893 to purchase the share of the plaintiffs in the property sought to be partitioned he cannot be permitted to refile from his undertaking and the court is bound to direct a sale ILIAS AHMAD v BULAQI CHAND (1917)

I L R 39 All 672

PARTITION AND POSSESSION—suit for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O I R 3

I L R 40 Mad 365

PARTITION BY COLLECTOR

See JOINT ESTATE I L R 43 Cal 103

See PARTITION

PARTITION DECREE

See NUISANCE 14 C W N 637

PARTITION DEED

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) SCH I ART 50 I L R 38 All 56

PARTITION SUIT

See COURT FEES

6 Pat L J 663

See PARTITION

See PRACTICE (20) I L R 44 Cal 28

—claim for future profits—

See VESPE PROFITS

I L R 44 Bom 954

Plaintiff a purchaser from minor co parcener—Fresh sale deed subsequently obtained after attainment of majority—Whether defect in title cured—Practice and procedure The plaintiff who was a purchaser from a minor co parcener sued for partition of the family property The minor co parcener who was made a party defendant after the attainment of his majority passed a fresh sale deed in plaintiff's favour during the progress of the suit It was contended that the plaintiff being a purchaser from a minor had no right to sue and that the defect in title was not cured by the new sale deed obtained —Held the suit was maintainable PER MACLEOD C J—It seems to me therefore that it is purely a matter of form which could have been cured equally well by the trial Judge by

PARTITION SUIT—contd

maling Waman [See the minor] = party plaintiff instead of continuing him as a defendant and by then directing partition of the property V H V NARHAR & SHRIRAM RAOHUNATH (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 983

PARTNER—Death of—

See PARTNERSHIP BUSINESS

I L R 48 Cal 908

—liability of incoming partner—

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Cal 814

—Payment by—

See LIMITATION ACT 1909 ss 10 AND 20

I L R 37 Mad 148

I L R 41 Mad 427

—Suit by for partial settlement of accounts—

See PARTNERSHIP

I L R 2 Lah 351

PARTNERSHIP

See ARKARI ACT (BOM V OF 1874) ss 16 43

I L R 37 Bom 320

See APPEAL

I L R 42 Cal 914

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O I R 4 & I L R 39 All 551

See CONTRACT ACT (IV OF 1872)—

—45

I L R 32 All 638

—261 2nd

I L R 42 Mad 116

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILIES

I L R 43 All 118

See PARTNERSHIP ACT

—acknowledgment of liability or payment by partner—

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) s 1 (-) 19 AND 20

I L R 37 Mad 148

I L R 41 Mad 427

—agreement to enter into—

See CONTRACT ACT (IV OF 1872) s 93

I L R 40 Bom 22

—dissolution of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 16 (a) (d)

I L R 41 All 513

See COURT FEES ACT (VII OF 1870) SCH II CLS 3 & 4

I L R 32 All 517

See MIRROR I L R 42 Cal 225

See SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COST

I L R 39 Bom 434

—Suit for dissolution in British Indian Courts—Partnership business carried on outside Jurisdiction of court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 20

I L R 45 Bom 1223

—Suit for dissolution of by a partner who has been guilty of misconduct—

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 234

I L R 1 Lah 6

PARTNERSHIP—contd.

winding up of—

See APPEAL I L R 42 Calc 914

1 ———— Arbitration—Accounts—Managing partner's liability of—Onus—Reference to arbitration of claim of firm against co partners by one partner when binds firm—Reference after suit for dissolution One partner is not competent without special authority to bind the firm by a submission to arbitration Administrator General v Official Assignee I L R 30 Mad 467 distinguished Pam Parose v Kallu Mal I L R 30 All 135 Duttobhoy v Vallu I Bom L R 55 approved The liability of co partners to account and how and to what extent it is discussed HAZI MAHAMMAD AKBAR v DHARMA NATH SIKKAR (1910) 14 C W N 1108

ON APPEAL 18 C W N 1025

2 ———— Accounts—Money received after dissolution—Partner whose remedy for general account is barred may sue to recover share of it if received after dissolution A partner whose remedy against his co partner for a general account is barred can recover his share of a particular item of a set received after the dissolution of the partner hip if it be open to the defendant co partner to ask the Court to take accounts with a view to show that the plaintiff had received more than his share in the partner hip assets Sokkanadha Vanni Mundar v Sokkanadha Vanni Mundar I L R 35 Mad 341 followed THIRUVENKATA MUDALIAR v SADAGOPA MUDALIAR (1910) I L R 34 Mad. 112

3 ———— Adjustment of account—Final adjustment not signed—Pleadings want of precision in if material—Limitation—Cross demands in partner ship a count—You cause of action from adjustment—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 64 11, and 170 When parties had agreed on the 2nd April 1904 that a settlement of partnership accounts between them should be made upon a certain basis and the final adjustment took place on the 10th August 1906 and entries to that effect were made in the books on that date but not signed by the parties in a suit brought in on the 16th April to recover the amount due on such adjustment—Held that it was an adjustment which gave rise to a fresh cause of action as from date and whether it was Art 110 or Art 120 of the Limitation Act that applied the suit was not barred When the plaint did not specify the day on which the adjustment took place but approximately indicated the time and proof was furnished of exact date at the hearing—Held that there was nothing in the pleadings which should prevent the Judge from arriving at any conclusion on the evidence adduced as to the date JALIN SINGH SRIVALL v CHOONEE LALL JONTUNY (1911) 15 C W N 882

4 ———— Representative carrying after partner's death—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 253 (10)—Partnership business carried on after death of partner on the assumption of representative continuing as partner—Widow of deceased a pardana hin lady not taking any part in business and not examining accounts—Accountability of working partners—Accounts to commence from beginning of partnership if accounts not settled—Partnership money diversion of—Accounting with interest or profits—Remuneration to working partner—Balancing of accounts effect of Where on the death of a partner the business was carried on on the assumption that his widow was a partner Held that the conduct of the parties showed that there must have been a contract between the original parties that the partnership would not be dissolved by the death of a partner within the meaning of cl (10) of s 253 of the Indian Contract Act but should be continued with the representative of the deceased as a partner The mere balancing of account in a book of account does not itself constitute an account stated much less does it constitute an account settled which the parties cannot reopen In a general account of partner hip dealing the time from which the account is to be in the commencement of the partnership unless some account has since that time been settled by the partners in which case the last settled account will be the point of departure Where one of the partners having the right to examine the partnership accounts did not for a long time exercise the right Held that unless a fraud was established purchases and sales in respect of the business by the working partners should not be challenged but they were bound to account for sums withdrawn from the partnership business and apply for purposes unconnected therewith with the profits realised therefrom or with interest at the option of the partner demanding the account Where one of the partners wilfully leaves the others to carry on the partnership business unaided the Court may upon dissolution decree an allowance in favour of the partner who had carried on the business alone GOKUL KRISHNA DAS v SASHIVRAH DASI (1911)

PARTNERSHIP—contd.

18 N W N 299

5 ———— Accounts—Partnership accounts—Banking concern joint—Deposit by a partner payable with interest—Suit to recover deposit if maintainable—Suit if maintainable when suit for dissolution and accounts previously instituted—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 10 Where it was arranged between the mother and guardian of plaintiff a minor partner of a banking concern and his co partners that each of the partners would be entitled to draw a certain fixed monthly allowance from the bank for personal expenses but the minor's allowance was by arrangement not taken out but permitted to accumulate with interest in the bank and in a suit for dissolution and accounts by the plaintiff he applied for an order on the Receiver appointed in the suit to pay the amount of the deposit with interest but the decision of the Court being adverse he instituted a fresh suit for the recovery of deposits with interest less one third the proportion recoverable from himself as a partner but the suit was dismissed and pending an appeal from the order of dismissal the plaintiff obtained an order of the High Court in revision directing an account to be taken of the amount alleged to be in deposit if plaintiff's appeal should fail Held that the suit was rightly deemed as barred by the provisions of s 10 of the Civil Procedure Code as the matter in issue in the suit was directly and substantially in issue in the previously instituted suit To stay the suit according to the strict language of s 10 until by the decision of the previous suit the matter would be res judicata was needless Obiter Though on general principles the claim of a partner against a joint banking

PARTNERSHIP—contd

subject to any agreement between the parties interest is payable on money paid or advanced by one partner for partnership purposes beyond the amount of capital which he had agreed to subscribe. That the respondent who claimed the benefit of the profits which accrued from the sums advanced to the partnership business by the defendant was bound in justice to make an allowance for interest on those sums to the partner. GORINDA CHANDRA BASAK v HARIDAS BASAK (1915) 20 C W N 634

14 — Partner borrowing for partnership purposes—Promissory note executed by two of three partners—No indication in promissory note of execution on behalf of partnership—Liability of the partner who was not a party to the note. A promissory note was executed by two out of three partners of a firm for money then advanced to the executants for purposes of the firm. The promissory note did not contain any indication that it was executed on behalf of the firm. In a suit on the note by the promisee. Held that even the third partner who did not execute the note was liable. Per SRINIVASA AYYANGAR J (obiter). An endorsee of the note cannot recover against the partner not executing the note. Karmali, Abdulla v Karimji Jiraji 1 L R 39 Bom 261 followed. Somasundaram v Krishnamurthy 17 Mad L J 196 and Muthu Sastrigal v Iyengarotha Iyandhara Sannadhi 26 Mad L J 19 distinguished. SHANMUGATHA CHETTIAR v SRINIVASA AYYAR (1916) 1 L R 40 Mad 727

15 — By manager of joint Hindu family with strangers—Right of other members of family to institute suits in respect of partnership. A contract of partnership entered into by the manager of a joint Hindu family with strangers does not ipso facto make the other members of the family partners and not being partners the other members whether divided or undivided cannot institute any suit in respect of partnership (e.g.) a suit for dissolution of partnership. Solankanadha Iyannimundar v Solkanadha Iyannimundar 1 L R 28 Mad 344 and Ramanathan Chetty v Yegannappa Chetty 30 Mad L J 241 approved. Joopoodi Saranya v Lalshmanaswamy 1 L R 36 Mad 185 distinguished. GAYATRI v VENKATARAMAN (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad 454

16 — Boat—co owners of—Employment of boat to earn freight—Partnership in freight—Suit for dissolution whether maintainable. 8 379 Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872). Where the co owners of a boat employ it to earn freight they become partners in respect of such earnings and a suit for dissolution of such partnership is maintainable although the plaintiff being only a co owner is not entitled to a decree for the sale of the boat employed by the partnership. VANAMATI SATTIRAJU v BOLLAPRADEA PALLAN RAJU (1918) 1 L R 41 Mad 939

17 — Death of one partner leaving a minor son—Suit by surviving partner against minor for rendition of accounts—Procedure. One of two partners in a specific business who was alleged to have been the managing partner died leaving him surviving a minor son. The other partner sued the minor as his father's representative for rendition of accounts and for payment of what might be found due to him (the plaintiff). It that it was maintainable (but the proper procedure was for the Court to direct both sides to produce their accounts and thereafter to pass a decree for whatever sum might appear to be due from one party to the other. SHANKAR LAL v RAM BABU (1918) 1 L R 40 All 448

PARTNERSHIP—contd

18 — Dissolution—Right to sue for where it cannot be carried on except at a loss—Clause in partnership agreement stating date agreed upon for termination of partnership—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 252 254 sub s (6)—Right to protection of Court on equitable grounds—Direction of Court to grant dissolution. The defendants (respondents) a firm of contractors had undertaken the construction of the new Alexandra Dock in Bombay and they required for the work a large supply of granite and other stone. For that purpose they formed a partnership with the plaintiff (now represented by the appellants) for the quarrying and supplying the required materials. By cl 4 of the deed of partnership it was agreed that the working of the quarries and the partnership should continue until the supply of granite or other stone for the construction of the dock was completed and that the partnership should then terminate and be wound up. The plaintiff finding after a time that the partnership could not be carried on except at a loss brought a suit for its dissolution and for an account before the supply of granite and stone had been completed and the defendants contended that the suit was premature. Held (reverting on this point the decision of the appellate High Court which had set aside that of the trial Judge) that notwithstanding the terms of cl 4 the plaintiff was entitled on the ground alleged and under the circumstances of the case to have a dissolution under sub s (6) of s 254 of the Contract Act (IX of 1872). There was nothing in s 253 of that Act to constitute a bar to such a suit. A partner's claim to a decree for dissolution rested in its origin not on contract but on his inherent right to invoke the Court's protection on equitable grounds. In spite of the terms on which the rights and obligations of the partners might have been regulated and defined by the partnership contract. There was no ground for questioning or disturbing the discretion given by the Act and exercised by the original Court in making a decree for dissolution in the plaintiff's favour. PERUMUTHU SIVASUBRAMANIAM v PRINCE (1917) 1 L R 42 Bom 380

19 — Contract—whether one of partnership or service—Grounds for dissolution—accounts. Upon the construction of the document in question the relation between the parties was held to be that of partners and not master and servants. Refusal and neglect on the part of any one to perform the duties undertaken by him would give to any other partner the right to apply for dissolution but for dissolution by agreement the consent of all is necessary. The fact however that certain partners deliberately ceased to perform their duties would be taken into consideration in taking accounts. W. KRISHNAMA CHARIAR v A SANKARA SAH (1918) 25 C W N 314

20 — Death of one partner—Liability of surviving Partner for profits made in the business subsequent to the death of the deceased partner. Where on the death of one partner the surviving partner continued the business. Held that he was liable to give to the representative of the deceased partner a share in the profits of the business which may have accrued subsequent to the death of the deceased partner Brown v Tait (15 1) Jacob 254 later v Finn 13 Ch D 833

PARTNERSHIP—cont'd

Crawshaw v Collins 10 Ves 216 1 Jac & Wa 267 Halkote v Hulme 1 Jac & Wa 12. Alfred
Musaji Salchji v Haslim Ibrahim Salchji 1 I P
 4. Cal 914 referred to MAHOMED KAMEL v
HAJI HEDAYETULLA (19-1) I L R 48 Cal 806

21 ——— Suit by a partner for a partial settlement of account during the continuance of the partnership Plaintiff one of the partners of a partnership entered into on 20th October 1913 for 3 years sued on 13th October 1915 for a settlement of the partnership accounts from 15th June 1914 to the 15th June 1916 alleging that the partnership had been put an end to on the latter date by defendant's conduct. It was found by the High Court that the partnership had not been dissolved and the question was whether the plaintiff was competent to sue for a partial settlement of accounts for the season 1914-15. Held that the general rule as applied in India is that if the account is sought in respect of a matter which though arising out of a partnership business or connected with it does not involve the taking of general accounts the Court will, as a rule give the relief applied for. It will be for the Court to determine under what circumstances it will be equitable to order a partial account having regard to the rights of the parties under the contract Fairbairn v Neilson (3 Hares Report 38.) followed Karris Venkata Reddy v Kollu Varnaswamy (1 L R 22 Mad 78) Raghubar Dayal v Sheoramlal (1 All L J P 94) and J P Singhal v Law of Partnership in British India pages 344-346 referred to. Held also that considering that prior to the 15th June 1914 the accounts were rendered daily and dividends distributed daily but after that date the defendant's agent stopped giving of the accounts daily and the payment of dividends and that written demands sent by plaintiff to the latter were left unheeded the plaintiff was justified in bringing the present suit for partial settlement of accounts. HAJI MAL MELA PAM v KIRPA PAM BIRJ LAL
 I L R 2 Lah 351

22 ——— Limitation—Disolution—Assets received by partner—Right to sue for share—Taking accounts—Indian Limitation Act (XI of 1908) Sch I art 106—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) sec 65 If a partnership has been dissolved and accounts have been wound up the mutual rights and obligations of the partners therein being discharged and an asset which has been forgotten or treated as valueless afterwards falls in on ought to be divided between the partners in proportion to their shares in the partnership. But if no account has been taken the proper remedy of a partner in respect of an asset so received is to have an account taken if his right to sue for an account is barred by limitation he cannot sue the partner who has received the asset for a share of it. Mervanji Hormuji v Pustomji Burjorji (1892) 1 L R 6 Bom 6 S Soklanadha Vannimundar v Soklanadha Vannimundar (1906) 1 L R 28 Mad 314 and decisions following them disapproved. Observations in Knox v Gye (1971) L R 5 H L 636 explained. GOPALA CHETTI v VEDATARANAVATTAR (19-) I L R 45 Mad (P C) 378

PARTNERSHIP ACCOUNT*See* PARTNERSHIP

—suit for—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877)

I L R 38 Mad 185

Duty of each partner to discover all documents—Arbitration reference of dispute with customer to by one partner—Others if bound—Question if one of law—Agreement to refer not originally binding becoming binding by acquiescence or acceptance of benefit—Question if should be allowed to be taken for the first time on appeal—Partner charged with entering into agreement to refer negligently and improperly—Measure of damages—Onus of proof For the purpose of working out a partnership decree each party to the action is bound to produce and discover all documents in his possession relating to the partnership and an application by the plaintiff for discovery of documents in the possession of a defendant in such an action ought not to have been refused. Held that the decision of the High Court in so far as it was of opinion that the accounts taken by the Commissioner (and affirmed by the trying Court) were not properly taken or supported by evidence and must be investigated afresh was correct. A sum of money paid by a customer as the result of a reference to arbitration in which the legal personal representatives of a deceased partner were no parties having been brought into the partnership accounts the latter who did not dispute the item in the first Court for the first time on appeal contended that not being parties to the reference they were not bound by it. Held that the question whether the legal personal representatives of the deceased partner were bound by the agreement to refer and by the award was not a simple question of law to be decided without reference to the facts of the case or any evidence which might have been available if it had been raised at the proper time and the contention should have been rejected as having been put forward at too late a stage. An agreement to refer not originally binding might become binding later on by the acquiescence of the party or his acceptance of benefit thereunder. Held further that if the legal personal representatives of the deceased partner were not bound by the award they would not be entitled to relief on the footing that it was binding but had been negligently and improperly entered into. That if relief could be given on this footing the difference between the amount originally claimed against the customer and the amount paid by him under the award would not necessarily be the measure of damages nor could the onus of proving that it was any less sum be thrown on the person accused of negligent and improper conduct. Haji Mahomed Albar v Duarka Nath Sarkar 14 C W N 1106 reversed in part. DWARKA NATH SARKAR v HAJI MAHOMED ALBAR (1914) 18 C W N 1025

—Suit for partnership accounts—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 106—Specific assets realised within period of limitation If a suit for general partnership accounts and a share in partnership profits is itself barred the plaintiff in such a suit cannot be allowed to proceed speculatively against any and every partnership asset which may have been realised by the defendant after dissolution and within the period of limitation. Mervanji Hormuji v Ru torji

PARTNERSHIP ACCOUNT—contd

Burgers I L R 6 Bom 628 distinguished. Ahmed SULEMAN v BRAGWANDAS VISRAM AND CO (1909) I L R 34 Bom. 515
Limitation Act (IX of 1938) Sch I Art 106—Money received by partner after dissolution of partnership—Suit by other partner for recovery of share therein if maintainable after suit for general accounts barred—Position where an item falls in after accounts squared off—Fresh cause of action It is contrary to the policy of the Legislature to allow a partner whose right to sue for a general partnership accounts has been barred by limitation to sue for his share of specific payments received from debtors by one partner subsequently to the dissolution of the partnership permitting the latter by way of set off to claim what may be found due to him upon taking the partnership accounts If a partnership has been dissolved and the accounts have been wound up and each partner has paid what he has to contribute to the debts of the partnership and received his share of the profits the mutual rights and obligations having been thus all discharged and then it turns out afterwards that there was some item to the credit of the partnership which was either forgotten or treated as valueless by reason of the supposed insolvency of the debtor or for any other cause which item afterwards becomes of value and falls in it ought to be divided between the partners in proportion to their shares in the original partnership. If on the other hand no accounts have been taken and there is no constant that the partners have squared up then the proper remedy when such an item falls in is to have the accounts of the partnership taken and if it is too late to have recourse to this remedy then it is also too late to claim a share in an item as part of the partnership assets K GOPALA CHETTY v T G VJABANRA ACHARIAR 28 C W N 977

PARTNERSHIP PROPERTY

See PARTNERSHIP I L R 43 Cal 733

PARTY

See RES JUDICATA I L R 36 Bom 189

PART PAYMENT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 20

PART PERFORMANCE

See AGREEMENT TO TRANSFER 24 U W N 463

See COMPROMISE I L R 42 Cal 801

See ESTOPPEL

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 ss 41 AND 48 I L R 40 AIR 187

See UNIVERSITY LEADERSHIP I L R 41 Cal 518

Doctrine of applicability of Plaintiff sued for joint possession of land on declaration of her title She claimed it as heir to her father The defence to the effect that the Plaintiff's father had exchanged the land in suit for some other land with the defendant's vendor was found to be established Held that on the equitable doctrine of part performance the Plaintiff could not question the validity of the exchange on the ground that it had not been effected by a registered document. That this doctrine has been applied by the Courts in recent judicial decisions without reference to the question whether the right to claim specific performance was or was not subsisting 25 C W N 905

PART PERFORMANCE—contd

PASSENGER

See CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE I L R 34 Bom. 427

PASSING OFF ACTION

See TRADE MARK I L R 17 Cal 204

PASTURE LAND

See Pasturage

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1903) s 3 I L R 18 Mad 738

*Tenancy—if permanent—Chakravarna Holdings—Occupancy right acquisition of in—Using land for purposes of cultivation if waste—Remedy of landlord—Forfeiture—Landlord and Tenant Act (X of 1859) s 6—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 5 (2)—Notices—Service—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 106 108 (a) 111 (g) The question being whether certain holdings situated in the tract known as Chakravarna or pasture lands in Mouzah Barantpur in Zillah Purnea were permanent tenancies it was proved that sales by private treaty and by auction through Court of such holdings were frequent that cases of ejectment were uncommon that such holdings frequently passed to the heirs of the deceased tenants and that mutation of names in the zamindars' shariat had been frequently allowed sometimes on payment of na arana and sometimes without Held that the proper inference to be drawn from these circumstances was that the tenants had a permanent right in the holdings and were not liable to ejectment on notice Per Doss J.—That assuming that the lands were settled with the tenants only for the purpose of grazing cattle the tenants had acquired a right of occupancy in the lands before the Bengal Tenancy Act came into force under s. 6 of Act X of 1859 Fitz Patrick v Wallace 11 W R 231 followed*

That it was not reasonable to hold that at the inception of the tenancies it was intended by the parties that the lands were never to be used for cultivation, and the tenants were rayats within the meaning of s. 5 sub s (2) of the Bengal Tenancy Act Per RICHARDSON J.—The tenants had failed to prove that the lands were left for purposes of cultivation or that they had acquired occupancy right therein. That by using the lands intended for grazing for purposes of cultivation the tenants did not incur forfeiture SAEIKH LATIFAR PAHA MAN v A H. FORBES (1909) 14 C W N 372

PASTURE RENT

—recovery of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1903) s 3 I L R 38 Mad. 738

PASTURAGE

Right of—Unassessed Government Waste—Right of pasture on not to exclude owner's right to possession—Acts necessary to obtain prescriptive title There are no statutory provisions in the Madras Presidency as in Bombay with reference to the grazing rights of villagers over adjoining Government waste. The right of pasture on unenclosed waste cannot exclude the owner's right to possession and enjoyment of the property over which such a right may exist. Ram Saran Singh v. Birga Singh 1 I. L. R. 19 All. 172 referred to Secretary of State for India v. Mathambhai 1 I. L. R. 14 Bom. 213. A distinction guided CORJALA PICHU NAIDU v. VALLER VEERIAN (1910) 1 I. L. R. 34 Mad. 53.

PASTURAGE—contd

Suit for declaration of and for injunction—Here thirty years' prescription of enough—Presumption of right. In a suit for declaration that the plaintiffs who were cultivating tenants had a right of pasture over certain lands and for an injunction on the landlord to remove fences etc. therefrom the finding of the lower Appellate Court in decreeing the suit was that the land had been lying unoccupied from time immemorial and the villagers have been grazing their cattle here for more than 30 years. Their user was open and peaceful without interruption and should be in the circumstances of this case presumed to be as of right also. Held that this finding was not sufficient to establish the plaintiffs' right of pasture over the land in suit. It being a customary right it must be reasonable and it would be unreasonable to hold that no land over which cattle had grazed should ever be brought under the plough. SYED ALI v. SARJAN ALI (1913) 18 C. W. N. 735.

PATELKI SERVICE

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM. ACT V OF 1879) s. 902
1 I. L. R. 45 Bom. 894

PATENT

See INVENTION AND DESIGNS ACT (V OF 1888) s. 29
1 I. L. R. 41 All. 68

PATENTS AND DESIGNS ACT (II OF 1911)

See INVENTIONS AND DESIGNS ACT See PATENT

s. 62, 64, 67—

See DESIGN 1 I. L. R. 45 Cal. 606

PATERNAL AUNT

See HINDU LAW—GUARDIAN
1 I. L. R. 23 Mad. 1125

PATILKI VATAN

See VATAN 1 I. L. R. 37 Bom. 81

PATKUM PARGANAS—

See BENIADI PATTAN
6 Pat. L. J. 687

PATNA HIGH COURT

Calcutta High Court decision of binding upon Patna High Court until dissented from by Full Bench. The decision by a Divisional Bench of the Calcutta High Court is binding upon the Patna High Court until dissented from by a Full Bench. HARDIAN MESSER v. SYED MOHAMED (1916) 20 C. W. N. 983.

PATNA HIGH COURT RULES

See HIGH COURT RULES AND ORDERS
Legal tie of—Letters Patent of the Patna High Court cl. 29—Code of

PATNA HIGH COURT RULES—contd

Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) ss. 122, 193, 194 and 125—Failure to furnish list of papers to be inserted in paper book—whether order dismissing appeal for default is appealable to His Majesty in Council. The rules of the Patna High Court 1916 are not ultra vires. No appeal lies to His Majesty in Council from an order of the High Court dismissing an appeal on failure of the appellant to prepare and deliver a list of the papers to be inserted in the paper book in accordance with rule 8 of Chapter IX of the Patna High Court Rules 1916. RAJENDRA KISHORE v. RAJKUMAR KAKAKHTA NARAYAN SINGH 5 Pat. L. J. 719.

—Ch. IV, r. 15—

See PRIVY COUNCIL, APPEAL TO
11 Pat. L. J. 114

—Ch. V, r. 3—Held that a question as to convenience of procedure is not a question of law within the meaning of this rule. HITENDRA SINGH v. MAHARAJA SIR RAMESHWAR SINGH
6 Pat. L. J. 293

—Ch. VI, rr. 11 and 16—

See LETTER PATENT 4 Pat. L. J. 695

—Ch. VI, r. 5—

See SUBSTITUTION OF PARTIES
5 Pat. L. J. 256

Appeal by person not a party to the suit. Held that r. 5 applied only to a person who seeks to appeal in order to establish his claim as a Beneficiary and not to any other claim. SYED AHMED NAVAT v. SYED ABRAH HUSSAIN
11 Pat. L. J. 43

—Ch. VII, r. 2—Limitation extension of time—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s. 12. An absolute period of limitation of 30 days having been prescribed by Ch. VII, r. 2 of the Patna High Court Rules 1916 that period cannot be extended by virtue of any of the provisions of the Limitation Act 1908 relating to the extension of the periods of limitation prescribed by that Act. DEOKI LAL v. RAMANAND LAL
5 Pat. L. J. 701

—Ch. VIII, rr. 34—

See LETTER PATENT (PAT.)
4 Pat. L. J. 695

—Ch. IX, r. 8—

See ANTE
5 Pat. L. J. 719

PATNI

See PUTNI

PATNI LEASE.

See PUTNI

PATNI TALUQ

See PUTNI TALUQ

—Patni Tenure.

See PUTNI TENURE.

—Patnidar—

See PUTNIDAR

PATTA

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss. 54 AND 58 CL. (c)
1 I. L. R. 33 Mad. 626

PATTA—contd

See UNDEF RAIYAT

I L R 33 Cal 278

tender of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1909)

I L R 37 Mad 549

Suit to enforce acceptance of—Zamindari land converted into wet with Government water—Consideration failure of—Enhancement—Rent Recovery Act (VIII of 1865) s 11 Certain dry zamindari lands were converted into wet by the use of water from a channel constructed and maintained solely by Government. Held that there was no consideration for the zamindar to levy enhanced rent notwithstanding stipulation for enhancement should the land be cultivated as wet. The conditions laid down in the Rent Recovery Act (Mad VIII of 1865) s 11 not being present the zamindar was precluded from levying enhanced rent. SRIJAY PATAI MALLIKARJUNA PRASADA NAIDU v SUBBAYYA (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 4

PAUPER

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 SCH I

O XXV R 1 I L R 38 Bom 415

See PAUPER SUIT

appeal by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

O 44 r 1

suit by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47

AND O XX 4 Pat L J 166

Next friend of a pauper minor if to prove his own pauperism. ANANDIAO v SECRETARY OF STATE (1910)

23 C W N 955

PAUPER PLAINT

See STAMP DUTY I L R 33 All 469

PAUPER SUIT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1882)

s 411 I L R 34 All 223

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 115 I L R 32 All 623

O XXVIII

Second application—where the previous one was rejected for want of schedule of property—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O 37

RR 25 AND 15 I L R 1 Lah 151

Application to sue as—Disqualification—Subject matter of suit—Cause of action—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1909) O XXVIII rr 1 2 and 5 A mortgagor applied for permission to institute a suit as a pauper for the setting aside of a sale of the mortgaged property by the mortgagee with an alternative claim for damages. The mortgagee admitting there was a surplus due to the applicant after the mortgage debt had been satisfied paid it into Court and contended that the applicant was not a pauper and that the applicant disclosed no cause of action. Held that the applicant was a pauper within the meaning of the Explanation to

PAUPER SUIT—contd

O XXVIII r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1909) but that the allegations contained in the application did not disclose a cause of action. Dwarkanath v Madhavrai I L R 10 Bom 207 not followed. FATMABAI v Dossabhai Rustomji Umrigar (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 63

Application for leave to sue in forma pauperis—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXVIII rr 4 5 7—Scope of enquiry—Power of the Court under s 4—Witnesses to be examined on the question of pauperism only—No evidence except evidence of the applicant on the merits of the claim permissible in an enquiry under O XXVIII of the Civil Procedure Code the Court cannot take evidence (except the evidence of the applicant himself) on the merits of the claim. P 4 expressly gives power to the Court to examine the applicant regarding the merits of the claim and the property of the applicant so that there is no doubt that the applicant himself can be examined not only with reference to the question of his pauperism but also with reference to the merits of his claim. It is open to the Court to consider not only the statements made in the plaint but also the statements made in his examination by the applicant before determining whether his allegations disclose a cause of action as laid down in cl (d) of r 5 of O XXVIII. But the Court cannot examine other witnesses for deciding the question of limitation or any other question than the pauperism of the applicant. The evidence to be taken under r 7 is confined to the evidence which may be adduced by the applicant in proof of his pauperism and any evidence which may be adduced in disproof thereof as laid down in r 6. Kamrakh Nath v Sundar Nath I L R 20 All 299 Dulari v Vallabhadras Pragn I L R 13 Bom 126 and Dawab Bahadur of Moorsheedabad v Harihar Chandra Acharye 13 C L J 593 followed. JOGEENDRA NARAYAN RAY v DURGA CHARAN GUHA THAKURTA (1918)

I L R 30 Cal 651

PAY AND PENSION

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

I L R 38 Cal 318

PAYMENT

See BILL OF COSTS

I L R 43 Cal 517

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 45 Cal 23

I L R 42 Bom 18

By Debtor—

See ACCOUNT—

I L R 41 Cal 839

plea of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 All 426

to some only of the Trustees—

See TRUST I L R 39 Mad 597

under compulsion of law—

See DEPOSIT COURT

I L R 43 Cal 269

PAYMENT INTO COURT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

ss 47 73 O XXI R 5

I L R 36 Bom 156

PAYMENT INTO COURT—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 190 —
O XXI No. 80 AND 81.

I L R 45 Bom 1094

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (I of 1882) s 63 I L R 22 ALL 142

Cal—Sut to set aside sale—Sut decreed on plaintiff paying into Court certain amount—Mortgagee from plaintiff paying the money to save the sale from being set aside—Assignment of plaintiff's interest—Mortgagee paid off—Application by mortgagor to withdraw the money paid into Court—Mortgagee cannot be allowed to withdraw unless on an application by one of the parties—One Banulal for himself and as guardian of her son Banemiyal and daughter Lutlalal sold the property in suit to one Mahomed Banemiyal and Lutlalal brought a suit to set aside the sale and it was decreed that the plaintiffs should on paying into Court a certain sum of money within six months take into possession their shares of the property on partition and that in default of payment the suit should be dismissed—One Dattatraya who was a mortgagee from Banemiyal paid the decretal amount into Court on the 22nd August 1918 to save the suit from being dismissed—On the 16th September 1918 Banemiyal sold the remaining interest in the property to one Ismail—Subsequently on the 3rd October 1918 Dattatraya's mortgage was redeemed and on the 4th October 1918 he applied to the Court to withdraw the amount—This application was opposed by Ismail—The Subordinate Judge made an order allowing Dattatraya to withdraw the money paid into Court—Held setting aside the order that though the money was produced by Dattatraya it was paid into the credit of the proceedings and could only be dealt with an application made in the regular course by one of the parties and that Ismail could be heard as he was the person in whose favour interest was created by the plaintiffs—ESMAIL ALLABAKHIA v DATTATRAYA PANCHANDRA (1920) I L R 45 Bom 967

PAYMENT TOWARDS DEBT

See LIMITATION I L R 44 Calc 567

PECUNIARY SUFFICIENCY

See SURETY I L R 44 Calc 737

PEDIGREE.

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 32

I L R 27 All 600

Question of pedigree—Plaintiff and his witnesses not directly cross examined on the case raised by defendant—Court if should accept such case—Plaintiff's case believed by trial Court—Reversal by High Court on such basis if correct—Where the question was whether plaintiff A was the legitimate son of Muhammad Sher Khan by his wife Musammatal Munna and A himself and his witnesses gave evidence that he was but the only question put to them in cross examination was whether Muhammad Sher Khan had a woman named Sandana in his keeping as a mistress and when witnesses for the defendants were being examined some attempt was made to prove that A was the son of another person of the name of Muhammad Sher Khan who had a mistress named Sandana and the trial Court believed A's case which was supported by strong and straightforward evidence on the record.

PEDIGREE—contd

and as to the case of the defendants held that the whole story was a pure concoction and was unworthy of credit—Held agreeing with the trial Court that the High Court on appeal was not justified in dismissing the plaintiff's suit on the view that it was quite possible that the real truth was that the defendant was the son of Musammatal Sandana who was kept by Muhammad Sher Khan having been influenced thereto by the fact that the suit was being financed by a co-plaintiff in whose favour A had executed a deed of sale in respect of a moiety of the property claimed and in accordance with which the litigation was being financed—ABDEL AZIZ v TASHABUL HUSSEIN (1917)

21 C W N 573

PENAL ASSESSMENT

levy of—

See MADRAS LAND ENCROACHMENT ACT (III of 190) s 35 14

I L R 33 Mad 674

Right of Government to levy—Interference with possession—Possession short of the statutory period is a sufficient basis for a suit for a declaration of title—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) s 40 Per CURRIE—The Government has no right to collect penal assessment from a person in possession of land simply on the ground that he is not the legal owner of the land but such right is conditional on the land being communal—Per ABDUR RAHIM J (ALYIA J dissentante)—A person in possession of land even though for less than 12 years would under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act be entitled to a declaration that he is in lawful possession as against a wrong doer who interferes with his possession—ISMAIL ARIF v MAHOMED GHOS I L R 20 Cal 335 applied—HANMANIRAY v Secretary of State for India I L R 25 Bom 237 distinguished—Kousonada Rayar v Siharanga Pillai 2 Mad H C 171 referred to—The levying of penal assessment on land if not justified amounts to unlawful interference with possession—ATTA PARAJI v SECRETARY OF STATE (1919)

I L R 37 Mad 298

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)

Effect of on previous Penal Laws

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 41 Calc 173

Preamble and ss 1 2 5 499—

See DEFAMATION I L R 48 Calc 338

Chaps XII and XVII—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1893) s 318

I L R 33 Mad 552

ss 7 27 243—

See COUNTERTENET COIN

I L R 44 Calc 477

s 8—

See PILDER I L R 44 Calc 290

s 21—Illegal gratification taking of by a public servant—Public servant unpaid apprentice if not a public servant within the meaning of s 21 of the Indian Penal Code—MAHENDRA PRASAD v EMPEROR (1910)

15 C W N 319

ss 22, 403—Criminal misappropriation—Movable property—Letter addressed to one person retained by another. A letter addressed to H was handed by a postman to W who was at the time in a room in the occupation of H. W read the letter and put it on a table in the room and left it there. H took the letter and subsequently attempted to file it as an exhibit attached to an affidavit made by him in a suit for judicial separation between H and his wife for the purpose as he afterwards stated of strengthening Mrs W's case and of improving his own position. The Court however refused to receive the letter. Held that in the circumstances H could not be convicted of dishonest misappropriation of property with respect to his retention of the letter. Quere Whether the letter could be regarded as moveable property within the meaning of s 22 of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v HARRIS (1917) I L R 40 All 119

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV 1860)—*contd*ss 22 403—contd

ss 23 24 463 to 465—

See FORGERY I L R 43 Calc 421

ss 24 25 463 464, 471—

See FORGERY I L R 38 Calc 75

s 27—

See COUNTERFEIT COIN

I L R 44 Calc 477

ss 29 30 464 467 and 474—Forgery
—Document meaning of—Valuable security—In complete document—Material alteration of incomplete document effect of. An agreement in writing which purported to be entered into between five persons was signed by only two of them. It was altered by the addition of some material terms by the accused who was one of the two executants without the consent or knowledge of the other executant and was not signed by the other parties to the agreement. The accused was in possession of the instrument which was altered by him. Held by OLDFIELD J (on a reference under s 429 Criminal Procedure Code owing to difference of opinion between SADASIYA AYYAR and PHILLIPS JJ) that the accused was guilty of the offence of forgery of a valuable security under s 467 or of being in possession of a forged document under s 474 of the Indian Penal Code. The instrument though not signed by all the parties thereto fulfilled the requirements of the definition of a document in s 29 of the Code. The document was a valuable security because it imposed an obligation on the actual executants and an option on the others and there was no express or implied condition precedent to be found in the document or established by independent evidence that the document was to be inoperative against the executants until all the parties executed it. It is open to the accused to plead and to prove that the alterations were not made fraudulently or dishonestly, because they represented what accused in good faith believed to be the truth and intended to use to support what in good faith he claimed or might claim. Que v Empress v Syed Musauin I I P All 403 Queen Empress v Sheo Dyal I I P 7 All 429 Que v Ali Khan Perhai 2 All P H C R 202 and Manickia Isari v Emperor (1915) Mad W 278 referred to P. J. v Turpin C A 80 disapproved P v Bingley (1871) R d P 419 referred to R v Lee 3 Cox 89 and R v Harper 7 Q B D 78 followed. RAMASWAMI AYYAR v THE KING EMPEROR (1917) I L R 41 Mad 589

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 30—

See MAGISTRATE POWER OF

I L R 38 Calc 63

ss 30 467—Valuable security —Forgery—Incomplete documents bearing forged signature of executant. Two documents were found in the possession of the accused each bearing a signature which purported to be that of one Bindhyachal but which in fact was a forged signature. One document was intended to be filled up as a promissory note the other as a receipt but the spaces for particulars of the amount the name of the person in whose favour the document was executed the date and place of execution and the rate of interest were not filled in. An one anna stamp was affixed to each but it was not cancelled in any way. Held that these documents nevertheless purported to be valuable securities within the meaning of the definition contained in s 30 of the Indian Penal Code. QUEEN EMPRESS v RAMASAMI I L R 12 Mad 49 referred to EMPEROR v JAWAHIR THAKUR (1916) I L R 38 All 430 ss 30 and 471—Forged document—User whether filing with plaintiff amounts to—Valuable security whether paper or which an account is written in. The filing of forged documents with a plaintiff is user of them within the meaning of s 41 of the Penal Code. A document whereby a person acknowledges himself to be under a legal liability is a valuable security within the meaning of s 30. INDU JALANA v THE CROWN 3 Pat L J 386

s 34—Several persons acting with a common intention. s 34 does not create a distinct offence but lays down a principle of liability and when two or more persons join actively in and as a result on a 3rd person they are directly responsible for the injuries caused to the extent to which they had a common intention to cause these injuries and what their common intention was must be gathered from the circumstances. FORZULAN v THE KING EMPEROR

25 C W N 24

ss 34 109 114—

See ATTEMPTED ACQUITT

I L R 41 Calc 10:2

ss 34 109 487—Forgery—Abetment of forgery—Abetment by conspiracy—Conspiracy at Cambay foreign territory—Consequent forgery committed in British India—Trial in British India of the foreigner who conspired to forge at Cambay and who was in Cambay when the forgery was committed in British India—Jurisdiction. The accused was a subject of the Camtaya State. He lived there and traded with his business partner. He conspired with A at Cambay and sent B to a professional forger at Umroth (a place in British India) with instructions to instigate the latter to forge a valuable security. To facilitate the forgery the accused sent his library book with A. In pursuance of A's instigation the forgery was committed at Umroth. On these facts the accused was charged in a Court in British India with the offence of abetment of forgery under ss 167 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code. The trial Judge referred to the High Court the question whether the accused not being a British subject was amenable to the jurisdiction of his Court. Held that the Court in British India had jurisdiction to try the accused for the accused's offence was not wholly complete.

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 34 103 46—contd

within Cambray limit but having been initiated there was continued and completed within the British territory of Umreth. Where a foreigner starts the train of his crime in foreign territory and perfects and completes his offence within British limits he is triable by the British Court when found within its jurisdiction. S 34 of the Indian Penal Code provides not only for liability to punishment but also for subjection of a comparator to the jurisdiction of a Court though he conspires at a place beyond the jurisdiction. EMPEROR v CHHOTALAL BANAR (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 524

ss 37 302, 304—

1 ——— Murder—Culpable homicide not amounting to murder—Fatal assault with lathis by three persons acting in concert Three persons brothers attacked with lathis a fourth against whom they bore a grudge and beat him with great severity so that he died shortly afterwards. His skull was badly fractured and numerous other injuries were inflicted upon him. It did not appear which injuries were caused by which of the assailants but the evidence showed that they were acting in concert and intended to cause such bodily injury as was likely to cause death. Held that all three assailants were guilty of murder. King Emperor v Subbappa Chunnappa 10 Bom L R 301 and King Emperor v Kanhai I L R 35 All 379 followed Emperor v Bhole Singh I L R 29 All 287 Queen Empress v Duma Baidya I L R 19 Mad 453 Gouridas Vamasudra v Emperor I L R 36 Cal 659 Empress v Dharam Pasi All Weekly Notes (1887) 26 Dhan Singh v King Emperor 9 All L J 180 distinguished. EMPEROR v RAM NEWAZ (1913) I L R 35 All 506

2 ——— Murder—Culpable homicide not amounting to murder—Fatal assault with lathis by several persons acting in concert Five men—members of the same family—assaulted an unarmed man and beat him with their lathis. They knocked him down and continued beating him with the result that he died then and there. Another man who came to the rescue of the first was also knocked down and beaten by the same five men with a similar result. Held that all five men were in each case guilty of the offence of murder. Dhan Singh v King Emperor 9 All L J 180 disented from EMPEROR v HANUMAN (1913)

I L R 36 All 560

s 39—

See s 290 I L R 84 Mad 92

ss 40 and 79—Madras Forest Act (V of 1882) offence under—Justification plea of not available The plea of justification provided by s 79 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) is available only for an offence punishable by the Penal Code and not for offences punishable by any special or local law and hence the belief of the accused that he was justified in his act does not exculpate him from punishment for his guilt under s 21 of the Madras Forest Act. Emperor v Kasi in Sub 14 Bom L P 575 disented from In re Penchul Pettis 9 Mad L T 216 followed Re Lewis (1913) I L R 38 Mad 73 ss 52 191 193—Perjury—Verdict of a court of appeal for execution containing a statement

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV 1860)—*contd*ss 52 191 193—contd

fact untrue—Good faith A man cannot be convicted of perjury under s 193 of the Indian Penal Code for having acted rashly or for having failed to make reasonable inquiry with regard to the facts alleged by him to be true. It must be found that he made some statement which he knew to be false or which he believed to be false or which he did not believe to be true and this finding should be arrived at independently of the definition of good faith in s 52 of the Code. EMPEROR v MUHAMMAD ISHAQ (1914) I L R 36 All 362 ss 59 304 (1)—Culpable homicide not amounting to murder—Sentence of transportation for fourteen years if legal—Sentence by High Court—Interference by Privy Council—Substantial injustice Whilst s 304 (1) and s 59 of the Indian Penal Code authorise a sentence of transportation for life they do not empower a Court to impose a sentence of transportation for a term of years exceeding the maximum term for which a sentence of imprisonment can be imposed namely ten years. Where the High Court passed a sentence of transportation for fourteen years upon the accused who had been convicted under s 304 (1) of the Penal Code. Held that the sentence not being authorised by law the Privy Council must hold that there was substantial injustice for the sentence might involve the incarceration of the accused during many years without legal authority. Re Dillei L R 12 App Cas 459 461 (1887) referred to SATYAPUREDDI CHIVAYYA DORAI v THE KING EMPEROR 25 W N 514

s 62—Sentence—Forfeiture of property—Offences in respect of which forfeiture is a available penalty Held that s 62 of the Indian Penal Code which empowers a Court to order in certain cases the property of a convicted person to be forfeited to the Crown should ordinarily be applied in cases of crimes against the State or affecting the safety of the public generally. EMPEROR v GAYAPRASAD (1914)

I L R 36 All 395

See ACT XVI OF 1911 s 4

s 64—

See CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL ACT ss 374 376 15 C W N 806

ss 71 147 149 and 325—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 106 (3) I L R 33 All 48

ss 71 147 149 and 325—

See SENTENCE 3 Pat L J 641

ss 71 353—

one act constituting two offences—

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT 1897 s 26 I Pat L J 373

ss 71 147 323—Criminal Procedure Code ss 35 and 235—Separate convictions for rioting and causing hurt Where several persons being on their trial on a charge of rioting it appears that some of them have also committed the offence of causing simple hurt under s 323 of the Indian Penal Code there is no legal objection to charging such persons under that section and convicting them of and sentencing them for such offence as well as for the offence of rioting. EMPEROR v KATWAR PARI (1917) I L R 39 All 623

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV 1860)—contd

— s 75—

See PRACTICE I L R 44 Bom 325

Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 565—Whipping Act (II of 1909) s 3—Sentence of whipping only passed on accused—Order to accused to notify his residence—Validity of the order s 565 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) must be strictly construed. The order contemplated by the section can only be made at the time of passing sentence of transportation or imprisonment upon a convict. It cannot be made where the Court instead of passing that sentence passes a sentence of whipping. EMPEROR v. FULJI DITIA (1910)

I L R 35 Eom 137

Previous conviction by a court in a Native State—Held that the provisions of s 75 of the Indian Penal Code cannot be applied when the previous conviction is one passed by a Criminal Court in a Native State. BAKAVEL v. KING EMPEROR 48 PUNJ REC 61 Cr I followed. EMPEROR v. BHAWAR I L R 42 All 136

s 76—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 105—Question whether act done by accused falls within general exceptions—Evidence—Presumption—Pleading. Where an accused person has raised pleas in consistent with a defence which would bring his case within one of the general exceptions in the Indian Penal Code he cannot in a trial set up a case based upon the evidence taken at his trial that his act came within such general exception. Circumstances which would bring the case of an accused person within any of the general exceptions in the Indian Penal Code can and may be proved from the evidence given for the prosecution or to be found elsewhere in the record but there must be evidence upon which such circumstances can be found to exist and when they are not shown to exist the Court is not competent to assume more particularly when the pleas taken are inconsistent with such assumption that such circumstances might have existed or that doubt may arise in consequence of such a supposition and the accused ought to be given the benefit of the doubt. QUEEN EMPRESS v. LIMAL I L P 21 All 122 referred to. EMPEROR v. WAJID HUSSAIN (1910)

I L R 32 All 451

— ss 76 78 342—

See WROUGHT CONFINEMENT

I L R 47 Cal 818

— s 78—

See s 40 I L R 38 Mad 772

See s 107 N Pat L J 129

See WROUGHT CONFINEMENT

I L R 47 Cal 818

— ss 79 141 147 342—

See RIOTING I L R 48 Cal 78

s 80—Plea of accident—Onus on accused—Criminal case—Motive for committing offence—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 342—Written statement filed by accused—Framing of accused by Court. Per CHITTY J. If the accused puts forward a substantive defence of accident within the purview of s 80 Indian Penal Code it is incumbent upon him to prove it. Where the evidence as to the deed is sufficiently convincing it is immaterial to consider with what motive it was done. Per LEACHCLOTH J. There is no provision in the Code of Criminal Procedure for the making of a written statement by an accused in the Sessions Court and the practice of refusing to answer questions and of putting in a written statement is a pernicious one. KING EMPEROR v. DWILAKHA CHAUDHA MUKHERJEE (1916)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV 1860)—contd

— s 80—contd

19 C W N 1043

— ss 81 83—Offence of rape committed by a boy under fourteen—Presumption. Held that the presumption of English law against the possibility of the commission of the offence of rape by a boy under the age of years 14 has no application to India. EMPEROR v. PARAS PAM DUBE (1915)

I L R 37 All 187

s 84—Exemption from criminal responsibility on account of unsoundness of mind. A person whose cognitive faculties are not so impaired as to make it impossible for him to know the nature of his act or that he was doing what was wrong or contrary to law is not exempted from criminal responsibility under s 84 Indian Penal Code. QUEEN EMPRESS v. KADER LAJER KHAN I L R 23 Cal 803 referred to. The burden of proving unsoundness of mind rests on the accused. KING EMPEROR v. PAM SUNDAR DAS (1919)

23 C W N 621

— s 86—Interpretation of—Drunkenness—Knowledge and intent. Per AYLING J. Ordinary drunkenness makes no difference to the knowledge with which a man is credited and if an accused knew what the natural consequences of his act were he must be presumed to have intended to cause them. Per TILLY J. — s 86 Indian Penal Code must be construed strictly. It provides that the intoxicated person shall be dealt with as if he had the same knowledge as he would have had if he had not been intoxicated but it does not provide that he shall be dealt with as if he had the same intent. Re MANDEV GADABA (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 479

— s 90—

See s 366

I L R 42 Bom 391

Consent obtained on misrepresentation illegal—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 366—Kidnapping a girl with such consent obtained from guardian. The offence of kidnapping consists in taking or enticing a minor out of the keeping of the lawful guardian of such minor without the consent of such guardian. If a minor is taken with the consent of the guardian and subsequently married improperly without the consent of the guardian to any person such improper marriage would not by itself amount to kidnapping. A consent given on a misrepresentation of a fact is one given under a misconception of fact within the meaning of s 90 Indian Penal Code and as such is not useful as a consent under the Penal Code. A misrepresentation as to intention of a person (in stating the purpose on which the consent is asked) is a misrepresentation of a fact within the meaning of s 3 of the Evidence Act. Per COMAN. Equally useless as a defence is a consent obtained by a fraud or coercion. I v. Hopkins. Car d Mor v. of Jelaad. I Jalaad (1913)

I L R 36 Mad 453

— s 95—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 435
AND 439 I L R 43 All 497

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV 1860)—contd

— s 97—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 105
I L R 40 All 284

— ss 97 99—How search by Police of r—General search—Search for specific article—Criminal trespass—Right of private defence—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act I of 1893) ss 433 437 165 and 91—District Magistrate power of to order further inquiry after discharge Every person has a right subject to the restrictions contained in s 99 of the Indian Penal Code to defend property whether moveable or immovable of himself or of any other person against any act which is an offence falling within the definition of criminal trespass. The law does not empower a police officer to search an accused person on a house for anything but the specific article which have been or can be made the subject of summons or warrant to produce. A general search for stolen property is not authorised and the law cannot be got over by using such an expression as "stolen property relevant to the case" as the law requires the mention of specific things. Where one of the accused in resisting such a search pushed the Sub Inspector and the latter ordered two constables to climb on his roof and break into the house whereupon the villagers assumed a threatening attitude and threatened to cut them to pieces if they entered the house and this empty threat was sufficient to prevent the Police from committing the trespass. Held that the accused had not exceeded the right of private defence and were rightly discharged and there was no ground for further enquiry. PRANEHAJI v KING EMPEROR (1912) 16 C W N 1078

See SEARCH BY POLICE OFFICERS

I L R 41 Cal 261

— ss 99 147—Right of private defence

—Rioting—Trespass—Wrongful possession for 14 hours—Repelling trespass by force if any offence Where the opposite party erected some huts stealthily at night on a plot of land of which the petitioners were in peaceful possession and it was alleged that the opposite party were in possession of the land for about 14 hours and the petitioners at break of day on coming to know of this took the earliest opportunity to exercise their own right of private defence and came to the spot armed to turn out the opposite party who were found by them still engaged in erecting more huts and there was a free fight between the parties and the petitioners did not inflict more hurt than was necessary for defending themselves. Held that the petitioners were not guilty of rioting and that in the circumstances of the case the petitioners had no time to have recourse to the public authorities and they were entitled to their right of private defence. CHANDULLA SHEIKH v THE KING EMPEROR (1912) 18 C W N 275

— ss 99 147 148 and 326—

See PRIVATE DEFENCE

3 Pat L J 653

— ss 99 103—

See PRIVATE DEFENCE—RIGHT OF

The resistance must only be sufficient to overcome the force employed by the attacker. RAM PRASAD MANTON v KING EMPEROR 4 Pat L J 289

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

— ss 147 323—

See RIOTING I L R 39 Cal 896

— ss 99 147 323 353—

See SEARCH WITHOUT WARRANT

I L R 38 Cal 304

— ss 99 353—Assault—Public servant acting under colour of office and in good faith—Right of private defence Where the petitioner was convicted under s 303 of the Penal Code of having assaulted a Civil Court peon when executing a writ of delivery of possession of a share in a tank by ordering some fishermen to cast their nets in the tank and catch fish for the decree holder as provided in the writ. Held that whatever mistake there might be in the procedure of the Munsif in giving the direction in the writ the petitioner had no right of private defence under s 99 of the Penal Code against the peon who was a public servant acting under colour of his office and in good faith. PREO LAL MUKHERJI v THE KING EMPEROR (1913) 18 W N 548

— ss 100 325—Gracious Hurl—Private defence—Plea cannot be set up in cases of deliberate fight The right of private defence cannot be successfully invoked by men who voluntarily and deliberately engage in fighting with their enemies for the sake of fighting as opposed to the case where men are reluctantly forced to use violence in order to protect themselves from violence offered to them. EMPEROR v BECHUR ANOR (1915) I L R 40 Bom 105

— ss 107 108 109 116 161—

See ABETMENT OF AN ABETMENT

I L R 48 Cal 607

— ss 107 108 121 124A—Waging of war abetment et—Sedition The accused published a book containing eighteen poems of which four were the subject matter of the charge. The general trend of the poems charged as well as the remaining ones in the book evinced a spirit of blood thirstiness and murderous egotism directed against the Government conveyed the urgency of taking up the sword and made an appeal of blood thirsty incitement to the people to take up the sword form secret societies and adopt guerilla warfare for the purpose of rooting out the British rule. Held that the accused committed the offence of abetting the waging of war (s 121 of the Indian Penal Code) by the publication of the poems charged. Held further that the Court was entitled to look into the poems other than those forming the subject matter of the charge for the purpose of finding out the intention of the writer and the design of the publication. Per CHANDAVARKAR J Under the Indian Penal Code the waging or levying of war and the abetting of it are put upon the same footing by s 121 that is the abetting of waging of war is under the Code as much an offence of treason as the waging of war itself. The word "abetment" is defined in s 107 of the Code and one of its meanings as given there is "instigating any person to do anything. This meaning is not excluded by anything that occurs in s 121. The general law is laid down in ss 107–120 of the Code. According to it to constitute the offence of abetment it is not necessary that the act abetted should be committed or that the effect requisite to constitute the offence should be caused." This applies to the abetment of the waging of war.

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

ss 107 108 121 124A—contd

again t the King as much as to the abetment of any other offence under the Code. The only difference created between the former offence and other offences is that while under the general law as to abetment a distinction is made for the purposes of punishment between abetment which has succeeded and abetment which has failed s 121 does away with that distinction so far as the offence of waging war is concerned and deals equally with an abettor whose instigation has led to a war and one whose instigation has taken no effect whatever. And that for this simple reason that such a crime more than any other must be sharply and severely dealt with at its very first appearance and nipped in the bud with a strong hand. Per HEATON J Under s 107 of the Indian Penal Code there may be an instigation of an unknown person. The word abet as used in s 121 of the Code has the same meaning as is given to it by s 107. The abetment meant by 121 is not necessarily confined to abetment of some war in progress. There may be and usually is, instigation of rebellion before rebellion actually begins. That kind of instigation is under the Code abetting waging war against the King. So long as a man only tries to inflame feeling to excite a state of mind he is not guilty of anything more than sedition. It is only when he definitely and clearly incites to action that he is guilty of instigating and therefore abetting the waging of war. EMPEROR : GANESH DAMODAR SALAFKAR (1910)
I L R 34 Bom 394

ss 107 342 and 79—If rongal confinement—Abetment whether advice amounts to—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act I of 1898) s 59—bona fide arrest by private person—Prisoner not taken to nearest police station effect of Advice per se does not necessarily amount to instigation within the meaning of the first clause to s 107 of the Penal Code. Instigation necessarily connotes some active suggestion or support or stimulation to the commission of the act itself. Advice amounts to instigation only if it was meant actively to suggest or stimulate the commission of an offence. A bare finding that the accused must have advised the arrest of the complainant is not sufficient to support a conviction for abetting the offence of wrongful confinement. Where a constable went into a shop and demanded the loans of a certain cooking utensil and on being refused beat the shopkeeper and another constable stood outside throughout the proceeding and shouted maro maro held that the latter was guilty of abetting not only the beating but also the attempt to extort and was therefore liable to arrest under s 59 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898. Where a private person on bona fide makes an arrest under s 59 of the Code of Criminal Procedure 1898 but takes the prisoner to the Magistrate instead of to the nearest police station he is protected from a charge of wrongful confinement by the provisions of s 79 of the Penal Code. PAGNEVATH DISS : THE KING EMPEROR
5 Pat L J 129

ss 108—

See s 107 I L R 34 Bom 394
I L R 48 Calc 607

s 108 Expl 4 ss 109 and 116—

Abetment of an offence—Instigating another to an

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 108 Expl 4 ss 109 and 116—
contd

Magistrate to accept a bribe—s 161 The words when the abetment of an offence is an offence in Expl 4 s 108 Indian Penal Code do not mean when an abetment of an offence is actually committed. They mean when the abetment of an offence is by definition or description an offence under the Code that is when an abetment of an offence is punishable under s 109 or s 116 or some other provision of the Code then the abetment of such abetment is also an offence. SPIRAL CHAMAPPA : KING EMPEROR (1918)
22 C W N 1045

s 109—

See s 34 I L R 44 Bom 524

See s 741 I L R 43 Bom 561

See s 361 I L R 44 All 664

See s 494 I L R 39 Calc 409

See APPET BY PRIVATE PERSON
I L R 41 Calc 17

See ALTFEROS ACQUIT
I L R 41 Calc 1072

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 403
I L R 40 Bom 97

ss 109 116 120B—

See MISDOINDER OF CHARGES
I L R 42 Calc 1153

ss 109 120B 420—Abetment by conspiracy—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 10

The accused V was a loader of the E I Railway Company. The case for the prosecution was that when making out the weights in the consignment notes he entered a weight less than the actual with the result that the railway company received a sum less than they were entitled to and the other accused who were a firm of merchants paid as consignees of goods illegal gratification to V for this fraudulent work. It appeared that the name of M signed by himself appeared in one of the note books of the firm of D and J and the jama kharach of the firm showed the payment of certain sums to accrue to M.

The accused were tried and convicted by the Deputy

Magistrate under ss 120B 420 420 100 161

161 109 Indian Penal Code but the Sessions

Judge in appeal being of opinion that the convicition under s 120B could not stand on the ground that the offences were committed before that section came into force took into consideration only the direct evidence against M of making the endorsement of false weight and finding this to be insufficient acquitted all the accused. Held that the Sessions Judge rightly held that the convicition under s 120B Indian Penal Code could not stand by reason of the fact that the offences were committed before that section came into force but he entirely omitted to notice that this was im-material as the law of abetment includes abetment by conspiracy which was distinctly charged before the Magistrate under ss 400 109 Indian Penal Code

That being so the circumstantial evidence of conspiracy to defraud the railway company was to be considered. That under s 10 of the Evidence Act the note books and jama kharach of the firm of D and J could be used as evidence of abetment by conspiracy against V. KING EMPEROR

MAHOMAT ROY (1910) 20 C W N 292

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 121A—contd

conspira y indirect—Acts of co conspirators before and after entry into conspiracy if admissible and for what purpose—Members of revolutionary so iety not a tainted with its real object if guilty of conspiracy—Arms find of after arrest and pending prosecution of conspirator if evidence Overt acts may properly be looked at as evidence of the existence of a concerted intention and in many cases it is only by means of overt acts that the existence of the conspiracy can be made out But the criminality of the conspiracy is independent of the criminality of the overt act Heyman v R L R 8 Q B 302 12 Cox C C 383 O Connell v R 11 Cl & F 155 1 Cox C C 413 and R v Duffield 5 Cox C C 404 431 referred to The prosecution is not obliged to prove a conspiracy by direct evidence of the agreement to do an unlawful act If the facts proved are such that the jury as reasonable men can say that there was a common design and the prisoners were acting in concert to do what is wrong that is evidence from which the jury may suppose that a conspiracy was actually formed R v Brown 7 Cox C C 412 followed Where it appeared that certain members of a society found to be revolutionary were not acquainted with the real object of the society not having been admitted to its secrets it was held that it would not be proper to convict such members under s 121A of the Indian Penal Code The criminality of a conspiracy lying in the concerted intention once reasonable grounds are made out for belief in the existence of the conspiracy amongst the accused the acts of each conspirators in furtherance of the object are evidence against each of the others and this whether such acts were done before or after his entry into the combination in his presence or in his absence Conspirators are not thereby necessarily subjected to punishment for everything done by their fellows but acts done prior to the entry of a particular person into the combination are evidence to show the nature of the concert to which he becomes a party whilst subsequent acts of the other members would indicate further the character of the common design in which all are presumed to be equally concerned R v Murphy 8 O & P 297 310 R v Reads 6 Cox C C 134 R v Stenson 12 Cox C C 111 O'Keefe v Walsh 21 P 631 relied on If arms were collected and secreted in furtherance of a conspiracy before the activities of the associates had been brought to an end by their arrest the fact that they were discovered after the arrest and after prosecution had been started against them would not make the evidence of the find inadmissible at the trial PULIN BEHARY DAS v KING EMPEROR (1911) 16 C W N 1105

16 C W N 1105

4 — Possession of objectionable books if proof of guilty intention The mere circumstances that a book of an objectionable character is present in the library of an individual or an association does not justify the inference that the teachings of the books are approved and adopted by persons who have access to it The mere fact that books of a distinctly revolutionary character were found in the library of an association and were now and then read by some of its members would not conclusively show that the object of the society was revolutionary Emperor v Nani Gopal Lal C W N 594 followed

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 121A—contd

R v Watson 2 Starkie 116 147 32 Howell St Tr 354 East on pleas of the Crown p 119 referred to The presence of seditious literature of this description written by members of the society would however be an important element in furnishing a clue to their tendencies and designs Per HARRINGTON J The utmost that can be said of persons in whose library are found books which are calculated to excite hatred against the English is that they approved of literature of that nature and even that assumption would not in all cases be a just one But the presence in the library of a Samity of violently revolutionary literature (some of them written in the hands of a member of the Samity) urging the destruction of the English and exulting persons who had murdered English people justified the inference that the members of the Samity were imbued with the sentiments those documents expressed PULIN BEHARY DAS v KING EMPEROR (1911) 16 C W N 1105 ss 121A, 123—Conspiracy to wage war against the King and concealing existence of conspiracy in furtherance thereof—Joint trial for both offences if legal Per Curiam When persons engaged in a conspiracy within the meaning of s 121A of the Penal Code in furtherance of their object conceal the existence of the conspiracy from the authorities a charge under s 123 of the Penal Code may be legally joined with one under s 121A Barindra Kumar Ghose v King Emperor 1 L R 37 Calc 467 14 C W N 1114 followed PULIN BEHARY DAS v KING EMPEROR (1911) 16 C W N 1105

ss 121 and 124A—

See S 107 I L R 34 Bom 378 394

s 124A—

See S 111 I L R 34 Bom 378

See CRIMINAL LAW I L R 2 Lab 34

See PRESS ACT 1910 s 3

I L R 43 Mad 148

See SEDITION I L R 88 Calc 214 253

I L R 39 Calc 522, 606

Press Act (XXV of 1867) ss 4 and 5—Declaration made by owner who took no part in managing a printing press—Publication of a seditious book at the press—Sedition—Intention The accused made a declaration under Act XXV of 1867 s 4 that he was the owner of a press called The Atmaram Press Beyond this he took no part in the management of the press which was carried on by another person A book styled EL Shloki Gita was printed at this press It was a book that all to a large extent with metaphysical philosophy and religion. It also contained seditious passages scattered among discussions of religious matters It was not shown that the accused ever read the book or was aware of the seditious passages it contained The accused was convicted of the offence punishable under s 121A of the Indian Penal Code 1860 as publisher of the book On appeal Held by CHANDAYARKAR J that the cumulative effect of the surrounding circumstances was such as to make it improbable that the accused had read the book or that he had known its seditious object and that the evidence having thus been evenly balanced and equivocal, reasonable doubt arose as to the guilt of the accused the benefit of which should be given to

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

Out of six accused persons three found to have a common object different from that set out in the charge—Legality of conviction of any of the six accused—Court a duty in cases where near relatives want to compound cases. Six accused persons were convicted under S 147 Indian Penal Code and sentenced to 15 days imprisonment. In the charge the common object was stated to be to assault the complainant. During the pendency of the case the complainant wanted to compound the case but the Magistrate did not allow him to do so. In his judgment he found that three of the accused assaulted the complainant and the other three accused went to snatch away the cattle of the complainant in common object with that of the other accused persons. Held that there being a difference between the common object found by the Magistrate in the case of three of the accused persons there were not five persons that shared in the common object set out in the charge and the ingredient of an offence under s 147 I.P.C. was wanting. Therefore the conviction under sec 147 against all the accused must fail. AMINULLAH & EMPEROR 26 C W N 534 ss 147 148—Rioting with common object of obstructing measurement of khas mahal land—Acquittal in the absence of affirmative proof of Government's possession of the disputed land—Onus of proof of prosecution in criminal case. The petitioners were convicted of rioting with the common object of causing obstruction to measurement and demarcation of khas mahal land by a Kanango and a khas mahal Tahsildar. Held (on a consideration of the evidence) that the question of possession of the disputed land was not one upon which a definite opinion could be expressed on the materials on the record but was eminently one for the Civil Court to determine. That the burden of proving the charge substantially as drawn lay on the prosecution and if it was not established affirmatively that the land on which the alleged riot took place was in the actual possession of the Government the charge as alleged was not proved and the petitioners were not guilty of rioting with the common object stated in the charge. PANCHANAN BOSE & KING EMPEROR (1919) 23 C W N 693

ss 147 149 and 353—

See BENGAL SURVEY ACT 1871
2 Pat L J 18

ss 147 323—

See APPELLATE COURT
I L R 38 Cal 293

See CUMULATIVE SENTENCES
I L R 40 Cal 511

ss 147 323 and 353—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 43 3 Pat L J 565

ss 147 325 and 149—

See RIOTING I L R 41 Cal 43

ss 147 332—

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF
I L R 39 Cal 37

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

ss 147, 353—

See PIOTING I L R 41 Cal 836

ss 147 426 447—Obstruction to public way by building a wall—Pulling down the wall in bona fide exercise of the right of public way no offence. The complainant built a wall obstructing a public way. Immediately after this the accused who were members of the public in the bona fide exercise of their right of way pulled down the wall. Held that the accused were not guilty either of rioting or of mischief or of criminal trespass (ss 147 426 and 447 of the Penal Code). Pe DHARMALINGA MUDALI (1914) ss 147 447—Pioting—Criminal trespass—Charge of rioting with common object of taking forcible possession of complainant's land and assaulting him—Absence of charge under s 447 of the Penal Code—Conviction of criminal trespass propriety of—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 238. When the petitioners who were charged under s 147 of the Penal Code with rioting with the common object of taking forcible possession of complainant's land and of assaulting him and others were convicted of criminal trespass under s 441 of the Penal Code without any charge being framed against them or without being called upon to plead to a case of trespass. Held that the conviction was illegal. If the common object had been to commit criminal trespass the conviction under s 447 of the Penal Code without a charge having been framed against the accused might have been legally valid but the common object stated in the charge did not make out a case of trespass. In a case of trespass before a conviction is obtained the prosecution must establish on the part of the trespasser an intention to commit an offence or to intimidate insult or annoy any person in possession of the property on which the trespass has been committed. Queen v Salamul Ali 73 II P Cr 69 referred to ARIF MANSUR & EMPEROR (1913) 18 C W N 992

I L R 39 Mad 34

s 148—

See s 141 17 C W N 1132

See s 147 18 C W N 275

23 C W N 693

See PRIVATE DEFENCE

3 Pat L J 653

4 Pat L J 289

ss 149 149 304 328

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS
I L R 41 Cal 667

ss 148 324 and 328—

See COMMON OBJECT 2 Pat L J 541

s 149—

See s 71 I L R 40 All 49

See BENGAL SURVEY ACT 1871
Pat L J 18

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS
I L R 41 Cal 662

See PIOTING I L R 41 Cal 43

See SENTENCE 3 Pat L J 641

1 Charge under s 35 read with s 149 Conviction under s 238 of Penal Code not applicable Where the accused were charged and convicted by the Magistrate

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 182—contd

1 Transfer—Unfounded allegations against the trying Magistrate made by an accused person in an application for transfer of his case Held that an accused person who in support of an application for the transfer of the case against him to some other Magistrate makes unfounded and defamatory allegations against the trying Magistrate cannot be prosecuted in respect of such allegations under s 182 of the Indian Penal Code Queen v Daria Khan 2 A B P H C Rep 128 and Queen Empress v Su bayya 1 L R 12 Mad 401 referred to EMPEROR v MATAN (1910) 1 L R 33 All 163

2 Information to police that informant suspected the persons named as offenders of amounts in giving false information Where a person in whose house a theft took place informed the police that he suspected two persons whom he named as the perpetrators of the crime Held that this did not amount to giving false information within the meaning of s 182 Indian Penal Code ANANDA MOHAN DUTTA v KING EMPEROR (1917) 22 C W N 478

3 Giving false information to the Deputy Superintendent of Police in the course of a departmental inquiry in reply to questions The petitioner sent a letter to the Deputy Inspector General of Police alleging that the Sub Inspector of Sadhaura and other persons were looting the people and that he was ready to prove it. This was sent on to the Superintendent of Police for recording the petitioner's statement and for necessary action and the Superintendent passed it on to the Deputy Superintendent for taking statements. The latter recorded the statement of the petitioner who made allegations as to bribes having been taken by the Sub Inspector and mentioned among others a bribe of Rs 500 taken from one M S. In respect of this statement the petitioner was convicted by the Lower Courts of an offence under s 182 of the Penal Code. Held that the statement of the petitioner to the Deputy Superintendent of Police in the departmental inquiry was information within the meaning of s 182 of the Penal Code notwithstanding that it was made in answer to questions. Queen Empress v Ramji Sayabarao (1 L P 10 Bom 124) followed Mangu v Cronin (227 P L R 1914) distinguished and partly disapproved Chinna Pamana v Emperor (1 L R 31 Mad 506) distinguished Payan Kuti v Emperor (1 L R 20 Mad 640) referred to. Held also that as the Deputy Superintendent of Police was competent to make an inquiry into the petitioner's allegations against the Sub Inspector and the petitioner knew that his allegations were likely to lead the Deputy Superintendent to make such an inquiry which would be calculated to cause annoyance to the Sub Inspector, his conviction under s 182 was justified. Queen v Persannan (1 L P 4 Mad 241) distinguished. PANNA LAL v CHOWD 1 L R 11 Lah 410 ss. 182, 193—Complaint—Statement made to the Magistrate as head of the police and not as a Magistrate P appeared before a District Magistrate and made a statement in which he accused a certain police officer of having beaten him and demanded a bribe of him and locked him up in the police bungalow. He stated however that he did not wish to make a complaint but only desired that an inquiry should be made. Never theless the Magistrate examined P on oath and subsequently the charge having been found to be baseless P was convicted under ss 182 and 193 of the Indian Penal Code. Held that as much as P had expressly stated that he did not wish to make a complaint the statement must be taken to have been made to the District Magistrate not as Magistrate but as head of the district police and the conviction under s 193 of the Code could not be upheld. EMPEROR v PRULAL (1917) 1 L R 35 All 102

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 182 193—contd

ss 182 211—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 403 (1)

1 L R 36 Mad. 308

1 Sanction to prosecute—Criminal Procedure Code s 195 H made a report against several persons including one S at a police station charging them with robbing and voluntarily causing hurt. The police made inquiry and sent up several persons for trial but not S. Some of these were convicted by the Magistrate but acquitted by the Sessions Judge. Thereupon S made a complaint to the Magistrate charging H with having made a false report in respect of himself to the police. The Magistrate took cognizance of the complaint. Held that the Magistrate had no power to take cognizance of the complaint by reason of the absence of sanction. EMPEROR v HARDWAR PAL (1912)

1 L R 34 All 522

2 Sanction to prosecute—Jurisdiction—Application by insolvent to District Judge alleging misappropriation of property of insolvent A person who had been declared an insolvent and in respect of whose property a Receiver had been appointed by the District Judge applied to the Court representing that one Bhikhi Ram had misappropriated certain property belonging to him and asking that Bhikhi Ram's house might be searched. The District Judge forwarded this application to the Magistrate and Bhikhi Ram was arrested and his house searched. Subsequently however proceedings against Bhikhi Ram were dropped there being no evidence against him. Bhikhi Ram then applied to the District Judge for sanction to prosecute the applicant under ss 182 and 211 of the Indian Penal Code. The sanction asked for was granted. Held that as regards s 182 there was no objection to the order but as regards s 211 the criminal proceedings taken against Bhikhi Ram were not taken in the Court of the District Judge and it was at any rate doubtful whether it could be said that the offence committed by the applicant was committed in relation to any proceeding pending in that Court. MUHAMMAD FAKIR UD DIN v BHIKHI RAM (1914)

1 L R 50 All 212

ss 183 186 and 353—Resistance to execution of warrant—no date specified on warrant—Resistance to Nazir executing warrant addressed to peon Resistance to the execution of a warrant directing the attachment of property where the warrant does not specify the date on or before which it is to be executed is not illegal. Where such a warrant was addressed to a peon of the court for execution. Held that resistance to the same by who endeavoured to execute it was not illegal. MOHINI MOHAN BANERJI v KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 550

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

— s 185— Property—Exclusive right to sell drugs. Held that a person who bid at an auction of the right to sell drugs within a certain area under a false name and when the sale was confirmed in his favour denied that he had ever made any bids at all was rightly convicted of an offence under s 185 of the Indian Penal Code. Queen v Reazooddeen 3 II R Cr R 3 referred to EMPEROR v BISHAN PRASAD (1914)

186

See S 163

1 Pat L J 550

1. ————— Voluntarily obstructing Public Servants in the discharge of their public functions.—Fearing property attached by Civil Court peons under distress warrants issued under the Public Demands Recovery Act (Beng 1 of 1895) and the Village Chaukidari Act (Beng 11 of 1870) s 45—Legality of Warrant—Omission to specify date of extension on the face of a—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) O XXI r 24 (2)—
Execution by person not named in the warrant—Delegation of powers by Nazir A distress warrant issued under the Public Demands Recovery Act which has been extended beyond the original date of return but does not bear on the face of it the altered date is not a legal warrant under O XXI r 24 (2) of the Civil Procedure Code A warrant under s 45 of the Village Chaukidari Act must contain the name of the person charged with the execution thereof and cannot be legally executed by any other person delegated by the former for that purpose Where the accused released certain buffaloes attached by the Civil Court peons on the 2nd August under two warrants addressed to the nazir but endorsed by him to them the one issued under the Public Demands Recovery Act which was originally returnable by the 26th July but had been extended to the 8th August without the alteration of the date appearing thereon and the other under s 45 of the Village Chaukidari Act directed to the nazir but without naming any person therein as charged with the execution of it Held that they were not guilty of an offence under s 186 of the Penal Code as the peons were not lawfully executing the warrants SIKH NARAI PRASAD
(1903) I L R 37 Cal 122

2. Obstructing a public servant in the discharge of his public functions—Local inspection by Munsif—Water ways In a suit in which a public right of way was claimed there was a dispute not only as to whether the public right of way claimed existed but also as to whether there were not certain other public ways the existence of which would discredit the plaintiffs' allegations in the suit. The Munsif trying the case went to the spot to hold a local inspection. He wanted to pass in a boat along a water way but was not allowed to do so by the petitioners who claimed it as their private property. It was found that it was a water way used at least by the people of a particular locality. None of the petitioners were parties to the suit pending before the Munsif in which the local inspection was held. The petitioners were convicted under s 156 Indian Penal Code. Held that no offence under s 156 Indian Penal Code was committed. Pratt v. Kanto Lal & Laxmi (1916)

3. _____ Obstruction to public account—Deceit—Fraud—Falsification—War

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd.

186--contd

rant not in form validity of—Execution of invalid warrant of arrest obstruction to effect of—Procedure In an application for a decree for a situation of conjugal rights a warrant was issued directing the executing peon to seize the wife and deliver her bodily to her husband failing which to bring her under arrest before the executing Court. The peon seized the woman in execution of the warrant but he was resisted and the woman was snatched away. Held that the warrant the execution of which was resisted was illegal and therefore no offence was committed under s. 186 of the Penal Code. GAHAR MAHAMED SARKAR v PITAMBAR DAS (1918) 22 C W N 814

—s. 186 and 225B—Obstructing a liber servant—Resistance to apprehension—Failure to ob order to furnish accounts—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O XXI r 32—Injunction On a writ in a suit for an account a preliminary decree was passed ordering the defendant to furnish an account within a specified time and he failed to do so and together with two companions resisted a peon sent by the Court to arrest him under the provisions of O XXI r 32 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908. Held that the defendant's arrest was unlawful and that the conviction of him and his two companions of offences under s. 186 and 225B of the Penal Code could not stand. Held also that the order to furnish an account which was contained in a preliminary decree was not an injunction within the meaning of O XXI r 32. The word injunction as used in O XXI r 32 has a more extended meaning than it has in the Specific Relief Act 1877. The decisions in Devgamber Majumdar v Kallayanath Poyad Poyanath v Gangpati on the effect of s. 260 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 have been overruled by the provisions of O XXI r 32 of the Code of 1908. It is not every order of a Court directing a person to do a certain act that is an injunction. In its essence an injunction is a relief consisting in an interdict of a legal right. ABU SLE v KIVO EKKOR 3 Pat L J 108

18—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE § 4

I L R 42 AL 314

— 168 —

See APPEAL EVENT

L L R. 48 Calc 1053

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

14 C W K 234

I L R 41 Case 14

1 Ord d ly pro
milita d ly p e serra 1-Ord r f d i n g u t e n e r a l u n y p e m e x c e p t f o r t h e g l d that the public have a right to enter upon a way permitted for many purposes other than travel and an order of building persons to enter a railway station except for the purpose of travel would be an illegal order in the present instance however it did not appear that the order in question was issued in any other way supposed to be other than the way I have I was told it ENTERED LIMA (191)

I. L. R. 25 All 108
2 _____ I only I was so - [?] of [?] of [?] war I = [?] The word "from [?]"

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 188—contd

under s 188 of the Penal Code refers to orders issued under the Code of Criminal Procedure and not to judgments and orders of Civil Courts. MANMATHI v. KUTTI AMMU (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 543

3 ————— Prohibition order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code passed without any evidence—Prosecution for disobedience of order not properly passed—Cognizance of case under s 188 by the same Magistrate who passed the order disobeyed. A servant of the first party filed a petition before the Sub divisional Magistrate complaining that the second party were about to construct a drain and if the first party opposed them there was a likelihood of a breach of the peace whereupon the Magistrate without taking any evidence issued an injunction under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code against the second party. On the next day on the complaint of the same man the Magistrate summoned the second party under s 188 Indian Penal Code. Subsequently he transferred the case to a Magistrate with second class powers and again withdrew it from his file and sent it to the Additional District Magistrate. Held that the proceedings were wholly irregular. That the order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code should never have been made. That in summoning the second party under s 188 Indian Penal Code the Sub divisional Magistrate was taking cognizance of the offence under s 188 Indian Penal Code which he had no power to do. Either action by the Magistrate under s 476 Criminal Procedure Code or an application for execution under s 190 Criminal Procedure Code was necessary. The High Court quashed the proceedings under s 188 Indian Penal Code and also set aside the order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code which was the foundation of those proceedings although that order had expired. CHANDRA KANTO KANJILAL v. KING EMPEROR (1916)

20 C W N 981

4 ————— Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 144—Prosecution for disobedience of order prohibiting disturbance. By an order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code the petitioners were directed not to make any disturbance over a certain person's rights of a ferry and thereafter the petitioners being found plying another ferry at the site in question but not causing any disturbance were ordered to be prosecuted under s 188 Indian Penal Code. Held that the order for prosecution was infructuous. SUJAL LISWAS v. SAMIRKUDIN MAHAI (1911)

22 C W N 599

5 ————— Disobedience of order under s 144 Criminal Procedure Code—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 195. Cognizance of a case under s 188 Indian Penal Code cannot be taken except in accordance with the provisions of s 190 Criminal Procedure Code and under s 487 Criminal Procedure Code the Magistrate whose order is disobeyed is not competent to try the case. MURTHYOJYOTI v. SHRESTHIAH MULLICK (1919) 23 C W N 520 ss. 188 269—Fugitive in case of D. v. a. d. 3—Local Government—Issuance of process—Regulations and the Act—1911 of the Local Government—All cases of the Local Government—A delegation under s 104 by the

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 188 269—contd

Collector to a Divisional Officer of the power to call upon people to evacuate houses is illegal and an omission to comply with the order of such officer acting under such delegated authority is not an illegal omission. Re NAGAPPA THEVAN (1913)

I L M 38 Mad. 602

s 189—

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 435

I L R 39 Mad 561

ss 191 193—

See s 52 I L R 56 All 362

See FALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 38 Calo 368

s 192—Fabricating false evidence—Document helping Court to form a correct opinion. Certain cattle were sold in a market on the 1st of March 1917. A clerk whose duty it was to register sales of cattle held at that market and give receipts to the purchasers, gave a receipt on the 27th March most probably and dated it the 21st March 1917 but subsequently altered the date to the 21st the actual date of sale. Held that there was no case of fabricating false evidence for the alteration of the date was not intended to lead anyone to form an erroneous opinion touching the date of sale but the contrary. EMPEROR v. BADAR ERASAD (1917)

I L R 40 All 35

ss 192 and 193—False evidence—Fabrication—Judicial proceedings—Execution proceedings—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1893) s 195 (b)—Sanction to prosecute—Pending proceedings. For the purpose of ss 192 and 193 of the Indian Penal Code 1860 execution proceedings are judicial proceedings. It is not essential for the purpose of these sections that the judicial proceedings in which the person intends to use the false evidence must be pending at the date of the fabrication. In the absence of any proceeding pending or disposed of in which or in relation to which the offence under s 193 of the Indian Penal Code is said to have been committed no sanction under s 195 (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code is necessary. In re GOVIND PANDURANG (1909)

I L R 45 Bom 863

ss 192 193 423—

See FABRICATING FALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 46 Calo 988

s. 193—

See s 192 I L R 35 All 102

See s 192 I L R 45 Bom 168

I L R. 46 Calo 988

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 157 159 410

I L R 33 All 30

s 10. I L R 39 Mad. 677

5 Pat L J 23

ss 236 19. 77

I L R 45 Bom 634

s 233 I L R 42 Mad. 561

See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING

I L R. 37 Calo 82

See THUMB IMPRESSION

I L R 39 Calo 343

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

—Perjury arising from contradictory statements—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 236 19, 537 (b) AND 164

I L R 45 Bom 834

1 ————— Order to prosecute —Case pending before Court of Session—Alleged perjury—Propriety of prosecution by committing Magistrate Where a committing Magistrate had ordered the prosecution of a witness under s 193 of the Penal Code while the case in which he had deposed was pending before the Court of Sessions the High Court set aside the order. The impropriety of taking proceedings against a witness while the case is still pending commented on. HIRENDRA NATH DAS GUPTA v THE EMPEROR (1914) 18 C W N 1342

2 ————— Perjury in a deposition before a Civil Court not read out to the deponent —Civil Procedure Code Act I of 1908 O 13 r 5—whether secondary evidence is admissible to prove the deposition—Indian Evidence Act I of 1872 s 91 The petitioner was accused of having made a false statement on oath in the Court of a Munsif. The Munsif stated in evidence in the present trial that this statement was not read out to the witness. The question before this Court was whether secondary evidence could be admitted to prove the making of the statement. Held that secondary evidence cannot be admitted in the trial of the petitioner for perjury to prove the making of the statement in the Munsif's Court. Empress v Mayadeb Gossami (I L R 6 Cal 762) Mohendra Nath v Emperor (12 Cal 11 v 845 847) Kamatchinathan Chetty v Emperor (I L R 28 Mad 308 (310)) and Valluri Chinchiah v Emperor (I L R 42 Mad 561) followed. Romesh Chandra Das v Emperor (23 Cal 11 A 661) and Crown v Jagat Ram (28 P R (Cr) 1918) distinguished. Kahn Singh v Empress (5 I R (Cr) 1890) not followed. IMAM DIN v NIAMAT ULLAH

I L R 1 Lah 361

—ss 193 195 199 471—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 193 CLF (b) AND (c)

I L 33 Bom 642

—ss 193 and 210—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

2 Pat. L J 688

—ss 193, 471—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 40 Cal 584

—ss 193 and 423—

See FABRICATING FALSE DOCUMENT

I L R 43 Cal 911

—ss 193, 511—Crt—District Judge hearing election petition under s 20 of the Bombay District Municipalities Act (Form Act III of 1901) in Criminal—False evidence before the District Judge—Sanction for prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 193 A District Judge hearing an election petition under the provisions of s 20 of the Bombay District Municipalities Act (Bombay Act III of 1901) is a Court within the meaning of s 193, cl. (b) of the Criminal Procedure Code. No person is liable for attempting to fabricate false evidence (s 13 and 14 of the Indian Penal Code) before the District Judge can be instituted without having obtained sanction as required by s 193 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898. Raghubans Sahay v Kail Singh I L R 17 Cal 82 followed. In re NANCHAND SHIVCHAND (1912) I L R 37 Bom 365

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

—ss 193 511—contd

—s 196—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898 s 193

I L R 38 Bom 642

—ss 197 198—Issuing or signing a false certificate—Certificate meaning of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 2—Petition in Court stating satisfaction of decree of a certificate within the meaning of the sections. The two petitioners were convicted under ss 197 and 198 and ss 197 109 and 109 109 respectively the charge being that one of the petitioners purporting to represent the decree holder in a certain suit signed and filed a petition in the Court of the Subordinate Judge stating contrary to fact that the other petitioner who was the judgment debtor had paid off the decretal amount to the decree holder through him. Amuktar Held that the petition in question filed before the Subordinate Judge was not a certificate within the purview of ss 197 and 198. Indian Penal Code neither of the requirements of a certificate within the meaning of the sections being satisfied in the case. That there is no provision of law which requires a decree holder or his agent to give or sign a certificate of payment or adjustment nor is there any provision of law which makes the statement of the decree holder or his agent as to payment or satisfaction admissible in evidence as such certificate that is without further proof. That the word certificate may be used as synonymous with certification but that is clearly not its meaning in s 197 and 198 of the Penal Code. MAHABIR THAKUR v KING EMPEROR (1916)

20 C W N 520

—s 199—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 193

I L R 33 Bom 642

25 C W N 886

—Sanction to prosecute—Prosecution based on affidavit false declaration—Declaration inadmissible in evidence A declaration, before it can be made the foundation of a prosecution under s 199 of the Indian Penal Code must be one which is admissible in evidence and which the Court before which it is filed is bound or authorized by law to receive in evidence. EMPEROR v PAM PRASAD (1912)

I L R 35 All 53

—ss 201, 203—

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 46 Cal 427

—ss 201 302—J. d. r. s. 201—Evidence of murder & appearance of jury in a case and admission to the police station & the fact—In criminal case—The accused were convicted of the crime of murder under s 302 of the Indian Penal Code. In that case it was held that the Indian Penal Code was not amended by the amendments being proposed in the Criminal Procedure Code. The amendments proposed in the Criminal Procedure Code were not in force at the time the accused had a sufficient motive for committing murder that they disposed of the body of the deceased and were loitering near his house at the exact hour of murder. On these facts the accused were convicted under s 201, Indian Penal Code. Held that s 201 Indian Penal Code is an attempt to define the position known in England as that of an accessory after the fact. It is settled law that a principal cannot be convicted as an accessory. Where it is impossible to say definitely, however strongly it might be suspected that an accused was guilty of murder mere suspicion is no bar to a conviction under s 201. But if it be accepted as a proved fact that the accused before the Court disposed of a dead body and if the acceptance of that fact completes the chain of circumstantial evidence which proves beyond doubt that the accused were actual principals present at the murder and taking part in the murder they cannot be convicted of the minor offence of causing evidence of the murder to disappear even though by an error of the Judge or by a misconception of the position by the Public Prosecutor the charge of murder is subsequently withdrawn. That on the facts found the accused were principals and the conviction under s 201 could not stand. Per CHAPMAN J. It is unsatisfactory to have an alternative indictment one count charging the accused as principal and the other as accessory after the fact. Queen Empress v Lymba unreported Criminal Case Bom H C 1895 at page 799 and Torap Ali v Queen Empress I L R 22 Cal 638 relied on. SUMANTA DRUPATI KING EMPEROR (1915) 20 C. W. N 186

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 201, 302—contd

s 203—

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 46 Cal 427

s 210—

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE

2 Pat L J 688

s 211—

See s 182 I L R 34 All 522

I L R 36 All 212

See COMPLAINT DISMISSAL OF

I L R 40 Cal 444

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

Sg 4 AND 4th I L R 33 All 32

S 200 I L R 37 Bom 378

S 403 I L R 36 Mad 308

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT

I L R 40 Cal 360

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

4 Pat L J 374

1. Laying false information before police—Duty of prosecution—Onus of proof—Elements necessary to be proved—Failure of defence to examine witness effect of. Where the petitioner was convicted under s 211 of the Penal Code of having laid a false information of theft before the police and the petitioner's case was that he had heard from his wife that the persons named in the information had disappeared and the properties named therein were missing and his information was based on this statement of the wife and the prosecution did not prove that there was no such statement by the wife who was not examined as a witness for the prosecution nor did the petitioner examine her as a witness on his side. Held that the duty of the prosecution in a case under s 211 of the Penal Code is to prove by satisfactory evidence that the charge was wilfully false to the knowledge of the maker of the charge. That it is for the prosecution to establish their case and if they fail to supply that proof which is required to secure the conviction of the accused the failure on the part of the latter to examine any particular witness or witnesses will not imply the guilt of the accused. That the case against the petitioner being that no theft took place the obligation of proving it rested on the prosecution. In the present case the prosecution not having established that there was a matter of fact no theft and the petitioner knew that there was no theft the High Court set aside the conviction and sentence under s 211 of the Penal Code. HASSAN MIEZA v MANSUR (1913) 18 C. W. N 391

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 211—contd

2. False charge—

Necessary constituents of offence under s 211—Report to a police officer casting suspicion on certain persons. In order to constitute an offence defined by s 211 of the Indian Penal Code the charge therein alluded to must be made to an officer or to a court who has power to investigate and send it for trial and must be an accusation made with the intention to set the law in motion. Chenna Malli Gouda v Emperor I L R 27 Mad 129, Chinna Ramana Goud v Emperor I L R 31 Mad 506 and Zorawar Singh v King Emperor II All L J 1106 followed. The following statement was made to a police officer—I find there has been a theft. I suspect the persons named and I want an inquiry to be made. Held that if the statement was false the offence committed fell under s 182 of the Indian Penal Code and not under s 211. EMPEROR v MATHURA PRASAD (1917) I L R 39 All 715

3. Complaint under s 1 of the Breach of Contract Act (VIII of 1859) withdrawn before passing of any order under s 211. Whether a criminal proceeding within s 211 Indian Penal Code. A complaint under s 1 of the Breach of Contract Act (VIII of 1859) which is withdrawn before any order is made by the Magistrate under s 2 of the Act either for a refund of the advance paid or for specific performance of the contract is not a criminal proceeding within the meaning of s 211 Indian Penal Code. In the matter of Insouros Sanyasi (1905) I L R 33 Mad 37 and Derby Corporation v Derbyshire County Council (1897) A C 550 referred to. HASSAN MIEZA v KING EMPEROR (1920) I L R 43 Mad 443

ss. 211, 500—
See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Cal 970

ss 213, 214—Screening offence—Exclusion of property for screening offence—The offence screened in is shown to have been committed before the screening could be punished. If certain jewellery is if by way of panyid. If pledged the same with S under circumstances which constituted such pledging an offence of criminal breach of trust. The jewellery was later returned by S to G on the latter undertaking not to prosecute M for the offence of criminal breach of trust. M was tried for the offence of criminal breach of trust with regard to the jewellery and was acquitted. S and G were next tried for offences under ss 213 and 214 of the Indian Penal Code in that they offered and took restitution of property in consideration of screening an offence. The trying Magistrate convicted them of the offences charged holding that for the purposes of their case U must be deemed to be guilty of the offence of criminal breach of trust. On appeal Held acquitting the accused that they could not be convicted of screening of the offence of criminal breach of trust when the offence of criminal breach of trust had not been proved. Held also that under the circumstances the trying Magistrate was bound to proceed on the footing that no criminal breach of trust had been committed. EMPEROR v. SANJAL LALLUBHAI (1913)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd— s 213 214—contd

I L R. 37 Bom 653

— s 216—Harbouring an offender—

Assistance coming within meaning of the section nature of. To the knowledge of the petitioner warrants for the arrest of the petitioner's brother and a proclamation under s 87 Criminal Procedure Code were issued the proclamation being duly published at the house in which the two brothers as joint owners used to reside. On information received the police interviewed the petitioner at his house and in answer to enquiries he replied that his brother was in the house and promised to produce him. He then went inside the house and after some delay returned with his brother's son and said that he had made a mistake and that it was the son who had come to the house the preceding evening. On search the petitioner's brother was found hiding in the house. The petitioner was convicted under s 216 Indian Penal Code. Held that the petitioner was rightly convicted. The ways in which assistance may be rendered need not for the purposes of s 216 be restricted to methods which may properly be regarded as cumdem generis or of a like nature with supplies of food or of other necessary articles. MICCHU MIA v. EMPEROR (1917)

21 C W N 1062

— s 222—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 204

I L R. 41 All 454

— s 224—Village Chowkidar of a police officer—Escape from custody— Abetment A Chowkidar cannot be properly regarded as a police officer within the terms of s 59 Criminal Procedure Code and escape from his custody is not an offence under s 224 Penal Code. PURNA CHANDRA KUNDU v. HACHANALI CHOWKIDAR

17 C W N 978

— ss 224, 109—

See ARREST BY PRIVATE PERSON ?

I L R. 41 Calc. 17

— ss. 224, 225—

See RESCUE FROM LAWFUL CUSTODY

I L R. 43 Calc 1161

— ss. 224, 225 and 353—

See WARRANT

3 Pat L J 493

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

— ss 225 332—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 54

I L R. 40 Mad 1023

— s 225B—

See s 186

Pat. J 108

See WARRANT

I L R. 38 Calc 789

I L R. 42 Calc 703

1 ——— Escape from lawful custody—Defaulting co sharer arrested under warrant of Tahsildar—Rules of Board of Revenue r 9 cl (2) Act (Local) No III of 1901 (United Provinces Land Revenue Act) ss 142 143 145 Where a Tahsildar issued a warrant under s 146 of the United Provinces Land Revenue Act against certain defaulting co sharers and they were arrested but subsequently escaped from detention. Held that this was an escape from lawful custody within the meaning of s 225B of the Indian Penal Code. The Tahsildar's warrant was not illegal because the Board had directed that process should ordinarily issue in the first instance against the lambardar. EMPEROR v. GULAB SINGH (1903)

I L R. 32 All 116

2 ——— Warrant of arrest—Actual resistance necessary In order to constitute an offence under s 225B of the Indian Penal Code something more is required than an evasion of arrest or a mere assertion by the person sought to be arrested that he would not like to be arrested or that a fight would be the result of such arrest. There must be positive evidence to show that the officer armed with a warrant of arrest produced the warrant and that the person sought to be arrested resisted such arrest. EMPEROR v. ALJAZ HGSAIN (1916)

I L R. 38 All 506

3 ——— Escape from jail of a person imprisoned for failure to furnish security to be of good behaviour Where a person escapes from jail in which he was confined under s 193 of the Code of Criminal Procedure by reason of his having failed to furnish security to be of good behaviour his conviction should be recorded under s 293B and not under s 294 of the Indian Penal Code. Queen Empress v. Landhaia I J R 7 All 67 referred to. EMPEROR v. MULLI

I L R. 43 All 185

4 ——— Execution of warrant of Civil Court and resistance thereto It is not necessary that a bailiff executing a Civil Court warrant should in the first instance show the warrant. It is sufficient that he should apprise the person to be arrested of the contents of the warrant and show it if desired. THE SUPRENT TENDENT AND REMEMBRANCE OF LEGAL AFFAIRS v. BARODA KANTA MAJUMDAR

25 C W N 815

— s 223—

Insult to Court—Exact words to be given—

See JUDGMENT I L R. 2 Lah 303

— Intentional insult in an offer sitting judicially—Application for transfer An accused person in an application for transfer of the case pending against him made an assertion to the effect that the persons who caused the proceedings to be instituted were on terms of intimacy with the officer trying the case and that therefore he did not expect a fair and impartial trial. Held that there being no intention on the part of the appellant to insult the Court but merely to procure a transfer of his case he was not guilty of an offence under s 228 of the Indian Penal Code. Queen Empress v Abdulla Khan 1898 W N 145 followed EMPEROR v MURLI DHAR (1916)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd.*s 228—contd.

I L R 33 All 234

ss 235 and 243—Counterfeit coins—

Father and son presumption as to possession It is not essential for coins to be counterfeit that they should be exact resemblances of genuine coins. It is sufficient that they are such as to cause deception and may be passed for genuine. Where father and son were accused of being in possession of moulds for the purpose of using the same for making counterfeit coins and of being in possession of such coins and there was evidence to show that the father looked after the family cultivation while the son exclusively attended to the shop in the verandah of which the moulds and coins were discovered and it was also shown that the father was never seen in possession of the moulds or of the counterfeit coins. Held that the ordinary presumption that the things in the house of a joint Hindu family were in the possession of or under the control of the managing member had been rebutted. AMRIT SOHAI v KING EMPEROR

4 Pat L J 525

s 243—¶

See s 235 4 Pat L J 525

See COUNTERFEIT COIN

I L R 41 Cal 477

s 266—Possession of false measure—

Intent—Acquittal—Criminal Procedure Code s 438—Fraud It being in evidence that in the village where accused carried on the business of a cloth seller the usual standard of measurement was 35½ inches it was held that a conviction under s 266 of the Indian Penal Code in respect of the possession of such a measure of length could not be sustained. Held also that the High Court will not as a rule entertain a reference by a Sessions Judge having for its object the reversal of an acquittal when the Government has right of appeal more particularly when the matter is one such as a question of correct weights and measures in which the Government may be considered to be peculiarly interested. EMPEROR v HARAK CHAND MARWARI (1917)

I L R 40 All 84

ss 268 230—¶

See PUBLIC NUISANCE.

I L R 46 Cal 515

s 269—¶

See s 189 I L R 33 Mad 602

See MADRAS CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (III OF 1901) S 30 I L R 43 Mad 344

ss. 280—Rash and negligent act—proof and degree of—Contributory negligence how far is an element for consideration—Evidence considered on of by the High Court in re re The accused was in charge of a steam launch which was coming up the river in a moonlight night. In the river at deep water some country boats were moored having no lights in them. The accused on account of mist could not make out whether the boats were stationary or moving but he thought they were moving. He gave whistles but before he could stop the launch it came into collision with two of the boats with the result that they sank almost immediately. The accused then sent a jolly boat to rescue the drowning passengers of the sunken boats. Held that under the circumstances of the case the accused was not guilty of the offence under s 280 Indian Penal Code as his conduct was not rash or negligent within the meaning of that section. To support conviction under s 289 Indian Penal Code it must be proved that the immediate cause of the accident was rashness or negligence on the part of the navigator. In considering the question of degree the question of contributory negligence has also to be taken into account not as a defence to the indictment but for the purpose of determining causation and fixing a measure of the liability of the navigator. When the accused navigator did all he could to save the situation but could not avoid the collision he would not be guilty under s 280 Indian Penal Code. The High Court in revision went through the evidence to decide whether the rashness or negligence was proved. KANDAR ALI SERRAO v EMPEROR (1911)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd.*s 280—contd.

15 O W N 835

s 283—Obstruction causing of—Whether necessary to prove any particular individual obstructed Where the evidence showed that an obstruction placed on a road must necessarily prevent vehicles from passing at all and foot passengers from passing without inconvenience. Held that it is a necessary inference that persons were obstructed and that it is not necessary to expressly prove that any specific individual was actually obstructed. The Queen v Khader Moidin I L R 4 Mad 235 not followed. Queen Empress v Veerappa Chetti I L R 20 Mad 433 commented on. RE VENKATRAJ (1913) I L R 11 Mad. 805 ss 283 114—Obstruction in public way—Toy shop on a street—Exhibition of toys in the shop window—Collection of crowd of persons in street—Obstruction The accused who had a toy shop in a public street exhibited in the window of the shop or looking out the street certain clockwork toys during a Diwali festival. The result of the exhibition was that thousands of people collected on the road to witness the toys there were dangerous rushes in consequence people were knocked down and great obstruction and danger were caused to those using the road. On these facts the accused were convicted of offences punishable under ss 283 and 114 of the Indian Penal Code. Held upholding the conviction that there was obstruction danger and injury to the persons using the public way which amounted to a public nuisance and that the efficient cause of the nuisance was the act of the accused. Ordinarily every shopkeeper has a right to exhibit his wares in any way he likes in his shop but he must exercise the right so as not to cause annoyance or nuisance to the public. Attorney General v Brighton and Hove Co-operative Supply Association [1900] 1 Ch. 66 followed. EMPEROR v MOOR MAHOMED (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 369

s 290—

See s 268

I L R 46 Cal. 515

Public nuisance—Liability of principal for act of agent. The proprie tors and the manager of a mill were prosecuted and convicted under s. 290 Indian Penal Code on a complaint that the working of the mill was a nuisance. It appeared that the proprietors were not residents in the locality and there was no allegation of any abetment by them. Held that the general rule is that a principal is not criminally answerable for the acts of his agent. Speaking generally the person liable where the user of premises gives rise to a nuisance is the occupier for the time being whoever he may be and the conviction of the proprietors was bad in law. BIBHUTI BHUSAN BISWAS v. BHUBAN RAJ (1918)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd.§ 290—contd.

22 C W N 1062

§ 292—

See OBSCENE PUBLICATION

I L R 39 Cal 377

§ 295—Defile meaning of—Moothans presence of inside a temple whether defilement The presence of Moothans a sub caste of Sudras whose status is equal to if not higher than that of Nairs in such portions of a Hindu temple as are open to non Brahmins is not a defilement within s. 295 Indian Penal Code. KUTTICHA v. MOOTHAY v. RAMA PATTAY (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 980

§ 296—Disturbing a religious assembly

—Religious procession on a highway—Carrying of flags in a temple Where certain Lodhas who with the sanction of the public authorities had been carrying flags to a temple in procession through a public street were attacked by persons who objected to the procession. Held that such attack constituted a disturbance of the performance of a religious ceremony punishable under s. 296 of the Penal Code. EMPEROR v. MASIR (1911)

I L R 34 All 78

§ 298 39—Public worship & disturb ance of—Voluntarily meaning of It is not necessary for the purpose of s. 298 Indian Penal Code that the accused should have an active intention to disturb religious worship. It is sufficient if knowing they were likely to disturb it by their music they took the risk and did actually cause disturbance. It is an offence under s. 298 Indian Penal Code to pass a mosque with music so as to disturb religious worship carried on during hours notified therefor. S. 79 Penal Code cannot be pleaded in such a case. MUTHAI CHELVI v. BAPAN SAIB I L R 33 Mad 140 followed. SUNDARAM v. THE QUEEN and PONNUSAWMY v. THE QUEEN I L R 33 Mad 703 followed. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. SANKU SEETHAN (1910) I L R 34 Mad 92

§ 297—

See GRAVE YARD

I L R 40 Cal 548

—Trespass on a burial ground—Joint owner Where a person entered upon a grove for the purpose of demarcating his share therein and in doing so dug up certain graves and exposed the bones of the persons buried there in spite of the remonstrances of the relations of the buried persons. Held that he was properly convicted of an offence under s. 297 of the Penal Code and none the less because he happened to be part owner of the grove

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd.§ 297—contd.

Queen Empress v. Subhan I L R 18 All 395 referred to. EMPEROR v. PAM PRASAD (1911) I L R 33 All 773

§ 299—

See s. 304 I L R 42 All 302

§ 299 300—Grievous hurt causing unconsciousness—Hanging an unconscious person believing him to be dead to screen an offence—Death in consequence whether culpable homicide Where an accused struck his wife a blow on her head with a ploughshare which though not shown to be a blow likely to cause death did in fact render her unconscious and believing her to be dead in order to lay the foundation of a false defence of suicide by hanging the accused hanged her on a beam by a rope and thereby caused her death by strangulation. Held by the Full Bench that the accused was not guilty either of murder or culpable homicide not amounting to murder. The Emperor v. Dalu Sardar 18 C W N 1279 followed. PALANI GOUNDA v. EMPEROR (1910)

I L R 42 Mad 547

§ 299 301—Murder—Intention to kill one person but death of another actually caused Where a person intending to kill one person kills another person by mistake he is as much guilty of murder as if he had killed the person on whom he intended to kill. Public Prosecutor v. Mushunooru Suryanarayana Moorthy 13 Indian Cases 333 and Agnes Gore v. Case 77 English Rep 853 referred to. EMPEROR v. JEOLI (1916) I L R 39 All 161

§ 300—

See s. 299 I L R 42 Mad 547

§ 300(3)—Causing death—Single blow by an iron rod stick—Culpable homicide not amounting to murder The accused and the deceased having quarrelled the accused took an iron rod stick, and struck one blow on the head of the deceased which caused his death. The accused having been convicted of murder appealed to the High Court. Held that the offence committed by the accused was not murder but culpable homicide not amounting to murder because it was possible that the blow he struck exceeded in violence the injury he had in view at the moment of striking it. EMPEROR v. SARDARHALLA (1916)

I L R 41 Bom 27

§ 300 (1), 302—

See MURDER I L R 37 Cal 315

§ 300 and 325—

—Grievous hurt—Murder—Culpable homicide not amounting to murder—Fatal assault committed by three persons acting in concert A dispute having suddenly arisen concerning the cutting of a sugarcane crop three men armed with lathis attacked one of the men who was engaged in cutting the crop and beat him so severely that he died his skull being broken in three places. A nephew of the man attacked having his lathi with him attempted to rescue his uncle and also received considerable injuries. Held that the offence of which the accused men were guilty was not the mere causing of grievous hurt but culpable homicide which however might in the circumstances, be considered as not amounting to murder by the application of except. 4 of s. 300 in the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v. ANANDIA S Aji

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 300 and 325—contd

I L R 40 All 103 dissented from King Emperor v Hanuman I L R 35 All 560 and Emperor v Ram Dewa I L R 35 All 506 referred to EMPEROR v GULAB (1918)

I L R 40 All 686

Murder—Grievous hurt
—Common intention—Deadly assault with lathi on an unarmed person—Presumption Four persons armed with lathi attacked and severely beat a fifth who was unarmed over a dispute about irrigation. The person attacked died in consequence of this beating and it was found that he had received several severe blows on the head the result of which was that the bones of the skull were broken to pieces and also other injuries about the body most of the injuries having probably been inflicted whilst the person attacked was on the ground but the evidence did not disclose which of the assailants caused which of the injuries. Held that all four assailants were properly convicted of murder under the fourth clause of s 300 of the Indian Penal Code and that the inference was not justified that the common intention of the assailants was not more than the causing of grievous hurt. EMPEROR v KANHAI (1912)

I L R 35 All 329

Murder—Grievous hurt
—Hanging a human body believing the person to be dead and thereby causing death if murder—Intention to kill The accused assaulted his wife and gave her kicks blows and slaps. The kicks were given below the navel. The woman fell down and became unconscious. In order to create an appearance that the woman had committed suicide the accused took up the unconscious body of his wife thinking it to be a dead body and hung it by a rope. The post mortem examination showed that death was due to hanging. Held that the accused could not have intended to kill his wife if he thought that she was already dead and he could not be convicted of murder. The offence that the accused committed was an offence under s 325 of the Indian Code for having given her kicks blows and slaps before she fell down. EMPEROR v DALU SINDAR (1914) 18 C W N 1279

s 301—

See s 299 I L R 109 All 161

s. 302—

See s 37 I L R 35 All 506 and 560

See s 201 20 C W N 166

See MURDER I L R 37 Calc 315I L R 44 Mad 443

Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 374 376—Accused charged with murder—Duty of presiding Judge as to arranging for his defence—He trial on the same charge The accused who was undefended in the Sessions Court was convicted under s 300 Indian Penal Code. The case came up to the High Court for confirmation of the sentence of death under s 374 Criminal Procedure Code and also on appeal. Held that accused persons charged with murder could not go undefended. The respective duties of the Judge and the Bar as to the defence of such accused persons pointed out. The High Court held that on the evidence as it stood the sentence of death could not be confirmed and directed under

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 302—contd

s 376 cl (b) a retrial of the accused on the same charge after arrangement being made for his defence. KING EMPEROR v MOHAR ALI SHEIKH (1915) 19 C W N 555

Murder—Poisoning by arsenic—Intention—Knowledge A person who administers a well known poison like arsenic to another must be taken to know that his act is so imminently dangerous that it must in all probability cause death or such bodily injury as is likely to cause death and if death ensue he is guilty of murder notwithstanding that his intention may not have been to cause death. Queen Empress v Tulsha I L R 20 All 143 King Emperor v Bhowani Din I L R 30 All 508 and King Emperor v Gulah I I P 31 All 148 referred to EMPEROR v GAURI SHANKAR (1918) I L R 40 All 360

s 304—

See s 37 I L R 35 All 506 and 560

See s 59 25 C W N 514

See CRIMINAL TRESPASSI L R 41 Calc 662

Offering a child to crocodiles in the superstitious belief of ultimate good to the child The accused who were husband and wife had lost several children and they offered their next born to the crocodiles to a particular tank in the belief that the child's life would be ultimately saved but it was devoured the parents were convicted under this section. KING EMPEROR v BHARAT BEPURI AND ANOTHER

25 C W N 876

ss 304 325 and 299—Culpable homicide—Grievous hurt—Injury caused by a lathi resulting in death from gangrene R struck G three blows with a lathi. One blow fractured the bones of the left forearm another fractured a bone in the right hand while the third fractured both bones of the left leg. In the case of the third injury gangrene supervened and G died in consequence. Held that R was guilty of either culpable homicide not amounting to murder under s 304 of the Indian Penal Code or causing of grievous hurt under s 325 of the Code. EMPEROR v RAMA SINGH I L R 42 All 302 ss 304 and 323—Accused challanged under s 391 convicted under s 37—whether proceedings abate on account of death of person assaulted—Probate and Administration Act of 1881 s 89 The 2 petitioners and 2 other persons were challanged by the police under s 301 Indian Code for causing the death of one J. The trial Court convicted the 2 latter under s 301 and the 2 petitioners under s 37. They appealed to the Sessions Judge who altered the conviction of all 4 accused to 1 under s 323. The two petitioners then filed a revision in the High Court and urged inter alia that as the Appellate Court had held that only an offence under s 323 had been committed and as the person injured had died the proceedings abated and the accused should have been acquitted. The Single Judge who heard the revision referred this point for consideration to a Division Bench. The hurt for the causing of which the petitioners were convicted did not cause the death of J. Held by the Division Bench that criminal proceedings once legally instituted whether upon a complaint or otherwise do not terminate or abate merely by reason of the death of the complainant or the person injured. S 89 of the Probate and Administration Act has no application to a criminal prosecution and there is nothing in the Criminal Procedure Code in support of the proposition that the death of the person injured or of the complainant of itself causes the proceedings to abate. It is a mistake to speak of an offence as a purely personal one. Emperor v Sultan Singh (I L R 31 All 606) and Krishna Behari Sen v Corporation of Calcutta (I L R 31 Cal 993 (F B)) referred to also Halsbury's Laws of England Volume 18, page 232. Hazara Singh v Crown (I L R 2 Lah 27).

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 301 and 323—contd

ss 304, 325—Assault committed by three persons armed with lathis—Intention—Culpable homicide—Grievous hurt Three persons attacked a fourth with lathis and death ensued through a fracture of the skull of the person so attacked. There was however no evidence to show that the common intention of the assailants was to cause death or which of them actually struck the blow which fractured the skull of the deceased. Held that the offence of which the assailants were guilty was that of causing grievous hurt and not that of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. Emperor v Bhola Singh (I L R 29 All 230) followed. Emperor v Chandan Singh (1917) (I L R 40 All 103).

s 304A—

See CAUSING DEATH BY RASH OR NEGLIGENT ACT (I L R 80 Cal 55).

Criminal negligence—

Careless as of compounder in dealing with poisonous drug An unqualified person who was in charge of a dispensary attached to a mill at Agra had to make up a quantity of quinine mixture for cases of fever. He went to a cupboard where non-poisonous medicines were supposed to be kept and took therefrom a bottle with an outside wrapper marked poison. This wrapper he tore off and threw away. The bottle itself was labelled strychnine hydrochloride but without regarding this and apparently because there was a resemblance between this bottle and another in which quinine hydrochloride was kept he made up the entire contents of the bottle as if it had been quinine. The result was that seven patients died. Held that the compounder was rightly convicted under s 304A of the Indian Penal Code. Emperor v Dr Sorai (I L R 42 All 272).

s 306—Abetment of suicide—Sati

Held that persons actively assisting a Hindu widow in becoming a sati are guilty of the offence of abetment of suicide as defined in s 306 of the Indian Penal Code. Emperor v Ram Datal (1913) (I L R 36 All 26).

s 317—Exposure or abandonment of a child by a person having care of it—Person entrusted with a child for abandoning it has the care of it

Accused No 1 having given birth to an illegitimate child gave it to her sister accused No 2 with a view to dispose of it secretly. Accused No 2 accordingly carried it by a railway train and abandoned it in a second class compartment. On these facts accused No 2 was charged with an offence under s 317 of the Indian Penal Code and accused No 1 with having abetted the offence under s 317 and 109 of the Code. The Sessions Judge acquitted them both the accused No 2 on the ground that she had not the care of the child and accused No 1 on the ground that as no principal offence had been committed she would not be guilty of abetment. The Government having appealed Held reversing the order of acquittal that both the accused had committed the offences with which they had been charged. Emperor v Chattri (1916) (I L R 41 Bom 152).

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 317—contd

s 323—

See s 71 (I L R 39 All 623)

See s 304 (I L R 2 Lah 27)

See s 332 (I L R 37 All 353)

See BAILIFF (I L R 42 Cal 313)

See APPELLATE COURT (I L R 30 Cal 293)

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1899

s 423 (3 Pat. L J 585)

Death of person injured

—Abatement of proceedings—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) s 69 A criminal prosecution under s 323 of the Indian Penal Code does not abate by reason of the death of the person injured. The words to prosecute any proceeding in s 89 of the Probate and Administration Act do not refer to criminal prosecutions but to civil actions only. Rama Dand v Emperor (1917) 40 I O 1008 (Punjab) and Labhu v Emperor (1919) 52 I O 797 (Punjab) dissented from. Muhammad Ibrahim Saris v Shaik Davood (1921) (I L R 44 Mad 417).

The petitioner a

Bailiff of the Small Cause Court Calcutta was entrusted with the execution of a writ of possession which required and authorised him to give possession to the decree holder of certain premises in the occupation of the judgment debtor. On the complaint of the judgment debtor's wife the petitioner was placed on his trial on the allegation that he caught hold of her by the hand, forcibly dragged her out of the house and pushed her and when in consequence of the push she fell the petitioner kicked her. Sometime after the occurrence the complainant sent through her husband a letter of complaint to the thana and subsequently a complaint made either by the complainant or her husband was lodged against the petitioner at the thana. The Magistrate in convicting the petitioner under s 323 Indian Penal Code found that in pulling or dragging the complainant out of the house he pushed or jerked her from him in such a manner as to cause her to fall and to receive the injuries found on her elbows and knee. He further found that the petitioner did not deliberately kick the complainant but nevertheless held as follows:—I think it quite possible that on seeing her fall he went up to ascertain what had happened to her and pushed her more than once with his foot to make her rise. Held (without deciding whether the provisions of the English Common Law or the Code of Civil Procedure were applicable to the writ in question)—That under the provisions of either law in the execution of a writ of possession a reasonable degree of force may be used in order to effect the removal of persons bound by the decree and refusing to vacate. That on

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 300 and 325—contd

I L R 40 All 103 dissented from King Emperor v Hanuman I L R 35 All 560 and Emperor v Ram Naya I L R 35 All 506 referred to EMPEROR v GULAB (1918)

I L R 40 All 686

Murder—Grievous hurt—Common intention—Deadly assault with lathis on an unarmed person—Presumption Four persons armed with lathis attacked and severely beat a fifth who was unarmed over a dispute about irrigation. The person attacked died in consequence of this beating and it was found that he had received several severe blows on the head the result of which was that the bones of the skull were broken to pieces and also other injuries about the body most of the injuries having probably been inflicted whilst the person attacked was on the ground but the evidence did not disclose which of the assailants caused which of the injuries. Held that all four assailants were properly convicted of murder under the fourth clause of s 300 of the Indian Penal Code and that the inference was not justified that the common intention of the assailants was not more than the causing of grievous hurt. EMPEROR v KANHAI (1912)

I L R 35 All 329

Murder—Grievous hurt—Hanging a human body believing the person to be dead and thereby causing death if murder—Intention to kill The accused assaulted his wife and gave her kicks blows and slaps. The kicks were given below the navel. The woman fell down and became unconscious. In order to create an appearance that the woman had committed suicide the accused took up the unconscious body of his wife thinking it to be a dead body and hung it by a rope. The post mortem examination showed that death was due to hanging. Held that the accused could not have intended to kill his wife if he thought that she was already dead and he could not be convicted of murder. The offence that the accused committed was an offence under s 325 of the Penal Code for having given her kicks blows and slaps before she fell down. EMPEROR v DALU SIRDAR (1914)

18 C W N 1279

s 301—

See s 299 I L R 39 All 161

s 302—

See s 37 I L R 35 All 503 and 560

See s 201 20 C W N 166

See MURDER I L R 37 Cal 315

I L R 44 Mad 443

Criminal Procedure

Code (Act V of 1898) s 74 376—Accused charged with murder—Duty of presiding Judge as to arranging for his defence—Retrial on the same charge The accused who was undefended in the Sessions Court was convicted under s 302 Indian Penal Code. The case came up to the High Court for confirmation of the sentence of death under s 374 Criminal Procedure Code and on appeal. Held that accused persons charged with murder should not go undefended. The respective duties of the Judge and the Bar as to the defence of such accused persons pointed out. The High Court held that on the evidence as it stood the sentence of death could not be confirmed and directed under s 376 cl (b) a retrial of the accused on the same charge after arrangement being made for his defence. KING EMPEROR v MOHAR ALI SHAIKH (1915)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 302—contd

10 C W N 556

Murder—Poisoning by arsenic—Intention—Knowledge A person who administers a well known poison like arsenic to another must be taken to know that his act is so imminently dangerous that it must in all probability cause death or such bodily injury as is likely to cause death and if death ensue he is guilty of murder notwithstanding that his intention may not have been to cause death. Queen Empress v Tulka I L R 20 All 143 King Emperor v Bhawana Din I L P 30 All 503 and King Emperor v Gulsai I L P 31 All 143 referred to EMPEROR v GAURI SHANKAR (1918) I L R 40 All 360

s 304—

See s 37 I L R 35 All 506 and 560

See s 59 25 N W N 514

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

I L R 41 Cal 662

Offering a child to crocodiles in the superstitious belief of ultimate good to the child The accused who were husband and wife had lost several children and they offered their next born to the crocodiles to a particular tank in the belief that the child's life would be ultimately saved but it was devoured the parents were convicted under this section. KING EMPEROR v BHURAT HEPARI AND ANOTHER

25 C W N 676

s 304 325 and 299—Culpable homicide—Grievous hurt—Injury caused by a lathi resulting in death from gangrene P struck G three blows with a lathi. One blow fractured the bones of the left forearm another fractured a bone in the right hand while the third fractured both bones of the left leg. In the case of the third injury gangrene supervened and G died in consequence. Held that R was guilty of either culpable homicide not amounting to murder under s 304 of the Indian Penal Code or causing of grievous hurt under s 325 of the Code. EMPEROR v RAMI SINGH

I L R 42 All 802

s 304 and 323—Accused challenged under a 301 convicted under a 32—whether proceedings abate on account of death of person assaulted—Probate and Administration Act 1 of 1881 s 89 The 2 petitioners and 2 other persons were challenged by the police under s 304 Penal Code for causing the death of one J. The trial Court convicted the 3 latter under s 304 and the 2 petitioners under s 35. They appealed to the Sessions Judge who altered the conviction of all 4 accused to 1 under s 323. The two petitioners then filed a revision in the High Court and urged inter alia that as the Appellate Court had held that only an offence under s 323 had been committed and as the person injured had died the proceedings abated and the accused should have been acquitted. The Single Judge who heard the revision referred this point for consideration to a Division Bench. The hurt for the causing of which the petitioners were convicted did not cause the death of J. Held by the Division Bench that criminal proceedings once legally instituted whether upon a complaint or otherwise do not terminate or abate merely by reason of the death of the complainant or the person injured. S 89 of the Probate and Administration Act has no application to a criminal prosecution and there is nothing in the Criminal Procedure Code in support of the proposition that the death of the person injured or of the complainant of itself causes the proceedings to debate. It is a mistake to speak of an offence as a purely personal one. Emperor v Sultan Singh (I L R 31 All 606) and Krishna Behari Sen v Corporation of Calcutta (I L R) 31 Cal 993 (F M) referred to also Halsbury's Laws of England Volume 13 page 232. Hazara Singh v Crown I L R 11 Lah 27

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

— ss 304 and 323—contd

— s 304 325—Assault committed by three persons armed with lathis—Intention—Culpable homicide—Grievous hurt. Three persons attacked a fourth with lathis and death ensued through a fracture of the skull of the person so attacked. There was however no evidence to show that the common intention of the assailants was to cause death or which of them actually struck the blow which fractured the skull of the deceased. Held that the offence of which the assailants were guilty was that of causing grievous hurt and not that of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. Emperor v Bhoja Singh I I R 99 All 289 followed. EMPEROR v CHANDAN SINGH (1917) I L R 40 All 103

— s 304A—

See CAUSING DEATH BY RASH OR NEGLIGENT ACT I L R 39 Calc 855

Criminal negligence—

Car lessness of compounder in dealing with poisonous drug. An unqualified person who was in charge of a dispensary attached to a mill at Agra had to make up a quantity of quinine mixture for cases of fever. He went to a cupboard where non-poisonous medicines were supposed to be kept and took therefrom a bottle with an outside wrapper marked poison. This wrapper he tore off and threw away. The bottle itself was labelled strychnine hydrochloride but without regard to this and apparently because there was a resemblance between this bottle and another in which quinine hydrochloride was kept he made up the entire contents of the bottle as if it had been quinine. The result was that seven patients died. Held that the compounder was rightly convicted under s 304A of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v Dr Sorza I L R 42 All 272

— s 306—Abetment of suicide—Sati. Held that persons actively assisting a Hindu widow in becoming a sati are guilty of the offence of abetment of suicide as defined in s 306 of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v PAM DAYAL (1913) I L R 11 All 28

— s 317—Exposure or abandonment of a child by a person having care of it—Person entrusted with a child for abandoning it has the care of it. Accused No 1 having given birth to an illegitimate child gave it to her sister accused No 2 with a view to dispose of it secretly. Accused No 2 accordingly carried it by a railway train and abandoned it in a second class compartment. On these facts accused No 1 was charged with an offence under s 317 of the Indian Penal Code and accused No 1 with having abetted the offence

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

— s 317—contd

under ss 317 and 109 of the Code. The Sessions Judge acquitted them both the accused No 2 on the ground that she had not the care of the child and accused No 1 on the ground that as no principal offence had been committed she would not be guilty of abetment. The Government having appealed Held reversing the order of acquittal that both the accused had committed the offences with which they had been charged. EMPEROR v CURRIE (1916) I L R 41 Bom 152

— s 323—

See s 71 I L R 39 All 623

See s 304 I L R 2 Lah 27

See s 332 I L R 37 All 353

See BAILIFF I L R 42 Calc 318

See APPELLATE COURT I L R 118 Calc 293

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898

s 423 3 Pat 1 J 585

Death of person injured—Abatement of proceedings—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1831) s 89. A criminal prosecution under s 323 of the Indian Penal Code does not abate by reason of the death of the person injured. The words to prosecute any proceeding in s 89 of the Probate and Administration Act do not refer to criminal prosecutions but to civil actions only. Rama Nand v Emperor (1917) 40 I C 1008 (Punjab) and Labhu v Emperor (1919) 52 I C 797 (Punjab) dissented from. MUHAMMAD ISRAHIM SATHI v SHAIK DAVOOD (1921) I L R 11 Mad 417

*The petitioner a Bailiff of the Small Cause Court Calcutta was entrusted with the execution of a writ of possession which required and authorised him to give possession to the decree holder of certain premises in the occupation of the judgment debtor. On the complaint of the judgment debtor's wife the petitioner was placed on his trial on the allegation that he caught hold of her by the hand forcibly dragged her out of the house and pushed her and when in consequence of the push she fell the petitioner kicked her. Sometime after the occurrence the complainant sent through her husband a letter of complaint to the thana and subsequently a complaint made either by the complainant or her husband was lodged against the petitioner at the thana. The Magistrate is convicting the petitioner under s 323 Indian Penal Code found that in pulling or dragging the complainant out of the house he pushed or jerked her from him in such a manner as to cause her to fall and to receive the injuries found on her elbows and knee. He further found that the petitioner did not deliberately kick the complainant but nevertheless held as follows— I think it quite possible that on seeing her fall he went up to ascertain what had happened to her and pushed her more than once with his foot to make her rise. Held (without deciding whether the provisions of the English Common Law or the Code of Civil Procedure were applicable to the writ in question)—That under the provisions of either law in the execution of a writ of possession a reasonable degree of force may be used in order to effect the removal of persons bound by the decree and refusing to vacate. That on* the Magistrate's own finding the petitioner should not have been convicted. That is to say that a thing may possibly have happened is not to find that it did happen and there was no finding by the Magistrate that after the complainant had fallen the petitioner touched or pushed her with his foot. That the Magistrate should not have relied on the letter sent by the complainant to the thana previous to the lodging of the complaint. That the witnesses having been disbelieved with regard to the graver charges brought against the petitioner could not be fairly believed with regard to the small residuum of what the Magistrate conceived to be truth. H MEREDITH v SANJIBANI DAS 19 C W N 273

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 323—contd

s 323 332—Criminal Procedure Code s 144—Public servant in the execution of his duty as such—Police constable assaulted whilst attempting to enforce an order which in fact had become obsolete. A police constable was assaulted whilst endeavouring to enforce an order passed by the District Magistrate as to the carrying of lathis by Prangwala which order if originally lawful had in any case become obsolete. Held that in the circumstances the persons who assaulted the constable could not be convicted under s 332 of the Indian Penal Code but they were liable to conviction under s 323. Queen Empress v Dalip I L R 18 All 246 referred to EMPEROR v MADHO (1917)

I L R -40 All 28

s 324—

See COMMON OBJECT 2 Pat. L J 541

s 325—

See s 114 18 C W N 909

See s 300 I L R 35 All 329

I L R 40 All 636

18 C W N 1279

See s 301 I L R 42 All 302

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 106

I L R 33 All 48

See RIOTING I L R 41 Calc 43

See SENTENCE 3 Pat. L J 641

s 328—

See s 114 4 Pat. L J 289

See s 141 17 C W N 1132

See COMMON OBJECT 2 Pat. L J 541

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1898) s 307

I L R 37 Mad 236

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

I L R 41 Calc 663

See PRIVATE DEFTENCE 3 Pat. L J 653

4 Pat. L J 289

s 329—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 109

123 397 I L R 34 Bom 326

s 332—

See s 323 I L R 40 All 28

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 54

I L R 40 Mad. 1023

See MAGISTRATE JURISDICTION OF

I L R 39 Calc 377

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

ss 332, 323—Public servant in the execution of his duty as such—House search by Excise Inspector without a warrant—Assault on Inspector. An Excise Inspector in searching the house of a person under the suspicion that he would find cocaine there committed many irregularities. He had no warrant authorising him to make the search he had brought only one search witness and he directed a constable to scale the outer wall of the house. The accused assaulted and beat him. Held that the Inspector and the constables were not acting in the discharge of their duties as public servants and the accused were not guilty of an offence under s 332 of the Indian Penal Code but were guilty of an offence punishable under s 373 of the said Code. Queen Empress v Dalip I L R 18 All 246 followed EMPEROR v MUKHTAR AHMAD (1915) I L R 37 All 353

ss 332 and 503—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 103

I L R 42 All 87

s 336—

1 ——— Doing an act endangering human life or the safety of others—Temple resorted to by pilgrims on festive occasions—Duty of person in charge to ensure safety of pilgrims attending by license and invitation. The petitioner was the lessee of a certain temple from some of the sibs and was the general manager of all of them. It appeared that on a certain day in the year pilgrims and others in large numbers visited this temple. Close by the gate leading from an outer courtyard into the inner temple there was a well which was surrounded by a masonry platform 14 to 2 feet high and the ring or parapet of the well stood again about 1 foot above the platform. Early at night on the day of the congregation of pilgrims an accident having occurred the petitioner as the instance of the Police Officer in charge had a light placed on or near the one foot parapet but at a later hour the petitioner had the light removed and thereafter between 1 and 11 A.M. while the people were again entering into the inner temple a boy who had no previous knowledge of the well and in the darkness could not see it fell into it. Held that the facts constituted an offence within the meaning of s 336 of the Penal Code. That on the occasion of the festival in question the temple becomes a place of public resort and it was the bounden duty of the petitioner as the person in charge to take all reasonable precautions necessary to ensure the safety of those crowding thither by his license and invitation. NARSING CHARY MAHAPATRA v KING EMPEROR (1914) 18 C W N 1176

2 ——— Doing a rash or negligent act endangering human life or personal safety of others—Licensed taxi cab driver asked to wear spectacles at the time of driving—Driver wearing no spectacles at the time of driving—Liability. The accused was at the time he took out a license to drive taxi cabs, asked to use spectacles at the time of driving owing to his defective eyesight. Still he was one night driving his taxi cab without wearing spectacles when his car collided with another car but it appeared that he was not liable for the accident. He was tried for an offence punishable under s 336 of the Indian Penal Code for doing an act so rashly or negligently as to endanger human life or the personal safety of others. The medical evidence adduced at the trial showed that the defect in the eyesight of the accused was not very much and that it would not appreciably interfere with his efficiency as a driver. The Magistrate having convicted him of the offence charged the accused applied to the High Court. Held setting aside the conviction and sentence that it was not made out that the accused if he drove his car without wearing spectacles would be acting so rashly or negligently as to endanger human life or the personal safety of others. EMPEROR v. ABAS MIRZA (1918) I L R 42 Bom 396 ss. 337-338—Hurt caused by rashness or negligence—Hakim—Performance of eye operation with ordinary scissors—Neglect of ordinary precautions—Partial loss of eye sight. The accused a Hakim performed an operation with an ordinary pair of scissors on the outer side of the upper lid of the complainant's right eye. The operation was needless and performed in a primitive way the most ordinary precautions being entirely neglected. The wound was sutured with an ordinary thread. The result was that the complainant's eye sight was permanently damaged to a certain extent. The accused was on these facts convicted of an offence punishable under s 333 of the Indian Penal Code. He having applied to the High Court Held that the accused had acted rashly and negligently so as to endanger human life or the personal safety of others. Held also that the act of the accused amounted to an offence punishable under s 337 of the Indian Penal Code since there was no permanent privation of the sight of either eye in consequence of the operation. Where a Hakim gives out that he is a skilled operator and charges considerable fees the public are entitled to the ordinary precautions which surgical knowledge regards as imperative. To neglect such precautions entirely is negligence such as is contemplated by the criminal law. EMPEROR v. GULAM HYDER PUNJABI (1915) I L R 39 Bom 523 s 339—Wrongful restraint what necessary to constitute. The accused placed a lock on the outer door of complainant's house intending to prevent and thereby preventing his ingress. Held that the offence of wrongful restraint was established although the accused were not physically present to enforce the obstruction. There is nothing in s 339 Criminal Procedure Code which requires the physical presence of the obstructor at the moment of prevention. ARUMUGAKADAR v. EMPEROR (1910) I L R 34 Mad 547

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contds 336—contd

s 341—Restraint upon a drunken and disorderly person—Common Law of England—Applicability to India. A private citizen has the right to arrest under the Common Law any person as to whom there is reasonable apprehension that he will commit a breach of the peace. Timothy v. Simpson (1835) 4 L J (Ex) 81 and Queen v. Light (1857) 27 L J (MC) 81 referred to. In re PAMASWAMI AYYAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 913

s 341-109—Wrongful restraint—Tenant holding over—Landlord preventing the tenant from going to the demised premises. The accused having prevented a tenant of his who was holding over from entering the demised premises, was convicted of wrongful restraint (ss 341 and 109 of the Indian Penal Code). On application to the High Court under criminal revisional jurisdiction Held that the accused was rightly convicted inasmuch as the tenant holding over had in India a position recognised by the law and had a right to retain possession of the premises he occupied even against the landlord himself until disposed of in due course of law. EMPEROR v. HAJI GULAM MAHOMED (1918) I L R 43 Bom 531

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contdss 341-109—contd

s 342—

See s 107 I Pat L J 129

See RIOTING I L R 48 Calc 78

See WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT I L R 47 Cal 818

s 343—Wrongful confinement—Detention of prostitutes in brothel. Accused No 1 who had a woman in his keeping at Kolhapur brought her from Kolhapur to Bombay where he kept her in the brothel of accused No 2. There she led the life of a prostitute her movements were watched and a guard was kept at the entrance of the house. She was occasionally allowed to go out of the house under surveillance. It appeared that accused No 1 had on previous occasions supplied women to accused No 2. Held that on these facts accused Nos 1 and 2 were both guilty of the offence of wrongfully confining the woman. EMPEROR v. BANDU EBRAMJI (1917) I L R 42 Bom 181

s 353—

See s 99 IB C W N 548

See s 183 1 Pat L J 550

See BENGAL SURVEY ACT 1810 2 Pat L J 18

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 54 (1) 1 L R 36 All 6

s 70 2 Pat L J 437

See RIOTING I L R 41 Calc 836

See SEARCH BY POLICE OFFICERS I L R 41 Calc 261

See WARRANT OF ARREST 3 Pat L J 493

one act constituting two offences—

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT 1907 s 26

1 Pat L J 373

s 360—

See s 366 I L R 42 Bom 391

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1893) ss 4-3 439

I L R 37 Mad 119

s 361—Lawful guardian—Hindu law—Nearest major male relative not necessarily the lawful guardian of a female minor. The only persons having an absolute right to the custody of a Hindu minor are the father and the mother of the minor. No such right exists in the person who happens to be the nearest major male relative of the minor and such a relationship would not in law be a defence to a charge of kidnapping a minor from the custody of a de facto guardian. EMPEROR v. SITAL PRASAD I L R 42 All 145

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

§§ 361 366, 109—Kidnapping from lawful guardianship—Completion of offence—Continuous offence—Abetment The offence of kidnapping is completed the moment a girl under sixteen years of age is taken out of the custody of her lawful guardian and is not an offence continuing as long as the minor is kept out of such guardianship. There can be no abetment of the offence by conduct which commences only after the minor has once been completely taken out of the keeping of the guardian and the guardian's keeping of the minor is completely at an end. Regina v Samia Kaundan 1 I P 1 Mad 173. Queen Empress v Ram Das 1 L R 18 All 360. Queen Empress v Ram Sundar 1 L R 19 All 109. Chekutty v Emperor 1 L R 26 Mad 454. Amar Chatteraj v Queen-Empress 1 L R 27 Cal 1041. Chanda v Queen Empress (1904) Punj Rec Cr J 19 referred to. EMPEROR v ABDUR RAHMAN (1916) 1 L R 38 All 664.

§§ 361 366 and 368—Abduction and kidnapping—Lawful guardian—Lawfully entrusted—Evidence, duty of Crown to produce the best available—Charge necessary for precision in—Guardianship proof of—Construction of Statutes In a 361 of the Indian Penal Code the word "lawful" does not necessarily mean that the person who entrusts a minor to the care or custody of another must stand in the position of a person having a legal duty or obligation to the minor. It is a sufficient compliance with the section and its Explanation if the entrusting of the minor to the care or custody of another is effected without illegality or the commission of any unlawful act by a person legally competent to do so. "Entrusted" means the giving handing over or confiding of something by one person to another. It involves the idea of active power and motive by the person reposing the confidence towards the person in whom the confidence is reposed. For an entrusting within the meaning of the Explanation to s 361 there must be necessarily three persons viz (1) the person imposing the confidence or trust (2) the person in whom the trust is imposed and (3) the person constituting the subject matter of the trust. The Explanation contemplates a declaration of trust by a person competent to make such a declaration conveying handing over and confiding a minor to the care and custody of another in whom a confidence and trust is imposed. It is necessary for the person accepting the trust to do so either by express assent or by necessary implication arising from tacit acquiescence in the performance of the trust. Neither the declaration of trust nor its acceptance need be necessarily in writing. It is sufficient if the declaration is verbally made and given or if it arises from a course of conduct consistent only with the existence of such antecedent declaration and accepted verbally or by necessary implication arising from the conduct of the person so entrusted with the duty imposed. In a criminal trial the onus is upon the Crown to prove by the best evidence procurable the guilt of the accused. Where therefore it was alleged that a girl had been abducted from the guardianship of a certain person and that person was not called to prove the guardianship held that the Crown had not tendered the best available evidence of the guardianship. Courts of Law ought not lightly to infer that a person is a lawful guardian for one purpose only and not for all purposes if the obligation of guardianship is once established whether as 361 366 and 368—contd expressly or by inference. The mere relationship per se of master and servant does not constitute a master the lawful guardian of a minor servant within the meaning of s 361 nor can such master in the absence of proper proof be deemed a person lawfully entrusted with the care and custody of such minor. It is the duty of a Sessions Court in framing charges to see that they are precise in their scope and particular in their details. Held therefore that in a case under s 366 of the Indian Penal Code the charge should state the time at and date on which the alleged kidnapping or abduction took place. The words of a statute must be construed in their ordinary grammatical and natural sense and not in a forced and artificial sense unless such conclusion would give rise to an obvious absurdity which could never have been contemplated. A court of justice is not permitted to relax the construction of a statute in a manner at variance with its express provisions and which might operate unfairly to the prejudice of an accused person. No court in the administration of criminal justice ought to dispense with the statutory requirements of the law as to the proof necessary to establish a fact. NUSSAMAT KESSAR v THE KING, EMPEROR 4 Fat L J 74.

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

§ 363—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 193
1 L R 41 Cal 432
See KIDNAPPING 1 L R 40 Cal 714

Kidnapping from lawful guardianship—Minority of Mahomedan when to cease for the purpose of s 36—Majority Act (IX of 1875) s 3 According to Mahomedan Law the occurrence of puberty determines minority and the mother's right to custody but for the purpose of a 363 of the Penal Code regard must be had only to the definition of minority in s 3 of the Majority Act (IX of 1875). In the matter of Ahalya Bibi 5 B P R 557 distinguished. RE MUTHU IERANI (1913) 1 L R 37 Mad 88.

§ 366—
See s 361 1 L R 38 All 664
4 Pat L J 74
See ABDUCTION 1 L R 45 Cal 641

Kidnapping—Taking out of custody Where two girls under the age of 10 years ran away from their houses and remained for nearly one or two days in the house of a woman who belonged to the cast of Naks in Kuttan and no report was made to the padhan or the phucari. Held that the woman in whose house the girls stayed was properly convicted of an offence under s 366 of the Penal Code. Queen v Gander Singh 11 R Cr 111 dissented from. EMPEROR v JASJIT (1912) 1 L R 11 All 340.

§§ 366 360 90—Kidnapping a girl out of British India to seduce her to illicit intercourse—Consent of the girl aged fifteen years The accused kidnapped a girl fifteen years of age out of British India with her consent in order that she might be seduced to illicit intercourse. He was convicted of an offence under s 366 of the Indian Penal Code. On appeal Held reversing the conviction that the accused had committed no offence under s 366 of the Indian Penal Code inasmuch as the girl who was over twelve years of age was kidnapped with her consent. EMPEROR v HARIBHAI (1918) 1 L R 42 Bom. 391.

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd.

— ss. 368 369—Kidnapping—Lawful guardianship A Jat girl under the age of 18 years was sent by her father to carry food to the bullocks. She never returned home. Shortly afterwards she was found in a village not far from her home in the company of two men of the same caste. She was then dressed in boy's clothes and had her hair cut short. The two men offered no explanation as to how the girl came to be with them or why she was disguised. Held that both the men in whose custody the girl was found were properly convicted under s. 366 of the Indian Penal Code. Emperor v. Jetha Valloo 11 Bom L R 85 followed. EMPEROR v. HARKESH (1918)

I L R. 40 All 507

— ss. 366 372—Kidnapping—Buying or selling minor girls for the purpose of prostitution A low caste girl left her lawful guardian of her own free will and subsequently met the accused. Ewaz Ali and lived with him for some time. Later he made her over to certain persons who representing that she was a member of a higher caste induced a member of such higher caste to take her in marriage and to pay money for her in full belief that such representation was true. Held that Ewaz Ali was neither guilty of an offence under s. 366 of the Indian Penal Code inasmuch as he did not take or entice her away from her legal custody nor of an offence under s. 372 of the said Code. King Emperor v. Ram Chander 12 All L J 265 Empress of India v. Sri Lal 1 L R 2 All 694 followed. King Emperor v. Jetha Valloo 6 Bom L R 785 referred to. EMPEROR v. EWAZ ALI (1915)

I L R 37 All 624

— s. 370—Buying and selling as a slave what amounts to The appellants in these cases were convicted by Sessions Court of North Malabar under s. 30 Penal Code the second appellant having been found to have sold and the first to have bought a Pulayan named Vellan as a slave. The document recording the above transaction ran as follows:—I execute to you and give you this day this jenmam deed giving you Velandia son Pulayan Vellan with his heirs. The sum that I received from you in cash to day is ten rupees. For this sum of ten rupees you should get work done for you by the said Vellan and his offspring that may come into being as your jenmam and act as you please. On a difference of opinion between ABDUR RAHIM and VAPIER JJ. as to whether the said transaction amounted to an offence under s. 370 Indian Penal Code. Held by ATYING J. that the transaction in question was a sale of Vellan and his offspring as mere chattles and that the appellants were guilty of an offence under s. 370 Penal Code. Empress of India v. Pam Kuar 1 L R 2 All 703 and Amira v. Queen Empress 1 I L R 7 Mad 77 referred to. KOROTHU MAHMOUD v. THE KING EMPEROR (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 334

— s. 372—

See 36r I L R 37 All 624

— s. 373—Obtaining possession of a minor girl for purposes of prostitution—Third party need not necessarily dispose of a minor girl To constitute an offence punishable under s. 33 of the Indian Penal Code 1860 it is not necessary that the possession of the minor should be obtained from a third person. It is enough if it is established that the accused in fact obtained possession of the minor with intent that the minor shall be used for the purpose of prostitution. Queen Empress v. Shaikh Ali (1870) 5 Mad H C 473 referred to. EMPEROR v. SHAMSUNDARBAI

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd.— s. 373—contd.

I L R 45 Bom

— ss. 378 380 411—

See CONVICTION 3 Pat L J

— s. 379—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1

s. 124 I L R 38 All

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1886 s. 1

1 Pat L J

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT OF 1898) ss. 397 123

I L R 17 Bom

2 — Servants' stealing things at master's bidding when theft In order to convict a servant of theft under s. 379 Indian Penal Code for having cut away some bamboo from the order of his master it must be clearly shown that he (the servant) knew of the dishonest intention of his master. Hari Bhimal v. The Emperor 9 C W N 974 followed. RADHA MADHAB PAI v. THE KING EMPEROR (1910) 15 C W N

2 — Theft—Removal of goods from a person's custody—Larceny In order to constitute larceny there must be an intention to take entire dominion over the property. A taker must intend to appropriate the property to his own use but there may be theft without intention to deprive the owner of the property permanently. Hence where a person snatches away some books from a boy as he came out of school and told him that they would be returned when he came to his house. Held that the offence of theft had been committed. R v. Dickinson 1 R & R 470 Prosenno Kumar Patra v. The King 1 L R 22 Cal 669 and Queen Empress v. Agha Muhammad Yusuf 1 L R 13 All referred to. EMPEROR v. NAUSHE ALI KHAN (1911) I L R 14 All

3 — Theft—Elementary necessary to constitute offence—Removal of property in assertion of bona fide claim of right To sustain a conviction under s. 319 it is necessary to prove dishonest intention to take property out of possession of another person. Consequently if property is removed in the assertion of a bona fide claim of right the removal does not constitute theft. The claim of right must be an honest one though it may be unfounded in law or in fact the claim is not made in good faith but is a colourable pretence to obtain or to keep possession. It is of no avail as a defence. ARAF ALI KHAN EMPEROR (1916) I L R 44 Cal. C. W N 12

4 — Theft—Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act I of 1879) s. 1—Attachment of buffaloes for non payment of land revenue—No actual seizure of buffaloes—Pecuniary value of buffaloes by their owners—Offence On default in the payment of land revenue by accused Nos. 1 and 2 the Mamladar went to their houses and made a panchnama declared that their buffaloes were attached and forbade the accused to remove the buffaloes. Notwithstanding this accused Nos. 2 and 3 removed the buffaloes at the instigation of accused No. 1. For this act accused Nos. 1 and 3 were convicted.

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 379—

of the offence of theft and accused No 1 of abetment of the same. The Sessions Judge was of opinion that inasmuch as the Mamlatdar had not taken actual possession of the buffaloes nor seized them the accused had committed no offence in removing them. He therefore referred the case to the High Court. Held that the offence of theft was constituted by the removal of buffaloes inasmuch as on the proved facts the Mamlatdar was in possession of them. EMPEROR v LALLU WAGHJI (1918) I L R 43 Bom 550

5 Removal of paddy grown by trespasser from land when in possession of rightful owner of theft. A person who grows paddy on lands as trespasser has no right to go upon the land after the rightful owner has obtained possession and remove the paddy and a plea of bond fide civil dispute cannot be successfully raised on such facts in an aver to a charge of theft. ABINASH CHANDRA SARKAR v KING EMPEROR (1918) 23 C W N 385

Theft—Appropriation by tenant of fall trees belonging to the zamindar

Certain trees the property of the zamindar of the village in which they were situated were blown down bodily by a dust storm. Some of the tenants of the village thereupon removed and appropriated the trees. The zamindar laid a complaint against the tenants charging them with theft. The tenants pleaded but were unable to substantiate the plea that they had a customary right to trees thus uprooted by a storm. Held that the action of the tenants in appropriating the trees prima facie amounted to the offence of theft. It lays on them to establish the title which they set up and in the circumstances their conviction was right. EMPEROR v DUWJAPAT

I L R 42 All 53

ss 379 to 381—

See THEFT

ss 379 and 457—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 200 3 Pat L J 346

s 380—

See CONVICTION II Pat L J 354

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS

I L R 44 Cal 358

Circumstantial evidence necessary for conviction nature and character of The petitioner was convicted under s 380 of the Penal Code for theft of a number of currency notes and the findings were that he as well as five other persons entered the room at or about the time the notes were stolen that his brother in law was present when two of the stolen notes were cashed in Calcutta that shortly after the theft he was in possession of a large sum of money for which he could not satisfactorily account. Held that circumstantial evidence must be exhaustive and exclude the possibility of guilt of any other person or must point conclusively to the complicity of the accused. That in the present case the evidence did not fulfil the conditions of circumstantial proof at all. CHIRAGUDDIN v EMPEROR (1914)

18 C W N 1144

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

ss 390 398—Dacoity—one of the dacoits killing two persons while the dacoits made good their escape with their booty—whether his comrades liable for the consequences of his act. The house of one K was raided by a gang of five dacoits one of whom was armed with a gun and the rest with chikars. The dacoits ransacked the house and made good their escape with their booty. A number of villagers had assembled outside the house and in fighting their way through the crowd one of the dacoits shot one man dead and inflicted fatal wounds upon another who died shortly afterwards. The question before the Court was whether under these circumstances every dacoit was equally liable for the consequences of this act of one of them. Held that murder committed by dacoits while carrying away the stolen property is murder committed in the commission of dacoity. vide s 390 of the Indian Penal Code and every offender was therefore liable for the murder committed by one of them. Queen Empress v Salharam Ahundu (2 Bom L R 325) and vide Theban v Vithi Theban (17 Mad L J 118) followed. Emperor v Chandar (1306 All W N 47) distinguished. LASHKAR v CHOWA

I L R 2 Lah 274

s 392—Charge amendment by Sessions

Judge before hearing evidence—Criminal Procedure Code s 227. Where the appellants were committed to the Court of Sessions on a charge of dacoity and the Sessions Judge without assigning any reason at the commencement of the trial amended the charge to one of robbery. Held that it was improper for the Sessions Judge to thus alter the character of the charge before hearing evidence. That under the circumstances of the case the fact that the appellants pointed out the places where some of the articles stolen in a robbery were found was not sufficient evidence to convict them under s 392 Indian Penal Code or even under s 411 Indian Penal Code. Queen Empress v Gobinda I L R 17 All 876 followed. FAIMULLAH v KING EMPEROR (1911)

16 C W N 238

s 395—

See DACOITY

15 C W N 434

s 398—

See MAGISTRATE I L R 39 Cal 118

ss 399 402—

See DACOITY I L R 41 Cal 350

s 400—Section to be strictly construed—

Association for dacoity—Gist of offence—Kind of evidence sufficient to convict—Appropriate testimony—Corroboration—Proof that accused members of a criminal tribe—value of—Previous conviction—value of when no association established—Accusatorial effect of. The offence contemplated in s 400 of the Penal Code is one of a very special character and entirely the creature of statute and should therefore be strictly construed. The Queen v Mookhtaram Sirdar 23 F P Cr 18 referred to. Association for the habitual pursuit of dacoity is the gist of the offence punishable under the section. Although the evidence need not show the same degree of particularity as to the commission of each dacoity as is required to support a substantive charge of that crime it must be established for the purpose of conviction under the section that the accused belong to a gang whose business is the habitual commission of dacoity. The special conspiracy must be proved. Emper v Auvre All W N (1856) 65 66 King Emperor v Terumal Peddi 1 L R 24 Mad 53 The Public Prosecutor v Borigara Potigadu 1 L R 32 Mad 19 referred to Corroboration of the testimony of an approver in a trial under s 400 must connect the accused with the offence at the occasion of a gang of persons for the business of habitually committing dacoity. The general criminality of a tribe or caste cannot be imputed to individual members operating in gangs where the prosecution is under s 400 and the fact that members of the tribe generally were alleged to have been implicated in several dacoities within a period of ten years preceding the trial was not sufficient proof against the persons under trial when it appeared that the tribe contained within it thousands of human beings. Where a prosecution for the purpose of habitually committing dacoity had not been made out the mere fact that some of the accused had been previously convicted of dacoity or theft or had been bound down to be of good behaviour under s 110 Criminal Procedure Code was of no consequence. The fact that some of the persons undergoing trial for an offence under s 400 had once been sent up on a charge of dacoity of which they were acquitted could not be relied on to prove that they were habitual dacoits. No adverse inference can be drawn against accused persons after their acquittal. The Emperor v Darsi Gopal Gupta 15 C W N 93 Per v Plumber [1902] 2 K D 39 followed. Bonar v The King Emperor 15 C W N 461 distinguished. LADER SUNDAR v THE EMPEROR (1911)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 400—contd

18 C W N 69

s. 401—

See CHARGE 1 L R 47 Cal 154

See PREVIOUS CONVICTIONS EVIDENCE OF 1 L R 38 Cal 408

s 402—

See DACOITY 1 L R 41 Cal 350

s 403—

See s 23 1 L R 40 All 119

s 405—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 179 and 182—Criminal breach of trust—Hundis sent from Dharapuram—Cash sent in Bombay—Jurisdiction The offence of criminal breach of trust is completed by the misappropriation or the conversion of the property dishonestly. It is only the intention which is essential whether wrongful gain or loss actually results is immaterial. It is a consequence but no essential part of the offence and a person is not accused of the offence by reason of it. Where therefore the accused brokers in Bombay were charged in the Court of the Sub Divisional Magistrate of Erode with the offence of having committed criminal breach of trust in respect of the proceeds of certain hundis entrusted to them by the complainants merchants at Dharapuram for encashment at Bombay. Held that the hundis having been cashed and the proceeds misappropriated by the accused in Bombay the Erode Court had no jurisdiction to try the case. Ganeshi Lal v Chand Kulkore 1 L R 34 All 437 approved. Assistant Sessions Judge of North Arcot v Pama namu Asari 26 Mad L J 235 distinguished. Queen Empress v Brien 1 L R 19 All 111 and Emperor v Mahadeo 1 L R 32 All 397 commented on. Held also that where as in this case the complaint clearly charged dishonest misappropriation to accused's own use and not use or disposal in violation of law or contract the offence fell under the first part of s 405 of the Indian Penal Code and not under the second. And secondly if it were otherwise the offence would be committed where the dishonest use or disposal took place not where the contract was made or should have been performed. Re RAMBILAS (1914) 1 L R 111 Mad 639

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 405—contd

ss 405 409—

See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST

1 L R 41 Cal 844

s 406—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 179

1 L R 35 All 29

See RECEIVER 1 L R 48 Cal 432

1 ———— Criminal breach of trust—Accessary elements to constitute the offence The complainant owed money to the accused on a mortgage bond and on a certain day went to their house and paid the amount settled due in full satisfaction of the bond. An endorsement of payment was made on the back of the bond by one of the witnesses for the prosecution and the accused went inside their house with the bond and the money saying that they would keep the money and return the bond but they did not come back that day and afterwards denied the receipt of the money. Held that on the facts there was no trust which could bring the case within the terms of s 408 Indian Penal Code. GOLAM HOSSAIN v EMPEROR (1917) 22 C W N 1005

2 ———— Criminal breach of trust—Prosecution bound to prove entry In a case of criminal breach of trust if the prosecution could not prove how the accused came by the money they did not establish one of the first essentials of the offence charged. That accused was entrusted with the money. GOURI NARAYAN BARRUA v TILDIKARAN CHETRI

25 C W N 838

ss 406 408—Criminal breach of trust—Water works inspector misappropriating water—Money realized as water tax not credited to the municipality Where a municipal water works inspector being the lessee of a house within municipal limits had such house connected with a municipal water main and accepted a yearly payment as water tax from his tenants but neither informed the municipal board that the connection had been made nor credited to the board the money which he received as water tax from his tenant. He was held liable as he was properly convicted under ss 406 and 408 of the Indian Penal Code whether or not he might have been punishable under the United Provinces Water Works Act 1891. EMPTOR v BIMALA CHARAN POI (1913)

1 L R 35 All 361

s 408—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 182 AND 531

1 L R 32 All 397

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 408—contd

ss 233 236 239

I L R 32 All 219

Embelement as a clerk or servant—Misjoinder of charges A station master on the East Indian Railway under an arrangement with the Company received a fixed allowance in respect of the marking loading and unloading work at his station and used to engage his own men for that purpose. One of such men engaged as a marksman was first allowed to keep certain registers which it was the duty of the station master to maintain and next allowed to receive cash payments and make entries in the cash register. Whilst so employed he received a sum of Rs 10 0 as an overcharge or demurrage in respect of certain goods which passed through his hands and appropriated the same. To this sum however the Railway Company made no claim. He was also alleged to have received and appropriated to his own use two other sums of money under some what similar circumstances. In respect of the three sums he was tried and convicted on three counts under s 408 of the Indian Penal Code. Held that the offence if any committed with regard to the sum of Rs 10 0 did not fall within s 408 at all and this being so the jointer of the three charges in one trial was illegal. EMPEROR v. KARI UD DIN (1918) I L R 40 All 565

ss 408 477A—

See CHARGE I L R 40 Calc 318

s 409—

See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST

I L R 41 Calc 844

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898—

ss 22 AND 233

I L R 38 All 42

ss 233 234

3 Pat L J 124

1 Criminal misappropriation—

Evidence—What prosecution has to prove On a charge under s 409 of the Indian Penal Code it is no necessary for the prosecution to prove in what manner money alleged to have been misappropriated has actually been disposed of by the accused. If it is shown that money entrusted to the accused was not accounted for nor returned by him in accordance with his duty if unpaid it lies on the accused to prove his defence. EMPEROR v. KADIR BAKSH (1910) I L R 33 All 249

2 Criminal breach of trust—

Charge—Criminal Procedure Code s 292 (2) An accused person was charged under s 409 of the Indian Penal Code with having embezzled an aggregate sum of Rs 208 12 0 on various dates between the 1st July and the 1st November 1909. Held that the charge so framed was not open to objection notwithstanding that evidence was available as to the various items of which the aggregate sum charged was composed. EMPEROR v. Gul ar Lal I L R 24 All 254 EMPEROR v. Ishtiaq Ahmad I L R 23 All 69 Samsuddin Sarkar v. Nisaran Chandra Ghose I L R 31 Calc 928 Sat Narain Tewari v. Emperor I L R 32 Calc 1085 and Thomas v. Emperor I L R 29 Mad 553 followed. Subramania Ayyar v. King Emperor I L R 15 Mad 51 distinguished. EMPEROR v. Ibrahim Khan (1910) I L R 33 All 36

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 409—contd

3

A Postmaster

whose duty it was to pay over to the holders of certain cash certificates the money due thereon at a certain rate in fact paid the holders at a lower rate and misappropriated the difference. Held that he thereby committed an offence of criminal breach of trust by a Public Servant. EMPEROR v. SITA RAM I L R 42 All 204

s 411—

See CONVICTION 11 Pat L J 106

See DISHONESTLY RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY I L R 40 Calc 890

See JURY TRIAL BY

24 C W N 619

Receiving stolen property—Presumption as to knowledge of person in whose possession stolen property found after considerable lapse of time—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 35—Concurrent sentences Where in a case under s 411 Indian Penal Code the stolen property was found in the possession of the accused more than three months after the theft. Held that having regard to the length of time there was no presumption that the accused knew or had reason to believe the property to be stolen. An order directing sentences passed in two separate trials against the same accused to run concurrently in illegal. JOSEF VULLAN BEPRAI v. THE KING EMPEROR (1918) 22 C W N 597 ss 411 414—Dishonestly receiving stolen property—Assisting in the concealment of stolen property—Government currency note received in the course of business—Jurisdiction Where a Government currency note of the value of Rs 1 000 was traced seven months after the loss to a shroff who carried on business in Bombay and through whose hands currency notes would find their way in the course of business though he could not name the person from whom he had received the currency note. Held on a complaint under ss 411 414 of the Indian Penal Code that the Chief Presidency Magistrate was right in refusing to issue process. RAM CHANDRA SINGH v. HAJI MEHAR HAJI ABDULLAH (1913) 17 C W N 1129

s 415—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 14

15 I L R 34 All 93

Cheating—Deceit—Shopkeeper receiving currency notes in exchange for goods sold—Retention by shopkeeper of small amount from change on ground that notes were not worth face value—Plea of guilty The accused who had sold goods worth Rs 2 13 0 to a customer received from him two currency notes one of Rs 2 8 0 and the other of Re 1 but tendered as change only Rs 0 93 saying that the notes were not worth their face value and that Rs 0 19 were charged on that account. The accused pleaded guilty and was convicted of the offence of cheating. On application to the High Court. Held (i) that whether on the admitted facts the accused ought to be held to have committed the offence of cheating was a question of law as to which the plea of the accused was immaterial (ii) that he had not committed the offence of cheating for there was no deceit at all since the customer

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 415—contd

was not induced to hand over the notes by any representation on the part of the shopkeeper that he would get change calculated on the face value of the notes but handed them to the accused in the ordinary course of the sale and purchase transaction. EMPEROR v. MUKERJI 1 AIR 1919 (1919) I L R 43 Bom. 842

s 415 417—

1. Dishonest intention—Facts proved not sufficient to support conviction—Evidence gone into in revision. Where according to the Rules regulating the levy of octroi on certain goods brought within the Sambalpur Municipality the goods had to be presented in bulk at the exit station out post with an application for a pass in a prescribed form such application being in the ordinary course handed by the applicant or his agent to the out post mohurer who made it over to the daroga whose duty it was to check the application and to certify the description and quantity of the goods actually presented and then to make out the chalan or pass which had to be signed by the mohurer and one of the Rules provided that a municipal member must attest the check at the exit station out post and in the absence of such attestation the exit mohurer shall not sign the chalan and another Rule provided that the absence of the mohurer's signature on the chalan is one of the reasons for which an application for a refund of duty allowed in certain cases should be rejected and where on a certain day the petitioner at the request of the daroga consented to act as Municipal member at the out post in respect of goods brought there to be passed through and among such goods brought to the out post were some cartloads of goods belonging to the petitioner's firm and in the application for a pass in respect of these goods which was not signed by the petitioner himself but in which his name was written by a gomasta (which application according to the case for the prosecution the petitioner himself handed to the daroga with whom he was in collusion) the goods were entered as 460 bags of linseed and 40 bags of rice but as a matter of fact only 230 bags of linseed were actually brought to the out post and according to the evidence of the daroga the petitioner assured him that he would make good the deficiency on the following day and it was found that the petitioner was cognisant of the application of the details therein entered and of the number of bags brought to and passed through the out post but the petitioner did not attest the check in respect of his own goods and did not attempt to induce the mohurer to sign the chalan (which the mohurer in fact did never sign) nor did he do anything further to carry out the purpose imputed to him and made no attempt to obtain a receipt for 500 bags as representing the number actually passed through the out post and on the next day when he tried to send goods to the railway station some of his carts were intercepted and prevented from reaching the railway station by the municipal authorities. Held that the facts proved were not sufficient to support the conviction of the petitioner for an offence of cheating. The evidence on the record fell short of the evidence required to prove dishonest mind or dishonest purpose on the part of the petitioner. BIRJAY MARWARI v. THE KING EMPEROR (1919) 17 C W N 294

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 415 417—contd

2. Cheating. The petitioner proposed to the father of a girl for the hand of his daughter and obtained his consent and was admitted into his house. Subsequently information was received by the father that the petitioner was a married man thus the petitioner admitted to be true. Shortly after the daughter who was major left the father's protection of her own accord and went to the petitioner. On the complaint of the parents the petitioner was convicted of cheating under s 417 Indian Penal Code. Held that the facts did not bring the case within s 417 read with s 415 Indian Penal Code. That looking at the natural result of the deception that had been undoubtedly practised and that only between the date the father gave his consent and the date when it became known to him that the petitioner was a married man and on the facts and circumstances of the case it could not be said that any damage or harm was done to the mind or reputation of the parents and consequently the charge failed. MILTON v. SHERMAN (1918) 22 C W N 1001

3. s 417—Cheating complaint of—Proceeding quashed as prima facie case not made out—Pleader's promise to persuade client to give undertaking—Undertaking not given—Pleader if may be proceeded against for cheating. In a proceeding under s 107 Criminal Procedure Code the opposite party undertook not to go to the property the subject matter in dispute or to do any act that was likely to involve a breach of the peace on the pleader for the complainant agreeing to persuade complainant's master to file an undertaking that he would protect the property from sale. The undertaking which the latter offered to file not having been approved of by the opposite party was not filed whereupon the opposite party started proceedings against the pleader under s 417 of the Penal Code. Held that the proceedings should be quashed as no prima facie case of cheating had been made out. KRISHNA v. KUMAN MUKERJI v. KUMUDENDU MUKERJI (1916) 20 C W N 1112

s 417 420 and 511—

See FORGERY

4 Pat L J 16

Valuable security. Whether acknowledgment of receipt of insured parcel is evidence that he had paid off a sum of Rs 600 which he owed to complainant. A registered envelope with blank sheets of paper and posted it to the complainant after insuring it for Rs 600 and the complainant gave an acknowledgment of receipt of the parcel to the Post Office on receiving the same. Held that these facts amounted to an attempt to cheat. An acknowledgment of receipt of an insured parcel is not a valuable security. It is merely evidence that a parcel of some sort was delivered to the addressee and it cannot operate as a discharge of any liability. Under s 237 (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure an accused who is charged with an offence may be convicted of having attempted to commit that offence although the attempt is not separately charged. SADHO LALL v. KING EMPEROR 1 Pat L J 391

s 420—

See s 170B

20 C W N 292

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd■ 420—contd

See s 417 1 Pat L J 391

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ACT (V OF 1898) s 562

I L R 41 Mad 533

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) ss 11
14 15 I L R 39 All 273

Cheating arising out of attempt to enforce alleged unfulfilled contract Two contracts were entered into between the complainant and accused one for sale by the complainant of a certain number of shares of a particular kind and the other for the purchase by the complainant of another kind. Subsequently when the purchase by the complainant was disputed accused induced complainant to part with his shares promising to give him back cash for it but instead offered to credit the value against the sum due to him under the other contract and subsequently tendered the amount less the loss sustained by him by the non fulfilment of the other contract. Held that the action of the accused was fraudulent and he was rightly conducted under s 420. ASWINI KUMAR CHATTERJEE v THE KING EMPEROR 25 C W N 618

Whether convict can be released under s 562 Criminal Procedure Code P B was convicted by a first Class Magistrate under s 420 Indian Penal Code but instead of sentencing him to imprisonment the Magistrate passed an order against him under s 562 Criminal Procedure Code, releasing him on probation of good conduct. Held that s 562 Criminal Procedure Code applies only to a case of simple cheating under s 417 Indian Penal Code and not to aggravated forms of cheating falling under ss 418 to 420. The Crown v Ahsan Ali (23 P W R (Cr) 1908) followed. THE CROWN v PAB NAWAZ I L R 1 Lah. 612

■ 421—*Criminal proceedings against insolvent—Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) ss 17 103 and 104—Adjudged insolvent—Sanction of Insolvency Court not obtained—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Suit or other legal proceeding—Interpretation of a person in insolvent circumstances applied to the Insolvent Debtors Court at Bombay for relief under the provisions of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 and was adjudicated an insolvent. Ten days later a creditor of the insolvent without having obtained any sanction from the Insolvent Debtors Court filed a complaint against the insolvent in the Presidency Magistrate's Court for an offence punishable under s 421 of the Indian Penal Code 1860. It was contended that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to entertain the complaint. Held that the Magistrate's jurisdiction to try the insolvent for an offence under s 421 of the Indian Penal Code 1860 was not taken away by anything contained in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909. The expression or other legal proceeding in s 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 coming after the word suit a word of more limited application must be construed on the principle of ejusdem generis. It therefore includes only proceedings of a civil nature. EMPEROR v MULSHANKAR HARINAND BHAT (1910) I L R 35 Bom. 63*

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

■ 423—

See FABRICATING FALSE EVIDENCE

I L R 46 Calc 988

Consideration—meaning of The word consideration in s 423 of the Penal Code cannot mean the property transferred. Therefore an untrue assertion in a transfer deed that the whole of a plot of land belonged to the transferee is not a statement relating to the consideration for the transfer and is not an offence under the section. MANTU GOUNDAY Re (1911) I L R 37 Mad. 47

■ 424—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885

1 Pat. L. J. 353

See s 71

See s 121 25 C W N 209

Conviction of a ryot under Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1903) for dishonest concealment and removal of crops—legality of—Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1903) ss 73 and 212 no bar to conviction The accused who was a ryot under the Madras Estates Land Act and who was bound under the conditions of his tenure to share the produce of his land with the land holder in a certain proportion dishonestly concealed and removed the produce thus preventing the land holder from taking his due share. Held that the provisions of ss 73 and 212 of the Madras Estates Land Act were no bar to a conviction of a ryot under s 424 Indian Penal Code for the dishonest concealment and removal. Re SIVANUPANDIA THEVAN (1914) I L R 38 Mad. 793

■ 426—

See s 147 I L R 39 Mad 57

See NORTHERN INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE ACT (VIII OF 1873) ss 7 and 70

I L R 34 All. 210

■ 426 447—

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

I L R 35 Calc. 180

Where the accused is peadash of one R acting solely in the interests of his Master removed and damaged some bamboos and the Estate was under Court of Wards Held no offence was committed. PURNESHWAR SINGH v KING EMPEROR 15 C W N 224

■ 429—Cutting off the ears of a horse is maiming within section The cutting off the ears of a horse is maiming within the meaning of s 429 of the Indian Penal Code. MARUOWDA v SRINIVASA RANGACHAR (1912) I L R 35 Mad. 594

1. ■ 430—Mischief by injury to works of irrigation There cannot be a conviction under s 430 of the Penal Code where there is a right or a bona fide claim of right. DEEPTI LEGAL REMEMBRANCE BIKAR AND ORISSA v NATURDHARI SING (1915) 20 C W N 123

2. ■ 430—Mischief—Northern India Canal and Drainage Act (VIII of 1833) s 70 Where the foundation of the charge against an accused person is that he cut the bank of a canal for the purpose of unlawfully obtaining water for his own field in order to sustain a con-

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 430—contd.

victim under s. 430 of the Indian Penal Code it is necessary for the prosecution to show that the act of the accused in fact caused or but for prompt intervention would have caused diminution in the ordinary supply of water for agricultural purposes. If this cannot be shown the accused should be convicted under s. 40 of the Northern India Canal and Drainage Act 1873. Tajuddin v. Emperor 54 L J 159 followed. Emperor v. Har Narain (1919) 1 L R 41 All 599

s 434—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 106
1 L R 33 All 771

s 436—Arson—Finding of previous fires unconnected with the charge and enquiry—Conviction on inadmissible evidence. The accused was convicted of arson. During the trial the Sessions Judge admitted the evidence of previous fires in the locality with which however there was nothing to connect the accused and relying, amongst others on that evidence convicted the accused. Held that the Sessions Judge was wrong in admitting the evidence in question. The High Court set aside the conviction and sent for ABDUL HADID v. KING EMPEROR (1916) 20 C W N 1267

s 441—

1—Criminal trespass distinguished from civil trespass—Placing hay stacks and manure on another man's land—Intention to cause annoyance must be found. The placing of hay stacks and manure on another man's land may be civil trespass. It may cause annoyance in fact but the act cannot be treated as criminal trespass unless it is found that it was intended by the accused to be annoyance. The distinction between civil and criminal trespass is one which is lost sight of by too many of the Subordinate Magistrates. MELAN v. SHARAFATULLAH KHAN (1912) 10 C W N 1007

Criminal trespass

—Building on another man's land. A man may be guilty of criminal trespass on the land of another without ever personally setting foot on the land if for example he causes others to build on the land against the wishes and in spite of the protest of the owner of the land. EMPEROR v. GHASI (1917) 1 L R 39 All 722

3—Criminal trespass

—Necessary constituents of offence. Where a person is found in the house of another in circumstances which would prima facie indicate that the offence of criminal trespass as defined in s 441 of the Indian Penal Code had been committed and sets up the defence that he did not enter the house with any of the intents referred to in the section but in pursuance of an intrigue with a female living there it is the duty of the trying Court to give accused an opportunity of substantiating such defence. If the accused succeeds in showing that his presence in the house was in consequence of an invitation from or by the connivance of a female living in the house with whom he was carrying on an intrigue and that he desired that his presence there should not be known to the person in possession then he cannot be convicted of criminal trespass. If however it is shown that the person in possession of the house has expressly prohibited

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 441—contd

the accused from coming to the house an intent to annoy may be legitimately inferred. The following cases were referred to: Dalmakand Pami v. Ghanamram 1 L R 22 Cal 331; Premannund Shaha v. Brindaban Chug 1 L R 20 Cal 941; Emperor v. Lalshman Raghunath 1 L R 26 Bom 553; Emperor v. Mulla 1 L R 37 All 39; Emperor v. Gays Bhar 1 L R 35 All 517; Emperor v. Chhotelal (1917) 1 L R 40 All 221

ss 441 and 442—

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

ss 441, 442—

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

1 L R 43 Cal 1143

ss 441, 442—Criminal Trespass—

Finding that the trespass was committed with one of the intents specified in the section whether necessary—Knowledge of the consequences of the trespass whether sufficient to inculcate. Held by the Full Bench (AYLING J. dissenting)—Trespass is an offence under s 441 Indian Penal Code only if it is committed with one of the intents specified in the section and proof that a trespass committed with some other object was known to the accused to be likely or certain to cause insult or annoyance is insufficient to sustain a conviction under s 448 Indian Penal Code. Distinction between intention and knowledge of likelihood pointed out. Queen-Empress v. Rajapadayachi 1 L R 19 Mad 210 followed. Emperor v. Lalshman 1 L R 26 Bom 553 and the view of BENSON J. in Sellamuthu Serravaram v. Pallamuthu Karuppan 1 L R 35 Mad 186 not followed. Per AYLING J. A mere knowledge that the trespass is likely to cause insult or annoyance does not amount to an intent to insult or annoy within s 441 Indian Penal Code but where the trespasser knows that his trespass is practically certain in the nature of course of events to cause insult or annoyance it is open to the court to infer an intent to insult or annoy. It is a question of fact whether this presumption of intent is displaced by proof of an independent object of the trespass. ULAPATHI v. BHEEMA RAO (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad 15

Criminal trespass—

Proceedings of the on the complaint of some one other than the person in possession—Any person in possession meaning of. The petitioner was convicted under s 448 Indian Penal Code for having broken into a house belonging to the complainant but actually in the possession of her tenant with the object of causing annoyance to the tenant. Held that the proceedings were properly instituted on the complaint of the landlady. That the words "person in possession" in s 441 Indian Penal Code do not mean only complainant in possession there being no authority for taking the offences of mischief and criminal trespass out of the general rule which allows any person to complain of a criminal act. Chandi Prasad v. Evans 1 L R 22 Cal 122 (1894) followed. Imperatrix v. Kesharilal 1 L R 21 Bom 63 (1896) distinguished. RAYAZ SINGH v. MORGAN 25 C W N 40

ss 443 and 444—

See LUNGING HOUSE TRESPASS

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—contd

s 447—

See s 147 I L R 39 Mad 57

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

I L R 33 Cal 180

I L R 43 Cal 1143

Criminal trespass—

One co sharer building on common land without the consent of the other co sharer Where one co sharer built upon a piece of common land against the will of the other co sharer whose consent had been previously asked and had been refused It was held that the circumstance alone was not sufficient to render the co sharer so building guilty of criminal trespass In the matter of the petition of Gobind Prasad I L R 2 All 465 and Emperor v Lalshman Raghunath I L R 26 Bom 558 referred to EMPEROR v PAM SARUP (1914) I L R 38 AU 474

ss 447, 379—

See THEFT I L R 44 Cal 66

s 448—

See s 441 I L R 46 Mad 156

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898
s 145 3 Pat L J 147

s 456—Lurking house trespass—Intent—Burden of proof The accused was found inside the complainant's house at 2 A.M. and when arrested made no statement as to his reasons for being there On being sent up for trial he stated but could not prove to the satisfaction of the Court that he had an intimacy with a widow living in the house Held that the presence of the accused in the house at that hour pointed to a guilty intent and it was for him to rebut that presumption Emperor v Ishvi I L R 29 All 46 followed Emperor v Jang Singh I L R 26 All 194 Sella Muthu Serrigan and Motayan v Palla Muthu Karuppan 21 Mad L J 161 Queen Empress v Rayapadachy I L R 19 Mad 240 and Premnundo Shaha v Brindaban Chug I L R 22 Cal 994 referred to EMPEROR v MULLA (1915) I L R 37 AU 395

Lurking house trespass

—Entering a house with intent to have illicit intercourse with a widow of full age no offence An accused person though he may have known that if discovered his act would be likely to cause annoyance to the owner of a house cannot be said to have intended either actually or constructively to cause such annoyance Where therefore it was proved that a person entered a house with intent to have illicit intercourse with a woman who was a widow and of age Held that he was guilty of no offence Jivan Singh v King Emperor 1908 Puny Rec Cr J 54 dissented from Emperor v Mulla I L R 37 AU 395 referred to Queen Empress v Rayapadachy I L R 19 Mad 240 followed EMPEROR v GAYA BIHAR (1916) I L R 38 AU 517

ss 456 457—

—Charge of house breaking to commit theft—Conviction under s 456 if proper—Misjoinder of charges—Charge under s 457 convict on under s 556 illegality of An accused person who was being tried on a charge under s 457 for house breaking with intent to commit theft could not be convicted under s 456 Indian

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*456 457—contd

Penal Code without amendment of the original charge Although it is not necessary under s 456 Indian Penal Code to specify any particular offences intended to be committed when a particular offence is specified under s 457 Indian Penal Code it is incompetent for the Court to convict the accused of house breaking with some other intent JHARU BREAKER v THE KING EMPEROR (1912) 16 C W N 696

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS.

I L R 44 Cal 358

Criminal Procedure

Code s 238—Conviction under s 456 when charged under s 457 properly of—Criminal intention if should be specified in the charge in a case under s 456—Intention of accused how may be determined by Court The view that under no circumstances can a conviction be made under s 456 of the Penal Code when the accused has been charged with the commission of an offence under s 457 cannot be maintained. The accused in the middle of the night entered the house of the complainant while she was asleep, was caught but ultimately ran away. The motive alleged by the prosecution was to commit theft of the complainant's ornaments. The accused was summarily tried for offences under s 457 and 380 of the Penal Code and the trying Magistrate finding that the intention of the accused was really to make immoral proposals to the complainant and thus to annoy her convicted him under s 456 of the Penal Code. Held that although the specific intent namely the intent to commit theft was not established yet it was competent to the Court to convict the accused under s 456 of the Penal Code s 238 Criminal Procedure Code being clearly applicable to a case of this character and the accused not having in any way been prejudiced by such conviction Jharu Sheela v King Emperor 16 C W N 696 distinguished. That it is well settled that to sustain a conviction under s 456 it is not necessary to specify the criminal intention in the charge it is sufficient if a guilty intention is proved such as is contemplated by s 441 of the Penal Code. That the intention may be determined as well from direct evidence as from the conduct of the party concerned and the attendant circumstances and in the circumstances of the case the Court could presume that the accused effected the entry with an intent such as is provided for by s 441 of the Penal Code HARARI PRASAD v KING EMPEROR (1916) 20 C W N 1075

s 457—

See s 379

3 Pat L J 346

Intent to annoy

what amounts to A with a view to support a fraudulent claim of title to a house broke into it during the temporary absence of the owner assaulted the owner's servant who was in charge of the house and took forcible possession of it. Held that it was rightly convicted of the offence of house breaking under s 457 Indian Penal Code. Per BENSON J.—That an intent to annoy under s 457 is established if annoyance in the ordinary course of events is known by the person committing the act to be the natural consequences of such act. A man must in law be held to intend the natural and ordinary consequences of his acts irrespective of what his object was at the time of doing such acts if at such time he knows what the ordinary and natural consequences will be. If he does an act which is illegal it does not make it legal that he did it with some other object unless the object was such as would render the circumstances render the particular act lawful. See SANKARAN NAIR J—That although the act complained of necessarily involved annoyance yet unless as the intention of the accused was to annoy it may be that the act cannot be said to have been committed with intent to annoy. Emperor v. Baid I L R = 41 28 referred to Queen Empress v. Rayapadayachi I L R 19 Mad 210 referred to. A however in doing the act complained of intended to use criminal force to the servant in possession and therefore intended to commit an offence. SELLAMUTHU SERVATOA NAIR v. PALAMUTHU KARUTAN (1911)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 457—contd.

I L R 115 Mad 186

See s 441 I L R 41 Mad. 156

s 457 511—House breaking—

Attempt—Burgars digging a hole in a wall but not boring it through owing to interruption by third persons. The accused dug a hole in the wall of the complainant's dwelling house during the night with intent to complete that hole in order to make their entry into the house through it and having so entered to commit a theft in the house. In fact the hole was not completed in the sense that it did not completely penetrate from one side of the wall to the other as the accused were interrupted before they could complete it. The accused were on these facts convicted by the trying Magistrate of the offence of attempting to commit house breaking by night. On appeal the Sessions Judge reversed the conviction and acquitted the accused on the ground that the accused's acts did not amount to an attempt to commit house breaking but only to a preparation. The Government of Bombay having appealed against the order of acquittal. Held setting aside the order of acquittal that the accused's acts did in law amount to an attempt for the actual transaction the distinct overt act was begun and carried through to a certain point but was not completed by reason of the accused's being interrupted. EMPEROR v. CHANDRKA SALABATKHA (1913)

I L R 37 Bom 553

s 457 380 456—

See LURKING HOUSE TRESPASS

I L R 44 Cal 358

s 460—Whether applicable when death was caused by some of the companions of the accused while running away after committing house trespass by night. The accused appellant was one of a party of 4 men who broke into the house of the complainant by night and being discovered were running away when a neighbour caught hold of the accused whereupon some of his companions inflicted certain injuries upon the neighbour of which he died on the spot. Held that s 460 of the Penal Code was not applicable as the expression at the time of the committing of house breaking at night must be limited to the time during which the criminal trespass continues which forms an element in house trespass which is itself essential to house breaking and can not be extended so as to include any prior or subsequent time. Jaffir v. Empress

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 460—contd

(P P (Cr) 185) per Plowden J followed MUHAMMAD v. CROWT I L R 2 Lah 342

s. 463-465—

See s 417 4 Pat L J 16

See FORGERY I L R 43 Cal 421
I L R 38 Cal 75

s. 463 467—Forgery—Forgery committed and conceal fraud already committed. A Kulkarni misappropriated certain moneys which the rastra had paid to him as irrigation cesses. Some time afterwards he forged certain receipts purporting to come from the Government treasury for those moneys with the object of concealing the misappropriation. The accused helped the Kulkarni in the forgery by forging the signatures on the receipts. He was paid Rs 25 for the work. The accused was on these facts charged with the offence of forgery. The Sessions Judge acquitted the accused on the ground that s 463 of the Indian Penal Code penalised the making of a false document only if it was made (inter alia) with intent to commit fraud or that fraud may be committed whereas no such intent could be ascribed where the fraud had already been fully committed. The Government of Bombay appealed against the order of acquittal. Held setting aside the order of acquittal that the accused had committed forgery although it was effected in order to conceal an already completed fraud. Lal Mohan Sarkar v. Queen Empress I L R 22 Cal 313 Emperor v. Pash Behari Das I L R 35 Cal 450 and Queen Empress v. Sabapati I L R 11 Mad 411 followed. Empress of India v. Jivanand I L R 5 All 221 Empress v. Mazhar Hussain I L R 6 All 553 and Queen Empress v. Giridhar Lal I L R 8 All 653 dissented from. EMPEROR v. BALKRISHNA WAMAN (1913)

I L R 37 Bom 666

s. 463 471—Using definition of—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) as 17 and 531—Jurisdiction—Commitment to Court not possessing jurisdiction bad—Transfer. A forged document was produced in Court in obedience to an order of the Court. Held that the production did not amount to using the document as genuine. An involuntary production of a document in Court cannot be said to amount to a use of it. The expression using a document is apparently used in the sense of its being put forward in some way for one of the purposes mentioned in s 463 Indian Penal Code. Although by virtue of s 531 Criminal Procedure Code an order in an inquiry made by a Magistrate not having local jurisdiction will not be set aside unless there is in fact a failure of justice yet when a commitment is made by such a Magistrate to a Court of Session which has no jurisdiction to try the case under s 177 Criminal Procedure Code such commitment is illegal. The High Court has no power to transfer a case thus committed to a Court not having jurisdiction to another Court having jurisdiction. The commitment must be quashed. ASSISTANT SESIONS JUDGE NORTH ARCOT v. PANAMMAL (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 387

s 464—

See s. 29 I L R 41 M.L.J. 589

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 464—contd

Forgery—Document made to screen a previous offence whether made fraudulently An attackshi made by a process server with false signatures in order to defraud a District Munsif into excusing his delay in returning process and his absence from duty is made fraudulently and is a forged document within s 464 of the Indian Penal Code Emress v Sabapathi I L R 11 Mad 411 Emperor v Rakh Behari Das I L R 35 Cal 450 and Kolamraju Venkatarayulu v Emperor I L R 28 Mad 90 followed Emress of India v Jivanand I L R 6 All 221 and Queen Emress v Gurdhari Lal I L R 8 All 653 doubted KAMATCHINATHA PILLAI v EMPEROR (1919)

I L R 42 Mad 558

ss 464, 465 467—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) ss 221 222 223 342—

Making a false document—Forgery of valuable security—Falsification of part of a document which is surplusage—Evidence—Onus—Defect in charge—Omission to set out intention in charge Where the accused was convicted of having forged a kabuliast executed by himself in favour of his landlord O B whose name appeared on the document as a witness and there were two other witnesses to the document and it was admitted that the accused who was an illiterate man did not make the false document himself and it was not established that the intention of the accused was to fraudulently bind the landlord by his alleged signature as witness and the case for the defence was that it was not the landlord O B who signed the name as witness but another person of the same name and the Sessions Judge held that the onus was on the defence of showing that this O B whose name appeared on the document was a real person and signed the deed and where the Sub Registrar who registered the document and held an inquiry in connection therewith and saw with his own eyes that the accused was in possession of the land covered by the document gave evidence of that fact but the Sessions Judge held that his statement was not evidence Held that a charge of forgery cannot be against a person who was not the writer of the forged document or who did not sign the forged name Making a false document is one thing and causing a false document to be made is another One is an offence under s 465 Penal Code the other is an act at most of abetment The part of a document in order to come within the definition of false document must be dishonestly or fraudulently made signed sealed or executed by the person who is charged and it must be made with the intention of causing it to be believed that such document or part of a document was made signed sealed and executed by or by the authority of a person by whom or by whose authority he knows that it was not made signed sealed or executed Even supposing that part of a document is false that part must have some material effect on the transaction. A mere surplusage would not invalidate a document In the present case even admitting that the name of O B was a fictitious name it would not make the document a false document There being two other witnesses to the document besides O B it could have no effect on the validity of the document whether this name was or was not fictitious If it was the intention of the accused that the document should be used in future as evidence that the landlord himself was a witness to it that might bring the case within the definition of fabricating false evidence for the purpose of being used in a judicial proceeding or it might be a preparation for the offence of cheating but certainly does not amount to forgery Held further that the Sessions Judge was wrong in throwing the onus on the defence and in holding that the statement of the Sub Registrar was not evidence KALIDR ALI RA DHANIA v THE EMPEROR (1912)

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*ss 464, 465 467—contd

17 C W N 354

ss 465 471—Forgery—Dishonestly

Forging a receipt for a debt which has been written off by the creditor for the purpose of obtaining a certificate of solvency and indirectly in order to secure a contract—Wrongful gain or loss A in order that he might obtain the annulment of an order adjudicating him an insolvent and thereafter that he might be in a position to tender for municipal contracts produced before the receiver in insolvency a document which purported to be a receipt from a creditor for payment of debt which the creditor had in fact written off as irrecoverable Held that in respect of the use of this receipt A was properly convicted under s 465 read with s 471 of the Indian Penal Code Queen Emress v Muhammad Saeed Khan I L R 21 All 113 and Queen Emress v Soah Bhuan I L R 15 All 210 referred to EMPEROR v ABDUL GHAFUR I L R 43 All 225

ss 465 471 477A—

See MISAPPROPRIATION

I L N 36 Cal 655

ss 466 471—

See FORGERY

I L R 43 Cal 783

s 467—

See s 29 I L N 41 Mad 559

See s 30 I L R 38 All 430

See s 34 I L R 36 Bom 524

See s 463 I L R 27 Bom 808

s 467—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 93 236 239 I L R 32 All 219

Witness proving forged document if able s—Abetment Semble It is doubtful whether a witness who swears to the truth of a document in Court can be said to abet its use Asmuddi v King Emperor 11 C N A 531 s c 5 C L J 454 referred to DEVI LAL v DRAJADHARI GASHAI (1911) 15 C W N 565

ss 467 109 471—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1898) s 403

I L R 40 Bom 97

s 471—

See s 30 3 Pat L J 336

See s 463 I L R 38 Mad 337

See s 463 I L R 43 All 225

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 10, I L R 33 Bom 642

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd.*s 471—contd.

s. 403 I L R 40 Bom. 97

See FORGERY I L R 43 Calc 75

I L R 43 Calc 783

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 40 Calc. 584

Using definition of The mere production of a document in obedience to the summons of a Court cannot amount to using within the meaning of s 471 Indian Penal Code Assistant Sessions Judge North Arcot v Ramammal I L R 36 Mad 397 followed. Where a document having been produced upon an order of the Court the witness gives false evidence regarding it such giving of false evidence cannot by itself be considered a fraudulent user of the document within the meaning of s 471 Indian Penal Code. A mere statement that a document is genuine does not amount to using it as genuine Pe MUTHIAN CHETTY (1913)

I L R. 80 Mad. 392

ss. 471, 474—Whether convictions under can stand together—Forgery—User whether mere filing in Court—Guilty knowledge presumption of if rises from mere filing of a document being interested in establishing its contents The mere fact that a litigant is interested in establishing the contents of a forged document filed by him in support of his case does not raise the presumption that he filed it knowing it to be forged. Where however the accused filed a forged document in support of his case but when the forgery was discovered he fled away without prosecuting his case and without attempting to offer any explanation Held that his conduct was not consistent with his innocence and want of guilty knowledge. The filing of a forged document as the basis of a plaint or as a necessary sequel to the pleas in the plaint constitutes an user of it within s 471 Penal Code and it is incumbent on the person using it to show that he filed the document in all good faith believing it to be genuine. Ambica Prasad Singh v Emperor I L R 35 Calc 820 referred to and explained. Convictions of offences under ss 471 and 474 Penal Code in respect of the same document cannot stand together. The two offences must be charged in the alternative. Queen v Asur Ali 6 A W P 39 followed. MORAHAN ALI v THE KING EMPEROR (1912) 17 C W N 94

s 474—

See s 29 I L R 41 Mad. 589

s. 477A—

See CHARGE I L R. 40 Calc 318

See COURT FEE STAMPS

I L R 47 Calc 71

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 222 (2) 233

I L R 38 All. 42

ss 235 537 I L R 32 All. 57

Replacing stamps on documents by used up stamps of offence under The accused was placed on his trial on a charge under s 477A of the Penal Code on the allegation that he as clerk in the Certificate Department had tampered with registrations filed under the

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—*contd*s 477A—contd

Public Demands Recovery Act on behalf of an estate under the management of the Court of Wards by replacing the stamps on those documents and on the accompanying talakutnamas by others taken from other papers Held that the acts alleged did not come within the scope of s 477A Indian Penal Code KING EMPEROR v BISHUDANANDA (1910) 15 C W N 935 ss 478 482—Trademark—Importer using a distinctive mark has property in it as against the rest of the world A distinctive mark may be adopted by a person who is not the manufacturer but the importer of goods and he will acquire the property in that mark as indicating that all goods which bear it have been imported by him. Balls v Fleming I L R 3 Calc 417 and Lavery v Hooper I L R 8 Mad 149 referred to. In this case merchants selectors and importers of hand made sugar used a distinctive mark denoting that the sugar contained in the bags so marked had been selected and imported by them and their customers accepted the mark as a guarantee that the sugar was hand made. Held that the mark so used was a trade mark as defined in s 478 of the Indian Penal Code. EMPEROR v LATIF (1916)

I L R. 80 All. 123

ss 478 486—Trade mark meaning of—S 28—Counterfeiting what amounts to The trade mark alleged to be counterfeited was that of a company who were the manufacturers of a kind of tooth powder sold in boxes. It appeared that apart from two points of difference the imitation of the whole design was most marked and complete. Held that the expression trade mark as defined in s 478 mu t not be confined to the trade mark of the complainants registered in England but must include the whole design on the top of the box and the black label pasted round the side. That the case clearly came within the definition of counterfeit in s 28 Indian Penal Code. NILMONKY NAG v DUNGA PADA BANERJEE (1916) 19 C W N 957

s 482—

See s 478 I L R 39 All. 123

ss 482 485 486—

See TRADE MARK I L R 40 Calc 281

s 486—

See s 478 19 C W N 957

s 494—

Bigamy In a case of bigamy the person aggrieved is either the first husband or the second husband and not the father. Where a complaint was preferred by the father of the first husband which resulted in a commitment on a charge under s. 493 of the Indian Penal Code it was held that the commitment was bad. EMPEROR v LALA (1909)

I L R. 32 All. 78

A Hindu convert to Christianity married a Christian woman according to the rites of the Roman Catholic religion. Subsequently and during the lifetime of his Christian wife he reverted to Hinduism and married a Hindu woman in accordance with the rites of the class

PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)—concl'd

— s 499, 95—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 88
435 AND 439 I L R 43 All 497

— s 500—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Cal 970

— s 503—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, s 103
I L R 43 All 67

— s 504—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 106
I L R 43 Bom 554See PRIS ACT 1910 s 3
I L R 44 Mad 561

Insult intended to provoke breach of the peace—Necessary elements constituting offence—S 95 act causing harm so slight that no person of ordinary sense and temper would complain of such harm A Deputy Magistrate went to a locality to enquire into a petition made by the residents for funds to enable them to dig a well and in the course of a discussion with the people assembled the Deputy Magistrate remarked that as some of the residents were well to do they must make the well themselves whereupon the accused who were present there said to the Deputy Magistrate "Then why do you make an enquiry go away quietly." The accused were convicted under s 504 Indian Penal Code. Held that the ingredients essential for a conviction under s 504 are threefold first intentional insult secondly provocation therefrom and thirdly intention that such provocation should cause or knowledge that such provocation was likely to cause the person so insulted to break the public peace or to commit any other offence. Held on a consideration of the circumstances of the case that it was completely covered by the salutary provisions of s 95 Indian Penal Code. JOY KRISHNA SAMANTA v KING EMPEROR (1916) 41 C W N 95

— s 511—

See s 193 I L R 37 Bom 365

See s 417 1 Pat L J 391
4 Pat L J 16

See s 457 I L R 37 Bom 553

— s 511 124A—Attempt to commit offences—Attempt to commit the offence of sedition—Intention a question of fact Under the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) all that is necessary to constitute an attempt to commit an offence is some external act something tangible and ostensible of which the law can take hold as an act showing progress towards the actual commission of the offence. It does not matter that the progress was interrupted. An attempt to publish sedition is complete as soon as the accused knowingly sells a copy containing the seditious article. It is none the less an attempt because something external to himself happens which prevents a perusal of the article by the buyers or any other member of the public. In cases of sedition the question of intention is one of fact. FARRER v GANESH BALVANT MODAK (1909) 34 L R 34 Bom 378

PENAL PROVISIONS

— construction of—

See TENANTS IN COMMON
I L R 39 Mad 1049PENAL STATUTES

— generally not retrospective—

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
I L R 40 Mad 34PENALTY

See APPEAL

I L R 44 Cal 1036

See COMPANIES ACT (VI of 1882) s 74

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 74

See INTEREST

I L R 42 Cal 652, 690

See THEATRICAL PERFORMANCE

I L R 44 Cal 1025

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (II of 1882) s 83 I L R 39 Mad 519

— Penalty Clause not becoming operative—

See INSTALMENT DECREE

I L R 42 Bom 304

— Security bond Breach of conditions—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) s 14
I L R 45 Bom 1213

— Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) s 19E—Scope of the section—Suit to recover penalty by Secretary of State maintainability of—Decision of Revenue authority—Jurisdiction of Civil Court Unless there is a statutory bar a suit is maintainable by the Secretary of State for India in Council for recovery of a penalty lawfully imposed. A Civil Court has no jurisdiction to review the decision of Revenue authority on the ground that the valuation had been incorrectly made or that the discretion in the imposition of the penalty had been erroneously exercised. But the position is different when the order for imposition of penalty is assailed on the ground that it has not been made in accordance with the statute. If the action of the Revenue authority is ultra vires if he has not followed the procedure described by the statute which is the source of his authority there is no enforceable claim which a Civil Court is bound to recognize. Manekji v Secretary of State for India (1896) Bom P J 529 followed S 19E of the Court Fees Act 1870 contemplates an application on the part of the person who has taken out probate and produces the same to be duly stamped. It further contemplates that the estimated value of the estate is less than what the value has afterwards proved to be. A G v Frier 11 Price 163. Bradlaugh v Clarke L R 3 A C 351. Cowthorne v Campbell 1 Anst 214. In the goods of Cmdn Bibee 1 L P 26 Cal 407. In the goods of Sreenivasan G G W N 529 referred to. NIJENJA PATTI CHOWDHURANI v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) 41 L R 43 Cal 230 — Interest exorbitant rate of—Inference by Court—Court's power to reduce rate of interest—Mortgage—Release of one joint mortgagor effect of—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 44 74. It is competent to a Court to grant relief whenever the stipulation for payment of interest at a specified rate appears to the Court to be a stipulation by way of penalty. What constitutes a stipulation by way of penalty must be determined in each individual case upon its own special circumstances. Wester v Bosanquet [1912] A C 321. Khagaram Das v Parniankar Das Pramanil I L P 4 Cal 65. Pouurang Paja Chellaphroo Chowdhuri v Banga Behari Sen 40 C B 4 408. Abdul Majeed v Ahirode Chandra Pal I L R 42 Cal 690 and Gopeshwar Saha v Jadav Chandra Chanda I L P 43 Cal 63 referred to Per SANDERSON C J. The release of one of several joint mortgagors with no express reservation of the mortgagee a remedy against the other mortgagors does not ipso facto release the other mortgagors. Krishna Charan Barman v Sayat Kumar Das (1916) I L R 44 Cal 162.

PENALTY—contd

COMPARE HINDU LAW (MINOR)

2 Pat L J 212

PENSION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 10

4 Pat L J 557

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)

PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 9 SCH II s 20

I L R 37 Bom. 442

ss 3, 4, 6 & 8—Pension—Definition—

Grant of village by Government revenue free—Wajib ul-ar—Construction of document—Condition purporting to restrain alienation. Held that a grant of zamindari the revenue of which is remitted by the Government is not a pension within the meaning of s 3 of the Pensions Act 1871 and no certificate is necessary under s 6 to institute a suit with respect to it. Nor can an entry in the wajib ul-ar to the effect that no co-sharer is competent to transfer property standing by itself have the effect of making such property untransferable. Ganpat Rao v Anand Rao I L R 28 All 104. 32 All 148 and Lachmi Narain v Makund Singh I L R 26 All 617 referred to. MANNU LAL v FAZL IMAM (1911) I L R 88 All 580.

s 4—

See SARANJAM I L R 41 Bom 408

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

I L R 33 Cal 378

Collector—Certificate of Collector—Civil Court—Jurisdiction—Suit for declaration for share in cash allowance—Deshpande Kulkarni Vatan. The plaintiffs sued for a declaration that they were owners of a share in the Deshpande Kulkarni Vatan which consisted of a cash allowance paid annually from the Government Treasury. They did not produce a certificate from the Collector as required by s 4 of the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871). Held that the suit in the absence of a certificate from the Collector could not be entertained in a Civil Court owing to the provisions of s 4 of the Pensions Act 1871 inasmuch as the suit was clearly one relating to a pension or grant of money conferred by the British Government. Dabaji Hari v Pajaram Bhatt I L R 1 Bom 75 followed. Gorind Sita

PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)—contd

s 4—contd

ram v Bapuji Mahadeo I L R 18 Bom 516 distinguished. DWARKANATH AMRIT v MAHADEO BALKRISHNA (1912) I L R 37 Bom 91.

Kulkarni Vatan—Land revenue assigned for the office of Kulkarni—Suit for a share in the revenue—Civil Court—Jurisdiction. A suit by a member of a Vatan family for a declaration of his right as owner of a certain share in the land revenue assigned for the purpose of supporting the office of Kulkarni is a suit falling within the purview of s 4 of the Pensions Act 1871 and is not maintainable without a certificate from the Collector. BALKRISHNA SAMBHAJI v DATTA TRAYA MAHADEV (1917) 3 L R 42 Bom 257.

No distinct grant of land revenue—Section no bar—Hereditary Village Offices Act (Mad Act III of 1895) s 21 in any claim to recover emoluments of an office meaning of—Regulation VI of 1831—No jurisdiction for Revenue Courts to decide what are emoluments or to decree possession—Res judicata. s 4 of the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871) is a bar to a civil suit only where the Court is able to hold that there was distinct grant of the land revenue itself and where there is nothing to show that in the hands of Government before the grant of the snam the land was treated as liable for the payment of land revenue or that the Government intended to split up its ownership into meltaram and kudaram or to make a distinct grant of the land revenue s 4 of the Pensions Act cannot have any application with reference to a suit for the recovery of such land alleged to have been granted as snam. Her Highness Mathu Sri Jeyjamba Bai Sahib v Secretary of State (Appeal No 10 of 1906) explained and followed. The words any claim to recover the emoluments of an office. The Madras Hereditary Village Offices Act (Mad Act III of 1895) s 21 can only mean a claim to recover what in fact are the emoluments of an office or possibly what are claimed by the plaintiff to be the emoluments of an office and cannot by any rule of construction be extended to include a claim to recover what the plaintiff denies to be the emoluments of an office but what the defendant alleges to be such emoluments. Kasirama Narasimhulu v Narasimhulu Patnaidu I L R 30 Mad 126 explained and distinguished. Under Madras Regulation VI of 1831 which was repealed by Madras Act III of 1895 the Revenue Courts had no jurisdiction to decide what were the emoluments of an office or to declare possession against a person alleged to be a trespasser. Hence neither s 21 of Act III of 1895 nor Regulation VI of 1831 is bar to the suit. Sarutha Koundan v Mathu Koundan I L R 13 Mad 41 referred to. Therefore a decision under the Regulation VI of 1831 cannot operate as res judicata with reference to a suit for lands in a civil Court. SECRETARY OF STATE v SUBBARAYUDU (1913) I L R 38 Mad. 559.

ss 4 5 6—Suit for a declaration affecting the liability of Government—Jurisdiction of civil Court. The plaintiff came into Court claiming in effect a declaration that he was entitled to be considered as the signee of the Government revenue payable in respect of certain property as being the reverser to one Dabaji Hari who was the last signee. He produced a certificate purporting to be a certificate under s 6 of the Pensions Act 1871 but it was a certificate granted in respect of some former litigation between the plaintiff and a rival claimant to the property. Held that the suit as framed could not be entertained without the production of a certificate in conformity with s 6 of Act No XXIII of 1871 that the certificate produced was not in conformity with s 6 of the said Act and that in any case it would be impossible to pass a decree in favour of the plaintiff without affecting the liability of Government to pay such grant within the meaning of the section. The Secretary of State for India v Momen I L R 40 Cal 391 distinguished. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v JAWAHIR LAL (1915) I L R 37 All 338

PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)—contd— ss 4 5 6—contd

Suit to recover Sardeshmukhi Haq—Pensions and grants in Ratnagiri District—Pensions Act whether ultra vires—Bombay Regulation (XXIX of 1837) s 6—Civil Court—Jurisdiction Plaintiff filed a suit against Government to recover two per cent Sardeshmukhi Haq on certain villages in Ratnagiri District not on the old Jamabandi but on survey assessment. The District Judge held that the suit was barred under s 4 of the Pensions Act 1871. On appeal it was contended that the Pensions Act so far as it dealt with pensions and grants of land revenue in Ratnagiri District was ultra vires. Held that the Pensions Act was not ultra vires and that the suit was barred under s 4 of the Act. Secretary of State for India v Momen (1912) L R 40 I A 48 distinguished. Varadachariar v Mital v Collector of Ratnagiri (1877) I R 4 I A 119 relied on. The Pensions Act could not be ultra vires unless it was established that a suit would have lain against the East India Company on a grant of land revenue. But such a suit would not lie inasmuch as the East India Company exercised sovereign rights in collecting land revenue. If they chose to grant any share of that land revenue to individuals they did so not as a mere matter of contract in the ordinary affairs of life but in the exercise of sovereign rights. MADHAVRAO MORESHWAR v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1920) I L R 45 Bom 198

— s 6—

Sanad construction of—Certificate giving Court jurisdiction to try suit—Grant of soil of village not a grant of land revenue—Non production of certificate at time of institution of suit—Grant on payment of quit rent A village portion of the subject of a suit or partition was granted to the ancestor of the parties by Maharaja Scindia of Gwalior in 1861 and the grant was confirmed in 1866 by the British Government in a sanad which declared that the village in question shall be continued to the grantee and his heirs inclusive of all lands allowances and rights belonging to heirs so long as he and his heirs shall continue loyal to the British Government and shall pay Rs. 800 to Government as a quit rent. In a later portion of the sanad there was a guarantee against any further payment by the holder on account of Imperial Land Revenue beyond the amount specified and a declaration that the village and its holder shall be liable for any local taxation which may be imposed on the district generally. Held affirming the decision of the High Court that the sanad was not a grant of Land Revenue but of the soil of the village itself and therefore the Pensions Act (XXIII of 1871) did not apply but even if it did the Subordinate Judge had rightly held that an order made by the Revenue Court referring the plaintiff (respondent) to a suit in the Civil Court was equivalent to a certificate under s 6. Semle. The non production of a certificate under s 6 of the Pensions Act at the time of the institution of a suit for which such a certificate is necessary is not a bar to the maintenance of the suit but is a defect which may be cured by obtaining the certificate at a later stage of the proceedings. GANTAP PAO v ANANT RAO (1909) I L R 32 All 148

PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)—contd— s 6—contd

Saranjam—Grant of land revenue—Suit to recover—Collector's certificate—Admission of pleader binding on client—Preliminary decree—Appeal—Remand—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 23 The grantee of a Saranjam filed a suit for the recovery thereof and at the trial a preliminary issue was raised as to the maintainability of the suit without the certificate provided for by s 6 of the Pensions Act. The grantee's pleader admitted a certificate was necessary but after several adjournments for the purpose failed to produce a certificate. A decree was thereupon passed on the preliminary issue dismissing the suit. On appeal by the grantee it was contended that he was not bound by the admission of the pleader and it was stated that such evidence could be produced as would render a certificate unnecessary. Held that the grantee was bound by the admission of his pleader and that even if he was not so bound there was no material before the Court to justify a reversal of the decree and therefore a remand under O XXI r 23 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) was impossible. In the absence of evidence to the contrary the grant of a Saranjam must be presumed to be a grant of land revenue and not of the soil. Ramchandra v Venkatarao I L R 6 Bom 698 and Paja Bommadarera v Narasimha Naidu v Raja Bommadarera Enalga Karu Naidu L R 29 I A 76 referred to. DATTAJIRAO GHORPADE v NILKANTHRAO (1914) I L R 39 Bom 352

— ss 8 11—

See s 8 I L R 100 All 580

— ss 8 11—Toda gras allowance—Purchase of the rights to receive allowance at a Court sale—The allowance entered in the name of the purchaser—Application by heirs of the purchaser to receive arrears of allowance—Certificate of Collector. It was directed by a decree that the purchaser at a Court sale of a Toda gras allowance should recover from the Collector the amount due for arrears of the allowance from the date of his purchase. An application to execute this decree was made in 1864 in consequence of which the decree holder's name was entered in the Collector's books as the person entitled to the allowance in question and the arrears up to 1864 were paid. In 1903 the decree holder's heirs applied to the Court to recover the arrears of allowance that had remained unpaid since 1864. The Collector contended that the application could not be entertained in the absence of a certificate from the Collector under the provisions of s 6 of the Pensions Act 1871 Held overruling the contention, that the power of the Collector under the Act had been exhausted and there was no discretion for that officer to exercise either under the Act or the rules so far as the applicant's right to recover the arrears that had become due in the life time of the last holder was concerned. Held further that if those amounts remained unpaid the Collector held them for and on behalf of the last holder as moneys due to him and as moneys therefore recoverable on his death by his heirs independently of any question which might arise under the Pensions Act 1871 or the rules framed thereunder CHHAGANLAL v. PRANJIVAN (1903) I L R. 34 Bom 154

PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871)—contdss. 6, 8 11—contd.

s. 11—Pension—Grant of land by Government—Construction of document—Execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s. 60(g) The Government for political considerations granted certain property to the original grantee for life and to his descendants as an absolute estate. Held that such grant did not constitute a political pension within the meaning of s. 60 (g) of the Code of Civil Procedure and that the land so granted was not exempt from attachment and sale in execution of a decree. Held also that the rights of the parties to whom the grant had been made by the Government must be determined by reference to the original sanad conferring title on the grantee and his descendants and the opinions expressed by certain Revenue Officers as to its meaning were irrelevant on a question of the construction of the document. Lachmi Narain v. Makund Singh I L R 36 All 617 and Amna Bibi v. Hajm un nissa I L R 31 All 332 followed. HANIZ FATIMA BEGAM v. SAKINA BIBI (1914) I L R 36 All 313

PERFORMANCE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XVIII s. 3
I L R 38 Mad 959

Time for—

See PROCEDURE
I L R 43 Cal 832

PERGANA REGISTER

See LAKHERAS LANDS
I L R 45 Cal 574

PERILS OF THE SEA

See INSURANCE 16 E W N 991

PERIODexpiry of the—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s. 67
[I L R. 34 Bom 462]

PERJURY

See DEPOSITION I L R 46 Cal 895

See BENGAL EXCISE ACT s. 16
15 E W N 169

See FRAUD I L R 33 Mad 203

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s. 2 191 193
I L R. 36 All 362

PERJURY—contdabatement of, before Magistrate—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s. 195 I L R 42 Bom 190

Arising from contradictory statements—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) ss. 236 195 537 (b) AND 164
I L R 45 Bom 834

sanction to prosecute for not desirable in public interests—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s. 195
I L R 37 Mad 564

In deposition before Civil Court not read out to deponent—

See PENAL CODE 1860 s. 193
I L R 1 Lah 361

Sanction for prosecution—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s. 195—Conditional sanction A sanction to prosecute for perjury given under s. 195 Criminal Procedure Code cannot be conditional. RE MUNEXYA (1913) I L R 35 Mad. 471

Witness—Deposition not read over to witness in the hearing of accused or his pleader but read by witness himself—Inadmissibility of deposition in subsequent trial for giving false evidence—Proceeding against witness—Preliminary inquiry—Omission to record statements of witnesses examined thereat—Order for prosecution not containing assignment of the false statements—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss. 360 (1) & 476—Practice s. 360 (1) of the Criminal Procedure Code requires the evidence of a witness to be read over to him in the hearing of the accused or his pleader so as to enable the latter to correct any mistakes in it. The reading of the deposition by the witness himself is not a compliance with the section and renders the record of it inadmissible in a subsequent trial against him under s. 193 of the Penal Code. Malendra Nath Misser v. Emperor 12 C B N 845 and Jyotish Chandra Mukerjee v. Emperor I L R 36 Cal 955 followed. Although s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code does not expressly provide for the manner in which the preliminary enquiry thereunder is to be recorded a summary of the statements of the witnesses examined thereat should be made. An order under the same section directing the production of a person for giving false evidence should set out the statements alleged to be false. EMERSON v. JOORCHAND NATH GHOSE (1914) I L R 42 Cal 240

Power of High Court to direct prosecution when false evidence given before the Committing Magistrate in the Mofussil—Nearest first class Magistrate—Presidency Magistrate—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s. 476—Practice Where a witness examined during the trial of a prisoner at the Original Criminal Sessions of the High Court has intentionally made false statements before the committing officer at B in the district of Alipore the High Court has jurisdiction, under s. 476 of the Criminal Procedure Code to send the case of the witness for inquiry or trial to the District Magistrate of Alipore as the nearest Magistrate of the first class. Kedar Nath Kar v. King Emperor 3 C

PERJURY—concl'd

Emperor distinguished EMPEROR v. Tripura Shankar Sarkar 1 L R 37 Calc 618 L J 357
 DONALDSON (1916) 1 L R 43 Calc 542

PERMANENCY OF RENT

—presumption of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 1 L R 44 Calc 930

PERMANENT AGRICULTURAL TENURE

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 1 L R 37 Calc 723

PERMANENT HEREDITARY TENURE

See MINES AND MINERALS
 1 L R 44 Calc 585

PERMANENT IMPROVEMENTS

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
 1 L R 37 Calc 362

PERMANENT LEASE.

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION
 1 L R 43 Calc 1118

See HINDU LAW—RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT
 1 L R 42 Calc 538

See LEASE 1 L R 43 Calc 332

See LIMITATION 1 L R 43 Calc 34

PERMANENT RIGHT OF OCCUPANCY

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT 1903
 1 L R 44 Mad 856

PERMANENT SETTLEMENT

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAM LANDS
 1 L R 44 Calc 841

See FISHERY 1 L R 42 Calc 489

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII OF 1865) s 1 1 L R 38 Mad 997
 s 14 PROS 1 AND 2
 1 L R 40 Mad 886

See MADRAS REGULATION XXV OF 1802
 1 L R 44 Mad 864

See REGULATION I OF 1793
 15 F W N 300

PERMANENT TENANCY

See BHAGDARI ACT (BOM ACT V OF 1862)
 s 3 1 L R 38 Bom 679

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1870) s 3
 1 L R 38 Bom 716

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 1 L R 47 Calc 1 and 230

See LEASE 1 L R 43 Calc 332

See SUB LEASE
 1 L R 48 Calc 783

See TITLE SUIT FOR
 1 L R 37 Calc 662

—by occupancy raiyat—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 85
 25 C W N 4

PERMANENT TENANCY—cont'd.

—If may be granted by raiyat at fixed rent—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 ss 11
 12 18 AND 85 25 C W N 9

—power of head of mutt to grant—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT
 1 L R 40 Mad 745

—Adverse possession—Necessity of notice to the landlord—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 1 L R 45 Bom 508

—Adverse possession of tenant against mortgagee—Whether can run adversely against mortgagor—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION
 1 L R 45 Bom 661

1 ——— Building lease—Lease construction of—Permanency inference as to—Drilling house—Long possession The mere facts that a lease of land was for dwelling purposes and that the lessees have been allowed to remain in possession of the land on payment of rent for a long period would not in themselves be sufficient to establish the permanent nature of the tenancy where there is nothing to show that the building was contemplated to be or in fact was a masonry building BARADA PRASAD BARMAN v. PRASANTO KUMAR DAS (1912) 16 C W N 564

2 ——— Lease—Presumption of permanency—Lease for building purpose—Long possession—Uniform rent—Permanency question of mixed law and fact—Second appeal Where the origin of a tenancy was unknown and it was established (i) that the original tenant and his successor had been in occupation of the land for over sixty years (ii) that the rent had never been varied (iii) that the tenancy had been treated by the landlord as heritable and (iv) that the land was let out for residential purposes the inference was held to be legitimate that the tenancy at its inception was permanent The question of the nature of the tenancy is a mixed question of fact and law the inference as to the nature of the tenancy from the facts found is a question of law which can be gone into on second appeal MOHA RAM CHAPRAJI v. TELAMUDDIN KHAN (1911) 16 C W N 567

PERMANENTLY SETTLED ESTATE

See BENGAL TENANCY
 1 L R 38 Calc 473

See LAND TENURE IN MADRAS
 L R 46 I A 33

See PRESERVED FOREST
 1 L R 47 Calc 859

PERPETUAL INJUNCTION

See INJUNCTION 1 L R 37 Calc 731

See TRUST 1 L R 41 Calc 19

PERPETUITIES

See CHARITABLE TRUST
 1 L R 48 Calc 124

See PRE EMPHOV
 1 L R 38 Mad 114

PERPETUITIES—contdSee PUTTE LEASE

14 C W N 601

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1852) s 84 I L R 39 Mad 462*See* WILL 3 Pat. L J 199

I L R 40 Calc 192

I L R 46 Calc 485

————— applicable to Hindu Law —————

See PRE EMPTION I L R 38 Mad 114*See* HINDU LAW 25 C W N 148

————— Rule against—Covenant to run with the land An agreement to grant at an indefinite time in the future whatever land might be required by the other party to the agreement is void as offending the rule against perpetuities MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v BALCHAND CHOWDHURY I L R 48 I A 376

3 Pat. L J 163

PERSONÆ INCERTÆ*See* HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 39 Calc 87

15 C W N 945

PERSONAL ACTION

————— whether criminal proceedings abate on death of person assaulted —————

See PENAL CODE 1860 ss 304 AND 373

I L R 1 Lah 27

————— Abatement—Death of plaintiff after obtaining a decree in his favour—Whether his legal representatives can carry on an appeal One D P sold his land in 1908 P a collateral of D P brought the present suit for possession on the allegation that the sale was without consideration and necessary. The first Court decreed plaintiff's claim on payment of Rs 830 being the part of the consideration which it held to have been legally proved. Both parties appealed. During pendency of the appeals P died leaving no heirs except his two widows whose names were brought on the record as legal representatives of the deceased. The lower Appellate Court was of opinion that the right of P being personal his widows could not carry on the appeal which was therefore held to have abated and was dismissed. The Court also held that the vendee's appeal must under the circumstances succeed. The widows appealed to the High Court. Held that judgment having been obtained before plaintiff's death the benefit of it survived to his legal representatives and that the lower Appellate Court must therefore hear the appeals on their merits. Muhammad Hussain v Ahushalo (I L R 9 All 131 P B) Subbaraya Mudali v Manika Mudali (I L R 19 Mad 345) and Gopal Ganesh v Pam Chandra (I L R 26 Bom 597) followed. MUSAMMAT PAM NAUR v JIWAN SINGH

I L R 1 Lah 189

PERSONAL COVENANT*See* LIMITATION I L R 42 Calc 294PERSONAL DEBTSee* PUTTE TENURE

I L R 37 Calc 747

PERSONAL DECREE*See* CHARGE I L R 40 Mad 493*See* DECREE HOLDING I L R 38 Mad 677*See* TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 90 I L R 34 Bom 540

————— against sub mortgagee —————

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Calc 702PERSONA DESIGNATASee* NAIKINS I L R 37 Bom 116PERSONAL INAMSee* MADRAS FOREST ACT (XXI OF 1882) ss 10 16 17

I L R 39 Mad 494

PERSONAL LIABILITY*See* EXECUTOR I L R 45 Calc 538*See* FOREIGN JUDGMENT I L R 36 Mad 414PESHKOSH

1. ————— Abuab—Antiquity and purpose of payment—Contractual foundation—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 74 30 (c)—Public Demands Recovery Act (Beng 1 of 1895) Where the Collector in execution of a certificate issued under the Public Demands Recovery Act realised from the plaintiffs certain charges described as peshkosh levied on two estates from time immemorial and the plaintiff sued for a declaration that it was illegal and prayed for the cancellation of the certificate for the refund of the amount thereunder and for a perpetual injunction restraining the defendant from levying the peshkosh in future. Held that peshkosh could not be regarded as an imposition in the nature of an abuab within the meaning of the various provisions enacted on that subject. Such payment came out of the land and the right thereto was an interest in the land to which a title might be made by prescription. Held also that the peculiar situation and character of the land and antiquity and purpose of the payment all pointed to a legitimate contractual foundation. Uday Narain Jana v The Secretary of State for India in Council (1916) S A No 44 of 1912 (unreported) referred to LAKSHMI NARAYAN ROY v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918) I L R 45 Calc 226

2. ————— Peshkosh or annual sum levied by Government for upkeep of embankment of abuab An annual sum levied by Government for the upkeep of embankments is not an abuab. Long continued payment from time immemorial which in itself is a title in the receipt of the payment is a good and sufficient basis of the claim. UDAY NARAYAN JANA v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) 22 C W N 623

PETITION

————— delay in filing divorce —————

See DIVORCE ACT (IV OF 1869) s 14 I L R 41 Bom 115

————— for winding up Company —————

See COMPANY I L R 39 Bom 18 47PETITION OF COMPROMISE.See* COMPROMISE I L R 45 Calc 816

PETROLEUM ACT (VIII OF 1899)

ss 11 and 15—Keeping in possession a quantity exceeding the maximum allowed by law—Liability of a licensee for the acts of his servant or agent in the absence of finding of guilty knowledge on his own part—Petroleum Act (VIII of 1899) ss 11 and 15 (a). A licensee is not in the absence of a finding by the Court that he knew that more than 500 gallons of petroleum were being transported at one time on his license and that he allowed the same to take place with such knowledge by his servant criminally liable under ss 11 and 15 (a) of the Indian Petroleum Act (VIII of 1899) for the acts of the latter done in contravention of the law. Though the Act provides a personal liability the only person that can be punished is the one who keeps petroleum or carries it about or puts more than 500 gallons at one place. GANIAT PATI v. EMPEROR (1912)
 I L R 40 Calc 356

PIAL

over a drain right to—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad 6

PICKETING

See MARKET FRANCHISE

I L R 47 Calc 1079

PIECEMEAL ACQUISITION

See LAND ACQUISITION

I L R 48 Calc 892

PIECEMEAL TRIAL

See RAILWAY

I L R 42 Calc 313

PILGRIM BUSINESS

profits from—

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Calc 678

PILGRIMAGE

See HINDU LAW—LEGAL NECESSITY

I L R 110 Bom 88

PITRAI CHELA

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 39 Bom 168

PLACE OF EXAMINATION—

See EXAMINATION OF COMMISSION

I L R 48 Calc 448

PLACE OF SUING

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 20

I L R 42 All 480 619

PLAINT

See AMENDMENT OF PLAINT

I L R 36 All 370

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O VI AND VII

See COURT FEE I L R 42 Calc 370

See PLEADINGS I L R 37 Calc 856

See PRACTICE I L R 34 Bom 244

amendment of—

See APPEAL I L R 43 Calc 95

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 38 Calc 797

PLAINT—contd

amendment of—contd

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882

I L R 34 Bom 250

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 9 I L R 45 Bom 589

s 92 I L R 36 Bom. 168

O VI R 17 I L R 38 Mad 378

I L R 44 Bom 515

See CONTRACT I L R 47 Calc 458

See COURT FEE I L R 44 Calc 352

See HINDU LAW—ADOPTION

5 Pat L J 164

See IDOL I L R 33 All 735

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 8

14 C W N 128

See LIMITATION ACT (1877 or 1908) s 3

I L R 33 All 616

See LIS PENDENS

I L R 41 All 534

See PARTIES I L R 37 Calc 229

See PARTITION SUIT FOR

I L R 38 Calc 651

See PRE EMPTION I L R 36 All 873

See PROCEDURE I L R 48 Calc 832

See REMAND I L R 43 Calc 938

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 32

25 C W N 553

See U P COURT OF WARDS ACT (III of 1899) s 48

I L R 37 All 18

authority to file—

See PRACTICE I L R 39 All 343

construction of—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)

s 9 I L R 40 All 637

order returning—for presentation in

Proper Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 104

O XIII s 1 I L R 42 All 74

s 115 I L R 43 All 334

presentation of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1903) s 10—

I L R 39 Mad 285

rejection of—

See COURT FEE I L R 40 Calc 818

I L R 44 Calc 352

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT

I L R 34 Bom 267

See JUDICIAL OFFICERS PROTECTION ACT

(VIII of 1850) s 1

I L R 39 All 518

Refusal of to presentation in proper

Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 104

O XIII R. 10 I L R 23 All 58

I L R 43 All 334

See LIMITATION ACT (1877 or 1908) s 14

I L R 45 Bom 443

suit against Receiver—

See HIGH COURT I L R 44 Bom 903

PLAINT—contdVerification of —See EX PARTE DECREE*I L R 43 Calc 1001*Amendment—Plaint amendment of

by party to whom it is returned for proper valuation A plaintiff to whom a plaint was returned for properly valuing the properties claimed therein altered the valuation as directed therein and struck out some of the properties to bring the suit within the jurisdiction of the Court Held that there was nothing illegal in the amendment and that it was competent to the Court to accept such amended plaint KARTUNAYIRA PONTA PUNDAY v ATRIMMOOLA IONAPUNDAY (1909)

I L R 33 Mad. 262Leave to file—given by Registrar

Pepe entrant—Limitation error of procedure rectification within time delay in completion of order and recording the representation of plaintiff Where on leave being asked for in the plaint under cl 12 of the Charter the Registrar on the Original Side of the High Court under a misapprehension of the change in procedure with regard to the filing of plaints gave such leave but on discovery of the fact that the Registrar had no authority to grant such leave the plaint was withdrawn on the 10th August 1907 and was immediately after presented before a Judge sitting on the Original Side who gave the leave and endorsed on the plaint presented 15th August 1907 but there was delay in the office in completing the order and stamps were supplied upon requisition from the office on the 14th December 1907 and it was recorded in the office and also re endorsed on the plaint that the plaint was re registered and filed on the 18th December 1907 on objection being taken by the defendant that the suit was barred by limitation Held (by CHAUDHURI J) that the 15th of August 1907 as recorded by the Judge on the plaint was the date of its presentation and the suit was not barred by limitation OSMOND BEEBY v KSHITISH CHANDRA ACHARYA CHAUDHURI (1914)

IN C W N 631Form of plaint—Suit against Corporations—Defendant misdescription of—Service on Corporations—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXIX rr 1 and 2—Practice

In a plaint filed against two companies the defendant companies were described as the India General Steam Navigation and Railway Company Limited and the Rivers Steam Navigation Company Limited by their joint agent A E Rogers and notice was served on Mr Rogers Subsequently Mr Rogers retired from the service of companies and left the country At the trial of this suit the plaint was amended and Mr Rogers name was omitted from the title of the suit which was proceeded with against the two companies Held that the plaint as originally framed was in contravention of O XXIX r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure Ram Das Sen v Stephenson 10 W N 366 Nuben Cander Paul v Stephenson 15 W R 331 and Campbell v Jackson I L R 12 Calc 41 referred to Held also that the amendment might stand but the plaintiffs were bound to serve notices of the suit in the manner provided in O XXIX r 1 after the amendment had been made and the suit properly constituted INDIA GENERAL STEAM NAVIGATION AND RAILWAY COMPANY LD v LAL MOHAN SANA (1915)

I L R 43 Calc 441PLAINT—contd*Amendment of plaint—Procedure—

Suit barred by limitation when change in its nature is made by amendment—Discretion to allow amendment—Valuation of suit—Judicial Committee practice of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O VI r 17 Where there is admittedly a power to allow an amendment of the plaint though such power should not as a rule be exercised where its effect is to take away from a defendant a legal right which has accrued to him by lapse of time yet there are cases where such considerations are outweighed by the special circumstances of the case Mohammad Zahoor Ali Khan v Ruttia Khan II Moo I 1468 referred to The suits which gave rise to the present appeals were instituted by the three first respondents claiming a declaration that they were entitled to certain right of preemption against the several appellants (defendants) who were vendees of certain shares and interests in the properties to which the suits related but none of the plaintiffs claimed possession of the property sold and the usual consequential relief The defendants in their defence admitted the plaintiffs right to preemption but objected that a mere claim to such a right was not a claim to any right of property within the meaning of s 42 of the Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) and that the right to preemption could not be enforced by a mere declaratory decree The Subordinate Judge and the first Appellate Court refused to permit an amendment to the plaintiffs by adding a claim for possession after preemption on the ground that a suit to enforce a right to preemption was barred by lapse of time The Court of the Judicial Commissioner on second appeal allowed the amendment to be made there being no reason to suppose that the plaintiffs had acted otherwise than bona fide and the amendment not making any alteration in the nature of the relief prayed for Held that the discretion exercised in allowing the amendment should not be interfered with Held also that the Board will not interfere with any question of valuation unless it can be shown that some items has been improperly made the subject of valuation or excluded therefrom or that there is some fundamental principle affecting the valuation which renders it unsound On the mere question of the value of admitted items their Lordships will not interfere Nor will they allow an argument based upon an assertion that the valuation has proceeded on an erroneous footing to be raised on appeal to the Board unless it was raised before the Judicial Commissioner and if it were so raised the fact that it is not referred to in the written statement of the party raising it is a good and sufficient reason why it should not be introduced at this late stage of the proceedings.

CHARAN DAS v AMIR KHAN (1920)I L R 48 Calc 110*PLAINTIFFSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXII rr 11 5*I L R 48 Bom. 168*See INSOLVENT PLAINTIFF*death of—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 I L R 40 Mad 110

PLAINTIFF—contd

non appearance of—

See APPEAL I L R 37 Cal 426See NON APPEARANCE
I L R 48 Cal 57

substitution of—

See LIMITATION L R 431 A 113
20 C W N 833PLANTERS LABOUR ACT (MAD I OF 1903)See MADRAS PLANTERS LABOUR ACT 1903

ss 24, 35—Imprisonment for refusal to perform contract extent of Prosecutions and punishments under the Planters Labour Act (Mad. Act I of 1903) cannot continue indefinitely Only two terms of imprisonment may be awarded once under s 24 and again once under s 35 The refusal of a maistry or a labourer under s 35 to perform his contract cannot be treated as a temporary refusal. Re PAROA MAISTRY (1913)

I L R 36 Mad. 497

PLEA OF GUILTYSee PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 415 I L R 43 Bom 842See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 48 Cal 867PLEADERSee BOMBAY REGULATION II OF 1827
s 56 I L R 37 Bom 354See DEFAMATION I L R 41 Cal 514See LEGAL PRACTITIONER
14 C W N 521See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACTSee PRACTICE I L R 34 Bom 408See UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

admission by—

See PENSIONS ACT (XVIII OF 1871)
s 6 I L R 39 Bom. 352

as litigant—

See UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT
I L R 43 Cal 685

contempt of Court by—

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1870) s 14

I L R 39 Mad 1045

defamatory statement by Judge—

See JUDICIAL OFFICERS PROTECTION ACT 1850 I L R 45 Bom 1039

duty of—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT
I L R 44 Bom. 443

status and duty of—

See HIGH COURT I L R 44 Bom. 418

engaging in trade without intimating to Court—

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (XVIII OF 1870) s 13

I L R 37 Mad. 233

1. —Pleader right of retainer of —Has no right to retain moneys in one cause for d e in another cause A pleader in India has no right of retainer in moneys realised by him in one cause for his dues in other causes conducted by him NARAYANASWAMI NAIDU v CHELLAPALLI HANUMANULU (1909) I L R 33 Mad. 255

PLEADER—contd

2. —Pleader's authority to compromise—Deccan Agriculturists Relief Act (XVII of 1879) s 12—Compromise of the case—Court's duty to record the compromise—Pleader a compromiser without authority from his client—client to apply to cancel the compromise Where a party complains that compromise effected in his name was unauthorised he must move the Court to cancel all that has been done and to revive the suit PIRAJI v GANAPATI (1910)

I L R 31 Bom. 502

3. —Duty towards client—Pleader in the mofussil—Winding up proceedings—Pleader must not represent parties whose interest are conflicting—Bombay Regulation II of 1827 s 56 By the custom of the mofussil a pleader employed by a party to a proceeding before a Court is bound faithfully and exclusively to serve that party throughout the whole proceeding The pleader in the mofussil is not merely an advocate—he is the confidential legal adviser of his client and does for him those things which in the presidency towns are often done by solicitors For legal advice for the prosecution of legal proceedings in all their stages the client depends on the pleader This dependence makes the position of the pleader peculiarly onerous and binds him to give exclusive attention to the interest of the client throughout any proceedings in which he is engaged In winding up proceedings a single pleader must not represent two different creditors whose interests are known to conflict A pleader must not accept a talalatnama when he knows that he cannot act for his client throughout the proceedings A pleader in defending himself against charges of professional misconduct made certain statements He was dealt with under the disciplinary jurisdiction for making them It was contended in his behalf that the statements made by him in defence must be regarded as having been made by an accused and were therefore protected Held overruling the contention that the pleader was writing to the Court as a pleader and was responsible as such for the statements made by him. GOVERNMENT PLEADER v BHAGUBAI DAYA BHAI (1912) I L R 36 Bom 606

4. —Suspension of vakil. Under s 90 of the Appellate Sides rule of the Madras High Court pleaders are responsible to the Registrar for all translations and printing charges incurred by him on their behalf To that extent therefore the vakil must co operate in the conduct of the suit with the Registrar and with the Court under those regulations and vakils have also the general function applicable not only to the bar in general but also to solicitors at large that they must in the conduct of all suits entrusted to them co operate with the Court in the orderly and pure administration of justice. In a proceeding in the High Court to restore an appeal which had been struck off for non payment of the printing charges it appeared that the vakil for the appellant though the money for that specific purpose had been received in his office from his client had omitted to pay it to the Registrar had not made any true and proper explanation to his client of the cause of the appeal being struck off but had allowed letters written by his clerks to go from his office to the client and had even written one himself which would lead him to believe that the appeal had been heard and dismissed in due course and had also not given the Court on the earliest possible opportunity an answer for his absence when the appeal was called on except that other professional engagements had prevented him from being present nor had he ever offered to the Court any explanation or apology concerning his conduct of the case nor expressed to the Court any regret for its effect. The vakil after being called on to show cause why he should not be punished under the Letters Patent of the High Court or the Legal Practitioners Act (VIII of 189) for professional misconduct was whilst personally acquitted of any fraudulent or criminal act suspended from practising for six months. Held on an appeal to the Judicial Committee that the vakil had in his acts and omissions to explain regret or apologise for them utterly failed to perform what his honour and duty to his client and to the Court made it incumbent upon him to do and their Lordships while not interfering with his acquittance of direct and personal fraud did not see their way to acquit him of conduct in the management of the appeal and of his client's affairs which caused the procedure of the Court to be the very opposite of what it should be namely responsible orderly and pure and they were of opinion that there was reasonable cause under s 10 of the Letters Patent for the sentence pronounced by the High Court which was justified both in its pronouncement and the extent of the suspension. In the matter of KRISHNASWAMI AYYAR 1912).

PLEADER contd

I. L. R. 35 Mad. 543

5 ———— Compromise of suit by ———— Unless authorised by client—Scope of authority of Attorney. Although a pleader has no power to compromise a suit unless he is specially authorised in that behalf he can bind his client by an admission upon a question of fact provided that such question falls within the scope of the suit in which he has been retained. Bhuthnath v Ramlal 6 C W N 82 Jagapati v Ekamlarn 1 L R 21 Mad 274 followed Kouer Narain v Greenath 9 W R 485 Rajunder v Bijay Govind 2 Moo 1 A 253 Itina Lal v Mansa Ram 1 L R 18 All 384 Venkata Nara Simha v Bhasaya Karlu 1 L R 22 Mad 638 Nando Lal v Natarain 1 L R 27 Calc 428 Swinfu v Chelmsford IF and F 619 27 L J Ex 38 referred to DORJOY RAY v SHANKU ATA PAHAMAN (1911).

17 C W N 150

6 ———— Admission of women as pleaders—Disqualification—Constant Tradition—Regulation of 1871 for the Administration of Justice—Regulation VII of 1793 (Vol 1s) Preamble—Regulation (XXVII of 1914 (Vakil's) Preamble as 4 5 10 to 14 18 20 to 2 30 35 37—Legal Practitioners Act (I of 1846) as 4 1—Pleaders of Lower Provinces Act (XIII of 1857)—Legal Practitioners Act (X of 1853)—Calcutta University Act (II of 1857)—Penal Code (XLV of 1860) s 8—Succession Act (I of 1865) s 3—Mofussil Small Cause Courts Act (XI of 1865) s 1—Pleaders of Mulktears and Revenue Agents Act (XII of 1865) s 1—Pleaders of Revenue Agents Act (XIII of 1865) s 1—Pleaders

PLEADER contd

Amending Act (XXIV of 1865)—General clauses Act (I of 1863) s 2—Legal Practitioners Act (XIII of 1879) s 8 High Court rules thereunder General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 13 As the law now stands women are not entitled to be enrolled as pleaders of Courts subordinate to the High Court. The Rules of the High Court were made in accordance with and for the purpose of carrying out the intention of the Legal Practitioners Act 1879 and are not ultra vires. Per MOOREJEE J It is improper to give an extended construction of a statute in the absence of an intention on the part of the Legislature to reverse the established policy or to introduce a fundamental change in long established principles of law. Where it appears that a change of such a policy is desirable the proper remedy is legislation and not an alteration of the law in the disguise of judicial exposition of the existing law. Case law on the subject referred to Per CURTIS J In framing rules under an Act of the Legislature the Court should not use any particular expression or word in a different sense to be applied to the particular expression or word by the Act itself. But it is doubtful whether the General Clauses Act applies to rules framed by the High Court under the Legal Practitioners Act 1879. REGINA GUHA In re (1916) I. L. R. 44 Calc 290

7 ———— Professional misconduct—Disciplinary action—Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879) s 14—Criminal offence—Suspicion. The District Judge of Rangpur made a reference under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act against C a pleader on three charges formulating strong suspicion that he offered to bribe the record room keeper and attempted to have certain words removed from a document. Held where the misconduct alleged has no direct connection with the conduct of the pleader in his practical and immediate relation to the Court ordinarily there should be a trial and conviction for criminal misconduct before disbarment will be ordered. In the matter of an attorney 1 L R 41 Calc 113 In the matter of Nal Auni Biswas 9 W R Cr 29 In the matter of the second grade Pleaders 1 L R 34 Mad 29 In the matter of 5 B and A D 1038 In re 3 Nev and Per 389 Ex parte 2 Dougl P O 110 Stephens v Hill 10 All and W 78 Ex parte Wall 107 U S 265 referred to CHANDI CHARAN MITTAR A PLEADER In re (1904).

I. L. R. 47 Calc 1115

PLEADER'S FEES

See BOMBAY REGULATION II of 1827 s 62 I. L. R. 37 Bom. 303

See COSTS I. L. R. 40 All 515

See HIGH COURT GENERAL RULES OF FOR CIVIL COURTS CHAPTER XXI R 1 I. L. R. 41 All 246

Rules of Court of the 4th April 1894 r 80 (1) proviso—Pleader's fees—Fee certificate not filed at or before the hearing—Fee not paid before hearing—Discretion of Court. Held on a construction of r 80 (1) of the rules of Court of the 4th April 1894 that the proviso to r 30 only gives a court a discretion to accept a certificate for fees filed after the commencement of the hearing but whatever might have been intended leaves no discretion as to the allowance on taxation of a fee which in fact was not paid

PLEADER'S FEES—contd

on or before the first hearing BANK OF BENGAL CAWNPORE v KALRA DAS (1911)

I L R 33 ALL 374

Practice—Costs scale of—Taxation—Probate proceedings—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s 83—General Rules and Circular Orders of the High Court Chapter VI rr 36 (a) and 42 (a) and Chapter X r 26 In a contested probate proceeding in which letters of administration and costs are granted the pleader's fee can only be assessed under Chapter VI r 42 (a) of the General Rules and Circular Orders of the High Court Rule 36 (a) and Chapter VI of the Rules and Orders has no application BAIJNATH PRASAD SINGH v SHAM SUNDAR KUAR (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 637

PLEADER'S ACT (I of 1846)—

See REGULATION II of 1827 (Bom)

I L R 37 Bom 303

PLEADERS MUKHTARS AND REVENUE AGENTS ACT (XX OF 1865)

See PLEADER I L R 44 Cal 290

PLEADERSHIP EXAMINATION

Pledership Examination—Candidate—Examiners—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877) ss 45 46—Mandamus—Discretion In making an application under s 45 of the Specific Relief Act the provisions of s 46 must be strictly observed and in dealing with such an application the principles applicable to a writ of mandamus should generally be followed Bank of Bombay v Suleman Somji I L R 32 Bom 166 referred to PROVAS CHANDRA ROY in the matter of (1913)

I L R 40 Cal 583

PLEADERS OF LOWER PROVINCES ACT (XVIII OF 1852)

See PLEADER I L R 44 Cal 290

PLEADINGS

See ABANDONMENT 22 C W N 853

See ARREST OF SHIP

I L R 42 Cal 85

CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908, Os VI VII & VIII

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 105

I L R 40 All 284

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 35 All 326

See ORISSA TENANCY ACT 1913

4 Pat L J 387

See PRE EMPTION I L R 36 All 456

476 573

See SPECIFIC MOVABLE PROPERTY

I L R 39 Mad 1

mistake of law of liquidator—

See CONTRACT WITH FEMY

I L R 44 Bom 631

whether a plea of jurisdiction can be raised on appeal—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1501 s 177

I L R 43 All 18

PLEADINGS—contd

whether a plea of jurisdiction can be raised on appeal—contd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1832) s 52 I L R 37 Bom 427

1 Quere Whether a defendant who puts the plaintiffs to proof of a family usage alleged by them is precluded at a later stage from saying that he will not insist on the proof of usage but will accept the plaintiffs case on the point HAZARI MALL BABU v ARANI NATH ADHURJYA (1912)

17 C W N 280

2 Plaint's amendment of when should be allowed Amendment of a plaintiff for a claim should be allowed only where the claim has been omitted by a mistake or inadvertence or for similar reasons and not deliberately BAVUKI KORE v RAM KHELWAT PERSHAD (1912)

17 C W N 311

3 Change of case—Issues—Suit to set aside a deed of gift as fraudulent failing claim for accounts of a share as from agent Where on the eve of a contemplated pilgrimage to Mecca M transferred her property to her nephew E by a deed of gift and on the same date the latter executed a deed which provided that a fourth share of the properties thus conveyed should remain in her possession during her life time and on her death should come into E's possession Held that the fact that in a suit to set aside the deed of gift on the ground of fraud and misrepresentation which failed a general issue as to whether E was liable to render an account to M was raised with reference to the whole property would not justify the Court in passing a decree directing E to account for the profits of a fourth share on the footing of his being M's agent in respect of that share MAHMUDA KHA TUN CHOWDHURANI v MOHAMED ELAHADAD KHAN PANI (1912)

17 C W N 427

4 Facts in plaintiff not traversed in written statement or put in issue—Court not entitled to decide otherwise Where a statement of fact in the plaintiff was not traversed in the written statement or put in issue the Court is not entitled to decide it against the pleadings RAM LAL MONDAL v KHIPODA MOHINI DAST (1913)

18 C W N 113

5 Variance between Plaintiff's allegation and proof when ground for dismissal of suit—True rule—Its object—Suit for recovery of possession—Mode of ouster and time thereof allegation as to if material Where an order having been passed in favour of the defendants under s 33 of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 the decree holder (now plaintiff) sued for recovery of possession upon declaration of his title alleging that the order itself deprived him of possession but the Courts below dismissed the suit without trial on the merits on the ground that the order under s 33 of Criminal Procedure Code had not that effect Held that the suit should have been tried on the merits as the particular mode in which or the point of time at which the ouster of the plaintiff took place was not so material that a variance between pleading and proof on such matters would alone be considered a sufficient ground for dismissing the suit The determination in a cause should be founded upon a case either to be found in the pleadings or involved in or consistent with the case made thereby

PLEADINGS—contd

It does not follow from this that every variance between pleading and proof is material and justifies a dismissal of the claim. The rule that the allegations and the proof must correspond is intended to serve a double purpose: first to apprise the defendant distinctly and specifically of the case he is called upon to answer so that he may properly make his defence and may not be taken by surprise and secondly to preserve an accurate record of the cause of action as a protection against a second proceeding founded upon the same allegations. NABADIPENDRA MUKERJEE v. MADHU SUDAN MONTDAL (1912)

18 C W N 473

8 ———— Change of case—
Suit on hatchinga—Suit on account stated—Allegation of suit on a count stated to suit on account stated in previous year when account stated found to be forged. The plaintiffs sued to recover the principal and interest due on a certain hatchinga. The plaintiffs alleged that they were the proprietors of a joint bank that the father of the defendants used to borrow money on hatchingas from their bank that accounts were adjusted up to 1908 and the father of the defendants signed the hatchinga for 1908 on which the suit was brought. The lower court found this hatchinga to be a forgery but gave the plaintiffs a decree on the hatchinga for 1907. Held that the suit being on an account stated and not on an open account and the account stated sued on being found to be a forgery the suit could not be altered to one on an account stated in a previous year. In any case it ought not to have been done with retrospective effect. BHAIRO PRASAD v. GOJADHAR PRASAD RAU (1914)

19 C W N 170

7 ———— Issues not expressly framed when may and when should not be determined. Where the parties have gone to trial knowing what the real question between them was the evidence has been adduced and discussed and the Court has decided the point as if there was an issue framed on it the decision will not be set aside in appeal simply on the ground that no issue was framed on the point. Where the failure to frame the issue has led to an unfair trial or miscarriage of justice the case will be remanded for retrial. MOHUDDIN v. PIRITHI CHAND LAL CROWDHURY (1914)

19 C W N 1159

8 ———— Fraud sole ground of relief—Alteration of ground of relief by picking out facts from allegations in the plaint—Defendant's duty in cases based on fraud. Where pleadings are so framed as to rest the claim for relief solely on the ground of fraud it is not open to the plaintiff if he fails in establishing the fraud to pick out from the allegations in the plaint facts which might if not put forward as proofs of fraud have yet warranted the plaintiff in asking for relief. A defendant in answering a case founded on fraud is not bound to do more than answer the case in the mode in which it is put forward. Hickson v. Lombard L P 111 L 31 and Guthrie v. Abbot No offer. Noorodin Ahmed 15 B R P C 50 referred to. RAJENDRA KUMAR BOSE v. GANGARAM HOYAL (1910) I L R 37 Cal 856

9 ———— Variance between pleading and proof—Where plaintiff's case in effect

PLEADINGS—contd

ment on the ground of exclusive title he cannot be given a decree for partition when the claim set up is found to be barred. Where a plaintiff sues the defendant in ejectment on the ground that he and defendant were separately enjoying properties he cannot when such claim is found to be barred by limitation rely on a tenancy in common not alleged in the plaint and claim a decree for partition. CHIDAMBARAM PILLAI v. MUTHU PILLAI (1909) I L R 33 Mad 356

10 ———— Suit for cancellation of father's will brought by daughters—Plea of custom excluding daughters from inheritance—Custom not allowed to be raised in this suit. On suit by the daughters of the testator for a declaration that a will alleged to have been executed by their father was a false and fraudulent document and not binding on them the defendants set up a custom by virtue of which the daughters but not apparently daughters or sons were excluded from inheritance to their father's property. Held that as members of their father's family the daughters who but for the will on the death of their mother would take the property of their father had a cause of action which entitled them to bring the suit and the issue whether or not a custom existed excluding them from inheritance was not a fit and proper issue to be determined in the present suit. RISALI v. BALAK RAM (1912)

I L R 34 All 351

11 ———— Defendant admitted plaintiff's title in written statement though claim notified before suit—Suit if may be dismissed for want of cause of action. The fact that the defendant does not in his written statement deny the plaintiff's title to land of which plaintiff had sued for recovery does not show that the plaintiff had no cause of action. Where therefore it appeared that the defendant did not at any time before the institution of the suit admit the plaintiff's title to the land in suit although plaintiff served him with notice of his claim. Held that this Court was not justified in dismissing the suit on the ground of want of cause of action merely because the defendant in his written statement admitted plaintiff's title. GANGADAS SRI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916)

20 M W N 636

12 ———— Plaint what should state—Omission to state facts necessary for defendants to meet at the trial effect of—Reliance by plaintiff on inconsistent rights alternately—Plaintiff if can allege facts destructive of each other—Partition suit—Preliminary decree—Costs. The plaintiff commenced an action for partition on the allegation that he was entitled to fourteen and a half annas share of the property in suit while the defendants contended that they had acquired a good title to a two annas share. The plaintiff did not narrate the history of the title of the plaintiff nor did it mention the needs when by the title had devolved on him. The plaintiff did not make a definite case in plaint but sought at the trial to develop two inconsistent cases on the testimony of two different sets of witnesses. Objection was taken by the defendants on the ground of defect in the plaint but the Subordinate Judge proceeded with the trial. He found in favour of the defendants and allowed them the full amount of costs on the value of the suit. Against the preliminary decree the plaintiff appealed. Held that in the plaint the plaintiff was bound to state the nature of the deeds on which he relied in deducing his title from the person under whom he claimed and to show the devolution of the estate to himself. Phillips v Phillips 4 Q B D 127 Derbyshire v Leigh [1896] 1 Q B 554 and Davis v James 26 Ch D 778. It is absolutely essential that the pleading not to be embarrassing to the defendants should state those facts which will put the defendants on their guard and tell them what they will have to meet when the case comes on for trial. Thus much the plaintiff is bound to do though he need not set out the evidence whereby he proposes to prove the facts which give him the title. Williams v Wilcock 8 A and E 331 and Gautret v Egerton L R 2 C P 371. A plaintiff may in certain circumstances rely upon several different rights altogether though they may be inconsistent. Narendra Nath v Abhay Churn 1 L R 34 Cal 51 s c 110 W N 20 4 C L J 437 Phillips v Phillips 4 Q B D 127 Birdan v Greenwood 3 Ex D 255 Hawkesley v Bradshaw 5 Q B D 303 and In re Morgan 34 Ch D 496. But the plaintiff cannot be permitted to allege two absolutely inconsistent states of facts each of which is destructive of the other. Mahamud Buz v Hossein Bibi 1 L R 15 Cal 683. That in the present case the plaintiff should not have been allowed to proceed on the plaint as framed but should have been called upon to specify in his statement of claim the nature of the deeds and transactions from which he deduced his title. That the order for costs on the full value of the suit could not properly be made at the stage of the preliminary enquiry when the matter is controversy related only to a half anna share in the property. MOTILAL PODDAR v JUDHISTIE DAS TEOP (1915)

PLEADINGS—contd

20 C W N 310

13 ————— Necessity of particularising fraud in plaint discussed. AVANZO CHANDRA MONDAL v ATUL CHANDRA MULIK (1910) 23 C W N 1045

14 ————— Pleading and proof variance between when fatal to suit—Variance not affecting cardinal points in issue—Nature of the principle—Quest on one of circumstances rather than of law—Application of the principle in an abstract way leading to error of decision on the merits—Trial Judge's appreciation of witnesses examined in his presence value of. When a sum of money due by A to B was entered in B's account book as having been paid on 6th November 1907 in cash but B's case was that it was liquidated by a promissory note which however bore date the 7th November 1907 and whilst A alleged that the payment was in fact made on 6th November in cash and the note of 7th November was a forgery B and his witness throughout the trial insisted that the date of the transaction was the 7th and the note was signed then. But the evidence and circumstances of the case showed that there was no payment in cash and that the promissory note was genuine but had been executed not on the 7th but on the 6th—the entry in the account book to the effect that the payment was in cash being satisfactorily explained by the practice of entering payments by promissory notes as payments in cash. Held that the variance of the case established from the case pleaded in the plaint (as to the date of the note) was not fatal to B's suit to enforce the promissory note in which the cardinal points to be decided were whether the debt had been paid in cash and whether the note was a forgery. That the High Court in relying for the dismissal of the suit on amongst other grounds that of variance between pleading and proof had applied that principle in an abstract and unsatisfactory way which had misled them in estimating the merits of the case. That the question in ultimate analysis was one of circumstances and not of law. That the evidence adduced in support of the transaction having been effected on the 7th November was not necessarily perjured or fabricated when it appeared that the statements of witnesses and entries in account books might be due to bona fide mistake. ABDUL RAMI MAH v GUSTADJI MUNCHERJI COOPER (1915)

PLEADINGS—contd

20 C W N 297

15 ————— Inconsistent material facts in pleadings—Relief in the alternative whether may be claimed—Alternative cases how to be pleaded. Either party to a litigation may in a proper case include in his pleading two or more inconsistent sets of material facts and claim relief thereunder in the alternative but whenever such alternative cases are alleged the facts belonging to them respectively should not be mixed up but should be stated separately so as to show on what facts each alternative relief is claimed. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BENGAL v BIDYASUNDARI DAS 24 C W N 145

16 ————— Variance between allegations and proof. Every variance between pleading and proof is not fatal the Court must carefully consider whether the objection is one of form or of substance having in view the purpose which the rule that allegation and proof must correspond is intended to serve. It is first to apprise the defendant distinctly and specifically of the case he is called upon to answer so that he may properly make a defence and not be taken by surprise and secondly to preserve an accurate record of the cause of action as a protection against a second proceeding founded upon the same allegations. KUMAR SATISH KANTO PAI v SATISH CHANDRA CHATTOPADHYA 24 C W N 692

17 ————— Change of case at a late stage if should be permitted. Where the plaintiff sued for recovery of certain jewels upon the allegation that the predecessors in title of the defendants had made a gift of the same to plaintiff and it was not until the appeal to the Privy Council that it was suggested the claim arose not upon gift but upon contract a case of which there was no trace in the pleadings issues evidence or judgment in India. Held that the argument now advanced was contradictory of the case made and involved a line of attack that the defendants had no opportunity to meet while the litigation was in the lower Courts and the change of front could not be permitted at the late stage. MALRAJU LAKSHMI VENKAYAMMA Row v VEYER TADEI APPA POW 25 C W N 654

PLEADINGS—concl'd

18 ————— It is absolutely necessary that the determination in a cause should be founded upon a case either to be found in the pleadings or involved in or consistent with the case thereby made. The fundamental principle that the plaintiff cannot be permitted to follow a line of attack which the defendant had no opportunity to meet is of special importance in collision cases when the accident very often happens in an entirely unexpected manner and short time. W J Pezz v JOHN LOUNG 25 C W N 519

19 Court not to entertain a question not raised in—Person of the rule explained—Test Neither party to a litigation can be allowed to set up at the hearing an entirely new and inconsistent case. The reason for the rule is that the plaintiff might have received no notice that the point would be raised by the defendant and would presumably be not prepared with the necessary evidence and conversely the defendant might be seriously embarrassed if the plaintiff were permitted to spring a surprise upon him in the shape of a new case. The test to be applied is whether the party aggrieved has really been taken by surprise. So where the plaintiff sought to eject the defendant on the ground that he was a trespasser and the defendant answered that he was a tenant at money rent but the Court determined the nature of the alleged tenancy and came to a conclusion which was not the case of either party. GONDLI BIRJI JOY VAL ABDIV 26 C W N 294

PLEDGE.

S v BAILMENT I L R 37 Bom 122

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872)—

s 103 I L R 40 Bom 164

s 176 I L R 40 All 522

s 178 1/9 I L R 42 Bom 205

See PALMS OR TURNS OF WORSHIP

I L R 42 Calc 455

See PERS JUDICATA

I L R 36 Bom 189

of shares in a company—

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom 159

POLICE

custody—confession—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 26

I L R 42 Bom 1

powers of to forbid a certain class to enter a certain place—

See POLICE ACT (V OF 1861) ss 31 32

I L R 39 All 131

powers of to require assistance from public—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 4^o

I L R 42 All 314

report to—

See BAILABLE OFFENCE

I L R 39 Mad 1006

POLICE ACT (V OF 1861)

See ACT OF STATE

I L R 39 Calc 615

s 15 cl (4)—

See PUNITIVE POLICE

I L R 40 Calc 452

ss 17 19—

See SPECIAL CONSTABLES

I L R 43 Calc 277

s 29—Police constable—Failure to return to duty A police constable having failed to return to duty at the expiry of casual leave was convicted and fined under s 29 of the Indian Police Act. During his trial he was under suspension. Subsequently he was reinstated and ordered to return to duty. He failed to do so. Held that this second disobedience of orders was a separate offence entirely from that in respect of which he had been tried and convicted and that his conviction and sentence in respect thereof were legal. EMPEROR v NUR UL HASAN

I L R 42 All 22

Overstaying leave by a Police officer—Conviction proper if when there was reasonable cause. The petitioner a police officer was convicted under s 29 of the Police Act for overstaying his leave. His defence was that he was detained by important private business of his own and therefore could not join in time. Held that in the circumstances of the case it could not be said that the petitioner failed without reasonable cause to report himself to duty on the expiration of his leave and the conviction should be set aside. JAGADISH CH BOSE v THE KING EMPEROR ss 31 32—Jatrawals—Competence of police to issue a general order for the control of the bus s 31 of Jatrawals. Held that it is not competent to a Superintendent of Police to issue a general order forbidding persons of a certain class to frequent certain specified places without having first obtained a license. EMPEROR v KRISHNA LAL (1916)

25 M W N 408

I L R 39 All 131

POLICE CONSTABLE

See POLICE ACT 1861 s 29

I L R 42 All 22

POLICE DIARIES

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 110

4 Pat L J 7

See POLICE REPORT

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF

I L R 44 Calc 878

Hostile Crown witness use of police diaries against—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act I of 1893) s 1st—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 155 and 151. The police diary may be used to impeach the evidence of a hostile witness for the prosecution. Statements of witnesses made to the police should not be used to corroborate them except in very special circumstances. RAMCHARITRA SINGH v KING EMPEROR

3 Pat L J 568

POLICE JAGIRS

Police jagirs in the Pachit Zamindari—Liability of jagir in sale for arrears of rent—Whether successor bound by sale

POLICE JAGIRS—contd

The decision of the Privy Council in the case of Nilmoney Singha Deo v Balra Nath Singh amounts to a decision that the police jagirs in the zamindari of Pachit are hereditary subject to the condition that it is competent to the representative of Government to dismiss the heir of the late jagirdar and to appoint even an outsider but that the customary rule of inheritance operates until the representative of Government exercises his option. Although in Nilmoney Singha Deo v Balra Nath Singh the Privy Council held that a jagir in the zamindari of Pachit is not liable to be sold for arrears of rent due from a previous jagirdar yet where in fact such a jagir was sold in execution of a decree for arrears of rent previous to the decision of the Privy Council held that the entire tenure passed at such sale and the subsequent decision of the Privy Council did not affect the rights of the parties because when a sale is held the rights of the parties are fixed with reference to the state of the law at that time and any subsequent interpretation does not affect the results of that sale. JADAB LAL v SRI SRI DEBI LAL SINGH 2 Pat L J 725

POLICE OFFICER

See EXCISE OFFICER

I L R 46 Calc 411

— duties of—

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 44 Calc 76

— opinion of—

See SEARCH WARRANT

I L R 47 Calc 597

— statements made to—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (A & V OF 1898)—

ss 162 289

I L R 34 Bom 599

s 162

I L R 111 Bom 58

— Detention in custody of suspended police officer—Legality of detention—Police Circular Order No 1159—Legality of the Circular—Calcutta Police Act (Beng 11 of 1866) s 13 The Commissioner of Police has no authority in law to order the detention of a police officer on suspension as he ceases to be a police officer thereafter and the Police Circular Order No 1159 published in the Calcutta Police Gazette dated the 31st June 1917 empowering him to do so is illegal. PRAMATHA NATH BARAT v P C AHIRI (1919) I L R 46 Calc 581

POLICE PATIL

— arresting the accused—

See PRACTICE I L R 40 Bom 220

POLICE REGULATIONS

See PROCESSION I L R 40 Calc 470

OLICE REPORT

See COGNIZANCE

I L R 40 Calc 854

S CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS INSTITUTION OF

I L R 37 Calc 49

S CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 4 173.

25 C W N 357

s 119

4 Pat L J 7

POLICE REPORT—contd

s 19.

I L R 38 Mad 1044

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 43 Calc 173

I L R 48 Calc 807

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 41 Calc 14

See SURETY

I L R 42 Calc 706

I L R 43 Calc 1094

POLICY OF INSURANCE

See INSURANCE

See LIFE INSURANCE

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (11 OF 1882 AS AMENDED BY ACT 11 OF 1900)

s 130

I L R 37 Bom 198

— if creates trust—

See MARRIED WOMEN'S PROPERTY ACT (III OF 1874) s 1

I L R 37 Mad 433

POLITICAL AGENT

— certificate of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 189

I L R 41 All 452

I L R 42 All 59

POLITICAL AGENT AT SIKKIM, COURT OF

— Execution of decrees—Transfer of decrees for execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act IV of 1882) s 220A (Act V of 1908) ss 43 45 By the notifications of the 29th March 1889 and 3rd October 1907 the Governor General Council declared that s 220A of the Code of Civil Procedure of 1882 (s 45 of the Code of 1908) should apply to the Court of the Political Agent at Sikkim. A decree obtained in the Court of the Political Agent at Sikkim and transferred for execution to a Court in British India could therefore be executed within the jurisdiction of that Court. ZAMIR AHMED v THE MAHARAJA OF SIKKIM (1911) I L R 38 Calc 859

POLITICAL OFFICER.

— certificate of, for trial of offences—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE, ss 188 227

I L R 33 All 514

POLITICAL RESIDENT AT ADEN

See DIVORCE ACT (11 OF 1869) s 3 (?)

I L R 37 Bom 57

POLYGAMY

See BURMESE LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 39 Calc 492

POOLBUNDI CHARGES

See FURNISHMENT

I L R 41 Calc 130

POONA CANTONMENT

See CANTONMENT PROPERTY

I L R 36 Bom 1

PORANBOKE

See MADRAS FOREST ACT (XXI OF 1842)

ss 6 10 10 17

I L R 39 Mad 494

PORT COMMISSIONERS

liability of—

See Loss of Goods.

I L R 46 Calc 56

POSSESSION

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

See ACQUISITION

I L R 37 All 412

See ARMS ACT s. 19 (f)

15 C W N 440

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909

I L R 35 Bom 452

O VI RR 93 96

I L R 43 Bom 559

See COCAINE I L R 41 Calc 537

See CONSCIOUS POSSESSION

See COUNTERFEIT COIN

I L R 44 Calc 477

See COURT FEE ACT (VII of 1907)

ETC I L R 38 Mad 1184

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s. 145

I L R 34 Mad 138

See EJECTMENT SUIT FOR

I L R 38 Bom 240

See FRAUD I L R 36 Bom 185

See INJUNCTION I L R 38 Calc 791

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V

OF 1810) s. 63 66

I L R 39 Bom 494

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 38 Mad 1042

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 38 Calc 475

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 47 Calc 286

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—GIFT

I L R 34 All 465

See OPIUM I L R 45 Calc 820

I L R 37 Calc 24

See PETROLEUM ACT ss. 11 15

I L R 40 Calc 356

See POSSESSIONARY SUIT

I L R 41 All 108

See RECEIVER I L R 47 Calc 418

See SALE I L R 41 Calc 148

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s. 9

15 C W N 294

I L R 33 All 647

See TITLE I L R 41 Calc 394

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s. 4 AND 5

I L R 38 Mad 1158

by agent—

See LIMITATION ACT (XX OF 1811) ARTS

142 AND 144 I L R 35 Bom 79

by person claiming as trustee—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 37 Mad 373

by servant—

See ARMS I L R 41 Calc 11

POSSESSION—contd

by widow—

See HINDU LAW—MAINTENANCE

I L R 38 Mad. 153

change of—

See PRESCRIPTION I L R 44 Calc 675

confirmation—

See SURVEY ACT ss. 41 62

14 C W N 366

Decree for partition—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 45 Bom 943

Decree by Mamlatdar for—

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) ART

47 I L R 45 Bom 1135

delivery of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s. 54 I L R 34 Bom 139

delivery of in execution—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s. 47 O VI RR 100 101

I L R 40 Mad 964

length of—

See MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

I L R 38 Mad. 6

non delivery of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 46 Calc 956

presumption arising from—

See LAHORE LANDS

I L R 45 Calc 574

protection of former possession as against Trespasser—

See TREE PATTA I L R 36 Mad. 148

recovery of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF

1882) s. 54 I L R 39 Bom 472

See TREE PATTA I L R 36 Mad. 148

right to—

See HINDU LAW—ENDOWMENT

I L R 46 I A. 204

Right of Khot to forfeit occupancy rights—

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT

I OF 1850) ss. 9 AND 10

I L R 34 Bom. 267

suit for—

See CHAKIDARI CHAKARAN LANDS

I L R 45 Calc. 685

I L R 46 Calc. 173

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 45 Calc. 920

See GIATWALI TENURES

I L R 41 Calc. 812

See HINDU LAW—COARDIAN

I L R 38 Mad. 1125

See LIMITATION I L R. 41 Calc. 52

I L R. 43 Calc. 34

I L R 46 Calc. 694

POSSESSION—contd—suit for—contd

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ART
142 AND 141 I L R 113 Bom 79

SCH II ART 91 I L R 38 Mad 321

See LIMITATION ACT 1908—

SCH I ART 47

I L R 45 Bom 1135

SCH I ARTS 142 144

I L R 39 Bom 335

See MESNE PROFITS I L R 40 Cal 53

—transfer of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 40 I L R 40 Bom 498

—went of—

See BARLEY I L R 42 Cal 313

1 ——— Nature of necessary to prove lost grant or title by adverse possession—Madras Forest Act (V of 1882) s 3 16 25—Notification under s 25 of reservation made before the Act extinguishes all rights existing at time of reservation. Whether enjoyment is set up as the basis of a title by prescription or as evidence on which a lost grant should be presumed the same characteristics will be necessary. Acts done on parts of a tract of land will only be evidence of possession of the whole where the said tract of land possesses a defined boundary. Sivasubramanya v Secretary of State for India I L R 9 Mad 285 at pp 301 and 305 referred to. The intention of the legislature in enacting s 25 of the Madras Forest Act is to place all forests reserved by executive order prior to the introduction of the Act on precisely the same footing as reserves subsequently constituted in accordance with the provisions of the Act. The intention was that the notification under s 25 should operate in exactly the same manner as one under s 16 to which s 17 is a mere corollary. The further inquiry provided for in s 25 is purely discretionary with Government. Where a reservation made prior to the Act is notified under s 25 of the Act such notification extinguishes any right existing at the time of reservation whether the lands were within s 3 of the Act at the disposal of Government or not at the time of reservation. Where the reservation is made under s 16 the section provides a mode of redress to the party while s 25 gives none as the further inquiry provided therein is merely discretionary with the Government. *SUBRAMANIAM PILLAI v
THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1910)*

I L R 38 Mad 353

2 ——— Suit for by proprietor of undivided half share—Nature of decree plaintiff entitled to—Proprietor of undivided half share is *entitled to—*He can eject any one on the land from the whole of it. The plaintiff brought a suit for recovery of possession of a plot of land to the extent of an eight annas share the plaintiff being the proprietor to the extent of eight annas and defendants Nos 5 and 6 proprietors to the extent of the other eight annas.
Defendants Nos 1 to 4 were tenants of the land recognised by defendants Nos 5 and 6. The plaintiff asked for joint possession with defendants Nos 1 to 4 if joint possession with defendants Nos 5 and 6 could not be granted. Held that all that the plaintiff could ask for was joint possession of an eight annas share. He could not in

POSSESSION—contd

this suit ask the Court to decide who was entitled to possession of the other eight annas share of the land with which he had no concern. That a person entitled to an undivided half share of the land cannot sue to eject anybody from the whole of it and the defendants Nos 1 to 3 who had been recognised as tenants by the co-sharer landlords could not be ejected by the plaintiff from the whole of the land. That the plaintiff was entitled to a decree against all the defendants for recovery of joint possession of an eight annas share of the disputed property and he was entitled to enforce the right by a suit for partition if he was not satisfied with the delivery of possession of an undivided half share. GAJADHAR ANIR v BHUKARI LAL (1914) 18 C W N 1011

3 ——— Tenants in common—Presumption—Possession of one co-owner the possession of all. Possession of one co-owner is in law the possession of all the co-owners and nothing short of ouster or something equivalent to ouster will put an end to that possession. Where a co-owner in possession did not deny the title of the other co-owners till shortly before the institution of the suit and never laid claim to more than his share it was presumed that the co-owner in possession was in possession on his own behalf and as well as on behalf of his co-owner. Coren v Appuhamy [1912] A C 230 followed. *Jafar Hussain v
Masud Ali I L R 14 All 193* and Jogendra Nath Ray v Baladeo Das I L R 35 Cal 981 referred to. *AMJAD FAZL KHAN v RAM LAL
(1914)* I L R 37 All 203

3a ——— Suit to recover possession of land from an alleged licensee—Act 10
IX of 1903 (Limitation Act) Sch I Art 144—Defence of title by adverse possession—Burden of proof. The plaintiff who was the zamindar sued to eject the defendant from certain land within the ambit of the plaintiff's zamindari alleging that the defendant was in possession merely as a licensee. The defendant denied that he was a licensee and claimed that he had acquired a title to the land in suit by adverse possession. The defendant however failed to prove that he had been in adverse possession of the land for more than twelve years. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to succeed simply on the strength of his prima facie title as zamindar.
It was not necessary for him to go further and prove that he had been in actual possession at some period within twelve years previous to the commencement of the suit. In cases to which Art 144 of the first schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1903 applies the defence being a title acquired by adverse possession for more than twelve years it is not necessary for the plaintiff as in cases falling under Art 144 to prove that he has been in possession at a period within twelve years from the commencement of the suit. It is sufficient if he establishes a prima facie title and it is then for the defendant to make good his plea of adverse possession. Jai Chand Bahadur v Girwar Singh

I L R 41 All 689

4. ——— Possession and title—suit to establish—Whether suit for mere declaration—Maintainability—Whether catching fish in a stream let amounts to dispossession. Where the plaintiffs in a suit establish their title to a village and also that they have been in possession of it and of a

POSSESSION—contd

streamlet which lies within it but that the plaintiff's possession has been disturbed inasmuch as the defendants people have caught fish in it. Held that under such circumstances the plaintiff's suit for a mere declaration is maintainable. Even if the defendants are found to have granted the right to catch fish in the streamlet to other persons not parties to the suit that act would not amount even to disturbance of possession still less to dispossessing the plaintiff nor would the fact that some persons have at times caught fish in the streamlet show that the plaintiffs have been dispossessed. At most the catching of fish in the streamlet would be a disturbance of possession. SANDEO LAL v BHAGAT & KESHO MOHAN THAKUR (1916)

20 C W N 1274

5 — Suit for recovery of, by purchaser at sale of land—Defendant if can set up occupancy right after suffering it by conduct to merge in tenure right. The plaintiffs brought a suit in 1909 to recover possession of land purchased at a sale in execution of a decree in 1893. After the sale the land remained vacant for ten years from 1893 and the defendants took possession in 1900. The plaintiffs case was that the defendants were in occupation after the sale without any right or title the defence was that the plaintiffs purchased their right as tenure holders only and the defendants had also the occupancy right. Held the defendants not having kept alive and distinct the two interests which they possessed but having by conduct treated the occupancy right as no longer existent could not turn round and set up the latter right to the detriment of the execution purchaser. That the plaintiffs cause of action dated back to 1900 when the defendants took possession and the suit was not barred by limitation. PRAMOTHA NATH POY v KISNOAZ LAL SHARMA (1916)

21 C W N 304

6 — Suit for recovery of Reversal by Appellate Court on ground of limitation—necessary findings in—Entry in record of rights presumption of possession arising from—Onus on defendant to prove plaintiff's dispossession—Judgment of Criminal Court in proceeding under a 145 Cr P C evidentiary value of—Statements of witnesses examined before Criminal Court but not in the suit of admissibility—Previous statements in the Criminal Court of witnesses examined in the suit proper use of—Decision of Appellate Court as to admissibility of a document solely on opinion of the Criminal Court in a 145 proceeding property of— The plaintiff sued for declaration of his title and recovery of possession. In a record of rights published in 1890 the plaintiff was recorded as an occupancy raiyat of the land in suit. By an order of the Magistrate under s 145 Cr P C dated the 27th September 1903 the defendants were declared to be in possession thereof. The plaintiff's case was that he was dispossessed on the 1st December 1903. The suit was brought on the 19th March 1910. The Munsif decreed the plaintiff's suit finding that he had been in possession within 12 years of the date of the suit. The District Judge in appeal without finding the date of the plaintiff's dispossession held that the suit was barred by limitation. Held that it was necessary for the District Judge to find when the plaintiff was dispossessed. He must also clearly find under what law the plaintiff's suit was barred and whether the facts necessary for applying that law have been established. That in a suit for ejectment the plaintiff has to prove his possession within the statutory period but in the present case the record of rights raised a presumption in the plaintiff's favour and shifted the onus on the defendants to establish affirmatively that the plaintiff had been out of possession for more than the statutory period. That although the judgment of the Criminal Court in the case under s 145 Cr P C was evidence of possession the statements of witnesses who were not examined in the present suit were wholly inadmissible. That if it was sought to use the previous statements of such witnesses as were examined in the present suit then those statements must first be put to the witnesses and duly proved before they could be treated as evidence. BAKAT ALI v BASANT NUNIA (1910)

POSSESSION—contd

21 C W N 175

7 — Involving boundary dispute—Onus of proof when one party in possession under order under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code Act V of 1893. The plaintiff sued for declaration of title and possession of certain lands lying on the boundary between their manor and that of the defendants. It appeared that the defendants were in possession for some years previous to the suit by virtue of an order of the Criminal Court under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code. Held that regard being had to the decision of the Privy Council in Diamans Chowdhurani v Broja Mohini Chowdhurani L P 29 I A 24 s c I L R 29 Calc 187 C C 11 A 338 it seems clear that the principle stated in Lukhs Narain Jagadeb v Maharaja Jadu Nath Deo L R 21 I A 39 s c I L R 21 Calc 181 [as to the shifting of onus from the plaintiff to the defendant in cases where scientific accuracy regarding boundaries cannot be attained and especially in cases where the disputed line of division runs between waste land which have not been the subject of definite possession] must yield to the circumstances of the present case and the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the persons in possession under the order of the Magistrate had no right to possession. MAHINDRA CHANDRA NANDI v SARADINDU POY (1918)

22 C W N 583

8 — Resistance to delivery of possession to decree holder—Claim to be in possession of the property as a tenant under the judgment debtor—Sub tenancy—Civil Procedure Code 1908 O XXI rr 97-99—Parties. On the 7th July 1919 the plaintiff instituted a suit against his lessee for the recovery of possession of certain premises upon the determination of the term by forfeiture for breach of conditions in the lease. In that suit the plaintiff did not join as defendant the respondent who was admittedly in possession of the said premises as under tenant of the lessee. On the 18th December 1919 an order was made for the recovery of possession in the said suit by which the lessee was given time until the 10th February 1920 to make over possession. This not being done an order dated the 12th March 1920 was obtained by the plaintiff directing the Sheriff to put him into possession. The Sheriff on the 3th April 1920 was obstructed in the execution of this order by the respondent and the plaintiff thereupon made this application before the sitting Judge in Chambers complaining of such obstruction under O XXI s 9. The respondent was summoned to appear to answer the said complaint. Held that the application must be dismissed and the plaintiff must be left to his remedy by suit against the respondent. An action for possession based upon forfeiture of a term should for practical reasons be brought against all persons in possession (including constructive possession) at the date of the suit, not that the suit is necessarily defective otherwise but because the decree will be difficult to enforce under the Code. D E D J EERA v J E GURRAY (1920) I L R 47 Cal 907

POSSESSION—contd

9 ——— Onus probandi—conflicting evidence as to title—Presumption from possession. It is only when the evidence of possession is strong on both sides and is equally balanced that the presumption that possession goes with title should prevail. This principle does not apply to cases in which the evidence is equally unworthy of credit on both sides except in respect of land of a special character such as waste or jungle lands or lands under water. Arable land is not land of a special character. FAKIE LALL SARU v MUNSHI RANCHARAN LAL 1 Pat. L J 146

10 ——— Trespasser suit against—by person in possession. Previous possession even for a period short of the statutory period of 12 years entitles a plaintiff to a decree for possession in a suit against a trespasser. SAODRA KUER v GOBARDHAN TEWARI 2 Pat. L J 280

11. ——— When follows title—Suit by auction purchaser against person claiming adversely to judgment debtor—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 138 137 and 142. In suits for recovery of possession of land where no evidence of possession within twelve years prior to the institution of the suit has been given or where the evidence tendered is so unattractive and weak on both sides as to leave the Court unable to determine which of the litigating parties is entitled to possession the legal presumption that possession follows title may be resorted to. Art 138 of the Limitation Act 1908 does not apply to a suit against a person claiming title by possession adverse to the judgment debtor. BRUNHAD BHUNJAN NARAIN TEWARI v UPENDRA NATH ROY 4 Pat. L J 463

12. ——— The plaintiffs were the owners of a miras tenure and under them was a daimiras tenure held by the defendants. This under tenure was sold in execution of a rent decree and purchased by a third party who never obtained possession and in execution of a rent decree obtained against the latter the under tenure was again sold more than twelve years after and purchased by the plaintiffs who used for possession. Per Walsley J (Woodroffe and Subrahwardy JJ contra).—That Art 137 of the Limitation Act applied to the case and the suit was barred. Per Subrahwardy J.—Art 140 or Art 144 applied to the case. Per Woodroffe J (to whom the case was referred under sec 98 C I C).—That none of the articles of the Limitation Act applied to the case but the suit was barred under sec 167 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Where a rent decree has been properly obtained the tenure itself passes to the purchaser and not the right title and interest of the judgment debtor only and the rights of the purchaser must be determined by the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act under sec 154B and sec 179. The plain tiffs by their purchase acquired the under tenure with power to annul encumbrances and the interest acquired by the defendants by adverse possession against the recorded tenants of which the plaintiffs were aware was an encumbrance which the plaintiffs could have and should have annulled under sec 167 Bengal Tenancy Act within one year and not having done so their right to recover possession was lost. The word encumbrance as used in secs 159 and 161 of the Bengal Tenancy Act includes a statutory title acquired by a trespasser by adverse possession. JANANENDRA MOHON DUTT v UNESH CHANDRA GUHA 20 C W. N 985

POSSESSION—contd

POSSESSION BY FRAUD

See SHARES I L R 40 Cal 331

POSSESSORY RIGHT

See POSSESSION

protection of, as against trespassers—

See TREL PATTI I L R 30 Mad 148

POSSESSORY SUIT

See MAHLATDAR'S COURTS ACT (BOM. II OF 1906)—

ss 19 23 I L R 35 Bom 487

s 23 I L R 30 Bom 123

I L R 39 Bom 552

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)

s 9 I L R 41 All 108

of 1877) s 9.—Second appeal—Civil procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 102.—Review. Where in a suit under s 9 of the Specific Relief Act judgment was purported to be passed against five defendants but the decree was drawn up against one defendant only who alone contested the suit and the decree holder applied for execution against all the defendants the Court dismissed the application on the ground that decree was against one defendant only on appeal the District Judge allowed execution to proceed against all the defendants but on a subsequent application for review he discharged his original order on the ground of jurisdiction under s 11 of the Specific Relief Act. Held that an application in execution proceedings was included in the term suit in s 9 of the Specific Relief Act and an appeal to the District Judge from an order of the Court of first instance was incompetent and the application for review equally so. Thomas Sou v Gulam Moidin Bazar I L R 26 Mad 433 Morfu Ali v Dnyand and Amlal (1915) I L R 45 Anand Chander Roy v Sidhy Gopal Misser 8 W. R 11 Gora Chand Misser v Daylanto Narayan Singh 12 B L R 261 Din Dayal v Patrolkhan I L R 18 All 431 Narayan Laxmanand v Nagindas Bhaido I L R 30 Bom 113 Marula Ammal v Marula Maracori I L R 30 Mad 21 Bhyanma Charan Mitter v Debendra Nath Mukerjee I L R 27 Cal 431 Minalshi Naidi v Subramanyam Sastri I L R 11 Mad 26 I L R 141 A 160 Sari Bhawan Mookerjee v Radha Nath Bose 20 C. L. J 433 and Trofulla Krishna Deb v Dasbannasa I L R 24 C L J 331 referred to KANAI LAL CHOUDHURY v JATINDRA NATH CHANDRA (1917) I L R 45 Cal. 519

POSSESSORY TITLE

See ESTOPPEL I L R 34 All 538

See HINDU LAW (SUCCESSION)
I L R. 1 Lah 588See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I OF 1877)
s 9 I L R 36 All 51

See TITLE I L R 41 Calc 394

POST-NUPTIAL GIFTSSee HINDU LAW—C 7
I L R 37 Calc 1POST OFFICE ACT (VI OF 1898)

ss 19 61 70—Offence—Cocaine—Transmission of by post Held that cocaine is not a substance which falls within the purview of s 10 of the Indian Post Office Act 1898 and it is not an offence under that Act to transmit the same by post EMPEROR v ISMAIL KHAN (1910)
I L R 37 All 289

ss 35 64, 74—Rules framed under Act infringement of falls within s 63—General power to frame rules conferred by s 74 cl (1) not confined in such rules as are contemplated by s 74 cl 2 Rules framed by the Governor General in Council under s 74 cl (1) of the Post Office Act regarding the declaration in the case of articles sent by value payable post form part of the Act under s 74 (3) and infringement of such rules is punishable under s 64. s 35 also enables the Governor General in Council to make such rules. The general power to make rules conferred by s 74 cl (1) is not confined to making such rules as are contemplated by cl 2 THE CROWN PROSECUTOR v KOTHANDARAMIAN (1910)
I L R 33 Mad 511

POSTING OF A DEMAND DRAFTSee SALE OF GOODS
I L R 42 Bom 16POSTPONEMENTSee CROSS EXAMINATION
I L R 41 Calc 299POUNDAGE

Sheriff's right to poundage The Sheriff is only entitled to poundage on sums levied so where a seizure is wrongful and is withdrawn by direction of law the Sheriff receives no poundage Mortimore v Cragg 3 C P D 216 In Mortimore 13 Q B D 416 and in re Thoma (1897) 1 Q B 460 followed BRIDGEMAN v JAYNARAIN (1910) I L R 37 Calc 649

POWER OF ATTORNEYSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XIV RP L 16 ETC
I L R 39 Mad 832

See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Calc 19

See ESTOPPEL 2 Pat L J 600

See MALABAR TAFWAD
I L R 39 Mad 918See OATHS ACT (V OF 1837) ss 5 9 IV
I L R 38 All 131See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT
I L R 43 Calc 527POWER OF ATTORNEY—contdSee REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877) s 32 25 O W N 73

s 13 I L R 32 All 179

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) ss 2(21) AND 60 SCH I ART 48 (g)

I L R 33 All 467

See VAKALATNAMA
I L R 43 Calc 884construction of—See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
I L R 40 Calc 74

Amendment of—Omission of name of mukhtar in the power by mistake—In amendment of mistake by Court by allowing fresh power to be filed—Inherent jurisdiction of Court to allow amendment of mistake—Effect of amendment as to limitation—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 30 37—Rules and Circular Orders Ch VI Art 34 Where there is no doubt as to the fact that the mukhtar who filed an application for execution had in fact authority from the decree holder to do so and that his name was omitted by mistake from the power of attorney the Court may in its discretion allow the power to be amended upon proper application by the decree holder for the insertion of the name of the attorney. If such amendment is allowed it takes effect from the date when the power of attorney was originally filed CHAYEMANNESSA BIBI v BASIRAR PAHMAN (1910) I L R 37 Calc 399

Construction of general power of attorney—What is a—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1882) s 37 (a)—Stamp Act (II of 1899) Sch I Art 48—Single transaction meaning of A power of attorney which authorises a person to do all things and take all steps necessary to complete the execution of a decree is a general power of attorney within the meaning of s 37 (a) of the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) Semble The expression a single transaction in the Stamp Act (II of 1899) Sch I Art 48 applies to a single act or acts so related to each other as to form one judicial transaction VENKA TAPASANA IYER v NARASINGA PAO (1914) I L R 39 Mad 134

Construction—Whether special or general—Is not authorisation extending to all acts for one particular purpose—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O III s 2 (a) High Court R III under s 177 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) A power of attorney was issued in plaintiff's favour in the following terms

Accordingly I have become owner of the said mortgage bond Out of the principal and interest due to me in respect of the said mortgage bond nothing has been paid to me As the time in respect of it is about to expire and it is necessary for me to go to my native place I have constituted and appointed the above named person my true and lawful attorney in the matter to receive all moneys due to me in respect of the principal and interest of the aforesaid mortgage bond by suing on my behalf in a civil Court or by coming to an amicable settlement and to pass receipts for me and on my behalf to sue and to receive process and to do all such acts in this one matter as I if present would have done or could have done or would have been permitted to do or would have been called upon to do The question being raised whether the power of attorney was a general power of attorney within the meaning of r III of the rules made by the High Court under s 122 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 or a special power of attorney. Held that the power was a special power of attorney inasmuch as the agent's authorisation extended not to any class of business or employment but was restricted to the doing of all necessary acts in the accomplishment of one particular purpose. Charles Palmer v Sorabji Jamshedji (1886) P J 63 applied. Venkataramana Iyer v Narasinga Rao I L R 38 Mad 134 not followed. VAPDAJI HASTURJI v CHANDAPPA (1916) I L R 41 Bom 40

POWER-OF-ATTORNEY—contd

PRACTICE

See ACQUITTAL I L R 38 Cal 786
I L R 42 Cal 612
I L R 44 Cal 703

See ADMINISTRATION SUIT

I L R 34 Bom 420
I L P 44 Cal 890

See ADOPTION I L R 37 Cal 860
I L R 32 All 104

See AFFIDAVIT I L R 37 Cal 259

See AMENDMENT OF PLAINT
I L R 45 Cal 305

See APPEAL I L R 38 Cal 307
I L R 42 Cal 374 433
I L R 43 Cal 833

See ARBITRATION

I L R 45 Bom 1071

See ASSESSORS EXAMINATION OF
I L R 40 Cal 163

See ATTACHMENT I L R 40 Cal 105

See ATTORNEY I L R 43 Cal 932

See ATTORNEY AND CLIENT

I L R 40 Cal 386

See AWARD I L R 47 Cal 806

See BAILIFF I L R 42 Cal 313

See BARRISTER I L R 44 Cal 741

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOM ACT III OF 1883) ss 140 (c) 143
(1) (a) AND (2) (d)

I L R 43 Bom 281

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT RULES

I L R 38 Bom 418

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE ACT 1879

s 68 I L R 45 Bom 920

See BOMBAY REGULATION II OF 1871

s 52 I L R 37 Bom 303

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT

16, 6 s 12 I L P 45 Bom 1177

See BOOK OF REFERENCE

I L R 40 Cal 898

See CHARGE I L R 40 Cal 108

See CHARGE COLLECTION OF

I L R 39 Cal 885

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1892—

ss 271 (1) 370 3 4

I L R 35 Bom 516

PRACTICE—contd

ss 321A 272, 285

I L R 36 Bom 519

s 539 I L R 35 Bom 470

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 10 I L R 44 Bom 283

ss 47 AND 104

I L R 44 Bom 472

s 92 I L R 40 Bom 429

ss 96 100 I L R 36 Bom 320

s 97 I L R 36 Bom 536

I L R 37 Bom 480

I L R 38 Bom 331

I L R 45 Bom 627

s 109 (c) I L R 37 All 124

s 115 I L R 45 Bom 832

O V R 5 I L R 38 Bom 377

O V R 15 23

I L R 33 All 849

O VII R 14 AND 18

I L R 44 Bom 625

O VIII R 3 4 5

I L R 41 Bom 89

O XXI R 1 I L R 35 Bom 35

O XXI R 16 5 Pat. L J 396

O XXI R 30

I L R 34 All 150

O XXI R 60

I L R 44 Bom 860

O XXII R 10

I L R 39 Bom 568

O XXV R 1 AND O XXVIII R 1

I L R 38 Bom 415

O XLI R 22

I L R 34 All 140

O XLVII R 1

I L R 38 Bom 416

O XLVIII R 0

I L R 38 All 280

SCH II PART 12

I L R 45 Bom 512

See COGNIZANCE I L R 40 Cal 854

See COMMISSION AGENT

I L R 43 Cal 138

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913) s 34

I L R 41 Bom 76

See COMPANY

I L R 47 Cal 620 801

See COMPLAINT I L R 41 Cal 1013

See CONSOLIDATION OF APPEAL

I L R 43 Cal 95

See CONTENT OF COURT

15 C W N 771

I L R 42 Cal 1169

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 ss 10 AND 14

4 Pat. L J 563

PRACTICE—contd

See COSTS	I L R 43 Calc 190
	I L R 48 Calc 156 795
	I L R 45 Bom 1234
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898)—
ss. 16- 288	I L R 34 Bom 599
ss. 197 239 532	I L R 43 Bom 147
s 206	I L R 57 All 355
s. 238	I L R 45 Bom 619
ss 248 253 315	I L R 37 Bom 369
s. 263	I L R 59 Calc 931
s 337 CL (3)	I L R 37 Bom 146
s 342	I L R 45 Bom 672
s 349	I L R 38 Bom 719
ss 397 123	I L R 37 Bom 178
s 430	I L R 43 All 497
s 437	I L R 40 All 416
s 438	I L R 38 All 378
s 476	I L R 34 All 267
	I L R 38 All 695
	I L R 39 All 367
s 520	I L R 35 Bom 253
s 537	I L R 37 All 110
See CRIMINAL PROVISIONAL JURISDICTION
	I L R 38 Calc 933
	I L R 40 Calc 41
	I L R 43 Calc 1029
See CROSS EXAMINATION
	I L R 41 Calc 299
	I L R 42 Calc 957
See DAUGHTERS	I L R 34 Bom 510
See DECREE	I L R 44 Calc 627
	I L R 38 Calc 125
	I L R 39 Bom 80
	I L R 37 Mad 227
See DEPOSITION	I L R 46 Calc 895
See DISCOVERY	I L R 38 Calc 423
	I L R 41 Calc 6
See DIVORCE	I L R 41 Calc 963
	I L R 45 Bom 547
See DIVORCE ACT (V OF 1873)—
s 23	I L R 33 All 500
s 37	I L R 38 All 688
See EVIDENCE	I L R 42 Calc 781
See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1873)—
ss 32 AND 16	5 Pat. L. J 410
s. 30	I L R 28 Bom 156
See EXAMINATION ON COMMISSION
	I L R 45 Calc 697
See EXECUTION OF DECREE
	I L R 34 All 518
	I L R 44 Calc 1072
	I L R Calc 515

PRACTICE—contd

See EX PARTE DECREE
	I L R 41 Calc 956
	I L R 43 Calc 1001
See FRAUD	I L R 30 Bom 185
See HABEAS CORPUS
	I L R 44 Calc 76
See HIGH COURT	I L R 34 Bom 378
	I L R 41 All 587
	I L R 37 Calc 714
See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
	I L R 37 Mad 435
See HINDU LAW—WILL
	I L R 38 Calc 188
See IDOL	I L R 33 All 735
See INSOLVENCY	I L R 42 Calc 109
	I L R 43 Calc 243
	I L R 44 Calc 288
	I L R 47 Calc 58
See INSOLVENT	I L R 45 Bom 550
See INTERROGATORIES
	I L R 37 Bom 347
See JOINDER OF CHARGES
	I L R 43 Calc 111
	I L R 38 All 457
See JOINT ESTATE
	I L R 43 Calc 103
See JURISDICTION	I L R 34 Bom 111
	I L R 35 All 63
See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT FRESH PROCEEDINGS
	I L R 40 Calc 71
See JURY TRIAL BY
	I L R 44 Calc 723
See LAND ACQUISITION
	I L R 39 Calc 33
	I L R 43 Calc 665
See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)
	I L R 34 Bom 436
See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT (VIII OF 1879) s 14	I L R 38 All 182
See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
	I L R 40 Calc 74
See LETTERS PATENT 1800 CL 10
	I L R 45 Bom 428
See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877)—
ss 3 AND 7	I L R 34 Bom 539
s 19 AND 11 ART 148
	I L R 35 All 227
See LOCAL INSPECTION
	I L R 39 Calc 478
	I L R 44 Calc 711
See LOCAL INVESTIGATION
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE
	I L R 42 Calc 351
See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF
	I L R 37 Calc 870
	I L R 35 All 63
See MISJOINDER OF PARTIES
	I L R 45 Calc 111

PRACTICE—contd

- See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 907
I L R 38 Mad. 18
- See MURKTEAR I L R 38 Calc 488
- See MUNICIPAL ELECTION
I L R 39 Calc 754
I L R 46 Calc 119
- See MUNICIPALITY I L R 34 All. 649
- See NEW TRIAL APPLICATION FOR
I L R 47 Calc 763
- See PARTIES I L R 46 Calc 48
- See PERJURY I L R 42 Calc 240
I L R 43 Calc 542
- See PLAINT I L R 43 Calc 441
- See PLEADER & FEE
I L R 41 Calc 637
- See PRE EMPTION
I L R 36 All. 476 514
- See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS
ACT (XV of 1862) ss 9 AND 38
I L R 38 Mad. 823
- See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT
(III of 1900) s 20
I L R 35 Bom 47
- See PRIVY COUNCIL
I L R 40 All. 497
I L R 34 All. 57
- See PROBATE I L R 37 Calc 224
I L R 39 Calc 245
- See PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT
I L R 41 Calc. 113
- See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1907)—
s 15 I L R. 32 All. 645
ss 15 to 22 46 12
I L R 38 Mad 15
- See PUBLIC PROSECUTOR
I L R 41 Calc 425
I L R 42 Calc 422
- See RECEIVER I L R 46 Calc 352
- See RECORDS POWER TO CALL FOR
I L R 43 Calc 239
- See REFUND OF COURT FEE
I L R 40 Calc 363
- See REMAND I L R 43 Calc 1104
I L R 46 Calc 738
- See REVIEW I L R 45 Calc 60
I L R 46 Calc 823
- See REVIEW I L R 43 Calc 903
- See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION
I L R 44 Calc 816
I L R 40 Calc 423
- See SECURITY OF GOOD BEHAVIOUR
I L R 41 Calc 806
- See SELECTED LIES FOR COSTS
I L R. 34 Bom. 484
I L R 43 Calc 678

PRACTICE—contd

- See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)—
s 9 I L R. 40 All 637
- See STAY OF EXECUTION
I L R 48 Calc 798
- See SUMMONS SERVICE OF
I L R 43 Calc. 447
- See TITLE SUIT FOR DECLARATION OF
I L R 38 All. 440
- See TRANSFER OF APPEAL
I L R 40 Calc 259
3 Pat L J 218
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT
s 53 I L R 37 Bom 427
s 107 I L R 36 Bom 500
- See VAKALATNAMA
I L R 40 Calc 894
- See VALUATION OF SUIT
I L P 43 Calc 225
- See WARRANT I L R 38 Calc 789
- See WIFE'S COSTS I L R 44 Calc 35
- See WINDING UP EDITION
I L R 34 Bom 533
- See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT
I L R 44 Calc 454
- See WRITTEN STATEMENT
I L R 42 Calc 957
- Assignment of decree—notice—adjournment (whether Court bound to grant)—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1904) D
XXI R 16 5 Pat L J 390
- appeal Presentation of out of time—
See LIMITATION ACT 1908 Sec. I Art
1-2 I L R 43 Bom 376
- as to mode of proof—
See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1874) ss. 4 90
I L R 37 Mad. 455
- award of Court—
See ANCIENT MONUMENTS PRESERVATION ACT (VII of 1904) s 10 21
I L R 42 Bom. 100
- deaf and dumb accused—
See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
of 1878) s 311
I L R 40 Bom 598
- delay in filing process fees—
See LIMITATION I Pat. L J 173
- appointment of guardian—Court's power to pass order regarding marriage pending appointment—
See GUARDIANS AND WARD'S ACT (VIII of 1899) ss 12 43 AND 47
I L R 44 Bom. 690
- Order in personam against a party residing out of the Court's jurisdiction—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1904) s 10.
I L R 44 Bom. 233
- documents relied on by plaintiff should be produced in Court along with the plead—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE, 1904 O
VII R 14 I L R. 44 Bom. 623

PRACTICE—contd

Insolvency—Appearance of the insolvent to obtain a final order of discharge—

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III of 1909) ss. 38 (b) AND 42 (a) (n)
I L R 44 Bom 555

Interest on overdraft—Implied contract to pay—

See BANKERS I L R 44 Bom 474

Joint possession—Suit for recovery of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI R 30 I L R 34 All 150

Execution of decree—Second Appeal—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss. 47 AND 104 (a) O XXI R 89
I L R 44 Bom 472

Parties to appeal—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI R 60 I L R 44 Bom 860

Publication of proceedings in pending cases—

See CONTENTS OF COPIES I L R 44 Bom 443

Right to worship in a temple and to carry processions through public streets suit whether of a civil nature—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 9
I L R 44 Bom 410

Revision—Whether application should be to Sessions or District Judge—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 43 I L R 43 All 497

Suit against a Receiver—application for leave—amendment of plaint—

See HIGH COURT I L R 44 Bom 903

Suit for possession—Conversion to suit for redemption—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O VI R 17 I L R 44 Bom 515

Commissioners appointed by Court to examine arbitration award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 SCH II PARAS 1 (a) AND (c) I L R 45 Bom 512

Third party proceedings (Summons for directions)—

See LETTERS PATENT 186 CL 1
I L R 45 Bom 423

Filing objections to arbitration award—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s. 110 SCH II PARA II I L R 45 Bom 832

Summary eviction for Breach of condition of the grant—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1874) s. 14 (a)
I L R 45 Bom. 920

PRACTICE—contd

Reference to High Court under Bombay Revenue Jurisdiction Act—Taxation of Costs—Power of High Court to give direction as to how costs should be taxed—

See BOMBAY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (V OF 1876) s. 12
I L R 45 Bom. 1177

Minor—Purchase from—

See PARTITION SUIT I L R 45 Bom 983

Reference to arbitration after suit without intervention of Court—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI R 30 O VIII R 8 AND 9 AND SCH II PARAS 1 TO 17 20 AND 21
I L R 45 Bom 245

Claim by a Parsi wife for Costs—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XX OF 1932)
I L R 45 Bom 318

Consent order for extension of time—

See ARBITRATION I L R 45 Bom 1071

Decree—Application to set aside sale by Collector—

See BOMBAY HIGH COURT CIVIL PROCEDURE R 107 R 17
I L R 45 Bom 1132

Inherent powers of Court to re-admit appeals—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 101 AND O VI R 19
I L R 45 Bom 648

Mistake—Discovery of—when first Court's decree was passed—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 SCH I ART 96 I L R 45 Bom 582

Preliminary issue—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss. 9 AND 2 I L R 45 Bom 627

Summons case—Magistrate to examine accused—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1899) s. 34
I L R 45 Bom 672

Trial of an offence with the aid of assessors—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1899) s. 34
I L R 45 Bom 619

1. Analogous appeals Two analogous appeals were preferred in the decisions of the Subordinate Judge and the District Judge respectively. In remanding the case the High Court directed both cases to be tried by the District Judge. MAHESUDHAN SHARDA v. ANTOH CHAKRABARTY (1910) 14 C W N 332

2. Arbitration—Order of Judge refusing to decide whether arbitrators are going by decision of their authority—Judge's appeal—Contract on sale of land as to arbitration—Insurance against fire—Liability of Company for further loss—Letter Patent 1865 CL 10 The fact that a petition by nineteen different Companies was not signed by all the nineteen Companies and that the appeal from the order of the Judge dismissing the petition was by but one of the nineteen Companies and the other Companies were not parties to it would have required serious consideration if the Court had to revoke the submission to arbitration but when the order which the Court passes is only an intimation to the arbitrators of its opinion on the question of their jurisdiction it is immaterial whether all or some of the Companies are formally parties to the proceedings in appeal. As to the objection that even so far as the petition is by one Company it is signed by one of its officers without any authorisation as required by law the defect is a mere irregularity which can be cured if necessary by the Company putting in a power of attorney showing the authority given to a signatory. ATLAS ASSURANCE COMPANY LTD v. ARNEDBHAY HARBHAKH (1908) I L R 11 Bom 1

PRACTICE—contd

3 ———— Compromise—Court—Inherent powers—Compromise assented to by pleader not specially authorised in that behalf—Decree in terms of compromise—Decree set aside. In the course of a suit a compromise was presented which was signed by the defendants' pleader who was not specially authorised in that behalf. The Court passed a decree in terms of the compromise. The defendant then applied to the Court to set aside the decree on the ground that he did not engage the pleader and that he had not authorised the pleader to compromise the suit. The Court set aside the decree and set down the suit for hearing. Held that it is the inherent power of every Court to correct its own proceedings where it has been misled. Held also that under the circumstances the compromise was not binding upon the defendant and the decree passed upon it was void as to him. BASANDOWDA v. CHURCHIEGOWDA (1910) I L R 34 Bom 408

4 ———— Decree amendment of—Decree not conformable to what the Court intended—Inherent power of Courts in India—Attachment selling and of—Sheriff's right to Poundage—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 152. The Courts in India have an inherent power to amend or vary decrees so as to bring them into accordance with the judgments after they are signed by the Judges even if they do not fall within s 152 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). In re Swire 30 Ch D 239 referred to Attacott v. Wilding [1896] 1 Ch 673 distinguished. The Sheriff is only entitled to poundage on sums levied so where a seizure is wrongful and is withdrawn by direction of law the Sheriff receives no poundage. Mortimore v. Cragg 3 C 1 D 216. In re Ludmore 13 Q B D 415 and In re Thomas [1897] 1 Q B 460 followed. BEJRATAN v. YANARAIN (1910) I L R 11 Cal 649

5 ———— Decree modification of the terms of after appeal—Jurisdiction—Appellate Court powers of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115. s 143 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 cannot be taken to give any Court power to interfere with or modify its decree after there has been an appeal filed against the decree. The only Court that could after an appeal have been preferred modify the terms of the decree or extend the time fixed in the decree for its execution or suspend the order made in the decree would be the Appellate Court. PARMANAND DAS v. KRIPASINDHU POY (1909) I L R 37 Cal 548

PRACTICE—contd

6 ———— Plaintiff, amendment of—Suit against defendant on ground which failed not to be decreed on another ground—Application for leave to amend plaintiff after arguments heard in appeal disallowed—Res judicata. A suit brought against the defendants on one ground which fails should not be decreed against them on another ground which they had no opportunity of meeting. After arguments in appeal have been heard the Court will not allow an amendment of the plaintiff so as to convert a suit of one character into a suit of a substantially different character. H filed a suit in 1904 against A and J the drawer and indorser respectively of two hundies. At the time of filing the suit J was dead. H obtained a decree against both defendants which decree remained unsatisfied. In 1905 H filed a suit against the heirs of J on the same two hundies. Held that the earlier suit having been filed against the firm of J and not against J personally was a bar to the later suit. BAYABAI v. HAJI NOOR MAHOMED (1908) I L R 34 Bom 244

7 ———— Reference under Legal Practitioners Act—Jurisdiction—Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879) ss 13 14—Division Bench jurisdiction of to hear reference under the Act from subordinate Courts. According to a long and undeviating course of practice which may be regarded as the law of the Court a Division Bench appointed to dispose of the civil business arising out of a particular group has power to hear and dispose of a reference under s 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act by the Presiding Officer of a Court within that group. ABINASH CHANDRA MOITRA In re (1909) I L R 37 Cal 178

8 ———— Same transaction—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O I r 3 O II s 3—Grades of several defendants in one suit—Same act or transaction—Series of acts or transactions. In reading O I r 3 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) it seems quite obvious that the word same which precedes the words acts or transaction governs also the words series of acts or transactions and must be read before those words also. The first condition to be fulfilled before joining several persons as co-defendants in the same suit is that the right to relief sought in the suit must also against the defendants from the same act or transaction or from the same series of acts or transactions. The second condition to be fulfilled under the rule is that some common question either of fact or law should arise against the defendants if separate suits were brought against such persons. Before a plaintiff can join several defendants in the same suit both the conditions laid down in the rule must be fulfilled first the relief sought against the defendants whether jointly severally or in the alternative must arise from the same act or transaction or the same series of acts or transactions. And secondly there must arise between the plaintiff and all the defendants some common question of law or fact. The plaintiff may in one action unite several causes of action against several defendants provided that all such defendants are jointly liable in respect of each and all of such causes of action and that the condition precedent to the plaintiff being allowed to join several causes of action against several defendants is that such defendants must all have a joint interest in the main question raised by the litigation and that causes of action joined in one suit against several defendants must be causes of action in which the defendants are all jointly interested. It is not necessary that every defendant should be interested as to all the reliefs claimed in the suit but it is necessary that there must be a cause of action in which all the defendants are more or less interested although the relief asked against them may vary. UMABAI v. BHAI BALWANT (1903)

PRACTICE—contd

I L R 34 Bom 358

9 ——— Third party procedure—Discretion refusal to give—Discretion The general principle on which a Court will issue third party directions is —(i) that there must be a clear case of contribution or indemnity from the third party (ii) that all the disputes arising out of a transaction as between the plaintiff and the defendant and between the defendant and a third party can be tried and settled in one suit and (iii) that in cases of contract and sub contract it must appear that the contract between the plaintiff and the defendant has been imported into the contract between the defendant and the third party. Under the rules now in force the third party cannot be cited so as to be bound by the trial of one particular question which is identical as between the plaintiff and the defendant and as between the defendant and the third party. Baxter v. France (No 2) (1899) I Q B 591 followed. W & A. GRAHAM & Co v. CHENZEL HARUL & Co (1909) I L R 34 Bom 423

10 ——— Vakil's right to appear before a Judge sitting on the Original Side of the High Court—Application to file warrant of attorney—Extraordinary Civil Jurisdiction—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 635—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 119 129 A vakil of the High Court applied before a Judge sitting on the Original Side of the Court claiming a right to file a warrant of attorney in respect of a suit pending before the Madras District Court in which a rule had been issued calling upon the plaintiffs to show cause why the suit should not be transferred to the High Court in its Extraordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction. Held that having regard to the long continued course of practice during which vakils never appeared on the hearing of such applications the present application should be refused. Held further that the Civil Procedure Code of 1908 has nothing to do with a matter governed by old rules in force before 1909. In re A VAKIL'S APPLICATION (1910) I L R 37 Cal 853

11 ——— Raising of issues The practice of raising a number of issues which do not state the main questions in the suit but only various subsidiary matters of fact upon which there is not agreement between the parties is very embarrassing. Issues should be confined to questions of law arising on the pleadings and such questions of fact as it would be necessary for the Judge to frame for decision by the jury in a jury trial at nisi prius in England. WEST FALD WATCH COMPANY v. BERNAL WATCH COMPANY (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 425

12. ——— Redemption suit—Second suit in ejectment—Res judicata—Court—Discretion—

PRACTICE—contd

ejectment suit a decree for redemption can be passed—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11 Expt II It is the practice of the Bombay High Court to pass a decree for redemption in a case in which the plaintiff has sued in ejectment. That is purely in the exercise of the Court's discretionary power and it can hardly be maintained that the plaintiff failing in an ejectment suit ought to pray for the alternative relief by way of redemption when the Court is not bound to grant it as a matter of right. MAHOMED ISRAHIM v. SHEIKH HAMZA (1911)

I L R 25 Bom 507

13 ——— Local Inspection—Subordinate Judge—Personal view of disputed premises—Appreciation of evidence based on the personal view The plaintiff in a suit to establish easement of passing his rain water over the defendant's field tried to make out his right by the evidence of his witnesses who deposed that the passage for the rain water had all along existed and was still visible to the eye. The Subordinate Judge visited the spot in question at the request of both parties to test the veracity of the witnesses but finding that there was no passage at the spot he disbelieved the witnesses and dismissed the suit. On appeal it was contended that the Subordinate Judge had wrongly decided the case because he had disposed of it not by appreciating the evidence but by the light of his own view at the passage. Held that there was no error in the procedure adopted by the Subordinate Judge. LAKSHMI DAS KESHAJI v. BHANJI KESHAJI (1911)

I L R 35 Bom 31

14 ——— Security for cost—Infant plaintiff—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 10 Expt I It is not desirable to run any risk of stopping a suit filed on behalf of an infant which may be a proper suit to bring merely because of some inability on the part of the next friend to give security for costs. BHAISHANKER AMBASHANKER v. MULJI ASHARAM (1910)

I L R 35 Bom 339

15 ——— Sentence—Magistrate passing non appealable sentence—Adding to sentence to make it appealable—Appeal to Sessions Judge—The Sessions Judge to entertain the appeal and to decide it on merits—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1898) s 1 The Magistrate trying a case passed at first a non appealable sentence on the accused but at the request of the accused made an addition to the sentence passed so as to make it appealable. When the accused appealed to the Sessions Judge his appeal was dismissed on the ground that no appeal lay inasmuch as the sentence first passed by the Magistrate was not appealable and the addition to the sentence could not be made legally. In revision Held that the Sessions Judge had committed an error in holding that he had no jurisdiction to hear the appeal for though the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to alter the sentence once passed by him yet for the purposes of the Sessions Judge's jurisdiction so far as the appeal was concerned that was the very mistake which he was called upon to correct by way of appeal. When the appeal was heard again by the Sessions Judge he struck out the addition made by the Magistrate in the sentence and having done that dismissed the appeal on the ground that the sentence appealed from was not appealable. In revision Held that when the Magistrate had passed a sentence beyond one month an appeal lay to the Sessions Judge under s 413 of the Criminal Procedure Code whether that sentence was passed legally or illegally Held also that the Sessions Judge being once seized of the appeal the whole appeal became open to his Court even on merits EMPEROR v KESHAVLAL VICHAND (1911) I L R 35 Bom. 418

PRACTICE—contd

III ———— Service of summons—Procedure—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O V s 25—Service of summons by registered post on defendant residing out of British India—Summons returned marked Refused to take—General Clauses Act (V of 1897) s 27 A summons was sent by registered post addressed to the first defendant at Navalgarh in the State of Jaipur and purported to be sent in accordance with the provisions of O V s 25 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). The cover was returned with an endorsement in the vernacular which was translated as follows—Refused to take. The handwriting of Chunilal postman Held that as it appeared that the cover was properly addressed to the first defendant and had been registered duly stamped and posted the Court was entitled to draw the inference indicated in s 27 of the General Clauses Act and to hold that there was sufficient service Per Curiam. The only rule if it can be called a rule to be laid down is that the Court must be guided in each case by its special circumstances as to how far it will give effect to a return of a cover endorsed refused or words to the like effect Jaganath Brahmabhai v J E Sassoon I L R 18 Bom. 606 distinguished. BALURAM RAMKRISHNAN v BAI PANABAI (1910) I L R 35 Bom. 213

17 ———— Setting aside consent decree A consent decree once duly obtained cannot be set aside by a rule but if it is sought to impeach it upon grounds of fraud that must be done in a regular suit. The only alternative which the law allows is an application for review of judgment. FATMAI v SOYDAI (1911)

I L R 36 Bom. 77

18 ———— Appellate Court duty of—Defective judgment—Omission to consider the defence evidence in a bad likelihood case—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 110 118 367 and 474 It is the duty of the Appellate Court on an appeal from an order under ss 110 and 118 of the Criminal Procedure Code to look into the evidence for the defence and after dealing with it to come to a decision thereon notwithstanding that the counsel for the appellant has practically ignored it during his arguments. IN OI HOSAIN v EMERSON (1912) I L R 40 Cal. 376

III ———— Criminal Proceedings—Special Leave to Appeal—Limit of jurisdiction—Leave to appeal from convictions and sentences on the grounds of alleged irregular conduct of the proceedings, misdirection to the jury and misapprehension of evidence refused the case not coming within the principle as laid down in *In re Diller 1 App Cas 452 CLIFFORD v KING EMERSON (1913) L R 40 I A 241

20 ———— Magistrate cannot invite District Magistrate's opinion While a Magistrate is trying a case a question arises whether the accused is amenable to the jurisdiction

PRACTICE—contd

The Magistrate felt himself doubtful on the question and he referred it to the District Magistrate for opinion. On receipt of the opinion he directed the trial to proceed before him Held that it was not competent to the Magistrate to seek the opinion of the District Magistrate in the way he did, but that he should finish the inquiry and complete the record by the reception of all evidence of relevant facts including the facts which bear upon the question of the accused's amenability to a British Court's jurisdiction and then consider for himself the question of law arising on those facts EMPEROR v ABDUL RAHMAN (1912) I L R 37 Bom. 144

21 ———— Evidence—Defendant's right to offer evidence Where the defendant appears and the plaintiff does not appear or offers no evidence when a suit is called on for hearing the Court has no jurisdiction except to dismiss the suit for want of prosecution the defendant is not entitled to have his evidence heard before the suit is dismissed Ex parte Jacobson L P 22 Ch D 312 distinguished. KESRI CRAND v NATIONAL JUTE MILLS Co (1912) I L R 40 Cal. 119

22 ———— Cause of action—Promissory Note—Consideration for Note—Separate Causes of Action—Ceylon Civil Procedure Code (Ordinance II of 1889) s 34 s 34 of the Ceylon Civil Procedure Code 1889 (which is in the same terms as the Indian Code of Civil Procedure 1908 O 2 r 2) provides that every action shall include the whole of the claim which the plaintiff is entitled to make in respect of the cause of action and that a plaintiff cannot afterwards sue for a part of the claim omitted from an action or (without leave) for another remedy for the same cause of action The respondent sued upon promissory notes but the action failed owing to a material alteration in the notes. He afterwards sued to recover a part of the consideration for which the promissory notes had been given. Held that although the claims in the two actions arose out of the same transaction they were in respect of different causes of action and that consequently the second action was not brought contrary to s 34 of the Code and could be maintained. PAYANA REXYA SIVATHAY v PANA LINA PAVATHAY (1913) L R 41 I A 142
18 C W N 617

23 ———— Withdrawal of suit—Material irregularity—Petition—High Court power of—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—High Courts Act 1861 s 15 In a suit to set aside a revenue sale the evidence on both sides had been heard the plaintiff amended during such evidence the arguments of both parties completed the case closed and the judgment reserved. The plaintiffs then applied for leave to withdraw the suit with liberty to bring a fresh suit on the same cause of action. This application was granted on the ground of formal defects. The plaintiffs subsequently instituted a fresh suit. Thereupon the defendant moved the High Court to set aside the order and obtained a rule. Held that the High Court had no power to deal with this case under s 15 of the Code of Civil Procedure. AKHAR CO LA v D G CHANDRA CHAND 11 C I J 45 Dec 4 D I I R 13 Al 161 and Tirupathi v Mutu I L R 11 Mad 32 distinguished. BANU SINGH v KUNU LAL THAKUR (1913) I L R 41 Cal. 632

PRACTICE—contd

24. — Admission of fresh evidence—Appellate Court—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 41. Where an Appellate Court desires to admit fresh papers in evidence under s 41 of O XXI of the Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) it must record its reasons in writing for doing so and admit them formally in evidence. DAJI BANAJI v SAKHARAM KRISHNA (1914) I L R 38 Bom 665

25. — Previous conviction—Feracancy of previous conviction for the purpose of determining extent of sentence—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 5—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 54 163. The proof of a previous conviction not contemplated by s 70 of the Indian Penal Code may be adduced after the accused is found guilty as an element to be taken into consideration in awarding punishment. Per SHAH J—The proof of a previous conviction not contemplated by s 70 of the Indian Penal Code may be adduced provided the previous conviction is relevant under the Indian Evidence Act. The whole question therefore is whether the previous conviction in question is relevant under the Act. It is certainly relevant with reference to the question whether the provisions of s 562 of the Code of Criminal Procedure would apply to this case and it seems to me to be otherwise relevant on the question of punishment. EMPEROR v ISMAIL ALI BEAT (1914) I L R 39 Bom 326

26. — Reference for Assessment of damages—A reference should be directed by the Court to assess damages only when the enquiry would involve questions of detail which it would be wasting the time of the Court to investigate. Wallis v Soyars 6 T L P 308 referred to in N GHOSH & BROS v POPAT NARAIN BROS (1915) I L R 42 Calc 819

27. — Execution of a decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 41—Judgment debtor examination—Application by judgment debtor to have order for examination set aside in application under O XXI r 41 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 made ex parte on a verified tabular statement is in order. The judgment debtor is entitled to be heard to have such order set aside but he should apply on summons. The object of O XXI r 41 is to obtain discovery for purposes of execution to avoid unnecessary trouble in obtaining satisfaction of money decrees. Although an order for personal examination is likely to operate harshly and cause unnecessary harassment and obviously ought not to be made unless the Court is satisfied about the bona fides of the application and its urgency, nevertheless still such applications may be fully encouraged to prevent unduly dilatory trouble some and expensive execution proceedings. In Irappa Triakandas I L P 17 Bom 514 referred to NATIONAL BANK OF INDIA LTD v A. K. CHUDHARI (1910) I L R 43 Calc 235

28. — Charge to jury—Misdirection—Omission to direct jury on points telling in accused's favour—High Court—Interference—Statute made by accused & sole Commitment Magistrate—Admissibility—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1899) s 37—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 24—Interlocutory authority—Police Paid arresting the accused. The High Court will interfere in those cases where it is made to appear that the Sessions Judge has prejudiced the accused by omitting from his charge to the jury points of capital importance telling in accused's favour. The phrase a person in authority in s 24 of the Indian Evidence Act would include the Police latil who arrests one of the persons accused of the offence. Quere Whether the statement made by an accused before the Committing Magistrate is governed by s 257 of the Criminal Procedure Code or by s 24 of the Indian Evidence Act. EMPEROR v FAKIRA APPIA (1915) I L R 40 Bom 220

PRACTICE—contd

29. — Partition Suit—Parties—Parties—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 15 O XLVII r 1—Partition of undivided share—Fraudulent representation Where the mortgagees of the plaintiff share in a partition suit applied (i) to be added as parties to the suit and (ii) for revocation of an order made by another Judge directing a sale of the one fourth share of certain premises which is one of the properties to be partitioned in the suit on the ground that the conduct of the mortgagees and their attorneys was fraudulent and that the said order was made without jurisdiction. Held that one Judge cannot set aside an order made by another Judge even though the order be wrong. The remedy lies in review on the ground set out in O XLVII r 1. Sharup Chand Mala v Pat Dassee I L P 11 Calc 627 Jatra Mohun Sen v Ashul Chandra Choudhury I L R 24 Calc 334 referred to PASANTA KUMAR DAS v KUSTUM KUMARI DAS (1916) I L R 44 Calc 28

30. — Suit filed by an agent on behalf of an absent plaintiff—Objection raised as to authority of agent—Duty of Court in which plaint is presented In the case of a suit filed by an agent on behalf of an absent plaintiff where the authority of the plaintiff to have a suit brought at all and to allow his name to be used as a plaintiff in the case is seriously questioned that is a matter of principle which it is a Court's duty to decide and unless it is shown that the plaintiff has in fact authorized the suit either expressly or impliedly a Court ought not to grant a decree in his favour. But where authority has been given by the plaintiff in some form or another and the question is whether the agent has complied with the rules as laid down in the Code of Civil Procedure that is not a question of principle at all but a question of practice and procedure. It is the first Court's business to see that the rules are complied with and it should not leave the investigation of that question to the Appellate Court. But a suit should not be dismissed without the party who has failed to comply with the rules of procedure being given an opportunity of correcting the defect in procedure if there be any. PAMAN LALJI v CHOKUL NATHJI (1917) I L R 39 All 343

31. — Modification of Order—Order of Judge on Original Side of the High Court—Jurisdiction to modify order before formally drawing up the order A Judge on the Original Side of the High Court has jurisdiction to modify the minutes of an order before the formal order is drawn up. MAHMOOD BI v SHERRIFA BI (1918) I L P 42 Mad 256

32. — Judgment containing remarks against a person who is neither party nor witness. It is very desirable that a Judge or Magistrate should make remarks which are prejudicial to the character of a person who is neither a party nor a witness in the proceeding before him and who has therefore no opportunity of giving an explanation or defending himself against the remarks made by the Court. In re HOLIBASSAPPA (1920) I L R 45 Bom 1127

PRACTICE—contd

33 ——— Probate and Administration Proceedings—Appeals—Rules of the High Court 35 36 38—Fees payable to legal practitioners In appeals from orders granting or refusing probate or letters of administration the fee allowable to a legal practitioner is regulated by rule 38 and not by rr 35 and 36 of the Appellate Side Rules of the High Court SIDHIA CHITTY v VENKA TAROYA CHITTY (1920) I L R 43 Mad 282

34 ——— Revision—Application to the High Court to revise a proceeding under s 133 Criminal Procedure Code without moving the Judge in the first instance—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1899) ss 435 438 439 It is not the practice of the High Court to entertain an application in revision against an order made by a Magistrate in a proceeding under s 133 of the Criminal Procedure Code unless the party aggrieved has first moved the Sessions Judge under ss 435 and 438. RASH BHAIRY SAHA v PRANJ BHUSAN HALDAR (1920) I L R 48 Cal 534

35 ——— Judicial Committee—Compromise of Appeal—Caritas non est juris—Certificate of High Court When a person not ex juris is a party to an appeal to His Majesty in Council and an agreement by way of compromise having been made it is desired to obtain leave to withdraw the appeal the regular and usual course is to obtain a certificate from the High Court from which the appeal is preferred that the agreement is for the benefit of that party. It is only in rare cases that the Judicial Committee will itself make the necessary inquiries and grant leave without a certificate as was done in Salunbas v Shrinibas I L R 47 I A 83. GOPINDA CHANDRA PAI v KATLASH CHANDRA PAI (1921) I L R 48 Cal 994

36 ——— Peremptory order dismissing action—Order dismissing action in default of condition precedent—Difference—Order not completed or filed effect of on suit On the suit coming for hearing on the 10th April 1910 it was ordered that it be adjourned to the 1st June 1910 that the plaintiff was to pay to day a costs and was to pay Rs 200 as a condition precedent before the 1st June to the defendant's attorney refundable on taxation of bills and that in default the suit would be dismissed with costs and no further adjournment would be granted. This order was never drawn up or filed. The suit came up again on the 20th June 1910 when it was adjourned though opposed on the ground that the suit could not proceed on an application of the surviving plaintiff to enable substitution in respect of one of the plaintiffs who had died on the 28th June 1910. On the 20th August 1910 the surviving plaintiff obtained an ex parte order recording the death of the deceased plaintiff. On the 17th January 1921 when the suit was on the Special List plaintiffs applied that it should be placed in the Special List. It was intended on behalf of the defendants that the suit was dead. Held that the petition of substitution was a proceeding of any kind in drawing up of the order and in the absence of any appeal from the order the dismissal would be from the date of the order had it contained the words in default the suit will stand dismissed. Held in the terms of the order of the 10th April 1910 containing conditions precedent a further order of the Court was necessary before the suit was dead. SEWATAN v KRISTO MOHON SHAW (1921) I L R 48 Cal 902

PRACTICE—contd

PRADHAN

Status in Santal Parganas—tenants inducted by pradhan whether can set up adverse possession as against the landlord Although a pradhan in the Santal Parganas is not a tenure holder as defined in the Bengal Tenancy Act he has all the attributes of a tenure holder and tenants inducted on to the land by him cannot acquire title by adverse possession as against the landlord. RAM CHARAN SIKON v L W BERRI 5 Pat L J 656

Pre-emption—mulari interest sale of—whether right of pre-emption arises The doctrine of pre-emption applied only to the sale of the proprietary interest and therefore does not apply to the sale of the mukarrari interest. SHAIKH MOHAMMAD JANIL v KUTUBAL RAUT 5 Pat L J 740

PRAGWAL

Right of pragwal to exclusive use of a flag of a certain design—Suit for injunction—Dirt jayman Held that a pragwal may acquire a right to the use of a flag of a particular design so as to enable him to sue for an injunction against any other pragwal making use of a flag with a similar design for the purpose of diverting pilgrims from the original owner. Ganesh v Babu Ram I L R 37 All 72 referred to BETI MADHO PRAGWAL v HIMA LAL I L R 43 All 70

PRAYERS

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 90
I L R 38 Bom 163

PREAMBLE

See CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES
20 C W N 1158

PRE-EMPTION

	Cols
CONTRACT	3333
CUSTOM	3333
FORMALITIES	3337
MORTGAGE	3339
POSSESSION	3333
THE MORTGAGE	3339
PRICE	3340
RIGHT OF PRE-EMPTION	3340
WAJID UL AFR	3347
MISCELLANEOUS	3333

See BUNDELKHAND ALIENATION ACT (II of 1903) s 3 I L R 37 All 662

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss 2 101 149 I L R 35 All 652

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI s 64 I L R 35 All 296

PRE-EMPTION—could

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870) s 7
CLS (v) AND (vi)

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 35 ALL 564

See LETTERS PATENT s 10
I L R 34 ALL 13

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) s 4
I L R 41 ALL 47

See MAHOMMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION

See PRADHAN
5 Pat L J 740

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1892
s 55 I L R 43 ALL 314

decree for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1892 s 309
I L R 32 ALL 301

In respect of sale effected by compromise in a suit for land—

I L R 1 Lah. 109

Extension of time for payment of purchase money—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

s 104 & 148

I L R 35 ALL 582
O A 2, 14 1 Pat L J 92

right of—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SCH I
ART 120 I L R 38 Mad 67

See MAHOMMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION
I L R 38 Bom 183

Registration—Whether sale complete without—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1892
s 54 1 Pat L J 174

suit for—

See COURT FEES ACT (VII of 1870)
s 7 (vi) I L R 40 ALL 353

CONTRACT

Rule against Perpetuities—Promisor heirs of not enforceable against—Perpetuities rule of applicable to Hindu law also A contract of pre-emption (with reference to sale of lands) which fixes no time within which the agreement to convey is to be performed cannot be enforced against the heirs of the person who entered into the contract as it infringes the rule against perpetuities The rule of perpetuities is applicable to Hindus also Abin Chandra Soot v. Abab
Ali Sarkar 5 C W N 343 followed KOLATHU
ALIYAR v. KANDIA VADHYAR (1919)

I L R 38 Mad. 114

Held that an option to arise on any intended sale or other alienation is subject to the rule against perpetuities ABIN CHANDRA SARKAR v. RAJANI CHANDRA CHAKRA
BARTY
25 C W N 802

CUSTOM

See PRE EMPTION—WAJIB UL ARZ

See CUSTOM

Nature of evidence required to establish a custom of pre-emption The PRE EMPTION—couldCUSTOM—could plaintiffs claimed a right based upon contract or custom to pre-empt a sale of zamindari property The property was situated in one of the three mahals of a village named Suram The plaintiffs were not co-sharers with the vendors in that mahal the vendees were strangers In 1873 the village Suram consisted of a single mahal and the village wajib ul arz of that date contained the following reference to pre-emption—

In future if any patidar wishes to transfer his share by sale to a stranger first the sharers in the patla the then patidars in the thok and then digar patidarans deh shall have a right to purchase In 1883 perfect partition took place and the village was divided into three separate mahals A fresh wajib ul arz was drawn up for each of the new mahals but in each the provisions regarding pre-emption were copied verbatim from the wajib ul arz of 1873 Held (i) that the plaintiffs had failed to establish any right of pre-emption based on contract (ii) that the oral evidence was worthless as supporting the custom set up by the plaintiffs and (iii) that the evidence afforded by the wajib ul arz of 1873 and 1883 was quite insufficient to establish the right claimed by the plaintiffs if such right was to be regarded as one based on an alleged custom Dalpanjan Singh v. Kalla Singh I L R 2 ALL 1 referred to Auers Lal v. Ram Dhan Lal I L R 2 ALL 609 and Sardar Singh v. Iya Hussain

Khan I L R 28 ALL 614 discussed GANGA
SINGH v. CHEDI LAL (1911)

I L R 33 ALL 605

2 Wajib ul arz—

Custom or contract—Construction of document—Regulation VII of 1882 In a suit for pre-emption wajib ul arzes of 1839 and 1863 were produced The preamble to the former was worded thus—Having well understood the following matters we willingly accept them It then dealt with the right of pre-emption in the following terms—Mode of sale or transfer of whole or part of here giving the right of pre-emption to co-sharers as against strangers and concluded with the words therefore we write this igarrama so that it may be of use in future The wajib ul arzes of 1839 provided that near co-sharers and other patidars would have the right of pre-emption Preference among them would be according to degrees of nearness—Held (STANLEY C J) dissenting that the wajib ul arzes contained the record of custom and not of contract Per STANLEY
C J—A custom to be binding must be unaltered uniform constant and definite If the settlement of 1833 recorded a custom then the co-sharers in the village at the time of the later settlement of 1869 must be deemed to have abrogated it and to have adopted by agreement the right of pre-emption which is recorded in the later wajib ul arz as more suitable to the then existing condition The variance in the rights as defined in two wajib ul arzes leads to the conclusion that the right recorded in 1869 cannot be treated as a right existing by custom Per LAKSHMI CHAMIER JJ—The word igarr does not necessarily mean a contract It means ratification or assent I EZZAT DUBAI v. PARALWAN PHAGAT (1910)
I L R 33 ALL 196

PRE-EMPTION—contd

CUSTOM—contd

3 ——— Custom—Wajib ul arz—Owner of isolated revenue free plots—Evidence of custom The pre-emptive clause of a wajib ul arz contained the following provisions —

If the owner of a share wish to sell it he shall do so first to his near relation who may be a co sharer in the zamindari and in case of his refusal to anyone he likes Held that this by itself was not sufficient evidence of a custom giving owners of isolated revenue free plots of land in the village a right to pre-empt MAWASI v MUL CHAND (1912) I L R 34 All 434

4 ——— Evidence —Sales to strangers unchallenged as evidence negating custom—Mode in which such sales should be proved Where the Court is trying the issue of the existence or non-existence of a custom of pre-emption every instance of a sale to a stranger is material evidence which the Court ought to take into consideration and weigh when coming to a conclusion on the issue But a mere vague statement that there had been sales to strangers without the production of the sale deeds or certified copies thereof and without some further details of the sale is not sufficient to prove sales to strangers Sewak Singh v Gurja Pande 2 All L J 8 discussed JANKI MISHRA v PANCH SINGH (1913) I L R 35 All 472

5 ——— Custom—Effect of perfect partition The wajib ul arz of an undivided village supported a finding that there existed a custom of pre-emption amongst the co sharers in the village Subsequently to the framing of this wajib ul arz a perfect partition of the village took place Held that the basis of such a custom was the coparcenary relation and that after partition a co sharer in one mahal could not claim pre-emption in respect of property sold in another mahal in which the pro-emptor was not a co sharer Daljanam Singh v Kalika Singh I L R 22 All 1 and Ganga Singh v Oshai Lal I L R 33 All 605 referred to MUHAMMAD MAHBUB ALI KHAN v RAHIM NAB DAFAL (1915) I L R 38 All 27

6 ——— Custom—Vendor bound to offer to co sharers—Refusal to purchase—Refusal to give more than a fixed price The custom in pursuance of which a right of pre-emption was claimed being that the vendor was bound to offer the property for sale to his co sharer and only in case of their refusal he could sell to a stranger the vendor offered the property in dispute to the pro-emptor who offered only Rs 160 for it and refused to give more The vendor thereupon sold it to Rs 275 to the defendants Held that the conduct of the plaintiff amounted to a refusal to purchase the property and the vendor was not obliged to give him the option of taking up the contract which he subsequently made for Rs 275 Kaika Lal v Kaika Prasad I L R 47 All 670 discussed INDRAJIT v BROTHMAN CRYSTAL MITSUBISHI (1916) I L R 77 All 262

7 ——— Custom—Finding of fact—Second—In a suit for pre-emption brought on the basis of custom if the Court considers the proper law in the case namely whether the custom is a local custom or a general custom and on the evidence

PRE-EMPTION—contd

CUSTOM—contd

comes to the conclusion that it does not exist the finding is one of fact and is binding on the High Court in second appeal BARU MAL v TANSUKH PAI (1916) I L R 37 All 524

8 ——— Custom—Effect on pre-existing custom of village coming to be owned by a single individual When a mahal in respect of which there exists a custom of pre-emption comes into the ownership of a single individual the effect is to put an end to the custom and not merely that the custom falls into abeyance KAMUN NI SA BIRI v SUDHA BIRI (1917) I L R 50 All 480

9 ——— Custom—Wajib ul arz—Custom—Property to be offered first to a co-sharer In a pre-emption suit the custom being that a co sharer wishing to sell his property should first offer it to the other co sharers, if the vendor goes to the other co sharers and informs them of his desire to sell and they decline to purchase on the ground that they have not the means or on any other similar ground the vendor is at liberty without violating the custom to sell to a stranger If however a co sharer offers to purchase at a particular value the vendor ought not to sell to a stranger at a lower price NAUMAL SINGH v RAM RATAN (1916) I L R 39 All 127

10 ——— Custom—Wajib ul arz—Right of pre-emption acquired by means of imperfect partition of the village There being a pre-existing custom of pre-emption in a village a right of pre-emption may arise in favour of an individual co sharer just as much by the creation of a new patti by imperfect partition as by purchase by the co sharer of a share in the patti Mahadeo Prasad Sahu v Jaipal Paut 8 Indian Cases 867 dissented from LAJPA PRASAD CHAUDHARY v GOKUL PRASAD (1918) I L R 40 All 617

11 ——— Custom—Entrustment—Wajib ul arz clear and unambiguous Where there is an entry in the Wajib ul arz as to the right of pre-emption which is clear and distinct and there is no evidence to the contrary the Court ought to have regard to the prevailing practice to hold that the custom of pre-emption exists FAZAL HUSSAIN v MUHAMMAD SHARIF I L R 36 All 471

12 ——— Partition The Wajib ul arz of an undivided village afforded evidence of the existence of a custom of pre-emption in the village between co-sharers Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition into several mahals each adopting the old custom Held that no right of pre-emption survived as between the different mahals I L R 33 All 605 referred to

I L R 41 All 496

13 ——— Hindus—Pre-emption of agricultural lands—Proof of custom Though the Hindus in Surat have adopted the Mahomedan law of pre-emption by a long-established custom with regard to honours it is an open question whether they have a vested right with regard to agricultural lands Jao Jivam Harihar v KALIDAS MEHTA (1910) I L R 43 Bom 604

14 ——— Held that there was a custom of pre-emption existed among the

PRE-EMPTION—*contd*CUSTOM—contd

Hindus in Ahmedabad MOTILAL DAYABHAI v. HABILAL MAGAYLAL I L R 44 Bom. 695

15 ——— Held that in the district of Bulsar when the Hanafi School of Mahomedan Law prevails neighbours have equal rights to pre-empt and there is nothing which is contrary to the principles of justice, equity and good conscience in allowing two neighbours who have equal rights of pre-emption to exercise them Gokaldas v. Irtab (1916) 18 Bom. L. R. 693 not followed VITHALDAS KAHANDAS v. JANETRAM I L R 44 Bom. 887

16 ——— Custom—Wajib-ul-ar.—Partition of village.—Old custom adopted in new mahals.—Right of pre-emption not surviving as between the new mahals. The Wajib-ul-arz of an undivided village afforded evidence of the existence of a custom of pre-emption in the village between co-sharers. Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition into several mahals and each of the new mahals adopted the old custom. Held that no right of pre-emption survived as between the different new mahals Ganga Singh v. Cheda Lal I L R 33 All. 605 referred to DROKIRANDAS v. MAHTAB PATEL (1919) I L R 41 All. 428

FORMALITIES

1 ——— Mahomedan law—Talab-i-ushhah Held that a Mahomedan pre-emptor cannot validly make the talab-i-ushhah by letter when he is in a position to do so in person MUHAMMAD KHALIL v. MUHAMMAD IBRAHIM (1916) I L R 28 All. 201

2 ——— Suit by Hindu—Mahomedan law of sale whether applicable.—Sale complete when—Ceremonies necessary before pre-emption compliance with—S. 37 Act XII of 1857 Per MULLICK J. There being special custom pleaded a case where pre-emption is claimed by a Hindu must be tried on the principles of justice, equity and good conscience under a S. 37 Act XII of 1857. As a sale is not complete till legal ownership passes no matter whether there has been payment and delivery the pre-emptor's title in the case of a property worth more than Rs. 100 does not accrue till after registration. It would be against equity, justice and good conscience to apply in such a case the Mahomedan law of sale which is no longer in force and to attach to a mere contract for sale an incident which the Mahomedan lawyers intended to attach only to an actual sale. The performance of the two formalities talab-i-marcasibat and talab-i-ushhah can be combined but it is essential that the talab-i-ushhah should refer expressly to the talab-i-marcasibat as having been duly made Wajmunnessa v. Ayid Ali Khan I L R 40 All. 343 Janki v. Gurjatal I L R 7 All. 45 Begum v. Mulamma v. Yakub I L R 16 All. 344 Jadu Lal Sahu v. Janaki Koer I L R 35 Cal. 578 and Budhai Sarda v. Sonavallah Mirdha 19 Cal. J. 604 s. 13 C. W. N. 390 referred to Roz J.—The test to apply in these cases is was the sale in the eyes of the contracting parties and the pre-emptor complied? If it was it was not necessary for the pre-emptor to wait till

PRE-EMPTION—*contd*FORMALITIES—contd

registration before performing the ceremony of marcasibat ABETALI PROSAD v. NAZARUL ALAM (1916) 20 C. W. N. 1048

3 ——— Mahomedan law—Talab-i-ushhah and talab-i-marcasibat—Observance of both talabs necessary Held that the performance of the talab-i-ushhah is an indispensable preliminary to the enforcement of a right of pre-emption according to the Mahomedan Law MUHAMMAD AHMAD SAID KHAN v. MADHO PRASAD (1916) I L R 59 All. 183

MORTGAGE

1 ——— Mortgage of property prior to the passing of Act No. IV of 1884.—Government revenue paid by mortgagee.—Liability of pre-emptor to pay the amount of the revenue as a condition precedent to obtaining possession of property. Under a mortgage deed the mortgagor was liable to pay the Government's revenue and if he failed to do so the mortgagee was to pay it and was entitled to recover the sum from the mortgagor and his other property. The mortgagor failed to pay the revenue which accordingly was paid by the mortgagee. Subsequently the property was sold to the mortgagee for the amount of the mortgage plus the amount of the revenue paid by the mortgagee. In a suit to pre-empt this sale Held that the pre-emptor was bound to pay the amount paid by the mortgagee for the revenue as a condition precedent to his obtaining possession of the property as well as the amount of the mortgage LIJOS RAY v. RAM NARAIN (1916) I L R 38 All. 530

2 ——— Transfer—Mortgage.—Use of the term malkuzah not sufficient to constitute a mortgage. The material portion of a document executed by the borrowers to secure a loan was as follows:—We agree that we shall pay annually the interest and in default of payment of interest for two years the creditors shall have the right without waiting for the expiry of the time fixed to file suit and to recover their dues from the property mortgaged (malkuzah) and if the creditors make delay in realizing the principal and interest then the aforesaid creditors shall not be entitled to recover their dues under the deed from any other property of myself excepting the property mortgaged (malkuzah). A claim for pre-emption was brought based upon this document which was claimed to be a sale or at least a mortgage. Held by RICHARDS C. J. that it was very difficult to distinguish the transaction evidenced by the document in question from what is ordinarily called a simple mortgage. On a construction however of the wajib-ul-arz it was held not to include mortgages which did not involve a change of possession. Held by TRELLIS J. that the document under consideration did not amount to a mortgage but at most constituted a charge on the property referred to there in Dalip Singh v. Bahadur Puri I L R 24 All. 446 referred to KUTUB-UD-DIN v. ABDUL MAJID (1916) I L R 28 All. 361

POSSESSION

—Decree for pre-emption—Purchaser's possession and right to rents and profits continue until full pre-emption price is

PRE-EMPTION—contd

POSSESSION—contd

prid—Civil Procedure Code 1882 s 214—Mahomedan law of pre-emption—Change of possession under decree If a claim to pre-emption be disputed and a suit must be brought the rights of the parties are regulated by s 214 of the Code of Civil Procedure which in this respect embodies the principle of the Mahomedan Law. That section enacts that "When the suit is to enforce a right of pre-emption in respect of a particular sale of property and the Court finds for the plaintiff if the amount of purchase money has not been paid into Court the decree shall specify a day on or before which it shall be so paid and shall declare that on payment of such purchase money together with the costs (if any) decreed against him the plaintiff shall obtain possession of the property but that if such money and costs are not so paid the suit shall stand dismissed with costs." It is therefore only on payment of the purchase money on the specified date that the plaintiff obtains possession of the property and until that time the original vendee retains possession, and is entitled to the rents and profits. Deoknandan v Sri Pam 1 L R 12 All 234 approved. In the present case the decree under which possession was given to the pre-emptor (appellant) was made on 31st March 1900 by the Subordinate Judge who found that the pre-emptive price was Rs 37,000 and on payment of that sum the pre-emptor was put into possession. The High Court reversed that decree and dismissed the suit but found that the price was Rs 44,850 as stated in the deed of sale. On 2nd July 1904 the original purchaser was put into possession. On 25th January 1908 the Privy Council set aside the decree of the High Court and restored that of the Subordinate Judge except as to the pre-emptive price which was fixed as being Rs 44,850 and the additional sum making up that amount having been deposited possession was again given to the pre-emptor on 19th January 1909. In proceedings in which each party claimed mesne profits from the other the original vendee from the pre-emptor from 1900 to 1904 and the pre-emptor from the vendee from 1904 to 1909. Held that the possession of the vendee continued until 19th January 1909 and the pre-emptor only obtained possession within the meaning of s 214 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882 on the date. No mesne profits thereafter were due to him but he was liable to the vendee for mesne profits from 1900 to 1904 for which period he was in possession without title. Dronadhy Prasad Singh v Ramdhari Chowdhry (1916)

I L R 11 Cal 675

PRE-MORTGAGE

Pre-emption (pre-mortgage)—Joint usufructuary mortgage—Further simple mortgage on share of one mortgagor in favour of same mortgagor—What amount the claimants of the right to pre-emption are liable to pay. Certain persons made a joint usufructuary mortgage of their property. On the same day one of them executed a deed by way of a further charge or simple mortgage of his share in favour of the same mortgagor. In a suit for pre-mortgage of the share in this second mortgage it was held that the plaintiffs were not liable to pay the sum

PRE-EMPTION—contd

PRE-MORTGAGE—contd

secured by the deed of further charge which was a separate and independent transaction but were entitled to pre-mortgage upon paying such amount of the mortgage debt as was proportionate to the share of the said mortgagor. KALLA v HARBHAN (1912) I L R 34 All 416

IRICF

Decree for pre-emption—Price for pre-emption directed to be deposited within one month—Decree holder's application for extension of time granted—Deposit made within extended time—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XX r 14—S 148 Civil Procedure Code—Court's jurisdiction—S 115 On the last day fixed for the deposit of money by a decree of pre-emption the decree holder applied for extension of time to make the deposit and he deposited the amount within the extended time granted to him (ex parte) by the Court. Held that the Court had jurisdiction to extend the time. The High Court declined to interfere under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code. ABU MUHAMMAD MIAN v MUKUT PERTAP NARAIN (1916)

20 C W N 880

Payment of pre-emption price into Court—short by one rupee—decree holder entitled to Rs 19 10 0 as costs—whether such payment is sufficient compliance with the terms of the decree The appellants obtained a pre-emption decree in their favour by which they were entitled to get possession of the property on paying into Court the sum of Rs 99 by the 30th of April 1918 and they were also entitled to Rs 19 10 0 as cost of the suit. By the date fixed they paid into Court Rs 98 i.e. one rupee short of Rs 99. Subsequently they took possession of the property and realised the full amount of their costs. Held that as the decree holders were entitled to deduct their costs from the decretal amount the payment of Rs 98 was really in excess of what they had to pay and the terms of the decree were therefore satisfied. It is immaterial what the decree holders intended to do the only real test is whether they have sufficiently complied with the terms of the decree. Dechar Singh v Shami Lal (10 Indian cases 454) followed. KARUNIA MAL v WALI MUHAMMAD I L R 2 Lah 294

RIGHT OF PRE-EMPTION

See PRE-EMPTION—HAJEE CLARKE

Mortgage—Pre-emption a right of substitution not of re-purchase—Vendor not competent to mortgage property liable to pre-emption so as to bind pre-emptor The right of pre-emption being a right of substitution rather than a right of re-purchase the vendee of property which is subject to a right of pre-emption cannot defeat the pre-emptive right by subsequently mortgaging the property and thus force the pre-emptor to take the property subject to a mortgage so created. Gobind Dayal v Inayatullah I L R 7 All 175 referred to. Serai Wali v Nizam Singh I L R 20 All 100. Narain v Farbat Singh I L R 23 All 247 and Deo Dal v Pam Aulair I L R 8 All 602 distinguished. KANTA PRASAD v MOHAN BHAGAT (1909) I L R 32 All 45

PRE EPTION—*contd*RIGHT OF PRE EPTION—contd

2. ——— Partition after sale but before decree—Muhammadan law—Effect on suit The plaintiff sued for pre emption of zamindari property basing his claim upon the Muhammadan law and the fact that he was a co sharer in the property sold After the suit but before decree the property was partitioned and the plaintiff and the vendors became owners of different Mahals Held that the plaintiff was no longer after the partition had been completed entitled to a decree for pre emption TAFAZZUL HUSAIN v THAN SINGH (1910) I L R 32 All 567

3. ——— Covenant in deed of partition—Proper sale price meaning of A right of pre emption reserved in a partition deed is valid as between the co owners themselves The ekramamah contained the following clause—Any one of the parties desirous of selling shall sell the same to the other party willing to buy the same at the proper sale price Held that the proper sale price would be the market value KALIDUDDIN BRUYAN v REAZUDDIN AHMED (1909) 14 C W N 295

4. ——— Misjoinder—Civil Procedure Code 1882 ss 44 45—Two sales to same vendee—Suit in respect of both sales—Joinder of vendors as defendants Of the four owners of undivided shares in immoveable property three sold their interest in the property and the fourth sold his interest separately at a later date to the same vendee A pre emptor sued for pre emption on the basis of both these transactions impleading as defendants the vendors and rival pre emptor as well as the vendee Held that the suit was not bad for misjoinder of either causes of action or parties Bhagwati Prasad Gur v Bindeshri Gur I L R 6 All 100 dissented from Kolaiwan Singh v Gur Dajal I L R 4 All 163 referred to Held also that the vendor is not a necessary party to a suit for pre emption Hira Lal v Ram Jas I L R 6 All 57 Lok Singh v Balwan Singh All 19 (1903) 239 and Ram Sarup v Sital Prasad I L R 6 All 549 referred to HARBANS TIWARI v TOTA BANU (1909)

I L R 32 All 14

5. ——— House of residence—Family property—Division under an award—Prohibition of sale by a co sharer of his portion to an outsider—Pre emption—Construction—Court sale—Prohibition not effective An award under which family property was divided among co sharers provided that in case of a sale by any of the co sharers of his portion of the house of residence he should sell it to his co sharer for a certain sum and that he should not sell it to an outsider until the expiration of two months from the date of a notice in writing saying that they (co sharers) were not willing to buy it Subsequently a portion of the house belonging to one co sharer having been sold in execution of a decree against him it was purchased by an outsider The sons of one of the other co sharers thereupon having brought a suit for a declaration that the Court sale was not binding upon them Held that the term of pre emption in the award was contemplated to attach to sales made privately and willingly and not to attachment and sale in execution of the judgment debtor VITHAL NARAYAN v MARUTI NARAYAN (1910) I L R 34 Bom 567

PRE EPTION—*contd*RIGHT OF PRE EPTION—contd

6. ——— Suit instituted after decrees passed in favour of other pre emptors—Plaintiff no party to former suits—Suit maintainable Held that where a pre emptor having a superior right of pre emption brings his suit within limitation the fact that decrees have been made in favour of other pre emptors the plaintiff not being a party to the suits in which such decrees were passed will be no obstacle to the success of the suit Abdur Paal v Mamta Husain I L R 25 All 331 distinguished Serh Mal v Hulam Singh I L R 20 All 100 Allahabad Khan v Abdul Hakim S A No 724 of 1906 decided April 19th 1907 and Muhammad Latif v Goring Singh I L R 5 All 38 referred to PAS NARAYAN RAI v DUVIA PANDU (1910)

I L R 32 All 340

7. ——— Suit for pre emption—Act No XVIII of 1876 (Oudh Laws Act) s 9 cl (1) and (2) and proviso as to drawing lots—Act No XVIII of 1876 (Oudh Land Revenue Act)—Mahal definition of—Co sharer in subdivision of tenure in which property in suit was comprised—Co sharer in whole mahal At the summary settlement of Oudh the taluq in which the property in suit (three villages and two patts or parts of villages) was comprised was settled with the father of the first respondent as taluqdar but at the regular settlement in 1804 he came to a compromise with two other claimants by which he took half the taluq as superior proprietor and the other half was assigned in equal shares to the other claimants who were his relatives in under proprietary right they paying the Government revenue plus 10 per cent to the taluqdar and being jointly liable to him in respect of the same as rent One of these two died childless and his share devolved upon the other one and on the death of the latter both shares descended to the appellant (his son) and the second respondent (his grandson) Between these two in 1893 a partition took place under which the three villages and the two patts were assigned to the second respondent and a decree and mutation of names was made in accordance with the partition but no separate engagement was made for payment of the Government revenue in respect of the property so assigned. In 1900 the second respondent sold the property in question to the first respondent who had succeeded his father as taluqdar In a suit by the appellant against the respondents claiming the right of pre emption under s 9 of the Oudh Laws Act (XVIII of 1876) Held (affirming the decision of the majority of the court of the Judicial Commissioner) that the meaning attributed to the term mahal in the judgement of the officiating Judicial Commissioner (Sir Clamer) namely any parcel or parcels of land which have been separately assessed to or are held under a separate engagement for the revenue and for which a separate record or right has been prepared was the proper meaning of the word in the Oudh Laws Act and therefore although the second respondent and the appellant may have been jointly liable to the first respondent for the Government revenue plus malikana as the rent of the villages and patts assigned under the compromise of 1804 they were not at the date of the sale to the first respondent co sharers in any sub-division of the tenure in which the property in suit was comprised (under cl 1 of s 9) or the whole mahal (under cl 2 of that section). The Appellate Court in India found that the appellant and the first respondent had an equal right to pre-emption of the two pattis and that under the proviso to s 9 they must draw lots to determine which of them should be entitled to exercise the right. Thus being done the right to purchase fell to the first respondent and the appellant consequently lost the right to pre-empt. SHEORAJ KUNWAR v HARIDAS BAKSHI SIKON (1910) I L R 32 ALL 351

PRE EMPTION—*contd*RIGHT OF PRE EMPTION—contd

8 ——— Wajib-ul arz—Notice of sale given to member of a joint Hindu family—Effect of such notice—Effect of conditional reply disputing amount of alleged consideration Held that a person having a right of pre-emption does not lose it by refusing to purchase the property at the price at which it is offered to him because he believes that such price is in excess of the real price where such belief is entertained and expressed in good faith. Where the pre-emptor and his brothers were members of a joint Hindu family and the vendor addressed a notice to him and his brothers jointly to which the pre-emptor's brother sent a reply. Held that the plaintiff pre-emptor was entitled to claim the benefit of this reply as it had been sent by himself. Laya Prasad v Dabi Prasad I L R 3 ALL 236 Amir Chand v Ishar Das ALL Weekly Notes (1882) 136 Bhola Bibi v Fakima Bibi ALL Weekly Notes (1892) 46 and Karim Dakhsh v Khuda Baksh I L R 16 ALL 247 followed. SRI KISHAN SIKON v BACHCHA PANDE (1911) I L R 33 ALL 637

9 ——— Claim of pre-emptor based on purchase by him of another share in the same mahal—Claim made before confirmation of sale in plaintiff's favour—Civil Procedure Code 1882 s 316 Held with reference to s 316 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 that a purchaser at auction sale in execution of a decree of a share in zamindari property does not become a co-sharer in the mahal in which such property is situate until the sale has been confirmed in his favour. HAN ALI v MIAN JAN KHAN (1910) I L R 33 ALL 45

10 ——— Right—Personal—Transfer—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 6 The right of pre-emption is a purely personal right which cannot be transferred to any one except the owner of the property affected thereby. JAG UDIT v SAKHARAM GANESH (1911) I L R 36 Bom 139

11 ——— Mahomedan law—Demand made "on the premises"—Demand made in the abadi which was part of the premises sold. Where a person claiming pre-emption in respect of a certain zamindari share proved that he had made the demand with witnesses while sitting on his chabutra in the abadi which formed part of the premises sold it was held that the demand of pre-emption was a good demand made on the premises within the meaning of the Mahomedan law. Kulsum Bibi v Faqir Mohammad Khan I P 13 ALL 293 followed. MUHAMMAD USMAN v MUHAMMAD ABDUL GHAFUR (1911) I L R 34 ALL 1

PRE-EMPTION—*contd*RIGHT OF PRE EMPTION—contd

12 ——— Mahomedan law—Talab-i-mawasibat—Where a person immediately on hearing of the sale of a house exclaimed wa-hal shafa hai and without any delay took the price and brought it to the vendee and claimed the house. Held that the expressions used by him coupled with the circumstances constituted a sufficient first demand. Muhammad Aldul Rahman Khan v Mohammad Khan, 8 ALL J 270 distinguished. MUHAMMAD NAZIF KHAN v MAKHDOM BAKSHI (1911) I L R 34 ALL 53

13 ——— Wajib-ul arz—Custom—Effect of joining in the purchase as a co-sharer having an inferior right The vendee in a suit for pre-emption having equal rights with the pre-emptor, disables himself from resisting a suit for pre-emption as much by associating with him in the purchase another co-sharer whose right is inferior to those of the pre-emptor as by associating with himself a stranger. GUPTESWAR RAM v RATI KRISHNA RAM (1912) I L R 34 ALL 542

14 ——— Conditional decree—Decretal amount deposited in Court—Decree enhanced on appeal—Additional payment made not covering amount withdrawn as costs A successful plaintiff pre-emptor deposited in Court the amount of the decree in his favour but subsequently withdrew therefrom the amount of the costs decreed in his favour. On the amount payable being enhanced on appeal he paid into Court the difference between the original and appellate decrees. Held that the decree had been fully complied with. Gopal Saran v Isari I L R 6 ALL 351 Balmukund v Pancham I L R 10 ALL 460 Parmanand Rao v Gobardhan Sahai I L R 28 ALL 676 and Bechar Singh v Shams Nath 8 ALL J 2 Notes p 2 followed. ALI HUSSAIN v AMIR ULLAH (1912) I L R 34 ALL 686

15 ——— Second sale—Subject matter of suit re-sold at advanced price—Second sale subject to right of pre-emption in respect of the first A house in the city of Benares subject to a customary right of pre-emption was sold for Rs 1150. The vendee resold it shortly afterwards to the defendant for Rs 4000. Held on suit brought to pre-empt the property at the original price of Rs 1150 that the second sale was subject to the right of pre-emption and the pre-emptor was only bound to pre-empt the first sale making the subsequent vendee a party to the suit so as to bind him by the proceedings. Kamla Prasad v Mohan Bhagat I L R 32 ALL 45 referred to. KHETTER CHANDRA BASU MALLIK v NABIN KALI DEBI (1913) I L R 35 ALL 385

16 ——— Right of pre-emptor to put vendor to proof of title—Suit must be for entire property sold Held that a pre-emptor is not entitled in a pre-emption suit to put the vendor on proof of his title to the property which he purports to sell. The principle of pre-emption is substitution. A pre-emptor is therefore bound to take the title which the vendee was ready to take. Further that a pre-emptor cannot sue to pre-empt only a portion of the property sold. SABODRA BIBI v BAGESHWARI SIKON (1915) I L R 37 ALL 829

17 ——— Effect of perfect partition on—No fresh wajib-ul arz prepared at or after

PRE-EMPTION—contd

RIGHT OF PRE-EMPTION—contd

partition—Right of a sharer in new mahal after partition to pre-empt properly in another new mahal in which he was not a sharer at date of sale—Value of wajib ul arz as evidence—Prima facie evidence of custom of pre-emption without proof of instances of custom being enforced In this appeal which was one arising out of a suit by the appellant one of the co-sharers in a mauza for pre-emption after there had been a partition of the mauza in which the land sold was situated and no fresh wajib ul arz had been prepared after the partition had taken place their Lordships of the Judicial Committee (affirming the decision of the High Court) were of opinion that the clauses relating to pre-emption contained in wajib ul arzes of 1863 and 1870 proved that prior to the partition the right of pre-emption had existed in the mauza but that the appellant had not shown either on the construction of the wajib ul arz or by other evidence that the custom of pre-emption which obtained in the unpartitioned mauza survived the partition so as to give the appellant a sharer in one of the new mahals a right to pre-empt property in another of those mahals in which he was not a sharer at the date of the sale. Their Lordships did not dissent from the view expressed by BAYAZI J in the full bench case of Dalgarnjan Singh v Kalla Singh I L R 22 All 1 that where a fresh wajib ul arz has not been prepared at partition it does not follow as a matter of law or principle that the custom of contract in force before partition is no longer to have effect or operation and were of opinion that the question must depend upon the circumstances of each case and the inferences which may legitimately be drawn from the evidence. A wajib ul arz is by itself good prima facie evidence of a custom of pre-emption stated in it without corroboration by evidence of instances in which the custom has been enforced. The evidence as to a custom of pre-emption afforded by a wajib ul arz may of course be rebutted by other evidence. DIGAMBAR SINGH & AHMED SYED KHAN (1914)

I L R 37 All 129

18 ——— Wajib ul arz—Owners of resumed muafi land—Held that the owners of a plot of resumed muafi land assessed to revenue separately from the rest of the village which constituted one 10 anna mahal was not a co-sharer with the owners of the mahal so as to give him a right of pre-emption on sale of the mahal under the terms of the wajib ul arz which declared a right of pre-emption to exist on a sale by a co-sharer in favour of other co-sharers in the village Kallian Lal v Madan Mohan I L R 17 All 41; Narain Das v Pam Saran Das I L R 17 All 419; Raghunath Prasad v Kanhaya Lal All IR 1907 68 Ahmad Ali v Daryam un nissa 2 All L J 145 and Baitu Lal v Bhola Nath 19 Indian Cases 119 referred to Narain Prasad v Munna Lal I L R 30 All 39 not followed. MAHADEO PRASAD & JAGAR DEO GIR (1916)

I L R 38 All 260

19 ——— Partition—after institution of suit but before decree—Plaintiff entitled to decree—Court should take notice of matters which come into existence after suit—Talab-i-mua that erroneous statement as to price in it invalidates—Error on ground not before taken when allowed—Suits

PRE-EMPTION—contd

RIGHT OF PRE-EMPTION—contd

Valuation Act (III of 1887) s 11—Valuation—appeal—Jurisdiction SANDESSON C J and MOOKERJEE J—The right of the plaintiff to get pre-emption must exist not only at the time of the sale but also at the time of the institution of the suit and finally up to and at the date of the decree of the trial Court. A judgment passed by the High Court on second appeal was reviewed on a ground not taken at any previous stage of the proceeding when the ground raised a pure question of law which did not depend for its determination upon the investigation of new facts and when the alleged error was apparent on the face of the record. Connecticut Fire Insurance Co v Katannogh (1892) A C 473 at p 480 referred to Per MOOKERJEE J—The decree in a suit should ordinarily conform to the rights of the parties as they stood at the date of its institution. But the cases when it is incumbent upon a Court of Justice to take notice of events which have happened since the institution of the suit and to mould its decree according to the circumstances as they stand at the time the decree is made. This principle will be applied where it is shown that the original relief claimed has by reason of subsequent change of circumstances become inappropriate or that it is necessary to base the decision of the Court on the altered circumstances in order to shorten litigation or to do complete justice between the parties. Per SHARFUDDIN and ROZ JJ—For the performance of the talab-i-muaqalat what is necessary is an expression by the pre-emptor in clear and explicit terms that the demands to make the purchase and it is not necessary that he should at the time of the performance of the ceremony make any mention of the price. Where in performing the talab the claimant owing to mistaken information understated the price though the ceremonies required by law were fully performed. Held that the talab was validly performed. Plaintiff suing for pre-emption valued his suit at Rs 4000 the price for which according to his information the property had been sold to the defendant. The suit was dismissed by the Subordinate Judge but decreed on appeal by the District Judge who however found that the real value of the property was over Rs 8000. On second appeal it was urged that having regard to the value of property as found by the District Judge appeal lay to the High Court and not to the District Judge but the point was not taken in the memorandum of appeal. Held per SHARFUDDIN and ROZ JJ That this objection should be overruled in view of s 11 of the Suits Valuation Act and that the decision in Faj Lokhmi Dass v Katgajani Dass I L J 35 Cal 63 was distinguishable from the present case as in that case the suit was intentionally and grossly undervalued. AFI MAH & AMERICA GYON (1916)

O C W N 109

20 ——— Wajib ul arz—Inequal—Mortgage by conditional sale—Cause of action The wajib ul arz of a village in recording an entry as to the right of pre-emption referred to transfers (in equal) and provided for the mode in which the first offer was to be made. Held that this provision applied to a mortgage by way of conditional sale and that the pre-emptor's cause of action arose upon the execution of the deed of

PRE-EMPTION—*contd*FIGHT OF PRE-EMPTION—contd

mortgage and not when a foreclosure decree was passed or when the mortgage obtained possession thereunder SUDA SINGH v MAHABIR SINGH (1917) I L R 39 All 544

21 ——— Sale by co-sharer to Mahomedan a Hindu—On the assumption that other co sharers were to have the right to pre-empt—Fight of pre-emption of latter—Vendor if may prescribe special conditions not imposed by law—Agreement of sale understood by parties as and represented to be sale—Accrual of right of pre-emption—Transfer of Property Act (I) of 1882 s 54, if determines date of sale Where in property owned by Mahomedans co owners entitled to a fourth share agreed to sell their share to certain persons who were Hindus and in pursuance of the agreement the vendors intimated to the remaining co sharer that they had sold their share as aforesaid and gave the latter two days time within which to exercise his right of pre-emption Held that as all the parties had considered that there was a law of pre-emption which applied between the vendors and their co sharer and that it was applicable to the purchasers who too had assented to that view it was not necessary to enquire whether there was a local custom of pre-emption or whether it could be enforced by a Mahomedan against a Hindu purchaser The Transfer of Property Act was not intended to alter to Mahomedan Law of pre-emption SITARAM BHAWRAO DESH MUKH v SYED JIAUL HASAN KHAN (PC) 26 C W N 221

WAJIB UL ARZ

See PRE-EMPTION—RIGHT OF AND CUSTOM OF

1 ——— Custom or contract—The wajib ul arz of a village in the Saharanpur district contained the following declaration on the part of the co sharers — Whereas a new settlement of our village from July 1860 to 1890 for a period of 30 years has been made on a revenue of Rs 484 annually therefore the agreement of us proprietors and landholders is that till the term of this settlement and in future till the completion of the next settlement we shall remain bound and carry out — the reference intended being presumably to subsequent clauses of the document. In a later wajib ul arz of 1297 Fashl the parties stated — In regard to the remaining customs of the village the wajib ul arz of 1267 Fashl should be referred to Held that the wajib ul arz of 1267 Fashl recorded a contract and not a custom and that contract had expired with the settlement for which it was entered into Maratib Husain v Alam Ali Ali W v (1937) 29 and Budh Singh v Gopal Rai I L R 30 All 544 followed ASA PAK v KANHAIA LAL (1910) I L R 32 All 399

2 ——— Partition of village—Sey rate wajib ul arzes—Change in the language A village originally undivided was first partitioned into several mahals with a separate settlement wajib ul arz for each Subsequently one of these mahals was subdivided into two and fresh wajib ul arzes were framed for these two mahals One of the new mahals was in turn divided into two but no fresh wajib ul arzes were then framed The wajib ul arzes framed at the first and second partitions differed inter se as to their condition relative to pre-emption Held that there was evidence only of a contract for pre-emption which so far as the two last formed mahals were concerned had ceased to exist even before the expiry of the term of the settlement PRAY SUNKI v SALIO RAY (1910) I L R 32 All 261

PRE-EMPTION—*contd*WAJIB UL ARZ—contd

3 ——— Custom or Contract—The wajib ul arz of an undivided village gave a right of pre-emption first to a near co sharer (Kissadar Lari) and then to a co sharer in the village (Kissadar deh) Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition No new wajib ul arz was framed Property situated in one of the new mahals was sold to a stranger and a suit for pre-emption was brought by sharers in one of the other mahals claiming a waissadar deh Held per STANLEY O J that the plaintiff was entitled to pre-empt notwithstanding the partition and that the words Kissadar deh as used in the wajib ul arz meant a sharer in the village Dalganyan Singh v Kalla Singh I L R 22 All 1 distinguished Sahib Ali v Fatma Bibi I L R 30 All 83 Mithu Lal v Muhammad Ahmad Said Khan Ali W v (1899) 19 Abdul Hai v Nain Singh I L R 20 All 91 Vallee Sah v Mussamat Gohlee S D A v W P 1 of 1 506 Gokul Singh v Minu Lal I L R 7 All 772 Abbas Ali v Ghulam Nabi Ali W v (1891) 107 Mata Din v Mahesh Prasad Ali W v (1882) 100 Ram Din v Pokhar Singh I L R 27 All 550 Ausari Lal v Ram Bhajan Lal I L R 27 All 603 and Govind Ram v Manohar Khas I L R 29 All 295 referred to Held per BAKER J that the plaintiff pre-emptor could not pre-empt after the partition of the village as although he was a sharer in the village he was not a co sharer of the vendor and that the words Kissadar deh as used in the wajib ul arz meant a co sharer of the undivided village for which the wajib ul arz had been prepared Dalganyan Singh v Kalla Singh I L R 22 All 1 followed Janki v Ram Parlap I L R 28 All 263 and Abdul Hai v Nain Singh I L R 20 All 92 referred to Dora v Jirwa PAK (1910) I L R 32 All 265

4 ——— Custom or contract The pre-emptive clause of a wajib ul arz ran as follows — Ayunda jari rakha rany shafa la ham ko man ar hai Held on a construction of the wajib ul arz that it denoted a record of custom and not of contract Ta adduq Husain Khan v Ali Husain Khan Ali W v (1908) 121 distinguished Hazari Lal v Durga Prasad (1909) I L R 32 All 187

5 ——— Perfect partition—Mahalan dhe —The determination of an alleged right of pre-emption must depend upon the particular circumstances of each case and the evidence adduced in support of the pre-emptive right A village was divided by perfect partition into several mahals but no new wajib ul arz was prepared The wajib ul arz framed before partition was headed Hakuk Kissadaran balludha rights of co sharers inter se and gave the right of pre-emption (i) to co sharers in the Khatta (ii) to the proprietors of the patti and (iii) to the proprietors of the village (malikan deh) Plaintiff was a co sharer in a different mahal from that in which the vendor was a co sharer Held that the heading of the wajib ul arz limited the mean

PRE EMPTION—*contd*WAJIB UL ARZ—contd

ing of the expression malikan del to proprietors who were co sharers with a vendor between whom and the vendor a common bond subsisted and as the plaintiff was not a co sharer in the same mahal with the vendor she had no right of pre-emption. Janki v Ram Paritab Singh I L R 28 S All 286 Sarda Singh v Iya Hussain Khan I L R 28 S All 614 and Goud Ram v Mahabillah Khan I L R 29 S All 295 distinguished Dalgarnjan Singh v Kalka Singh I L R 22 S All 1 followed. SAHIB ALI v FATIMA BIBI (1909) I L R 33 All 63

8 ——— Partition of village—New wajib ul-arz prepared after partition The wajib ul-arz of a village before partition provided for pre-emption in the following way — Rights of co sharers as among themselves on the basis of custom or agreement. The custom of pre-emption obtains. In case of sale of property by a co sharer and her co sharer in the mauza can bring a suit for pre-emption. If he offers a low price then the vendor can sell the property to a stranger. The village was divided by perfect partition into three mahals. New wajib ul-arz were drawn up after partition and the condition as to pre-emption in each ran as follows — Rights of co sharers inter se based on custom or agreement. The custom of pre-emption prevails. In this case one co sharer sells his share (hakikat) another co sharer in the village (hissandar sharik mauza) can claim pre-emption. If he offers a smaller price the seller can sell it to a stranger. The plaintiff pre-emptor was a co sharer in a different mahal from that in which the property sold was situated. The vendee was a stranger to the village. The entire body of co sharers in the village were Muhammadans of the same stock and continued so up to the time of partition. Held upon a construction of the language of the wajib ul-arz and the circumstances of the case that the pre-emptor must succeed as against the stranger vendee notwithstanding that a partition had taken place. Janki v Ram Paritab Singh I L R 28 S All 286 referred to CHENBUR v ABDUL HAKIM (1910) I L R 33 All 296

7 ——— Contract or custom—Presumption in absence of evidence that the record is one of custom. Where it is not apparent either from the language of the wajib ul-arz itself or from other evidence that the pre-emption clause of a wajib ul-arz is merely the record of a new contract between the co sharers the presumption is that it is the record of a pre-existing custom. Majidan Bibi v Shaikh Hajalan Ali Weekly Notes (1927) 3 followed. The pre-emptive clause of a wajib ul-arz was headed "Relating to the right of pre-emption and ran as follows — If a co sharer has to sell and mortgage his hakikat—then at the time of transfer it will be incumbent that he should after giving information sell and mortgage for a proper price etc etc. Held that this in the absence of evidence to the contrary indicated a pre-existing custom of pre-emption rather than a contract. BIMB SEN V MORI PAM (1910) I L R 33 All 85

8 ——— Inalienable—Perpetual lease Held that the word "initial" used in the pre-emptive clause of a wajib ul-arz was wide enough to include a perpetual lease. Jagadram Sahas v Mahabir Prasad I L R 34 All 60 and Ahmad

PRE EMPTION—*contd*WAJIB UL APZ—contd

Ali Khan v Ahmed I A B P 101 referred to LALJI MISR v JAGGU TEWARI (1910)

I L R 33 All 101

9 ——— "Apna shafi"—Mahomedan law A wajib ul-arz provided that if any co sharer of a patti in the Khalisa wished to sell his share he would do so paying due respect to his own pre-emptor (apana shafi) and if the latter refused and all the other pre-emptors of the village (our sub shafian deh) refused then he might sell to a stranger. Held that the expression apna shafi connoted nearness in space and not a blood relationship and therefore where the vendor and pre-emptor were co sharers in the same patti the vendee being a co sharer in a different patti the co sharers in the same patti had a preferential right. LAKHAN SINGH v BISHAN NATU (1910) I L R 33 All 299

10 ——— Partition of village into several mahals—Dastur deli relating to whole village—Suit by co sharer of one mahal against co sharer of another mahal on ground of nearness in relationship to vendor. The dastur deli of a village divided into several mahals but which nevertheless was held to be applicable to the whole village and to represent an arrangement come to by the co sharers in the village amongst themselves provided as to pre-emption as follows — If a co sharer wants to sell his share he must sell first to near co sharers then in the patti then in the mahal then in the village. Held that the effect of this clause was to give to a co sharer in one mahal who was a relation of the vendor a preferential right of pre-emption over a co sharer in another mahal who was not a relation. LAD PAM v CHENA LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 478

11 ——— Co sharer in patti—and co sharers in mahal—Fictitious conveyance of share in patti to latter—Alleged previous offer to plaintiff—Witnesses found to have posed falsely as to part of the evidence as to other parts—Party not coming forward to contradict positive evidence of opponent as to matters within his personal knowledge if any succeed. Plaintiff being a co sharer in the patti sued for pre-emption and the defendants who were only co sharers in the mahal or mahal resisted his claim on the grounds (i) that they had by a prior conveyance acquired a share in a patti and (ii) that the plaintiff had refused the offer of the defendants' vendor to sell the property to him. Held that the reasons given by the High Court for holding in reversal of the first Court that the prior conveyance did not represent a genuine transaction and was fabricated with a view to defeat the claim for pre-emption which the plaintiff was about to bring were cogent and decisive. The High Court also disbelieved the evidence adduced by the defendants to prove plaintiff's refusal of the offer to him of the property by the defendant's vendor on the ground that the witnesses were the same who spoke to the prior conveyance and one part of whose evidence had been found to be distinctly false. Held that it was open to the High Court to take this view although there was one witness who did not depose to the deed and neither plaintiff nor other persons in whose presence the offer was stated to have been made had come forward to contradict the defendants

PRE-EMPTION—contd

WAJIB UL ARZ—contd

witnesses The judgment of the High Court should not be treated in a piecemeal manner and taken as a whole was correct MATHURA PRASAD v SHAIKH MUHAMMAD (1912)

17 C W N 981

12 ——— Incidents of custom not recorded—Mahomedan Law A suit for pre-emption was brought both under the custom recorded in the wajib ul arz and Mahomedan Law but the incidents of the custom were not recorded in the wajib ul arz Held that the rights were co-extensive JAGDAM SAHAI v MAHADEV SAHAI I L P 28 All 60 followed ZAMIR AHMAD v ABDUL RAZAQ (1916) I L R 37 All 472

13 ——— Wajib ul arz—Partition of village Right of co sharers different in mahals—to pre-empt inter se A certain village prior to 1873 consisted of one mahal which was subdivided into two patties The wajib ul arz of that year recorded a custom of pre-emption first with near relations then with co sharers in the patti and lastly with co sharers in the village Subsequently the village was divided into a number of different mahals and at the last settlement a new wajib ul arz was drawn up for each of the new mahals in similar terms The plaintiff a proprietor in the village though not a co sharer in the mahal brought a suit for pre-emption Held that the plaintiff was no longer a co sharer with the vendor and therefore had no preferential right as against the vendor who was grove holder in the village KHAYALI PAM v KALI CHARAN (1915) I L R 37 All 573

14 ——— Custom—Mortgage by conditional sale In 1895 a mortgage was made consolidating previous mortgages of the years 1892 1893 and 1894 In 1906 a suit was instituted on the mortgage which was construed as a mortgage by way of conditional sale A decree for foreclosure was obtained and in 1911 the decree was made absolute Shortly afterwards possession was obtained under this decree In 1914 a suit was brought claiming to get possession by virtue of a custom set forth in the wajib ul arzes The clause relating to pre-emption was as follows—If a pattidar wishes to transfer his share by sale or mortgage he should do so first to another pattidar of the same thok and in case of his refusal to the pattidar of another thok of the village If the pattidar wants to sell his share to a stranger by entering an excessive and fictitious price the pattidar having the right of pre-emption shall be entitled to acquire the property on payment of the price awarded by the arbitrators Held that having regard to the whole context of the wajib ul arzes the sale mentioned wherein for the purpose of giving rise to a right of pre-emption according to custom meant a voluntary sale and the wajib ul arzes did not give him a right of pre-emption under the circumstances under which the mortgage became the owner of the property ALU PRASAD v SUKHAN I L P 3 All 610 distinguished SUNDAR KUMAR v PAM GULAM (1918) I L R 40 All 626

15 ——— Property to be sold to co-sharer first—Sale to stranger—I fasal to pre-emption As a general rule the custom as to pre-emption as evidenced by the record in the

PRE-EMPTION—contd

WAJIB UL ARZ—contd

wajib ul arz in that where a co sharer wishes to sell his property he must first offer it to another co sharer and if the co sharer refuses to purchase he is entitled to go to a stranger Where the custom proved is of this nature if the co sharer (vendor) offers the property to another co sharer and such co sharer refuses to purchase on the ground that he has no money or is unwilling for any other reason to purchase the owner of the property is entitled to go and sell it to a stranger and he is not obliged after he has made a definite agreement with the stranger to return and offer the property a second time to the co sharer LAUNTHAL SINGH v PAM RATTAN I L P 39 All 127 and VATHI LAL v DHANS RAM 15 A L J 315 followed MUNAWAR HUQAN v AHAD ALI 5 A L J 331 and KANHA LAL v KALLA PRASAD I L R 27 All 670 not followed SHAN SHEE SINGH v PIRI DAT (1918)

I L R 40 All 690

16 ——— Involuntary sales—Held by the Full Bench—In the absence of any statutory reservation of the right a right of pre-emption does not exist in cases of involuntary sales hence a Malabarotti mortgagee has no right of pre-emption against a purchaser in Court auction of the mortgaged property and he is not entitled to any notice of the intended Court sale or of the price fetched at the sale ASTUDHAN MOO'AD v ITTIRANCHAN NAM (1918) I L R 41 Mad 532

17 Purchases made by vendee on different dates—Suit to pre-empt first sale only—Vendee claiming to be a co-sharer in virtue of second purchase—Suit not maintainable The defendant purchased shares in a village on two different dates The plaintiff sued to pre-empt the earlier sale but no suit was brought in respect of the second sale Held that the suit was not maintainable CHABRAI SINGH v MANESH NARAY SINGH (1918) I L R 40 All 572

18 ——— Sale of right to receive malikana—not a subject of pre-emption Held that a right to receive a malikana allowance cannot be the subject of a suit for pre-emption ABDUL WAHID v HALIMA KHATUN I L R 42 All 583

19 ——— Involuntary sale—Order de clar d insolvent on application by a creditor—Sale of property by official assignee—Operation of pre-emption to bid at auction sale On an application made by a creditor in insolvency one P. S. Hoshan Das Bahadur was adjudged an insolvent and his property was placed in charge of an official assignee Some of the consisting of ramindari was sold by the official assignee at public auction Held that the sale not being voluntary no right of pre-emption would arise under the village wajib ul arz KANHA LAL v KALLA PRASAD I L P 27 All 670 distinguished Held further that the sale having been validly notified a pre-emptor who knowing of the sale did not bid must be taken to have refused to purchase and the official assignee was under no obligation to offer the property to him after it had been knocked down to the highest bidder at the auction KANHA LAL v KALLA PRASAD I L P 27 All 60 not followed GULAM MOHI UD DIN KHAN v HARDO SAHAI I L R 42 All 402

PRE EMPTION—*contd*W AJIBUL ALFZ—contd

20 ————— Resale of property during pre-emption suit to person with a preferential right—but after the extinction of his right to pre-empt by reason of limitation. During the pendency of a suit for pre-emption under the provision of the village wajibul alfz the vendee resold the property in suit to a person who originally had a pre-emptive right superior to that of the plaintiff but who at the date of the sale was barred by limitation from enforcing it. Held that the plaintiff's claim was not defeated by such sale. Mangal v Shaib Pam I L R 27 All 514 Janki Prasad v Israr Das I L R 91 All 574 and Ram Gopal v Puri Lal I L R 21 All 441 distinguished. KANTA PRASAD v RAM JAO (1913) I L R 36 All 60

21 ————— Custom—Effect of confiscation of part of village—Karibi wa Khan dani. In a village comprising two eight anna thoks a custom of pre-emption was recorded as prevailing in two wajibul alfzes of 1833 and 1860 and in the amima khawat of 1884 the date of the last settlement. Held that the custom so recorded was in no way modified by the fact that a four anna undivided share in the village had been confiscated by the Government after the mutiny and granted to other proprietors. Held also that a person related to a vendor through the female line only and twelve degrees removed from him could not be considered as falling within the description in the wajibul alfz of Karibi wa Khandani. DURGA PRASAD PANDE v FATEH BHARATH SINGH (1914) I L R 36 All 451

22 ————— Claim based on relationship to vendor—Death of plaintiff pending suit—Sons of plaintiff not entitled to take advantage of the relationship of their father. The plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption had a preferential right over the vendee on the ground of his nearer relationship to the vendor but the plaintiff's sons had not. Held that the plaintiff's sons could not on the death of their father pending the suit claim to take advantage of the relationship in which their father had stood to the vendor. PAN TAP SINGH v DATLAT (1913) I L R 36 All 43

MISCELLANEOUS

1 ————— Execution of decree—Decretal amount deposited but part taken out of Court by a creditor of the decree holder the decree for pre-emption having been set aside—Pestoration of decree on appeal—Position of decree holder. A decree for pre-emption conditional on the plaintiff pre-emptor depositing in Court by a certain date Rs 1000 was duly complied with. But on appeal by the vendee the decree was set aside and thereafter a portion of the money deposited by the pre-emptor was attached and drawn out of Court by a creditor who had obtained a money decree against him. The decree was however restored as the result of an appeal to the High Court. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to execute his decree upon making good the amount which had been removed by his creditor. Held also that the Court of first instance ought not to have permitted any part of the money deposited to be withdrawn until

PRE EMPTION—*contd*MISCELLANEOUS—contd

the pre-emption suit had been finally decided. Abdus Salam v Wilayat Ali Ali Weekly Notes (1937) 31 distinguished. SHEO GOPAL v NAJIB KHAN (1914) I L R 36 All 398

2 ————— Pleadings—Alternative claims and custom and Mahomedan law. There is nothing to prevent a plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption basing his claim in the alternative on contract custom or Mahomedan law. But where there is an established custom of pre-emption and the pre-emptor fails to bring himself within that custom he cannot fall back on the Mahomedan law. Muhammad Salim v Sadar ud din Beg 7 All J 660 distinguished. MUHAMMAD AUSAFULLAH v SAMS UDDIN BIDI (1914) I L R 36 All 456

3 ————— Dispute as to true sale consideration—Evidence—Burden of proof—Payment before Sub Registrar. In a suit for pre-emption where it is alleged that the sale price is fictitious and put into the deed for the purpose of defeating pre-emption it is open to the pre-emptor to give evidence to show that the market price is far below that stated in the sale deed. If he gives such evidence to the satisfaction of the Court the latter is quite justified in arriving at its own conclusion as to what was the real consideration and this notwithstanding that it is proved that the amount stated in the deed was paid before the Sub Registrar. Abdul Majid v Amolak I L R 29 All 618 referred to. O Conor v Ghulam Haidar I L R 28 All 617 not followed. RAM SARUP SARTU v KARANULLAH KHAN (1914) I L R 36 All 404

4 ————— Practice—Alternative claims—Claim for possession as owner joined with alternative claim for pre-emption. There is nothing in law to prevent a plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption also setting up a claim for possession of the property as owner and his suit ought not to be dismissed on the ground that he has put his case in the alternative. BHAGWATI SARAN MIAN TIWARI v PARMESHWAR DAS (1914) I L R 36 All 476

5 ————— Mahomedan law—Vendor a Shia and pre-emptor a Sunni—Shia law to be applied. In a suit for pre-emption the vendee was a Shia Mahomedan the vendee's Hindus and the pre-emptor a Sunni. The claim was laid in the alternative either on custom or on the Mahomedan law. The custom set up was not proved. Held that the Mahomedan law applicable was that of the vendor namely the Shia law and that the pre-emptor had no case. Jog Deb Singh v Mahomed Afzal I L R 32 Cal 93 not followed. Imam Ali v Maya Ram I L R 12 All 99 Qurban Hussain v Chote I L R 40 All 10 and Gowind Dyal v Inayatullah I L R 41 All 10 referred to. THI KHAN v FAIZAZ HUSSAIN (1914) I L R 36 All 498

6 ————— Time for payment of sum decreed—Pre-emptive price enhanced on appeal by the vendee but no time fixed for payment—Practice. The appellate Court in a pre-emption suit enhanced the amount decreed to be payable by the pre-emptor in the first Court but omitted to fix any time within which the enhanced amount should be payable. Held that the plaintiff pre-emptor was entitled to a reasonable time within

PRE EMPTION—contd

WAJIB UL APZ—contd

witnesses The judgment of the High Court should not be treated in a piecemeal manner and taken as a whole was correct MATHURA PRASAD v SHAIKH MUHAMMAD (1912)

17 C W N 981

12 ——— Incidents of custom not recorded—Mahomedan Law. A suit for pre emption was brought both under the custom recorded in the wajib ul arz and Mahomedan Law but the incidents of the custom were not recorded in the wajib ul arz. Held that the rights were co extensive Jagdam Sahai v Mahabir Sahai, I L R 28 All 60 followed ZAMIR AHMAD v ABDUL RAZAQ (1915) I L R 37 All 472

13 ——— Wajib ul a z—Partition of village Right of co-sharers different in mahals—to pre empt i n t e e A certain village prior to 1873 consisted of one mahal which was subdivided into two patties. The wajib ul arz of that year recorded a custom of pre emption first with near relations then with co sharers in the patti and lastly with co sharers in the village. Subsequently the village was divided into a number of different mahal and at the last settlement a new wajib ul arz was drawn up for each of the new mahals in similar terms. The plaintiff a proprietor in the village though not a co sharer in the mahal brought a suit for pre emption. Held that the plaintiff was no longer a co sharer with the vendor and therefore had no preferential right as against the vendor who was grove holder in the village KHAYALI RAM v KALI CHAMAN (1915) I L R 37 All 573

14. ——— Custom—Mortgage by conditional sale In 1895 a mortgage was made consolidating previous mortgages of the years 1892 1893 and 1894. In 1906 a suit was instituted on the mortgage which was construed as a mortgage by way of conditional sale. A decree for foreclosure was obtained and in 1911 the decree was made absolute. Shortly afterwards possession was obtained under this decree. In 1914 a suit was brought claiming to get possession by virtue of a custom set forth in the wajib ul arz. The clause relating to pre emption was as follows—If a pattidar wishes to transfer his share by sale or mortgage he should do so first to another pattidar of the same thok and in case of his refusal to the pattidars of another thok of the village. If the pattidar wants to sell his share to a stranger by entering an excess and fictitious price the pattidar having the right of pre emption shall be entitled to acquire the property on payment of the price awarded by the arbitrators. Held that having regard to the whole context of the wajib ul arz the sale mentioned wherein for the purpose of giving rise to a right of pre emption according to custom meant a voluntary sale and the wajib ul arz did not give him a right of pre emption under the circumstances under which the mortgage became the owner of the property. Ali Prasad v Sukhan I L R 3 All 610 distinguished SCANDAR KECAR v PAM v NULAM (1918) I L R 40 All 626

15 ——— Property to be sold to co-sharer first—Sale to stranger—I suant to purchases. As a general rule the custom as to pre emption as evidenced by the record in the

PRE EMPTION—contd

WAJIB UL ARZ—contd

wajib ul arz is that where a co sharer wishes to sell his property he must first offer it to another co sharer and if the co sharer refuses to purchase he is entitled to go to a stranger. Where the custom proved is of this nature if the co sharer (vendor) offers the property to another co-sharer and such co sharer refuses to purchase on the ground that he has no money or is unwilling for any other reason to purchase the owner of the property is entitled to go and sell it to a stranger and he is not obliged after he has made a definite agreement with the stranger to return and offer the property a second time to the co sharer. Naunihal Singh v Pam Rattan I L R 39 All 127 and Naths Lal v Dhani Ram 15 A L J 315 followed Munawar Hussain v Khadim Ali 5 A L J 331 and Kanhai Lal v Kalka Prasad I L R 27 All 670 not followed. MAH SUEH SINGH v PIARI DAT (1918) I L R 40 All 690

16 ——— Involuntary sales—Held by the Full Bench —In the absence of any statutory reservation of the right a right of pre-emption does not exist in cases of involuntary sales hence a Malabar otti mortgagee has no right of pre emption against a purchaser in Court auction of the mortgaged property and he is not entitled to any notice of the intended Court sale or of the price fetched at the sale. VASUDEVAN BHOSAD v ATTIRACHIAN DATR (1918) I L R. 41 Mad. 582

17 Purchases made by vendee on different dates—Suit to pre empt first sale only—Vendee claiming to be a co sharer in virtue of second purchase—Suit not maintainable. The defendant purchased shares in a village on two different dates. The plaintiff sued to pre empt the earlier sale but no suit was brought in respect of the second sale. Held that the suit was not maintainable. CHAMRAJ SINGH v MATHESH DABASI SINGH (1918) I L R 40 All 572

18 ——— Sale of right to receive malikana—not a subject of pre emption. Held that a right to receive a malikana allowance cannot be the subject of a suit for pre emption. ABDUL WAHID v HALIMA KHATUN I L F 42 All 262

19 ——— Involuntary sale—Owner declared insolvent on application by a creditor—Sale of property by official assignee—Omission of pre emptor to bid at auction sale. On an application made by a creditor in sequestrum one Rai Sri Hishan Das Bahadur was adjudged an insolvent and his property was placed in charge of an official assignee. Some of this consisting of zamindari was sold by the official assignee at public auction. Held that the sale not being voluntary no right of pre emption would arise under the village wajib ul arz. Kanhai Lal v Kalka Prasad I L R 27 All 670 distinguished. Held further that the sale having been widely notified a pre emptor who knowing of the sale did not bid must be taken to have refused to purchase and the official assignee was under no obligation to offer the property to him after it had been knocked down to the highest bidder at the auction. Kanhai Lal v Kalka Prasad I L R 27 All 670 not followed. GHULAN MOHI UD DIN KHAN v HARDEO SAHAI I L R. 42 All 402

PRE EMPTION—*contd*W AIR L AP7—contd

20 ———— Resale of property during pre-emption suit to person with a preferential right—but after the extinction of his right to pre-empt by reason of limitation. During the pendency of a suit for pre-emption under the provision of the village wajib ul arz the vendee resold the property in suit to a person who originally had a pre-emptive right superior to that of the plaintiff but who at the date of the sale was barred by limitation from enforcing it. Held that the plaintiff's claim was not defeated by such sale. Manpal v Shaib Ram 1 L R 27 All 414 Janki Prasad v Ishar Das 1 L R 21 All 33 and Pam Gopal v Pann Lal 1 L R 21 All 441 distinguished. KANTA PRASAD v RAM JAG (1913) 1 L R 36 All 60

21 ———— Custom—Effect of confiscation of part of village—Karib wa khurdani. In a village comprising two eight anna thols a custom of pre-emption was recorded as prevailing in two wajib ul arzes of 1833 and 1860 and in the amima khawat of 1884 the date of the last settlement. Held that the custom so recorded was in no way modified by the fact that a four-anna undivided share in the village had been confiscated by the Government after the mutiny and re-granted to other proprietors. Held also that a person related to a vendor through the female line only and twelve degrees removed from him could not be considered as falling within the description in the wajib ul arz of Karib wa khurdani. DURG PRASAD PARDE v FATEH BAHADUR SINGH (1914) 1 L R 36 All 451

22 ———— Claim based on relationship to vendor—Death of plaintiff pending suit—Sons of plaintiff not entitled to take advantage of the relationship of their father. The plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption had a preferential right over the vendee on the ground of his nearer relationship to the vendor but the plaintiff's sons had not. Held that the plaintiff's sons could not on the death of their father pending the suit claim to take advantage of the relationship in which their father had stood to the vendor. PARTAB SINGH v DAULAT (1913) 1 L R 36 All 44

MISCELLANEOUS

1. ———— Execution of decree—Dcretal amount deposited but part taken out of Court by a creditor of the decree holder the decree for pre-emption having been set aside—Restoration of decree on appeal—Position of decree holder. A decree for pre-emption conditional on the plaintiff pre-emptor depositing in Court by a certain date Rs 1000 was duly complied with. But on appeal by the vendee the decree was set aside and thereafter a portion of the money deposited by the pre-emptor was attached and drawn out of Court by a creditor who had obtained a money decree against him. The decree was however restored as the result of an appeal to the High Court. Held that the plaintiff was entitled to execute his decree upon making good the amount which had been removed by his creditor. Held also that the Court of first instance ought not to have permitted any part of the money deposited to be withdrawn until

PRE EMPTION—*contd*MISCELLANEOUS—contd

the pre-emption suit had been finally decided. Abdus Salam v Bhatay Ali Ali Weekly Notes (1894) 31 distinguished. SHEO GOPAL v NAJIB KHAN (1914) 1 L R 36 All 398

2 ———— Pleadings—Alternative claims under custom and Mahomedan law. There is nothing to prevent a plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption basing his claim in the alternative on contract custom or Mahomedan law. But where there is an established custom of pre-emption and the pre-emptor fails to bring himself within that custom he cannot fall back on the Mahomedan law. Muhammad Salim v Sadar ud din Beg 7 All L J 660 distinguished. MUHAMMAD AUSAULLAH v SAMS UN NISSA BIDI (1914) 1 L R 36 All 456

3 ———— Dispute as to true sale consideration—Evidence—Burden of proof—Payment to Sub Registrar. In a suit for pre-emption where it was alleged that the sale price is fictitious and put into the deed for the purpose of defeating pre-emption it is open to the pre-emptor to give evidence to show that the market price is far below that stated in the sale deed. If he gives such evidence to the satisfaction of the Court the latter is quite justified in arriving at its own conclusion as to what was the real consideration and this notwithstanding that it is proved that the amount stated in the deed was paid before the Sub Registrar. Abdul Majid v Amolak 1 L R 29 All 618 referred to. O Conor v Ghulam Haidar 1 L R 28 All 617 not followed. RAM SARUP SAHU v KARAMULLAH KHAN (1914) 1 L R 36 All 454

4 ———— Practice—Alternative claims—Claim for possession as owner joined with alternative claim for pre-emption. There is nothing in law to prevent a plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption also setting up a claim for possession of the property as owner and his suit ought not to be dismissed on the ground that he has put his case in the alternative. BHAGWATI SARKAR MAY TIWARI v PARVESHAR DAS (1914) 1 L R 36 All 476

5 ———— Mahomedan law—Vendor a Shia and pre-emptor a Sunni—Shia law to be applied. In a suit for pre-emption the vendor was a Shia Mahomedan the vendees Hindus and the pre-emptor a Sunni. The claim was laid in the alternative either on custom or on the Mahomedan law. The custom set up was not proved. Held that the Mahomedan law applicable was that of the vendor namely the Shia law and that the pre-emptor had no case. Jog Deb Singh v Mahomed Isat 1 L R 32 Cal 357 not followed. Abbas Ali v Maya Ram 1 L R 12 All 99 Qurban Hussain v Ghore 1 L R 2 All 10 and Gobind Dayal v Inayatullah 1 L R 2 All 7 referred to. PIR KHAN v FAITAZ HUSAIN (1914) 1 L R 36 All 493

6 ———— Time for payment of—sum decreed—Pre-emptive price enhanced on appeal by the vendee but no time fixed for payment—Practice. The appellate Court in a pre-emption suit enhanced the amount decreed to be payable by the pre-emptor in the first Court but omitted to fix any time within which the enhanced amount should be payable. Held that the plaintiff pre-emptor was entitled to a reasonable time within which to pay in the amount decreed and having regard to the enhanced amount (Rs 801) the time within which it was in fact paid (one month and one day after the decree) was reasonable and the plaintiff was entitled to execute his decree DEBI SARAN TIWARI v GUPTAR TIWARI (1914)

PRE-EMPTION—contd

MISCELLANEOUS—contd

I L R 36 All 514

7 — Pleadings—Mahomedan Law—

Custom—Amendment of plaint—Discretion of Court The plaintiff in a suit for pre-emption based his claim upon the Mahomedan law. At a somewhat late stage in the case the plaintiff asked leave to amend his plaint by adding an alternative claim based on custom as evidenced by the wajib ul arz but this was refused and the Court not withstanding that it found that according to the wajib ul arz, a custom of pre-emption existed dismissed the suit. Held that the Court ought to have permitted the plaint to be amended and even without amending the plaint was competent to decree the claim on the basis of the wajib ul arz. ABDUL HAMID v MASIT ULLAH (1912)

I L R 36 All 573

8 — Applicability of Mahomedan law—in the case of a sale of zamindari property

The Mahomedan law of pre-emption applies to zamindari property and is not restricted to houses, gardens and small plots of land. Munna Lal v Hajira Jan I L R 33 All 28 followed. FAZAL AHMAD v TABADDUQ HUSAIN (1919)

I L R 41 All 423

9 — Custom—Wajib

ul arz—Partition of village—Old custom adopted in new mahals—Right of pre-emption not surviving as between the new mahals The wajib ul arz of an undivided village afforded evidence of the existence of a custom of pre-emption in the village between co-sharers. Subsequently the village was divided by perfect partition into several mahals and each of the new mahals adopted the old custom. Held that no right of pre-emption survived as between the different new mahals. Ganga Singh v Chedi Lal I L R 33 All 605 referred to. DEOKINANDAN v MAHTAB RAI (1910)

I L R 41 All 426

10 — Sale to stranger—Plaintiffs joining in their suit persons who were not strangers but had pre-emptive rights in the suit In a suit for pre-emption where the suit is a suit against strangers the plaintiffs by joining persons who have different rights inter se do not thereby forfeit their rights. Guptalwar Parn v Rati Krishna Ram I L R 33 All 542 distinguished. BHUPAL SINGH v NAIR SINGH SARAI (1919)

I L R 41 All 423

11 — Perpetuity Rule when applicable to—Pre-emption right of with regard to immovable property. Covenant for unlimited in point of time of value A Hindu transferred certain immovable property to his son in law reserving a condition that if the transferee or his successors found it necessary to sell the property he or his successors might sell it to the vendor his nephew or heirs at a specified price. The son of the third son in law sold the property to some others whereupon the nephew sued for enforcement of the right of pre-emption. Held that an option to arise on any intended sale or other particular kind of alienation is subject to the rule against

PRE-EMPTION—contd

MISCELLANEOUS—contd

perpetuities unless the right is conferred by statute. NAHIN CHANDRA SAPMA v PAJANI CHANDRA CHAKRADARTI 25 O W N 902

12 — Conditional decree—If its costs be the plaintiff—Amount paid by the plaintiff less than the sum named in the decree but more than the decretal amount less the plaintiff's costs. The decree in a pre-emption suit ordered the plaintiff to pay Rs 100 within a certain time and also awarded costs amounting to Rs 9 annas 8 to the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs deposited in court within the time allowed Rs 99. Held that there was a sufficient compliance with the decree. Dechar Singh v Shami Nath 3 A L J (Dolce) p 27 and Ali Husain v Amin ulah I L R 33 All 536 referred to. RAM LALAN PANDY v MUHAMMAD ISHAQ KHAN I L R 42 All 181

13 — Mahomedan law—Zamindari village—Imperfect partition of mahal into several pattis—No rights or property left in common—No right of pre-emption amongst owners of different pattis inter se Where the Mahomedan law of pre-emption is applicable there is ordinarily no right of pre-emption as between owners of different pattis of a mahal divided by imperfect partition. Munna Lal v Hajira Jan I L R 33 All 28 referred to. MATHURA PRASAD v HARDEO BAKSH SINGH I L R 42 All 477

14 — Sale of family property by the father of a joint Hindu family—Suit by sons to pre-empt sale—Suit not maintainable Held that the sons in a joint Hindu family cannot maintain a suit to pre-empt a sale of joint family property made by the father as manager and for legal necessities. Poghnath v Musammal Fata Begam 3 A L J 641 and Gandhar Singh v Sahib Singh I L R 7 All 181 followed. PRATAP NARAY SINGH v SHAM LAL I L R 42 All 1264

15 — Vendee becoming a co-sharer pending the suit—During the pendency of a suit for pre-emption of a share in zamindari property the defendant vendee acquired by gift a share in village which put him as regards pre-emption on the same level with the plaintiff pre-emptor Held that in the circumstances the suit must be dismissed. The principle of Parn Gopal v Parn Lal I L R 21 All 441 applied. BIHARI LAL v MOHAN SINGH I L R 42 All 263

16 — Valuation of property the subject of a claim for pre-emption—Property subject to a mortgage—Personal remedy barred as mortgage debt in excess of market value Where the personal remedy of the mortgagor is barred and the mortgage debt exceeds the value of property mortgaged the value of the property from the point of view of a claimant for pre-emption is the market value simply. JAGAT SINGH v BALDEO PRASAD I L R 43 All 137

17 — Khandesh District—Rule of pre-emption does not exist in the Khandesh District—Pomblay Regulation 14 of 1677 cl 6 In the District of Khandesh in the Pomblay Regulation the rule of pre-emption does not exist either as a rule of law or as a rule of justice, equity and good conscience. MAHOMED FIC AMIR v NARAYAN BHOHAJI (1915) I L R 40 Bom 228

PRE EMPTION—*contd*MISCELLANEOUS—contd

16 ——— Sale by Mahomedan to Hindu — co-harer a claim to pre-emption—Law applies to all parties One of two Mahomedan co-sharers in two villages in the Presidency of Bombay agreed to sell his share to a Hindu the agreement being made subject to a right in the co-harer to pre-empt and as a complete and immediate sale although part of the purchase price was to be paid later and a sale deed executed. The vendor informed his co-harer that he had sold and invited him to pre-empt the share sold. The co-sharer thereupon performed the ceremonies of pre-emption and claimed as pre-emptor to recover the share from the purchaser. Held that the co-harer had a right of pre-emption in accordance with the intention of the parties which had to be looked at to determine what system of law was to apply and what was to be taken as the date of the sale with reference to which the ceremonies were performed. Judgment of the High Court affirmed. SITARAM BEAURAO v. JIAUL HASAN SIRAJUL KHAN (1091) L N 481 A 475

L L R 45 Bom 1056

19 ——— Shahi Khat right of — Partition of estate into separate mahals—sale of separate touzi number—whether owner of one of the mahals has a right to pre-emption On partition property was divided into several mahals but joint between the parties were left a well certain roads a tank a number of brahmottar and fakirana holdings and two occupancy holdings. A separate touzi number formed by this partition was sold and the owner of one of the mahals into which the parent estate had been divided claimed a right of pre-emption over the touzi number which had been sold. Held (1) that the existence of the undivided holdings did not give him a right of pre-emption (2) that he had no right of pre-emption as shahi khat as the road well tank etc. were not appurtenances. ISHAN SINGH v. BAKSHI SINGH 4 Pat L J 420

20 ——— Adhlaqi transaction—Whether a sale when no money consideration passes—Transfer of Property Act 14 of 1880 s 64 One T P in 1907 entered into an Adhlaqi transaction with G M in the Alipur Tahsil of the Muzaffargarh District by which the latter was to sink a well and clear the land attached to it within a period of 4 years and on his carrying out his undertaking T P was to get possession of one third of the land as proprietor. G M apparently carried out his part of the undertaking and on 18th June 1913 his name was entered in the mutation register as owner of one third of the land attached to the well. The present plaintiff then brought a suit for pre-emption in respect of the sale of the one third share in the land and it was objected that the transaction was not a sale. Held that the creation of the Adhlaqi tenure in the present case did not amount to a sale as no money consideration passed at all and the defendant became proprietor of one third of the land only because he sank a well and brought the land attached to it under cultivation. Such a transaction did not give rise to any rights of pre-emption. Mul Chand v. Mansa Ram (15 P F 154) distinguished Ude Ram v. Balshahi (1 P 1883 p 36 note) and Jesa Puri v. Chanda Mal (3

PRE EMPTION—*concld*MISCELLANEOUS—concld

P P 191 referred to GHULAM MUHAMMAD v. TEK CHAND I L R 2 Lah 199

21 ——— Waiver—Pre-emptor who refused to purchase except at a price much below the value H a member of an agricultural tribe applied to the Deputy Commissioner for permission to sell his land. His application was forwarded to the Tahsildar who went to the village to make inquiries and on 8th January 1913 vendee offered to purchase the land for Rs 1,000 and the house for Rs 400. On 19th January the plaintiffs collaterals of H stated that they were not prepared to pay more than Rs 200 or Rs 300 or both the properties and declined to buy them for more than that sum. The properties were then sold to the vendee. Held that the conduct of the plaintiffs amounted to a waiver and that they could not enforce their right of pre-emption. Indraj v. Brother Clement (1 L R 37 All 262) referred to also Sri Kailash Singh v. Bachela Pande (1 L R 33 All 67) Karam Chand v. Ghulam Hassan (74 P R 1916) distinguished. Held also that plaintiffs had no reasonable ground for entertaining the belief that Rs 2,000 was an excessive price. MUKH RAM v. HARSAS

L L R 1 Lah 51

PRE EMPTION DECREE—

Whether transferable — On 17th June 1918 Mehr Khan appellant obtained a pre-emption decree on payment of Rs 1,500 within one month. On 6th July 1918 Mehr Khan sold his rights in the decree to Shah Din appellant and on 8th July 1918 they both presented a joint application for execution and deposited Rs 1,500 the fact of the sale being recited in the application. On 6th August 1918 Mehr Khan stated in Court that as he had sold his rights to Shah Din he wished possession under the decree to be given to him. Held following Ramswai v. Goya (1 L P 7 All 107 111) that a decree for pre-emption is not capable of transfer so as to enable it to be transferred to obtain possession of the pre-emptory property in execution and that consequently Shah Din could not get possession under the decree in favour of Mehr Khan. Lashkar Mal v. Ishar Singh (94 P F 1907) referred to. MENK KHAN v. GHULAM PASUL I L R 2 Lah 251

PRE-EMPTOR

right of, to put vendor to proof of title—

See PRE EMPTION I L R 37 All 529

PREFERENCE.

See DEBTOR AND CREDITOR

I L R 43 Cal 521

PREFERENCE SHAREHOLDERS

See COMPANY I L R 42 Bom. 579

PREFERENTIAL CLAIM

See MUTAWALLI I L R 43 Cal 467

PREFERENTIAL HEIR

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R 26 Mad 45

PREJUDICE

- See CHARGE I L R 41 Calc 66
 See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1893) s 256 I L R 79 Mad 503
 See CROSS EXAMINATION I L R 41 Calc 299
 See FALSE INFORMATION I L R 43 Calc 173
 See LOCAL INSPECTION I L R 39 Calc 476
 See LUPKING HOUSE TENANTS I L R 44 Calc 358

PRELIMINARY DECREE.

- See APPEAL I L R 42 Calc 914
 I L R 48 Calc 1086
 See BOMBAY REGULATION (II OF 1827) s 52 I L P 37 Bom 303
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—ss 2 AND 97 O XXVI PR 11 12
 I L R 38 Bom 392
 I L P 39 Bom 422
 s 47 O XXII R 10 I L R 39 Mad 438
 s 97 I L R 36 Bom 530
 I L R 37 Bom 480
 I L R 38 Bom 331
 I L R 39 Bom 339
 I L R 45 Bom 627
 O XX = 18 I L R 35 All 159
 See COURT FEES ACT VII OF 1870—
 SCH II CLS 3 4 I L R 32 All 517
 s 7 cl (4) I L R 39 Mad 725
 See HINDU LAW—PARTITION I L R 42 Bom 535
 See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 913
 See MORTGAGE DECREE I L R 39 Mad 544
 See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII OF 1871) s 6 I L R 39 Bom 352
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) ss 80 I L R 40 Bom 321

————— in favour of puisne mortgagee—

- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXIV PR 4 5 I L R 38 All 398

Findings on issues relating to misjoinder limitation and jurisdiction—
 Drawing up a preliminary decree—Material irregularity in declining to do so A Subordinate Judge in trying a suit gave his decision on issues relating to misjoinder limitation and jurisdiction and directed the parties to adduce evidence relating to accounts He was asked to draw up a preliminary decree in accordance with his findings on the issues and having declined to do so Held that the Subordinate Judge committed a material irregularity in the exercise of his jurisdiction The decision of the issues conclusively determined the rights of the parties regarding some matters in controversy so far as his Court was concerned

PRELIMINARY DECREE—contd

the decision on each of the issues was therefore sufficient to constitute a preliminary decree Per Curiam It is the duty of the Court where it is applied to after the passing of a preliminary decree to have the decree drawn up as to enable the party aggrieved to appeal Eas Dulah v Shah Vishrab Marondar I L R 31 Bom 189 referred to SIDHANATH DHOONDEY v GAYE H GOVIND (1912) I L R 37 Bom 60

————— Finding that a suit is not res judicata A decision that a matter is not res judicata is not a preliminary decree Chor malwams v Gangadharappa I L R 29 Bom 339 followed BHARNA DEVI SUNDATTA v BHAI GAYDA (1914) I L R 30 Bom 421

————— Appeal—final decree passed before appeal from preliminary decree disposed of When an appeal has been filed and is pending against a preliminary decree in a suit for partition, the passing of the final decree does not render the appeal untenable Per SHARF UDDIN J—A preliminary decree retains its force as such even after the passing of the final decree A preliminary decree is not extinct after the passing of the final decree and the final decree instead of extinguishing the preliminary decree gives effect to it BIBI WAMIDUN K A R DEEF NARAIN PRASAD 1 Pat L J 408

PRELIMINARY INQUIRY

- See COMPLAINT DISMISSAL OF I L R 40 Calc 444
 See COURT HEARING OF I L R 37 Calc 642
 See PERJURY I L R 42 Calc 240
 ————— by an Assistant Settlement Officer—
 See JUDICIAL PROCEEDING I L R 37 Calc 42

PRELIMINARY MORTGAGE DECREE

- See LIMITATION I L R 42 Calc 776

PRELIMINARY ORDER

- defective effect of—
 See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 1898, s 145 435 to 439 I L R 39 Mad 275

PRELIMINARY POINT

- See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O XXI r 23 I L R 39 All 165
 See RIVNAND I L R 43 Calc 143

PPE-MORTGAGE

- See PRE-EMPTION I L R 34 All 418

PREPARATION

- See DECEIT I L R 41 Calc 350

PREROGATIVES

- See HAPPA COURT I L R 44 Calc 459

PRESCRIPTION

See EASEMENT I L R 42 Calc 164
I L R 45 Bom 1027

See EASEMENT ACT (V OF 1882) s 10
I L R 39 Mad 303

— non riparian owner—

See EASEMENTS ACT (V OF 1882) ss 2 (c)
AND 17 (c) I L R 42 Bom. 238

— Prescription proof of acquisition of title by—Acts necessary to prove prescriptive right as trustee of tank—Such right not acquired by acts of conservancy maintaining and repairing etc. A prescriptive right as trustee of a tank the common property of a village cannot be acquired by performing acts of conservancy clearing and maintaining the tank building flights of steps sluices etc enjoying the fruits of trees in the bund selling withered trees and similar acts. Muthayya v Siraraman I L R 6 Mad 79 followed. Sriraman Chetty v Muthayyan Chetty I L R 12 Mad 741 743 followed. KABUTHAN CHETTY v KALINUTHAN (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 323

— Water rights—Reservoir in another's land—Prescriptive right to take water by defined channels—Reservoir fed by surface water—Excavation by one not affecting supply of surface water if actionable. The defendants had by prescription acquired the right to take water for the irrigation of their lands by two defined channels running toward from an ahar or reservoir in plaintiffs mouzah and fed by water coming to it by a defined channel from the north west and surface water from the north south and east. Held that the plaintiffs had every right to cut in their own mouzah a pyne or channel which in no way interfered with the passage of water to the ahar through the channel from the north west although it might result in drawing off the supply of surface water to the ahar to such an extent as would diminish the quantity of water available to the defendants for irrigating their lands. INDRANATH PENTAP BAHADUR SASTRI v KRISHNA DOYAL GIR (1910) 14 C W N 825

PRESSENTATION

See COMPLAINT I L R 42 Calc 19

See REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)
s 37 I L R 34 All 355

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1906)—

s 32 I L R 35 All 72, 134

ss. 37 38 71 73 s 87 89

I L R 40 All 434

PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT (XI OF 1876)

s 32—Succession Certificate Act (III of 1882) ss 16 and 17—Dividends on shares may be paid to the person obtaining succession certificate—Transfer of shares to the holder of certificate or his nominee—Case stated for opinion of Court—Criminal Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 90 and O XXVII. The provisions of s 23 of the Presidency Banks Act of 1876 do not prevent the Banks from accepting the succession certificate granted under the Succession Certificate Act. The certificate affords full indemnity to all the persons who are liable on the securities specified in the certificate as regards all dealings in good faith in respect of such securities. Held

PRESIDENCY BANKS ACT (XI OF 1876)—
concl'd

s 32—concl'd

accordingly the Banks will not be contravening the provisions of the Act if they pay the dividends on the shares in the Banks to the person obtaining the certificate and on his requisition transfer the said shares to him or his nominee. RANJIT SINGHJI v THE BANK OF BOMBAY (1920)

I L R 45 Bom 138

ss 36 37—Directors lending on the unauthorized securities (e.g.) mortgage of immovable property not ultra vires of the bank. The provisions of s 37 of the Presidency Banks Act (XI of 1876) prohibiting the directors of such Banks from entering into certain kinds of transactions therein mentioned such as taking mortgages of immovable properties are only directory and not mandatory and they prohibit only the directors and not the banks from entering into them and if such transactions are actually entered into by the directors on behalf of the bank they are not ultra vires of the bank. The directors are only agents of the bank and if in entering into such transactions they exceed the powers given to them by the Act the bank can ratify them and enforce them and an assignee (as in this case) from the bank of its rights under such transactions is equally entitled to enforce them. DAMODAR SHANBOOYE v PABIA ROW (1918)

I L R 39 Mad. 101

PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATES

See PIERCEAL TRIAL

I L R 42 Calc 313

— jurisdiction of—

See COMPANY I L R 45 Calc 490

— notes of depositions—

See COPIES 15 C W N 770

— courts of—jurisdiction of inter se

—Transfer High Court has power of from Court of Chief Presidency Magistrate to Court of another Presidency Magistrate—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 21 cl (2) 526 cl (ii) Charter Act (1865) s 15. The Court of the Chief Presidency Magistrate and those of the other Presidency Magistrates are Courts of equal jurisdiction within the meaning of s 620 cl (ii) Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). The High Court has power to transfer a case from the file of the Chief Presidency Magistrate to that of another Presidency Magistrate. In re VENKAT SWARA SASTRI (1919) I L R 35 Mad. 759

— Jurisdiction within Port of Calcutta —Unauthorized erection of wall on the shore on the right bank of the Hooghly—Demolition of complainant for offence of complainant—Complainant present at the time by mistake in and in Court—Acquittal—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 0 47—Calcutta Port Act (Penna III of 1860) ss 105 and 109. A Presidency Magistrate has jurisdiction under s 20 of the Criminal Procedure Code read with s 139 of the Calcutta Port Act (Penna III of 1860) to try an offence under s 24 of the latter committed outside the limit of the town sit within the limits of the port of Calcutta. Where a complainant was present in the Court of a Magistrate who had previously dealt with the case under the belief that it would be heard by him but it was taken up and dismissed under s 247 of the Code by the Chief Presidency Magistrate without the knowledge of the complainant—Held that the order of acquittal under s 247 ought in the circumstances of the case to be set aside W J GOOD & GURPAT PATE KHEMKA (1919) I L R 47 Cal 147

PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATES—concl'd

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT

judgment of—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 323

Rules of—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882) ss 9 AND 38

I L R 36 Mad 823

suit in—

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Cal 816

Jurisdiction—Fraud

Where a decree was passed by the Presidency Small Cause Court and a suit was instituted in the Court of a Munsif to set aside the decree on the ground of fraud Held that the jurisdiction to entertain such suits must be determined by the Civil Procedure Code and the suit must be brought either in the Court within whose jurisdiction the fraud was perpetrated or within whose local jurisdiction the defendant ordinarily resides and personally works for gain Alimoney Barnal v Pudo Lohan Chakrabarty 5 W R Act X 50 referred to Held further that the suit was maintainable in the Munsif's Court and the jurisdiction of the Presidency Small Cause Court to vacate its own decree when the same has been obtained by fraud is not sufficient to oust that of another Court to set aside the decree Sarihakram Maht v Aundo Ram Maht 11 O W N 579 referred to The plaintiff in such a suit must allege fraud by which he was prevented from placing his case before the original Court He cannot bring a fresh action by merely alleging that the decree was obtained by the perjury of the person in whose favour it was given Moham A Golab v Mohomed Salisman I L R 41 Cal 612 referred to ABDUL HUSSAIN CHOWDHURY & ABDUL HAYZ (1910)

14 C W N 695

New Trial—Powers of

Each sitting on application for new trial—Jurisdiction—Practice—Questions of fact and of law—Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882) ss 7 and 33—Amendment Act (I of 1895) s 17—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) 115 The Second Judge of the Presidency Small Cause Court having dismissed a suit after trial the plaintiffs applied under s 33 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act for a new trial and the Judges (the Chief and the Second) on such application set aside the order of dismissal and transferred the suit to the Third Judge to be tried by him On a motion to the High Court by the defendants to set aside the order for new trial Held that s 33 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act gives the Court power inter alia to order a new trial to be held and that there is no limitation in s 33 that the Court can only

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT—concl'd exercise the power if a question of law arise Sassoon v Hurry Das Bhukut I L R 24 Cal 455 referred to JOHAN SMIDT & RAM PRASAD (1911) I L R 38 Cal 425

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882)—

Jurisdiction of Presidency Small Cause Courts—Claim by a Parsi wife to recover costs incurred by her in a matrimonial suit—Arrears of maintenance at the rate fixed by arbitrators—Award—Practice and procedure A suit by a Parsi wife to recover costs incurred by her in a matrimonial suit and to recover arrears of maintenance at a rate fixed by arbitrators in their award is one cognizable by the Presidency Court of Small Causes ENACH BAW & DITRAY (1920) I L R 45 Bom 218

= 6, 41—

See APPEAL I L R 41 Cal 323

= 9 38—

See NEW TRIAL

I L R 47 Cal 763

New trial application for—Right of a party to apply—Presidency Small Cause Court Rules O XXI r 2 ultra vires—High Court power of to make rules—Matters of practice or procedure—Right of a party to apply not a matter of practice or procedure The rules of the Presidency Small Cause Court are made by s 9 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act of 1892 as amended by the Act of 1895 That section only empowers the High Court to make rules with reference to matters of practice or procedure and not matters of substantive right On a true construction of s 38 of the Act the power given to the Court is really a right given to a party to apply for a new trial such right like the right of appeal is not a matter of practice or procedure O XXI r 2 of the Presidency Small Cause Court Rules which requires at the time of presenting an application for new trial either the deposit in Court of the decree amount or the giving of security for the due performance of the decree is inconsistent with the statutory right given by s 33 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act and is ultra vires Attorney General v Sillen 11 E R 1900 s r 10 H L C 704 referred to Colonial Sugar Refining Company v Irving (1905) A C 369 referred to MADURAI PILLAI & MUTHU CHETTI (1914) I L R 38 Mad 893

= 19 (g)—Suit for stones of a well or their value—Title to the well questioned—Jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court Suit to recover stones forming part of a well and soil to have been wrongfully removed by the defendant or their value is cognizable by the Presidency Small Cause Court in spite of the fact that it is necessary to determine the question of title to the well Pullangouala v Aikantil Kala Purgade (1913) I L R 3 Bom 65 followed Tajul Fajr v Isam Ison (1891) I L R 30 P 150 considered and distinguished KRIKA MACHARI & KOMALANMAT (1910)

I L R 31 Mad 892

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882)—contd

—s 19 cl (s)—Jurisdiction—Unsuccessful claim proceedings—Suit to recover movable property attached by the Presidency Small Cause Court or for payment of its value—Not a suit for a mere declaration—The Small Cause Court Rules—Claim petitions—Civil Proc Jure Code (Act I of 1905) A suit by the unsuccessful party in claim proceedings to recover movable property attached by the Presidency Small Cause Court or for the payment of its value is not excluded from the jurisdiction of the Presidency Small Cause Court under s 19 cl (s) of the Act as a suit for a declaratory decree. The statutory suit to establish his right given to the unsuccessful party in claim proceedings under the Code involves in every case a prayer for the setting aside of a summary order of a Civil Court, this being so such a suit cannot be regarded as a suit for a mere declaration. Phulkumar v Ganeshyam Mirra I I R 35 Calc 9 735 followed. The Small Cause Court rules reproduce the provisions of the Civil Procedure Code as to claim petitions and cases under them must be governed by the same considerations. RAJAMMAL v NARAYANASWAMI NAIGER (1910) I I R 39 Mad 219

—s 22—

See COSTS I I R 43 Calc 190

—s 31 cl (b)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I I R 37 Calc 574

—ss 37 38—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 195

I I R 34 Bom 316

—Sanction to prosecute—

Order granted by single Judge—Powers of Full Court to revoke the sanction—Full Court not an Appellate Court Where a sanction to prosecute has been granted by a Judge of the Presidency Small Cause Court at Bombay a Full Court of that Court has no power to revoke the sanction. Per CHANDAVANBEAR J—The language used in ss 37 and 38 of the Presidency Court of Small Causes Act (XV of 1882) does not appear to be appropriate for the purpose of conferring appellate jurisdiction upon the Full Court. Per BATCHELOR J—The jurisdiction conferred by s 38 of the Act is not appellate but revisional only. SHIVLAL PADMA In re (1909)

I I R 34 Bom 316

—ss 37 38—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURT

I I P 35 Calc 425

—s 38—

See s 0 I I R 38 Mad 823

I I R 47 Calc 763

—New trial power of Court to order—Judgment against weight of evidence S 38 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882) places no limitation upon the power of the Court to order new trial in a matter when the judgment is manifestly against the weight of evidence, such power is not restricted to questions of law only. Sadasook Cambir Chund v Kannayya I I R 19 Mad 96 and Srinivasa Charlu v Balaji Rao I I R 21 Mad 732 approved. Ramasamy Isyar v The Madras Times Limited 30 Mad L J 207 overruled. SAI SIKANDAR POWTHIR v GHOSHMOHIDIN MARAKALAR (1916) I I R 40 Mad 355

16 C W R 25

—Full Bench of the Small

Cause Court no power to decide facts—Held

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882)—contd

by the Full Bench that a Full Bench of the Presidency Small Cause Court sitting under s 38 of Act XV of 1882 has no jurisdiction to decide questions of fact whether they are raised generally or in consequence of its finding on another question of fact or law. Sadasook Cambir Chund v Kannayya I I R 19 Mad 96 and Srinivasa Charlu v Balaji Rao I I R 21 Mad 732 approved. Ramasamy Isyar v The Madras Times Limited 30 Mad L J 207 overruled. SAI SIKANDAR POWTHIR v GHOSHMOHIDIN MARAKALAR (1916) I I R 40 Mad 355

—New trial—Full Court

—Difference of opinion on questions of fact—Powers of interference—Powers not restricted to questions of law only—Jurisdiction S and D filed cross suits in the Presidency Small Cause Court. The trial Judge allowed S's suit and dismissed that of D. D obtained a Rulo for new trial and the same coming up for argument before the Chief Judge and the trial Judge there was a difference of opinion between the learned Judges on questions of fact. In this division the order of the Chief Judge prevailed with the result that D's claim was wholly allowed and that of S disallowed. Against this order S applied in revision to the High Court contending that under s 38 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882 the Full Court had no jurisdiction to make the order because they had no appellate powers on a question of fact and upon such questions their powers of interference were limited to cases where the judgment of trial Court was manifestly against the weight of evidence. Held that the Full Court had jurisdiction as the powers conferred under s 38 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882 were not restricted to interference on questions of law only. Per BATCHELOR J—There is nothing in the wording of the section which suggests that the Legislature intended to confine the powers thus generally granted to particular cases where questions of law are involved nor can it be accurately said that the powers of interference are only to be used where the original judgment is manifestly against the weight of the evidence. BOYCOO NARAYAN v DEENAR JAGANNATH (1917)

I I R 42 Bom 80

—s 41—

See APPEAL I I R 41 Calc 323

—ss 41–49 and Ch VII—

See BOMBAY PEST (WAT PESTICIDATIONS)

ACT (NO II OF 1918)— ss 9 AND 10 I I R 45 Bom 828 1048

—ss 43 and 48—

See BAILIFF I I R 42 Calc 313

—s 43—Order for possession—

Cause Court has no jurisdiction to amend terms of decree or order passed under Ch. VII—Pest (Wat Pesticidations) Act (Dom. Act II of 1918) On the 21st January 1920 a decree for possession was made in favour of the petitioner by the Presidency Small Cause Court on the ground that the premises were vacant and bond vide required and the opponent was ordered to vacate by the 21st June 1920. On the 10th June 1920 the opponent applied for further time and was granted time till the 9th July. Thereafter on a further application by the opponent the Court stayed execution till the 20th October 1920. The petitioner having applied to the High Court under its revisional jurisdiction—Held setting aside the order that the Small Cause Court had no jurisdiction to alter or amend the terms of a decree or order for possession once passed under s 43 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882 nor was there anything in the Rent Act which gave the Small Cause Court any power to alter its orders for possession made in due course. JAMSHEDJI HORMASJI v GORDHANDAS GOKULDAS (1920)

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882)—contd

— s 43—concld

I L R 45 Bom 1048

— s 48—Orders made in proceeding under Ch VII—Review—Power of the Court to review the order—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 8 114 and O XLVII The Presidency Small Cause Court has no jurisdiction to review its decision in a proceeding under Ch VII of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882. Per MACLEOD O J—S 48 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act 1882 means that in the proceedings themselves under Ch VII the provisions of the Code shall apply as far as possible that is to say until an order is made granting or dismissing the application and while any further proceedings which might become necessary in execution of the order are being taken. To go a step further by stating that any other provisions of the Code with regard to appeals or reviews apply would not be warranted by the words of the section. Per FAWCETT J—The expression proceedings under Ch VII should be construed as referring simply to the proceedings for the actual hearing of the case on its merits which are terminated by an order either refusing the application or granting possession. It is a further stage and in reality a separate proceeding when the Court after passing such an order is asked to review the order. FRAMROZ DOSABHAI v DALSUKHBHAI FULCHAND (1920)
I L R 45 Bom 972

— s 69—

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 41 Cal 825

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909) s 17

I L R 39 Mad 869

Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 20 proviso—Part payment of principal—Literate debtor—Part payment signed but not written by him—Whether sufficient compliance within the proviso When two or more Judges of the Small Cause Court are sitting together for the purpose of exercising the jurisdiction conferred by s 39 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1882) they are sitting in a suit within the meaning of those words in s 6) and if a reference is made to the High Court under its provisions such reference is valid. (2) of the Limitation Act requires that in the case of a part payment of the principal of a debt the entry or line the payment should be written by the person who makes the payment when such person knows how to write his mere signature to the entry written by another is not a sufficient compliance with the section. Joshi Bhai Shankar v Bai Parvat I L R 26 Bom 216 Jama v Jaga Bhana I L R 28 Bom 262 and Mulki Haji Bahmutulla v Cowry Bhuja I L R 23 Cal 546 followed. Sesha v Seshaya I L P 7 Mad 55 and Ellappa v Annamalai I L R 7 Mad 76 distinguished. LODD GOVINDOSS KRISHNADOSS v RUKMANI BAI (1913)

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT (XV OF 1882)—concld

I L R 38 Mad 433

— s 88—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT
I L R 38 Cal 425

— s 104

See FRAUD 14 C W N 695

PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS (AMENDMENT) ACT (I OF 1895)

— s 18

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS ACT
I L R 38 Cal 425

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)

See INSOLVENT I L R 45 Bom 550

— ss 5 8 36 101 sec 18 Sch II—Appeal time within which to be filed—Signing of the findings and of the report—Jurisdiction of the Registrar in Insolvency—Validity of a mortgage whether could be decided by the Registrar—Consent when infants are concerned effect of Under s 101 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 the period of limitation for an appeal from the order of the Registrar in Insolvency is twenty days from the time when the report is signed by the Registrar and the matter is thereby completed and not from the time when the findings of the Registrar are signed or filed. The Registrar in Insolvency has no jurisdiction to deal with the question of validity or otherwise of a mortgage alleged to have been executed by the insolvent. re LALBHARAI SHAH
28 C W N 631

— ss 6 8 25 38 39 (2)—(a) (b) (c) (d) (f) (j)—Protection order—Appeal lies against a protection order—Opposing creditor that is not a decree holder a person aggrieved by the protection order—Protection order a privilege to be granted or withheld according to the character and circumstances of the insolvency—Insolvent guilty of malpractices not entitled to protection Under s 8 cl (2) (b) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) an appeal lies from a protection order made by a Judge in the exercise of the insolvency jurisdiction. It does not appear from s 8 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act that the Legislature wished to put any limitation upon appeals made from original orders of a Judge except perhaps orders regulating procedure. The expression any person aggrieved in cl 2 of the last mentioned section is not to be limited to a creditor who has obtained decrees against the insolvent. Every application for protection after refusal or suspension of discharge must be judged on its merits. If the insolvent has acted recklessly and dishonestly the fact that he cannot pay is no reason for depriving the

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

ss. 6 8, 25 38, 39 (2)—concl'd

creditor of the power of punishing him by attachment and imprisonment to the extent the law allows. A protection order is a privilege to be granted or withheld as the Court in its discretion may determine. In exercising that discretion, it is relevant and proper for the Court to have regard to the character and circumstances of the insolvent. Where a Court finds that the insolvent is of a habitually culpable kind being the result of gross extravagance accompanied by grave malpractices and a total disregard of the creditors whose money was squandered protection ought to be refused. Varri v Ingram 13 CA D 338 and In re Cent. Genl Davis v Harris 40 CA D 190 195 referred to. MAHOMED HAJI ESSACK v SHAIK ABDUL FAHMAN (1915)

I L R 40 Bom 461

ss. 6 27 38 121—*Indian Insolvency Act (11 & 12 Vict c 21) s 3—Bombay Insolvency rules under Indian Insolvency Act r 37—Officer appointed by the Ch of Justice under s 6 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act—Attorneys right of audience. The petitioner complained that in certain proceedings before the officer appointed under s 6 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act namely on the holding of the public examination of insolvents under s 27 of the Act and the examination of persons summoned by the Court under r 38 such examinations had been conducted by solicitors. The petitioner submitted that for reasons set forth in the petition solicitors had no right of audience before the said officer and petitioned the Chief Justice of the Bombay High Court to form a Special Bench for the determination of the question whether any legal practitioner except counsel had the right to audience before the officer so appointed. Held that attorneys of the High Court have a right of audience before the officer appointed by the Chief Justice in the exercise of the powers conferred upon him under s 6 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. In re Advocate General of Bombay (1913)*

I L R 37 Bom 464

ss. 6 101, Sch II, s 18—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 721

ss. 7 36 and 90—11 and 12 Vict, cap 21, s 28—Immovable property situate outside local limits of ordinary original civil jurisdiction of High Court—Dispute as to title—Jurisdiction of High Court in insolvency to decide—Summary procedure when—Letters Patent cl 12 and 13—Bankruptcy Act (46 & 47 Vict cap 52 of 1933) s 10. Under s 7 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) the High Court of Madras in the exercise of its insolvency jurisdiction has jurisdiction to adjudicate on claims relating to immovable property situate outside the limits of its ordinary original civil jurisdiction the jurisdiction which existed under s 26 of 11 & 12 Vict cap 21 has not been cut down by the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. The jurisdiction conferred by s 7 of the Act is of a discretionary character and it is seldom that the Insolvent Court will deem it expedient to try difficult questions of title. The Judge in such cases would ordinarily ask the Official Assignee in Insolvency to establish his title in an

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

ss. 7 36 and 90—11 and 12 Vict, cap 21 s 26—concl'd ordinary Civil Court. S 36 of the Act does not control the language of s 7 but provides a special and summary procedure in certain cases nor does s 90 curtail the jurisdiction otherwise exercisable by the Insolvency Court. Decisions on the Bankruptcy Act (46 & 47 Vict cap 52 of 1883) s 102 corresponding to s 7 of the Indian Act III of 1909 are relevant and should be followed. Cl 12 of the Letters Patent does not control the provisions of cl 18 thereof so as to limit the insolvency jurisdiction of the Court. Ex parte Dickin In re Pollard L P 8 Ch D 377 378. Ex parte Brown In re Bates L R 11 Ch D 143 followed. Maula v Datta In re Motion L R 11 Ch App 123 210. In re Lucas I L R 4 Calc 109. Ganesha Lalani In re R D Saha v R S D Chopra I L R 32 Bom 295. Khan Sahib Banga Abdul Kadir Sahib v The Official Assignee 14 Mad L T 61 referred to. ABDUL KHADER v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 810

ss. 7 86—*Official Assignee—Third person's property taken in custody by Official Assignee—Suit by stranger—Civil Court—Right of suit. Where the Official Assignee takes into his possession property as belonging to the insolvent which a third party claims as his own the latter can bring a suit against the Official Assignee in a Civil Court to establish his right. NATIONAL CHINLAL v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE (1911)*

I L R 35 Bom 478

ss. 3—

See s 6 I L R 40 Bom 461

See INSOLVENCY I L P 43 Calc 248

ss. 8 35—*Rules (Calcutta) under Presidency Towns Insolvency Act rr 17 18 19 and 30—Ex parte order for examination of a person if could be made—Power of the Registrar in Insolvency to make such an order—Procedure when the witness refuses to answer questions—Appeal from an order of Judge in Insolvency—Application under s 36 (1) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1919 could be and are intended to be made ex parte. To such an application r 30 of the rules framed by the High Court under s 112 of the Act applies and not rr 17 18 and 19. In re Assory Mohan Roy I L R 44 Calc 286. See also C W N 1150 (1916) followed under s 6 (d) and (e) of the Act the Registrar in Insolvency has power to deal with such an application. An application to the Court to set aside an order made by the Registrar in Insolvency under s 36 (1) is not an appeal under cl (2) of s 11 but an application under cl (1) for the review of an ex parte order. The course to be adopted if the person summoned is advised not to answer questions put to him indicated. PER ALBERT KALEL SELDASA PAT SPANAL KARNANI BANADER v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF CALCUTTA 25 C W N 750* ss. 9 (d) III—Adjudication on petition for what to contain—Letters Patent when to be given. A petition for adjudication in bankruptcy alleged that the debtors did part from their place of business and were deceiving their creditors so as to deprive the creditors of means of communicating with them.

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

§ 8 (d) III—concl'd

petitioners are advised and believed that the said insolvents are liable to be adjudged to have committed an act of insolvency. An affidavit in support of this petition alleged the indebtedness of the debtors and that they had left Madras leaving no one in charge of their respective business and are secreting themselves for the purpose of evading their creditors. Held that these allegations were a sufficient compliance with s 8 (iii) of the Insolvency Act. The statement of intent to defeat or delay the creditors must apper either in the petition or in the affidavit otherwise the petition is liable to be dismissed as the omission to state it is a substantial defect incurable by amendment. An omission to state the fact that the petitioning creditor is a secured creditor and the value of his security as required by s 12 (2) and s 21 is one that could be cured by amendment. WHITE C J—Leave to amend a petition by inserting new causes of action should not be given at a time when by doing so the Court would be depriving the defendant of the plea of limitation. WALLIS J (dissenting) whether under peculiar circumstances leave could not be given in such cases. Per WALLIS J—The passage (in the petition) conveys with sufficient certainty that the debtors committed an act of insolvency by leaving their place of business and residence with intent to defeat and delay their creditors. But if that act of insolvency is not expressed with sufficient certainty we are at liberty to look at the affidavit and after reading the petition with the affidavit to find that the act of insolvency is charged with sufficient certainty. Ex parte Coates in re Skelton 5 Ch D 979 distinguished. GUNNIS & Co v MAHOMED AYYUB SANIN (1913) I L R 37 Mad 555

§ 8 (e) 10—Partnership debt—

Attachment of property in execution of a joint decree against partner—Property claimed on behalf of an endowment—Enquiry as to whether property attached was really judgment debtors if essential—General Clauses Act (X of 1897) s 13—Act or default if to be personal of person sought to be adjudicated—Delay in applying for annulment § 9 (e) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act requires that the act or default which amounts to an act of insolvency must be a personal act or default of the particular individual or in certain circumstances of his agent. Where properties alleged to belong to three judgment debtors remained under attachment in execution of a joint decree against them for more than 21 days. Held that this alone could not be relied on as an act of insolvency on the part of H one of the co judgment debtors when in the execution proceeding claim was laid to what was alleged to be his share of the property on behalf of an endowment and that claim was pending when the adjudicating order was made against him and the other co judgment debtors. On an application by H for annulment of the adjudication. Held that the above act of insolvency on the part of H co judgment debtors could not be regarded as an act of insolvency on the part of H. Held that it was necessary to inquire whether the property attached was in fact the applicant's. An objection that at the application for annulment was not made till after the lapse of a considerable time

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

§ 9 (e) 10—concl'd

having been raised for the first time on appeal. Held that there being no bar of limitation in the matter this objection taken at this late stage should not be entertained. HARISH CHANDRA MUKERJEE v THE EAST INDIA COAL CO LD (1912) 18 C W N 733

§ 13 (8) 15 (2) and 21 (1)—Adjudication annulment if when Court has jurisdiction to pass order for—Debts necessity that all debts of the insolvent actually and properly proved in the bankruptcy should have been fully paid in cash—Conduct of insolvent applying for annulment of an adjudication order duty of Court to scrutinize—Discretion of Court how exercised. A debtor who has been adjudicated insolvent on his own petition cannot even with the leave of the Court withdraw his petition. § 15 (2) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act only applies to petitions that are pending before any order has been made as also does s 13 (8) dealing with petitions by creditors. Once an order of adjudication has been made the debtor becomes an insolvent and remains so until the order of adjudication is annulled or he obtains his discharge. The Court can only annul the order of adjudication under s 21 of the Act if the Court is of opinion that the debtor ought not to have been adjudicated in the event or it is proved to the satisfaction of the Court that the debts of the insolvent have been paid in full and in the latter case the debts including at least all debts actually and properly proved in bankruptcy must have been fully paid in cash. It is the duty of the Court to scrutinize the conduct of an insolvent applying for an order of annulment. The Court is given a discretion by s 21 and it would not be a good exercise of that discretion to make an order of annulment of an adjudication where if the insolvent were applying for his discharge an order of discharge would not be granted. In re Keet (1905) 2 K B 666 661 applied. In the matter of MANDRAS CAVAL (1912) I L R 33 Bom. 200

§ 14, 15 21, 33—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 11 Cal 899

§ 15—

See s 13

See INSOLVENCY I L R 11 Cal 899

§ 17—

Leave of Court—Power of secured creditor of adjudicated insolvent to realise his security by means of a regular suit without obtaining leave. A having obtained a decree in a suit brought by him against B for the payment of a sum of money assigned the decree to C by way of mortgage to secure the repayment of monies advanced by C to A. Subsequently A became insolvent and his property being vested in the Official Assignee the latter executed the decree against B and obtained payment of the amount due from B in full. Subsequently C without the leave of the Court first obtained brought a suit against the Official Assignee to recover the amount due to him as mortgages of the decree against B out of the monies so recovered by the Official Assignee. Held that the Official Assignee having executed a decree which had been assigned by way of security was in the position of a mortgagor who had sold the mortgaged property and was in possession of the sale proceeds that until the claim of the mortgagee had been satisfied the insolvent or his Official Assignee had no right to the proceeds of the decree and that the secured creditor in such a case might file a suit to obtain payment of his claim out of the amount so recovered by the Official Assignee without obtaining the leave of the Court under s 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act as the proviso to s 1 covered a suit by a mortgagee to realise his security. LAL & HETULABHAI ISMAILJI (1313)

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contds 17—contd

I L R 33 Bom 359

Suit by creditors against an adjudged insolvent—Suit commenced without the leave of the Court—Application for leave after the institution of the suit—Application refused. The leave contemplated under s 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) is leave which ought to be obtained before the commencement of a suit and cannot be granted after the same is filed. In = DWARKADAS TER BHANDAS (1915)

I L R 40 Bom 235

Decree of Presidency Small Cause Court—Judgment debtor adjudged insolvent subsequent to decree—Adjudication by the High Court—Application for execution by arrest in the Presidency Small Cause Court—Leave of the High Court not obtained—Release of judgment debtor on security—Non appearance effect of—Security bond validity of—Jurisdiction—Water—Presidency Small Cause Courts Act (XV of 1862) s 69. Where a decree was passed by the Presidency Small Cause Court against a person who was subsequently adjudicated an insolvent by the High Court in the exercise of its insolvency jurisdiction the former Court had no jurisdiction without the leave of the High Court to entertain any application for execution of the decree against the insolvent under s 17 of the Insolvency Act III of 1909. Consequently a security bond executed to the Court by a third party for the appearance of the judgment debtor in the course of the execution proceedings carried on without the leave of the High Court was obtained without jurisdiction and was void in law. A reference to the High Court under s 69 of the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act should state clearly the points on which there is a difference of opinion among the Judges of the Small Cause Court. EASWARA & GOVINDARAJULU NAIDU (1915)

I L R 39 Mad. 689

s 17 22 and 51—Adjudication by different Courts—Later adjudication based on earlier acts of insolvency—Vesting of property under prior adjudication—Official Assignee whether divested by later adjudication—Convenience of administration of assets by one Court—Annulment of adjudication in the other necessity for—Order of adjudication—Specification of acts of insolvency therein necessity for. Where there are successive adjudications in insolvency by two Courts all the property of the insolvent vests in the Official Assignee appointed by the Court in which the prior adjudication was made and it will not be divested from him by the subsequent adjudication of the other Court even if the later adjudication be based on acts of insolvency committed earlier in date than those upon which the prior adjudication was made. Where it is found convenient that the estate should be administered by the Court in which the later adjudication was made steps should be taken to annul the prior adjudication. S 51 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) which enacts the doctrine of relation back is intended to enable the Official Assignee to recover property in the hands of third parties and has not the effect of divesting property vested in an Official Assignee under a prior adjudication. Ex parte Geddes. In re Mauat 10 & J 413 followed. An order of adjudication should specify the precise acts of insolvency on which it is made as the insolvency relates back to the date of the acts of insolvency which are found to have been proved. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS & OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF RANGOON (1918)

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contdss 17 22 and 51—contd

I L P 42 Mad 121

ss 17 103 and 104—Adjudged insolvent—Criminal proceedings against the insolvent—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 421—Sanction of Insolvency Court not obtained—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Suit or other legal proceeding—Interpretation of. A person in insolvent circumstances applied to the Insolvent Debtors Court at Bombay for relief under the provisions of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 and was adjudicated an insolvent. Ten days later a creditor of the insolvent without having obtained any sanction from the Insolvent Debtors Court filed a complaint against the insolvent in the Presidency Magistrate's Court for an offence punishable under s 421 of the Indian Penal Code 1860. It was contended that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to entertain the complaint. Held that the Magistrate's jurisdiction to try the insolvent for an offence under s 421 of the Indian Penal Code 1860 was not taken away by anything contained in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909. The expression or other legal proceeding in s 17 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 coming after the word suit a word of more limited application must be construed on the principle of quodam generis. It therefore includes only proceedings of a civil nature. ENTERON & MULSHANKAR HARINDR BEAT (1910)

I L R. 35 Bom. 63ss 17 126—*See INSOLVENCY I L R 40 Cal. 78

s 18 (3)—Suit on a promissory note against an adjudged insolvent—Proceedings against an insolvent may be stayed although not pending at the time of the order of adjudication—Proceedings against an insolvent stayed although leave to sue was obtained under s 17—Discret on of the trial Court in staying proceedings not to be interfered with where interference would involve abuse of judicial proceedings. The wording of s 18 (3) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act III of 1909 is wide enough to justify a stay of proceedings in an action which was not pending at the time of the order of adjudication. 10 of the English Bankruptcy Act and Brocas v. Far 55 L T 35 referred to. VARADHARAJU NAIDU & ARDEL RAHMAY (1916)

I L R. 41 Bom 312

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

■ 21—

See s 13 I L R 38 Bom 200

See ADJUDICATION ANNULMENT OF
I L R 47 Calc 914

ss 21 ~~18~~ to 30—Private arrangement of insolvent with creditors for full discharge on part payment whether payment in full or composition under the Act A private arrangement of the insolvents to pay four annas in the rupee in full satisfaction of their claims even though made with all their creditors is neither a payment in full nor a composition within the meaning of the Act so as to entitle the insolvents to an annulment of an order of adjudication. An order of adjudication under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act made on an application of the insolvents who were unable to pay their debts can be annulled by payment in full to the creditors as provided for by s 21 of the Act or as the result of a composition with the creditors in the manner provided for by ss 28 to 30 of the Act. BRIJ KESHOOR LAUL & OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE MADRAS (1920) I L R 43 Mad 71

■ 22—

See s 17 I L R 42 Mad 121

■ 25—

See s 6 I L R 40 Bom 461

Protection order—Previous decisions on applications for interim orders—Discretion—Practice It has never been the practice of Commissioners in Insolvency under the Indian Insolvency Act (11 and 12 Vict c 21) to consider themselves bound by their previous decisions on applications for interim orders when it has been a matter for their discretion and it by no means follows that because an application has been refused on the first occasion it must also be refused on the second occasion. § 20 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) clearly intends that while an insolvent diligently performs the duties prescribed by the Act he should not be harassed by execution creditors and should not be rendered liable to pressure which by one creditor may get undue advantage to another. The section does not deprive the Court of its discretion in granting or refusing an order but it indicates clearly that the Court should not refuse an order if the insolvent is diligent in performing his duties. Official Assignee Madras v. The Insolvency Commissioners, Madras (1920) I L R 43 Mad 71

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

ss 25 ~~20~~ 27 Sch II—concld

come forward and prove their claims before the Court. MOOKERJEE J.—The term creditor in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act does not include the benamdar of a creditor. Any person who makes an application to a Court for a decision or any person who is brought before the Court to submit to a decision is if the decision goes against him thereby a person aggrieved by that decision within the meaning of that expression in s 26 of the Act. KETOKEY CHARAY BANERJEE & SABAT KUMARI DABEE (1916) 20 C W N 995

■ 27—

See s 6 I L R 37 Bom 464

■ 28 29 30—

See s 21 I L R 43 Mad 71

§ 30—Indian Contract Act (1872) s 135—Surety—Dubash of a Company guaranteeing customers—Part payment of debt by surety to creditor—Insolvency of debtor—Composition effected by insolvent debtor with creditors—Subsequent approval by Court and annulment of insolvency—Right of surety to refund of money paid to creditor—Composition and annulment whether under a 30 of the Act The dubash of a Company stood surety for customers introduced by him and deposited with them certain Government promissory notes as security. One of such customers failing in business the Company sold the notes and appropriated the proceeds in part payment of the debt of the customer. Both the customer and the dubash were adjudicated insolvents. The customer entered directly without the Official Assignee's intervention into a composition with his creditors with a view to obtain the approval and sanction of the Insolvency Court, and subsequently applied to the Court for approval of the composition and annulment of the insolvency. The Court annulled the insolvency but the order did not embody the terms of the composition as required by s 30 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. The Company had agreed to the composition without the consent of the dubash and received a dividend on the full amount of their debt without giving credit for the money which was appropriated. The Official Assignee acting on behalf of the insolvent dubash applied to the Court to direct the Company to refund the value of his Government Promissory Notes appropriated by them. Held that a creditor was entitled to prove for the full amount of his debt in the insolvency of the principal debtor notwithstanding that the surety had paid a portion of the debt and that the creditor had not proved until he had paid the full amount of his debt. Official Assignee Madras v. The Insolvency Commissioners, Madras (1920) I L R 43 Mad 71

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

§ 30—covered being by operation of law and not by act of the creditor the surety would not be discharged from his obligation to the creditor under s 133 of the Indian Contract Act Ex parte Jacob & In re Jacobs (1875) 10 CA 41 p 11 followed. On the question whether the fact that the creditor had given receipts in full settlement of the debt without waiting until the composition was sanctioned by the Court discharged the creditor Held by SESHAGIRI AYYAR J (WALLIS C J not deciding the point) that where after notice to the surety the composition was accepted by the Court it became an act of the Court and the surety was not discharged from liability. BOMBAY COMPANY LTD & OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1921) I L R 44 Mad 361

§ 33—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 58

§§ 33 to 37 43—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Calc 374

§ 35—

See s 7 25 C W N 750

§ 36—

See s 5 26 C W N 631

See s 6 I L R 37 Bom 464

See s 7 I L R 40 Mad 810

See COSTS I L R 46 Calc 795

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 109

I L R 44 Calc 286 374

I L R 43 Calc 1089

See INSOLVENCY I L R 46 Calc 996

*Application under s 36 may be made ex parte—Calcutta High Court Insolvency rr 17 18 19 and 30 Applications under s 36 (1) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act for examination of persons thereunder are intended to be made ex parte under the rules framed by the Calcutta High Court under s 112 of the Act To such applications r 30 applies and not rr 17 18 and 19 and this view is supported by the English Bankruptcy Act (1914) 4 & 5 George V Ch 59 and the rules thereunder In re HISSORY MONAN ROY (1916) 20 C W N 1155*

*Order under section when can be properly made—Admission of proof of debt by Official Assignee a condition precedent The words in s 36 any creditor who has proved his debt mean not merely a creditor who has lodged proof of his debt but a creditor whose proof has been admitted by the Official Assignee and unless this has been done no order can be made under the section The mere fact that a creditor's name was included in the schedule filed by the insolvent and that so far his claim has not been challenged does not assist him if his debt has not been admitted by the Official Assignee so that he becomes a creditor who has proved his debt within the meaning of s 36 of the Act Re ABDUL SAMAD 26 C W N 744*

§ 36 (4) (5)—

Proper proceedings under s 36 (4) and (5) for discovery of insolvent's property—Practice—Costs order for against Official

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

§ 36 (4) (5)—contd

Assignee—Indemnity If the Official Assignee desires to proceed under s 36 (4) and (5) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) for discovery of an insolvent's property known or suspected to be in possession of any person the only way he can do that is to take the examination of such person by himself and the Court for an order that he is justified by the admissions made or evidence given by such person and without looking to any further evidence at all to have the order In such case the proper procedure is not for the Official Assignee to present a petition and obtain from Court a rule in bankruptcy against such person to how can There are two courses open to the Official Assignee in such cases The one is to start an action and the other is to proceed against the respondent by notice of motion in insolvency But it is discretionary with the Court in the latter case to direct at the hearing of the motion that the matter be dealt with by an action In the case of motion a notice of motion has to be sent to the respondent stating the grounds of the application supported by an affidavit giving the evidence relied upon The rule was discharged on the merits with liberty to the Official Assignee to proceed by motion on proper materials or by action if he so desired If the Official Assignee brings an unsuccessful motion however careful he may have been the order that the Court would make generally would be that he is to pay the respondent's costs and he will have the right of indemnity given him by the previous order of the Court Or he may obtain an indemnity from the creditor or other person in whose interest the motion is brought before he starts proceeding The order for costs should not be directed to be limited to the assets in the hands of the Official Assignee when the respondent is not in any way in default for which he may be partially mulcted in costs Re SURESH CHANDRA GOOLKEE (1918) 23 C W N 481

*Examination by creditor of a mortgagee under s 36—Cost of mortgagee appearing by counsel if recoverable from creditor A mortgagee of an insolvent (applicant) was examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 at the instance of a creditor (the respondents) who challenged the validity of the mortgage At the examination counsel and attorney appeared for the mortgagee Subsequently the respondents did not take any step to have the mortgage declared void Thereupon the applicant made the present application asking for costs of attending by solicitor and counsel upon his own examination against the respondents Held that the applicant was not entitled to the order asked for In re Waddell & Co 138 (1877) and In re Appleton Ex parte ord 11 Lid (1905) 1 CA 79 referred to IN THE MATTER OF ANANDI PROKA RAO 24 C W N 685*

Scope of order—An order under the section should not be made merely in the case of justifying the insolvent on a return for suit One R obtained a decree against J and Co for the recovery of the value of certain shares which according to him had been made over to J and Co in pursuance of an arrangement of sale The

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

— s 21—

See s 13 I L R 35 Bom 200

See ADJUDICATION, ANNULMENT OF
I L R 47 Calc 914

— ss 21 23 to 30—Private arrangement of insolvent with creditors for full discharge on part payment whether payment in full or composition under the Act A private arrangement of the insolvents to pay four annas in the rupee in full satisfaction of their claims even though made with all their creditors is neither a payment in full nor a composition within the meaning of the Act so as to entitle the insolvents to an annulment of an order of adjudication. An order of adjudication under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act made on an application of the insolvents who were unable to pay their debts can be annulled by payment in full to the creditors as provided for by s 21 of the Act or as the result of a composition with the creditors in the manner provided for by ss 23 to 30 of the Act. BRIJI KESHOOR LAUL & CO. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE MADRAS (1920) I L R 43 Mad 71

— s 22—

See s 17 I L R 42 Mad 121

— s 25—

See s 6 I L R 40 Bom 461

Protection order—Previous decisions on applications for interim orders—Discretion—Practice It has never been the practice of Commissioners in Insolvency under the Indian Insolvency Act (11 and 12 Vict c 21) to consider themselves bound by their previous decisions on applications for interim orders when it has been a matter for their discretion and it by no means follows that because an application has been refused on the first occasion it must also be refused on the second occasion. S 25 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) clearly intends that while an insolvent diligently performs the duties prescribed by the Act he should not be harassed by execution creditors and should not be rendered liable to pressure whereby one creditor may get undue advantage over another. The section does not deprive the Court of its discretion in granting or refusing protection but sub s (4) indicates clearly the lines along which that discretion should be exercised when a creditor opposes a grant. If an insolvent can produce the certificate referred to the onus is thrown on the opposing creditors of showing cause why the protection order should not be granted. In the matter of MEGHNAI GARGAUX (1910) I L R 35 Bom 47

— ss 25 26 27 Sch II—Creditor if includes his benamidar—Ss 12 (1) (a) 13 as s (7) (b) and 28—Official Assignee if may examine petitioning creditor's claim and remove his name—Benamidar onus of proof of advances on own behalf—Person aggrieved It is open to the Official Assignee after the insolvent to examine the claim of the petitioning creditor and if he finds that in fact there is no debt due to the petitioning creditor he must strike out the name of such creditor from the list. A benamidar is not entitled to claim as a creditor in the insolvency. The persons who really advanced the moneys should come forward and prove their claims before the Court. MOOKERJEE J—The term 'creditor' in the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act does not include the benamidar of a creditor. Any person who makes an application to a Court for a decision or any person who is brought before the Court to submit to a decision is if the decision goes against him thereby a person aggrieved by that decision within the meaning of that expression in s 26 of the Act. KETOKEY CHARAN BANERJEE ; SARAT KUMARI DABEE (1916) 20 C W N 990

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

— ss 25 26 27, Sch II—contd

— s 27—

See s 6 I L R 37 Bom 464

— ss 23 25 30—

See s 21 I L R 43 Mad 71

— s 30—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 135—Surety—Dabash of a Company guaranteeing customers—Part payment of debt solely to creditor—Insolvency of debtor—Composition effected by insolvent debtor with creditors—Subsequent approval by Court and annulment of insolvency—Right of surety to refund of mon paid to creditor—Composition and annulment whether under s 30 of the Act The dabash of a Company stood surety for customers introduced by him and deposited with them certain Government promissory notes as security. One of such customers failing in business the Company sold the notes and appropriated the proceeds in part payment of the debt of the customer. Both the customer and the dabash were adjudicated in ol vents. The customer entered directly without the Official Assignee's intervention into a composition with his creditors with a view to obtain the approval and sanction of the Insolvency Court, and subsequently applied to the Court for approval of the composition and annulment of the insolvency. The Court annulled the insolvency but the order did not embody the terms of the composition as required by s 30 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. The Company had agreed to the composition without the consent of the dabash and received a dividend on the full amount of their debt without giving credit for the money which was appropriated. The Official Assignee acting on behalf of the insolvent dabash applied to the Court to direct the Company to refund the value of his Government Promissory Notes appropriated by them. Held The creditor was entitled to prove for the full amount of his debt in the insolvency of the principal debtor notwithstanding that the surety had paid a portion of the debt and that the surety could not prove until he had paid the full amount for which he was liable. Ellis & Emanuel (1876) 1 Ex D 157 and in re Sir Ex parte National Bank of England (1896) 2 Q P 12 followed that the fact that the creditor entered into a composition which the principal debtor without the surety's consent did not entitle the latter to a refund of payments already made by him to the creditor although it might release him from future liability. That the irregularities in the procedure did not vitiate the Court's approval of the terms of the composition and the consequent annulment of the insolvency under s 30 of the Insolvency Act and that the charge of the principal debtor in such a case being by operation of law and not by act of the creditor the surety would not be discharged from his obligation to the creditor under s 13 of the Indian Contract Act. Ex parte Jacob 11 re Jacobs (15 a) 10 Cal App 111 followed. On the question whether the fact that the creditor had given receipt in full settlement of the debt without waiting until the commission was sanctioned by the Court discharged the creditor. Held by SESHAGIRI ARIAR J (MADRAS) (19-1) not deciding the point) that where after notice to the surety the commission was accepted by the Court it became an act of the Court and the surety was not discharged from liability. INDEAN COMPANY LTD v OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (19-1) I L R 44 Mad 351

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contds 30—contd

s 33—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 4th Cal 58

s 33 to 37 43—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Cal 374

s 35—

See s 7 25 C W N 750

s 38—

See s 5 26 C W N 631

See s 6 I L R 37 Bom 464

See s 7 I L R 40 Mad 810

See COSTS I L R 46 Cal 795

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Cal 109

I L R 44 Cal 236 374

I L R 48 Cal 1089

See INSOLVENCY I L R 48 Cal 896

Application under of may be made ex parte—Calcutta High Court Insolvency Act 17 18 19 and 30 Applications under s 36 (1) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act for examination of persons thereunder are intended to be made ex parte under the rules framed by the Calcutta High Court under s 112 of the Act. To such applications s 30 applies and not r 17 18 and 19 and this view is supported by the English Bankruptcy Act (1914) 4 & 5 George V (ch 39) and the rules thereunder. In re KISSORY MOHAN ROY (1916) 20 C W N 1155

Order under section when can be properly made—Admission of proof of debt by Official Assignee a condition precedent. The words in s 36 any creditor who has proved his debt mean not merely a creditor who has lodged proof of his debt but a creditor whose proof has been admitted by the Official Assignee and unless this has been done no order can be made under the section. The mere fact that a creditor's name was included in the schedule filed by the insolvent and that so far his claim has not been challenged does not assist him if his debt has not been admitted by the Official Assignee so that he becomes a creditor who has proved his debt within the meaning of s 36 of the Act. Re ABDUL SAMAD 26 C W N 744

s 36 (4) (5)—

Proper proceedings under s 36 (4) and (5) for discovery of insolvent's property—Practice—Co to order for against Official

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contds 36 (4) (5)—contd

Assignee—Indemnity If the Official Assignee desires to proceed under s 36 (4) and (5) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) for discovery of an insolvent's property known or suspected to be in possession of any person, the only way he can do that is to take the examination of such person by itself and ask the Court for an order that he is justified by the admissions made or evidence given by such person and without looking to any further evidence at all to have the order. In such cases the proper procedure is not for the Official Assignee to present a petition and obtain from Court a rule in bankruptcy against such person to show cause. There are two courses open to the Official Assignee in such cases. The one is to start an action and the other is to proceed against the respondent by notice of motion in insolvency. But it is discretionary with the Court in the latter case to direct at the hearing of the motion that the matter be dealt with by an action. In the case of motion a notice of motion has to be sent to the respondent stating the grounds of the application supported by an affidavit giving the evidence relied upon. The rule was discharged on the merits with liberty to the Official Assignee to proceed by motion on proper materials or by action if he so desired. If the Official Assignee brings an unsuccessful motion however careful he may have been the order that the Court would make generally would be that he is to pay the respondent's costs and he will have the right of indemnity given him by the previous order of the Court. Or he may obtain an indemnity from the creditor or other person in whose interest the motion is brought before he starts proceeding. The order for costs should not be directed to be limited to the assets in the hands of the Official Assignee when the respondent is not in any way in default for which he may be partially mulct in costs. Re SURISH CHANDRA GOYER (1918) 23 C W N 431

*Examination by creditor of a mortgagee under s 36—Co is of mortgagee appearing by counsel if recoverable from creditor. A mortgagee of an insolvent (applicant) was examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 at the instance of a creditor (the respondents) who challenged the validity of the mortgage. At the examination counsel and attorney appeared for the mortgagee. Subsequently the respondents did not take any step to have the mortgage declared void. Thereupon the applicant made the present application asking for costs of attending by solicitor and counsel upon his own examination against the respondents. Held that the applicant was not entitled to the order asked for. In re Waddell & Co D 328 (1977) and In re Appleton French and Scallan Ltd (1905) 1 C A 749 referred to. IN THE MATTER OF ASHUT PRKASH CHOWHAN 24 C W N 893*

Scope of order—In order under the section should not be made in circumstances justifying the institution of a regular suit. One C obtained a decree against J and Co for the recovery of the value of certain shares which according to him had been made over to J and Co in pursuance of an agreement of sale. The decree was affirmed in appeal and an appeal was also preferred to the Privy Council During the pendency of this litigation J and Co deposited with the Pegstrar of the Court some war bonds for the satisfaction of the decree which might ultimately be binding on them The Official Assignee obtained an order from the Court under s 36 cl (5) in respect of these war bonds claiming them as part of the estate of the father of R who was an insolvent Held—That in the circumstances of the case the order in question should not have been made but the matter in issue should have been left to be decided in a regular suit The Court should not deal with the matter under s 36 if it really involves difficult questions of title but should leave the parties to litigate such matters in a regular suit 1438 BEHARI GHOSH v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF CALCUTTA 25 C W N 852

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

— s 30 (4) (5)—oncd

— s 33 51 55—Insolvency Rules Calcutta 5 (d)—Jurisdiction of Insolvency Court to require into fraudulent transfer of property and declare same void on application under s 36—suit for title for setting aside order under s 36—S 26 Insolvency Act of 1848 (11 and 12 Vict c 21)—13 Eli c 5 principle of—Evidence of insolvent of admissible against transferee of property in view of insolvency—Burden of proof on person claiming by such transfer—Transfer by insolvent when good—Transfer or assignment by insolvent when fraudulent Under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) the Insolvency Court has on an application by the Official Assignee jurisdiction under s 30 to inquire as to whether any sale of property by an insolvent is fraudulent or void and if so to make an order for the delivery of such property to the Official Assignee Any one aggrieved by such an order might bring a regular suit to vindicate his title SREHASE RAJ C (1917) 22 C W N 335

— ss 38 103 104—Offences under the Insolvency Act—Notice of charges—Framing of charges—Discrepancy between notice and the charges framed—Finding of intention—Appeal Court as may make a finding of intention for the first time—Examination of the insolvent under s 36 of the Insolvency Act whether permissible—Voluntary examination of the insolvent—Admissibility of such evidence at the trial of the insolvent—Indian Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 132 The insolvent was adjudicated on the 5th March 1919 and on the same day he made over one book of account to the Official Assignee On the 6th March there was a search in the insolvent's room and amongst other things two diaries of 1918 and 1919 respectively and a stock book were taken charge of by the assistant of the Official Assignee and taken to the office On the 7th March the diary of 1918 and pages 5 to 22 of the stock book were alleged to be missing It was alleged by the Official Assignee that this was done by the insolvent Thereafter the insolvent was examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act to which no objection was taken by the insolvent Charges were framed against the insolvent on four counts viz that he fraudulently and with intent to conceal the state of his affairs and to defeat the object of the Act (1) withheld the production of his diary for 1918 and 1919

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

— ss 38 103 104—concd

and his stock book (2) wilfully prevented the production of pages 5—22 of his stock book by removing and causing to be removed the said pages (3) destroyed the said stock book by removing or causing to be removed therefrom the said pages (4) wilfully prevented the production of his diary for 1918 Held that a 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 applies to offences committed both before and after the adjudication The section also applies to cases of wilfully withholding the production of books even after they have come to the possession of the Official Assignee Per WOODROFFE J—Though a charge under s 103 cannot be maintained if not framed in pursuance of the notice under s 104 this must be taken as subject to the principle which is embodied in s 537 of the Criminal Procedure Code 1898 namely that no error or irregularity in a charge will call for a reversal of an order unless it in fact has occasioned a failure of justice and in determining whether this is so the Court shall have regard to the fact whether the objection could and should have been raised in an earlier stage of the proceedings J M Lucas v Official Assignee of Bengal 44 C W N 418 (1914) referred to Held that with regard to charges (1) and (3) there was no material difference between the charges as framed and as mentioned in the notice and as regards charges (2) and (4) though there was no mention in the notice they were allowed to remain as under the circumstances of the case no prejudice was caused to the accused and as no objection was taken to them in the first instance Per WOODROFFE J—If an accused receives notice that the prosecution may seek to prove against him either of two alternative intentions he cannot as he must be ready to meet a charge in respect of both be prejudiced by a charge of having had both be charged both under charges (2) and (3) as the acts charged took place at one and the same place and were one alleged event The Appeal Court with all the materials before it can make a finding of intention if it has been omitted per incuriam by the Judge The Queen v Ingham 29 L J (W C) 18 (1859) distinguished Held also that as there was no objection on the part of the insolvent to his being examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 his examination was voluntary and as such was admissible at his trial under s 103 of the Act Quare—Whether an insolvent could be examined under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1909 Held on the facts that the charges against the insolvent had not been made out JOSEPH PERRY v OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF CALCUTTA I L R 47 Calc 254

24 C. W. N. 425

— s 37—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Calc. 374

— s. 38—

See s 0 I L R 40 Bom. 461

— Adjudicated insolvent—discharge suspended—practice of Court requiring insolvents at audience to obtain final discharge—Suit against Official Assignee for an injunction to restrain threatened and imminent injury to property—Notice

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

§ 38—contd

no necessary The plaintiff was adjudicated in solvent on the 26th of September 1911 when an order was made vesting his estate in the Official Assignee. The plaintiff having subsequently applied for his discharge an order was made on the 2nd of October 1912 in the following terms—

It is ordered that the insolvent's discharge be with protection suspended for one year and that he be discharged as from the 2nd day of October 1913. In 1916 and 1917 the plaintiff acquired property in the nature of a business. No final order of discharge having been made the Official Assignee on the 2nd of January 1918 took possession of the plaintiff's stock in trade and then restored possession to the plaintiff on condition of his making payments for the benefit of his scheduled creditors. On the 7th of March 1918 the Official Assignee threatened to re-take possession and on the following day the plaintiff filed the suit (1) to recover the sums paid to the Official Assignee, together with damages for the trespass already committed and (2) to restrain the Official Assignee by an injunction from committing the threatened trespass. The defendant contended inter alia that the suit was not maintainable as the plaintiff had not given notice as required by s 80 of the Civil Procedure Code and further that until a final order of discharge was made at the expiration of the period mentioned in the order suspending discharge the property acquired by the plaintiff became divisible amongst the plaintiff's creditors under s 33 (2) (a) of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. In support of the latter contention the defendant relied upon the practice of the High Court to require the insolvent whose discharge has been suspended to appear and obtain the final and absolute discharge after the expiry of the period of suspension. At the trial the plaintiff abandoned his claim on the first cause of action and elected to proceed only on the injunction in respect of the second cause of action.—Held (1) that the suit was maintainable in respect of the injunction to restrain the threatened and imminent injury to the plaintiff's property in spite of the fact that no notice was given under s 80 of the Civil Procedure Code (2) that the order of 2nd October 1912 though suspending discharge for one year expressly provided that the plaintiff be discharged as from the 2nd day of October 1913 and that the said order having operated as a discharge under the Act from the 2nd of October 1913 the Official Assignee could not proceed against the property of the plaintiff acquired by him after that date (3) that the practice of the High Court to require the insolvent whose discharge has been suspended to appear and obtain the final and absolute discharge after the expiry of the period of suspension being in contravention of the law was unlawful and ought not to be given effect to. Agarwal Chunilal v The Official Assignee Bombay (1917) 37 Bom 243 followed though doubted. In re Dote (1884) 2 Ch D 637 referred to. PER CURIAM—The words of s 38 (b) of the Presidency Town Insolvency Act (III of 1909) imply that the discharge is granted though its operation is suspended. It is not the making of the order that is suspended but the operation of the order made. The Act makes no further proceedings

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—contd

§ 38—concld

necessary after an order of suspension under s 38 has been passed. MURADALI SHAMU v B N LALU (1919) I L R 44 Bom 555

§ 39—

See s 6 I L R 40 Bom 461

§ 43—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Calc 374

§ 51—

See s 17 I L R 42 Mad 121

§ 52, 53, 54—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 40 Calc 523

§ 55 (1) 108 109—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 44 Calc 1018

§ 55—

See 30 22 W N 335

*Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s 36—Mortgage within two years of insolvency of mortgagor—Good faith and consideration for mortgage—Onus of proof on mortgagor—Mortgage admitted to proof by Official Assignee—Application by Official Assignee to expunge proof of mortgage—Onus of proof Under s 36 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act as under s 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act a mortgagor setting up a mortgage executed within two years of the insolvency of the mortgagor has the onus cast on him to show that the transaction was one executed in good faith and for consideration. The fact that the Official Assignee is moving to expunge a proof which he has admitted under s 26 of the former Act does not shift the burden of proof from the mortgages to the Official Assignee. The Official Assignee v Annapuramammal (1913) 20 I C 901 followed. An admission of proof by the Official Assignee is in no sense an adjudication and it is open to him as well as to other creditors to have an adjudication by the Court on notice and in such adjudication the matter has to be decided with reference to the ordinary legal presumptions which arise. OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE of MADRAS v SAKI BANDA MUDALIAR (1920) I L R 43 Mad 739*

§ 55 56—Transfer of property by debtor to a creditor—Fraudulent preference—With a view of giving preference, meaning of—English Bankruptcy Act 1833 s 43—Construction adopted in English cases applicability of to the Indian Act A trader being in very embarrassed circumstances and unable to meet his obligations as they fell due sold to one of his creditors for what was found to be a fair price a large quantity of diamonds pledged by him with certain other creditors and thereby paid off the debts due to the latter and the purchasing creditor the balance was paid to the debtor who kept his business going by paying off other pressing creditors with that amount. The debtor was adjudged an insolvent on a petition presented within three months of this transaction. On an application by the Official Assignee filed before a Judge of the High Court in Insolvency to declare the transfer void under s 55 and 56 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act Held that the transaction was not void as a fraudulent preference under s 56 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act nor was it void under s 55 of the Act as it was made in good faith and for valuable consideration Per CURRIE. To bring a transaction within the scope of s 56 of the Act it must have been entered into with the dominant view of preferring a particular creditor. The construction adopted in several English decisions and approved by the House of Lords in Sharp v Jackson (1899) 1 C 419 on the corresponding provision in s 48 of the English Bankruptcy Act 1883 should be followed in construing similar language used in s 56 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) Sharp v Jackson (1899) 1 C 419 Ex parte Griffith In re Wilcoxon L P 23 Ch D 69 Ex parte Hill In re Bird 23 Ch D 695 followed Alam Pannath v Official Assignee of Madras 32 I C 790 dissented from. THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE MADRAS : T B VEDIA & BONS (1918) I L R 42 Mad 510

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—*contd*ss 55 56—concld

Held that an application under this section should be made by the Official Assignee re SRINIVALL MUNGLECHAND 26 C W N 803

s 57—

1. Intimations to the creditor that debtor is about to suspend payment—Transfer of goods to creditor thereafter but before the filing of a petition for declaration of insolvency not a bona fide transfer—Bona fides a requisite under s 57 of the Act. After receiving notice from the debtor's agent that the debtor was going to suspend payment a creditor took on the day previous to the debtor's filing a petition in insolvency possession of the debtor's goods by virtue of a letter of lien given by the debtor to secure past and future advances and overdrafts. Held affirming the decision of WILLIS J (s) that giving notice to a creditor that the debtor is about to suspend payment is an act of insolvency (b) that though by the transaction of taking possession of the goods the creditor became the transferee of the goods he was not a bona fide transferee for value within s 57 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) as the act of taking possession was after knowledge of the act of insolvency, and (c) that though the body of s 57 of the Act has not expressly prescribed that the transfer should be bona fide yet bona fides is legally necessary to claim the benefit of the section Per CURRIE.—The provisions and the wording of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act being almost the same as those of the English Bankruptcy Act the rulings of the English Courts on the latter Act are to be followed in interpreting the Indian Act. Obiter. A mere intimation to a creditor by the debtor or his agent that the debtor is insolvent does not amount to an act of insolvency. MERCANTILE BANK OF INDIA LTD : THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE MADRAS (1913) I L R 39 Mad 250

2. Transfer by insolvent prior to an agency to wife—Bona fide transaction—Transfer by wife to another after husband's adoption—A husband transferred his share in his family dwelling house to his wife without consideration on the 11th November 1911. On the 2th of February 1912 he was adjudicated insolvent and his wife on the 1th of October 1912

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—*contd*s 57—concld

transferred the property which had been so conveyed to her to the appellant. Held that even assuming that the appellant had purchased the property for valuable consideration and without notice of the adjudication of the insolvent the transfer to the appellant subsequent to the adjudication was void under s 57 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act inasmuch as the transfer by the husband to the wife prior to his insolvency was found to be fictitious or benami and the consequence that the property had vested in the Official Assignee prior to the transfer to the appellant. Per MOOREHEAD J.—No title by estoppel accrued to the appellant as against the Official Assignee. The Official Assignee to what extent representative of insolvent considered in re Slobodinsky (1913) 2 K L 517 and in re Hart (1912) 3 K B 6 distinguished in re LAKSHI PRIYA DEVI v PILLAISSORI DEVI (1916) 20 C W N 554

ss 62, 64—

See SALE OF GOODS

I. L. R. 40 Cal 523

ss 70 and 82—

Separate Creditor—Negligence—neglect or omission—Distribution of assets—Divide of claims not disposed of—Personal liability of the Official Assignee—Method of ascertaining his liability—Cor's. The Official Assignee distributed the assets of the insolvent after deducting commission etc. to the two scheduled creditors though he had notice of claim by three other creditors and their claims were neither admitted nor rejected. Held—That the Official Assignee was personally liable for the amount of which the three creditors had been deprived. A creditor who lodges his proof in the statutory form is entitled that it should be dealt with without doing anything more. Re ARCHIBALD (LIQUIDATOR PEACE 25 C W N 633

s 86—

See s 7

I. L. R. 35 Bom 473

s 90—

See s 7

I L R 40 Mad 810

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 21—Transfer of petition for insolvency to refuse District Court for disposal—No jurisdiction. As the jurisdiction conferred by the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act on the High Court and by the Provincial Insolvency Act on the mufassal courts are distinct and the Act on the two Acts differ in its important provisions it is not competent for the High Court to transfer under s 90 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act and under s 24 Civil Procedure Code an Insolvency petition pending before it under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act for disposal by a mufassal District Court under the Provincial Insolvency Act. SRINIVAS ARJANAS v THE OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS (1913) I L R 38 Mad 472

s 101—

See s 5

26 C W N 631

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 47 Cal 721

ss 103 104—

See s 17

I L R 35 Bom 63

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—cont

— s 103 104—conclid

See = 36

24 C W N 425

See IN SOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 254

Offence under the Insolvency Act—Trial of offence—Notice of charge and charges framed if either must agree—Lndie preference where the creditor is not admitted a such—Lndie preference whether must be in fraudulently—Criminal proceedings when to take A charge framed under s 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act 1901 must be in pursuance of the notice required to be issued under s 104 When the Insolvent was charged with having withheld the production of the cash book or books for a certain period and the notice made no reference to the books Held—That the charge was not framed in pursuance of the notice and could not be maintained To establish a charge that books are being purposely withheld it must be shown that they exist and have not been destroyed The Insolvent was also charged that on or about January or February 1910 the Insolvent for the purpose of giving undue preference to one of his alleged creditors to wnt A made away with a stock of dhollac Held—The charge was bad inasmuch as it was not alleged that the making away was done fraudulently as was required by s 103 (b) of the Insolvency Act Held also—That the charge was bad as the creditor was not admitted as such by the Official Assignee Per JENKINS C J—Though no universal rule can be laid down it is ordinarily undesirable to institute criminal proceedings until determination of civil proceedings in which the same issues are involved. It is too well known to need elaboration that criminal proceedings lend themselves to the unscrupulous application of improper pressure with a view to influencing the course of the civil proceedings and beyond that there is the mischief of criminal proceedings being instituted with an imperfect appreciation of the facts where they have not been ascertained in the more searching investigation of a Civil Court J M Lucas v OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BEWAL

24 C W N 418

Offence under the Insolvency Act—Trial of offence—Notice of charge and charges framed if must agree See Head note under Insolvency in the Civil Indent J M Lucas v OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF BEWAL JOSEPH PERRY v OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF CALCUTTA

24 C W N 425

— s 103—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

15 C W N 350

— s 115—Immunity of Official Assignee from stamp duty whether applicable to his attorney—Nattukottai Chetty v whether bankers—Loans advanced on or with deposit of goods—Firm in arrear account—Bankers lien on goods for general balance of accounts—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 11 An attorney representing the Official Assignee is entitled to the same privilege as to stamp duty as the latter has under s 115 of the Insolvency Towns Insolvency Act Consequently the attorney need not pay stamp duty for a copy of the order passed by a Judge of the High Court in the exercise of his insolvency jurisdiction It is perfectly general knowledge and it has been recognized in judicial decision that Nattukottai Chettis are the Indian bankers of this part of the country Vellayappa Chettiar v Annamalai Chetty (1916) 6 L W 687 and Annamalai Chetty v Annamalai Chetty (1919) 10 L W 6 referred to The garnishee a Nattukottai Chetty had in addition to money lending business customers who deposited money with him kept pass books and went with them and drew money and he paid interest on the deposits and bought and sold hundies and lent money on securities Held the garnishee was a banker It appeared that diamonds were deposited by a customer with the garnishee from time to time and advances made thereon and the diamonds were redeemed from time to time but also that loans were made by him without deposit of diamonds and entered in the same account Held on the insolvency of the customer that under s 171 Indian Contract Act the garnishee was entitled as a banker to retain the deposits as security for his general balance of account with the insolvent and that no contract to the contrary had been proved in the case OFFICIAL ASSIGNEE OF MADRAS v RANISWAMY CHETTY (1920)

PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1909)—conclid

— s 115—conclid

I L R 43 Mad 747

— s 121—

See s 6

I L R 37 Bom 464

— s 128—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 38 Calc 542

I L R 40 Calc 77

— Sch II—

See s 24

20 C W N 995

See INSOLVENCY

I L R 47 Calc 721

PRESIDING OFFICER

— absence of—

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 39 Calc 26

PRESS

— keeping a, whether a “licensed calling or common law right —

See Press Act (I of 1910) s 3 (1)

PROVISO I L R 39 Mad 1164

— members of the—

See LIBEL I L R 41 Calc 1023

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)

See PRINTING PRESS AND NEWSPAPERS ACT (XXV OF 1867)

— s 3—Printing Press—Order in male deposit—Fail to make deposit—Liability—Deposit to be made within reasonable time The Government of Bombay on the 13th September 1911 issued to the applicant a notice calling upon him under s 3 sub s (2) of the Indian Press Act 1910 to deposit with the District Magistrate of Kara security to the amount of Rs 3000 It was served on the applicant on the afternoon of the 14th September On the 20th September which was a Monday the applicant sent off by post letters to His Excellency the Governor and to the District Magistrate of Kara stating that he had closed down the press On the 21st October the applicant sold the press and had his declaration in respect of the press cancelled the next day. On the 5th October proceedings were taken against the applicant under s 23 (1) of the Act for keeping the press without making the deposit. He was convicted of the offence. The applicant having applied to the High Court. Held that no limit of time having been given to the applicant within which to make the deposit ordered the notice and s 3 of the Indian Press Act 1910 must be construed as meaning that the deposit ordered should be made within a reasonable time. Held also that the interval which elapsed between the afternoon of the 28th September and the 3rd October could not be reckoned as an unreasonable time. EMPEROR v FURCHAND BAPUJI (1913)

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)—*contd*s 3—contd

I L R 37 Bom 555

—*Original order of Magistrate dispensing with security—Demand of security by Magistrate there after legality—Government of India Act (5 & 6 Geo V) cap 61 ss 106 and 107—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 435—High Court power of to issue writ of certiorari under to cancel Magistrate's order—Magistrate demanding security not a Court but executive officer—Writ of certiorari when can be issued—Judicial Act what is—Indian Press Act (I of 1910) s 22 whether a bar to issue of writ of certiorari—Proviso object of—Keeping a press whether a licensed calling or common law right. Per ABDUR RAHIM Offg C J and SESHAGIRI AYYAR J (AYLING J not dissenting). The Chief Presidency Magistrate acting under s 3 (1) of the Indian Press Act is not a Court but is only an executive officer entrusted with the performance of certain administrative duties whose details are left entirely to his discretion hence an order by him requiring security from the keeper of a press even if in excess of his powers is not capable of being revised by the High Court either by means of a writ of certiorari issued under ss 106 and 107 of the Government of India Act (5 and 6 Geo V) cap 61 or by the exercise of revisional powers as provided by s 435 Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898). Singam Achi v Subrahmanya Ayyar I L R 27 Mad 259 Shanker Sarup v Mago Mal I L R 27 Mad 313 Minalshi v Subrahmanya I L R 11 Mad 26 and Tyagaraghavalu Pillai v Theagaraya Chetti I L R 35 Mad 581 applied. Per ABDUR RAHIM Offg C J and SESHAGIRI AYYAR J. Whether an act is judicial or not depends on the nature of the powers conferred by the legislature the character of the act sought to be quashed and the nature and extent of the discretion vested with the authority and other similar considerations. Per CHITAM—Every keeper of a printing press who makes a declaration under s 4 of the Press and Registration of Books Act (XXI of 1867) after the commencement of the Indian Press Act (I of 1910) is simultaneously liable to deposit such security as the Magistrate demands under s 3 (1) of the Indian Press Act even though the press and the newspapers published therein were in existence before the passing of the Press Act. But the Magistrate may under the proviso to s 3 (1) make an order dispensing with a security. Per ABDUR RAHIM Offg C J and SESHAGIRI AYYAR J (AYLING J contra).—If once a Magistrate dispenses with a security he cannot thereafter cancel*

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)—*contd*s 3—contd

such order and demand security. The words or may from time to time cancel or may make any order under this sub section which are to be found in the same proviso as that which enables a Magistrate to make an order dispensing with security cannot be construed to include an order dispensing with security. A proviso appended to a section is either an explanation or a qualification of the section. It does not add to or enlarge the scope of the section. West Derby Union v Metropolitan Life Assurance Society (1897) 4 Q 647 referred to. Per AYLING J.—The substance and not the form must be looked at and that which is in form a proviso may in substance be a fresh enactment adding to and not merely qualifying that which goes before and thus this proviso may really such as one. Per ABDUR RAHIM Offg C J and SESHAGIRI AYYAR J. The Supreme Court of Madras had the right to issue writs of certiorari as the King's Bench in England and that right has been preserved to the High Court by the Charters of 1861 and 1865 the Letters Patent of 1865 and the Government of India Act of 1915 and no Act of any legislature has taken away this right. Nundo Lal Bose v The Corporation for the Town of Calcutta I L R 11 Calc 275 referred to. In re Mrs BESANT (1916) I L R 89 Mad 1164

—s 3 sub s (1) and s 4 sub s (1) Expt 2 ss 17 and 22—Order of Magistrate cancelling previous order dispensing with security if judicial or administrative order—Power to revise by certiorari—Power whether taken away—High Courts in India power to issue writs of certiorari when exercisable—Order of forfeiture by Local Government—Publication with intent to excite hatred etc—Intent how established—Attacks upon school of opinion and class distinguished—Government of India Act 1915 ss 656 106 and 107—S 27 Press Act of ultra vires—Statute interpretation of —Proviso Under s 3 sub s (1) of the Press Act of 1910 the Magistrate has power to cancel a previous order dispensing with security the necessary consequence of which will be that security will have to be deposited according to the amount thereupon fixed by him within the limits prescribed as would be done in normal course on the first making of a declaration. There is no magic in the words of the proviso and the plain meaning must be given to the words of the Legislature. The action of the Magistrate in increasing or diminishing withdrawing or imposing the deposit of security under the Press Act is a pure matter of administrative discretion not a judicial order open to examination by a Court of law of superior jurisdiction. In the only case in which he is to record his reasons the object of recording them is for the information of his superiors in the Government. Where a Magistrate cancelled his previous order dispensing with the deposit of security without giving the owner of the printing press an opportunity to be heard. Held that though it might have been a proper exercise of the Magistrate's discretion to have given the owner such an opportunity it was not like a condemnation in which case justice requires that the person to be condemned should be first heard the act of the Magistrate amounting only to the withdrawal of a privilege which need never have been granted and the order would be irre-

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)—contd

s 3 sub s (1) and s 4 sub s (2) Expt 2 ss 17 and 22—contd

verible either upon process of certiorari or by way of revision assuming that the order was open to such examination. Held further that if it were a judicial order it would be open to examination by way of a revision so that there being a more suitable remedy available a writ of certiorari should be excluded and that if it were an order of that quasi-judicial kind to which certiorari has sometimes been applied in England or in India the Press Act may quite reasonably have intended to take it away. ANNE BESANT v THE ADVOCATE GENERAL OF MADRAS (1919).

I L R 43 Mad 146
23 C W N 986

ss 11 (1) 4 (1) 17 18 20 and 22—
Demand of security by Magistrate under proviso to s 3 (1) legality of—Order by Government under s 4 (2) forfeiting security and copies of newspaper legality of—Jurisdiction of High Court under s 17 extent of—Words which are likely or may have a tendency directly or indirectly whether by interference suggestion allusion metaphor implication or otherwise in s 4 (1) meaning of—

Hatred or contempt and Government established by law in British India in s 4 (1) meaning of—Intention of writer whether essential under s 4 (1)—Onus under s 4 (1) whether on applicant—

In aid of the proof of the nature of or tendency of the words in s 20 effect of—Ss 4 and 92 whether ultra vires of the Imperial Legislature of India as contravening s 43 of 3 d. 4 Bill 11 cap 85 or s 22 of 24 d. 25 Vict cap 67 or s 65 of the Government of India Act 6 d. 6 Geo V cap 61. The petitioner in this case who was the keeper of a printing press and publisher of a news paper therein made his application to the High Court under s 17 of the Indian Press Act (I of 1910) for cancellation of (a) an order of the Chief Presidency Magistrate of Madras demanding from her under s 3 (1) of the Act security for two thousand rupees in supercession of a previous order made by him dispensing with security and (b) an order of the Governor in Council Madras declaring under s 4 (1) the security of the two thousand rupees so deposited and all copies of the newspapers wherever found to be forfeited to His Majesty. In dismissing the application on the ground that some of the specified articles (herein after called extracts) of the newspapers were of the objectionable nature described in s 4 (1) of the Press Act their Lordships of the Special Bench held as follows—In an application made under s 17 of the Indian Press Act the only question which the Special Bench of the High Court can determine is whether the extracts complained of did not contain any words of the nature described in s. 4 (1) and the Court has no jurisdiction to determine any other question such as (a) whether the particular order of the Magistrate demanding security was beyond his powers or (b) whether s 4 or 92 of the Press Act is ultra vires of the powers of the Imperial Legislature of India as contravening any Act of Parliament, or (c) whether the order of forfeiture was legally made. In re Mahomed Ali I L R 41 Cal 466 referred to. Advocating Home Rule for India is not per se objectionable. But such advocacy must not offend against existing laws. Hatred and contempt towards the Government occurring in s 4 may be created by

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)—contd

ss 11 (1) 4 (1) 17 18 20 and 22—
contd

articles imputing to the Government base dishonest or corrupt or malicious motives in the discharge of its duties or by articles unjustly accusing the Government of hostility or indifference to the welfare of the people. Though the operative or enacting portion of s 4 (1) (c) does not make the intention or motive of the writer of the articles complained of material in considering whether the words are not of the nature described in s 4 (1) Explanation II thereto requires that the writer must intend to excite hatred contempt or disaffection if his writings are to be brought within cl (c) the intention being deducible mainly from the words used. The words "the Government established by law of India occurring in s 4 are not to be construed as indicating only the supremacy of the British Crown over India and the British connection with it as opposed to independence. Mrs BESANT v EMPEROR (1919). I L R 30 Mad 1085).

s 4—

See FORFEITURE

I L R 42 Cal 730

Interpretation of Statute—Government established by law in British India meaning of—S 4 of Act No 1 of 1910 not ultra vires of the Indian Legislature. Held that s 4 of the Indian Press Act 1910 is not ultra vires of the Indian Legislature. Besant v Advocate General of Madras I L R 53 Mad 146 referred to. In cl (1) (c) of that section the expression "Government established by law in British India" means the established authority which governs the country and administers its public affairs and includes the representatives to whom the task of government is entrusted. The word "Government" in ss 2 and 4 of the Act is equivalent to Government established by law in British India. Besant v King Emperor I L R 39 Mad 1085 referred to. In an application under s 17 of the Indian Press Act 1910 against an order under s 4 forfeiting the applicant's security the Court on a consideration of the articles upon which the order complained of was based found that they were such as would convey to an ordinary person that the rules of this country in addition to incompetence cowardice and heartlessness were guilty of the slaughter of innocent people in order to terrorize them into submission and to crush out all kinds of political movements and national aspirations and further that they were perfidious enough to pervert and misapply the Defence of India Act with the like object and to invent the Rowlatt Act for a similar purpose. The Court accordingly held that the order for forfeiture of the applicant's security was completely justified. In the matter of the petition of SUNDAR LAL.

I L R 42 All 233

s 4 (1) cl (c) Expt II, ss. 17 21 22—Ground for setting aside forfeiture of security defect in notice of—Sed quis intent proof of if necessary to justify forfeiture under s 4 (1) (c)—Intention how far material—Intention and tendency distinguished—Truth of facts alleged of justification—What evidence admissible under s 20—Extrinsic evidence of intention if admissible when meaning of writing plain—Evidence Act

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)—contd

— s 4 (1) cl (e) Expl II ss 17 21
23—concl'd

[I of 1872] ss 92 98 and 14—Effect on probable readers if may be considered—Order of forfeiture how far conclusive—Onus of proof on an application under s 1—Government established by law in British India meaning of—Class members of the Indian Services recruited in England if a Per CURRIAM —Upon an application under s 17 of the Indian Press Act I of 1910 to set aside an order of forfeiture of security deposited by a newspaper the Court has to see whether the article in question is obnoxious to the provisions of s 4 of the Act. D feat in the form of the notice under s 4 sub s (1) is no ground for setting aside the order of forfeiture. It is only Expln II to s 4 which according to the decision of the Judicial Committee in Annie Besant v The Advocate General of the Government of Madras 35 T L R 590 s c 23 C W V 936 imports consideration of the writer's intention. The explanation does not cover all the cases comprehended in cl (e). The explanation does not apply where the words used have a tendency to bring into hatred or contempt or excite disaffection towards the Government established by law in British India or where the words used tend to bring into hatred or contempt a class or section of His Majesty's subjects in British India e.g. the officers of the Government recruited in England. Per WOODROFFE J (FLETCHER J agreeing)—The question of intention is only material if the Court has to deal with comments on the measures (meaning thereby legislative measures) or action of the Government or the administration of justice. These comments again are not protected if they in fact excite or attempt to excite hatred or contempt or disaffection but are protected if the disapproving comments on the measures of Government are made with a view to obtain their alteration by lawful means or if they are made on the actions of Government or administration of justice and if in both cases there is no attempt to excite hatred or contempt or disaffection. Per MOOKERJEE J—Comments of the character mentioned in Expln II to s 4 of the Act may be permissible even though they are likely or may have a tendency to produce the corresponding result mentioned in cl (e) but they must not excite or constitute an attempt to excite hatred or contempt or disaffection. The term measures in the explanation was intended to apply to legislative measures. Per WOODROFFE J (FLETCHER J agreeing)—An offence under the Press Act is not seditious as such but the printing, or publishing of matter of the nature and tendency mentioned in s 4 which attracts to itself the penalty of forfeiture. Per MOOKERJEE J—Whether the offending article justifies a conviction under s 124A of the Penal Code is no test of the validity of an order of forfeiture under s 4 of the Press Act. An article may well be beyond the bounds of the Penal Code and yet be drawn into the net of the Indian Press Act. Per CURRIAM —The truth of the facts alleged in the article is no ground for taking the case out of the operation of s 4 of the Press Act and evidence is not admissible to prove their truth. Both the Crown and the accused may under s 20 of the Press Act give in evidence other copies of the newspaper published after the commencement of the Act in aid of the proof of the nature and tendency of the matter treated in the offending article. Per WOODROFFE J (FLETCHER J agreeing)—S 20 applies where if the offending article stood alone there might be doubt or ambiguity as to the character nature or tendency of the words used and not where the meaning of the article is apparent on its face. Other articles which appeared in the newspaper cannot be put in to prove its policy. In the matter of the AMRITA BAZAR PATRIKA PRESS LD (1919)

PRESS ACT (I OF 1910)—concl'd

— s 4 (1) cl (e) Expl II ss 17 21
23—concl'd

23 C W N 1057

— ss 4 17 19 22—

See FORFEITURE I L R 41 Cal 468
I L R 47 Cal 190

— ss 4 (1) 17 and 19—Forfeiture of deposit and pamphlet—application to set aside forfeiture grounds for—A notification under s 4 (1) of the Press Act 1910 forfeiting the security deposited under s 17 (1) can only be challenged by means of an application under s 17 and in order to succeed the applicant must show that the newspaper book or other document in respect of which action is taken is not of the nature described in s 4. Per MAHUR J—The High Court has to look to the reasonably possible effects which the words complained of may produce. Where there is a particular enactment and a general enactment in the same Statute and the latter taken in its most comprehensive sense would overrule the former the particular enactment must be operative. PURSUTTAN NARAYAN NAYAK v CHIEF SECRETARY TO GOVERNMENT OF BIHAR AND ORISSA

14 Pat L J 174

— ss 17 19 20 and 22—

See s 3 I L R 39 Mad 1085

PRESUMPTION

See ACQUIESCENCE

I L R 37 All 412

S v ADVERSE POSSESSION

I L R 33 All 229

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)

ss 166 201 I L R 34 All 250

s 201 I L R 33 All 799

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII of 1885) s 2 CL (5)

I L R 44 Cal 555

See CUSTOM I L R 36 All 257

See DEPOSITION I L R 45 Cal 825

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1822)—s 106

See FORFEITURE I L R 47 Cal 190

See HINDU LAW—ADoption

I L R 37 Mad 599
I L R 42 Bom 277

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

I L R 33 All 877
I L R 36 Bom 275

See HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 38 Cal 700

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 36 Bom 379

PRESUMPTION—contd

- See LANDLORD AND TENANT (MNC)
I L R 33 All 757
I Pat L J 604
- See MADRAS REGULATION XXI of 1809
s 4 I L R 38 Mad 620
- See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWRY
I L R 32 All 291
- See MAHOMEDAN LAW—EIGHTHACT
I L R 48 Calc 856
- See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE
I L R 32 All 345
- See MALABAR LAW
I L R 39 Mad 317
- See MORTGAGE (PRIORITY)
I L R 34 All 102
- See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV of 1860)—
§ 82 AND 83 I L R 37 All 187
§ 76 I L R 32 All 451
- See POSSESSION I L R 37 All 203
- See PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III of 1867)
ss 3 4 I L R 35 All 1
- See REGISTRATION ACT (III of 1877)
s 32 I L R 34 All 253 331
- See SECOND APPEAL
I L R 38 All 122
- See STANDARD OF PROOF
I L R 40 Calc 698
- See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 101 I L R 34 All 268
- See WILL I L R 47 Calc 1043
I L R 45 Bom 908

As to ancient document applied to copy—

- See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 65
I L R 41 All 593

ancient and uninterrupted user—

- See EASEMENTS ACT (V of 1882) ss 2
(c) AND 17 (c) I L R 42 Bom 288

Difference between—Vatan and Inam and Saranjam grants—

- See BOMBAY HEREDITARY OFFICERS ACT (BOM ACT 3 of 1874) s 1.
I L R 44 Bom 237

Record of Rights—entries in—

- See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879
s 13.
I L R 44 Bom 214

nature of—

- See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 187) ss 107
108 I L R 37 Mad 440

in commission of offence

- See ORIGIN ILLEGAL POSSESSION OF L L R 37 Calc 24

of death—

- See EVIDENCE ACT 187 s 108
See PRACTICE I L R 40 Bom 220

of annual tenancy—

- See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V of 18 9) s 83
I L R 45 Bom 350

PRESUMPTION—contd

of permanent tenancy—

- See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT I of 1879) s 83
I L R 45 Bom 303 350

Property which has descended from one granthi to another—

- See CUSTOMS I L R 1 Lah 540

In favour of continuance of life—

- See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 1 Lah 554

of Right arising from occupation—

- See EJECTMENT SUIT FOR
I L R 38 Bom 240

PREVAILING RATE

- See LANDLORD AND TENANT
I L R 37 Calc 742
I L R 45 Calc 930

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS ACT (XI OF 1890)

- See BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE ACT (BOM ACT IV OF 1890) s 111
I L R 45 Bom 203

Whether the offence must be committed within sight of any person—Preparation of gins dye from cow's urine Where it was found that the petitioner tortured his cows by depriving them of water and these cows were tied up where the sufferings of the animals could be witnessed by persons from the lane on which the house of the petitioner was situated Held that the offence comes within the purview of s 3 of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act (XI of 1890) MISRI GORE v ABDUL LATIF (1912)
17 C W N 332

Owner turning out horse into street to starve Accused abandoned his horse by turning it out into the street and some days after it was found in a starving condition and accused was charged under s 3 Held that accused could not be convicted under the section as he must in fact be able to exercise control over the animal at the time of ill treatment EMPEROR v NASIR WAZIR
I L R 44 Bom 159

s. 3, cl (b)—Cruelty to animals—Cranes having their eyes sealed up—Carriage by railway in that condition The accused purchased at Indore certain cranes (saras) which had their eyes sealed up He was carrying them in that condition by rail from Indore to Kolhapur At Poon a intermediate station it was found that the birds eyes were bleeding from the stiches
He was therefore convicted of an offence under s 3 cl (b) of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act 1890 Held that the accused had committed no offence under the section for the cruelty if any was caused by the antecedent stitching up of the eyes and not by the manner or position in which the birds were carried in the train EMPEROR v ABRAHAM MEER SHIKARI (191)
I L R 41 Bom 654

PREVENTION OF GAMBLING ACT

- See BOMBAY PREVENTION OF GAMBLING ACT 1857

PREVIOUS ACQUITTAL

See ACQUITTAL I L R 37 Calc 680

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 403

I L R 37 All 107

I L R 40 Bom 97

PREVIOUS CONVICTION

See CHARGE I L R 47 Calc 154

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 413

I L R 39 All 293

See PRACTICE I L R 39 Bom 325

— proof of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 41 Calc 1123

— when passed in a Native State—

See PENAL CODE s 75

I L R 42 All 136

— Belonging to a Gang of Thieves—Habit—Evidence of habit—Admissibility of evidence of previous convictions of offences against property and of bad livelihood—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 401 Where the other evidence in a case under s 401 of the Penal Code establishes association for the purpose of habitually committing theft evidence of previous convictions of offences against property and of bad livelihood is admissible to prove habit and for this purpose convictions of bad livelihood are more cogent than those of isolated thefts Empress v Naba Kumar Patnaik 10 W N 146 Mohr Ali Sarkar v Emperor (Or App 742 of 1902) decided 20th March 1901 by PAIRMAN and HILL JJ (unreported) Madhu Dhara v Emperor (Or App 592 of 1903 decided 26th July 1903 by RAMPINI and MOOKERJEE JJ) (unreported) Khanja Karwil v Emperor (Or App 78 of 1903 decided 28th January 1904 by HOLWOOD and RYVES JJ) (unreported) Godardhan v Emperor (Or App 958 of 1910 decided 21st November 1910 by HOLWOOD and FLECHER JJ) (unreported) referred to Mankura Pasi v Queen Empress I L R 27 Calc 139 doubted and explained Bhona v Emperor (1911) I L R 38 Calc 408

— A finger mark expert was called as a witness who compared certain finger prints of the accused taken in Court with some other finger prints on a paper which contained a record of certain convictions which purported to be the convictions of the accused and pronounced them to be similar This was taken as proof of the previous convictions of the accused Held that the previous convictions were not properly proved RAM DAS SINGH v King Emperor (1916) 21 C W N 469

PREVIOUS DEPOSITIONS

See ADMISSION

I L R 41 Calc 601

PREVIOUS ENJOYMENT

See EASEMENT

I L R 39 Calc 59

PRICE.

— oral agreement as to—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 9^a

I L R 33 Mad 514

PRICE—contd

— of goods sold, suit for—

See CONTRACT ACT ss 90 73 120

I L R 34 Bom 192

PRIEST

— Panchas preventing hereditary priest from giving his ministrations—

See VRIITH I L R 45 Bom 221

PRIMARY COURT

— jurisdiction of—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 40 Calc 153

PRIMOGENITURE

See CUSTOM

24 C W N 601

1 Pat L J 109

See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

I L R 38 All 590

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 34 All 85

I L R 42 Calc 1179

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

18 C W N 55

I L R 40 Calc 997

See KUNIPURA STATE OF

I L R 39 Calc 711

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I of 1869)—

ss 8 10 I L R 38 All 553

ss 8 AND 22 SURS (II)

I L R 32 All 599

ss 14 15 AND 22

I L R 43 All 245

See TALUQDARI ESTATE

I L R 43 All 297

PRINCIPAL.

See HUNDI SUIT OF

I L R 46 Calc 663

See UNDISCLOSED PRINCIPAL

— death of—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 40 Calc 249

— liability of—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

14 C W N 414

I L R 43 Calc 511

— part-payment of—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (XV of 1892) s 69

I L R 38 Mad 433

— suit by for money received by agent—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 41 All 254

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

See ACCOUNT

15 C W N 939

I L R 40 Calc 105

I L R 44 Calc 1

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 185^a ss

215A AND 216 I L R 32 All 525

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 20

(c) I L R 34 All 49

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd.

See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 564

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872)—

ss 178 179 I L R 42 Bom 205

s 230 I L R 84 All 168

ss 182 to 237

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

I L R 44 Bom 631

See COSTS I L R 43 Calc 190

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sch

I Art 115 I L R 39 All 81

Art 116 I L R 39 All 355

See OATHS ACT (V of 1878) s 8 9 10

I L R 83 All 131

See PRACTICE (30)

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 42 Calc 1050

I L R 42 Bom 16

—Agent's power in disposing of land—

See ESTOPPEL 2 Pat L J 600

—Agent's power to refer dispute to arbitration—

See JURISDICTION I L R 34 Bom 12

—Lambardar not agent for co sharers—

See AGRA TEHSELDAR ACT 1901 s 194

I L R 34 All 93

—suit for negligence occasioning loss—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 20

I L R 34 All 49

ACCOUNTS 3397

AUTHORITY OF AGENT 3401

FRAUDULENT REPRESENTATIONS BY AGENT 3403

LIABILITY OF AGENT 3403

LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL 3404

NOTICE 3405

MISCELLANEOUS 3406

ACCOUNTS

1 ——— Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Arts 89 115 116—Accounts suit for against sons of gomastha—Covenant to furnish annual accounts—Neglect to do so is refusal—Suit by co sharer for accounts of his share lies. A suit for money found due on an account and a suit for an account are really one and the same thing. Said Chandra v Chandra Varain 1 C L J 23. I L R 32 Calc 719 followed. Such a suit lies on the death of an agent against his legal representatives. Lawless v The Calcutta Landing and Shipping Co Ltd 1 L R 7 Calc 677. Jogesh Chandra v Benote Lal Ray 14 C W N 23 followed. Held (Cox J dissenting) that a suit for accounts not against the agent personally but against his legal representative is governed by Art 115 or Art 116 of the Limitation Act and not by Art 89. The objection that a co sharer cannot sue the gomastha of all the co sharers for the accounts of his share only does not apply where the remaining co sharers have been made parties defendants and a decree passed for an account of the whole agency. Quare Whether when there is a covenant by the agent to furnish accounts year by year the neglect on the part of the agent to furnish the accounts in respect of any particular year amounts to refusal to render accounts within the meaning of Art 89. Quare Whether where there is such a covenant a suit against an agent for accounts of particular years when the agent has neglected to furnish accounts or for the sum found due thereon can be regarded as a suit for compensation for the breach of a contract as contemplated by Arts 115 and 116 of the Limitation Act. Jhappanassas Bibi v Bama Sundari Choudhuran (1912)

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd.*ACCOUNTS—contd.

18 C W N 1042

2 ——— Agent's death—
Liability of legal representatives to render accounts—
—Liability of agent's assets—Remedy of principal——Suit for damages—Onus—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 89 115 120. The legal representatives of an agent cannot be called upon to render accounts to the principal in the same sense as the agent himself as they cannot be required to explain matters of which they have no personal knowledge and to assist the principal in the investigation of the management of his estate of which they are ignorant. The estate of the agent however continues to be liable and the remedy of the principal is to sue the representatives for any loss he may have suffered by reason of the negligence or misconduct misfeasance or malfeasance of his agent. The maxim actio personam moritur persona would be no bar to an action where the act complained of was not a mere tort but was a breach of a quasi contract where the claim was founded on a breach of a fiduciary relation or on failure to perform a duty. Concar v Murrell 40 CA D 543. Philips v Homfray 24 CA D 330 relied on. A claim by the principal against the legal representative of the agent for money misappropriated by the agent and for damages for loss suffered by reason of the agent's negligence or misconduct is therefore maintainable—the suit being one not for accounts strictly so called but for money payable to the principal by the representatives of the agent out of the assets in their hands. Manmohanath Bose v Basanto Kumar Bose 1 L P 22 All 337 relied on. In such a suit the burden will be on the plaintiff to prove his case. Such a suit is not governed by Art 89 of the Limitation Act but by either Art 115 or Art 120. Lawless v Calcutta L & S Co 1 L P, Cal 627. Harend v Administrator General 1 L R 12 Calc 35. Indrabhan v Jamuna 1 L P 75 All 5 referred to. KUMEDA CHARAN BALA v ASUTOSH CHATTOPADHYAYA (1912) 17 C W N 5

3. ——— Death of agent—
Suit for accounts if lies or may be continued against heirs. A suit for accounts brought against an agent may be continued on his death pending suit against his legal representatives. See 1. A suit for accounts lies against the heirs of a deceased agent. Manmatha Nath Bose Mullick v Ba. a. Kum. v Bose 11 C L J 1 L P 111. 337 doubted. Kum. Ch. Charan v Asutosh 15 C L J 24 referred to. BARANATH SINGH v BA. CH. KUMAR POY (1913) 17 C W N 695

PREVIOUS ACQUITTAL

See ACQUITTAL I L R 87 Cal 680

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 403

I L R 37 All 107

I L R 40 Bom 97

PREVIOUS CONVICTION

See CHARGE I L R 47 Cal 154

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 413

I L R 39 All 293

See PRACTICE I L R 39 Bom 328

— proof of—

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR

I L R 43 Cal 1128

— when passed in a Native State—

See PENAL CODE s 75

I L R 42 All 136

Belonging to a Gang of Thieves—Habit—Evidence of habit—Admissibility of evidence of previous convictions of offences against property and of bad livelihood—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 401 Where the other evidence in a case under s 401 of the Penal Code establishes association for the purpose of habitually committing theft evidence of previous convictions of offences against property and of bad livelihood is admissible to prove habit and for this purpose convictions of bad livelihood are more cogent than those of isolated thefts Emper v Naba Kumar Patnaik 10 W N 146 Moh v Ali Sarkar v Emperor (Cr App 742 of 1900) decided 20th March 1901 by PRINSEY and HILL JJ (unreported) Madhu Dhar v Emperor (Cr App 582 of 1905 decided 26th July 1905 by RAMPIVI and MOOKERJEE JJ) (unreported) Khania Karori v Emperor (Cr App 78 of 1909 decided 28th January 1909 by HOLMWOOD and RYVES JJ) (unreported) Gobar dhan v Emperor (Cr App 958 of 1910 decided 21st November 1910 by HOLMWOOD and FLETCHER JJ) (unreported) referred to Mankura Pass v Queen Empress I L R 27 Cal 139 doubted and explained Bhoya v Emperor (1911) I L R 83 Cal 408

A finger mark expert was called as a witness who compared certain finger prints of the accused taken in Court with some other finger prints on a paper which contained a record of certain convictions which purported to be the convictions of the accused and pronounced them to be similar This was taken as proof of the previous convictions of the accused Held that the previous convictions were not properly proved RAM DAS SINGH v KING EMPEROR (1916) 21 C W N 469

PREVIOUS DEPOSITIONS

See ADMISSION

I L R 41 Cal 601

PREVIOUS ENJOYMENT

See EASEMENT

I L R 39 Cal 59

PRICE

— oral agreement as to—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 92

I L R 38 Mad 514

PRICE—contd

— of goods sold, suit for—

See CONTRACT ACT ss 39 73 190

I L R 34 Bom 199

PRIEST

— Panchas preventing hereditary priests' from giving his ministrations—

See VEDHA I L R 45 Bom 234

PRIMARY COURT

— jurisdiction of—

See EX PARTE DECREE

I L R 48 Cal 153

PRIMOGENITURE

See CUSTOM

24 C W N 601

I Pat L J 109

See HINDU LAW—IMPARTIBLE ESTATE

I L R 38 All 590

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 34 All 65

I L R 42 Cal 1179

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

18 C W N 55

I L R 48 Cal 997

See KUTUPURA STATE OF

I L R 39 Cal 711

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I of 1869)—

ss 8 10 I L R 33 All 552

ss 8 AND 22 SURS (11)

I L R 33 All 599

ss 14 15 AND 22

I L R 43 All 245

See TALUQDARI ESTATE

I L R 43 All 297

PRINCIPAL

See HINDI SUIT OF

I L R 46 Cal 663

See UNDISCLOSED PRINCIPAL

— death of—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 40 Cal 248

— liability of—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

14 C W N 414

I L R 43 Cal 511

— part-payment of—

See PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSE COURTS

ACT (XV of 1892) s 69

I L R 38 Mad 438

— suit by for money received by agent—

See PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

I L R 41 All 254

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT

See ACCOUNT

15 C W N 939

I L R 40 Cal 109

I L R 44 Cal 1

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188 ss

215A AND 216 I L R 32 All 525

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1909 s 20

(c) I L R 34 All 49

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd.

See COMPANY I L R 36 Bom 564

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872)—

ss 178 179 I L R 42 Bom 205

s 230 I L R 34 All 168

ss 182 to 237

See CONTRACT WITH ENEMY

I L R 44 Bom 631

See COSTS I L R 43 Calc 190

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sch

I Art 115 I L R 39 All 81

Art 116 I L R 39 All 355

See OATHS ACT (X of 1878) s 8 9 10

I L R 33 All 131

See PRACTICE (30)

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 42 Calc 1050

I L R 42 Bom 16

—Agent's power in disposing of land—

See ESTOPPEL 2 Pat L J 600

—Agent's power to refer dispute to arbitration—

See JURISDICTION I L R 34 Bom 13

—Lambardar not agent for co-sharers—

See AGFA TEVANCY ACT 1901 s 194

I L R 34 All 98

—suit for negligence occasioning loss—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 20

I L R 34 All 49

ACCOUNTS 3307

AUTHORITY OF AGENT 3401

FRAUDULENT REPRESENTATIONS

BY AGENT 3403

LIABILITY OF AGENT 3403

LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL 3404

NOTICE 3405

MISCELLANEOUS 3406

ACCOUNTS

1 ———— Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Arts 89 115 116—Accounts suit for against sons of gomastha—Covenant to furnish annual accounts—Neglect to do so is refusal—Suit by co sharer for accounts of his share of lies A suit for money found due on an account and a suit for an account are really one and the same thing Shib Chandra v Chandra Varan I O L J 232 I L R 37 Calc 719 followed Such a suit lies on the death of an agent again t his legal representatives Lawless v The Calcutta Landing and Shipping Co Ltd I L R 7 Calc 677 Jogesh Chandra v Benole Lal Pat 14 C W V 33 followed Held (Coxe J dissenting) that a suit for accounts not against the agent personally but against his legal representative is governed by Art 115 or Art 116 of the Limitation Act and not by Art 89 The objection that a co sharer cannot sue the gomastha of all the co sharers for the accounts of his share only does not apply where the remaining co sharers have been made parties defendants and a decree passed

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd.

ACCOUNTS—contd.

for an account of the whole agency Quare Whether when there is a covenant by the agent to furnish accounts year by year the neglect on the part of the agent to furnish the accounts in respect of any particular year amounts to refusal to render accounts within the meaning of Art 89 Quare Whether where there is such a covenant a suit against an agent for accounts of particular years when the agent has neglected to furnish accounts or for the sum found due thereon can be regarded as a suit for compensation for the breach of a contract as contemplated by Arts 115 and 116 of the Limitation Act Jhappajhanessa Bibi v Bama Sundari Choudhury (1912)

16 C W N 1042

2 ———— Agent's death—

Liability of legal representatives to render accounts

—Liability of agent's assets—Remedy of principal

—Suit for damages—Onus—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 89 115 120 The legal representatives of an agent cannot be called upon to render accounts to the principal in the same sense as the agent himself as they cannot be required to explain matters of which they have no personal knowledge and to assist the principal in the investigation of the management of his estate of which they are ignorant The estate of the agent however continues to be liable and the remedy of the principal is to sue the representatives for any loss he may have suffered by reason of the negligence or misconduct misfeasance or malfeasance of his agent The maxim actio personalis moritur persona would be no bar to an action where the act complained of was not a mere tort but was a breach of a quasi contract where the claim was founded on a breach of a fiduciary relation or on failure to perform a duty

Conchr v Murricta 40 C D 313 Philips vHornfray 24 C D 439 relied on A claim by the principal against the legal representative of the agent for money misappropriated by the agent and for damages for loss suffered by reason of the agent's negligence or misconduct is therefore main-tainable—the suit being one not for accounts strictly so called but for money payable to the principal by the representatives of the agent out of the assets in their hand Manmohanath Bosev Ba onto Kumer Bose I L R 22 All 33 relied on In such a suit the burden will be on the plaintiff to prove his case Such a suit is not governed by Art 89 of the Limitation Act but by either Art 115 or Art 120 Lawless vCalcutta L & S Co I L R 7 Calc 6 Harenderv Administrator General I L R 12 Calc 35Bindrabai v Jamuna I L R 25 All 5 referredto Kumeda Chandra Bala v Astosh Chatter-padhaya (1912) 17 C. W. N. 5

3. ———— Death of agent—

Suit for accounts if lies or may be continued against heirs A suit for accounts brought against an agent may be continued on his death pending suit against his legal representatives Simple

A suit for accounts lies against the heirs of a deceased agent *Jagannath Nath Bose Mullik vBosanta Kumar Bose Mullik I L R 22 All 3*doubted. Kumeda Chandra Bala v Astosh Chatter-padhaya (1912) 17 C. W. N. 5

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*ACCOUNTS—contd

4 ———— Principal suit by agent for accounts—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 89 The plaintiff as principal sued the defendant as agent for accounts. The agency was created in 1896 by a registered document which provided that accounts were to be rendered at the end of each year the agent also hypothecating immovable property as security. In 1897 the plaintiff transferred the property to his wife who in 1899 re transferred the property to her husband. The agency was terminated in 1910 and the suit was brought in 1911 for accounts from 1899. Held that a new agency was created in 1899 irrespective of the agreement of 1896. That Art 89 of the Limitation Act was applicable to the case and as in this case there was no demand and refusal during the continuance of the agency and as the suit was instituted within three years of the date when the agency terminated the plaintiff was entitled to the accounts claimed. SURESH KANTA BANERJEE CHOWDHURY v. NAWAB ALI SIKDAR (1915) MO C W N 356

5 ———— Suit for account—Hypothecation of property as security for the proper discharge of his duties by the agent—Agreement to render account annually—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Arts 89 115 132—Death of the principal effect of—Agent continuing in service of the heir—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 207 253 cl (10)—Method to be adopted for rendering account Where certain immovable properties were hypothecated to the principal by the defendant as security for the valid discharge of duty as agent in a suit for accounts by the principal. Held that Art 132 of the Limitation Act will apply inasmuch as it is also by implication a suit to enforce a charge. Hajezuddin Mandal v. Jadu Nath Saha I L R 35 Cal 298 followed Jogesh Chandra v. Benode Lal Poy 14 C W N 102 dissented from. On the death of the principal an agency is terminated and a new agency is created if the agent continues in service of his principal's heir. Where there is an agreement to submit accounts annually in a suit against the agent for an account Art 89 and not Art 115 of the Limitation Act will apply. Shib Chandra Poy v. Chandra Narain Mookerjee I L R 32 Cal 719 and Ashgar Ali Khan v. Akhurd Ali Khan I L R 24 All 27 followed. Easw v. Baroda Aislere 11 C L J 43 dissented from. Duty of an agent does not end by merely submitting papers when accounts are demanded but a failure to explain them when called upon to do so will amount to a refusal under Art 89 of the Limitation Act. Hurrisnath Rai v. Krishna Kumar Bakshi I I R 14 Cal 147 relied on. Chand Ram v. Brojo Choud 19 W P 14 Upendra K. shore v. Ramtara Debya 13 C W N 696 not followed. MADHUSUDAN SEN v. RAHMAN CHANDRA DAS BASAK (1915) I L R 43 Cal 248

6 ———— Ordinary money account—Lending of money to persons to whom agent is not authorised to lend—Suit for account—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 89 and 90—Termination of agency A suit by a principal against an agent for the recovery of money lent to persons to whom the agent was not authorised to lend is a suit for an ordinary money account and is governed by Art 89 and not Art 90 of the Limitation Act. The question when an agency terminates is a question of fact. Great Northern Insurance Co v. Cunliffe 9 Ch Ap 595 distinguished. Venkatachalam v. Narayanan I L R 39 Mad 376 referred to. MUTHIAN v. ALACAPPA (1917) I L R 41 Mad 1

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*ACCOUNTS—contd

7 ———— Indian Trust Act (II of 1882) s 88—Suit against agent for account of profits of private business—Limitation—Fetters of accounts once settled between principal and agent reasons for Where the main allegation on which a suit was based was that the defendant being an agent of the plaintiff had for some time been carrying on on his own account and to the detriment of the plaintiff's business similar to that of the plaintiff's and the object of the suit was to compel the defendant to account for the profits which he had received from his own private business it was held that the article of sch I to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 which was applicable was either art 62 or art 80. On the facts it was found that whichever article applied the suit was barred. Where fiduciary relations have subsisted between the parties a Court will not reopen accounts which have long been settled between the parties unless the plaintiff can show definitely at least one fraudulent omission or insertion in the account. The principles laid down in Williamson v. Barlow I L R 9 Ch D 529 and Boo Jinalboo v. Sha Nagar Palab Kany I L R 11 Bom 78 followed. FURAN MAL v. FORD MACDONALD AND COMPANY Ltd (1919) I L R 41 All 635

8 ———— Suit by principal for money received on his behalf by agent—Interest—Costs—Appeal against allotment of costs on wrong principles Held that where money is recoverable by a principal from an agent as having been received by the agent on the principal's behalf the agent is not as a rule liable for interest unless by virtue of an express agreement or of some mercantile usage. Held also that an appeal as to the allotment of costs will lie from an appellate decree when the Court below has exercised its discretion as to costs arbitrarily and not according to general principles. Davlat Ram v. Durga Prasad I L R 15 All 333 and Radhe Shyam v. Behari Lal I I R 40 All 558 559 followed. LALMAN v. CHINTAMANI (1918) I L R 41 All 254

9 ———— Committee for collection of subscriptions to rebuild a mosque—Neglect of treasurer to pay his own subscription and to collect other subscriptions promised—Treasurer not legally liable A movement having been set on foot for re constructing a mosque A and J promised to subscribe Rs 500 each. A was appointed treasurer of the committee for collecting subscriptions. J gave a cheque for his promised subscription of Rs 500 but owing first to some defect in the endorsement and later on to its having become out of date it was never cashed. The mosque also was never reconstructed. A having died his heirs were sued by the members of the committee for the amount of the unpaid subscriptions. Held that neither A nor his heirs were liable for payment of the money. ABDUL AZIZ v. MASUM ALI (1914) I L R 36 All 269

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*ACCOUNTS—contd

10 ———— Obligation of agent not only to submit accounts but to explain account papers The obligation of an agent to wards his principal does not terminate merely by submission of account papers. He is bound to explain the same papers and if on accounts taken it is found that he had in his hands money which belongs to his principal he is bound to pay that sum. MADEUSUNDAN DEV v PAKHAL CHANDRA DAS BASAK (1915) 19 C W N 1070

AUTHORITY OF AGENT

1 ———— Leave by agent—Apparent authority—Ratification—Knowledge of principal if necessary for ratification Every act done by an agent in the course of his employment on behalf of his principal and within the apparent scope of his authority binds the principal unless agent is in fact unauthorised to do the particular act and the person dealing with him has notice that in doing so he is exceeding his authority. The grantees in this case were entitled to presume that the agent who had admittedly authority to grant reclamation leases had acted with regularity and within the scope of his authority. Where ratification is established as to a part it operates as a confirmation of the whole of that particular transaction by the agent. Before the principal can be held bound by ratification he must be proved to have had full knowledge or at any rate in absence of knowledge of all the essential facts of the transaction into which his agent had entered on his behalf. KATYATANI DEBI v PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO (1914) 19 C W N 56

2 ———— Construction of Power of Attorney—Denial of authority of agent—Chetty money lending firm business of—Power implied from nature of business which could not be carried on without it—Proof of similar previous transactions with objection by principal—Account books presumption to be drawn from—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 114 The defendant was a Chetty and had a large money lending business in Pangoon which he carried on by an agent to whom he gave a power of attorney for the general management of his business in which he stated the duties and powers entrusted to him as being to transact conduct and manage all affairs concerns matters and things in which he may be in anywise interested and concerned and for that purpose to use or sign my name to any document or writing whatsoever to borrow money from any bank or banks firm or firms person or persons either with or without pledge of securities for money advanced to various persons and to make draw sign accept endorse negotiate and transfer all and every or any bills of exchange promissory notes hundie cheques drafts bills of lading and all other negotiable securities whatsoever which my signature or endorsement may be required or which my said attorney may in his absolute discretion think fit to make draw sign accept endorse negotiate and transfer in my name and in my behalf. Under this power the agent pledged the firms credit with the plaintiff Bank to enable a client who applied to him for financial assistance to have a cash credit account opened in his name and obtain from the Bank advances to secure due repayment of which he executed a promissory note in favour of defendant a firm which the agent endorsed over to the Bank in conformity with the provisions of the Presidency Banks Act (VI of 1876) s 37 c) (e) the agent at the same time giving the Bank a letter of guarantee on behalf of his firm. The client after drawing large sums of money on the cash credit account thus opened having become insolvent the Bank brought an action for the amount due to which the defence was a denial of authority on the part of the agent to enter into the transactions so as to bind the defendant's firm. Held (reversing the decision of an Appellate Bench of the Chief Court) that applying the principles of construction of powers of attorney laid down in Bryant v Post and Bryant v La Banque du Peuple (1893) A C 170 the authority to enter into transactions of the nature in dispute in the present case was to be found in the document itself by necessary implication from the nature of the business with the general management of which the agent was entrusted without such authority it would hardly have been possible to carry on the business of a money lender and financier. On the evidence moreover it was proved that amongst such Chetty money lending firms it was the practice for the agent to pledge the credit of the firm and that for a considerable time similar transactions had been entered into previously by the agent without this authority being questioned. The mere fact that the defendant did not receive any benefit on the transaction would not (if it were the case) relieve him of liability if the authority of the agent was established but the defendant a books of accounts which were called for and not produced would presumably have shown such transactions and the receipt of commission on them. BAKE OF BENGAL v PAMA NATHAN CHETTY (1915) 1 L J 43 Cal 527

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*AUTHORITY OF AGENT—contd

3 ———— Limited authority of latter known to third party—Holding out principle if applicable—Estoppel—Negligent or improper act of principal apparently investing the agent with extended authority not proved—Misdirections A person who deals with an agent whose authority he knows to be limited does so at his peril in this sense that should the agent be found to have exceeded his authority the principal cannot be made responsible. In order that the principle of holding out should in any given case of agency apply to the act done by the agent and relied upon to bind the principal must be an act of that particular class of acts which the agent is held out as having a general authority on behalf of his principal to do. But if the agent be held out as having a limited authority to do on behalf of his principal acts of a particular class then the principal is not bound by an act done outside that authority even though it be an act of that particular class because the authority being thus represented to be so limited, the party prejudiced has notice and should ascertain whether or not the act is authorised. Where the principal did not by any negligent or improper act allow the agent to be apparently invested with an authority beyond or greater than the limited authority which the customer knew him to possess there could not be any estoppel against the principal in respect of any of the steps in a transaction whereby the customer was deceived

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd

ACCOUNTS—contd

4 ———— Principal suit by agent for accounts—Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Art 99 The plaintiff as principal sued the defendant as agent for accounts. The agency was created in 1896 by a registered document which provided that accounts were to be rendered at the end of each year the agent also hypothecating immovable property as security. In 1897 the plaintiff transferred the property to his wife who in 1899 re transferred the property to her husband. The agency was terminated in 1910 and the suit was brought in 1911 for accounts from 1899. Held that a new agency was created in 1899 irrespective of the agreement of 1896. That Art 89 of the Limitation Act was applicable to the case and as in this case there was no demand and refusal during the continuance of the agency and as the suit was instituted within three years of the date when the agency terminated the plaintiff was entitled to the accounts claimed. SUNDER KANTA BANERJEE CHoudhury v NAWAB ALI SIKDAR (1915) 11 C W N 356

5 ———— Suit for account—Hypothecation of property as security for the proper discharge of his duties by the agent—Agreement to render account annually—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch 1 Arts 89 115 132—Death of the principal effect of—Agent continuing in service of the heir—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 207 203 cl (10)—Method to be adopted for rendering account Where certain immovable properties were hypothecated to the principal by the defendant as security for the valid discharge of duty as agent in a suit for accounts by the principal. Held that Art 132 of the Limitation Act will apply inasmuch as it is also by implication a suit to enforce a charge. Hafeezuddin Mandal v Jadu Nath Saha 1 L R 35 Calc 298 followed Jogesh Chandra v Benode Lal Roy 14 C W N 122 dissented from. On the death of the principal an agency is terminated and a new agency is created if the agent continues in service of his principal's heir. Where there is an agreement to submit accounts annually in a suit against the agent for an account Art 89 and not Art 115 of the Limitation Act will apply. Shid Chandra Poy v Chandra Narain Mookerjee 1 L R 32 Calc 719 and Ashgar Ali Khan v Khurshed Ali Khan 1 L R 4 All 27 followed Easin v Baroda Kishore 11 C L J 43 dissented from. Duty of an agent does not end by merely submitting papers when accounts are demanded but a failure to explain them when called upon to do so will amount to a refusal under Art 89 of the Limitation Act. Hurnath Ras v Krishna Kumar Bakshi 1 L R 14 Calc 147 relied on Okand Ram v Brojo Gobind 19 W P 14 Upendra Kishore v Ramlara Debba 13 C W N 696 not followed MADHUSUDAN SEN v RAJMAL CHANDRA DAS BASAK (1915) 1 L R 43 Calc 248

6 ———— Ordinary money account—Lending of money to persons to whom agent is not authorized to lend—Suit for account—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Arts 89 and 90—Termination of agency A suit by a principal against an agent for the recovery of money lent to persons to whom the agent was not authorized to lend is a suit for an ordinary money account and is governed by Art 89 and not Art 90 of

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd

ACCOUNTS—contd

the Limitation Act. The question when an agency terminates is a question of fact. Great Western Insurance Co v Cunliffe 9 Ch Ap 525 distinguished Venkatachalam v Arayanan 1 I R 39 Mad 376 referred to MUTHIAN v ALACAPPA (1917) 1 L R 41 Mad. 1

7 ———— Indian Trust Act (11 of 1882) s 88—Suit against agent for account of profits of private business—Limitation—Re opening of accounts once settled between principal and agent reasons for Where the main allegation on which a suit was based was that the defendant being an agent of the plaintiff had for some time been carrying on on his own account and to the detriment of the plaintiff a business similar to that of the plaintiffs and the object of the suit was to compel the defendant to account for the profits which he had received from his own private business it was held that the article of sec 1 to the Indian Limitation Act 1908 which was applicable was either art 62 or art 90. On the facts it was found that whichever article applied the suit was barred. Where fiduciary relations have subsisted between the parties a Court will not re open accounts which have long been settled between the parties unless the plaintiff can show definitely at least one fraudulent omission or in error in the account. The principles laid down in Williamson v Barbour 1 L R 9 Ch D 529 and Boo Jwaiboo v Sha Nagaiah 1 L R 11 Bom 78 followed. PUPAN MAL v FORD MACDONALD AND COMPANY Ltd (1919) 1 L R 41 All 655

8 ———— Suit by principal for money received on his behalf by agent—Interest—Costs—Appel against allotment of costs on wrong principles Held that where money is recoverable by a principal from an agent as having been received by the agent on the principal's behalf the agent is not as a rule liable for interest unless by virtue of an express agreement or of some mercantile usage. Held also that an appeal as to the allotment of costs will lie from an appellate decree when the Court below has exercised its discretion as to costs arbitrarily and not according to general principles. Daulat Poon v Durgoo Prasad 1 L R 15 All 333 and Radhe Shyam v Behari Lal 1 L R 40 All 555 56^o followed. LALMAN v CHINTAMANI (1916) 1 L R 41 All 254

9 ———— Committee for collection of subscriptions to rebuild a mosque—Neglect of treasurer to pay his own subscription and to collect other subscriptions promised—Treasurer not legally liable A movement having been set on foot for re constructing a mosque A and J promised to subscribe Rs 500 each. A was appointed treasurer of the committee for collecting subscriptions. J gave a cheque for his promised subscription of Rs 500 but owing to some defect in the endorsement and later on to its having become out of date it was never cashed. The mosque also was never reconstructed. A having died his heirs were sued by the members of the committee for the amount of the unpaid subscriptions. Held that neither A nor his heirs were liable for payment of the money. ABDUL AZIZ v MASTUN ALI (1914) 1 L R 36 All 268

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL—contd

party but that agent was authorised by defendant No 2 generally to raise money for the management of the state. Held that the defendant No 2 was liable for the entire debt. SATYA PRATY GHOSAL v GOBINDA MOHUN ROX CHOWDHURY (1009) 14 C W N 414

Liability of principal for fraudulent conduct of the agent—Scope of the agent's or servant's employment—Unauthorised acts—Scope of agency. The principal is liable to third persons in a civil suit for the frauds, deceptions, concealments, misrepresentations, torts, negligence and other malfeasances or misfeasances and omissions of duty of his agent in the course of his employment although the principal did not authorise or justify or participate in or indeed know of such misconduct or even if he forbade the acts or disapproved of them. The principal is not liable for the torts or negligence of his agent in any matter beyond the scope of the agency unless he has expressly authorised them to be done or he has subsequently adopted them for his own use and benefit. McGowan v Dyer L R 8 Q B D 141. Hern v Nichols 1 Salteld 259. National Exchange Co v Drew 2 Mcq H L 103. Brooklesby v Temperance P B Society (1895) A C 173. Pearson v Pearson v Dublin Corporation (1907) A C 851. Clinch v Life Assurance Co v Brown (1904) A C 403. Glasgow Corporation v Lorimer (1911) A C 209. Bowles v Stewart 1 Sch & Lef 209. Fit Simons v Duncan 2 I R 483. Subhan Bibi v Saraiatulla 3 B L R 413. Morrison v Yerachoyte 6 C W N 429. Iwar Chunder v Satish Chunder 1 L R 30 Cal 207. Gopal Chandra v Secretary of State 1 L R 36 Cal 647. Mohial v Govindram 1 L R 30 Bom 83. British M H Co v Charnwood Forest Ry Co 18 Q B D 714. Mackay v Commercial Bank L R 5 P O 394. Sovre v Francis 3 A C 106. Houldsworth v City of Glasgow 5 A C 317 referred to Lloyd v Grace (1912) A C 716 and Rubens v Great Fingall (1906) A C 439 followed. Barwick v English Joint Stock Bank L R 2 Ex 259 and Burma Trading Corporation v Mirza Mahomed Ally 1 L P 4 Cal 116 explained. Acts of fraud by the agent committed in the course and scope of his employment form no exception to the rule whereby the principal is held liable for the torts of his agent even though he did not in fact authorise the commission of the fraudulent act. This rule of liability is based upon grounds of public policy. It seems more reasonable that where one of the two innocent persons must suffer from the wrongful act of a third person the principal who has employed and retained a dishonest agent and has placed him in a position of trust and confidence should suffer for his misdeed rather than a stranger. SHERMAN KHAM v ALIMUDDIN (1915)

I. L. R. 43 Cal. 511

NOTICE.

Agent paying debts owed to principal from money belonging to a third person—Principal is affected with notice of trust—Payment by cheque drawn by person connected with the third person's business of amounts to such notice—Sub agency—Privity with principal absent—Contract Act s 194 A servant of a Banking

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*NOTICE—contd

Company was also the sole agent of the Texas Oil Company for sale of the latter's oil. The Banking Company having pressed V to pay moneys owed to it by V V discharged some of his debts to the Bank by a cheque drawn in its favour on another Bank by M who was the head clerk and manager of V's agency for the Oil Company per pro V sole agent for Bengal and United Provinces. Some of this money might presumably be money held by V in trust for the Oil Company. Held that there was nothing on the face of the cheque that would lead the Bank to doubt that V was perfectly entitled to deal with the moneys to which they related in whatever manner he thought fit. To affect a Bank with knowledge of the ownership of moneys paid into the accounts of their customers by the mere form of the signature on the negotiable documents by which such moneys are transferred is to proceed far beyond the recognised limits of the doctrine of notice and such a doctrine if accepted would create a serious embarrassment to the conduct of banking business. Coleman v Bucks (1897) 2 Ch 243 and Gray v Johnston 1 L R 3 H L 1 (1888) referred to. Held further that the fact that V was a servant or agent of the Banking Company did not affect it with notice of the trust. Knowledge communicated to an agent of a fact which it was not the agent's interest to disclose and which he did not disclose to the principal cannot be imputed to the principal. V had appointed sub agents for sale of the Texas Oil Company's oils on terms similar to those which bound him to the Company. Held on the facts that no privity was established between the Company and the sub agents. THE TEXAS COMPANY v THE BOMBAY BANKING COMPANY

L R 46 I A 250
I L R 44 Bom. 139
24 C W N 469

MISCELLANEOUS

Claim and cross claim—Business of principal Company transferred to another Company set up by former and closely identified with it but business conducted as before by former—Latter Company is may sue without reference to set off claimed by the agent A & Co were entitled to receive from the respondents the price of sugar purporting to have been sold by the latter on their behalf and the respondents had a larger sum of money in deposit with A & Co as bankers. A & Co it appeared had incorporated another Company called the Mysore Sugar Company which as to personnel and otherwise was closely identified with A & Co and completely controlled by them the object being that the Mysore Sugar Company would take over the sugar factory of A & Co and though this was technically done the factory continued to be run and maintained in the same way as before and the respondents never knew of what had happened. The Official Trustee in whom the assets of the Mysore Sugar Company vested upon insolvency having sued the respondents for the price of sugar sold out of the factory without reference to the cross-claim and set off of the respondents against A & Co. Held that if the Mysore Sugar Company could bring actions for sums due

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*AUTHORITY OF AGENT—contd

by the agent acting beyond his authority THE RUSSO CHINESE BANK v LI YAU SAM (1909) 14 C W N 381

FRAUDULENT REPRESENTATIONS BY AGENT

Principal and Agent—Bribe or secret commission accepted by Agent after transaction completed—Contracts obtained by fraud voidable but not void—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II Art 95 The plaintiff instituted a suit against the defendants within three years from the date when the fraud as alleged in the suit became first known to him though he had suspicions of the fraud prior to the three years. The suit was for setting aside a lease which the plaintiff alleged he had been induced to grant to the defendant No 1 under fraudulent representations made to the plaintiff by the defendant No 2 who whilst purporting to act as the plaintiff's servant or agent received after the lease had been duly drawn up executed and registered the sum of Rs 500 from the defendant No 1 as a bribe or secret commission by way of payment for the service rendered to the latter in connection with the making of the arrangements for the execution of the lease. Held that mere suspicion is not knowledge and the suit was not barred by limitation. Held further that a bribe is nevertheless a bribe because its payment is postponed. When a bribe has been given it is immaterial to inquire what if any effect the bribe had on the mind of the receiver and whether he was influenced thereby to recommend to the plaintiff an arrangement with the appellant which he would otherwise have recommended. Harrington v Victoria Graving Dock Company L R 3 Q B D 549 and Shipway v Broadwood (1899) 1 Q B 389 referred to. Held further that a contract induced by fraud is only voidable and the remedy by rescission is open only so long as the parties can be restored to the relative position which they originally occupied. Urguhari v Macpherson L R 3 App Cas 331 followed. Olough v London and North Western Railway Company L R 7 Ex 28 referred to. INDRA NATH BANERJEE v ROOKE (1909) 1 L R 37 Cal 81

LIABILITY OF AGENT

1. — Misconduct—Agent with irrevocable authority may be removed for misconduct—Suit abatement of In every contract of service there is an implied condition that if the services be not faithfully performed the employer is entitled to put an end to the contract and an irrevocable contract of agency is no exception to this rule. An agent appointed under an irrevocable contract of agency may be removed if he is guilty of misconduct in the performance of his duties. The above principle will apply whether the person employed be a servant or agent or a person occupying a fiduciary position. A suit brought against such an agent for his removal and for recovering damages for his misconduct does not abate with the death of such agent. MOHIL KOTTA KUN CHUTANI NATH v SURESHANATH PATTAR (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad 182

2. — Construction of Contract—Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) as 215 216—

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*LIABILITY OF AGENT—contd

Agent appointed to sell goods buying them on his own account S 216 of the Indian Contract Act is merely enabling and confers upon the principal the right to claim from his agent the benefit of the transaction to which the agency business related where the agent without the knowledge of the principal has dealt with the business on his own account instead of on account of the latter. The principal is free to exercise that right or not. The law is that where a party elects to adopt a transaction he must take its benefit with its burden. He cannot, as is said, 'both appropriate and reprobate'. But both the benefit and the burden must for that purpose be attached to and incidents of the transaction which the principal has affirmed by election. Where an agent appointed to sell his principal's goods for a fixed price buys them on his own account without the previous consent of the latter it is competent for the principal either to repudiate the transaction under the circumstances mentioned in s 216 of the Contract Act or to affirm it. If he elects to affirm the principal will be liable to pay to the agent such charges only as are incidents of the transaction of purchase that is such as the vendor under the contract would have been liable to pay to the purchaser because what is affirmed is the relation of vendor and purchaser. But if those charges are annexed by the terms of the contract to the agency so as to regulate the relation of principal and agent as distinguished from the relation of vendor and purchaser the agent is not entitled to recover them. Solomons v Pender 3 H & C 639, and Andrews v Parnsey & Co (1903) 2 K B 635 referred to. JOACHIMSON v MEONJEE VALLABHDAS (1909) 1 L R 14 Bom. 292

LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL

Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 230—Liability of principal and agent—Principal when may be sued—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1881) as 4 III (b) and 43 — Negotiable instrument what is not—Debt incurred on behalf of several co-sharers—If everyone bound for every part of the debt—Apportionment of debt according to the properties in respect of which debt incurred Where an agent is personally liable for a debt the creditor has the option to proceed either against the principal or the agent. Where it did not appear that in lending the money the lender (who knew that the money was being borrowed on behalf of certain principals) looked exclusively to the agent for repayment. Held that he could proceed to realise the money from the principals. In the matter of the Ganges Steam Tug Co Ltd 1 L R 18 Cal 31 36. Pateerson v Gardesqui 1 L East 62. Thomson v Dartmouth 9 B & C 18 referred to. As the authority to the agent contemplated a joint and reciprocal liability of all the principals. Held that the liability could not be distributed so as to hold each of the principals liable for his own apportioned share of the debt. Where an agent took loans upon notes of hand under letters of authority in order to pay the Government revenue in respect of certain properties and it was found as a fact that in one of these properties defendant No 2 had no interest and that he had not given any power of attorney for raising loan to meet dues in respect of that pro

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd

LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL—contd

erty but that agent was authorised by defendant No 2 generally to raise money for the management of the state Held that the defendant No 2 was liable for the entire debt SATTA PRIYA GHOSAL v GOBINDA MONDOL ROY CHOWDHURY (1909) 14 C W N 414

Liability of principal for fraudulent conduct of the agent—Scope of the agent's or servant's employment—Unauthorised acts—Scope of agency Tort The principal is liable to third persons in a civil suit for the frauds, deceptions, concealments, misrepresentations, torts, negligence and other malfeasances or misfeasances and omissions of duty of his agent in the course of his employment although the principal did not authorise or justify or participate in or indeed know of such misconduct or even if he forbade the acts or disapproved of them. The principal is not liable for the torts or negligences of his agent in any matter beyond the scope of the agency unless he has expressly authorised them to be done or he has subsequently adopted them for his own use and benefit McGowan v Dyer L R 8 Q B D 111 Hern v Nichols 1 Baskeld 239 National Exchange Co v Drew 2 Macq H L 103 Brooklesby v Temperance P B Society (1895) A C 173 Pearson v Pearson v Dublin Corporation (1907) A C 851 Citizen's Life Assurance Co v Brown (1904) A C 43 Glasgow Corporation v Lumsden (1911) A C 209 Bowles v Stewart 1 Sch & L 209 FitzSimons v Duncan 2 I R 483 Subjan Bibi v Saratulla 3 B L R 413 Morrison v Verschoyle 6 O W N 499 Jewar Chander v Satsah Chunder 1 L R 30 Calc 207 Gopal Chandra v Secretary of State 1 L R 30 Calc 647 Mohlal v Govindram 1 L R 30 Bom 33 British M Co v Charnwood Forest Ry Co 18 Q B D 714 MacLay v Commercial Bank L R 5 P C 394 Suisse v Francis 3 A C 106 Houldsworth v City of Glasgow 5 A C 317 referred to Lloyd v Grace (1912) A C 716 and Pubens v Great Fingall (1906) A C 439 followed. Barwick v English Joint Stock Bank L R 2 Ex 259 and Burma Trading Corporation v Mirza Mahomed Ally 1 L P & Calc 116 explained. Acts of fraud by the agent committed in the course and scope of his employment form no exception to the rule whereby the principal is held liable for the torts of his agent even though he did not in fact authorise the commission of the fraudulent act. This rule of liability is based upon grounds of public policy. It seems more reasonable that where one of the two innocent persons must suffer from the wrongful act of a third person the principal who has employed and retained a dishonest agent and has placed him in a position of trust and confidence should suffer for his misdeed rather than a stranger SHEWAN KHAN v ALIUMUNDI (1916) 1 L R 43 Calc. 511

NOTICE.

Agent paying debts owed to principal from money belonging to a third person—Principal is affected with notice of trust—Agent by cheque drawn by person connected with the third person's business of amounts in such notice—Sub-agency—Privilege with principal absent—Contract Act s 194 A servant of a Banking

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd

NOTICE—contd

Company was also the sole agent of the Oil Company for sale of the latter. Banking Company having pressed V to pay moneys owed to it by V V discharged some of his debts to the Bank by a cheque drawn in its favour on another Bank by M who was head clerk and manager of V's agency the Oil Company per pro V sole agent Bengal and United Provinces. Some of this money might presumably be money held by V in trust for the Oil Company. Held that there was nothing on the face of the cheque that would lead the Bank to doubt that V was perfectly entitled to deal with the moneys to which they related in whatever manner he thought fit. To affect a Bank with knowledge of the ownership of moneys paid into the accounts of their customers by the mere form of the signature on the negotiable documents by which such moneys are transferred is to proceed far beyond the recognised limits of the doctrine of notice and such a doctrine if accepted would create a serious embarrassment to the conduct of banking business Coleman v Bucks (1897) 2 Ch 213 and Groy v Johnson 1 L R 3 H L 1 (1868) referred to. Held further that the fact that V was a servant or agent of the Banking Company did not affect it with notice of the trust. Knowledge communicated to an agent of a fact which it was not the agent's interest to disclose and which he did not disclose to the principal cannot be imputed to the principal. V had appointed sub agents for sale of the Texas Oil Company's oils on terms similar to those which bound him to the Company. Held on the facts that no privity was established between the Company and the sub agents. THE TEXAS COMPANY v THE BOMBAY BANKING COMPANY L R 48 I A 250 I L R 44 Bom. 139 24 C W N 469

MISCELLANEOUS

Claim and cross claim—Business of principal Company transferred to another Company set up by former and closely identified with it but business conducted as before by former—Latter Company if may sue without reference to set off claimed by the agent A & Co were entitled to receive from the respondents the price of sugar purporting to have been sold by the latter on their behalf and the respondents had a larger sum of money in deposit with A & Co as bankers. A & Co it appeared had incorporated another Company called the Mysore Sugar Company which as to personnel and otherwise was closely identified with A & Co and completely controlled by them the object being that the Mysore Sugar Company would take over the sugar factory of A & Co and though this was technically done the factory continued to be run and maintained in the same way as before and the respondents never knew of what had happened. The Official Trustee in whom the assets of the Mysore Sugar Company vested upon insolvency having sued the respondents for the price of sugar sold out of the factory without reference to the cross-claim and set off of the respondents against A & Co. Held that if the Mysore Sugar Company could bring actions for sums due

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd

AUTHORITY OF AGENT—contd

by the agent acting beyond his authority The Russo Chinese Bank v Li Yau Sam (1909) 14 C W N 381

FRAUDULENT REPRESENTATIONS BY AGENT

Principal and Agent—Bribe or secret commission accepted by Agent after transaction completed—Contracts obtained by fraud voidable but not void—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II, Art 95 The plaintiff instituted a suit against the defendants within three years from the date when the fraud as alleged in the suit became first known to him though he had suspicions of the fraud prior to the three years. The suit was for setting aside a lease which the plaintiff alleged he had been induced to grant to the defendant No 1 under fraudulent representations made to the plaintiff by the defendant No 2 who whilst purporting to act as the plaintiff's servant or agent received after the lease had been duly drawn up executed and registered the sum of Rs 500 from the defendant No 1 as a bribe or secret commission by way of payment for the service rendered to the latter in connection with the making of the arrangements for the execution of the lease. Held that mere suspicion is not knowledge and the suit was not barred by limitation. Held further that a bribe is nevertheless a bribe because its payment is postponed. When a bribe has been given it is immaterial to inquire what if any effect the bribe had on the mind of the receiver and whether he was influenced thereby to recommend to the plaintiff an arrangement with the appellant which he would otherwise have recommended. Harrington v Victoria Graving Dock Company L R 3 Q B D 549 and Shipway v Broadwood (1899) 1 Q B 369 referred to. Held further that a contract induced by fraud is only voidable and the remedy by rescission is open only so long as the parties can be restored to the relative position which they originally occupied. Urguhart v Macpherson L R 3 App Cas 831 followed. Gough v London and North Western Railway Company L R 7 Fz 333 referred to. Indra Nath Baxerjee v Pooke (1909) 1 L R 3 Calc 81

LIABILITY OF AGENT

1. Misconduct—Agent with irrevocable authority may be removed for misconduct—Suit abatement of. In every contract of service there is an implied condition that if the services be not faithfully performed the employer is entitled to put an end to the contract and an irrevocable contract of agency is no exception to this rule. An agent appointed under an irrevocable contract of agency may be removed if he is guilty of misconduct in the performance of his duties. The above principle will apply whether the person employed be a servant or agent or a person occupying a fiduciary position. A suit brought against such an agent for his removal and for recovering damages for his misconduct does not abate with the death of such agent. Yotil Kotta Kun Churni Nath v Subramanian Pattar (1909) 1 L R 33 Mad 162

2. Construction of Contract— And an Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 215-216—

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contd

LIABILITY OF AGENT—contd

Agent appointed to sell goods buying them on his own account S 216 of the Indian Contract Act is merely enabling and confers upon the principal the right to claim from his agent the benefit of the transaction to which the agency business related where the agent without the knowledge of the principal has dealt with the business on his own account instead of on account of the latter. The principal is free to exercise that right or not. The law is that where a party elects to adopt a transaction he must take its benefit with its burden. He cannot, as is said, both appropriate and reprobate. But both the benefit and the burden must for that purpose be attached to and incidents of the transaction which the principal has affirmed by election. Where an agent appointed to sell his principal's goods for a fixed price buys them on his own account without the previous consent of the latter it is competent for the principal either to repudiate the transaction under the circumstances mentioned in s 216 of the Contract Act or to affirm it. If he elects to affirm the principal will be liable to pay to the agent such charges only as are incidents of the transaction of purchase that is such as the vendor under the contract would have been liable to pay to the purchaser because what is affirmed is the relation of vendor and purchaser. But if those charges are annexed by the terms of the contract to the agency so as to regulate the relation of principal and agent as distinguished from the relation of vendor and purchaser the agent is not entitled to recover them. Solomons v Pender 5 H & O 639 and Andrew v Ramsey & Co (1903) 2 K B 635 referred to. Joachimson v Michael Vallaridas (1909) 1 L R 11 Bom. 292

LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL

Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 23—Liability of principal and agent—Principal when may be sued—Recoupable Instruments Act (XXVI of 1892) ss 4 III (b) and 9 Negotiable instrument what is not—Debt incurred on behalf of several co sharers—If everyone bound for every part of the debt—Apportionment of amount according to the properties in respect of which debt incurred Where an agent is personally liable for a debt the creditor has the option to proceed either against the principal or the agent. Where it did not appear that in lending the money the lender (who knew that the money was being borrowed on behalf of certain principals) looked exclusively to the agent for repayment. Held that he could proceed to realise the money from the principals. In the matter of the Ganges Steam Tug Co Ltd 1 L R 18 Calc 31 36. Palmer v Gandasree 15 East 62. Thomson v Davenport 9 B & C 111 referred to. As the authority to the agent contemplated a joint and reciprocal liability of all the principals. Held that the liability could not be distributed so as to hold each of the principals liable for his own apportioned share of the debt. Where an agent took loans upon notes of hand under letters of authority in order to pay the Government revenue in respect of certain properties and it was found as a fact that in one of these properties defendant No 2 had no interest and that he had not given any power of attorney for raising loan to meet due in respect of that pro

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*LIABILITY OF PRINCIPAL—contd

erty but that agent was authorised by defendant No 2 generally to raise money for the management of the state. Held that the defendant No 2 was liable for the entire debt. SATYA PRITA GHOSAL v GORINDA MOHUN ROY CHOWDHURY (1909) 14 C W N 414

Liability of principal for fraudulent conduct of the agent—Scope of the agent's or servant's employment—Unauthorized acts—Scope of agency Tort The principal is liable to third persons in a civil suit for the frauds, deceptions, concealments, misrepresentations, torts, negligence and other malfeasances or misfeasances and omissions of duty of his agent in the course of his employment although the principal did not authorise or justify or participate in or indeed know of such misconduct or even if he forbade the acts or disapproved of them. The principal is not liable for the torts or negligences of his agent in any matter beyond the scope of the agency unless he has expressly authorised them to be done or he has subsequently adopted them for his own use and benefit. McGowan v Dyer L R 8 Q B D 141 Hern v Nichols 1 Salteld 239 North Exchange Co v Drew 2 Macq H L 103 Brookley v Temperance P B Society (1895) A C 173 Pearson v Pearson v Dublin Corporation (1907) A C 851 Citizen's Life Assurance Co v Brown (1904) A C 423 Glasgow Corporation v Lorrimer (1911) A C 209 Boules v Stewart 1 Sch & Lef 209 Pri Symons v Duncan 2 I R 433 Subjan Bibi v Saratulla 3 B L R 413 Morrison v Verschoyle 6 O W N 429 Jawar Chunder v Satish Chunder I L R 30 Calc 207 Gopal Chandra v Secretary of State I L P 36 Calc 647 Motilal v Govindram I L R 30 Bom 33 British M B Co v Charnwood Forest Ry Co 18 Q B D 714 Macley v Commercial Bank L R 5 P O 394 Suisse v France 3 A C 100 Houldsworth v City of Glasgow 5 A C 317 referred to: Lloyd v Grace (1912) A C 716 and Rubens v Great Fingall (1906) A C 439 followed. Barwick v English Joint Stock Bank L R 2 Ex 259 and Burma Trading Corporation v Mirza Mahomed Ally I L P 4 Calc 116 explained. Acts of fraud by the agent committed in the course and scope of his employment form no exception to the rule whereby the principal is held liable for the torts of his agent even though he did not in fact authorise the commission of the fraudulent act. This rule of liability is based upon grounds of public policy. It seems more reasonable that where one of the two innocent persons must suffer from the wrongful act of a third person the principal who has employed and retained a dishonest agent and has placed him in a position of trust and confidence should suffer for his misdeed rather than a stranger. SHERJAN KHAN v ALIMUDDI (1915) I L R 43 Calc. 511

NOTICE.

Agent paying debts owed to principal from money belonging to a third person—Principal is affected with notice of trust—Payment by cheque drawn by person connected with the third person a business if amounts to such notice—Sub-agency—Privately with principal absent—Contract Act s 194 A servant of a Banking

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—*contd*NOTICE—contd

Company was also the sole agent of the Texas Oil Company for sale of the latter's oil. The Banking Company having pressed V to pay moneys owed to it by V, V discharged some of his debts to the Bank by a cheque drawn in its favour on another Bank by M who was the head clerk and manager of V's agency for the Oil Company per pro V sole agent for Bengal and United Provinces. Some of this money might presumably be money held by V in trust for the Oil Company. Held that there was nothing on the face of the cheque that would lead the Bank to doubt that V was perfectly entitled to deal with the moneys to which they related in whatever manner he thought fit. To affect a Bank with knowledge of the ownership of moneys paid into the accounts of their customers by the mere form of the signature on the negotiable documents by which such moneys are transferred is to proceed far beyond the recognised limits of the doctrine of notice and such a doctrine if accepted would create a serious embarrassment to the conduct of banking business. Coleman v Bucks (1897) 2 Ch 743 and Groy v Johnston I L R 3 H L 1 (1868) referred to. Held further that the fact that V was a servant or agent of the Banking Company did not affect it with notice of the trust. Knowledge communicated to an agent of a fact which it was not the agent's interest to disclose and which he did not disclose to the principal cannot be imputed to the principal. V had appointed sub-agents for sale of the Texas Oil Company's oils on terms similar to those which bound him to the Company. Held on the facts that no privity was established between the Company and the sub-agents. THE TEXAS COMPANY v THE BOMBAY BANKING COMPANY!

L R 46 I A 250
I L R 44 Bom. 189
24 C W N 469

MISCELLANEOUS

Claim and cross-claims—Business of principal Company transferred to another Company set up by former and closely identified with it but business conducted as before by former—Latter Company is may sue without reference to set off claimed by the agent A & Co were entitled to receive from the respondents the price of sugar purporting to have been sold by the latter on their behalf and the respondents had a larger sum of money in deposit with A & Co as bankers. A & Co it appeared had incorporated another Company called the Mysore Sugar Company which as to personnel and otherwise was closely identified with A & Co and completely controlled by them the object being that the Mysore Sugar Company would take over the sugar factory of A & Co and though this was technically done the factory continued to be run and maintained in the same way as before and the respondents never knew of what had happened. The Official Trustee in whom the assets of the Mysore Sugar Company vested by a judgment having sued the respondents for the price of sugar sold out of the factory without reference to the cross-claim and set off claimed by A & Co against A & Co. Held that if the Mysore Sugar Company could bring set-off as for

PRINCIPAL AND AGENT—contdMISCELLANEOUS—contd

from the respondents in respect of sales of sugar they could bring them only as principals in this sense that they could take the benefit of these sums subject to every equity which affected these sums in the hands of A & Co. THE OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF MADRAS v A SUNDARAMURTHI MUDALIAR 24 C W N 1004

Contract—Undisclosed principal—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 230 (2) 236 To enable an agent to sue on a contract under s 230 (2) of the Contract Act there must in fact have been a principal though undisclosed for whom he was acting in entering into the contract. Where a person in entering into a contract purported to act as agent for an undisclosed principal but in fact no such principal existed and the person was in reality acting on his own account he is debarred from suing on the contract by s 236 of the Contract Act. RAMJI DAS v JANGI DAS (1912) 1 L R 39 Cal 802

Suit for declaration of title to the benefits of a decree—Maintainability of the suit Where an agent entered into a contract in his own name with a third party and brought a suit to recover damages for breach of the same and obtained a decree thereon a suit subsequently brought by the principal against the agent for declaration of title to the decree was not maintainable. The principal before the suit was brought by his agent might have adopted the contract made by the latter and sued on it but if he did so he was bound to adopt the contract cum on re Udell v Atherton 7 H & N 172 and Bristol v Whitmore 9 H L C 391 approved. He might also have intervened at any stage in the suit which had been commenced by his agent. Sailler v Leigh & Camp 195 approved. GOODEMAN v JANARATNA PUGLIA (1912) 1 L R 49 Cal 335

PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST

See ACCOUNT

1 L R 41 Mad 570

See DEKKAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII of 1879)

1 L R 35 Bom 204

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1903) Arts 132 AND 75 1 L R 39 Mad 931

PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

See CONTRACT ACT (IX of 1872) ss 126 TO 147

— debt barred against principal whether surety liable for—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY

1 Pat L J 497

Promissory note payable on demand—Limitation—Payment of interest by principal—Acknowledgment of debt—Liability of surety—Contract of grantee—Limitation Act (IX of 1903) ss 18 20 21 See 1 Ais 65 73 115—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 126 128 Where an on demand promissory note was executed by the debtor and bore an endorsement on it repay ment guaranteed by me signed by the person

PRINCIPAL AND SURETY—contd

purporting to make the guarantee and where the said promissory note was unaccompanied by any writing restraining or postponing the right to sue. Held that the endorsement must be treated as a contract of guarantee by the person purporting to make the guarantee. Held also that the promissory note was a present debt payable without demand that the liability of the surety on the guarantee accrued from the date of the promissory note that the Statute of Limitation began to run in favour of the surety from the date of the note and that for the purposes of this case it mattered not whether Art 65 or Art 115 of the Limitation Act applied. Norton v Ellam 2 M & W 461 Roe v Young 2 Brod & Bing 165 Maltby v Murrells 5 H & N 81 In re George 44 Ch D 627 Perumal Ayyan v Alagarasami Bhagavathar 1 L R 20 Mad 245 Holl v Hadley 2 Ad & El 758 Colin v Buckle 8 M & W 680 Srinath Roy v Peary Mohan Moolerjee 25 C L J 91 and Dwarka Dass Gochar dhana Doss v Chirakala Krishnaya 21 Mad L J 457 referred to. Where payment of interest on an on demand promissory note was made by the principal debtor with the knowledge and consent of the surety and even at his request but where there was no evidence that it was made on behalf of such surety. Held that the fresh period of limitation created under s 20 of the Limitation Act by the payment of interest by the principal debtor could be only in respect of the debt upon which the interest was paid viz the debt of the principal debtor. The fact that the interest was paid with the knowledge and consent of the surety and even at his request made no difference unless the circumstances could be said to render the payment one on behalf of the surety. Domi Lal Sahu v Roshan Dabay 1 L R 33 Cal 198 In re Powers Lundell v Phillips 30 Ch D 291 In re Frisby 43 Ch D 106 Levin v Wilson 11 App Cas 639 distinguished. Krishna Kulkarni v Radha Ramun Munshi 1 L R 12 Cal 330 Hajarnal v Arisankarav 1 L R 5 Bom 647 Coop v Creswell 1 L R 2 Eq 106 Morgan v Rowlands L R 7 Q B 493 Green v Humphreys 26 Ch D 474 In re Boswell (1916) 2 Ch 359 Astbury v Astbury (1893) 2 Ch 111 In re The Estate of William Senger 3 Jur N 8 431 26 L J Ch 809 and Gardner v Brooke 21 R 6 referred to. Per MOORE J.—Though the liabilities of the debtor and the surety arise out of the same transaction the liabilities of the two persons are distinct for the purposes of the application of s 20 of the Limitation Act. Gopal Das Saithe v Gopal bin Sonu Bast 1 L R 23 Bom 243 and Srinivasa Varadachariar v Echammal 21 Mad L J 455 followed. The surety under the terms of the contract is either jointly or separately liable along with the principal debtor if the debts are deemed joint s 21 (3) of the Limitation Act shows that the payment by one of them (the debtor) does not extend the time on the other hand if the debts are deemed distinct the same result follows upon a true construction of s 20 itself. S 128 of the Contract Act which makes the liability of the surety co extensive with that of the principal debtor is of no assistance to the plaintiff as it must be read along with the provisions of the Limitation Act which defines the measure of the liability and has no reference to the extinction of liability by operation of the Statute of Limitation & payment by one per on cannot keep alive the remedy against another unless the circumstances are such that payment by the one may be regarded as a payment for the others. There is nothing in the relation of principal and surety itself which makes payment by the principal binding as a payment by the surety. Cockrill v Sparks 1 H & C 639 1 L R 359 Re Holmerhausen 62 L T 341 and Henton v Laddison 68 L T 405 referred to. BRAJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHURY v HINDUSTAN CO OPERATIVE INSURANCE SOCIETY LD (1917) 1 L R 44 Cal 878

PRINCIPAL AND SURETY—contd

PRINCIPAL CONTRACT

See CONTRACT 1 L R 46 Cal 831

PRINTER AND PUBLISHER

See CONTENT 15 C W N 771
1 L R 45 Cal 169

See SEDITION

1 L R 33 Cal 227 233

PRINTING PRESS

See PRESS ACT (I or 1910)

Newspaper definition of— Paper not containing profane or libellous public news or comments thereon—Onus of proof of character of the paper—Formal proof of newspaper and of printing matter—Incitement to murder and acts of violence—Use of seditious language—Newspapers (Incitement to offences) Act (I of 1908) s 2 (1) (6) 3—Power of third Judge on difference of opinion between Judges of the Court of Appeal to deal with the whole case against an accused—Criminal Procedure Code (I of 1898) s 429 The definition of a newspaper in s 2 (1) (b) of Act VII of 1908 must be read as a whole. It refers to a work which publishes periodically public news or comments thereon. It is not enough to take a single issue of it and to pick out an isolated sentence or a paragraph therein which might by stretch of language be interpreted to contain public news or comments thereon. When it is disputed whether a work is a newspaper the production ought to establish its alleged character by proof of the contents of more than one issue. To bring a case under s 3 (1) of the Act the character of the offending paper as a newspaper has to be first established and this may not always be possible by the production and proof of the contents of one issue only. In a proceeding under s 3 of the Act the newspaper and the offending matter must be regularly proved. In such cases it is essential that the proceedings should be regularly conducted and the forms of law observed. s 1 (1) of the Act confers very limited powers of forfeiture and applies only to the cases of presses used for the printing of new papers which contain an incitement to the particular crimes or class of crimes specified therein. The word incitement clearly implies the idea of rousing to action in agitation or stimulation. The use of seditious language sufficient to bring the case under s 124A of the Penal Code is not equivalent to an incitement to offences mentioned in s 3 (1) of Act VII of 1908. A thinly veiled glorification of rebellion implying a desire on the part of the writer that there should be a successful rebellion though it may amount to sedition under s 124A of the Penal Code is not sufficient to bring the case within s 3 (1) of the Act. There must be something more direct and specific for that purpose. In the case of two prisoners regarding the guilt of one of whom only the Judges of the Appellate Court are divided in opinion it may be that what has to be laid before another Judge is the case of such prisoner alone. But where they are equally divided as to the guilt of one accused though in certain aspects they may be agreed the whole case as regards the accused is laid before the third Judge and not merely the point or points on which there is a difference of opinion and it is his duty to consider all the points involved before delivering his opinion upon the case. SABAT CHANDRA MITRA v EMPEROR (1910)

PRINTING PRESS—contd

1 L R 38 Cal 202

PRINTING PRESSES AND NEWSPAPERS ACT (XXV OF 1867)—

Indian Press Act (I of 1910) s 3 sub s (1)—Control of press owners—Deposit of security power of Magistrate to dispense with—Declarations made by keeper of printing presses—Publishing objectionable matter in newspaper or other periodical—Order by Governor in Council for seizing security and newspaper with all copies whereof found and annulling declarations made—Petitions by owner of press to set aside or revise orders of Magistrate and Governor in Council—Articles in newspaper bringing Government into hatred and contempt—Criminal Procedure Code 1898 s 435—Writ of certiorari—Appeal in criminal case—Practice in Privy Council—Indian Press Act (I of 1910) ss 3 sub s (1) & sub s (1) 17 and 22 Under the Printing Presses and Newspapers Act (XXV of 1867) s 4 any person who keeps a printing press in his possession must make and subscribe a declaration before a Magistrate stating that he has a press for printing and where it is situated and by s 5 no printed newspapers or other periodical shall be published without the printer or publisher making a declaration that he is the printer or publisher the name of the periodical and the place where the printing is conducted. Under the Indian Press Act (I of 1910) the Government of India s 3 sub s (1) the person making such declaration is required to deposit before a Magistrate a sum of money or other security not less than Rs 500 but not more than Rs 2000 as the Magistrate thinks fit to require. The Magistrate however may for special reasons dispense with the deposit and has certain powers of cancelling or varying any order made under this subsection. By s 4 sub s (1) the Local Government in case of anything objectionable appearing in the paper may by notice in writing addressed to the owner of the press declare the security deposit the newspaper in which the objectionable matter appears and all copies of it wherever found to be considered forfeited to the Crown and the declaration made as above by the keeper of the press annulled. ss 17 and 18 give power to any person interested in any property so forfeited to make an application to a Special Bench of the High Court to set aside such order on the ground that the newspaper did not contain anything of an objectionable nature such as is described in s 4 sub s (1). The appellant

PRIVATE DEFENCE—could

may be justified if the right of self defence was exercised reasonably and properly but the measure of self defence must always be proportionate to the quantum of force used by the attacker and which it is necessary to repel. A Court should not convict where it finds that the prosecution case is in the main untrue but each case must depend upon its own facts as to the applicability of this general principle. Where the prosecution case is found to be substantially untrue but there is a residuum of evidence with regard to some other charge incidental to the main charge which after careful judicial enquiry is found to be true and trustworthy the accused may be convicted on such incidental charge. RAM PRASAD MANTOV v KING EMPEROR 4 Pat L J 289

Right of whether may be pleaded in the alternative. An accused person is not debarred from denying that he committed the act of which he is accused and at the same time pleading the right of private defence. IAUDI KEOT v THE KING EMPEROR 5 Pat L J 64

PRIVATE FERRY

See FERRY I L R 37 Calc 543

PRIVATE FISHERIES ACT (II OF 1889)

§ 3—Conviction without ascertaining boundary of fishery which is in dispute and bonafides of a cused propriety of—Purcha eriditinary value of—Certified copy of Rubakari admissibility of. The petitioner a fisherman was convicted under s 3 of the Private Fisheries Act for having fished in a river. It was in dispute whether the river appertained to a Khass Mahal or to a mouzah belonging to the remindars under the orders of whose Jaradars the petitioner acted. The complainant the Jaradar under Government produced a Government purcha or extract from a record of rights prepared under the Bengal Tenancy Act and the defence produced a certified copy of a Rubakari issued by the Commissioner containing an adjudication of the disputed boundary. Held that in the absence of a determination of the true boundary of the fishery and the bona fides of the petitioner the conviction was not proper. That the extract from the record of rights at most raised a rebuttable presumption in favour of the complainant. That the Magistrate's order that the Rubakari was inadmissible in evidence on the ground that a certified copy not the original order was produced was wrong. RADHAKANTH KHAIBARTA v EMPEROR (1917) 22 C W N 742

PRIVATE INTERNATIONAL LAW

See FOREIGN JUDGMENT SUIT ON
I L R 37 Mad 163

Jurisdiction—Power of Foreign Court to sell debt which has arisen in British India—lex loci rei sitae. Where a pledge of movable property or of a debt is allowed by the law of the territory where the transaction took place the Court of that territory has jurisdiction to sell the property in execution of its decree so as to pass a valid title to it even if the property in situ is outside of its jurisdiction. Ghaneshankar v Bhanoli I L R 5 Bom 249 distinguished. D COTTEA v ANSAR KURHU (1913) I L R 36 Mad 1

PRIVATE KNOWLEDGE

— of facts by Judge—

See EVIDENCE I L R 36 Mad 168

PRIVATE LAND

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I OF 1908) ss 3 & 165
I L R 39 Mad 341

PRIVATE PARTITION

See JOINT ESTATE
I L R 43 Calc 103

PRIVATE PATHWAY

See MUNICIPALITY
I L R 43 Calc 130

PRIVATE REFERENCE

See ARBITRATION I L R 37 Calc 83

PRIVATE SALE

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT
I L R 45 Calc 780

PRIVATE STREET

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (BOY ACT III OF 1888) ss 30j
I L R 43 Bom 129
I L R 34 Bom 593

PRIVATE TRIBUNAL

See HINDU LAW 25 C W N 201

PRIVILEGE

See DEFAMATION I L R 43 Calc 389
I L R 33 Mad 87

See DEFAMATION—STATEMENT BY ACCUSED I L R 40 Calc 433

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 18
I L R 41 All 125

See FALSE EVIDENCE I L R 37 Calc 878

See LIBEL I L R 40 All 841
I L R 39 All 561
I L R 45 Calc 304

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION I L R 38 Calc 880

See PENAL CODE s 409

See SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA I L R 39 Mad 781

— against Court—
See INSTRUCTIONS TO COUNSEL I L R 40 Calc 898

— for statement in complaint to Magistrate—
See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860) s 498 I L R 37 Mad 110

PRIVILEGE OF COUNSEL

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

PRIVILEGE OF WITNESS

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 132
I L R 40 All 171

PRIVITY

— between parties—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 11 I L R 40 Bom 879

PRIVACY—contd

— meaning of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1899) s 108 (1)
I L R. 40 Mad 1111

PRIVITY OF CONTRACT

See CONTRACT I L R. 37 All 115

PRIVITY OF CONTRACT AND ESTATE

See JURISDICTION I L R. 39 Calc 739

PRIVITY OF ESTATE

See LESSOR AND LESSEE
I L R. 37 Calc 683

PRIVY COUNCIL

See APPEALS TO HIS MAJESTY IN COUNCIL

See APPEALS TO PRIVY COUNCIL

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 13 I L R. 40 Mad 112

s 100 108 109 O XLV R 23

I L R. 33 All 391

s 110 I L R. 40 Bom 477

I L R. 42 All 445

I L R. 44 Bom 104

O XLV R 15 I L R. 37 All 567

See COSTS I L R. 47 Calc 415

See COURT MARTIAL
25 C W N 85

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)
s 51 I L R. 37 Bom 506

See LEAVE TO APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

See PRACTICE I L R. 48 Calc 894

See PRIVY COUNCIL APPEALS

— appeal to against conviction by Court Martial Commissioners—

See CRIMINAL LAW 25 C W N 701

— Certificate of High Court

See PROCEDURE I L R. 41 Mad 293

— decision of—

See BILL OF LADING
I L R. 38 Mad 941

See WAKE OF VALIDITY OF
I L R. 43 Calc 158

— judgment of—

See HINDU LAW—WILL
I L R. 38 Calc 183

— order of His Majesty in—

See LIMITATION ACT (XV OF 1877) SCH II ART 180 I L R. 33 All 154

— order of transmitted to the original Court

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XLV R 15 AND 16

I L R. 38 Mad. 832

— Restoration of property alienated pending appeal—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XLV R 15 I L R. 37 All 567

PRIVY COUNCIL—contd

— whether new point may be taken on appeal to—

See COMPROMISE I L R. 44 Mad. 581

See PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF
I L R. 34 All 57

— When will interfere in Criminal cases—

See PENAL CODE s 89
25 C W N 514

1 ——— New case—Practice The hearing of the appeal being x parte the Judicial Committee refused to depart from the established practice of not allowing the appellant to make a new case based on grounds which were not urged in the Courts in India were not specified in the petition to the High Court for leave to appeal and were not suggested in the reasons contained in the case for the appellant SONI RAM & KANHAIYA LAL (1913)

I L R. 35 All 227

17 C W N 605

2 ——— Decision inconsistent with former one—Binding character The fact of a decision of the Judicial Committee not being consistent with an earlier one cannot affect its binding character and the High Court is bound to follow it MADHU SUDAN MOYDAL & RADHIKA PRASAD DAS (1912)

17 C W N 878

3 ——— Valuation—Application for leave to appeal—Appealable value—Decision in directly involving amount Defendants who were co-sharers of the plaintiff in the zemindari having purchased certain holding from the tenants the plaintiff sued them for their share of the rent due from one such holding amounting to Rs 230 The High Court reversing the decree of the lower Court dismissed the suit on the ground that as there was no contract of tenancy between the parties there was no relation of landlord and tenant between them The plaintiff in applying for leave to appeal to the Privy Council proved that there were other holdings similarly purchased by the defendants and that the decision of the High Court would have the effect of depriving him of rents of all such holding amounting to Rs 800 a year which capitalized came up to over Rs 10,000 Held that the decision indirectly involved a claim or question to or respecting property of the value of Rs 10,000 or upwards and leave ought to be granted SRINATH PAL CHOWDHURY & CHINDEA CHANDRA LAL CHOWDHURY (1906)

14 C W N 651

4 ——— Leave to appeal—Appealable value—Right of party to prove value of subject matter contrary to valuation in plaint or memo of appeal—Mere profits pending suit is to be aided The valuation made in conformity with the stamp law do not prevent a party from obtaining leave to appeal by proving that the real value of the subject matter does not fall short of the appealable amount But a defendant who had previously adopted the value given in the plaint for the purpose of an appeal preferred by him should not be allowed to contest that valuation on the principle that a party cannot both approve and reprobate In a suit for recovery of possession of immovable property with mere profits the subject matter to be valued would include mere profits claimable from the tenant

PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—contd

5 ——— In Criminal case—Grounds for refusing special leave to appeal In this case the main grounds of appeal were that the Judge had during the trial wrongly amended the charge to the prejudice of the petitioners improper admission of evidence misdirection and that the sentences contravened the provisions of s 71 of the Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) But their Lordships were of opinion that in what had been done there was nothing grossly contrary to the forms of justice nor any violation of fundamental principles and therefore refused to grant special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council on the ground that they had no power to interfere Dillet In re L R 12 A C 459 followed CLIFFORD v KING EMPEROR (1913)

I L R 41 Cal 563

6 ——— Of newspaper for publication of criminal libels—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 499 Exceptions 1 2 9 and s 52—Position of members of the Press and of Judges—Libel on Magistrate in respect of conduct of criminal trial—Charge to Jury—Misdirection—Powers and functions of Judicial Committee in criminal cases No kind of privilege attaches to the profession of the Press as distinguished from the members of the public The freedom of the journalists is an ordinary part of the freedom of the subject and to whatever length the subject in general may go so also may the journalist but apart from statute law his privilege is no other and no higher The responsibilities which attach to his power of dissemination of printed matter may and in the case of a conscientious journalist do make him more careful but the range of his assertions his criticisms or his comments is as wide as and no wider than that of any other subject No privilege attaches to his position Nor does any privilege or protection attach to the public acts of a Judge which exempts him in regard to these from free and adverse comment He is not above criticism his conduct and utterances may demand it Freedom would be seriously impaired if the judicial tribunals were outside of the range of such comment The appellant the Editor of the Burma Critic a newspaper published in Pangoon was charged under s 499 of the Penal Code with having in certain articles entitled A Mockery of British Justice defamed a District Magistrate with reference to his alleged conduct in the trial of a case in which a European resident in the district was acquitted on charges of abduction and rape of a native girl of 11 or 12 years His defence was under the 9th exception to s 499 and he pleaded admitting the libels to be false that he published them in good faith for the public good and believing them to be true after having taken due care and attention in the matter of their publication He did not however disclose what were the actual things upon which he founded his own beliefs nor what the steps if any were he took to investigate their truth before giving them to the public He was tried in the Chief Court of Lower Burma before the Chief Judge with a jury and was found guilty and sentenced to one year's imprisonment after serving four months of which he was discharged the rest of the sentence being remitted. He obtained special leave to appeal mainly on the ground that there had been misdirection resulting in an exceptional miscarriage of justice which had caused him substantial wrong Held on the facts that a fair and statable case in support of the statutory

PRIVY COUNCIL PRACTICE OF—contd

defence and his belief that the libels were true had been put forward for the appellant and for the respondent a case was made which was also fair and statable so that there was material before the jury on both sides and the determination was on a subject peculiarly within the jury's province The case was not improperly withdrawn from the jury's domain on fact and they were not misdirected in law A charge to a jury must be read as a whole If there are salient propositions of law in it these will of course be the subject of separate analysis But in a protected narrative of fact the determination of which is ultimately left to the jury it must needs be that the view of the Judge may not coincide with the view of others who look upon the whole proceedings in black type It would however not be in accordance with usual or good practice to treat such cases as cases of misdirection if upon the general view taken the case has been fairly left within the jury's province But in any case in the region of fact their Lordships of the Judicial Committee would not interfere unless something gross amounting to a complete misdescription of the whole bearing of the evidence has occurred The appellant's defence being as above and involving an admission that the libels were false his counsel at the trial by statements and innuendoes which were reiterated throughout the case endeavoured to withdraw the pleaded defence and to persuade the jury that what was stated in the defamatory articles was true Held that it could not be considered misdirection for the Judge in charging the jury to put before them a narrative of the real facts of the case as disclosed by the evidence showing what was in accordance with the pleaded defence namely the falsity of the libels and the consequent innocence of the Magistrate on the charges against him The letters put in evidence as to the charges that the Magistrate had conspired to suddenly leave the complainants in the abduction and rape case without an advocate and to furnish them with a false interpreter though not before the appellant when he wrote the defamatory articles were before him in the course of his trial and when it was discovered that they were not true and that a gross mistake on a matter of fact had been made those libels should not have been adhered to for a moment the mistake should have been acknowledged and an apology tendered instead of which the case was conducted to its close upon the footing that an unstated defence was the real and good defence namely that all the libels were true The question of the special position and functions of the Judicial Committee and their powers and practice as advisers of the King in criminal matters is not truly one of jurisdiction The power of His Majesty under his Royal authority to review proceedings of a criminal nature unless where such power and authority have been parted with by Statute is undoubted On the other hand there are reasons both constitutional and administrative which make it manifest that this power should not be lightly exercised The overruling consideration upon the topic has reference to justice itself If throughout the Empire it were supposed that the course and execution of justice could suffer serious impediment which in many cases might amount to practical obstruction by an appeal to the Royal Prerogative of review on judicial grounds then it becomes plain that a severe blow would have been dealt to the orderly administration of law within the King's dominions

PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—contd

The views expressed by Dr Lushington in The Queen v Joykisen Mooleerjee I Moo P C N S 272 and the principle and practice laid down by Lord Kimdown in The Falkland Islands Company v The Queen I Moo P C N S 299 still remain those which are followed by the Judicial Committee in appeals in criminal matters. The principle laid down in Pe Dillet L R 10 A C 409 that the course of criminal proceedings will not be reviewed or interfered with by the Privy Council unless it is shown that by a disregard of the forms of legal process or by some violation of the principles of natural justice or otherwise substantial or grave injustice has been done is not to be interpreted in the sense that where ever there had been a misdirection in any criminal case leaving it uncertain whether that misdirection did or did not affect the jury's mind that then in such case a miscarriage of justice could be affirmed or assumed. The Judicial Committee is not a Court of Criminal Appeal. In general its practice is to the following effect. It will not interfere with the course of criminal law unless there has been such an interference with the elementary right of an accused as has placed him outside of the pale of the regular law or within that pale there has been a violation of the natural principles of justice so demonstratively manifest as to convince their Lordships first that the result arrived at was opposite to the result which they themselves would have reached and secondly that the same opposite result would have been reached by the local tribunal also if the alleged defect or misdirection had been avoided. Makin v Attorney General for New South Wales (1894) A O 7 Vairaraha Pillay v The King Emperor I L R 30 Mad 501 I R 401 A 193 and Lanier v The King (1914) A O 303 distinguished. It must be established demonstratively that justice itself in its very foundations has been subverted and that it is therefore a matter of general Imperial concern that by way of an appeal to the King it can be restored to its rightful position in that part of the Empire. The authority of decisions of the Court of Criminal Appeal in England which apply to a different system a different procedure and a different structure of principle must stand out of the reckoning of any body of authority in the matter of the procedure of the Judicial Committee in advising His Majesty. Clifford v The King Emperor I L R 41 Cal 568 L P 401 A 241 approved. ARKOLD v KING EMPEROR (1914)

1 L R 41 Cal 1023

7 ———— Criminal cases—application for—Petitioners sentenced to death—Stay of execution of sentences pending hearing of petition refusal of—Tendering advice as to exercise of King's Prerogative of Pardon. On an application for special leave to appeal in a case in which the petitioners had been sentenced to death their Lordships of the Judicial Committee not being a Court of Criminal Appeal declined to interfere with regard to staying execution of the sentences pending the hearing or to express any opinion as to whether they ought to be suspended. The tendering of advice to His Majesty as to the exercise of His Prerogative of pardon is a matter for the Executive Government and is outside their Lordships province. PALMER v KING EMPEROR (1910) 1 L R 42 Cal 739

8 ———— Invasion of liberty and jurisdiction of a citizen—Embodiment—Criminal and Civil

PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—contd

liability distinction between—Costs against Crown in criminal appeal. The appellant who was a member of a firm was authorized by the guardian of two minors by a power of attorney to act for the guardian in collecting and investing the minors' property. Acting under this authority funds were received and remittances made from time to time by the appellant a firm with whom an account was opened in the name of the minors. A certain amount due to the minors from a creditor was paid by him in the shape of crediting it to the appellant's firm in their account with their bankers which account was overdrawn. The minors' account with the appellant's firm was duly credited with that amount. The appellant lent thereafter asked to give a guarantee for the funds of the minor in his hand gave security to the satisfaction of the authorities. Thereafter criminal proceedings were instituted against the appellant who was tried by the Chief Justice without a jury and convicted of having embezzled the minor's money. Held that the facts did not on any just or legal view of them warrant a conviction and the grounds of distinction between the categories of liability in a civil as distinguished from a criminal suit appeared in the present case to have been left out of judicial view. That the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council does not lightly interfere in criminal cases but in the present case although the proceedings taken were unobjectionable in form justice had gravely and injuriously miscarried and the sentence pronounced against the appellant formed such an invasion of liberty and such denial of his just rights as a citizen that their Lordships felt called upon to interfere. Having regard to the exceptional nature of the case their Lordships directed the Crown to pay to the appellant the costs of the appeal. LANIER v THE KING (1913) 18 C W N 98

9 ———— The general principle is established that the King in Council does not act in exercise of his prerogative to review in criminal cases in the free fashion of a fully constituted Court of Criminal Appeal. The exercise of the prerogative takes place only where it is shown that injustice of a serious and substantial character has occurred. A mere mistake on the part of the Court below as for example in the admission of improper evidence will not suffice if it has not led to injustice of a grave character. Nor do the Judicial Committee advise interference merely because they themselves would have taken a different view of evidence admitted. Such questions are as a general rule treated as being for the final decision of the Courts below. Under s 172 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) every police officer making an investigation is to enter his proceedings in a diary which may be used at the trial or inquiry not as evidence in the case but to aid the Court in such inquiry or trial. And by s 374 when the Court of Session passes sentence of death the proceedings are to be submitted to the High Court for confirmation and the sentence is not to be executed unless it is confirmed by that Court. In this case which was one of murder the accused was convicted by the Sessions Judge and sentenced to death and that sentence was substantially in every material particular confirmed by the Court of the Judicial Commissioner (as the High Court) on appeal. After confirming the sentence the High Court of Appeal took into consideration the police diary made

PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—contd

5 — In Criminal case—Grounds for refusing special leave to appeal In this case the main grounds of appeal were that the Judge had during the trial wrongly amended the charge to the prejudice of the petitioners improper admission of evidence misdirection and that the sentences contravened the provisions of s 71 of the Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) But their Lordships were of opinion that in what had been done there was nothing grossly contrary to the forms of justice nor any violation of fundamental principles and therefore refused to grant special leave to appeal to His Majesty in Council on the ground that they had no power to interfere Dillet In re L R 12 A C 459 followed CLIFFORD v KING EMPEROR (1913)
I L R 41 Cal 568

¶ — Of newspaper for publication of criminal libels—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 499 Exceptions 1 2 9 and s 62—Position of members of the Press and of Judges—Libel on Magistrate in respect of conduct of criminal trial—Charge to Jury—Misdirection—Powers and functions of Judicial Committee in criminal cases No kind of privilege attaches to the profession of the Press as distinguished from the members of the public The freedom of the journalists an ordinary part of the subject of the subject and to whatever length the journalist in general may go so also may the journalist but apart from statute law his privilege is no other and no higher The responsibilities which attach to his power of dissemination of printed matter may and in the case of a conscientious journalist do make him more careful but the range of his assertions his criticisms or his comments is as wide as and no wider than that of any other subject No privilege attaches to his position Nor does any privilege or protection attach to the public acts of a Judge which exempts him in regard to these from free and adverse comment He is not above criticism his conduct and utterances may demand it Freedom of conduct be seriously impaired if the judicial tribunals were outside of the range of such comment The appellant the Editor of the Burma Critic a newspaper published in Rangoon was charged under s 499 of the Penal Code with having in certain articles entitled A Mockery of British Justice defamed a District Magistrate with reference to his alleged conduct in the trial of a case in which a European resident in the district was acquitted on charges of abduction and rape of a native girl of 11 or 12 years His defence was under the 9th exception to s 499 and he pleaded admitting the libels to be false that he published them in good faith for the public good and believing them to be true after having taken due care and attention in the matter of their publication He did not however disclose what were the actual things upon which he founded his own beliefs nor what the steps if any were he took to investigate their truth before giving them to the public He was tried in the Chief Court of Lower Burma before the Chief Judge with a jury and was found guilty and sentenced to one year's imprisonment after serving four months of which he was discharged the rest of the sentence being remitted He obtained special leave to appeal mainly on the ground that there had been misdirection resulting in a exceptional miscarriage of justice which had caused him substantial wrong Held on the facts that a fair and statable case in support of the statutory

PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—contd

defence and his belief that the libels were true had been put forward for the appellant and for the respondent a case was made which was also fair and statable so that there was material before the jury on both sides and the determination was on a subject peculiarly within the jury's province The case was not improperly withdrawn from the jury's domain on fact and they were not misdirected in law A charge to a jury must be read as a whole If there are salient propositions of law in it these will of course be the subject of separate analysis But in a protected narrative of fact the determination of which is ultimately left to the jury it must needs be that the view of the Judge may not coincide with the view of others who look upon the whole proceedings in black type It would however not be in accordance with usual or good practice to treat such cases as cases of misdirection if upon the general view taken the case has been fairly left within the jury's province But in any case in the region of fact their Lordships of the Judicial Committee would not interfere unless something gross amounting to a complete misdescription of the whole bearing of the evidence has occurred The appellant's defence being as above and involving an admission that the libels were false his counsel at the trial by statements and innuendoes which were reiterated throughout the case endeavoured to withdraw the pleaded defence and to persuade the jury that what was stated in the defamatory articles was true Held that it could not be considered misdirection for the Judge in charging the jury to put before them a narrative of the real facts of the case as disclosed by the evidence showing what was in accordance with the pleaded defence namely the falsity of the libels and the consequent innocence of the Magistrate on the charges against him The letters put in evidence as to the charges that the Magistrate had conspired to suddenly leave the complainants in the abduction and rape case without an advocate and to furnish them with a false interpreter though not before the appellant when he wrote the defamatory articles were before him in the course of his trial and when it was discovered that they were not true and that a gross mistake on a matter of fact had been made those libels should not have been adhered to for a moment the mistake should have been acknowledged and an apology tendered instead of which the case was conducted to its close upon the footing that an unstated defence was the real and good defence namely that all the libels were true The question of the special position and functions of the Judicial Committee and their powers and practice as advisers of the King in criminal matters is not truly one of jurisdiction The power of His Majesty under his Royal authority to review proceedings of a criminal nature unless where such power and authority have been parted with by Statute is undoubted On the other hand there are reasons both constitutional and administrative which make it manifest that this power should not be lightly exercised The overruling consideration upon the topic has reference to justice itself If throughout the Empire it were supposed that the course and execution of justice could suffer serious impediment which in many cases might amount to practical obstruction by an appeal to the Royal Prerogative of review on judicial grounds then it becomes plain that a severe blow would have been dealt to the ordered administration of law within the King's dominions

PRIVY COUNCIL, PRACTICE OF—co old of the High Court says of it that the appellants advocate stated that he did not desire to press it, and so no more was said about it KALYAN DAS v MAHABUL AHOLAN (1915)

I L P 40 All 497

15 ——— Directions—application for—
All applications for directions for the preparation of paper books in Privy Council appeals should be made to the Bench taking Privy Council business SHIVA PRASAD SINGH v I ANI PRAYAG AU MARI DEBI

26 C W N 840

PRIZE

See CONFISCATION I L R 42 Calc 334

PRIZE COURT

——— adjudication by—

See SALE OF GOODS

I L R 45 Calc 28

——— See at of ship as prize
——— Claimant a Persian subject—Commercial domicile of the claimant in enemy territory—Claimant failing to establish intention of removing domicile to a neutral country—Declaration of London Article 57 effect of—Condemnation of ship as lawful prize On the 5th November 1914 was declared between Great Britain and Turkey On the 13th November 1914 the ship SS Karadeniz then lying in Bombay Harbour was captured as an enemy vessel under Government Orders On the 10th November 1914 the ship's papers were lodged in Court with the usual affidavit On the 21st November 1914 the writ was issued against the ship and the goods laden thereon for the condemnation thereof as lawful prize On the 15th January 1915 the claimant filed his claim to the ship His petition in support of his claim alleged that he was a Persian subject and had purchased the ship on the 15th August 1914 from a Turkish Company at Constantinople where he resided and carried on business that the sale had been completed the same day that the ship on its arrival in Bombay on the 10th August 1914 was not permitted to leave the Port by the Port Officer at Bombay and that at the time of its capture or at any other times material to the matter in cause no subject of the Turkish Government or enemy of Great Britain had any share right title or interest in the said ship He prayed for the restitution of the ship and damages for her detention Held that the ship must be condemned as lawful prize inasmuch as on the outbreak of war the claimant had his commercial domicile in Turkey and that at the time of the capture and for months after he had no intention of removing that domicile to a neutral country and preventing the ship from reaching enemy territory Decisions of the English and American Prize Courts referred to Effect of Art 57 of the Declaration of London considered in view of the decisions in The Zeyora (1915) 2 A C 77 and The Proteon (1915) A C 513 The "KARADENIZ" (1919) I L P 44 Bom 61

PROBATE

See COURT FEES ACT 150—

s III (c)

5 Pat L J 38

ss. 19 AND 1191 Sch I AND III

I L R 43 All 279

PROBATE—co old

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 41

I L R 38 Bom 309

See EXECUTOR 14 C W N 256

See GUARDIAN I L P 42 Calc 953

See HINDU LAW—STRIDHAN

I L R 40 Calc 88

See HINDU WILLS ACT (XXI of 1800)

ss 2 AND 5 I L R 34 Bom 506

See INAM LANDS I L R 30 Bom 272

See JOINT PROBATE

See LIMITATION L R 43 I A 113

20 C W N 830

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1871) ss 5 AND 7

I L R 34 Bom 589

See LIMITATION ACT 1908, s 17

I L R 37 Mad 175

SCH I ART 93

I L R 37 Bom 158

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WILL

I L R 37 Calc 839

See OFFICIAL TRUSTEE

I L R 38 Calc 53

See PRACTICE (73)

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT

See PROBATE PROCEEDINGS

See SECOND PROBATE

I L R 43 Calc 825

See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1860) s 214

I L R 35 All 448

See WILL I L R 38 Calc 127

——— as evidence of right—

See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1860), s 187

I L R 38 Mad 989

——— conditional order for grant of—

See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1860) s 187

I L R 38 Mad 989

——— dismissal of application for default—

See WILL 14 C W N 924

——— obtained by one executor—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 30 Mad 365

——— suit to revoke—

See DECLARATORY DECREE SUIT FOR

I L R 43 Calc 694

——— will signed by 3rd party in presence and by direction of Testator—

See SUCCESSION ACT 1860, s 40

I L R 45 Bom 989

1 ——— Jurisdiction of High Court—

Letters of Administration—High Court and District Court jurisdiction of—Concurrent jurisdiction—

Letters and Administration Act (I of 1881) ss 61

AND 67—High Court means of ss 81—

Practice—Rule 73 of the High Court Rules and Orders The High Court has jurisdiction to grant probate and letters of administration on the Original Side in any case which has been brought before any District Judge the two Provinces of Bengal mentioned in s 87 of the Probate Act re—contd

(V of 1881) is not merely confined to the Appellate Jurisdiction of the Court but it includes its Original Jurisdiction. In the case of Mahendra Narain Roy v O W 377, referred to S 87 of the Probate and Administration Act does not require that any portion of the property should be within the limits of the Original Jurisdiction of the High Court and Rule 740 of the High Court cannot override the express provisions of this section giving the High Court concurrent jurisdiction with the District Court. NAGENDRABALA DEBI v. KASHIPATI CHOWDHRI (1909)

I L P 37 Calc 224

2 ————— Jurisdiction—Testamentary and Intestate Jurisdiction of High Court—Relocation—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 50—Official Trustee of Bengal—Official Trustee's Act (XIII of 1864) Where a Judge exercising the original testamentary and intestate jurisdiction of the High Court granted probate to the Official Trustee of Bengal the probate being expressed to be granted to the Official Trustee of Bengal for the time being assuming the order to have been erroneous it cannot be said that the Judge acted without jurisdiction so as to bring the matter within the scope of s 50 of the Probate and Administration Act OFFICIAL TRUSTEE OF BENGAL v KUMUDINI DAS (1916) 1 L R 37 Cal 387

3 — Grant of probate on compromise if may be revoked.—Persons not parties but cognizant of grant if bound—Infant if bound—Acquiescence—Delegation of powers by District Judge to District Delegate—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) 5^o Proceedings in a Court of probate are proceedings quasi in rem and a probate granted in solemn form is binding not only on the parties who have appeared or have been formally cited but also on privies & persons who being cognizant of the proceedings and having an opportunity to intervene have chosen not to do so. Nevell v Weeks 2 Phillim 224 Wycherley v Andrew L P 2 P 2 d D 337 Young v Hollaway (1890) P 37 relied on. It may be taken as settled law that in a contentious proceeding probate may be granted in common form in consequence of a compromise between the disputants resulting in the withdrawal of opposition and that it cannot afterwards be revoked except on proof of fraud or circumvention practiced either upon the Court or upon the parties. Nicol v Isak 2 Moo P C C 38 followed. When a probate is granted in common form by reason of a compromise between the parties the terms of the compromise cannot be embodied in the order for the reason that a Court of Probate cannot in many instances enforce the terms. Evans v Saunders 30 L J P M d A 181 Rondnill v Carter 3 W d Tr 41 Carrut v Christian L P 2 P d D 181 referred to. But they may be enforced by an action if otherwise unobjectionable. But though a probate obtained in common form as the result of a compromise is binding upon the parties to the compromise it is not binding upon those who are not parties to it even though they have been cognizant of the form proceedings. Hutcliff v Andrews L P 2 P d D 3 referred to. When the terms of the compromise are agreed to by the parties who are parties to the Court of probate will not make an order binding infants to the terms of the compromise. Norma v Straire L P 6 P d D 219

PROBATE—contd

referred to. But though an infant has a right in such cases to apply after he comes of age for revocation of probate obtained by consent yet he may be barred by acquiescence and delay for a long time or by the subsequent ratification of the dispositions of the will from putting the executor to the proof of the will in solemn form or from contesting its genuineness. Hoffman v. Lorn, 4 Philm 230; Mohan v. Broughton (1900) F 66 relied on. Where the caveators having by reason of compromise withdrawn their opposition the District Judge sent the case to the District Delegate for enquiry and report. Held that the District Judge had acted within the powers conferred on him by s 52 of the Probate and Administration Act. KUNJA LAL CHOWDHRY v. KAILASH CHANDRA CHOWDHRY (1910)

4 — Request to Idol—Probate and Administration Act () of 1882)—Shebat appointed executor by implication—Letters of administration with will annexed if should be revoked and probate ordered to issue Where the testator having bequeathed his estate to an idol the shebat who was opposed by the testator's heirs was granted letters of administration with the will annexed—Held that although the applicant might probably have been granted probate as being executor by implication the estate being very small and letters of administration having been actually issued and the objector who appealed having no sort of interest in the matter the order of the District Judge should be maintained Brojo v Raj Kumar, 6 C W N 310 referred to KALI CHARYA THAKUR v ANANDA KANTA BHATTACHARJEE 18 C W N 1 (1910)

4 (a) ————— Mahomedan Will.—It is not necessary to take out probate to a Mahomedan Will which may be tendered in evidence and proved in any proceeding although no Probate has been taken out in respect of it. SAKINA TIBER v MAHOMED ISKAK. 15 C W N 185

MAHOMED ISMAK 15 C W N 185

5 _____ Party entitled to object to grant of—Attaching creditor has interest sufficient to oppose grant Where an application made for the grant of probate of the will of A a judgment creditor of A's son who in execution has attached the son's interest in the property of his deceased father has an interest sufficient to justify him in opposing the grant APARAJASTIAN A S J C NARAYANA AYLAR (1910) 1 L R 34 Mad 405

6 ————— Standard of proof ————— Testimony capacity — Evidence as to execution — Pre sumption — Expert evidence relevancy and weight of the evidence — Source ion Act (I of 1855) ss 46 48 101 102 Evidence Act (I of 1857) ss 3 10 45 101 102 The standard of proof to establish a will required by the Indian Statute is that of the prudent man and not an absolute or conclusive one. The doctrine in Tyrrill v. Tinsion (1844) P 131 and Barry v. Dulin 2 Moo P C 450 disapproved. Shama Churn Kundu v. Aklaram Das 11 P 27 Cal 61 L P 271 A 10 referred to. The presumption against misconduct exists in a civil case though it may be rebutted by a lower standard of proof than that in a criminal trial. Coe v. Sledge 6 H L Cas 46 and Dennis v. Fisher 10 Moo P C 50ⁿ referred to. The admissibility relevancy and weight of the evidence of expert discussed Per WOODROFFE J—If the cross examining counsel after putting a paper into the hands of a witness merely asks him some question as to its general nature or identity his adversary will have no right to see the document but if the paper be used for the purpose of refreshing the memory of the witness or if any question be put respecting its contents or as to the handwriting in which it is written a sight of it may then be demanded by the opposite counsel Peck v Peck 21 L T R 610 referred to JARAT HUMARI DAS v BISSESSER DUTT (1911).

PROBATE—contd

I L R 39 Cal 245

7 ——— Caveat—if may be entered by widow of a predeceased son—Maintenance of widow of predeceased son if may be affected by probate proceedings—Obligation of the heir—Sufficient interest The widow of a predeceased son of the testator has in fact no interest sufficient to enable her to appear on probate proceedings. Her right to maintenance will not be affected by anything that may take place on the hearing of an application for probate Bai Parbati v Tarunadi Dolatram I L R 35 Bom 963 cited from Jamunbai v Manubai I L R 9 Bom 605 approved Rangammal v Echemmal I L R 2 Mad 405 followed Seddesbury Das v Janardan Sarkar I L R 29 Cal 551 6 C B 430 referred to In the goods of CHANDRA CHANDRA BABAJEE (1913) 17 C W N 1141

8 ——— Limitation—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 164—Its applicability to probate proceedings—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 83 S 164 of the Limitation Act does not apply to the case of one who is not a defendant in a probate proceeding. Merely citing a person in a probate application does not make him a defendant. Under s 83 of the Probate and Administration Act the case must be contentious and the person cited must appear to oppose the grant before he becomes a defendant. The limitation laid down in Art 164 of the Limitation Act applies to the case of a defendant as understood by s 83 of the Probate and Administration Act Bai Manekbai v Manekji Karanje I L R 7 Bom 213 Tiluck Singh v Larotein Prosad I L R 23 Cal 94 Rahmat Karim v Abdul Karim I L R 34 Cal 672 referred to SAROJA SUNDARI BASAK v ADHOY CHARAN BASAK (1914).

I L R 41 Cal 819

9 ——— Joint Hindu family Ancestral property—Will—Payment of full probate duty. In a case where there was admittedly a joint Hindu family consisting of a father and a minor son the father made a will in effect bequeathing the whole property to his minor son. It was not disputed that the property covered by the will was joint family property. The executors contended that the deceased testator had no beneficial interest in any part of the property devised and therefore they were exempted from the payment of any probate duty. Held that where the matter in question was probate the parties claiming under the will could not go behind its terms or claim any exemption whatsoever upon allegations utterly inconsistent not only with the fact of the will itself but with the express statements made therein and that the executors must pay full probate duty upon the will. Collector of Kara v Chinnai I L R 29 Bom 161 distinguished KASHINATH PARSHARAM v GOURAVA BAI (1914) I L R 39 Bom 245

PROBATE—contd

10 ——— Revocation—Will validity of—Proof in common form—Knowledge—Acquiescence—Delay—Probate and Administration Act (I of 1881) s 30 It does not matter by what facts knowledge of the grant of probate and acquiescence in it are established for neither knowledge nor acquiescence nor lapse of time are of themselves operative as a bar to the proceeding which every person interested in the estate of the testator has a right to bring if he was not made a party in the probate proceeding. His application must be bona fide and he must give some reasonable and true explanation of the delay. Hoffman v Norris 2 Phillim 230 Merrycather v Turner 3 Curt 809 and Kunja Lal Choudhury v Kaila Chandra Choudhury 14 C B 1 1068 referred to MAHARAJA CHONDHRANI v SHIVA SUNDARI MOZUNDAR (1914) I L R 42 Cal 480

11 ——— Revocation—Probate or letters of administration revocation of—Effect on alienation under revoked grant—Void or voidable grant—Mortgage to pay off debt due by estate if subsists after revocation. A purchaser of property sold under a grant of probate or letters of administration subsequently revoked in order to discharge a debt which the true executor or administrator was compellable to pay acquires an indefeasible title. There has been a divergence of judicial opinion on the question of the effect of revocation of a probate or letters of administration the effect being made to depend upon whether the grant was void or voidable. A view more favourable to the rights of a bona fide transferee for value without notice has been taken in recent decisions where grants have been treated as operative until revoked even when obtained by fraud and by suppression of the fact that the deceased had left a will. Debendra Anil Dutt v Administrator General of Bengal I L R 35 I A 109 1 C L P 35 Cal 955 19 C B 809 referred to. Where a co-proprietor of the executor having satisfied the entire Government revenue obtained a decree for contribution against him and in execution thereof a property belonging to the estate was sold at an inadequate price and meanwhile the probate having been revoked administrators appointed in his place with the Court's sanction mortgaged the property to procure money which they applied in setting aside the sale under s 310A of the Civil Procedure Code of 1882 and subsequently on appeal by the executor the latter was restored to office and the letters of administration were cancelled. Held that the mortgage held good. SAILAJA PRADAN CHATTOPJEE v JADU NATH BOSE (1914) 19 C W N 240

12 ——— Succession duty—Court Fees Act (II of 1870) s 19 (c) amended by Act VIII of 1875 s 19 (1)—Duty of the first executor—Application for second probate—Duty payable if any on second probate. When an executor to whom probate has been granted dies leaving a part of the testator's estate unadministered and a new representative is appointed for the purpose of completing the administration there being no new succession and no new devolution of the estate no fresh succession duty should be levied. What the legislature appears to have intended is that where the full fee chargeable under the Court Fees Act on a probate at the time it is granted

PROBATE—contd

... shall be chargeable
... grant is made in respect of that ... property as comprised in that estate In the goods of Chalmers 21 W P 246 In the goods of Gasper 1 L P 3 Ca's 73 In the goods of Innes
16 W R 253 In the goods of Baitlaar (1908)
L. B. R. 255 In the goods of Ameernun 15 W R 496 Webster v Spencer 3 B & Ald 360 Cum mins 3 Jo & Lat 65 In the goods of Bell L P
2 P & D 247 Anon 1 Freeman 313 Anon 1
Ch Ca 265 and Watkins v Brent 1 M's & Cr
104 referred to SWARNA JAYE DEBI & SECRE TARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915)

I L R 43 Cal 625

13 ————— Executor not renouncing on citation must take out probate—Letters of Administration can otherwise issue An executor called upon by citation to accept or renounce is clearly compellable if he accept to take out probate within a limited time If he does not do so Letters of Administration with copy of the will annexed may be granted to any competent applicant
KAVASJI SORABJI & BAI DEDAI (1916)

I L R 40 Bom 666

14 ————— Granted after service of citation upon father of testator's childless widow who was appointed her guardian ad litem—Application for revocation by widow who received benefits under Will—Proceedings with it can be re opened—Appointment of guardian ad litem—His consent whether necessary—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXXII r 4 effect and applicability of—Citation whether summon—Object of citation—Probate and Administration Act (1 of 1881) s 83
Where the mother of the testator as executrix applied for probate citation was issued upon the father of the testator's childless widow who was appointed guardian ad litem for the widow
The father refused to accept the citation and it was fixed on the door of his house Probate was granted on the 13th March 1912 The widow came of age in 1913 On the 18th November 1918 a petition for revocation of probate was filed The District Judge revoked the probate on the ground that the father of the widow entered no appearance Held that the widow for several years having received benefits under the Will the proceedings could not be re opened Kunja Lal v Kailash 14 C W N 1068 (1910) and Monorama v Shiva 19 C W N 366 (1914) referred to Where a Will of which probate is sought affects the interests of a minor it may be expedient as a rule of practice to appoint a guardian ad litem for the minor But it does not follow that every rule in O XXXII is thus made strictly and legally applicable A citation for probate is not a summons to appear The object of citations whether general or special is to give those interested an opportunity of coming in if they so choose and contesting the application for probate Until a caveat is entered the proceedings are not contentious S 83 of the Probate and Administration Act shows that up to that stage there is no issue and no suit Until contest arises, O XXXII of the Civil Procedure Code would seem to have no application to the proceedings The effect of s 4 of XXXII is that no person can be appointed a guardian ad litem without his express consent
The question whether the person appointed guardian ad litem consented to act will always be one of importance on the merits PADHASHYAM DAS & PANGA SUNDARI DAS 24 C W N 541

15 ————— Compromise—of probate proceedings ing validity of—withdrawal of application for probate effect of—whether second application for probate can be made An application for probate cannot legally be disposed of by a compromise
The law imposes on the court itself the duty of determining whether the will is genuine or not The provision in O XXIII r 1 to the effect that if a plaintiff withdraws from a suit he shall be precluded from instituting a fresh suit in respect of the same subject matter does not apply to an application for probate The circumstances of a probate case do not properly admit of the withdrawal of an application for probate by an Executor JYOTIRHAR NATH SARAI & JAGAT PRASAD 2 Pat L J 535

16 ————— Will by two persons Two persons can make a joint will JETHABHAI GORAL DAS & PANCHOTAS HAV A (19.0.)

I L R 45 Bom 667

17 ————— Executors—Executor and a Hindu will carrying on family business—Debts incurred therein—Creditor's remedy against executor personally Executor's right to indemnity—Executor if sufficiently represents estate when his interest adverse to beneficiary—Minor represented by nominee of party having adverse interest An executor appointed under Act 1 of 1881 is in many respects in a different position from a Hindu widow succeeding to her husband's estate as guardian of a minor or a shraut of an idol The executor who borrows money in the course of the administration for the purposes of the estate is personally responsible for the payment of such debts though he is entitled to be indemnified out of the estate for such borrowing if he shows it was reasonably and properly made This principle has been accepted by the Calcutta High Court as applicable to Hindu executors The principle applies equally to borrowings by the executor in conducting a family business which in India is regarded as a heritable asset and the executor is personally responsible for them subject to his right of indemnity against the estate upon proof that the borrowing was in all respects proper and for the benefit of the estate Where certain funds sued on were rejected as being insufficiently stamped Held that the plaintiffs were entitled to sue for the consideration Ordinarily executors would fully represent the estate but not in a case where their personal interest as executors were diametrically opposed to those of the beneficiary and the estate A minor represented as guardian by a nominee of a party whose interest is adverse to the minor is not properly represented in the suit SUDHIR CHANDRA DAS & GOBINDA CHANDRA FOY (1917)

I L R 45 Cal 535
21 C W N 1043

18 ————— Delay—Delay in taking out probate of a will if justified by circumstances and reasons—Probate applied for on necessity arguing Where a long time elapsed between the death of the testatrix and the date on which the will was put forward for probate and the testatrix was an illiterate Hindu lady the prior history of the case was worthy of consideration Where there were reasons for the delay in proceeding the will

PROBATE—contd

although in such a case the Court was bound to scrutinize the evidence very carefully there was no rule of the law of evidence that such a will was incapable of being proved. PROBATE DUTY r HEIDAY NATH GHOSAL (191) 22 C W N 424

19 ——— Accounts—Probate and Administration (Act I of 1881) s 50 clause 5 of the explanation and s 93 sub s (1)—Liability to submit accounts if periodical—Correct account for period antecedent to the final grant of probate if just cause for revoking the probate The statute contemplates the submission of one account only and the executors are under no liability to submit accounts periodically. Correct accounts submitted for the period antecedent to the final grant of probate is not a just cause for revoking the probate under clause 5 of the explanation to s 50 of the Probate and Administration Act. CHANDRA KUMAR CHAKRAVARTI v. PRASAD KUMAR CHAKRAVARTI (1921)

I L R 48 Calc 1051

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)

See HINDU LAW—WILL

See LIMITATION ACT

I L R 37 Mad 175

See RECEIVER I L R 37 Calc 754

——— Sale by executor before probate—

See EXECUTOR SALE BY

I L R 38 Mad 575

——— whether obtaining of Probate necessary before Executor can sue—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)

I L R 37 Mad 175

——— ss. 2 and 4—

See EXECUTOR SALE BY

I L R 38 Mad 575

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 39 Mad 385

——— ss. 2 51 56 87

See PROBATE I L R 37 Calc 224

——— s 3—

See WILL I L R 43 Bom 641

——— ss. 2 51 53—

See TRANSFER

I L R 42 Calc 842

——— s 4—

See EXECUTOR SALE BY

I L R 36 Mad. 575

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 38 Mad. 369

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

I L R 37 Mad 175

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PROBATE

I L R 37 Calc 839

See SETTLEMENT BY A HINDU WOMAN ON TRUSTS I L R 40 Bom 341

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—contd

——— s 5—contd

Chandernagore executed a mytic will according to the provisions of the French Code. On his death a general legatee applied to the Court at Chandernagore for having the will deposited according to the French law. After the usual proceedings were taken the French Court recognized the will and made it over to a Notary with power to give copies to the parties. The trustees under the will applied to the District Judge of Hughly for letters of administration with a copy of the will annexed. Held that s 5 of the Probate and Administration Act does not require that the will should have been deposited once and remain in Court for all time. The fact that the will was deposited in the French Court and the Court had before it the original will at the time it made a judicial pronouncement as to the validity of the will under the French law was a sufficient deposit within the meaning of s 5. That the French Court having so provided a copy authenticated by the notarial seal was a properly authenticated copy within the meaning of s 5. SUSHILABALA DASGI v. ANUKUL CHANDRA CHOUDEHURY (1918)

22 C W N 713

——— ss 5 50 62 64 and 76—Probate valuation for—

See PROBATE DUTY 6 Pat L J 411

——— ss 13 19 31 33 and 41—Legal guardian—disqualified proprietor whether entitled to grant—Procedure when grant applied for by minor's guardian—Statutory person powers of—Court of Wards whether manager of is entitled to grant The words legal guardian in s 31 of the Probate and Administration Act 1881 mean a guardian appointed under the authority of law. If a guardian appointed under the Guardian and Wards Act s 19 does not deprive a disqualified proprietor from obtaining a grant of letters of administration provided such proprietor is not a minor or a lunatic. Letters of administration cannot be granted to a minor but under s 31 they may be granted to the legal guardian of a minor if the minor is the sole residuary legatee and under s 33 they may be granted to the person to whom the care of the minor's estate has been committed by competent authority if the minor is the sole universal or residuary legatee or a person who would be solely entitled to the estate of the intestate. When an application is made under s 31 or 33 it must be made on behalf of the guardian and not on behalf of the minor through the guardian and the guardian must in the first place apply to be appointed the minor's guardian for the purpose of enabling him to obtain letters of administration for the use and benefit of the minor. Until he has obtained an order of the Court appointing him guardian he cannot be considered a legal guardian within the meaning of s 31 or a person to whom the care of the minor's estate has been committed by a competent authority within the meaning of s 33. Although the granting of letters of administration is discretionary the discretion must be exercised in accordance with rules formulated and acted upon in the courts for many years. The main object of a grant being the protection and benefit of the estate the court has a discretion to refuse to the person who has the largest interest that in ——— s 5—Deposited in Court meaning of—Will proved in French Court and kept with Notary if deposit within the meaning of section—Copy given by Notary of authenticated copy within the meaning of section A French subject of

ADMINISTRATION ACT (V

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—contd

—contd

ss 13 19 31 33 and 41—contd

his hands the estate will suffer irretrievable loss and damage but the court is not entitled to pass over a person entitled to the grant on the ground that it is more satisfactory to make the grant to someone else. When dealing with a statutory person such as the manager of the Court of Wards it is necessary to examine the statute to see what power he can properly exercise under the statute and to regard that as impliedly prohibited which is not conferred on him expressly or by necessary implication. Although the manager of the Court of Wards has wide powers of management over the estate of a disqualified proprietor there is nothing in the Act which entitles him as such manager and by virtue of his office to apply for letters of administration to the estate of a deceased person in which the disqualified proprietor has a larger interest. BHAGWATI KHER v. BAHURIA RAMSANKI KHER 5 Pat. L. J. 347

s. 16—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
I L R 47 Cal. 835

s. 19—

See s. 13 5 Pat. L. J. 347

ss 19 and 24—

See WILL

19 C W N 527

s. 23—Grant of Letters of Administration—Title to property of Court would go into in granting administration—Practice. It is not the practice of the Court in its Testamentary and Intestate jurisdiction to go into questions of title in a application for the grant of letters of administration. The Court would not frame a issue or go into evidence to decide as to who is entitled to the property. Letters of administration were ordered to be issued to the husband in respect of his deceased wife's estate upon furnishing security upon allegation in the husband's petition that part of such estate was jantula tridhan although it was denied by his wife's brother who entered caveat but did not apply for letters of administration himself. In the goods of Paghubar Hiam 3 C W N 345 and Ochava Ram v. Dolatram I L R 23 Bom 633 relied on. NISHI KANTA CHATTERJEE v. ANANTHON MUKHERJEE (1912) 17 C W N 613

ss. 23, 64, 69, 70 and 73—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
5 Pat. L. J. 10*

ss. 26 and

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
14 C W N 463

ss. 31, 33 and 23—

See s. 13 5 Pat. L. J. 347

s. 34—If/ron/ful alienation of deceased estate apprehended by executor—Temporary injunction application for relief—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O XXXIX r 1—Administrator pendente lite, appointment of proper course—Injunction when may be granted—English practice—A probate proceeding is not a suit in which there is property in dispute as contemplated by r 1 of O XXXIX of the Civil Procedure Code as the

s. 34—contd

only question in controversy in such a proceeding is that of representation of the estate of the deceased and no question of title thereto or the title of the deceased or of the conflicting titles alleged by the parties to the proceeding can be investigated by the court. But the Court of Probate is not therefore incompetent to grant a temporary injunction in any circumstance. The proper procedure to follow in cases of this description is for the aggrieved party to apply to the Court for the appointment of an administrator pendente lite. When such an application has been made the Court may in case of necessity grant a temporary injunction either in exercise of its inherent power or under r 7 of O XXXIX of the Civil Procedure Code. English practice referred to and contrasted. NIROD KARANI DESAI v. CHAKRABARTI DEBI (1914) 19 C W N 205

s. 37—Moult of math—Death—

Application by claimant to office for letters of administration—Trust estate—Beneficiary—Shedat and idol relation of. A moult is not the owner of the property of the math and on his death a person claiming to be his successor in office cannot apply under Act I of 1881 for letters of administration in respect of the math property. The object of the Act is intended to apply only to property in which the deceased person had owned his share to constitute it a portion of his estate although he held it in trust. Ranji Singh v. Jagannath Prasad Gupta I L R 10 Cal 315 distinguished. Mohammed Jib Lal Chir v. Mohammed Jaga Mohan Chir (1898) 16 C W N 799

s. 41—This section does not apply where there is no want of persons entitled to letters of administration. It does not empower the court to make a merely arbitrary selection from among persons contending for the grant. In a proper case but not merely by virtue of his office a nominee of the Court of Wards may be within the phrase "some person within the meaning of s. 41." BHAGWATI KHER v. RAMSANKI KHER 5 Pat. L. J. 347

s. 50—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
3 Pat. L. J. 415
I L R 40 Cal. 50
See PROBATE
I L R 37 Cal. 357
I L R 42 Cal. 430
I L R 43 Cal. 1751

Percentage of grant

Just cause material administration of—Quarrels between co-administrators making grant of estate inoperative if ground for annulment. Administration is not under s. 50 Expt (4) of the Probate and Administration Act a just cause for revocation of probate. Amala decided in Ka is followed. I L R 44 Cal. 95 followed. The words "come under s. 50 and inoperative" in s. 50 Expt (4) of the Act imply the discovery of something which is known at the date of the grant would have been a ground for refusing it e.g. the discovery of a later will or codicil or a subsequent discovery that the will was forged or that it alleged to be later was still living. Tal Chandra Thakur v. Salwar I L R 46 Bom 27 approved. One of two joint administrators applied for the revocation of the grant to the other on the ground that in consequence of quarrels between them it had become impossible to carry on the administration and the grant had in this way become inoperative and useless. Held that this was no ground for revoking the grant. GOUR CHANDRA DAS v SAPAT SUNDARI DAS (1912) I L R 40 Calc 50

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—contd

s 50—contd

18 C W N 883

Grant revocation of—Creditor's rights to contest will pronounced in fraud of creditors—Order holding applicant his right is appealable—Interlocutory order Where eight years after the death of B one of his sons L obtained letters of administration with a copy annexed of an alleged will left by B which if genuine would deprive another son S who had meanwhile become heavily involved in debt of a very large share of his inheritance. Held that the creditors of S were entitled to apply for revocation of the will their application being based on the ground that the probate had been obtained in fraud of creditor. Sheikh Azim v Chandrarath Namdas 8 C W N 748 Nilmans Singh Deo v Urianath Woolerye I L R 19 Calc 19 Kishan Das v Satyendra Nath Dutt I L R 98 Calc 441 referred to Semle. No appeal lay from an order of the trial judge holding that the creditors had locus standi to contest the will the same being merely in interlocutory. Sheikh Azim v Chandrarath Namdas 8 C W N 748 Abhiram Das v Gopal Das I L R 17 Calc 48 referred to LAKSHI NARAYAN SHAW v MULTAN CHAND DAGA (1912) 18 C W N 1099

Civil Procedure

Code (1908) ss 114 and 151—Letters of Administration—Cancellation of order—Procedure A Court which has once granted letters of administration cannot revoke them without notice to the persons in whose favour they have been granted. Where letters of administration have been granted ex parte and an application is made to revoke them it is open to the court concerned to proceed either under s 114 or s 151 of the Code of Civil Procedure or under s 50 of the Probate and Administration Act (1881). PARMAN v BOHRA NEX RAM (1915) I L R 37 All 280

Revocation application for—Question of genuineness of will if arises—Just cause—Fraudulent concealment from Court by person cited of transfer of his interests—Assignee not cited in consequence—Assignee may apply for revocation when assignment subsequent to testator's death No question of the genuineness of the will arises for consideration till the Court has decided that the probate must be revoked on one or more of the grounds specified in s 50 of the Probate and Administration Act. The only matter for consideration upon an application for revocation of probate is whether the applicants have made out a just cause for revocation. The application could not be thrown out at this stage on the ground that the evidence adduced by the applicant was not sufficient to throw doubt upon the genuineness of the will. A person interested by assignment in the estate of the deceased may where a will has been set up and proved at variance with his interests apply for revocation of the probate of the will so set up. He need not show that he had an interest in the estate of the deceased

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—contd

s 50—contd

at the time of his death. An interest acquired subsequently by purchase of a part of the estate is sufficient. Where A having applied for probate of a will caused citation to be issued on B his father who but for the will would inherit a portion of the estate but the notice was served on B a week after L had assigned his interests to C but neither B nor A who presumably knew of the transfer by B brought the fact of the assignment to the Court a notice and probate was granted without the assignee's getting any notice of the proceedings. Held that the proceeding is not defective in substance was bad because the grant was obtained fraudulently by making a false suggestion or by concealing from the Court something material to the case. MOKNADASINI DASSI v KARADHAR MANDAL (1911) 19 C W N 1108

Application for revocation of grant of probate—Explanation of a, circumstances in which a grant of probate is to be deemed to have become useless and inoperative—of executor's inventory and accounts significance of the expression—Period during which executor entitled to continue in possession—s 98 (1) executor is liable to submit accounts periodically—Necessity of giving full and specific details in objections to executor's inventory and accounts An application under sec 50 of the Probate and Administration Act for revocation of a probate was made on the allegations firstly that the grant had become useless and inoperative through circumstances and secondly that the persons to whom the grant had been made had wilfully omitted to exhibit an inventory and accounts in accordance with the provisions of Chap VII of the Probate Act and had further exhibited an inventory and accounts which were untrue in material respects. Held—That as long as the person entitled to the estate has not taken it out of the possession of the executors they are entitled to continue in occupation of the estate. Bombay Burma Trading Corporation Ltd v Frederick York Smith I L R 211 A 130 s c I L R 19 Bom 1 at p 9 (1894) referred to. That as under the terms of the will there were duties still to be performed by the executors it could not be maintained that the grant had become inoperative through circumstances. Taran Singh v Ramrajan Tewari I L R 31 Calc 89 (1903) and Saniarraiah v Buddulata 28 C L J 261 (1918) distinguished. Held further—That the statute contemplates the submission of one inventory and one account and not periodical accounts. What is contemplated is that an account should be filed within one year from the grant showing the assets which have come to the hands of the executor or administrator and the manner in which such assets have been applied or disposed of. The fact that time has been extended by the Court does not enlarge the scope of the account. The account of the estate which is required to be exhibited whether it is exhibited within a year or there after is the account contemplated by the second paragraph of sub sec 1 of sec 98. Mohesh v Binnu Nath I L R 23 Calc 20 s c 7 C W N 646 (1897) and Sarat Sundari v Uma Prasad I L R 31 Calc 678 s c 8 C W N 578 (followed. It is

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1981)~contd

§ 34—contd

13 19 31 33 and 41—cont'd

his hands the estate will suffer irretrievable loss and damage but the court is not entitled to pass over a person entitled to the grant on the ground that it is more satisfactory to make the grant to someone else. When dealing with a statutory person such as the manager of the Court of Wards it is necessary to examine the statute to see what powers he can properly exercise under the statute and to regard that as impliedly prohibited which is not conferred on him expressly or by necessary implication. Although the manager of the Court of Wards has wide powers of management over the estate of a disqualified proprietor there is no hint in the Act which entitles him as such manager and by virtue of his office to apply for letters of administration to the estate of a deceased person in which the disqualified proprietor has a larger interest. BHAGWATI KHER v. BHADURI RAMSABHI KHER 5 Pat L J 347

8 16—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
I L R 47 Calc 838

8 19--

Dec 8 1955 5 Pat L J 347

—ss 18 and 24—

See WILL

18 E W N 527

23—Grant of Letters of Administration—Title III properly of Court would go into in granting administration—Practice It is not the practice of the Court in its Testamentary and Intestate jurisdiction to go into questions of title in a application for the grant of letters of administration The Court would not frame issues or go into evidence to decide as to who is entitled to the property Letters of administration were ordered to be issued to the husband in respect of his deceased wife's estate upon furnishing security upon allegation in the husband's petition that part of such estate was jantika stridhan although it was denied by his wife's brother who entered caveat but did not apply for letters of administration himself In the goods of Rajghubar Hazam 3 C IF N celarum Rajkumath Vs. ser v Must Pale Koor 6 C W N 345 and Ochakra ram v Dolatram I L R 28 Bom 644 cited on NIJAI KANTA CHATTERJEE v ASHUTOSH MUKERJEE (1912) 17 C W N 613

EX 64, 69 70 and 73--

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

5 Pat L J 107

$3 26 64

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

14 C W N 463

is 31 35 and 23—

See s 13 5 Pat L J 347

31- Wrongful alienation of deceased estate apprehended by caretaker—Temporary injunction application for by executors—Civil Procedure Code (Act of 1908) O XXXV rr 1 —Administrator pendente lite appointment of proper course —Injunction when may be granted—English practice
 A probate proceeding is not a suit in which there is property in dispute as contemplated by r 1 of O XXXV of the Civil Procedure Code as the only question in controversy in such a proceeding is that of representation of the estate of the deceased and no question of title thereto or the title of the deceased or of the conflicting titles alleged by the parties to the proceeding can be investigated by the court. But the Court of probate is not therefore incompetent to grant a temporary injunction in any circumstance. The proper procedure to follow in cases of this description is for the aggrieved party to apply to the Court for the appointment of an administrator pendente lite. When such an application has been made the Court may in case of necessity grant a temporary injunction either in exercise of its inherent power or under r 7 of O XXV of the Civil Procedure Code. English practice referred to and contrasted NIRON PARANI DEBI & CHANAKSHINI DEBI (1914) 18 C W N 205

37—Mokunt of math—Deaf—

Application by claimant to office for letters of administration—Trust estate—Beneficiary—Shedai and idol relation of A mohunt is not the owner of the property of the math and on his death a person claiming to be his successor in office cannot apply under Act V of 1881 for letters of administration in respect of the math property. s 37 of the Act is intended to apply only to property in which the deceased person had owner ship so as to constitute it a portion of his estate at the time he held it in trust. Ranjit Singh v Jaganna bhai Prosad Gupta 1 L R 10 Cal 375 distinguished. WORTH JIM LAL GILL v WORTH JAGA MONI GILL (1898) 18 C W N 788

§ 41- This section does not apply where there is no want of persons entitled to letters of administration. It does not empower the court to make a merely arbitrary selection from among persons contending for the grant in a proper case but not merely by virtue of his office a nominee of the Court of Wards was come within the phrase some person within the meaning of s 41. BRAONATI ARZE : BARTHA 5 Pat L J 247

9. 50

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
3 Pat. L. 3 415
3 Pat. L. 3 415

See PROBATE

I L R 42 Calc 1951
I L R 48 Calc 1951

Just cause wasal administration of Quarta between co administrators making grant & clerical certificate of growth for annuitant Mal administration is not under s 50 Expt (f) of the Probate and Administration Act a just cause for revocation of probate Ananda I rad v Fa' Inupha L L P 24 Calc 95 followed The words become useless and inoperative in s 50 Expt (f) of the Act imply the discovery of something which has been known at the date of the grant would have been a ground for refusing it eg the discovery of a later will or codicil or a subsequent discovery that the will was forged or that the alleged testator was still living Hal Canjodhar Thak v Salvas L L P 6 Bom 9th approved One of two joint administrators applied for the rescission of

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—contd

s. 62—

See s. 50 19 C W N 882

ss. 62, 63 and 76—

See PROBATE VALUATION FOR
I L R 43 All 411

s. 64—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

14 C W N 463
5 Pat L J 107

s. 69—

See s. 50 13 C W N 119
19 C W N 882

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

5 Pat L J 107

ss. 70 and 73—

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

5 Pat L J 107

s. 78—

See s. 50 13 C W N 763
I L R 47 Calc 115

ss. 78 and 86—

See ADMINISTRATION BOND
I L R 39 Calc 563

ss. 79 and 80—Administration bond—

A signee not enforcing bond—Second assignment of valid—Order of appealable An administration bond can be assigned by the District Judge upon conditions under s. 79 of the Probate and Administration Act. But there is no provision in the law authorising the District Judge to assign it again while the first assignment is still in force. Where the first assignee having come to terms with the administrator other persons interested in the estate applied to have the bond transferred to them and the application was granted. Held that no appeal lay from the order but the order being without jurisdiction could be set aside in revision. Brojo Nath Pal v Dasmoni Das 2 C L R 589 Abhiram Das v Gopal Das I L R 17 Calc 48 followed Umacharan v Multakeshi I L R 28 Calc 149 commented on SHUKH BALINDUPPIN v MUBSANNMAT MABURNI (1912) 16 C W N 662

s. 81—Indian Succession Act (V of 1865) s. 250—Will—Probate—Caveator—Interest passes by the caveator. The provision of s. 81 of the Probate and Administration Act 1881 (which correspond with those of s. 250 of the Indian Succession Act 1865) enact that the interest which entitles a person to put in a caveat must be an interest in the estate of the deceased person that is there should be no dispute whatever as to the title of the deceased to the estate but that the person who wishes to come in as the caveator must show some interest in the estate derived from the deceased by inheritance or otherwise. Abhiram Das v Gopal Das I L R 17 Calc 48 followed PIPOJSHAN BHUKAJI v PES TOJJI MERWANJI (1910) I L R 34 Bom 459

s. 82—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 30 Mad 365

ss. 82 and 82—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 30 Mad 365

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—contd

s. 83—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s. 41
I L R 33 Bom 309

See PLEADER & FEE

I L R 41 Calc 637

See PROBATE I L R 41 Calc 819

See WILL 14 C W N 921

Probate case—Procedure S. 83 of the Probate and Administration Act read with O. XVIII r. 3 Civil Procedure Code merely means that in a probate case the Civil Procedure Code so far as possible determines the procedure of the Court. These sections nowhere say that it is competent to the Court to allow the parties to divide the testator's property without proving the will. Kunja Lal Choudhury v Kailash Chandra Choudhury 14 C W N 1063 and Saroda Kanta Dass v Gobinda Mohan Dass 12 C L J 91 referred to. There can be no dismissal of a probate case in accordance with the terms of a petition of compromise between the propounder and objector. The main issue in such a case is whether or not the will has been proved and the only effect of a compromise is to reduce a contentious proceeding into one which is not contentious but this does not absolve the Court from the task of their granting probate or refusing it. If a compromise has been made and the objector withdraws from the contest the Court will grant probate in common form but the Court cannot dismiss the case altogether and embody the terms of the compromise as if the decree was one capable of execution by him. JANAKBATT THAKUR RAIY v GAJANAND (1916) 20 C W N 986

1 Pat L J 377

s. 86—

See ADMINISTRATION BOND

I L R 39 Calc 563

ss. 85 and 90—Administrator's application to sell granted against opposition—Appeal—Order of appealable as decree or irrespective of whether order decree or not—Interlocutory orders under the Act of appealable A Hindu widow who had obtained Letters of Administration to the estate of her deceased husband applied under s. 90 of the Probate and Administration Act for permission to sell the dwelling house for the purpose of satisfying debts. The application which was opposed by the reversioner having been granted the latter appealed. Held per D. CHATTERJEE J that the order was a decree as defined in the Civil Procedure Code and was appealable as such. Quere Whether s. 86 of the Probate and Administration Act in making orders of the Probate Court appealable under the rules contained in the Civil Procedure Code means only that the procedure in such appeals would be as in appeals under the Civil Procedure Code. Per DEACH CROFT J—An appeal lay under the terms of s. 86 of the Probate and Administration Act irrespective of whether the order was a decree or not. SARAT CHANDRA PAL v DEVODI KUMARI DASSI (1914) 20 C W N 23

s. 87—

See PROBATE I L R 37 Calc 224

s. 89—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O. XXII
s. 1 I L R 31 Mad 357

vol (V

PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT (V OF 1881)—concl

s. 90—*contd*s. 90—contd

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—PRE EMPTION
I L R 36 Bom 144
I L R 41 Bom 636

See VALICIOUS PROSECUTION
4 Pat L J 676

See PENAL CODE s. 323
I L R 44 Mad 417

s. 304 323 I L R 1 Lah 27

Executors also appointed shebais—Heirs of such Shebais if liable to render accounts de bonis non S by will appointed A and B his executors as well as Shebais of an idol in whose favour the will created a trust in respect of the whole of his properties S left a widow and a daughter The daughter obtained administration de bonis non of the estate of S and brought a suit against the heirs of A for delivery to her of the Debutter estate and for accounts Held that the suit was misconceived As soon as debts legacies and funeral expenses were paid the executors would hold the property upon the trusts of the Will and there would be no property administered by the executors which would pass to any administratrix de bonis non appointed by the Probate Court If the property became trust property it was not for the administrator to ask for accounts and the administratrix de bonis non could not maintain a suit of this nature GOUR CHANDRA DAS v SREEMATI MOYMOYI

25 C W N 332

s. 90—

See s. 86 20 C W N 28

See COMPROMISE DECREE
14 C W N 451

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION

I L R 43 Cal 1118

Sanction of Court obtained in respect of principal but not of interest—Stipulation as to interest if binding—Post diem interest S 90 of the Probate and Administration Act which authorises an administrator to grant a mortgage of immoveable property vested in him only with the previous permission of the Probate Court implies that sanction of the Court should be taken on all the essential elements of the mortgage transaction including the provision for payment of interest Where the principal amount only was mentioned in the application for sanction but in the mortgage actually executed the administrators stipulated to pay compound interest at 30 per cent per annum with half yearly rests the Court reduced it to simple interest at 9 per cent per annum and it was directed that the interest should be added to the mortgage money as was done in Chajmal v Brij Bhulan L R 22 I A 199 s. c. I L R 17 All 511 SAILAJA PRASAD CHATTERJEE v JADU NATH BOSE (1914)

19 C W N 240

Power of Hindu widow heiress to sell as administratrix if restricted—Order of Judge granting her leave to sell if may be collaterally attacked in Land Acquisition proceedings There is nothing in the Probate and Administration Act which would justify a differentiation between the powers of an administratrix who happens also to be a Hindu widow and heiress of her husband and those of any other administrator under the Act Kamakhya Nath v Hari Churn I L R 26 Cal 607 followed. The validity of an order by a District Judge granting leave to an administrator to sell property cannot be challenged collaterally in Land Acquisition proceedings Quere Whether the order can be so challenged on the ground of fraud. CHURU LAL HALDAR v MUKSHADA DEBI (1919)

23 C W N 652

s. 92—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 29 Mad 365

s. 98—

See COURT FEES AMENDMENT ACT 1899
s. 19H I L R 41 Cal 658

s. 112—

See LEGACY I L R 36 Bom 111

PROBATE DUTY

See COURT FEES ACT 1870

2 Pat L J 611

Valuation of estate for Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881), ss. 5, 59, 62, 64 and 76—Court Fees Act (VII of 1870) Sch. 1 Art. 11 Sch. III Probate duty is calculated on the value of the estate at time of application for Probate or Administration and not at the date of the death of the Testator or intestate and for purposes of Court fees the present value is the basis of reckoning and not possible future value THE DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF SINGHDHUM v JAGADISH CHANDRA DEO DHABAN DES

6 Pat L J 411

PROBATE PROCEEDINGS

See INTERROGATOIRES

I L R 11 Cal 300

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION
3 Pat L J 415

See PLEADER'S FEES
I L R 41 Cal 637

See PROBATE.

Issue of citations on infant—Guardian of infant if must consent to appointment—Proof of consent—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1903) O. XXII r. 4—Probate and Administration Act (V of 1881) s. 50 O. XXII r. 4 of the Civil Procedure Code which provides that no person shall without his consent be appointed guardian ad litem of a minor does not apply to probate proceedings which have not arrived at the contentious stage Nevertheless when citation is issued upon an infant it is necessary for the protection of the interest of the infant that the Court should see that the person appointed guardian to receive such citation on behalf of the infant has consented to accept the appointment and take upon himself the onus that by virtue of the appointment falls upon him on behalf of the infant and it is for the person who got the guardian appointed to show the Court that that person accepted the appointment and took upon himself the burden thereof SACHINDRO NARAYAN SARKAR v HIRMOYEE DASGI

24 C W N 633

PROCEDURE

See ADMINISTRATION

I L R 41 Calc. 890

See APPEAL TO PRINCIPAL

See ARBITRATION I L R 53 All 743

See CIVIL PROCEDURE (1 of 1880)

s 373 3 I L R 56 All 172

See CIVIL PROCEDURE (1 of 1880)

4 I L R 45 Bom 718

s 4 I L R 35 All 243

4 s I L R 39 All 47

s 9 I L R 35 All 98

s 9s I L R 43 Bom. 433

10s O VI PR 27 AND 9

I L R 43 All 377

s 101 O VI R 13

I L R 39 All 8

O I P 3 O VII R 1

I L R 40 All 7

O II P - O VIII R 14

I L R 36 All 264

R 2 I L R 37 All 646

O VI R 1 AND 2 O VI R 17

I L R 35 All 163

O VI

O VI R 3 6 I L R 40 All 590

R 8 I L R 35 All 105

PR 8 AND O VII R 3 9

I L R 35 All 331

s 13 O VII s 3

I L R 39 All 143

O VI R 21 I L R 38 All 5

O VII R 3 O VI R 4

I L R 34 All 123

I L R 41 All 663

O VI R 23 I L R 34 All 612

RR 92 93

I L R 39 All 114

O VII R 8

I L R 39 All 396

O VI s 21 I L R 39 All 388

R 33 I L R 34 All 32

SCH II PARA 3

I L R 41 All 578

See COMPROMISE I L R 43 Calc. 469

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

I L R 42 Calc. 1169

See CRIMINAL COURT

I L R 43 All 283

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

ss 107 AND 145 I L R 34 All 449

I L P 36 All 143

ss 110 AND 123 I L R 40 All 39

s 17 I L R 35 All 103

s 133 I L R 37 All 26

ss 147 159 AND 476

I L R 32 All 30

ss 193 537 I L R 37 All 283

s 239 I L R 38 All 311

PROCEDURE—

s 41 40

I L R 36 All 13

s 4

I L R 34 All 354

s 40 7

I L R 50 All 132

s 40

I L R 36 All 431

s 41

I L R 37 All 331

s 41

I L R 39 All 308

s 40

I L R 40 All 307

s 40

I L P 43 All 180

s 4

I L P 41 All 197

s 4

I L R 40 All 52

See DEFENCE OF INDIA ACT (1 of 191)

s 2

I L R 41 All 164

See EXCISE I L R 41 Calc 694

See EXECUTION OF DECREES

I L R 44 Calc 1072

I L R 35 All 119

See FALSE INFORMATION

I L R 43 Calc. 173

See GUARDIANS AND WARDEN ACT (1 of 1890)

s 5 to 20 (CHAP II)

I L R 36 All 282

See HABEAS CORPUS

I L R 41 Calc 76 459

See INSOLVENCY I L R 47 Calc 56

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (1 of 1894)—

s 9

I L R 39 All 534

s 9 18 AND 20 I L R 37 All 69

See LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

I L R 47 Calc 838

See LIMITATION ACT (1 of 1908) s 3

I L R 36 All 235

See LUTACI ACT (1 of 1912)

I L R 43 All 459

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 42 Calc. 351

See MINOR I L R 32 All 287

See OFFENCE COMMITTED ON THE HIGH SEAS

I L R 36 Calc 487

See PARTIES I L R 46 Calc 48

See PARTITION SUIT FOR

I L R 38 Calc 681

See PENAL CODE—

ss 182 211

I L R 34 All 522

s 494

I L P 40 All 615

I L R 32 All 78

See PRACTICE—

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT

(1 of 1881) s 30

I L R 37 All 330

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (1 of 190)

s 13 (3) 17

I L R 36 All 63

ss 18 36 AND 4

I L R 37 All 65

s 26 46

I L R 36 All 8

s 36

I L R 39 All 391

See SMALL CAUSE C.

s 17

I L R 38

s 17

I L R 38

PROCEDURE—contd

See PATEABLE DISTRIBUTION

I L R 42 Calc 1

See PRESTIGATION ACT (XVI of 1908)

SS 31 32 52 87

I L R 35 All 34

See REVIEW I L R 45 Calc. 60

See REVIVOR I L R 43 Calc 903

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 37 Calc 714

I L R 44 Calc 816

14 C W N 806

See U P COURT OF WARDS ACT (III of 1890) ss 10 AND 20

I L R 37 All 585

See UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES ACT 1900—

ss 67 102

I L R 36 All 329

s 187

I L R 35 All 450

See WASTE LANDS ACT 1813 s 18

I L R 44 Calc 328

See WORKMEN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT (XIII of 1859) I L R 35 All 61

in partition Suit

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ss 110 AND 112 I L R 42 All 646

Security for good behaviour—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 110 AND 112 I L R 42 All 646

When accused believed of unsound mind—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 464 AND 465 I L R 42 All 137

When question at issue in Criminal proceedings is also sub judice in a Civil case—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 476 I L R 43 All 180

1 ——— Right to set aside consent decrees.—A consent decrees once duly obtained cannot be set aside by a rule but if it is sought to impeach it upon grounds of fraud that must be done in a regular suit. The only alternative which the law allows is an application for review of judgment. FATMADAT : SONDAI (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 77

2 ——— Appeal to High Court.—*Jurisdiction of High Court of Rights—Standard of Measurement—Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1859) s 531—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886) s 102 : sub s (3). The right of appeal to the High Court given by s 102A sub s (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1886 is subject to s 531 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1859, and can only be exercised upon the grounds mentioned. The High Court has therefore no jurisdiction under the sub section to set aside the decree of a District Judge upon the ground that he had applied the wrong standard of measurement to land of which the rent was in question. NARAYAN CHANDRA LAL : BRUKER (1913)*

I L R 45 I A 183

3. ——— Appeal—Security Bond in Decree Holder—Duration of Liability—Obligee not named in Decree—Enforcement—Civil Procedure Code (XVI of 1908) s 616—Civil Procedure Code

PROCEDURE—contd

(V of 1908) as 47 144. An appeal to the Court of the Judicial Commissioner having been preferred against a decree of the Subordinate Judge for possession the Judge ordered under s 545 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 that the successful plaintiff should be let into possession in execution of the decree upon furnishing security so that any order made by the said Appellate Court might be made binding upon the security for the sum secured. The present appellants entered into a bond reciting the order and hypothecating property to secure the sum provided no oblige was named in the bond. The Appellate Court in the first instance affirmed the decree but on the result of a successful appeal to the Privy Council, they subsequently dismissed the suit save as to certain villages and directed the Subordinate Judge to ascertain the mesne profits due to the defendants. Upon an application made to the Subordinate Judge in 1909 the appellants being made parties he made a decree finding the amount of the mesne profits and declaring the liability of the appellants upon the bond to the amount secured. Held that the liability upon the bond (which was not a personal liability) did not terminate upon the first order of the Appellate Court. It extended to the final determination of the Subordinate Judge had liability upon the bond. ATAGHUBAR SINGH : JAI INDRA BAHADUR : SR (1919)

I L R 48 I A 223

4. ——— Failure to comply with order for security for costs—Application for leave to appeal in forma pauperis—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XXI r 10. The Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and the rules thereon contained apply to proceedings in the High Court at Calcutta under the Letters Patent save so far as the Code expressly provides to the contrary. The appellant appealed to the High Court at Calcutta under s 15 of the Letters Patent of 1865 against the rejection by the Court in its original civil jurisdiction of a petition under the Probate and Administration Act (V of 1831). She failed to comply with an order that she should give security for costs within two months and subsequently applied for leave to continue the appeal in forma pauperis. The High Court acting under O XXI r 10 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 dismissed the application and the appeal. That rule provides that upon a failure to comply with an order for security of costs the Court shall dismiss the appeal. Held that O XXI r 10 applied to the appeal and that under that rule the High Court was bound to dismiss the application and the appeal for even if the inherent power declared by s 161 to make such orders as may be necessary for the ends of justice could be exercised in the face of the imperative words of the rule the circumstances did not admit of an exercise of that inherent power. Decision of the High Court affirmed. SAKHAI THAKURAN : SAKHAI (1914)

I L R 43 I A 79

I L R 43 Calc. 491

5 ——— Appeal to Privy Council—Certificate of High Court—Code of Civil Procedure (V of 1908) sec 109 (c) O XXI r 3—Madras Estates Land Act (Madras Act of 1925) sec 5 sub sec (3)—*Iltah decreed under earlier Act—*less judicata—Special leave to appeal refused. A certificate granted by a High Court upon a petition under O XXI r 3 Code of Civil

PROCEDURE—could

Procedure for leave to appeal to the Privy Council should show clearly whether it is intended to certify merely that the case falls within s 110 of the Code or that it falls within s 109 (c) and s 110 as a case otherwise fit for appeal. Upon a petition under O V L r 3 for leave to appeal from a decree of the High Court in a suit for the recovery of Rs 400 rent the High Court certified that as regards the subject matter and the nature of the questions involved the case fulfils the requirements of s 109 and 110 of the Code of Civil Procedure and that the case is a fit one for appeal to His Majesty in Council. Held that the appeal could not be maintained, since the value of the subject matter was under Rs 10,000 and there was nothing in the certificate to show that the discretion conferred on the High Court by section 109 (c) was invoked or exercised. Held further that a contention that the provision in s 62 sub s 3 of the Madras Estates Land Act 1904 for the remaining in force of decreed puthas and muchalkas referred only to puthas and muchalkas decreed under that Act was not of sufficient weight to justify their Lordships in granting special leave to appeal. PADMAKUMARA AYYAR v. SWAMINATHA AYYAR (1921). L R 48 I A 31 I L R 44 Mad 293

6 ——— Amendment of Plaint—New Case
—Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908) s 153 O VI r 17—Limitation—Drench of Contract—Contract to sell three out of twelve sites to be granted—Time for performance—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch I Art 115 The appellant contracted in 1903 to sell to the respondent three out of twelve sites for oil wells which she expected to be allotted to her by Government for that year. In 1904 four sites were allotted for 1903 but the appellant did not obtain the whole twelve till 1912. The respondent in 1904 or 1905 after the four sites were allotted asked the appellant to transfer three to him but she refused; no sites were transferred to him. In 1913 the appellant sued the respondent for specific performance of a verbal agreement which he alleged that the appellant had made in 1912 in reference to the 1903 contract to transfer to him three sites allotted in 1912 but not being among those allotted for 1903. Both Courts found against the alleged verbal agreement but the Appellate Court allowed the respondent to amend his plaint by claiming damages for the failure to deliver sites under the agreement of 1903. Held that it was not open to the Court under the Code of Civil Procedure s 153 and O V r 17 to allow the amendment as it altered the real matter in controversy between the parties. Held further that the claim as amended was barred by limitation since the appellant became liable to perform the contract of 1903 as soon as three sites had been allotted to her for 1903 and there was a refusal by her to transfer in 1904 or 1905. Judgment of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner reversed. MA SHWE MYA v. MAUNG MO HUAUNG (1911) L P 48 I A 214 I L P 43 Calc 832

PROCEEDINGS

—pendency of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1908) O V L r 3

I L R 38 Mad 535

PROCESS OF COURT

—abuse of—

See IN OLDERNEY I L R 41 Calc 599

PROCESSION

See HIGHWAY I L R 35 Mad 28

See PUBLIC ROAD FIGHT TO LIFE

I L R 31 Bom 571

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1900)

s 4. I L R 42 Bom 433

—Right to be carried in cross-palanquin procession—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 9

I L R 45 Bom 591

—Commissioner of Police —Orders prohibiting a public procession and a particular individual from joining it—Legality of such orders—Public notice of order necessary—Power of Indian Legislature to make police regulations regarding public processions—*Calcutta Police Act (Beng 11 of 1866) s 6A (4) 10A—Calcutta Suburban Police Act (Beng 11 of 1866) s 32 (4) 40A—Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Act (Beng 111 of 1910) s 16 and 31 Sub s (4) of 6A of the Calcutta Police Act and of s 39A of the Suburban Police Act must be strictly construed. It empowers the Commissioner of Police when he considers it necessary to do so for the preservation of the public peace or public safety to prohibit a procession or public assembly but not a particular individual from taking part in the same. The subsection does not require any public notice of an order passed thereunder to be given within the meaning of s 102A of the Calcutta and 40A of the Suburban Police Acts. Semle. Indian Legislature is competent to make police regulations of the kind in the interests of public peace and safety. LEAKAT HO SAIN v. EMPEROR (1913)*

I L R 40 Calc 470

PROCLAMATION

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 597

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF INTEREST

I L R 44 Calc 715

—dated 5th August 1914—

See BILL OF EXCHANGE

I L R 41 Bom 566

PROCLAMATION OF SALE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 ss 287 293

I L R 36 Bom 329

See HIGH COURT (RULES AND ORDERS)

I L R 37 Bom 631

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 39 Calc 26

—Irregularities in—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 49 Calc 635

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE O XXI

r 54 I L P 44 Mad 293

PRODUCE RENT

See APPRAISEMENT

I L R 48 Calc 1086

PROFESSION

See PROSTITUTION

I L R 37 Mad 585

PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT OF COUNSEL

See BAR COUNCIL, RESOLUTIONS OF
I L R 40 Calc. 898

PROFESSIONAL ETIQUETTE

See COUNSEL I L R 47 Calc 828

See COUNSEL PROFESSIONAL CONDUCT OF
I L R 40 Calc. 898

See PLEADER I L R 47 Calc 1115

PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT

See LEGAL PRACTITIONER
I L R 42 All 125

See LETTERS PATENT (ALL) 8
I L R 42 All 450

See PLEADER I L R 47 Calc 1115

See UNPROFESSIONAL CONDUCT

Attorney disciplinary jurisdiction over—Striking off the rolls—Letters Patent 1865 cl 10—Right of aggrieved person—Practice—Verification—Disciplinary action against an attorney rests on the principle that the Court deems him an unfit person to act as an attorney and is not by way of punishment. Any person aggrieved by the misconduct of an attorney has the right to invoke the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Court. In re A Solicitor L P 25 Q B D 17 followed. On an application by an aggrieved party to have an attorney struck off the rolls of attorneys on the ground of professional misconduct Held that where there was a positive sworn denial of the misconduct by the attorney coupled with an explanation which was not demonstrably false even a strong case of suspicion would not justify disciplinary action against the attorney on a summary proceeding. The procedure to be adopted in invoking the disciplinary jurisdiction of the Court against an attorney enunciated. In the Matter of AN ATTORNEY (1913)
I L R 41 Calc. 113

Legal Practitioners Act (XVIII of 1879 as amended by Act XI of 1896) ss 13 14—Scope of s 14—Contempt of Court—

Court meaning of s 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act is not limited in its application to cases covered by cl. (a) and (b) only but covers cases of misconduct under all the clauses of s 13. Misconduct in the presence of the Court which shows disrespect of its authority and which obstructs and has a tendency to interfere with the due administration of justice is contempt. The principle is not limited to misconduct in the actual presence of the Judge. The Court is deemed to be present in every part of the place set apart for its use and for the use of its officers, jurors and witnesses and therefore misbehaviour in such places is misconduct in the presence of the Court. In the matter of Purna Chunder Pal I L P 27 Calc 1023. In the matter of Southeal Krishna Prasad I L P 15 Calc 75. In the matter of Wajid Hussain I L P 2 Calc 890. In the matter of Muhammad Abdul Haq I L P 29 All 61. In the matter of the 5 cont grade Pleaders I L P 34 All 29. In the matter of Ghola Khan T E L I 19. In the matter of Dayaram Sahasrao C W 199. In the matter of Kals Prannana Choudhary 11 C L J 161. In the matter of Padma Charan Chakravarti 4 C I J 29. In the matter of an Advocate a Valid a Pleader and a Mukhtar 4 C L J 96. The District Judge of Aizawa v

PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT—contd

Hanumanulu (1915) Mad W P 1600. In the matter of Ganapathi Sastry 19 Mad L J 594. French v French 1 Hogan 138. Pex v Carroll 1 Wilson 75. Poach v Hall 2 Atk 499. Ez parte Burrows 8 Ves 535. Ez parte Jones 13 Ves 23. In re Johnson 20 Q B D 68. Ez parte Wilson 1 Doubling v S 800. Kirby v Webb 3 T L R 63. Charlton v Ca e 3 My d Cr 16. Helmore v Smith 23 Ch 449 referred to. PASK LAL v In the matter of (1916) I L R 44 Calc. 639

Letters Patent cl 10—Valid—Improper advice to client—Obtaining from client a nominal sale-deed for a low value—Misappropriation of client's property—Setting up false defence of ownership in a suit against him by the client for its recovery—Giving false evidence and suborning perjury. A vakil was found guilty of (a) improperly suggesting to a client seeking his advice as to how to recover his properties from his adversary the execution in his (vakils) own favour of a nominal sale deed thereof for a low value (b) setting up after the execution of such a sale-deed a title in himself contrary to the terms of the agreement with the client (c) setting up a false defence of his ownership in a suit against him by the client for a cancellation of the sale deed (d) supporting the false defence by his own false evidence and (e) suborning perjured evidence in support of the same. Their Lordships held that the vakil was guilty of misconduct and suspended him under cl 10 of the Letters Patent from practice for a period of two years. In the matter of a VAKIL OF THE HIGH COURT (1916)
I L R 40 Mad 69

PROFITS

See OFFERINGS TO DEITY
I L R 33 Calc 337

— derived from joint family property—

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
14 C W N 221

— suit for—

See ADVERSE POSSESSION
I L R 22 All 399

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
ss 160 201 I L R 34 All 250

— suit for against landlord—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
ss 164 166 I L R 40 All 248

PROFITS A PRENDRE.

Profits a prendre in gross acquisition of by fluctuating body. A right on the part of the members of a tribe such as the Sonthals or a class such as the Chatwals inhabiting the villages on and adjacent to the Jarekhab Hill to hunt in a certain jungle for one day in the year cannot be acquired by 20 years enjoyment under s 26 of the Limitation Act 1903. Neither such a tribe nor such a class is a person within the meaning of the General Clauses Act 1907. Village communities in India bear the strongest resemblance to corporations and they may be regarded as corporate bodies capable of administering a trust in favour of particular classes residing within their jurisdictions. The law of India does not preclude the inference of legal ownership in respect of such a right by grant in trust for the benefit of such a fluctuating body. In India there is nothing to prevent the acquisition by custom, by such a fluctuating body of a profit a prendre in gross so long as it can be shown that the exercise of the right is not unreasonable. Where the Amindar of Palganj bound himself and his heirs by an ekranama to convey free of costs to the Sitambari Jain Community land for the purpose of constructing temples and guest houses and further agreed that in the event of the executant and his heirs failing to convey such land the Sitambari Jains should be entitled to take such land held that this ekranama did not prevent the Amindar from permitting other persons to hunt in the jungles until the Sitambari Jains should select a plot for their buildings. Held further that the court ought not to give a party possessing such a remote interest a declaration affecting an entry in the Record of Rights. A person who sues under s 42 of the Specific Relief Act 1877 for a declaration that an easement recorded in a Record of Rights under s 81 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act 1908 is incorrect must show that he has some legal title or interest in the land over which the easement exists. Query whether the manager of an unincorporated society is competent to sue on behalf of the society on an ekranama executed in favour of a previous manager of the society. MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH v GANDAUJI SINGH 2 Pat L J 323

PROFITS A PRENDRE—contd

PRO FORMA DEFENDANT

See MORTGAGE I L R 38 Calc 342

PROGRESSIVE RENT

— reservation of—

See LAND TENURE IN BENGAL
L R 46 I A 279

PROHIBITORY ORDER

— Excavation of a tank—
Injury to adjoining house—Likelihood of a breach of the peace—Order passed on personal apprehension of the Magistrate without evidence taken or urgency recorded—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 144. The petitioner excavated a tank on his own land adjoining the house of the opposite party and the latter objected to the excavation on the ground that his house would be thereby rendered unsafe. No likelihood of a breach of the peace appeared from the police report or the written statements of the parties but the Magistrate made the order under s 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code without inquiry or recording any urgency. Held that the order was illegal and that s 144 was not applicable without inquiry or recording any urgency. KAMINI MOHAN DAS GUPTA v HARENDRA KUMAR SARKAR (1911)
I L R 38 Calc. 876

— Jurisdiction—Execution of decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s XXI r 46—Competency of Court to issue prohibitory order outside its jurisdiction restraining a person from paying a debt due to the judgment debtor. It is not competent to a Court in execution of a decree for money to attach at the instance of the decree holder a debt payable to the judgment debtor outside the jurisdiction by a person not resident within the jurisdiction of that Court. BROD DUNLOP & CO v JAGANNATH MAHWARI (1911)
I L R 39 Calc. 104

PROJECTION

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
ACT (BOM III or 1901) ss 70 113
122 I L R 42 Bom 454
See FIXTURE I L R 48 Calc 602

PROMISE

— breach of—

See CONTRACT I L R 42 Bom. 499

PROMISOR

— heirs of—

See PRE EMPTION I L R 38 Mad 114

PROMISSORY NOTE

See CAUSE OF ACTION
I L R 42 ALL 193

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF
ACT (XVII of 1879) ss 13 15D 16
I L R 38 Bom 73

See EVIDENCE I L R 33 ALL 571

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 91

I L R 38 ALL 159

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

I L R 34 Bom. 72

See KUMAON RULES (1894) s 17

I L R 42 ALL 642

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 ARTS 73 AND
80 I L R 42 ALL 55

See NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENT ACT 1883

ss 4 and 80 5 Pat. L J 536

See PARTNERSHIP

I L R 40 Mad 727

See PRACTICE—CAUSE OF ACTION

L R 41 I A 142

See VARTHAMANAM

I L R 38 Mad. 680

— acknowledgment contained in—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX or 1908) SCH
I ARTS 116 AND 60 s 19
I L R 38 Bom 177

— Contemporaneous oral arrangement

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 91

PROV 3 I L R 45 Bom 1155

— executed by father before partition—

See HINDU LAW—DEBT

I L R 41 Mad. 106

— payable on demand—

See LIMITATION ACT (IX or 1908) SCH I

ART 60 I L R 39 Mad. 129

See PRINCIPAL AND SURETY

I L R 41 Calc 978

— payable to a person or order or bearer illegality of—

See PAPER CURRENCY ACT s 25

I L R 40 Mad. 585

— suit on—

See ALIEN'S ENEMY

I L R 41 Calc. 523

See EVIDENCE ACT (I or 1872) s 92

AND PROV R. 39 Bom. 399

See

2 W N 223

2 r

PROMISSORY NOTE—contd

1 — Construction—Acknowledgment—Deed construction of—Unconditional undertaking and the document styled as promissory note It is no doubt true that the question whether an instrument is a promissory note or not should be judged by the words used and the instrument must contain in words an unconditional undertaking to pay a sum of money and it is not enough that the substantial effect of the instrument should be to make the executant liable to pay a sum of money Held that the following document wherein the executant not only made an unconditional undertaking to pay but also styled it a promissory note was a promissory note and not a mere recital of a liability, and as such was not admissible in evidence for want of a proper stamp

Promissory note executed on _____ in favour of _____ by _____ In the matter of the purchase of piece goods by me from your shop on this date, the sum found due by me as per patty (litt) is Rs 600 _____ which sum I promise to you or to your order on demand with interest at 1½ per cent To this effect
Tirupathi Goundan v Rama Reddi 1 L R 21 Mad 49
Govind v Balwant Rao 1 L R 22 Bom 986
Horne v Redfern, & Bing N C 433 and White v North & Fitch 689 distinguished Morris v Lee 92 F R 409 referred to KARUTHARAJA ROWTHAN v BAVA MOHIDEEN SASTRI (1913)

1 L R 38 Mad. 370

2 — Joint execution—Consideration—Surety The consideration paid to any one of several joint promisors is legally sufficient to support the promise of all the joint promisors Narasimha v Ramaswami 24 Mad L J 91 applied, Sesha Aiyar v Mangal Dass Jee 20 Mad L J 144 distinguished Per CURIAM S 92 of the Indian Evidence Act precludes an executant from setting up a contemporaneous oral agreement that he should not be made liable on the promissory note Per SPEKCEER J—S 127 of the Indian Contract Act shows that the value received by the principal debtor is a sufficient consideration to bind the surety and s 128 makes his liability co extensive SORNALINGOA MUDALI v PADMAI NAICKAR (1913)

1 L R 58 Mad. 680

3 — Suit by Assignee of promissory note against executants—Payment of consideration by assignee irrelevant Held that in a suit by the assignee of a promissory note against the executants the latter are not concerned with the question whether the assignment was for consideration or not All that they are entitled to have ascertained is that the plaintiff is the legal holder of the note and able to give them a good discharge
DALHOY SAHAI v BHARI LAL (1914)

1 L R 37 All 99

4 — By guardian of minor not signing as such whether binding on minor's estate—Negotiable Instruments Act (XXII of 1881) ss 23 and 30 scope of A negotiable instrument executed by the guardian of a Hindu minor for purposes binding on the minor is enforceable against the minor's estate though the instrument was not signed by the executant in his capacity as guardian The minor is not personally liable on the instrument The case is governed by the principles of Hindu Law and ss 23 and 30 of the Negotiable Instruments Act (XXII of 1881) are not applicable. Subraman Aiyar v

PROMISSORY NOTE—contd

Arumuga Chetty 1 L R 26 Mad 330 followed
KRISHNA CHETTIAR v NAQMANI AHMAL (1915)
1 L R 39 Mad. 925

5 — Surety—Promissory Note payable on demand—Liability of surety—Guaranteeing such note when arises Held that the liability of the surety rose immediately on the execution of the guarantee and limitation ran from that date
SREENATH ROY v PEARY MOHAN MUKHERJEE (1896)
21 C W N 418

6 — Executed in Hyderabad State but stamped with British India Stamp—Hyderabad State Stamp Act s 35—Suit on the promissory note in British Indian Court—Maintenance of suit in British India—Lex Fori—Lex Loci Contractus A promissory note was executed in Hyderabad State It was stamped with a British India Stamp A suit having been brought on the promissory note in a Court in British India it was contended that the promissory note not having been stamped with the stamp required by the laws of the Hyderabad State no suit will lie upon it in the British Indian Court Held that though the promissory note be inadmissible in evidence under Hyderabad State Stamp Act that law did not declare the agreement as void and the agreement could therefore be sued upon and enforced in a Court in British India.
Bristow v Sequerville 5 Erch 218 relied on If the law of the foreign country in which the document was executed provides no more than that the agreement shall not be received in evidence because it is not stamped then the agreement may be used upon and enforced in a Court in British India but if the law of the foreign country provides that by reason of the want of stamp the agreement itself which is contained in the unstamped document shall be void then the plaintiff cannot succeed in a Court of British India
DEONDURAM CHATRAPATI v SADASTE SAVATRAK (1918)
1 L R 42 Bom 522

7 — In favour of the managing trustee of a charity—The trustee succeeded by another—Latter's right to sue on the note without any assignment or endorsement A promissory note executed in favour of a trustee of an assignment his successor without endorsement or assignment the Negotiable Instruments Act not affecting devolution of rights by operation of law
Cohen v Wood v Chetand 1 B & C 150 applied and followed Sowcar Ladd Govinda Dass v Masrogo Naidu 1 L R 31 Mad 634 referred to PANA NADHAN CHETTI v KATHA VELAN (1917)

1 L R 41 Mad 333

8 — When overdue—Negotiable Instruments Act (XX of 1881) s 113 Where a promissory note payable on demand is negotiated it is not deemed to be overdue for the purpose of affecting the holder with defects of title of which he had no notice by reason that it appears that reasonable time for presenting it for payment has elapsed since its issue The analogy of the rules applicable to questions of limitation is not to be followed in such cases
Nora v Fiam 2 M & W 461
Roe v Young 2 B & D 160
Molloy v Murdock 5 M & W 413
Peck v Mitchell 9 M & W 15
Barrough v Wile 4 B & C 395
Glascock v Balle 21 Q B v 13 referred to Prayendra Ashoka v Hindustan Cooperative Insurance Society 1 L R 41 Cal 93 distin guished D N SHAHA & Co : THE BENGAL

PROMISSORY NOTE—contd

NATIONAL BANK LTD (1920)

I L R. 47 Calc 861

PROMPT DOWER

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 35 Bom 386

PROOF

See CUSTOM I L R 45 Calc 450 835

See CUSTOM OR USAGE

I L R 45 Calc 285

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—LEGITIMACY

I L R 48 Calc 856

— standard of—

See LIMITATION I L R 40 Calc 898

See PROBATE I L R 39 Calc 245

1 ————— Per WOODROFFE
J—A Court cannot assume that a document was proved from the refusal of opposing counsel to cross examine on it The latter is entitled to wait until the Court ruled whether the document was proved or not In the goods of GORESSUN DUTT (1911) I L R 39 Calc 245
15 C W N 285

2 ————— Title evidence of direct proof when not available—Conduct and admissions of defendant as proof of title—Mulla's papers evidentiary value of—Registers kept under Reg VIII of 1800 entries in—Statements against proprietary interest—Statements in read-cess returns a in character of interest—Burden of proof when shifted—Effect of erroneous statement as to nature of tenure by unauthorised person—Purchase at execution sale held under s 124 (Beng Act I of 1879) limited to interests actually sold When owing to lapse of time and other causes direct evidence of title e.g. a sanad or grant is not available it is enough for the plaintiff to establish a prima facie case if the evidence on which it is based is corroborated by the conduct and admissions of the defendant or his predecessors in interest or un rebutted by any positive evidence which can be relied on KALI SANKAR SARKAR : PRATAP UDAI NATH SARKAR Do (1911)
16 C W N 683

3 ————— Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) s 147 s 304 read with s 119—Prosecution evidence mostly disbelieved—Hypothetical case made by the Court—Propriety of conviction Where the Sessions Judge discarded almost in their entirety the accounts of the occurrence given by the witnesses for the prosecution and substituted a narrative of his own founded for the most part on surmise and conjecture and the story of the origin of the occurrence and the course of events as reconstructed by the Sessions Judge were wholly inconsistent with the story told by the witnesses and the appellants were convicted under s 147 and s 304 read with s 149 Penal Code Held that the conviction should be set aside KALU KHALASHI : THE KING EMPEROR
(1912) 17 C W N 538

4 ————— Suspicion and proof difference between Where a decree holder sued for a declaration against a purchaser for the judgment debtor that the purchase was a benami Held that the burden of proof lay on the decree holder and though there were elements of suspicion the burden had not been discharged

PROOF—contd

It is essential to take care that the decision of the Court does not rest on suspicion but legal testimony SETH MANTALAL MANSUKHBHAI & RAJA BIJOY SINGH DUDHORIA 25 C W N 409

PROOF IN COMMON FORM

See PROBATE I L R 42 Calc 480

PROOF OF DOCUMENT

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 68

1 Pat. L J 369

PROOF OF TITLE

See EJECTMENT SUIT

I L R 42 Bom 357

PROPAGATION OF DISEASE

See NUISANCE I L R 38 Calc 298

PROPER COURT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) ART
18^o EXPL II I L R 45 Bom 453

PROPERTY

See ANCESTRAL PROPERTY

I L R 59 Mad 930

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1908) s 520

I L R 42 Bom. 664

— disposal of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 517

I L R 40 Bom 186

— transfer of, to another jurisdiction—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909) ss 37 38 100

I L R 37 Mad. 462

— vesting of—

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) s 92
PROVS I AND 3

I L R 39 Mad. 226

PROPERTY TITLE

— question of—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901),
s 177 (c) I L R 38 ALL 183

PROPRIETARY TITLE

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)—
s 58 *00 I L R 35 ALL 157

s 199 I L R. 37 ALL 94

See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT (III OF 1901) s 111 (1) (b)

I L R 41 ALL 211

— question of—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 58 1st (a) I L R. 38 ALL 465

PROPRIETOR

See

See L

R.

EDITOR.

212

PROSECUTION

See COLLECTOR I L R. 40 Calc 465See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 478 15 C W N 691See EVIDENCE I L R. 42 Calc 784See FUTURE I L R. 48 Calc 602See JUDGES PROSECUTION BY I L R. 45 Calc 169See RECEIVER I L R. 46 Calc 432

duty of—

See CHARGE I L R. 42 Calc 957See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 13
I L R. 30 Mad. 449

duty of, to call all witnesses—

See PENAL CODE s 114
19 C W N 28

for instituting a false case—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT
I L R. 37 Calc 250

onus on—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 250
I L R. 39 Mad. 593

order for—

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURT
I L R. 40 Calc 360

what amounts to—

See MALICIOUS PROSECUTION
I L R. 37 Mad 181

withdrawing from—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898)—
s 248 258 345 I L R. 37 Bom 376
25 C W N 615See WITNESS I L R. 46 Calc 700See WITHDRAWAL OF PROSECUTION
I L R. 48 Calc 1105

Prosecution—Calcutta

Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 559 (18) 561 (b) 631—Non compliance with notice to remove encroachment on public street—Institution of prosecution more than three months after expiry of notice—Limitation—Continuing offence—Bye laws validity of—Ultra vires A prosecution for failure to comply with a notice by the Chairman to remove an obstruction on a public street instituted more than three months after the expiry of the date fixed therein is barred under s 631 of the Calcutta Municipal Act A bye law must conform to the provisions of the law under which it purports to be made Rule (1) of the bye laws framed under s 559 (18) of the Act is ultra vires in so far as it creates a continuing breach after notice in violation of the terms of s 561 (b) NARAIN CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1909)
I L R. 37 Calc 545

To prove charge truth or falsehood of defence immaterial If the case for the prosecution is false on the whole the accused is entitled to an acquittal whether his defence be true or not GOVIND NARAYAN BARRULA v THE IRAM CHETRI

25 U W N 838

PROSECUTION WITNESSES

cross-examination of.

See CROSS EXAMINATION

I L R. 37 Calc. 236

See CHARGE CANCELLATION OF

I L R. 39 Calc 885right of accused to recall and cross examine—See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) s 250*I L R.* 39 Mad. 503

PROSECUTOR

See CONTENT OF COURT

I L R. 41 Calc. 173

PROSPECTIVE LEGISLATION

See ASSESSMENT I L R. 43 Calc. 873

PROSTITUTE'S PROPERTY

See HINDU LAW—SRIDHAR

I L R. 40 Calc. 650

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION

I L R. 38 Calc 493

PROSTITUTION

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V
OF 1898) s 498 (1)I L R. 37 Mad. 565

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R. 38 Mad. 1144

PROTECTION

doctrine of—

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
I L R. 42 Calc 745

PROTECTION OF JUDICIAL OFFICERS

See TREPASS I L R. 39 Calc 953

PROTECTION ORDER

See PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY
ACT (III OF 1909) ss 6 8 25 39 39
(2) (a) (b) (c) (d) (f) (j)I L R. 40 Bom 461

Presidency Towns In solvency Act (III of 1909) s 25—Previous decisions on applications for interim orders—Discretion—Practice It has never been the practice of Commissioners in Insolvency under the Indian Insolvency Act (II and 12 Vict s 21) to consider themselves bound by their previous decisions on applications for interim orders when it has been a matter for their discretion and it by no means follows that because an application has been refused on the first occasion it must also be refused on the second occasion s 25 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act (III of 1909) clearly intends that while an insolvent diligently performs the duties prescribed by the Act he should not be harassed by execution creditors and should not be rendered liable to pressure whereby one creditor may get undue advantage over another The section does not deprive the Court of its discretion in granting or refusing protection but sub s (4) indicates clearly the lines along which that discretion should be exercised when a creditor opposes the grant If an insolvent can produce the certificate referred to the onus is thrown on the opposing creditor of showing cause why the PROTECTION ORDER—contd protection order should not be granted In the matter of MEHRAJ GARGARUX (1910)

I. L. R. 35 Bom. 47

PROTHONOTARY

See HIGH COURT RULES BOMBAY
RL. 81 321 I. L. R. 38 Bom. 418

PROTRACTION OF LITIGATION

See GRANT I. L. R. 44 Calc 585

PROVIDENT FUND ACT (IX OF 1897 AS AMENDED) BY ACT IV OF 1903)

See EXECUTION OF DECREE
I. L. R. 46 Calc 962

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 43 I. L. R. 44 Bom. 673

PROVIDENT INSURANCE

Company with share capital carrying on business of a provident insurance society—Liability to registration as such before receiving premiums—Provident Insurance Societies Act (I of 1912) ss 3 (8) 6 7 91 A company having a share capital divided into shares must if it intends to carry on the business of a provident insurance society be registered under the Provident Insurance Societies Act (I of 1912) before it receives any premium or contribution Oriental Government Security Life Insurance Co v Oriental Assurance Co I. L. R. 40 Calc 570 explained DEPUTY LEGAL MEMORANDUM v SITAL CHANDRA PAL (1914)

I. L. R. 42 Calc 300

PROVIDENT INSURANCE SOCIETIES ACT (V OF 1912)

ss. 2 (8) 6 7 21—

See PROVIDENT INSURANCE
I. L. R. 42 Calc. 300

ss. 5 6—

See TRADE NAME I. L. R. 40 Calc 570

PROVIDENT INSURANCE SOCIETY

See TRADE NAME I. L. R. 40 Calc 570

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 20 (1) (b) I. L. R. 41 Mad. 169

No bar to a suit to establish rights to property attached by Insolvency Court as belonging to the insolvent—

See INSOLVENCY I. L. R. 3 Lah. 147

One petition in Insolvency against several joint debtors of proper—Application against partners of a firm—Amendment A declaration of insolvency cannot be asked for in one petition against several joint debtors There is no provision in the Provincial Insolvency Act for proceeding against two or more persons being partners in the name of the firm HALI CHARAN SAHA v HARI MOHAN BASAK 33 C W N 461 ss 3 (c) and (g), 22, 46 and 52—Dismissal of insolvency petition by Official Receiver—Application to District Court to revise under s 27 whether an appeal—Official Receiver whether a Court—Appeal to High Court from order of

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

ss 2 (c) and (g), 22 46 and 52—
contd

District Court maintainability of A District Judge transferred a petition of a debtor to be adjudged an insolvent to the Official Receiver The petition was dismissed by the Receiver on the grounds that the debtor had no realizable assets that he might be concealing his assets ready cash and outstandings that he was not likely eventually to get his discharge and that therefore the petition was an abuse of process of Court On an application by the debtor under s 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) the District court confirmed the order Held that an appeal lay to the High Court under s 46 of the Act from the order of the High Court Held further that the Official Receiver is not a Court subordinate to the District Court within s 46 (1) of the Act and that an application to the District Court under s 22 of the Act to revise the order of the Official Receiver is not an appeal within s 46 Held also that the order of dismissal was based on a misconception of the Insolvency Procedure and should be set aside Jeer Chetti v Rangaswami Chetti 29 Mad L J 52 followed ALLA v KUPPAI (1916)

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 752

ss 2 (1) (g) 18 20 (c) 40 (1), 41

47—

See RECEIVER I. L. R. 40 Calc 678

ss 3 16 18 33 and 37—Order of adjudication—Appointment of Receiver by District Court—Sale in execution of money decree held by District Munsif's Court subsequent to appointment of Receiver—Application by Receiver to the District Court for cancellation of sale and for delivery of possession—Application whether competent—Jurisdiction of District Court Where after the appointment of a Receiver for the estate of an insolvent had been made by a District Court some of the properties of the insolvent were sold in auction by a District Munsif's Court in execution of a decree for money passed by the latter Court prior to the order of adjudication Held it was competent to the Receiver to make an application to the District Court for annulment of the sale and for delivery of possession of the properties from the purchaser under s 18 cl (3) of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) OFFICIAL RECEIVER TENNEVELLY v SANKARANINGA MUDALIAR (1921)

I. L. R. 44 Mad 524

ss. 3, 43 (2)—Subordinate Judge is vested with jurisdiction under s 3 declines to take action under s 43 (2) against insolvent—Whether appeal lies to District Judge against the order under s 46—Creditor of an aggrieved person The appellant was adjudicated an insolvent by a Subordinate Judge invested with jurisdiction under the provisions of s 3 of the Provincial Insolvency Act and thereafter certain creditors of the insolvent made applications before the Subordinate Judge to the effect that the insolvent had concealed certain properties and prayed that he should be punished under s 43 (2) The Subordinate Judge after hearing the creditors and the insolvent rejected the applications whereupon some of the creditors applied to the District Judge who, after examining witnesses on both sides sentenced the insolvent to three months simple imprisonment Held,

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

ss 3, 43 (2)—contd

per TRIVORA J The orders made by the Subordinate Judge while he has jurisdiction of the case could be interfered with by the District Court only under the provisions of s 46 which in the matters therein dealt with subordinates all other Courts to the District Court or under the powers conferred by the Code of Civil Procedure in regard to Civil suits as provided in s 47 That no appeal lay against the order of the Subordinate Judge declining to take action against the insolvent under s 43 (2) Per NEUBOLD J The word Court in s 43 of the Act does not mean the Court of original jurisdiction only and the District Judge's order in this case was an original and not an appellate order DIGAMPA CHANDRA BASAK v PAMANI MOHAN GOSWAMI (1918)

22 C W N 958

s 4—Decision of question of title how far discretionary with Court—Sub sec (3) Court is bound to take evidence or give reasons for refusing to decide questions of title or for holding that the insolvent has a saleable interest in any property and ordering its sale—Nature of materials upon which Court may come to such decision A was adjudicated an insolvent and a Receiver was appointed After various intermediate proceedings the insolvent's brother B appeared in Court and laid claim to certain properties The Judge put to him certain questions and elicited certain answers The Receiver also submitted a report and a petition on the same date The Judge after considering the report and the petitions submitted and after hearing pleaders refused to go into the question of title and decided that the insolvent had a saleable interest in the properties He thereupon directed the Receiver to sell the insolvent's right title and interest in the properties under the provisions of sub sec (6) of s 4 of the Provincial Insolvency Act Power under sub sec (1) of sec 4 to decide a question of title it had full discretion to follow the course laid down in sub sec (7) i.e. to refuse to decide questions of title and to direct sale of insolvent's right title and interest whatever that might be Where the Court has reason to believe that the debtor has a saleable interest in any property it may without further enquiry sell such interest The matters stated in the report of the Receiver and the answers given by the claimant when questioned by the Judge were sufficient materials for his coming to the conclusion that the debtor had a saleable interest in the property JIRENDRA NATH BHATTACHARJEE v FATEH SINGH NAHER

26 C W N 922

ss 4 to 6 11 to 18 26 43 44 and 47—What matters are necessary to be enquired into before adjudication—What are proper subjects of enquiry before deciding on final discharge Before passing an order of adjudication under the Provincial Insolvency Act it is not for a Court to decide whether the debts stated in the petition for insolvency are real whether the petitioner has not concealed any property of his from his lists of assets or whether he is unable to pay his debts and similar questions All these are properly subjects that ought to be enquired into before giving a discharge The only things that are necessary to be decided before adjudication are

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

ss 4 to 6 11 to 18, 26 43, 44 and 47—contd

whether the creditor or debtor is entitled to present the petition, whether the required notices have been served and whether the debtor has committed the alleged act of insolvency Per CUNHAM S 14 (2) provides that the Court shall also examine the debtor if he is present as to his conduct dealings and property in the presence of such creditors as appear at the hearing and the creditors have the right to question the debtor thereon There is no doubt that both these clauses require that the acts referred to therein should be done But it does not follow that every matter which forms the subject of the examination of the debtor should be decided before an order of adjudication is made The scheme of Act III of 1907 is to make an order of adjudication at first and then to make a full enquiry into all matters connected with the insolvency before the final discharge is decided The Court has power to refuse to make an order not only on non-compliance of matters stated in s 14 (1) but also on other grounds (e.g.) prevention of abuse of process of the Court unnecessary harassing of a debtor by the creditor Per SCUDRA AYYAN J—The object of the provision for examination in s 14 (2) is as in England to obtain information at as early a stage as possible of the property and the whole conduct of the debtor in his relations to the insolvency proceedings Edas Chand Maht v Pam Kumar Khara 15 C W N 213 Ghirva dhari v Jas Narain 1 L R 30 All 615 and Nathu v The District Judge of Benares 1 L R 32 All 517 disapproved Various sections of the Act and of the English Bankruptcy Act considered JENA v REGOASWAMI (1913)

1 L R 30 Mad. 402

ss 4 clis (b) (9) 18—

See MIRON 1 L R 42 Calc 225

ss 5—

See s 4 1 L R 36 Mad. 402

ss 5 11 18—

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 44 Calc 535

Insolvency—Petition by debtor—Grounds for dismissing petition—Possibility of assets exceeding liabilities Where an insolvency petition is presented by a debtor whose debts amount to Rs 600 and such petition fulfils the requirements of s 11 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 it is not a valid ground for dismissing the petition that there may exist some reason for supposing that the debtor may not after all be unable to pay his debts in full unless there are circumstances indicating that the presentation of the petition was fraudulent and an abuse of the process of the Court The provisions of s 15 of the Act are intended to apply to a creditor's petition and not to one presented by a debtor Uday Chand Maht v Pam Kumar Khara 15 C W N 213 Kali Kumar Das v Gopi Krishna day 15 C W N 290 Girvadhari v Jas Narain 1 L R 32 All 645 Baidata Din v Jagannath 9 All L R 699 referred to Nathu Mal v The District Judge of Benares 1 L R 32 All 647 distinguished Ponnusami Chetti v Narayana Chetti 25 Mad L J 645 not followed TRIVORA NATH v BADRI DASS (1914)

1 L R 30 All 250

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

— ss 5, 6 15, 16 43—Insolvency—Petition by debtor—Debtor's right in order of adjudication—Dismissal of application on ground of alleged misappropriation of property belonging to a creditor It is no ground for the rejection of a petition to be declared insolvent filed by the debtor that the petitioner may perhaps have been guilty of criminal misappropriation in respect of property belonging to one of his creditors Chhatrapal Singh Dugar v Kharag Singh Lachmaram 1 L R 44 Calc 535 and Triloki Nath v Badri Das 1 L R 36 All 450 referred to JAGAN NATH v GANGA DAT DUBE (1919)

L L R 41 All 486

— ss 5 15 16—Insolvency—Grounds for dismissing petition to be adjudged an insolvent A petition to be adjudged an insolvent presented under the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 can be dismissed only upon one or other of the grounds mentioned in s 15 of the Act. It is not a good ground for dismissing such a petition that the petitioner's brother being joint with the petitioner has not been made a party to it. Chhatrapal Singh Dugar v Kharag Singh Lachmaram 15 A L J R 87 and Triloki Nath v Badri Das 1 L R 36 All 250 referred to NET RAM v BHAGIRATHI SAE (1917) L L R 10 All 75

— s 6—

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 44 Calc 535

Application by debtor—

Residence within jurisdiction—Temporary residence It is not necessary for a petitioner applying to be declared an insolvent to have resided for a long time at a place within the jurisdiction of the Court. Even temporary residence for a time and for a particular purpose is enough to give the Court jurisdiction to deal with an application for insolvency. Ex parte Heegard 24 Q B D 71 followed ABDUL REZAK v BASIRUDDIN AHMED, 311, 17 C W N 405

Jurisdiction of Court—

Ordinarily resides meaning of—Order of adjudication by Court not having jurisdiction—S 47 sub s (1) effect of—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 21 if applies to proceedings under the Provincial Insolvency Act The respondent lodged an application for insolvency in the Court of the District Judge of Midnapur and obtained an order of adjudication. It appeared that the respondent who was employed as a guard on the Bengal Nagpur Railway resided at Dungargarh in the Central Provinces and ran his train ordinarily from Dungargarh to Nagpur and only occasionally from Dungargarh to Kharagpur where he stopped with his son in law having no permanent residence there. The application for insolvency was filed immediately after the appellant had obtained a decree against the respondent in the Court of the Munsif of Midnapur. Held that it could not be held that the respondent ordinarily resided or personally worked for gain at Kharagpur within the meaning of sub s (2) of s 6 of the Provincial Insolvency Act and consequently the Court of the District Judge of Midnapur had no jurisdiction to deal with the application for insolvency filed by the respondent. That sub s (1) of s 47 of the Provincial Insolvency Act does not directly or by implication make s. 21 of the Civil Procedure Code in 1908 applicable to proceedings under the

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—c mid

— s 6—contd

Provincial Insolvency Act and consequently the doctrine that no objection as to the place of suing shall be allowed by an Appellate Court unless such objection was taken in the Court of first instance at the earliest possible opportunity and unless there has been a failure of justice could not be applied to proceedings under the Provincial Insolvency Act. Meaning of the term resides in sub s (2) of s 6 considered MADHO PERSHAD v A L WALTON (1913) 18 C W N 1050 — ss 15 16—Insolvency—Petitioner examined and evidence taken—Case adjourned—Petitioner absent on adjourned date—Petition dismissed for want of prosecution When a petition for a declaration of insolvency has once been presented conformably to the requirements of Act No III of 1907 the Court is bound after completing the necessary inquiries to come to a decision in respect of the various matters spoken of in s 15 of the Act and either to dismiss the petition under the provisions of that section or to make an order of adjudication. But it cannot dismiss the petition merely because on an adjourned date the petitioner does not appear. LACHMI NARAIN DUBE v KISHAN LAL (1918)

I L R 40 All 665

— s 11—

See s 4 I L R 36 Mad 402

— s 12—

See s 4 I L R 38 Mad 402

See s 16 I L R 39 Mad 693

— s 13—

See s 4 I L R 36 Mad 402

— ss 13 16 34—

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 42 Calc 289

— ss 13 (3) 47—Attachment of property as that of the insolvent before adjudication of insolvency—Civil Procedure Code (1908) O XXI s 58 O XXXVIII rr 5 to 12—Procedure—Appeal Where certain property was attached under s 13 (3) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 by a Court exercising jurisdiction under that Act before the petitioner was declared an insolvent and a receiver appointed it was held that the Court was bound to hear and adjudicate upon any claims which might be preferred by persons alleging themselves to be in fact the owners of such property. Procedure under s 13 (3) of the abovementioned Act was analogous to attachment before judgment under the Code of Civil Procedure. It might have been open to the objectors to wait until the receiver had taken some action in respect of the property attached and then to apply under s 22 of the Act but this they were not bound to do. HASHMAT BEE v BHAGWAN DAS (1913)

I L R 36 All 65

— s 14—

See s 4 I L R 36 Mad 402

Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s 15—Debtor's application for adjudication if may be refused because of his acts of bad faith—Adjudication as of course when ss 6 and 6 complied with—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1859) Chap XX Where an application by a debtor to be declared an insolvent being opposed by a creditor the debtor was examined under s 14 cl (3) of the Provincial Insolvency Act and the application was dismissed on the ground that one of the creditors mentioned in the application was fictitious and that the applicant was concealing the real facts. Held that where the requirements of ss 11 and 12 of the Act have been complied with an order of adjudication should follow almost as a matter of course and the application dismissed on the grounds stated. Whether the debtor has or has not committed acts of bad faith is to be determined by the Court not at the stage when the order of adjudication has to be made but at the final stage when an application is made for an order of discharge the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act differing in this respect from those of Chap XX of Act XIV of 1892 which have been repealed by the Act. In Buton [1907] 1 K B 397 relied on UDAY CHAND MAITI v RAM KUMAR KHARA (1910) 15 C W N 213 ss 14 5 and 47—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O I r 3—Single petition by creditor to adjudicate debtors as insolvents—Debtors members of a joint Hindu family—Joint debt—Joint acts of insolvency—Single petition against joint debtors whether maintainable—Multifariousness in suits—Test of The members of a joint Hindu family can be adjudicated insolvents on a single petition by a creditor if they are liable on a joint debt and have been guilty of a joint act or acts of insolvency. The test is whether if the application were treated as a suit the suit would be bad for multifariousness that is for misjoinder of different causes of action against different defendants if no such objection can be successfully advanced a single application for adjudication is maintainable. Sarada Prasad Ukil v Ram Sukh Chandra (1905) 2 C L J 318 dissented from. MAMAYYA v K. P. RICE MILL Co (1921) 1 I L R 44 Mad 310

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s 14—contd

s 15—

See s 4 1 I L R 36 Mad 402

See s 8 1 I L R 40 All 75

See s 6 1 I L R 40 All 685

See INSOLVENCY 1 I L R 44 Cal 535

1 Insolvency—

Grounds for dismissing petition. Under the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 transfer of property by the debtor with intent to defraud his creditors or reckless contracting of debts or giving unfair preference to any of his creditors or committing any other act of bad faith are grounds for refusing an absolute order of discharge but not grounds for refusing to make an order of adjudication. Where therefore a petitioner for a declaration of insolvency feigned ignorance about the existence of his account books and prevaricated about other matters. Held that his petition could not be dismissed on these grounds the object of the Legislature by enacting the Insolvency Act being to make it easier to obtain an order of adjudication. Ex parte King Re Davies L R 3 Ch D 461 Ex parte Griffin Pe Adams L R 12 Ch D 480 and Ex parte Tynte L R 15 Ch D 125 referred to. GERWARDHARI v JAI NARAIN (1910) 1 I L R 32 All 645

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

s 15—contd

2. Debtor's application for adjudication—Inability to pay debts if must be proved. A debtor's application to be adjudicated an insolvent cannot be dismissed on the ground that he could not satisfy the Judge that he was unable to pay his debts. KALI KUMAR DAS v GORI KRISHNA RAY (1911) 15 C W N 890

3. Debtor's application for insolvency not made bona fide—Adjudication if may be refused. Quere Whether if upon the facts before the Court it is clear to the Judge that the debtor applying for insolvency is not an insolvent he is bound to adjudicate him an insolvent. Gurwardhari v Joy Narain 1 L R 37 All 645 Uday Chand Maiti v Ram Kumar Khara 15 C W N 213 Sheikh Samruddin v Srimath Kadumoyi Das 15 C W N 244 and Kali Kumar Das v Gopi Krishna Ray 15 C W N 890 referred to. SHEIKH GOLAM IAHMAN v SHEIKH WAHED ALI (1912) 16 C W N 833

4. Application by debtor to be declared insolvent—Acts of bad faith if ground for rejecting petition. An application by a debtor to be declared an insolvent cannot be rejected on the ground of his having committed acts of bad faith. Uday Chand Maiti v Ram Kumar 15 C W N 213 13 C L J 400 and Samruddin v Kadumoyi 15 C W N 244 referred to. ABDEL PRIZAK v HASBI RUDDIN AHMED (1911) 17 C W N 405

5. Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) s 15 41 46—Order for adjudication if may be refused on ground of improper alienation of property by debtor—Fictitious state ment of debt. Neither an order for adjudication nor one dismissing a petition for declaring a person an insolvent can be treated as a decree between the parties in a contested or uncontested suit and a creditor who did not oppose the debtor's application to be declared an insolvent need not be added as a respondent in an appeal preferred by the debtor under s 46 of the Indian Insolvency Act against an order dismissing the application. Where an application by a debtor to be adjudged an insolvent was refused on the ground that the debtor had transferred a portion of his property in lieu of dower and had thus committed an act of bad faith. Held that questions of bad faith or improper dealing by the debtor with his property do not arise for consideration until after the order for adjudication has been made and the insolvent applies for final discharge and the order for adjudication could not have been refused on the ground stated. Uday Chand Maiti v Ram Kumar Khara 15 C W N 213 and Gurwardhari v Jai Narain 1 L R 32 All 645 referred to. Nathumal v District Judge of Benares 1 L R 30 All 547 disapproved. That it was open to the opposing creditor to prove that the debt shown to be due to another creditor was fictitious so as to show that the petitioner's debts did not really amount to Rs 500 as required by s 5 of the Act. SAMRUDDIN v KADUMOYI DAS (1910) 15 C W N 244

ss 15 16 17 22, 46 and 52—

Official Receiver's order dismissing insolvency petition—No appeal direct to

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

—contd.

s 15, 16, 18, 20, 22, 46 and 52—

High Court—Practice—No interference in revision where other remedy open No appeal lies under s 46 cl (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act to the High Court from the order of an Official Receiver dismissing an insolvency petition but an appeal against orders passed by the Official Receiver lies under s 2ⁿ only to the District Court. The language of s. 22 read with s. 50 cl (2) shows that such right of appeal is not confined to orders made under ss 18, 19 and 20 but extends to all orders of the Receiver. Obster An Official Receiver invested with the power mentioned in cl (a) of s. 52 (1) has the power to dismiss an insolvency petition under s 15. The Court will not interfere under s 115 Civil Procedure Code in a case where other adequate remedy was open. CHIDAMABARAM v NAGAPPA (1912)

I L R 38 Mad 15

s 16—

See s 3 I L R. 44 Mad. 524

See s 4 I L R. 36 Mad. 402

See s 5 I L R 10 All. 75

See s 8 I L R 40 All. 665

See s 15 I L R 38 Mad. 15

See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 239

I L R 44 Calc 535

See LIMITATION ACT 1908.

s 15 I L R 42 Mad. 319

See MINOR I L R 42 Calc 225

See RAILWAY PECKIFF

I L R 38 Mad. 664

sub-s (1)—Adjudication by Official Receiver—No order vesting property in Receiver effect of—Action for money had and received scope of—Privy of plaintiff and defendant necessity for—Nature of privy The Official Receiver in the insolvency of R put up for sale the debts of a firm in which R and the second, third and fourth defendants were partners and the first defendant purchased them from the Receiver and afterwards recovered a debt due to the firm. The plaintiff having attached three fourths of the money so recovered by the first defendant in execution of a decree obtained by him against the second, third and fourth defendants for a debt due by the firm and having been appointed Receiver in the execution proceedings sued the first defendant to recover the said three fourths of the money as money had and received to the use of the second, third and fourth defendants. Held that the plaintiff had no cause of action against the first defendant because in an action for money had and received there must be as shown by the English decisions privity of a legally recognizable nature between the plaintiff and the defendant and no such privity existed in this case and that the suit also failed as regards the shares of the second and third defendants by reason of their adjudications as insolvents prior to the attachment. Scope of the action for money had and received pointed out. English and Indian cases reviewed. Sinclair v Brougham (1914) A C 398 explained. Sankaran v Gopindan I L R 37 Mad 381 referred to. Per SADASIVA AYYAR J. While privity of contract between the parties is of course not necessary to sustain an action for money had and received there must be what might be called some privity of a legally recognizable nature as such some knowledge of particular facts in the man who received the money and some mistake or ignorance of fact on the part of the man who paid the money or some relation of trust and confidence between them on which the Court could fasten as creating the relation of principal and agent (though by fiction) between the plaintiff and the defendant. Per OLDFIELD J. Obster It may be permissible in India as it is in England to sue only the solvent members of a firm when a decree is sought against it. Hawkins v Pambolam 6 Taunton 19 referred to. RAMASAMI NAIDU v MUTHUSAMI PILLAI (1918) I L R 41 Mad 923 sub-s (2)—Whether bar in the passing of a decree in a pending suit—Meaning of the words "remedy and commence any suit or legal proceeding in the section explained A O was adjudicated insolvent in January 1911. At that time he was defending a case for recovery of Rs 60 3/4 on a mortgage deed. In spite of his adjudication he continued the defence of the suit and the first court decreed it against him. On appeal to the Chief Court the decree was modified to this extent that a preliminary decree for the sale of the mortgaged property was passed but plaintiff was left at liberty to apply subsequently for a personal decree against A O in the event of the sale proceeds proving insufficient to meet the mortgage debt. The sale proceeds did prove insufficient and the plaintiff moved the Court for first instance to take action under O XXXIV r 6 Civil Procedure Code and a personal decree for the balance due issued against A O the defendant who appealed against that decree. Held that the application by the plaintiff under O XXXIV r 6 was not a new proceeding but a continuation of the original suit and the decree passed thereon was not a remedy against the person of the insolvent and did not therefore contravene the provisions of s 16 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. Held further that a decree is not a remedy for a civil wrong but merely a step towards the remedy. The remedy is the benefit accruing to the creditor through the execution of his decree and that remedy he can secure only through the Insolvency Court by proving his debt. Mamraj v Briji Lal (I L R 34 All 106) dissented from. KISHAN CHAND v SOHAN LAL

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s 16—contd.

I L R. 2 Lah 95

Secured Creditor—Landholder and tenant—Suit for arrears of rent—Declaration of insolvency in force at date of suit A land holder is not as regards an agricultural tenant a secured creditor within the meaning of s 16 (5) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. Although he possibly may be in a position to distrain even whilst a declaration of insolvency is in force he cannot without the leave of the Court sue for arrears of rent. PACHUBH SINGH v RAM CHANDAR (1911) I L R 33 All 121

Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 60—Insolvency—Attachment of half the salary of the insolvent One of the creditors of a person who had been declared an insolvent by the Small Cause Court of Cawnpore but who had since obtained employment in the Government Press in

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s 16—contd

Calcutta applied to the Court for attachment of half the insolvent's salary for the benefit of his creditors. Held that it was no valid reason for rejecting the creditor's application that its allowance would not leave the insolvent enough to live on. Ram Chandra Neogi v Shyama Charan Bose 18 C W N 1050 and Tulsi Lal v Girsham 38 Indian Cases 410 followed. DEVI PRASAD v LEWIS (1918) I. L. R. 40 All. 213

Effect of order of adjudication on institution of suits by creditors to set aside fraudulent alienations by insolvent. The effect of an order adjudicating a person an insolvent under s 16 (1) of the Provincial Insolvency Act is to vest the administration of his estate including the realization of his assets under the control of the Court. Hence after such an order a creditor (whether decree holder or otherwise) is by s 16 (2) (b) of the Act prevented from instituting without the leave of the Court of Insolvency a suit to set aside a transfer made by the insolvent as being in fraud of creditors. VASUDEVA RAMATH v LAKSHMINARAYANA RAO (1918) I. L. R. 42 Mad. 534

Mortgage executed without objection on the part of either the receiver or the Court by insolvent to pay off principal or only creditor. Heirs of insolvent not entitled to object. During the pendency of proceedings in insolvency the insolvents whose principal if not the only creditor was a mortgagee executed another mortgage in favour of a third party and paid off the first mortgage. Neither the receiver nor the court in which the insolvency proceedings were took any objection to the execution of the second mortgage. Held on suit brought by the second mortgagee on the mortgage in his favour against the heirs of the mortgagors that it was not open to the defendants to contest the suit upon the ground that the execution of the mortgage involved a breach of the insolvency law. SHAM SARUP NAND RAM I. L. R. 43 All. 555 ss 16 (c) 18 (3)—Property alleged to be held by stranger in benami for insolvent if may be recovered without suit. Judge's power to order inquiry by Receiver. Where a creditor of an insolvent alleged that certain Government promissory notes were being held by the insolvent's brother in benami; for the insolvent and the insolvent's brother denied that the insolvent had any title to the Government promissory notes and alleged that they were his own property and the Judge called for a report on the matter from the Receiver. Held that it was open to the Judge to direct the Receiver to enquire and report to him for his own information. That on receipt of such report it was for the Judge to consider whether upon the facts before him he should direct the Receiver to bring a suit in order that the question of title may be decided or whether the case is so clear (that is to say the title is not really in dispute) that it can be dealt with in the insolvency without the necessity of a suit. If the question of title be seriously in dispute the Judge should direct the Receiver to bring a suit to have the question determined. SATYA KUMAR MUKHERJI v MANAGER BENARES BANK LD (1917) 22 C W N 700

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

s 16, sub-s (2) cl (a) ss 27, 42 sub-s. (1)—Direction for deposit in Court of one fourth of insolvent's monthly salary which exceeded Rs 40 if legal—Order for adjudication when can be subsequently annulled—'Salary' if property of insolvent—Jurisdiction of High Court to give directions regarding order of adjudication when only the order annulling it is under appeal. A debtor who was arrested in execution of a decree applied to be and was adjudged an insolvent. In the order of adjudication the insolvent was directed pending realisation by sale of his assets to pay a quarter of his monthly salary of Rs 100 a month into Court until the sum realised from him should equal one third of the debts for which the creditor had obtained a decree. Subsequently the District Judge annulled the order of adjudication on the ground that the insolvent had failed to abide by the condition regarding payment of one fourth of his salary. Held that the direction regarding the payment of one fourth of the insolvent's salary could not have been given under the Provincial Insolvency Act. The proper course for the District Judge would have been to direct the Receiver to arrange for payment to him of one half of the salary earned by the insolvent salary being property of the insolvent within the meaning of s 16 sub-s (2) cl (a) only one half of the salary which exceeded Rs 40 a month being exempt from attachment under s 60 Civil Procedure Code. That the subsequent order of the District Judge annulling the order of adjudication could not have been made under sub-s (1) of s 42 the conditions required by that section being absent in the present case. That when setting aside at the instance of the insolvent the order of the lower Court whereby it annulled the adjudication and which was the only order under appeal it was open to the High Court to consider what directions should be given regarding the order of adjudication which was modified to the extent that the condition imposed was discharged. The District Judge being ordered to give the necessary direction according to law. RAM CHANDRA NEOGI v SHYAMA CHARAN BOSE (1913) 18 C W N 1052 ss 16 (2 and 6) and 38—Insolvency—Date of testing of insolvent's property in the Receiver—Alienation of property by insolvent between the dates of the representation of the petition and the order of adjudication. The effect of sub-s (2) and (6) of s 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907, is that while no vesting of the property of the insolvent in the Receiver takes place until an order of adjudication is made and it is order of adjudication which vests the property nevertheless by a legal fiction the vesting of the property of the insolvent in the Receiver must be deemed to have taken place when once an order of adjudication has been made at the date of the presentation of the petition or in other words the commencement of the insolvency. It follows therefore that the insolvent cannot make a valid alienation of his property between the dates of the presentation of the petition and the order of adjudication. T F Sankaranarayanan v Alagiri Aiyar 49 Indian Cases 253 referred to. SRO-NATH SIKOH v MUNSHI RAM I. L. R. 42 All. 433 ss 16 (2) 18 (2), and 19 (2)—Adjudication of a person as insolvent—Necessity of an

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd—

ss. 16 (2) 18 (2) and 10 (2)—contd

order appointing a person as Receiver of the insolvent estate S 18 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) contemplates on every adjudication of insolvency an order by the Court appointing a Receiver for the insolvent estate and without such an order the estate does not vest in the Official Receiver under s. 19 (2). Hence a sale of the estate by the Official Receiver without such an order does not give the vendee any title. Official Receiver of Trichinopoly v. Somasundaram Chetty (1916) 39 M L J 415 followed. MUTHUSWAMI SWAMIAH v. SOMMO KANDIAR (1910) I L R 43 Mad. 869

Sub-s 4—Muhammadan law—Bequest to an heir—Consent of other heirs to bequeath such consent not affected by insolvency of other heirs. When the consent of the heirs of a Muhammadan to a bequest in a will in favour of an heir has been signified the legatee takes from the testator and the consent does not operate as a transfer by the heirs of a right which has in the meantime vested in them. Such consent would not be affected by the fact of the consenting heirs being insolvents. AMIR UDDIN BISI v. CHIEVE

I L R 42 All. 593

ss. 10 (6) 38—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 46 Cal. 991

Order of insolvency of relates back to date of presentation of petition—Transfer made within two years of date of petition if comes within s. 36. The provisions of s. 36 are to be read with s. 16 (6) of the Act and an order of adjudication relates back to and takes effect from the date of the presentation of the petition for the purpose of making the properties of the insolvent liable to the creditors and a transfer made within two years of the date of the petition comes within the provisions of s. 36. RAHMAN CHANDRA PURKAIT v. SUDHINDRO NATH BOSE 24 C W N 172

ss. 16 22—Mortgage of factory—

Decree for sale—Appointment of receiver to get in profits for benefit to decree holder—Insolvency of judgment debtor—Profits appropriated by creditors of insolvent—Suit by mortgagee decree holder to recover profits. One J L being the mortgagee of a cotton spinning factory obtained a decree for sale on his mortgage but instead of the factory being sold in execution of this decree a receiver was appointed for the period of one year by consent of the decree holder. The receiver was to work the factory receive the profits and hand them over to the decree holder. Notwithstanding that no fresh order was passed by the executing court the receiver remained in possession of the factory for more than two years. He received the profits but in accordance with the local practice of the trade made them over to a certain association for the collection and distribution of the profits of cotton spinning factories. Meanwhile the mortgagor became insolvent and creditors holding simple money decrees against him proceeded to attach the profits of the factory in the hands of the association and the profits were divided rateably between these creditors. The mortgagee then sued to recover the profits of the factory earned whilst the receiver had been in charge making defendants (i) the receiver

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd—

ss. 11 22—contd

originally appointed by the Court (ii) the creditors of the insolvent mortgagor and (iii) the receiver in insolvency. Held that the appointment of the original receiver having been made with the consent of the decree holder and the judgment debtor was not made without jurisdiction that the profits of the factory for the year for which the receiver was appointed were assignable entirely to the satisfaction of the mortgage decree and that the suit against the receiver in insolvency was not barred by either s. 16 or s. 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. In re Latta Ex parte Taylor [1893] 1 Q B 649 and Croschew v. Lyndhurst Ship Company [1897] 2 Ch D 101 distinguished. JUNJUN LAL v. PIRANI LAL (1916) I L R 39 All. 204

ss. 11 31—Civil Procedure Code 1908

O XXXI v. 6—Application for decree over against two judgment debtors one of whom had been declared insolvent. Where one of two mortgagors against whom a decree under O XXXI v. 6 of the Code of Civil Procedure was otherwise obtainable had been declared an insolvent under the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 but the other had not. Held that the decree holders could not be granted a decree over as against the insolvent but could only prove their debt in the insolvency proceedings. Barley v. Dubeux and Company I L R 7 Q B D 413 referred to. MAHARAJ v. BRIJ LAL CHAKRAVARTI (1911) I L R 34 All. 106

ss. 16 and 34—

Decree holder and Receiver priority between title of in respect of asset realized by date of adjudication. S 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 is controlled by s. 34 of that Act. The title of a decree holder in respect of assets realized before the date of the order of insolvency prevails over the title of a Receiver appointed on or after such date. PALLI RAM v. SREKANTH PRASAD 2 Pat L J 235

Execution of decree against insolvent during pendency of insolvency proceedings—Right of decree holder in respect of property attached and sold and money attached before adjudication. Whilst proceedings in insolvency under the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 were pending certain immovable property of the insolvent was attached and sold in execution of a decree against him and the proceeds deposited in Court for the benefit of the decree holder. The decree holder also attached certain moneys which had been paid into Court to the credit of the insolvent but up to the date of the order of adjudication had taken no further steps to possess himself thereof. Held that the decree holder was entitled as against the receiver to the benefit of the proceeds of execution of his own decree but not to the money of the insolvent which he had attached. PACCCKI v. Madan Gopal I L R 29 Cal. 48 followed. SRI CHAND v. MURARI LAL (1912)

I L R 33 All. 628

ss. 16 and 35—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882
s. 56 I L R 42 All. 336

ss. 11 36, 43—Insolvent—Property of insolvent which does not vest in the receiver—Occu pancy holding—House of agriculturist. A person who was an agriculturist by occupation was adjudicated an insolvent. Shortly before his insolvency he had granted a lease of his occupancy holding. The zamindar was the principal creditor. The District Judge ordered the land to be surrendered to the zamindar and the insolvent a house to be sold. Held that the property of the insolvent which is exempted by an enactment for the time being in force from liability to attachment and sale in execution of a decree does not vest in the Court or the receiver therefore the District Judge had no jurisdiction to direct the receiver to surrender the tenancy and to set aside the lease. Further the order directing the sale of the house was illegal inasmuch as the house being that of an agriculturist and being exempted from attachment and sale in execution of a decree never vested in the Court or the receiver. SAGAR MAL v. RAO PINNAJ SINGH (1916).

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

ss 10 38 43—contd.

I. L. R. 39 All. 120

ss 10 41 42, 45—Insolvent—Assets declared by receiver not realisable—Discharge of insolvent—Subsequent sale by insolvent of assets so declared unrealisable. Part of the apparent assets of an insolvent consisted of mortgage rights in certain property. The rights were not dealt with by the receiver because he considered that it would be impossible to realize anything on them. The insolvent was accordingly discharged. Thereafter the insolvent managed to sell the mortgage rights which had been declared unsaleable by the receiver. Held that in the circumstances the sale was good and passed whatever rights the discharged insolvent had to the purchaser. SHYONANDAN v. KASHI (1916).

I. L. R. 39 All. 223

ss 10 47 12, cl (3) and 51—Insolvency Rules XXI cl (3) and cl (2) and (3)—Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908) O III r 3 and O V r 12—Petition by creditor to adjudicate debtor an insolvent—Service of notice on agent if sufficient—No notice sent by Court through registered post effect of—Act of insolvency committed by agent if sufficient—Difference between English and Indian Law. Where a petition was filed in a District Court by a creditor praying for an order to adjudicate his debtor an insolvent under s 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act and a notice of such petition was served on his local agent with a general power of attorney from the debtor who was residing outside the jurisdiction of the Court. Held that the service of notice on the agent was in law sufficient though no notice was sent by the Court to the debtor through registered post. Effect of s 47 of the Provincial Insolvency Act and r XXI cl (2) and (3) and r V cl (2) of the Insolvency Rules considered. Under s 4 of the Provincial Insolvency Act a debtor can be adjudicated an insolvent upon acts of insolvency committed by his agent. In the matter of Brijmohan Dobay 2 C W N 306 referred to. Under the English law an act of bankruptcy must be a personal act or default of the debtor and could not be committed through an agent. Ex parte Blain 12 Ch D 522 and Coole v. Charles A. Fogler Co [1901] A C 102. Though under s 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act an adjudication of the debtor as an insolvent relates back to the ss 10 47, 12, cl (3) and 51—contd.

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

date of the petition the power of the debtor's agent under a general power of attorney ceases only with reference to his dealings with the debtor's property and the carrying on of the trade but not with reference to other acts of the agent and one of those acts must be taken to be to state of bankruptcy orders against the principal. In re Folliott [1893] 1 Q B 415 referred to. KALLANJEE v. THE BANK OF MADRAS (1915).

I. L. R. 39 Mad. 693

ss 10 and 56—Act (Local) No II of 1901 (Agra Tenancy Act) ss 103 and 104—Insolvency—Occupancy holding—Position of insolvent occupancy tenant. An occupancy holding being altogether out side the provisions of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 that Act is so far as a suit for arrears of rent brought by the zamindar pending proceedings in insolvency. Paghyab Singh v. Ram Chander I L R 34 All. 121 overruled. HALKA DAS v. CAJIB SINGH.

I. L. R. 34 All. 510

s. 18—

Sr s 3

I. L. R. 34 Mad. 624

Sec s 16

I L. R. 39 Mad. 15

Sec s 16

22 C W N 700

see Receiver

I L. R. 43 Mad. 869

I L. R. 40 Cal. 878

1—Sale of executed benami by the insolvent—Receiver entitled to remove the so-called purchases from possession of properties sold—Indian Limitation Act (I of 1908) Sch I art 31. Where in orders in order to save their property from their creditor had executed fictitious sale deeds thereof in favour of relations but never gave and never intended to give the so-called purchasers possession. Held that such transaction was no bar to the receiver taking possession of the property comprised in the said sale deeds as the property of the insolvents. Patharpermal Chetty v. Muniamma Sertai I L R 35 Cal. 551 referred to. JAGDIP SARTI v. RAMANAND SARTI (1917).

I. L. R. 39 All. 833

2—Decree obtained by insolvent before adjudication—Attachment of decree—Effect of subsequent adjudication on right of attaching creditor to execute decree. Where a decree has been attached by a creditor of the decree holder and subsequently the decree holder is adjudged an insolvent the right to execute such decree vests in the receiver in insolvency and is not retained by the attaching creditor. Raghunath Das v. Sundar Lal Khatri I L R 42 Cal. 72 referred to. DANBAR SINGH v. MUNAWAR ALI KHAN (1917).

I L. R. 40 All. 86

3—Credit or alleged property of insolvent being kept in benami by his wife—Court if may summarily enquire into allegation—Proper procedure—Court to award Receiver to sue on creditor putting him in funds and indemnifying him for costs. Where a creditor of an insolvent applied to the District Judge complaining that the insolvent had concealed certain properties by having them vested in the name of his wife and prayed that certain persons and the insolvent and his wife be examined in regard to the matter.

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—*contd.*s 18—contd.

Held that such a summary inquiry is not supported by any provision of the Provincial Insolvency Act and the Judge was right in refusing to order such an inquiry. But the creditor could not be told to bring a suit for title against the alleged benamidar. The proper procedure was for the creditor to apply to the Court to direct the Receiver to institute and continue a suit against the wife of the insolvent to recover the property in question making it a condition precedent that the creditor so applying put the Official Receiver in funds and properly indemnify him against the costs of the suit and the Court should make such an order if in its opinion the creditor has a prima facie case. Jai Chandra Das v Mahomed Amir (1917) 22 C W N 702

s 18 (3) 20—Transfer by insolvent challenged as benami—Judge if may order transferee to be disposed of without suit—Judge if may direct Receiver of insolvent's properties to hold a judicial inquiry—Receiver may report administratively—Judge when he directs a suit should order or direct to put Receiver in funds and indemnify him. Where a transfer dated the 10th March 1913 by a person who was adjudicated an insolvent on 11th February 1910 having been attacked in the interest of his creditors as benami the Judge ordered the Receiver appointed to take over the insolvent's properties (who was not the Official Receiver appointed by the Local Government under s 19 of the Provincial Insolvency Act) to enquire and report and the Receiver after holding an enquiry of a judicial character submitted his report which however the Judge did not accept but directed the enquiry to be reopened in Court. Held that the duties of an ordinary Receiver under s 20 of the Act are executive in their character and the Receiver is not a Judicial Officer and has no jurisdiction to make anything in the nature of a judicial inquiry. s 18 (3) of the Act is not intended to authorise the removal of any person whom the insolvent himself could not remove without the aid of legal proceedings. When the benami character of the title is admitted or when the veil is transparent and the insolvent is in substantial beneficial possession the Court may order the delivery of the property to the Receiver. But where the alleged benamidar is in possession claiming adversely to the insolvent then any claim made by the Receiver or the creditor that the property is really the property of the insolvent can only be enforced by suit in the regular court. The Court may direct an administrative inquiry by the Receiver for the purpose of informing his mind and deciding what action should be taken and if in the result he is of opinion that a suit should be brought he should make the order on terms requiring the creditor at whose instance the suit is directed to put the Receiver in funds and indemnify against the costs of the suit. Nilmmoni Chowdhury v Durga Charan Chowdhury (1918) 22 C W N 704

s 18 20 (a)—Receiver sale of insolvent's properties by—Procedure—Sales by the Receiver in whom the property of an insolvent vests under s 18 of the Provincial Insolvency Act are really sales by the owner and may be held either by public auction or by private treaty. The procedure for sales in execution of decrees

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—*contd.*ss 18, 20 (a)—contd.

under the Civil Procedure Code does not apply to them. Latazuddi Sheikh v Ram Krishna Banik 24 C W N 1072 ss 18 20 (a) (c) and 23—Ordering order in favour of Receiver—Order to Official Receiver to adjudicate and administer the insolvent's estate effect of—On an application for adjudication of insolvency the District Court passed the following order—The petition is transferred to the Official Receiver for adjudication and for the administration of the estate. After adjudication by the Receiver no separate order vesting the insolvent's estate in the Receiver was passed by the District Court under s 18 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. Held that by the combined effect of s 20 (a) and (c) and s 23 of the Act the order to administer the estate empowered the Receiver to sell the insolvent's estate. Mulhuswami Swamin v Somoo Kandiar (1910) 1 L R 43 Mad 869 distinguished. Subba Aiyar v Ramaswami Ailango (1911) 1 L R 44 Mad 54 ss 18 36 47—Power of Court to dispossess third person of property belonging to an insolvent—Inquiry as to ownership of property alleged to belong to the insolvent—Procedure—A Court exercising jurisdiction under the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 has power to inquire whether property in the possession of a third party and alleged by the receiver to be property of the insolvent is really so or not and if it finds that such property is the property of the insolvent to order its delivery to the receiver. But in making such an inquiry the Court should follow the procedure of a Civil Court in a civil suit should require the receiver and the party in possession to state their respective cases in writing should fix issues and should give the parties an opportunity of producing evidence. Bansidhar v Khargajir (1914) 1 L R 37 All 85

s 18 (2)—

See s 16 (2) 1 L R 43 Mad 869

ss 19—20 suit against a Receiver

—Necessity of notice—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss 2 AND 80 1 L R 44 Bom 895

s 20—

See s 2 1 L R 40 Cal 678

See s 15 1 L R 38 Mad 15

See s 18 (3) 22 C W N 704

24 C W N 1072

ss 20 22—Properties advertised for sale by the Official Receiver as subject to mortgage—Change in the sale proclamation on the day of sale—Sale free of incumbrance—Irregularity vitiating the sale—s 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act gives unfettered discretion to the Court to set aside a sale held by the Official Receiver if the change in the conditions of the sale proclamation had the effect of preventing intending bidders from coming forward. In re Bhulandas v Board of Trade 7 Bom L R 304 distinguished. Ex parte Lloyd's Pe Peters 4 L T 164 A creditor who is entitled to a decision in respect of the sale of the property of the insolvent is a person aggrieved if the decision goes against him. In re Laid Ex parte Board of Trade [1894] 2 Q B 805 and ex parte Official Receiver 19

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

ss 20, 22—contd

Q B D 171 followed TIRUVENKATCHARIAR v. THANYAYIAH (1915) 1 L R 39 Mad 479

ss. 20, 22, 48—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 111 r 65—Insolvency—Property taken by receiver as property of insolvent—Objection

b, third party claiming to be owner—Procedure—Appeal A receiver appointed under the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 took possession at the instance of one of the creditors of certain property which was believed to be that of the insolvent. A third party came into Court and applied under O 111 r 58 of the Code of Civil Procedure claiming the property as his and when his application was rejected appealed to the High Court. Held that the applicant's proper remedy was under s 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act and that an appeal did not lie as of right but only by leave of the District Court or of the High Court. Quere Whether an Additional District Judge to whom a matter under the Provincial Insolvency Act had been made over by the District Judge was a District Court within the meaning of the Act. VEL CHAND v. MURARI LAL (1913) ss 20, 47—Sale by receiver of property alleged to belong to an insolvent—Property in possession of third person—Obstruction by such third person—Summary enquiry by District Judge—Order directing delivery of possession legally of—Proceedings in s 47 of the Act meaning of Certain property alleged to belong to an insolvent was sold by the receiver under s 20 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. The purchaser whilst attempting to take possession was obstructed by the appellants who claimed to be in possession of the property as owners thereof. The District Judge purporting to act under s 47 of the Act after a summary enquiry ordered possession to be given to the purchaser. Held that the District Judge had no jurisdiction to pass such an order as s 47 only lays down the procedure to be followed by the Insolvency judge with regard to proceedings under the Act. Held also that the word proceedings in s 47 of the Act means the proceedings of the Court and not the act of the receiver under s 20 of the Act. Minaloonnessa Bibee v. Khatoonnessa Bibee 1 L P 21 Cal 479 and Colam Hossein Cassim Arif v. Falsma Begam 1 C 300 explained. Chida Lal v. Luchman Parashad 37 I C 330 approved. NARAYINKATA v. VIKRAGHA VULU (1917)

1 L R 36 All 8

1 L R 41 Mad 440

s 21—whether Insolvency Court can proceed against the land of an insolvent who is a member of an agricultural tribe—

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 2 Lab 78

s 22—

See s 2 1 L R 40 Mad 752

See s 15 1 L R 38 Mad 15

See s 16 1 L R 39 All 204

See s 20 1 L R 39 Mad 479

1 L R 36 All 8

1 Status of any person bringing conduct of Official Receiver to notice of Court—Inherent power of Court to rectify clerical errors—Limitation Held that any person and not merely the insolvent or the creditors or any other aggrieved person can take action to bring the conduct of a Receiver in any particular respect to the notice of the Court with a view to having his act or decision in any particular matter reversed or modified. Also that the Court has inherent powers to rectify the Receiver's errors or mistakes or to reverse or modify his acts or decisions. HANSEHUR v. RAJAL DAS 18 C W N 266 followed. Held further that where the Court acts upon information supplied by persons who are outside the scope of s 22 of the Insolvency Act, the time limit prescribed in that section would be no bar to action being taken by the Court. DITTA RAM v. DEEPI NANDAN

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

s 22—contd

1 L R 1 Lab 307

2 Receiver of adjudicated insolvent's estate issue of sale proclamation by—Property belonging to stranger included in sale—Right of stranger to move Court—Stranger if a person aggrieved—Limitation—Inherent power of Court to restrain its officer from acting in excess of authority When during the pendency of insolvency proceedings against the judgment debtor the decree holder executed his decrees which was a mortgage decree and in execution purchased the mortgaged properties and the judgment-debtor was subsequently adjudicated an insolvent and a Receiver was appointed who sent to Court a sale proclamation which included the properties purchased by the mortgagee and more than 21 days after the sale proclamation was served the mortgagee presented a petition in Court urging that the Receiver had no authority to sell the properties purchased by him. Held that the mortgagee was not a person aggrieved by the Receiver's act within the meaning of s 20 of the Insolvency Act and his objection was not subject to the limitation provided in that section. That the Court was competent to deal with the objection as the Court has inherent authority to review the conduct of a Receiver appointed by it and to make an appropriate order so that a stranger may not be prejudiced by any act of the Receiver in excess of his authority. That it was competent to such stranger to bring any such act of the Receiver to the notice of the Court and it was the duty of the Court to inquire into it. A person aggrieved is a person who has suffered a legal grievance—a man against whom a decision has been pronounced which has wrongfully deprived him of something or wrongfully affected his title to something and does not mean a person who has lost a benefit which he might have obtained if an order had been made. Ex parte Sridotham 14 C D 458 referred to. HANSEHUR GROSS v. RAJAL DAS GROSS (1913)

18 C W N 386

3 Attachment of property as that of an insolvent—Decision of Insolvency Court as between rival claimants to property attached that it properly belonged to one of the claimants—Suit by the other to recover possession—Res judicata Held that the decision of an Insolvency Court as between two rival claimants to property attached by a receiver as the property of the insolvent that the property belongs to one or the other claimant does not operate as res judicata in respect of a suit on title by one claimant

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—co id.

s 22—contd

ant against the other for the recovery of such property HUKMAT RAI v. LADAN NARAY (1917) I L R 39 All 353

Insolvency—

Execution of decree—Attachment—Application of claimant to attach property disallowed—Judgment debtors declared solvent—Suit by claimant for declaration of title. Certain property was attached in execution of a decree. U claiming that the property attached belonged to her and not to the judgment-debtors filed an objection to the attachment. Her objection was disallowed. She then filed a suit for a declaration of her title and as the judgment-debtors had meanwhile been adjudicated insolvents joined as a defendant the receiver of their property. Held that the suit was maintainable and was not barred by s 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. Ud Chand v. Murari Lal I L R 39 All 5 distinguished. Jhanku Lal v. Puri Lal I L R 39 All 204 referred to. MONI v. BALU NATH (1918) I L R 40 All 582

5

Insolvency—Dismissal of objection to attachment of property by receiver—Subsequent suit by objector for declaration of title—Pes judicata. Upon certain property, namely a share in a house having been attached by a receiver in insolvency as the property of the insolvent a claim thereto was preferred by the son and nephew of the insolvent who filed an application under s 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. Evidence of the title of the applicants was produced before the Insolvency Court but the application was rejected and an appeal from the order of rejection was dismissed on the merits. The applicants then filed a regular suit for a declaration of their title to the same property. Held that the suit was barred by reason of the previous order of the Insolvency Court. Pita Ram v. Jughar Singh I L R 39 All 696 referred to. IRSHAD HUSAIN v. GORI NATH (1919) I L R 41 All 378

s 22, 46—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
s 11 I L R 39 All 628

1

Person aggrieved—Right of appeal—Veces ary partes. Held that one creditor out of the general body of creditors of an insolvent has no locus standi in an application in the Insolvency Court made against the estate of the insolvent represented by the receiver by a person claiming adversely to the insolvent's estate. He has therefore no right of appeal against the decision on such an application. Ex parte Sudebotham 14 Ch D 488 and Balls v. Vand Lal 33 Indian Cases 77, referred to. Keto Key Churan Banerjee v. Sreemutty Sarat Kumar Debee 20 C W A 995 distinguished. JHANRA LAL v. SHIB CHARAN DAS (1916)

I L R 39 All 152

2

Appeal—Person aggrieved. In the course of proceedings in insolvency before a District Judge the insolvent filed an application in court complaining of a sale of property which had been held by order of the receiver and urging that it should not be confirmed. His objections having been disallowed and the sale confirmed the insolvent appealed to the High Court having obtained leave to appeal under s 46 (3) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. Held that no appeal lay inasmuch as the insolvent could not be held to be a "person aggrieved" in the legal sense of the term and the fact that he had obtained leave to appeal from the Court below could not give him a right which was not conferred by the Act. Jhalda Lal v. Shib Charan Das I L R 39 All 150. Ladu Ram v. Mahabir Prasad I L R 39 All 171. Ex parte Sheriff 10 Ch D 434 and In re Leabiller 10 Ch D 354 referred to. SAKHAWAT ALI v. HADHA MOHAM (1918) I L R 41 All 243 s 22, 46 52—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 5—Insolvency—Application to Court to reverse act of receiver—Limitation. Held that s 5 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 does not apply to applications contemplated by s 22 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907. Dro pads v. Hira Lal I L R 39 All 496 distinguished. THAKUR PRASAD v. PAVO LAL (1913) I L R 35 All 410

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—co 1

s 22 45—contd

s 23—

Sec s 18

I L R 44 Mad 547

Insolvency—Attachment of applicant's property prior to adjudication—Effect of adjudication on the attachment. After an adjudication in insolvency an attachment of property though made before the adjudication ceases to have any effect and the property of the insolvent vests in the receiver who is the person to maintain all proceedings. Where no receiver is actually appointed the Court is the receiver under s 23 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. GOBIND DAS v. KARAN SINGH (1917)

I L R 40 All 197

s 23 and 25—Where a plaint is returned under s 23 the High Court will not interfere under s 23 nor s 113 of the Civil Procedure Code nor s 107 of the Government of India Act unless the Court of first instance has exercised its discretion ignorantly or perversely or has refused to exercise it and thereby caused injury to the parties which would be irreparable if not set right. GANGA PRASAD v. NANDU RAM

I Pat L J 485

s 26—Insolvency—Application by a creditor to have his name entered in the schedule of creditors—Right of the scheduled creditors to make objections—Revision. Creditors whose names are already in the schedule prepared under s 24 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 are entitled to be heard before the debt of a creditor who comes in at the last minute under s 24 (3) of the Act is entered in the schedule. ALLAHABAD BANK Ltd v. MURLIDHAR (1912) I L R 34 All 442

s 24, 26 36 52—Powers—Official Receiver—Delegation of powers—Framing of schedule by Receiver—Enquiry nature of—Order of Receiver, if judicial or final—Entry of name of a creditor in schedule—Subsequent application by Receiver to Court to expunge name—Power of Court to entertain application. An Official Receiver under the Provincial Insolvency Act in framing a schedule of creditors does not decide judicially or upon contested claims. Where therefore Official Receiver passed an order upon the of a creditor of an insolvent to rank as a

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

ss 24 25 52—contd

creditor under a mortgage which was disputed by another creditor the action of the Receiver amounted only to an entry of the name of the creditor in the schedule framed under s 24 of the Act and did not preclude the Court from entertaining an application by the Receiver under ss 28 and 38 of the Act to expunge the name of the creditor from the schedule. RAHADIRSHAW MA RAIKAR v THE OFFICIAL RECEIVER, TRIVELY (1917) I L R 41 Mad 30

■ 21 27 47—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 48 Calc 87

s 20—

See s 4 I L R 36 Mad 402See s 24 I L R 34 All 442*I L R 41 Mad 30

s 27—

See s 18 (c) (a) 18 C W N 1052*I L R 48 Calc 87

■ 22 23 24—Proposal for composition subsequent to adjudication of insolvency rejected by District Judge—Private arrangement with creditors and payment in accordance therewith—Subsequent petition by creditors alleging inducement by misrepresentations—Such creditors if entitled to prove claims as on date of adjudication on deposit in Court of sums received by them—Person making payment to such creditors if entitled to be substituted in place of creditors—Duty of Court to prepare schedule of creditors and debts After being adjudicated insolvents the Appellants proposed a scheme for composition which was rejected by the District Judge They subsequently represented to the Court that a majority of the creditors had accepted from one M half their respective dues in full satisfaction of their claims as suggested in the scheme for composition These creditors subsequently filed petitions in Court stating that they had been induced by false and fraudulent misrepresentations of the insolvents to accept from them half of the principal sums due to them and prayed that on payment by them into Court of the said sums they should be permitted to prove their claims—Held—That in view of the provisions of ss 28 and 38 of the Act these transactions could not be recognised in insolvency proceedings and the petitioning creditors were entitled to prove their claims as they stood on the date of adjudication That the framing of the schedule of creditors and debts under s 24 of the Act is the duty of the Court which is to decide on each claim on evidence and in case of contests after hearing necessary parties. BEHARY LAL SIKDAR v HARSUKH DAS CHAKMAL 25 C W N 137

s 30—

See SET OFF I L R 45 Bom. 1219

s 31—

See s 18 I L R 54 All 106

Secured creditor—

Insolvency—Agreement appointing creditor agent for sale of debtor's goods—Proceeds to be paid to creditor The owners of a printing and publishing business who owed money to a bank entered into an agreement with the bank the substance of which was that all books then in stock and all

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

s 31—contd

books to be published thereafter were to be made over at once to the bank that a commission at a certain rate was to be allowed to the bank on the sale of the books and that the sale proceeds of the books were to be credited to the debtor's loan account every month after deducting the commission due to the bank. There was also other clauses and finally one Ram Charan Shukul agreed to act on behalf of the bank as sole agent for the sale of the debtor's books. Held that the bank was on this agreement entitled to rank as a secured creditor of the owners of the printing and publishing business in the insolvency of the latter. ALLAHABAD TRADING AND BANKING CORPORATION LD v GHULAM MUHAMMAD (1915) I L R 37 All 383

s 34—

See s 16 I L R 34 All 628*2 Pat L J 235See INSOLVENCY I L R 42 Calc 289

1 Attachment before judgment—Plaintiff obtaining decree if acquiescence on money deposited to have attachment with drawn—Defendant adjudicated in solvent before money could be realised in execution of decree—Receiver in insolvency if may claim money deposited Where defendant's properties were attached before judgment in plaintiff's suit but the Court directed the attached properties to be released from attachment on the defendant's paying Rs 500 as cash security and after the same was paid and the properties released the defendant was adjudged an insolvent under Act III of 1907 but not before the plaintiff's suit was decreed. Held that the plaintiff acquired no lien or charge upon the money deposited as security for getting the attachment before judgment withdrawn and the Receiver in solvency was entitled to have the money paid to him. The money not having been realised in execution of a decree prior to the adjudication order s 34 of Act III of 1907 did not apply. PROMOTHA NATH CHAKRAVARTY v MOHINI MOHAN SEN (1916) 19 C W N 1200

2 Decree for sale of certain property was obtained by one of the creditors—Prior to sale judgment debtor was adjudged insolvent—Position of other creditors s 34 of the Provincial Insolvency Act was intended to put the creditors of the insolvent who have not actually attached the property before the date of the order of adjudication in as good a position as creditors of the insolvent who but for his insolvency would have been entitled to a rateable distribution of the assets realized on an execution sale. Certain property was attached before judgment and a decree was subsequently obtained for its sale but prior to a sale actually taking place the judgment debtor was adjudged an insolvent. Held that as the order of adjudication was passed prior to the sale of the property it must be regarded as the property of the judgment debtor and as such was available to the general body of creditors. KASUR NATH v KANHAIYA LAL SHARMA (1915) I L R 37 All 452

3 Right of execution creditor to assets realised before adjudication Where the assets have been realised in the course of execution by sale or otherwise as mentioned in s 34

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s 34—contd.

before the date of the order of adjudication an execution creditor is entitled to the benefit of the execution against the Receiver. GOPI CHARAN GANGA CHARAN SAMA v. TOTARBIDDIN AHMED (1918) 23 C. W. N. 461

s. 34 35—Application for declaration of insolvency—Property of applicant a cash—Lower of Insolvency Court to stay proceedings in execution. An Insolvency Court has no power to interfere with execution proceedings pending in another Court against a person who has filed his petition to be declared insolvent at least until either the debtor has been declared insolvent or until a receiver has been appointed. ANUR KUMAR v. KESHO DAS (1917) 1 L. L. R. 39 All. 547

ss. 34, 35 and 37—

See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

3 Pat. L. J. 456

s. 35—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s. 50 1 L. R. 42 All. 336

See s. 34 1 L. R. 39 All. 547

s. 36—

See s. 3 1 L. R. 44 Mad. 524

See s. 10 1 L. R. 39 All. 120

24 C. W. N. 172

See s. 11 1 L. R. 37 All. 65

See s. 24 1 L. R. 41 Mad. 30

See INSOLVENCY 1 L. R. 46 Cal. 991

1—contd. s. 36 46 (?) 50—

Order cancelling anation of property by insolvent—Transfer if may appeal—Aggrieved person—Receiver if necessary party to appeal—Property outside local limits if may be dealt with—Calling in the aid of Court in whose jurisdiction property situate. Where an alienation of property made by an insolvent prior to his adjudication as such is annulled under s. 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act the transferee is an aggrieved person within s. 46 (2) of the Act and is entitled to prefer an appeal against the order. The transferee is moreover a necessary party to the proceeding and entitled to appeal as such. The proper person to make an application under s. 36 is the Receiver in whom the insolvent's properties have vested and he is a necessary party to such a proceeding and to an appeal arising out of it. But where the application was made and prosecuted in the lower Court by the creditors the Receiver not having been joined as a party and the creditors were represented on the appeal and were fully heard in support of the order and the order proposed to be made did not in any way affect the position of the Receiver the appeal to avoid needless delay was heard and disposed of in the Receiver's absence. Under s. 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act the Court has jurisdiction to deal with alienations made by the debtor of properties situated outside its local limits and such jurisdiction is not affected by the provisions of s. 16 of the Civil Procedure Code. A proceeding under s. 36 of the Act is not in the nature of a suit. It is only an incidental proceeding in the course of a more comprehensive one for adjudging a person an insolvent regard being had to the fact that the petitioner

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s 36—contd.

under s. 36 lived in Calcutta that the Court in which the proceedings in insolvency were pending was at Dacca that the property in question was situated at Mongher and the transferee and the principal witnesses to the transfer were residents of that place and that three of the petitioners own witnesses were residents respectively of Bhagalpur, Purnan and Calcutta. Held that this was a fit case for proceeding under s. 40 and the case was remanded to the lower Court with directions to call in the aid of the Court at Bhagalpur in regard to the matter. LALJI SANA SING v. ABUL GANI (1910) 15 C. W. N. 253

2—Insolvent—Question of transfer by order—District Judge not competent to refer to subordinate Court Held that a Court exercising insolvency jurisdiction under Act No. III of 1907 has no power to refer for inquiry to a subordinate Court a question arising under s. 36 of the Act as to whether a mortgage executed by an insolvent was bona fide or not. JAGANNATH v. LACHMAN DAS (1914) 1 L. R. 36 All. 549

3—Insolvent—Right of one creditor to challenge claim of another—Duty of Court to enquire—Jurisdiction

Held that it is open to any creditor of an insolvent to challenge the validity of a debt set up by another creditor and if he does so the Judge is bound to inquire into the truth of his allegations in the insolvency and cannot merely refer the applicant to his remedy by suit. KULSHALLI RAM v. BUDHAR MAL (1915) 1 L. R. 37 All. 252

4—Insolvent—Transfer of property by insolvent—All of a transfer

s. 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act is wider in its scope than s. 53 of the Transfer of Property Act. Under the former Act it is not necessary to show that the transfer was made with intent to defeat or delay a creditor. All that it is necessary to show is that the transfer was made within two years of the adjudication of the insolvency of the debtor unless it is a transfer made before and in consideration of marriage. In order to determine the validity of a transfer by a debtor of all his property in lieu of a debt it is a matter for consideration whether a real transfer was intended by the transferor or it was merely fictitious and whether it was made in good faith the onus of proving good faith being upon the transferee. MUHAMMAD HABIB ULLAH v. MUSHTAQ HUSAIN (1916) 1 L. R. 39 All. 75

5—Insolvent—Procedure—Application by receiver to have annulled a transfer made by the insolvent

Where a receiver in insolvency seeks to have set aside under the provisions of s. 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 a transfer made by the insolvent he should file a written statement (similar to a plaint in ordinary suits) setting forth the grounds on which the transfer is challenged. The transferee should put in a written reply and the proceeding should continue very much as in a suit. Such matters should not and cannot properly be disposed of in a summary manner. CHUNDOO LAL v. LACHMAN SONAR (1917) 1 L. R. 39 All. 391

6—Mortgage of moveable property in good faith—Onus Under s. 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

■ 36—contd

cial Insolvency Act the onus of proving that a mortgage executed by an insolvent within two years before his adjudication as such was made in good faith and is therefore binding on the Receiver is on the mortgagee NILMOI CHAUDHURI v BASANTA KUMAR BANERJI (1914)

10 C W N 885

7 ———— Proceeding questioning transfer—Onus In a case arising under s 36 of the Provincial Insolvency Act the burden of proving that the transaction impugned was carried out in good faith and for valuable consideration is on the transferee BASIRUDDIN THAKURDAR v MOHAMED BIRI (1918)

22 C W N 709

■ Fraudulent transfer whether creditor may institute suit to set aside Under s 30 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 if a transaction by way of transfer of an insolvent's property takes place within two years prior to the act of insolvency or to the declaration of insolvency then nothing more is necessary on the part of the person impeaching the transaction than to prove that it took place within two years prior to the act itself. When this has been done the onus is shifted on to the transferee to establish the bona fides of the transaction which he seeks to maintain. ■ 3b contemplates that the Receiver is the proper person to impeach a fraudulent transfer by the insolvent of his property. If the Receiver refuses to do so then it is open to any creditor to apply to the court for leave to institute a proceeding under s 3b on his own behalf and on behalf of the other creditors. Until however the Receiver has refused or declined to act no one else is entitled to do so as the Receiver is the proper person to institute a proceeding under s 3b HENIRAJ SHANKAR LALL v RAMESHWAR RAM

2 Pat L J 101

0 ———— Void meaning o—Exclusive jurisdiction of Insolvency Court ■ avoid transfers falling under the section A transfer of property falling under s 3b of the Provincial Insolvency Act remains valid unless and until set aside at the instance of the Official Receiver. The word void in that section means only voidable. It is only the Official Receiver and not anybody else e.g. a purchaser from him that can get such a transfer set aside. After an adjudication in insolvency the only Court that has jurisdiction to annul a transfer voidable under the Law of Insolvency is the Court of Insolvency and no other Court can adjudicate upon the voidable character of such a transfer in any other proceeding e.g. a suit either at the instance of a plaintiff or of a defendant MARIAPPA PHILLAI v PAMAN CHETTIYAR (1918)

I L R 42 Mad. 322

■ 37—

See s 3 I L R 44 Mad 521

See COMPANIES ACT 1913 s 21

I L P 2 Lah 102

See FRAUDULENT PREFERENCE

I L R 43 Cal 640

1 ———— Subsections (1)
(2) Fraudulent preference how determined—Debtor's intention and motive material—Preference due to pressure from creditor if fraudulent—Creditor if may plead good faith—Onus Under

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

■ 37—contd.

s 37 of the Provincial Insolvency Act good faith on the part of the creditor affords him no protection where the intention of the debtor to give him preference is established although sub s (1) of the section protects a person who in good faith and for valuable consideration has acquired title through or under a creditor of the insolvent. Preference implies an act of free will and there can be no preference where the act is the result of pressure brought to bear on the debtor by the creditor though there would be fraudulent preference where notwithstanding that the payment or disposition might never have been made but for the importunity of the creditor it is also a fact that the payment never would have been made but for the desire to prefer. The presumption of fraudulent intention may be repelled if it is apparent that the debtor acted in fulfilment of a prior agreement but it will not suffice to prove that the debtor was moved by a mere sense of honour or a sense of duty or of moral obligation or that he acted from motives of kindness or gratitude. The intention of the debtor is the paramount consideration and if the transaction can be properly referred to some other motive than that of giving the particular creditor a preference over the others the payment is not fraudulent. In the determination of the question whether a person is able or unable to pay his debts as they become due from his own money the fact that he has money locked up which at a later period may be available for the payment of his debts is immaterial. Where an act is impeached as a fraudulent preference the onus of proof lies on the Receiver even if the debtor was insolvent at the time of the payment and knew himself to be so though in such a case the onus may shift NARENDRA NATH SARKAR v ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1914)

19 C W N 187

2 ———— Insolvent—Effect of lease of occupancy holding granted shortly before filing petition of insolvency S 37 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 has no application to the case of a lease granted for good consideration by an insolvent shortly before the filing of his petition unless the object thereof is to give a preference to one creditor over the others. If the lease is found to be a merely colourable transaction the insolvent still retaining possession of the property leased it can be avoided and the property placed in the hands of the Receiver otherwise the rents should be paid to the Receiver for the benefit of the creditors. The leased property being an occupancy holding held that there was no reason for directing the surrender thereof to the zamindar DASRAJ v SAGAR MAJUMDAR (1914)

I L R 33 All 37

3 ———— Surety for debt of insolvent whether creditor A person who stands surety for the payment of a debt by the insolvent is a creditor within the meaning of that expression in s 37 of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) Alalam Viswanathan v Official Assignee of Madras 32 I C 795 overruled RODRIGUES v RAMASWAMI CHETTIAR (1916)

I L R 40 Mad 733

■ 38—

See S 16 (2) AND (6)

I L R 42 All 433

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s. 40—

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Cal 678

s. 41—

See s. 16 I L R 39 All 223

s. 42—

See s. 16 I L R 39 All 223

See s. 16 (7) (a) 18 C W N 1052

Adjudication—Annulment of if permissible on other than a statutory grounds—Failure of Receiver to pay debts—Consent of opposing creditor The Court has no power to annul an adjudication of insolvency otherwise than in exercise of the authority vested in it by the statute. Where therefore none of the circumstances mentioned in s. 42 of the Insolvency Act as grounds for annulment had been established the order of the Court annulling adjudication on the petition of the insolvent was erroneous and the fact that the Receiver of the insolvent's property had been unable to satisfy the debts was no ground for annulment. The fact that the opposing creditors was proved to have at one time consented to a composition was not sufficient to authorize the Court to annul an adjudication. The consent of all the creditors is not by itself sufficient to justify an order of annulment. The Court had to consider not merely that what they have agreed to is for the benefit of the creditors as a whole but also that the annulment would not be detrimental to commercial morality. Quare Whether under s. 42 of the Provincial Insolvency Act the Court has discretion to refuse to annul an adjudication when the circumstances mentioned in sub-s. (1) to that section are established. MORI LAL v. GANAPATRAM (1910) 21 C W N 938

s. 43—

See s. 4 I L R 36 Mad 402

See s. 16 I L R 39 All 120

1 In solvent acts of had for it—Proceedings in their nature criminal—Necessity of framing charge etc. A proceeding against a debtor under s. 43 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act is in the nature of a criminal proceeding and as in all criminal cases it is necessary in such a proceeding that there should be a charge, a finding and a conviction as a foundation for the sentence and everything should be strictly and accurately pursued and if on any of these three points a substantial defect should appear it would be a ground for reversing the proceeding. HARINAR SINGH v. MANESHUR PRASAD (1912) 18 C W N 692

2 Receiver's report—

Insufficient to base a conviction on On report by a Receiver of an insolvent's property to the effect that the insolvent had fraudulently transferred certain property of his just before he was declared an insolvent and that he had concealed the fact that he was the owner of a certain shop the Court convicted him under s. 43 of the Provincial Insolvency Act. Held that a Receiver's reports do not constitute local evidence upon which an order under s. 43 of the said Act can be based and therefore a conviction under s. 43 based only on a Receiver's report is bad in law. Emperor v. Chiranj Lal I L R 36 All 576 Nathu Mal v. The District Judge of Benares I L P 39 All 547

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd.

s. 43—contd.

Ex parte Campbell In re Wallace 15 Q B D 213 referred to NATHU KISHOR v. SURAJ MAL (1910) I L R 37 All 429

3

Insolvency—Inquiry as to alleged fraudulent acts committed by debtor—Procedure—Evidence Held that proceedings under s. 43 (a) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 should not be based merely upon the evidence given on behalf of the creditors when opposing the debtor's application to be adjudged an insolvent but evidence as to the specific acts alleged against the debtor should be recorded de novo. In the matter of Fash Bihari Roy I L P 17 Cal 709 referred to NATHU MAL v. THE DISTRICT JUDGE OF BENARES (1910) I L P 32 All 547

4

Provident Funds Act (IX of 1907) s. 4—Provident Fund—Railway employé drawing his Provident Fund after his adjudication as insolvent—Payment of the money to his wife—Fraudulent transfer The appellant who was in the employ of a Railway Company was adjudged an insolvent under s. 16 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 and a Receiver was appointed. Subsequently the insolvent resigned his appointment and drew his Provident Fund from the Railway Company. A large portion of the amount so drawn was paid by the insolvent to his wife. The District Judge held that the transaction amounted to a fraudulent act within the meaning of s. 43 (2) of the Act and sentenced the insolvent to 3 months imprisonment. He appealed. Held setting aside conviction that there was no fraudulent dealing by the insolvent with s. 43 in as much as neither the Receiver nor the creditor had any claim to the money drawn by insolvent for his Provident Fund having regard to the provision of the s. 4 of the Provident Fund Act. Cocher v. Mitchell 1890 25 Q B D 62 and Official Receiver of Madras v. Mary Dalajams 26 Mad 440 referred to NAGVI DAS BRICKHANDAS v. JHULABHAI (ULABDAS) (1910) I L R 44 Bom 673

ss. 43 46—

See CIVIL COURTS ACT 1887 ss. 8 20

I L R 34 All 383

1

Additional District Judge—Order punishing debtor for fraudulent dealings with account books—Appeal whether civil or criminal and to what Court Held by RICHARDS C. J. and PARBRIDGE J. (KNOX J. dissenting) that an appeal from an order of Additional District Judge under s. 43 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 lies directly to the High Court and not to the Court of the District Judge. Malhan Lal v. Sri Lal I L R 34 All 337 followed. Held also by RICHARDS C. J. and KNOX and PARBRIDGE J. J. that such an appeal is an appeal on the civil side of the Court and not a criminal appeal. EMPEROR v. CHIRANJ LAL (1914) I L R 36 All 576

2

Creditor's petition to inquire into commission of an offence—Inquiry and refusal to frame a charge—Appeal right of In the course of a proceeding in insolvency a creditor filed a petition alleging the commission of an offence by the insolvent and asking the Court to take action against him under s. 43 cl. 2 (b) of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907). The Judge inquired into the petition but dismissed it.

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—contd

—contd

ss 43, 46—contd

s 45—contd

refusing to frame a charge Held that the creditor had no right of appeal as he is not a person aggrieved, within the meaning of s 46 of the Act Iyappa Nainar v Manicka Asari (1914)

if it be a dies non must be excluded Rama Swami Pillai v Venkateswara Ayyar (1918)
I. L. R. 42 Mad. 13

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 630

3 ———— Creditor—Person aggrieved—Appeal One of the creditors of an insolvent in whose case no Receiver had been appointed applied to the Court making allegations that the insolvent had been guilty of an offence under s 43 sub s (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 the Court however held that no case was made out and refused to move in the matter Held that the creditor applicant was not a person aggrieved within the meaning of s 40 sub s (2) of the Act and had no right of appeal against the Court's order Iyappa Nainar v Manicka Asari 27 Indian Cases 451 referred to Ladhu Ram v Mahabir Prasad (1916)
I. L. R. 89 All. 171

See s 2 I. L. R. 40 Mad. 752

See s 15 I. L. R. 38 Mad. 15

See s 20 I. L. R. 80 All. 8

See s 22 I. L. R. 41 All. 243

I. L. R. 35 All. 410

I. L. R. 39 All. 162

See s 43 (?) I. L. R. 39 All. 171

See s 43 I. L. R. 38 All. 516

I. L. R. 40 Mad. 630

I. L. R. 42 Mad. 13

See Bengal Civil Courts Act 185

ss 8 20 I. L. R. 34 All. 383

See Civil Procedure Code 1908 s 11

I. L. R. 39 All. 625

4 ———— Order refusing application by a creditor to take action against the insolvent—Whether appealable The appellant a creditor applied to the District Court to have action taken against the insolvent (the respondent) under s 43 of the Insolvency Act This application was rejected by the Court and the present appeal was lodged in the High Court against the order of rejection It was objected for the respondent that no appeal was competent Held that an order refusing an application by a creditor to take action against the insolvent is not appealable because—(a) the application is not one which the Insolvency Act entitles a creditor to make and the applicant is therefore not a person aggrieved by the order refusing the application within the meaning of s 46 and (b) the order is not one under s 43 (2) which makes provision only for an order sentencing the debtor Iyappa Nainar v Manicka Asari (I. L. R. 40 Mad. 630) and Ladhu Ram v Mahabir Prasad (I. L. R. 39 All. 171) followed In re Burden ex parte Wood (21 Q. R. B. D. 24) distinguished Baldwin's Law of Bankruptcy and Bills of Sale p. 35 referred to and explained Gujar Shah v Barkat Ali Shah
I. L. R. 1 Lah. 213

1 ———— Leave to appeal refused by District Judge—Concurrent jurisdiction of High Court to grant leave—Order to District Judge to be set aside before grant of leave—Principle—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O. XXI r. 11 hearing under if necessary after leave granted The High Court having concurrent jurisdiction with the District Judge to grant leave to appeal from an order under the Insolvency Act can do so when such leave has been refused by the District Judge Where such leave is granted there is no necessity for a further hearing under O. XXI r. 11 of the Civil Procedure Code Madhu Sadas Pal v Parbati Sundari Datta (1914) 19 D. W. N. 780

s 44—

See s 4 I. L. R. 36 Mad. 402

s. 45—

See s 16 I. L. R. 39 All. 223

5 ———— s 45 46—Appeal time for—Limitation Act applicability of—Period of limitation commencement of—General principles—General Clauses Act (X of 1897) ss 2 and 10 applicability of—Ninety day dies non—Exclusion of In computing the time for preferring an appeal to the High Court under s 46 of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) though the general provisions of the Indian Limitation Act do not apply the period of ninety days specified in s 45 of the Act should be reckoned from the date of the order appealed against and thereupon the general principles contained in s 2 of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897) should be applied and the day on which the order appealed against is passed should be excluded Further under s 10 of the General Clauses Act the ninetieth day

2 ———— Appeal out of time—Deduction of time for obtaining copy if permissible—Delay if excusable—General Provisions of Limitation Act if applicable—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) ss 5 12 and 29—Conversion of Appeal into Civil Revision Petition when permitted—Order without notice to Official Receiver illegal An appeal under s 46 cl (3) of the Provincial Insolvency Act which was preferred to the High Court beyond the period of time fixed therein is barred by limitation as the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order appealed against cannot be deducted under that Act or under ss 12 (2) and 29 of the Limitation Act Quere Whether the Court can excuse the delay under s 5 of the Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Case law on the subject considered The High Court is competent to convert such an appeal into a Civil Revision Petition under s 15 of the Charter Act and to set aside the order where the lower Court passed the order in favour of a creditor of an insolvent without the notice to the Official Receiver Abdulla v Salaru I. L. R. 13 All. 4 followed Sivaramayya v Bhujanga Rao (1915)
I. L. R. 39 Mad. 593

3 ———— Limitation Act (IX of 1908) ss 12 and 29—Appeal—Limitation—Time requisite for obtaining copies The Provincial Insolvency Act was intended to be and is so far as matters governed by it are concerned a complete code in itself and contains its own limitation law In computing therefore the period of limitation prescribed for presenting an appeal under the

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—*contd.*s 45—co 1d

said Act the time requisite for obtaining a copy of the order complained of cannot be excluded. Behari Lal Woolerjee v Yungolanath Woolerjee I L R 5 Calc 110 and Vengendra Nath Mullick v Mathura Mohun Parhi I L R 18 Calc 368 referred to. Benu Prasad Kuari v Dillipai Poo I L R 23 All 20 and Jugal Kishore v Gur Narain (1911) I L R 33 All 738

4 Appeal—Limitation—Application of general provisions of the law of limitation—Limitation Act (IV of 1908) s 1 and 29

The Provincial Insolvency Act is a special law within the meaning of s 29 of the Indian Limitation Act but inasmuch as it is not in itself a complete Code there is nothing to prevent the application thereto of the general provisions of the Indian Limitation Act. Such general provisions do not affect or alter the period prescribed by a special law but only the manner in which that period is to be computed. Jugal Kishore v Gur Narain I L R 33 All 738 overruled. Benu Prasad Kuari v Dharaka Rai I L R 23 All 7. Joti Sarup v Pann Chandar Sinha 48 Weekl Notes 190 34 and Iyeramma v Vithal I L R 18 Mad 99 followed. Poul on v Modhoooodun Paul Choudhry 2 W R Act X 21. Unnoda Perumud Woolerjee v Kriato Coomarr Montro 15 B L R 60 note. Vengendra Nath Mullick v Mathura Mohun Parhi I L R 18 Calc 368. Cirija Nath Poo Paladur v Palane Dibee I L R 1 Calc 263. Behari Lal Woolerjee v Yungolanath Woolerjee I L R 5 Calc 110. Gopal Chand Wooluckia v Kriato Chandar Das Bhow I L R 5 Calc 314. Nyab Noola v Na vili I L R 8 Calc 510. Ketter Mohun Chikherbuzi v Dinabai Sata I L R 10 Calc 975. Girocharya v President of the Delgaor m Town Municipality I L R 8 Bom 509. Kullayappa v Lakshmiathi I L R 12 Mad 467. Abd Halim v Lofsun veta Khatun I L R 30 Calc 53 and Suaj Hal Prasad v Thoma I L R 23 All 48 referred to. DROPADI v HIRA LAL (1912)

I L R 34 All 496

ss 46 47—

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 40 Calc 685

ss 46 47 (1) and (2)—Appeal under s 46 filed out of time—Dismissal of memorandum of objections right of respondent to file—Civil Procedure Code s 108 (?) O XXI s 22 s 47 (2) of the Provincial Insolvency Act and s 108 (?) Civil Procedure Code apply the procedure of the Civil Procedure Code to appeals filed under s 46 of the Provincial Insolvency Act hence a respondent in such an appeal is entitled to file a memorandum of cross objections under O XXI r 22 Civil Procedure Code. When an appeal is dismissed as filed out of time a memorandum of objections filed by a respondent under O XXI r 22 cannot be heard. Ranjivan Mal v Chand Val I L R 10 All 587 followed. Decisions on O XXI r 22 (formerly s 661 Civil Procedure Code) reviewed. ALAGAPPA CHETTIAR v CHOCKALINGAM CHETTIAR (1918)

I L R 41 Mad 904

s 47—

See s 4 I L R 36 Mad 402

See s III (3) I L R 36 All 65

See s 16 I L R 39 Mad 693

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907)

—*contd.*s 47—contd

See s III I L R 37 All 65

See s 20 I L R 41 Mad 440

See s 24 I L R 48 Calc 57

See s 46 I L R 41 Mad 904

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 40 Calc 685

See INSOLVENCY PROCEEDINGS

3 Pat L J 456

See RECEIVER I L R 40 Calc 678

Civil Procedure Code (1905) O XXI r 71—Sale of property of insolvent by receiver—Default of purchaser—Re sale—Order by Court on purchaser to make good deficiency—Proceeding s 47 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1907 has not the effect of making the provisions of O XXI of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 applicable to a sale of the property of an insolvent held by a Receiver under the orders of the District Judge. If therefore the purchaser at such a sale defaults and the property is re sold for a sum less than the original bid the first purchaser cannot be called upon under O XXI, r 71 to make good the deficiency. Mul Chand v Murari Lal I L R 36 All 9 referred to. CHEDA LAL v LACHMAN PRASAD (1916)

I L R 39 All 267

s 50—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 40 Calc 78

s 51—

See s 16 I L R 39 Mad 693

s 52—

See s 2 I L R 40 Mad 752

See s 15 I L R 36 Mad 15

See s 24 I L R 41 Mad 30

s 56—

See s 16 I L R 43 All 510

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (V OF 1920)

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907

Comparative Table of Acts III of 1907 and V of 1920

Section of Act III of 1907	Corresponding of Act V of 1920
1	1
2	-
3	3
4	6
5	7
6 (1)	12 and 18
6 (?)	11
6 (3)	10
6 (4)	9 (1)
6 (5)	9 (?)
6 (6)	8
7	14
8	15
9	16
10	17
11	13
12	19
13	21
14	24

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (V OF 1920)

—contd

Comparative Table of Acts III of 1907 and V of 1920—contd

Section of Act III of 1907	Corresponding of Act V of 19 0
15 (1)	25
15 (2) (3)	26 (1) (2)
16 (1)	27
16 (2) to (6)	28
16 (7)	30
17	36
18	56
19	57
20	59
21	60
22	68
23	58
24	33
25	49
26	50
27	38
28	34
29	33 (3)
30	46
31	47
32	48
33	61
34	51
35	52
36	53
37	54
38	55
39	62
40	66
41	67
42	35
43	22 and 69
44	41
45	44
46	75
47	5
48	74
49	76
50	77
51	79
52	80
53	72
54	81
55	82
56	Sch III

— ss 54 and 55—Insolvent—Fraudulent preference—Intention of insolvent rather than actual effect the test whether a transaction amounts to a fraudulent preference. In order that a transaction entered into by an insolvent may be set aside as a fraudulent preference of one creditor over the others it is not sufficient merely that it should in fact lead to that result. Where the transaction is entered into by the insolvent solely for the purpose of securing some ready money for himself it does not necessarily fall within the purview of s 54 of the Provincial Insolvency Act 1920. Ex parte Hodgkin L R 20 Eq Ca 746 New France and Garrard's Trustee v Hunting 2 Q B 19 and Sharp v Jackson A C 419 referred to S 55 of the Act protects all transactions, unless they are in themselves acts of insolvency or fraudulent preferences, entered into with a debtor by third persons for valuable consideration and bona fide namely bona fide in the sense that the person with whom such transaction takes place had not at the

PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (V OF 1920)

—contd

— ss 54 and 55—contd

time notice of the presentation of any insolvency petition by or against the debtor BRAGWAN DAS & Co v CHUTTAN LAL I L R 43 ALL 427

— s 68 (c) (ii)—Insolvent fraudulently making away with or concealing property—A of wrong means of ascertainment tantamount to active concealment. A man in the position of an insolvent who has the means of ascertaining where property of his has been disposed of even if he has not been actually a party to the making away with it and who does not use the means is just as guilty of concealment within the meaning of s 68 (c) (ii) of the Provincial Insolvency Act as if he actively conceals the locality in which the property actually is. In the matter of QASIM ALI AN INSOLVENT I L R 43 ALL 406

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE s 195
4 Pat L J 809

— power of—

See ATTACHMENT BEFORE JUDGMENT
I L R 46 Calc 717

— s 1 (f)—Security on application for order to set aside ex parte decree—Limitation Act (IV of 1877) Sch II Art 164—Notice under s 48 of Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1859)—Execution of process. When security is not deposited under s 17 of Act IX of 1887 until after the application to set aside the ex parte decree is disposed of the hearing of the application must be held to have been barred. But where no objection is taken on this ground at the hearing the High Court will not set aside the order in revi 107 Bamasuam v Kuruvu I L R 13 Mad 178 explained. A process is executed when notice under s 248 Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) has been served and limitation under Sch II Art 164 of the Indian Limitation Act will run from the date of service of such notice. Bimola Soondree Da see v Kelee Krishen Mojomdar 22 L J 6 followed Stra ANABALANA v PAMAMMA (1910)
I L R 54 Mad. 89

— s 15—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 10
I L R 44 Mad. 697

— ss 15 33—Suit to recover a sum of money as the value of trees fell by the defendant—Ownership of the trees in the plaintiff because the land on which they stood belonged to him—Ir, rental as we as to title to immovable property—Jurisdiction of the Small Causes Court. The plaintiff brought a suit in the Court of Small Causes to recover Rs 12 as the value of certain trees felled by the defendant. The plaintiff's claim to *re*ceded on the basis that the trees belonged to him because the land on which they stood also belonged to him. A question having arisen as to the jurisdiction of the Court of Small Causes to entertain the suit. Held by the Full Bench that a Court of Small Causes could entertain a suit the principal purpose of which was to determine a right to immovable property provided the suit in form did not ask for that relief but for payment of a sum of money. PATTABOUDA v NIKANTH KALO DESHPANDE (1913)
I L R 37 Bom 675

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd.

s. 16—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE 19

2 Pat L J 1

s. 10 2nd Sch. II, cl. (2) and (3)—Suit for the recovery of certain sum representing a share in the produce of immovable property—Cognizance by the Court of Small Causes—Decree final—Appeal—Jurisdiction by consent of parties—*Suit for the recovery of Rs. 12116 representing plaintiff's share in the produce of immovable property is a suit for money had and received to the plaintiff's use and is cognizable by the Court of Small Causes and the decree in such a suit is final under s. 27 of the Provincial Small Causes Courts Act (IX of 1887). Notwithstanding its finality an appeal was preferred to the District Court of Ahmedabad which Court entertained the appeal and reversing the decree allowed the plaintiff's claim. The defendant thereupon preferred a second appeal and at the hearing prayed that the second appeal might be treated as an application for revision under s. 115 of the Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) on the ground that the District Court acted without jurisdiction in entertaining the appeal. The respondent (plaintiff) urged that a second appeal lay and further that by reason of the conduct of the parties and the fact that the appellant (defendant) had not objected to the jurisdiction of the District Court it was too late in second appeal to take the point. Held that the District Court had no jurisdiction to try the case and the conduct of the parties could not give it jurisdiction. Ledgard v. Bull L R 13 I A 134 and Meenakshi Sundari v. Sulramanaya Sastry L P 141 A 160 referred to. Decree of the District Court reversed and that of the first Court restored. DAVLAT SINGH (MAHARAJA SINGH) v. KHASARAN HANUM MOH (1909) I L R 34 Bom 171*

s. 17—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908—

SCH I ART 161 24 C W N 30

SCH I ART 164 15 C W N 102

See SMALL CAUSE COURT SUIT

I L R 44 Cal 950

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd.

s. 17—contd

I I P 3 All 470 distinguished CHHOTEL LAL

v. LAKHMI CHAND MAGAN LAL (1916)

I L R 38 All 425

2—Decree ex parte—Claim decreed in full but incorrect amount entered—Application for rehearing—Deposit of amount named in decree—Where an ex parte decree passed by a Court of Small Causes was incorrectly drawn up inasmuch as the principal sum decreed was wrongly entered the costs were wrongly entered and no sum at all was entered on account of interest pendente lite it was held that the defendant in applying for a rehearing had sufficiently complied with the terms of the proviso to cl (1) of s. 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 when he deposited in court the sum which was in fact named in the decree. BASDEO RAM SARTI v. NUL CHAND NEMI CHAND

I L R 43 All 438

3—Proviso—Ex parte decree application to set aside—Whether proviso mandatory or directory—Time within which deposit to be made or security given—By the Full Bench (SESHAGIRI AYYAR J dissenting) The provisions of s. 17 (1) Provincial Small Cause Courts Act are mandatory. By the Full Bench—But the deposit of the decretal amount may be made or the security given within the period prescribed by the law of limitation for applications under the section namely thirty days from the date of the ex parte decree although it did not accompany the application itself. Jeem Muchi v. Budhram Muchi—(1905) I L R 32 Cal 389 followed. ASRAM MOHAMED SAHIB v. RAHMAT SAHIB (1920)

I L R 43 Mad (F B) 579

s. 23—

Se s 35

5 Pat L J 248

1—Plant in suit of Small Cause Court nature involving question of title returned by Small Cause Court for presentation in Civil Court—Refusal of latter to receive plaint—Remedy if by appeal or revision—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O VII s 10 O XLIII r 1 (a)—When a plaint originally presented in the Small Cause Court is under an order under s. 23 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act presented in the ordinary Civil Court the latter has no authority to refuse to entertain the suit. An order by the latter Court returning the plaint for presentation to the Small Cause Court was not an order under O VII s 10 of the Civil Procedure Code as the plaint had not been originally filed in that Court and such an order did not require to be set aside by an appeal under O XLIII r 1 (a). The High Court in revision set aside the order as one made in violation of the provisions of s. 23 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. CHANDERBODAN KOER v. SHYODHOP PURSAD (1912)

18 C W N 380

2—Return of a plaint under—High Court's power of interference—S 95 Provincial Small Cause Courts Act s 115 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) and s 10 Government of India Act of 1915—Where a Provincial Small Cause Court returned a plaint for presentation to a proper Court on the ground that the suit involved a question of title which should be tried in a regular suit and the plaintiff thereupon

1—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 24—Suit transferred from Subordinate Judge with Small Cause Court powers to Munsif—Ex parte decree—Procedure—Held that s. 24 sub cl (4) of the Code of Civil Procedure contemplates a Court vested with the powers of a Court of Small Causes and that when a suit is transferred from that Court to another Court the Court trying it is to be deemed a Court of Small Causes and its procedure is to be governed by the provisions of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. Therefore when such a suit is transferred to a Munsif from the Court of a Subordinate Judge vested with Small Cause Court powers and the former passes an ex parte decree in the suit an application to have the ex parte decree set aside must be accompanied by a deposit of the amount of the decree or a security in respect of the amount as required by s. 17 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act the provisions of which are mandatory. Mangal Sen v. Rup Chand I L P 13 All 394 Jagan Nath v. Chet Ram I L P 28 All 470 referred to. Sarju Prasad v. Mahadeo Pande

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

ss 23—contd

moved the High Court and obtained a rule on a preliminary objection taken that the order under s 23 (1) is not covered by a 2 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. Held that there is a good deal of distinction between disposing of a case and deciding a case. A case is something less definite than a suit. The meaning of the word decided as held in Subal Ram Dutt v Jagadananda 13 C N A 403 approved. Umesh Chandra v Rakhai Chandra 15 C N A 666 referred to. Under s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code the High Court would only interfere if the question were one of jurisdiction. The Calcutta High Court's powers under the Charter Act have been exercised with few exceptions only in cases where jurisdiction has been exceeded or the Judge has ignorantly or perversely refused to exercise or made only a colourable pretence at exercising jurisdiction vested in him by law. This limited power should be exercised only when irreparable injury would be caused to one of the litigants if matters were not set right. Chandi Ray v Kripal Ray 15 C N A 69 and Imajod Ali v Ali Husain Jolar 15 C N A 353 referred to. S 23 (1) of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act is designed to meet cases in which a Small Cause Court Judge is satisfied that the question of title raised is so intricate that it should not be decided summarily but in a Court in which the evidence is recorded in full and the decision is open to appeal the matter is one of discretion and where discretion is vested in a Court it is not open to interference unless it has been exercised ignorantly or perversely. GANGA PRASAD v NANDU RAM (1916) 20 C W N 1080

ss 23 25—

Jurisdiction—

Suit for sacrificial goat based on plaintiff's title as shebait to a temple if may be decided by Small Cause Court Where the plaintiff claiming to be the shebait of a goddess sued the defendant for damages for unlawfully taking away a goat sacrificed at the altar of the goddess. Held that the question could be properly tried in a Small Cause Court without any elaborate investigation into the general question of the title of the plaintiff as shebait. The plaintiff having been returned by the Small Cause Court for presentation to the proper court under s 23 of the Small Cause Courts Act. Held that the High Court had jurisdiction to revise that order either under s 23 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act or under s 10 of the Charter Act. Quere Whether decide in s 23 means finally adjudicate. UMESH CHANDRA JALODHI v RAKHAI CHANDRA CHATTENJEE (1911) 15 C W N 666

Questions of title

Return of plaint—Revision Where a plaint presented to a Small Cause Court is returned under s 23 (1) of the Provincial Small Cause Court Act the High Court will not interfere under s 2 of that Act, nor under s 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 nor under s 107 of the Government of India Act 1915 unless the Court of first instance has exercised its discretion ignorantly or perversely or unless the Court has exceeded its jurisdiction or has ignorantly or perversely refused to exercise or has made only a colourable pretence at exercising a jurisdiction vested in it by law and has thereby caused injury to the parties which

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

ss 25—contd

would be irreparable if not set right. GANGA PRASAD v NANDU RAM 1 Pat L J 465 ss 25 27—Small Cause suit—Question of title—Suit transferred to the ordinary jurisdiction of the Court—No substantial irregularity—Decision on title—Decree not final—Appeal In a suit which was originally filed as a Small Cause Court suit in the Court of the Subordinate Judge having both Small Cause and regular jurisdictions the Judge transferred the suit at a very early stage to his file as ordinary Judge as the relief claimed by the plaintiffs depended upon proof or disproof of a title to immovable property. The Judge then passed a decree deciding the question of title. Held that there was no substantial irregularity in thus effecting the transfer and that it must be taken that the powers conferred by s 23 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) were put in force in a regular manner. Held also that as it was a decree which could not be passed by a Court of Small Causes it was not a decree falling within the terms of s 27 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) and was therefore not final but appealable. HARI BALU v GANPATRAO LAKHURAO (1913) 1 L R 33 Bom. 190

s 25—

See s 23

See WITHDRAWAL OF SUIT

2 Pat L J 682

2 Jurisdiction of High Court—Revision—Refusal of leave to amend plaint Held that the refusal on the part of a Court of Small Causes of permission to amend a technical defect in the plaint amounted to an irregularity such as would justify the interference of the High Court in revision under s 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887. HER DORY AND COMPANY v MEHARAJAN SHAW (1911) 1 L R 44 All. 848

2 Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court—Execution of decree—Limitation—Application to Court to take a step in aid of execution—Application for extension of time A bond fide application made by the decree holder praying for extension of time for the purpose of ascertaining the whereabouts of his judgment debtor is an application to take a step in aid of execution and saves limitation. Where a Small Cause Court without any materials on the records gratuitously assumed that such an application presented by the decree holder was not bond fide and consequently that a subsequent application for the execution of the decree was time barred, it was held that there was ground for interference by the High Court in revision. BHAIKOT PRASAD v AMINA BEGAM (1910) 1 L R. 33 All. 630

3 Decision of a preliminary question of jurisdiction which does not dispose of the suit—Revision Held that no revision would lie under s 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 from an order of a Court of Small Causes deciding a question of jurisdiction, which decision still left the suit undisposed of in the Small Cause Court. Pamanathan Chetty v Morathappa Aone 25 Indian Cases 613 referred to. MARHAN LAL PAROYTAM DAS v CHUNNI LAL BISHI LAL (1918) 1 L R. 42 All. 4

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

s 25—co 12

4. — Petition—Suit fled before Mun if not having Small Cause Court powers but decided by one who had though as a regular suit—Appeal A suit which according to the frame of it was a Small Cause Court suit was filed in the court of a Mun if at a time when the permanent incumbent who was invested with Small Cause Court powers, was on leave and the temporary incumbent was not invested with Small Cause Court powers. Before the suit came to a hearing the permanent incumbent returned. He tried the suit and tried it as an ordinary suit and not as a Small Cause Court suit. Held that the Mun if was right in so doing and that an appeal lay from his decision to the Subordinate Judge. Jag Malon Lal v Laloo 9 Indian Cases 961 Mahan Chandra Sarda v Kali Mondal 10 C W 167 Hari Kamayya v Hari Venkayya 1 I L R 96 Mad 910 and Samliu Dhanu v Jan Vishu 1 I L R 25 Bom 411 referred to. BINDERI v GANGA PRASAD I L R. 42 All. 195

5. — High Court—Jurisdiction to revise findings of fact Under s 2 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 the High Court can interfere on questions of fact. Poona City Municipality v Pampy (1895) 21 Bom 209 and Turner v Jogmool Singh (1900) 27 All 531 referred to. Per Fawcett J Interference in regard to appreciation of evidence should in general only be exercised when there appears to the Court to be a very clear case of misappreciation which has resulted in injustice to a party and makes the decree one that cannot be regarded by a Provincial Court as according to law. NATHAN SHIVARAYA v DHULARAM HARIRAM (1920) I L R 45 Bom 292

s 25 and 23—Provincial Small Cause Court Act 1887—Deposit of arrears of revenue—Held that in order to determine whether a mortgagee was entitled to deposit the arrears of revenue it was incumbent on the Court to determine whether the bond was genuine or not and that omission to do so amounted to an error in law so that the High Court had power to transfer under s 25 of the Provincial Small Causes Act 1887 RAJ KUMAR LAL v JAIKARAN DAS 5 Pat L J 248

s 25 Sch II, Art 41—Jurisdiction—Debt of deceased person paid in whole by one of the heirs—Suit for contribution Two heirs of a deceased Mahomedan became entitled to the property left by him in the proportion of eight tenths and two tenths. The owner of the eight tenths share paid off the whole of a debt due by the deceased and thereafter sued the owner of the two tenths share for contribution. Held that the suit was not excluded from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes by Art (41) of the second schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887. MAHMUD ALI v TANIZ UN NISSA BINI (1918) I L R 41 All 51

s 27—

I L R 38 Bom 190

ss 27 32, 33 and 35—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 24

I L R 38 Mad. 25

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

s 32—

See s 16

I R L 24 Bom 171

Suits instituted in Court not invested with powers—Transfer of suits as money suit—Pe transfer as Small Cause Court suits—Code of Civil Procedure (Act 1 of 1908) s 24 Fifty two suits were instituted against various tenants. The suits were cognizable by a Court of Small Causes but they were instituted in the Court of the Munsiff of Motihari who had not been invested with Small Cause Court powers. This Munsiff was transferred and another Munsiff invested with Small Cause Courts powers took his place. The latter held that by virtue of s 37 (2) of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 the suits were triable as money suits and he accordingly transferred them to the file of the Additional Mun if. Subsequently the plaintiff applied to the District Judge to re transfer the 52 suits under s 24 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 to the Court of the Munsiff who had transferred them and to direct him to hear them as money suits. The petition was filed with the Mun if's order in one of the suits only. The District Judge transferred all the suits to the Munsiff's Court to be treated as Small Cause Court suits. Held (1) that as there was no Small Cause Court in existence at Motihari when the suits were instituted the procedure to be adopted with regard to them was the procedure laid down in the Civil Procedure Code (2) that the District Judge had power to transfer a money suit from the Court of one Munsiff to the Court of another Munsiff and (3) that the order transferring the 51 suits in which no separate stamped application was made was incompetent. LOAR SINGH v MOTIHARI COMPANY LIMITED 4 Pat L J 11

s 32 to 35—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

s 24 (4) I L R 39 All 214

I L R 38 Mad 25

s 33—

See s 15

I L R 37 Bom. 375

s 35—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) s 24

I L R 40 All 525

1. — Jurisdiction—Munsiff vested with the powers of a Judge of the Court of Small Causes succeeded by one not vested with such powers—Appeal When a Munsiff vested with the powers of a Court of Small Causes is succeeded in office by a Munsiff not vested with such powers the latter under s 35 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act bound to try the suits pending on the file as regular suits and an appeal lies against his decision. Sham Behari Lal v Kali 17 All J R 109 followed. Mangal Sen v Rup Chand 1 I L R 13 All 304 distinguished from Kamla Prasad v Mahabul Singh 60 C 81 Dular Chandra Deb v Pam Narain Deb 1 I L R 31 Calc 1057 Ram Chandra v Ganesh 1 I L R 23 Bom 382 referred to. SARJU PRASAD v MAHADEO PANDE (1915) I L R 57 All 450

2. — Decree passed by Small Cause Court—Small Cause Court abolished and execution transferred to a Munsiff—Jurisdiction—Appeal—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 19—Acknowledgment Where a Court of Small

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

§ 35—contd

Causes had passed a decree and was then abolished and the execution proceedings were taken in the Court of a Munsiff. Held that the Munsiff's orders in execution were not the orders of a Court of Small Causes and were therefore open to appeal. Sargu Rasad v Mahadeo Lande 1 L R 37 All 450 followed. Mangal Sen v Rupchand 1 L R 13 All 324 dissented from. Held also that an objection filed in answer to an application for execution of decree by the arrest of the judgment debtor upon which a warrant of arrest had been issued to the effect that the judgment debtor was a poor man and that the warrant should not be executed could not be construed into an acknowledgment of the decretal debt within the meaning of s 19 of the Indian Limitation Act 1908. Ramshi Ras v Saigur Ras 1 L R 3 All 247 distinguished. LAOHMAN DAS v AHMAD HASAN (1917)

1 L R 29 All 357

§§ 35 and 23—Deposit of arrears of revenue by mortgagee—Suit to recover amount of arrears—Whether Court bound to decide validity of mortgage—Bengal Revenue Sales Act (XI of 1859) s 9—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 100—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) O XXXI r 15. A mortgagee who had paid the arrears of Government revenue in order to prevent the mortgaged property being sold sued the defendant who had purchased the property subsequently to the mortgage in the Court of Small Causes for recovery of the arrears paid. The defendant pleaded that the mortgage was not genuine. The court declined to decide the question of the genuineness of the bond on the ground that it was beyond the scope of the suit and decreed the suit. Held (1) that in order to determine whether the mortgagee was entitled to deposit the arrears of revenue it was incumbent on the Court to determine whether the bond was genuine or not and that omission to do so amounted to an error in law so that the High Court had power to interfere under s 25 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 (2) that if the court was of opinion that the question of the genuineness of the bond was beyond the scope of the suit it was incumbent on the court to exercise the discretion vested in it by s 23 and to return the plaint to be presented to the proper court and failure to do so brought the case within the purview of s 20 (3) that if the alleged mortgage was genuine the amount paid as arrears of revenue should have been added to the mortgage debt under s 9 of the Bengal Revenue Sales Act 1859 and that even if the plaintiff's lien was not in fact a mortgage it was a charge upon immovable property within the meaning of s 100 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 read with O XXXI r 15 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and could only be enforced by a suit under O XXXIV (4) that even if the plaintiff was entitled to relinquish his lien and claim a money decree the present suit not having been framed as such he could not succeed. PAJ KUMAR LAL v JAIPARAN DAS 5 Pat L J 248

Sch II, Arts 2 and 3—

See s 16 1 L R 114 Bom 171

Sch II, Art 3—Failure to perform a contract whether an act within Art 3—Suit to recover money under a contract with Government

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

Sch II Art 3—contd

whether of a small cause nature—Second appeal failure by Government to carry out a contract under which the plaintiff was entitled to a sum of money on account of certain constructions made by him is not an act purporting to be done by an officer of Government in his official capacity within the meaning of Art 3 Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887). The article applies only to a suit relating to some distinct act done by an officer of Government. Rajmal Mansikhand v Hannant Anyaba 1 L R 90 Bom 697 and Chaganlal Ashoredas v The Collector of Kaira 1 L R 35 Bom 42 applied. Sunwar Lal Mookerjee v The Secretary of State for India 1 L R 17 Cal 290 and Motilal Rangayya Chetty v The Secretary of State for India 1 L R 23 Mad 213 referred to. A suit to recover a sum of money being less than Rs 500 under such a contract is a suit of Small Cause Court nature and no second appeal lies. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v RAMAUBAHMAN (1917)

1 L R 37 Mad 533

Sch II, Art 7—Suit involving apportionment of rent whether a suit of small cause nature—Transfer of Property Act (I of 1882) s 2 (d) and 36 applicability of to transfer in execution and the determination of which involves apportionment of rent by the Court falls within Art 7 of the second schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act and is exempted from the cognizance of a Provincial Small Cause Court. Though according to s 2 (d) of the Transfer of Property Act the Act does not apply to sales in execution yet the principle of s 36 of the Act which embodies a rule of justice equity and good conscience can be applied and rent apportioned from day to day as between a lessor and the transferee of his right in execution in the course of a year of the lease. PANOLAH CHETTY v VAJRAVELU MUDALIAR (1917)

1 L R 41 Mad 370

Sch II, Art 8—

See HONESTEAD LAND 1 L R 42 Cal 633

See LANDLORD AND TENANT 2 Pat L J 97

1—Grant of forest rights—Suit for rent by grantor if may be entered by Small Cause Court—Rent what is—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1855) s 141 193. A grant under which the grantee becomes entitled to cut and remove during a specified period trees which might during that period attain a prescribed size (whether it creates an interest in land or not) is a grant of forest rights within the meaning of s 193 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The transaction cannot be regarded as a sale of timber and the consideration payable for such rights is rent within the meaning of the terms as used in cl. (3) of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. Such a suit cannot be entertained by a Small Cause Court and should be instituted under s 144 of the Bengal Tenancy Act in the Court which would have jurisdiction to entertain a suit for the possession of the trees. BANDE ALI FAHIM v AMUD ARKAT (1914)

19 C W N 415

2—Special authority to try rent suits under Small Cause Court procedure if may be conferred generally on the Court. Cl 9

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd.

Sch II Art 8—contd

of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act requires that the Judge personally should have been invested with authority to exercise jurisdiction and not that jurisdiction should be conferred upon the Court. A notification of the Local Government vesting all Munsiffs of certain places with power to try under the Small Cause Court procedure suits for recovery of rent of homestead lands within their respective jurisdictions when the value did not exceed Rs 500 was insufficient to confer on the officers concerned the power referred to in cl 8 of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. SAYER ALI MONDAL v. GOLAM MONDAL (1910) 10 C W N 1238

Sch II, Art 8—Suits for rent—Suits of a nature cognizable by the Court of Small Causes—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 10—Second appeal. A suit for rent for an amount less than Rs 500 was filed in the Second Class Subordinate Judge's Court. By a Government Notification contemplated by Art III of the Second Schedule of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887 the Subordinate Judges of all districts in the Bombay Presidency proper were invested with authority to try on the Small Cause Side of their Courts all suits for the recovery of rent arising within the local limits of the ordinary jurisdiction of their Courts and falling within the pecuniary limits up to which suits are cognizable by them as Judges of Courts of Small Causes. Both the lower Courts decreed the claim. In the High Court a preliminary objection was taken that no second appeal lay on the ground that the suit in which it was preferred was of a nature cognizable by Courts of Small Causes within the meaning of s 102 of Civil Procedure Code 1909. Held allowing the objection that no second appeal lay. PANKRISHNA YESHWANT v. THE PRESIDENT OF THE VANDRUA MUNICIPALITY (1916) 1 I R 41 Bom 367

Sch II, Art 13—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 100
1 I R 41 Mad 374

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT s 3 (2)
1 I R 35 All 156

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) Sch IO
ARTS 4 7 101 102 AND 10
1 I R 41 Mad 528

See MADRAS ESTATE LANDS ACT 1908
s 3 1 I R 36 Mad 128

1—Land Cess—Suits by zamindar against inamdar for recovery of not a suit of small cause nature. A suit by a zamindar for the recovery of land cess from the inamdar is not a suit of a small cause nature within Art 13 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. MAHARAJA OF VIZIANAGRAM v. VEPRANA (1913) 1 I R 36 Mad 18

2—Petition Jurisdiction Act (Bom V of 1876) s 6 cl (c)—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O VIII r 6—Suits by an Inamdar against a Khatedar for recovery of sums—Dues—Suits not cognizable by Small Cause Court—Set off claimed in a capacity different from that in suit not allowable. Sums payable by a Khatedar to an Inamdar as superior holder are dues and a suit to recover such dues though

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

Sch II Art 13—contd

less than Rs 500 is not cognizable by a Court of Small Causes and a decree passed in such suit is subject to a second appeal. In a suit brought by an Inamdar against a Khatedar for the recovery of dues in respect of certain immovable property payable by the Khatedar the defendant as a payar (warhipper) claimed to set off the stipend payable to him by the plaintiff. Held that the defendant could not claim the set off which was due to him in a different capacity from that in which he held as tenant or Khatedar of the plaintiff. MADHATRAO MORESHWAR v. RAMA HALU (1914) 1 I R 39 Bom 131

3—Small Cause Court—Jurisdiction—Suits by zamindar to recover a kagga cess or due from tenant. Held that a suit by a zamindar to recover from one of his tenants dues payable in kind under the provisions of the village wajib ul arz was excluded from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes by Art 13 of the second schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887. BALDEO v. PADMA LAL (1918) 1 I R 40 All 663

4—Small Cause Court—Jurisdiction—Suits by zamindar to recover part of price of trees sold by tenant. Held that a suit brought by the zamindars of a village upon the basis of a custom recorded in the village wajib ul arz to recover from a tenant half of the price of certain trees alleged to have been sold by him was not a suit excluded from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes. BOHRA BHICHAJI RAJ v. RAM CHANDRA (1918) 1 I R 42 All 448

5—Suits for recovery of khaq chaharum cognizable by a Small Cause Court—Custom—Wajib ul arz—Halat dehi—Sale of the halat dehi as evidence of the discontinuance of a custom recorded in the Wajib ul arz. A suit brought by a zamindar to recover money alleged to be due to him on account of khaq chaharum is not a suit of the nature cognizable by a Court of Small Causes. DOIRA BH v. PAM CHANDRA (1918) 1 I R 44 All 448 referred to. The evidential value of the document known as halat dehi on the question of the discontinuance of a custom recorded in a wajib ul arz of earlier date discussed. BECHAI v. LADRI NARAI (1918) 1 I R 43 All 651

Sch II Arts 15 and 16—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

1 I R 43 Cal 59

Mortgage money unpaid balance of suit by mortgagor for recovery of—Suits—Civil Court jurisdiction of a mortgagor cannot sue for recovery of the balance of the amount promised to be advanced but not paid to him and such a suit is not cognizable by the Court of Small Causes but it is open to the mortgagor to sue in the Small Cause Court for damages for the breach of contract provided the damages claimed are within the pecuniary jurisdiction of the Court. SHAIK GALEM v. SADARJAN BINI (1914) 1 I R 43 Cal 59

1 I R 43 Cal 59

Sch II, Arts 15 24—Suits to enforce—part of an award partitioning immovable properties whether cognizable in a Court of Small Causes

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

Sch II Arts 15-24—contd suit to enforce an award is in essence a suit for specific performance of a contract and is excluded from the cognizance of a Small Cause Court by Art 15 of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. A suit to enforce part of an award which amongst other things partitions immovable properties if it lies at all does not lie in a Provincial Court of Small Causes. KUNJA BEHARY BARDHAN v GOSTA BEHARY BARDHAN (1917) I L R 38 All 570

22 C W N 66

Sch II Art 18—Suits relating to Trust what are Suit by a company by its President to recover from defendants Nos 2 to 4 the subscriptions due under the Articles of Association of the Company. The first defendant was a trust defendant Nos 2 to 4 were the trustees of the trust and members of the plaintiff company in their capacity of trustees. The plaintiff prayed that the moneys due may be recovered from the trust property in the first instance and if not so recoverable from the defendants Nos 2 to 4 personally. The suit was instituted on the Small Cause side and the Subordinate Judge returned the plaints on the ground that the suit was one relating to a trust within the meaning of Art 18 of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act and was not triable on the Small Cause side. The High Court was moved by petition under a 2o of the Act Held per WHITE CJ and SANKARAN NAIR J (BENSON J dissenting) the suit was to enforce payment of moneys due under the Articles of Association and not one relating to a trust within the meaning of Art 18. The fact that issues relating to the trust and the rights and liabilities of the trustees may have to be tried will not make the suit one relating to a trust. SRI VENKATACHALLAPATHY SAHAYA VIJAYASAYA COMPANY v KANAGASABATHATHA PILLAI (1910)
I L R 32 Mad 494

Sch II Art 24—

See Sch II, Art 15

I L N 38 All 570

Suit for money due under an award—Jurisdiction of Small Cause Court A suit to recover money made payable by the terms of a private award is not a suit which is excluded from the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes. Madho Prasad v Lalita Prasad Weekly Vols 1881 p 159 distinguished. MIZAJI LAL v PARTAD KUNWAR I L R 42 All 169

Sch II Art 28—

1—Suit of a small cause nature—Second appeal Plaintiff sued for the recovery of certain jewels which she had presented to her daughter and son-in-law at their marriage basing her claim on a caste custom by which she was entitled after the death of the pair to return of the jewels presented by her. Held that the right claimed was not a right to inherit the jewels as the property of the bridegroom or the bride and Art 28 of Sch II of Act IX of 1887 did not apply to such a case. No second appeal lay as the suit (being for the recovery of less than Rs 500) was within the cognizance of the Small Cause Court. CHINNAYYA v ACHAMMAH (1912)
I L R 37 Mad. 538

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd

Sch II, Art 28—contd

2—Suit by heirs of intestate against wrongdoer if within Suits for the whole or a share of the property of an intestate excluded by Art 28 of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act from cognizance by the Small Cause Court are suits for the recovery of the property of an intestate between rival claimants to the estate or against persons administering the estate. The Article does not apply to suits by heirs against wrongdoers. Kapalee Bewah v Keshram Kooch 11 W R 93 Moheshur v Kaylash Nath 7 C L R 71 and Ched v Gulah I L R 27 All 622 followed. Gurish Chunder v Anna Dasree 17 W P 46 Robin Chunder v Dribomoyee 17 W R 520 and Kapalee Bewah v Keshram Kooch 11 W R 93 referred to. TIKA SAHU v CHIEKAT SAHU (1914)
19 C W N 614

Sch. II Art 31—

See TRESPASS I L R 35 Mad 726

1—Small Cause Court—Jurisdiction—Suit by joint owner to recover rent of a house received by the other joint owner—Money had and received—Revision—Objection to jurisdiction not raised in the Court below Seemle That a suit by one or two joint owners to recover from the other a share of the rent of a house received in the first instance by the defendant with the plaintiff's consent is a suit for money had and received and as such within the jurisdiction of a Court of Small Causes. But in any case the question of jurisdiction not having been raised in the Court below and the case having apparently been correctly decided the High Court was not bound to interfere in revision. Pam Lal v Abdul Singh I L R 25 All 135 followed. SURAJ LAL v NANNU PRASAD (1918) I L R 40 All 666

2—Suit for mesne profits of a grove—Jurisdiction Held that a suit for recovery of mesne profits of a grove from which the plaintiff had been wrongfully dispossessed is a suit the cognizance of which by a Court of Small Causes is barred by Art 31 of Sch II to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act 1887. Prasadi Lal v Imdad Hussain All Weekly Notes (1898) 10 distinguished. Shree Boda v Surjan 11 A L J 238 followed. DRIGPAL SINGH v KENJAL (1917)
I L R 40 All 142

3—Jurisdiction of Court determination of—Suit for account whether claim for ascertained sum is The question whether a particular suit is cognizable by a Small Cause Court or not must be determined on a consideration of the plaint irrespective of the allegations made in the written statement. Where the plaintiffs claimed a definite ascertained sum representing in certain land under the sole management of the defendants held that the suit was not barred by Art 31 of the Second Schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Act 1887. It is not every case in which accounts have to be looked into which is a suit for accounts. RAJIVA NARAYAN SAHAY v HIRAT NARAYAN SINGH 3 Pat L J 423

Sch II Art 32

See REDEMPTION SUIT FOR
14 C W N 1001

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd.

Sch. II, Art 35 (ii)—Suit for compensation for removal of trees and crops—Jurisdiction—Wast of jurisdiction not urged in defence—Decree if should be set aside on review—Objection if may be waived A suit for compensation for a tree alleged by plaintiff to have been grown by him and cut by the defendant and for crops of mustard raised by him and misappropriated by the defendant from land alleged to be plaintiff's property and in his possession is excluded from the jurisdiction of the Small Cause Court under the Art 35 sub cl (ii) of Sch II of the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act Where no objection to the Court a jurisdiction having been taken at the original trial the suit was decreed and an application by the defendant for review was dismissed on the ground that the objection was not raised at the trial Held that the review application should have been granted as where there is an entire absence of jurisdiction no action on the part of the plaintiff or inaction on the part of the defendant can invest the Court with jurisdiction PAMPROSAD PRAMANIK v SRICHARAN MANDAL (1917) 21 C W N 1209

See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST

I L R 48 Calc 870

Sch. II, Art 35 (g)—Contract to marry breach of—Lo s of provisions and articles A suit by a father of a Mahomedan girl against the father of a minor boy for breach of contract to marry the boy to the plaintiff's daughter and for compensation for the loss sustained by the wife of articles and provisions in consequence of such breach is governed by Art 35 cl (g) of the second schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act (IX of 1887) and is therefore not cognisable by a Provincial Small Cause Court Al v Under Dass v Koylash Chunder Dass I I P 15 C 1c 833 followed Moidin KUTTI v IOKPER (1913)

I L R 38 Mad 274

Sch. II, Art 35 (i)—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 33 All 306

Sch. II, Art 35—(L)—Threat to assault—Injury to the person—Exemption from the cognizance of the Court of Small Causes A suit to recover damages from the defendant who ran after the plaintiff with a shoe in hand threatening to beat him and using abusive language but did not actually touch the plaintiff's person is a suit for injury to the person within the meaning of Art 35 sub cl (i) of the second schedule of the Provincial Small Causes Courts Act (IX of 1887) and is not within the cognizance of the Small Cause Court GOVIND BALKRISHNA v PANDURANG VITAYAK (1912) I L R 36 Bom 443

Sch. II, Art 38—

L.—Suit for money for maintenance under an agreement cognisable by a Small Cause Court A suit to recover from the defendant paid by expended by the plaintiff for the maintenance of their grand mother for which under the agreement of partition between them the defendant was bound to pay a certain quantity is a suit of a small cause nature the basis of the suit being the agreement Ramaswamy Pantulu v Narayana moorthy I I Mad L J 480 applied ANNASAMI SASTRIAL v RAMASAMI SASTRIAL (1913)

I L R 111 Mad. 553

PROVINCIAL SMALL CAUSE COURT ACT (IX OF 1887)—contd.

Sch. II, Art 38—contd.

2.—Suit relating to maintenance—Jurisdiction Plaintiff's father in law left by his will certain property to plaintiff and three brothers in law charged with the payment of Rs 36 per annum to the plaintiff during her life Subsequently the brothers in law agreed amongst themselves to divide their liability for payment of this annuity so that each became liable individually for the payment of Rs 12 per annum Held on suit brought by the annuitant to recover arrears of her maintenance allowance against one of her brothers in law that the suit was a suit relating to maintenance and that the cognizance thereof by a Court of Small Causes was barred by Art 38 of sch II to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act. 1887 Mohadeo has v Deo Narain Pasi 2 A L J 617 and Masum Ali v Mofsin Ali (1890) All Weekly Notes 201 distinguished MUNIR UD DIN v SAMIR U NISSA BIBI (1917)

I L R 40 All 52

Sch. II Art 41—

See S 2a

I L R 41 All 51

Contribution suit for Rent decree—Execution by assignee against a joint tenant—Payment under compulsion—Suit is cognisable by Small Cause Court—Bengal Tenancy Act (I of 1885) s 148 (h)—Contract Act (I of 1872) ss 69 70 Where an assignee of a rent decree having attached the moveables of plaintiffs who were joint tenants of the holding with the defendants the plaintiffs satisfied the decree and then sued the defendants for contribution Held that the suit was excluded from the cognizance of the Small Cause Court by Art 41 of the Second Schedule to the Provincial Small Cause Courts Act That if it were assumed that an assignee of a decree for rent is precluded from executing it even as a decree for money the decree itself was not extinguished and could be executed on the assignee obtaining an assignment of the landlord's interests or on his retransferring the decree to the landlord Where therefore on the assignee's application for execution the Court ordered execution to issue and the plaintiff paid in the decretal amount under compulsion of legal process Held that the plaintiff was entitled to sue for contribution under s 70 as al o under s 69 of the Contract Act The benefit which the defendants got was that they were absolved from the liability to be pursued either by the assignee or assignor of the decree If a payment made to an assignee of a rent decree is accepted by him the decree is satisfied and there is nothing in s 148 (f) of the Bengal Tenancy Act to prevent it RAJANI KANTA GHOSH v RAMA NATH ROY (1914)

19 C W N 458

Contribution—Where a decree was obtained against 3 brothers for maintenance of fourth brother's widow and one paid and sued his brothers Held that the suit was one for contribution and cognizable by Small Causes Court ANU RAM v NITHAN LAL

I L R 40 All 135

PROVISIONAL APPOINTMENT

See UNIVERSITY LECTURERSHIP

I L R 41 Calc. 518

PROVISO

object of—

See PRE S ACT (I OF 1910) s 3 (1)
PROVISO I L R 39 Mad 1164

use of, to interpret section—

See LAND IMPROVEMENT LOANS ACT
(XIX OF 1883) s 7 (1) (c)
I L R 41 Mad 691

PROXY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1909) O XXIII R 3
I L R 38 Mad 850

PUBLIC AUTHORITY

See NEGLIGENCE 5 Pat L J 359

PUBLIC BODY

S e ELECTION I L R 40 Mad. 941

PUBLIC CHARITY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF
1908) s 92

See HINDU LAW RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS.

Suit respecting public charities—

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1909) s 92 115—Suit with Alto ate General's sanction in respect of public charities—Court fee—Court Fees Act (I of 1870) s 4 II Art 1 (i)—Striking off a prayer for relief—Advocate's General's sanction if necessary —Interlocutory order—Revision by High Court A plaint in a suit under s 92 of the Civil Procedure Code (relating to public charities) should bear a Court fee stamp of Rs 10 only as required by Art 17 cl (iv) of Sch II of the Court Fees Act
Thaluri v Brahma Narain I L R 19 All 60
Guridhari Lal v Ram Lal I L P 21 All 200 relied on Where the plaintiffs in such a suit being ordered by the Judge to value the suit and pay of valorem Court fee on such value moved the High Court without waiting for the dismissal of the suit for non compliance with the order Held that the order in effect amounted to a denial of jurisdiction and though interlocutory was a fit one for interference in revision by the High Court A prayer for relief in a plaint in such a suit not covered by those specified in s 92 may be struck off on the application of the plaintiff the sanction of the Advocate General for striking off such a prayer being unnecessary Bairee Das v Chandra Lal I L R 32 Cal 789 referred to RAMCHAND DAS v MOHUNT SHIVARAM DAS (1910)
14 C W N 932

PUBLIC CONVEYANCE

See BOMBAY PUBLIC CONVEYING ACT
See HACKNEY CARRIAGE ACT

PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT (BENG
I OF 1895)

See BIHAR AND ORISSA PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT 1914

4 Pat L J 475

S e PESKOSH I L R 45 Cal 866

S SELF NOT APPROPRIATION OF REVENUE
I L R 42 Cal 765

sale under—

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING
16 W N 351

PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT (BENG
I OF 1895)—contd.

Suit for recovery of possession on declaration that certificate sale void ab initio—Secretary of State if necessary party Where a plaintiff sues to recover possession of pro perty sold under the Public Demands Recovery Act on the ground that the certificate and sale under it had in no way affected his rights being ab initio null and void and does not seek to set aside the sale he is not bound to make the Secretary of State a party to the suit Gobinda Chandra v
Hemanta Kumar I L R 31 Cal 159 S C W N
657 distinguished RAGHURAJ SINGH v MAHARAJ LAL (1910) 14 C W N 608

s 9 (2) (3)—Certificates sale when is vitiated by irregularities—Nullity and irregularity distinction between—Requisition not signed—Certi ficate not in due form—Certificate signed mechani cally—Certificate Officer to exercise discretion in issuing certificate—Proof of service of notice—Entry in order sheet if sufficient—Presumption in favour of regularity of official acts if arises when proceedings shown to have been carried on carelessly and in slovenly manner No hard and fast line can be drawn between a nullity and an irregularity and when the provision of a statute has been contrave ned if a question arises as to how far the pro ceedings are affected thereby it must be deter mined with regard to the nature scope and object of the particular provision violated An Appel late Court should not dismiss a suit on the ground only that the plaint was not duly signed and verified such a defect does not affect the merits of the case or the jurisdiction of the Court So also proceedings taken upon a certificate should not be treated as void merely because the requisition under s 9 (2) of the Public Demands Recovery Act was not duly signed and verified But there can be no valid sale on a certificate which did not specify the amount due and otherwise did not comply with the forms laid down by the Act and which the officer issuing the certificate appeared to have signed mechanically The obvious inten tion of s 9 (3) of the Public Demands Recovery Act is that the officer shall use his discretion as to the issue of a certificate determine whether the case is a proper one for it whether the money be due or not Baynath v Ramgat L R 23 I A 45 s c I L R 23 Cal 775 and Baynath v
Ramgat S C L J 637 followed The mere entry in the order sheet of the certificate case that notice had been served is no proof that service was effected When the circumstances of the case show that the proceedings have been carried on in a careless or slovenly manner the Court will be slow to apply the maxim omnia praesumuntur rite et solemniter esse acta donec probetur in contrarium
MOHTUDDIN v PIRTHCHAND LAL CHOWDHURY
(1914) 19 C W N 1159

s 10—Public Demands Recovery Act (Beng I of 1895) ss 10 15 17—Arrears of road cess—Payment—Appropriation—Contract Act (IX OF 1872) ss 59 60—Certificate and sale when no arrears if valid—Regular suit to set aside if im —Imitation—Special Imitation not applicable A debt under the Public Demands Recovery Act is nothing but a debt and the law laid down in ss 59 and 60 of the Contract Act which is nothing more than a codified statement of the general law as to the appropriation of payments made by the debtor is applicable to payments made on account

PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY ACT (BENGAL OF 1895)—contd.

s 10—co 1d

of arrears of road cess in the Collectorate Ganga Bazar Singh v Mahomed Jan I L R 33 Calc 1193 s c 10 C W N 915 J v Jara Vohar Sen v Uma Vath Gula I L R 35 Calc 636 s c 12 C W N 616 referred to. The Collector therefore has not authority to appropriate payments made in liquidation of specific arrears of road-cess towards previous arrears, and a certificate sued under the Public Demands Recovery Act in respect of the later arrears so paid off is not a valid certificate under the Act. A sale held in pursuance of such a certificate is without jurisdiction the foundation for the exercise of jurisdiction by the Revenue authority being wanting in such a case. When the arrears in respect of which the certificate purports to have been sued did not exist a suit to set aside the sale held in execution of the certificate lies under the ordinary law s 10 of the Act and the special limitation provided therein for suits to modify or cancel a certificate not applying to such a suit. Januldhar Lal v Gosiain Lal Bhaya 13 C W N 710 followed. NANDAN MISIR v LALA HARAKH SARAIN (1910) 14 C W N 607

ss 10 and 31—What is a proper notice

—Onus of proper service—Public Demands Recovery Act (Bengal of 1895) ss 10 31 Service of notice under s 10 of the Public Demands Recovery Act 1895 must be effected in strict conformity with that section. Where service of notice is effected by fixing it on the outer door of the judgment debtor's house the onus is clearly upon the defendant relying on the notice to show that there was proper service as required by law. Rakkhal Chandra Pal Chowdhury v The Secretary of State for India I L R 19 Calc 603 and Joy nar Sahu v Debi Prasad S C L J 355 followed. NEHAJ CHARAN DE v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1917)

I L R 45 Calc 498

ss 12 15 17 24 26

See CERTIFICATE OF SALE

I L R 37 Calc 107

ss 20 21—Sale without notice to representatives of a deceased judgment debtor is a nullity —Failure of Collector to act under s 21 though deposit duly made if a ground for treating sale a nullity—Irregularity—Sale voidable only—Proper remedy. On 14th March 1898 a Court holding a sale under the Public Demands Recovery Act was apprised of the death on 10th March 1898 of one of the judgment debtors but the property was nevertheless sold without notice to the legal representatives of the deceased judgment debtor. In a suit by the purchaser brought more than a year after to recover the land Held that the legal representatives of the deceased judgment debtor could not ask the sale to be treated as a nullity on this ground by way of defence in this suit. It was an irregularity which made the sale voidable by either a proceeding under s 311 of Act XIV of 1882 or a suit brought within one year as contemplated by Art 12 (a) of the Limitation Act of 1877. Nor could the sale be declared a nullity in such a suit upon proof only of improper rejection by the Collector of an application to set aside the sale although the amounts mentioned in s 21 of the Public Demands Recovery Act were duly deposited. BEJIN BHUPAT BEPA v SASTI BIKRAN DATTA (1913) 18 C W N 768

PUBLIC DOCUMENT

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 18 2) s 30

I L R 36 All 181

See LIBEL I L R 48 Calc. 304

See REGISTER OF DEATHS

I L R 48 Calc 152

PUBLIC DRAIN

House drain—Tille—

Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng 111 of 1899) ss 3 cl (16) 256 31—Laying of a street in a municipality—its effect—Rights of the owner. The legal effect of the statutory vesting of a street in a municipality is not to transfer to the municipality the ownership in the site or soil over which the street exists. The effect of the statutory provision is merely to vest in them the property in the surface of the street road or drain and in so much of the actual soil below and air above as may reasonably be required for its control protection and maintenance as a highway or drain for the use of the public. The Court will not presume that the intention of the Legislature was to confiscate private property and vest it in a public corporation without compensation granted to the proprietor. The right of the owner was intended to be abridged only to the extent necessary for the discharge of the statutory duties imposed on the Corporation for the benefit of the public. The property of the local authority concerned does not extend further than is necessary for the maintenance and use of the highway as a highway that subject to this qualification the original owner's rights and property remain and that if the highway ceases to be a highway the owner becomes entitled to full and unabridged rights of ownership in the property. Sundaram Ayyar v Municipal Council of Madura I L R 25 Mad 635 and Madathapu Ramaya v Secretary of State for India I L R 97 Mad 386 followed. Chairman of the Vaitathi Municipality v Aishori Lal Goswami I L R 13 Calc 171 Modhu Sudan Kundu v Promoda Nath Roy I L R 20 Calc 73 Chairman of the Hourah Municipality v Akhetra Krishna Mitter I L R 33 Calc 1290 Ashal Chand v A mat Ali I L R 7 All 362 Nagar Valab Narai v The Municipality of Dhandulka I L R 12 Bom 490 The Municipal Commission rs of Madras v Sarangapani Mudaliar I L R 19 Mad 154 Sundaram Ayyar v The Municipal Council of Madura I L R 25 Mad 635 Madathapu Ramaya v Secretary of State for India I L R 97 Mad 386 The Mayor of Tunbridge Wells v Baird (1896) A C 431 Municipal Council of Sydney v Young (1898) 4 C 457 Finchley Electric Light Co v Finchley Urban Council (1903) 1 Ch 437 Foley v Clarist Trustees v Dudley Corporation (1910) 1 K B 317 London and N W Ry Co v Westminster Corporation (1905) A C 46 Lodge Holes Colliery Co v Wednesbury Corporation (1905) A C 33 Batter sea Vestry v Council of London (1899) 1 Ch 414 referred to. CUNENDRA MOHAN GHOSH v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1916)

I L R 44 Calc 689

PUBLIC FERRY

declaration of limits of—

See FERRY I L R 37 Calc 543

PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III OF 1887)

ss 1 3—Place—Bullock run of disused well surrounded by low wall of loose bricks—Common gaming house Held that the lower

PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III OF 1867)—
*contdss 1, 3—contd

end of a bullock run round which in the shape of a semi circle was raised a low wall of loose bricks was a place within the meaning of the public Gambling Act, 1867 King Emperor v Fattoo Mahomed Shermahomed I I R 37 Bom 651 followed Powell v The Kempton Park Race Course Co Ltd [1899] A C 143 referred to EMPEROR v MIAN DIN (1915)

I L R 38 ALL 47ss 3 4—

1—Presumption—
Warrant not in accordance with provisions of Act Held that a warrant authorising the search of any house which the police officer to whom it was issued might think proper to search was not a legal warrant within the provisions of the Public Gambling Act 1867 EMPEROR v HARGOBIND (1912)

I L R 35 ALL 1

2—Common gaming house—Order for confiscation of money found on the persons of accused In the case of men convicted under s 3 or 4 of the Public Gambling Act 1867 the law does not contemplate the confiscation of money found on the persons of the accused Emperor v Maturwa I L R 40 ALL 517 referred to EMPEROR v TULLA (1910)

I L R 41 ALL 366

ss 3 4 5 10 and 11—Search warrant —Endorsement of warrant by officer to whom it was issued—Procedure—Examination under s 10 of persons sent up as accused under s 4—Effect of order passed under s 11 When a search warrant has been issued by a Magistrate under the provisions of s 5 of the Public Gambling Act 1867 the police officer to whom it is addressed may endorse it over to another police officer provided that the latter is an officer to whom such a warrant might have been issued in the first instance Emperor v Kashi Nath I L R 30 ALL 60 followed Effect of an order under s 11 of the Public Gambling Act 1867 and procedure necessary to terminate the legal liability of persons in whose favour such an order is passed whilst proceedings under s 4 of the Act are still pending against them discussed EMPEROR v MAHADEO

I L R 42 ALL 385

ss 8 and 10—Act (Local) No 1 of 1917 United Provinces Public Gambling (Amendment) Act s 2—Instruments of gaming—Cowries—Value of evidence of person examined under s 10 Cowries if used for the purpose of carrying on gaming are instruments of gaming within the meaning of s 1 of the Public Gambling Act 1867 as amended by s 2 of Local Act No 1 of 1917. A person examined as a witness under the provisions of s 10 of Act III of 1867 is not examined as an approver within the meaning of the Code of Criminal Procedure EMPEROR v BHAGOT LAL

I L R 42 ALL 470

ss 4 8—Conviction for being found in a common gaming house—Forfeiture of money found in the house legal A conviction under s 3 or s 4 of the Public Gambling Act 1867 differs from a conviction under s 13 in that in the case of the latter the forfeiture of money found with the persons convicted is not lawful but in the case of the former the forfeiture of money or securities for money found in a common

PUBLIC GAMBLING ACT (III OF 1867)—
*contdss. 4, 8—contd

gaming house is lawful Emperor v Tola I L R 26 ALL 270 referred to EMPEROR v KIPAYAT (1918) I L R 41 ALL 272

ss 5—See S 3*I L R 42 ALL 385

Jurisdiction—Power to issue search warrant— Officer invested with the full powers of a Magistrate—Sub divisional officer issuing warrant for search outside his sub division Held that a search warrant issued under s 5 of the Public Gambling Act 1867 by a first class Magistrate was not invalid by reason of the fact that the house to be searched was situated outside the limits of the tahsil in respect of which such Magistrate had been appointed sub-divisional officer EMPEROR v ABHU SINGH (1912)

I L R 34 ALL 597ss 8—*See S 4*I L R 41 ALL 272*ss 10 and 11—*See S 3*I L R 41 ALL 385 40

ss 12— Mere game of skill—Game of chance Held that a game which is in fact only to a very slight extent a game of skill and almost entirely a game of chance is not a game which is excluded by reason of s 12 of the Gambling Act 1867 from the previous provisions of that Act Hari Singh v King Emperor G C L J 708 distinguished EMPEROR v AHMAD KHAN (1911) I L R 34 ALL 96

ss 13—

Gaming in public place
—Seizure of money as well as instruments of gaming illegal Where persons are found gambling in a public place in circumstances to which s 13 of the Gambling Act 1867 is applicable although instruments of gambling etc may be seized by the police there is no authority for the confiscation of money found with the persons arrested Emperor v Tola I L R 26 ALL 270 followed EMPEROR v MATURWA (1918) I L R 40 ALL 517

PUBLIC GOODSee DEFAMATION I L R 41 Calc 514*PUBLIC NAVIGABLE RIVER

Dry land appearing through recession assessed with revenue— Suit to declare beds formed parts of permanently settled estate—Onus— Plaintiff to prove river non navigable at permanent settlement—River beds shown within boundaries of mouzas in thak and revenue maps sufficient to prove beds parts of estates— Thak and survey maps evidentiary value of Pennell's map which was based on surveys made between 164 and 1773 indicated the existence of Kaliganga and Dhulia (which were surveyed in 1800 60 as large navigable rivers) as large navigable rivers and the map prepared by Alexander Hodges in 1831 indicated that at that time Dhulia was a large navigable river Held that it lay on the Plaintiff who sued for a declaration that lands recently the beds of these rivers but now dry ly reason of the rivers receding from their beds were included in their permanently settled estates to prove their allegation that at the date of the permanent settlement of their adjoining remembrances in 1703

PUBLIC PATHWAY—contd

persons alleging various acts of unlawful obstruction to the public way the initial and final orders must state accurately the specific obstruction caused by each and which he is required to remove unless it is alleged that all of them are jointly responsible for all the obstructions complained of. An order under the section should not be vague indefinite or ambiguous but such as to afford information by its terms to the person to whom it is directed what he is to do in order to comply with it. Kali Mohan Kar v Lakari Chandra Das 11 C L J 114 followed. It is desirable that responsible opportunity should be given the parties proceeded against under s 133 to show cause under s 135 (b) or adduce evidence under s 137 (1). The report or other information on which the Magistrate has passed the conditional order under s 133 is not evidence against the person to whom it is directed. Srinath Roy v Aswaddi Halder 1 L F 24 Cal 395 approved. An order under s 133 cannot even by consent of parties be based on information gathered at a local inquiry. Chandra Nath Mandal v Kampani 10 C L J 480 approved. RAJNORAN KARMAKAR v EMERSON (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 61

PUBLIC POLICY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XVIII s 3

1 L R 38 Mad 850

See CONTRACT 4 Pat L J 542

See CONTRACT ACT 1872—

b 23

S 24 1 L R 42 Bom 339

S 25 1 L R 37 Bom 250

See DEKHN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF ACT (XVII OF 1879) s 15B cl (2)

1 L R 35 Bom 190

See PALMS OR TURNS OF WORTHIP

1 L R 42 Cal 455

See SLAVERY BOND

1 L R 42 Cal 742

See TRADE MARK 1 L R 40 Cal 814

See TRAFFICKING IN OFFICES

1 L R 43 Cal 115

See TRANSFER OR PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 64 1 L R 37 All 631

Inducing Public Officers for consideration to use influence—

See CONTRACT 25 G W N 297

PUBLIC PROSECUTOR

See COMPEL OF COURT

1 L R 41 Cal 173

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

1 L R 41 Cal 448

Memorandum—Practice and Procedure—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) ss 4 (1) 417 497—Acquittal or appeal from—The Legal Remembrancer of Bengal as Public Prosecutor for Bengal incompetent to go for an appeal from acquittal for the Government of Bihar and Orissa by a notification published in the Calcutta Gazette on 24th June 1898 the Legal Remembrancer of Bengal was to be ex officio Public Prosecutor in all cases before the High Court on its Appellate Side except Calcutta cases. On 1st April 1912 the Government of Bihar and Orissa appointed Mr. Adams to be the Legal Remembrancer of that Province. Under instructions from the Government of Bihar and Orissa contained in their letter dated 23rd April 1913 (which did not appoint him Public Prosecutor for this case) the Legal Remembrancer of Bengal (through his Deputy) presented this appeal to the High Court on 2nd May 1913. Held that from 1st April 1912 the Legal Remembrancer of Bihar and Orissa became ex officio Public Prosecutor for that Province and that the mere fact that a person had been directed to present an appeal to the High Court from an order of acquittal did not involve his appointment as Public Prosecutor for Bihar and Orissa for the purposes of the case and that accordingly the appeal presented by the Deputy Legal Remembrancer of Bengal was incompetent. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER BENGAL v GAYA PRASAD (1913) 1 L R 41 Cal 423

PUBLIC PROSECUTOR—contd

Appeal against acquittal presented by Legal Remembrancer—Legal Remembrancer as Public Prosecutor—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) s 417—Admissibility of evidence of a similar but unconnected transaction to prove the presence of the accused at a certain place and to rebut an alibi. The Legal Remembrancer is a Public Prosecutor within the meaning of s 417 of the Criminal Procedure Code. Where the accused was charged with cheating, a firm in Calcutta under s 40 of the Penal Code and it was alleged that he had, on a certain date sent a telegram to the firm from Cooch Behar purporting to come from their agents there evidence that he had sent a similar telegram on the same date to another firm in Calcutta purporting to come from their branch establishment in Cooch Behar is admissible to disprove the case of the accused that he was in Calcutta on such date and to corroborate the evidence of the witness connecting him with the despatch of the first mentioned telegram. LEGAL REMEMBRANCER BENGAL v TULSI DAS BARODIA (1918) 1 L R 48 Cal 544

Duty to produce all the evidence in his power bearing directly on the charge—Duty to call all the available eye witnesses in capital cases—Omission to examine material witnesses effect of—Inference adverse to the prosecution arising therefrom—Practice. The purpose of a criminal trial is not to support at all costs a theory but to investigate the offence and to determine the guilt or innocence of the accused and the duty of a Public Prosecutor is to represent not the police but the Crown and thus duty should be discharged fairly and fearlessly and with a full sense of the responsibility attaching to his position. It is not his duty to call only witnesses who speak in his favour. Imperial v Dhanoo Das 1 L R 4 Cal 171 discussed and explained. He should in a capital case place before the Court the testimony of all the available eye witnesses though they give different accounts. The rule is not a technical one but founded on common sense and humanity. Fry v Holden 8 C & P 600 followed. Where witnesses (who from their connection with the transactions in question may be able to give important information) are not called without sufficient reasons being shown the Court may properly draw an inference adverse to the

PUBLIC PROSECUTOR—contd

prosecution Empress v Dhanoo Kanai Lal P Chatterji referred to. A conviction under s 114 of the Penal Code cannot stand where the abetment charged necessarily requires the presence of the abettor. To come within the section the abetment must be complete apart from the presence of the abettor. I AM RANJAY ROY v IN REBOR (1914) I L R 42 Calc 422
19 C W N 23

PUBLIC RELIGIOUS TRUST

See PARTIES I L R 42 Calc 1135

Trespasser suit for removal of—Civil Procedure Code (Act 1 of 1908) s 92—Advocate General consent of. A suit for the removal of a trespasser in possession of trust property is not a suit of the kind contemplated by s 92 of the Code of Civil Procedure and therefore for the institution of such a suit no consent of the Advocate General is necessary. Budree Das Wulim
v Chooni Lal Johurry I L R 33 Calc 789 followed. Yeti Pama Jogiah v Venkatacharyulu I L
P 26 Mad 459 Sajdur Poya Clowdhury v Gour
Mohan Dato Baidhar I L R 94 Calc 419 Budh
Singh Dudhuria v Naradbaran Poo 2 C L J 437
Muhammad Abdul Majid Khan v Ahmad Siad
Khan I L R 35 All 403 referred to. AYATU
WESSA BIBI v KUTLU KHALIFA (1914)
I L R 41 Calc 749

PUBLIC RIGHT OF WAY

Obstruction—Special damage—Village pathway obstruction of—Special damage if need be proved. Where in a suit by the plaintiff for the declaration of a public right of way alleging special damage it appeared that a previous suit for a similar declaration had been dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff did not disclose any cause of action (there being no allegation that plaintiff had suffered special damage) but in dismissing the suit the Court had expressly stated that the plaintiff was not debarred from bringing a fresh suit properly framed. Held that the second suit was not barred by res judicata.
 Proof by the plaintiff that he and his servants had been compelled to go by a longer route and thereby incur additional expense was sufficient proof of special damage. Infringement of a village pathway in which plaintiff had got a right with other villagers by reasons of a grant implied from long user does not require proof of special damage to give the plaintiff a cause of action. HARTBAR DAS v CHANDRA KUNAR GUHA (1918)
23 C W N 91

Right of marching in procession with a car—Suit for declaration of right—Injunction re training interference with the right. Plaintiffs sued on behalf of themselves and of other members of a religious community to have a declaration of their right of marching in procession with a car along a particular public road to certain temples and for an injunction restraining the defendants from interfering with the plaintiffs. The defendants contended that the plaintiffs had no right to march along the road. The lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that the road being public the plaintiffs could not sue unless special damage were shown and proved. On second appeal by the plaintiffs. Held reversing the decree and allowing the claim that the suit was not for removal of a public nuisance but for a declaration of the right of an individual community to use the

PUBLIC RIGHT OF WAY—contd public road. Every member of the public and every sect has a right to use the public streets in a lawful manner and it lies on those who would restrain him or it to show some law or custom having the force of law abrogating the privilege.

Sadhapachariar v A Pama Pao I L R 96 Mad
376 followed. BASLINGAPPA PARAPPA v DHAR
MAPPA BASAPPA (1910) I L R 31 Bom 571

Metalled and unmetalled portions——Equally part of road—Right of public way. Where the question is as to the breadth of a public road it must be taken that all the ground over which the public have a right of way is part of the road.
 The mere fact that part of the road may be metalled for the greater convenience of the traffic will not render the unmetalled portion on each side any the less a public road or street. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF AGRA v SUDARSHAN DAS SHASTRI
 (1914) I L R 37 All 9

PUBLIC SERVANT

See PENAL CODE ss 21 161—190

ss 339 393 I L R 37 All 353
I L R 40 All 28

—assaulting in execution of duty—

See RIOTING I L R 41 Calc 836

—instigating a—

See ABETMENT OF AN ABETMENT

I L R 46 Calc 607

—unpaid apprentice if—

See PENAL CODE s 21

15 C W N 319

PUBLIC STREET

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
 ACT (BOM III OF 1901) ss 70 113
 123 I L R 42 Bom 454

See HIGHWAY

See RAILWAY COMPANY

L R 43 I A 310

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 7

I L R 38 Bom 565

—definition of—

See PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT 1911 s 2
I L R 1 Lah 117

PUBLIC TEMPLE

—manager no right to remove idol—

See HINDU LAW I L R 44 Bom 466

PUBLIC TRUST

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)
 s 92

See HINDU LAW

See MUHOMEDAN LAW

Co trustees—Act of on of two trustees without consent of the other—Grant of mortgage—Transaction whether valid—Rule of act of majority of trustee applicability of to cases of two co trustees. One of two trustees of a public trust cannot grant a mortgage or effect any similar transaction in respect of the trust properties so as to bind the trust without the consent of the other trustee even though the latter on consultation wrongly refuses his consent. The rule that the act of a majority of the trustees is valid,

PUBLIC TRUST—could provided they gave proper opportunity to the others to consider the advisability of the act in question does not apply to cases where there are only two trustees as one of them alone cannot constitute a majority Bairdi Andarjanam v Raman Nambudri 1 L R 24 Mad 296 and Wilkinson v Main 2 C J 836 followed CHERU NARAYANAN NAMBUDERI (1918)

1 L R 42 Mad 335

PUBLIC WAY

See CIVIL PROCEDURE ACT 1908, s 91

See HIGHWAY

See WAY

obstruction to by building a wall—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
ss 147 426 447

1 L R 39 Mad 57

An action for obstructing a public road is not maintainable unless the plaintiff proved some injury or damage peculiar to himself and different from the damage that would be suffered by other people who used the road. Special damage does not mean serious damage but means damage of a special nature that is damage affecting the plaintiff individually or damage peculiar to himself his trade or calling BATHAM HOTETA AND ORS v SIDRAM DAS AND ANR 25 C W N 95

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT

negligence of servants of—

See TORT 1 L P 39 Mad 351

PUBLICATION

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

1 L R 45 Cal 189

See COPYRIGHT 1 L R 98 All 484 of picture copyright in England

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 23

1 L R 44 Bom 720

of proceedings in pending case not permissible till case comes on for hearing—

See CONTEMPT OF COURT

1 L R 44 Bom 443

proof of—

See EVIDENCE

1 L R 39 Cal 522 606

of notice of claims in Government Gazette sufficient for purposes of s 14 of Court of Wards Act—

See COURT OF WARDS ACT (No. ACT I OF 1906) s 14

1 L P 44 Bom 493

PUBLICITY

See FETTER & BUDDHIST LAW—ADOPTION

1 L R 45 Cal 1

PUISNE MORTGAGE

See MORTGAGE 1 L P 37 Cal 232

1 L P 37 All 304

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 67

1 L R 40 Mad 7

rights of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908)

O XXXV ER 4 AND 5

1 L R 38 All 798

PUJARI

dispute concerning to act in—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (V OF 1898) s 147 1 L R 37 Cal 545

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 9 AND 92

1 L R 45 Bom 683

PUNISHMENT

See PENAL CODE ss 63 TO 75

Member of a Criminal Tribe—

Second conviction—

See CRIMINAL TRIBES ACT (III OF 1911)

s 23 1 L R 45 Bom 1062

PUNITIVE POLICE

Costs apportionment of—Police Act (V of 1861 as amended by Act III of 1895) s 16 cl (4) 16—District Magistrate duty of—Amount realized an apportionment made by a Deputy Magistrate effect of—Secretary of State for India suit against if maintainable An apportionment of costs made by a Deputy Magistrate under s 16 cl (4) of the Police Act for maintenance of a police force is illegal Where therefore an apportionment of costs having been made by a Deputy Magistrate and which on appeal having been affirmed by the District Magistrate the amount of costs assessed was recovered from a person under s 16 of the Act by distress warrant held that the amount not being legally realized a suit for the recovery thereof would lie against the Secretary of State for India in Council Singh Bhojra v The Secretary of State for India 1 L P 28 Bom 114 referred to BATHAM CHANDRA NAO v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1912)

1 L R 40 Cal 450

PUNJAB

Permanent Tenancy Act—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L R 47 Cal 1

PUNJAB ACT II OF 1913

See PREEMPTION OF MORTGAGES

1 L P 2 Lah 24

PUNJAB ALIENATION OF LAND ACT XIII OF 1900

s 2 (1) (b)—whether right of a temporary lessee to take the produce of trees is agricultural land—

See PUNJAB PREEMPTION ACT 1913 s 3

1 L R 1 Lah 567

s 16—Prohibits only a sale and not a temporary alienation of agricultural land—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 L R 1 Lah 190

s 16—whether Insolvency Court can attach land of an agriculturist insolvent—

See INSOLVENCY 1 L R 2 Lah 78

s 17—

See REGISTRATION ACT (V OF 1908)

1 L R 2 Lah 702

PUNJAB COLONIZATION OF GOVERNMENT LAND

See COLONIZATION OF LAND

PUNJAB COURTS ACT 1914

See PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT 1897
s 11 I L R 1 Lah 387

s 41 (3)—

See *conf. appeal on point of custom—Time of appeal filed beyond time on account of delay in obtaining a certificate—Custom—Khan Khani—Largarwal Jats Tahsil Kharian—Appellant of 1st class under instructions from her husband—Appellant on 8th February 1919 filed a second appeal in the Chief Court against the decree of the District Judge dated 26th August 1918. She did not apply to the latter for a certificate till 21st November 1918 explaining that she was not aware of the necessity of a certificate till advised by a lawyer at Lahore. The District Judge granted her a certificate on 1st February 1919. It was held that under the circumstances and having regard to the provision of cl (3) of s 41 of the Punjab Courts Act 1914, the appeal should be held to be within time. It was also held that among Largarwal Jats of Tahsil Kharian who recognize the practice of making a Khani, a widow who has received instructions in that behalf from her husband has full power to make a partition for a Khani. Prigat Singh v. D. Singh of Gurgaon, 1st paragraph 39 and 41 referred to. MUSAMMAT ALAM BEGUM LATTO I L R 1 Lah 245*

See *conf. appeal on question of custom—Necessity for a certificate—Adoption of custom as among Brahmins of Amritsar Held following Mussamat Begum v. Kharian (7 P R 1919) that the question of custom is not a question of law but a question of fact and that on the other hand it is not under all circumstances a question relating to the validity or the existence of a custom except in so far as in proving or disproving the validity or existence of a custom a party to a suit may be held to be entitled to an initial presumption in his favour on the strength of a generally accepted rule of custom. Held also that in the present case having regard to the decision in Lahori Dair v. Thakur Das (149 P R 1893) the custom problem must be regarded as one relating to the existence of a custom governing the question of the adoption and therefore a certificate under s 41 (3) of the Punjab Courts Act was necessary. Allah Din v. Salam Din (96 P R 1915) referred to. MUSAMMAT PAM RAKHI v. MEHA RAM I L R 2 Lah 167*

PUNJAB COURT OF WARDS (ACT II OF 1905)

ss 8 and 10—Court of Wards assuming superintendence of property in which the ward has no interest—Action ultra vires—Notice to Deputy Commissioner not necessary before filing a suit regarding such property. Held that if the Court of Wards purporting to act under s 8 of Punjab Act II of 1903 wrongly assumes superintendence of the property of other persons in which the ward has no share its action is ultra vires and it cannot be said that it has assumed superintendence under the powers conferred upon it by the Act though it may have purported to act in accordance therewith. If the Deputy Commissioner acts ultra vires any person affected thereby can object. It is not necessary in such a case to give this officer notice under s 19 of the Act before filing a suit. TARA SINGH v. GAYDA SINGH I L R 2 Lah 151

PUNJAB COURT OF WARDS (ACT II OF 1905)—contd

ss 11 and 12—

See Waqf NAMA I L R 42 All 609

Injunction against person out of Jurisdiction—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 ss 17 87
125 II W N 123

PUNJAB LAND REVENUE ACT (XVII OF 1857)

s 44—

See MAHOMMEDAN LAW—FINDOWMENT
I L R 40 Calc 297

s 117 (2) (b)—Decree by Revenue Officer treating case as a Civil Court what it must contain—Appeal where there is no legal decree—Civil Procedure Code Act V of 1908 s 33 O XX r 1—6 and O XXI r 1. Held that a Revenue Officer who tries a suit under the procedure laid down in s 117 (2) (b) of the Land Revenue Act must record a judgment and a decree containing the particulars required by the Code of Civil Procedure to be specified therein and that a decree sheet signed by the Court in which only the amount of costs incurred by each party is specified but which otherwise has been left blank is no decree at all and that a paragraph in the judgment not drawn up in the form of a decree and not embodied in a separate form is not a decree and therefore no appeal is competent. Dulhan Golab Koor v. Padma Dulari Koor per PIGOT J (1 I P 19 Calc 463 F B) approved. GELA RAM v. GANGA RAM I L R 1 Lah 223

s 117 (2) (c) (As amended by the Punjab Courts Act III of 1914)—Appeal from decree of Assistant Collector in determining a question of title lies to District Judge. Held that since the substitution of the phrase Subordinate Judge for District Judge in s 117 (2) (c) of the Punjab Land Revenue Act by the Punjab Courts Act III of 1914 an appeal from the decree of an Assistant Collector in the matter of the determination of a question of title lies to the Court of the District Judge. SADDA SINGH v. KIRPALLA I L R 1 Lah 337 ss 141 153—Suit to recover price of barley sold by Revenue Officer

See JURISDICTION (CIVIL OR REVENUE)
I L R 2 Lah 302

s 158 (1) and (2) XVII—Civil suit to rectify grievance arising out of a partition

See JURISDICTION (CIVIL OR REVENUE)
I L R 1 Lah 298

PUNJAB LAWE ACT 1872—

No bar to suit to establish rights to property attached by Insolvency Courts as belonging to the insolvent—

See INSOLVENCY I L R 1 Lah 147

s 5—

See CUSTOM I L R 45 Calc 450

Where custom not proved whether Court can apply personal law

See CUSTOM (SUCCESSION)
I L R 2 Lah 98

s 27

See INSOLVENCY I L R 37 Calc 418

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT, 1911—

s 11 (10)—Bye Laws of Delhi Municipality inconsistent with the provisions of the Act and unenforceable. By one of the bye laws of the Delhi Municipality framed under s 188 of the Punjab Municipal Act occupiers of stables used for more than six animals were required to obtain a licence from the Committee and the word occupier was defined as meaning the person who is responsible for the letting or sub letting of the premises to the person in charge of animals and may include the owner. The Municipal Act itself in paragraph (10) of s 3 however defined occupier as including an owner in actual occupation of his land or building etc. The petitioner was owner of stables which he had leased to one R. M. and in which more than six animals were stabled without a licence. The petitioner was fined Rs 10 for a breach of the bye laws. Held that the definition of occupier as given in the bye laws cannot be enforced in so far as it is inconsistent with that given in the Act itself. Narayan Chandra Chatterjee v Corporation of Calcutta (4 Indian Cases 259) followed. Held also that the bye law making the owner responsible in a case where he is not in actual occupation and has no power to control the acts of his tenant with regard to the use of the premises leased, is manifestly unjust to the owner and hence unenforceable and that the English law as to the necessity of bye laws being reasonable is applicable to bye laws framed in the exercise of their statutory powers by Municipal Boards in India. Emperor v. Bal Kishan (1 L. R. 24 All 439) followed. Joti Persaud v. The Crown 1 L. R. 2 Lah 239.

s 3 (13) (b)—Definition of public street. Presumed dedication of road in a private market (Ganj) to the public—Dedication for a limited purpose. The plaintiffs appellants were the absolute owners of Nawab Ganj a market in the City of Karnal. The Ganj was built in the form of a Katra or rectangular close to which entrance was obtained by four gates. One of the gates was missing at the time of institution of the suit. The others existed and were shut at night. Round the close was a series of shops which were leased to grain merchants. The enclosure thus formed was a narrow courtyard on the floor of which the tenants piled up their grain in separate heaps and under the courtyard were masonry bins for storage. The courtyard was neither drained lighted nor cleaned by the Municipality and was by its nature accessary to the shop property and let by the appellants as such to their shop tenants. Recently the Municipal Committee constructed a metalled road through the Ganj on the plea that the area over which the road was laid was a public street under the Municipal Act. The Chief Court held that there existed through this Ganj a public right of way and that this had been acquired by reason of dedication as such by the owner. There was admittedly no dedication expressly or in writing but the Chief Court considered that as the space between the shops had been used by all members of the public who came in to buy and sell grain without any interruption there was a presumption that the owner intended the members of the public to make use of the space left vacant or a part of it as a highway. Held that in such cases it is of crucial importance to distinguish between the grant to the public as such of a right of way and the permission which naturally flows from the use of the ground as a passage for visitors to or traders with the tenants whose shops abut upon it. That it was extremely doubtful in the present case whether the term dedication could with propriety be applied to what took place. If the term be employed it could only be in this sense that the dedication of the solium of the courtyard was dedication, not to the public but to the uses of the shop keepers and their customers the principal being the storing and display of grain. Held also that the fact that members of the public get access to a place which is used by customers and might or might not pass through it did not justify an interference of dedication. A person dedicating land to public use may place such limits as he wishes upon the dedication if he makes those limits clear and definite although there can in law be no such thing as a public right of way constituted by dedication to only a section of the public. H. Pool v. Huskin on (M and W 327) per BARON PARKE referred to. NAWAB BAHADUR MUHAMMAD RUSTAM ALI KHAN v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF KARNAL 1 L. R. 1 Lah 117.

PUNJAB MUNICIPAL ACT 1911—contd

— s 188—

See s 3

1 L. R. 2 Lah 239

PUNJAB PRE EMPTION ACT I of 1913

s 3—Whether the right of a temporary lessee to plant trees and take their produce (sardrakhti) is agricultural land or village immovable property within the meaning of the Act—Punjab Alienation of Land Act XIII of 1900 s 2 (3) (6)—General Clauses Act 2 of 1897 s 3 (9). The vendor in this case was the tenant of certain land under a lease made in 1888 in which it was stated that the land was leased waste lagane sardrakhti i.e. for the planting of a grove of trees or plantation. The lease was for seven years and after expiry of that period the lessor was to receive 1/4th of the produce of flowers fruits etc. of the land. Another condition was that if the lessor wanted to evict the lessee after the expiry of the seven years he would pay the latter the value of his sardrakhti. By a deed of sale made in 1914 the vendor sold his sardrakhti in the land i.e. the rights owned by him in the trees. The plaintiff sued for pre-emption in respect of this sale and the questions for decision were whether the subject of the sale came within the definition of (1) agricultural land in the Punjab Alienation of Land Act, s 3 read with the Punjab Alienation of Land Act 1900 s 3 (3) (6) as being a share in the profits of an estate or holding or (2) immovable property under the Punjab Pre-emption Act s 3. Held that the temporary rights which the vendor had in the produce of the trees under the lease did not constitute him owner of a share in the profits of the holding and that consequently the subject of the sale was not agricultural land within the meaning of s 3 of the Punjab Pre-emption Act. Held also that the temporary rights sold were not immovable property under the Punjab Pre-emption Act taking the definition as given in the General Clauses Act 1897 i.e. that it includes land benefits to arise out of land and things attached to the earth or permanently fastened to anything attached to the earth and the plaintiff had therefore no locus standi to bring a suit for pre-emption. Shepherd and Crown's Indian Transfer of Property Act 7th Edition page 14 referred to. MUHAMMAD ISMAIL v. SHAMUS CD DIX 1 L. R. 1 Lah. 22.

PUNJAB PRE-EMPTION ACT I OF 1913—

co 17

s. 15—

Which a Christian can be heir to the son of a convert to Islam—

See ACT XVI OF 1930

I L R 1 Lah 376

Owner of a small plot of land unassessed to revenue—Whether one of the owners of the estate Plaintiff claimed pre-emption in respect of a sale of a house in the village of ad. He based his claim on the plea of being one of the owners of the estate. Plaintiff was a malik lah and owned only a small plot of land of 8 marla unassessed to revenue and uncultivated except to a trifling extent and clearly destined to be a building site. Held that the plaintiff was not one of the owners of the estate within the meaning of s. 15 (c) thirdly of the Punjab Pre-emption Act and that his claim to pre-emption was consequently inadmissible. Phallu v Mularab (153 P R 1885) Man Singh v Dip Singh (96 P R 1893) Sham Sunder v Sodhi Harbans Singh (109 P R 1903) and Varain Singh v Gopal Singh (106 P R 1913) followed. Lal Khan v Nand Ullah (14 P R 1880) Dasu v Jorala (13 P R 1885) Jarnir Singh v Pahmatullah (7 P R 1896) distinguished. Harjullu Mal v Nathu Ram (51 P R 1907) disapproved. JAWALA SINGH v TARASINGH I L R 1 Lah. 503

PUNJAB RULING CHIEFS

See HUNSFORD STATUTE OF

I L R 39 Calc 711

PURCHASE

See BENAMI PURCHASE

See TITLE PROOF OF

I L R 45 Calc 909

by Husband—

See RESULTING TRUST

I L R 48 Calc 260

free of incumbrances—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 39 Calc 353

PURCHASE MONEY

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) SEC

I ARTS 97

I L R 37 Bom 538

See MORTGAGE I L R 44 Calc 542

See PATEABLE DISTRIBUTION

I L R 44 Calc 789

payment of—

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 35 All 583

refund of—

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 37 Calc 67

suit to recover—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1882) s 315

I L R 40 All 411

PURCHASE OF ARMS

See FORGERY I L R 43 Calc 421

PURCHASER

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) s 27

I L R 58 Mad. 837

PURCHASER—could

See I Art 17A I L R 45 Bom 45

See OCCUPANCY HOLDING

I L R 42 Calc 745

in Court auction—

See SUBSTITUTION OF PROPERTY AND

SECURITY I L R 39 Mad 283

in puisne mortgagee's suit right

of—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 189) s 67 I L R 40 Mad 77

liability of—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 40 Calc 88

of a share—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 43 Calc 48

of equity of redemption—

See MORTGAGE 14 C W N 576

rights of—

See PRE-EMPTION I L R 44 Calc 675

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF REVENUE

I L R 40 Calc 80

title of—

See CHAKRIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I L R 45 Calc 765

Widow claiming right of residence against purchaser for value from husband—

See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom 337

Sale by Revenue Courts for arrears of revenue—

See LIMITATION ACT (IV OF 1908) ART

17A I L R 45 Bom 45

PURCHASER FOR VALUE

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER

I L R 43 Calc 56

PURCHASER IN EXECUTION

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF

1892) s 67 I L R 40 Mad 77

PURCHASER PENDENTE LITE

See MERE PROFITS

I L R 39 Calc 220

PURDANASHIN

See PURDANASHIN

PUTATIVE FATHER

right of to inherit his illegitimate son's property—

See HINDU LAW—INHERITANCE

I L R 41 Mad. 44

PUTNI

See PUTNI LEASE

See PUTNI REGULATION

See PUTNI TENURE

See SALE I L R 41 Calc 148

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 73

14 C W N 186

consideration for—

See ILLEGAL CESS I L R 45 Calc 259

PUTNI purchase of—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT

I L R 44 Calc 715

Putni Regulation (Reg VIII of 1819) s 9—Agreement of putnidar with stranger for purchase by latter and reconveyance to form r—Legal r—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 23 A contract entered into by a putnidar with a stranger stipulating that the latter would purchase the putni which had been advertised for sale under Reg VIII of 1819 and reconvey it to the putnidar receiving the amount of the purchase money with interest and a further sum in addition from him was invalid under the provisions of s 23 of the Contract Act as being in contravention of the provisions of s 9 of the Putni Regulation. MOHAN LAL BABU v UDAI NARAIN BHADURI (1910)

14 C W N 1031

Chowkidari chakran land—Presumption and transfer to zemindar—Right of putnidar to settlement—Conditions of settlement—Suit by putnidar to recover—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sec II Arts 140 141—Putnidar is must register himself in zemindars shers before suing—Purchase of putni in benami by defaulter is void—Reg VIII of 1819 s 9 The effect of the transfer by the Collector to the zemindar of resumed chowkidari chakran lands is not to separate them from the parent estate and grant a new title to them in favour of the proprietor of the estate. A putnidar if the lands were included within his putni has the right to recover possession of the lands from the zemindar on condition of his agreeing to a fair and reasonable settlement with the landlord. The terms of the settlement of the resumed chowkidari chakran land with the putnidar would depend upon the conditions under which the putni was originally created. Ha v Narain Moondar v Mulund Lal Mundal 3 C W N 315 relied on. A suit by the putnidar to recover possession of chowkidari chakran land resumed and transferred to the zemindar is governed by Art 142 or Art 144 of the Second Schedule of the Limitation Act. Bhuvnagar Mukunda Deb v Bidhu Sundar Thakur 1 L P 35 Calc 356 see 12 C W N 459 followed. The absence of registration of the plaintiff's name in the zemindar's shers is no bar to such a suit. Gossain Mungal Dass v Roy Dhunput Singh 25 W P 151 disapproved. Cumdar Pershad Roy v Shuvendra Kumari Shaheba 1 L P 12 Calc 621 Jo; Krishna Mookhopadhyay v Surjan nassa 1 L P 15 Calc 345 relied on. The purchase of the putni by the defaulting putnidar in the benami of another in contravention of s 9 of Reg VIII of 1819 is voidable only and not void. Matangins Deb v Prasanna Moys Deb 3 C I J 93 followed. HARAK CHAND BABU v CHANDU CHANDRA SINGHIA (1910)

15 C W N 5

Putni taluk sale of for arrears of rent—Suit by purchaser for recovery of possession of lands within taluk brought within 12 years from date of purchase—Limitation—Applicability of Art 121—Limitation Act—Adverse possession prior to creation of putni effect of—Cause of action—Adverse possession if arrested by creation of subordinate tenure when proprietor out of possession—Doctrine of possession following title application of where plaintiff has to prove possession at a particular point of time—Ancient documents showing exercise of right to property—consideration of as presumptive evidence of possession—Sale under

PUTNI—contd

 159 Bengal Tenancy Act status of purchaser in—Encumbrance meaning and annulment of The plaintiff who was the purchaser of a putni taluk at a sale held in 1899 in execution of a rent decree under the Bengal Tenancy Act brought suit against the defendants within twelve years from date of his purchase for declaration of his title to the lands held by them within the putni taluk and for recovery of possession thereof. There was ample evidence on the record that the adverse possession of the defendants and their predecessors commenced before the creation of the putni. Held that the suits were barred by limitation and Art 121 of the 2nd Schedule of the Limitation Act did not apply to them. That the plaintiff not having established that the possession of the defendants commenced after the creation of the putni or that the proprietor of the estate was in possession at the time when the putni was granted the interests acquired by the defendants could not be deemed to be an encumbrance within the meaning of Art 121 nor was it an encumbrance within the meaning of s 11 cl (1) of Reg VIII of 1819. That the cause of action did not arise on the date on which the plaintiff purchased the taluk at the sale held under the Bengal Tenancy Act. That the adverse possession contemplated in the decisions Nagar Chandra v Rajendra Lal 1 L P 25 Calc 167 Woomesh Chandra Coomra v Raj Narain Paj 10 W P 15 Khonto 3 or 4 Datta v Lujoy Chandra 1 L P 19 Calc 187 and Karim Khan v Broja Nath Datta 1 L R 2 Calc 944 is possession which commences after the creation of the putni tenure. These cases are founded on the principle laid down in s 11 of Reg VIII of 1819 which is that the purchaser of a putni taluk at a sale held under Reg VIII of 1819 takes the taluk in the state in which it was actually created and the judicial decisions above referred to lay down the doctrine that the purchaser takes the property not free merely of all encumbrances that may have accrued upon the tenure by act of the defaulting proprietor, his representatives or assignees but also free of the interest acquired by an adverse possessor who has been able to acquire such interest by the action of the defaulting proprietor. This doctrine is plainly limited in its application to cases where the adverse possession commenced after the creation of the putni. That in a case like the present in which the proprietor of the estate is out of possession he cannot merely by the device of the creation of a subordinate taluk arrest the effect of the adverse possession which has already commenced to run against him and such possession would be effective not only as against the subordinate tenure holder but also as against the superior proprietor. That the plaintiff before he could succeed must prove that the proprietor was in possession when the putni was created. That the doctrine that possession follows title has no application to a case like the present. That as laid down by the Judicial Committee in Pargari Pam v Gobordhan Pam 20 W P 25 29 the Court may in the decision of the question of limitation if there is conflicting evidence on both sides presume that possession was with the party whose title has been established but it does not follow that when the plaintiff has to establish possession at a particular point of time he is entitled to call upon the Court to presume that because his title has been established possession must be presumed to have been with the holder of the title at the specified period of time. This contention is clearly opposed to the decision of the Judicial Committee in Mohina Chandra v. Moha Chandra 1 P 16 14 23 s c 1 L P 16 Cal 43. That the plaintiff having made his purchase at a sale held in execution of a rent decree under the Legal Tenancy Act under s 10 of the Act he made his purchase with power to annul the interest claimed as encumbrance in s 161 encumbrance as used in that section includes a statutory title acquired by a transferee or by a purchaser of the land of the defaulting tenant provided such sale of possession commenced after the tenure had been created. That even if he had succeeded in establishing that such adverse possession commenced after the creation of the putni title before he could succeed he would have to prove that under subs (1) of s 161 he had annulled the encumbrances by service of notice within one year from the date of the sale or the date on which he first had notice of the encumbrance and in the present case the plaintiff had failed to do so. Held (as to the contention that the grant of the putni tenure itself was evidence of possession) that the principle that ancient documents produced from proper custody and by which any right to property purports to have been exercised may rightly be treated as presumptive evidence of possession has no application to the circumstances of the present case. HAKARAN LANDS v. BIPRODAS PAL CHODHURY (1914) 19 C W N 11

PUTNI—contd

Suit by purchaser to recover land from encumbrancer—Onus to prove that land was in putni in mindar's possession at date of putni. In the absence of anything to show that there was any change between the date of the quinquennial register for a period immediately preceding the permanent settlement and the permanent settlement the Court would be justified in holding that the area stated in the forme was the area permanently settled with the zemindar. Without considering the correctness of the principles laid down in Ashikanda Woolerjee v. Biprodas Pal Choudhury 19 C 1 N 12. Held that on the facts of the present case the onus was on the plaintiff (purchaser of a putni taluk at a rent sale) to prove that at the date of the creation of the putni the zemindar was in possession of the land sought to be recovered by annulment of defendant's alleged encumbrance. KEDAR NATH RAI v. BIPRA DAS PAL CHODHURY (1918) 23 C W N 182

In a suit for possession of lands within the zemindari by purchaser of putni at sale for arrears of rent onus of proof is on plaintiff to prove zemindar's possession prior to creation of putni. Possession of an estate however long cannot be adverse to the landlord and cannot be held to be an encumbrance. MOYNOTHA NATH MITTAR v. ANATH BUNDHU PAL 25 C W N 107

PUTNIDAR

See CHAKRIDARI CHAKRAN LAND 14 C W N 895

right of—

See CHAKRIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS 1 L R 44 Cal 841

Part of rent payable by putnidar assigned for payment of revenue—Separate account opened by a co-sharer zemindar—

PUTNIDAR—contd

Suit by partition a signed rent and to order putnidar to pay plaintiff's share of same to plaintiff's account of maintenance—Transfer of Property Act (11 of 1882) s 37. Where a putnidar as part of the consideration for the use and occupation of the land undertook to pay the revenue payable by the zemindar direct in the Collectorate on account and to the credit of the landlord. Held that the revenue so paid by the putnidar was part of the rent paid to the landlord. The owners of a share in the zemindari having got a separate account opened in respect of their share under s 10 of Act XI of 1859 sued the putnidar and his co-sharers for an apportionment as between the co-sharer of the revenue payable by the putnidar and for an order directing the putnidar to make separate payment in the Collectorate to the account and credit of the plaintiffs of the amount due in respect of their share. Held that upon the principle underlying s 37 of the Transfer of Property Act and on the authority of Sreenath Chunder v. Moha Chunder 1 C L R 453 14 23 Cal 43 and Pamkrishna I L R 5 Cal 902 and Raj Narain Mitter v. Ekadasi Bag I L R 27 Cal 479 s c 4 C 11 N 104 the suit was maintainable and should be decreed the objection of the putnidars that the apportionment would impair the value or affect the character of their permanent lease being groundless and the objection that at each of the four lists they would have to write four challans instead of one being frivolous. GOSTA GOPAL SHINHA v. GOSTA BHAYRA PRAMANTH (1916) 21 C W N 214

PUTNI LEASE

See CHAKRIDARI (HAKARAN LANDS) 1 L R 41 Cal 685

See LANDLORD AND TENANT 1 L R 45 Cal 683

whether conveys underground right—

See MINERALS 5 Pat L J 563

Construction of—Covenant in contravention of the rule against perpetuities—Contingent covenant in a lease when operative. Where a lessor by a putni patta after leasing a mouzah exempted from its operation certain lands and covenanted that on certain contingencies happening the lessee should acquire a right there to as putnidar but no time was specified within which the contingency was to happen in order to vest the right in the putnidar. Held that such covenant was void as offending against the rule against perpetuities even as between the parties to the covenant. Chandi Churn Barua v. Sidheswar Deb I L R 16 Cal 71 Ramasami Pattar v. Chinan Assis I L R 24 Mad 419 and Nabin Chandra Soot v. Nabab Ali Sarkar 5 C 11 N 343 referred to. ANATH NATH MITTAR v. KUMAR KESHAB CHANDRA ROY (1910) 14 C W N 601

Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act (Bengal VI of 1876 as amended by Act V of 1954) s 17—Poles under s 19 of Act Pule 16—Putni lease executed by Deputy Commissioner as manager of Darabdhum Estate under the Act—Sanction of Commissioner—Objection that putni lease had not been submitted to Commissioner after he had sanctioned all the details—Sanction granted for lease to a firm and lease given to a Limit ed Company—Stipulation for payment of bonus—Payment after time fixed The grant of a putni lease under the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act (Bengal Act VI of 1876 as amended by Act V of 1884) s 17 and r 16 of the rules made under the Act need state the sanction of the Commissioner. In a suit to have a putni lease executed by the Deputy Commissioner as the manager under the Act of the Barabhum Estate on behalf of the proprietor the father of the plaintiff (appellant) declared void and inoperative as not having received a valid sanction. Held that where it has been affirmatively established that a transaction itself in all its essential particulars has obtained the sanction of the Commissioner and then it becomes requisite that the transaction be carried into effect by the preparation of an appropriate deed an objection merely on the ground that the document ultimately prepared has not been submitted for sanction cannot be sustained. In administrative and departmental action it must necessarily be the case that formal details may have to be entered upon in order to carry into effect and put into legal shape the arrangement to which the sanction was given. Where such a sanction was given for a putni lease to be granted to Robert Watson and Co a firm of individual men and the actual lease was executed in favour of Robert Watson and Co Limited the firm having been converted into a Limited Company. Held on the facts of the case that when the negotiators in the course of the correspondence mentioned Robert Watson and Co they did in fact mean and were perfectly understood to mean Robert Watson and Co Limited the fact of the incorporation of the Limited concern being well known and that therefore the misdescription did not under the ordinary principle applicable to such matters affect the validity of the sanction or of the putni lease. In this view it was unnecessary to decide as to the effect in law of the difference in the persona of the two descriptions. Held also that the sanction of the Commissioner in this case was not merely a sanction of a proposal to grant a putni. The proposal had been made it had been accepted a contract was accordingly completed on the subject and it was that contract so completed that was sanctioned. The putni lease stipulated for the payment of a salami or bonus and the letter granting the sanction contained the clause provided the amount be paid before the end of March 1890. Some delay occurred owing to an exchange of views being necessary as to the actual wording of the draft putni but the lease was finally settled by both parties and the salami was paid on 20th June 1890. Held that the lease would not afterwards have been open to a challenge to be made by the Deputy Commissioner himself or for the Commissioner's sanction to be withdrawn and a fortiori there was no ground for sustaining such a challenge when put forward long afterwards on behalf of the debtor or by whom the suit was brought. I AM KANAI SINGH DEB DAR PASHANA v MATHEWSON (1015)

PUTNI LEASE—contd

I L R 40 Calc 1029

*I tms lease—Const uc t on of—Saranjami if a clause Government Revenue In a putni lease it was stipulated that the putidar would pay to the zemindar the rent besides Saranjami. In a suit for arrears of rent on the basis of the putni lease the question was whether Gov-* ernment revenue was payable by the zemindar or the putnidar. Held that evidence of conduct was not admissible for the construction of the putni contract and the Lower Courts were wrong in relying on the fact that for many years the Government revenue was paid by the putnidar. BHACANI NATH POY v PURNA CHANDRA SARKAR 25 C W N 308

PUTNI LEASE—contd

PUTNI REGULATION (VIII of 1819)

See DEPOSIT IN COURT

I L R 41 Calc 1000

*Position of a purchaser at ale and r—Previous suit for rent by original talukdar dismissed on the ground that relation of landlord and tenant did not exist—Subsequent suit by purchaser of barred by res judicata—Purchaser is bound to annul encumbrance before suit—In cumberance adverse possession when—Limitation Although the position of a purchaser at a sale under Peg VIII of 1819 may not be precisely that of a purchaser at a sale for arrears of revenue yet he is not privy in estate to the defaulting proprietor and he does not derive his title from him as under s 11 of the Regulation he has acquired the property free of all encumbrances that might have been created upon it by the act of the defaulter his representatives or a signee and consequently a claim for rent by such a purchaser is not barred by res judicata by reason of the failure of a suit for rent by a previous proprietor on the ground that the relationship of landlord and tenant between the then plaintiff and the defendant was not established. Tara Prasad v Parnants was not established. Tara Prasad v Parnants 12 B R 283 and Radha Gobind v Rakhaldas Singh 12 B R 12 Calc 50 90 rehed v Rakhaldas 12 B R 12 Calc 50 90 rehed. On a purchaser at a sale under Peg VIII of 1819 need not take any step before the suit is brought to annul an encumbrance. The interest of an adverse possessor or is an encumbrance only when the adverse possession has continued for the statutory period. Adverse possession is arrested by the sale and limitation runs as against the purchaser from the date when the sale becomes final. SATISH CHANDRA SENHA v MURJAMATI DEBI 17 C W N 340 (1912)*

*Itmam and taluk tenures of permanent and heritable—Marfaldari receipts of raise presumption of non transferability—Two putni tenures were granted in Chittarong for an indefinite period described in the talukvats as an itmam and taluk respectively and there were no words of limitation or inheritance. The grantee transferred the tenures to a third person to whom rent receipts were granted. marfaldari in the names of the original grantees. Held that the term itmam as applied to a tenure in permanently settled parts of Chittarong primarily imports a permanent heritable and transferable tenure and it is well settled that the word taluk primarily imports permanency. A grant for an indefinite term ensures at least for the life time of the grantee. JOSEPH CHANDRA ROY v MOHALL ALI CHOWDHURY 25 C W N 85*

3—Stipulation in a mortgage deed for the delivery of ghee and goat a condition enforceable—Second clause of the deed which abrogates all previous restrictions on the mortgagee embodied in Regulation 3 of 1819 and executed in 1819

PUTNI REGULATION (VIII OF 1819)—*contd*s 3—co id

there was a stipulation at the end that the tenant should deliver annually one seer of ghee and one goat to the landlord putnidar Held that in view of the clause imposing the delivery of the goat and the ghee standing completely isolated from the terms relating to the rent proper and its mode of payment the goat and ghee were not part of the rent and as such were not recoverable being in the nature of an abwab and hence an illegal imposition Sec 3 of the Putni Regulation did not restrict the application of the general law against abwab as embodied in sec 3 of leg 1 of 1812 LAK TARA N TEWARI v BH KINEDA DASSEE 26 C W N 644

■ 3, ■ 6—Land Acquisition Act (1 of 1894)—On registration of putnidars a sale of zemindars' books—Effect of on putnidars' title to share of compensation—Effect of on emindar to a law proportionate abatement effect of on emindars' title to compensation—When the whole of the compensation money for land acquired under the Land Acquisition Act was awarded to the putnidars on the ground that as the zemindars had not allowed an abatement of rent on account of the land acquired, they were not entitled to a share of the compensation money and the zemindars' case was that as the putnidars did not get themselves registered in the books of the zemindars under the provisions of the Putni Regulation their title was not protected and they were not entitled to claim any portion of the compensation money Held that the putnidars were entitled to the compensation money and the zemindars to no portion of it Under s 11 of the Putni Regulation the landlord may demand a fee for the registration in his books of the name of the purchaser of a putni as also security from him but the omission to pay the fee and the security does not affect in any way the title of the purchaser whose rights are priored upon the transfer by the putnidar and are not in any way contingent for their validity upon the payment of the fee and security If the zemindars allow an abatement of rent to the putnidars the rent abated primarily represents their annual loss and they may reasonably claim out of the compensation money the capitalised value of that rent but if they do not allow such abatement they do not suffer any immediate loss by reason of the acquisition GURJAT SINGH v MOTI CHAND (1912)

18 C W N 103

■ 8 11 15—Sale of putni—Dur putnidars' interest if ipso facto cancelled—Possession taken and proclamation obtained effect of The purchaser at a putni sale under the provisions of Reg VIII of 1819 acquires the right to take possession immediately and one who has a tenure or a middle interest between the resident cultivator and the late putnidar cannot bar or in any way prejudice the purchaser's right Mahim Chander Aluzai Ier v Jotirmoy Ghose 4 C L J 4 L Watson v Collector of Jayshahi 13 Moo 1 A 160 Krishna Chunder Glunder Bircar Choudhury v Brindaban Chunder Day Choudhury L R 11 A 173 followed Madhu Sudhan Kundu v Rameshan Ganguly L W R 383 3 B L F 431 distinguished When the purchaser asserted her full right as such at the earliest possible occasion took possession and obtained a proclamation as required by s 15 of the Regulation and then instituted a suit for rent against the cultivating tenant Held

PUTNI REGULATION (VIII OF 1819)—*contd*ss 11 15—contd

that she was entitled to a decree the interest of a dur putnidar who resisted the claim being considered as cancelled KRISHNA PRONODA DASSEE v DWARKA NATH SEN (1913) 17 C W N 1092

ss 4 10 14—

See LUTNY SALE I L R 47 Calc 337

ss 5 6—Transferee of portion of putni if may claim recognition by emindar under Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 12 14—s 195 (c) A partial transferee of a putni taluk is not entitled to be recognised by the zemindar It is a form of transfer which under the terms of ss 5 and 6 of Reg VIII of 1819 the zemindar is not bound to recognise and under s 195 (c) of the Bengal Tenancy Act the transferee cannot claim recognition by reason of ss 12 and 17 of the latter Act AKHAI CHANDRA DAS v UMAPADO MISRI (1913) I L R 30 All 187 18 C W N 629

s 2—Publication of notices at the Collector's kutchery—Notices taken down and kept on the table for inspection of Muktears during office hours—Irregularity vitiating sale—Publication of list of putnis in arrears defaulters and arrears in zemindar's kutchery if sufficient—Publication in principal village—Sale in Collector's Court room if public sale when people prevented from coming in freely by chaprasis—Sale at an unusually early hour if bad Where it appeared that applications for sales of putnis under Reg VIII of 1819 and notices thereof used to be taken down from the notice board on the verandah of the Collectorate by the Muktears during office hours and placed on the Nazir's table and hung up again on the board at the close of the day Held that there was no proper publication of the notices which were meant for the public and not for Muktears alone and it was an irregularity which vitiates the sale The law contemplated their unobstructed presentation to the notice of the public Bejoy Chand Mahatap v Itulya Churan Bose I L R 13 Calc 353 and Sach's Nandan Dutt v Bejoy Chand Mahatap 11 C W N 179 referred to Where instead of similar notices a list of the defaulting mahals with the names of the defaulters and the amounts due was stuck up in the zemindar's sadar kutchery there was a substantial compliance with the law Where the notice required to be served in the mofussil was served in the kutchery of the dar putnidar of three only out of six mauzas covered by the putni this was good service when the dar putnidar's kutchery was in the principal village of the defaulting tenure The complaint that the public had not unobstructed access to the place of sale was made out when it appeared that though the sale was held in the Court room of the Collector and therefore in public kutchery the Collector's chaprasis who were placed at the wicket gate to keep order did not allow many persons to enter to prevent overcrowding A defaulter cannot impeach a sale as illegal merely on the ground that it took place earlier than usual he may however be permitted to show that he was misled to his prejudice by the deviation from the usual practice Effect of irregularities in sales discussed Maharaja of Burdwan v Tara Sundari Debi L P 10 I A 19 s c I L R 9 Calc 619 67 and Maharaja of Burdwan v Krishna Kamini Das I L R 14 I A

PUTNI REGULATION (VIII OF 1819)—contd■ 8—contd

30 s c I L R 14 Cal 365 referred to RANJIT SINGHA ■ JANENDRA CH SEN GUPTA (1911.)

19 W N 963

■ 11—

See INCUMBRANCE

I L R 37 Cal 322

ss 11 15 17 cl (3) para 2 and cl (5) para 3—Sale under Putni Regulation after mortgagee's decree on mortgage of putni and zamindar's decree for antecedent arrears—Right to surplus sale proceeds—Priority—First charge—Limitation There is nothing in the Putni Regulation contrary to the principle which underlies s 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act the rent payable by the putnidar to the zamindar being under ss 11 and 15 of the Regulation as under s 65 a first charge on the tenure. Where a putni tenure is sold under the Regulation for the realisation as the case may be of arrears due for the year immediately expired or for the current year the effect of such sale is not to reduce all former balances to personal debts of the putnidar. The charge is not destroyed but is transferred to the surplus sale proceeds. The sale in any case would not destroy the charge attaching to arrears in respect of which the zamindar has already obtained a decree prior to the sale for the second paragraph to the third clause of s 17 of the Regulation even if it be opposed to the provisions of s 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application to such a case for it cannot contemplate the institution of a fresh suit for recovery as a personal debt of antecedent balances in respect of which the zamindar had already obtained a decree. Peary Mohan Mukerjee v Secraam Chandra Bose G C W N 794 approved Jagannath v Mohiuddin Mirza I L R 37 Cal 747 not approved. Where before the putni was sold under the Regulation both the zamindar and the mortgagee of the tenure had recovered decrees the former for antecedent arrears and the latter on his mortgage. Held that though under s 73 of the Transfer of Property Act the latter had a charge in respect of the mortgage dues upon the surplus sale proceeds and this charge subsisted even after the decree the charge in favour of the zamindar in respect of arrears of rent would have preference before it as it was a first charge under s 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. The zamindar was entitled to seek his remedy by way of suit in the Civil Court without repeated recourse to the summary procedure laid down in the Regulation. Brindaban Ch. Sircar v Brindaban Ch. Dey L R 11 A 178 s c 13 B L R 403 referred to Quare Whether the limitation of two months provided by the fifth clause to s 17 of the Regulation applies to a suit by the mortgagee against the zamindar for a declaration of his right to appropriate in satisfaction of his own decree the surplus sale proceeds which the zamindar has taken out in execution of his decree for antecedent balances. BASANTA KUMAR BOSE v KHULNA LOAN CO (1914)

19 C W N 1001

■ 13—Sale of putni—Suit by vendor for back rents not assigned—Putni if may be sold free of dar putni in execution of decree made—Deposit of rent by dar putnidar—Dar putnidar's lien priority of The special lien which a subordinate tenure holder acquired under 13 of Reg VIII of 1819 by depositing the putni rents in arrears for which the

PUTNI REGULATION (VIII OF 1819)—co id■ 13—contd

putni has been advertised for sale by the zamindar under that Regulation is not affected by proceedings taken in respect of the putni under the Bengal Tenancy Act the Putni Regulation being a self contained Act specially excluded from the operation of Bengal Tenancy Act by s 193 of that Act. FORBES ■ MAHARAJ BAHADUR SINGH (1911.)

I L R 41 Cal 928

18 C W N 747

Deposit not voluntary to prevent putni sale—Suit to recover on the ground of intended sale being illegal if maintainable—Chota Nagpur Unencumbered Estates Act (IV of 1855) preamble ss 2 4 5 8 9 1 16 17 18 19 and 23—The Act if applies to land outside Chota Nagpur—Intention of the Act The rule which prevents a person from recovering back money which he has paid on a claim in legal proceedings to which he might have set up a defence but has failed to do so has no application where a deposit is made in order to stop a putni sale. The proceedings before the Collector at a putni sale are of an administrative rather than a properly judicial character. The zamindar who has the power of compelling a sale is to exercise this power through the instrumentality of the Collector himself who acts not magisterially but ministerially and who has in the true view of his functions no capacity to give effect to any enquiry he may make into title comparable to the capacity possessed by an ordinary judicial tribunal. The Chota Nagpur Unencumbered Estates Act is not a statute analogous to the Bankruptcy Act the controlling purpose of which is provision for creditors in a liquidation. Its primary intention is that of providing by a measure of local application for the relief of the burdens affecting the land within Chota Nagpur owned by a class of landholders there. The Act has therefore no application to immovable property outside Chota Nagpur. Any provision which affects it personally to enforce in jurisdictions outside it personal debts or liabilities are merely ancillary to the main purpose of the Act. JYOTI PRASAD SINGH v KUMUD NATH CHATTERJEE (1918)

22 C W N 1009

Putni Regulation (VIII of 1819) s 13 (4)—Dar putnidar put in possession for paying putni rent—Payment of further arrears when in possession—Payment if first charge on the putni—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1855) s 1, 1 (1) (b)—Mortgagee's prior right to surplus sale proceeds—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 69 Where a dar putnidar having advanced certain arrears of rent due on a putni which was already subject to defendant's mortgage was placed in possession of the putni under paragraph 4 of cl 13 of Regulation VIII of 1819 and then the plaintiff as a signee of the dar putni paid the next three instalments of the putni rent but failing to pay the fourth instalment the putni was sold under the Regulation. Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to recover out of the surplus sale proceeds the instalments of the rent paid by him when he was in possession of the putni. That as regards the arrears paid by the dar putnidar assuming that the amount was a charge on the putni defendant's mortgage of prior date had priority over it. Quare Whether it was open to the dar putnidar to seek the relief provided by s 171 sub s (1) cl (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act and if it was whether the remedy was available

POTNI REGULATION (VIII OF 1819)—contd

s 13—contd

able after election by him of the remedy under s 17 cl (4) of the Putni Regulation. Held further that the plaintiff could not claim on the basis of s 19 of the Contract Act. PASUBAN BHADRA v TAX DOR KAZI (1911) 1 C W N 404

s 14—Irregular sale order of voidable or void—Sale if may be voided collaterally—Limita on Act (VI of 18) Sch II Art 10 Where a puti has been sold under the Putni Regulation and no suit has been brought under s 14 of that Regulation to set aside that sale. Held that the sale cannot be impugned as invalid collaterally by way of defence in a suit brought by a purchaser of the putni for ejectment. Irregularity in the service of notices in such sale does not make the sale a nullity. Irregular sales under the Regulation are voidable and not void and they can only be avoided by the procedure laid down in the Regulation and within the time allowed for such suit by Art 12 Sch II of the Limitation Act. PANONA CHOWDHURY v NABA KUMAR CHAKRA CHOWDHURY (1911) 16 C W N 805

When there is a second sale pending suit to set aside first sale the purchaser can acquire a good title if first sale is finally set aside as the validity of the second sale is not dependent on the continuance of the first sale. BEJOY CHAND MAHATAB v ASHUTOSH CHUTTERJEE 25 C W N 42

s 17 cl (c)

See PUTNI TENURE

L L R 37 Calc 747

Antecedent balances of recoverable by resale of the tenure Under the provisions of s 17 cl (c) of the Putni Regulation arrears of rent for a period antecedent to the period to recover the rent of which the tenure had been sold must be regarded as personal debts recoverable under the ordinary procedure for the recovery of debts and not by resale of the tenure. Jagannath v Molvuddin Mirza I L R 7 Calc 747 followed. Peary Mohun Mukhopadhyay v Brastram Chandra Bose G C W N 794 dissented from. KRISHN CHANDRA ACHARYA CHOWDHURY v KANULKA LOAN COMPANY LTD (1912) 16 C W N 804

POTNI PENT

See DEPOSIT IN COURT

I L R 41 Calc 1000

POTNI SALE

suit to set aside—

S 8 LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 8

14 C W N 128

Regulation VIII of 1819—Suit to set aside putni sale—Second sale pending suit if it may stand in case first sale set aside Where pending proceedings under the Regulation VIII of 1819 to set aside the sale of a Putni Tanah a second sale under the Regulation took place owing to default in payment of rent. Held that if the first sale be set aside as invalid the second sale cannot stand. BEJOY CHAND MAHATAB v BRITUNJOY GHOSH (1910) I L R 47 Calc 782

Sale for arrears not due—Suit to set aside sale—Day how to be reckoned in a Suit mentioning mortals and dates in Bengali style—Payment to stop sale Where and by whom the nature of sale in the Collector's latari form and effect of—Non publication of notice in manner prescribed effect of—Putni sale and revenue sale difference of—Purchase by stranger at putni sale effect of—Accessories in a suit to set aside putni sale—Caveat in a suit to set aside sale—Type of Court decision of an considering finding of fact of trial Judge who had witnesses before him—Conditional acceptance of arrears of putni rent of deposit—Putni Regulation (VIII of 1819) ss 8 10 14 The sale of a putni can be held only if the balance claimed by the remainder in account of the rent of the putni remains unpaid up to the day fixed for the sale of the tenure and if a sale is held after a valid payment of the rent due it must be deemed to be a sale with out jurisdiction. Shuroop Chunder Bloomfield v Perab Chunder Singh 7 W P 218 and Pansora Choudhury v Naba Kumar Singha 16 C W N 805 followed. Bainath Saha v Sural Prasad B L R F B 1 10 W R F B 66 Harkood Singh v Bunsidhur Singh I L R 3 Calc 86 Lalla Sen Das v Simpson I L R 3 Calc 833 I L R 1 151 Mohamed Jan v Ganguli Hun Singh I L R 38 Calc 537 L 1 38 I A 80 Haji Bihari Lal v Durlal Chandra Kar I L R 1 39 Calc 981 L P 39 I A 177 and Jarakhari Lal v Gosain Lal Bhaya Gayral I L R 37 Calc 107 referred to. When a Regulation mentions Bengali months and dates throughout the Legislature must have intended that a day should be reckoned in the manner prevalent in Bengal that is from sunrise to sunrise. The fact that there was no balance due may be urged as a ground in support of a suit for reversal of a putni sale. A putnidar cannot stop the sale by a deposit in the Collectorate at the moment of sale. Payment to stop a putni sale may however be made into Court either by a subordinate talukdar under s 13 of the Putni Regulation or by a putnidar who has applied for a summary investigation under s 14 cl (1) of that Regulation. Kristo Mohun Datta v Afiaobeddeen Mahomed 15 W R 560 referred to. The notice of sale required by the Putni Regulation to be stuck up at a conspicuous part of the Collector's khatir must be a self contained notice which comprises not only a specification of the arrears and a notification that the sale will be held on a particular date if the amount claimed be not paid before that date and also a statement of the lots proposed to be sold in the order in which the sale will be held. S 8 of the Putni Regulation must be read with s 10. Rajaram Mitra v Ananta Lal Mondul I L R 90 Calc 703 Bejoy Chand Mahatab v Atulya Charan Bose I L R 39 Calc 963 and Hariharanath Das v Payam Kanta Lall 15 Ind Cas 537 followed. The requirements of the Putni Regulation in respect of the notice mentioned in ss 8 and 10 of that Regulation must be strictly complied with and a defective notice under s 8 is a fatal objection to the validity of the sale. Maharani of Burdwan v Krishna Kamini Das I L R 14 Calc 365 L P 14 I 1 50 Anulla Khan Baladur v Hareharan Mo comdar I L R 20 Calc 96 L P 19 I A 191 Ahsanulla Khan Baladur v Harri Charan Mo comdar I L R 17 Calc 43 Pojanatain Mitra v Ananta Lal Mondul I L R 19 Calc 703 Hurro Doyal Poy Choudhry v Mohamed Ga v Choudhry I L R 1

POTNI SALE—contd

PUTNI SALE—concl'd

19 Calc 699 and Maharaja of Burdwan v Tara sundari Debi 1 L R 9 Calc 619 L R 10 I A 19 referred to. A sale under the Putni Regulation stands on an entirely different basis from a sale for arrears of revenue inasmuch as s 14 of the Regulation does not restrict the right of suit to narrow and specified grounds and the validity of the sale may be successfully challenged on proof that the conditions prescribed by the Regulation have not been fulfilled. A purchase even by a stranger to a putni sale may be set aside on the ground that the provisions of the Regulation were not complied with. The purchaser is only entitled to be indemnified against all loss at the charge of the emindar or other person at whose instance the sale may have been made such loss being ordinarily measured by costs of litigation and interest on purchase money. Mobaruck Ali v Ameer Ali 21 W P 252 Boylanta Nath Sing v Mahatab Chand Bahadur 9 B L R 37 17 W R 447 and Bejoy Chand Mahatab v Amrita Lal Mukerjee 1 I R 27 Calc 508 referred to. S 14 of the Putni Regulation contemplates that the purchaser is to be made a party. If the purchaser has purchased on behalf of another or on behalf of himself and others he must be deemed to represent all such persons. Where the issue involves a simple question of fact to be decided chiefly if not solely on oral evidence a Court of Appeal should be slow to set aside the finding of the trial Judge who had the witnesses before him. Bombay Cotton Manufacturing Co v Motilal Shital 1 L R 39 Bom 336 L P 42 I A 110 and Dominton Trust Co v New York Life Insurance Co [1919] 1 A C 254 followed. The acceptance of arrears of a putni rent with a qualification that if the sale did take place the money would be returned does not indicate that the acceptance was postponed to await the event of sale or otherwise and such a sum paid and accepted cannot be regarded as a deposit. BEJOY KRISHNA MOOKERJEE v LAKSHMI NARAIN JIU (1910) 1 L R 47 Calc 337

PUTNI TALUK

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

1 L R 41 Calc 683

sale of—

See CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES ACT APPLICATION OF

1 L R 46 Calc 1

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Calc 670

whether expression in a lease implies fixity of Rent—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

24 C W N 874

Sale for arrears of rent —Regulation VIII of 1819—Suit to set aside a prior putni sale—Appeal—Position of purchaser. An auction purchaser in a putni sale pending litigation to set aside a prior putni sale of the same property brought a suit on the prior sale being set aside against the zemindar for refund of the purchase money and rent paid. Held that he was the putniholder so far as the emindar was concerned. The cancellation of the prior sale did not affect the subsequent putni sale. Prasanna Choudhary v Sonamul Choudhary nos 13 C I J 301 referred to. Bejoy Chand Mahatab v Mohana Mohan Choudhary 1 C B N 785 dissenting from

PUTNI TALUK—cont'd

BIJOY CHAND MAHTAB v ASHUTOSH CHUCKERBUTTY (1920) 1 L R 48 Calc 454

PUTNI TALUK REGULATION (VIII OF 1819)

See PUTNI SALE

See PUTNI TALUK

s 14 sale under—

See LIMITATION 1 L R 46 Calc 670

PUTNI TENURE

purchaser of—

See INCUMBRANCE 1 L R 43 Calc 558

1 Incumbrance—
Customary right to cut and appropriate trees whether an incumbrance—Putni Regulation (VIII of 1819) s 11—Right of an auction purchaser at a sale held under the Putni Regulation to avoid such incumbrance—Bona fide engagement made by the defaulting proprietor with resident and hereditary cultivators effect of A customary right to cut and appropriate trees is an incumbrance within the meaning of s 11 of Regulation VIII of 1819. A purchaser of a putni taluk at a sale held under Regulation VIII of 1819 is not entitled to hold the property free from a customary right or a right recognised by usage which has grown up during the subsistence of the putni and under which occupancy raiwats are entitled to appropriate and convert to their own use such trees as they have the right to cut down inasmuch as he is not entitled to cancel a bona fide engagement made by the defaulting proprietor with the resident and hereditary cultivators. Pradyot Kumar Tagore v Gopi Krishna Mandal (1910) 1 L R 37 Calc 322

2 Putni Regulation
(VIII of 1819) s 17, cl (c)—Arrears of rent—Arrears previous to the current year for which the sale took place—Personal Debt—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 65—First Charge. Under the Putni Regulation VIII of 1819 s 17 cl (c) where the arrears of rent claimed are for balance due for periods prior to the current year for which the arrears are due when the sale is held in the middle of the year or prior to the year preceding if the sale be held at the commencement of the following year these balances must be treated as personal debts recoverable under the ordinary procedure for recovery of debts and not as rents recoverable under the provisions of the Tenancy law and that in such a case the provisions of s 65 of the Bengal Tenancy Act would not have any application. Pearry Mohan Mukhopadhyay v Sreeram Chandra Bose 6 C W N 791 commented on and distinguished. Jaganmuth v Monimuddin Mirza (1910) 1 L R 37 Calc 747

3 Successor rent decrees—Sale in execution of last decree—Zemindar if has a charge on surplus sale proceeds for arrears of previous decrees—Putni Regulation (VIII of 1819) ss 3 (3) 17 (3)—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 65 165 195—(c)—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1932) s 3 100—Nature of charge for arrears of rent Per N P CHATTERJEE J (Smother J contra)—Not only can a putni tenure be sold under the Bengal Tenancy Act but decrees for rent for earlier periods can be forced against the surplus sale proceeds of a putni tenure when sold in execution of a decree for rent under the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Per

PUTNI TENURE—c 13

SMITH, J.—Under s 7 cl (a) of the Putni Regulation the zemindar has the right to sell the putni answerable for any arrears of his rent but only subject to the limitation specified in s 17 cl 3 of the Regulation unless he has the zemindar should have failed to avail himself of the process which the Regulation provides appears of a period before the current year or the year immediately expired become mere personal debts and his charge in respect of such arrears is time barred. The zemindar has therefore no claim for the amounts covered by two previous decrees for rent upon the surplus proceeds of a sale in execution of a later decree for rent. The words "public auction" in s 3 cl (3) of the Regulation apply to be taken to apply to any public auction and not limited to mean an auction under the Regulation if there can be any public auction of a putni either than a public auction under the Regulation. PER A. R. CHATTERJEE, J.—The provisions of s 17 cl (3) of the Regulation are that the former balances beyond those of the current year (or of that immediately expired if the sale be at the commencement of the following year) will be mere personal debts of the putni and apply only when the putni is sold under the Putni Regulation. The words "sale by public auction" in s 3 cl (3) of the Regulation refers to the summary sale under the Putni Regulation which alone is dealt with by it. The provisions of that section or of s 17 have nothing to do with a sale held under the general law. Rent is a first charge under the Putni Regulation as well as under the Bengal Tenancy Act and there is no conflict between the two so far as the question whether rent constitutes a first charge is concerned. The Regulation provides for a summary sale only and in so far as such a sale is concerned the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act cannot affect such sales or the provisions relating to the distribution of the sale proceeds as laid down in the Regulation. With regard to sales under the general law there is no inconsistency between the provisions of the Bengal Tenancy Act and the Putni Regulation because the latter has nothing to do with such sales and the Bengal Tenancy Act supplements the provisions of the Regulation in matters not dealt with by it. If the zemindar has a first charge for rent under the Bengal Tenancy Act and the Regulation although such charge in respect of antecedent balances may not having regard to the provisions of s 17 of the Regulation be enforced against the surplus sale proceeds when the putni is sold in a summary way under the Regulation there is no reason why the zemindar should lose such charge under a decree for rent when the putni is sold under the Bengal Tenancy Act. The tenure itself having been sold in execution of a rent decree the charge was transferred to the surplus sale proceeds on the principle embodied in s 73 of the Transfer of Property which is a principle of justice equity and good conscience. The charge which the landlord has in respect of his rent is not one created by law under s 100 of the Transfer of Property Act. Such charge is not an encumbrance within the meaning of s 161 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. SATYA SHANKAR GHOSAL v. MONOMOHAN GUHA (1917) 22 C W N 131

PUTNIDAR

See POOLBUNDI CHARGES

I L N 41 Calc 130

PUTNIDAR—o 11

relinquishment by—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 41 Calc 693

sue by—

See CHAI KHAPI CHAKRAN JANDS

I L R 46 Calc 173

PATNIDARS AND DAR PATNIDARS

rights of—

See CHAI KHAPI CHAKRAN JANDS

I L R 37 Calc 47

PUTRA POUTRADIK—

Wang of in Chota Nagpur—It is a rule that in a Chota Nagpur man's estate the words putra poutradik in their ordinary acceptance must be taken to include female as well as male heirs where by law the estate would descend to such heirs. But by local custom can mean male heirs only. IN RE BROJOKISHORE DAS v. MAHARAJA KUMAR JAGAT MOHUN NATH SAHI DEO

5 Pat L J 265

QABULIAT

See KABILIAT

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 35 All 505

QADI

See MAJIS

I L N 43 Calc 467

QUALITY MARK

See TRADE NAME INFRINGEMENT OF

I L N 41 Bom 49

QUARRIES

See LAND ACQUISITION ACT (I OF 1894)

I L R 38 Bom 37

right of grantee to—

See INAM

I L R 40 Mad 268

QUESTION OF FACT

See CUSTOM OR USAGE

I L N 45 Calc 285

QUESTION OF LAW

See CUSTOM

I L R 45 Calc 285

QUESTIONS OF LAW AND FACT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ss 100 AND 110

See SPECIAL OR SECOND APPEAL

I L P 46 Calc 189

QUINQUENNIAL REGISTER

See INAM

22 C W N 182

RRAFA TANKIDARS

In the Khurdah Estate the Rafa Tankidars are occupancy raiyats and not tenure holders HARAYAN PATNAIK : RAGHUNATH PATNAIK 11 Pat L J 373

RAILWAY

See RAILWAY COMPANY

See RAILWAYS ACT

Liability of Railway Administration—

See LOSS OF GOODS

I L R 44 Calc 16

See SHAWLS MEANING OF

I L R 39 Calc 1029

Risk Note—

See RAILWAY COMPANY

See CONTRACT

I L R 40 All 418

I L R 43 Bom 769

RAILWAY COMPANY

See CARRIERS I L R 39 Calc 311

See CARRIER LIABILITY OF

I L R 33 Mad 120

See CONTRACT 15 C W N 981

I L P 39 All 418

See CONTRACT ACT 1871 ss 237 AND 237

I L R 43 All 621

ss 151 and 152

I L R 39 Bom 191

See CONTRIBUTORY NEGLIGENCE

I L R 34 Bom 427

I L R 41 Calc 308

See EVIDENCE ACT s 103

I L R 43 Bom 709

See NEGLIGENCE I L R 48 Calc 757

Liability of—

See RAILWAYS ACT (1A OF 1890) s 7.

I L R 34 All 656

I L R 37 All 463

See REMAND I L R 42 Calc 888

Loss or damage to goods—

1 ——— Risk Note B—Company absolved from liability in all cases except negligence or dishonesty of its servants—Onus Where goods were consigned to a Railway Company for carriage the contract being embodied in a risk note Form H under which in consideration of the Railway Company accepting a lower freight the consignor absolved the Railway Company from all liability for loss or damage to the goods subject however to the proviso that the Company would be liable for loss due to wilful negligence on the part of their servants or due to thefts by its servants or agents Held that the onus lay on the person seeking to charge the Railway Company with damages for loss of goods to show that the case came within the proviso SHEORAMUT PAM v THE BENGAL NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY CO (1912) 10 C W N 766

2

Risk Note H—

Consignment under Risk note—Loss of portion

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

of consignment—Onus of proving cause of loss—Railways Act (1A of 1890) s 72 Where a number of tins containing oil was consigned to the defendant railway company under risk note Form H and the tins were delivered to the consignee but the contents of some of the tins were missing Held that the person who said that the case fell within the exceptions mentioned in the risk note Form H had to prove his assertion SHEORAMUT PAM v Bengal North Western Railway Company 16 C W N 766 referred to EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO v NILKANTA ROY (1913)

I L R 41 Calc 56

3

Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss 151 and 152—Liability of Railway Companies for loss damage or destruction of goods entrusted to them for carriage—Evidence necessary to exonerate Railway Company when the true cause of the loss etc cannot be ascertained—Provision of appliances to put out fires H sued the B B & C I Railway Company for the value of certain bales of cotton entrusted to the railway company for carriage and accidentally burnt while being so carried Held that the railway company merely by getting the Court to believe that the wagon on which the goods entrusted to it had been loaded had been so loaded with ordinary care had not done all that was needed to absolve itself but that in the absence of a definite known cause the railway company had to satisfy the Court that in the management of its engines and in the whole course of drawing the wagon to the place where it caught fire the railway company observed in all respects the same degree of care and prudence which an ordinary man conveying his own valuable goods might have been expected to take under the same circumstance When anyone has entrusted goods to a railway company for carriage and the goods are lost damaged or destroyed while in the possession of the company and under the control of the railway company is the fact of the loss damage or destruction is enough to cast upon the company the burden of proving that that loss was not due to any negligence on its part The standard of negligence is given in ss 151 and 152 of the Indian Contract Act but no general rule universally applicable can be laid down as a rule of law defining the amount and quality of the proof in every case which will discharge the railway company LALCHAND RAMCHAND v G I P Railway Co 11 L R 37 Bom 1 is an authority for the proposition that a decree ought not to be given against a railway company sued as bailee for loss damage or destruction of goods bailed to it if the moment it admits that it is unable to assign the vera causa of the loss The company as bailee is primarily liable for the loss but it may exonerate itself in two ways It may while ignorant of the cause of the fire show if it can that that cause could not possibly be attributable to itself and in other words it was altogether external and beyond the railway company's control Second the bailee while ignorant of the vera causa might point to the fact that he had taken such precautions against risk had dealt with the goods entrusted to him with such care that whatever the cause might be and although attributable to his own act yet it must be presumed to have been of such an unrecalled or such an unpreventable kind that he ought not to be held

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

re possible for it. But such a defence could only be logically (if ever logically) established by the virtual exclusion of all causes of an ordinary kind attributable to the bailee or his servants or machinery. RIGHT HETRY & COMPANY v. M. R. & C. I. RAILWAY COMPANY (1914)

I. L. R. 80 Bom. 191

4 ————— Negligence—Common carrier—
*Verdict—Railway Company of Mayfrs & Co. liable for liability by contract—Statutory limits imposed on such contract—Duty of care apart from contract and excluded by it if arises—Contract from agent or person held out as such—Agent not carrying to acquaint himself with terms print & on ticket—Principal is bound by terms—Jury—Fact & degree of—Legal consequences follow therefrom. Apart from statute a carrier is liable in Canada as in England for injury arising from negligence in execution of his contract to carry unless he has effectively stipulated that he shall be free from such liability. Under a *24 of the Canada Railways Act railway companies are put under a general obligation to carry and deliver with the due care and diligence and any one aggrieved by a breach of this duty is to have a right of action from which the companies are not to be relieved by any notice condition or declaration if the damage arises from negligence or omission. S. 310 of the Act provides that no contract restricting liability for carriage is to be valid unless it is of a kind approved by the Railway Board which is empowered to determine the extent to which such liability may be impaired restricted or limited and generally to prescribe by regulation the terms and conditions under which any traffic may be carried. Held that where under s. 340 and other sections which deal with special tariffs forms of stipulation limiting liability have been approved by the Board and the conditions for making them binding have been duly complied with the companies are enabled in such cases to contract for complete freedom from liability for negligence. If a passenger has entered a train on a mere invitation or permission from a railway company without more and he receives injury in an accident caused by the negligence of its servants the company is liable for damages for breach of a general duty to exercise care. Such a breach can be regarded as one either of an implied contract or of a duty imposed by the general law and in the latter case is in form a tort. But in either view this general duty may be subject to statutory restrictions or superseded by a specific contract which may either enlarge diminish or exclude it. If the law authorises it such a contract cannot be pronounced to be unreasonable by a Court of Justice. The specific contract with its incidents either expressed or attached by law becomes in such a case the only measure of the duties between the parties. If the contract is one which deprives the passenger of the benefit of a duty of care which he is prima facie entitled to expect that the company has accepted the latter must discharge the burden of proving that the passenger assented to the special terms imposed. This he may be shown to have done either in person or through the agency of another. Such agency will be held to have been established when he is shown to have authorised antecedently or by way of ratification the making of the contract under circumstances in which he must be taken to have left everything*

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

to his agent. In such a case it is sufficient to prove that he has been content to accept the risk of allowing terms to be made without taking the trouble to learn what was being agreed to. The company may infer his intention from his conduct. If he stands by under such circumstances that it will naturally conclude that he has left the negotiation to the person who is acting for him and intends that the latter should arrange the terms on which he is to be conveyed he will be precluded by so doing from afterwards alleging want of authority to make any such terms as the law allows. If the person acting on his behalf has himself not taken the trouble to read the terms of the contract proposed by the company in the ticket or pass offered and yet knew that there was something written or printed on it which might contain conditions it is not the company that will suffer by the agent's want of care. The agent will in the absence of something misleading done by the company be bound and the principal will be bound through him. The company owes the passenger no duty which the contract is expressed on the face of it to exclude and if he has appropriated that contract by travelling under it he cannot afterwards reprobate it by claiming a right inconsistent with it. GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY COMPANY OF CANADA v. ALBERT NELSON ROBINSON (1915)

19 O W N 605

5 ————— Liability of Railway Companies for damage to goods entrusted to them for carriage—Onus of proof of negligence—Railway Act (IX of 1890) ss. 72 and 73—Contract Act (IX of 1872) ss. 151, 152 and 153—Carriers Act (III of 1865) s. 9—Responsibility of Railway Company for negligence in preventing damage from fire after discovery of the fire. On the 3rd of March 1909 the respondent plaintiffs consigned 90 bales of cotton to the defendants at Malkapur for delivery to the 1st plaintiffs at Bombay. These 90 bales along with 19 others belonging to a different consignor were loaded upon a waggon at Malkapur Station by the defendants and the waggon was then closed and sent on to a siding till the next day. On the 4th of March 1909 at 1.50 P.M. the waggon was attached to a train being placed next to the engine. On the arrival of the train at Varanagam Station at 3.40 P.M. the said bales of cotton were found to be on fire. The waggon containing them was immediately detached and placed on a siding the doors were opened 37 bales were extracted and the engine driver having unsuccessfully tried to put out the fire with water from his boiler took the rest of the train on to Bhusaval station 8 miles distant. There not being appliances at Varanagam for extinguishing fire the remaining 72 bales continued to burn in the waggon till completely consumed. While the bales were being burnt communications passed between the Varanagam and Bhusaval Station Masters as to the sending from Bhusaval of appliances to put out the fire. At 4.10 the Station Master at Varanagam telegraphed to the Station Master at Bhusaval to send a fire pipe to put out the fire as it was burning very badly. This message was received at Bhusaval at 4.50 P.M. During the day the Station Master at Varanagam sent several practice messages asking for assistance from Bhusaval and also sent a further telegram which was received at Bhusaval about 30 R N. Fire pump not sent yet half the bales burnt strong wind blowing fire in great force arrange sharp. The Station Master at Bhusaval did not send any assistance whatever. He made inquiries as to how far water was from the fire and on receiving the information that the nearest water was in a well some 200 yards from the fire and some 25 feet from the surface came to the conclusion that the appliances at Bhusaval Station would be ineffectual. In fact the nearest well was some 200 yards from the fire but only some 53 feet from the nearest point on a siding to which the wagon containing the bales could have been brought. After the fire the defendants notified the plaintiffs that the 90 bales had been burnt but afterwards offered to give delivery to the plaintiffs of 37 bales slightly damaged but the plaintiffs refused to accept delivery of the bales and subsequently they were sold by the defendants for the sum of Rs 3210. The plaintiffs sued the defendants to recover the value of the 90 bales. No cause of the fire could be shown and no definite act of negligence on the part of the servants of the defendants or other default on their part prior to the discovery of the fire was proved. Held that the responsibility of the defendants for the loss of destruction or deterioration of goods delivered to them to be carried by them as provided by s 72 of the Railways Act 1 of 1890 that of a bailor under ss 151 152 and 162 of the Contract Act and that s 6 of the Railways Act did not extend the principles contained in s 9 of the Carriers Act 1865 to suits against Railway Companies and did not increase the onus of proof laid on the defendants under s 101 of the Contract Act namely to take as much care of the goods bailed to them as a man of ordinary prudence would under similar circumstances take of his own goods of the same bulk quality and value as the thing bailed but that in the absence of special contract the defendants were not responsible for the loss destruction and deterioration of the goods if they had taken that amount of care. Held further that the defendants had exonerated themselves quoad the outbreak of the fire. Held however that the obligation on the defendants included not only the duty of taking all reasonable precautions to obviate risks but the duty of taking all proper measures for the protection of the goods when such as had actually occurred and that the defendants' servants had been guilty of default the Station Master at Bhusaval in not having sent appliances to extinguish the fire when requested by the Station Master at Varanasi and the Station Master at Varanasi in having misled the Station Master at Bhusaval as to the distance of water from the fire and that the defendants had not taken the care a reasonable man would take to give his goods. Held accordingly that the defendants were liable to the plaintiffs to the extent of the damage which they might have prevented on the discovery of the fire. INDIAN AND PAKISTAN C I I I RAILWAY COMPANY (1911) I L R 37 Bom 1 6 ——— Carriage of goods—East Indian Railway.—The tender note used by the East Indian Railway by which the Company take liability only for loss of or complete package due to the wilful negligence of its staff is not opposed to public policy. KALI DAS MITTAL v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY 21 C W N 315

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

7 ——— Liability of in respect of goods consigned for carriage and delivery—Obligation to grant shortage certificate. A Railway Company is under no liability to reweigh goods consigned to them for carriage and delivery and give a certificate of shortage if the consignor all goes loss in the transit. JOGANATH MAPPAI v. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO (1918) 22 C W N 802

8 ——— Risk Note B—Contract—Delivery of goods to Railway Company—Risk Note Form B—Goods lost in transit—Admission of loss by Railway Company—Mere admission not sufficient to entitle Railway Company to protection of risk note—Definite proof of loss required. The plaintiff consigned certain bags of rice to Dumtara from Dabarpore under Risk Note Form B. The consignment being short delivered the plaintiff sued the defendant Railway Companies for the value of the missing bags. The second defendant Railway Company admitted the loss but sought to escape liability under the Risk Note. The trial Judge on the admission of the defendant Company and without recording any evidence regarding the loss of goods dismissed the plaintiff's suit. The plaintiff having applied to the High Court. Held remanding the case for retrial that it was necessary for the defendant Company to prove that the goods were lost a mere admission in their own favour being insufficient. GHYLSHAI v. THE E I RAILWAY COMPANIES (1912) I L R 45 Bom 1201

9 ——— Duties of as carriers—Goods allowed by consignee to remain on railway premises for an unreasonable time—Company not liable for loss or damage—Demurrage. The consignee of goods sent by rail is bound to take delivery thereof within a reasonable time. If by his own neglect he omits to do so he cannot hold the railway company liable for any loss or damage which may accrue. Different considerations would arise if there were any evidence to show an agreement on the part of the railway company to act as warehousemen but the mere fact of the company charging demurrage would not necessarily give rise to such an implication. Chapman v. Great Western Railway Company 6 Q B D 248 referred to BERAL AND NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY v. MEL CHAND I L R 42 All 655

10 ——— Death of passenger—Duty to have been carried by negligence—Suit for damages by representative of deceased—Verdict of jury of Company—Leave—Fatal Accidents Act (1855). An action against a Railway Company for damages on account of the death of a passenger alleged to have been caused by the negligence of the Company's servants is not an action ex contractu but is an action based on tort and on the provisions of the Indian Fatal Accidents Act 1855. Such an action therefore cannot be brought at the place where the deceased person's ticket was taken. There is no general obligation upon a Railway Company to carry passengers who have taken tickets safely. Asaf v. The Great Western Railway Company 4 Q B 440 and the East Indian Railway Company v. Ramesh Chandra Mukherji 11 F 25 Cal 401 referred to BRIJAM SARANI TIKKOO v. THE BOMBAY BARODA AND CENTRAL INDIA RAILWAY (1919) I L R 41 All 433

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

11 ——— Public Street—Power in Cross Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894)—Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) s 7. The Indian Railways Act 1890 s 7 as amended by s 1 of Act IX of 1894 provides that subject in the case of immovable property not belonging to the railway administration to the provisions of any enactment for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes and for companies a railway administration may for the purpose of constructing a railway (inter alia) construct across any streets such lines of railway as the railway administration think proper the powers conferred by the section are made subject to the control of the Governor General in Council. The respondents constructed lines of railway across a street vested by statute in the appellant Municipal Corporation without obtaining their consent and without taking proceedings under the Land Acquisition Act 1894. Held that the construction of the railway lines across the street was not an acquisition of immovable property within the meaning of s 7 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 and that the respondents had power under that section as amended to lay the lines without obtaining the consent of the appellant corporation. BOMBAY CORPORATION v GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY CO L R 43 I A 310

12 ——— Carriage of goods partly over railway line and partly by river—Local booking form of railway receipt—Freight for the whole journey—Privy of contract—Loss of goods while in the custody of the Steamship Company—Negligence of the Steamship Company—Carrier's Act (III of 1865) ss 8 and 9—Common carrier liability of owner—Definition of common carrier in the Carrier's Act (III of 1865)—ERISE v ACT (I of 1879) s 106 On or about the 11th November 1910 343 chests of tea belonging to the plaintiffs were delivered by the plaintiffs to the Railway Company (1st defendant) at the latter's station at Bordub Road (Assam) for the purpose of transport to Chittagong in consideration of one single and entire reward paid by the plaintiffs to the Railway Company. In the ordinary course of business such goods were carried by the Railway Company over its own line from Assam to Chittagong without recourse to any other Companies or system of transport. Owing to a breakdown however of a section of the line known as the hill section in June 1910 arrangements were made between the Railway Company and the Steamship Company (2nd defendant) by which the Railway Company was to carry such goods over its own line to Gauhati and there hand over the goods to the Steamship Company to be carried by the latter (for a fixed reward to be paid by the Railway Company to the Steamship Company) by the river to Chandpur and there have the goods handed back to itself for the purpose of transport over its own line of railway to Chittagong. The railway receipt given to the plaintiffs was in the form of the usual Local Booking receipt (which in normal times would be given for the all land transport from Bordub Road to Chittagong) except that at the top thereof a note was made in writing. Booked as per sender's request for shipment via Gauhati and Chandpur. It also appeared that a notice was given by the Railway Company to its customers in the Railway Company's goods tariff stating the breakdown on the hill section and adding all goods traffic to and from stations in Upper Assam north of Mupa must be routed via Gauhati. Under this arrangement the plaintiffs' goods were carried by the Railway Company from Bordub Road to Gauhati and put on board the Steamship Company's flat Caucery at the latter place. On the 21st December 1910 while the said goods were lying at Gauhati on the said flat a fire broke out on the said flat at 15 or 6.30 in the evening and 96 of the plaintiffs' chests of tea were destroyed. In a suit by the plaintiffs which proceeded against the Steamship Company (the suit against the Railway Company having been dismissed by consent) for damages for the loss of 96 chests of tea so destroyed—Held that there was no contract to carry safely from Gauhati to Chandpur between the plaintiffs (owners of the goods) and the Steamship Company as a common carrier. Muschamp v Lancaster and Preston Railway Co 8 M & W 421. Southorn v South Staffs Railway Co 8 Ex 341. Pristol and Exeter Railway Co v Collins 7 H L C 194. Wilby v West Cornwall Railway Co 2 H & N 703 referred to. Semble that in the absence of any privy of contract the plaintiffs as owners of the goods cannot (apart from the Carrier's Act (III of 1865)) recover against the Steamship Company as an insurer of goods by reason only that it was a common carrier. Breithorn v Wood 3 Brod & P 54. Poz v Skipton 8 Ad & El 963. Marshall v York Newcastle Railway Co 11 C B 655. Austin v Great Western Railway Co L R 2 Q B 440 referred to. Held also that under the arrangement above described the Steamship Company was engaged in the business of a common carrier within the definition of the term in the Carrier's Act (III of 1865) and that although there was no privy of contract between the plaintiffs and the Steamship Company the latter as a common carrier was liable to the plaintiffs as owner of the goods by virtue of ss 8 and 9 of the Carrier's Act (III of 1865) for loss arising from its negligence unless it was able to exonerate itself from responsibility for such loss. Choitum U v R S & Co 1 L R 94. Calc 786 R S N Co v Choitum U 1 L R 96. Calc 328 Hays & Elsey & Co v B D & Co 1 Railway Co 1 L P 9. Bom 191 referred to. Held further in the circumstances of the case that (apart from any rule of law as to common carriers) the Steamship Company was liable to the plaintiffs in tort by reason of the fact that the plaintiffs had affirmatively established that the loss was caused by the negligence of the Steamship Company. Follies v Mid Dist Railway Co L P 5 C P D 157. Hooper v L & N Railway Co 50 L J Q B 103 followed. Kelly v Metropolitan Railway Co (1895) 1 Q B 915. Metz v Great Eastern Railway Co (1895) 2 Q B 337 referred to. Where on a question of negligence the plaintiffs have adduced evidence sufficient to call upon the defendant to reply and the defendant thereupon being under the burden of laying the material facts before the Court has refrained from doing so the onus of proving negligence is discharged by the plaintiffs. Llin v Janas 14 L J Ex 201 followed. Durorianath v P S & Co 27 C L J 615 referred to. DEKHARI TEA CO LD v ASSAM RAILWAY CO LD (1910)

RAILWAY COMPANY—contd

I L R 47 Calc. 6

RAILWAY PASSENGER

See RAILWAY COMPANY

I L P 41 ALL 488

Fraud—Travelling

without a ticket but not with intent to defraud—Course open to Railway Administration in such case—Power to forcibly eject passenger—Assault —Railway —Rolling stock —Railways Act (IX of 1890) ss 3 (4) (10) 68 69 113 120 122—Railways Act (IV of 1879) ss 31 and 32—Enhancement of sentence on hearing of Reference The main and primary purpose of ss 68 and 69 of the Railways Act (IX of 1890) is to prevent persons from travelling in fraud of the Company without payment of the fare and the obligation to show their tickets when required is subsidiary only to such purpose Travelling without a ticket in the absence of intent to defraud, is not an offence

In such a case the only course open to the Railway Administration is that provided in s 113

There is no provision in the Act for ejecting passengers except in certain circumstances such as are specified in s 120 S 122 does not apply to passengers travelling in a railway carriage the term railway in s 3 (4) excludes a carriage Where a person travelled without a ticket not with intent to defraud but because he arrived as the train was about to start and was therefore unable to purchase one and when asked for it by the travelling ticket checkers offered to pay the fare and excess charge on grant of a receipt but refused to leave the compartment at the next station and purchase a ticket he was directed to do by the ticket checkers

Held that the ticket checkers had no lawful authority to remove him thereupon forcibly from the carriage and to beat him with their fists and that they were guilty of an offence under s 323 of the Penal Code Pratib Day v B B d O I Railway Co I L R I Bom 52 distinguished Butler v Manchester Sheffield and Lincolnshire Railway Company 21 Q B D 207 referred to The Court cannot entertain an application for enhancement on the hearing of a reference under s 438 of the Code Such applications ought to be made in the usual way and are not ordinarily entertained on behalf of private parties MOHAMMED HOSAIN v BARLEY (1916)

I L R 44 Calc 279

RAILWAY PREMISES

right to enter upon—

See PENAL CODE (ACT XLV OF 1860)
s 168 I L R 35 ALL 138

RAILWAY RECEIPT

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) ss 4
58 61 AND 103

I L R 38 Bom 255

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 2
I L R 39 Bom 485

endorsement of—

See CONTRACT ACT 1872 s 103
I L R 40 Bom 630

not a delivery order—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 47
I L R 40 Bom 517

possession of—

See OFFICE I L R 46 Calc 820

production of—

See DISHONESTLY RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTY I L R 40 Calc 890

RAILWAY RECEIPT—contd

—Title—Endorsee—Interest in the goods—Action for damages A railway receipt is a mercantile document of title and the endorsee of the receipt has sufficient interest in the goods covered by it to maintain an action against the Railway Company for damages in respect of the goods covered by the receipt Amerchand & Co v Ramdas

Vithaldas I L R 38 Bom 255 followed DOLAT
RAM DWARKADAS v B, B & C I RAILWAY COM-PANY (1914) I L R 38 Bom 859

—Mercantile document of title—pledge of—Local custom—Charge—Holder thereof—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907)

s 16 cl (3) A railway receipt is a mercantile document of title to goods and lawful possession as pledge of such receipt enables the holder by virtue of local custom to get possession of the goods from the carrier and the insolvents right to get possession under s 16 cl (3) of the Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) ceases with the pledge Amerchand & Co v Ramdas 15

Bom L R 390 followed FAKEERAPPA v THE P&N (1913) I L R 38 Mad 664

RAILWAY RULE

See RAILWAYS ACT (IX OF 1890) s 1
I L R 39 Bom 485

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)

ss 3 63 69 113 120 122—
See RAILWAY PASSENGER
I L R 44 Calc 279

ss 3 and 121—Indian Railway Board

Act (IV of 1905) rr 241 242 and 231—Station-master deputing signaller to collect tickets and excess fare—Asault on signaller by passenger

Under rr 244 249 and 231 framed under Railway

Board Act (IV of 1905) a Stationmaster has power to depute a signaller subordinate to him to collect tickets and excess fares from passengers alighting at the station and a signaller so deputed is a Railway servant employed by a Railway administration within the meaning of s 3 cl (1) of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) An assault by a passenger on such signaller rightly demanding excess fare is an offence under s 1 of the Indian Railways Act BRIZNANKA v

EMPEROR (1920) I L R 34 Mad 345

ss 6 (6) 77 140—
See LOSS OF GOODS
I L R 44 Calc 16

ss 6 (6) 77 140—
Railway administered by Government—Said by consignee for price of goods consigned and misl d by railway—Notice to Traffic Manager and to Collector for Secretary

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contd— s 7 (6) 77 140—contd

Indian Peninsula Railway v Chandra Das I L R 23 All 55° Janaki Doss v The Bengal Nagpur Railway Company 10 C W N 356 Perannan Chetti v South Indian Railway Company I L R 27 Mad 137 and Vadiar Chand Saha v Hood I L R 35 Cal 191 considered Per D CHATTERJEE J Semble In the absence of evidence showing that the Agent of a railway administered by Government is the Manager or that the Traffic Manager is not the Manager and regard being had to the rule printed and published in the Fare and Time Table of the Railway that references regarding delay in transit to or loss of goods parcels luggage or other articles or claims for compensation and refunds should be addressed to the Traffic Manager notice to the Traffic Manager may be considered sufficient under s 140 of the Act. In a suit by consignors of goods which were not alleged to have been lost but were found to have gone astray after they were delivered to the Railway for recovery of their price with compensation the defendant did not plead or prove any loss and on the other hand alleged that the goods had not been delivered at all nor was there evidence when the goods were to be delivered. Held per CORHAM that neither Art 30 nor Art 31 applied and (Per D CHATTERJEE J) that the suit was governed by Art 110 of the 1st Schedule to the Limitation Act. Mohan Singh Chauhan v Conder I L R 7 Bom 478 and Dannull v British India Steam Navigation Company I L R 10 Cal 477 referred to RADHA SHAM BASAK v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1916) 20 C W N 790

— s 7—

RAILWAY COMPANY

*City of Bombay Municipal Act (Bom Act III of 1888) s 394—Use by Railway Company of its premises for storing timber—License from the Municipal Commissioner for the use not necessary The Agent of the M I P Railway Company having been charged in the Presidency Magistrate's Court at the instance of the Bombay Municipality under s 394 (1) (d) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act (Bom Act III of 1888) with having used the Company's premises for storing timber without a license granted by the Municipal Commissioner the Presidency Magistrate recorded evidence and referred the following question under s 432 of the Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898)—Do the statutory powers given to the Railway Company (s 7 of the Indian Railways Act IX of 1890) preclude the necessity of obtaining a license from the Municipal Commissioner to use premises in such a manner as is necessary for the convenient making altering repairing and using the Railway? Held that no such license was necessary s 7 (1) of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) authorizes the Railway Administration to do all acts necessary for the convenient making maintaining altering repairing and using the Railway notwithstanding anything in any other enactment for the time being in force. The storing of timber was necessary for the convenient making etc of the Railway line Under s 7 sub s 2 of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) the Governor General in Council and not the Municipal Commissioner has the control of* the Railway Administration in the exercise of its powers under sub s 1 MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v G I P RAILWAY COMPANY (1909) I L R 34 Bom 252

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contd— s 7—contd

*City of Bombay Municipal Act 1888 s 289—Laying Railway lines by Railway Administration across public street vested in Municipality—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) provisions of inapplicable S 7 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 (as amended by Act IX of 1890) enacts (1) Subject to the provisions of this Act and in the case of immovable property not belonging to the Railway administration to the provisions of any enactment for the time being in force for the acquisition of land for public purposes and for companies a Railway administration may for the purpose of constructing a railway notwithstanding anything in any other enactment for the time being in force make or construct in upon across under or over any lands or any streets lines of railway as the Railway administration thinks proper (2) The exercise of the powers conferred on a Railway administration by sub s (1) shall be subject to the control of the Governor General in Council The respondents constructed Railway lines across a street vested in and under the control of the appellants by virtue of the provisions of the City of Bombay Municipal Act 1888 In a suit by the appellants for a declaration that the respondents were not legally entitled to lay lines of railway across such street without either obtaining their permission or acquiring the street under the provisions of the Land Acquisition Act 1894 Held (affirming the decision of the High Court on appeal dismissing the suit) that the taking the railway on the level across the street was not acquisition of immovable property within the meaning of s 7 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 as amended. The provisions of the Land Acquisition Act were not so expressed as to cut down the power conferred by that section on the respondents to carry a line of railway across a street subject to the control of their powers by the Governor General and that Act was inapplicable to such a case MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF CITY OF BOMBAY v G I P RAILWAY COMPANY (1916)*

L N 43 I A 300

I L R 41 Bom 281

AFFIRMING

I L R 38 Bom 565

Level-crossing—Closing an old level crossing and opening a new one—Diverting a road—Powers of a Railway Company Plaintiff owned a bungalow on the west side of the defendant's Railway close to a station. To go over to the east side there was a level-crossing near the plaintiff's bungalow. The Railway Company owing to the necessity of increasing sidings near the station closed the level-crossing and opened a new one at a distance of few yards from the plaintiff's bungalow. This diversion of the road caused much inconvenience to the plaintiff as he had to go a longer distance if he wished to cross the Railway and on the way there was a dip which made it impossible for the plaintiff to get at the new level-crossing during the monsoon. The plaintiff therefore brought a suit against the Railway Company claiming a mandatory injunction directing the Company to have the old gateway at the level crossing re-opened and he relied on s 7 of the Indian Railways Act 1890. Held dismissing the suit that the Railway Company were well within their powers in closing the old level crossing and they had fulfilled all the requirements which the law imposed on them to provide another level crossing. A Railway Company has under Statute very wide powers in order to carry on its business for public purposes and it has got to consider not only the convenience of individual owners of properties bordering near the line but it has also got to consider the necessity for affording facilities to take the public who wish to travel on the Railway and send their goods by the Railway and it cannot possibly consider separately the interest of each individual who happens to live in the neighbourhood of the Railway line. HARILAL LALLUBHAI B B & C I RAILWAY COY (1919) I L R 44 Bom 705 ss 41 and 42—Railway Administration—Powers—Compartment reserved for the use of Europeans and Anglo Indians only—Civil Court—Jurisdiction Under s 41 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 a Civil Court has no jurisdiction to try the question whether a Railway administration can reserve accommodation for Europeans and Anglo Indians on a Railway train. Section 42 of the Act deals not only with goods traffic but also with passenger traffic. Opinions expressed in Empress v Brydson Lal (1920) 42 All 327 dissented from VISHNUPATH GANESH G I P RAILWAY COMPANY (1921) I L R 45 Bom 1324

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contds 7—contd

s 47—

See s 72 I L R 39 Bom 485

General rules published in Gazette of India—Adoption by a Railway Company—Sanction—Publication The general rules framed by the Governor General in Council and published in the Gazette of India by notification dated the 3rd July 1900, do not become operative as the rules of any individual Railway Company merely upon their adoption by the Company. It must be shown that the particular Railway Company made rules and that those rules have received the sanction of the Governor General in Council and have been published in the manner prescribed by the Act. HARI LAL SINGH & THE BENGAL NAUFLR RAILWAY CO (1910) 15 C W N 195

Rules made by a Railway Company what are—Sanction of Government—Publication—General rules framed by Government Rules adopted by a Railway Company though not originally prepared by it would satisfy the requirements of s 47 of the Railways Act if they were subsequently sanctioned by the Governor General in Council and published in the Gazette of India. Hors Lal Singh & The Bengal Nagpur Railway Co 13 C L J 15 15 C N 195 referred to BENGAL NAUFLR RAILWAY CO & RAHPRADAT GONESHAM DAS (1912) 11 C W N 360

Rules made by Railway Company validity of—Sanction of Government and publication Upon the finding of the Small Cause Court that the rules of the East Indian Railway Company in question regarding the recovery of demurrage charges from consignees of goods despatched by the Railway were made sanctioned and published as prescribed by s 47 of the Railways Act. Held that there was no case for the exercise of the Court's power of revision with reference to the Small Cause Court's decision dismissing the suit for refund of demurrage charges paid. SENAJ MULL NAGAR MULL & THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO (1912) I L R 38 Calc 939 16 C W N 339

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contds 47—contd

ss 47, 51 and 72—let No IV of 1872 (Indian Contract Act) section 149—Liability of Railway Company for goods accepted by a servant of the Company for conveyance—Grant of receipt on behalf of the Company essential to accrual of liability Where goods are tendered to the appropriate official of a Railway Company for despatch to a particular destination and are accepted by him the liability of the Company in respect of such goods accrues from the time when the goods are so accepted and is not dependent upon the granting or withholding of a receipt for the same on behalf of the Company by the official who has accepted the goods. Janna Mal & The Secretary of State for India I L R 33 All 367 distinguished and doubted BOHAN PAL MUNNA LAL & THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY I L R 44 AU 218

s 56—

See LIMITATION ACT 1908 art 31 and 31 I L R 44 Mad 823

ss 68 69—

See RAILWAY PASSENGER I L R 44 Calc 279

s 72—

See CONTRACT I L R 9 All 413 I L R 43 Bom 169

s 72—

See RAILWAY I L R 41 Calc 576 I L R 37 Bom 1 16 C W N 766 I L R 45 Bom 1291

Full note Form F—Shortage in content of consignments suit for damages for loss—Exception in regard to loss of whole consignment or package if applies Where several tins of ghee consigned for carriage by the defendant Railway Company upon special terms as to rates and liability contained in a note Form F were found on arrival to have been cut open and there was a shortage in their contents. Held that the loss was covered by the risk note and the Company was not liable—the exception with regard to loss of a whole consignment or one or more packages out of a consignment not being applicable to the present case where all the packages arrived but with a deficiency in the contents of some of them. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO & RAHPRADAT GONESHAM DAS (1912) 11 C W N 59

Full note Form F—Signed in order to be drawn for The provisions of s 72 cl () requiring risk notes to be signed

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890) contd

s 72-contd

by or on behalf of the person sending or delivering goods to a Railway Administration should be exactly carried out. Where the person who delivered the goods signed not his own name but the name of the owner of the goods, there was not a sufficient compliance with the requirements of s. 72 (1) (a). HOLWOOD J.—The person who signs the risk note must write his own name either by his own hand or by the hand of an agent who must be disclosed and have authority. MARA BARSHA BANGKORAT v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1915) III C W N 635

Liability of Railway Administration for loss of goods delivered for carriage is the same as that of bailee—Indian Contract Act (1st Pt of 1872) s 151—Loss of goods delivered for carriage by act of God—Onus on Railway Administration to prove circumstances exonerating liability—Negligence co-operating with act of God. The plaintiff sued for the recovery of the value of goods made over to the Eastern Bengal Railway Administration but not delivered at the destination. The defendant pleaded in substance that the goods were destroyed while in course of transmission by an act of God, namely a severe cyclone. Held that under sub s (1) of s 72 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 the responsibility of a Railway Administration for the loss or destruction of goods delivered to the Administration to be carried by Railway is subject to the other provisions of the Act that of a bailee under the Indian Contract Act. That the liability of the defendant must be measured solely by the test formulated in ss 151 and 152 of the Indian Contract Act. That when goods have not been delivered to the consignee at the place of destination the plaintiff need not prove how the loss occurred, the burden lies upon the bailee to prove the existence of circumstances which exonerate him from liability for the loss. That the defendant having discharged this burden the plaintiff's claim failed. That there is no foundation for the contention that a Railway Administration when it accepts goods for transmission is in the position of insurers as common carriers. That even if there was negligence on the part of the Railway Administration if the act of God was the proximate cause the defendant Railway would not be liable. SUBBIA RAO v LAL CHOWDHURI v SECRETARY OF STATE (1916) 21 C W N 1125

Risk Note Form

B framed under—Whether a consignee of goods cover by this Risk Note can make the Railway Administration liable for the loss thereof—Whether ss 151 152 and 161 of the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872) will apply in such a case—S 76 of the Indian Railways Act whether it governs s 72 and the contract in the Risk Note—Proof of negligence onus on whom lies. Where goods were consigned to a Railway Company for carriage at a reduced rate of freight and the orders executed a Risk Note in Form B and several bars forming part of the consignment were missing and could not be delivered to the consignee. Held that in a suit for compensation for the missing bars the defendant Railway Company would not be liable if the plaintiff (consignee) failed to prove that the loss was due to the wilful neglect of the Railway Administration or to theft by or to the

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contd

s 72—contd

wilful neglect of its servants. Held also that such a case would be guided by the terms of the special contract embodied in the Indian Railways Form B and not by ss 151 152 and 161 of the Indian Contract Act or the other provisions of the Indian Railways Act. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO v KANAK BEHARI HATDER (1918) 22 C W N 622

Risk note—Consignment of goods—Loss deterioration or damage resulting from—Liability of Railway Company—Insurers—Bailees—Competency of Company to contract for less liability than as bailee. A consignee sent a bale of gunny bags through the defendant Railway Company. The risk note provided that the company should not be responsible for any loss destruction or deterioration of or damage to the consignment from any cause whatever except for the loss of a complete consignment or of one or more complete packages forming part of a consignment due either to the wilful neglect of a Railway Administration or to theft by or to the wilful neglect of its servants etc. The bale was damaged by the dropping of a package of acid by the negligent act of the Company's servant. On a claim against the Company for damages the latter pleaded that they were not liable on the ground inter alia that there was no loss of the article consigned within the meaning of the risk note. Held that the plaintiff could recover only if the bale of gunnics was lost that is entirely deprived of value. The distinction between loss and destruction deterioration and damage pointed out. It cannot be said that there is no loss if the outer cover which encloses a parcel is delivered whatever may happen to the contents. Last Indian Railway Company v Lakshmi Pooj (1911) I L J 41 Cal 56 B B & C I Railway Company v Amalal Bevilal Inl Ry Cia 48 and 530 of 1914 Madras High Court (unreported) dissented from. Per DESHAIGRI AYAR J.—The term loss would include cases where the article consigned is lost to the consignor as such article or has lost its identity as such. Isfer & Co v Beldell (1896) I Q B 13 and Herrn v The London and South Western Railway Company (1855) 10 Exch 793 referred to. Under the Indian Law a Railway Company has not the liabilities of an insurer but only those of a bailee and under s 72 of the Indian Railways Act can enter into an agreement limiting its responsibility provided it is in a form approved by the Governor General in Council. Sheikh Mahamad Rautier v The British India Steam Navigation Co (1909) I L R 37 Mad 90 (F B) commented on. Persons who undertake to do certain things and who employ servants to do those things must be held responsible for the carelessness or negligence of those servants in the course of their employment. Joseph R d v Craig (1919) I Ch 1 referred to. MADRAS AND SOUTHERN MAHARATTA RAILWAY COMPANY v SUBBA RAO (1910)

I L R 43 Mad 617

s 72 made under s 47

s 72 (1) d (f)—Rule not valid—Delivery of goods to be carried by Railway Administration—Grant of railway receipt not essential to complete delivery. The plaintiffs brought certain goods to the railway premises and handed a consignment note to the clerk of the railway company. No receipt was given as the goods were not weighed and loaded. In the meanwhile a fire broke out on the premises and destroyed the goods. The plaintiffs having sued the railway company for the loss of goods the lower Court held that the company was not liable for the loss in absence of a railway receipt as provided for in r 2 framed under s 47 sub s (1) cl (f) of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890). On plaintiffs' application under Extraordinary Jurisdiction Held that the commencement of the liability of the company for goods delivered to be carried under s 72 was in no way dependent upon the fact of a receipt having been granted but must be determined on evidence each independently of r 2 under s 47 sub s (1) cl (f) of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890). Held also that inasmuch as r 2 sought to define and by defining changed what would otherwise be the meaning of s 72 of the Act the rule was bad. Per HEATON J

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—*contd*s 72—contd

A delivery to be carried by railway (within the meaning of s 72 of the Indian Railways Act 1890) means something more than a mere depositing of goods on the railway premises: it means some sort of acceptance by the railway: a taking as well as a giving. When that taking occurs is a matter which depends on the course of business and the facts of each particular case but it certainly may be completed before a railway receipt is granted. Per SHAH J. The delivery contemplated by s 72 is an actual delivery and marks the beginning of the company's responsibility. That delivery would no doubt involve not merely the bringing of the goods on the railway premises but acceptance thereof by the company for the purpose of carrying the same by railway. Such acceptance may be expressed or implied in a variety of ways by the usual course of business and may be quite independent of any receipt being granted by the company. Of course it will depend upon the circumstances of each case and the usual course of business of the Railway administration as to whether the goods can be said to be delivered to be carried by railway under s 72 of the Act. RAMCHANDRA NATHA v G I P RAILWAY COMPANY (1915)

I L R 39 Bom 485

Risk Note II—Where a consignment of goods handed over to the Railway for carriage on risk note II were short delivered by 6 complete packages Held that though the effect of the evidence was not definitely to establish the suggested fact of robbery from a running train yet the theory of wilful neglect by the Railway servants had been sufficiently excluded. B B & C I P RAILWAYS v DAYARAM BECHARADS (1921)

I L R 46 Bom 11

s. 72 77—Duty of Railway Company as a bailee under the Indian Contract Act (IX of 1872)—Delivery of goods to person entitled but without production of delivery of railway receipt—Subsequent pledge of railway receipt—Suit by pledgee—Notice of claim whether necessary—Damage caused by the liability of a Railway Company under the Indian Railways Act in respect of goods consigned for carriage is at an end when the goods are delivered to a person rightfully entitled to them even though he is not the consignee and even if the delivery is not made against the rail way receipt. After delivery of the goods to the rightful person the railway receipt ceases to be a symbol of goods and ceases to be negotiable. Hence an innocent endorsee for value of the railway receipt after delivery to such a person has no cause of action for damages against the Railway Company. A Railway Company is not under any duty to the public to insist upon the return of the railway receipt. Held further that delivery of goods by the Railway Company without getting in the railway receipt was not the proximate cause of the loss to the endorsee. Barber v Meyerstein & E & Ir App 317 followed. Held also that the suit was barred for want of notice under s 77 of Indian Railways Act which applies to claims for compensation arising not only from non delivery or accidental loss or destruction or deterioration of goods but also from wilful delivery to a person not entitled to them. The Indian Common Carriers Act III of 1885 and the Indian Railways Act are not in pari materia with the English Carriers Act of 1830 as to when notice of loss is necessary. Hence decisions under the English Act are not applicable to India. M & S M Ry Co Ltd v HARIDOSS BAKMALIDOSS (1918)

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—*contd*ss 72 77—contd

I L R 41 Mad. 871

Risk Note B—A case of a wrong label being attached to goods en route and getting delivered at wrong destination after travelling on lines of various Railway administrations and getting damaged in so doing. All Companies were sued but notice under s 77 only given to one. The action failed on account of want of notice and one line being held not liable for damage due on another. SHANKAR BALKRISHNA v S I RAILWAY (1921)

I L R 48 Bom. 176

s. 75—

See REMAND

I L R 42 Cal 833

See SHAWLES

MEANING OF

I L R 80 Cal 1099

Goods referred to in s 75 consigned on a risk note—Railway Company not liable for loss. Where a person chooses to send goods referred to in s 75 of the Indian Railways Act on a risk note. Form instead of declaring them and paying the extra percentage demandable under the terms of the section he cannot hold the Railway Company by which such goods are sent responsible for the loss thereof. NARAYAN DAS v THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY (1912)

I L R 31 All 658

Articles of special value lost in transit—Liability of Railway Company for the loss thereof. The plaintiff who was a passenger on the defendant railway booked three packages from Howrah to Kharagpur. One of them contained silver and silk articles of the description mentioned in the second schedule to the Indian Railways Act as articles which must be declared. But the plaintiff did not do so. The package was lost and the plaintiff brought this suit for damages. Held that s 75 of Act IX of 1890 is one of general applicability to all classes of goods and inasmuch as the plaintiff did not declare the contents of his trunk that was lost in transit the Railway administration was freed from all liability for the loss thereof both as regards scheduled and non-scheduled articles contained therein. INDIAN RAILWAY CO v N K RAY (1913)

I L R 37 All 463

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—*contd*s 75—contd

Interpretation of schedule—Lace held on an interpretation of the second schedule to the Indian Railways Act, 1890 that the word lace as therein used includes both machine made and hand made lace and is not confined to the latter Sarat Chandra Bose v Secretary of State for India 1 L P 39 Cal 10 2 dissented from SUDASHAN MAHARAJ NAYDAM v EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY 1 L R 42 All 76

Value and true value in s 75 of the Indian Railways Act meaning of—Value means intrinsic or market value—Value in some cases may mean special value to the owner—Loss means the value of property lost and nothing more—Loss does not include remote and consequential damage—Loss must be estimated by the same measure of damages in cases under s 75 and in cases to which s 70 not applicable—Object of s 75 of the Indian Railways Act—S 75 bar to an action for amount exceeding one hundred rupees for loss and consequences unless a declaration is made. On the 10th September 1916 the plaintiff delivered to the defendant Railway Company at the Victoria Terminus Station Bombay a parcel containing twenty four account books consigned to the plaintiff's firm at Nagpur. After the arrival of the parcel at Nagpur it was mis-delivered, on the 19th September by a mistake of the defendants' parcel clerk to the Superintendent of the Central Jail Nagpur. The mistake was discovered when the plaintiff's agent came to ask for delivery on the 21st September. Inquiries were made of the Jail Superintendent and it was ascertained that the books had been destroyed by him thinking that they were the papers consigned to him from Khandwa for destruction. After some correspondence between the parties the plaintiff sued the defendants stating that the account books which contained the record of all the dealings and transactions of the plaintiff's firm were lost to him by reason of the negligence of the defendants. The plaintiff estimated his loss at Rs 7,000 and claimed that sum of such other sum as might seem just to the Court as damages. The defendants in their written statement repudiated the claim on the ground that the parcel containing the account books came under the head of writings, an excepted article under s 75 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 and that the contents which exceeded in value one hundred rupees had not been declared and insured at the time of delivery of the parcel to the railway administration as required by the aforesaid section. By consent the suit was placed on board for the trial of the preliminary issue whether the defendants are protected from liability to the plaintiff under a 75 of the Indian Railways Act 1890. The trial Judge decided that the defendants were not protected from liability under the section inasmuch as the value of the account books which must be taken to mean intrinsic value was admittedly less than Rs 100 and that the loss which occurred after delivery to the wrong person was not a loss within the meaning of the section. Held reversing the decision of the trial Judge by SCOTT G J—(i) that s 75 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 was intended to apply to articles of special value declared by the Legislature in the Second Schedule or which may be added to the schedule by Notification of the Governor General in Council in the Gazette of India and that such articles must be free from any preluam affections on the part of the owner that is to say articles which could be valued by any sufficiently trained expert quite apart from the feelings of the owner (ii) that the damages recoverable against the Railway Company was the value of the property lost and nothing more (iii) that although a 70 did not directly protect the Railway Company since the goods were not of the value of a hundred rupees it would be entirely inconsistent with the Act to hold that if the goods had been of a value exceeding a hundred rupees the true value would be the limit of the defendants liability yet since the goods were of a value less than a hundred rupees the plaintiff might sue for any remote and consequential damage which he might allege to have suffered from the loss (iv) that the loss for which the Railway Company were liable must be estimated by the same measure of damages both in cases under s 75 and in cases to which s 75 was not applicable and that the most which the plaintiff could claim successfully having regard to the evidence was Rs 70 the value of the articles a sum for which he had not sued and could not sue in the High Court under cl 12 of the Letters Patent Held by MACLEOD J—(1) that the protection afforded by s 70 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 lasted as long as the Railway Company were liable as carriers and their liability would continue after the goods had arrived at their destination for such reasonable time as would be required for the consignee to come to take delivery (2) that the mere fact that the plaintiff was claiming more than Rs 100 for the loss of an undeclared excepted article barred him under s 75 of the Act from asserting that its value was under Rs 100 and the question what was the value of the goods did not arise (3) that the object of s 75 of the Indian Railways Act was to protect a Railway Company from liability for the loss destruction or deterioration of parcels entrusted to them for carriage containing articles of special value exceeding Rs 100 unless they have notice of the contents so that (a) they could demand a percentage on the value declared by way of compensation for increased risk and (b) they could take extra precautions for the safe carriage of such parcels the whole object of the section would be defeated if the consignee could claim consequential damages for the loss of an excepted article without insuring it on the ground that its market value was under Rs 100 (4) that value in s 70 of the Act did not necessarily mean market value in some cases articles might have a special value to the owner beyond the market value and if the owner wished to recover this value he must declare and insure the goods the liability of the Company in the event of the loss being limited to the true values by s 70 (5) of the Act Mullen v Brasch 10 Q B D 119 116 Grosch v The London and North Western Railway Company 2 Car & K 789 Riley v Horne 5 Bing 217 219 referred to Hearn v London and South Western Railway Company 10 Ex 793 distinguished. U P RAILWAY CO v PANCHABRA JAGAT NATH (1918) 1 L R 43 Bom. 386

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—*contd*s 75—contd

ss. 75 and 80—Suit for compensation for loss of through-booked goods—Short delivery—

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—*contd*s 75—concld

Uninsured goods Held that where goods are booked for conveyance over more than one railway system the owner can only claim compensation for loss against a railway company other than the company with which they were booked if it is shown that the loss occurred on the system of the company sued. Held also that if goods the insurance of which is obligatory are packed uninsured with other goods the insurance of which is not obligatory, no compensation is obtainable for the loss of either class of goods. Pandit Uday Jadhav v S M Railway Company I L R 11 Bom 527 followed. GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY v SHAM MANOHAR (1911) I L R 34 All 422

s 77—

See s 72 I L R 41 Mad 871

See Loss of Goods

I L R 44 Cal 16

Suit against Railway

Company—Notice—Limitation—Limitation Act (I of 1908) Sch I Art 31—Waiver of notice Certain goods were despatched on the 26th of March 1908 from Bombay to Gazipur. The goods were lost in transit while in possession of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company. The consignee made a claim against the East Indian Railway Company as the result of which he was offered a certain sum as compensation by the assistant traffic manager of that company who stated that he did so with the authority of the deputy traffic manager of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company. There was however no proof that any such authority had been given and the offer was refused. On the 9th August 1909 the consignee brought a suit against the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company of damages for the loss of his goods but did not give the notice required by s 77 of the Indian Railways Act 1890. He claimed that certain conditions printed on the back of the railway receipt relieved him of the necessity of giving notice under s 77. Held that this was not so nor did the action of the assistant traffic manager of the East Indian Railway Company amount to a waiver of notice. The suit was also barred by limitation under Art 31 of the first Schedule to the Indian Limitation Act 1908. GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY COMPANY v CAMPAT I AL (1911) I L R 33 All 544

Notice of claim to Goods Superintendent if sufficient—Irregular sale of lost goods if consigned to—Damage Held that the notice of claim for loss of goods despatched by rail given in this case to the Goods Superintendent did not comply with the requirements of ss 77 and 140 of the Railways Act. Quare Whether a failure to observe the provisions prescribed in the Railways Act with regard to sales of articles of which no delivery has been taken would make the sale an act of conversion by the railway. Janki Das v The Bengal Nagpur Railway Co (1912) 16 C W N 358

Notice of claim to Goods Superintendent if sufficient—Notice of Goods Superintendent to make provisions by consignee Where the plaintiff who were consignees of some bags of mustard seed claimed that the bags offered by the defendant company were his and the trying Court found that the bags despatched by the plaintiff were lost or missing. Held that in the circumstances the plaintiff was bound to serve notice under s 77 of the Indian Railways Act upon the Agent of the defendant company. A notice given to the Goods Superintendent which there was no evidence to show ever reached the Agent was not sufficient. Woods v Vicer Ali Bepari 13 C W N 21 distinguished and doubted. Janki Das v The Bengal Nagpur Railway Company 16 C W N 358 East Indian Railway Co v Bhabu Madho Lal 17 C W N 1134 approved. The company cannot be bound by any admission or statement by the Goods Superintendent such as is implied in a promise made before the suit to pay a liquidated sum to the plaintiff for the value of the missing bags. PADMA KISHORE v THE EAST INDIAN RAILWAY CO (1913)

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—*contd*s 77—contd

19 C W N 62

Notice to Manager

Agent Eastern Bengal Railway Manager thereof—Notice to Traffic Manager not sufficient. The Agent of the Eastern Bengal Railway is the Manager within the meaning of the Railways Act and the notice required by s 77 must be given to the Agent. Service of notice on the Traffic Manager is not sufficient. KALA CHAND SUKHA v SECRETARY OF STATE (1917)

21 C W N 52

ss 77 and 140—

See Loss of Goods.

I L R 44 Cal 13

20 C W N 790

Goods delivered in damaged condition—Notice of claim—Service on Traffic Manager if sufficient—Suit for damages—Maintainability Serving a notice of claim in respect of goods delivered by a Railway Company in a damaged condition on the Divisional Traffic Manager of the Company is in the absence of authority given by the Agent of the Company to the Divisional Traffic Manager not a sufficient compliance with the provisions of s 140 of the Railways Act. Madha Chand Saha v Vicer Ali Bepari 13 C W N 21 explained and distinguished. EAST INDIAN RAILWAY COMPANY v MADHO LAL (1913) 17 C W N 1134

Notice on Claim

Superintendent of notice on Agent—Suit for compensation for loss of goods consigned—Limitation—Limitation Act (I of 1908) Sch I Art 31 In the absence of evidence to prove that the Claims Superintendent was authorized by the Agent to receive notices on his behalf. Held that a notice of claim served on the former was not served in compliance with the provisions of s 140 of the Railways Act. The law requires that the notice should be on the Agent and whether a particular officer is authorized by the Agent to receive such notice on his behalf is a question of fact that must be decided on the evidence. Woods v Vicer Ali Bepari 13 C W N 21 distinguished. Janki Das v The Bengal Nagpur Railway Co 16 C W N 358 The Padma Lal Railway Co v Madho Lal 17 C W N 1134 and Padma Kishore v The East Indian Railway Co 19 C W N 62 referred to. Where the

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contd— s 7 and 140—contd

conignor sued a Railway Company for compensation for loss of goods alleging the same to have been due to the wilful negligence of or theft by its servants. Held (scilicet) that the suit was governed by Art 30 of the 1st Schedule to the Limitation Act. EMERSON & CO v RAM ACHAR (1915) 20 C W N 696

— s 80—

See s 75 I L R 31 ALL 422

— s 80 and Chapter VII—*Meaning of the word loss explained includes loss by misdelivery—Indian Contract Act IX of 1872 sections 151 152 and 161—Claim for compensation for loss of through-booked traffic—Which Railway responsible. Held by the Full Bench (Abdul Raouf J assenting) that the word loss in Chapter VII of the Indian Railways Act includes loss to the owner of goods made over to a railway administration which have been misdelivered and so have been lost to the person entitled thereto and section 80 makes the railway administration on whose line the loss occurred equally liable with the railway administration to which the goods were delivered by the consignors. The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company v Haridas (I L R 11 Mad 81) The Madras and Southern Mahratta Railway Company v Maitoo & Co (I L R 43 Mad 617) and The Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company v Jomlandra Jugannath (I L R 4 Bom 358 407) followed. Chandra Mal v Debnath & Co (I L R 19 Cal 137) overruled. Miller v Brasch and Company (L R 10 Q P D 144) distinguished. HILL, SAWYERS AND COMPANY v SECRETARY OF STATE I L R 2 Lab 133*

— s 101—

See GENERAL CLAUSES ACT 189 No 2 supra I Pat L J 373

General Pr JJ (c)

100—Breach of the rules—Endangering the safety of persons—Disregard of the rules by the station master—Fouling the line for which line clear is given—Driver of the approaching train disregarding danger signals and rushing into the derailed wagon on the line—Liability of the station master. The accused a station master received an up goods train on the third line in his station yard. He then ordered the driver of the goods train to detach his engine and shunt 9 wagons which was standing on the loop line to a dead end siding in order to make room for the down mail. At that time the next station on the other side asked the accused for line clear in order to pass an up passenger train which the accused gave. Once the 9 wagons were shunted from the loop to the main line and while they were being taken from the main line to the dead end siding one of the wagons got derailed at the points where the siding joined the main line. At this time the distant and home danger signals were up against the up passenger train. Still the driver of that train disregarded both signals and dashed into the derailed wagon causing some injury to two of the passengers and the guard. The station master was tried under s 101 of the Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) for breach of rr 99 (c) and 100 of the General Rules. The trying Magis trate acquitted the accused on the ground that it was the act of the driver of the up passenger train that was immediately responsible for the collision. The Government having appealed. Held setting aside the order of acquittal—that the disregard by the accused of r 100 enhanced the danger to passengers and it was the risk thus entailed which rendered the rule breaker liable to punishment. Held also that as regards the punishment the gravity of the offence should be estimated not by the actual ultimate consequence but by the risk involved for the rule breaker might be punished even though no accident occurred. EMERSON & RANCHADRA HARI (1913)

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—contd— s 101—contd

I L R 37 Bom 685

— ss 108 121 128 131 132—

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 103

— s 109—*Power of Railway administration to reserve accommodation—Legality of reservation in favour of a particular class of passengers. Held on a construction of s 109 of the Indian Railways Act 1890 that the section was wide enough to authorize a railway administration to reserve accommodation for any particular class of passenger by the name of the class. A person entering a carriage so reserved might be required to leave it and if he refused might be prosecuted under the provisions of the section. Ss 42 and 43 of the Act have no application to the case of the reservation of a particular passenger carriage for the use of any particular class of the travelling public. *EMERSON & BIRJIBASI LAL

I L R 42 All 327

— s 113—

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Cal 279

enquiry as to liability of accused to pay excess charge and fare in case of accused pleading that he had not travelled by the train as alleged. The Petitioner was prosecuted for an offence under s 113 of the Railways Act and he pleaded in defence that he had not travelled by the train as alleged. The Magistrate without any enquiry disposed of the case by issuing distress warrant for the amount of penalty imposed. Held (in setting aside the order)—That the Magistrate should pass orders in accordance with law after taking evidence on the question whether the accused was liable to pay and how much was payable. STATION MASTER RAMAIAH v HABUL SIEKH 24 C W N 195

— s 120—

See NUISANCE

I L R 48 Cal 1042

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Cal 279

In a Railway shed reserved for the delivery of fish the Railway authorities prohibited the retail sale of fish. The Petitioners were convicted under cl (b) of s 120 of the Act for having sold to quantities not allowed. Held that in view of the fact that the retail sale of fish made the shed offensive in many ways the Act complained of was a nuisance within the section. DEOKISHA v KING EMERSON 25 C W N 603

RAILWAY ACT (IX OF 1890)—concl'd

s 121—

See s 3 I L R 43 Mad 348

See TORT I L R 43 Bom. 103

s 122—

See RAILWAY PASSENGER

I L R 44 Calc 279

Unlawful entry upon Railway and refusal to leave—Essence of offence Unlawful entry constitutes the basis of the offence under both clauses of s 122 of the Railways Act. If the entry was lawful refusal to leave on being desired to do so would not make the original entry unlawful nor would it make a person guilty under cl (2) which is but an aggravated form of the offence under cl (1). KUMUD KANTA CHAKRABORTI v KING EMPEROR (1917)
 22 C W N 575

s 125—

Cattle left in charge of keepers allowed to stray on a railway line—Liability of owner
 The owner of cattle which have been allowed to stray upon a railway in consequence of the negligence of the person actually in charge of them on the owner's behalf is not liable to punishment under s 125 (1) of the Railways Act 1890. Queen Empress v Andi I L R 18 Mad 238 followed. EMPEROR v GUR PRASAD GIR (1911)
 I L R 34 All 91

s 126 (a) 130—Minor offender

Magistrate—Jurisdiction to try a minor committing an offence punishable under s 130 read with s 126 (a) of the Indian Railways Act 1890 can be tried by a Magistrate he is not exclusively triable by a Court of Session. EMPEROR v DHONDYA DUDHYA (1919)
 I L R 43 Bom 888

s 128—

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 103

s 131—

See TORT I L R 43 Bom. 103

s 132—

See TORT I L R 43 Bom 103

s 140—

Notice of claim sent through post but not registered—Post Office Act (XI of 1866) Part III
 Notice of a claim of damages for short delivery sent through the post but not registered under Part III of the Indian Post Offices Act was not service in any of the modes provided by s 140 of the Railways Act. Aadhar Chand v Wood I L R 35 Calc 194 s c 12 C W N 450 relied on MARTIN & CO v FAKIR CHAND SARKI (1910)
 14 C W N 888

Notice of suit upon whom to be served Under s 140 Indian Railways Act (IX of 1890) notice of suit against a Railway Company can only be served upon the Agent unless it can be shown by evidence that some other officer of the Company had authority to receive the notice. BESHACKELLAM CHETTY v TRAFFIC MANAGER Nizam & GUARANTEED STATE RAILWAY (1913)
 I L R 36 Mad 65

Sch III—

See SHAWLES I L R 39 Calc 1029

RAIYAT

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT

See CHOTA NAAGPUR TENANCY ACT 1903
 4 Pat L J 11

at fixed rent—If may grant permanent Lease—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1883 s 11
 25 C W N 9

at fixed rates—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1883
 1 Pat L J 67

purchase of interests of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 43 Calc 164

“Kayami ryot—Meaning of—Occupancy ryot grant of lease for over nine years by—Transferee from ryot if may question its validity—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 49 50—Under ryot: right if a ritable
 A lessor describing himself as a kayami ryot does not necessarily imply that he was a ryot at a fixed rent. Where it was found that the lessor did not thereby or otherwise represent himself as a ryot at a fixed rent and the lessee was not induced to take the lease by such representation and that in fact he was an occupancy ryot. Held that the lease which was for a term of more than nine years was invalid and neither the lessor nor a purchaser from him was stopped from challenging its validity. Chand Charan Nath v Samia Bti s c 12 C W N 179 (1917) followed. The heir of an under ryot has no heritable right to continue as such. Arip Mondal v Ramratan Mondal I L R 31 Calc 757 s c 8 C W N 479 (F B) (1904) referred to NADIRAM CHANDRA SIKH SRIYATH CHAKRAVARTI
 24 C W N 22

RAIYATI HOLDING—

Registered lease—Oral surrender—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 86 (1)—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92 proviso 4
 Even where the original lease is a registered one a raiyat can orally surrender his holding under s 86 of the Bengal Tenancy Act if it was not for a fixed period and if possession is given up. Khanter Abdur Rahman v Ali Haf. I L R 23 Calc 558 and Brayonath Sarma v Mahendrar Gohain s c 12 C W N 220 referred to Sarat Chandra Saha v Nriyga Gopal Biswas 13 C L J 951 distinguished. PORAY MATIA v INDIRA SEVI (1919)
 I L R 47 Calc 109

RAJINAMA AND KABULIYAT

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (B of 1879)

I L R 41 Bom. 170

I L R 45 Bom. 893

See REGISTRATION ACT (XII of 1908) s 17 I L R 41 Bom. 510

Registration—Provisions—Revenue Code (Bombay Act I of 1879) s 15
 Rajinamas and kabuliya governed by the Bombay Land Revenue Code (Bombay Act I of 1879) are not compulsorily registrable; cannot in themselves be documents of transfer; but they are fairly conclusive evidence that a transfer has in fact been made. VARADARAJAN v NAAGVA (1918)
 I L R 42 Bom 339

RAJPUT FAMILY

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 48 Calc 997

RAPE.

See PENAL CODE ACT (XIV of 1860),
ss 82 AND 83 I L R 37 ALL 187

RASH OR NEGLIGENT ACT

See PENAL CODE ACT (XIV of 1860)
s. 336 I L R 42 Bom 396

RATE CIRCULAR

Issued by shipowners—

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Calc 670

RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188.—
ss 276 293 I L R 37 Bom 138
ss 281 293 14 C W N 396

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903—
ss 2 47 5 Pat L J 415
ss 4 73 O XXI R 35

I L R 36 Bom 156
ss 4 73 104 I L R 39 Mad 570

s 64 I L R 43 ALL 399

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R 47 Calc 515
I L R 44 Calc 1072

See LIMITATION ACT (IV of 1908) CH I
ARTS 62 120 I L R 39 Mad 62

See RECEIVER 15 C W N 925

order for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ss 47 73 101

I L R 39 Mad 570

Application for not considered to be application for execution—Attachment before judgment is not application for execution—Decree holder—No right to rateable distribution unless he has applied for execution Only a decree holder who has applied for execution can claim a right to rateable distribution Such a right is not conferred upon a plaintiff who has merely obtained an attachment before judgment and has not applied for execution under a 230 Civil Procedure Code Amara Veerayya v Annamala Chetty Pichayya I L R 31 Mad 502 overruled An attachment before judgment is in no sense an application for execution A mere application for rateable distribution which does not comply the requirements of s 235 in form or substance cannot be considered to be an application for execution within the scope of s 235 Civil Procedure Code Sewdatt Poy v Sree Canto Maity I L R 33 Calc 633 distinguished Pallony Shapurji Mistry v Edward Vaughan Jordan I L R 1 Bom 400 followed ABUNACHELLAN CHETTIAR v HAJI SHEKH MEERA ROWTHAR (1910) I L R 34 Mad 25

RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION—contd of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) is far wider than that of s 295 of the old Code (Act XIV of 1899) yet the effect of the enactment in s 310A of the old Code which is reproduced in O XXI r 89 of the new Code remains unaltered HARAI SAHA v FAIZLUR RAHMAN (1913)

I L R 40 Calc 619

Practice and Procedure—Decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 47 73—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1882) s 295—Appeal An order refusing rateable distribution made under s 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) between two rival decree holders which does not affect or interest the judgment debtor is an order in execution proceedings but is not a decree as all the conditions enumerated in 47 of that Code are not present and consequently is not appealable Jagadish Chandra Shaha v Arispanath Shaha I L R 36 Calc 130 followed Sorabji Coomary v Kala Raghunath I L R 36 Bom 156 distinguished It is essential for the application of 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure that the decree should have been passed against the same judgment debtor BALMER LAWRIE & Co v JUDU NATH BANERJEE (1914) I L R 42 Calc 1

Rival decree holders

—Right of one to impeach another's decree only in suit and not in execution—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 73 applicability of—O XXI r 82 enquiry under Where several decree holders against the same judgment debtor apply for satisfaction of their decrees out of the same fund any one of them is entitled to show that his rival's decree is a fraudulent or sham one but it is not open for him to do so in execution proceedings Sudindra v Budan I L R 9 Mad 80 followed S 73 Civil Procedure Code is applicable only if an application for execution of the decree in the prescribed form had already been made before the receipt of the assets and the fund out of which rateable distribution is asked for is one realised in execution Where holders of decree of several courts apply for satisfaction of their decrees out of a fund in the custody of a court the proper order governing their respective titles or priorities is O XXI r 52 Civil Procedure Code and they are entitled to share it rateably as in the case of administration of the estate of a deceased person or of an insolvent as attachment does not under the present law give any priority to the first attaching creditor but only prevent alienation. Sobool Chander Law v Purnell Lal Mitter I L R 15 Calc 702 209 followed The shares due to holders of decrees of other courts than the one which has the custody of the fund are to be distributed only according to the orders of the courts KATUN SARIHA v HAJEE MAHOMED BADSHA SAHIB (1913) I L R 33 Mad 221

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 73 O XXI r 65—Policy underlying the section—Receipt of purchase money by agent effect of The policy which underlies s 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure obviously is to fix the point of time when the entire body of persons entitled to claim rateable distribution should be finally ascertained that point of time is the moment when the entire purchase money has been paid by the purchasers It is immaterial from this point of view whether the purchase money has been actually paid into the Treasury or into the hands of a person employed by the Court to hold the sale. When a sale has been held by a Court in execution under O XVI r 65 receipt of purchase money by the agent is for the purposes of s 73 equivalent to receipt of assets by the Court. Gulam Hossein v Fatima Begum 16 C W N 391 Maharaja of Burdwan v Apurba Krishna Roy 14 C L J 50 distinguished. Huddersfield Banking Company Ltd v Henry Fister & Son Ltd (1895) 2 Ch 273 Wentworth v Bullen 9 B C 840 Crossley v Mills 1 C M & P 298 Gray v Haig 20 Bear 219 referred to. GALSTAIN v WOOLIES CHANDRA BONAPPEE (1916) 1 L R 44 Cal 789

RATEABLE DISTRIBUTION—concl'd

Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) ss 63 73 application under—
Said by Munsif—Application to Subordinate Judge for attachment of sale proceeds and rateable distribution. Where in consequence of proceedings taken by a creditor the Munsif sold the judgment debtor's properties and where another creditor applied to the Subordinate Judge after the said sale to attach the sale proceeds deposited in the Munsif's Court and to distribute the same rateably and the latter refused the application. Held that in the events which had happened neither s 63 nor s 73 of the Civil Procedure Code applied. Held also that the Subordinate Judge could not direct the Munsif to transmit the proceeds to his Court but should move the District Judge to have the proceeds transferred. If this procedure were adopted full effect would be given to the intention of the Legislature. The Subordinate Judge would in essence adopt the sale held by the Munsif and the sale proceeds would then be rateably distributed in accordance with the provisions of the Code. Bylani Nath Saha v Rajendra Narain Rai 1 L R 12 Cal 333 Patel Narayan Morari v Haridas Navalm 1 L R 19 Bom 453 referred to. NILEKANTA RAU v GOSTO BEHARI CRATTERJEE (1917) 1 L R 46 Cal 64

RATEABLE VALUE

See ASSESSMENT 1 L R 42 Bom 692

RATES AND TAXES

Arrear of—Consolidated rate—Charge—Calcutta Municipal Act (Beng III of 1899) ss 223 2 S—Terror of consolidated rate whether a first charge on the land and building is a part of which it has accrued due—Charge and mortgage distinction between—Transfer of Property Act (II of 1908) ss 55 58 100—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886) s 171—Constructive notice—Bond filed purchaser for value without notice. S 39 of the Calcutta Municipal Act is not controlled by s 223 thereof and make the consolidated rate as it accrues due from time to time a first charge on the premises (subject only to arrears of land revenue). A mortgage does whereas a charge does not involve a transfer of an interest in specific immovable property. Narayanan v Venkataramana 1 L R 25 Mad 229 Tancred v D'Almeida 13 C 23 Q B D 439 Darlington v Hall 1 Q B D 317 referred to. But a charge cannot be enforced against the property in the hands of a bona fide purchaser for value without notice. Kulka Lal v Gura 1 M L R 13 41 25 referred to. The plea of purchaser for value without notice is a single

RATES AND TAXES—concl'd defence the onus of proving which is on the defendant. Attorney General v Diphosphated Guano Co 11 Ch D 397 Wiles v Spooner (1911) 2 K B 473, followed. Where property with such a charge is foreclosed, by the mortgagee constructive notice cannot be imputed to him to the same extent as to a purchaser at a private sale. Radha Madhab v Kalgatara 17 C L J 209 Brahma v Bhola Das 19 C L J 350 referred to. Still he should ascertain the true state of affairs before he becomes full owner thereof. Although a purchaser without notice from a person who had notice is protected (vide Harewood v Forth (1695) Fench & Prec Ch 51) here purchaser from such a mortgagee cannot claim the protection as before they acquire title they might by enquiry from the municipal authorities ascertain the precise period for which the rates were in arrears. AKHOY KUNAR BANERJEE v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA (1914) 1 L R 49 Cal 625

RATIFICATION

See CONTRACT ACT 18, ss 196 200

See MADRAS IRRIGATION CESS ACT (VII of 1865) s 1 1 L R 53 Mad 897

See TRADING WITH THE ENEMY
1 L R 42 Cal 1094

— of order—

See HABEAS CORPUS
1 L R 39 Cal 164

RATING OF PROPERTY

See ADEN SETTLEMENT REGULATION (VIII of 1900) s 13
1 L R 40 Bom 448

RAYATI LEASE

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
1 L R 38 Cal 423

REASONABLE NOTICE

See SCHOOL MASTER
1 L R 44 Cal 917

RE-ASSESSMENT OF PREMISES

See ACQUISITION
1 L R 37 Cal 833

RECEIPT

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI of 1908) s 17 (2) (i) 1 L R 34 All 603

See STAMP ACT (II of 1909)
ss 2 (23) 6^a 63
1 L R 33 All 290

s 65
1 L R 34 All 193

— for goods shipped—

See CONTRACT 1 L R 41 Cal 870

— exceeding Rs 20—

See STA R DUTY 1 L R 37 Cal 631

— by one servant from another—

See STAMP DUTY 1 L R 37 Cal 631

— of purchase money—Registration—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 14
1 L R 1 Lab 25

RECEIPT—contd

—acknowledging acceptance of share
—admissibility of to prove partition if un registered—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 ss 1st AND
49 I L R 44 Bom 881

—Enf. encc.—Partition—Waiver
—Enf. encc.—Partition Act (III of 1861) s 17 (n)—Mortgage bond—Receipt showing simple sale & i charge—Evidence Act (I of 1862) s 9 Are eight which purports to show that simple and not com pound interest was to be charged (though the mortgage bond contained provision for the pay ment of compound interest) is admissible in evidence. Such a receipt operates as a full acquit tance for the money paid and requires no registra tion. Jivan Lal B. v. Bata Mol I L R 311
108 followed. KAILASH CHANDRA NATH v. SURESH
CHENNAI (1914) I L R 42 Cal 548

—Stamp Duty—Money received by servant of a firm and handed over to fellow servant—Consideration—Acknowledgement of receipt by fellow-servant of a sum larger than P. 90 of limit to stamp duty—Stamp Act (II of 1899) s 2 (3) Sch I Art 53 Where a sum exceeding Rs 100 was received by an assistant in a mercan tile firm from the cashier of the firm as advance made on the firm's behalf and to be expended on the firm's behalf and previous to disburse ment of the sum in question a pay order was made out by the Accounts Department of the firm and was sent to the cashier who had paid the sum to the assistant and the assistant at the same time acknowledged receipt by signing his name or initials on the pay order. Held that the acknowledgment did not require a receipt stamp by reason of the assistant's signature on the pay order. Attorney General v. Carlton Bank
(1892) 2 Q B 158 distinguished In re BURN
& Co (1910) I L R 37 Cal 634

RECEIVER

See BUSTEE LAND

I L R 38 Cal 714

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

s 47

3 Pat L J 513

s 60 (1) I L R 40 Mad 302

O XL

O XLIII R 1

I L R 45 Bom 99

See COMMON MANAGER

I L R 43 Cal 936

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE—

s 145

3 Pat L J 147

See FRAUDULENT PREFERENCE

I L R 45 Cal 640

See GRATWALL TENURE

I L R 39 Cal 1010

See INSOLVENCY I L R 37 Cal 418

14 C W N 586

I L R 42 Cal 289

I L R 41 All 200 274

See LEASE I L R 45 Cal 940

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) s 19

I L R 32 All 51

See OFFICIAL RECEIVER.

RECEIVER—contd

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907—
s 69

s 10

II Pat L J 235

ss 16 22

I L R 39 All 204

s 36

2 Pat L J 101

See SALE

18 E W N 394

—application against the legal re presentatives of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 4

I L R 39 Mad 584

—appointment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 1

14 C W N 248 252

—appeal against appointment of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XLIII R 1

I L R 42 All 227

—attachment of moneys in hand of—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

1 Pat L J 449

—assets in the hands of—

See SOLICITOR'S LIEN FOR COSTS

I L R 34 Bom 484

—death of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 4

I L R 39 Mad 584

—joint trial of—

See MISJOINDER I L R 46 Cal 741

—in insolvency—

See VENDOR I L R 42 Cal 225

—misappropriation by—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XL R 4

I L R 39 Mad 584

—Order granting leave to sue Receiver for negligence—No appeal lies—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XLIII R 1

I L R 45 Bom 99

—pendente lite—

See RELIGIOUS TRUST

I L R 40 Cal 251

—powers of—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (III OF 1907) s 18

I L R 39 All 633

—report of—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT (II
OF 1901) s 43

I L R 37 All 429

—sufficiently grounds for appointment

of—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XL R 1

I L R 43 All 311

—vesting of property in on adjudica tion—

See PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY ACT 1907
s 16

I L R 42 All 433

RECEIVER—contd

Bhag property—Gift by Mahomedan widow for spiritual benefit of her husband—

See WASTE I L R 44 Bom 727

Suit against—Whether notice necessary—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 ss 2 80 I L R 44 Bom 895

Suit against without leave of Court—

See HIGH COURT JURISDICTION OF I L R 44 Bom 903

1 — Directions to receiver if appealable—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) O XL = 1, cl (1) (d) and O XLIII r 1 (s) Where both the parties have agreed to the appointment of a Receiver of the properties in dispute and the Court has in appointing the Receiver given him certain directions as to the disposal of the income Held that an appeal lies from those directions by virtue of O XLIII r 1 (s) of the Code of Civil Procedure MURTHY ANAND DAS = RAM PERKASH DAS (1909) 14 C W N 183

2 — Execution sale of property in hands of—Illegality—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) ss 244 248—Non service of notice on judgment-debtor if ground for setting aside the sale—Confirmation of sale effect of Where the Receiver appointed by the Court was directed to take possession of moveable properties and of the rents and profits of the immovable properties and was further authorised to get in and collect all debts and claims due to the estate Held that he must be taken to have been appointed Receiver in respect of the whole estate and had authority to apply for an order absolute on a decree nisi for foreclosure A sale of the foreclosure decrees while the estate was in the possession of the Receiver in execution of a decree for money without leave of the Court previously obtained was illegal and liable to be avoided, and punishment by the procedure for contempt was not the only remedy against such unauthorised sales The provisions of s 248 are not mandatory A sale held without issue of notice under s 248 Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) is therefore not a nullity but such an omission is a serious irregularity sufficient to vacate the sale upon an application made by the judgment debtor under s 244 of the Code MALLARJUN V LATHARI 5 C W N 10 s c I L R 25 Bom 337 L R 27 I A 216, Parashram V Balmukund I L R 32 Bom 572 Prava V Sudramappa I L R 21 Bom 434 433 Jogendra Chandra V Sham Das I L R 36 Cal 643 s c 9 C L J 271 Such an irregularity is a ground for setting aside the sale even after it has been confirmed Ashutosh V Behari Lal 11 C W N 1011 s c I L R 35 Cal 61 referred to A purchaser of property at an execution sale is not protected when grounds for setting aside the sale under s 244 or 311 are established merely because he is a stranger Janulhari Lal V Gostain Lal 13 C W N 716 referred to LITTA ASHTON = MADHABMOY DAS (1910) 14 C W N 560

3 — Possession of property by Receiver without succession certificate—Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1882) ss 4 8 cl (c)—Succession (Property Protection) Act (XI of 1881)—Success on Act (V of 1865) s 190—Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1850)—Probate and Administration Act (of 1850)—Indian Securities Act (XIII of

RECEIVER—contd

1886) ss 3 sub s (2) 6 sub-s (1) cl (f) The position of a Receiver appointed by a Court is analogous to that of a curator appointed under Act XIX of 1841 who is a person claiming to be entitled to the effects of the deceased person whose estate he is appointed to manage Babar v Narsappa I L R 90 Bom 437 referred to The Receiver ordinarily is not the representative or agent of either party to a suit in the administration of the trust but the appointment is for the benefit of all parties and he holds the property for the benefit of those ultimately found to be the rightful owners Jagat Tarin Das V Nala Gopal Chak I L R 31 Cal 305 Corporation of Bacup V Smith 44 Ch D 393 Portman V Mill 3 Jurist 356 referred to In the absence of any provision in the Hindu Wills Act (XXI of 1850) and in the Probate and Administration Act V of 1881 that no right to the property of an intestate can be established unless administration had been previously granted by a competent Court the Receiver appointed by the Court is competent to take possession of the securities and moneys without a certificate under s 4 of the Succession Certificate Act but regard being had to the provisions of the Indian Securities Act 1886 s 3 sub s (2) s 6 sub s (1) cl (f) Act and s 8 cl (c) of the Succession Certificate Act (VII of 1889) a Succession Certificate would be needed if a suit was brought to establish a title to such funds by right of inheritance HARIJAN MURTHI V HARENDRA NATH MURTHI (1910) I L R 37 Cal 754

4 — Receiver if a necessary party to rent suit—Appointment of Receiver V Laws to rent suit—Appointment of Receiver V Laws to rent suit—Receiver how and—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 3—Receiver appointed by another Court if may be added as party by Court of its own motion Where during the pendency of a suit for rent under the Tenancy Act a Receiver was appointed in respect of the entire property of the defendants by another Court and the property for which the rent was claimed vested in him Held that the Receiver was a necessary party to the suit and if he was not added with the permission of the Court which appointed him the suit was liable to be dismissed The appointment of a Receiver does not of itself debar a creditor of the person over whose estate the Receiver has been appointed from suing for his claim provided that such suit does not in any way interfere with the possession or jurisdiction of the Court appointing the Receiver But where property in the hand of the Receiver is intended to be affected by the result of the litigation the Receiver is a proper and necessary party to such suit by way of addition to and not in substitution for the parties primarily responsible Miller V Farnham 11 C L J 10 Cal 1014 Ashton V Madhob Moysa 11 C L J 659 Hem Churder V Frankiss I L R 10 Cal 60, Jogendra Nath V Indernath I L R 96 Cal 197 s c 3 C W N 50 Jagan Kora V Sham Shrivendra 10 C L J 93 Jagat Tarin V Nala Gopal I L R 31 Cal 305 s c 5 C L J 90 referred to Where the plaintiff's request to add the Receiver as a party with leave of the Court appointing him all such they had notice of such appointments Held that the Court was not bound nor was it competent to it to add a Receiver as a party of its own motion under s 3 Civil Procedure Code as the leave of the Court appointing the Receiver was essential. But as the point raised was of some novelty and as a fresh suit by the plaintiffs might be barred by limitation the High Court allowed the plaintiffs an opportunity of continuing the suit by taking steps to make the Receiver a party upon their paying all costs. JOJISDRA NATH CHOWDHURY v BARFA DAS MIA (1910) 14 C W N 653

RECEIVER—contd

5 ———— Title—Receiver accretions to property of vendee in—Accretion title to prevail against all persons not claiming under prior title—But a title tenant under a facto proprietor of acquired vacant rights—Non-occupancy tenant is entitled to possession of accretions—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) ss 145 146—Receiver appointed under s 146 rights of As a general rule a Receiver takes no title in property acquired by the person formerly in possession. But a Receiver is entitled to any accretion to the property vested in him upon general principles and the policy of the law by which a proprietor acquires a title to accretions to his property. Where a Receiver has been appointed under s 146 of the Criminal Procedure Code in respect of any property in dispute the Receiver is entitled unless some special circumstance is established not only to the subject matter of the proceedings under s 145 Criminal Procedure Code but also to the accreted land and gives good title to a tenant under him. Such title will prevail against a trespasser but not against person who establishes a title to the accreted land acquired prior to the vesting of the lands in the Receiver. Atal Chandra v Lakhai Dairai 10 C L J 65 referred to MADHU v SARAB AI (1910)

[14 C W N 681]

6 ———— Mortgage suit—Sale appointment after—Receiver if may be appointed of property in hand of common manager—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1895) O 2 L 1 sub r (1)—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 9a. A mortgage suit does not necessarily terminate with the sale and a Receiver may be appointed after the sale pending application to set it aside. Wills v Loff 38 Ch D 197 distinguished. A Receiver may very well be appointed under O 40 r 1 sub r (2) Civil Procedure Code in respect of property in the hands of a common manager appointed under s 9a of the Bengal Tenancy Act. MADANESWAR SINGH v MAHAMAYA PRO AD SINGH (1911) 15 C W N 672

7 ———— Suit against—Leave of Court if condition precedent to suit—Stay of proceedings. Where a suit has been instituted against a Receiver without previously obtaining the leave of the Court which appointed him it is open to the Court to stay proceedings for a reasonable time so as to enable the plaintiff to apply for leave to proceed with the suit. The consent of the Court which appointed the Receiver is not a condition precedent to the right to bring an action against the Receiver. Pranmatta Nath Gangooly v Khetra Nath Banerjee 1 L R 32 Cal 270 sc 9 C W N 217 dissented from. Where property in the hands of a receiver is intended to be affected by the result of the litigation the Receiver is a proper and necessary party to such a suit. Jojisdra Nath Chowdhry v Sarfaraz MIA 14 C W N 653 followed. Muller v Ram Ranjan Chuckerbutty 1 L R 10 Cal 1014. Chartered Bank v Hurish Chunder Deogy 5 C W

RECEIVER—contd

N. N. and Kumar Suttia Suttia Choshal v Rani Gop Moni Debi 5 C W N 27 distinguished. BANKU BEHARI DEB v HARENDRA NATH MUKERJEE (1910) 15 C W N 64

8 ———— Application to execute decree against—Application for rateable distribution—Property sold at the instance of another creditor with leave—Leave if still necessary—Leave if may be obtained after application preferred—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1882) s 277 order under if leave—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1905) s 3. The fact that leave had already been granted to the execution creditor at whose instance property in the hands of a Receiver was sold does not dispense with the necessity of other execution creditors obtaining such leave to prosecute their applications under s 73 of the Civil Procedure Code for rateable distribution of the assets for the funds are held by the Court for the benefit of the Receiver who would be entitled as a matter of right to take out any surplus left after satisfying the creditors who have obtained such leave and apply it for the purpose of the litigation in which he was appointed. Courts have been generally reluctant to allow execution to proceed against properties in the hands of the Receiver until leave has expressly been granted for this purpose. A prohibitory order under s 272 of Act XIV of 1882 on the Receiver cannot be construed as leave granted to the decree holder to proceed against properties in his hand. In the circumstances of the case the High Court held that the application should not have been dismissed because no such leave had been obtained but that an opportunity should be given to the petitioner even at this late stage to obtain the requisite leave. Banku Behari Dey v Harendra Nath Mukerjee 15 C W N 61 followed. Pranmatta Nath Gangooly v Khetra Nath Banerjee 1 L R 32 Cal 270 sc 9 C W N 217 dissented from. SARAT CHANDRA BANERJEE v APURBA KRISHNA FOY (1911) 15 C W N 626

9 ———— Interference with Receiver appointed by the Court—An agreement which would interfere with the work of a Receiver appointed by a Court should not be enforced as being opposed to public policy. Fazlur RAHMAN v AWATH BANDHU PAL (1911)

16 C W N 114

10 ———— Mortgage suit—Receiver if may be appointed in after appointment of Receiver in partition suit among mortgagors—Foreclosure suit Receiver if and when may be appointed in. The appointment of a Receiver in a partition suit amongst the mortgagors is no bar to the appointment of a Receiver in a subsequent suit by the mortgagee on his mortgage as any possible conflict between the two Receivers where the same Receiver has not been appointed in both suits may easily be avoided. A mortgagee who has obtained a preliminary decree for foreclosure cannot at that stage ask for a Receiver of the property under mortgage since he has no title to the profits until at least he obtains an order absolute for foreclosure and is then kept out of possession by the action of the judgment debtors. KHUSURAT KOER v SARODA CHARAN GUHA (1911) 16 C W N 126

11 ———— Ghatwali tenure—Income from if may be attached—Receiver if may be appointed for Ghatwali lands—Rents and profits not due at the date of appointment The rents and profits of a Ghatwali tenure may be attached in execution of a decree in the life time of the Ghatwal though the estate itself cannot be attached Austoor Koomaree v Benode Ram 4 W R Ms 5 Surajmal v Kristo Pershad 10 O W & cclx Ujjoy Kumari v Hari Ram 1 L R 28 Cal 48° Raj Keshore v Bunsidas, 1 L R 23 Cal 873 considered Where the lower Court in execution of a decree against the Ghatwal attached the Chatwali estate, placed it under a Receiver and directed the tenants not to pay rents to any body other than the Receiver Held that although the order of attachment of the estate was erroneous the appointment of a Receiver was sanctioned by authority Quare Whether a Receiver may be appointed to collect rents and profits that have not accrued at the date of appointment Kesobati Koeri v Mohan Chandra Mandal (1912)

RECEIVER—contd

I L R 39 Cal 1010
16 C W N 802

12 ——— Insolvency—Jatra or Pilgrim business profits from—Priest office of—Provincial Insolvency Act (III of 1907) ss 2 (1) (g) 18 20 (c) 40 (1) 41 47—Business—Trade Where pending an appeal to the High Court by a creditor in insolvency against a conditional order of discharge in favour of the insolvent who was a panda or priest attached to the temple of Jagannath at Puri an application was made for the appointment of a receiver in respect of the business of the insolvent which consisted in receiving pilgrims housing them feeding them looking after their comfort and accompanying them to the temple of Jagannath in return for a fee from the said pilgrims in the nature of a voluntary payment the object of the creditor being not to stop the business but to carry it on so that the insolvent priest may be constantly attended by the receiver who may take possession of all his earnings Held that what the priest did for the pilgrims could not appropriately be described as business within the meaning of cl (c) of s 20 of the Provincial Insolvency Act and that the exercise of his calling by the insolvent under the circumstances stated could not be deemed a trade within the meaning of sub s (1) of s 40 of the Provincial Insolvency Act Held also that ordinarily the business of the insolvent might be carried on by the receiver not with a view to profit but only in so far as might be necessary for the beneficial winding up of the same Ex parte Emmanuel 17 Ch D 35 followed The difference between a receiver and a manager explained In re Manchester and Midford Railway Co 14 Ch D 616 North Steam Ship Co v Wharfedale (1912) 4 C 251 In re East Hotel (1912) 1 Ch 31° Boehm v Goodall (1911) 1 Ch 155 and In re Newbiggin Colliery Ltd (1911) 1 Ch 469 referred to AVANAD MAHANT v CANTSH MAHESWAR (1917)

I L R 40 Cal 678

13 ——— Powers of Civil Court when Receiver in possession under s 146 (2) Criminal Procedure Code—(Act I of 1898)—Conditional appointment—Form of Receiver's appointment of the appointment of a receiver by a Civil Court under O XL r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure does not operate as a discharge of the receiver of the same properties already appointed by a Magistrate under s 146 (2) of the Code of Criminal

RECEIVER—contd

Procedure As a general rule when there is a receiver in possession appointed by the Magistrate and application is made to the Civil Court to exercise its powers under O XL r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure the Civil Court should make a conditional order of appointment and inform the Magistrate so that the latter may have an opportunity of withdrawing his attachment Unless there is good reason to the contrary the Civil Court should as a matter of judicial discretion appoint as its receiver the person already appointed by the Magistrate Parbat un nara v Abdul A 1 L R 23 Ill 215 distinguished BIDYAPRASAD NARAY SINGH v ANURAG SINGH (1913) I L R 40 Cal 862

14. ——— Discretion of Court—Interference by higher Court—Appointment of party to cause appointment of person residing outside jurisdiction and at a distance—Lawson—Guardians and Wards Act (VIII of 1890) s 17 sub (1) The selection and appointment of a particular person as a Receiver is a matter of judicial discretion to be determined by the Court according to the circumstances of the case and the exercise of this like other matters of judicial discretion will rarely be interfered with by an appellate tribunal To induce the Appellate Court to interfere it is necessary to show some overwhelming objection in point of propriety or some fatal objection in principle to the person named It is a settled rule that one of the parties to a cause shall not be appointed Receiver without the consent of the other party unless a very special case is made Residence beyond jurisdiction is not by itself a fatal objection but when a non resident is appointed Receiver there must be adequate guarantees that he will be subject to the effective control of the Court Residence at a great distance from the property which is to be subject to his management and control while not regarded as an absolute disqualification for the office is an important circumstance to be taken into consideration Where amongst two rival claimants for appointment as guardian of a minor a property the set aside on the ground of irregularities and the District Judge was asked to reconsider the matter and the District Judge pending trial appointed the same individual Receiver under sub s (1) of s 12 of the Guardians and Wards Act although he was a resident outside the Judge's jurisdiction and no security was taken from him Held in revision that the appointment was bad and should be set aside KALI ANAND v HANMAN SINGH (1913)

17 C W N 874

15 ——— Pending proceeding for appointment of Common Manager—1 April Tenancy Act (VIII of 1915) s 33 100—Fiduciary appointment—Selection of Receiver High Court—will interfere with—Civil Procedure Code—(Act I of 1908) O XL r 1 The fact that an application for the appointment of a Common Manager of the property in suit is pending before the District Judge does not preclude the District Judge from whom the suit is referred to appointing a Receiver in a private case The Fafur Motrag and Agency Co v Elna Khatun 16 C W N 997 followed Where it was common ground that no one was in effective possession of the property and in a position to collect the rents and pay the Government revenue

RECEIVER—contd

the Court could hardly go wrong in appointing a Receiver. The trying Court's selection of a Receiver will not be set aside in appeal except in an extreme case & unless there be some overwhelming objection in point of propriety or else in some fatal objection in principle. Cooler v Cooler 11 D & G J. d. 536 followed. JIBANES & KHATUN v MAJIDUNNE SA KHATUN (1913) 17 C W N 581

10 ——— Suit by present against former Receivers—Whether maintainable. A suit was instituted by the present receivers of an estate against the former receivers (before the accounts of the latter have been passed by the Court) for the recovery of a certain sum which the plaintiffs alleged the defendants had failed to realise on behalf of the estate. Held that no such suit was maintainable. A. B. DUTT & SHAMAL DHOKE DUTT (1913) 1 L R 41 Cal 92

17 ——— Partition suit—Defendant in sole occupation though plaintiff not altogether excluded—Court if may appoint a Receiver and when—Party to a suit when may be appointed. The Court has jurisdiction to appoint a Receiver until the hearing of a partition action or until further orders even though there is no exclusive occupation by any party and the Court will not hesitate to do so whenever it is just and convenient. The case for the appointment of a Receiver is much stronger if a party to the partition action is in sole occupation. In such a case any other party may obtain a Receiver either of his share of the rents and profits or of the whole estate. The Court may also allow the party in exclusive occupation to elect to pay to the others an occupation rent or the Court may require security from the co-owner in exclusive occupation to account for their share of the rents to the other co-owners. Held that in the circumstances of the present case the second of the four alternative courses for appointment of a Receiver of the whole estate was the proper one to adopt. One of the parties to a litigation should not ordinarily be appointed a Receiver except in very exceptional circumstances. In the special circumstances of this case the defendant in possession was appointed Receiver of the whole estate subject to conditions. SURNASANNA ROY v USENDRA NARAIN POY (1913) 18 C W N 533

18 ——— Property in possession of defendant—If may be taken over—Object of appointment. Where the plaintiff sued to recover property in the possession of his adoptive mother and the suit was resisted inter alia on the ground that the defendant was entitled to retain possession of the estate for her life. Held that O XL r 1 (2) which clearly refers to a case of removal of property from the possession or custody of a person other than the parties to the suit was no bar to the appointment of a Receiver on the application of plaintiff when it was established that the estate was being grossly mismanaged by the defendant. The effect of the appointment of a Receiver would not be to prejudice the case in any way as the only object and effect of so doing would be to maintain the estate in its present condition during the pendency of the suit. SATYA NARAIN SINGH & KESHARATI KUMAR (1913) 318 C W N 537

19 ——— Suit by—Suit by one against the other if maintainable—Objection to suit when may be taken—Contempt of Court. A Receiver is an officer of the Court and the possession by him is the possession of the Court and to bring a suit so as to interfere with the possession of the Court without the leave of the Court is a contempt of Court. But if a party is guilty of contempt of Court the proper way for the Receiver to act is to bring it immediately to the notice of the Court so that proper steps may be taken against the party guilty of contempt and in a proper case the Court would grant a party leave to proceed with the suit. But it is not proper for the Receiver to wait till the day of hearing and put this objection forward as a ground for dismissing the suit. Where by consent in a partition suit two of the parties were made Receivers of different portions of the property with full powers under s 303 of Act XIV of 1882. Held that each of the Receivers had power to bring and defend suits and a suit by one against the other without leave specially obtained from Court did not amount to such a grave and serious contempt of Court by the plaintiff as to merit dismissal. Pramathanath v Khetranath 1 L P 32 Cal 270 & 9 C W N 247 referred to. SATYA KRISHNA BANNERJEE & SATYA BHUPAL BANNERJEE (1913) 18 C W N 546

RECEIVER—contd

20 ——— Partition—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XL r 1 cl (3)—Indian Trustees Act (XXV of 1886) s 8 (2) 32. In a partition suit in which a receiver is authorised to sell properties including the share of an infant as declared in the decree the Court may direct the receiver to convey the properties. Under O XL r 1 cl (d) of the Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) the Court may confer on a receiver all such powers for the realization of properties and the execution of documents as the owner has. BAIR ALI & HATIZ ALI (1913) 19 C W N 817

21 ——— Suit by for possession of immovable property. The plaintiffs were the receivers of the estate of one G who died leaving two widows A and V. On the 8th August 1906 one of the co-widows (V) brought a suit for a declaration that she was entitled to a half share in the estate of G and prayed that the properties might be partitioned and her share allotted to her. In this suit the plaintiffs were appointed receivers with all the powers provided under O XL r 1 cl (d) of the Civil Procedure Code. It was further ordered that the receivers should have power to bring and defend suits in their own name and also should have power to use the names of the plaintiff and the defendant. The plaintiffs instituted the present suit to recover possession of a certain immovable property and for a declaration that a lease dated 16th September 1906 purporting to have been executed by A by virtue of which the defendant claimed to be a permanent tenant was void and inoperative. Subsequent to the institution of the present suit an order was made in the suit in which the plaintiffs were appointed receivers that the plaintiffs as receivers be at liberty to continue the present suit. It appeared that proceedings under the Lunacy Act were instituted in November 1906 and in these proceedings the District Judge on the 24th September 1907 held that V was of unsound mind and incapable of managing her affairs. Held that ordinarily a suit to recover possession of property can only be brought by or if the writ has been issued to direct the Receiver through the Court which appointed him not to take any steps in compliance with the writ of appointment. In the latter case O XL, r 5 (3) does not apply and so security need be taken under sub cl (3) (c) MULCHAND SINGH : TARNI PRASAD

RECEIVER—contd

4 Pat L J 642

32 Dismissal of suit—Validity of Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) O XL r 1 (a)
A suit against several defendants in which a Receiver had been appointed was dismissed after a compromise with defendant No 1 had been effected. Two of the other defendants objected to the discharge of the Receiver who had been appointed to the estate of defendant No 1 and an order was passed continuing the appointment. In point of fact however a fresh Receiver was appointed. Held that the order appointing a fresh Receiver was without jurisdiction. The power conferred on the Court by O XL r 1 (a) to appoint a Receiver of any property whether before or after the decree refers only to the appointment of a Receiver in respect of the property in regard to which litigation is pending i.e. as long as the suit remains lis pendens the function of the Receiver will continue until he is discharged by the Court. Although the dismissal of a suit may in some cases mean the discharge of the Receiver still the Court has jurisdiction over the Receiver who is an officer of the Court and the Court may require him to furnish accounts to allow parties to examine accounts and to deal with all matters connected with the management of the Receiver CHANDRASHANKAR PRASAD NARAIN SINGH : BISHESWAR PRATAP NARAIN BARI
5 Pat L J 513

33 Liability to account
A Receiver is not liable to account for any period other than that for which he is appointed. An appeal does not lie from an order directing submission of accounts SAMHATTA SINGH : BHAGWARI SINGH
5 Pat L J 97

34. Whether appointment of Receiver stays execution An order appointing a Receiver does not stay execution of the decrees against the debtor so as to disentitle the decree holder for execution, the decree in any manner provided by the Civil Procedure Code even when appointed with consent of decree holder. Where a party seeks a particular relief and the matter is settled by a consent decree not giving that relief it must be presumed that such relief was refused and claimant is stopped for subsequently claiming that relief. MANABADIKHIAJI BIR RAMESHWAR SINGH BHADUR : HITENDRA SINGH
6 Pat L J 203

35 General principle summary appointment of The Code of Civil Procedure does not confer an unlimited power on the Court to appoint a Receiver. It is an Equitable Relief and should only be granted on equitable grounds. The first essential condition precedent by that the applicant must show that he has an interest in the property affected and a simple contract creditor has no such interest unless he can show he has a right to be paid out of the particular property concerned. JASBANSINGH PATEL CHAND LAL CHAUDHARI : KUMAR KALIKATAND SINGH
6 Pat L J 365

RECEIVER—contd

36 Dismissal of objection to appointment of Appeal—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) s 115 and O XL r 1 An order dismissing an objection to the appointment of a Receiver of property of which the objector is in possession falls within O XL r 1 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 and is appealable. AGABEO : MUSSAMAT SUNDARI
3 Pat L J 573

36 (a) Court's discretion to appoint
Under O 40 r 1 of the Civil Procedure Code the Court has been given precisely the same discretion in questions of appointment of a receiver that the Courts in England have. The condition in the old Code that to justify such appointment in any case it should be found necessary to preserve property from waste and alienation having been removed there has been a substantial widening of the Court's discretion. Where therefore in a suit for partition of joint family property it was proved that a co owner admittedly entitled to a half share in a considerable portion of the properties in suit was being kept out of possession by the co owner with the result that all supplies were cut off from his branch of the family. Held that although no case of waste was lit has been established against the co owner in possession the case was eminently a proper one for the appointment of a receiver. PUNJI LAM AND OTHERS : SALIGRAM
14 Q W N 243

37 Appointment of by one Court whether can be restrained by another Court Held that one subordinate Court has no power to restrain the action of another subordinate Court with co-ordinate powers. Therefore when a Subordinate Judge had appointed a Receiver it was held that it was not competent for another Subordinate Judge to restrain the Receiver from taking possession of a part of the property in respect of which the Receiver had been appointed. CHANDRURY KEDARVATH THAKUR : MAHMOOD ALI KHAN
6 Pat L J 288

38 Possession of receiver in mortgage suit for whose benefit—Receiver if can be appointed at the instance of mortgagee not entitled to possession. Possession of a receiver in a mortgage suit is prima facie for the benefit of the party who has obtained the appointment. PEKHY v TODD 26 L J (Eng) 503 followed. A second mortgagee in whose presence the order for appointment of a receiver in a mortgage suit by the first mortgagee is made is not entitled to avoid the consequences of the order of appointment because he has obtained a decree in his mortgage and has purchased the equity of redemption in execution of that decree. Whether a mortgagee is or is not entitled to possession he may invite the Court to appoint a receiver if the demands of justice require that the mortgagor should be deprived of possession. JAGGIRI Venkai v Jagajagopala Suryawar Bahadur v K. Basai Fedis (1916) 42 Ind 111 v 111. Harkett v Greene 3 Ir Ch Rep 20. Health railway v Eastern Mortgage Agency Co 13 C I J 493 and Eastern Mortgage and Agency Co v Fairbairn 1 C W 16 referred to. PAMEL WAR SINGH v CHUNNI LAL SHANA (1919) 1 L R. 47 Cal. 413

39 Suit against—Sanction of Court for institution of the suit—Is it of persons as a person—Effect of—In effect on whether admitted

RECEIVER—contd.

Sanction subsequently obtained—Illegality whether cured Where a suit is instituted against a Receiver appointed by a Court without obtaining the previous sanction of that Court the omission to obtain such sanction does not affect the jurisdiction of the Court in which the suit is laid but is an illegality which can be effectively cured by the plaintiff obtaining the sanction during the course of the litigation Banku Behari Dey v. Harendra Nath Mukerjee (1910) 15 C N 151 and Jagat Tarini Das v. Nala Gopal Chak (1907) 1 L R 34 Calc 305 followed AMRUTTI v. MANANTRAMAN (1920)

I L R 43 Mad. 793

40 ———— Rent decree obtained by after conditional order of discharge made by Court but not carried out and before the decree embodying order of discharge was signed by the Judge—Receiver if bound to disclose to Court order of discharge in such circumstances—Devolution of interest pending suit—No application for substitution—Decree passed in favour of original party if bad In a rent suit instituted by the receiver of an estate as such a decree was obtained after an order discharging the receiver on certain conditions had been made by the Court. It appeared however that on the date the rent decree was made the order of discharge had not been in fact carried out nor was the decree embodying the said order signed by the Judge who passed it. The receiver was in possession as before and he was subsequently continued as such by the order of the Appellate Court. Held that it was not established that the receiver was in fact and law discharged on the date of the rent decree nor was it proved that there was fraud such as would entitle the plaintiff to maintain a suit to have the decree set aside. That it was not shown that there was in fact and in law such a discharge as it was incumbent upon the receiver to disclose before the Court. That assuming that the receiver was discharged before the decree was passed there was only a devolution pending the suit and the decree made in favour of the receiver would not on that account be a bad decree but would ensure for the benefit of the party on whom the interest devolved such party not having applied for the carriage of the proceedings. BEHN BHAB BOSE v. MA K S BANERJEE

28 C W N 361

41 ———— Teshildar appointed by The owners of an estate brought a suit for account against a Teshildar of their estate who had been appointed by a Receiver who had been in charge of the estate under an order of Court but had since been discharged Held that a suit was not maintainable. Such a suit can be sustained only on proof of fiduciary relation between the parties. But the Receiver is not a representative of the owner, he is an officer of the Court. Hence an officer appointed by the Receiver does not stand in the same position as an officer appointed by the owner. Although a Receiver has been discharged it is still open to the party entitled to surcharge him in his accounts and obtain relief against him and a suit may be maintained against the Receiver if it is established that he has monies belonging to the estate still in his hands notwithstanding his discharge. HASINAR MOOKERJEE v. JAHARUDDIN MANDAL

28 C W N 993

RECEIVING STOLEN PROPERTYSee AUTREFOIS ACQUIT

I L R 45 Calc 727

RECIPROCAL PROMISESSee CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act I of 1908) O V L III n II

I L R 38 Mad 959

RECISSION OF CONTRACTSee LITIGATION ACT (17 of 1868) s 11 I Art 93

I L R 37 Bom 158

RECITALSee EVIDENCE I L R 35 All 194See *DEED*See HINDU LAW—ALIENATION

I L R 44 Calc 186

See LEASE

I L R 42 Bom 103

RECOGNITIONSee HINDU LAW—MARRIAGE

I L R 38 Calc 700

RE CONSTRUCTIONSee BUILDING I L R 38 Calc 84See DISTRICT MUNICIPAL ACT (Dcn III of 1901) ss 3 (7) 96

I L R 35 Bom 412

RECONVERSIONSee MAROMEDAN LAW—BIGAMY

I L R 39 Calc 409

RE CONVEYANCE]See REGISTRATION ACT (1877) s 17

14 C W N 703

I L R 38 Bom 703

RECORD

——— alteration of ———

See SARAD CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 8 Bom 639

——— procedure when lost ———

See JUDGMENT I L R 39 Mad 498 ——— unnecessary printing of ———

See COSTS L R 46 I A 299

I L R 47 Calc 415

——— Special Tribunal—Calcutta Improvement Act (Beng V of 1911) s 71 cl (c)—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) s 53—Practice The power to call for records is a power which is undoubtedly inherent in the Judge of a Land Acquisition Court and consequently in the Special Tribunal constituted under the Calcutta Improvement Act. Gopal Coomary Dassee v. Paja Sundar Narayan Deo 4 C L R 36 followed. NARESH CHANDRA BOSE v. HIRA LAL BOSE (1915) I L R 43 Calc 239

RECORDED PROPRIETORSSee ASSESSORS OF REVENUE

I L R 47 Calc. 331

RECORDED TENANTSee LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 39 Calc 903

RECORD OF RIGHTSSee MUNICIPAL TENANT ACT (VIII of 1906), ss 103B and 104H.

I L R 46 Calc. 99

RECORD OF RIGHTS—contd

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 102
 s 103 14 C W N 812
 s 111 1 Pat L J 479
 1 Pat L J 73
 See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE
 1879 = 135 I L R 45 Bom 1839

See COURT FEES ACT, 1870—
 s 7 4 Pat L J 302
 s 17 4 Pat L J 299

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898) = 195 (1) (c)
 I L R 39 Bom 310

See ENHANCEMENT OF RENTS
 R Pat L J 124

See LIMITATION 23 C J W N 883

correctness of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT— ss 5 103B I L R 45 Calc 805
 s 105 14 C W N 897
 s 106 14 C W N 884

See CENTRAL PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT— s 78 14 C W N 686

erroneous entries—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 106
 14 C W N 897

See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 37 Calc 30

effect of—

S ENHANCEMENT OF RENT
 2 Pat L J 124
 See ROAD CESS ACT 1880 s 20
 1 Pat L J 521

entry in—

See COURT FEES I L R 44 Calc 352 presumption as to correctness of entries in—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1879
 s 135 I L R 44 Bom 214

suit for alteration of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 111A
 1 Pat L J 73
 See SANAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION 1872 = 11 24 25
 6 Pat L J 373

Presumption of correctness of—Finding of lower Appellate Court as to whether presumption rebutted not liable to be disturbed in second appeal. In the record of rights the defendants were stated to be settled raiyats with liability to have their rents assessed. In a suit by the landlord for rent on declaration of title the first Court found that the suit was barred by limitation and adverse possession from an assertion of the defendant's right during the publication of the record of rights. The lower Appellate Court reversed this finding and held that the presumption as to the correctness of the record was not rebutted. Held that the lower Appellate Court was entitled on the question of fact to hold that the mere fact that this adverse claim had been made was not sufficient to show that the entry in the finally published record was wrong and this finding was not liable to be challenged in second appeal. GOUR CHANDRA CHUCKERBURY v. BIRENDRO KISHORE MANIYA (1917) { 22 C W N 449

RECORD OF RIGHTS—contd

Non agricultural lands—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 105. S 105 of the Bengal Tenancy Act has no application to non agricultural lands situated in a mofus in municipality. BIRNADAS PAL CHOWDHURY v. ALAM OSTAGAR (1918) I L R 46 Calc 441

Entry in showing land khud'asht—Suit for declaration of right of possession claiming land as khud'asht—Onus on defence to show that land not such. The plaintiff instituted a suit for declaration of his right to possession of lands which they claimed as khud'asht. The record of rights showed that the lands were khud'asht. Held that the onus was on the defendant to show that the entry was wrong. GANGADHAR PRASAD SINGH v. SHEO NAYDAN PRASAD SINGH (1918) 23 C W N 394

Suit for declaration that entry in is erroneous—Limitation. A was the sole owner of certain plots of land. His brother in law B had the lands recorded as being held in joint tenancy by himself and A. A took no step to have the erroneous entry corrected and B made no attempt to derive material benefit from it. B instituted a suit in the Small Cause Court claiming to participate in the profits of the land. Held that a suit by A within six years of the receipt of the summons in the Small Cause Court suit for a declaration that A was the sole owner of the land was within time. MOULVI ALAUDDIN v. BIRI SABUTCHISIA 1 Pat L J 557

Suit for alteration in second of two records of rights—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch. I Art. 10—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 106 and 111 A. Where there are two consecutive finally published records of rights it is competent to a party aggrieved by the second record of rights to ask for a declaration in respect of that second record of rights without displacing any prejudicial entries in the first record of rights. A person who has acquired a title by adverse possession is not bound to sue for a declaration that he has acquired such title. In the record of rights finally published in 1889 the defendants were shown as being in possession of land some of which the plaintiff had purchased from the lakhrajdar and to some of which he had acquired prescriptive title which was perfected in 1897. The plaintiff however remained in possession but did not sue for a declaration of his title. In the record of rights finally published in 1906 the defendants were again shown as being in possession of the land. On the 11th January 1907 the plaintiff instituted the present suit for a declaration that the entry in the record of rights of 1906 was incorrect. It was pleaded that the suit so far as it concerned the land purchased from the lakhrajdar not having been brought within six years of the publication of the record of rights of 1889 and so far as it concerned the remainder of the land not having been brought within six years of 1897 was barred by limitation.

RECORD OF RIGHTS—contd

tion. Held that the suit was within time. SHEKH LATAYAT HOSAIN v KUMAR GANGAKAND SINGH
8 Pat L J 361

Effect of entry in An entry in a record of right has the same effect as between landlords of neighbouring estates as between landlord and tenant and must be presumed correct until the contrary is proved. A survey is an indispensable necessity for a preparation of a record of right under s 101 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. MUSAMMAT BIBI WAKILAW v DEONANDAN PRASAD
5 Pat L J 681

Settlement of rent
 —Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) ss 105 106 113 A rectification of the record of rights under s 106 of the Bengal Tenancy Act as regards the existing cannot be said to be a settlement of rent so as to preclude a suit under s 113 of the Act ss 105 and 105A of the Act contemplate settlement of rent and not s 106. MANINDRA CHANDRA NANDIA v UPENDRA CHANDRA HAZRA
(19 0) 1 L R. 47 Calc 1006

RECORDING OFFICER

See KHOTI SETTLEMENT ACT (BOM ACT I OF 1880) - 21
1 L R. 43 Bom 469

RECOUPMENT

See LAND ACQUISITION

1 L R 47 Calc 500
1 L R 44 Calc 219

Powers under Calcutta Improvement Act (Bom V of 1911) ss 2 36 37 39 41 42 (a) 49 (1) 69 71(b) 78 81 89 123 Sch cl 13—Beltment—Effect—Lands Clauses Consolidation Act 1816 (8 & 9 Vict ss 18) ss 63 68—Land Acquisition Act (I of 1894) ss 6 9 23 (1) (4) 24 (6) 48—House and Town Planning Act 1909 (9 Edw VII c 44) s 58 (3)—Calcutta Municipal Act (Bom 111 of 1899) s 37 (2)—Bombay City Improvement Act (Bom IV of 1898) ss 25 29—Reference to Full Bench when incompetent. PER CUBIAM (CHATTERJEA J dissenting)—The Calcutta Improvement Act does authorise the Board of Trustees to acquire land compulsorily for purposes of recoupment i.e. by selling or otherwise dealing with the land under s 81 or by abandoning the land in consideration of the payment of sum under s 78. Trustees for the Improvement of Calcutta v Chandra Kanta Ghosh 1 L R 44 Calc 219 overruled in so far as it decides to the contrary. PER CHATTERJEA J—The Act does not authorise compulsory acquisition of land for the purpose of recoupment. The lands are not to be included in the scheme originally for the purpose of thereafter making profits but if they are properly included in the scheme and subsequently found not to be required the Board have the power to dispose of such lands. The question referred to the Full Bench did arise. (CHATTERJEA J contra) Prosenno Coomar Paul Cloudhry v Keylash Chandra Paul Cloudhry B L R (F B) 703 distinguished. The preamble does not control the enacting provisions of the Act. In s 40 (a) of Beng Act V of 1911 affected means affected in any way and not merely injuriously affected. The Metropolitan Board of Works v Owen McCarthy L R 11 H L 443 explained. The words by the execution of the scheme used in s 42 (a) simply mean through or owing to the execution of the scheme. Hammersmith and City Railway Co v Brand 1 R 4 H L 171 distinguished. S 78 does not apply only to land which was originally required for the execution of the scheme but was subsequently found to be unnecessary. PER TRAYNOV J—The area fixed and sanctioned as the area comprised in the scheme corresponds with the lands delineated on the plans in England. MANI LALL SINGH v TRUSTEES FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF CALCUTTA (1917)

RECOUPMENT—contd

1 L R 45 Calc 343

RECRUITMENT

See EMIGRATION 1 L R 37 Calc 27
 See UNLAWFUL RECRUITMENT

RECTIFICATION

of decree—

See MISTAKE 1 L R 43 Calc 217

of mortgage deed—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT s 31
110 C W N 36

of Instrument—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 31 34

of Registrar—

COMPANIES ACT 1882
 ss 58 AND 147 1 L R 40 Bom 134

See COMPANIES ACT (VII OF 1913)—

s 38 1 L R 41 Bom 76

See REGISTER RECTIFICATION OF

—Entry in the revenue register—Misunderstanding of an order—Over sight—Natural Justice—Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) ss 109 107 Where an entry in the revenue register was due to a misunderstanding of a certain order. Held that the cause of the error being of the same nature as oversight falling within the description of errors in s 109 of the Land Revenue Code (Bom Act V of 1879) the rectification of the register so as to bring it in accord with the order after hearing both parties was not contrary to natural justice. It was a case in which the revenue officer concerned was authorised under s 197 of the said Code to dispense with any judicial or quasi-judicial inquiry. WASUDEN MAHESWAN v GOVIND MAHADEV (1911)
1 L R 111 Bom 315

RECURRING CHARGE

See MAINTENANCE ALLOWANCE

1 L R 38 Calc 113

REDEMPTION

See BENGAL REGULATION NO XV OF 1793 1 L R. 34 ALL 261

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882—

s 13 AND 43

1 L R 33 ALL 302

s 13

1 L R 111 ALL 215

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

ss 11 AND 47 1 L R 42 Bom. 246

s 47 & XXI R. 2

1 L R 43 Bom. 240

s 140 O XXXIV R. 8.

1 L R 34 ALL 339

REDEMPTION—contd

O XXI R 53 4 Pat L J 336

D XXIV

See EQUITY OF REDEMPTION

See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) Sch

II, ART 143 I L R 66 All 195

ART 134 I L R 36 Bom 146

See LIMITATION ACT 1905—

ss b 7 AND ART 144

I L R 43 Bom 487

Sch I ARTS 140 141

I L R 40 Bom 239

ARTS 181, 182 I L R 43 Bom 689

See MORTGAGE

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

See PRACTICE

I L R 35 Bom 507

See REDEMPTION SUIT

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI of 1908)

s 17 I L R 41 Bom 510

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882—

s 60 I L R 43 All 95 and 638

I L R 45 Bom 117

ss 83 84 I L R 39 All 719

ss 91 to 96

— clog on—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s 60

I L R 45 Bom 117

— decree for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1908) O

XXIV R 8 I L R 39 All 396

— extension of time for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903—

O I R 10 O XXIV R 1

I L R 45 Bom 1009

O XXIV R 9

I L R 35 All 116

— in the Punjab—

See REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGES (PUNJAB)

ACT 1913 I L R 2 Lah 234

— mortgagee allowed interest and liable to account for mesne profits—

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS ACT 1879

s 15 I L R 44 Bom 372

— mortgagor's right to redeem when property purchased by mortgagee at Court sale and later repurchased—

See LIMITATION ACT 1903 ART 134

I L R 44 Bom 348

— parties in possession claiming independently—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903 O

XXIV R 1 I L R 44 Bom 693

— transfer by mortgagee effect of—

See LIMITATION ACT 1903 ARTS 134 AND

143 I L R 43 Bom 614

— right to—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV of 1882) s. 91

I L R 39 All 531

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 823

REDEMPTION—contd

— suit for—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE ACT 1903—ss 3 97, O XXVI R 11 12 (?)

I L R 38 Bom 392

s 11 EXPT I L R 35 Bom 50.

ss 11 47 I L R 39 Bom. 41

s 47 O XXI R 100 101

I L R 40 Mad. 984

See COMMISSIONER

I L R 41 Bom 719

See COMPROMISE I L R 42 Calc 801

See DECREE I L R 34 Bom 280

See DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS RELIEF

ACT (XVII of 1879)—

I L R 35 Bom 994

I L R 40 Bom 493

ss 2 (?) 104 I L R 33 Bom 18

ss 3 (a) 12 I L R 40 Bom 653

s 10(a) I L R 35 Bom 231

s 13 I L R 39 Bom 537

ss 13 15D 16 I L R 39 Bom 73

See MADRAS CIVIL COURTS ACT (III of 1873) s 12 13

I L R 39 Mad. 447

14 C W N 1002

See Mortgage

I L R 47 Calc 377

I L R 48 Calc 22

I L R 39 All 493

I L R 43 Bom 334

See MORTGAGOR AND MORTGAGEE

I L R 43 Bom 337

See REGULATION (XVII of 1866) s 4

I L R 40 All 237

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (I)—

ss 60 67 93 I L R 39 Mad 310

ss 60 AND 91 I L R 39 Mad. 986

Civil Procedure Code (1877) s 53—Decree for redemption reversed on appeal—Restitution—Jurisdiction of Court to which application for restitution is made to award mesne profits which are not given by Appeal s meane profits which are not given by Appeal s Court decree—Suit to redeem A mortgagor and for redemption of a usufructuary mortgage and obtained a decree from the Subordinate Judge under which on payment of the sum decreed to the mortgagee he was put in possession of the mortgaged property but the mortgagee appealed to the High Court which increased the amount payable on redemption by a sum which the mortgagor failed to pay and the mortgagee thereupon applied to the Subordinate Judge for possession and for mesne profits for the period during which he had been out of possession Held (upholding the decisions of the Courts in India) that the Subordinate Judge had power under s 53 of the Code of Civil procedure 1877 to award mesne profits although they had not been expressly given by the decree of the High Court. If the decree was wrong the parties aggrieved had their remedy either by appeal to the High Court or by an application for revision. The proceedings taken under the decree of the Subordinate Judge culminating in the sale at which the mortgagee purported to purchase the equity of redemption were valid and the appellant an assignee of the rights of the mortgagor was held not entitled to redeem. PARBHU DAYAL v MAHJUB AHMAD (1915) I L R 33 All 163

REDEMPTION—contd

Suit for—Limitation

The plaintiffs were Mitakshara sons. At a sale in execution of a decree upon four mortgages against their father the mortgagee defendants in the present suit bought the property now in suit. The plaintiffs were not parties to the suits upon the mortgages. Several years after the auction sale they instituted the present suit for an account and to redeem. Held that the first step necessary for redemption is a declaration that the sale should be set aside that the period of limitation to set aside a sale is one year and that therefore the suits were barred by Art 12 of the Limitation Act 1908. Query Whether a Mitakshara son can sue to redeem even though he has been deliberately and with notice omitted from a suit upon a mortgage made by his father. BHOLA JHA v LALA KALI PRASAD

I Pat L J 180

Payment of balance whether amounts to—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) ss 60 62 and 95—Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) § XXXIV r 5 Where there have been payments in part satisfaction of a mortgage the payment of the balance due is as much a redemption as the payment of the whole sum due in a case in which there has been no previous part payment. Redemption is effected by the releasing of the security and where the security is extinguished the property is redeemed by the act which extinguished it. § 95 of the Transfer of Property Act 1882 is not limited in its scope to cases in which delivery of possession of the property itself is rendered possible by the fact that the mortgage was an usufructuary mortgage. The section is also applicable to case of simple mortgage where the property not being in the possession of the mortgagee cannot be transferred to the party releasing the security. MUSAMMAT HIRA KUNER v PALMU SINGH

3 Pat L J 490

REDEMPTION DECREE

See MORTGAGE I L P 43 Bom 703

REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGES (PUNJAB) ACT 1913

§ 12—Mortgage redeemed on payment of amount fixed by Collector and possession given to mortgagor—Suit by mortgagee for restoration The defendant mortgagors applied under Punjab Act II of 1913 to the Collector for redemption of their land and an order was passed in their favour that possession should be given on payment of Rs 1003 0 0. Possession passed accordingly. The plaintiff mortgagee thereupon instituted the present suit for restoration of possession on the ground that a far larger sum was due under the mortgage. The first Court found that Rs 1057 6 0 was due to plaintiffs and that they were entitled to retain possession until they were given the full amount. This decision was upheld by the lower Appellate Court. The defendants appealed to the High Court. Held that the provisions of § 12 of the Redemption of Mortgages (Punjab) Act are sufficiently wide to allow a Civil Court to right any wrong done by the Collector in the summary proceedings and if necessary to restore possession of the land and that the decision of the lower Courts was consequently correct. Balwant Pat v Gheru (85 P R 1917) distinguished. Lot Chand v Ha ar Khan (98 P R 1917) not followed. HAZAM DIN v DAULAT RAM I L R 2 Lah 234

REDEMPTION OF MORTGAGES (PUNJAB)ACT 1913—contd*§ 12—contd

REDUCTION OF RENT

See BENGAL TENANCY

I L R 48 Calc 473

RE ENTRY

right of—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 38 Mad. 445

REFERENCE

See BOOKS OF REFERENCE

See COSTS

I L R 45 Bom 1286

See JURISDICTION

I L R 48 Calc 766

See PRACTICE

I L R 42 Calc 819

See ARBITRATION

to determine tenure of land—

See BOHBAIY REVENUE JURISDICTION ACT (X of 1846) § 12

I L R 45 Bom 463

Jury trials—Power of Judge to refer the case of an accused as to whom he agrees with the verdict—Legality of procedure—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898) § 307 (2)—Confessions of co accused—Corroboration—Sufficiency of circumstances raising a mere suspicion § 307 (2) of the Criminal Procedure Code contemplates a reference only in the case of those accused as to whom the Judge declines to accept the verdict of the jury. When he agrees with them in respect of any particular accused he ought to acquit or convict and sentence the latter as the case may be. Confessions of the co accused can be taken into consideration but the Court requires corroboration before acting on them. EMPEROR v BABAR ALI GAZI (1914)

I L R 42 Calc 789

REFERENCE BY COLLECTOR OF RANGOON

See APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL

I L R 40 Calc 21

REFERENCE TO ARBITRATION

See ARBITRATION

by some of the disputing parties—

See ARBITRATION I L R 37 Calc 63

Subsequent suit—No application to stay—

See ARBITRATION

I L R 47 Calc 752

REFERENCE TO FULL BENCH

See RECOGNITION

I L R 45 Calc 343

REFERENCE TO HIGH COURT

See ACQUITTAL

I L R 44 Calc 703

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V of 1898) § 435 438

I L R 41 Bom. 47

REFERENCE TO HIGH COURT—contd

See CRIMINAL TRESPASS

I L R 41 Calc 662

See VERDICT OF JURY

I L R 41 Calc 621

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS ACT (VIII OF 1897)

s 31—Youthful offender—Punishment—Powers of Courts dealing with youthful offenders s 31 of Act VIII of 1897 read with the definition of 'youthful offender' enables practically any Court in the case of an offender under fifteen to deliver him to his parents with or without sureties for his future good behaviour EMPEROR
v ABDUL AZIZ (1916) I L P 39 All 141

REFUND

See BOMBAY DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES
Act (Bom Act III of 1901) s 2 pro
(b) AND s 65 cl 4

I L R 45 Bom 64

See BOMBAY CITY IMPROVEMENT
TRUST ACT (Bom IV of 1898), s 48 (11)

I L R 42 Bom 54

See UNDUE INFLUENCE

I L R 42 Calc 286

REFUND OF COURT FEE

Appeal over valuation of—Partial decree—Memorandum of appeal over valuation of—Court fee paid in excess by inadvert-ence—Practice The appellant's agent having by inadvertence over paid court fee on the memorandum of appeal the High Court directed the Taxing Officer to issue the necessary certificate to enable the appellant to obtain a refund of the excess court fee from the Revenue authorities In the matter of Grant 14 W R 47 referred to HARINAR GURU v ANANDA MAHANTY (1912)
I L R 40 Calc 365

REFUND OF PURCHASE-MONEY

suit for—

See EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 36 All 529

See SALE IN EXECUTION OF DECREE

I L R 37 Calc 67

REFUSAL BY JUDGE

effect of—

See CROSS EXAMINATION

I L R 41 Calc 299

REFUSAL TO GRANT TIME

See ATTACHMENT I L R 40 Calc 105

REGISTER OF BIRTHS

admissibility of as evidence—

See HINDU LAW—MINOR

I L R 38 Mad 186

REGISTER OF DEATHS

Public document—
Evidence—Certified copy of entry in the Register admissibility of—Bengal Police Manual 1911 v 124—Evidence Act (I of 1872) ss 35 74 and 114
A register of deaths kept by police officers at thanas under the rules made by the Local Government, is a 'public document' within the meaning of s 74 of the Evidence Act Under the provisions of s 114 of that Act the Court is entitled to presume that an entry made in such register was properly made and a certified copy of such entry is admissible in evidence Ramalinga Reddy v Kotayya I L R 41 Mad 26 referred to TAMLUDDIN SARKAR v TAZU (1918)

REGISTER OF DEATHS—contd

I L R 46 Calc 150

REGISTER RECTIFICATION OF

See COMPANY I L R 47 Calc 901

COMPANIES ACT 1862 ss 68 AND 147

I L R 40 Bom 134

See COMPANIES ACT 1913—

s 38

I L R 41 Bom 76

See RECTIFICATION

REGISTERED AND UNREGISTERED DOCU-MENTS

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI of 1908)
s 50 I L R 30 All 91

REGISTERED BOND

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)
SOL I ARTS 116 AND 60 s 19

I L R 38 Bom 177

REGISTERED COMPANY

See COMPANY

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Calc 586

REGISTERED LEASE

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908) SOL I,
ARTS 110 116 I L R 37 Bom 656

See RAJYATI HOLDING
I L R 47 Calc 129

REGISTRATION

See DESIGN

I L R 45 Calc 806

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—

O XIII s 3 I L R 38 All 75

See COMPROMISE 3 Pat L J 43

See COMPANIES ACT ss 28 43 61
I L R 38 Bom 557

See DESIGN I L R 45 Calc 606

See EVIDENCE ACT (I of 1872) s 10
I L R 38 All 1

See LAND REGISTRATION ACT (BENGAL
ACT VII of 1876)

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 589
I L R 48 Calc 1 & 509

See OUDH ESTATES ACT 1869
I L R 42 All 422

I L R 33 All 344

See PROVIDENT INSURANCE

I L R 42 Calc 300

See RECEIPT I L R 42 Calc 546

See REGISTRATION ACT (III of 1877)

See REGISTRATION ACT XVI of 1908

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

14 C W N 65

REGISTRATION—contd

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1857—

s. 55 I L R 37 Cal 313

s. 55 I L R 37 Cal 313

s. 55 I L R 37 Cal 313

s. 55 I L R 37 Cal 313

s. 55 I L R 37 Cal 313

s. 55 I L R 37 Cal 313

See TRUSTS ACT 1850

I L R 37 Cal 313

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1857

I L R 37 Cal 313

Fraud of mortgagor unknown to mortgagee—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s. 109

I L R 42 All 176

Lessee on a monthly rent—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s. 17

I L R 37 Cal 313

Presentation by agent not duly authorised—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s. 32

I L R 37 Cal 313

Fraudulent by mortgagor—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s.

109 I L R 42 All 176

effect of—

See TRADE MARK I L R 37 Cal 204

if notice by it self—

See NOTICE 25 C W N 49

whether Court can go into the question of validity of the document—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s. 77

I L R 2 Lah 202

of receipt for purchase money—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s. 17

I L R 1 Lah 25

of transfer of shares—

See COMPANY I L R 38 All 365

presentation by agent—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 ss. 32 and

33 I L R 42 All 487

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908

I L R 3 Lah 5

Oral sale followed by Registered sale with notice—

See SALE I L R 44 Bom 586 of permanent lease granted by occupancy riyat—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1835 s. 85

25 C W N 4

suit to compel—

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—

ss. 30 and 77 I L R 38 All 315

ss. 73 and 74 I L R 34 All 165

validity of—

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 s. 28

14 C W N 532

REGISTRATION—contd

want of—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

I L R 37 Mad 460

Registration Act (III of 1857) s. 17 cl (n)—Errors ment on a mortgage bond of payment made in satisfaction of a previous mortgage debt—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1857) s. 43—Payment by a subsequent mortgagee under s. 74 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1852) effect of The endorsements on a mortgage bond of payments made in satisfaction of a mortgage which payments did not purport to extinguish the mortgage are covered by cl (n) of s. 17 of the Registration Act and as such do not require registration Jivan Ali Beg v. Daya Mal I L R 9 All 108 and Uppalalanti Kunhi Kuttu Ali Haji v. Kuranam Mithal Kottapath Abdul Pakuman I L R 19 Mad 284 followed HARI NARAYAN BANERJEE v. KUSUM KUMARI DAS (1910) I L R 37 Cal 588

Document—Variation of Terms—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s. 17 (d) A document which varies the amount to rent to be paid under an existing lease registered as required by s. 17 (d) of the Indian Registration Act as to the incidents of such payments namely the date of payment and consequences of default of payment requires registration Durga Prasad Singh v. Rajendra Narayan Bagchi I L R 37 Cal 293 approved so far as it determines that a document embodying an agreement for reduction of rent under a previously existing lease registered as required by s. 17 (d) of the Registration Act requires registration LALIT MOHAN GHOSH v. GOPALI CRICK COAL COMPANY LD (1911) I L R 39 Cal 282

Gift—Consent of donor to registration of deed of gift of immovable property not essential to validity of gift Held that it is not essential to the validity of a gift of immovable property that registration of the deed by which such gift is effected should be either at the instance of or with the consent of the donor Pamamiritha Ayyan v. Gopala Ayyan I L R 19 Mad 433 dissented from PARBATI v. BALI NATH PATHAK (1912) I L R 35 All 3

Instrument reserving at life estate to the maker not a will—Instrument creating interest in adoptive mother—Value of the interest in excess of Rs 100—Registration Any instrument which confers or reserves a life estate to the maker is not a will A deed of adoption by which an interest is reserved to the wife of the adopter in immovable property which she otherwise would not have possessed and could not have possessed when such interest exceeds in value Rs 100 requires registration PIRSAB VALAD KASINSAB v. GURAPPA BANAPPA (1913) I L R 38 Bom 227

Family settlement—Distribution of family property carried out by means of mutation proceedings—Hindu law—Joint Hindu family—Representative capacity of father The members of a Hindu family one of whom was a minor entered into a compromise concerning the partition of certain property in the course of mutation proceedings and the partition agreed to was carried into effect by these proceedings Held that inasmuch as the minor was represented by his father and there was no evidence of fraud or

REGISTRATION—contd

collusion the compromise was binding on him Held also that the compromise did not require registration Kokla v Piar Lal I L R 35 All 592 referred to DATA SHANKAR v HUK LAL (1914) I L R 37 All 105

Unregistered deed of relinquishment of real and personal estate for a joint consideration—Oral evidence of an agreement preceding the written document—Whether admissible in evidence—Indian Evidence Act I of 1872 s 91 The plaintiff appellant sued defendant respondent the widow of Basanta deceased as next heir for possession of the property left by the deceased on the grounds that she had forfeited her rights to a life estate owing to her uncharity. The defendant contended inter alia that the plaintiff had waived his claim to succeed to the property left by Basanta and in support of this plea put forward a document by which the plaintiff gave up all his rights in Basanta's property real and personal on the condition that defendant paid a sum of Rs 1000 to a goushala. The execution of this document was admitted but not its contents Held that the document was inadmissible in evidence for want of registration notwithstanding that its execution had been admitted Satyra Chunder v Dhunpal Singh I L R 24 Cal 20 and Chedimbaram Chetty v Karunalyanlanganpu Tater 3 Mal H C R 349 distinguished Held also that s 91 of the Evidence Act rendered inadmissible oral evidence to prove that there was an oral agreement of relinquishment preceding the written document Held further that as the consideration could not be apportioned between the real and personal estate relinquished by the deed the latter could not be admitted into evidence even in respect of the personal estate Bevan Felman v Ganesh Das 49 P 1916 followed. Muhammad Baksh v Mussammat Amir Begum 23 P R 1918 and Sri Parupali v Sri Raja Velraaya 17 Indian Cases 563 573 574 distinguished BISHENAR LAL v MESSAMMAT BHURI I L R 1 Lah 438

Constructive notice—Agreement between plaintiff and the defendant's vendor by which the latter restricted the ordinary user of his property—Agreement not a covenant running with land—Agreement if indexed in the register in relation to defendant's property would be notice—Injunction The plaintiff had entered into an agreement with defendant's vendor by which the latter agreed to a restriction of ordinary user of his property. This document was registered in relation to the strength of it the plaintiff sued to obtain certain reliefs by way of injunction against the defendant. Both the lower Courts decreed the plaintiff's claim on the ground that the document was registered and therefore the defendant must be presumed to have had notice of it Held that the agreement not being a covenant running with the land but being merely a restrictive covenant by which the defendant's vendor restricted the ordinary user of his property it could not be said that defendant had constructive notice unless the document was indexed in the register in relation to defendant's property Per HAZARD 1—

Registration does not necessarily give notice to anybody of anything. But if a registered document is so indexed that an inquirer anxious to ascertain whether there are documents relating to a property which he proposes to buy can find from the index documents relating to that property then it will be held that he has notice of those documents because if he made the enquiry which as a prudent man he ought to make then they would come to his notice" GORDHANDAS VITHALDAS v MOHARLAL MAYEK LAL (1920) I L R 45 Bom 10

REGISTRATION—contd

REGISTRATION ACT (VIII OF 1871)

Lease executed before reserving a yearly rent if required registration

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT
23 C W N 611

REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)

See REGISTRATION

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 41 Bom 300

effect of—

See GIFT I L R 40 Mad 204

s 3—

See HABULIYAT I L R 39 Cal 1018

ss 3 I (d) 49—

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
14 C W N 65

ss 3 17—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1889 s 315
I L R 33 Mad. 102

ss 3 and 34—Document creating right to benefit to arise out of land compulsorily registrable—Evidence such document not admissible in if unregistered—For person under an document only First defendant obtained possession of certain lands under an unregistered instrument which gave him the right to apportion future rents (over Rs 100 in value) towards an antecedent debt due to him Held that the instrument created a right to benefits to arise out of land and was compulsorily registrable under s 17 Indian Registration Act Venkaj Babaji Nayk v Shidramappa Balapa Desai I L R 19 Bom 663 followed. Misra Lal v Mohar Hukm I L R 13 Cal 262 distinguished Banahdar v Sant Lal I L R 10 All 133 distinguished. Such a document if not registered cannot be admitted in evidence. Where defendant's possession arose only out of such an unregistered document he cannot otherwise prove that he was no a trespasser MANGALASWAMI v SUBBIA PILLAI (1910) I L R 34 Mad. 64 ss 3 17 40—Contract to sell—Agreement to lease—Evidence Act s 91 An agreement to execute a sub lease and to get it registered at a future date is a lease within s 3 of the Indian Registration Act III of 1877 and is compulsorily registrable under cl (d) of s 17 such an agreement to grant a lease which requires registration affects movable property and cannot be received in evidence in a suit for specific performance of such agreement. It is immaterial whether possession has passed or not in accordance with the agreement s 49 of the Registration Act indicates that a document should not be received in evidence even where the transaction sought to be proved does not amount to a transfer of interest in immovable property but has only created an obligation to transfer the property NARAYAN CHETTY v MUTHIAH SERRAI (1910) I L R 35 Mad. 60

REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)—contd

Deed of gift in favour of a married minor girl presented for registration by her father without authority from executant—Registration of valid—Deed void Two deeds of gift executed by A in favour of his niece A who was a minor and married to his adopted son were presented for registration by A's father and registered. Held that upon A's marriage her father ceased to be her natural guardian and never having been appointed her legal guardian was not her assignee or representative within the meaning of sec 3 of the Registration Act 1877 nor was he within the meaning of sec 34 of the Act the representative agent or agent duly authorized on behalf of A. The registration of the deeds was therefore illegal invalid and void with the consequence that the deeds themselves were void and unenforceable. AMBA (alias) PADMA VATHI v. SREINIVASA KANATHI
23 C W N (P C) 369

— s 17—

See s 3 I L R 35 Mad 64
I L R 35 Mad 63

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1859 s 30
I L R 33 Mad 102

See LIMITATION ACT 1677 Sch II Arts
132 144 I L R 35 Bom 433

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 6
123 I L R 34 Bom 287

Registration—Adoption—Authority to adopt—Whether document a will A Hindu about three weeks before his death executed a document which was headed by a statement that it was a will in favour of the executant's wife by it the executant after stating that he had long been seriously ill and had no issue said I have consented to your adopting a son at your pleasure and conducting the management of the estate in the best manner. None of my heirs shall have cause to raise disputes touching this matter. This will has been executed by my consent. The document was not registered. After the executant's death his widow adopted a son to him. Held that the document was merely an authority to adopt and not a will and was therefore required to be registered by the last provision in s 17 of the Indian Registration Act 1877 [Judgment of the High Court affirmed] BREEMA DEO v. BEHARI DEO (1921)
I L R 44 Mad (P C) 733

— cl (a) (b) and (h)—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 17 except (c)—Registered conveyance—Simultaneous unregistered document to convey—An ordinary agreement to sell—Exemption from registration. The plaintiff and the defendant agreed that plaintiff should nominally sell the property in suit out and out to the defendant and thereafter attorn to him for an amount of rent which would represent reasonable interest. A conveyance to this effect was executed and duly registered. Contemporaneously the defendant executed an agreement to the plaintiff to re-convey the property for the same consideration namely Rs 1400 when called upon to do so. This agreement was not registered. The plaintiff having brought a suit against the defendant for the specific performance of the unregistered agreement to re-convey the lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that the agreement was compulsorily registrable under s 17 cl (a) and (b) of the

REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)—contd— cl (a) (b) and (h)—contd

Registration Act (III of 1877). On second appeal by the plaintiff. Held reversing the decree, that the agreement did not require registration. Separated entirely from the defendant's registered conveyance plaintiff's unregistered document was nothing more than an ordinary agreement to sell and such agreements were expressly exempted from the operation of s 17 cl (a) and (b) of the Registration Act (III of 1877) by cl (h) and of s 17 of the Registration Act (XVI of 1908) by exception (c). Having regard to the form of the document as a whole it was no more than an ordinary agreement to re-convey. SAYAD MIZ GAZI v. MIYA ALI (1914) I L R 38 Bom 703

— cl (b) (c)—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1899) s 54 I L R 37 Bom 53

— cl (b) and (d)—Lease of palmryra juice—Whether lease of immovable property. Where a document stated that the lessee had taken for lease for two years the palmryra trees in a certain garden and that he would not cut the leaves of any of the trees on which he climbed except those whose leaves had to be cut. Held that it was not a lease of immovable property and that the interest conveyed by it was not for the purposes of the Registration Act an interest in immovable property. Sukry Kurdeppa v. Goondakull Nagredda 6 Mad H O 41 and Seent Cheltiar v. Santhanathan Cheltiar I L R 20 Mad 53 explained and distinguished NATESA v. TANGAVELU (1914)
I L R 38 Mad 883

— cl (d)—

proviso—Lease not reserving a yearly rent not within the exemption. The proviso to s 17 (d) of the Registration Act will apply only in the case of leases which reserve an annual rent. A lease for a term of 3 years which reserves no annual rent but only provides for the payment of a lump sum is compulsorily registrable even when such lump sum is less than the aggregate of three annual instalments of Rs 50. VINKA TASAM CHETTY v. SUPPA PILLAI (1909)
I L R 33 Mad 216

Reservation of annual rent not necessary to bring the document within proviso to cl (d) of s 17. In order to exempt a lease from registration under the proviso to cl (d) of s 17 of the registration Act it is not necessary that an annual rent should be reserved. The proviso simply means that if an annual rent is reserved it should not exceed fifty rupees. KATASANI CHETTI v. SUPPA PILLAI (1910)
I L R 34 Mad 90

— cl (d) (h)—

See LEASE I L R 37 Calc 808
Amalgamation of must be registered when lease intended to be granted a lease in perpetuity—Agreement to lease which contemplated execution of patta and kabul yat but never theless intended passing title upon delivery of possession if a document merely creating a right to obtain a subsequent document. Where a document described the land intended to be demised and set out the boundaries thereof and proceeded to say that according to your prayer I grant this amal namah to you for erecting houses after reclaiming

REGISTRATION—contd

collusion, the compromise was binding on him. Held also that the compromise did not require registration. Kalka v Puri Lal I L R 35 All 502 referred to DAYA SHANKAR v HUR LAL (1914) I L R 37 All 105

Unregistered deed of relinquishment of real and personal estate for a joint consideration—Oral evidence of an agreement preceding the written document—Whether admissible in evidence—Indian Evidence Act, I of 1872 s 91 The plaintiff appellant sued defendant respondent the widow of Basanta deceased as next heir for possession of the property left by the deceased on the grounds that she had forfeited her rights to a life estate owing to her unchastity. The defendant contended inter alia that the plaintiff had waived his claim to succeed to the property left by Basanta and in support of this plea put forward a document by which the plaintiff gave up all his rights in Basanta's property real and personal, on the condition that defendant paid a sum of Rs 1000 to a gorshala. The execution of this document was admitted but not its contents. Held that the document was inadmissible in evidence for want of registration notwithstanding that its execution had been admitted. Satyesh Chunder v Dhunpal Singh I L R 24 Cal 20 and Chedambaraam Chetty v Karunayamlanga pulu Taver 3 Mal H C R 352 distinguished. Held also that s 91 of the Evidence Act rendered inadmissible oral evidence to prove that there was an oral agreement of relinquishment preceding the written document. Held further that as the consideration could not be apportioned between the real and personal estate relinquished by the deed the latter could not be admitted into evidence even in respect of the personal estate. Bevan Peltan v Ganesh Das 49 P 1916 followed. Muhammad Bahah v Mussammam Amir Begum 23 P R 1918 and Sri Pasupati v Sri Raja Velsa vuya 17 Indian Cases 563 573 574 distinguished. Bishneswar Lal v Mussammam Bivri I L R 1 Lah 436

Constructive notice—Agreement between plaintiff and the defendant's vendor by which the latter restricted the ordinary user of his property—Agreement not a covenant running with land—Agreement if indexed in the register in relation to defendant's property would be notice—Injunction The plaintiff had entered into an agreement with defendant's vendor by which the latter agreed to a restriction of ordinary user of his property. This document was registered and on the strength of it the plaintiff sued to obtain certain reliefs by way of injunction against the defendant. Both the lower Courts decreed the plaintiff's claim on the ground that the document was registered and therefore the defendant must be presumed to have had notice of it. Held that the agreement not being a covenant running with the land but being merely a restrictive covenant by which the defendant's vendor restricted the ordinary user of his property it could not be said that defendant had constructive notice unless the document was indexed in the register in relation to defendant's property. Per HEATON J—“Registration does not necessarily give notice to anybody of anything. But if a registered document is so indexed that an inquirer anxious to ascertain whether there are documents relating to a property which he proposes to buy can find from the index documents relating to that property, then it will be held that he has notice of those documents because if he made the enquiry which as a prudent man he ought to make then they would come to his notice.” GORDHANDAS VITHALDAS v MOHANLAL MAYEK LAL (1920) I L R 45 Bom 140

REGISTRATION—contd

REGISTRATION ACT (VIII OF 1871)

—Lease executed before resorting to yearly rent II required registration

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT
23 C W N 631

REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)

See REGISTRATION
See VENDOR AND PURCHASER
I L R 41 Bom 200

—effect of—
See CIST I L R 40 Mad 204

—s 3—
See HABITLIYAT I L R 100 Cal 1018

—ss 1 (d) 49—
See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE
14 C W N 65

—ss 3 17—
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1859 s 370
I L R 33 Mad 109

—ss 3 and 34—Document creating right to benefits to arise out of land compulsorily registrable —Evidence such document not admissible in if unregistered—Possession under such document only First defendant obtained possession of certain lands under an unregistered instrument which gave him the right to apportion future rents (over Rs 100 in value) towards an antecedent debt due to him. Held that the instrument created a right to benefits to arise out of land and was compulsorily registrable under s 17 of the Registration Act. Venkye Babayyasaik v Shrinamapa Balapa Desai I L R 19 Bom 663 followed. Misri Lal v Mo har Hussain I L R 13 Cal 26 distinguished. Banshidhar v Sint Lal I L R 10 All 133 distinguished. Such a document if not registered cannot be admitted in evidence. Where defendant's possession arose only out of such an unregistered document he cannot otherwise prove that he was not a trespasser. MANOJASWAMI v SUBBIA PILLAI (1910) I L R 34 Mad 64

—ss 3 17 40—Contract to sell—Agreement to lease—Evidence Act s 91 An agreement to execute a sub lease and to get it registered at a future date is a lease within s 3 of the Indian Registration Act III of 1877 and is compulsorily registrable under cl (d) of s 17. Such an agreement to grant a lease which requires registration affects movable property and cannot be received in evidence in a suit for specific performance of such agreement. It is immaterial whether possession has passed or not in accordance with the agreement. S 49 of the Registration Act indicates that a document should not be received in evidence even where the transaction sought to be proved does not amount to a transfer of interest in immovable property but has only created an obligation to transfer the property. NARA YAN CHETTY v NUTHAR SERAI (1910) I L R 35 Mad 100

REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)—contd

Deed of gift in favour of a married minor girl presented for registration by latter's father without authority from executant—Registration if valid—Deeds void Two deeds of gift executed by K in favour of his niece A who was a minor and married to his adopted son were presented for registration by A's father and registered. Held that upon A's marriage her father ceased to be her natural guardian and never having been appointed her legal guardian was not her assignee or representative within the meaning of sec 3 of the Registration Act 1877. Nor was he within the meaning of sec 34 of the Act the representative assign or agent duly authorized on behalf of A. The registration of the deeds was therefore illegal invalid and void with the consequence that the deeds themselves were void and unenforceable. AMBA (alias PADMA VATHI) v SRIKRISHNA KANATHI.

26 C W N (P C) 369

— s 17—

See s 3 I L R 34 Mad 64

I L R 35 Mad. 63

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1862 s 35

I L R 33 Mad 102

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 SCH II ARTS

132 144 I L R 35 Bom 433

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT s 5

123 I L R 34 Bom 287

Registration—Adoption—Authority to adopt—Whether document a will A Hindu about three weeks before his death executed a document which was headed by a statement that it was a will in favour of the executant's wife by it the executant after stating that he had long been seriously ill and had no issue said I have consented to your adopting a son at your pleasure and conducting the management of the estate in the best manner. None of my heirs shall have cause to raise disputes touching this matter. This will has been executed by my consent. The document was not registered. After the executant's death his widow adopted a son to him. Held that the document was merely an authority to adopt and not a will and was therefore required to be registered by the last provision in s 17 of the Indian Registration Act 1877. [Judgment of the High Court affirmed.] BREEMA DEO v BHARBI DEO (1921)

I L R 44 Mad (P C) 733

— cl (a) (b) and (h)—Registration Act (XVI of 1908) s 17 except (v)—Registered conveyance—Simultaneous unregistered document to reconvey—An ordinary agent in self—Exemption from registration The plaintiff and the defendant agreed that plaintiff should nominally sell the property in suit out and out to the defendant and thereafter attorn to him for an amount of rent which would represent reasonable interest. A conveyance to this effect was executed and duly registered. Contemporaneously the defendant executed an agreement to the plaintiff to reconvey the property for the same consideration namely Rs 1491 when called upon to do so. This agreement was not registered. The plaintiff having brought a suit against the defendant for the specific performance of the unregistered agreement to reconvey, the lower Courts dismissed the suit on the ground that the agreement was compulsorily registrable under s 17 cl (a) and (b) of the

REGISTRATION ACT (III OF 1877)—contd— cl (a) (b) and (h)—contd

Registration Act (III of 1877). On second appeal by the plaintiff. Held reversing the decree that the agreement did not require registration. Separated entirely from the defendant's registered conveyance plaintiff's unregistered document was nothing more than an ordinary agreement to sell and such agreements were expressly exempted from the operation of s 17 cl (a) and (b) of the Registration Act (III of 1877) by cl (h) and of s 17 of the Registration Act (XVI of 1908) by exception (v). Having regard to the form of the document as a whole it was no more than an ordinary agreement to reconvey. SAYAD MIR GAZI v MIYA ALI (1914) I L R 38 Bom 703

— cl (b) (c)—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1887) s 54 I L R 37 Bom 50

— cl (b) and (d)—Lease of palmyra juice—Whether lease of immovable property Where a document stated that the lessee had taken for lease for two years the palmyra trees in a certain garden and that he would not cut the leaves of any of the trees on which he climbed except those whose leaves had to be cut. Held that it was not a lease of immovable property and that the interest conveyed by it was not for the purposes of the Registration Act an interest in immovable property. SURIY KURDEPPA v GOONDAKULI NAGREDDI 6 Mad H O 71 and SEENI CHETIAI v SANHANATHI CHETIAI I L R 20 Mad 88 explained and distinguished NATESA v TANGAVELU (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 883

— cl (d)—

proviso—Lease not reserving a yearly rent not within the exemption The proviso to s 17 (d) of the Registration Act will apply only in the case of leases which reserve an annual rent. A lease for a term of 3 years which reserves no annual rent but only provides for the payment of a lump sum is compulsorily registrable even when such lump sum is less than the aggregate of three annual instalments of Rs 50. TANGA TARA CHETTI v SURPA PILLAI (1909)

I L R 33 Mad 218

Reservation of annual rent not necessary to bring the document within proviso to cl (d) of s 17 In order to exempt a lease from registration under the proviso to cl (d) of s 17 of the registration Act it is not necessary that an annual rent should be reserved. The proviso simply means that if an annual rent is reserved it should not exceed fifty rupees. KATASANI CHETTI v SUTPA PILLAI (1910)

I L R 34 Mad 111

— cl (d) (h)—

See LEASE I L R 37 Cal 808

Amalnamah if must be registered when lease intended to be granted a lease in perpetuity—Agreement to lease which contemplated execution of patta and kabuliyat but neverthless intended passing title upon delivery of possession if a document merely creating a right to obtain a subsequent document Where a document described the land intended to be demised and set out the boundaries thereof and proceeded to say that according to your prayer I grant this amalnamah to you for erecting houses after reclaiming

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd— c s (d) (h)—contd

the said homestead you will dwell thereon on payment of rent Rs 16 10 gds from year to year to our Sarkar you will abide the survey and settlement within a month on executing a Lahyali you will take a patta which I shall grant. Held that the document was plainly an agreement to lease and the lease being apparently a lease in perpetuity the document was compulsorily registrable. Syed Sufdar Pe a v Amad Ali I L R 7 Cal 702 followed. Duani v Nath v Lodu Suddar I L R 33 Cal 542 distinguished. That it was not a document merely creating a right to obtain a subsequent document within cl (h) of s 17 of the Registration Act as the parties intended that as soon as possession was taken under the document the title of the grantee would commence and it was not contended that the title of the grantee did not yet commence by reason of his failure to tender a kabulyat to the landlord and obtain from him a patta. Varayanan Chetty v Muthiah Srinivas I L R 35 Mad 63 Champakalakita Mitra v Dagar Chandra Pal 15 C W N 536 referred to. ELAM v HOKUM (1913), ¶ 18 C W N 38

— c s (d) (h) (i)—*Agreement to grant permanent lease of property not subject of suit embodied in petition of compromise—Agreement part of consideration of compromise—Decree passed on petition—Specific performance suit for—Admissibility of petition and decree to prove agreement—Petition of agreement for lease Per MOOKERJEE J—Although an agreement in writing which does not operate as a present demise but is only an agreement for a lease is (having regard to the extended significance of the term lease as defined in s 3 of the Registration Act) required to be registered if the term exceeds one year and the exemptions provided in c s (h) and (i) to s 17 do not apply to leases or agreements for leases s 40 of the Act does not preclude its being received as evidence of any transaction not affecting such property. Such a document can therefore be proved by the plaintiff in a suit for specific performance of the agreement to grant the lease. Kondur v Gottumukhala 17 Mad L J 218 Satyendra Nath Bose v Anil Chandra Ghosh 14 C W N 66 Sarat Chandra Ghose v Shyamchand Singh I L R 39 Cal 663 relied on. Hurnan v Jamselji I L R 9 Bom 63 and Purnanand Das v Dharsey I L R 10 Bom 101 not followed. Where in a suit for recovery of property A the parties entered into a compromise and in a petition to the Court recited the fact inter alia that plaintiff had agreed to grant a permanent lease of property B to the defendant on certain terms and the Court recorded the compromise in full and made a decree in these terms. The suit be decreed in terms of the compromise filed by both parties in a suit for specific enforcement of the agreement embodied in the compromise petition. Held per MOOKERJEE J—That the agreement for lease embodied in the petition was admissible in evidence to prove the contract to grant the lease. Per BRADCHOFF J—That the petition simply amounted to a statement to Court that the parties had come to certain terms accompanied by a prayer for a decree on those terms. It in itself was not an agreement to lease. That the promise to grant a lease of property B was part of the consideration for the agreement arrived at concerning property A and the Court in its decree was bound to record the* whole of the terms of the compromise and the decree though it was final only so far as it related to the subject matter of the suit was admissible in evidence to prove the promise to grant a lease of property B. Documents referred to in c s (e) to (n) of s 17 of the Registration Act are excepted from the provisions of c s (b) and (c) and not from those of c s (a) and (d) because those documents come within the description of documents in c s (b) and (c) and not within the description of documents in c s (a) and (d). HEMANTA KUMAR DEB v MIDYANUR ZEMINDARI CO (1914)

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd— c s (d) (h) (i)—contd

19 C W N 47

— c s (e)—Stamp Act (II of 1899)
Sch I Art 22—Trusts Act (II of 1899) s 6—

Composition deed—Compounding of debts due—Transfer of immovable property—Registration not necessary. With the consent of creditors to the extent of Rs 122,000 out of the total number of creditors claiming Rs 1,61,800 of the family firm represented by one B the latter executed a deed making over all the specified assets of the family to certain nominated trustees. The creditors coming in (by a particular day) under the deed agreed that after all the goods and the properties had been made over to the trustees no other claim whatever with regard to the amounts due to them should remain outstanding against B and the minor members of the family but the whole claim should be understood to be written off against them and B and the minors were to make use of the deed as a release passed on their behalf. The deed also provided that the trustees were to manage the properties for the benefit of the creditors interested and the monies realized from time to time were to be distributed among such creditors in proportion to their claims. The properties comprised in the deed movable as well as immovable were transferred to the trustees in due course. The deed was unregistered. Subsequently in a suit brought by the trustees to recover possession of a house comprised in the deed a question having arisen whether the deed was a composition deed. Held that the definition of the term composition deed as given in Art 22 Sch I of the Stamp Act (II of 1899) meant the same thing as the term composition deed in s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) that the term so defined covered three classes of instruments (i) an assignment for the benefit of creditors (ii) an agreement whereby payment of a composition or dividend was secured to the creditors and (iii) an indenture entered for the purpose of working the debtor's business for the benefit of his creditors that the inclusion of the term composition deed in s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) showed that it was intended to apply to a transfer of immovable property and not to a mere agreement to take fractional payment of money in settlement of claims that the test of a composition deed was that there ought to be a compounding of debts due and that such a deed fell under cl (e) of s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) and did not require registration under that Act nor under the provisions of s 5 of the Trusts Act (II of 1889). Held accordingly that the deed in question was a composition deed within the meaning of s 17 cl (e) of the Registration Act (III of 1877) and did not require registration. CHANDRASHANKAR v Bai MAHAJI (1914) I L R 33 Bom 576

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd

Agreement to hand over land in consideration of supply of funds for litigation—

See CHAMPERTY I L R 1 Lah 124

cl. (1)—

See PEX JUDICATA

I L R 36 Mad 46

CL. (1)—Document whether Will or an authority to adopt—Registration compulsory of latter The operative part of a document which the writer called a Will stated that having owing to severe illness had serious misgivings and not having been blessed with an heir apparent the writer had consented to his wife adopting a son at her pleasure and conducting the management of the estate in the best manner Held—That the document was not a Will but only a power to adopt and as such ought to have been registered as being an authority to adopt a son not conferred by a Will within the meaning of sec. 17 (1) of the Registration Act of 1877 ANANDA BRAMA DEO v KUNJA BEHARI 26 C W N 374

cl. (n)—

See MORTGAGE I L R 37 Calc 589

See RECEIPT I L R 42 Calc 546

Mortgage—Agreement

In relinquish portion of principal and all interest—Acknowledgment—Registration Held that an agreement executed by a mortgagee after the date of the mortgage whereby he relinquished a certain part of the principal and all interests past and future on the mortgage in lieu of certain services rendered by the mortgagor to the mortgagee was a document which required registration to make it admissible in evidence and it could not be said to be an acknowledgment of payment within the meaning of the exception contained in a. 17 cl. (n) of the Indian Registration Act 1877 GOBARDHAN SANKI v JADUNATH RAY (1913) I L R 35 All 202

ss 17 and 49—

See MORTGAGE I L R 48 Calc 509

ss 17 and 49—

See MORTGAGE I L R 48 Calc 1

See OUDH ESTATES ACT (I of 1869)

I L R 35 All 344

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s 54 I L R 37 Bom 53

Document compulsorily

registrable—Registration by mistake in a wrong book—Mistake not to affect parties—Document duly registered—Endorsement releasing mortgaged property for consideration in cash—Registration A release whereby a father transferred all his rights of ownership in his immovable and moveable property in favour of his son was registered not in Book No 1 but in Book No 4 that is to say not in the Book kept for the registration of documents compulsorily registrable under s 17 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) Held that the release must be considered as having been duly registered The father's property was capable of identification and the error of the registrar in registering the document in Book No 4 should not be allowed to affect the parties prejudicially Sorabji Edalji v Ishwardas Jag

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd

ss 17 and 49—contd

pirandas (1897) F J S followed An endorsement made by a mortgagee (on the back of the mortgage deed) releasing the mortgaged property in consideration of a cash payment of Rs 100 is a document which requires registration, and not being registered was not admissible in evidence either of the redemption of the property or of the real nature of the original transaction between the parties PARASHRAMPATI v RAMA (1909)

I L R 34 Bom 202

Registration—Compromise not embodied in the decree containing a contract for pre-empt on The parties to a suit filed a compromise which in addition to settling forth the rights of the parties as to the property in suit went on to provide that if either party sold his share of the property the other party should have a right to pre-empt The decree based on this compromise was silent as to the right of pre-emption Held that the compromise required registration, and not being registered could not be used to support a suit for the pre-emption. KASHI KUNJI v SUMER KUNJI (1910)

I L R 33 All 206

Evidence—Petition of compromise unregistered and not embodied in any decree of Court Held that a petition containing the terms of a compromise between parties to a Revenue Court suit which had been filed in the Court but was unregistered and had not been acted upon or embodied in the Revenue Court's decree could not in a subsequent civil suit be used as evidence of the terms of such compromise the property purporting to be dealt with thereby being above the value of Rs 100 Sadar ud-din Ahmad v Chajju I I R 31 All 13 and Kashi Kunji v Sumer Kunji I L R 32 All 206 followed

BHAGWAN SARAI v HAN CHARY (1911)

I L R 33 All 475

Petition to Revenue Court in mutation proceedings—Compromise—Family settlement A separated Hindu created two usufructuary mortgages on portions of his estate and then died leaving a widow and a daughter The widow held possession for her life time and created a third usufructuary mortgage She died Her daughter laid claim to the estate and applied for entry of her name in the revenue records M one of the reversioners contested her application urging that her father was joint with him and not separate The parties came to terms orally The daughter agreed to give up her claim M in return agreed to take the estate to pay off the mortgages and to pay a certain sum to the daughter They two then filed a joint petition in which it was stated that the parties had come to terms This statement in the petition was followed by another on behalf of the daughter that as she had given up her claim to the estate she had no objection to mutation of names being made in favour of M The Revenue Court's order was that mutation was to be made according to that compromise M to secure to the daughter the payment of the money which he had promised to pay executing bonds in favour of her sister a Hindu Janji 1911 never paid the money due thereon on the contrary he managed to get the loan in cash and kept them Some time afterwards the daughter sued to recover possession of the property

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—*contd.*ss 17 and 49—contd.

Held that in the circumstances the plaintiff was entitled to a decree conditioned on her paying the amount due on the mortgages JAGRANT v BISHESHAP DUBE (1916)

I L R 35 All 366

Agreement between first and second mortgagees of the same property in share equally money realised from their mortgages—Suit by one of them to recover money retained by the other—Agreement also affecting the mortgage property The appellants were the first mortgagees of certain immovable property and the respondents held a second mortgage of the same property and they came to an agreement that both parties should as regards rights, stand in the same position without claiming prior or subsequent rights and divide and appropriate in equal halves as per terms mentioned herein whatever amounts may be realized on the date of realization. The agreement was found to be made for valuable consideration. The appellants having realized part of the estate the respondents sued them in order to obtain their share of the proceeds to which they claimed to be entitled by virtue of the agreement. An objection was raised by the appellants that the agreement required registration and not being registered could not be used as evidence. Held on the construction of the agreement that if the whole effect of the agreement was to provide merely that the realized money was to be divided in equal shares there was nothing to require it to be registered and if on the other hand there were two distinct provisions the one relating to rights of property and the other with regard to the division of the money realized, then as the proceedings in the suit related merely to the question of the realized money the agreement need not be registered for the purpose of being given in evidence in this suit although it might require registration in a suit relating to the regulation of the rights against the estate itself. VIRAVAN CHETTI v SUBRAMANIAN CHETTI (1920)

I L R 43 Mad (P C) 660

Deed of authority to adopt executed in Niam's Dominions by a domiciled subject of that State necessity for registration of—Adoption on such authority—Right of adopted son in succession to his adoptive mother's father's properties situated in British India—Tenants in common—Adverse possession by the fear of one for more than twelve years—Art 144 of the Limitation Act (XV of 1877) The Indian Registration Act (III of 1877) does not apply to authorities to adopt executed in Native States by domiciled subjects of those States such documents are valid and are admissible in evidence in British India without registration. A person adopted in pursuance of such an authority acquires the status of an adopted son capable of inheriting the separate properties of his adoptive mother's father situated in British India. If on the death of A a Hindu who held an estate on behalf of himself and other tenants in common the estate is held exclusively by his widow or daughter as his heir claiming it as his separate property adversely to the other tenants in common for more than twelve years the rights of the latter to recover the estate as tenants in common are barred under Art 144 Limitation Act. Art 127 does not apply on the death of the widow or daughter the estate will descend to the heirs of A as his separate property VENKATAPPAYYA v VENKATA PANGA POW (1920)

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—*contd.*ss 17 and 49—contd.

I L R 43 Mad 233

ss 17 and 49 and 50—

See NOTICE

25 C W N 49

ss 17 and 87—

See WAQFAMA

I L R 43 All 609

Deed appointing mut waf's of waf's need not be registered. Personal interest of registering officer disentitles him to register and if he in good faith does so overlooking his own interest it is adopted in procedure which is condoned by s 57 of the Registration Act. MEHAMMAD PUSTAM ALI KHAN v MATUJI MATH TAQ HCSARY (1913)
25 C W N 193

s 21—Registration—How far a description of property comprised in a deed may invalidate registration. Where one of several villages comprised in a registered mortgage deed was described as being in a wrong tappa the description being notwithstanding this error sufficient for identification, it was held that the misdescription was not sufficient to invalidate the mortgage as regards the village in question. Ben Madho Singh v Jagat Singh (10 All L J 33 referred to) PARSOTAM DAS v PATESRI PARTAB NARAY SINGH (1913)
I L R 35 All 250

s 28—

See MORTGAGE

I L R 48 Cal 1

Jurisdiction of registering officer—Registration—Validity—Property actually within jurisdiction included in conveyance—Vendor found not to have title in it—Fraud not found. Where the title to the only item of property sold by a Kolala which would give the Sub Registrar jurisdiction to register it was disputed and ultimately found not to have been in the vendor. Held that this alone in the absence of fraud on the part of the vendor or the vendee or collusion between them would not render the registration of the Kolala by the Sub Registrar invalid when the property did in fact exist within his jurisdiction. Bay Nath Tewari v Shro Sahoy Bhogul (18 Cal 556 distinguished) Brojo Gopal MUKERJEE v ABHILASH CHUNDRA BISWAS (1910)
14 C W N 532

ss 28, 30 (b) 49—

Property comprised in mortgage non existence of—Onus of proof—Effect of registration by officer not having jurisdiction—Mortgagee's title of—Amendment of Schedule to mortgage deed—Property substituted not belonging to mortgagor—Fictitious entry in Schedule to get deed registered in Calcutta—Concurrent findings of fact as to mistake in entries in Schedule—No effect as to mistake in entries in Schedule. The plaintiff's (appellant) claim was based on a mortgage decree (lants) claim was based on a mortgage decree passed in a suit brought in the High Court at Calcutta on its Original Side to enforce a mortgage executed in the plaintiff's favour. The mortgage (respondents) were the mortgagor (who did not appear) and two other persons who disputed the mortgagee's title. These defendants (who had not been parties to the suit on the mortgage) alleged that the mortgage deed had not been legally registered because no portion of the property mortgaged was situated in Calcutta.

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd— ss 28, 30 (b) 49—concl'd

where the deed had been registered, and the decree had therefore been made by a Court which had no jurisdiction to entertain a suit on the mortgage and the plaintiff had no title to maintain the suit. The only portion of the property in the mortgage deed alleged in the suit on the mortgage to be situate in Calcutta was parcel No 28 in the Schedule and was described as 25 Gura Das Street but the property so described was found to be non-existent, the wrong description being said to be due to a mistake though no evidence of it was given. The Court directed an amendment and the description was altered to 25 Ashutosh Dey's Lane which was in Calcutta and was comprised within the same boundaries as the given in parcel 28 of the Schedule to the mortgage deed. In the present suit no evidence was given either by the mortgagor or the mortgagee to show that there had been any mistake in the description of the property but it was proved by the defendants that the property contained within the boundaries given in parcel 28 was property which did not belong and never had belonged to the mortgagor. Both the Courts below like the High Court in the suit on the mortgage found without any evidence that there had been a mistake in the entry of parcel 28 and held that part of the property being in Calcutta the deed had been properly registered there and that the decree in the mortgage suit had been rightly made and with jurisdiction. Held (reversing those decisions) that it was open to the defendants (not having been parties to the mortgage suit) to contest the validity of the decree and for the same reason the direction of the High Court that the entry in the Schedule should be amended did not affect them and that under the circumstances of the case the onus was on the plaintiff to show that the entry in that parcel was not a fictitious entry which onus he had not discharged. And their Lordships on the conduct of that parties and the evidence in the case held that the parcel was in fact a fictitious entry and represented no property that the mortgagor possessed or intended to mortgage or that the mortgagee intended to form part of his security. Such an entry intentionally made use of by the parties for the purpose of obtaining registration in a district where no part of the property actually charged and intended to be charged in fact existed was a fraud on the Registration law and no registration obtained by means thereof was valid. No such fictitious entry inserted to give a colourable appearance to the deed of relating to property in Calcutta when in reality such was not the case could bring the deed within the limited jurisdiction of the Court. The High Court therefore had no jurisdiction to make the decree and the deed not having been registered in accordance with the Registration Act (III of 1877) the mortgagee had no title to maintain the suit. The principle of concurrent findings of fact does not apply to a case of no evidence according to well known principles of law a decision that there is no evidence to support a finding being a question of law. Where therefore the Subordinate Judge found that the erroneous entry in the Schedule had been made by mistake and the High Court accepted that finding but there was no evidence to show that there was in fact any mistake in the matter. Held that the finding was one which could be set aside by the Judicial Committee on appeal with out departing from their practice of not interfering with concurrent findings of fact. HARENDRA LAL ROY CHOWDHURI v HARIPASI DEBI (1914)

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd— ss 28 30 (b) 49—concl'd

I L R 41 Calc 972

— ss 32—Registration—Presentation
Where the executants of a document which it is desired to register are present acquiescing in the handing over of the document to the Registrar for registration, the fact that the physical act of handing the document to the Registrar is performed by a person who is not authorised to present the document for registration will not render the presentation invalid. NATH MAL v ABDUL WAHID KHAN (1912)

I L R 34 All. 355

— ss 33 and 33—

Registration—Presentation of power of attorney for registration—Executant ill and unable to go to registration office—Executant treated as presenter—Mortgage duly registered under power so presented and authenticated. In a suit on a mortgage executed on the 30th of August 1895 a question arose whether the mortgage had been duly registered. It appeared from an endorsement by the Sub Registrar on the power of attorney under which it purported to be registered that it was brought to him on the 4th of November 1895 for registration and authentication by a servant of the executant of the power who said that the executant was ill and unable to come himself and asked that the power of attorney might be registered on the spot. As that would have been illegal the Sub Registrar on the 6th of November went to the residence of the executant and was satisfied that he was ill and unable without risk and serious inconvenience to attend at the registration office and he read the contents of the power of attorney to the executant who thereupon admitted the execution and completion of the power and asked that after registration the document should be given to the person named as the attorney in it and thereupon the Sub Registrar registered it. Held that the presentation by the servant on the 4th of November was inoperative and that the executant himself was the real presenter and was so treated by the Sub Registrar on the 6th of November. Jambu Prasad v Muhammad Aftab Ali Khan I L R 37 All 49 L P 40 I A 22 distinguished. The person named as attorney in the power presented on the 2nd of January 1896 now sued upon the mortgage of which he had obtained registration under the power of attorney. Held that the power was duly registered and authenticated in accordance with ss 32 and 33 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) and the subsequent registration of the mortgage under it by the attorney named in it was a valid registration. BHARAT KANT v HAMID ALI KHAN I L R 42 All 487

25 C W N 73

Registration—Evidence—Presumption of validity of registration—Presumption rebutted by evidence showing document to have been presented by an unauthorised person. Although when the validity of the registration of a document is in question after the lapse of a considerable period of time it is to be presumed that the registration was carried out according to law yet when there exists evidence which discloses a fatal defect in procedure as for instance that the person who presented the document for registration was not legally authorized to do so the registration must be held to be invalid. Such a defect as presentation by an unauthorized person cannot be cured by subsequent admission of execution on the part of the executants. Mohammad Ewaz v Brij Lal I L R 41 A 166 and Majid un nissa v Abdul Rahim I L R 23 All 233 referred to Wilash Begam v Faal Husain Khan 9 All L J 143, and Ram Chandra Das v Farzand Ali Khan I L R 31 All 253 distinguished. JAMBU PRASAD v MUHAMMAD AFTAB ALI KHAN (1912) I L R 34 All 331

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—*contd*ss 32 and 33—concl'd

Registration of document by person holding power of attorney. Necessity of strict compliance with the section of the statute established. JYANDRA NATH PAL v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA

25 C W N 73

ss 32 to 35—Presentation of documents for registration—Registration of document is presented by an unauthorized person not valid—Jurisdiction of Registering Officer to register document—Admission of execution by executant of deed effect of on registration—Prevention of fraud object of ss 32 to 35—Duty of Courts not to allow defect of provisions of Act ss 32 and 33 of the Registration Act (III of 1877) relating to the presentation of documents for registration are imperative and their provisions must be strictly followed and where it was proved that agents who presented deeds of mortgage for registration had not been duly authorized in the manner prescribed by the Act to present them the deeds were held not to be validly registered so as (under s 49) to affect immoveable property or to be received in evidence of any transactions affecting such property or under s 59 of the Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) to be effective as mortgages. A Registrar or Sub Registrar has no jurisdiction to register a document unless he is moved to do so by a person who has executed or claims under it or by the representative or a sign of such person or by an agent of such person representative or assign duly authorized by a power of attorney executed and authenticated in the manner prescribed by s 33 of the Act. Executants of a deed who attend a Registering Officer to admit execution of it cannot be treated for the purposes of s 32 of the Act as presenting the deed for registration. They would no doubt be assenting to the registration but that would not be sufficient to give the Registering Officer jurisdiction. One object of ss 32 to 35 Registration Act III of 1877 was to make it difficult for persons to commit frauds by means of registration under the Act and it is the duty of the Courts in India not to allow the imperative provisions of the Act to be defeated. Jehri Prasad v Baijnath I L R 23 All 707 and the principle laid down in Mujib un nissa v Abdul Rahim I L R 23 All 233 L R 28 I A 16 followed. JAMBU PRASAD v MUHAMMAD AFTAB ALI KHAN (1914) I L R 37 All 49 ss 32 60 75—Registration—Presentation on—Endorsement of registering officer—Presumption—Evidence—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 114

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—*contd*ss 32, 60 75—concl'd

A document was presented to a Sub Registrar or registration by a karnada of the person in whose favour it was executed. It was received for registration. Simultaneously with the presentation an application was made to summon the executants. They failed to appear and the Sub Registrar considering that execution was not admitted refused to register the document. The matter came up before the District Registrar by means of an application under s 73 of the Partition Act and the presence of the executants having been secured the District Registrar ordered that the document should be registered. The document was apparently then sent by the Registrar to the Sub Registrar by whom it was registered. Held that in the absence of evidence to the contrary it must be presumed that the karnada who presented the document was duly authorized in that behalf and further that even if the Registrar had in fact sent the document direct to the Sub Registrar instead of returning it to the person who had presented it for registration this act alone was not sufficient to invalidate the registration. Mohammad Ewaz v Brij Lal, L P 41 A 167 referred to Mujib un nissa v Abdul Rahim I L R 23 All 33 and Jehri Prasad v Baijnath I L R 23 All 707 distinguished. RAM CHANDRA DAS v FARZAND ALI KHAN (1912) I L R 34 All 333 s 33—Registration—Presentation of document by agent holding a power of attorney—Authentication of power. A document was presented for registration by the agent of a parda nashin lady acting under a power of attorney authorizing him generally to present documents for registration on behalf of his principal. The power of attorney was not executed in the presence of the Sub Registrar but the Sub Registrar had gone to the house of the executant questioned her and satisfied himself that the power of attorney had been voluntarily executed and had endorsed the power of attorney with a statement that he had so satisfied himself. Held that the power of attorney was properly executed and authenticated within the meaning of s 33 of the Indian Registration Act 1877 and the document presented by the executant's agent was validly presented. CHUTTAN LAL v SHAM PRASAD (1919) I L R 32 All 19

s 34—

See s 3

26 C W N 369

s 40—

See s 3

I L R 35 Mac 63

s 49—

See s 17

See s 23

I L R 41 Calc. 972

See MORTGAGE

I L R 43 Calc 1

See SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE

14 C W N 65

s 50—

See NOTICE

25 C W N 49

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (I of 1877)

s 27

I L R 38 All 184

Registration—Mortgages—Priority between registered and unregistered deeds—Property which was the subject of two unregistered.

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—contd§ 50—concl'd

mortgages of different dates was sold in execution of a decree on the latter of the two mortgages and purchased by the decree holder who afterwards sold it by an unregistered deed to Bal Kishan who in turn sold it by a registered deed without making any mention of the prior unregistered mortgage. Held that after such sale no suit would lie on the prior unregistered mortgage. Sobhag chand Gulabchand v Bhaichand I L R 6 Bom 193 Baldeo Prasad v Baldeo All Weekly Notes 1901 112 and Pam Lal v Thakur Bachcha Singh 10 A L J 114 referred to ISHRI PRASAD v Gopi NATH (1912) I L R 111 All 631

Registered document relating to land effect of as against unregistered document—Notice of title created by prior unregistered document effect of on holder of registered document—Burden of proof as to such notice—Possession of person other than vendor if sufficient notice to put purchaser on enquiry—Effect of purchase with such notice S 50 of the Indian Registration Act has no application when the person who claims title under the subsequent registered document has notice of the title created by the prior unregistered document. The burden lies upon the person who alleges such knowledge or notice to aver it in his pleadings and to establish it. If a person purchases and takes a conveyance of an estate which he knows to be in the occupation of a person other than the vendor he is bound by all the equities which the person in such possession may have in the land. MAGOO BRAHMA v HAKKRISHNA DAS (1913) 18 C W N 657

§ 60—

See s 32 I L R 111 All 253

See EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) § 70
I L R 38 All 1

§ 73—

See s 32 I L R 34 All 253

§ 77—

Suit for direction to register documents—Scope of enquiry—Issues—Execution—Compliance with requirements of law—Effect and binding nature of the documents In a suit for a decree directing the registration of certain documents the enquiry in Court is to be directed to two points only namely (a) whether the documents had been executed and (b) whether certain requirements of the law as to presentation for registration in due time to the proper office and in the manner generally prescribed by the Registration Act had been complied with by the person presenting the documents for registration. Raj Lakhs Ghosh v Debendra Chandra Moymdar I L R 24 Calc 668 Balambal Ammal v Aruna Chela Chetti I L R 13 Mad 255 Kanishka Lal v Sardar Singh I L R 12 All 284 The defendant in such a suit may possibly have good reasons why he should not be bound by the documents but the law does not allow him to advance such reasons in a suit under s 77 of the Indian Registration Act. W W BROCKE v RAJAH SHAHEB MOHAN BIKRAM SHAH (1909) 14 C W N 12

Suit for registration of a document—Limitation—Order striking off a case for compulsory registration of a document—Review—Final order refusing to register—Period of thirty days when to run from Where the plaintiff applied to the Registrar for compulsory registration of a deed of sale and the case was struck off but on the plaintiff's application for review the case was restored and the Registrar after taking evidence on both sides made his final order refusing to register the deed and the plaintiff instituted a suit in the Civil Court under s 77 of the Registration Act within 30 days from the date of this order. Held that the final order of the Registrar made after the restoration of the case was the order of refusal in respect of which the plaintiff was entitled to institute a suit in the Civil Court and the plaintiff's suit was not barred by limitation. SHEIKH SAJED v SARADA PORSAD CHAUDHURY (1913) 17 C W N 585

REGISTRATION ACT (II OF 1877)—concl'd§ 77—concl'd

Suit for registration of document—Limitation—Last day a holiday—Suit filed on re opening of Court—Stare decisis—General Clauses Act (X of 1887) § 77—General Clauses Act (I of 1897) § 10—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) § 5 Where a Registrar having refused to order the registration of a document on the 29th November the plaintiff instituted a suit for the registration of the document under s 77 Registration Act of 1877 on the 2nd January following the Court being closed on the 20th of December and the following days until it re opened on the 2nd January. Held that in view of previous decisions of the Court and of the Legislative sanction impliedly accorded to the rule there laid down by the General Clauses Acts of 1887 and 1897 the suit should be held to have been properly instituted. Mayer v Harding L R 2 Q B 410 referred to Hossein Ally v Donella, I L R 5 Calc 906 Shoshoo Bhawan v Gobinda Chandra I L R 18 Calc 231 Peary Mohun v Ananda Charan I L R 18 Calc 631 commented on Per D CHATTERJEE J—S 5 of the Limitation Act has no application to suits under s 77 of the Registration Act. AHAD BAKSH MOJLA v SHEIKH BAHAR ALI (1912) 16 C W N 721

§ 87—

See s 17 25 C W N 123

See WAQFAMA I L R 42 All 609

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)

See REGISTRATION

See CORRESPONDING SECTION OF PROVISIONAL ACT 1877 WHICH IS PRACTICALLY IDENTICAL BUT NOTE FOLLOWING DIFFERENCES—

Act III of 1877

Act XVI of 1908

2

93

3

1 (Definition of Signature and Signed omitted)

4

3 and 4 (Proviso to s. 3 added)

9

9 (Slight difference in wording)

17(b)

17 (2) (ix) [(x) (xi) are new]

22

23 (2)

23

23 and 24

24

22(1) and 24 A new

25

25

26

Omitted.

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—contdAct III of 1877Act XVI of 1908

58 (or a copy of a 58 (' or a copy sent to the certificate under the Registering Officer under Land Improvement s 89) Act 1871 sent to the Registrar ')

52(d) ' within the mean Omitted ing of the Indian Penal Code

53 Subordinate Magis Magistrate of the trate of the first second class class

53 Paragraphs 3 and 4 Omitted

54 A Registrar shall but Omitted a sub registrar shall not be deemed a court within the meaning of ss. 435 and 436 of the Criminal Procedure

Code s 90

59 Amplified owing to enactments later than 1877

52 ' British Burma Lower Burma

*Mortgage bond—Interpolation by mortgagor—Adding another item belonging to mortgagor for convenience of registration—Registration Fraud on registration law—Document, whether properly executed attested and registered A document mortgaging only one item of property was duly executed and attested and another item of his property was interpolated by the mortgagor with the knowledge and consent of the mortgagee in the presence of the same attesting witnesses The mortgagor registered the deed in the Sub Registrar's office within whose jurisdiction the latter item was situated It appeared that the object of adding the second item was not so much to give an additional security to the mortgagee as to enable the mortgagor to get the document registered near the place where he was living and thus prevent delay in registering the deed Held that there had been no fraud on the registration law and that the document was duly executed attested and registered with regard to both items of property Harendra Lal Roy Chowdhury v Haridas Deb (1914) I L R 41 Cal 972 (P C) distinguished KUNJI SANKARAN NAMBIAR v NARAYANAN PERUMPU (1920) I L R 42 Mad 405*

s 2 (7)—

See KABILYAT I L R 39 Cal 1016

■ ■ ■ 17 49—Admissibility of an unregistered lease—Lease and agreement to lease—Indian Registration Act (XVI of 1908) secs 2 3 17 49—Agreement followed by possession effect of—Doctrine of part performance if applicable—Statute of Frauds—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 107—Suit for specific performance—Estoppel against a statute if available An agreement to lease intended to operate as a present demise is a lease within the meaning of cl (d) of sec 17 of the Registration Act 1908 and as such is inadmissible in evidence in a suit for specific performance of its terms under sec 49 of the Act if it is not registered even though the tenant is in possession under the said agreement Cases of part performance under sec 4 of the Statute of Frauds have no application to those arising under sec 49 of the Registration Act 1908 as the positions under the two Acts are

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—contd

ss 2 3 17, 49—contd

quite different SANJIB CHANDRA SANYAL v SANTOSH K. LAMBI 20 C W N 399

■ 2 and 17—Lease—Agreement to lease—Instrument not registered—Admissibility of instrument in evidence—Suit by leasee to eject leasee—Leasee setting up counter-claim for specific performance of agreement to lease or for damages for its breach by lessor An agreement to lease which does not operate as an immediate demise of the property does not fall within the definition of lease contained in s 2 of the Registration Act (XVI of 1908) and is admissible in evidence without registration. The question whether an agreement to lease operates as an immediate demise should be determined on the facts of each case Hemanta Kumari Deb v Midnapur Zamindari Company (1920) I L R 47 Cal 485 (P C) s c L R 46 I A 240 (1) followed, Narayanan Chetty v Muthiah Serrao (1912) I L R 35 Mad 63 (F B), not followed. SWAMINATHA MUDALIAR v RAMASWAMI MUDALIAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 399

Bainapatra if it is an agreement to lease and whether requires registration when it does not effect a present demise An unregistered bainapatra for grant of a putni lease acknowledged receipt of part of the consideration money and contained a promise to grant a putni lease again (with effect) from the date of the bainapatra and to exchange pattah and kabulyat before the 30th Aghran Held—That the bainapatra did not effect a present demise and should be regarded as an agreement creating a right to obtain a putni lease on the performance of certain conditions on or before the 30th Aghran The document was not an agreement to lease and therefore did not require registration and so was admissible in evidence Kanti Hemanta Kumari Deb v The Midnapur Zamindari Co Ltd 4 C W N 177 (P C) (1919) and Panchanan Bose v Chandu Charan Mitter I L R 37 Cal 803 s c 14 C W N 974 (1910) referred to Per Curiam On the whole we come to the conclusion that the document in question does not effect a present demise and should be regarded as an agreement creating in the Plaintiff a right to obtain in putni lease on performance of certain conditions on or before the 30th Aghran 1318 HARI NATH BANDOPADHYAYA v PRONOTHO NATH ROY CHAUDHURI 25 C W N 550

ss 17 49—

See AGREEMENT TO LEASE I L R 47 Cal 485

■ 17—

See s 17

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (1808) O XXIII R 3 I L R 38 All 75

See COMPROMISE 3 Pat L J 43 & 255 I L R 42 Cal 861

See HINDU LAW—PARTITION I L R 48 Cal 1059

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW I L R 38 Bom 224

See MORTGAGE I L R 43 Mad 809

See REGISTRATION

—Agreement to retransfer—Agreement to re transfer property sold on repayment of price

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—contd

with interest if must be registered. Where contemporaneously with a registered deed of sale a document was executed whereby the transferee agreed to retransfer the property to the transferor upon payment by the latter of the sale price with interest within a specified period. Held that the document was not a reconveyance and did not require registration. DWARAK NATH SEN v KESSORY LALL GOSWAMI (1910)

14 C W N 703

—Memorandum of arrangement between lessor and lessee—if must be stamped and registered. A document dated the 8th March 1885 which did not demise any property and was neither a lease nor an agreement to lease but was and purported to be a memorandum of an arrangement which had been made with the grantees by the agent of the lessors on their behalf and under which the grantees had taken possession with effect from 12th April 1884 was admissible in evidence although neither stamped nor registered. KATAYANI DEBI v PORT CANNING AND LAND IMPROVEMENT CO (1914) 10 C W N 56

—Rajinama and Kabulyat—Mortgage of lands in an Inam village—Mortgagor passing a Rajinama in favour of a third person—Kabulyat by the person to the Inamdar—Transfer of Khata in Inamdar's books—Extinction of the equity of redemption. One A holder of lands in an Inam village mortgaged the lands with one P (father of defendants Nos 2 and 3) in 1871. In 1875 A passed a Rajinama in favour of one J and gave notice to the Inamdar to transfer his khata in the Inamdar's books to the name of J. J on the same day passed a Kabulyat to the Inamdar agreeing to pay assessment due to Government. J in turn had the khata transferred to one B who in 1878 executed a Rajinama in favour of defendant No 2. In 1913 plaintiffs as the heirs of A sued to redeem the property. The defendants Nos 2 and 3 contended that they had become owners of the lands. The Subordinate Judge dismissed the suit holding that A transferred his interest in the lands by the Rajinama in 1875 and therefore the plaintiffs had no interest in the lands as owners. The Assistant Judge in appeal reversed the decree and allowed redemption on the ground that the Rajinama by A could not be proved in Court as it required registration. On appeal to the High Court. Held that the plaintiffs' suit to redeem must fail as the Rajinamas and Kabulyats although not registered were good evidence of the transfer having taken place since they were documents between the occupants and his superior holder and not documents between the transferor and the transferee they recited the transfer which had taken place presumably for consideration but they themselves did not purport to operate as transferring any interest to another. Held further that even assuming that they fell within the terms of s 17 of the Indian Registration Act 1908 as operating to extinguish an interest in immovable property it was not shown that they required registration the interest extinguished by them being of a value less than Rs 100. Held also that at the time these transactions took place from 1875 to 1878 it was not necessary according to the law that there should be any document evidencing the transfer but payment of price and delivery of possession completed the transaction. INAM VALAD IBRAHIM v BHAIU APPAJI (1917) I L R 41 Bom 510

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—contd

—Agreement by reversioners to forego right to sue for declaration respecting an alienation by the Hindu widow—Held that an agreement by which the reversioners to certain property in the possession of a Hindu widow agreed not to enforce their rights to sue for a declaration that a gift of such property made by the widow was not binding upon them was not a document which was compulsorily registrable under s 17 of the Indian Registration Act 1908. BIHVA v GUMAN SINGH (1918)

I L R 40 All 384

—Sub s (1) (b)—
See COMPROMISE

3 Pat L J 43

—sub s (1) (d)—Lease of land dar salme mate—Lease exceeding one year—Registration compulsory. It was provided by a lease as follows: We have taken these three fields for cultivation from you yearly (dar salme mate) on condition that we are to pay the assessment. We shall go on paying the assessment to Government so long as you give us the fields for cultivation. If we say anything false or unfair or if you come to hear of any fraud or deceit on our part or if we practise such fraud or deceit we will restore possession of the fields to you as soon as you ask us to do so. Held on a construction of the lease that the words dar salme mate (year to year) taken in connection with the total absence of any date for the expiry of the tenancy suggested that the parties contemplated that the lease should operate for a period exceeding one year and that therefore it was compulsorily registrable under the provisions of s 17, sub s 1 (d) of the Indian Registration Act (XVI of 1908). DHURADHAI v BHULDAS v MOHANLAL MAGANLAL (1917) I L R 41 Bom 458

—Lease on a monthly rent—tenant liable to ejectment on a default in payment of rent—whether compulsorily registrable. The plaintiff sued for Rs 18 on account of the rent of a hut and for its possession under a lease entered in his book which was to the effect that plaintiff had let a hut to the defendant who was to pay 8 annas per mensem by way of rent and in the event of a default in payment of the rent the tenant was liable to be ejected. The question before the High Court was whether the lease could be regarded as a lease for a term exceeding one year and therefore required registration. Held that section 17 of the Registration Act being a disabling section must be strictly construed and that unless a document is clearly brought within the purview of that section its non registration is no bar to its being admitted in evidence. Held further that the lease was not one for a period exceeding one year within the meaning of section 17 (1) (d). ATTRA v MANOJ SINGH (1917) I L R 2 Lah 300

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 ss 147A and 29

4 Pat. L J 667

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R. 23 Bom. 225

—sub-s 1 (b) and (c)—Sale-deed—Receipt for consideration of sale—Proof of payment—Alivande—Single Bench rulings as precedents. Held following Ram Chand v Chaita Singh 13 P L R 1910 that a receipt for the balance of purchase money on an oral sale of land said to have taken place previously is not a sale deed but is registrable under s 17 (c) of the Registration Act as a receipt. Held also that although an unregistered receipt is not admissible in evidence the payment may be proved alunde. Held further that Single Bench rulings of this Court if not dissented from or overruled are as much binding upon the Subordinate Courts of the Province as the decisions of Division Benches. SHER KHAN v MUZAFFAR KHAN

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd.*subs s 1 (b) and (c)—concl'd

I L R 1 Lah 25

See COMPROMISE

3 Pat L J 255

— sub s (2) (v)—COMPROMISE—Adjustment of decree—Civil Procedure Code (V of 1908) Order XXI r 2—Whether exempted from registration A compromise made after decree affecting any immovable property of the value of over Rs 100 and embodied in a petition presented under O XXI r 2 Civil Procedure Code which has been recorded by the Court is exempt from registration. Hemanta Kumari Devi v Midnapur Zamindari Company (1919) 46 I A 240 followed. Chelamanna v Rama Rao (1913) I L R 36 Mad 46 and Raja Venkatappa Nayanam Varu v Raja Thimma Nayanam Varu (1914) 27 M L J 656 overruled. POORVANATH AYEISA v KUNDON CHOKEN (1920) I L R 43 Mad (FB) 688

See REGISTRATION ACT 1877 s 17

I L R 38 Bom 703

— sub s 2 (xi)—Mortgage—Receipt for mortgage money—Registration A receipt for money due upon a mortgage was given in the following terms—The bond is returned No money remains due. Held on suit for recovery of the mortgage debt that the receipt did not require to be registered and that the words no money remains due did not purport to extinguish the mortgage. PIARI LAL v MAKHAN

I L R 34 All 528

— ss 17 and 49—

See AGREEMENT TO LEASE

I L R 47 Cal 485

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY PROPERTY

26 C W N 201

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882

s 4 I L R 44 Mad 55

—Registration—Petitions to

Revenue Courts in Mutation Proceedings—Compromise—Family Settlement A separate Hindu created two usufructuary mortgages on portions of his estate and then died leaving a widow and a daughter. The widow held possession for her life time and created a third usufructuary mortgage. She died. Her daughter laid claim to the estate and applied for entry of her name in the revenue records. M one of the reversioners contested her application urging that her father was joint with him and not separate. The parties came to terms orally. The daughter agreed to give up her claim. M in return agreed to take the estate to pay off the mortgages and to pay a certain sum to the daughter. They two then filed a joint petition in which it was stated that the parties had come to terms. This statement in the petition was followed by another on behalf of the daughter that as she had given up her claim to the estate she had no objection to mutation of names being made in favour of M. The Revenue Court's order was that mutation was to be made according to that compromise. M to secure to the daughter of payment of the money which he had promised to pay executed two bonds in favour of her sister's husband but he never had the money due thereon on the contrary he managed to get the bonds back and kept them. Some time afterwards the daughter sued to recover possession of the property in dispute. Held that in the circumstances the plaintiff was entitled to a decree conditioned on her paying the amount due on the mortgages. JAGANNI v BISHESHAR DUBE I L R 38 All 868

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd.*ss 17 and 49—cont'd

Act No IV of 1880

(Transfer of Property Act) s 9—Registration—Petition to Court in mutation proceedings—Compromise—Family settlement The parties to certain mutation proceedings were six nephews of the deceased owner three being sons of one brother two of another and one of a third. In the course of the mutation proceedings the parties came to an agreement amongst themselves as to the partition not only of the zamindari property but of certain house property owned by the proposer and also as to the payment of his debts. As to the house property the agreement was put into writing and registered and the parties took possession of the house property in accordance therewith. Some of them also paid certain of the debts due from the deceased in accordance with the agreement. As regards the zamindari property the parties filed in court a petition in which they recited that they had arrived at a settlement of the matters in dispute between them and what that settlement was and they prayed that mutation might be ordered in accordance therewith. The settlement was based on the supposition that according to the custom of the tribe to which the parties belonged the nephews were entitled to the property per stripes. Subsequently however the three sons of one brother of the proposer brought a suit claiming one half of the property as against the other three. The suit was dismissed by the trial court but on appeal the lower appellate court remanded the case for trial on the merits holding that the compromise filed in the mutation proceedings was invalid for want of registration. Held by KANEHAIYA LAL, J. (Pigott J. dubitante) that in the circumstances of the case the petition filed in the mutation proceedings was not a document which required registration. But in any case the petition might be treated together with the registered agreement as to the house property and with the fact that some of the debts of the deceased had been paid apparently in pursuance of an agreement between the parties as evidence of an antecedent family settlement of disputed claims which if fairly arrived at without fraud or concealment would be binding on the parties and could not be re-opened especially if it had been acted upon. BALDEO SINGH v UDAL SINGH I L R 33 All 1

—The parties to a suit filed a compromise which in addition to settling forth the rights of the parties to the property in suit went on to provide that if either party sold his share the other would have the right to preempt. The decree based on the compromise was silent on the point. Held that the compromise required registration and therefore could not be void. KANAK KUMBI v SUMER KUMBI.

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd*ss. 17 and 49—contd

I L R 32 All 206

Partition—Unregistered receipt acknowledging acceptance of shares Plaintiff claimed to be entitled to certain property alleging that the same was allotted to his share on a partition between himself and his brothers. For the purpose of proving the alleged partition plaintiff relied on unregistered receipts signed by his brothers in which they acknowledged having accepted certain portions of the family property. Held that the receipts required registration and were therefore inadmissible as evidence. NIL KANTH BHENJI v HANMANT EKANTH (19 0)

I L R 44 Bom 881

Document compulsorily registrable—Assignment of decree for sale of immovable property Held that a deed of assignment of a final decree for the sale of mortgaged property under O XXXIV r 5 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 is not a document which is compulsorily registrable under the provisions of s 17 (b) of the Indian Registration Act 1908. Gopal Narayan v Trimbal Sadashit I L R 1 Bom 267 and Mufasaddi Lal v Muhammad Hanif 10 All L J 267 distinguished. Abdul Majid v Muhammad Fazlullah I L R 13 All 59 and Bairi Nath Lohia v Binoyendra Nath Palit 6 C W N 5 followed. MUMTAZ AHMAD v SRI PAM (1913)

I L R 35 All 524

Lease—Agreement to lease—Property demised in process of construction—Demise from a future date—Document evidencing demise from a future date need not be registered—Offer and acceptance—Specific performance—Optional clause for removal inserted in a letter of acceptance—Optional clause not binding on the lessor unless accepted by him—Power of an estate manager to bind the owner In December 1914 the Presidency Post Master was looking for premises for a new Post Office for the Maid branch and gave the defendant who was then erecting a building particulars as to the nature and extent of the accommodation required. On 1st February 1915 the defendant wrote a letter to the Presidency Post Master saying that he shall let on a lease for ten years a portion of the building at Rs 175 a month the defendant making necessary arrangements for the Post Office and keeping the premises ready for occupation by the 1st of April 1916. On the 13th February 1915 the Presidency Post Master replied that he accepted the proposal adding that the Post Master General had desired him to insert an optional clause i.e. giving the Post Office the option to renew the lease for another five years. Nothing was said by the defendant with regard to this optional clause but on the 16th February 1915 the defendant's estate manager merely wrote to the Presidency Post Master that he was making the necessary arrangements. On 1st April 1916 the Presidency Post Master went into occupation of the defendant's premises though the necessary arrangements were not completed till the following month. The Presidency Post Master paid rent at the rate of Rs 175 a month but no steps were taken towards getting a proper lease executed until September

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd*ss 17 and 49—contd

1917 when the Presidency Post Master was given notice to quit. Thereupon the Secretary of State for India sued the defendant for specific performance of the agreement of February 1915 by calling upon the defendant to execute a proper lease such lease to contain the optional clause for renewal of the lease. The defendant contended inter alia that there was no concluded agreement between the parties that he had not accorded his assent to the optional clause to renew the lease and that if his letter of 1st February 1915 and the reply thereto be held to constitute an offer and acceptance of the proposal the same were inadmissible in evidence for want of registration. The trial Court decreed the plaintiff's suit. The defendant appealed—Held (1) that the defendant's letter of the 1st February 1915 and the reply of the Presidency Post Master constituted an offer and acceptance of the proposal and specific performance of that agreement should be decreed (2) that the said letter and reply were admissible in evidence though unregistered as they did not constitute a present demise (3) that the optional clause in the reply of the Presidency Post Master was a counter offer to the defendant and as the same was not accepted by that defendant the plaintiff was not entitled to have the clause inserted in the lease (4) that the estate manager of the defendant had no power to accept the counter offer nor was his letter of the 16th February 1915 an acceptance of such counter offer. Hemenia Kumari Devi v Midnapur Zamindari Company (1919) L R 46 I A 240, referred to. SIR MAHOMED YOUSUF v THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1920) I L R 45 Bom 8

ss 17 50—

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (IV OF 1882) s 54 I L R 41 Bom 550

ss 17 80—

See LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V OF 1879) s 74 I L R 41 Bom 170

Registration—Transfer of Property Act (IV of 1882) s 107—Crown Grants Act (XV of 1893) ss 2 and 3—Lease—Lease of Government land by commissioners of a notified area The commissioners of a notified area let certain plots of land which were the property of the Government and had been handed over to them for administrative purposes. The leases ran in the name of the Secretary of State for India and provided that the lessees were to remain in possession for 30 years so long as they fulfilled certain conditions and the lessor had a right of re-entry only on breach of certain conditions. Held that such leases were compulsorily registrable and could not be considered as falling within the view of s 90 (d) of the Indian Registration Act 1908 nor were they excluded from s 107 of the Transfer of Property Act by the operation of the Crown Grants Act 1893. Dost Muhammad Khan v The Bank of Upper India 3 All L J 122 628 referred to. MUKSHI LAL v THE NOTIFIED AREA OF BAROUT (1914) I L R 28 All 176

s 23—

See MORTGAGE 18 C W N 55

s 23—

See REGISTRATION LAW—FRANKS
I L R 43 All 55

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd*s 28—contd

Registration in district where small portion of property situated—Transfer or not entitled to such property—Whether registration is valid Where there is any fraud or collusion between the parties for the purpose of giving jurisdiction to a particular Sub Registrar to register a document by including property which does not exist this is sufficient to invalidate the registration but registration is not invalid if the property described exists merely because it transpires that the transferor though acting in a perfectly bona fide manner has ceased to have an interest in that property Where property which formed the subject matter of a document registered in Benares was stated partly in Benares and partly elsewhere and it transpired that the transferor had no title to the property situated in Benares Held that the registration was valid MUSAMMAT RAM DAT V RAM CHANDARPALI DEBI

4 Pat L J 433

Place of registration—

Sale deed—Deed fraudulently registered in a district where none of the property in respect of which it might have been operative was situated In order to prevent certain persons interested in the bulk of the property which purported to be sold and which was in the district of Pilibhit becoming aware of the existence of a sale deed the vendor included in the deed a small piece of property situated in the city of Bareilly which in fact did not belong to him and had the sale deed registered in Bareilly Held that this transaction was merely a fraudulent evasion of the Registration law and that the sale deed conveyed no title to the purchasers in respect of any of the property comprised in it Harendra Lal Roy Chowdhuri v Harida Deb I L R 41 Cal 872 Jagannath v Ram Nath 12 All L J 913 Bansraj Singh v Rajbans Bhanthi 12 All L J 918 and Purna Chandra Bakshi v Nabin Chandra Gangapadhyaya 8 C W A 362 referred to MANGALI LAL V ABID YAR KHAN (1917)

I L R 39 All 523

Place of registration—

Security bond—Bond fraudulently registered in a district where none of the property in respect of which it might have been operative was situated In a bond hypothecating as security for the due fulfilment of the terms of a mortgage certain immovable property a small piece of land was inserted which did not belong to the obligor and was mentioned only for the purpose of getting the security bond registered in a particular registration subdivision Held that registration so effected was a fraud on the Registration law and the bond must be treated as unregistered Mangali Lal v Abid Yar Khan I L R 39 All 523 followed Harendra Lal Roy Chowdhuri v Haridas Deb I L R 41 Cal 972 referred to RAM LAL V TAMEER BANO (1919)

Registration—Mortgage registered in a particular place by virtue of inclusion therein of property to which the mortgagor had no title—Fraud or collusion not proved Where property is admitted to be in existence and has been included in a mortgage deed but is shown not to have been the property of the mortgagor the mere fact that the document has been registered in the district to which that property belongs is not sufficient in the absence of evidence of fraud or collusion between the mortgagor and the mortgagee to invalidate the registration when that property is the only property hypothecated within the registration district Brojogopal Mukerjee v Abhilash Chandra Bera 14 C W N 559 followed Harendra Lal Roy Chowdhuri v Haridas Deb I L R 41 Cal 792 distinguished PAHLADI LAL V MUSAMMAT LABITI (1918)

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd*s 28—contd

I L R 41 All 22

ss 31 32 52 57—Registration—Presentation—Presentation by a person not an authorized agent of the executant—Procedure—Invalid presentation not a mere question of procedure Where a document is presented for registration by a person not duly authorized to present it according to the law applicable to registration of documents such presentation is altogether invalid and its subsequent registration made upon the admission of the executant before an officer who had no jurisdiction to accept the document for registration is likewise invalid Mujib un nissa v Abdur Rahim I L R 23 All 233 followed KHALIL UD DIN AHMAD V BANKEE BIBI (1912)

I L R 35 All 34

s 32—

Presentation—Presentation by a servant of the mortgagor in the presence of the mortgagor Where a mortgage deed was handed over to the sub registrar for the purpose of registration by a person other than the mortgagor but the mortgagor was present assenting to the registration of the document with full knowledge of what was being done in the office of the sub registrar Held that the presentation was a valid presentation within the meaning of s 32 of the Registration Act Nath Mal v Abdul Wahid Khan I L R 34 All 355 followed Mujib un nissa v Abdur Rahim I L R 23 All 233 distinguished Jambu Prasad v Altab Ali Khan I L R 34 All 331 not followed KANTA KISAN V HARNAM CHAND (1912)

I L R 35 All 2

Registration—Presentation—Physical delivery of document by person not authorized to present it but executant present and assenting whilst registration was going on Where it is shown that prior to the registration of the document by the duly authorized official a person competent to present before that official for registration was present before that official assenting to the registration the requirements of the Registration Act are sufficiently complied with Mujib un nissa v Abdur Rahim I L R 23 All 233 and Kanta Kishan v Har Narain I L R 35 All 72 referred to ATMA RAM V UGRA SEN (1912)

I L R 35 All 134

ss 32 33 71 73 75 77 88—Mortgage deed—Registration—Presentation—Authority to present document for registration on behalf of executant—Distinction between presentation under part VI and under part XII of the Act A mortgage deed was executed on the 20th of November 1911 Before however the deed could be registered the mortgagor fell ill On the 3rd of February 1912 the mortgagee executed in favour of a pleader a power of attorney of the kind referred to in s 32 of the Indian Registration Act 1908 This was duly authenticated by the sub registrar and the document was presented for registration by the appointee on the 6th of February 1912

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contdss 32, 33 71, 73 75, 87 89—*concl'd

On the 8th of February the mortgagee died. The mortgagor failed to appear before the sub registrar and admit execution and the sub registrar refused to register the deed. An application was next presented to the Registrar under s. 73 of the Act by the widow of the mortgagee in the capacity of the guardian of the mortgagee's two minor sons and on the 23rd of June, 1911, the Registrar made an order under s. 75 (1) of the Act directing that the mortgage deed should be registered. Meanwhile the estate of the minors had been taken under the superintendence of the Court of Wards and the Collector as Manager on behalf of the Court of Wards on the 23rd of July 1912 sent the mortgage deed by a messenger to the sub registrar with a copy of the Registrar's order mentioned above and an official letter requesting that the document might be registered which was accordingly done. On suit having been brought on the mortgage some of the defendants raised an objection that the mortgage deed in suit was not validly registered. Held that the document was properly registered. No valid objection could be sustained as to its presentation, either on the 6th of February 1912 when it was presented by the pleader acting under his power of attorney given by the mortgagee or on the 23rd of July 1912 when it was sent by the Collector to the sub registrar. The Collector was not bound to present the document in person and that being so it was immaterial what means he took to bring it before the sub registrar. That officer was perfectly justified in presuming the authenticity of the Collector's official letter and in taking action accordingly. COLLECTOR OF MORADABAD v MAQ. BUL-UL RAHMAN (1918) I L R 40 All 434 ss 32, 35 49 and 60—Presentment of document for registration by a person not properly authorized: 1—Limitation—Declaratory suit in respect of a gift of land and houses—Indian Limitation Act IX of 1908 articles 100 and 105 On 14th June 1904 the widow of A K executed a gift by which she gave 2 498 bighas and 10 biswas of land and a house belonging to her deceased husband to H N one of her 2 daughters. On the 30th January 1905 A B plaintiff the other daughter executed a deed of release in which she consented to the gift and gave up her rights to the property gifted. Notwithstanding this she brought the present suit for a declaration that the gift should not affect her reversionary rights. The first Court gave her a decree as regards both the land and the house. The Lower Appellate Court upheld the decree in regard to the land but held that the suit was barred by time as regards the house. Both parties appealed to the High Court. It was contended by the plaintiff that though the deed of release was a registered one it was inadmissible in evidence owing to defects in registration as the person presenting it on behalf of the plaintiff had no power of attorney. Held following Jambu Prasad v Muhammad Aftab Ali [I L R 37 All 49 (P C)] that sections 32 and 33 of the Registration Act relating to the presentation of documents for registration are imperative and their provisions must be strictly followed and therefore if the Agent who presented deed for registration had not been duly authorized in the manner prescribed by the Act the deed would not be validly registered so as (under sec tion 49) to affect immovable property or to be received in evidence of any transactions affecting such property. One object of sections 32 to 33 of the Registration Act is to make it difficult for persons to commit fraud by means of registration under the Act, and it is the duty of the Courts not to allow the imperative provisions of the Act to be defeated. Held further that the presumption is that the owner of a house is owner of the site also and therefore article 125 of the Limitation Act applies to this suit in regard to the house (included in the gift) as well as to the land. Dev Raj v Shiv Ram (70 P R 1914) distinguished. Soman Singh v Ullam Chand [I L R 1 Lahore 69] referred to. Pulla Ram v Sher Singh (5 Indian Cases 849) followed. MUSSANMAT AMIR BROWN v MUST HUSSAIN BIBI L R 2 Lah 5

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contdss 32, 35 49 and 60—*concl'd

s 35—Registration of deed of gift—Death of donor—Execution admitted by donee—Registration of proper The donee under a deed of gift is an assign of the executant within the meaning of s. 35 of the Registration Act and may when the donor is dead admit the execution of the deed before the Registering Officer. AKHNOY CHANDRA MAJHI v MANMATHA NATH CHATTERJEE (1916) 20 C W N 1345 ss 30 73 77—Registration—Refusal of Sub Registrar to register—Appeal to Registrar—Refusal to register based on inability to procure attendance of executants—Suit to compel registration A sale deed was presented for registration but the executants did not appear before the Sub-Registrar who after four months from the date of execution reported the fact to the Registrar and was directed by the latter not to register it. Registration was accordingly refused. An appeal against that order to the Registrar was dismissed. It appeared that the summonses by the Sub-Registrar to the executants had been returned unserved. The vendees brought a suit for registration of the document. Held that the suit was maintainable the refusal by the Sub Registrar to register not being based upon denial of execution. Lucia Aarain Khetry v Sat Course Pyne [I L R 16 Cal 189] distinguished. KHADEM HUSAIN v BHARAT SINGH (1912) I L R 34 All 315

s 41 (2)—Enquiry before a Sub Registrar regarding a disputed will—Deposition of witnesses admissibility of under s 33 of the Evidence Act The depositions of witnesses (since deceased) examined at an enquiry held by a Sub-Registrar under s. 41 (2) of the Indian Registration Act regarding the genuineness of a will at which the opposing parties had opportunity of cross examination are admissible in evidence under s. 33 of the Evidence Act in a subsequent suit raising the same question between the same parties. It is not necessary that the first proceeding referred in s. 33 of the Evidence Act should be a judicial proceeding. LAKSHMANNA v VARDHANANNA (1918) I L R 42 Mad. 103

s 47—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II OF 1901)
s 97 I L R 37 All 59

Time from which registered document operates—Date of execution and not

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—contd

47—concl'd

date of registration The plaintiff purchased a certain property. The vendor on receipt of consideration executed a deed of sale in his favour but thereafter he executed a second conveyance in respect of the same property in favour of a third person who had no notice of the plaintiff's purchase and had the latter document registered first and put the second purchaser in possession.

RAJANI NATH DAS v. OFAJUDDI VALLA (1916)

22 0 W N 318

8 49—

See 2 2

See § 17

26 C W N 399

Registration—Evidence of title—Petition of compromise in a mutation case and order thereon Held that a petition of compromise filed in a mutation case before a Court of Revenue and the order of the Court thereon can neither effect nor prove a conveyance of the immovable property to which the mutation proceedings may relate Pranal Anni v Jalshmi Anni I L R 22 Mad 503 Paghvans Mani Singh v Mahabir Singh I L P 23 All 78 Kashi Kanti v Sumer Kanti I L P 32 All 206 Biraj Mohini Dasse v Kedari Nath Karmakar I L R 35 Cal 1010 Muthayya v Venkataratnam I L R 25 Mad 553 and Sadar ud din Ahmad v Chayya I L R 31 All 13 referred to Rustoo Ali Khan v Gauria (1911) I L W 331 All 229

Mortgage by deposit of title deeds—Agreement to mortgage—Document containing agreement to mortgage registration of if necessary—Admissibility of document for any purpose Where the plaintiff who had executed a mortgage by deposit of title deeds executed a promissory note to the defendant and agreed that the latter should pay off the mortgage and recover the title deeds from the mortgagee and retain them himself as additional security and the terms of the agreement were embodied in two documents which were not registered Held that the documents required to be registered and were inadmissible in evidence in respect of any of the terms contained therein under s 49 of the Registration Act (XVI of 1908) Moore v Culverhouse 27 Beav 639 54 E P 254 and Nere v Pennel 2 H & M 170 followed Kedarnath v Shamlall Khettry 11 B L R 405 disapproved. SWAMI CHETTY v ETHIRAJULU NAIDU (1918) 1 L R 40 Mad 547

8 50—

See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1877 s 27

I L R 38 All 184

See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT 1882 s 54

I L R 41 Bom 550

Registered and un registered documents—Priority—Effect on rights of prior unregistered mortgagee of sale in execution of a decree on a subsequent registered mortgage. When property is sold in execution of a decree on a subsequent registered mortgage taking priority over a prior unregistered mortgage such sale does not have the effect of invalidating the prior mortgage or of extinguishing altogether the rights of the mortgagee thereunder but his debt would still be recoverable from the surplus if any left after the satisfaction of the registered mortgage. DHAN TAL SINGH v. BUDH SINGH (1913)

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—contd.

• 52—

See p 31

Y L H 35 ALL 34

■ 21—25—

See § 32

U L R 40 ADL 424

ss 72, 76 and 77—

See § 77

24 C W N 604

Refusal of Registrar to direct Sub Registrar to register a document where a refusal to register it—Limitation.—Thirty days in s 77—Time from which to be computed A document was presented for registration to the Sub Registrar on the last day of the four months allowed for presentation but the Sub Registrar declined to receive it owing to pressure of other work At the suggestion of the Sub Registrar it was presented the next day with an application to the Registrar to execute the delay in presentation On the refusal of the Registrar to excuse the delay the Sub Registrar refused to register the document From this order an appeal was filed before the Registrar and it was dismissed The present suit was filed within thirty days of the dismissal of the appeal under s 77 of the Indian Registration Act but more than thirty days after the order refusing to extend time Held (i) that the order of the Registrar on appeal refusing to direct the Sub-Registrar to register the document was a refusal to register within ss 77 76 and 72 (i) of the Act and (ii) that the suit was filed in time as the thirty days allowed for filing by s 77 must be counted from the date of the order on appeal and not from the date of the order refusing to extend time There is no distinction between a refusal to accept a document intended for registration and a refusal to register it

Anandarama Nayanaiah v Pawalingam Anandarama Nayanaiah v Pawalingam Anandarama Nayanaiah

10 Mad L J 104 and Sivarama Pillai Karakar
v Krishnayyar 26 Mad L J 397 followed Kannamma v Iyyathamma 1 L R 7 Mad 535 distinguished Gangava v Sayaya 1 L R 21 Bom 699 Balambal Ammal v Arunachala Chetti 1 L R 18 Mad 255 and Vetramma v Abhishekam 1 L R 18 Mad 99 not followed. GANADASA
SANDASIVA (1916). 1 L R 40 Mad 759

74 77—Registration—dis

to register—Inquiry ordered but application dismissed on account of parties failing to attend—Sui to compel registration A Sub Registrar refused to register a document presented to him and on the application of one of the parties, the Registrar directed an inquiry under s 74 of the Indian Registration Act 1908 On the date fixed for the inquiry however the parties failed to appear and the Registrar accordingly dismissed the application Held that this amounted to a refusal to register within the meaning of s 77 of the Act and a suit to compel registration would lie
I L R 13 Cal 264 followed Udit Upadhyay Imam Band Bibi I L R 24 All 400 distinguished.
ABDUL HAKIM KHAN v CHANDAN (1911)
I L R 34 All 185

— 37 —

See p. 72

759

See 8 73 (U of 18-2) 1991

See EVIDENCE
165

(U or 18-)

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—*contd*s 77—*contd*See LIMITATION I L R 47 Calc 300
I L R 38 Mad 291

Period of 30 days provided by s 77 Registration Act (XVI of 1908) if can be extended on ground of prosecution of proceedings in good faith in Court not having jurisdiction A suit for the registration of a mortgage bond for Rs 1 000 was filed in the Court of the Munsif being valued at Rs 500 and on the Court holding it to be undervalued the plaint was amended and the suit was valued at Rs 1 000 whereupon the plaint was returned as being beyond the pecuniary limit of the jurisdiction of the Court. It was then filed in the Court of the Subordinate Judge and was dismissed as barred by limitation. Held that under s 29 (1) (b) of the Limitation Act nothing in that enactment affects or alters any period of limitation specially prescribed for any suit, appeal or application by any special or local law and inasmuch as ss 71 to 77 of the Registration Act lay down a complete procedure where registration is refused and as s 77 limits the period within which a suit is to be brought to 30 days, the said period cannot be extended under s 14 of the Limitation Act on the ground of prosecution of proceedings in good faith in a Court not having jurisdiction in the matter. KHAGENDRA NARAYAN ROY BARMAN v BARMAN BARMAN 24 C W N 20

Held that s 14 of the Limitation Act cannot be applied to compute the period of limitation prescribed by s 77 of the Registration Act for a suit to enforce the Registration of a document. KALINUDDIN MOLLAH v SANIBUDDIN MOLLAH 24 C W N 4

Whether Court can enter into the question of the validity of the document—Punjab Alienation of Land Act XIII of 1900 s 17—New charge on old security—whether a new mortgage Held that in a suit for the registration of a document under s 77 of the Registration Act the District Judge is not entitled to enquire into anything more than whether the ostensible executant signed and delivered to the other party the document which he produced for registration and he cannot enter into any question regarding its validity. Nawab v Arjan Das (13 P R 1904) followed. Held further that where a mortgage has been effected before the 8th June 1901 and a further advance is made after that date on the old security the further advance is not a new mortgage provided that no changes are made in the terms of the original transaction. Shadi Lal's Punjab Alienation of Land Act s 41 and Financial Commissioner's Standing Order No 1 dated 2nd September 1914 referred to. REHAL DAS v MUSSAMMAT JANAK

I L R 2 Lah 202

s 77 72 76—Suit for registration of document registration whereof refused on the ground of non payment of penalty in due time Refusal by a Sub Registrar to register a document on the ground of failure to pay penalty in due time is an order refusing registration under s 72 of the Registration Act and is appealable to the Registrar and on the dismissal of such appeal a suit lies under s 77 for the registration of the document. UNESH CHANDRA GHOSH v NISTARINI BASU

33 C W N 304

REGISTRATION ACT (XVI OF 1908)—concl'd

s 82 83—

Permission of registration officer a necessary preliminary to a prosecution Held that the permission referred to in s 83 of the Indian Registration Act 1908 is a necessary condition precedent to the prosecution of any person for an offence mentioned in s 82 of the Act. King Emperor v Juran 27 Indian Cases 208 referred to. EMPEROR v HUSAIN KHAN (1916) I L R 38 All 354

Offence under s 82—Prosecution by a private person—Permission under s 83 whether necessary Permission under s 83 of the Registration Act (XVI of 1908) is not a preliminary requisite for the institution by a private person of proceedings for an offence under s 82 of the Act. Gopinath v Kuldip Singh I L R 11 Calc 566 and Queen Empress v Vishnulinga I L R 11 Mad 500 referred to. RA NADATHI (1917) I L R 40 Mad 880

s 83—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE

s 213 I L R 38 Bom 114

s 413 I L R 39 All 292

ss 87 and 88—

See s 31 I L R 35 All 34

See s 32 I L R 40 All 434

s 90—

See s 17 I L R 36 All 178

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE

I L R 41 Bom 170

I L R 45 Bom 898

See RAJINAMA and KASULIYAT

I L R 42 Bom 359

cl (1) (d)—Consultation—Rule of ejusdem generis—Lease of lands by Government—Document executed by lessee but not registered whether admissible in evidence—Prohibition in lease against erection of buildings—Power of Government to impose conditions—Crown Grants Act (XV of 1895) ss 2 and 3—Power whether affected by Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act (I of 1900) s 19 A lease of lands made by Government was evidenced by an unregistered document executed by the lessee it contained an undertaking by the lessee not to erect buildings on the land the latter however built on the lands contrary to the agreement. In a suit by the Secretary of State to eject the lessee. Held that the document did not require registration as it fell under s 90 cl (1) (d) of the Registration Act and was admissible in evidence. The expression 'other document etc' in s 90 Registration Act should not be construed ejusdem generis with sanads and nam title deeds in the previous part of the section but even if so construed a lease is of the same character as a sanad and the words 'grants or assignments of interest' in the same section are comprehensive enough to include a lease. Under ss 2 and 3 of the Crown Grants Act the Government has power to impose restrictions in a lease made by it—a power which is not effected by the provisions of the Malabar Compensation for Tenants Improvements Act. Manshi Lal v The Notified Area of Farant (1914) I L R 36 All 176 dissented from. MOOSA KUTTI v THE SECRETARY OF STATE (1920)

I L R 43 Mad

REGISTRATION LAW FRAUD ON

See REGISTRATION ACT 1908 s 28

Sale deed—Including a cent of land to enable a Sub Registrar to register—Item of land real and owned by vendor—No intention to pass title to vendee—Registration whether and The inclusion of an item of property belonging to the vendor in a sale deed without any intention of passing title in it and purely for the purpose of making the deed available for registration in a particular place is a fraud upon the registration law, and such sale deed must be deemed not to have been properly registered NARA SIMHA RAO v PAPUNNA (1920)

I L R 43 Mad 436

REGISTRATION OF DOCUMENTS

Agreement to lease—Creation of future rights—Absence of actual demise—Compromise Decree—Matters outside suit—Civil Procedure Code (XIV of 1882) s 375—Registration Act (XVI of 1908), s 2 (7) s 17, sub s 1 (b) (d) sub s 2 (11) s 49 A petition setting out the terms of an agreement in compromise of a suit stated as one of the terms that the plaintiff agreed that if she succeeded in another suit which she had brought to recover certain land other than that to which the compromised suit related she would grant to the defendants a lease of that land upon specified terms The petition was recited in full in the decree made in the compromised suit under s 375 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1882 The present suit was brought for specific performance of the agreement Held (1) that as the agreement did not affect an actual demise of the land or operate as a lease it was not an agreement to lease within s 2 (7) of the Indian Registration Act 1908 so as to be required by s 17 sub s 1 (d) to be registered (2) that s 17 sub s 2 (11) which provides that s 17 sub s 1 (b) and (c) are not to apply to a decree of a Court extends to the whole of a decree not merely that part which is operative as a decree (3) that consequently s 49 of the Act did not preclude the decree from being given as evidence of the agreement Panchanan Bose v Chandrar Charan Misra I L R 37 Cal 808 Pranal Annee v Lakshmi Annee L R 26 I A 101 applied HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI v MIDNAPUR ZAMINDARY COMPANY (1919) L R 46 I A 240

REGISTRATION OFFICER

See REGISTRATION ACT (XVI of 1908)
ss 82 83 I L R 38 All 354

REGISTRATION OF NAME

See JHARADAR

I L R 48 Cal 1078

REGISTRY OF VESSELS

See COASTING VESSELS ACT ss 4 7 13
I L R 38 Bom 111

RE GRANT OF LAND

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE (BOM ACT V of 1879 AS AMENDED BY BOM ACT VI of 1901) s 56

I L R 37 Bom 693

REGULATIONS

See BENGAL REGULATIONS

See BOMBAY REGULATIONS

See MADRAS REGULATIONS

REGULATIONS—contd

1778—I—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT
I L R 38 All 570

1793—I—

ss 2 and 8—

See MINERAL RIGHTS 5 Pat L J 171
s 8 cl (4)—

See CHATKIDARI CHAKRA LANDS
I L R 42 Cal 710

1793—II—

See ESTATE PARTITION ACT 189 s 11
1 Pat L J 491

1793—VIII—

s 41—

See CHOWKIDARI ACT 1870
15 C W N 300

ss 52 54—

See ILLEGAL CESS I L R 45 Cal 259

ss 54, 55—

See ASWAB I L R 40 Cal 868

1793—XIX—

s 2—

See MINERAL RIGHT 5 Pat L J 273

ss 22 to 25—

See LAHNERAJ LANDS
I L R 45 Cal 574

1793—XXXVI—

See HINDU LAW—WILL
1 Pat L J 16

1793—XXXVII—

s 15—

See JAIGIR I L R 42 Cal 305

1799—V—s 5—Order if can be made when no regular suit has been brought by the claimants When no regular suit has been brought by the persons who claim the property dealt with by the Court an order under s 5 of Reg V of 1899 is ultra vires BALIA KOZA v BANDRAI SING (1914) 20 C W N 523

1800—VIII—

See PARTITION I L R 47 Cal 354
Regulation VIII of 1800

1800 Mulk papers or returns filed by claimants under the provisions of Reg VIII of 1800 para 3 although not of the same evidentiary value as the Registers themselves inasmuch as they require proof of origin and authentication are nevertheless good evidence of title if they contain statements made at a time when there was no dispute and against the proprietary interest of the maker KALI SANKAR SAHAI v MAHARAJA PRATAP LAL NATH SAHI DEO (1911) 16 C W N 683

1801—I—

Independent talook what so—ss 8 and 14—Time within which report is to be applied for—Actual produce in what was held that s 3 refers to the produce of what date held that the proprietors of Talook Halamti which was established by a decree of the Sadder Dewan/Adulst of 1803 to be an independent talook having duly applied for the separation of the talook in accordance with the provisions of Reg I of 1801 within a year from the passing of the Act had not been wanting in diligence in seeking the relief to which they were clearly entitled and that the delay of over 100 years that had occurred was due either to the opposition of the zemindar or the action of the Revenue authorities and that the objections of the zemindar in their present suit to the separation being effected by the Revenue authorities were purely vexatious and designed to prolong litigation. The actual produce on which the assessment of revenue under s 8 of Reg I of 1801 was to be based was the actual produce at the time when proceedings were instituted for the separation of the talook. HEMANTA KUMARI DEBI v JAGA DINDRA NATH POT (1918) 23 C W N 149

REGULATIONS—*contd.*1801—I—contd.

1802—XXV—

See IMPARTIBLE ESTATE.

I L R 36 Mad 325

See UNSETTLED PALAYAM

I L R 41 Mad 749

See MADRAS REGULATION

Impartible estate proof of—Sanad granted under Madras Reg XVI of 1802 in common form of alters succession—Impartibility proof of—Ray estate whether—Question of fact—Concurrent findings—Appeal to Privy Council—Practice. The zamindari of Nadavole was the subject of a sanad in common form under Reg (Mad) XXV of 1802. Held that it must be held to be partible and descendible according to the ordinary rules of inheritance of the Hindu Law unless the sanad could operate as a confirmation of a previously existing estate which from its nature or by virtue of some special family custom was impartible and descendible to a single heir. Whether or not at or prior to the date of the sanad the grantee of the sanad had an estate in the nature of a Paj and so descendible to a single heir was a question of fact to be determined on the evidence. Where on such a question there were concurrent findings of the Courts in India the practice of the Privy Council was not to disturb the finding unless they were satisfied that it was not justified by the evidence. The principles applicable in determining the questions of impartibility in cases of this description are affirmed. VENKATARAMAYYA APPA ROW v PARTHASARATHY APPA ROW (1913) 17 C W N 1221

1803—XXXI—

s 6—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

I L R 38 All 230

1805—XII—

s 33—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I L R 42 Calc 710

1805—XIII—

s 41—

See CHAUKIDARI CHAKRAN LANDS

I L R 42 Calc 710

REGULATIONS—contd.

1806—XVII—

See CONSTRUCTION OF DOCUMENT

I L R 38 All 571

See MORTGAGE

I L R 38 All 9

s 8—Mortgage by way of conditional sale—Suit for redemption—Plea of foreclosure under the Regulation—Procedure—Evidence. In the case of mortgage to which Reg XVII of 1806 applied before it can be held that the right of redemption is barred it must be proved that the requirement of the Regulation have been strictly complied with that is to say that the mortgagee had served upon the mortgagor a notice under the seal and official signature of the District Judge warning him that the mortgage would be finally foreclosed in the event of his failure to redeem within the period of one year. Badal Ram v Taj Ali (1877) A L J 17 followed. RAM BARAN RAI v HAJI SEWAK DUBE (1918) I L R 40 All 381

1810—XIX—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 46 Calc 14

1812—V—

s 3—

See ILLEGAL CESS

I L R 45 Calc 251

1814—XXIX—

See GHATWALI TENURES

1 Pat L J 191

See PARTITION

I L R 47 Calc 354

1818—III—

See LABEL

I L R 37 Calc 761

1819—II—

Resumption of land within permanently settled mahal—Nature of onus of proof on person with whom such land settled or dispute as to whether land settled was within ambit of the zemindari. Where certain lands within a permanently settled mahal were resumed under Reg II of 1819 and settled along with other Government khas mahal lands with a person other than the zemindar the onus of proving that lands within the ambit of the zemindari were part of such resumed land as against the zemindar did not lie on the person who claimed it as such in the sense that on his failure to discharge it the lands must be taken to remain and be vested in the zemindar. SURJA KANTA ACHARYA v SARAT CHANDRA ROY CHOWDHURY (1914) 18 C W N 1281

1819—VIII—

See PARTIAL SALE

I L R 47 Calc 732

s 8 9 15 (2)—

See SALE FOR ARREARS OF RENT

I L R 44 Calc 715

s 14—

See LIMITATION ACT 1877 s 8

14 C W N 128

1822—VII—

See PEX EMPTION

I L R 33 All 166

s 1 proceedings under Reg VII 1822 read IX of 1825

REGULATIONS—contd

1822—VII—concld

Settlement proceedings under Reg VII of 1822 read with Reg IX of 1835—Rayats land held by Settlement Officer to belong to defendants and not to plaintiffs's holding—Decision of award—Plaintiffs's suit to recover—Limitation—Limitation Act (XV of 1877) Sch II, Arts 14 & 46—Tenant if may sue to recover from person with whom land settled by landlord and by whom he has been dispossessed Where a Collector in settling land under Reg VII of 1822 decided that a certain area of land did not form part of the plaintiff's holding as alleged by them but was part of the defendant's holding Held that the decision of the Collector was not an award within the meaning of Art 46 of Sch II of the Limitation Act of 1877 Held further that an order by which land belonging to the plaintiffs was given by the Collector to others without any warrant of law need not be set aside by the plaintiffs and Art 14 of Sch II of the Limitation Act does not apply to a suit by the plaintiffs to recover the land It was not intended by the provisions of Reg VII of 1822 that the Collector should decide disputes as to title between rayats in which the zemindars or sadar malguars had no assessment which could in no way affect the interest and S 14 of the Regulation does not apply to a case in which rival tenants claim not only a tenancy of the same nature but the same land under the same nature of tenancy The decision in Binad Lal Pakrashi v Kalu Pramank 1 L R 20 Cal 709 was never intended to be applied to a tenant seeking to recover his own holding RAJANI KANT MUKERJI v RAM DULAL DAS (1911)

17 C W N 55

s 3—

Okur land—Present holder's right to re settlement—Revenue authorities when may settle with stranger—Strict compliance with the law necessary Where there was no report by the Revenue authorities that the settlement of chur land with the proprietor of a permanently settled estate contiguous to it who was the last holder of the chur would endanger the public tranquility or otherwise be seriously detrimental Held that the settlement of the chur with a third party was not in compliance with s 3 of Reg VII of 1822 and must be set aside Strict compliance with the provisions of the Regulation was necessary to justify the deprival of the present holder's right to settlement of the chur with him RAGHU NATH BANGA v KARUNANIDHAN SINGHA (1918)

III W N 261

Chur mahal accreted to a permanently settled estate temporary settlement of under Regulation is valid—Reg II of 1819—Reg XI of 1825—Act IX of 1847—Act XXXI of 1858—Reg VIII of 1798—Resumption of chur on ground of Sudder Malguar's misconduct attacked as ultra vires—Decision of Revenue authorities if renewable by Civil Courts—Civil Courts jurisdiction The provisions of s 3 of Reg VII of 1822 are applicable to chur lands which have accreted to an estate in which the owner has a permanent proprietary interest The applicability of the provisions of the Regulation is not restricted to the matters referred to in the second paragraph of s 2 of Act XXXI of 1858 Where upon a report of the Revenue authorities bearing on the conduct of the Sudder Malguzar with whom on behalf of the proprietors of a permanently

REGULATIONS—contd

s 3—concld

settled estate a chur mahal had been settled, the Local Government in exercise of powers conferred by s 3 of Reg VII of 1822 directed that the mahal be held khas for a term of 12 years and the order of the Local Government was questioned as ultra vires on the ground that the charges made against the Sudder Malguzar were without justification Held that if there were materials for the Revenue authorities to go upon it was not open to the Civil Court to see whether they were sufficient to justify them in reporting to the Government under the proviso to the section the proviso having conferred exclusive jurisdiction in the matter on the Revenue authorities What the Civil Court has to be satisfied with is that the requirements of the law had been complied with and that the Revenue authorities had materials upon which it made the recommendation to the Government There is nothing to show that steps cannot be taken under s 3 of the Regulation unless the report of the Revenue authorities is made in the course of proceeding under Reg VII of 1822 and the present order was not bad because it was made in the course of settlement proceedings under Chap X of the Bengal Tenancy Act BADHA KANTA AICH v SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA (1918) 23 C W N 285

237 9—Pent enhancement of—Settlement officer powers of—Jamabandi Where a settlement was carried out under Reg VII of 1822 Held that the Settlement Regulation did not authorise the settlement of fair rents All that the Settlement Officer was entitled to do was to record the existing rent ISHUB CHANDRA SARKAR v TROYLUKHYA NATH SINGHA (1913) 117 C W N 865

s 10—

See BENGAL LAND REVENUE SALES ACT 1839 s 37 5 Pat L J 79

1825—XI—

See BENGAL ALLUVION AND DELUVION REGULATION 5 Pat L J 1 & 639
See FISHERY I L R 42 Cal 459

Whether the section applies to the bed of a private river S 4 of Reg XI of 1825 is not limited in its application to a river the bed of which is the property of the Crown PURI DASS v KANBU BHERRA 1 Pat L J 536

Damodar is a navigable river—Non navigable river flowing through or by the side of permanently settled estate churs forming an of reasonable and assessable with revenue—Riparian owner's right to the middle of the stream—Exclusive right of fishery as evidence of title in the soil of the river bed The test in this country as to whether a river is navigable is whether it allows of the passage of boats at all times of the year The river Damodar was not a navigable river at the date of the Permanent Settlement At the date of the Permanent Settlement the bed of the river Damodar in so far as it flowed through the chakla or zemindary of Burdwan formed a portion of the estate permanently settled with the predecessor of the zemindar of Burdwan Although an exclusive right of fishery does not of itself pass the right to the soil in the bed of the river the terms of the grant in this case being unknown or uncertain the fact that the grantee had a several right of fish in the river was held to support his claim to the soil in its bed. Churs forming in non navigable rivers flowing through permanently settled states and forming parts thereof are not resumable under Reg. XI of 1875. Therefore an be a further as men o Government revenue there must be a gain from the public domain. The right to the soil of a river flowing within the states of different proprietors belongs to the riparian owners ad medium filum aquæ. Where property is bounded by a road or a river the boundary even if given as the road or the river is the middle of the road or river in the case of a river. Therefore a permanently settled estate on the bank of a non navigable river included half the bed of the river and churs forming on this portion are not resumable with revenue under Reg. XI of 1875. The assessment of the Government revenue on the riparian moulzas having been imposed not only on the moulzas but on the adjoining half of the river bed also. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA v. DEJOY CHAND MAHATAP (1915)

REGULATIONS—*contd*1875—XI—contd

22 C W N 572

1827—II—

s 21—Caste question—Civil Court Jurisdiction—Suit to be declared Ujya of Hiremath and to restrain defendant from so styling himself. The plaintiff sued to obtain a declaration that he was entitled to the fees and privileges appertaining to the Hiremath and Kamalapur by reason of his title to be called the Ayya of that Hiremath and to obtain a perpetual injunction to restrain the defendant from using the name of Ayya of Hiremath. The plaintiff's complaint was that the defendant had assumed a name to which the plaintiff had the exclusive right and that that assumption would enable as it had enabled the defendant to attract to himself a large number of the plaintiff's followers and thereby appropriate to himself fees which would otherwise have been paid to the plaintiff. Held that it was a claim to a caste office and to be entitled to perform the honorary duties of that office or to enjoy certain privileges and honors at the hands of the members of the caste in virtue of that office. It was a caste question not cognizable by a Civil Court. Held also that the fact that there had been no allegation of any specific damage by reason of the assumption by the defendant of the name of Ayya of Hiremath and also the admission that after all the result of the assumption of that name would be merely to enable some of the followers of the plaintiff to go over to the defendant showed that what the parties had been fighting for was merely a question of dignity under the cover of a religious office. If the Court were to interfere in such cases it would be merely assisting one party at the expense of the other and compelling the caste or the sect to follow one spiritual leader in preference to another. GADIGYIA v. BASATA (1910)

I L R 34 Bom 455

1832—VII—

s 9—

See HINDU LAW—CONVERSION

I L R 33 All 356

1833—IX—

ss 20 21—

See COLLECTOR I L R 40 Calc 465

VOL II

REGULATIONS—contd

1872—III—

See SANTHAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT
REGULATION 1872 6 Pat L J 373
4 Pat H J 49

1882—III—

See ESTATES PARTITION ACT 1897 s 11
1 Pat L J 491

1882 VII—

s 9—Duty of Settlement Officer under the Regulation—Entry as to fair rent payable by tenant if has the effect of enhancing rent. A Settlement Officer under Reg VII of 1882 does not settle rent but records rates of rent existing in the village and the effect of an entry by the Settlement Officer as to the fair rent payable by the cultivator has not the effect of enhancement of his rent so as to entitle the landlord to claim rent at that rate. JAGADINDRA NATH RAY v. MOHENDRA NATH MOZUMDAR (1914)

23 C W N 557

1886—V—

ss 141—Municipal Board—Powers of Board in respect of erection of buildings—Suit against Municipal Board—Jurisdiction. One Kifayatullah served the Municipal Board of Ajmere with notice of his intention to rebuild a certain wall. He received no reply to his notice within a month and thereafter commenced to build. The Municipal Board then required him to stop the building and submit a fresh application. The applicant stopped the building but did not present a fresh application and some months later sued the Board for damages on account of the stoppage of the building. The Board failed to prove that the notice first given by Kifayatullah was not in accordance with law. Held that in the circumstances the original notice must be considered as a good notice under s 85 of the Ajmere Regulation I of 1877 and that s 140 of the Regulation if it applied at all did not oust the jurisdiction of the Civil Court to try the suit for damages. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF AJMERE v. KIFAYAT ULLAH (1915)

I L R 37 All 220

1910—XIV—

See GHATWALI TENURES

1 Pat L J 107

RE HEARING

See AFFIDAVIT I L R 8 Calc 259

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

ss 115 161 Pat L J 250

O XLI R 21

See LIMITATION ACT 1908

SCH I Art 182 3 Pat H J 119

appellant not entitled to—

See APPEAL PARTIES TO AN
I L R 99 Mad 389

REIMBURSEMENT

See COMPROMISE I L R 47 Calc 932

RE INSTANTMENT

See MUKTEAR I L R 38 Calc 309

RELATIONSHIP

evidence of—

See HINDU WIDOW

I L R 40 Calc 555

RELEASE.

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII R 2

I L R 38 Mad 959

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Cal 588

See MORTGAGE I L R 34 All 606

See REGISTRATION ACT 18.7 ss 17 49

I L R 34 Bom 202

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) SCH I

ART 55 I L R 38 All 56

conditional—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 28

I L R 38 Bom 344

of some of joint judgment debtors—

See JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS

I L R 39 Mad 548

recitals in—

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER

I L R 41 Bom 300

Partition—Undivided brothers—Instruments whereby co owners divide property in severalty—Release—Stamp Instruments whereby co owners of any property divide or agree to divide it in severalty are instruments of partition. One of three undivided brothers agreed to take from the eldest brother the manager of the family as his share in the family property moveable and immoveable a certain cash and bonds for debts due to the family and passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release. Subsequently one of the two brothers passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release whereby he and the eldest brother divided the remaining family property by the latter handing over to the former securities for money. A question having arisen as to whether for the purpose of stamp duty the said two documents were to be treated as releases or instruments of partition. Held that the documents were instruments of partition. In re COVIND PANDURANG KAMAT (1910) I L R 35 Bom 75

RELEVANCY

of previous decision—

See CUSTOM (RELIGIOUS INSTITUTION)

I L R 1 Lah 540

RELIEF

See DIVORCE I L R 37 Cal 613

Power for Court to grant when order would be nugatory—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 188,
s 60

6 Pat L J 658

whether limited by pleadings—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O
XXII R 7

6 Pat L J 190

Claim for two reliefs—
Right to one proved and to the other not proved—Right of plaintiff to a decree for the relief proved
Where the plaintiffs claimed a decree for possession of a tank from which they had been dispossessed and a declaration that they had a permanent and heritable right in the tank and it was found that they were entitled to possession but were not entitled to a permanent and heritable right therein. Held that they were entitled to a decree for possession as it was not a case of a plaintiff claiming one relief and being given relief of a wholly different kind. It was a case of a plaintiff claiming two reliefs—one of which he was entitled to and the other he had failed to prove himself entitled to. DEHU GHUVA v SRIMATI BARANIDRA DEBI 2 Pat L J 15

RELIEF—contd

RELIGIOUS BEQUEST
See WILL I L R 38 Cal 455

RELIGIOUS CEREMONY

Right to perform religious ceremonies if may be enforced—Agreement to share profits of religious services suit if lies to enforce Parties who require religious ceremonies to be performed for their benefit are at liberty to choose the priest by whom they shall be performed and no declaration can be given that any person is exclusively entitled to officiate at ceremonies at a particular place Where the plaintiffs claimed under an agreement executed by the ancestors of the plaintiffs and defendants that whoever amongst them might perform ceremonies on a particular occasion on the banks of the river Punpun at Gaya he should bring whatever he might earn thereby into a common fund to be enjoyed by all the members of the family. Held that such agreement cannot be obligatory on the successors of the parties for all time in spite of the wishes of the members who might desire to terminate it and a suit does not lie to enforce the claim. Dino Nath v Protap Chandra I L R 37 Cal 30 4 C W N 79 and Beema v Kotha Kotha 17 Mad L J 493 distinguished DWARKA MISRA v RANPRATAP MI SHA (1911) 18 C W N 347

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 92 I L R 40 Mad 212

See HINDU LAW (RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT)

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 14

SCH I ARTS 124 144

I L R 39 All 636

See PARTIES I L R 40 Cal 323

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT

See RES JUDICATA I L R 37 Bom 224

requirements for completion of a valid gift—

See HINDU LAW (RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT) I L R 43 All 503

Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863) ss 7 & 10—Suit brought by surviving member of a Committee whether maintainable A suit brought by a surviving member or members of a Committee appointed under the Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863) is maintainable. Santilata v Manjanna Chetty I L R 31 Mad 1 distinguished from Pichay NANDAN PAMAYASA DAS v BHIMTI BIRAK MUKERJEE (1911) I L R 39 Cal 334

Failure of the line of trustees—Right of heirs of founders of the institution to create a new line of trustees. Held by the Full Bench (SRIVATARA AYYANGAR J dissenting) that it is competent to an heir of the founder of a brine in whom the trusteeship has vested owing to the failure of the line of the original trustee to create a new line of trustee. See Srinivasa Ayyangar J. In the absence of any such power in the deed of trust the Court alone has the power to appoint a trustee such a power of nomination is equivalent to an alienation of the office of trustee which is illegal. CATTANAGAR v. SUBBIA MATA (1917) I L R 40 Mad 612

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—con d

Mutt—Head of Mutt—
Trustee of temple—Appointment of successor—Compromise to avoid prosecution—Invalidity—
Code of Civil Procedure (XXI of 1908) 539
By the usage of a mutt the pandara sannidhi or head had power to appoint his successors or and was trustee of the endowments of certain dependent temples. In 1894 the pandara sannidhi appointed the appellant as chinna pattam or junior head with a right to succeed as head. This appointment was not made bona fide in the interests of the mutt but under a compromise whereby he had avoided a threatened prosecution for forgery of a will purporting to be that of his predecessor and appointing him as successor. The appellant having succeeded as pandara sannidhi suits were instituted in 1905 to remove him from being trustee of the mutt properties and of the temple properties. Held that the appellant's appointment as head of the mutt was invalid and that consequently he never became trustee of the temples but that on the finding which was not challenged on appeal that there was no evidence that the head of the mutt was a trustee of the mutt properties, the suit to remove him from being trustee of the mutt could not be maintained under s 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1899. Rama lingam Pillai v. Vythilingam Pillai (1893) I L R 20 I A 150 I L R 18 Mad 490 (P C) followed and applied. NATARAJA THIAMBARAN v. KAILASAM PILLAI (1921) I L R 44 Mad 283

Removal of Mahant by unauthorised persons—Suit for restoration—Whether irregularities in removal entitle plaintiff to succeed—
When the Mahant of an endowment had been removed from office on account of unfitness. Held he was not entitled to succeed in a suit for a declaration that the defendant had no right to remove him from office and for possession merely on the ground that the persons who removed him from office were incompetent to do so unless he could show that he was not unfit to continue in the office. NIAMAT ALI v. YAD ALI SHAH 6 Pat L J 408

Mutt—Relation of heads and managers of religious institutions to their property—Alienation by head of mutt—Trustees Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1908) Sch 1 Acts 134 and 144
The endowments of a Hindu mutt are not conveyed in trust nor is the head of the mutt a trustee with regard to them save as to any specific property proved to be vested in the head for specific and definite object. Consequently Art 134 of Sch I of the Indian Limitation Act 1908 which contains the expressions above quoted does not apply where the head of a mutt has granted a permanent lease over a part of the mutt property not proved to be subject to a specific trust. The same rule applies to the endowments of Mahomedan religious institutions and to alienations made by the Sayyadanashun or Mutawali. Ram Parkash Das v. Anand Das

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—contd

(1916) I L R 43 Calc 70; (P C) L P 43 I A 73 explained. Belari Lal v. Muhammad Muttaki (1898) I L R 20 All 482 (F B) Dattagiri v. Dattatraya (1903) I L R 27 Bom 363 Nalmony Singh v. Jagabandhu Poy (1896) I L R 23 Calc 536 disapproved. Except for unavoidable necessity the head of a mutt cannot create any interest in the mutt property to ensure beyond his life. See however has not adverse possession under Art 144 of the schedule above named during the life of the head who granted the lease. If the lessee's possession is consented to by the succeeding head that consent can be referable only to a new tenancy created by him and there is no adverse possession until his death. [Judgment of the High Court reversed.] VIDYA VARTHI v. BALUSAMI AYYAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 831

Shelbait's rights whether trustees have power to convey life estate in—Adverse possession acquisition of Shelbait's rights by—Limitation Act (IX of 1908) s 10 Sch 1 Arts 1 & 134 and 144
The right to administer the trust property of a public religious endowment within the limits imposed by the trust and for that purpose the right to possession of the property as against those previously administering the trust or others claiming through them can be acquired by adverse possession and in a trust of this nature it is only where a claim is set up adverse to the rights of the deity to whose worship the property is dedicated that s 10 of the Limitation Act 1908 could have any application so as to deprive the defendant of the rights conferred by the remaining portions of the Act. The trustees of such an endowment have no power to convey even a life estate in the shelbait's rights attending the worship of an idol. Where the trustees purport to make such a conveyance the grantee is in adverse possession of the estate from the time when he assumes the duties of the office and takes over possession of the property. NATHAN PUJARI v. RADHA BUNDE NAIK 8 Pat L J 327

Wagj—Constitution of
The dedication of property in trust to secure the permanent performance of certain religious ceremonies is not void for vagueness nor does the fact that the settlor retains the residue of the income for herself vitiate the trust. SAYID ISMAIL ALI KHAN v. MUHAMMAD HAMID BEGUM 6 Pat L J 218

Code of Civil Procedure 1889 s 539—Sanction to sue under section—Death of original defendant—Jurisdiction to order scheme
A suit was instituted to remove a Paja from the management of a Hindu shrine on the ground of mismanagement. Permission to institute a suit under s 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1889 had been granted. Pending the hearing the Raja died. His widow was substituted for him and later a posthumous son was added as a defendant. The trial Judge found that the shrine was a public religious and charitable trust and held that the defendant family should be removed from being trustees and a scheme settled. Upon appeal the son's hereditary right to manage the shrine on attaining majority was conditionally declared and the case was remitted for the settlement of a scheme. Held that there was jurisdiction to order the settlement of a scheme although the application for permission

RELEASE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) O XXIII R 3

I L R 38 Mad 959

See LIQUIDATOR I L R 43 Cal 588

See MORTGAGE I L R 34 All 606

See REGISTRATION ACT 1873 s 17 49

I L R 34 Bom 202

See STAMP ACT (II OF 1899) SCH I ART 55

I L R 38 All 56

conditional—

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 28

I L R 38 Bom 344

of some of joint judgment debtors—

See JOINT JUDGMENT DEBTORS

I L R 39 Mad 548

recitals in—

See VENDOR AND PURCHASER

I L R 41 Bom 300

Partition—Undivided brothers—Instruments whereby co owners divide property in severalty—Release—Stamp Instruments whereby co owners of any property divide or agree to divide it in severalty are instruments of partition. One of three undivided brothers agreed to take from the eldest brother the manager of the family as his share in the family property moveable and immovable a certain cash and bonds for debts due to the family and passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release. Subsequently one of the two brothers passed to the eldest brother a document in the form of a release whereby he and the eldest brother divided the remaining family property by the latter handing over to the former securities for money. A question having arisen as to whether for the purpose of stamp duty the said two documents were to be treated as releases or instruments of partition. Held that the documents were instrument of partition. In re GOVIND PANDUPANG KAMAT (1910) I L R 35 Bom 75

RELEVANCY

of previous decision—

See CUSTOM (RELIGIOUS INSTITUTION)

I L R 1 Lah 540

RELIEF

See DIVORCE I L R 37 Cal 613

Power for Court to grant when order would be nugatory—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1886 s 60

6 Pat L J 658

whether limited by pleadings—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXXII R 7

6 Pat L J 190

Claim for two reliefs—Right to one proved and to the other not proved—Right of plaintiff to a decree for the relief proved. Where the plaintiff claimed a decree for possession of a tank from which they had been dispossessed and a declaration that they had a permanent and heritable right in the tank and it was found that they were entitled to possession but were not entitled to a permanent and heritable right therein. Held that they were entitled to a decree for possession.

RELIEF—contd

sion as it was not a case of a plaintiff claiming one relief and being given relief of a wholly different kind. It was a case of a plaintiff claiming two reliefs—one of which he was entitled to and the other he had failed to prove. He was entitled to DEHU GHUNYA v. SEEMATI BAPAHINRA DEHI 2 Pat L J 15

RELIGIOUS BEQUEST

See WILL

I L R 46 Cal 489

RELIGIOUS CEREMONY

Right to perform religious ceremonies if may be enforced—Agreement to share profits of religious services—suit if he is to enforce. Parties who require religious ceremonies to be performed for their benefit are at liberty to choose the priest by whom they shall be performed and no declaration can be given that any person is exclusively entitled to officiate at ceremonies at a particular place. Where the plaintiffs claimed under an agreement executed by the ancestors of the plaintiffs and defendants that whoever amongst them might perform ceremony on a particular occasion on the banks of the river Punpun at Gaya he should bring whatever he might earn thereby into a common fund to be enjoyed by all the members of the family. Held that such agreement cannot be obligatory on the successors of the parties for all time in spite of the wishes of the members who might desire to terminate it and a suit does not lie to enforce the claim. Dino Nath v. Pratap Chandra I L R 7 Cal 30 4 O W N 70 and Bhena v. Kotha Kola 17 Mad L J 493 distinguished. DWARKA MISHRA v. RAMPRATAP MISHRA (1911) 16 O W N 347

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) s 93 I L R 40 Mad 212

See HINDU LAW (RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT)

See LIMITATION ACT (IX OF 1908) s 18

SCH I ARTS 193 144

I L R 39 All 676

See PARTIES I L R 40 Cal 323

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT

See RES JUDICATA I L R 37 Bom 694

requirements for completion of a valid gift—

See HINDU LAW (RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT) I L R 43 All 503

Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863) ss 7 & 8 and 10—S is brought by surviving member of a Committee whether maintainable. A suit brought by a surviving member or members of a Committee appointed under the Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863) is maintainable. Santilata v. Marjona I L R 33 Mad 111 and Shri R. Narayan Panamutja Das v. Bhikhi Ram I L R 39 Cal 304. MUKERJEE (1911)

Failure of the first trustees—Gift of terra of founders of the institution to create a new line of trustees. Held by the Full Bench (SRIYASA AYYANGAR J. concurring) that it is competent to an heir of the founder of a shrine in whom the trusteehip has vested owing to the failure of the line of the original trustee to create a new line of trustee. Per SRIYUSA AYYANGAR J. In the absence of any such power in the deed of trust the Court alone has the power to appoint a trustee such a power of nomination is equivalent to an alienation of the office of trustee which is illegal. GATRAJGA SART v SDEVTI NATA (1917) I L R 40 Mad 812

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—con d

Mutt—Head of Mutt—Trustee of temples—Appointment of successor—Compromise to avoid pro-cution—Interventor—Code of Civil Procedure (XII of 1905) s 39
 Rythusa of a mutt the pandara sannidhi or head had power to appoint his successor and was trustee of the endowments of certain dependent temples. In 1834 the pandara sannidhi appointed the appellant as chunna pattam or junior head with a right to succeed as head. This appointment was not made bond fide in the interests of the mutt but under a compromise whereby he had avoided a threatened prosecution for forgery of a will purporting to be that of his predecessor and appointing him as successor. The appellant having succeeded as pandara sannidhi suits were instituted in 1905 to remove him from being trustee of the mutt properties and of the temple properties. Held that the appellant's appointment as head of the mutt was invalid and that consequently he never became trustee of the temples but that on the finding which was not challenged on appeal that there was no evidence that the head of the mutt was a trustee of the mutt properties, the suit to remove him from being trustee of the mutt could not be maintained under s 339 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1889. Pama lingam Pillai v Vythilingam Pillai (1893) L P R 1 A 180 I L P 16 Mad 490 (P C) followed and applied. NATARAJA THIAMBIRAN v KATLASAM PILLAI (1921) I L R 44 Mad. 283

Removal of Mahant by unauthorised persons—Suit for restoration—Whether irregularities in removal entitle plaintiff to succeed
 When the Mahant of an endowment had been removed from office on account of unfitness. Held he was not entitled to succeed in a suit for a declaration that the defendant had no right to remove him from office and for possession merely on the ground that the persons who removed him from office were incompetent to do so unless he could show that he was not unfit to continue in the office. NIAMAT ALI v YAD ALI SHAH 6 Pat L J 408

Mutt—Relation of heads and managers of religious institutions to their property—Alienation by head of mutt—Trusts—Indian Limitation Act (IX of 1905) Sch I Acts 131 and 144
 The endowments of a Hindu mutt are not conveyed in trust nor is the head of the mutt a trustee with regard to them save as to any specific property proved to be vested in the head for specific and definite object. Consequently Art 131 of Sch I of the Indian Limitation Act 1905 which contains the expressions above quoted does not apply where the head of a mutt has granted a permanent lease over a part of the mutt property not proved to be subject to a specific trust. The same rule applies to the endowments of Mohammedan religious institutions and to alienations made by the Sajjadana him or Mutawali. Ram Parkash Das v Anand Das

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—contd

(1916) I L R 43 Cal 70, (P C) L R 43 I A 73 explained. Behari Lal v Muhammad Mutlak (1898) I L P 90 All 482 (P B) Dattatraya v Dattatraya (1903) I L R 27 Bom 363 Nil mony Singh v Jagabandhu Roy (1896) I L R 23 Cal 536 disapproved. Except for unavoidable necessity the head of a mutt cannot create any interest in the mutt property to ensure beyond his life. See however has not adverse possession under Art 144 of the schedule above named during the life of the head who granted the lease. If the lease as a possession is consented to by the succeeding head that consent can be referable only to a new tenancy created by him and there is no adverse possession until his death. [Judgment of the High Court reversed.] VIDYA VAPUTHI v BALUSANI AYYAR (1921) I L R 44 Mad 831

Shibani rights whether trustees have power to convey life estate in—Adverse possession acquisition of Shibani rights by—Limitation Act (IX of 1905) s 10 Sch 1 Arts 124 134 and 144
 The right to administer the trust property of a public religious endowment within the limits imposed by the trust and for that purpose the right to possession of the property as against the previously administering the trust or others claiming through them can be acquired by adverse possession and in a trust of this nature it is only where a claim is set up adverse to the rights of the deity to who worship the property is dedicated that s 10 of the Limitation Act 1905 could have any application so as to deprive the defendant of the rights conferred by the remaining portions of the Act. The trustees of such an endowment have no power to convey even a life estate in the shibani rights attending the worship of an idol. Where the trustees purport to make such a conveyance the grantee is in adverse possession of the estate from the time when he assumes the duties of the office and takes over possession of the property. NATHU PUJARI v RADHA BINDE NATH 6 Pat L J 327

Wag—Constitution of
 The dedication of property in trust to secure the permanent performance of certain religious ceremonies is not void for vagueness nor does the fact that the settlor retains the residue of the income for herself vitiate the trust. SAYID ISMAIL ALI KHAN v MUHAMMAD HAMIDI BEGUM 6 Pat L J 218

Code of Civil Procedure 1889 s 339—Sanction to sue under section—Death of original defendant—Jurisdiction to order scheme
 A suit was instituted to remove a Raja from the management of a Hindu shrine on the ground of mismanagement. Permission to institute a suit under s 339 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1889 had been granted. Pending the hearing the Raja died his widow was substituted for him and later a posthumous son was added as a defendant. The trial Judge found that the shrine was a public religious and charitable trust and held that the defendant family should be removed from being trustees and a scheme settled. Upon appeal the son's hereditary right to manage the shrine on attaining majority was conditionally declared and the case was remitted for the settlement of a scheme. Held that there was jurisdiction to order the settlement of a scheme although the plaintiff had no title to the shrine. See also Heaton for permission

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT—concl'd contemplated only the appointment of new trustee and although the original defendant had died after the suit was instituted Judgment of the Court of Judicial Commissioner affirmed PAJA ANAND PAO & RAMDAS DADUPAM (1920)

I L R 48 Calc 493

Shebat—Benami purchase of Debtor property—Invalidity—Removal of shebat A purchase of debtor property by its shebat benami and without disclosing that he is the real purchaser is invalid even when the sale is in execution proceedings and the shebat has paid the full market value. It is sufficient ground for removing a shebat from his office that in the exercise of his duties he has placed him self in a position in which the Court thinks that he can no longer faithfully discharge the obligations of the office. Judgment of the High Court affirmed PEARL MOHAN MUKERJI & MANOHAR MUKERJI (1921)

I L R 48 Calc 1019

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863)

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) ■ 92 AND 14

I L R 42 Mad 668

Change of village from one district to another for revenue purposes—Religious institution in the village—Power of original committee of the original district to control the institution—No power for the committee of the new district to appoint trustees The Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863) contemplates the creation of division or district committees once for all soon after the passing of the Act to take the place of the Board of Revenue and the local agents referred to in Reg VII of 1817. It is only the committee that is originally appointed in that behalf or its successor that can exercise jurisdiction over a particular religious institution and any order of Government transferring a certain village in which a particular religious institution is situated from one district to another for purposes of revenue administration does not deprive the original temple committee of its powers over the institution (such as appointing trustees for the same) or enable the committee of the new district to which the village is transferred to exercise any power over the institution. PANORPA & BHU MAPPA (1915)

I L R 39 Mad 949

s 3—Temple falling under—Power of Temple Committee to appoint additional trustees in good faith and in the interest of the temple—Onus of proving bad faith on person challenging the appointment For the better management of a certain Hindu temple which had no settled scheme of management and which was governed by s 3 of the Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863) a Temple Committee appointed two trustees in addition to the three then existing. Held (a) that the committee had power to appoint the additional trustees in virtue of their general power of superintendence over temples committed to their care as successors to the Board of Revenue who has such power under s 2 of Reg VII of 1817 (b) that this power must be exercised reasonably and in good faith in the interests of the temple (c) that the onus of proving that it did not exercise this power reasonably and in good faith

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863)—con d

lay not on the committee but on the person challenging the appointment of additional trustees e.g., on the already existing trustee as in this case who sued to set aside the additional appointment and (d) that the power of appointing new trustees was not confined to filling up vacancies alone but extended to creating additional trustees. Shol David Saiba & Hussein Saiba I L R 17 M 1 212 referred to Venkatchalla Pillai & The Taluk Board Saidapet I L R 3 Mad 55 Aslayatholsi Ammal & The Teluk Board of Mayavarar I L R 34 Mad 533 s c 90 Mad L J 885 and Canappa Ayyar & Sri Vedayya & Alasiraya Bhattar I L R 90 Mad 534 s c 10 gushed THEVENEGADATHANAGAR & PONA THEVENAGAR (1914)

I L R 38 Mad 116

Suit for scheme for a temple falling under s 3—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 92 jurisdiction of Courts to frame a scheme under—Temple Committee powers of Ever since 1842 when the Board of Revenue handed over the management of the temple of Srirangam to certain trustees one trustee was chosen hereditarily every year from a certain family in the locality called the Sthalathari and two other trustees were appointed till 1863 by the Board and later on by the Temple Committee formed under the Religious Endowments Act (XX of 1863). In several litigations connected with the temple the temple was treated as one falling under s 3 of Act XX of 1863. Held that the temple was one falling under s 3 and not under s 4 and was thus subject to the control of the Temple Committee. Though the Courts can not interfere with the statutory powers conferred upon the members of the Temple Committee so as to deprive them of their statutory functions yet the Court has jurisdiction to frame a scheme under s 92 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) in respect even of a temple subject to the control of the Temple Committee and introduce change in its administration which the committee is not legally competent to introduce and which are desirable and necessary to meet the altered circumstances of the time. Considering that the actual management of the temple must vest in the trustees subject to the statutory control of the committee their Lordships did it under the Court did a new body of people called a Board of Control over the trustees and hence abolished the same. In the result their Lordships framed a scheme for the temple providing among other things for (a) the appointment of the temple trustees for the better management of the temple (b) the tenure of office of the trustees appointed being only for five years (c) the preparation of annual budget and audit of temple accounts and (d) the appointment of a cashier under the trustees. PER CURIAM—The powers of the committee or any other statutory body do not become superseded by the occurrence of a vacancy among its members. Powers of a Temple Committee considered. Saithaka & Manjanna Shetty I L R 34 Mad 1 disented from English and Indian cases reviewed SITHARAMA CHETTI & SRI S. SUBRAMANIAM Iyer I L R 39 Mad 60 (1916)

■ 3 and 4—

See HINDU LAW (ENDOWMENTS)
I L R 43 Mad 665

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863)—cont.

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863)—cont.

s 5—District Court if may appoint a trustee pending decision of Civil Court in all cases. District Courts have no power upon a vacancy occurring in the office of the trustee of a religious endowment to appoint a trustee under s 5 of the Religious Endowments Act unless the endowed property has been actually transferred to the former trustee under s 4 of the Act by the Board of Revenue or Government. Itani Panikkar v Irani Vambudripal I L R 3 Mad 311 Jan 11 v Pinn Vaidi Munda I L R 3 Cal 3 relied on Diurram Saikh v Asim Saikh I L R Cal 61 Sheorattan Annawar v Jam Porraj I L R 13 All. Muhammad Saifud Din v Irasmullah I L R 13 All 101 distinguished. s 5 of the Act contemplates the temporary appointment of a manager by the Court pending the decision by a Civil Court of the title of any other applicant to the office. MOURVET SHEOVANDAN CIR v DHETAS UPADHYA (1910) 14 C W Y 1104

Order appointing the Collector to take charge of a Math—Person—Jurisdiction. The District Judge has jurisdiction to appoint a temporary manager of trust property under s 5 of Act No XX of 1863 only in the case where a vacancy has occurred in the office of the trustee to whom such property shall have been transferred under s 4 of the Act. An order purporting to be passed under s 5 of the Act without any inquiry as to whether foundation for the District Judge's jurisdiction exists is open to the revisional if not the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court. Itani Panikkar v Irani Vambudripal I L R 3 Mad 401 Gopala Ayyar v Arunachalam Chetti I L R 6 Mad 8 and Mohun Sheonandan Gir v Dhanu Upadhyaya 14 C W Y 1104 referred to. BASDEO GIR v PRITAM GIR I L R 43 All 50

Order appointing the Collector to take charge of a Math—Appeal. No appeal lies against an order made under s 5 of the Religious Endowments Act 1863. Minakshi Vaidya v Subramanya Sastri I L R 11 Mad 26 referred to. PRITAM GIR v MAHANT BASDEO GIR I L R 43 All 55

s 7—

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—WAKF

I L R 46 Cal 13

Suit for removal of trustees—Parties. Two out of three of the members constituting a committee appointed under s 7 of the Religious Endowments Act 1863 are not competent to maintain a suit for the removal of the person or persons acting as the trustees of the endowment. The Committee under this section is a Corporation having a legal entity. Syed Muhammad Hasan v Kazi Nazim Muhammad 1 Pat L J 437

ss 7 & 10—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENT

I L R 39 Cal 304

ss 7 and 10—Constitution of Committee under—Validity of Acts done by incomplete committee. One of a committee of three members appointed under s 7 of Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments Act) died and the vacancy thus ss 7 and 10—cont.

caused was not filled up in accordance with s 10 of the Act. The remaining two members purported to perform the functions of the committee. Held that the remaining two members cannot be said to be a committee at all and cannot perform any of the functions of the original committee. PER ARNOLD WHITE C J—ss 7 and 10 of the Act are imperative or obligatory and not merely directory. The law governing corporate bodies with regard to the capacity of the members of the corporate bodies to act is not applicable to the case of the statutory body appointed under s 7 of the Religious Endowments Act. The King v Billinger 4 T F 310 and 100 Eng Rep 1315 distinguished. PER ABDUR RAHIM J—The intention of the Legislature is that a committee appointed under the Act shall not consist of less than the number originally appointed. Anantha Narayana Iyengar v Kallalam Pillai I L R 22 Mad 451 distinguished. SANTHALVA v MANJANA SRETTY (1910) I L R 34 Mad 1

BUT see s 3 I L R 39 Mad 700

s 10—Temple Committee Vacancy—District Judge—Court—Personas designata—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115. An order made by a District Court under s 10 of the Religious Endowments Act is an order revisable by the High Court under s 115 Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908). Meenakshi v Subramanya I L R 11 Mad 46 distinguished. Gopala Ayyar v Arunachalam Chetti I L R 26 Mad 33 referred to. When a Temple Committee does not do its duty and arrange for an election the Court can make the appointment without reference to the committee or direct the remaining members of the committee to fill up a vacancy. The power of the committee in such a case being derived from the Court an appointment by election there after is bad. Ramanuja Iyengar v Anantaraman Iyer 6 Mad L J 1 dissented from. VASUDEVA AYYAR v THE NEGAPATAM DEVASTHANAM COMMITTEE (1913) I L R 38 Mad 594

Vacancy in Temple Committee—Jurisdiction of District Judge—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 115—Power of revision by the High Court—Duty of remaining members of the Committee—Failure to perform duty—Election held after expiration of the statutory time. The High Court has jurisdiction under s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908 to revise an order of the District Judge made under s 10 of the Religious Endowments Act XX of 1863 on the occurrence of a vacancy in a Temple Committee declaring that an election by the remaining members of the Committee to fill up the vacancy was regularly held and that the appointment of the person was valid. No appeal lay under the Civil Procedure Code from such an order. In making the order the District Court was acting in a judicial capacity as a Court of law and not merely in an administrative capacity. The matter in which the order of the District Court was made was a case within the meaning of s 115 of the Civil Procedure Code 1908. A case includes an ex parte application such as that made in this matter. Minakshi Ayyudu v Subramanya Sastri I L R 11 Mad 26 L R 14 I A 160 distinguished. On the true construction of s 10 of Act XX of 1863 the power of the remaining mem

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863)—contd

RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863)—contd

s 10—cont

bers of the Committee to fill up the vacancy must be exercised within three months from the date of the occurrence of the vacancy. The District Court had no jurisdiction after the expiration of the three months to direct the remaining members of the Committee to fill up the vacancy by election or to make an order purporting to validate the appointment of the person elected. If the Committee did not perform their duty by holding an election within three months to fill up the vacancy a subsequent election by the remaining members after the expiration of three months is invalid and this is so notwithstanding that such a conclusion would enable the remaining members of the Committee by their own default to practically disfranchise the electors and at the discretion of the Court possibly to procure the patronage for themselves. The only remedy for that is to alter the law if wrong by legislation. The Board can only declare the law. BALAKRISHNA UDASAI v. YASUDEVA DASAR (1917)

s 14—

I L R 40 Mad 783

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908—
s 2 I L R 42 Bom 742
s 92 AND 14 I L R 42 Mad 668
See PARTIAL I L P 40 Cal 323

Procedure to 1 fol forced by committee in the transaction of its business—Suspension of a temple trustee by a Temple Committee—Legality of procedure—Suit by trustee for damages for illegal suspension—Liability of individual members of the committee in damages—Notice of suspension was given to a temple trustee in accordance with the opinion of the majority of the members of the local Temple Committee of his report recommending suspension and in spite of the objection taken by one member that in the matter should be disposed of at a meeting. It held that a Temple Committee under the Religious Endowments Act resembles a corporation and that the ordinary way to transact its business is at a meeting. Assuming that it can do some of its business in circulation it cannot remove or suspend trustees in this manner. Rex v. Taylor (1891) 31 Q 11 R 71 Ex v. Sutton 10 Mal 149 Ex v. 1 Mal 483 484 and Fonnambala 1881 11. The procedure being ultra vires it is illegal suspension in that there were sufficient grounds for suspension. In this in this last members of a Temple Committee who are parties to an illegal suspension of this kind are liable in damages. Tyagi Jagannath v. Secretary of State for India (1917) 144 Ind 466 and Ferguson v. Ashcroft (1917) 144 Ind 466 and Indian and English decided for YANKATA NARAYANA THEK PONNEMWAMI NADAR (1917)

I L R 41

s 14 and 18—cont
jointly—If either of them are competent sanction to sue is given to two persons of the Religious Endowments Act one of not sue alone. Indra v. Par
I L P 38 Cal
under s 14

s 14 and 18—contd

to the exercise of the right of suit. Verla. v. In re I L R 10 Mad 98 referred to it has to be construed strictly without enlarging its scope. Sayad Hussain Aliyan v. Collector of Kaira I L P 21 Bom 257 referred to S 11 of the Act commented on. VENKATESHA MALIA v. PAMAYA HEDAGE (1914)

I L R 40 Mad 117

persons under s 18 of the Act—Suit by them under s 14—Death of one of the plaintiffs after suit is left at effects abatement. A suit instituted under s 14 of the Religious Endowments Act by four persons with the leave of the Court under s 18 of the Act does not abate on the death of one of the plaintiffs. Venkatesha Malia v. Pamaya Hedage I L R 38 Mad 1192 Maddala Bagavanarayana v. Vadapalli Perumalla Charyulu 29 Mad L J 231 distinguished. Chalvi Par v. Durpa Par I L J 3: 411 216 not approved. Parasuraman Munjee v. Narayanan Vambodri I L R 40 Mad 110 referred to. ALAGAPPA v. MUTHIAN (1917)

I L R 41 Mad 237

s 18—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 188 s 622
I L R 33 Mad 412
See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT I OF 1908) s 92 I L R 37 Mad 184
I L R 40 Mad 212

RELIGIOUS FOUNDATION

Limitation Act 15 of 1877 s 28 SIA 11 Arts 11 144—Temple trusteeship and property bar of suit for former involves bar of suit for latter. The dismissal of a suit to recover the office of trustee for a temple whereby the right to the trusteeship is lost involves the loss of the right to recover a portion of the endowment. GOTTIPATI PILLAI v. DAKSHINAMURTI POOSARI (1910)

I L R 38 Mad 87

RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS—

See CUSTOM (RELIGIOUS INSTITUTIONS)
I L R 1 Lah 511 549
See MAHOMEDA LAW—FIDUCIARY
I L R 35 Bom 305

transfer of—

See RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS ACT (XX OF 1863) I L R 50 Mad 919

RELIGIOUS OFFICE

See HINDI LAW SECT 104
I L R 40 Mad 105

competency of women to hold—

See HINDI LAW—RELIGIOUS OFFICE
I L R 41 Mad 858
See MAHOMEDA LAW—FIDUCIARY
I L R 35 Bom 305

RELIGIOUS POET

See OBSCURE I

PROCE
S. HIGH

30 Cal 57

RELIGIOUS TRUST

See PUBLIC RELIGIOUS TRUST

See TRUST I L R 40 Calc 232

Deed of endowment—

Side at last—Appear me 1 of the new shahab in case of death—Appointment has to be made—Receiver pendente lite Trust is will not be allowed to fail for want of a trustee and consequently if the nominee dies before qualifying or afterwards the Court will appoint a trustee *In re Order of Ch D 21 Pe Ambler's Trust 59 L T N S 10 Gunson v Simpson L F 51 * 33 In re Smith's will's Trusts L F 11 L 51* referred to Where a shahab is dead and there is no provision in the deed of endowment about the mode in which the office is to be filled up the Court will not read into the deed of endowment a provision for appointment to the office of shahab which is not to be found therein It becomes incumbent upon the representatives of the founders to make an appointment to the office of shahab and upon failure to do so the Court has power to appoint a new trustee and will exercise this power whenever there is a failure of a suitable person to perform the trust either from original or supervenient disability to act Sital Das Babaya v Jyotap Chandra Sarma 11 C L J referred to The appointment of a fit and proper person to be a new trustee is not a matter of arbitrary discretion of the Court The appointment must be made subject to well known and defined rules In re Tempest L F 1 Ch App 485 referred to Where a receiver appointed pendente lite was directed by the subordinate Judge to continue to manage the properties on the scheme laid down in the deed of endowment pending an agreement between the parties to appoint a shahab Held that the proper course to follow was either to dismiss the suit or if the parties so desired to appoint a shahab and place the properties in his hands This latter order could be properly made only after amendment of the prayer in the plaint Raj Krishna Dey v Brij Bhanu Dey (1912)

I L R 40 Calc 251

RELINQUISHMENT

See FAMILY SETTLEMENT

I L R 38 All 335

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

I L R 47 Calc 466

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

L R 46 I A 259

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

15 C W N 680

See MAHOMEDAN LAW—DOWER

I L R 47 Calc 537

See NORTH WESTERN PROVINCES RENT ACT (XII of 1881) I L R 37 All 444

See UNDER RAYATI HOLDING

I L R 42 Calc 751

by patnidar—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 41 Calc 683

in favour of sentient person—

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 37 Calc 128

of claim—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1882 s 43

I L R 32 All 625

RELINQUISHMENT—contd

of portion of claim—

See CAUSE OF ACTION

I L R 40 Calc 640

to save litigation whether binding on Reversioners—

See FAMILY SETTLEMENT

of service I L R 38 All 335

See MASTER AND SERVANT

I L R 35 All 132

RELEVANCY OF EVIDENCE

See EVIDENCE ACT 1872 s 32

I L R 44 Bom 182

REMAINDERMAN

See ESTOPPEL I L R 44 Calc 145

REMAND

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)

ss 162 163 I L R 38 All 181

s. 193 I L R 40 All 652

s 202 I L R 38 All 533

See APPEAL I L R 37 Calc 428

15 C W N 830

See (BENGAL) CESS ACT

2 Pat L J 653

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908

ss 100 108 109 O XLI r 23

I L R 33 All 391

s 100 O XLI r 23

I L R 43 All 577

s 109 I L R 42 All 174

I L R 38 All 150

O XLI r 1 2 Pat L J 398

O XXI r 23 I L R 34 All 612

O XLI r 23

r 23 O XLIII r 1 (4)

I L R 35 All 427

r 25 15 C W N 575

r 33 I L R 37 Bom 289

O XLIII r 1 I L R 42 All 200

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE ss 112

167 I L R 36 All 262

See LETTERS PATENT

2 Pat L J 663

See PENSIONS ACT (XXIII of 1871)

s 6 I L R 39 Bom 352

See SANCTION FOR PROSECUTION

I L R 44 Calc 816

See SECOND APPEAL 2 Pat L J 564

appeal from order of on finding of fact—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O

XLIII r 1 I L R 2 Lah 25

by Appellate Court—

See COSTS I L R 39 Mad 476

Order of whether appealable to Privy Court—

See PRIVY COUNCIL APPEAL TO

I L R 38 Mad 509

REMAND—concl'd

after remand the lower Appellate Court went into the whole case on the merits as directed — Held that the High Court had ample jurisdiction to make the order remanding the whole case for determination on the merits Attorney General v Simpson [1901] 2 CA 671 referred to SARADA SUNDARI DASSAYA v GANGAHARI SAHA (1918)
I L R 46 Calc 738

11 ——— Appeal from—Remand order passed otherwise than under O XLI r 23 is not appealable MOHENDRO NATH CHAKRAVARTI v RAMTARAN BANDOPADHYAYA (1919)
20 C W N 1049

12 ——— Appellate Court Inherent powers of—Code of Civil Procedure (Act I of 1908) s 151 and O XLI, rr 23 and 25 Under its inherent powers an Appellate Court has jurisdiction to remand a case for retrial apart from the provisions of O XLI rr 23 and 25 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 but should exercise that power with the greatest caution RAGHUNANDAN SINGH v JADUNANDAN SINGH
3 Pat L J 253

13 ——— Inherent powers of court Under its inherent powers an appellate court may remand a case if it thinks that it is necessary for the ends of justice to do so even where the case does not come within the terms of O XLI rr 23 and 25 of the Code of Civil Procedure 1908 BRJMOHAN PATHAK v DEOBHANJAN PATHAK
5 Pat L J 146

RE MARRIAGE

See DIVORCE I L R 48 Calc 636

See GUARDIAN—HINDU WIDOW
I L R 38 Calc 862

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW

See HINDU WIDOWS RE MARRIAGE ACT (XV of 1856) s 2

——— custom of—

See HINDU LAW—SUCCESSION
I L R 48 Calc 300

REMEMBRANCER OF LEGAL AFFAIRS

——— Position of—

See CONTENT OF COURT
I L R 41 Calc 173

REMOTENESS

——— rule of—

See WILL I L R 46 Calc 465

REMOVAL NOTICE OF

See FIXTURE I L R 48 Calc 602

REMOVAL OF CASTE DISABILITIES ACT (XXI OF 1850)

See HINDU LAW—JOINT FAMILY
I L R 40 Calc 407

See MALABAR LAW
I L R 44 Mad 891

——— s 1—

See HINDU LAW—WIDOW
I L R 35 All 466

REMUNERATION

See ADMINISTRATOR PENDENTE LITE
I L R 41 Calc 11

RENEWAL

——— option of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—LEASE
I L R 40 Calc 1079

RENNELL'S MAP OF INLAND NAVIGATION

See NAVIGABLE RIVER
I L R 40 Calc 390

RENT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
ss 4 167 I L R 39 All 605

See BENGAL PENT RECOVERY ACT

See BOMBAY CITY MUNICIPAL ACT (Bov Act III of 1888) ss 140 (c) 143 (1)
(g) AND 2 (d) I L R 43 Bom 281

See ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1908) s 46
I L R 41 Mad 121

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

See LIMITATION ACT (IX of 1908)—
SCH I ART 110 I L R 36 Mad 438
ARTS 110 116 I L P 37 Bom 656

See RENT DECREE

See RENT SUIT FOR

See RENT IN KIND

See RENT RESERVED

See STAMP ACT (II of 1899) s 69 SCH I
ART 35 CL (a) SUB CL (iii)
I L R 39 Bom 434

See SUIT FOR RENT

See U P LAND REVENUE ACT (III of 1901) ss 56 83 I L R 39 All 286

——— abatement of—

See PATRI LEASE I L R 41 Calc 633

——— arrears of—

See MORTGAGE I L R 39 Calc 810

——— distraint for—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of
1908) s 62 (2) I L R 38 Mad 1140

——— enhancement of—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 18 9
ss 83 216 I L R 44 Bom 566

See OUDH PEST ACT (XXVII of 1904)
s 3 (10) AND CH VILA
I L R 40 All 541

——— fixation of—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)
s 93 I L R 37 All 10

——— forfeiture for non payment of—

See LESSOR AND LESSEE
I L R 39 Mad 415

——— Khatim Inamdar right of after Introduction of settlement—

See BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 18 9
s 217 I L R 45 Bom 81

——— in kind—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT—FINANCE
MENT OF PEST I L R 37 Calc 610

RENT—contd

legal right to remission—

See STATES LAND ACT (Mad Act I of 1904) s 4 2nd 73 143

I L R 40 Mad 640

liability for—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 34 All 601

See SALE

I L R 41 Calc 149

Mortgagor retaining property under a Rent Note—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (Act I of 1908) s 4th O XXXIV r 14

I L R 45 Bom 174

no estoppel by receipt of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (Mad Act I of 1904) s 3 I L R 37 Mad 1

non payment of—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1904) s 153 I L R 39 Mad 60

partly in money partly in kind—

See HABILIYAT CONSTRUCTION OF

I L R 37 Calc 626

payment of, for sixty years—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1904) s 13 CL (3)

I L R 39 Mad 84

permanent occupant—

See OMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE 1870 s 210 I L R 28 Bom 996 permanency of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Calc 30

payable in kind recovery of—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT 1885 s 40
25 C W N 714

receipt stating tenancy is at will—value of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

24 C W N 1

relief against forfeiture for non-payment of—

See LEASE I L R 45 Bom 300

remission of—

See CUSTOM I L R 45 Calc 475

suit for—

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901) s 34 I L R 35 All 512See HOMESTEAD LAND

I L R 42 Calc 638

See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT

I L R 40 Calc 402

See LESSOR AND LESSEE

I L R 39 Mad 939

See LIMITATION I L R 38 Mad 101

I L R 48 Calc 85

suit for by a third party—

See CONTRACT I L R 41 Mad 458RENT—contd

suit for in Revenue Court—

See MADRAS ESTATES LAND ACT (I of 1904) I L R 39 Mad 33 suspension of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 46 Calc 956

War restrictions on—

See POMBAY RENT (WAR RESTRICTIONS) ACTSee CALCUTTA RENT ACT

1 ——— Rent for Ferry—Province of Small Caus Courts Act (I of 1887) Sch II tr 5
Pent of a ferry suit for cognisable by a Small Cause Court To determine whether an amount payable under a contract is rent or not each case must be judged by its own circumstances. In a suit to recover sums due under a contract for the defendant plying boats in a private ferry Held that in the circumstances of the case the sum payable was in no sense a rent PROHAR PATY v. DASHADHAR RAI (1910) 14 C W N 994

2 ——— Maintenance Grant—Baradarin Jagir Orissa—Landlord and Tenant—Grantor and Grantee—Kilayat estate in Orissa—Light tribute as rent—Assessment of rent by Settlement Officer—Finality of decision—Bengal Tenancy Act (I of 1885) ss 3 (5) 104 105—Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act (Ben III of 1903) s 9—Second Appeal—Findings of Fact—Inference of Law In Orissa a proprietor of an estate governed by the law of primogeniture made a grant of certain villages at baradaran jagir khorposal nikar etc for the support of the younger brothers and other nearer relatives of the family it was not transferable but was subject to resumption on failure of direct heirs and the grantee had to pay to the grantor a proportionate share of the Government revenue Held that the amount payable by the grantee to the grantor under such conditions constituted rent within the meaning of s 3 (5) of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 and the grantees were tenants and not co-proprietors Chunder Kant Chakraverty v. Mahomed Hossain & H P Act I 1 referred to Where a Settlement Officer made an assessment of rent under s 104 of the Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) which was not appealed against under s 103 of the Act Held that the decision of the Settlement Officer was in view of s 107 of the Bengal Tenancy Act 1885 read with s 9 of Bengal Tenancy Amendment Act 1908 final Though the High Court in second appeal cannot interfere with findings of fact it can interfere with an inference of law drawn from the facts found DWARAKA NATH BIDYADHAR v. DAMBART DHAP MAHAPATRA (1910) I L R 38 Calc 278

3 ——— Madrass Estates Land Act—(I of 1908) ss 3 (10) 19 and 189 A Revenue Court has no jurisdiction to try a suit for rent of private lands as defined in s 3 (10) of the Madras Estates Land Act (I of 1908) such a suit must be brought in a Civil Court PAJA APFA PAO BAHADUR v. NAAGANNA (1913)

I L R 39 Mad 7

4 ——— Evidence admissibility of—Previous decrees for rent—Admitted by a co-sharer if relevant on the question of rent—R v inter alia acta Where a tenant holds lands under several landlords under one contract of tenancy and each co-sharer claims to collect rent pro

RENT—contd

tionately to his share a decree for rent obtained in a previous suit by one co sharer is relevant for the determination of the question of the rate of rent in a subsequent suit for rent by another co sharer who was joined as a pro forma defendant in the former suit Ram Ranjan v Ram Varan I L R 22 Cal 533 Tepu Khan v Rajan Mohun Das I L R 20 Cal 522 and Abdul Ali v Raj Chandra Das 10 C W N 1081 referred to RAMADIN RAI v DEBUNWANTI KOER (1912)

17 C W N 1016

5 ——— Oral evidence admissibility of—Evidence Act (I of 1872) s 92—Tenancy Leas Where a labuliyat was executed but was not registered and never came into operation oral evidence is admissible to prove the rent agreed upon by the parties A tenancy can be proved without proving the lease if there be any Dan's Behary Christian v Raj Chandra Pal 14 C W N 141 and De Vedina v Polson Holt N P 47 referred to AMEER ALI v YAKUB ALI KHAN (1913) I L R 41 Cal 317

6 ——— Commutation of under Bengal Tenancy Act—(VIII of 1885) s 40 sub s (1) (3) (3) s 102 Order for commutation of rent—Jurisdiction Where under s 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act an application by a tenant for commutation of rent was made to a Sub divisional Officer who transferred the same to a Settlement Officer who in his turn transferred it to an Assistant Settlement Officer who heard and decided the application on its merits Held that it was not competent for the Sub divisional Officer to transfer the application to the Settlement Officer Held further that it was incumbent on the Court to satisfy itself that an order made on an application under s 40 of the Bengal Tenancy Act was made with jurisdiction though it was not competent to examine the propriety of an order so made Lalla Saligram Singh v Mohunt Ramgir 3 C W N 311 Kali Krishna Biswas v Pam Chandra Baidya 21 C L J 487 19 C W N 893 followed. JADU NATH MAITY v PRANERISHNA DAS (1917)

I L R 45 Cal 769

7 ——— Maurasi mokurari labuliyat—Stipulation in for payment of rent partly in cash and partly in kind with statement of the money value of the portion payable in kind and declaring the total rent as the amount made up by the two—Rent is to be taken to be fixed in perpetuity at such amount In a maurasi mokurari labuliyat it was stipulated that the rent was payable partly in cash and partly in kind that the market value of the paddy was the amount stated in the labuliyat and the total rent was the amount obtained by the addition of the rent in cash and the money value of the rent in kind Held per SANDERSON C J and MOOKERJEE J (NEWBOULD J contra) that on a proper construction of the contract it must be held that the parties intended to fix the total rent which should be paid in the event of non delivery of paddy ASHUTOSH MOHUN JADHYA v HARAT CHANDRA MUKERJEE (1919)

23 C W N 1021

8 ——— Suit for by purchaser land lord—Pls of payment to landlord a vendor—Notice of transfer before payment In a suit for rent by the landlord the defence was that payment had been made to his vendor Held that if the defendant had in fact notice of the transfer before payment the plaintiff's suit must succeed but in the absence of a distinct finding on the point by the Lower Appellate Court the case should be remanded MIDAPURU ZEMIN DARY CO LD v SYAMA CHARAN CHOWDHURY (1918)

RENT—contd

23 C W N 355

9 ——— Kabuliyat—Construction of Rent payable partly in cash partly in kind—Value of paddy stated—Mourashi mokurari labuliyat—Jama abadharita and dharyya meaning of—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 68 Where a maurashi mokurari labuliyat in respect of 4 bighas recited inter alia the following—At the rent of Re 1 60 each and 7 aries of paddy, taking the cash and the price of paddy together assessing the total rent of Rs 16 6 8 gds and on payment of Rs 30 as the salami and covenant that I will maintain the boundaries and shall pay the cash rent fixed every year in Bhadra and Pous and the paddy in the month of Magh every year in one lot there shall be no increase or abate ment in the jama Held per CURRIAM (NEWBOULD J dissenting) that looking at the evidence as a whole the parties did intend to fix the total rent which should be paid in the event of non delivery of paddy namely Rs 16 6 8 gds. Duarka Nath Mukerjee v Durgendra Nath Ghosh I L R 47 Cal 139 note followed. Baneswar Mukerji v Umesh Chandra Chakrabarti I L R 37 Cal 626 distinguished. Per SANDERSON C J When a maurashi mokurari lease mentions a certain sum of money as the jama abadharita which words may well be rendered as the fixed rent the meaning of the document seems to be very clear that the parties wanted to fix the value of the paddy that is the part of the rent which was payable in kind. Per MOOKERJEE J The latter words abadharita and dharyya (which latter is used in the present case) are derived from the same root and they have clearly the same signification Per NEWBOULD J The facts of this case seems to me to be indistinguishable from the facts of the case of Baneswar Mukerji v Umesh Chandra Chakrabarti I L R 37 Cal 626 When the value of the paddy varies the value of the cash may also be said to vary in comparison with the paddy The effect of variation is diminished by fixing as in this case the rent partly in cash and partly in kind The statement fixing the total rent at Rs 16 6 8 gds cannot be given any other meaning than a statement added to the document for the purpose of fixing the stamp duty and the registration fee ASHUTOSH MUKERJEE v HARAT CHANDRA MUKERJEE (1919)

I L R 47 Cal. 133

10 ——— Dilavion—Abatement of rent on ground of dilavion—Onus of proof on landlord to prove amount recoverable on proof of dilavion tenant When there is no express agreement to the contrary as soon as the fact of dilavion is established by the tenant in a suit for rent he is entitled to abatement and the burden is shifted to the landlord to prove the reduced amount of rent justly recoverable by him which can be done only by proof of the extent of the dilavion The finding of the Lower Court on evidence as to length of the unit of measurement cannot be assailed in second appeal KRISHNA DAS LAW v ABDUL KARIM 25 C W N 378

RENT DECREE

See EXECUTION OF DECREE.

I L R 28 Calc 288

I L R 40 Calc 623

— amendment of—

See PUNJAB TENANCY ACT 1869 s 10.

5 Pat L J 472

— Execution of—

See SALE I L R 43 Calc 293

See CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT 1904

s 211

5 Pat L J 468

— Whether acts as Res Judicata—

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE XVII

F 2

3 Pat L J 372

1 — Contribution suit—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 69.—Suit for contribution of a sum payable by one judgment-debtor of joint debt.—Lawfully paid by one judgment-debtor to satisfy joint-debt.—Res judicata.—Plea of non-liability in contribution suit if barred in equity where defendant acquiesced in original claim. A decree was passed against several persons jointly in a rent suit and one of them paid the whole amount of the decree. This judgment-debtor subsequently brought a suit for contribution against some of his co-judgment debtors. The defendants pleaded that they were teramdars and not really liable for payment under the decree. Held that although the decree in the rent suit was not res judicata as between co-defendants the co-judgment-debtors should not be allowed to plead non-liability in the contribution suit. If they had such a plea they ought to have raised it in the rent suit. Sura Parda v Jugutsi Parda I L R 43 Mad 599 referred to. It is a recognised principle of equity that where two innocent persons one must suffer by the act of a third he by whose negligence it happened must be the sufferer. So even if the defendants were teramdars as they allowed their names to be used in the kolala and the remindar a shereeta and did not object when the remindar brought a suit against them they cannot be heard to complain if they are compelled to reimburse the plaintiff for what he had done for them. Umesh Chandra v Khulna Loan Co I L R 34 Calc 92 referred to. No hard and fast rule can be laid down barring the application of s 69 of the Indian Contract Act to the payment of a joint decree by one of the joint judgment debtors. Put talah v Ganga Nath I L R 8 Calc 113. Mallura Nath v Kisto Kumar I L R 4 Calc 269. Mannindra Chunder v Jomaher Kumar 9 C W N 670 discussed. But where the decree was for a share of the rent by a fractional proprietor and was executed against the plaintiff alone any interest other than that of the plaintiff was not imperilled and the plaintiff could not be said to have been interested in the payment of that part of the decree which was leviable from the defendants and could not recover the amount so paid by a suit for contribution under s 69 of the Indian Contract Act. But the payment by the plaintiff was lawful within the meaning of s 70 of the Indian Contract Act and he could recover on it under that section from the defendants who had been benefited by it. An interest in making the payment should be a criterion for deciding whether the payment was lawful within the meaning of s 70 of the Contract Act. Chedi Lal v Bhagwan Dass I L R 11

RENT DECREE—c d

All v Damodara Mudaliar v Secretary of State
I L R 18 Mad 45. Gordin v Durlar Sree Suray
Malu I L R 16 Bom 394. Smith v Dina Nall
I L R 12 Calc 113. Paulurto Nath v Uday Chard
2 C L J 311 313 discussed. AJODHIA SINGH v JASBOO LAL (1910) 14 C W N 609

2 — Previous ex parte rent decree — Admissibility of as evidence of relationship between parties—Resumption of continuance thereof — Evidence Act (I of 1857) s 114 illus (d) & previous ex parte rent decree (between the same parties) is not merely an item of evidence but is conclusive as to the relationship between the parties at that time. Its value becomes more apparent since the terms of s 114 illus (d) of the Evidence Act permit the Court to make a presumption as to the continuance of the state of thing. HIRANMOY KUMAR SAHA v PAMJAN ALI DEWAT (1916) I L R 43 Calc 170

3 — Decree for ejectment for non-payment—Act VIII (II C) of 1869 s 50.—Decree for ejectment for non payment of arrears of rent—Period of 15 days if can be extended by executing Court after appeal dismissed. Under s 50 of Act VIII (P C) of 1869 the period of 15 days can only be extended by the Court of first instance at the time of drawing the decree or by the Appellate Court when disposing of the appeal from the decree. But cannot be subsequently extended by the Court executing the decree. HUNAI SNEKH v SARAT CHANDRA DUTTA (1917)

[21 C W N 749]

4 — Rent decrees obtained by putindar—Sale of putni under Reg VIII of 1819 after application for execution but before sale—Decree is to be executed as rent decree—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1886) s 65. Where after his putni taluk had been sold under Reg VIII of 1819 the putindar sued a tenant for previously accrued arrears of rent and recovered a decree and subsequently the putni sale was set aside and the putindar there after applied for execution of the decrees by sale of the holding under the Bengal Tenancy Act but before the sale the putni was again sold under Reg VIII of 1819. Held that the decrees could be executed as a rent decree the case being covered by the Full Bench decision in Kirtipal Singh v Krihartha Meysa Das I L R 30 Calc 666 ac 10 C N 547 which has not been overruled by the Privy Council in Failes v Maharaj Paladur Singh I L R 41 Calc 596 ac 18 C N 747. MAHENDRA NATH GHOSH v ASHUTOSH GHOSH (1917) 21 C W N 1132

5 — Produce Rent—If holder can fall into arrears—Bengal Tenancy Act (VIII of 1885) s 45 (3) 65 and 153 (E). A holding which is held on produce rent or partly on produce rent and partly on money rent is liable to be sold in execution of a decree for arrears. MAHARAJA RAUT v KOWBAT SIKON 5 Pat L J 641

6 — Two compromise rent decrees both providing for satisfaction by sale of the tenure—Second decree if may be executed against tenant personally when the tenure was sold in execution of the first decree—Sale subject to directions in the second decree. Two compromise rent decrees provided that the landlord should satisfy his claim for rent by sale of the tenure. Under the first decree the property was sold and purchased by the decree holder and the decree-

RENT DECREE—concl'd

holder next applied for personal execution of the second decree Held—That the executing Court cannot go behind the decree and must give effect if possible to both the decrees. The second decree having been passed before the sale of the property the sale was subject to the directions contained in the second decree PATAY LAL BISWAS v. NAFAR CHANDRA PAL CHOWDHURY 26 C W N 708

7 ——— Not a mortgage decree—A rent decree is in no sense a mortgage decree Fortick Chunder Dey Sircar v. Foley 1 L R 10 Calc 492 approved. If the landlord obtains two rent decrees against a tenant and first executes one decree by sale of the holding without notifying that the sale is subject to the other decree and purchases the holding himself he is not debarred from executing the other decree against the remaining properties of the tenant MAHAPAJA RAJ HO IRASAD SINGH v. MUSAMMAT PAPANJOTA KOOER 5 Pat L J 354

8 ——— Where five persons are entered in the Record of Rights as the tenants of certain land a rent decree cannot be obtained in a suit against only one of them BRADAR SINGH v. BACHA MARYO 5 Pat L J 32

RENT FREE GRANT

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901) s 158 1 L R 33 All 553
St. ESTOPPEL 1 L R 39 Calc 439
 See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURT 1 L R 43 All 325

RENT FREE HOLDING

Lakshray Land accretions to—Lakshraydar is entitled to hold same rent free—Suit to recover possession from superior tenure holder and raiyat who took settlement from latter—Meane profits—Regulation XI of 1825 s 4 sub 4 (1) and (b) The holder of a rent free holding is entitled to possession of all lands forming accretion thereto but he is not entitled to hold the same rent free Mea Jan v. Akram 8 C L J 541 Gourhari v. Bholanath 1 L R 21 Calc 233 Colam Ali v. Pali Prishna Thakur 1 L R 7 Calc 479 Chooramonee Dey v. Howrah Mill Company 1 L R 11 Calc 696 Pammonce v. Oomesh Chunder [1858] Beng S D A 1836 and Ramgully Nag v. Buroda Churn 1 W R 124 referred to. Where such a person sued to recover the accreted land from the holder of the superior interest and from a raiyat who in good faith had taken settlement of the land from the latter Held that the plaintiff was not entitled to eject the raiyat. The principle of Benode Lal Pakrashi v. Kalu Pramanik 1 L R 90 Calc 708 applies equally to firm and alluvial lands. As against the superior holder the plaintiff who it was found had never paid him any rent or offered to do so was not given a decree for meane profits the former's claim for rent being set off against the latter's claim of meane profits RAJOLA NATH POI v. NARADA LAL GUYA SARKAR (1914) 18 C W N 1205

RENT FREE TANK

St. ESTOPPEL 1 L R 30 Calc 439
St. LIMITATION 1 L R 39 Calc 453

RENT IN KIND

conversion of, into money rent—

See HINDU LAW (REVERSIONERS) 1 L R 40 Mad 871

RENT RESERVED

See LANDLORD AND TENANT 1 L R 44 Calc 403
See SUIT FOR RENT 1 L R 45 Calc 347

RENT ROLL

certified extracts of—

See BOMBAY CITY LAND REVENUE ACT (Bom II of 1876) ss 50 55 59 40 1 L R 39 Bom 684

RENT SETTLEMENT ACT (BENG VIII OF 1879)

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT (VIII of 1885,) ss 103B 104H 1 L R 48 Calc 90

RENT SUIT

See IJARADAR 1 L R 48 Calc 1078
See LIMITATION 1 L R 48 Calc 65
See LIMITATION ACT (XV of 1877) Sec II, Arts 110 116 1 L R 34 All 494
See NON JOINDER 1 L R 48 Calc 518

Bremature—

See LIMITATION 1 L R 48 Calc 870

Title Paramount due possession by—Onus of proof—Apportionment of rent—Evidence Act (I of 18,?) s 109 Where a tenant is sued for rent he can set up eviction by title paramount to that of his lessor as an answer and if evicted from part of the land an apportionment of the rent may take place but the onus is on the lessor to show what is the fair rent of the lands out of which the tenant was not evicted Goparund Jha v. Lalla Govinda Prasad 12 W P 109 referred to SURENDRA NARAY POY CHOWDHURY v. DINA NATH BOSE (1915) 1 L R 43 Calc 554

Suit against one of several recorded tenants—Whether rent dec or money decree may be paid When 5 persons are entered in the Record of Rights as the tenants of a certain piece of land a rent decree cannot be obtained in a suit against one only BRADAR SINGH v. BACHA MARYO 5 Pat L J 33

Against co-tenants—Non substitution of heirs of deceased co-tenant—Decree whether good money decree against survivors—Liability of joint or joint and several—Right of co-tenant to insist on all co-tenants being implicated—Contract Act (IX of 1872) s 43 Where in a suit for rent the landlord purported to make all the persons who had entered into the contract of tenancy parties defendants and obtained an ex parte decree but some of the tenants having died before the suit the surviving co-tenants objected to the ground that the decree was not validly obtained: Held that the decree passed in such circumstances was a good and valid money decree enforceable against the tenants who were alive at the date of the decree or their representative. If the landlord desires to obtain a decree good against the land under the Rental Tenancy Act he must ordinarily (apart from any question of representation) implead all the co-tenants including the heirs or legal representatives of a deceased co-tenant. But for the purposes of a money decree (in the absence of express agreement to the contrary) he is free under s 43 of the Contract Act to sue any or all of the tenants. Per P CHATTERJEE J (RICHARDSON J reversing J except 104) when the contract is with a single person as tenant and he dies the liability of his heirs is a joint liability. Per RICHARDSON J. Liability is joint if on the death of one of the joint promisors the liability becomes the liability of the surviving promisors and no liability devolves upon the heirs or legal representatives of the deceased promisor. There being no survivorship amongst co-tenants in India and co-tenants not living under s 43 the right to be sued together prima facie the liability is joint and several. Authorities reviewed. KRISHNA DAS POY & KALI TARA CHOWDHURANI (1917)

RENT SUIT—cc

22 N W N 239

All tenants not made party nor all properly represented effect of. In a rent suit one of the tenants had not been joined as a party but he had received a copy of the summons and been represented by a pleader after filing a written statement. In the appeal too the defendant was not made a party but the district judge after he had delivered judgment issued a notice to him informing him that his name had been added as a party defendant. In the said rent suit another infant tenant's mother on being proposed as guardian appeared through a pleader and stated she could not act unless the name was corrected which not having been done she did not defend the suit on behalf of the infant. Held that no useful purpose could be served by adding in the appellate stage a party defendant if he had not been made a party to the appeal and that after judgment in the appeal had been delivered he could not be bound by the insertion of his name in the record by the defendant. BURENDRA NATH BOSE & ACHORE NATH BOSE

25 C W N 525

Pendency of suit for ejectment if and when prevents limitation running. It is established as a general principle that the right to demand the rent which falls due during the pendency of a suit for ejectment is not in suspense during the pendency of the litigation. NAGENDRA NATH SEY & SADBHU PAM MANDAL

25 C W N 954

RENUNCIATION

See PROBATE I L R 40 Bom 666

REPEAL

See BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE ACT 1890 s 62 I L R 45 Bom 203

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 O XXI r 33 I L R 37 Bom 289

See LIMITATION I L R 37 Bom 231

See STATUTE CONSTRUCTION OF I L R 35 Bom 307

REPEALING AND AMENDING ACT (X OF 1914)

See ATTACHMENT I L R 43 Bom 716

REPRESENTATION

See CONTRACT I L R 39 Mad 509

See HEREDITARY OFFICES ACT (Bom 111 of 1871) s 2 30

I L R 34 Bom 101

See HINDU LAW—WILL

I L R 31 Calc 186

— principle of—

See LANDLORD AND TENANT

I L R 37 Calc 73

Deceased defendant—Executor not substituted—Decree passed against heirs of binding on the estate—Will. If one of the defendants in a money suit brought by P died during the pendency of the suit leaving a will in favour of the plaintiff in the present suit. On P's application the heirs of D were substituted as defendants in her place and the plaintiff's application for substitution of his own name was rejected as he had not obtained probate of D's will. A decree was passed ex parte and the property sold in execution thereof. Held that the estate of D was not properly represented in the suit and that so far as the estate covered by the will was concerned it was not affected by the decree or the sale. Daroonlop v Ranu I L R 9 Bom 86. Kharay mal v Dham 9 C W N 201. See I L R 32 Calc 296. L R 32 I A 93. Malanguni Das v Chooney Mons Das I L R 22 Calc 903 followed. Pro sunno Chunder Bhattacharye v Krishna Chaulanya Pol I L R 4 Calc 31. Chun Lai Bose v Osmond Bedy I L R 30 Calc 1013 distinguished. HARISH CHANDRA BISWAS & PURIDAS DAS (1910)

14 C W N 1041

REPRESENTATIVE

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1908 s 47 62

I L R 39 All 47

REPRESENTATIVE IN INTEREST

See EVIDENCE I L R 40 Calc 691

REPRESENTATIVE SUIT

See CONTRACT ACT (IX OF 1872) s 70

I L R 42 Bom 556

RE PUBLICATION

See WILL I L R 40 Calc 192

REPUDIATION OF TITLE

See LEASE I L R 42 Bom 734

REPUDIATION OF WILL

See JURISDICTION OF HIGH COURT

I L R 34 Mad. 257

RE PURCHASE

See SALE WITH AN OPTION OF RE PURCHASE I L R 35 Bom 258

REPUTATION

See LABEL I L R 37 Calc 76

REPUTE

See PURMISE LAW—MARRIAGE.

I L R 23 Calc 49

REQUIREMENTS

See MORTGAGE I L R 45 Calc 748

RE-SALE

See CONTRACT I L R 39 Calc 568

of tenure—

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT s 65
14 C W N 1096RESCUE FROM LAWFUL CUSTODY

See WARRANT I L R 38 Calc 789

See WARRANT VALIDITY OF
I L R 42 Calc 708

Lawful apprehension resistance to—Opium—Person selling article as opium which turns out not to be the same—Arrest and detention of such person—Legality of arrest—Escape from such arrest—Opium Act (I of 1878) s 15—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860) ss 221 and 225 Where a person purports to sell an article as opium which afterwards turns out not to be the same and he is arrested but escapes with the aid of others Held that his arrest and detention are lawful under a 15 of the Opium Act (I of 1878) and that his conviction under s 221 and that of the others under s 225 of the Penal Code are legal It is an offence for a person to escape from custody after he has been lawfully arrested on a charge of having committed an offence although he may not be convicted of such latter offence Deo Sahay Lal v Queen Empress I L R 28 Calc 253 approved Mohammd Kazi v Emperor (1916)

I L R 43 Calc 1181

RESERVED FOREST

Assam Forest Regulation (VII of 1891) ss 4 6 8 11 15 16 27 and 28—Claim by proprietor of permanently settled estates—Disposal of claim—Disallowance of claim without enquiry—Order of rejection not appealed against—Validity of final notification—Objection to validity raised at trial for breach of Regulation Where on the issue of a notification under s 5 of the Assam Forest Regulation (VII of 1891) proposing to constitute a certain area a reserved forest a proprietor filed an objection of claim before the Forest Settlement Officer that part of the notified area was his permanently settled estate and not at the disposal of Government under s 4 but his plea was accorded at the hearing to the view of such officer that he was not empowered to adjudicate on the claim and stated that he merely put in his objection and offered to produce evidence as a safeguard in any future proceedings before the Civil Court whereupon the officer without holding an enquiry or taking evidence held that he was not empowered to decide an objection denying the title of Government and therefore disallowed the objection and the claimant did not appeal against the order and the final notification under s 17 was published Held that the claimant could not on his trial for offences under s 20 of the Regulation raise the question of the validity of the final notification either because he had not really submitted his claim for adjudication and had not therefore adopted the course specified by the Regulation or if he had so submitted his claim because it had been disposed of within s 17 and he had not appealed against the decision of the Forest Settlement

RESERVED FOREST—contdForest Officer KHOWDAR HEDAYETULLA v Emperor (1920) I L R 47 Calc 8RESERVED RENT

See TENANCY AT WILL

I L R 44 Calc 2

RESIDENCE

See DIVORCE ACT (IV of 1869) ss 4 7 45 I L R 38 Bom 18

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR I L R 43 Calc 11

See SUCCESSION ACT (X of 1905) s 7 9 10 I L R Bom 687

Hindu widows right of—

See HINDU LAW I L R 45 Bom 337

meaning of—

See TENANCY ACT s 37 20 C W N 118

notification of—

See CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (Act V of 1898) s 505 I L R 35 Bom 137

RESIDENT AT ADEN

See ADEN SETTLEMENT REGULATION (VII of 1900) s 13 I L R 40 Bom 416

RESIDUARY CLAUSE

See WILL I L R 38 Mad 1096

RESIDUARY LEGATEE

See PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION ACT See PARTIES I L R 45 Calc 882

A residuary legatee is entitled to such an account as is necessary for the purpose of ascertaining what his share is HESTER MOVI DASEE v DEHENDRA NATH POY I L R 41 Calc 271

RESISTANCE BY STRANGERSee EXECUTION OF DECREE 14 C W N 838
I L R 41 Calc 251

See SEARCH

RES JUDICATA

See AGRA TENANCY ACT (II of 1901)—

ss 4 19 I L R 37 All 230

ss 10 202 I L R 33 All 377

s 63 I L R 33 All 453

s 95 I L R 37 All 223

ss 95 AND 167 I L R 37 All 41

ss 142 199 I L R 41 All 379

s 171 I L R 43 All 191

s 199 I L R 32 All 8

See WARD I L R 33 All 430

See BENGAL TENANCY I L R 43 Calc 450

See BENGAL TENANCY ACT—s 103B 14 C W N 364

ss 100 and 109A 8 Pat L J 859 ss 105A 107 AND 109 3 Pat L J 279

RES JUDICATA—C

See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1857—

- § 13 I L R 32 All 213
 § 13 70 I L R 33 Mad 453
 § 1 43 I L R 32 All 119
 I L R 33 All 32
 § 13 44 I L R 35 Bom 237
 § 17 46 I L R 36 Bom 43
 § 17 47 I L R 32 All 464
 § 13 439 I L R 33 All 752
 § 43 I L R 34 All 172
 105 14 C W N 298
 35 I L R 33 Bom 102
 See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1908) § 11
 § 47 O VI P 2 All 450
 3 I L R 32 All 210
 70 I L R 39 Bom 421
 O II P 2 I L R 40 Mad 291
 I L P 36 All 261
 O VI P 16 I L R 36 All 289
 O VII P 11 I L R 42 Bom 185
 O VIII P 2 3 Pat L J 372
 See COMPANIES ACT 1857, ss 6 40 41
 I L P 40 Calc 1
 See COURT FEES ACT 1870 s 10
 4 Pat L J 703
 See DYCEBEE I L R 35 Bom 275
 See ENFORCEMENT OF DEEDS
 I L R 40 Calc 29
 See EVIDENCE ACT (1 OF 1872) § 44
 I L P 33 All 143
 See EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS
 14 C W N 114 433
 See EXECUTOR DE BONIS TOFT LIABILITY
 AS I L R 33 Mad 423
 See FRAUD I L R 41 Calc 990
 I L P 37 All 635
 See HINDU LAW—
 ADOPTION 5 Pat L J 184
 L L R 40 All 593
 ALIENATION 3 Pat L J 426
 I L R 43 Calc 417
 JOINT FAMILY I L R 42 Bom 69
 PARTITION L P 41 I A 247
 I L R 48 Calc 1059
 PERVERSION I L R 43 Bom 869
 See INAM LANDS I L R 38 Bom 272
 See JURISDICTION I L R 44 Calc 367
 See LANDLORD AND TENANT
 I L R 42 Mad 702
 See LIMITATION I L R 23 All 264
 I L P 42 Calc 244
 See LIMITATION ACT (V OF 1877)—
 § 5 AND 7 I L P 34 Bom 589
 § 10 AND SCH II ART 148
 I L R 36 All 227

RES JUDICATA—H

- § 11 HINDU LAW—
 C Pat L J 593
 See MAROLIDAN LAW—D WEP
 I L P 41 All 508
 See MORTGAGE
 I L R 47 Calc 602 70
 I L R 39 Calc 527 925
 See PARTITION I L R 32 All 469
 4 Pat L J 29
 See RECEIPT 14 C W N 924
 See REVENUE IN CHARGES ACT (III OF 1900) § 1 I L R 33 All 353
 I L P 41 All 378
 See SUFFICIENCY 3 Pat L J 367
 See REVIEW APPLICATION FOR
 I L R 40 Calc 541
 See SATANJAM I L R 40 Bom 600
 See SHERIFF I L P 39 Calc 887
 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT (1 OF 1877)
 § 9 I L R 41 All 108
 See TRANSFER OF PROPERTY ACT (II OF 1882) § 19 I L R 46 Bom 617
 See WAKF VALIDITY OF
 I L R 43 Calc 158
 See WILL I L R 46 Calc 485
 — application to have joint mah formed followed by application for exclusive possession—
 See UNITED PROVINCES LAND REVENUE ACT 1901 s 233
 I L R 42 All 309
 — Compromise decree dealing with properties other than those in suit effect of—
 See COMPROMISE 1 Pat L J 268
 — decision by Minda Court—
 See HINDU LAW—SUDRAS
 I L R 2 Lab 207
 — Decision on abstract question of Law—
 See JOURNAL OF JURISPRUDENCE CODE 1879 48 216 217
 I L R 45 Bom 1260
 — dictum in previous suit effect of—
 See SPECIFIC RELIEF ACT 1872
 ss 41 AND 34 4 Pat L J 632
 — Exparte decree—
 See LAND ACQUISITION ACT 1894
 5 Pat L J 259
 — Necessity of specially pleading the plea
 See SECOND APPEAL 25 C W N 661 — Order for directions without deciding question of jurisdiction—
 See THIRD PARTY NOTICE
 I L R 45 Bom 224
 — partition suit whether bars subsequent suit for whole estate—
 See SANTAL PARGANAS SETTLEMENT REGULATION 1862 6 Pat L J 373

RES JUDICATA—contd

rule of—

See DECLARATORY DECREE SUIT FOR
I L R 43 Cal 694

order for directions not—

See THIRD PARTY NOTICE
I L R 45 Bom 24suit in Revenue Court for rent followed by suit in Civil Court claiming to be occupancy tenants—See AGRA TENANCY ACT 1901 s 167
I L R 43 All 191refusal of Court to file arbitration award—See CIVIL PROCEDURE CODE 1903 s 11
SCH II, R 20 I L R 45 Bom 329

1 — Adjudications—Res judicata between co defendants—Burden of proof. Where an adjudication between co defendants is necessary to give the appropriate relief to the plaintiff such adjudication will be res judicata between the defendants as well as between the plaintiff and defendants. There must be a conflict of interest between the defendants a necessity for a decision between them and a judgment defining the rights and obligations of the defendants inter se. Ram Chander Narayan v Narayan Mahadev I L R 11 Bom 216 2-0 referred to and followed. The general rule is that a person who claims property through some other person must prove that such property vested in that other person. A person who alleges that property in the hands of a female was inherited from some person whose heir he claims to be must prove that it belonged to that person. Diwan Ran Bhat Bahadur Singh v Indar pal Singh, L R 26 I A 226 225 referred to. NARASIMMA AMMAL v SRINIVASARAGAVA AIYAR AIR (1909) I L R 33 Mad 112

2 — Matter substantially in issue—Capacity of parties—Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1932) s 13. The plaintiff in conjunction with another had in 1902 filed a suit against the defendant for possession of certain property basing his claim on the allegation that he was owner. He succeeded in the first Court but the Court of Appeal held that the property had been dedicated to charity and refused to uphold his claim as owner. The plaintiff declined to adopt the Court's suggestion to modify his claim and be content to ask for a decree for possession as manager and his suit was then for dismissed. Five years later he filed the present suit claiming possession as manager. Held that his title as manager was one which might and ought to have been put forward in the previous suit and that his present claim was therefore res judicata. If a plaintiff is suing in a capacity in which he is a stranger to the capacity in which he sued in a former suit his claim has no proper connection with that former suit and the Civil Procedure Code (Act XIV of 1932) s 13 does not apply. HAROOVAN PAMJI v MULJI HANJIVAN (1909) I L R 31 Bom 418

3 — Practice—Suit against defendant on ground which failed not to be decreed on another ground—Application for leave to amend dismissed after arguments heard in appeal disallowed. A suit brought against the defendants on one ground which failed should not be decreed against them on another ground which they had no opportunity of meeting. After arguments in appeal have been heard the Court will not allow an amendment of the plaint so as to convert a suit of one character into a suit of a substantially different character. H filed a suit in 1904 against A and J the drawer and indorser respectively of two hundies. At the time of filing the suit J was dead. H obtained a decree against both defendants which decree remained unsatisfied. In 1905 H filed a suit against the heirs of J on the same two hundies. Held that the earlier suit having been filed against the firm of J and not against J personally was a bar to the later suit. BAYABAI v HAJI NOOR MAHOMED (1905) I L R 34 Bom 244

RES JUDICATA—contd

4 — Cause of action, how to be determined—Civil Procedure Code Act XIV of 1882 s 103—Bar of suit under s 158—Scope of. The plaintiff in the present suit sued one Srinivasa Aiyar Original Suit No 7 of 1904 on the ground that he was prevented from entering on his property and prayed for an injunction restraining the said Srinivasa Aiyar from obstructing plaintiff. In the present suit plaintiff sued the successors in title of Srinivasa Aiyar alleging that Srinivasa Aiyar wrongfully got into possession prior to his filing Original Suit No 7 of 1904 and prayed for a declaration of title and possession. Held that the present suit was barred as res judicata. Where the causes of action are substantially the same the form in which they are stated or the difference in the frame of the relief will not affect the question. Haji Hasam Ibrahim v Mancharam Kalandas I L R 3 Bom 137 followed. Sibant Vithal Rao v Shid Nath Chakrabarty I L R 3 Cal 419 distinguished. A Court is not precluded from considering the issues in the two suits and from comparing the issues in the two suits and from considering what the plaintiff had to prove or undertake to prove in either case in considering whether the causes of action are identical. Chand Kaur v Parbati Singh I L R 16 Cal 93 explained. Where in a suit at an adjourned hearing neither the plaintiff nor his pleader appears the case may be dealt with under s 158 of the Civil Procedure Code 1882. There is nothing in the language of that section which precludes its application to such a case. Srinivas Sagayrao v Smah I L R 39 Bom 736 dissented from. NAGAYADA AIYAR v KRISHNAIAH AIYAR (1910) I L R 31 Mad 97

5 — Decision on merits—Dismissal for under valuation—Civil Procedure Code (Act IV of 1908) s 11—Second suit for trial on same merits. A previous suit between the parties failed on the ground that the claim was undervalued and the plaintiff when called upon to pay the deficit Court fees omitted to do so. There were more merits also decided. In a subsequent suit for trial on the same merits the decision in the first suit was pleaded as res judicata. It is that the rejection of the suit on the ground of under valuation at any stage of it did not make it res judicata for the purpose of a subsequent suit on the same cause of action or litigation—the same title. Held further that the dismissal of the suit on the ground of undervaluation having been effected by itself the finding on the issue on the merits were not necessary for the decision of the suit and could not have the force of res judicata.

RES JUDICATA—contd

IRAWA KOM LAKHMA MUGALI v SATYAPPA BIV
SHIDAPPA MUGALI (1910) I L R 35 Bom 38

6 ——— Execution proceedings—Decisions in such proceedg not appealed against—Finality of such decision—Prior decision on a question of law whether res judicata—A decision in a previous execution proceeding which merely lays down what the law is and is found to be erroneous, cannot have the force of res judicata in a subsequent proceeding for a different relief
PAUL NATH GOENKA v LAKHMANI & CO (1911)
I L R 33 Cal 343

7 ——— Partition suit—Sutty's widow to recover possession of her husband's share in ancestral family lands after partition by metes and bounds—All got partition of a house—In result of suit family lands being found not divided—Subsequent suit by a reversioner to recover possession of the house no res judicata—There were two brothers Kishoribhai and Desaiibhai. Kishoribhai died leaving him surviving his widow Bai Hanku a daughter Bai Divali and brother Desaiibhai. Subsequently Desaiibhai died leaving behind him his daughter's son Muljibhai. In 1854 Bai Hanku brought a suit against Muljibhai to recover possession of her husband's share in divided family lands after partition by metes and bounds. She alleged that the house in which she lived had fallen to her husband's share at partition. It was found that the family lands were not divided and the suit was dismissed. Bai Hanku died in 1907. In the year 1909 the plaintiff who was the nearest heir of Kishoribhai brought the present suit against Muljibhai to recover possession of the house. A question having arisen as to whether the finding in the suit of 1854 with respect to family lands operated as res judicata with respect to the house. Held that the decision in the suit of 1854 did not bar the present suit.
MULJIBHAI NARBHAIKAR v PATEL LAKHIMIDAS (1911) I L R 36 Bom 127

8 ——— Suit against pledger—Ornaments—Unauthorized pledge—Subsequent proceedings—Pledge of judgment against pledger—Non satisfaction—Suit against pledgee for detention after demand—Tortfeasors—Judgment not res judicata—Omission to raise an issue suggested by defendant—Defendant not claiming under a person against whom the issue was decided after defendant's transaction—Moveable property—Doctrine of lis pendens not applicable—Party and privity—Plaintiff brought a suit No 169 of 1897 against M to obtain a declaration that M was not adopted by plaintiff's step mother and that she (the plaintiff) was the owner of the property in suit as the heir of her father and to obtain possession. The cause of action was laid in March 1897. The property in suit included ornaments of considerable value which M had pledged with his creditor. After the filing of the suit M redeemed the ornaments and again pledged them with G with the exception of two which had already been pledged with G. The plaintiff recovered judgment against M but it was not satisfied. The plaintiff then brought the present suit No 111 of 1908 against G as pledgee of the ornaments from an unauthorized pledger for detention of the ornaments after demand on or about the 11th August 1907. The defendant answered that the judgment in the suit of 1897 was a bar to the present suit on the ground that the pledger and the pledgee were joint tortfeasors and the matter had passed into res judicata. At the hearing of the suit the defendant wanted the Court to raise an issue as to whether M was not the validly adopted son but the Court refused to frame the issue and admitted the judgment in the suit of 1897 (which had decided the issue in the negative) in evidence on the ground inter alia that the defendant who was M's pleader in that suit was a party to it. The Court overruled the defendant's plea of res judicata and allowed the plaintiff's claim for the recovery of the ornaments or their value. Held on appeal by the defendant that the defendant's plea of res judicata could not stand. The cause of action in the second suit must be precisely the same as the cause of action in the first suit in order to make the judgment in the first suit a bar to proceedings in the second suit. Held further that it was an error not to raise an issue as to whether M was not the validly adopted son and to admit the judgment in the former suit in evidence on the ground that the defendant was a party to it. The judgment in the former suit was subsequent to the pledge and the defendant did not claim under a person against whom the issue of adoption had been at the time of the pledge finally heard and determined. The fact that the former suit was pending at the time of the pledge of the ornaments could not prejudice the defendant on the issue of res judicata for the doctrine of lis pendens did not apply to moveable property. The defendant was therefore not a party of M and was not bound by that judgment. Held also that the judgment in the previous case was irrelevant to prove that M had got possession of the ornaments by means of fraud. GOVIND BABA BURJAR v JIJIBAI SANDE (1911)

RES JUDICATA—contd

I L R 36 Bom 189

9 ——— Co plaintiffs—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11—Civil Procedure Code (Act VI of 1852) s 26—Joinder of parties—The plaintiff D and his step mother R (defendant) brought a suit against G to recover possession of certain ornaments which formed part of the estate of M the father of D and husband of R. It was held by the Court of first instance that R was entitled to the ornaments because they were her stridhan but the appellate Court held that she was entitled to them not because they were her stridhan but because she was the absolute owner of the property. D then sued R for a declaration that he was son and heir to M was entitled to hold the decree. The defendant in reply contended inter alia that the suit was barred by res judicata. Held that the bar of res judicata did not apply inasmuch as there was no final adjudication as between P and D and in the first suit it was a matter of no consequence to the defendant therein for the purpose of the relief to be given against him whether P succeeded or whether D succeeded. A finding to become res judicata as between co plaintiffs must have been essential for the purpose of giving relief against the defendants. Pamelaandra Narayan v Narayan Mahadevi I L R 11 Ecm 216 followed. The Court ought not to hold a point to be res judicata unless it is clear from the pleadings and the findings in the previous suit. No Court ought to infer res judicata by mere arguments from a judgment in a previous suit. Attorney General for Trinidad and Tobago v Ericle [1933] A C 518 followed. PERUMINI v THOONPO MAHADEVI (1911) I L R 36 Ecm 207

RES JUDICATA—contd

10 ——— Settlement—Suit by after born son to set aside settlement—Difference between estoppel and res judicata Estoppel and res judicata are entirely different. Res judicata precludes a man averring the same thing twice over in successive litigations while estoppel prevents him saying one thing at one time and the opposite at another. CASSAMALLY JAIRAJINATH v. SRI CURRIMBOY EBRAHIM (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 214

11 ——— Consent decree—Civil Procedure Code (Act V of 1908) s 11—Consent decree between predecessors in title of parties in suit—Injunction granted in former suit—Res judicata and estoppel distinguished A consent decree has to all intents and purposes the same effect as res judicata as a decree passed per initum and this notwithstanding the words in s 11 of the Civil Procedure Code has been heard and finally decided. In re South American and Mexican Company [1890] 1 Ch 37 followed. A consent decree comes to between the predecessors in interest of the present parties touching matters now substantially and directly in issue between them is res judicata. Res judicata ousts the jurisdiction of the Court while estoppel does no more than shut the mouth of a party. Estoppel never means anything more than that a person shall not be allowed to say one thing at one time and the opposite of it at another time while res judicata means nothing more than that a person shall not be heard to say the same thing twice over. BHAISHANKER NANDESHI v. MORARJI K. HAJI & Co (1911)

I L R 36 Bom 283

12 ——— Compromise decree rescission of—Civil Procedure Code s 237 A—Agreement contravening rule in—Not opposed to public policy—Judgment debtor may waive rule The test for determining whether there is an estoppel in any particular case in consequence of a decree passed on a compromise is whether the parties decided for themselves the particular matter in dispute by the compromise and the matter was expressly embodied in the decree of the Court passed on the compromise or was it necessarily involved in or was it the basis of what was embodied in the decree. The basis of a compromise decree is a contract between the parties to the litigation and the principles applicable to contracts would often have to be considered in determining the rules of estoppel applicable to such decrees at the same time such a decree cannot be regarded as a mere contract and has got a sanction for higher than an agreement between parties. The parties to the decree cannot therefore put an end to it at their pleasure in the manner that they could rescind a mere contract. Nor can it be impeached on some grounds on which a mere contract could be impeached such as absence of consideration or mistake. Jenkins v. Foleston 11 L R 56 and Du 117 distinguished. The reason is that the Court having found to adopt the agreement between the parties as its own adjudication the interpretation to be placed upon such adjudication, ought to be the same as that to be placed on the agreement itself. A compromise decree may in some respects have a greater validity than one passed after contest between the parties as such a decree has all the force of a compromise or a species of contract which is highly favoured by the Courts. Judgments passed on mutual agreements of parties are distinguishable from judgments by default and decrees passed upon a confession of judgment or an admission by the defendant that the plaintiff is entitled to a particular relief. An agreement in contravention of s 237 A of the Civil Procedure Code is not opposed to public policy. The prohibition in section 11 not based on any rule of public policy rendering such agreement illegal. It is merely unenforceable in execution proceedings or by a fresh suit as the case may be. A judgment debtor is entitled to waive the benefit of the rule. VENKATA PERUMAL RAJA PANDUR v. THATA PAMASAMY CHETTA (1911) I L R 36 Mad 5

RES JUDICATA—contd

13 ——— Rent decrees—How far decrees for rent in previous suit res judicata on the question of title in subsequent suit A landlord tendered patta to B his tenant who objected to the patta on the ground that the extent of his holding was overstated some of the lands included in the patta not belonging to A but to B himself. The issue was raised whether the patta tendered was proper. The Court found that it did not contain any objectionable matter and was therefore a proper patta. Decree was accordingly given for rent in favour of A. A tendered a similar patta to B for a subsequent year and B again raised a similar objection to the extent of the holding. In a suit brought by A for the rent B objected to the extent of the holding and it was contended first that the matter was res judicata by reason of the decision in the previous suit. —Per MURDO J.—The finding in the previous suit that the patta was proper was a finding that the relationship of landlord and tenant subsisted between the plaintiff and the defendant in the respect of the land entered in the patta and the defendants cannot be allowed to plaintiff again to prove of his title. —Per SANKARAN NAIY J.—A decree for rent does not necessarily require a decision as to the terms of the patta or the extent of the land for which rent has to be paid. There being no express finding in the previous suit on the question of the ownership of the land it cannot be implied from the mere passing of the decree for rent that the question was decided for the purpose of the subsequent suit. Where a question need not be deemed to have been decided on the ground that the decree in the previous suit requires such assumption to make it a decree right. Where a party is not in the absence of a clear and express finding precluded from raising the question in a subsequent suit. The question whether A or B was owner of the land included in the patta was not res judicata by reason of the previous decision. BANMIDI BAYTA NAIDU v. BANMIDI PARADESI NAIDU (1911) I L R 36 Mad 218

14 ——— Compromised decree—Compromise also affecting land not in suit—Continuance Act (III of 1877) s 37 cl (1)—Compulsory registration Where a compromise affected land not in suit and a decree was passed in terms of the compromise in so far as it related to the property sued for to render the compromise available as a defence to a future suit an order has been made for its registration in accordance with the provisions of the Continuance Act (III of 1877) s 37. It is held that a portion of a res judicata has not passed into a decree or order of Court. It is prima facie a difficult question as to the effect of it in the proceedings of the Court. Its inclusion in pleadings put before the Court will bring it within the operation of cl (1) of

RES JUDICATA—contd

S. 170 Interpretation Act. Pande v. Nank v. Gangra
Saran Sahu 1 L R 40 All 11 and Interanal
Ann v. Lakshmi Ann 1 L R 40 All 515 ex plained. Na v. Chetty v. Venkayachari 1 L R 33 All 10. Is cited from Jayamallin Pinnas
v. Phubin Je n 1 L R 38 Cal 46 distinguished. CHELAMANNA v. ALA IAC (1913)
 1 L R 86 Mad. 46

15 ———— Decision based on oath, etc. effect of—Oath's Act (X of 1905) effect of An adjudication by a Court on an oath made by one of the parties to the suit would make the matter of issue covered by the adjudication res judicata in a subsequent litigation between the same parties where the subject matter of the suit is different. Per Curiam. The decision of any matter directly and substantially in issue in a former suit between the same parties would nonetheless be res judicata because the decision was based on the oath of one of the parties or a witness in the former suit. The effect is similar to that of a decision of a Court based on a finding of an arbitrator or on a compromise between the parties.
 In all the cases the decision is the decision of the Court and not of the arbitrator or the parties.
SANTASI BARTHA v. ANTA WADO (1913)
 1 L R 38 Mad. 287

16 ———— Land assigned to support religion, &c. Lease—Adverse possession— Limitation—Suit to recover possession of vatan land on the ground that the mortgage by the previous holder ceased to be effective on his death—Defence of tenancy for a term—Dismissal of suit—Subsequent suit to recover possession on the ground that the deceased holder had no right to alienate the land in any manner. In the case of a lease for a term of years by the holder for the time being of lands assigned to support services rendered to a Mahan and religious community by successive holders time began to run not from the commencement of the tenancy of the person claiming to hold as a tenant but from the date when the claims of the parties became openly and undoubtedly adverse.
T. K. Ram Chander Singh v. Srimati Madho Amari 1 L R 12 I A 197 and Trimal v. Pam chandra v. Sheikh Gulam Zilani 1 L R 24 Bom.
 279 referred to. The plaintiff brought a suit on the ground that the alienation by way of mortgage of certain rywye vatan lands ceased to be effective on the death of the alienor the previous holder.
 The defendant contended that the document of alienation was a lease and not mortgage. The suit was dismissed on the ground that the plaintiff failed to establish his contention as to the character of the document upon which he had elected to go to trial. In a subsequent suit the plaintiff asserted that the lands in suit being Sary Inam continuable in the plaintiff's family in the succession of disciples the plaintiff's deceased predecessor had no right and power whatever to pass in writing those lands by way of mortgage or lease or in any other manner so as to let the writing continue in force after his death. Held that the subsequent suit was not maintainable owing to the bar of res judicata.
 The complaint in both the suits was the unlawful retention by the defendant of the lands after demand for delivery free of incumbrances. The matter of the retention of possession of the lands by defendants upon the terms asserted by him had been heard and finally decided in the first suit and could not be raised again. Boomata

RES JUDICATA—contd

Debra v. Aristokamani Dosset 18 II P 163 referred to. Aaro Balund v. Jambhendra Tulde
 1 L R 13 Bom 3 II distinguished. MAHAMAD
GATS v. PAJABAKSHA (1913)

1 L R 37 Bom 224

17 ———— Estoppel—Mortgage by Hindu widow claiming an absolute estate—Ever- soner previous independent title of. On 28th August 159 one Mu Ammat Bharno was declared to have preferential title to one Satyabadi in certain lands. On the 30th September 1904 Bharno executed a conditional mortgage. In a suit for foreclosure brought by the mortgagee against Bharno and Satyabadi's brother Balchhar who was made a party on the allegation that he was in possession as a donee of the equity of redemption, a decree was granted to the mortgagee and Bharno was repudiated the title of Bharno and set up a title in himself alleging that the property belonged to him and Bharno was in possession as his guardian) was dismissed from the suit. Subsequently the mortgage decree having been made absolute and the mortgagee having been unable to obtain possession of the lands in question a suit for recovery of possession was filed on the 18th June 1906 by the mortgagee against Balchhar.
 This latter suit was decreed on the 17th September 1906 and both Courts of Appeal subsequently confirmed this decree. Shortly after the decision of the High Court in the above appeal Bharno died and on the 2nd April 1909 Balchhar brought a suit against the mortgagee for declaration of title and recovery of possession. Held that the decision in the litigation of 1870 could not operate as res judicata. Baleswar Bagarti v. Bhagwati Das 1 L R 5 Cal 701 followed. Held also that the decision in the mortgage suit could not operate as res judicata. Jaggelwar Dutt v. Dhan Mohan Mitra 1 L R 33 Cal 420. 2 C L J 705 referred to. Held further that the plaintiff was bound by his allegations in the suit for recovery of possession and could not now be permitted to say that Bharno was in possession as a Hindu mother and that he himself was entitled to succeed on her death.
Bhaja Choudhury v. Chuni Lal Marwari 1 C L J
 95 referred to. BHAGIRATHI DAS v. DALEHWAR
BAGARTI (1913) 1 L R 41 Cal 80
 17 C W N 877

18 ———— Suit for rent decreed—Tenant if can institute title suit to declare he was the tenant of another person and for recovery of amount realised under the decree—Alleged landlord joined as party. Where B having sued C for rent on the basis of a registered kabuliyat C denied his tenancy under B and asserted that he was holding as tenant directly under B's superior landlord A.
 But C's defence was overruled and a decree made in B's favour. Held that a subsequent suit brought by C in which he made both A and B parties defendants for a declaration that he was not C's tenant and for refund of the money realised by B under his decree was barred by res judicata.
Duaria Nath v. Pam Chand 1 L R 26 Cal 498
 1 C L J 266 distinguished. SREENATH
DUTT v. KAYER SHEKH (1913) 18 C W N 116

19 ———— Execution proceedings—Order returning execution application for correction of the amount claimed without notice to judgment debtor whether binding on the decree holder.
 Where the Court without issuing notice to the judgment debtor returned an execution application directing the decree holder to amend the same by reducing the amount claimed and the decree holder failed to appeal against the order. Held that the order was a judicial adjudication in a proceeding between the parties that the decree holder was not entitled to the larger amount and that the decree holder was consequently debarred from claiming the larger amount in a fresh execution application. The fact that the judgment debtor had no notice is immaterial except when the order is passed against him in which case it is an ex parte order and cannot bind a party who had no opportunity to make his defence. Huralal Bose v. Dwija Charan Pore 3 C L J 240. Bhola Nath Das v. Prafulla Nath Kundu Chowdhry 1 L R 28 Cal 122 and Delhi and London Bank Limited v. Orchard 1 L R 3 Cal 47, distinguished. VYATURI GOUNDAN v. CHIDAMBARAM MUDALIAR (1912) 1 L R 37 Mad. 314

RES JUDICATA—contd

20 — Findings on two issues—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 11—Judgment or findings on two issues one of which alone was sufficient—Both findings res judicata Where a judgment is based on the findings on two issues the findings on both the issues will operate as res judicata though the finding on only one would be sufficient to sustain the judgment. Krishna Behari Poy v. Brojnarayan Chowdhanry L P 2 1 A 283 and Venkayya v. Narasamma 1 L R 11 Mad 204 followed. VENKATARAJU v. RAMANAMA (1913) 1 L R 38 Mad 158

21 — Execution of decree—Failure of judgment debtor to raise objection to an amount erroneously set forth in an application for the execution of a decree—Civil Procedure Code (1908) s 11 explain IV. Held that if a judgment debtor does not take exception to the amount erroneously set forth in an application for the execution of a decree as being the sum due he is not prevented by the principle of res judicata from doing so on subsequent application for the execution of the same decree. KALYAN SINGH v. JAGAN PRASAD (1916) 1 L R 37 All 589

22 — Suit on mortgage—Ex parte decree against mortgagors members of joint Hindu family—Decree set aside against one member for insufficient service while remaining against other members—Decree on retrial made against all the members—Decision that decree was valid decree in suit on mortgage—Fresh suit to set aside decree on same grounds as in suit on mortgage and between same parties—Civil Procedure Code (1882) ss 13 and 241—Suit to set aside decree made with jurisdiction and allowed to become final—Valid decision unless fraudulent. A mortgage was executed in 1894 by the manager of a Hindu joint family of which he and his two sons were the adult members in favour of the predecessor in title of the respondents and in a suit on a mortgage an ex parte decree was on the 30th of April 1897 made against the mortgagor and his two sons one of whom was the appellant and an order absolute for sale was made in September 1900. In 1901 the ex parte decree was set aside against the other son on the ground of insufficient service on him and on the retrial of the suit the Subordinate Judge on the 22nd of September 1907 made a decree against all three members of the family notwithstanding that the decree of the 30th of April 1897 was still in existence against the appellant. In 1906 an order was applied for to make the decree of 1902

RES JUDICATA—contd

absolute against all the judgment debtors. The appellant made objections which were overruled and an order absolute for sale was made by the Subordinate Judge on the 3rd of November 1906 which was affirmed by the High Court on the 28th of February 1908. Held that a fresh suit brought by the appellant against the respondents to have the decree of the 22nd of September 1907 set aside on the ground that he was not a party to it and that the Court had therefore no jurisdiction to make it was on the principle of res judicata not maintainable as being between the same parties and raising precisely the same grounds and objections as had been raised and disallowed in the former suit and proceedings on the mortgage. It is not open to suitors in India who have exhausted the remedies competent to them to institute a fresh suit the object of which is to declare that a decree competently and with adequate jurisdiction obtained therein is not applicable to them although they are named in the decree. Even if the objections were wrongly decided and the decree was erroneous it must when it has been allowed to become final be taken as being valid if the Court had jurisdiction to make it and provided as was the case here there was no fraud proved. Malkarjun v. Aharari 1 L R 93 Bom 367. L P 27 1 A 216 followed. RAJWAD PRASAD PANDIT v. RAM PATAN GIN (1915) 1 L R 37 All 493

23 — Sale of Khoti lands—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) s 11—Sale of Khoti lands on the basis that they are alienable—Subsequent suit between the parties on the allegation that the lands were inalienable—Khoti Settlement Act (Bombay Act I of 1880) s 9. Certain Khoti lands were sold in execution proceedings between the parties on the footing that they were alienable and purchased by the defendant. The plaintiff then filed a suit to recover possession of the lands on the allegation that the lands being occupancies their sale was invalid under s 9 of the Khoti Settlement Act 1880. Held that the plaintiff's allegation was barred by res judicata inasmuch as the sale in execution decided inferentially as between the plaintiff and the defendant that the lands sold were not occupancies. KASHI NATH KRISHNA v. DHONDIBHAI (1916) 1 L R 40 Bom 675

24 — Effect of rule—Rule of res judicata not a mere technical rule. The application of the rule of res judicata by the Courts in India should be influenced by no technical considerations but by matter of substance within the limits allowed by law. SHEOPAL ANAND v. RAMNANDAN PRASHAD NARAYAN SINGH (1916) 1 L R 40 Cal 694. 120 C W N 33

25 — Finding in claim case if res judicata re other properties—Civil Procedure Code (Act I of 1908) O 121 r 63 effect of—Wakf validity of Properties A and B are in a claim included in an alleged wakf. The finding in a claim case regarding A that the wakf is a fraudulent transaction is not conclusive in a suit for declaration and possession regarding a share in B. An order in a claim case is conclusive only as regards the particular property in dispute. Held further that a wakf having been given effect to during the life time of the wakfi is valid and irrevocable. Sarnamogji Dasi v. Ashutosh Gokarnani 1 L R 47

RES JUDICATA—contd

